Naaman went to his master and told him what the girl from Israel had said. "By all means, go," the king of Aram replied. "I will send a letter to the king of Israel." So Naaman left, taking with him ten talents^s of silver, six thousand shekels^t of gold and ten sets of clothing. The letter that he took to the king of Israel read: "With this letter I am sending my servant Naaman to you so that you may cure him of his leprosy."

As soon as the king of Israel read the letter, he tore his robes and said, "Am I God? Can I kill and bring back to life? Why does this fellow send someone to me to be cured of his leprosy? See how he is trying to pick a quarrel with me!"

When Elisha the man of God heard that the king of Israel had torn his robes, he sent him this message: "Why have you torn your robes? Have the man come to me and he will know that there is a prophet in Israel." So Naaman went with his horses and chariots and stopped at the door of Elisha's house. Elisha sent a messenger to say to him, "Go, wash yourself seven times in the Jordan, and your flesh will be restored and you will be cleansed."

But Naaman went away angry and said, "I thought that he would surely come out to me and stand and call on the name of the LORD his God, wave his hand over the spot and cure me of my leprosy. Are not Abana and Parpar, the rivers of Damascus, better than any of the waters of Israel? Couldn't I wash in them and be cleansed?" So he turned and went off in a rage.

Naaman's servants went to him and said, "My father, if the prophet had told you to do some great thing, would you not have done it? How much more, then, when he tells you, 'Wash and be cleansed!'" So he went down and dipped himself in the Jordan seven times, as the man of God had told him, and his flesh was restored and became clean like that of a young boy.

NAAMAN EXPRESSES FAITH. Then Naaman and all his attendants went back to the man of God. He stood before him and said, "Now I know that there is no God in all the world except in Israel. Please accept now a gift from your servant."

The prophet answered, "As surely as the LORD lives, whom I serve, I will not accept a thing." And even though Naaman urged him, he refused.

"If you will not," said Naaman, "please let me, your servant, be given as much earth as a pair of mules can carry, for your servant will never again make burnt offerings and sacrifices to any other god but the LORD. But may the LORD forgive your servant for this one thing: When my master enters the temple of Rimmon to bow down and he is leaning on my arm and I bow there also—when I bow down in the temple of Rimmon, may the LORD forgive your servant for this."

"Go in peace," Elisha said.

GEHAZI'S SIN. After Naaman had traveled some distance, Gehazi, the servant of Elisha the man of God, said to himself, "My master was too easy on Naaman, this Aramean, by not accepting from him what he brought. As surely as the LORD lives, I will run after him and get something from him."

So Gehazi hurried after Naaman. When Naaman saw him running toward him, he got down from the chariot to meet him. "Is everything all right?" he asked.

"Everything is all right," Gehazi answered. "My master sent me to say, 'Two young men from the company of the prophets have just come to me from the hill country of Ephraim. Please give them a talent^u of silver and two sets of clothing.'"

"By all means, take two talents," said Naaman. He urged Gehazi to accept them, and then tied up the two talents of silver in two bags, with two sets of clothing. He gave them to two of his servants, and they carried them ahead of Gehazi. When Gehazi came to the hill, he took the things from the servants and put them away in the house. He sent the men away and they left. Then he went in and stood before his master Elisha.

"Where have you been, Gehazi?" Elisha asked.

"Your servant didn't go anywhere," Gehazi answered.

But Elisha said to him, "Was not my spirit with you when the man got down from his chariot to meet you? Is this the time to take money, or to accept clothes, olive groves, vineyards, flocks, herds, or menservants and maidservants? Naaman's leprosy will cling to you and to your descendants forever." Then Gehazi went from Elisha's presence and he was leprous, as white as snow.

As the king of Israel was passing by on the wall, a woman cried to him, "Help me, my lord the king!"

The king replied, "If the LORD does not help you, where can I get help for you? From the threshing floor? From the winepress?" Then he asked her, "What's the matter?"

She answered, "This woman said to me, 'Give up your son so we may eat him today, and tomorrow we'll eat my son.' So we cooked my son and ate him. The next day I said to her, 'Give up your son so we may eat him,' but she had hidden him."

When the king heard the woman's words, he tore his robes. As he went along the wall, the people looked, and there, underneath, he had sackcloth on his body. He said, "May God deal with me, be it ever so severely, if the head of Elisha son of Shaphat remains on his shoulders today!"

is sending someone to cut off my head? Look, when the messenger comes, shut the door and hold it shut against him. Is not the sound of his master's footsteps behind him?"

While he was still talking to them, the messenger came down to him. And the king said, "This disaster is from the LORD. Why should I wait for the LORD any longer?" Elisha said, "Hear the word of the LORD. This is what the LORD says: About this time tomorrow, a seah² of flour will sell for a shekel^a and two seahs^b of barley for a shekel at the gate of Samaria."

The officer on whose arm the king was leaning said to the man of God, "Look, even if the LORD should open the floodgates of the heavens, could this happen?"

"You will see it with your own eyes," answered Elisha, "but you will not eat any of it!"

DISCOVERY BY LEPERS. Now there were four men with leprosy^c at the entrance of the city gate. They said to each other, "Why stay here until we die? If we say, 'We'll go into the city'—the famine is there, and we will die. And if we stay here, we will die. So let's go over to the camp of the Arameans and surrender. If they spare us, we live; if they kill us, then we die."

7:3-8

At dusk they got up and went to the camp of the Arameans. When they reached the edge of the camp, not a man was there, for the Lord had caused the Arameans to hear the sound of chariots and horses and a great army, so that they said to one another, "Look, the king of Israel has hired the Hittite and Egyptian kings to attack us!" So they got up and fled in the dusk and abandoned their tents and their horses and donkeys. They left the camp as it was and ran for their lives.

The men who had leprosy reached the edge of the camp and entered one of the tents. They ate and drank, and carried away silver, gold and clothes, and went off and hid them. They returned and entered another tent and took some things from it and hid them also.

DISCOVERY REPORTED. Then they said to each other, "We're not doing right. This is a day of good news and we are keeping it to ourselves. If we wait until daylight, punishment will overtake us. Let's go at once and report this to the royal palace."

So they went and called out to the city gatekeepers and told them, "We went into the Aramean camp and not a man was there—not a sound of anyone—only tethered horses and donkeys, and the tents left just as they were." The gatekeepers shouted the news, and it was reported within the palace.

DISCOVERY CONFIRMED. The king got up in the night and said to his officers, "I will tell you what the Arameans have done to us. They know we are starving; so they have left the camp to hide in the countryside, thinking, 'They will surely come out, and then we will take them alive and get into the city.'" here—yes, they will only be like all these Israelites who are doomed. So let us send them to find out what happened.”

So they selected two chariots with their horses, and the king sent them after the Aramean army. He commanded the drivers, “Go and find out what has happened.” They followed them as far as the Jordan, and they found the whole road strewn with the clothing and equipment the Arameans had thrown away in their headlong flight. So the messengers returned and reported to the king. Then the people went out and plundered the camp of the Arameans. So a seah of flour sold for a shekel, and two seahs of barley sold for a shekel, as the LORD had said.

PROPHECIES FULFILLED. It happened as the man of God had said to the king: “About this time tomorrow, a seah of flour will sell for a shekel and two seahs of barley for a shekel at the gate of Samaria.”

The officer had said to the man of God, “Look, even if the LORD should open the floodgates of the heavens, could this happen?” The man of God had replied, “You will see it with your own eyes, but you will not eat any of it!” And that is exactly what happened to him, for the people trampled him in the gateway, and he died.

ELISHA MEETS WITH HAZAEL. Elisha went to Damascus, and Ben-Hadad king of Aram was ill. When the king was told, “The man of God

Hazael went to meet Elisha, taking with him as a gift forty camel-loads of all the finest wares of Damascus. He went in and stood before him, and said, "Your son Ben-Hadad king of Aram has sent me to ask, 'Will I recover from this illness?' "

Elisha answered, "Go and say to him, 'You will certainly recover'; but/ the LORD has revealed to me that he will in fact die." He stared at him with a fixed gaze until Hazael felt ashamed. Then the man of God began to weep.

"Why is my lord weeping?" asked Hazael.

"Because I know the harm you will do to the Israelites," he answered. "You will set fire to their fortified places, kill their young men with the sword, dash their little children to the ground, and rip open their pregnant women."

Hazael said, "How could your servant, a mere dog, accomplish such a feat?"

"The LORD has shown me that you will become king of Aram," answered Elisha.

HAZAEK KILLS BEN-HADAD. Then Hazael left Elisha and returned to his master. When Ben-Hadad asked, "What did Elisha say to you?" Hazael replied, "He told me that you would certainly recover." Jehu got up and went into the house. Then the prophet poured the oil on Jehu's head and declared, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'I anoint you king over the LORD's people Israel. You are to destroy the house of Ahab your master, and I will avenge the blood of my servants the prophets and the blood of all the LORD's servants shed by Jezebel. The whole house of Ahab will perish. I will cut off from Ahab every last male in Israel—slave or free. As for Jezebel, dogs will devour her on the plot of ground at Jezreel, and no one will bury her.'" Then he opened the door and ran.

When Jehu went out to his fellow officers, one of them asked him, "Is everything all right? Why did this madman come to you?"

"You know the man and the sort of things he says," Jehu replied.

"That's not true!" they said. "Tell us."

Jehu said, "Here is what he told me: 'This is what the LORD says: I anoint you king over Israel.'" "

JEHU KILLS JORAM. So Jehu son of Jehoshaphat, the son of Nimshi, conspired against Joram. Jehu said, "If this is the way you feel, don't let anyone slip out of the city to go and tell the news in Jezreel." Then he got into his chariot and rode to Jezreel, because Joram was resting there and Ahaziah king of Judah had gone down to see him.

When the lookout standing on the tower in Jezreel saw Jehu's troops approaching, he called out, "I see some troops coming."

"Get a horseman," Joram ordered. "Send him to meet them and ask, 'Do you come in peace?'" "

The horseman rode off to meet Jehu and said, "This is what the king says: 'Do you come in peace?'" "

"What do you have to do with peace?" Jehu replied. "Fall in behind me."

The lookout reported, "The messenger has reached them, but he isn't coming back."

So the king sent out a second horseman. When he came to them he said, "This is what the king says: 'Do you come in peace?'" "

Jehu replied, "What do you have to do with peace? Fall in behind me."

The lookout reported, "He has reached them, but he isn't coming back either. The driving is like that of Jehu son of Nimshi—he drives like a madman."

"Hitch up my chariot," Joram ordered. And when it was hitched up, Joram king of Israel and Ahaziah king of Judah rode out, each in his own chariot, to meet Jehu. They met him at the plot of ground that had belonged to Naboth the Jezreelite. When Joram saw Jehu he asked, "Have you come in peace, Jehu?"

"How can there be peace," Jehu replied, "as long as all the idolatry and witchcraft of your mother Jezebel abound?"

Joram turned about and fled, calling out to Ahaziah, "Treachery, Ahaziah!"

Then Jehu drew his bow and shot Joram between the shoulders. The arrow pierced his heart and he slumped down in his chariot. Jehu said to Bidkar, his chariot officer, "Pick him up and throw him on the field that belonged to Naboth the Jezreelite. Remember how you and I were riding together in chariots behind Ahab his father when the LORD made this prophecy about him: 'Yesterday I saw the blood of Naboth and the blood of his sons, declares the LORD, and I will surely make you pay for it on this plot of ground, declares the LORD.'^h Now then, pick him up and throw him on that plot, in accordance with the word of the LORD."

He looked up at the window and called out, "Who is on my side? Who?" Two or three eunuchs looked down at him. "Throw her down!" Jehu said. So they threw her down, and some of her blood splattered the wall and the horses as they trampled her underfoot.

Jehu went in and ate and drank. "Take care of that cursed woman," he said, "and bury her, for she was a king's daughter." But when they went out to bury her, they found nothing except her skull, her feet and her hands. They went back and told Jehu, who said, "This is the word of the LORD that he spoke through his servant Elijah the Tishbite: On the plot of ground at Jezreel dogs will devour Jezebel's flesh.^k Jezebel's body will be like refuse on the ground in the plot at Jezreel, so that no one will be able to say, 'This is Jezebel.'"

The next morning Jehu went out. He stood before all the people and said, "You are innocent. It was I who conspired against my master and killed him, but who killed all these? Know then, that not a word the LORD has spoken against the house of Ahab will fail. The LORD has done what he promised through his servant Elijah." The Era of Joash in Judah

Until this time all the kings of Israel and Judah have been old enough to rule for themselves. Due to unusual circumstances, Judah will soon have its first child-king. This occurs when Jehoram's widow, Athaliah, rises to power in a way that would have pleased her mother, Jezebel: she kills all the royal offspring, including her own. Having done this, she usurps the throne for six years. However, one child, Joash, has been saved and hidden. At the age of seven he is presented to the people as king by Jehoiada the priest. With Joash obviously unable to rule at such an early age, the affairs of state are conducted by the priests and military leaders.

While there is some spiritual renewal during this period, paganism still remains—so much so that God calls the prophet Joel to cry out against it. Joel does so, using a locust infestation as the basis for a stinging attack and a bold warning of God's judgment.

As he comes of age, Joash brings credit to his rule by ordering repairs of the once-beautiful temple of Solomon, now in partial ruin. He later discredits himself by accepting paganism along with the others who ignore Joel's prophecy.

In Israel, meanwhile, King Jehu destroys the worship of Baal, only to worship the calves set up initially by Jeroboam. After Jehu's death, both Israel and Judah are oppressed by the ever-menacing Syrians out of Aram, but Joash eventually buys them off in Judah. On his deathbed, Elisha predicts Israel's later success against the Syrians.

JEHU DESTROYS BAAL WORSHIP. Then Jehu brought all the people together and said to them, "Ahab served Baal a little; Jehu will serve him much. Now summon all the prophets of Baal, all his ministers and all his priests. See that no one is missing, because I am going to hold a great sacrifice for Baal. Anyone who fails to come will no longer live." But Jehu was acting deceptively in order to destroy the ministers of Baal.

Jehu said, "Call an assembly in honor of Baal." So they proclaimed it. Then he sent word throughout Israel, and all the ministers of Baal came; not one stayed away. They crowded into the temple of Baal until it was full from one end to the other. And Jehu said to the keeper of the wardrobe, "Bring robes for all the ministers of Baal." So he brought out robes for them.

Then Jehu and Jehonadab son of Recab went into the temple of Baal. Jehu said to the ministers of Baal, "Look around and see that no servants of the LORD are here with you—only ministers of Baal." So they went in to make sacrifices and burnt offerings. Now Jehu had posted eighty men outside with this warning: "If one of you lets any of the men I am placing in your hands escape, it will be your life for his life."

As soon as Jehu had finished making the burnt offering, he ordered the guards and officers: "Go in and kill them; let no one escape." So they cut them down with the sword. The guards and officers threw the bodies out and then entered the inner shrine of the temple of Baal. They brought the sacred stone out of the temple of Baal and burned it. They demolished the sacred stone of Baal and tore down the temple of Baal, and people have used it for a latrine to this day.

JEHU LIKE JEROBOAM. However, he did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam son of Nebat, which he had caused Israel to commit—the worship of the golden calves at Bethel and Dan. Yet Jehu was not careful to keep the law of the LORD, the God of Israel, with all his heart. He did not turn away from the sins of Jeroboam, which he had caused Israel to commit.

JEHOIADA PLANS FOR JOASH. In the seventh year Jehoiada showed his strength. He made a covenant with the commanders of units of a hundred: Azariah son of Jeroham, Ishmael son of Jehohanan, Azariah son of Obed, Maaseiah son of Adaiah, and Elishaphat son of Zicri. They went throughout Judah and gathered the Levites and the heads of Israelite families from all the towns. When they came to Jerusalem, the whole assembly made a covenant with the king at the temple of God.

Jehoiada said to them, "The king's son shall reign, as the LORD promised concerning the descendants of David. Now this is what you are to do: A third of you priests and Levites who are going on duty on the Sabbath are to keep watch at the doors, a third of you at the royal palace and a third at the Foundation Gate, and all the other men are to be in the courtyards of the temple of the LORD. No one is to enter the temple of the LORD except the priests and Levites on duty; they may enter because they are consecrated, but all the other men are to guard what the LORD has assigned to them." The Levites are to station themselves around the king, each man with his weapons in his hand. Anyone who enters the temple must be put to death. Stay close to the king wherever he goes."

The Levites and all the men of Judah did just as Jehoiada the priest ordered. Each one took his men—those who were going on duty on the Sabbath and those who were going off duty—for Jehoiada the priest had not released any of the divisions. Then he gave the commanders of units of a hundred the spears and the large and small shields that had belonged to King David and that were in the temple of God. He stationed all the men, each with his weapon in his hand, around the king—near the altar and the temple, from the south side to the north side of the temple.

ATHALIAH KILLED. When Athaliah heard the noise of the people running and cheering the king, she went to them at the temple of the LORD. She looked, and there was the king, standing by his pillar at the entrance. The officers and the trumpeters were beside the king, and all the people of the land were rejoicing and blowing trumpets, and singers with musical instruments were leading the praises. Then Athaliah tore her robes and shouted, "Treason! Treason!"

Then Jehoiada placed the oversight of the temple of the LORD in the hands of the priests, who were Levites, to whom David had made assignments in the temple, to present the burnt offerings of the LORD as written in the Law of Moses, with rejoicing and singing, as David had ordered. He also stationed doorkeepers at the gates of the LORD's temple so that no one who was in any way unclean might enter.

He took with him the commanders of hundreds, the nobles, the rulers of the people and all the people of the land and brought the king down from the temple of the LORD. They went into the palace through the Upper Gate and seated the king on the royal throne, and all the people of the land rejoiced. And the city was quiet, because Athaliah had been slain with the sword.

The Prophecy of Joel

It is apparently during the very early years of Joash's reign as a child-king that a great disaster befalls Judah. Although the people have previously experienced threats from invading armies, they are evidently not prepared for the army of locusts which swarms over Judah, completely devastating crops and food supplies. Seizing the occasion to draw a parallel, the prophet Joel vividly describes another invasion which is to come. Like many prophecies, it has both primary and secondary applications.

On one level, Joel warns a spiritually ambivalent Judah that anything less than total devotion to the one true God will result in punishment—namely, invasion and destruction by marauding forces from the north.

He further warns that the day of the Lord is coming, when God will bring all mankind to an ultimate accounting for their lives and deeds. The vivid imagery of Joel's prophecy is similar to that of later prophecies which will also speak of that great day of judgment—the day of the Lord.

Joel urges the people to pray, to fast, and to repent in order to stay God's judgment. In addition to Joel's serious warnings are words of assurance that God will one day pour out his Spirit upon all nations—a promise of hope which will be remembered when the Messiah comes and God sends his Spirit in a special demonstration to the Messiah's followers.

Joel begins his prophecy with reference to the recent invasion of the locusts.

Joel 1:1 PREFACE. The word of the LORD that came to Joel son of Pethuel.

Joel 1:2-12 DEVASTATION BY LOCUSTS.

Hear this, you elders;
listen, all who live in the land.
Has anything like this ever happened in your days or in the days of your forefathers?
Tell it to your children,
and let your children tell it to their children,
and their children to the next generation.
What the locust swarm has left the great locusts have eaten;
what the great locusts have left the young locusts have eaten;
what the young locusts have left other locusts^s have eaten.

Wake up, you drunkards, and weep!
Wail, all you drinkers of wine;
wail because of the new wine,
for it has been snatched from your lips.
A nation has invaded my land, powerful and without number;
it has the teeth of a lion,
the fangs of a lioness.
It has laid waste my vines and ruined my fig trees.
It has stripped off their bark and thrown it away, leaving their branches white.

^sThe precise meaning of the four Hebrew words used here for locusts is uncertain.

Mourn like a virgin¹ in sackcloth grieving for the husband² of her youth.
 Grain offerings and drink offerings
 are cut off from the house of the LORD.
 The priests are in mourning,
 those who minister before the LORD.
 The fields are ruined,
 the ground is dried up³;
 the grain is destroyed,
 the new wine is dried up,
 the oil fails.
 Despair, you farmers,
 wail, you vine growers;
 grieve for the wheat and the barley,
 because the harvest of the field is destroyed.
 The vine is dried up and the fig tree is withered;
 the pomegranate, the palm and the apple tree—
 all the trees of the field—are dried up.
 Surely the joy of mankind is withered away.

CALL FOR REPENTANCE.

Joel
 1:13-20

Put on sackcloth, O priests, and mourn;
 wail, you who minister before the altar.
 Come, spend the night in sackcloth,
 you who minister before my God;
 for the grain offerings and drink offerings are withheld from the house of your God.
 Declare a holy fast;
 call a sacred assembly.
 Summon the elders and all who live in the land to the house of the LORD your God, and cry out to the LORD.
 Alas for that day!
 For the day of the LORD is near;
 it will come like destruction from the Almighty.⁴
 Has not the food been cut off before our very eyes—joy and gladness
 from the house of our God?
 The seeds are shriveled beneath the clods.⁵
 The storehouses are in ruins,
 the granaries have been broken down,
 for the grain has dried up.
 How the cattle moan!

for fire has devoured the open pastures and flames have burned up all the trees of the field.
Even the wild animals pant for you;
the streams of water have dried up and fire has devoured the open pastures.

Joel 2:1-11 DAY OF THE LORD.

Blow the trumpet in Zion;
sound the alarm on my holy hill.
Let all who live in the land tremble,
for the day of the LORD is coming.
It is close at hand—
a day of darkness and gloom,
a day of clouds and blackness.
Like dawn spreading across the mountains a large and mighty army comes, such as never was of old nor ever will be in ages to come.

Before them fire devours, behind them a flame blazes.
Before them the land is like the garden of Eden, behind them, a desert waste—nothing escapes them.
They have the appearance of horses;
they gallop along like cavalry.
With a noise like that of chariots they leap over the mountaintops, like a crackling fire consuming stubble,
like a mighty army drawn up for battle.

At the sight of them, nations are in anguish;
every face turns pale.
They charge like warriors;
they scale walls like soldiers.
They all march in line,
not swerving from their course.
They do not jostle each other;
each marches straight ahead.
They plunge through defenses without breaking ranks.
They rush upon the city;
they run along the wall.
They climb into the houses;
like thieves they enter through the windows.

Before them the earth shakes,
the sky trembles,
the sun and moon are darkened,

and the stars no longer shine.
 The LORD thunders
 at the head of his army;
 his forces are beyond number,
 and mighty are those who obey his command.
 The day of the LORD is great;
 it is dreadful.
 Who can endure it?

CALL FOR REDEDICATION.

Joel
2:12-17

“Even now,” declares the LORD, “return to me with all your heart, with fasting and weeping and mourning.”

Rend your heart and not your garments.
 Return to the LORD your God,
 for he is gracious and compassionate,
 slow to anger and abounding in love,
 and he relents from sending calamity.
 Who knows? He may turn and have pity and leave behind a blessing—
 grain offerings and drink offerings
 for the LORD your God.

Blow the trumpet in Zion,
 declare a holy fast,
 call a sacred assembly.
 Gather the people,
 consecrate the assembly;
 bring together the elders, gather the children,
 those nursing at the breast.
 Let the bridegroom leave his room and the bride her chamber.
 Let the priests, who minister before the LORD, weep between the temple porch and the altar.
 Let them say, “Spare your people, O LORD.
 Do not make your inheritance an object of scorn,
 a byword among the nations.
 Why should they say among the peoples,
 ‘Where is their God?’”

PUNISHMENT OF ENEMIES.

Joel 3:1-8

"In those days and at that time,
when I restore the fortunes of Judah and Jerusalem,
I will gather all nations and bring them down to the Valley of Jehoshaphat.^e
There I will enter into judgment against them concerning my inheritance, my people Israel, for they scattered my people among the nations and divided up my land.
They cast lots for my people and traded boys for prostitutes; they sold girls for wine that they might drink.

"Now what have you against me, O Tyre and Sidon and all you regions of Philistia? Are you repaying me for something I have done? If you are paying me back, I will swiftly and speedily return on your own heads what you have done. For you took my silver and my gold and carried off my finest treasures to your temples. You sold the people of Judah and Jerusalem to the Greeks, that you might send them far from their homeland.

"See, I am going to rouse them out of the places to which you sold them, and I will return on your own heads what you have done. I will sell your sons and daughters to the people of Judah, and they will sell them to the Sabeans, a nation far away." The LORD has spoken.

PROMISE OF VICTORY.

Joel 3:9-17

Proclaim this among the nations:
Prepare for war!
Rouse the warriors!
Let all the fighting men draw near and attack.
Beat your plowshares into swords and your pruning hooks into spears.
Let the weakling say,
"I am strong!"
Come quickly, all you nations from every side, and assemble there.
Bring down your warriors, O LORD!
"Let the nations be roused;

^eJehoshaphat means the LORD judges; also in verse 12.

let them advance into the Valley of Jehoshaphat, for there I will sit to judge all the nations on every side.
Swing the sickle,
for the harvest is ripe.
Come, trample the grapes, for the winepress is full and the vats overflow—so great is their wickedness!”

Multitudes, multitudes
in the valley of decision!
For the day of the LORD is near
in the valley of decision.
The sun and moon will be darkened,
and the stars no longer shine.
The LORD will roar from Zion and thunder from Jerusalem;
the earth and the sky will tremble.
But the LORD will be a refuge for his people,
a stronghold for the people of Israel.
“Then you will know that I, the LORD your God, dwell in Zion, my holy hill.
Jerusalem will be holy;
never again will foreigners invade her.

Joel
3:18-21

RESTORATION OF JUDAH.

“In that day the mountains will drip new wine, and the hills will flow with milk;
all the ravines of Judah will run with water.
A fountain will flow out of the LORD’s house and will water the valley of acacias.^f
But Egypt will be desolate, Edom a desert waste,
because of violence done to the people of Judah,
in whose land they shed innocent blood.
Judah will be inhabited forever and Jerusalem through all generations.
Their bloodguilt, which I have not pardoned,
I will pardon.”

Now the sons of that wicked woman Athaliah had broken into the temple of God and had used even its sacred objects for the Baals. ^{Ks}They replied, "If today you will be a servant to these people and serve them and give them a favorable answer, they will always be your servants."

But Rehoboam rejected the advice the elders gave him and consulted the young men who had grown up with him and were serving him. He asked them, "What is your advice? How should we answer these people who say to me, 'Lighten the yoke your father put on us'?" ^{Ch}A proclamation was then issued in Judah and Jerusalem that they should bring to the LORD the tax that Moses the servant of God had required of Israel in the desert. All the officials and all the people brought their contributions gladly, dropping them into the chest until it was full. Whenever the chest was brought in by the Levites to the king's officials and they saw that there was a large amount of money, the royal secretary and the officer of the chief priest would come and empty the chest and carry it back to its place. They did this regularly and collected a great amount of money. The king and Jehoiada gave it to the men who carried out the work required for the temple of the LORD. They hired masons and carpenters to restore the LORD's temple, and also workers in iron and bronze to repair the temple. ¶ The king answered the people harshly. Rejecting the advice given him by the elders, he followed the advice of the young men and said, "My father made your yoke heavy; I will make it even heavier. My father scourged you with whips; I will scourge you with scorpions." So the king did not listen to the people, for this turn of events was from the LORD, to fulfill the word the LORD had spoken to Jeroboam son of Nebat through Ahijah the Shilonite.

When all Israel saw that the king refused to listen to them, they answered the king:

"What share do we have in David,
what part in Jesse's son?
To your tents, O Israel!
Look after your own house, O David!"

So the Israelites went home. ^{ch}The men in charge of the work were diligent, and the repairs progressed under them. They rebuilt the temple of God according to its original design and reinforced it. When they had finished, they brought the rest of the money to the king and Jehoiada, and with it were made articles for the LORD's temple: articles for the service and for the burnt offerings, and also dishes and other objects of gold and silver. As long as Jehoiada lived, burnt offerings were presented continually in the temple of the LORD.

But they plotted against him, and by order of the king they stoned him to death in the courtyard of the LORD's temple. King Joash did not remember the kindness Zechariah's father Jehoiada had shown him but killed his son, who said as he lay dying, "May the LORD see this and call you to account."

Era of Jeroboam II in Israel _____

Over the next 60 years the kingdoms of Israel and Judah will continue their spiritual decline. Nothing, it seems, can stop their headlong rush to disaster—particularly Israel, with its love affair with Baal and idol worship. In the south, Amaziah reigns well enough, but he too sets up idols on his return from successful campaigns against the Edomites.

Under the leadership of Jeroboam II, Israel will experience great military success and resulting prosperity. But Jeroboam's reign will see at least three prophets crying out against increased spiritual and moral decay. Jonah will be sent by God as a special messenger to the Assyrians in Nineveh; Hosea will attack the problem of idolatry in Israel; and Amos will speak out against religious formalism and social injustice. It is increasingly clear that God's patience is running out and that captivity is in sight for the people of Israel.

One event in this period occurs at the site of Elisha's tomb and proves to be quite a humorous experience—at least for those not actually involved! The event's more serious message probably has something to do with the fact that Elisha's prophecy concerning victory over the Syrians is about to be fulfilled and a dead nation brought back to life.

example of his father Joash. The high places, however, were not removed; the people continued to offer sacrifices and burn incense there.

After the kingdom was firmly in his grasp, he executed the officials who had murdered his father the king. Yet he did not put the sons of the assassins to death, in accordance with what is written in the Book of the Law of Moses where the LORD commanded: "Fathers shall not be put to death for their children, nor children put to death for their fathers; each is to die for his own sins."¹

SURPRISE IN ELISHA'S TOMB. Now Moabite raiders used to enter the country every spring. Once while some Israelites were burying a man, suddenly they saw a band of raiders; so they threw the man's body into Elisha's tomb. When the body touched Elisha's bones, the man came to life and stood up on his feet.

SUCCESS AGAINST SYRIANS. Hazael king of Aram oppressed Israel throughout the reign of Jehoahaz. But the LORD was gracious to them and had compassion and showed concern for them because of his covenant with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. To this day he has been unwilling to destroy them or banish them from his presence.

Hazael king of Aram died, and Ben-Hadad his son succeeded him as king. Then Jehoash son of Jehoahaz recaptured from Ben-Hadad son of Hazael the towns he had taken in battle from his father Jehoahaz. Three times Jehoash defeated him, and so he recovered the Israelite towns.

AMAZIAH PLANS EDOM CAMPAIGN. Amaziah called the people of Judah together and assigned them according to their families to commanders of thousands and commanders of hundreds for all Judah and Benjamin. He then mustered those twenty years old or more and found that there were three hundred thousand men ready for military service, able to handle the spear and shield.

But a man of God came to him and said, "O king, these troops from Israel must not march with you, for the LORD is not with Israel—not with any of the people of Ephraim. Even if you go and fight courageously in battle, God will overthrow you before the enemy, for God has the power to help or to overthrow."

Amaziah asked the man of God, "But what about the hundred talents I paid for these Israelite troops?"

The man of God replied, "The LORD can give you much more than that."

So Amaziah dismissed the troops who had come to him from Ephraim and sent them home. They were furious with Judah and left for home in a great rage.

EDOMITES DESTROYED. Amaziah then marshaled his strength and led his army to the Valley of Salt, where he killed ten thousand men of Seir. The army of Judah also captured ten thousand men alive, took them to the top of a cliff and threw them down so that all were dashed to pieces.

2 Chron. 25:14-16 AMAZIAH SETS UP IDOLS. When Amaziah returned from slaughtering the Edomites, he brought back the gods of the people of Seir. He set them up as his own gods, bowed down to them and burned sacrifices to them. The anger of the LORD burned against Amaziah, and he sent a prophet to him, who said, "Why do you consult this people's gods, which could not save their own people from your hand?"

While he was still speaking, the king said to him, "Have we appointed you an adviser to the king? Stop! Why be struck down?"

So the prophet stopped but said, "I know that God has determined to destroy you, because you have done this and have not listened to my counsel."

2 Chron. 25:17-24 JUDAH BEATEN BY ISRAEL. After Amaziah king of Judah consulted his advisers, he sent this challenge to Jehoashⁿ son of Jehoahaz, the son of Jehu, king of Israel: "Come, meet me face to face."

But Jehoash king of Israel replied to Amaziah king of Judah: "A thistle in Lebanon sent a message to a cedar in Lebanon, 'Give your daughter to my son in marriage.' Then a wild beast in Lebanon came along and trampled the thistle underfoot. You say to yourself that you have defeated Edom, and now you are arrogant and proud. But stay at home! Why ask for trouble and cause your own downfall and that of Judah also?"

Amaziah, however, would not listen, for God so worked that he might hand them over to Jehoash, because they sought the gods of Edom. So Jehoash king of Israel attacked. He and Amaziah king of Judah faced each other at Beth Shemesh in Judah. Judah was routed by Israel, and every man fled to his home. Jehoash king of Israel captured Amaziah king of Judah, the son of Joash, the son of Ahaziah,^o at Beth Shemesh. Then Jehoash brought him to Jerusalem and broke down the wall of Jerusalem from the Ephraim Gate to the Corner Gate—a section about six hundred feet^p long. He took all the gold and silver and all the articles found in the temple of God that had been in the care of Obad-Edom, together with the palace treasures and the hostages, and returned to Samaria.

The Preaching of Jonah Against Nineveh

Fere in the midst of Jeroboam II's reign, sometime around 780-775 B.C., is found one of the most interesting ministries ever recorded. God selects a man from southern Galilee by the name of Jonah to take a special message of repentance to the heathen Assyrians living in the great metropolitan area of Nineveh. Nineveh is one of the most ancient of the large cities, having been established by the great warrior Nimrod back in the days of the patriarchs. Located east of the Tigris River, it is the royal residence of the Assyrian kings. Jonah's mission takes place between the reigns of Shalmaneser III (860-824 B.C.) and Tiglath-Pileser III (745-727 B.C.), during the rule of a lesser-known king.

The basic improbability of the mission, as viewed through human eyes, is underscored when Jonah attempts to evade his special responsibility and is swallowed by a large fish which God miraculously provides for the occasion. Thereby convinced of God's limitless power, Jonah proceeds to deliver the message that Nineveh is about to be destroyed and that repentance is in order. To his surprise, and even disappointment, Nineveh's inhabitants repent and are saved from the threatened destruction.

All in all, the account is an amazing demonstration of God's universal grace and divine concern at a time when a rather exclusivistic Israel is in great need of reminder that, despite being God's chosen people, their failure to repent actually lowers them to a level of spirituality beneath even penitent pagans.

GOD CALLS JONAH. The word of the LORD came to Jonah son of Amittai: "Go to the great city of Nineveh and preach against it, because its wickedness has come up before me." Jonah 1:1,2

JONAH RUNS AWAY. But Jonah ran away from the LORD and headed for Tarshish. He went down to Joppa, where he found a ship bound for that port. After paying the fare, he went aboard and sailed for Tarshish to flee from the LORD. Jonah 1:3

THROWN INTO SEA. Then the LORD sent a great wind on the sea, and such a violent storm arose that the ship threatened to break up. All the sailors were afraid and each cried out to his own god. And they threw the cargo into the sea to lighten the ship. Jonah 1:4-16

But Jonah had gone below deck, where he lay down and fell into a deep sleep. The captain went to him and said, "How can you sleep? Get up and call on your god! Maybe he will take notice of us, and we will not perish."

Then the sailors said to each other, "Come, let us cast lots to find out who is responsible for this calamity." They cast lots and the lot fell on Jonah.

So they asked him, "Tell us, who is responsible for making all this trouble for us? What do you do? Where do you come from? What is your country? From what people are you?"

He answered, "I am a Hebrew and I worship the LORD, the God of heaven, who made the sea and the land."

This terrified them and they asked, "What have you done?" (They knew he was running away from the LORD, because he had already told them so.)

The sea was getting rougher and rougher. So they asked him, "What should we do to you to make the sea calm down for us?"

"Pick me up and throw me into the sea," he replied, "and it will become calm. I know that it is my fault that this great storm has come upon you."

Instead, the men did their best to row back to land. But they could not, for the sea grew even wilder than before. Then they cried to the LORD, "O LORD, please do not let us die for taking this man's life. Do not hold us accountable for killing an innocent man, for you, O LORD, have done as you pleased." Then they took Jonah and threw him overboard, and the raging sea grew calm. At this the men greatly feared the LORD, and they offered a sacrifice to the LORD and made vows to him.

Jonah 1:17 SWALLOWED BY FISH. But the LORD provided a great fish to swallow Jonah, and Jonah was inside the fish three days and three nights.

Jonah 2:1-9 JONAH'S PRAYER. From inside the fish Jonah prayed to the LORD his God. He said:

"In my distress I called to the LORD, and he answered me.
From the depths of the grave^a I called for help,
and you listened to my cry.
You hurled me into the deep,
into the very heart of the seas,
and the currents swirled about me;
all your waves and breakers swept over me.
I said, 'I have been banished from your sight;
yet I will look again toward your holy temple.'
The engulfing waters threatened me,^r
the deep surrounded me;
seaweed was wrapped around my head.
To the roots of the mountains I sank down;
the earth beneath barred me in forever.
But you brought my life up from the pit,
O LORD my God.

"When my life was ebbing away,
I remembered you, LORD, and my prayer rose to you,
to your holy temple.

"Those who cling to worthless idols forfeit the grace that could be theirs.
But I, with a song of thanksgiving, will sacrifice to you.

^aHebrew Sheol ^rOr waters were at my throat

Salvation comes from the LORD."

JONAH PUT ON LAND. And the LORD commanded the fish, and it vomited Jonah onto dry land. Jonah 2:10

MISSION ORDERED AGAIN. Then the word of the LORD came to Jonah a second time: "Go to the great city of Nineveh and proclaim to it the message I give you." Jonah 3:1,2

NINEVITES REPENT. Jonah obeyed the word of the LORD and went to Nineveh. Now Nineveh was a very important city—a visit required three days. On the first day, Jonah started into the city. He proclaimed: "Forty more days and Nineveh will be overturned." The Ninevites believed God. They declared a fast, and all of them, from the greatest to the least, put on sackcloth. Jonah 3:3-5

KING ORDERS RIGHTEOUSNESS. When the news reached the king of Nineveh, he rose from his throne, took off his royal robes, covered himself with sackcloth and sat down in the dust. Then he issued a proclamation in Nineveh: Jonah 3:6-9

"By the decree of the king and his nobles:

Do not let any man or beast, herd or flock, taste anything; do not let them eat or drink. But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth. Let everyone call urgently on God. Let them give up their evil ways and their violence. Who knows? God may yet relent and with compassion turn from his fierce anger so that we will not perish."

GOD HAS COMPASSION. When God saw what they did and how they turned from their evil ways, he had compassion and did not bring upon them the destruction he had threatened. Jonah 3:10

JONAH ANGRY AT GOD. But Jonah was greatly displeased and became angry. He prayed to the LORD, "O LORD, is this not what I said when I was still at home? That is why I was so quick to flee to Tarshish. I knew that you are a gracious and compassionate God, slow to anger and abounding in love, a God who relents from sending calamity. Now, O LORD, take away my life, for it is better for me to die than to live."
But the LORD replied, "Have you any right to be angry?" Jonah 4:1-4

GOURD SHOWS GOD'S CONCERN. Jonah went out and sat down at a place east of the city. There he made himself a shelter, sat in its shade and waited to see what would happen to the city. Then the LORD God provided a vine and made it grow up over Jonah to give shade for his head to ease his discomfort, and Jonah was very happy about the vine. But at dawn the next day God provided a worm, which chewed the vine so that it withered. When the sun rose, God provided a scorching east wind, and the sun blazed on Jonah's head so that he grew faint. He wanted to die, and said, "It would be better for me to die than to live." Jonah 4:5-11

But God said to Jonah, "Do you have a right to be angry about the vine?"
"I do," he said. "I am angry enough to die."

But the LORD said, "You have been concerned about this vine, though you did not tend it or make it grow. It sprang up overnight and died overnight. But Nineveh has more than a hundred and twenty thousand people who cannot tell their right hand from their left, and many cattle as well. Should I not be concerned about that great city?"

The historical record now confirms Jonah's mission and tells how God gives Jeroboam great military success and prosperity.

In Israel

14:25-27 ISRAEL RESTORED. The LORD provided a deliverer for Israel, and they escaped from the power of Aram. So the Israelites lived in their own homes as they had before. He [Jeroboam] was the one who restored the boundaries of Israel from Lebo^s Hamath to the Sea of the Arabah,^t in accordance with the word of the LORD, the God of Israel, spoken through his servant Jonah son of Amittai, the prophet from Gath Hopher.

The LORD had seen how bitterly everyone in Israel, whether slave or free, was suffering; there was no one to help them. And since the LORD had not said he would blot out the name of Israel from under heaven, he saved them by the hand of Jeroboam son of Jehoash.

2 Kgs. 13:6 ISRAEL CONTINUES SIN. But they did not turn away from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, which he had caused Israel to commit; they continued in them. Also, the Asherah pole^u remained standing in Samaria.

The Prophecies of Hosea

The foregoing passage is only a brief reference in the historical account, but it is a forceful reminder that after a century-and-a-half as part of a broken kingdom the people of Israel have not been willing to put away their idols or forget their pagan Baal. If there is anything which especially affronts God, it must surely be the sight of men and women (whom he has created) bowing in worship to sticks and stones (which he has also created and which, therefore, have no intrinsic power). This is especially true because God has repeatedly and patiently demonstrated his concern, love, and protection to each generation of this nation to whom he has specially chosen to reveal himself.

To God, the people of Israel have been as a wife in covenant relationship with him. And yet their continual idolatry is a constant reminder of their unfaithfulness to the covenant. Each generation has been adulterous in its wickedness and idolatry, and now the time is swiftly approaching when God is going to put Israel away as an adulterous spouse.

In an effort to draw Israel away from her spiritual lovers and to show her the danger of her infidelity, God calls upon the prophet Hosea to bring his message and warnings—through both hard preaching and prophecy, and in another (and most unusual) way as well.

God calls upon Hosea to marry a woman whom God knows will be unfaithful to Hosea and bear children of her unfaithfulness. Even the children's names pronounce God's prophecy. Jezreel, the firstborn, predicts that the people of Israel will be "scattered by God," in clear reference to the eventual conquering of Israel by foreign invaders, who will take them out of the land of Canaan. The second child, Lo-ruhamah, warns that when this time comes God will be "without mercy." And, as if that were not enough, the third child, Lo-ammi, signifies God's total rejection of Israel, of whom he will say, "not my people."

When Hosea's wife, Gomer, consorts with other lovers, she only typifies Israel's unfaithfulness in playing the harlot with other gods. And yet, as always, God speaks a message of hope through Hosea. Just as Hosea redeems Gomer from literal slavery, God stands ready to redeem his people from sin. And yet this time God will not renew his love so easily as he has in the past. This time Israel will know real suffering and discipline before being restored to God's love and favor.

The prophet Hosea begins his ministry during Jeroboam's reign, and will continue his work for the next 60 or 65 years. His ministry will span the reigns of the next two or three kings of Israel as well as Jeroboam's. It is not known exactly when he delivers his various rebukes, admonitions, and warnings, but they are all collected at this point to show the central thrust of his message.

Hosea's prophecies against Israel, to which he sometimes refers as Ephraim, begin with a reference to his own disastrous marriage and the anger and anguish which he himself feels. No message has more impact than one growing out of the messenger's own experience. Perhaps that accounts for the power of Hosea's prophecies.

PREFACE. The word of the LORD that came to Hosea son of Beeri during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and during the reign of Jeroboam son of Jehoash^v king of Israel: Hosea 1:1

HOSEA'S OWN FAMILY. When the LORD began to speak through Hosea, the LORD said to him, "Go, take to yourself an adulterous wife and children of unfaithfulness, because the land is guilty of the vilest adultery in departing from the LORD." So he married Gomer daughter of Diblaim, and she conceived and bore him a son. Hosea 1:2-9

Then the LORD said to Hosea, "Call him Jezreel, because I will soon punish the house of Jehu for the massacre at Jezreel, and I will put an end to the kingdom of Israel. In that day I will break Israel's bow in the Valley of Jezreel."

Gomer conceived again and gave birth to a daughter. Then the LORD said to Hosea, "Call her Lo-Ruhamah,^w for I will no longer show love to the house of Israel, that I should at all forgive them. Yet I will show love to the house of Judah; and I will save them—not by bow, sword or battle, or by horses and horsemen, but by the LORD their God."

After she had weaned Lo-Ruhamah, Gomer had another son. Then the LORD said, "Call him Lo-Ammi,^x for you are not my people, and I am not your God.

HOPE FOR FUTURE. "Yet the Israelites will be like the sand on the seashore, which cannot be measured or counted. In the place where it was said to them, 'You are not my people,' they will be called 'sons of the living Hosea 1:10-2:1

2:2-13

ANGER AGAINST WIFE.

"Rebuke your mother, rebuke her,
for she is not my wife,
and I am not her husband.
Let her remove the adulterous look from her face and the unfaithfulness from between her breasts.
Otherwise I will strip her naked and make her as bare as on the day she was born;
I will make her like a desert,
turn her into a parched land,
and slay her with thirst.
I will not show my love to her children,
because they are the children of adultery.
Their mother has been unfaithful and has conceived them in disgrace.
She said, 'I will go after my lovers,
who give me my food and my water,
my wool and my linen, my oil and my drink.'
Therefore I will block her path with thornbushes;
I will wall her in so that she cannot find her way.
She will chase after her lovers but not catch them;
she will look for them but not find them.
Then she will say,
'I will go back to my husband as at first,
for then I was better off than now.'
She has not acknowledged that I was the one who gave her the grain, the new wine and oil, who lavished on her the silver and gold—which they used for Baal.
"Therefore I will take away my grain when it ripens, and my new wine when it is ready.
I will take back my wool and my linen, intended to cover her nakedness.
So now I will expose her lewdness before the eyes of her lovers;
no one will take her out of my hands.
I will stop all her celebrations:
her yearly festivals, her New Moons,
her Sabbath days—all her appointed feasts.
I will ruin her vines and her fig trees,
which she said were her pay from her lovers;
I will make them a thicket,
and wild animals will devour them.
I will punish her for the days
she burned incense to the Baals;
she decked herself with rings and jewelry, and went after her lovers, but me she forgot,"

declares the LORD.

FORGIVENESS AND ACCEPTANCE.

Hosea
2:14-23

"Therefore I am now going to allure her;
I will lead her into the desert and speak tenderly to her.
There I will give her back her vineyards, and will make the Valley of Achor^v a door of hope.
There she will sing^z as in the days of her youth,
as in the day she came up out of Egypt.

"In that day," declares the LORD,
"you will call me 'my husband';
you will no longer call me 'my master.'^a
I will remove the names of the Baals from her lips;
no longer will their names be invoked.
In that day I will make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field and the birds of the air and the creatures that move along the ground.
Bow and sword and battle
I will abolish from the land,
so that all may lie down in safety.
I will betroth you to me forever;
I will betroth you in^b righteousness and justice,
in^c love and compassion.
I will betroth you in faithfulness,
and you will acknowledge the LORD.

"In that day I will respond,"
declares the LORD—
"I will respond to the skies, and they will respond to the earth;
and the earth will respond to the grain,
the new wine and oil,
and they will respond to Jezreel.^d
I will plant her for myself in the land;
I will show my love to the one I called 'Not my loved one.'^e
I will say to those called 'Not my people,'^f 'You are my people';
and they will say, 'You are my God.'"

HOSEA TAKES BACK GOMER. The LORD said to me, "Go, show your love to your wife again, though she is loved by another and is an adulteress. Love her as the LORD loves the Israelites, though they turn to other gods and love the sacred raisin cakes."

CHARGE AGAINST ISRAEL.

Hear the word of the LORD, you Israelites, because the LORD has a charge to bring against you who live in the land:
"There is no faithfulness, no love,
no acknowledgment of God in the land.
There is only cursing,ⁱ lying and murder, stealing and adultery;
they break all bounds,
and bloodshed follows bloodshed.
Because of this the land mourns,^k and all who live in it waste away;
the beasts of the field and the birds of the air and the fish of the sea are dying.

"But let no man bring a charge, let no man accuse another, for your people are like those who bring charges against a priest.
You stumble day and night,
and the prophets stumble with you.
So I will destroy your mother—my people are destroyed from lack of knowledge.

Hosea
4:6b-9

SINS OF THE PRIESTS.

"Because you have rejected knowledge,
I also reject you as my priests;
because you have ignored the law of your God,
I also will ignore your children.
The more the priests increased,
the more they sinned against me;
they exchanged^l their^m Glory for something disgraceful.
They feed on the sins of my people and relish their wickedness.
And it will be: Like people, like priests.
I will punish both of them for their ways and repay them for their deeds.

ADULTERY OF IDOLATRY.

Hosea
4:10-19

"They will eat but not have enough;
 they will engage in prostitution but not increase,
 because they have deserted the LORD to give themselves to prostitution, to old wine and new,
 which take away the understanding of my people.
 They consult a wooden idol and are answered by a stick of wood.
 A spirit of prostitution leads them astray;
 they are unfaithful to their God.
 They sacrifice on the mountaintops and burn offerings on the hills, under oak, poplar and terebinth,
 where the shade is pleasant.
 Therefore your daughters turn to prostitution and your daughters-in-law to adultery.

"I will not punish your daughters when they turn to prostitution, nor your daughters-in-law
 when they commit adultery, because the men themselves consort with harlots and sacrifice with shrine prostitutes—
 a people without understanding will come to ruin!

"Though you commit adultery, O Israel, let not Judah become guilty.

"Do not go to Gilgal;
 do not go up to Beth Aven."
 And do not swear, 'As surely as the LORD lives!'
 The Israelites are stubborn, like a stubborn heifer.
 How then can the LORD pasture them like lambs in a meadow?
 Ephraim is joined to idols;
 leave him alone!
 Even when their drinks are gone,
 they continue their prostitution;
 their rulers dearly love shameful ways.
 A whirlwind will sweep them away,
 and their sacrifices will bring them shame.

JUDGMENT PRONOUNCED.

Hosea
5:1-15

"Hear this, you priests!
 Pay attention, you Israelites!
 Listen, O royal house!
 This judgment is against you:
 You have been a snare at Mizpah,
 a net spread out on Tabor.

^a*Beth Aven* means house of wickedness (a name for Bethel, which means house of God).

The rebels are deep in slaughter.
I will discipline all of them.
I know all about Ephraim;
Israel is not hidden from me.
Ephraim, you have now turned to prostitution;
Israel is corrupt.

“Their deeds do not permit them to return to their God.
A spirit of prostitution is in their heart;
they do not acknowledge the LORD.
Israel’s arrogance testifies against them;
the Israelites, even Ephraim, stumble in their sin;
Judah also stumbles with them.
When they go with their flocks and herds to seek the LORD,
they will not find him;
he has withdrawn himself from them.
They are unfaithful to the LORD;
they give birth to illegitimate children.
Now their New Moon festivals will devour them and their fields.

“Sound the trumpet in Gibeah,
the horn in Ramah.
Raise the battle cry in Beth Aven^o ;
lead on, O Benjamin.
Ephraim will be laid waste
on the day of reckoning.
Among the tribes of Israel
I proclaim what is certain.
Judah’s leaders are like those who move boundary stones.
I will pour out my wrath on them like a flood of water.
Ephraim is oppressed,
trampled in judgment, intent on pursuing idols.^p
I am like a moth to Ephraim, like rot to the people of Judah.

“When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah his sores,
then Ephraim turned to Assyria, and sent to the great king for help.
But he is not able to cure you,
not able to heal your sores.
For I will be like a lion to Ephraim,
like a great lion to Judah.
I will tear them to pieces and go away;

^o*Beth Aven* means house of wickedness (a name for Bethel, which means house of God).

^pThe meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

I will carry them off, with no one to rescue them.
 Then I will go back to my place until they admit their guilt.
 And they will seek my face;
 in their misery they will earnestly seek me."

ISRAEL EXPRESSES REPENTANCE.

Hosea
6:1-3

"Come, let us return to the LORD.
 He has torn us to pieces
 but he will heal us;
 he has injured us
 but he will bind up our wounds.
 After two days he will revive us;
 on the third day he will restore us,
 that we may live in his presence.
 Let us acknowledge the LORD;
 let us press on to acknowledge him.
 As surely as the sun rises,
 he will appear;
 he will come to us like the winter rains, like the spring rains that water the earth."

REPENTANCE SHORT-LIVED.

Hosea
6:4-11

"What can I do with you, Ephraim?
 What can I do with you, Judah?
 Your love is like the morning mist,
 like the early dew that disappears.
 Therefore I cut you in pieces with my prophets,
 I killed you with the words of my mouth;
 my judgments flashed like lightning upon you.
 For I desire mercy, not sacrifice,
 and acknowledgment of God rather than burnt offerings.
 Like Adam,⁹ they have broken the covenant—
 they were unfaithful to me there.
 Gilead is a city of wicked men, stained with footprints of blood.
 As marauders lie in ambush for a man,
 so do bands of priests;
 they murder on the road to Shechem, committing shameful crimes.
 I have seen a horrible thing in the house of Israel.
 There Ephraim is given to prostitution and Israel is defiled.
 "Also for you, Judah,
 a harvest is appointed.

ISRAEL'S WICKEDNESS.

Hosea
7:1-7

"Whenever I would restore the fortunes of my people,

⁹Or As at Adam; or Like men whenever I would heal Israel, the sins of Ephraim are exposed and the crimes of Samaria revealed.

 They practice deceit,
 thieves break into houses, bandits rob in the streets;
 but they do not realize that I remember all their evil deeds.
 Their sins engulf them;
 they are always before me.

“They delight the king with their wickedness,
 the princes with their lies.
 They are all adulterers, burning like an oven whose fire the baker need not stir from the kneading of the dough till it rises.
 On the day of the festival of our king
 the princes become inflamed with wine, and he joins hands with the mockers.
 Their hearts are like an oven;
 they approach him with intrigue.
 Their passion smolders all night;
 in the morning it blazes like a flaming fire.
 All of them are hot as an oven;
 they devour their rulers.
 All their kings fall,
 and none of them calls on me.

Hosea

FOREIGN RELATIONS.

“Ephraim mixes with the nations;
 Ephraim is a flat cake not turned over.
 Foreigners sap his strength,
 but he does not realize it.
 His hair is sprinkled with gray,
 but he does not notice.
 Israel’s arrogance testifies against him, but despite all this he does not return to the LORD his God or search for him.

“Ephraim is like a dove, easily deceived and senseless—
 now calling to Egypt,
 now turning to Assyria.
 When they go, I will throw my net over them;
 I will pull them down like birds of the air.
 When I hear them flocking together,
 I will catch them.
 Woe to them,
 because they have strayed from me!
 Destruction to them,
 because they have rebelled against me!

I long to redeem them
 but they speak lies against me.
 They do not cry out to me from their hearts
 but wail upon their beds.
 They gather together^r for grain and new wine
 but turn away from me.
 I trained them and strengthened them,
 but they plot evil against me.
 They do not turn to the Most High;
 they are like a faulty bow.
 Their leaders will fall by the sword because of their insolent words.
 For this they will be ridiculed in the land of Egypt.

CENSURE FOR CALF IDOLS.

Hosea
8:1-14

"Put the trumpet to your lips!
 An eagle is over the house of the LORD because the people have broken my covenant and rebelled against my law.
 Israel cries out to me,
 'O our God, we acknowledge you!'
 But Israel has rejected what is good;
 an enemy will pursue him.
 They set up kings without my consent;
 they choose princes without my approval.
 With their silver and gold they make idols for themselves to their own destruction.
 Throw out your calf-idol, O Samaria!
 My anger burns against them.
 How long will they be incapable of purity?
 They are from Israel!
 This calf—a craftsman has made it;
 it is not God.
 It will be broken in pieces, that calf of Samaria.
 "They sow the wind
 and reap the whirlwind.
 The stalk has no head;
 it will produce no flour.
 Were it to yield grain, foreigners would swallow it up.
 Israel is swallowed up;
 now she is among the nations like a worthless thing.
 For they have gone up to Assyria like a wild donkey wandering alone.

^rMost Hebrew manuscripts; some Hebrew manuscripts and Septuagint They slash themselves

Ephraim has sold herself to lovers.
 Although they have sold themselves among the nations,
 I will now gather them together.
 They will begin to waste away under the oppression of the mighty king.

“Though Ephraim built many altars for sin offerings, these have become altars for sinning.
 I wrote for them the many things of my law,
 but they regarded them as something alien.
 They offer sacrifices given to me
 and they eat the meat,
 but the LORD is not pleased with them.
 Now he will remember their wickedness and punish their sins:
 They will return to Egypt.
 Israel has forgotten his Maker and built palaces;
 Judah has fortified many towns.
 But I will send fire upon their cities that will consume their fortresses.”

Hosea

PUNISHMENT IN STORE.

Do not rejoice, O Israel;
 do not be jubilant like the other nations.
 For you have been unfaithful to your God;
 you love the wages of a prostitute
 at every threshing floor.
 Threshing floors and winepresses will not feed the people;
 the new wine will fail them.
 They will not remain in the LORD's land;
 Ephraim will return to Egypt and eat unclean^s food in Assyria.
 They will not pour out wine offerings to the LORD,
 nor will their sacrifices please him.
 Such sacrifices will be to them like the bread of mourners;
 all who eat them will be unclean.
 This food will be for themselves;
 it will not come into the temple of the LORD.
 What will you do on the day of your appointed feasts,
 on the festival days of the LORD?
 Even if they escape from destruction,
 Egypt will gather them,
 and Memphis will bury them.
 Their treasures of silver will be taken over by briers,
 and thorns will overrun their tents.
 The days of punishment are coming,
 the days of reckoning are at hand.
 Let Israel know this.

^sThat is, ceremonially unclean

Because your sins are so many and your hostility so great,
 the prophet is considered a fool,
 the inspired man a maniac.
 The prophet, along with my God, is the watchman over Ephraim,¹ yet snares await him on all his paths, and hostility in the house of his God.
 They have sunk deep into corruption,
 as in the days of Gibeah.
 God will remember their wickedness and punish them for their sins.

“When I found Israel, it was like finding grapes in the desert;
 when I saw your fathers,
 it was like seeing the early fruit on the fig tree.
 But when they came to Baal Peor, they consecrated themselves to that shameful idol and became as vile as the thing they loved.
 Ephraim’s glory will fly away like a bird—
 no birth, no pregnancy, no conception.
 Even if they rear children,
 I will bereave them of every one.
 Woe to them
 when I turn away from them!
 I have seen Ephraim, like Tyre, planted in a pleasant place.
 But Ephraim will bring out their children to the slayer.”

Give them, O LORD—what will you give them?
 Give them wombs that miscarry and breasts that are dry.

“Because of all their wickedness in Gilgal,
 I hated them there.
 Because of their sinful deeds,
 I will drive them out of my house.
 I will no longer love them;
 all their leaders are rebellious.
 Ephraim is blighted,
 their root is withered,
 they yield no fruit.
 Even if they bear children,
 I will slay their cherished offspring.”
 My God will reject them because they have not obeyed him;
 they will be wanderers among the nations. ☐

PREDICTION OF CAPTIVITY.

Israel was a spreading vine;
 he brought forth fruit for himself.
 As his fruit increased,
 he built more altars;
 as his land prospered,
 he adorned his sacred stones.
 Their heart is deceitful,
 and now they must bear their guilt.
 The LORD will demolish their altars and destroy their sacred stones.
 Then they will say, "We have no king because we did not revere the LORD.
 But even if we had a king,
 what could he do for us?"
 They make many promises, take false oaths and make agreements;
 therefore lawsuits spring up like poisonous weeds in a plowed field.
 The people who live in Samaria fear for the calf-idol of Beth Aven.^u
 Its people will mourn over it, and so will its idolatrous priests,
 those who had rejoiced over its splendor, because it is taken from them into exile.
 It will be carried to Assyria as tribute for the great king.
 Ephraim will be disgraced;
 Israel will be ashamed of its wooden idols.^v Samaria and its king will float away like a twig on the surface of the waters.
 The high places of wickedness^w will be destroyed—
 it is the sin of Israel.
 Thorns and thistles will grow up and cover their altars.
 Then they will say to the mountains, "Cover us!"
 and to the hills, "Fall on us!"
 "Since the days of Gibeah, you have sinned, O Israel, and there you have remained.^x
 Did not war overtake

 Sow for yourselves righteousness, reap the fruit of unailing love,
 and break up your unplowed ground;
 for it is time to seek the LORD, until he comes and showers righteousness on you.
 But you have planted wickedness,
 you have reaped evil,
 you have eaten the fruit of deception.
 Because you have depended on your own strength and on your many warriors,
 the roar of battle will rise against your people,
 so that all your fortresses will be devastated—
 as Shalman devastated Beth Arbel on the day of battle, when mothers were dashed to the ground with their children.
 Thus will it happen to you, O Bethel, because your wickedness is great.
 When that day dawns,
 the king of Israel will be completely destroyed.

GOD'S LOVE FOR ISRAEL.

Hosea
11:1-11

"When Israel was a child, I loved him,
 and out of Egypt I called my son.
 But the more I^v called Israel, the further they went from me.^z
 They sacrificed to the Baals and they burned incense to images.
 It was I who taught Ephraim to walk, taking them by the arms;
 but they did not realize it was I who healed them.
 I led them with cords of human kindness,
 with ties of love;
 I lifted the yoke from their neck and bent down to feed them.
 "Will they not return to Egypt and will not Assyria rule over them because they refuse to repent?
 Swords will flash in their cities, will destroy the bars of their gates

 How can I hand you over, Israel?
 How can I treat you like Admah?
 How can I make you like Zebaoim?
 My heart is changed within me;
 all my compassion is aroused.
 I will not carry out my fierce anger,
 nor will I turn and devastate Ephraim.
 For I am God, and not man—
 the Holy One among you.
 I will not come in wrath.^a
 They will follow the LORD;
 he will roar like a lion.
 When he roars,

 They will come trembling

RECITATION OF ISRAEL'S SINS.

Ephraim has surrounded me with lies,
 the house of Israel with deceit.
 And Judah is unruly against God, even against the faithful Holy One.
 Ephraim feeds on the wind;
 he pursues the east wind all day and multiplies lies and violence.
 He makes a treaty with Assyria and sends olive oil to Egypt.
 The LORD has a charge to bring against Judah;
 he will punish Jacob^b according to his ways and repay him according to his deeds.
 In the womb he grasped his brother's heel;
 as a man he struggled with God.
 He struggled with the angel and overcame him;
 he wept and begged for his favor.
 He found him at Bethel and talked with him there—
 The LORD God Almighty,
 the LORD is his name of renown!
 But you must return to your God;
 maintain love and justice,
 and wait for your God always.
 The merchant uses dishonest scales;
 he loves to defraud.
 Ephraim boasts,

^aOr come against any city ^bJacob means he grasps the heel (figuratively, he deceives).

"I am very rich; I have become wealthy.
With all my wealth they will not find in me any iniquity or sin."

"I am the LORD your God,
who brought you out of^c Egypt;
I will make you live in tents again,
as in the days of your appointed feasts.
I spoke to the prophets, gave them many visions and told parables through them."

Is Gilead wicked?
Its people are worthless!
Do they sacrifice bulls in Gilgal?
Their altars will be like piles of stones on a plowed field.
Jacob fled to the country of Aram^d;
Israel served to get a wife,
and to pay for her he tended sheep.
The LORD used a prophet to bring Israel up from Egypt,
by a prophet he cared for him.
But Ephraim has bitterly provoked him to anger;
his Lord will leave upon him the guilt of his bloodshed and will repay him for his contempt.

When Ephraim spoke, men trembled;
he was exalted in Israel.
But he became guilty of Baal worship and died.
Now they sin more and more;
they make idols for themselves from their silver,
cleverly fashioned images,
all of them the work of craftsmen.
It is said of these people,
"They offer human sacrifice and kiss^e the calf-idols."
Therefore they will be like the morning mist,
like the early dew that disappears,
like chaff swirling from a threshing floor, like smoke escaping through a window.

 of all its treasures.
 The people of Samaria must bear their guilt,
 because they have rebelled against their God.
 They will fall by the sword;
 their little ones will be dashed to the ground, their pregnant women ripped open."

Hosea
 14:1-9

PROMISE OF FORGIVENESS.

Return, O Israel, to the LORD your God.
 Your sins have been your downfall!
 Take words with you and return to the LORD.
 Say to him:
 "Forgive all our sins
 and receive us graciously,
 that we may offer the fruit of our lips.^s

^fHebrew Sheol ^sOr offer our lips as sacrifices of bulls

Assyria cannot save us;
 we will not mount war-horses.
 We will never again say 'Our gods'
 to what our own hands have made,
 for in you the fatherless find compassion."

"I will heal their waywardness and love them freely,
 for my anger has turned away from them.
 I will be like the dew to Israel;
 he will blossom like a lily.
 Like a cedar of Lebanon
 he will send down his roots;
 his young shoots will grow.
 His splendor will be like an olive tree,
 his fragrance like a cedar of Lebanon.
 Men will dwell again in his shade.
 He will flourish like the grain.
 He will blossom like a vine,
 and his fame will be like the wine from Lebanon.
 O Ephraim, what more have I^h to do with idols?
 I will answer him and care for him.
 I am like a green pine tree;
 your fruitfulness comes from me."
 Who is wise? He will realize these things.
 Who is discerning? He will understand them.
 The ways of the LORD are right;
 the righteous walk in them,
 but the rebellious stumble in them.

Despite the warnings of Hosea, the people remain entrenched in idolatry. The focus now turns to Judah, which, though affected less than Israel, has problems of its own.

AMAZIAH ASSASSINATED. As for the other events of Amaziah's reign, from beginning to end, are they not written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel? From the time that Amaziah turned away from following the LORD, they conspired against him in Jerusalem and he fled to Lachish, but they sent men after him to Lachish and killed him there. The Ammonites brought tribute to Uzziah, and his fame spread as far as the border of Egypt, because he had become very powerful.

UZZIAH'S INDUSTRIES. Uzziah built towers in Jerusalem at the Corner Gate, at the Valley Gate and at the angle of the wall, and he fortified them. He also built towers in the desert and dug many cisterns, because he had much livestock in the foothills and in the plain. He had people working his fields and vineyards in the hills and in the fertile lands, for he loved the soil. In Jerusalem he made machines designed by skillful men for use on the towers and on the corner defenses to shoot arrows and hurl large stones. His fame spread far and wide, for he was greatly helped until he became powerful.

UZZIAH'S MILITARY STRENGTH. Uzziah had a well-trained army, ready to go out by divisions according to their numbers as mustered by Jeiel the secretary and Maaseiah the officer under the direction of Hanaiah, one of the royal officials. The total number of family leaders over the fighting men was 2,600. Under their command was an army of 307,500 men trained for war, a powerful force to support the king against his enemies. Uzziah provided shields, spears, helmets, coats of armor, bows and slingstones for the entire army.

The Prophecies of Amos

In the days of Uzziah and Jeroboam II, God calls a lowly shepherd from Tekoa, near Bethlehem in Judah, to prophesy against several nations, but principally against Israel. Amos comes to Israel at a time when Jeroboam's great military successes have brought unparalleled prosperity, and with it selfishness, greed, and immorality. Although he comes to the center of calf worship at Bethel, he does not attack idolatry as such (as does his contemporary, Hosea). He concentrates instead on rebuking both Israel and Judah for the meaninglessness of their worship, whatever its form. He calls for consistency in one's religious exercises and daily ethical conduct, and cries out against a people who honor deity with their many sacrifices yet refuse justice and mercy to the oppressed and needy.

Amos' message comes first in the form of eight "burdens" against various nations. Three sermons of judgment then follow, and an oracle containing five visions: of locusts, fire, a plumb line, ripe fruit, and the altar. Amos ends his writing with a message of hope and a promise of restoration.

It is not at all surprising that Amos is rebuked by Amaziah, the high priest, for it is, after all, the selfish religious establishment which has led the people into this institutionalized and meaningless form of religion.

PREFACE. The words of Amos, one of the shepherds of Tekoa—what he saw concerning Israel two years before the earthquake, when Uzziah was king of Judah and Jeroboam son of Jehoash^k was king of Israel. Amos 1:1

JUDGMENT AGAINST NATIONS. He said: Amos 1:2

"The LORD roars from Zion and thunders from Jerusalem;
the pastures of the shepherds dry up,^l and the top of Carmel withers."

AGAINST SYRIANS. This is what the LORD says: Amos 1:3-5

"For three sins of Damascus,
even for four, I will not turn back μ my wrath.
Because she threshed Gilead with sledges having iron teeth,
I will send fire upon the house of Hazael that will consume the fortresses of Ben-Hadad.
I will break down the gate of Damascus;
I will destroy the king who is in^m the Valley of Avenⁿ and the one who holds the scepter in Beth Eden.
The people of Aram will go into exile to Kir,"
says the LORD.

AGAINST PHILISTINES. This is what the LORD says: Amos 1:6-8

"For three sins of Gaza,
even for four, I will not turn back μ my wrath.
Because she took captive whole communities and sold them to Edom,
I will send fire upon the walls of Gaza
that will consume her fortresses.
I will destroy the king^o of Ashdod and the one who holds the scepter in Ashkelon.
I will turn my hand against Ekron, till the last of the Philistines is dead," says the Sovereign LORD.

AGAINST TYRE. This is what the LORD says: Amos 1:9,10

"For three sins of Tyre,
even for four, I will not turn back μ my wrath.

“For three sins of Edom,
even for four, I will not turn back ^μmy wrath.
Because he pursued his brother with a sword, stifling all compassion,^ρ because his anger raged continually and his fury flamed unchecked,

Amos

AGAINST AMMONITES. This is what the LORD says:

“For three sins of Ammon,
even for four, I will not turn back ^μmy wrath.
Because he ripped open the pregnant women of Gilead in order to extend his borders,
I will set fire to the walls of Rabbah
that will consume her fortresses amid war cries on the day of battle, amid violent winds on a stormy day.
Her king^q will go into exile,
he and his officials together,”

says the LORD.

Amos 2:1-3

AGAINST MOABITES. This is what the LORD says:

“For three sins of Moab,
even for four, I will not turn back ^μmy wrath.
Because he burned, as if to lime,
the bones of Edom’s king,
I will send fire upon Moab

says the LORD.

AGAINST JUDAH. This is what the LORD says:

AGAINST ISRAEL. This is what the LORD says:

Amos
2:6-16

"For three sins of Israel,
even for four, I will not turn back my wrath.
They sell the righteous for silver,
and the needy for a pair of sandals.
They trample on the heads of the poor as upon the dust of the ground and deny justice to the oppressed.
Father and son use the same girl and so profane my holy name.
They lie down beside every altar on garments taken in pledge.
In the house of their god
they drink wine taken as fines.

"I destroyed the Amorite before them, though he was tall as the cedars and strong as the oaks.
I destroyed his fruit above and his roots below.

"I brought you up out of Egypt,
and I led you forty years in the desert
to give you the land of the Amorites.
I also raised up prophets from among your sons and Nazirites from among your young men.
Is this not true, people of Israel?"

declares the LORD.

"But you made the Nazirites drink wine and commanded the prophets not to prophesy.

"Now then, I will crush you as a cart crushes when loaded with grain.
The swift will not escape,
the strong will not muster their strength,
and the warrior will not save his life.
The archer will not stand his ground,
the fleet-footed soldier will not get away,
and the horseman will not save his life.
Even the bravest warriors will flee naked on that day,"

declares the LORD.

GOD'S PLANS REVEALED. Hear this word the LORD has spoken against you, O people of Israel—against the whole family I brought up out of Egypt:

Amos
3:1-10

"You only have I chosen of all the families of the earth;
therefore I will punish you for all your sins."

Do two walk together
 unless they have agreed to do so?
 Does a lion roar in the thicket
 when he has no prey?
 Does he growl in his den
 when he has caught nothing?
 Does a bird fall into a trap on the ground where no snare has been set?
 Does a trap spring up from the earth
 when there is nothing to catch?
 When a trumpet sounds in a city,
 do not the people tremble?
 When disaster comes to a city,
 has not the LORD caused it?

Surely the Sovereign LORD does nothing without revealing his plan to his servants the prophets.

The lion has roared—who will not fear?
 The Sovereign LORD has spoken—who can but prophesy?

Proclaim to the fortresses of Ashdod and to the fortresses of Egypt:

“Assemble yourselves on the mountains of Samaria;
 see the great unrest within her and the oppression among her people.”

“They do not know how to do right,” declares the LORD,
 “who hoard plunder and loot in their fortresses.”

Amos
 3:11-15

PROMISE OF PUNISHMENT. Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD
 says:

“An enemy will overrun the land;
 he will pull down your strongholds and plunder your fortresses.”

This is what the LORD says:

“As a shepherd saves from the lion’s mouth only two leg bones or a piece of an ear, so will the Israelites be saved,
 those who sit in Samaria on the edge of their beds and in Damascus on their couches.”

“Hear this and testify against the house of Jacob,” declares the Lord, the LORD God Almighty.

“On the day I punish Israel for her sins,
 I will destroy the altars of Bethel;
 the horns of the altar will be cut off and fall to the ground.

“The meaning of the Hebrew for this line is uncertain.

I will tear down the winter house along with the summer house;
 the houses adorned with ivory will be destroyed and the mansions will be demolished,"
 declares the LORD.

GOD'S MANY WARNINGS.

Amos
 4:1-11

Hear this word, you cows of Bashan on Mount Samaria, you women who oppress the poor and crush the needy and say to your husbands, "Bring us some drinks!"
 The Sovereign LORD has sworn by his holiness:
 "The time will surely come when you will be taken away with hooks, the last of you with fishhooks.
 You will each go straight out through breaks in the wall, and you will be cast out toward Harmon,^v"
 declares the LORD.

"Go to Bethel and sin;
 go to Gilgal and sin yet more.
 Bring your sacrifices every morning,
 your tithes every three years.^w Burn leavened bread as a thank offering and brag about your freewill offerings—boast about them, you Israelites, for this is what you love to do,"
 declares the Sovereign LORD.

"I gave you empty stomachs^x in every city and lack of bread in every town, yet you have not returned to me,"
 declares the LORD.

"I also withheld rain from you when the harvest was still three months away.
 I sent rain on one town,
 but withheld it from another.
 One field had rain;
 another had none and dried up.
 People staggered from town to town for water but did not get enough to drink,
 yet you have not returned to me,"
 declares the LORD.

"Many times I struck your gardens and vineyards,
 I struck them with blight and mildew.
 Locusts devoured your fig and olive trees,
 yet you have not returned to me,"
 declares the LORD.

"I sent plagues among you

^vMasoretic Text; with a different word division of the Hebrew (see Septuagint) out, O mountain of oppression ^wOr tithes on the third day ^xHebrew you cleanness of teeth

as I did to Egypt.
 I killed your young men with the sword,
 along with your captured horses.
 I filled your nostrils with the stench of your camps,
 yet you have not returned to me,"
 declares the LORD.

"I overthrew some of you
 as I^y overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.
 You were like a burning stick snatched from the fire,
 yet you have not returned to me,"
 declares the LORD.

Amos
 4:12,13

NEED TO PREPARE.

"Therefore this is what I will do to you, Israel, and because I will do this to you, prepare to meet your God, O Israel."

He who forms the mountains, creates the wind,
 and reveals his thoughts to man,
 he who turns dawn to darkness, and treads the high places of the earth—
 the LORD God Almighty is his name.

Amos
 5:1-15

CRY AGAINST INJUSTICE. Hear this word, O house of Israel, this lament I take up concerning you:

"Fallen is Virgin Israel,
 never to rise again,
 deserted in her own land,
 with no one to lift her up."

This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"The city that marches out a thousand strong for Israel will have only a hundred left;
 the town that marches out a hundred strong will have only ten left."

This is what the LORD says to the house of Israel:

"Seek me and live;
 do not seek Bethel,
 do not go to Gilgal,
 do not journey to Beersheba.
 For Gilgal will surely go into exile, and Bethel will be reduced to nothing.^z Seek the LORD and live, or he will sweep through the house of Joseph like a fire;
 it will devour,
 and Bethel will have no one to quench it.

You who turn justice into bitterness

^yHebrew God ^zOr grief; or wickedness; Hebrew aven, a reference to Beth Aven (a derogatory name for Bethel)

and cast righteousness to the ground (he who made the Pleiades and Orion, who turns blackness into dawn and darkens day into night, who calls for the waters of the sea
 and pours them out over the face of the land—
 the LORD is his name—
 he flashes destruction on the stronghold and brings the fortified city to ruin), you hate the one who reproves in court and despise him who tells the truth.

You trample on the poor and force him to give you grain.
 Therefore, though you have built stone mansions,
 you will not live in them;
 though you have planted lush vineyards,
 you will not drink their wine.
 For I know how many are your offenses and how great your sins.

You oppress the righteous and take bribes and you deprive the poor of justice in the courts.
 Therefore the prudent man keeps quiet in such times,
 for the times are evil.

Seek good, not evil,
 that you may live.
 Then the LORD God Almighty will be with you,
 just as you say he is.
 Hate evil, love good;
 maintain justice in the courts.
 Perhaps the LORD God Almighty will have mercy on the remnant of Joseph.

DAY OF THE LORD. Therefore this is what the Lord, the LORD God Almighty, says:

Amos
 5:16-20

“There will be wailing in all the streets and cries of anguish in every public square.
 The farmers will be summoned to weep
 and the mourners to wail.
 There will be wailing in all the vineyards, for I will pass through your midst,”

says the LORD.

Woe to you who long
 for the day of the LORD!
 Why do you long for the day of the LORD?
 That day will be darkness, not light.
 It will be as though a man fled from a lion only to meet a bear,
 as though he entered his house and rested his hand on the wall only to have a snake bite him.

Will not the day of the LORD be darkness, not light—pitch-dark, without a ray of brightness?

Amos
5:21-26

EMPTINESS OF RITUAL.

“I hate, I despise your religious feasts;
I cannot stand your assemblies.
Even though you bring me burnt offerings and grain offerings,
I will not accept them.
Though you bring choice fellowship offerings,^a
I will have no regard for them.
Away with the noise of your songs!
I will not listen to the music of your harps.
But let justice roll on like a river, righteousness like a never-failing stream!

“Did you bring me sacrifices and offerings
forty years in the desert, O house of Israel?
You have lifted up the shrine of your king,
the pedestal of your idols,
the star of your god^b — which you made for yourselves.

Amos 5:27 PREDICTION OF CAPTIVITY.

Therefore I will send you into exile beyond Damascus,” says the LORD, whose name is God Almighty.

Amos 6:1-7 REBUKE FOR COMPLACENCY.

Woe to you who are complacent in Zion,
and to you who feel secure on Mount Samaria,
you notable men of the foremost nation,
to whom the people of Israel come!
Go to Calneh and look at it;
go from there to great Hamath,
and then go down to Gath in Philistia.
Are they better off than your two kingdoms?
Is their land larger than yours?
You put off the evil day
and bring near a reign of terror.
You lie on beds inlaid with ivory and lounge on your couches.
You dine on choice lambs and fattened calves.
You strum away on your harps like David and improvise on musical instruments.
You drink wine by the bowlful and use the finest lotions,
but you do not grieve over the ruin of Joseph.
Therefore you will be among the first to go into exile;
your feasting and lounging will end.

^aTraditionally peace offerings ^bOr lifted up Sakkuth your king / and Kaiwan your idols, / your star-gods; Septuagint lifted up the shrine of Molech / and the star of your god Rephan, / their idols

REBUKE FOR PRIDE. The Sovereign LORD has sworn by himself—the LORD God Almighty declares:

Amos
6:8-14

"I abhor the pride of Jacob and detest his fortresses;
I will deliver up the city and everything in it."

If ten men are left in one house, they too will die. And if a relative who is to burn the bodies comes to carry them out of the house and asks anyone still hiding there, "Is anyone with you?" and he says, "No," then he will say, "Hush! We must not mention the name of the LORD."

For the LORD has given the command, and he will smash the great house into pieces and the small house into bits.

Do horses run on the rocky crags?
Does one plow there with oxen?
But you have turned justice into poison and the fruit of righteousness into bitterness—you who rejoice in the conquest of Lo Debar^c and say, "Did we not take Karnaim^d by our own strength?"

For the LORD God Almighty declares,
"I will stir up a nation against you, O house of Israel, that will oppress you all the way from Lebo^c Hamath to the valley of the Arabah."

VISION OF LOCUSTS. This is what the Sovereign LORD showed me: He was preparing swarms of locusts after the king's share had been harvested and just as the second crop was coming up. When they had stripped the land clean, I cried out, "Sovereign LORD, forgive! How can Jacob survive? He is so small!"

Amos 7:1-3

So the LORD relented.
"This will not happen," the LORD said.

VISION OF FIRE. This is what the Sovereign LORD showed me: The Sovereign LORD was calling for judgment by fire; it dried up the great deep and devoured the land. Then I cried out, "Sovereign LORD, I beg you, stop! How can Jacob survive? He is so small!"

Amos 7:4-6

So the LORD relented.
"This will not happen either," the Sovereign LORD said.

VISION OF PLUMB LINE. This is what he showed me: The Lord was standing by a wall that had been built true to plumb, with a plumb line in his hand. And the LORD asked me, "What do you see, Amos?"

Amos 7:7-9

"A plumb line," I replied.
Then the Lord said, "Look, I am setting a plumb line among my people Israel; I will spare them no longer.

^cLo Debar means nothing. ^dKarnaim means horns; horn here symbolizes strength.
^cOr from the entrance to

“The high places of Isaac will be destroyed and the sanctuaries of Israel will be ruined;
with my sword I will rise against the house of Jeroboam.”

Amos 8:1-3 VISION OF RIPE FRUIT. This is what the Sovereign LORD showed me: a basket of ripe fruit. “What do you see, Amos?” he asked.

“A basket of ripe fruit,” I answered.

Then the LORD said to me, “The time is ripe for my people Israel; I will spare them no longer.

“In that day,” declares the Sovereign LORD, “the songs in the temple will turn to wailing.^f Many, many bodies—flung everywhere! Silence!”

Amos 8:4-6 UNETHICAL RELIGION.

Hear this, you who trample the needy and do away with the poor of the land, saying,

“When will the New Moon be over that we may sell grain, and the Sabbath be ended that we may market wheat?”— skimping the measure, boosting the price
and cheating with dishonest scales, buying the poor with silver
and the needy for a pair of sandals, selling even the sweepings with the wheat.

Amos
8:7-14

PROMISE OF PUNISHMENT. The LORD has sworn by the Pride of Jacob:
“I will never forget anything they have done.

“Will not the land tremble for this,
and all who live in it mourn?
The whole land will rise like the Nile;
it will be stirred up and then sink
like the river of Egypt.

“In that day,” declares the Sovereign LORD,

“I will make the sun go down at noon and darken the earth in broad daylight.
I will turn your religious feasts into mourning and all your singing into weeping.
I will make all of you wear sackcloth and shave your heads.
I will make that time like mourning for an only son and the end of it like a bitter day.

“The days are coming,” declares the Sovereign LORD,
“when I will send a famine through the land—
not a famine of food or a thirst for water, but a famine of hearing the words of the LORD.
Men will stagger from sea to sea

^fOr “the temple singers will wail and wander from north to east, searching for the word of the LORD,

but they will not find it.

"In that day

"the lovely young women and strong young men will faint because of thirst.
They who swear by the shame^g of Samaria, or say, 'As surely as your god lives, O Dan,' or, 'As surely as the god^h of Beersheba lives'— they will fall,
never to rise again."

VISION OF THE ALTAR. I saw the Lord standing by the altar, and he said: Amos 9:1-10

"Strike the tops of the pillars
so that the thresholds shake.
Bring them down on the heads of all the people;
those who are left I will kill with the sword.
Not one will get away,
none will escape.
Though they dig down to the depths of the grave,ⁱ from there my hand will take them.
Though they climb up to the heavens,
from there I will bring them down.
Though they hide themselves on the top of Carmel,
there I will hunt them down and seize them.
Though they hide from me at the bottom of the sea,
there I will command the serpent to bite them.
Though they are driven into exile by their enemies,
there I will command the sword to slay them.
I will fix my eyes upon them for evil and not for good."

The Lord, the LORD Almighty,
he who touches the earth and it melts,
and all who live in it mourn—
the whole land rises like the Nile, then sinks like the river of Egypt—
he who builds his lofty palace^j in the heavens and sets its foundation^k on the earth,
who calls for the waters of the sea
and pours them out over the face of the land—
the LORD is his name.

"Are not you Israelites the same to me as the Cushites^l?"

declares the LORD.

“Surely the eyes of the Sovereign LORD are on the sinful kingdom.
I will destroy it from the face of the earth—yet I will not totally destroy the house of Jacob,”

declares the LORD.

“For I will give the command, and I will shake the house of Israel among all the nations
as grain is shaken in a sieve,
and not a pebble will reach to the ground.
All the sinners among my people will die by the sword,
all those who say,
‘Disaster will not overtake or meet us.’

Amos
9:11-15

PROMISE OF RESTORATION.

“In that day I will restore David’s fallen tent.
I will repair its broken places,
restore its ruins,
and build it as it used to be,
so that they may possess the remnant of Edom and all the nations that bear my name,”[”] declares the LORD, who will do these things.

“The days are coming,” declares the LORD,

“when the reaper will be overtaken by the plowman and the planter by the one treading grapes.
New wine will drip from the mountains and flow from all the hills.
I will bring back my exiled^o people Israel;
they will rebuild the ruined cities and live in them.
They will plant vineyards and drink their wine;
they will make gardens and eat their fruit.
I will plant Israel in their own land, never again to be uprooted from the land I have given them,” says the LORD your God.

Amos
7:10-13

PRIEST’S ANGRY RESPONSE. Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent a message to Jeroboam king of Israel: “Amos is raising a conspiracy against you in the very heart of Israel. The land cannot bear all his words. For this is what Amos is saying:

“Jeroboam will die by the sword,

^mThat is, Crete [”]Hebrew; Septuagint so that the remnant of men / and all the nations that bear my name may seek the Lord, ^oOr will restore the fortunes of my and Israel will surely go into exile, away from their native land.'"

Then Amaziah said to Amos, "Get out, you seer! Go back to the land of Judah. Earn your bread there and do your prophesying there. Don't prophesy anymore at Bethel, because this is the king's sanctuary and the temple of the kingdom."

AMOS' ANSWER. Amos answered Amaziah, "I was neither a prophet nor a prophet's son, but I was a shepherd, and I also took care of sycamore-fig trees. But the LORD took me from tending the flock and said to me, 'Go, prophesy to my people Israel.' Now then, hear the word of the LORD. You say,

Amos
7:14-17

"Do not prophesy against Israel, and stop preaching against the house of Isaac.'

"Therefore this is what the LORD says:

"Your wife will become a prostitute in the city,
and your sons and daughters will fall by the sword.
Your land will be measured and divided up,
and you yourself will die in a paganⁿ country.
And Israel will certainly go into exile,
away from their native land.'"

The wickedness against which Amos speaks is also seen in the political chaos which comes following Jeroboam's death.

Era of Uzziah and Jotham in Judah _____

Since at least 767 B.C., King Uzziah, also known as Azariah, has reigned over Judah with great success. But his good fortune is about to go to his head, and he will suffer serious illness for his presumptuousness. Uzziah's illness will necessitate a co-regent to run the day-to-day affairs of state. In filling that role, Uzziah's son Jotham is a good leader. But he is not the religious man needed by this materialistic, immoral, unjust, and complacent people.

SIN MAKES UZZIAH LEPROUS. But after Uzziah became powerful, his pride led to his downfall. He was unfaithful to the LORD his God, and entered the temple of the LORD to burn incense on the altar of incense. Azariah the priest with eighty other courageous priests of the LORD followed him in. They confronted him and said, "It is not right for you, Uzziah, to burn incense to the LORD. That is for the priests, the descendants of Aaron, who have been consecrated to burn incense. Leave the sanctuary, for you have been unfaithful; and you will not be honored by the LORD God."

Uzziah, who had a censer in his hand ready to burn incense, became angry. While he was raging at the priests in their presence before the incense altar in the LORD's temple, leprosy¹ broke out on his forehead. When Azariah the chief priest and all the other priests looked at him, they saw that he had leprosy on his forehead, so they hurried him out. Indeed, he himself was eager to leave, because the LORD had afflicted him.

King Uzziah had leprosy until the day he died. He lived in a separate house² —leprous, and excluded from the temple of the LORD.

The Prophecies of Isaiah

During Uzziah's reign, and in the year immediately following his death, perhaps the greatest evangelistic prophet ever known to God's people begins an active ministry which will last some 40 years. Isaiah will do for Judah what Joel, Hosea, and Amos have done for Israel: he will tell the people about God's judgment against religious formalism, idolatry, oppression, immorality, and pride, and also warn them of the captivity they are about to face. Throughout his prophecies Isaiah repeatedly refers to the final day of the Lord, when all people will face judgment like that being brought against Israel and Judah. The imagery is exciting and visionary. Isaiah also looks forward to the coming of the Messiah and Savior, who will redeem all mankind from their sins. For this reason, much of what Isaiah has to say will be as meaningful to future generations as it is to those who live in Judah at this time.

Isaiah's message begins with a condemnation of Judah's many sins. He insists that Judah's sins will bring severe punishment, from which neither Judah's idols nor its leaders can save the people. He challenges the people to come to their senses before it is too late, and to look forward to the last days, when there will be a spiritual renewal and everlasting peace.

PREFACE. The vision concerning Judah and Jerusalem that Isaiah son of Amoz saw during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz and Hezekiah, kings of Judah. Isa. 1:1

JUDAH'S SINFUL STATE.

Isa. 1:2-9

Hear, O heavens! Listen, O earth!

For the LORD has spoken:

"I reared children and brought them up,
but they have rebelled against me.

The ox knows his master,
the donkey his owner's manger,
but Israel does not know,
my people do not understand."

Ah, sinful nation,
a people loaded with guilt,
a brood of evildoers, children given to corruption!
They have forsaken the LORD;
they have spurned the Holy One of Israel and turned their backs on him.

Why should you be beaten anymore?

Why do you persist in rebellion?

Your whole head is injured, your whole heart afflicted.

From the sole of your foot to the top of your head there is no soundness—only wounds and welts and open sores,

not cleansed or bandaged or soothed with oil.

Your country is desolate,
your cities burned with fire;
your fields are being stripped by foreigners right before you,
laid waste as when overthrown by strangers.
The Daughter of Zion is left like a shelter in a vineyard, like a hut in a field of melons,
like a city under siege.
Unless the LORD Almighty
had left us some survivors,
we would have become like Sodom,
we would have been like Gomorrah.

Isa. 5:1-7 PARABLE OF VINEYARD.

I will sing for the one I love
a song about his vineyard:
My loved one had a vineyard on a fertile hillside.
He dug it up and cleared it of stones and planted it with the choicest vines.
He built a watchtower in it and cut out a winepress as well.
Then he looked for a crop of good grapes,
but it yielded only bad fruit.
“Now you dwellers in Jerusalem and men of Judah, judge between me and my vineyard.
What more could have been done for my vineyard than I have done for it?
When I looked for good grapes,
why did it yield only bad?
Now I will tell you what I am going to do to my vineyard:
I will take away its hedge,
and it will be destroyed;
I will break down its wall,
and it will be trampled.
I will make it a wasteland, neither pruned nor cultivated,
and briars and thorns will grow there.
I will command the clouds not to rain on it.”
The vineyard of the LORD Almighty is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah
are the garden of his delight.
And he looked for justice, but saw bloodshed;
for righteousness, but heard cries of distress.

SIN OF RELIGIOUS FORMALISM.

Isa. 1:10-17

Hear the word of the LORD,
 you rulers of Sodom;
 listen to the law of our God,
 you people of Gomorrah!
 "The multitude of your sacrifices—
 what are they to me?" says the LORD.
 "I have more than enough of burnt offerings,
 of rams and the fat of fattened animals;
 I have no pleasure
 in the blood of bulls and lambs and goats.
 When you come to appear before me,
 who has asked this of you,
 this trampling of my courts?
 Stop bringing meaningless offerings!
 Your incense is detestable to me.
 New Moons, Sabbaths and convocations—
 I cannot bear your evil assemblies.
 Your New Moon festivals and your appointed feasts my soul hates.
 They have become a burden to me;
 I am weary of bearing them.
 When you spread out your hands in prayer,
 I will hide my eyes from you;
 even if you offer many prayers,
 I will not listen.
 Your hands are full of blood;
 wash and make yourselves clean.
 Take your evil deeds out of my sight!
 Stop doing wrong,
 learn to do right!
 Seek justice,
 encourage the oppressed.^v Defend the cause of the fatherless, plead the case of the widow.

SIN OF INJUSTICE.

Isa. 1:21-26

See how the faithful city has become a harlot!
 She once was full of justice; righteousness used to dwell in her—but now murderers!
 Your silver has become dross,
 your choice wine is diluted with water.
 Your rulers are rebels, companions of thieves;
 they all love bribes and chase after gifts.

^vOr / rebuke the oppressor

They do not defend the cause of the fatherless;
 the widow's case does not come before them.
 Therefore the Lord, the LORD Almighty,
 the Mighty One of Israel, declares:
 "Ah, I will get relief from my foes and avenge myself on my enemies.
 I will turn my hand against you;
 I will thoroughly purge away your dross and remove all your impurities.
 I will restore your judges as in days of old,
 your counselors as at the beginning.
 Afterward you will be called the City of Righteousness,
 the Faithful City."

Isa. 2:6-9 SIN OF IDOLATRY.

You have abandoned your people,
 the house of Jacob.
 They are full of superstitions from the East;
 they practice divination like the Philistines and clasp hands with pagans.
 Their land is full of silver and gold;
 there is no end to their treasures.
 Their land is full of horses;
 there is no end to their chariots.
 Their land is full of idols;
 they bow down to the work of their hands,
 to what their fingers have made.
 So man will be brought low
 and mankind humbled—
 do not forgive them.¹⁰

Isa. 2:10-18 SIN OF PRIDE.

Go into the rocks, hide in the ground
 from dread of the LORD
 and the splendor of his majesty!
 The eyes of the arrogant man will be humbled and the pride of men brought low;
 the LORD alone will be exalted in that day.
 The LORD Almighty has a day in store for all the proud and lofty, for all that is exalted (and they will be humbled), for all the cedars of Lebanon, tall and lofty,
 and all the oaks of Bashan, for all the towering mountains and all the high hills, for every lofty tower

¹⁰Or not raise them up

 The arrogance of man will be brought low and the pride of men humbled;
 the LORD alone will be exalted in that day,
 and the idols will totally disappear.

SIN OF THE LEADERS.

Isa. 3:8-15

Jerusalem staggers, Judah is falling;
 their words and deeds are against the LORD,
 defying his glorious presence.
 The look on their faces testifies against them;
 they parade their sin like Sodom;
 they do not hide it.
 Woe to them!
 They have brought disaster upon themselves.
 Tell the righteous it will be well with them,
 for they will enjoy the fruit of their deeds.
 Woe to the wicked! Disaster is upon them!
 They will be paid back for what their hands have done.
 Youths oppress my people,
 women rule over them.
 O my people, your guides lead you astray;
 they turn you from the path.
 The LORD takes his place in court;
 he rises to judge the people.
 The LORD enters into judgment against the elders and leaders of his people:
 "It is you who have ruined my vineyard;
 the plunder from the poor is in your houses.
 What do you mean by crushing my people and grinding the faces of the poor?"
 declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty.

SIN OF THE WOMEN.

Isa.
3:16-4:1
32:9-11

The LORD says,
 "The women of Zion are haughty, walking along with outstretched necks,
 flirting with their eyes,
 tripping along with mincing steps,
 with ornaments jingling on their ankles.
 Therefore the Lord will bring sores on the heads of the women of Zion;
 the LORD will make their scalps bald."

In that day the Lord will snatch away their finery: the bangles and headbands and crescent necklaces, the earrings and bracelets and veils,

^xHebrew every ship of Tarshish

the headdresses and ankle chains and sashes, the perfume bottles and charms, the signet rings and nose rings, the fine robes and the capes and cloaks, the purses and mirrors, and the linen garments and tiaras and shawls.

Instead of fragrance there will be a stench;
instead of a sash, a rope;

instead of well-dressed hair, baldness;

instead of fine clothing, sackcloth;

instead of beauty, branding.

Your men will fall by the sword, your warriors in battle.

The gates of Zion will lament and mourn;

destitute, she will sit on the ground.

In that day seven women will take hold of one man and say, "We will eat our own food and provide our own clothes;

only let us be called by your name.

Take away our disgrace!"

You women who are so complacent, rise up and listen to me;

you daughters who feel secure,

hear what I have to say!

In little more than a year

you who feel secure will tremble;

the grape harvest will fail,

and the harvest of fruit will not come.

Tremble, you complacent women;

shudder, you daughters who feel secure!

Strip off your clothes,

put sackcloth around your waists.

Isa. 5:8-10 SIN OF GREED.

Woe to you who add house to house and join field to field

till no space is left

and you live alone in the land.

The LORD Almighty has declared in my hearing:

"Surely the great houses will become desolate,

the fine mansions left without occupants.

A ten-acre^y vineyard will produce only a bath^z of wine, a homer^a of seed only an ephah^b of grain."

Isa. 5:11-14 SIN OF REVELRY.

Woe to those who rise early in the morning to run after their drinks, who stay up late at night

^yHebrew ten-yoke, that is, the land plowed by 10 yoke of oxen in one day ^zThat is, probably about 6 gallons (about 22 liters) ^aThat is, probably about 6 bushels (about 220 liters) ^bThat is, probably about 3/5 bushel (about 22 liters) till they are inflamed with wine.

 They have harps and lyres at their banquets, tambourines and flutes and wine,
 but they have no regard for the deeds of the LORD,
 no respect for the work of his hands.
 Therefore my people will go into exile for lack of understanding;
 their men of rank will die of hunger and their masses will be parched with thirst.
 Therefore the grave enlarges its appetite and opens its mouth without limit;
 into it will descend their nobles and masses with all their brawlers and revelers.

SIN OF ARROGANCE.

Isa. 5:15-17

So man will be brought low
 and mankind humbled,
 the eyes of the arrogant humbled.
 But the LORD Almighty will be exalted by his justice, and the holy God will show himself holy by his righteousness.
 Then sheep will graze as in their own pasture;
 lambs will feed^d among the ruins of the rich.

SIN OF RATIONALIZATION.

Isa. 5:18-21

Woe to those who draw sin along with cords of deceit, and wickedness as with cart ropes,
 to those who say, "Let God hurry, let him hasten his work
 so we may see it.
 Let it approach,
 let the plan of the Holy One of Israel come,
 so we may know it."
 Woe to those who call evil good and good evil,
 who put darkness for light and light for darkness, who put bitter for sweet and sweet for bitter.
 Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes and clever in their own sight.

SIN OF DRUNKENNESS.

Isa. 5:22

Woe to those who are heroes at drinking wine and champions at mixing drinks,

SIN OF INJUSTICE.

Isa. 5:23

who acquit the guilty for a bribe, but deny justice to the innocent.

Isa. 5:24,25 ANGER OF GOD.

Therefore, as tongues of fire lick up straw and as dry grass sinks down in the flames, so their roots will decay and their flowers blow away like dust;
for they have rejected the law of the LORD Almighty and spurned the word of the Holy One of Israel.
Therefore the LORD's anger burns against his people;
his hand is raised and he strikes them down.
The mountains shake,
and the dead bodies are like refuse in the streets.
Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
his hand is still upraised.

Isa. 5:26-30 DESTRUCTIVE FORCES SUMMONED.

He lifts up a banner for the distant nations,
he whistles for those at the ends of the earth.
Here they come,
swiftly and speedily!
Not one of them grows tired or stumbles,
not one slumbers or sleeps;
not a belt is loosened at the waist,
not a sandal thong is broken.
Their arrows are sharp,
all their bows are strung;
their horses' hoofs seem like flint,
their chariot wheels like a whirlwind.
Their roar is like that of the lion,
they roar like young lions;
they growl as they seize their prey and carry it off with no one to rescue.
In that day they will roar over it like the roaring of the sea.
And if one looks at the land,
he will see darkness and distress;
even the light will be darkened by the clouds.

Isa. 1:27-31 PUNISHMENT FOR UNREPENTANT.

Zion will be redeemed with justice,
her penitent ones with righteousness.
But rebels and sinners will both be broken, and those who forsake the LORD will perish.
"You will be ashamed because of the sacred oaks in which you have delighted;
you will be disgraced because of the gardens that you have chosen.
You will be like an oak with fading leaves,
like a garden without water.
The mighty man will become tinder and his work a spark;

both will burn together,
with no one to quench the fire."

IDOLS CANNOT SAVE.

Isa. 2:19-21

Men will flee to caves in the rocks and to holes in the ground
from dread of the LORD
and the splendor of his majesty,
when he rises to shake the earth.
In that day men will throw away to the rodents and bats their idols of silver and idols of gold, which they made to worship.
They will flee to caverns in the rocks and to the overhanging crags
from dread of the LORD
and the splendor of his majesty,
when he rises to shake the earth.

MEN CANNOT SAVE.

Isa.
2:22-3:7

Stop trusting in man, who has but a breath in his nostrils.
Of what account is he?
See now, the Lord,
the LORD Almighty, is about to take from Jerusalem and Judah
both supply and support:
all supplies of food and all supplies of water,
the hero and warrior,
the judge and prophet,
the soothsayer and elder,
the captain of fifty and man of rank,
the counselor, skilled craftsman and clever enchanter.

I will make boys their officials;
mere children will govern them.
People will oppress each other—man against man, neighbor against neighbor.
The young will rise up against the old,
the base against the honorable.

A man will seize one of his brothers at his father's home, and say,
"You have a cloak, you be our leader;
take charge of this heap of ruins!"
But in that day he will cry out,
"I have no remedy.
I have no food or clothing in my house;
do not make me the leader of the people."

A CALL FOR REASON.

Isa. 1:18-20

"Come now, let us reason together,"
says the LORD.

“Though your sins are like scarlet,
 they shall be as white as snow;
 though they are red as crimson,
 they shall be like wool.
 If you are willing and obedient,
 you will eat the best from the land;
 but if you resist and rebel,
 you will be devoured by the sword.”

For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.

Isa. 4:2-6

A SPIRITUAL RESTORATION. In that day the Branch of the LORD will be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the land will be the pride and glory of the survivors in Israel. Those who are left in Zion, who remain in Jerusalem, will be called holy, all who are recorded among the living in Jerusalem. The Lord will wash away the filth of the women of Zion; he will cleanse the bloodstains from Jerusalem by a spirit^e of judgment and a spirit^e of fire. Then the LORD will create over all of Mount Zion and over those who assemble there a cloud of smoke by day and a glow of flaming fire by night; over all the glory will be a canopy. It will be a shelter and shade from the heat of the day, and a refuge and hiding place from the storm and rain.

Isa. 2:1-5

THE LAST DAYS. This is what Isaiah son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem:

In the last days

the mountain of the LORD's temple will be established
 as chief among the mountains;
 it will be raised above the hills,
 and all nations will stream to it.

Many peoples will come and say,

“Come, let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
 to the house of the God of Jacob.

He will teach us his ways,
 so that we may walk in his paths.”

The law will go out from Zion,
 the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

He will judge between the nations and will settle disputes for many peoples.

They will beat their swords into plowshares
 and their spears into pruning hooks.

Nation will not take up sword against nation,
 nor will they train for war anymore.

Come, O house of Jacob, let us walk in the light of the LORD.

The focus turns back temporarily to Israel and to the political upheaval there at this time.

TIGLATH-PILESER CHALLENGES. Then Pul^f king of Assyria invaded the land, and Menahem gave him a thousand talents^g of silver to gain his support and strengthen his own hold on the kingdom. JUDAH'S SPIRITUAL CONDITION. The people, however, continued their corrupt practices.

Isaiah's Mission Told in Vision _____

As Jotham assumes full control upon the death of Uzziah, the prophet Isaiah receives a vision in which he sees himself in the heavenly presence of God. Isaiah is told to go to the people of Judah with a message which God knows the people will not accept. Nevertheless Isaiah is told to keep on preaching even until their rejection has brought them utter ruin.

Isa. 6:1-13 ISAIAH'S VISION. In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord seated on a throne, high and exalted, and the train of his robe filled the temple. Above him were seraphs, each with six wings: With two wings they covered their faces, with two they covered their feet, and with two they were flying. And they were calling to one another:

"Holy, holy, holy is the LORD Almighty;
the whole earth is full of his glory."

At the sound of their voices the doorposts and thresholds shook and the temple was filled with smoke.

"Woe to me!" I cried. "I am ruined! For I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips, and my eyes have seen the King, the LORD Almighty."

Then one of the seraphs flew to me with a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with tongs from the altar. With it he touched my mouth and said, "See, this has touched your lips; your guilt is taken away and your sin atoned for."

Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send? And who will go for us?"

And I said, "Here am I. Send me!"

He said, "Go and tell this people:

"Be ever hearing, but never understanding;
be ever seeing, but never perceiving.ⁱ
Make the heart of this people calloused; make their ears dull and close their eyes.ⁱ
Otherwise they might see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their hearts,
and turn and be healed."

Then I said, "For how long, O Lord?"

And he answered:

"Until the cities lie ruined and without inhabitant, ⁱHebrew; Septuagint 'You will be ever hearing, but never understanding; / you will be ever seeing, but never perceiving.' / ⁱⁱThis people's heart has become calloused; / they hardly hear with their ears, / and they have closed their eyes until the houses are left deserted and the fields ruined and ravaged, until the LORD has sent everyone far away and the land is utterly forsaken.

 And though a tenth remains in the land,
 it will again be laid waste.
 But as the terebinth and oak leave stumps when they are cut down, so the holy seed will be the stump in the land.”

A brief record of Jotham's administration follows.

JOTHAM'S BUILDINGS. Jotham rebuilt the Upper Gate of the temple of the LORD and did extensive work on the wall at the hill of Ophel. He built towns in the Judean hills and forts and towers in the wooded areas. 2 Kgs.

AMMONITES SUBJUGATED. Jotham made war on the king of the Ammonites and conquered them. That year the Ammonites paid him a hundred talentsⁱ of silver, ten thousand cors^k of wheat and ten thousand cors of barley. The Ammonites brought him the same amount also in the second and third years. 2 Chron.
27:5,6

Jotham grew powerful because he walked steadfastly before the LORD his God.

The Prophecies of Micah

As Amos went to the people of the north, so the prophet Micah comes to the people of Judah, and the message is the same: God does not appreciate empty worship from those whose lives are morally and ethically bankrupt. He desires righteous thoughts and deeds, and not just a show of traditional formal worship. This is also the message of Micah's contemporary, Isaiah, whose writings are often strikingly similar in content. God's message through all of his prophets is unmistakably the same message—of sin, destruction, exile, restoration, and the coming of a Messiah to save the world.

Micah's predictions of future events are more numerous and specific than those of other prophets. For example, Micah predicts the fall of Samaria, the invasion of Judah by Sennacherib, the fall of Jerusalem, the destruction of the temple, the exile in Babylon, the return from captivity to peace and prosperity, and the birth of the Messiah in the city of Bethlehem.

The three major discourses which follow are representative of Micah's preaching to the people of Judah.

1:2-7

JUDGMENT AGAINST ISRAEL.

Hear, O peoples, all of you,
listen, O earth and all who are in it,
that the Sovereign LORD may witness against you,
the Lord from his holy temple.

Look! The LORD is coming from his dwelling place;
he comes down and treads the high places of the earth.

The mountains melt beneath him and the valleys split apart, like wax before the fire,
like water rushing down a slope.

All this is because of Jacob's transgression, because of the sins of the house of Israel.

What is Jacob's transgression?

Is it not Samaria?

What is Judah's high place?

Is it not Jerusalem?

"Therefore I will make Samaria a heap of rubble,
a place for planting vineyards.

I will pour her stones into the valley and lay bare her foundations.

All her idols will be broken to pieces;
all her temple gifts will be burned with fire;
I will destroy all her images.

Since she gathered her gifts from the wages of prostitutes, as the wages of prostitutes they will again be used."

Micah
1:8-16

JUDAH LIKE ISRAEL.

Because of this I will weep and wail;
I will go about barefoot and naked.

I will howl like a jackal and moan like an owl.

For her wound is incurable;
it has come to Judah.

It^l has reached the very gate of my people,
even to Jerusalem itself.

Tell it not in Gath^m;
weep not at all.ⁿ

In Beth Ophrah^o

Pass on in nakedness and shame, you who live in Shaphir.^p

Those who live in Zaanan^q its protection is taken from you.

 Those who live in Maroth^r writhe in pain, waiting for relief,
 because disaster has come from the LORD,
 even to the gate of Jerusalem.
 You who live in Lachish,^s harness the team to the chariot.
 You were the beginning of sin
 to the Daughter of Zion, for the transgressions of Israel were found in you.
 Therefore you will give parting gifts to Moresheth Gath.
 The town of Aczib^t will prove deceptive to the kings of Israel.
 I will bring a conqueror against you who live in Mareshah.^u
 He who is the glory of Israel will come to Adullam.
 Shave your heads in mourning for the children in whom you delight;
 make yourselves as bald as the vulture,
 for they will go from you into exile.

SIN OF COVETOUSNESS.

Micah
2:1,2

Woe to those who plan iniquity, to those who plot evil on their beds!
 At morning's light they carry it out because it is in their power to do it.
 They covet fields and seize them,
 and houses, and take them.
 They defraud a man of his home,
 a fellowman of his inheritance.

REWARD OF GREED. Therefore, the LORD says:

Micah
2:3-5

"I am planning disaster against this people,
 from which you cannot save yourselves.
 You will no longer walk proudly,
 for it will be a time of calamity.
 In that day men will ridicule you;
 they will taunt you with this mournful song:
 'We are utterly ruined;
 my people's possession is divided up.
 He takes it from me!
 He assigns our fields to traitors.' "

Therefore you will have no one in the assembly of the LORD to divide the land by lot.

^rMaroth sounds like the Hebrew for bitter. ^sLachish sounds like the Hebrew for team.
^tAczib means deception. ^uMareshah sounds like the Hebrew for conqueror.

Micah
2:6-11

DESIRE FOR FALSE PROPHETS.

“Do not prophesy,” their prophets say.
 “Do not prophesy about these things;
 disgrace will not overtake us.”
 Should it be said, O house of Jacob:
 “Is the Spirit of the LORD angry?
 Does he do such things?”

“Do not my words do good to him whose ways are upright?
 Lately my people have risen up like an enemy.
 You strip off the rich robe from those who pass by without a care, like men returning from battle.
 You drive the women of my people from their pleasant homes.
 You take away my blessing from their children forever.
 Get up, go away!
 For this is not your resting place,
 because it is defiled,
 it is ruined, beyond all remedy.
 If a liar and deceiver comes and says,
 ‘I will prophesy for you plenty of wine and beer,’ he would be just the prophet for this people!

Micah
2:12,13

DELIVERANCE PROMISED.

“I will surely gather all of you, O Jacob;
 I will surely bring together the remnant of Israel.
 I will bring them together like sheep in a pen,
 like a flock in its pasture;
 the place will throng with people.
 One who breaks open the way will go up before them;
 they will break through the gate and go out.
 Their king will pass through before them,
 the LORD at their head.”

Second Discourse

Micah
3:1-4

LEADERS REBUKED. Then I said,

“Listen, you leaders of Jacob,
 you rulers of the house of Israel.
 Should you not know justice,
 you who hate good and love evil;
 who tear the skin from my people and the flesh from their bones;
 who eat my people’s flesh, strip off their skin
 and break their bones in pieces;
 who chop them up like meat for the pan,
 like flesh for the pot?”

Then they will cry out to the LORD,
but he will not answer them.
At that time he will hide his face from them because of the evil they have done.

FALSE PROPHETS REBUKED. This is what the LORD says:

Micah
3:5-7

“As for the prophets who lead my people astray,
if one feeds them,
they proclaim ‘peace’;
if he does not,
they prepare to wage war against him.
Therefore night will come over you, without visions,
and darkness, without divination.
The sun will set for the prophets,
and the day will go dark for them.
The seers will be ashamed and the diviners disgraced.
They will all cover their faces because there is no answer from God.”

MICAH HAS GOD'S SPIRIT.

Micah 3:8

But as for me, I am filled with power, with the Spirit of the LORD, and with justice and might,
to declare to Jacob his transgression, to Israel his sin.

SINS OF THE RULERS.

Micah
3:9-12

Hear this, you leaders of the house of Jacob,
you rulers of the house of Israel,
who despise justice
and distort all that is right;
who build Zion with bloodshed,
and Jerusalem with wickedness.
Her leaders judge for a bribe,
her priests teach for a price,
and her prophets tell fortunes for money.
Yet they lean upon the LORD and say,
“Is not the LORD among us?
No disaster will come upon us.”
Therefore because of you,
Zion will be plowed like a field,
Jerusalem will become a heap of rubble,
the temple hill a mound overgrown with thickets.

COMING OF MESSIAH. In the last days

Micah
4:1-5

the mountain of the LORD's temple will be established
as chief among the mountains;
it will be raised above the hills,
and peoples will stream to it.

Many nations will come and say,

“Come, let us go up to the mountain of the LORD,
to the house of the God of Jacob.
He will teach us his ways,
so that we may walk in his paths.”
The law will go out from Zion,
the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.
He will judge between many peoples and will settle disputes for strong nations far and wide.
They will beat their swords into plowshares
and their spears into pruning hooks.
Nation will not take up sword against nation,
nor will they train for war anymore.
Every man will sit under his own vine and under his own fig tree, and no one will make them afraid,
for the LORD Almighty has spoken.
All the nations may walk in the name of their gods;
we will walk in the name of the LORD
our God for ever and ever.

Micah
4:6-13

RESTORATION OF REMNANT. “In that day,” declares the LORD,

“I will gather the lame;
I will assemble the exiles and those I have brought to grief.
I will make the lame a remnant,
those driven away a strong nation.
The LORD will rule over them in Mount Zion from that day and forever.
As for you, O watchtower of the flock,
O stronghold^v of the Daughter of Zion,
the former dominion will be restored to you;
kingship will come to the Daughter of Jerusalem.”
Why do you now cry aloud—have you no king?
Has your counselor perished,
that pain seizes you like that of a woman in labor?
Writhe in agony, O Daughter of Zion, like a woman in labor,
for now you must leave the city to camp in the open field.
You will go to Babylon;
there you will be rescued.
There the LORD will redeem you out of the hand of your enemies.
But now many nations are gathered against you.

^vOr hill

They say, "Let her be defiled, let our eyes gloat over Zion!"
 But they do not know
 the thoughts of the LORD;
 they do not understand his plan,
 he who gathers them like sheaves to the threshing floor.

"Rise and thresh, O Daughter of Zion,
 for I will give you horns of iron;
 I will give you hoofs of bronze and you will break to pieces many nations."

You will devote their ill-gotten gains to the LORD, their wealth to the Lord of all the earth.

BIRTHPLACE OF MESSIAH.

Micah
 5:1-5a

Marshal your troops, O city of troops,^w for a siege is laid against us.
 They will strike Israel's ruler on the cheek with a rod.

"But you, Bethlehem Ephrathah, though you are small among the clans^x of Judah, out of you will come for me
 one who will be ruler over Israel, whose origins^y are from of old,
 from ancient times.^z"

Therefore Israel will be abandoned until the time when she who is in labor gives birth and the rest of his brothers return to join the Israelites.

He will stand and shepherd his flock in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God.
 And they will live securely, for then his greatness will reach to the ends of the earth.
 And he will be their peace.

JUDGMENT AGAINST ASSYRIA.

Micah
 5:5b-9

When the Assyrian invades our land and marches through our fortresses, we will raise against him seven shepherds,
 even eight leaders of men.
 They will rule^a the land of Assyria with the sword,

PAGANISM TO BE DESTROYED. "In that day," declares the LORD,

"I will destroy your horses from among you

 I will destroy the cities of your land

 I will destroy your witchcraft

 I will destroy your carved images

 you will no longer bow down

 I will uproot from among you your Asherah poles^c

 I will take vengeance in anger and wrath

Third Discourse

Micah
 6:1-5

GOD'S CHARGE AGAINST JUDAH. Listen to what the LORD says:

"Stand up, plead your case before the mountains;
 let the hills hear what you have to say.
 Hear, O mountains, the LORD's accusation;
 listen, you everlasting foundations of the earth.
 For the LORD has a case against his people;
 he is lodging a charge against Israel.
 "My people, what have I done to you?
 How have I burdened you? Answer me.
 I brought you up out of Egypt
 and redeemed you from the land of slavery.
 I sent Moses to lead you,
 also Aaron and Miriam.
 My people, remember what Balak king of Moab counseled and what Balaam son of Beor answered.
 Remember your journey, from Shittim to Gilgal, that you may know the righteous acts of the LORD."

WHAT GOD REALLY WANTS.

Micah
6:6-8

With what shall I come before the LORD and bow down before the exalted God?
Shall I come before him with burnt offerings,
with calves a year old?
Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, with ten thousand rivers of oil?
Shall I offer my firstborn for my transgression,
the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?
He has showed you, O man, what is good.
And what does the LORD require of you?
To act justly and to love mercy and to walk humbly with your God.

JUDAH'S SIN AND PUNISHMENT.

Micah
6:9-16

Listen! The LORD is calling to the city—and to fear your name is wisdom—“Heed the rod and the One who appointed it.^d Am I still to forget, O wicked house, your ill-gotten treasures
and the short ephah,^e which is accursed?
Shall I acquit a man with dishonest scales,
with a bag of false weights?
Her rich men are violent;
her people are liars
and their tongues speak deceitfully.
Therefore, I have begun to destroy you,
to ruin you because of your sins.
You will eat but not be satisfied;
your stomach will still be empty.^f
You will store up but save nothing, because what you save I will give to the sword.
You will plant but not harvest;
you will press olives but not use the oil on yourselves,
you will crush grapes but not drink the wine.
You have observed the statutes of Omri and all the practices of Ahab's house,
and you have followed their traditions.
Therefore I will give you over to ruin and your people to derision;
you will bear the scorn of the nations.^g”

MISERY OF JUDAH'S SIN.

Micah
7:1-7

What misery is mine!
I am like one who gathers summer fruit at the gleaning of the vineyard;
there is no cluster of grapes to eat,
none of the early figs that I crave.

The godly have been swept from the land;
 not one upright man remains.
 All men lie in wait to shed blood;
 each hunts his brother with a net.
 Both hands are skilled in doing evil;
 the ruler demands gifts,
 the judge accepts bribes,
 the powerful dictate what they desire—they all conspire together.
 The best of them is like a brier,
 the most upright worse than a thorn hedge.
 The day of your watchmen has come,
 the day God visits you.
 Now is the time of their confusion.
 Do not trust a neighbor;
 put no confidence in a friend.
 Even with her who lies in your embrace be careful of your words.
 For a son dishonors his father,
 a daughter rises up against her mother, a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law—
 a man's enemies are the members of his own household.
 But as for me, I watch in hope for the LORD,
 I wait for God my Savior;
 my God will hear me.

Micah
 7:8-13

THE RENEWAL OF ISRAEL.

Do not gloat over me, my enemy!
 Though I have fallen, I will rise.
 Though I sit in darkness,
 the LORD will be my light.
 Because I have sinned against him,
 I will bear the LORD's wrath, until he pleads my case
 and establishes my right.
 He will bring me out into the light;
 I will see his righteousness.
 Then my enemy will see it
 and will be covered with shame,
 she who said to me,
 "Where is the LORD your God?"
 My eyes will see her downfall;
 even now she will be trampled underfoot like mire in the streets.
 The day for building your walls will come,
 the day for extending your boundaries.
 In that day people will come to you from Assyria and the cities of Egypt, even from Egypt to the Euphrates and from sea to sea and from mountain to mountain.

The earth will become desolate because of its inhabitants, as the result of their deeds.

PRAYER AND PRAISE.

Micah
7:14-20

Shepherd your people with your staff,
the flock of your inheritance,
which lives by itself in a forest,
in fertile pasturelands.^h Let them feed in Bashan and Gilead as in days long ago.

“As in the days when you came out of Egypt,
I will show them my wonders.”

Nations will see and be ashamed, deprived of all their power.
They will lay their hands on their mouths and their ears will become deaf.
They will lick dust like a snake,
like creatures that crawl on the ground.
They will come trembling out of their dens;
they will turn in fear to the LORD our God and will be afraid of you.
Who is a God like you,
who pardons sin and forgives the transgression of the remnant of his inheritance?
You do not stay angry forever
but delight to show mercy.
You will again have compassion on us;
you will tread our sins underfoot and hurl all our iniquities into the depths of the sea.
You will be true to Jacob,
and show mercy to Abraham,
as you pledged on oath to our fathers
in days long ago.

Early Beginnings of Captivity

The warnings of the prophets that Israel would fall into Assyrian captivity are already starting to come true. It will be several more years before total collapse takes place, but the record indicates that even now, during Pekah's reign, many of the people of Reuben, Gad, and Manasseh are taken captive by Tiglath-Pileser (King Pul).

In Israel

FIRST CAPTIVES TAKEN. ^{ks}In the time of Pekah king of Israel, Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria came and took Ijon, Abel Beth Maacah, Janoah, Kedesh and Hazor. He took Gilead and Galilee, including all the land of Naphtali, and deported the people to Assyria. ^{ch}The people of the half-tribe of Manasseh were numerous; they settled in the land from Bashan to Baal Hermon, that is, to Senir (Mount Hermon).

These were the heads of their families: Ephraim, Ishi, Eliel, Azriel, Jeremiah, Hodaviah and Jahdiel. They were brave warriors, famous men, and heads of their families. But they were unfaithful to the God of their fathers and prostituted themselves to the gods of the peoples of the land, whom God had destroyed before them. So the God of Israel stirred up the spirit of Pul king of Assyria (that is, Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria), who took the Reubenites, the Gadites and the half-tribe of Manasseh into exile. He took them to Halah, Habor, Hara and the river of Gozan, where they are to this day.

War Between Syria, Israel, and Judah _____

This shocking turn of events causes both Israel and Syria to fear the Assyrians. They draw together in an unusual alliance and even call upon Judah to join them. When Judah refuses to become involved, Syria and Israel turn against Judah in an effort to force her support. This strange conflict begins when Jotham is in power, and continues during the reign of his son Ahaz, who has apparently been a co-regent for nine years.

In Judah

2 Kgs. 15:37 SYRIA AND ISRAEL THREATEN. (In those days the LORD began to send Rezin king of Aram and Pekah son of Remaliah against Judah.)

In Israel

2 Kgs. 15:31,30 (732 B.C.) PEKAH ASSASSINATED. As for the other events of Pekah's reign, and all he did, are they not written in the book of the annals of the kings of Israel? Then Hoshea son of Elah conspired against Pekah son of Remaliah. He attacked and assassinated him, and then succeeded him as king in the twentieth year of Jotham son of Uzziah.

2 Kgs. 17:1 (732 B.C.) HOSHEA KING OF ISRAEL. In the twelfth year of Ahaz king of Judah, Hoshea son of Elah became king of Israel in Samaria, and he reigned nine years.

2 Kgs. 17:2 HOSHEA'S CHARACTER. He did evil in the eyes of the LORD, but not like the kings of Israel who preceded him.

In Judah

2 Kgs. 15:36,38a 2 Chron. 27:7,9a (730 B.C.) DEATH OF JOTHAM. As for the other events of Jotham's reign, and what he did, are they not written in the book of the annals of the kings of Judah? Jotham rested with his fathers and was buried with them in the City of David, the city of his father.

2 Kgs. 15:38b; 16:1,2a 2 Chron. 27:9b; 28:1a AHAZ BEGINS SOLE REIGN. And Ahaz his son succeeded him as king. In the seventeenth year of Pekah son of Remaliah, Ahaz son of Jotham king of Judah began to reign. Ahaz was twenty years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem sixteen years.

2 Kgs. 16:2b-4 2 Chron. 28:1b-4 CHARACTER OF AHAZ. Unlike David his father, he did not do what was right in the eyes of the LORD. He walked in the ways of the kings of Israel and also made cast idols for worshiping the Baals. He burned sacrifices in the Valley of Ben Hinnom and sacrificed his sons in the fire, following the detestable ways of the nations the LORD had driven out before the Israelites. He offered sacrifices and burned incense at the high places, on the hilltops and under every spreading tree. ☞

Isaiah Prophecies About a Savior

Isaiah records the challenge made to Ahaz by King Rezin of Aram and King Pekah of Israel, and then relates his own peculiar exchange with Ahaz. God is ready to defend Judah despite her wickedness, and tells Ahaz to request a sign. This he arrogantly refuses to do. Isaiah then says that the Lord himself will give Ahaz a sign, whether he likes it or not. The sign evidently has nothing to do with the pending battle, but rather with the coming Messiah, or Savior. At first it appears that Isaiah is merely telling of impending political and military events: Assyria is bringing destruction and, after some time, Syria and Israel will be captured. Assyria herself will then be destroyed, and a remnant of God's people will be brought back to reestablish a Jewish nation.

Laced throughout that narrative, however, are messianic prophecies. The Savior will be called Immanuel at his birth. He will be a descendant of King David, whose father's name was Jesse. He will establish a kingdom and draw to himself a remnant of those who love God. And in the last days there will be justice, peace, and rejoicing in the Savior's kingdom.

AHAZ LEARNS OF ALLIANCE. When Ahaz son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, was king of Judah, King Rezin of Aram and Pekah son of Remaliah king of Israel marched up to fight against Jerusalem, but they could not overpower it. Isa. 7:1,2

Now the house of David was told, "Aram has allied itself with Ephraim"; so the hearts of Ahaz and his people were shaken, as the trees of the forest are shaken by the wind.

GOD'S MESSAGE TO AHAZ. Then the LORD said to Isaiah, "Go out, you and your son Shear-Jashub,ⁱ to meet Ahaz at the end of the aqueduct of the Upper Pool, on the road to the Washerman's Field. Say to him, 'Be careful, keep calm and don't be afraid. Do not lose heart because of these two smoldering stubs of firewood—because of the fierce anger of Rezin and Aram and of the son of Remaliah. Aram, Ephraim and Remaliah's son have plotted your ruin, saying, "Let us invade Judah; let us tear it apart and divide it among ourselves, and make the son of Tabeel king over it." Yet this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

Isa. 7:3-9

"It will not take place,
it will not happen,
for the head of Aram is Damascus,
and the head of Damascus is only Rezin.
Within sixty-five years
Ephraim will be too shattered to be a people.
The head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is only Remaliah's son.
If you do not stand firm in your faith,

ⁱOr has set up camp in ⁱShear-Jashub means a remnant will return.

you will not stand at all.' "

Isa. 7:10-12 AHAZ REFUSES A SIGN. Again the LORD spoke to Ahaz, "Ask the LORD your God for a sign, whether in the deepest depths or in the highest heights."

But Ahaz said, "I will not ask; I will not put the LORD to the test."

Isa. 7:13-15 SAVIOR TO BE IMMANUEL. Then Isaiah said, "Hear now, you house of David! Is it not enough to try the patience of men? Will you try the patience of my God also? Therefore the Lord himself will give you^k a sign: The virgin will be with child and will give birth to a son, and I^l will call him Immanuel.^m He will eat curds and honey when he knows enough to reject the wrong and choose the right.

Isa. 7:16-25 ASSYRIA TO DESTROY. But before the boy knows enough to reject the wrong and choose the right, the land of the two kings you dread will be laid waste. The LORD will bring on you and on your people and on the house of your father a time unlike any since Ephraim broke away from Judah—he will bring the king of Assyria."

In that day the LORD will whistle for flies from the distant streams of Egypt and for bees from the land of Assyria. They will all come and settle in the steep ravines and in the crevices in the rocks, on all the thornbushes and at all the water holes. In that day the Lord will use a razor hired from beyond the Riverⁿ—the king of Assyria—to shave your head and the hair of your legs, and to take off your beards also. In that day, a man will keep alive a young cow and two goats. And because of the abundance of the milk they give, he will have curds to eat. All who remain in the land will eat curds and honey. In that day, in every place where there were a thousand vines worth a thousand silver shekels,^o there will be only briers and thorns. Men will go there with bow and arrow, for the land will be covered with briers and thorns. As for all the hills once cultivated by the hoe, you will no longer go there for fear of the briers and thorns; they will become places where cattle are turned loose and where sheep run.

Isa. 8:1-10 SYRIA AND ISRAEL TO FALL. The LORD said to me, "Take a large scroll and write on it with an ordinary pen: Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz.^p And I will call in Uriah the priest and Zechariah son of Jeberekiah as reliable witnesses for me."

Then I went to the prophetess, and she conceived and gave birth to a son. And the LORD said to me, "Name him Maher-Shalal-Hash-Baz. Before the boy knows how to say 'My father' or 'My mother,' the wealth of Damascus and the plunder of Samaria will be carried off by the king of Assyria."

The LORD spoke to me again:

"Because this people has rejected the gently flowing waters of Shiloah and rejoices over Rezin and the son of Remaliah, therefore the Lord is about to bring against them

CALL TO TRUST GOD. The LORD spoke to me with his strong hand upon me, warning me not to follow the way of this people. He said: Isa. 8:11-18

“Do not call conspiracy everything that these people call conspiracy“;
 do not fear what they fear,
 and do not dread it.
 The LORD Almighty is the one you are to regard as holy,
 he is the one you are to fear,
 he is the one you are to dread,
 and he will be a sanctuary;
 but for both houses of Israel he will be a stone that causes men to stumble
 and a rock that makes them fall.
 And for the people of Jerusalem he will be a trap and a snare.
 Many of them will stumble;
 they will fall and be broken,
 they will be snared and captured.”

Bind up the testimony and seal up the law among my disciples.
 I will wait for the LORD,
 who is hiding his face from the house of Jacob.
 I will put my trust in him.

Here am I, and the children the LORD has given me. We are signs and symbols in Israel from the LORD Almighty, who dwells on Mount Zion.

OTHERS CANNOT BE TRUSTED. When men tell you to consult mediums and spiritists, who whisper and mutter, should not a people inquire of their God? Why consult the dead on behalf of the living? To the law and to the testimony! If they do not speak according to this word, they have no light of dawn. Distressed and hungry, they will roam through the land; when they are famished, they will become enraged and, looking upward,

Isa. 9:1-7

SAVIOR'S KINGDOM COMING. Nevertheless, there will be no more gloom for those who were in distress. In the past he humbled the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, but in the future he will honor Galilee of the Gentiles, by the way of the sea, along the Jordan—

The people walking in darkness have seen a great light;
 on those living in the land of the shadow of death^v a light has dawned.
 You have enlarged the nation
 and increased their joy;
 they rejoice before you
 as people rejoice at the harvest, as men rejoice
 when dividing the plunder.
 For as in the day of Midian's defeat,
 you have shattered
 the yoke that burdens them,
 the bar across their shoulders,
 the rod of their oppressor.
 Every warrior's boot used in battle and every garment rolled in blood will be destined for burning, will be fuel for the fire.
For to us a child is born,
to us a son is given,
and the government will be on his shoulders.
 And he will be called Wonderful Counselor,^w Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace.
 Of the increase of his government and peace
 there will be no end.
 He will reign on David's throne and over his kingdom, establishing and upholding it with justice and righteousness from that time on and forever.
 The zeal of the LORD Almighty will accomplish this.

Isa. 9:8-21

GOD'S WRATH AGAINST ISRAEL.

The Lord has sent a message against Jacob;
 it will fall on Israel.
 All the people will know it—Ephraim and the inhabitants of Samaria—who say with pride and arrogance of heart,

^vOr land of darkness

^wOr Wonderful, Counselor

"The bricks have fallen down,
 but we will rebuild with dressed stone;
 the fig trees have been felled,
 but we will replace them with cedars."
 But the LORD has strengthened Rezin's foes against them and has spurred their enemies on.
 Arameans from the east and Philistines from the west have devoured Israel with open mouth.
 Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
 his hand is still upraised.
 But the people have not returned to him who struck them,
 nor have they sought the LORD Almighty.
 So the LORD will cut off from Israel both head and tail, both palm branch and reed in a single day;
 the elders and prominent men are the head,
 the prophets who teach lies are the tail.
 Those who guide this people mislead them,
 and those who are guided are led astray.
 Therefore the Lord will take no pleasure in the young men, nor will he pity the fatherless and widows,
 for everyone is ungodly and wicked,
 every mouth speaks vileness.
 Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
 his hand is still upraised.
 Surely wickedness burns like a fire;
 it consumes briars and thorns,
 it sets the forest thickets ablaze,
 so that it rolls upward in a column of smoke.
 By the wrath of the LORD Almighty the land will be scorched and the people will be fuel for the fire;
 no one will spare his brother.
 On the right they will devour,
 but still be hungry;
 on the left they will eat,
 but not be satisfied.
 Each will feed on the flesh of his own offspring^x :
 Manasseh will feed on Ephraim, and Ephraim on Manasseh;
 together they will turn against Judah.
 Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
 his hand is still upraised. 22

ANGER AGAINST INJUSTICE.

Isa. 10:1-4

Woe to those who make unjust laws,
 to those who issue oppressive decrees, to deprive the poor of their rights

^xOr arm

and withhold justice from the oppressed of my people, making widows their prey
 and robbing the fatherless.
 What will you do on the day of reckoning,
 when disaster comes from afar?
 To whom will you run for help?
 Where will you leave your riches?
 Nothing will remain but to cringe among the captives or fall among the slain.
 Yet for all this, his anger is not turned away,
 his hand is still upraised.

Isa. 10:5-19 ASSYRIA'S PUNISHMENT.

“Woe to the Assyrian, the rod of my anger,
 in whose hand is the club of my wrath!
 I send him against a godless nation,
 I dispatch him against a people who anger me,
 to seize loot and snatch plunder,
 and to trample them down like mud in the streets.
 But this is not what he intends,
 this is not what he has in mind;
 his purpose is to destroy,
 to put an end to many nations.
 ‘Are not my commanders all kings?’ he says.
 ‘Has not Calno fared like Carchemish?
 Is not Hamath like Arpad, and Samaria like Damascus?
 As my hand seized the kingdoms of the idols, kingdoms whose images excelled those of Jerusalem and Samaria—
 shall I not deal with Jerusalem and her images
 as I dealt with Samaria and her idols?’ ”

When the Lord has finished all his work against Mount Zion and Jerusalem, he will say, “I will punish the king of Assyria for the willful pride of his heart and the haughty look in his eyes. For he says:

“ ‘By the strength of my hand I have done this,
 and by my wisdom, because I have understanding.
 I removed the boundaries of nations,
 I plundered their treasures;
 like a mighty one I subdued^v their kings.
 As one reaches into a nest,
 so my hand reached for the wealth of the nations;
 as men gather abandoned eggs,
 so I gathered all the countries;
 not one flapped a wing,
 or opened its mouth to chirp.’ ”

Does the ax raise itself above him who swings it, or the saw boast against him who uses it?

^vOr / I subdued the mighty,

As if a rod were to wield him who lifts it up,
 or a club brandish him who is not wood!
 Therefore, the Lord, the LORD Almighty, will send a wasting disease upon his sturdy warriors;
 under his pomp a fire will be kindled like a blazing flame.
 The Light of Israel will become a fire,
 their Holy One a flame;
 in a single day it will burn and consume his thorns and his briers.
 The splendor of his forests and fertile fields
 it will completely destroy,
 as when a sick man wastes away.
 And the remaining trees of his forests will be so few that a child could write them down.

REMNANT TO BE SAVED.

Isa.
10:20-23

In that day the remnant of Israel,
 the survivors of the house of Jacob, will no longer rely on him who struck them down but will truly rely on the LORD,
 the Holy One of Israel.
 A remnant will return,² a remnant of Jacob will return to the Mighty God.
 Though your people, O Israel, be like the sand by the sea,
 only a remnant will return.
 Destruction has been decreed, overwhelming and righteous.
 The Lord, the LORD Almighty, will carry out the destruction decreed upon the whole land.

CAPTIVITY WILL BE OVERCOME. Therefore, this is what the Lord, the LORD Almighty, says:

Isa.
10:24-34

"O my people who live in Zion, do not be afraid of the Assyrians, who beat you with a rod and lift up a club against you, as Egypt did.
 Very soon my anger against you will end and my wrath will be directed to their destruction."
 The LORD Almighty will lash them with a whip, as when he struck down Midian at the rock of Oreb;
 and he will raise his staff over the waters,
 as he did in Egypt.
 In that day their burden will be lifted from your shoulders, their yoke from your neck;
 the yoke will be broken because you have grown so fat.^a They enter Aiath;

 Cry out, O Daughter of Gallim!
 Listen, O Laishah!
 Poor Anathoth!
 Madmenah is in flight;
 the people of Gebim take cover.
 This day they will halt at Nob;
 they will shake their fist
 at the mount of the Daughter of Zion,

 See, the Lord, the LORD Almighty, will lop off the boughs with great power.
 The lofty trees will be felled,
 the tall ones will be brought low.
 He will cut down the forest thickets with an ax;

Isa. 11:1-9 SAVIOR'S LINEAGE FROM DAVID.

A shoot will come up from the stump of Jesse;
 from his roots a Branch will bear fruit.
 The Spirit of the LORD will rest on him—
 the Spirit of wisdom and of understanding, the Spirit of counsel and of power,
 the Spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD—
 and he will delight in the fear of the LORD.
 He will not judge by what he sees with his eyes,
 or decide by what he hears with his ears;
 but with righteousness he will judge the needy, with justice he will give decisions for the poor of the earth.
 He will strike the earth with the rod of his mouth;
 with the breath of his lips he will slay the wicked.
 Righteousness will be his belt and faithfulness the sash around his waist.
 The wolf will live with the lamb,
 the leopard will lie down with the goat,
 the calf and the lion and the yearling^b together;
 and a little child will lead them.
 The cow will feed with the bear,
 their young will lie down together,
 and the lion will eat straw like the ox.
 The infant will play near the hole of the cobra,
 and the young child put his hand into the viper's nest.

^bHebrew; Septuagint lion will feed

They will neither harm nor destroy
 on all my holy mountain, for the earth will be full of the knowledge of the LORD
 as the waters cover the sea.

SAVIOR TO GATHER REMNANT. In that day the Root of Jesse will stand as a banner for the peoples; the nations will rally to him, and his place of rest will be glorious. In that day the Lord will reach out his hand a second time to reclaim the remnant that is left of his people from Assyria, from Lower Egypt, from Upper Egypt,^c from Cush,^d from Elam, from Babylonia,^e from Hamath and from the islands of the sea.

Isa.
11:10-16

He will raise a banner for the nations and gather the exiles of Israel;
 he will assemble the scattered people of Judah from the four quarters of the earth.
 Ephraim's jealousy will vanish,
 and Judah's enemies^f will be cut off;
 Ephraim will not be jealous of Judah,
 nor Judah hostile toward Ephraim.
 They will swoop down on the slopes of Philistia to the west;
 together they will plunder the people to the east.
 They will lay hands on Edom and Moab, and the Ammonites will be subject to them.
 The LORD will dry up
 the gulf of the Egyptian sea;
 with a scorching wind he will sweep his hand over the Euphrates River.^g
 He will break it up into seven streams so that men can cross over in sandals.
 There will be a highway for the remnant of his people that is left from Assyria, as there was for Israel
 when they came up from Egypt.

PRAISE FOR DELIVERANCE. In that day you will say:

Isa. 12:1-6

"I will praise you, O LORD.
 Although you were angry with me,
 your anger has turned away
 and you have comforted me.
 Surely God is my salvation;
 I will trust and not be afraid.
 The LORD, the LORD, is my strength and my song;
 he has become my salvation."
 With joy you will draw water from the wells of salvation.

In that day you will say:

"Give thanks to the LORD, call on his name;

Ahaz must surely consider Isaiah a crazy dreamer. He probably does not even begin to understand Isaiah's message regarding the coming Messiah. Moreover, he does not have enough faith in God to believe that he could actually defeat Israel and Syria (and even Assyria, if necessary) simply by trusting God. Foolishly, Ahaz will trust his own military strength instead.

So, having rejected God's support and having ignored Isaiah's warnings, Ahaz joins in battle against Pekah and Rezin. The historical account records the predictable results.

2 Kgs.
16:5,6
2 Chron.
28:5-8

JUDAH DEFEATED BY ALLIES. Therefore the LORD his God handed him over to the king of Aram. The Arameans defeated him and took many of his people as prisoners and brought them to Damascus.

He was also given into the hands of the king of Israel, who inflicted heavy casualties on him. In one day Pekah son of Remaliah killed a hundred and twenty thousand soldiers in Judah—because Judah had forsaken the LORD, the God of their fathers. Zicri, an Ephraimite warrior, killed Maaseiah the king's son, Azrikam the officer in charge of the palace, and Elkanah, second to the king. The Israelites took captive from their kinsmen two hundred thousand wives, sons and daughters. They also took a great deal of plunder, which they carried back to Samaria.

CAPTIVES' RELEASE SECURED. But a prophet of the LORD named Oded was there, and he went out to meet the army when it returned to Samaria. He said to them, "Because the LORD, the God of your fathers, was angry with Judah, he gave them into your hand. But you have slaughtered them in a rage that reaches to heaven. And now you intend to make the men and women of Judah and Jerusalem your slaves. But aren't you also guilty of sins against the LORD your God? Now listen to me! Send back your fellow countrymen you have taken as prisoners, for the LORD's fierce anger rests on you."

Then some of the leaders in Ephraim—Azariah son of Jehohanan, Berehiah son of Meshillemoth, Jehizkiah son of Shallum, and Amasa son of Hadlai—confronted those who were arriving from the war. "You must not bring those prisoners here," they said, "or we will be guilty before the LORD. Do you intend to add to our sin and guilt? For our guilt is already great, and his fierce anger rests on Israel."

So the soldiers gave up the prisoners and plunder in the presence of the officials and all the assembly. The men designated by name took the prisoners, and from the plunder they clothed all who were naked. They provided them with clothes and sandals, food and drink, and healing balm. All those who were weak they put on donkeys. So they took them back to their fellow countrymen at Jericho, the City of Palms, and returned to Samaria.

AHAZ SEEKS ASSYRIAN SUPPORT. At that time King Ahaz sent to the king^h of Assyria for help. The Edomites had again come and attacked Judah and carried away prisoners, while the Philistines had raided towns in the foothills and in the Negev of Judah. They captured and occupied Beth Shemesh, Aijalon and Gederoth, as well as Soco, Timnah and Gimzo, with their surrounding villages. The LORD had humbled Judah because of Ahaz king of Israel,ⁱ for he had promoted wickedness in Judah and had been most unfaithful to the LORD. Tiglath-Pileser^j king of Assyria came to him, but he gave him trouble instead of help. Ahaz took some of the things from the temple of the LORD and from the royal palace and from the princes and presented them to the king of Assyria, but that did not help him.

Isaiah Prophecies Against Nations

Under Ahaz, Judah has become a vassal to Assyria, paying tribute and doing in effect whatever Assyria demands. Dependence upon Assyria has become necessary because Judah is once again vulnerable to the Edomites and Philistines. Although Isaiah knows that invasions by foreign nations are part of God's plan for punishing Judah, he is also aware that these nations are acting from their own wicked motivations, and that God will ultimately bring about their destruction as well. Therefore Isaiah pronounces God's judgment against several nations at this and later times. Here are some of those pronouncements.

WRATH AGAINST NATIONS.

Isa. 34:1-4

Come near, you nations, and listen;
pay attention, you peoples!
Let the earth hear, and all that is in it,
the world, and all that comes out of it!
The LORD is angry with all nations;
his wrath is upon all their armies.
He will totally destroy^k them,
he will give them over to slaughter.
Their slain will be thrown out,
their dead bodies will send up a stench;
the mountains will be soaked with their blood.
All the stars of the heavens will be dissolved and the sky rolled up like a scroll;
all the starry host will fall like withered leaves from the vine, like shriveled figs from the fig tree.

JUDGMENT AGAINST ASSYRIA. The LORD Almighty has sworn,

"Surely, as I have planned, so it will be,
and as I have purposed, so it will stand.

Isa.
14:24-27

 on my mountains I will trample him down.
 His yoke will be taken from my people,
 and his burden removed from their shoulders.”

This is the plan determined for the whole world;
 this is the hand stretched out over all nations.
 For the LORD Almighty has purposed, and who can thwart him?

His hand is stretched out, and who can turn it back?

Isa. 15:1-9 JUDGMENT AGAINST MOAB. An oracle concerning Moab:

Ar in Moab is ruined,
 destroyed in a night!
 Kir in Moab is ruined,
 destroyed in a night!
 Dibon goes up to its temple,
 to its high places to weep;
 Moab wails over Nebo and Medeba.
 Every head is shaved
 and every beard cut off.
 In the streets they wear sackcloth;
 on the roofs and in the public squares they all wail,
 prostrate with weeping.
 Heshbon and Elealeh cry out,
 their voices are heard all the way to Jahaz.
 Therefore the armed men of Moab cry out,
 and their hearts are faint.

My heart cries out over Moab;
 her fugitives flee as far as Zoar,
 as far as Eglath Shelishiyah.
 They go up the way to Luhith,
 weeping as they go;
 on the road to Horonaim
 they lament their destruction.
 The waters of Nimrim are dried up and the grass is withered;
 the vegetation is gone and nothing green is left.
 So the wealth they have acquired and stored up they carry away over the Ravine of the Poplars.
 Their outcry echoes along the border of Moab;
 their wailing reaches as far as Eglaim, their lamentation as far as Beer Elim.
 Dimon's¹ waters are full of blood, but I will bring still more upon Dimon¹ —
 a lion upon the fugitives of Moab and upon those who remain in the land.

¹Masoretic Text; Dead Sea Scrolls, some Septuagint manuscripts and Vulgate Dibon

Send lambs as tribute to the ruler of the land,
 from Sela, across the desert,
 to the mount of the Daughter of Zion.
 Like fluttering birds pushed from the nest,
 so are the women of Moab
 at the fords of the Arnon.

Isa. 16:1-5

"Give us counsel,
 render a decision.
 Make your shadow like night—
 at high noon.
 Hide the fugitives,
 do not betray the refugees.
 Let the Moabite fugitives stay with you;
 be their shelter from the destroyer."

The oppressor will come to an end, and destruction will cease;
 the aggressor will vanish from the land.
 In love a throne will be established;
 in faithfulness a man will sit on it—one from the house^m of David—one who in judging seeks justice and speeds the cause of righteousness.

We have heard of Moab's pride—her overweening pride and conceit, her pride and her insolence—
 but her boasts are empty.

Isa. 16:6-14

Therefore the Moabites wail, they wail together for Moab.
 Lament and grieve
 for the menⁿ of Kir Hareseth.
 The fields of Heshbon wither,
 the vines of Sibmah also.
 The rulers of the nations have trampled down the choicest vines, which once reached Jazer
 and spread toward the desert.
 Their shoots spread out and went as far as the sea.
 So I weep, as Jazer weeps,
 for the vines of Sibmah.
 O Heshbon, O Elealeh,
 I drench you with tears!
 The shouts of joy over your ripened fruit and over your harvests have been stilled.
 Joy and gladness are taken away from the orchards;
 no one sings or shouts in the vineyards;

^mHebrew tent ⁿOr "raisin cakes," a wordplay

no one treads out wine at the presses, for I have put an end to the shouting.
 My heart laments for Moab like a harp,
 my inmost being for Kir Hareseth.
 When Moab appears at her high place,
 she only wears herself out;
 when she goes to her shrine to pray,
 it is to no avail.

This is the word the LORD has already spoken concerning Moab. But now the LORD says: "Within three years, as a servant bound by contract would count them, Moab's splendor and all her many people will be despised, and her survivors will be very few and feeble."

Isa. 17:1-14 JUDGMENT AGAINST DAMASCUS. An oracle concerning Damascus:

"See, Damascus will no longer be a city but will become a heap of ruins.
 The cities of Aroer will be deserted and left to flocks, which will lie down, with no one to make them afraid.
 The fortified city will disappear from Ephraim,
 and royal power from Damascus;
 the remnant of Aram will be like the glory of the Israelites," declares the LORD Almighty.

"In that day the glory of Jacob will fade;
 the fat of his body will waste away.
 It will be as when a reaper gathers the standing grain and harvests the grain with his arm—as when a man gleanes heads of grain in the Valley of Rephaim.
 Yet some gleanings will remain,
 as when an olive tree is beaten,
 leaving two or three olives on the topmost branches, four or five on the fruitful boughs," declares the LORD, the God of Israel.

In that day men will look to their Maker and turn their eyes to the Holy One of Israel.
 They will not look to the altars,
 the work of their hands, and they will have no regard for the Asherah poles^o
 and the incense altars their fingers have made.

In that day their strong cities, which they left because of the Israelites, will be like places abandoned to thickets and undergrowth. And all will be desolation.

You have forgotten God your Savior;
 you have not remembered the Rock, your fortress.
 Therefore, though you set out the finest plants and plant imported vines,

^oThat is, symbols of the goddess Asherah though on the day you set them out, you make them grow, and on the morning when you plant them, you bring them to bud,

 yet the harvest will be as nothing in the day of disease and incurable pain.

Oh, the raging of many nations—they rage like the raging sea!
 Oh, the uproar of the peoples—
 they roar like the roaring of great waters!
 Although the peoples roar like the roar of surging waters,
 when he rebukes them they flee far away, driven before the wind like chaff on the hills,
 like tumbleweed before a gale.
 In the evening, sudden terror!
 Before the morning, they are gone!
 This is the portion of those who loot us,
 the lot of those who plunder us. ☞

JUDGMENT AGAINST EDOM. An oracle concerning Dumah^v :

Isa.
21:11,12

Someone calls to me from Seir,
 "Watchman, what is left of the night?
 Watchman, what is left of the night?"
 The watchman replies,
 "Morning is coming, but also the night.
 If you would ask, then ask;
 and come back yet again."

SECOND JUDGMENT AGAINST EDOM.

Isa. 34:5-17

My sword has drunk its fill in the heavens;
 see, it descends in judgment on Edom,
 the people I have totally destroyed.
 The sword of the LORD is bathed in blood,
 it is covered with fat—
 the blood of lambs and goats, fat from the kidneys of rams.
 For the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah and a great slaughter in Edom.
 And the wild oxen will fall with them,
 the bull calves and the great bulls.
 Their land will be drenched with blood,
 and the dust will be soaked with fat.
 For the LORD has a day of vengeance,
 a year of retribution, to uphold Zion's cause.
 Edom's streams will be turned into pitch,
 her dust into burning sulfur;
 her land will become blazing pitch!
 It will not be quenched night and day;
 its smoke will rise forever.
 From generation to generation it will lie desolate;

^vDumah means silence or stillness, a word play on Edom.

no one will ever pass through it again.
 The desert owl^q and screech owl^q will possess it;
 the great owl^q and the raven will nest there.
 God will stretch out over Edom
 the measuring line of chaos and the plumb line of desolation.
 Her nobles will have nothing there to be called a kingdom,
 all her princes will vanish away.
 Thorns will overrun her citadels, nettles and brambles her strongholds.
 She will become a haunt for jackals,
 a home for owls.
 Desert creatures will meet with hyenas,
 and wild goats will bleat to each other;
 there the night creatures will also repose and find for themselves places of rest.
 The owl will nest there and lay eggs, she will hatch them, and care for her young under the shadow of her wings;
 there also the falcons will gather,
 each with its mate.

Look in the scroll of the LORD and read:

None of these will be missing,
 not one will lack her mate.
 For it is his mouth that has given the order,
 and his Spirit will gather them together.
 He allots their portions;
 his hand distributes them by measure.
 They will possess it forever and dwell there from generation to generation.

Isa.
21:13-17

JUDGMENT AGAINST ARABIA. An oracle concerning Arabia:

You caravans of Dedanites, who camp in the thickets of Arabia, bring water for the thirsty;
 you who live in Tema,
 bring food for the fugitives.
 They flee from the sword,
 from the drawn sword,
 from the bent bow
 and from the heat of battle.

This is what the Lord says to me: "Within one year, as a servant bound by contract would count it, all the pomp of Kedar will come to an end. The survivors of the bowmen, the warriors of Kedar, will be few." The LORD, the God of Israel, has spoken.

Isa. 23:1-18

JUDGMENT AGAINST TYRE. An oracle concerning Tyre:

Wail, O ships of Tarshish!
 For Tyre is destroyed

^qThe precise identification of these birds is uncertain.

and left without house or harbor.
From the land of Cyprus^r word has come to them.

Be silent, you people of the island and you merchants of Sidon, whom the seafarers have enriched.

On the great waters
came the grain of the Shihor;
the harvest of the Nile^s was the revenue of Tyre,
and she became the marketplace of the nations.

Be ashamed, O Sidon, and you, O fortress of the sea,
for the sea has spoken:

"I have neither been in labor nor given birth;
I have neither reared sons nor brought up daughters."
When word comes to Egypt,
they will be in anguish at the report from Tyre.

Cross over to Tarshish;
wail, you people of the island.

Is this your city of revelry,
the old, old city,

whose feet have taken her to settle in far-off lands?

Who planned this against Tyre,
the bestower of crowns,

whose merchants are princes, whose traders are renowned in the earth?

The LORD Almighty planned it, to bring low the pride of all glory and to humble all who are renowned on the earth.

Till^t your land as along the Nile,
O Daughter of Tarshish, for you no longer have a harbor.

The LORD has stretched out his hand over the sea and made its kingdoms tremble.

He has given an order concerning Phoenicia^u that her fortresses be destroyed.

He said, "No more of your reveling,
O Virgin Daughter of Sidon, now crushed!

"Up, cross over to Cyprus^r ;
even there you will find no rest."

Look at the land of the Babylonians,^v this people that is now of no account!

The Assyrians have made it a place for desert creatures;
they raised up their siege towers,

^uHebrew Canaan ^vOr Chaldeans

they stripped its fortresses bare and turned it into a ruin.

Wail, you ships of Tarshish;
your fortress is destroyed!

At that time Tyre will be forgotten for seventy years, the span of a king's life. But at the end of these seventy years, it will happen to Tyre as in the song of the prostitute:

"Take up a harp, walk through the city,
O prostitute forgotten;
play the harp well, sing many a song,
so that you will be remembered."

At the end of seventy years, the LORD will deal with Tyre. She will return to her hire as a prostitute and will ply her trade with all the kingdoms on the face of the earth. Yet her profit and her earnings will be set apart for the LORD; they will not be stored up or hoarded. Her profits will go to those who live before the LORD, for abundant food and fine clothes.

It is not long before some of the judgments begin to be fulfilled, just as Isaiah has prophesied.

In Judah

16:7,8

AHAZ PROMOTES SYRIA'S FALL. Ahaz sent messengers to say to Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria, "I am your servant and vassal. Come up and save me out of the hand of the king of Aram and of the king of Israel, who are attacking me." And Ahaz took the silver and gold found in the temple of the LORD and in the treasuries of the royal palace and sent it as a gift to the king of Assyria.

TIGLATH-PILESER TAKES DAMASCUS. The king of Assyria complied by attacking Damascus and capturing it. He deported its inhabitants to Kir and put Rezin to death.

Then King Ahaz went to Damascus to meet Tiglath-Pileser king of Assyria.

2 Kgs.
16:10b,11

AHAZ ORDERS SYRIAN ALTAR. He saw an altar in Damascus and sent to Uriah the priest a sketch of the altar, with detailed plans for its construction. So Uriah the priest built an altar in accordance with all the plans that King Ahaz had sent from Damascus and finished it before King Ahaz returned.

16:12-14
Jerusalem

SACRIFICES ON NEW ALTAR. When the king came back from Damascus and saw the altar, he approached it and presented offerings^w on it. He offered up his burnt offering and grain offering, poured out his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his fellowship offerings^x on the altar. The bronze altar that stood before the LORD he brought from the front of the temple—from between the new altar and the temple of the LORD—and put it on the north side of the new altar.

2 Kgs.
16:15,16

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE. King Ahaz then gave these orders to Uriah the priest: "On the large new altar, offer the morning burnt offering and the evening grain offering, the king's burnt offering and his grain offering,

^wOr and went up

^xTraditionally peace offerings

and the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their grain offering and their drink offering. Sprinkle on the altar all the blood of the burnt offerings and sacrifices. But I will use the bronze altar for seeking guidance." And Uriah the priest did just as King Ahaz had ordered.

USE OF OLD ALTAR. King Ahaz took away the side panels and removed the basins from the movable stands. He removed the Sea from the bronze bulls that supported it and set it on a stone base. He took away the Sabbath canopy^y that had been built at the temple and removed the royal entryway outside the temple of the LORD, in deference to the king of Assyria.

2 Kgs.
16:17,18

EXTENT OF AHAZ'S CORRUPTION. In his time of trouble King Ahaz became even more unfaithful to the LORD. He offered sacrifices to the gods of Damascus, who had defeated him; for he thought, "Since the gods of the kings of Aram have helped them, I will sacrifice to them so they will help me." But they were his downfall and the downfall of all Israel.

2 Chron.
28:22-25

Ahaz gathered together the furnishings from the temple of God and took them away.^z He shut the doors of the LORD's temple and set up altars at every street corner in Jerusalem. In every town in Judah he built high places to burn sacrifices to other gods and provoked the LORD, the God of his fathers, to anger.

DEATH OF AHAZ. The other events of his reign and all his ways, from beginning to end, are written in the book of the kings of Judah and Israel. Ahaz rested with his fathers and was buried in the city of Jerusalem, but he was not placed in the tombs of the kings of Israel.

More of Isaiah's Prophecies Against Nations _____

With the death of Ahaz, Judah has a final opportunity for spiritual renewal. Hezekiah will do what he can to revive Judah, but Isaiah already knows the ultimate outcome and continues to prophesy against the nations who either have brought, or will bring, suffering to God's people. Babylonia in particular is singled out because it is the nation which will carry Judah away into captivity in just a few years. The king of Babylon has the dubious distinction of sharing in Isaiah's oblique references to Satan, the one who has fallen from heaven. Isaiah predicts that Babylon itself will be conquered by the Medo-Persian empire, a fact to which history will later attest. And because they have for years been a threat to Israel, the Philistines are also judged.

Isa. 14:28-32 JUDGMENT AGAINST PHILISTINES. This oracle came in the year King Ahaz died:

Do not rejoice, all you Philistines, that the rod that struck you is broken;
from the root of that snake will spring up a viper, its fruit will be a darting, venomous serpent.
The poorest of the poor will find pasture,
and the needy will lie down in safety.
But your root I will destroy by famine;
it will slay your survivors.

Wail, O gate! Howl, O city!
Melt away, all you Philistines!
A cloud of smoke comes from the north,
and there is not a straggler in its ranks.
What answer shall be given to the envoys of that nation?
"The LORD has established Zion, and in her his afflicted people will find refuge."

Isa. 13:1-8 JUDGMENT AGAINST BABYLON. An oracle concerning Babylon that Isaiah son of Amoz saw:

Raise a banner on a bare hilltop, shout to them;
beckon to them
to enter the gates of the nobles.
I have commanded my holy ones;
I have summoned my warriors to carry out my wrath—
those who rejoice in my triumph.

Listen, a noise on the mountains,
like that of a great multitude!
Listen, an uproar among the kingdoms,
like nations massing together!
The LORD Almighty is mustering an army for war.
They come from faraway lands,

from the ends of the heavens—
the LORD and the weapons of his wrath—to destroy the whole country.

Wail, for the day of the LORD is near;
it will come like destruction from the Almighty.^d
Because of this, all hands will go limp, every man's heart will melt.
Terror will seize them,
pain and anguish will grip them;
they will writhe like a woman in labor.
They will look aghast at each other,
their faces aflame.

See, the day of the LORD is coming
—a cruel day, with wrath and fierce anger—to make the land desolate and destroy the sinners within it.
The stars of heaven and their constellations will not show their light.
The rising sun will be darkened
and the moon will not give its light.
I will punish the world for its evil,
the wicked for their sins.
I will put an end to the arrogance of the haughty and will humble the pride of the ruthless.
I will make man scarcer than pure gold,
more rare than the gold of Ophir.
Therefore I will make the heavens tremble;
and the earth will shake from its place at the wrath of the LORD Almighty, in the day of his burning anger.

Isa. 13:9-16

Like a hunted gazelle,
like sheep without a shepherd,
each will return to his own people,
each will flee to his native land.
Whoever is captured will be thrust through;
all who are caught will fall by the sword.
Their infants will be dashed to pieces before their eyes;
their houses will be looted and their wives ravished.

See, I will stir up against them the Medes, who do not care for silver and have no delight in gold.
Their bows will strike down the young men;
they will have no mercy on infants nor will they look with compassion on children.
Babylon, the jewel of kingdoms,
the glory of the Babylonians' ^e pride, will be overthrown by God like Sodom and Gomorrah.

Isa.
13:17-22^dHebrew Shaddai ^eOr Chaldeans'

declares the LORD Almighty.

“I will cut off from Babylon her name and survivors, her offspring and descendants,”

declares the LORD.

“I will turn her into a place for owls

declares the LORD Almighty.

Isa. 21:1-10 ANOTHER BABYLON JUDGMENT. An oracle concerning the Desert by the Sea:

Like whirlwinds sweeping through the southland, an invader comes from the desert,
from a land of terror.

A dire vision has been shown to me:

The traitor betrays, the looter takes loot.

Elam, attack! Media, lay siege!

I will bring to an end all the groaning she caused.

At this my body is racked with pain,

pangs seize me, like those of a woman in labor;

I am staggered by what I hear,

I am bewildered by what I see.

My heart falters,

fear makes me tremble;

the twilight I longed for has become a horror to me.

They set the tables,

they spread the rugs,

they eat, they drink!

Get up, you officers,

oil the shields!

This is what the Lord says to me:

“Go, post a lookout and have him report what he sees.

When he sees chariots with teams of horses, riders on donkeys or riders on camels, let him be alert,

fully alert.”

And the lookoutⁱ shouted,

“Day after day, my lord, I stand on the watchtower;
every night I stay at my post.

Look, here comes a man in a chariot with a team of horses.

And he gives back the answer:

The Reforms of Hezekiah

Perhaps there is hope after all. Now in full control, King Hezekiah will accomplish the most far-reaching religious reforms since the days of Jehoshaphat. Working primarily through the Levites, who have more zeal than do the priests, Hezekiah will cleanse the temple and restore proper worship and religious observance among his people. In a grand gesture of brotherhood, Hezekiah will offer to include the people of the northern tribes in Passover celebrations. Most will refuse the invitation, but some will join in the spiritual renewal.

In Judah

TEMPLE ORDERED CLEANSED. In the first month of the first year of his reign, he opened the doors of the temple of the LORD and repaired them. He brought in the priests and the Levites, assembled them in the square on the east side and said: "Listen to me, Levites! Consecrate yourselves now and consecrate the temple of the LORD, the God of your fathers. Remove all defilement from the sanctuary. Our fathers were unfaithful; they did evil in the eyes of the LORD our God and forsook him. They turned their faces away from the LORD's dwelling place and turned their backs on him. They also shut the doors of the portico and put out the lamps. They did not burn incense or present any burnt offerings at the sanctuary to the God of Israel. Therefore, the anger of the LORD has fallen on Judah and Jerusalem; he has made them an object of dread and horror and scorn, as you can see with your own eyes. This is why our fathers have fallen by the sword and why our sons and daughters and our wives are in captivity. Now I intend to make a covenant with the LORD, the God of Israel, so that his fierce anger will turn away from us. My sons, do not be negligent now, for the LORD has chosen you to stand before him and serve him, to minister before him and to burn incense."

2 Chron.
29:3-11
Jerusalem

LEVITES OBEY ORDER.

Then these Levites set to work:
from the Kohathites,

Mahath son of Amasai and Joel son of Azariah;
from the Merarites,

Kish son of Abdi and Azariah son of Jehallelel;
from the Gershonites,

Joah son of Zimmah and Eden son of Joah;
from the descendants of Elizaphan,

Shimri and Jeiel;
from the descendants of Asaph,
Zechariah and Mattaniah;

2 Chron.
29:12-19

from the descendants of Heman, Jehiel and Shimei;
from the descendants of Jeduthun, Shemaiah and Uzziel.

When they had assembled their brothers and consecrated themselves, they went in to purify the temple of the LORD, as the king had ordered, following the word of the LORD. The priests went into the sanctuary of the LORD to purify it. They brought out to the courtyard of the LORD's temple everything unclean that they found in the temple of the LORD. The Levites took it and carried it out to the Kidron Valley. They began the consecration on the first day of the first month, and by the eighth day of the month they reached the portico of the LORD. For eight more days they consecrated the temple of the LORD itself, finishing on the sixteenth day of the first month.

Then they went in to King Hezekiah and reported: "We have purified the entire temple of the LORD, the altar of burnt offering with all its utensils, and the table for setting out the consecrated bread, with all its articles. We have prepared and consecrated all the articles that King Ahaz removed in his unfaithfulness while he was king. They are now in front of the LORD's altar."

2 Chron.
29:20-36

TEMPLE RECONSECRATED. Early the next morning King Hezekiah gathered the city officials together and went up to the temple of the LORD. They brought seven bulls, seven rams, seven male lambs and seven male goats as a sin offering for the kingdom, for the sanctuary and for Judah. The king commanded the priests, the descendants of Aaron, to offer these on the altar of the LORD. So they slaughtered the bulls, and the priests took the blood and sprinkled it on the altar; next they slaughtered the rams and sprinkled their blood on the altar; then they slaughtered the lambs and sprinkled their blood on the altar. The goats for the sin offering were brought before the king and the assembly, and they laid their hands on them. The priests then slaughtered the goats and presented their blood on the altar for a sin offering to atone for all Israel, because the king had ordered the burnt offering and the sin offering for all Israel.

He stationed the Levites in the temple of the LORD with cymbals, harps and lyres in the way prescribed by David and Gad the king's seer and Nathan the prophet; this was commanded by the LORD through his prophets. So the Levites stood ready with David's instruments, and the priests with their trumpets.

Hezekiah gave the order to sacrifice the burnt offering on the altar. As the offering began, singing to the LORD began also, accompanied by trumpets and the instruments of David king of Israel. The whole assembly bowed in worship, while the singers sang and the trumpeters played. All this continued until the sacrifice of the burnt offering was completed.

When the offerings were finished, the king and everyone present with him knelt down and worshiped. King Hezekiah and his officials ordered the Levites to praise the LORD with the words of David and of Asaph the seer. So they sang praises with gladness and bowed their heads and worshiped.

Then Hezekiah said, "You have now dedicated yourselves to the LORD. Come and bring sacrifices and thank offerings to the temple of the LORD." So the assembly brought sacrifices and thank offerings, and all whose hearts were willing brought burnt offerings.

The number of burnt offerings the assembly brought was seventy bulls, a hundred rams and two hundred male lambs—all of them for burnt offerings to the LORD. The animals consecrated as sacrifices amounted to six hundred bulls and three thousand sheep and goats. The priests, however, were too few to skin all the burnt offerings; so their kinsmen the Levites helped them until the task was finished and until other priests had been consecrated, for the Levites had been more conscientious in consecrating themselves than the priests had been. There were burnt offerings in abundance, together with the fat of the fellowship offeringsⁱ and the drink offerings that accompanied the burnt offerings.

So the service of the temple of the LORD was reestablished. Hezekiah and all the people rejoiced at what God had brought about for his people, because it was done so quickly.

ISRAEL INVITED TO PASSOVER. Hezekiah sent word to all Israel and Judah and also wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasseh, inviting them to come to the temple of the LORD in Jerusalem and celebrate the Passover to the LORD, the God of Israel. The king and his officials and the whole assembly in Jerusalem decided to celebrate the Passover in the second month. They had not been able to celebrate it at the regular time because not enough priests had consecrated themselves and the people had not assembled in Jerusalem. The plan seemed right both to the king and to the whole assembly. They decided to send a proclamation throughout Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, calling the people to come to Jerusalem and celebrate the Passover to the LORD, the God of Israel. It had not been celebrated in large numbers according to what was written.

2 Chron.
30:1-9

At the king's command, couriers went throughout Israel and Judah with letters from the king and from his officials, which read:

"People of Israel, return to the LORD, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel, that he may return to you who are left, who have escaped from the hand of the kings of Assyria. Do not be like your fathers and brothers, who were unfaithful to the LORD, the God of their fathers, so that he made them an object of horror, as you see. Do not be stiff-necked, as your fathers were; submit to the LORD. Come to the sanctuary, which he has consecrated forever. Serve the LORD your God, so that his fierce anger will turn away from you. If you return to the LORD, then your brothers and your children will be shown compassion by their captors and will come back to this land, for the LORD your God is gracious and compassionate. He will not turn his face from you if you return to him."

SOME COME FROM ISRAEL. The couriers went from town to town in Ephraim and Manasseh, as far as Zebulun, but the people scorned and ridiculed them. Nevertheless, some men of Asher, Manasseh and Zebulun humbled themselves and went to Jerusalem. Also in Judah the hand of God was on the people to give them unity of mind to carry out what the king and his officials had ordered, following the word of the LORD.

2 Chron.
30:10-12

PASSOVER OBSERVED. A very large crowd of people assembled in Jerusalem to celebrate the Feast of Unleavened Bread in the second month. They removed the altars in Jerusalem and cleared away the incense altars and threw them into the Kidron Valley.

2 Chron.
30:13-22

ⁱTraditionally peace offerings

They slaughtered the Passover lamb on the fourteenth day of the second month. The priests and the Levites were ashamed and consecrated themselves and brought burnt offerings to the temple of the LORD. Then they took up their regular positions as prescribed in the Law of Moses the man of God. The priests sprinkled the blood handed to them by the Levites. Since many in the crowd had not consecrated themselves, the Levites had to kill the Passover lambs for all those who were not ceremonially clean and could not consecrate their lambs to the LORD. Although most of the many people who came from Ephraim, Manasseh, Issachar and Zebulun had not purified themselves, yet they ate the Passover, contrary to what was written. But Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, "May the LORD, who is good, pardon everyone who sets his heart on seeking God—the LORD, the God of his fathers—even if he is not clean according to the rules of the sanctuary." And the LORD heard Hezekiah and healed the people.

The Israelites who were present in Jerusalem celebrated the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days with great rejoicing, while the Levites and priests sang to the LORD every day, accompanied by the LORD's instruments of praise.^k

Hezekiah spoke encouragingly to all the Levites, who showed good understanding of the service of the LORD. For the seven days they ate their assigned portion and offered fellowship offerings^l and praised the LORD, the God of their fathers.

2 Chron.
30:23-27

SECOND WEEK OBSERVED. The whole assembly then agreed to celebrate the festival seven more days; so for another seven days they celebrated joyfully. Hezekiah king of Judah provided a thousand bulls and seven thousand sheep and goats for the assembly, and the officials provided them with a thousand bulls and ten thousand sheep and goats. A great number of priests consecrated themselves. The entire assembly of Judah rejoiced, along with the priests and Levites and all who had assembled from Israel, including the aliens who had come from Israel and those who lived in Judah. There was great joy in Jerusalem, for since the days of Solomon son of David king of Israel there had been nothing like this in Jerusalem. The priests and the Levites stood to bless the people, and God heard them, for their prayer reached heaven, his holy dwelling place.

2 Chron.
31:1

IDOLATRY ATTACKED. When all this had ended, the Israelites who were there went out to the towns of Judah, smashed the sacred stones and cut down the Asherah poles. They destroyed the high places and the altars throughout Judah and Benjamin and in Ephraim and Manasseh. After they had destroyed all of them, the Israelites returned to their own towns and to their own property.

2 Chron.
31:2-8

OTHER RELIGIOUS REFORMS. Hezekiah assigned the priests and Levites to divisions—each of them according to their duties as priests or Levites—to offer burnt offerings and fellowship offerings,^l to minister, to give thanks and to sing praises at the gates of the LORD's dwelling. The king contributed from his own possessions for the morning and evening burnt offerings and for the burnt offerings on the Sabbaths, New Moons and appointed feasts as written in the Law of the LORD. He ordered the people living in Jerusalem to give the portion due the priests and Levites

so they could devote themselves to the Law of the LORD. As soon as the order went out, the Israelites generously gave the firstfruits of their grain, new wine, oil and honey and all that the fields produced. They brought a great amount, a tithe of everything. The men of Israel and Judah who lived in the towns of Judah also brought a tithe of their herds and flocks and a tithe of the holy things dedicated to the LORD their God, and they piled them in heaps. They began doing this in the third month and finished in the seventh month. When Hezekiah and his officials came and saw the heaps, they praised the LORD and blessed his people Israel.

Hezekiah asked the priests and Levites about the heaps; and Azariah the chief priest, from the family of Zadok, answered, "Since the people began to bring their contributions to the temple of the LORD, we have had enough to eat and plenty to spare, because the LORD has blessed his people, and this great amount is left over."

2 Chron.
31:9-13

Hezekiah gave orders to prepare storerooms in the temple of the LORD, and this was done. Then they faithfully brought in the contributions, tithes and dedicated gifts. Conaniah, a Levite, was in charge of these things, and his brother Shimei was next in rank. Jehiel, Azaziah, Nahath, Asahel, Jerimoth, Jozabad, Eliel, Ismakiah, Mahath and Benaiah were supervisors under Conaniah and Shimei his brother, by appointment of King Hezekiah and Azariah the official in charge of the temple of God.

Kore son of Imnah the Levite, keeper of the East Gate, was in charge of the freewill offerings given to God, distributing the contributions made to the LORD and also the consecrated gifts. Eden, Miniamin, Jeshua, Shemaiah, Amariah and Shecaniah assisted him faithfully in the towns of the priests, distributing to their fellow priests according to their divisions, old and young alike.

2 Chron.
31:14-19

In addition, they distributed to the males three years old or more whose names were in the genealogical records—all who would enter the temple of the LORD to perform the daily duties of their various tasks, according to their responsibilities and their divisions. And they distributed to the priests enrolled by their families in the genealogical records and likewise to the Levites twenty years old or more, according to their responsibilities and their divisions. They included all the little ones, the wives, and the sons and daughters of the whole community listed in these genealogical records. For they were faithful in consecrating themselves.

As for the priests, the descendants of Aaron, who lived on the farm lands around their towns or in any other towns, men were designated by name to distribute portions to every male among them and to all who were recorded in the genealogies of the Levites.

This is what Hezekiah did throughout Judah, doing what was good and right and faithful before the LORD his God. In everything that he undertook in the service of God's temple and in obedience to the law and the commands, he sought his God and worked wholeheartedly. And so he prospered.

2 Chron.
31:20,21

the foreigners' stronghold a city no more;
 it will never be rebuilt.
 Therefore strong peoples will honor you;
 cities of ruthless nations will revere you.
 You have been a refuge for the poor,
 a refuge for the needy in his distress,
 a shelter from the storm and a shade from the heat.
 For the breath of the ruthless is like a storm driving against a wall and like the heat of the desert.
 You silence the uproar of foreigners;
 as heat is reduced by the shadow of a cloud,
 so the song of the ruthless is stilled.
 On this mountain the LORD Almighty will prepare a feast of rich food for all peoples, a banquet of aged wine—
 the best of meats and the finest of wines.
 On this mountain he will destroy the shroud that enfolds all peoples, the sheet that covers all nations;
 he will swallow up death forever.
 The Sovereign LORD will wipe away the tears from all faces;
 he will remove the disgrace of his people from all the earth.

The LORD has spoken.

In that day they will say,

"Surely this is our God;
 we trusted in him, and he saved us.
 This is the LORD, we trusted in him;
 let us rejoice and be glad in his salvation."

Isa. 26:1-7 PRAISE FOR DELIVERANCE. In that day this song will be sung in the land of Judah:

We have a strong city;
 God makes salvation
 its walls and ramparts.
 Open the gates
 that the righteous nation may enter,
 the nation that keeps faith.
 You will keep in perfect peace him whose mind is steadfast, because he trusts in you.
 Trust in the LORD forever,
 for the LORD, the LORD, is the Rock eternal.
 He humbles those who dwell on high,
 he lays the lofty city low;
 he levels it to the ground and casts it down to the dust.

Feet trample it down—
the feet of the oppressed,
the footsteps of the poor.

The path of the righteous is level;
O upright One, you make the way of the righteous smooth.

COMMITMENT OF BELIEVERS.

Isa. 26:8,9

Yes, LORD, walking in the way of your laws,^o we wait for you;
your name and renown
are the desire of our hearts.
My soul yearns for you in the night;
in the morning my spirit longs for you.
When your judgments come upon the earth,
the people of the world learn righteousness.

CONDEMNATION OF WICKED.

Isa.
26:10,11

Though grace is shown to the wicked, they do not learn righteousness;
even in a land of uprightness they go on doing evil and regard not the majesty of the LORD.
O LORD, your hand is lifted high,
but they do not see it.
Let them see your zeal for your people and be put to shame;
let the fire reserved for your enemies consume them.

THE ONE GOD.

Isa.
26:12,13

LORD, you establish peace for us;
all that we have accomplished you have done for us.
O LORD, our God, other lords besides you have ruled over us,
but your name alone do we honor.

ETERNAL DEATH OF WICKED.

Isa.
26:14-18

They are now dead, they live no more;
those departed spirits do not rise.
You punished them and brought them to ruin;
you wiped out all memory of them.
You have enlarged the nation, O LORD;
you have enlarged the nation.
You have gained glory for yourself;
you have extended all the borders of the land.
LORD, they came to you in their distress;
when you disciplined them,
they could barely whisper a prayer.^o
As a woman with child and about to give birth writhes and cries out in her pain,

^oOr judgments ^oThe meaning of the Hebrew for this clause is uncertain.

so were we in your presence, O LORD.
We were with child, we writhed in pain,
but we gave birth to wind.
We have not brought salvation to the earth;
we have not given birth to people of the world.

Isa. 26:19 RESURRECTION OF FAITHFUL.

But your dead will live;
their bodies will rise.
You who dwell in the dust,
wake up and shout for joy.
Your dew is like the dew of the morning;
the earth will give birth to her dead.

Isa.
26:20-27:1 DESTRUCTION OF WICKED.

Go, my people, enter your rooms and shut the doors behind you; hide yourselves for a little while until his wrath has passed by.
See, the LORD is coming out of his dwelling to punish the people of the earth for their sins.
The earth will disclose the blood shed upon her;
she will conceal her slain no longer. In that day,
the LORD will punish with his sword,
his fierce, great and powerful sword, Leviathan the gliding serpent,
Leviathan the coiling serpent;
he will slay the monster of the sea.

Isa. 32:1,2 KINGDOM OF RIGHTEOUSNESS.

See, a king will reign in righteousness and rulers will rule with justice.
Each man will be like a shelter from the wind and a refuge from the storm, like streams of water in the desert and the shadow of a great rock in a thirsty land.

Isa. 32:3-8 NO PLACE FOR WICKED.

Then the eyes of those who see will no longer be closed, and the ears of those who hear will listen.
The mind of the rash will know and understand,
and the stammering tongue will be fluent and clear.
No longer will the fool be called noble nor the scoundrel be highly respected.
For the fool speaks folly,
his mind is busy with evil:
He practices ungodliness and spreads error concerning the LORD;
the hungry he leaves empty and from the thirsty he withholds water.

The scoundrel's methods are wicked,
 he makes up evil schemes to destroy the poor with lies,
 even when the plea of the needy is just.
 But the noble man makes noble plans, and by noble deeds he stands.

REJOICING OF THE SAVED.

Isa. 35:1-10

The desert and the parched land will be glad;
 the wilderness will rejoice and blossom.
 Like the crocus, it will burst into bloom;
 it will rejoice greatly and shout for joy.
 The glory of Lebanon will be given to it,
 the splendor of Carmel and Sharon;
 they will see the glory of the LORD,
 the splendor of our God.

Strengthen the feeble hands, steady the knees that give way;
 say to those with fearful hearts,
 "Be strong, do not fear;
 your God will come,
 he will come with vengeance;
 with divine retribution
 he will come to save you."

Then will the eyes of the blind be opened and the ears of the deaf unstopped.
 Then will the lame leap like a deer,
 and the mute tongue shout for joy.
 Water will gush forth in the wilderness and streams in the desert.
 The burning sand will become a pool,
 the thirsty ground bubbling springs.
 In the haunts where jackals once lay,
 grass and reeds and papyrus will grow.

And a highway will be there;
 it will be called the Way of Holiness.
 The unclean will not journey on it;
 it will be for those who walk in that Way;
 wicked fools will not go about on it.^a No lion will be there,
 nor will any ferocious beast get up on it;
 they will not be found there.
 But only the redeemed will walk there,
 and the ransomed of the LORD will return.
 They will enter Zion with singing;
 everlasting joy will crown their heads.
 Gladness and joy will overtake them,
 and sorrow and sighing will flee away.

Isaiah Warns Against Relapse

Well aware of their spiritual fickleness, Isaiah continues to warn the people against their sinful ways, and urges them not to let the excitement of this period of renewal diminish. Once again he rehearses the basic message: if they abandon their newfound dedication, they will be destroyed. And knowing already that they will indeed fail, Isaiah tells them again of Jerusalem's fall, the foreign exile in captivity, the day of restoration, and the punishment of their oppressors. The message is always the same, but the hardness of their hearts keeps them from hearing it.

Isa. 28:1-6 EPHRAIM LIKE FADING WREATH.

Woe to that wreath, the pride of Ephraim's drunkards, to the fading flower, his glorious beauty,
set on the head of a fertile valley—

to that city, the pride of those laid low by wine!
See, the Lord has one who is powerful and strong.

Like a hailstorm and a destructive wind,
like a driving rain and a flooding downpour,
he will throw it forcefully to the ground.

That wreath, the pride of Ephraim's drunkards, will be trampled underfoot.

That fading flower, his glorious beauty,
set on the head of a fertile valley,
will be like a fig ripe before harvest—

as soon as someone sees it and takes it in his hand, he swallows it.

In that day the LORD Almighty will be a glorious crown, a beautiful wreath

for the remnant of his people.

He will be a spirit of justice to him who sits in judgment, a source of strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

Isa. 28:7-15 SPIRITUAL LEADERS JUDGED.

And these also stagger from wine and reel from beer:

Priests and prophets stagger from beer and are befuddled with wine;
they reel from beer,

they stagger when seeing visions,
they stumble when rendering decisions.

All the tables are covered with vomit and there is not a spot without filth.

“Who is it he is trying to teach?

To whom is he explaining his message?

To children weaned from their milk,
to those just taken from the breast?

For it is:

Do and do, do and do,
rule on rule, rule on rule^q;
a little here, a little there."

Very well then, with foreign lips and strange tongues

God will speak to this people,
to whom he said,
"This is the resting place, let the weary rest";
and, "This is the place of repose"—
but they would not listen.

So then, the word of the LORD to them will become:

Do and do, do and do,
rule on rule, rule on rule;
a little here, a little there—
so that they will go and fall backward, be injured and snared and captured.

Therefore hear the word of the LORD, you scoffers who rule this people in Jerusalem.
You boast, "We have entered into a covenant with death,
with the grave^r we have made an agreement.
When an overwhelming scourge sweeps by,
it cannot touch us,
for we have made a lie our refuge and falsehood^s our hiding place."

WORSHIP IS MEANINGLESS. The Lord says:

Isa. 29:13

"These people come near to me with their mouth and honor me with their lips,
but their hearts are far from me.
Their worship of me
is made up only of rules taught by men.^t

JUSTICE IS COMING. So this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

Isa.
28:16-22

"See, I lay a stone in Zion,
a tested stone,
a precious cornerstone for a sure foundation;
the one who trusts will never be dismayed.
I will make justice the measuring line and righteousness the plumb line;
hail will sweep away your refuge, the lie,
and water will overflow your hiding place.
Your covenant with death will be annulled;
your agreement with the grave will not stand.
When the overwhelming scourge sweeps by,
you will be beaten down by it.
As often as it comes it will carry you away;
morning after morning, by day and by night,

^qHebrew / sav lasav sav lasav / kav lakav kav lakav (possibly meaningless sounds; perhaps a mimicking of the prophet's words) ^rHebrew Sheol ^sOr false gods ^tHebrew; Septuagint They worship me in vain; / their teachings are but rules taught by men

it will sweep through.”

The understanding of this message will bring sheer terror.
The bed is too short to stretch out on,
the blanket too narrow to wrap around you.
The LORD will rise up as he did at Mount Perazim, he will rouse himself as in the Valley of Gibeon—
to do his work, his strange work,
and perform his task, his alien task.
Now stop your mocking,
or your chains will become heavier;
the Lord, the LORD Almighty, has told me of the destruction decreed against the whole land.

Isa.
28:23-29

REASONABLE PUNISHMENT.

Listen and hear my voice;
pay attention and hear what I say.
When a farmer plows for planting, does he plow continually?
Does he keep on breaking up and harrowing the soil?
When he has leveled the surface,
does he not sow caraway and scatter cummin?
Does he not plant wheat in its place,^u barley in its plot,^u and spelt in its field?
His God instructs him
and teaches him the right way.
Caraway is not threshed with a sledge,
nor is a cartwheel rolled over cummin;
caraway is beaten out with a rod,
and cummin with a stick.
Grain must be ground to make bread;
so one does not go on threshing it forever.
Though he drives the wheels of his threshing cart over it,
his horses do not grind it.
All this also comes from the LORD Almighty, wonderful in counsel and magnificent in wisdom.

Isa. 22:1-14

JERUSALEM WARNINGS IGNORED. An oracle concerning the Valley of Vision:

What troubles you now,
that you have all gone up on the roofs,
O town full of commotion,
O city of tumult and revelry?
Your slain were not killed by the sword,
nor did they die in battle.
All your leaders have fled together;
they have been captured without using the bow.
All you who were caught were taken prisoner together,

^uThe meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

having fled while the enemy was still far away.
 Therefore I said, "Turn away from me;
 let me weep bitterly.
 Do not try to console me
 over the destruction of my people."

The Lord, the LORD Almighty, has a day of tumult and trampling and terror in the Valley of Vision,
 a day of battering down walls and of crying out to the mountains.

Elam takes up the quiver,
 with her charioteers and horses;
 Kir uncovers the shield.
 Your choicest valleys are full of chariots,
 and horsemen are posted at the city gates;
 the defenses of Judah are stripped away.

And you looked in that day to the weapons in the Palace of the Forest;
 you saw that the City of David had many breaches in its defenses; you stored up water
 in the Lower Pool.
 You counted the buildings in Jerusalem and tore down houses to strengthen the wall.
 You built a reservoir between the two walls for the water of the Old Pool, but you did not look to the One who made it,
 or have regard for the One who planned it long ago.

The Lord, the LORD Almighty, called you on that day
 to weep and to wail,
 to tear out your hair and put on sackcloth.
 But see, there is joy and revelry, slaughtering of cattle and killing of sheep,
 eating of meat and drinking of wine!
 "Let us eat and drink," you say,
 "for tomorrow we die!"

The LORD Almighty has revealed this in my hearing: "Till your dying day this sin will not be atoned for," says the Lord, the LORD Almighty.

JERUSALEM WILL FALL.

Isa. 29:1-4

Woe to you, Ariel, Ariel,
 the city where David settled!
 Add year to year
 and let your cycle of festivals go on.
 Yet I will besiege Ariel;
 she will mourn and lament,
 she will be to me like an altar hearth.^v

^v The Hebrew for hearth sounds like the Hebrew for Ariel.

I will encamp against you all around;
 I will encircle you with towers and set up my siege works against you.
 Brought low, you will speak from the ground;
 your speech will mumble out of the dust.
 Your voice will come ghostlike from the earth;
 out of the dust your speech will whisper.

Isa. 29:5-8 JUDGMENT AGAINST OPPRESSORS.

But your many enemies will become like fine dust,
 the ruthless hordes like blown chaff.
 Suddenly, in an instant,
 the LORD Almighty will come with thunder and earthquake and great noise, with windstorm and tempest and flames of a devouring fire.

Then the hordes of all the nations that fight against Ariel, that attack her and her fortress and besiege her,
 will be as it is with a dream,
 with a vision in the night—
 as when a hungry man dreams that he is eating, but he awakens, and his hunger remains;
 as when a thirsty man dreams that he is drinking,
 but he awakens faint, with his thirst unquenched.
 So will it be with the hordes of all the nations that fight against Mount Zion.

Isa. 33:1 OPPRESSORS TO BE DESTROYED.

Woe to you, O destroyer,
 you who have not been destroyed!
 Woe to you, O traitor,
 you who have not been betrayed!
 When you stop destroying,
 you will be destroyed;
 when you stop betraying,
 you will be betrayed.

Isa. 29:9-12 UNDERSTANDING IS LOST.

Be stunned and amazed,
 blind yourselves and be sightless;
 be drunk, but not from wine,
 stagger, but not from beer.
 The LORD has brought over you a deep sleep:
 He has sealed your eyes (the prophets);
 he has covered your heads (the seers).

For you this whole vision is nothing but words sealed in a scroll. And if you give the scroll to someone who can read, and say to him, "Read this, please," he will answer, "I can't; it is sealed." Or if you give the scroll to someone who cannot read, and say, "Read this, please," he will answer, "I don't know how to read."

MAN'S WISDOM FAILS.

Isa.
29:14-16

Therefore once more I will astound these people with wonder upon wonder;
 the wisdom of the wise will perish,
 the intelligence of the intelligent will vanish."
 Woe to those who go to great depths to hide their plans from the LORD, who do their work in darkness and think,
 "Who sees us? Who will know?"
 You turn things upside down,
 as if the potter were thought to be like the clay!
 Shall what is formed say to him who formed it,
 "He did not make me"?
 Can the pot say of the potter,
 "He knows nothing"?

UNDERSTANDING WILL COME.

Isa.
29:17-21

In a very short time, will not Lebanon be turned into a fertile field
 and the fertile field seem like a forest?
 In that day the deaf will hear the words of the scroll, and out of gloom and darkness
 the eyes of the blind will see.
 Once more the humble will rejoice in the LORD;
 the needy will rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.
 The ruthless will vanish,
 the mockers will disappear, and all who have an eye for evil will be cut down—
 those who with a word make a man out to be guilty, who ensnare the defender in court and with false testimony deprive the innocent of justice.

A SPIRITUAL REAWAKENING. Therefore this is what the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, says to the house of Jacob:

Isa.
29:22-24

"No longer will Jacob be ashamed;
 no longer will their faces grow pale.
 When they see among them their children,
 the work of my hands,
 they will keep my name holy;
 they will acknowledge the holiness of the Holy One of Jacob,
 and will stand in awe of the God of Israel.
 Those who are wayward in spirit will gain understanding;
 those who complain will accept instruction."

VINEYARD TO BE RESTORED. In that day—

Isa. 27:2-13

"Sing about a fruitful vineyard:
 I, the LORD, watch over it;
 I water it continually.
 I guard it day and night
 so that no one may harm it.

I am not angry.
 If only there were briars and thorns confronting me!
 I would march against them in battle;
 I would set them all on fire.
 Or else let them come to me for refuge;
 let them make peace with me,
 yes, let them make peace with me.”

In days to come Jacob will take root, Israel will bud and blossom and fill all the world with fruit.

Has [the LORD] struck her as he struck down those who struck her?
 Has she been killed
 as those were killed who killed her?
 By warfare^w and exile you contend with her—with his fierce blast he drives her out,
 as on a day the east wind blows.
 By this, then, will Jacob's guilt be atoned for,
 and this will be the full fruitage of the removal of his sin:
 When he makes all the altar stones to be like chalk stones crushed to pieces, no Asherah poles^x or incense altars will be left standing.
 The fortified city stands desolate,
 an abandoned settlement, forsaken like the desert;
 there the calves graze,
 there they lie down;
 they strip its branches bare.
 When its twigs are dry, they are broken off and women come and make fires with them.
 For this is a people without understanding;
 so their Maker has no compassion on them, and their Creator shows them no favor.

In that day the LORD will thresh from the flowing Euphrates^y to the Wadi of Egypt, and you, O Israelites, will be gathered up one by one. And in that day a great trumpet will sound. Those who were perishing in Assyria and those who were exiled in Egypt will come and worship the LORD on the holy mountain in Jerusalem.

BLESSINGS WILL RETURN.

Beat your breasts for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vines
 and for the land of my people, a land overgrown with thorns and briars—yes, mourn for all houses of merriment and for this city of revelry.
 The fortress will be abandoned,
 the noisy city deserted;

citadel and watchtower will become a wasteland forever,
 the delight of donkeys, a pasture for flocks,
 till the Spirit is poured upon us from on high,
 and the desert becomes a fertile field,
 and the fertile field seems like a forest.
 Justice will dwell in the desert and righteousness live in the fertile field.
 The fruit of righteousness will be peace;
 the effect of righteousness will be quietness and confidence forever.
 My people will live in peaceful dwelling places,
 in secure homes,
 in undisturbed places of rest.
 Though hail flattens the forest and the city is leveled completely, how blessed you will be,
 sowing your seed by every stream,
 and letting your cattle and donkeys range free.

SINS WILL BE FORGIVEN.

Isa. 33:2-16

O LORD, be gracious to us;
 we long for you.
 Be our strength every morning,
 our salvation in time of distress.
 At the thunder of your voice, the peoples flee;
 when you rise up, the nations scatter.
 Your plunder, O nations, is harvested as by young locusts;
 like a swarm of locusts men pounce on it.
 The LORD is exalted, for he dwells on high;
 he will fill Zion with justice and righteousness.
 He will be the sure foundation for your times,
 a rich store of salvation and wisdom and knowledge;
 the fear of the LORD is the key to this treasure.²
 Look, their brave men cry aloud in the streets;
 the envoys of peace weep bitterly.
 The highways are deserted,
 no travelers are on the roads.
 The treaty is broken,
 its witnesses^a are despised,
 no one is respected.
 The land mourns^b and wastes away,
 Lebanon is ashamed and withers;
 Sharon is like the Arabah,
 and Bashan and Carmel drop their leaves.
 "Now will I arise," says the LORD.
 "Now will I be exalted;
 now will I be lifted up.
 You conceive chaff,

you give birth to straw;
 your breath is a fire that consumes you.
 The peoples will be burned as if to lime;
 like cut thornbushes they will be set ablaze."

You who are far away, hear what I have done;
 you who are near, acknowledge my power!
 The sinners in Zion are terrified;
 trembling grips the godless:
 "Who of us can dwell with the consuming fire?
 Who of us can dwell with everlasting burning?"
 He who walks righteously and speaks what is right, who rejects gain from extortion and keeps his hand from accepting bribes, who stops his ears against plots of murder and shuts his eyes against contemplating evil—this is the man who will dwell on the heights, whose refuge will be the mountain fortress.
 His bread will be supplied,
 and water will not fail him.

Isa.
 33:17-24

Your eyes will see the king in his beauty and view a land that stretches afar.
 In your thoughts you will ponder the former terror:
 "Where is that chief officer?
 Where is the one who took the revenue?
 Where is the officer in charge of the towers?"
 You will see those arrogant people no more,
 those people of an obscure speech,
 with their strange, incomprehensible tongue.

Look upon Zion, the city of our festivals;
 your eyes will see Jerusalem,
 a peaceful abode, a tent that will not be moved;
 its stakes will never be pulled up,
 nor any of its ropes broken.
 There the LORD will be our Mighty One.
 It will be like a place of broad rivers and streams.
 No galley with oars will ride them,
 no mighty ship will sail them.
 For the LORD is our judge,
 the LORD is our lawgiver,
 the LORD is our king;
 it is he who will save us.

Your rigging hangs loose:
 The mast is not held secure,
 the sail is not spread.
 Then an abundance of spoils will be divided and even the lame will carry off plunder.
 No one living in Zion will say, "I am ill";
 and the sins of those who dwell there will be forgiven.

Isaiah takes time out from his public preaching to bring a special message to just one man. It is not known fully why Shebna is singled out, but his breach of trust in ordering his own burial sepulcher while serving as master of Hezekiah's household will cause his demotion to a lesser rank. The historical record will soon confirm his replacement by Eliakim, just as Isaiah now prophesies.

SHEBNA TO LOSE POSITION. This is what the Lord, the LORD Almighty, says: Isa.
22:15-19

“Go, say to this steward, to Shebna, who is in charge of the palace:
What are you doing here and who gave you permission to cut out a grave for yourself here, hewing your grave on the height and chiseling your resting place in the rock?

“Beware, the LORD is about to take firm hold of you and hurl you away, O you mighty man.
He will roll you up tightly like a ball and throw you into a large country.
There you will die
and there your splendid chariots will remain—
you disgrace to your master's house!
I will depose you from your office,
and you will be ousted from your position.

ELIAKIM TO REPLACE HIM. “In that day I will summon my servant, Eliakim son of Hilkiyah. I will clothe him with your robe and fasten your sash around him and hand your authority over to him. He will be a father to those who live in Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. I will place on his shoulder the key to the house of David; what he opens no one can shut, and what he shuts no one can open. I will drive him like a peg into a firm place; he will be a seat^c of honor for the house of his father. All the glory of his family will hang on him: its offspring and offshoots—all its lesser vessels, from the bowls to all the jars. Isa.
22:20-25

“In that day,” declares the LORD Almighty, “the peg driven into the firm place will give way; it will be sheared off and will fall, and the load hanging on it will be cut down.” The LORD has spoken.

The Fall of Israel

Despite prophetic warnings, Israel still rejects God, and the end is at hand for the northern tribes. Last-minute desperation will lead to an alliance with Egypt in an effort to stave off Assyria, but the cause is hopeless. After a three-year siege, Samaria will fall and many of the people of Israel will be led captive to Assyria. Their lands and homes will be occupied by settlers sent in from Babylonia and other Eastern countries. These new Samaritans will become a hybrid people and will develop an unusual mixed religion.

^cOr throne

The Assyrian king at the time of the siege is Shalmaneser V. Upon Shalmaneser's death, in 722 B.C., Sargon II takes credit for the capture of Israel, but the fall itself is probably accomplished in 723 B.C. Here is the extremely brief account of one of the darkest hours in the history of God's chosen nation.

In Israel

2 Kgs. 17:3 VASSAL TO SHALMANESER. Shalmaneser king of Assyria came up to attack Hoshea, who had been Shalmaneser's vassal and had paid him tribute.

2 Kgs. 17:4a ALLIANCE DISCOVERED. But the king of Assyria discovered that Hoshea was a traitor, for he had sent envoys to So^d king of Egypt, and he no longer paid tribute to the king of Assyria, as he had done year by year.

2 Kgs. 17:4b HOSHEA IMPRISONED. Therefore Shalmaneser seized him and put him in prison.

2 Kgs. 17:5
18:9
(726-723 B.C.) THREE-YEAR SIEGE. In King Hezekiah's fourth year, which was the seventh year of Hoshea son of Elah king of Israel, Shalmaneser king of Assyria marched against Samaria and laid siege to it. The king of Assyria invaded the entire land, marched against Samaria and laid siege to it for three years.

2 Kgs. 18:10
(723 B.C.)
Samaria SAMARIA FALLS. At the end of three years the Assyrians took it. So Samaria was captured in Hezekiah's sixth year, which was the ninth year of Hoshea king of Israel.

2 Kgs. 17:6
18:11
(723-721 B.C.) ISRAEL TAKEN CAPTIVE. The king of Assyria deported Israel to Assyria and settled them in Halah, in Gozan on the Habor River and in towns of the Medes.

2 Kgs. 17:7-12
18:12 REASON FOR ISRAEL'S FALL. All this took place because the Israelites had sinned against the LORD their God, who had brought them up out of Egypt from under the power of Pharaoh king of Egypt. They worshiped other gods and followed the practices of the nations the LORD had driven out before them, as well as the practices that the kings of Israel had introduced. The Israelites secretly did things against the LORD their God that were not right. From watchtower to fortified city they built themselves high places in all their towns. They set up sacred stones and Asherah poles on every high hill and under every spreading tree. At every high place they burned incense, as the nations whom the LORD had driven out before them had done. They did wicked things that provoked the LORD to anger. They worshiped idols, though the LORD had said, "You shall not do this."^e

2 Kgs. 17:13,14 PROPHETS' WARNINGS IGNORED. The LORD warned Israel and Judah through all his prophets and seers: "Turn from your evil ways. Observe my commands and decrees, in accordance with the entire Law that I commanded your fathers to obey and that I delivered to you through my servants the prophets."

But they would not listen and were as stiff-necked as their fathers, who did not trust in the LORD their God.

^dOr to Sais, to the; So is possibly an abbreviation for Osorkon.

^eExodus 20:4, 5

ISRAEL'S SINS. They rejected his decrees and the covenant he had made with their fathers and the warnings he had given them. They followed worthless idols and themselves became worthless. They imitated the nations around them although the LORD had ordered them, "Do not do as they do," and they did the things the LORD had forbidden them to do.

2 Kgs.
17:15-17

They forsook all the commands of the LORD their God and made for themselves two idols cast in the shape of calves, and an Asherah pole. They bowed down to all the starry hosts, and they worshiped Baal. They sacrificed their sons and daughters in/ the fire. They practiced divination and sorcery and sold themselves to do evil in the eyes of the LORD, provoking him to anger.

JUDAH NOT PERFECT. So the LORD was very angry with Israel and removed them from his presence. Only the tribe of Judah was left, and even Judah did not keep the commands of the LORD their God. They followed the practices Israel had introduced. Therefore the LORD rejected all the people of Israel; he afflicted them and gave them into the hands of plunderers, until he thrust them from his presence.

2 Kgs.
17:18-20

JEROBOAM'S GUILT. When he tore Israel away from the house of David, they made Jeroboam son of Nebat their king. Jeroboam enticed Israel away from following the LORD and caused them to commit a great sin. The Israelites persisted in all the sins of Jeroboam and did not turn away from them until the LORD removed them from his presence, as he had warned through all his servants the prophets. So the people of Israel were taken from their homeland into exile in Assyria, and they are still there.

2 Kgs.
17:21-23

FOREIGNERS INHABIT SAMARIA. The king of Assyria brought people from Babylon, Cuthah, Avva, Hamath and Sepharvaim and settled them in the towns of Samaria to replace the Israelites. They took over Samaria and lived in its towns.

2 Kgs.
17:24
Samaria

LIONS ATTACK SETTLERS. When they first lived there, they did not worship the LORD; so he sent lions among them and they killed some of the people. It was reported to the king of Assyria: "The people you deported and resettled in the towns of Samaria do not know what the god of that country requires. He has sent lions among them, which are killing them off, because the people do not know what he requires."

2 Kgs.
17:25,26

SAMARITANS MIX RELIGION. Then the king of Assyria gave this order: "Have one of the priests you took captive from Samaria go back to live there and teach the people what the god of the land requires." So one of the priests who had been exiled from Samaria came to live in Bethel and taught them how to worship the LORD.

2 Kgs.
17:27-41

Nevertheless, each national group made its own gods in the several towns where they settled, and set them up in the shrines the people of Samaria had made at the high places. The men from Babylon made Succoth Benoth, the men from Cuthah made Nergal, and the men from Hamath made Ashima; the Avvites made Nibhaz and Tartak, and the Sepharvites burned their children in the fire as sacrifices to Adrammelech and Anammelech, the gods of Sepharvaim. They worshiped the LORD, but they also appointed all sorts of their own people to officiate for them as

¹Or They made their sons and daughters pass through priests in the shrines at the high places. They worshiped the LORD, but they also served their own gods in accordance with the customs of the nations from which they had been brought.

To this day they persist in their former practices. They neither worship the LORD nor adhere to the decrees and ordinances, the laws and commands that the LORD gave the descendants of Jacob, whom he named Israel. When the LORD made a covenant with the Israelites, he commanded them: "Do not worship any other gods or bow down to them, serve them or sacrifice to them. But the LORD, who brought you up out of Egypt with mighty power and outstretched arm, is the one you must worship. To him you shall bow down and to him offer sacrifices. You must always be careful to keep the decrees and ordinances, the laws and commands he wrote for you. Do not worship other gods. Do not forget the covenant I have made with you, and do not worship other gods. Rather, worship the LORD your God; it is he who will deliver you from the hand of all your enemies."

They would not listen, however, but persisted in their former practices. Even while these people were worshiping the LORD, they were serving their idols. To this day their children and grandchildren continue to do as their fathers did.

In Judah, meanwhile, Hezekiah holds his own against Assyria and wages a successful campaign against the ever-present Philistines.

In Judah

2 Kgs. 18:7b REBELLION AGAINST ASSYRIA. He rebelled against the king of Assyria and did not serve him.
(721 B.C.?)

2 Kgs. 18:8 DEFEAT OF PHILISTINES. From watchtower to fortified city, he defeated the Philistines, as far as Gaza and its territory.

JUDAH AFTER ISRAEL'S FALL

Isaiah Warns About Egypt and Ethiopia _____

*W*ith Assyria threatening conquest, Judah begins to look for help wherever it can be found. Some are urging an alliance with Egypt, which at present is ruled by Cushites from Ethiopia. Since Egypt's military strength lies in its many horses and chariots, Isaiah is displeased with the thought that God's people also wish to rely on horses and chariots, instead of on God's unlimited power. Therefore Isaiah speaks out in judgment against Egypt and Cush. Not only does Isaiah preach his warnings, but at God's direction—and at what must be great embarrassment to himself—Isaiah actually goes about “naked” for three years. (It may be that Isaiah is only stripped of his outer garments, but even that must surely be an affront to his dignity.) God chooses the occasion of Sargon's attack against Ashdod in 711 B.C. to explain further why his respected prophet has seemingly disgraced himself. The timing is particularly appropriate because Ashdod, a Philistine city, has been allied with Egypt against Assyria.

Word of Isaiah's message apparently reaches even as far as Assyria, because Sennacherib's field commander will refer to it some ten years later when he ridicules Judah both for trusting in God (little as it did) and for relying on Egypt's military strength.

Both Isaiah and this Assyrian officer will be proved correct in their assessment of Egypt. In fact, instead of saving Judah from Assyria, Egypt under Pharaoh Neco II will actually become one of Judah's oppressors. Therefore Isaiah's judgments against Egypt are well warranted.

JUDGMENT AGAINST CUSH.

whose land is divided by rivers.
 All you people of the world,
 you who live on the earth,
 when a banner is raised on the mountains,
 you will see it,
 and when a trumpet sounds,
 you will hear it.
 This is what the LORD says to me:
 "I will remain quiet and will look on from my dwelling place,
 like shimmering heat in the sunshine,
 like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest."
 For, before the harvest, when the blossom is gone and the flower becomes a ripening grape,
 he will cut off the shoots with pruning knives,
 and cut down and take away the spreading branches.
 They will all be left to the mountain birds of prey and to the wild animals;
 the birds will feed on them all summer,
 the wild animals all winter.

At that time gifts will be brought to the LORD Almighty from a people tall and smooth-skinned, from a people feared far and wide,
 an aggressive nation of strange speech,
 whose land is divided by rivers—

the gifts will be brought to Mount Zion, the place of the Name of the LORD Almighty.

Isa. 19:1-15 JUDGMENT AGAINST EGYPT. An oracle concerning Egypt:

See, the LORD rides on a swift cloud and is coming to Egypt.
 The idols of Egypt tremble before him,
 and the hearts of the Egyptians melt within them.
 "I will stir up Egyptian against Egyptian—brother will fight against brother, neighbor against neighbor,
 city against city,
 kingdom against kingdom.
 The Egyptians will lose heart,
 and I will bring their plans to nothing;
 they will consult the idols and the spirits of the dead,
 the mediums and the spiritists.
 I will hand the Egyptians over to the power of a cruel master, and a fierce king will rule over them,"
 declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty.
 The waters of the river will dry up,
 and the riverbed will be parched and dry.
 The canals will stink;

the streams of Egypt will dwindle and dry up.
 The reeds and rushes will wither,
 also the plants along the Nile,
 at the mouth of the river.
 Every sown field along the Nile will become parched, will blow away and be no more.
 The fishermen will groan and lament,
 all who cast hooks into the Nile;
 those who throw nets on the water will pine away.
 Those who work with combed flax will despair,
 the weavers of fine linen will lose hope.
 The workers in cloth will be dejected,
 and all the wage earners will be sick at heart.
 The officials of Zoan are nothing but fools;
 the wise counselors of Pharaoh give senseless advice.
 How can you say to Pharaoh,
 "I am one of the wise men,
 a disciple of the ancient kings"?
 Where are your wise men now?
 Let them show you and make known what the LORD Almighty has planned against Egypt.
 The officials of Zoan have become fools,
 the leaders of Memphis^c are deceived;
 the cornerstones of her peoples have led Egypt astray.
 The LORD has poured into them
 a spirit of dizziness;
 they make Egypt stagger in all that she does,
 as a drunkard staggers around in his vomit.
 There is nothing Egypt can do—head or tail, palm branch or reed.

JUDAH WILL SUBJUGATE EGYPT. In that day the Egyptians will be like women. They will shudder with fear at the uplifted hand that the LORD Almighty raises against them. And the land of Judah will bring terror to the Egyptians; everyone to whom Judah is mentioned will be terrified, because of what the LORD Almighty is planning against them.

Isa.
19:16-18

In that day five cities in Egypt will speak the language of Canaan and swear allegiance to the LORD Almighty. One of them will be called the City of Destruction.^d

EGYPT WILL ACKNOWLEDGE GOD. In that day there will be an altar to the LORD in the heart of Egypt, and a monument to the LORD at its border. It will be a sign and witness to the LORD Almighty in the land of Egypt. When they cry out to the LORD because of their oppressors, he will send them a savior and defender, and he will rescue them. So the LORD will make himself known to the Egyptians, and in that day they will acknowledge the LORD. They will worship with sacrifices and grain offerings; they will make vows to the LORD and keep them. The LORD will strike Egypt with a plague; he will strike them and heal them. They will turn to the LORD, and he will respond to their pleas and heal them.

Isa. 19:23-25 SPIRITUAL RESTORATION. In that day there will be a highway from Egypt to Assyria. The Assyrians will go to Egypt and the Egyptians to Assyria. The Egyptians and Assyrians will worship together. In that day Israel will be the third, along with Egypt and Assyria, a blessing on the earth. The LORD Almighty will bless them, saying, "Blessed be Egypt my people, Assyria my handiwork, and Israel my inheritance."

Isa. 20:1,2 (711 B.C.) ISAIAH'S NAKEDNESS A SIGN. In the year that the supreme commander, sent by Sargon king of Assyria, came to Ashdod and attacked and captured it—at that time the LORD spoke through Isaiah son of Amoz. He said to him, "Take off the sackcloth from your body and the sandals from your feet." And he did so, going around stripped and barefoot.

Isa. 20:3-6 OPPRESSION OF EGYPT AND CUSH. Then the LORD said, "Just as my servant Isaiah has gone stripped and barefoot for three years, as a sign and portent against Egypt and Cush,^e so the king of Assyria will lead away stripped and barefoot the Egyptian captives and Cushite exiles, young and old, with buttocks bared—to Egypt's shame. Those who trusted in Cush and boasted in Egypt will be afraid and put to shame. In that day the people who live on this coast will say, 'See what has happened to those we relied on, those we fled to for help and deliverance from the king of Assyria! How then can we escape?' "

Isa. 30:1-7 EGYPT CANNOT SAVE JUDAH.

"Woe to the obstinate children,"
declares the LORD,
"to those who carry out plans that are not mine, forming an alliance, but not by my Spirit, heaping sin upon sin;
who go down to Egypt
without consulting me;
who look for help to Pharaoh's protection,
to Egypt's shade for refuge.
But Pharaoh's protection will be to your shame,
Egypt's shade will bring you disgrace.
Though they have officials in Zoan and their envoys have arrived in Hanes, everyone will be put to shame
because of a people useless to them, who bring neither help nor advantage,
but only shame and disgrace."

An oracle concerning the animals of the Negev:

of lions and lionesses,
of adders and darting snakes,
the envoys carry their riches on donkeys' backs,

JUDAH REJECTS TRUTH.

Isa. 30:8-14

Go now, write it on a tablet for them, inscribe it on a scroll,
that for the days to come
it may be an everlasting witness.
These are rebellious people, deceitful children, children unwilling to listen to the LORD's instruction.
They say to the seers,
"See no more visions!"
and to the prophets,
"Give us no more visions of what is right!
Tell us pleasant things,
prophesy illusions.
Leave this way,
get off this path,
and stop confronting us with the Holy One of Israel!"

Therefore, this is what the Holy One of Israel says:

"Because you have rejected this message, relied on oppression
and depended on deceit,
this sin will become for you like a high wall, cracked and bulging, that collapses suddenly, in an instant.
It will break in pieces like pottery, shattered so mercilessly that among its pieces not a fragment will be found for taking coals from a hearth or scooping water out of a cistern."

GOD IS STRENGTH. This is what the Sovereign LORD, the Holy One of Israel, says:

Isa.
30:15-18

"In repentance and rest is your salvation, in quietness and trust is your strength,
but you would have none of it.
You said, 'No, we will flee on horses.'
Therefore you will flee!
You said, 'We will ride off on swift horses.'
Therefore your pursuers will be swift!
A thousand will flee
at the threat of one;
at the threat of five
you will all flee away, till you are left like a flagstaff on a mountaintop,

like a banner on a hill."

Yet the LORD longs to be gracious to you;
 he rises to show you compassion.
 For the LORD is a God of justice.
 Blessed are all who wait for him!

Isa.
 30:19-26

GOD WILL RESTORE NATION. O people of Zion, who live in Jerusalem, you will weep no more. How gracious he will be when you cry for help! As soon as he hears, he will answer you. Although the Lord gives you the bread of adversity and the water of affliction, your teachers will be hidden no more; with your own eyes you will see them. Whether you turn to the right or to the left, your ears will hear a voice behind you, saying, "This is the way; walk in it." Then you will defile your idols overlaid with silver and your images covered with gold; you will throw them away like a menstrual cloth and say to them, "Away with you!"

He will also send you rain for the seed you sow in the ground, and the food that comes from the land will be rich and plentiful. In that day your cattle will graze in broad meadows. The oxen and donkeys that work the soil will eat fodder and mash, spread out with fork and shovel. In the day of great slaughter, when the towers fall, streams of water will flow on every high mountain and every lofty hill. The moon will shine like the sun, and the sunlight will be seven times brighter, like the light of seven full days, when the LORD binds up the bruises of his people and heals the wounds he inflicted.

Isa.
 30:27-33

ASSYRIA WILL BE PUNISHED.

See, the Name of the LORD comes from afar, with burning anger and dense clouds of smoke;
 his lips are full of wrath,
 and his tongue is a consuming fire.
 His breath is like a rushing torrent, rising up to the neck.
 He shakes the nations in the sieve of destruction;
 he places in the jaws of the peoples
 a bit that leads them astray.
 And you will sing
 as on the night you celebrate a holy festival;
 your hearts will rejoice
 as when people go up with flutes to the mountain of the LORD, to the Rock of Israel.
 The LORD will cause men to hear his majestic voice and will make them see his arm coming down with raging anger and consuming fire, with cloudburst, thunderstorm and hail.
 The voice of the LORD will shatter Assyria;
 with his scepter he will strike them down.
 Every stroke the LORD lays on them with his punishing rod will be to the music of tambourines and harps, as he fights them in battle with the blows of his arm.

Topheth has long been prepared;
 it has been made ready for the king.
 Its fire pit has been made deep and wide,
 with an abundance of fire and wood;
 the breath of the LORD,
 like a stream of burning sulfur,
 sets it ablaze.

FUTILE RELIANCE ON EGYPT.

Isa. 31:1-3

Woe to those who go down to Egypt for help,
 who rely on horses,
 who trust in the multitude of their chariots and in the great strength of their horsemen, but do not look to the Holy One of Israel,
 or seek help from the LORD.
 Yet he too is wise and can bring disaster;
 he does not take back his words.
 He will rise up against the house of the wicked, against those who help evildoers.
 But the Egyptians are men and not God;
 their horses are flesh and not spirit.
 When the LORD stretches out his hand,
 he who helps will stumble,
 he who is helped will fall;
 both will perish together.

GOD WILL PUNISH ASSYRIA. This is what the LORD says to me:

Isa. 31:4-9

“As a lion growls,
 a great lion over his prey—and though a whole band of shepherds is called together against him, he is not frightened by their shouts or disturbed by their clamor—so the LORD Almighty will come down to do battle on Mount Zion and on its heights.
 Like birds hovering overhead,
 the LORD Almighty will shield Jerusalem;
 he will shield it and deliver it,
 he will ‘pass over’ it and will rescue it.”

Return to him you have so greatly revolted against, O Israelites. For in that day every one of you will reject the idols of silver and gold your sinful hands have made.

“Assyria will fall by a sword that is not of man;
 a sword, not of mortals, will devour them.
 They will flee before the sword and their young men will be put to forced labor.
 Their stronghold will fall because of terror;
 at sight of the battle standard their commanders will panic,”
 declares the LORD,
 whose fire is in Zion,
 whose furnace is in Jerusalem.

Last Years of Hezekiah's Reign

Hezekiah must truly have won God's favor by his earlier reforms of worship in Judah, for when it comes time for him to die, his prayer for longer life is answered by an extension of 15 years. Even that most unusual gesture is confirmed by another equally amazing miracle: God turns back the shadow on a stairway-type sun dial.

During Hezekiah's last 15 years he is forced for a time to pay tribute to Sennacherib, before God miraculously causes the deaths of thousands of Assyrian troops and forces Sennacherib to return home in disgrace. Yet even as the Assyrian threat dwindles, a visit by envoys of Babylon portends new trouble for Judah from that increasingly powerful nation.

2 Kgs. 18:13
Isa. 36:1
(701 B.C.) SENNACHERIB INVADES JUDAH. In the fourteenth^f year of King Hezekiah's reign, Sennacherib king of Assyria attacked all the fortified cities of Judah and captured them.

2 Kgs. 18:14-16
Jerusalem JUDAH PAYS TRIBUTE. So Hezekiah king of Judah sent this message to the king of Assyria at Lachish: "I have done wrong. Withdraw from me, and I will pay whatever you demand of me." The king of Assyria exacted from Hezekiah king of Judah three hundred talents^g of silver and thirty talents^h of gold. So Hezekiah gave him all the silver that was found in the temple of the LORD and in the treasuries of the royal palace.

At this time Hezekiah king of Judah stripped off the gold with which he had covered the doors and doorposts of the temple of the LORD, and gave it to the king of Assyria.

2 Kgs. 20:1-11
2 Chron. 32:24
Isa. 38:1-8,21,22 HEZEKIAH'S LIFE EXTENDED. In those days Hezekiah became ill and was at the point of death. The prophet Isaiah son of Amoz went to him and said, "This is what the LORD says: Put your house in order, because you are going to die; you will not recover."

Hezekiah turned his face to the wall and prayed to the LORD, "Remember, O LORD, how I have walked before you faithfully and with whole-hearted devotion and have done what is good in your eyes." And Hezekiah wept bitterly.

Before Isaiah had left the middle court, the word of the LORD came to him: "Go back and tell Hezekiah, the leader of my people, 'This is what the LORD, the God of your father David, says: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears; I will heal you. On the third day from now you will go up to the temple of the LORD. I will add fifteen years to your life. And I will deliver you and this city from the hand of the king of Assyria. I will defend this city for my sake and for the sake of my servant David.'"

Then Isaiah said, "Prepare a poultice of figs." They did so and applied it to the boil, and he recovered.

Hezekiah had asked Isaiah, "What will be the sign that the LORD will heal me and that I will go up to the temple of the LORD on the third day from now?"

Isaiah answered, "This is the LORD's sign to you that the LORD will do what he has promised: Shall the shadow go forward ten steps, or shall it go back ten steps?"

"It is a simple matter for the shadow to go forward ten steps," said Hezekiah. "Rather, have it go back ten steps."

Then the prophet Isaiah called upon the LORD, and the LORD made the shadow go back the ten steps it had gone down on the stairway of Ahaz.

HEZEKIAH'S THANKSGIVING. A writing of Hezekiah king of Judah after his illness and recovery: Isa. 38:9-20

I said, "In the prime of my life must I go through the gates of deathⁱ and be robbed of the rest of my years?"
 I said, "I will not again see the LORD,
 the LORD, in the land of the living;
 no longer will I look on mankind, or be with those who now dwell in this world.^j
 Like a shepherd's tent my house has been pulled down and taken from me.
 Like a weaver I have rolled up my life,
 and he has cut me off from the loom;
 day and night you made an end of me.
 I waited patiently till dawn,
 but like a lion he broke all my bones;
 day and night you made an end of me.
 I cried like a swift or thrush,
 I moaned like a mourning dove.
 My eyes grew weak as I looked to the heavens.
 I am troubled; O Lord, come to my aid!"

But what can I say?
 He has spoken to me, and he himself has done this.
 I will walk humbly all my years because of this anguish of my soul.
 Lord, by such things men live;
 and my spirit finds life in them too.
 You restored me to health and let me live.
 Surely it was for my benefit that I suffered such anguish.
 In your love you kept me from the pit of destruction;
 you have put all my sins behind your back.
 For the grave^l cannot praise you,
 death cannot sing your praise;
 those who go down to the pit cannot hope for your faithfulness.
 The living, the living—they praise you,
 as I am doing today;

about your faithfulness.

The LORD will save me,

2 Chron. 32:25,26 HEZEKIAH'S PRIDE. But Hezekiah's heart was proud and he did not respond to the kindness shown him; therefore the LORD's wrath was on him and on Judah and Jerusalem. Then Hezekiah repented of the pride of his heart, as did the people of Jerusalem; therefore the LORD's wrath did not come upon them during the days of Hezekiah.

2 Chron. 32:27-30 JUDAH'S PROSPERITY. Hezekiah had very great riches and honor, and he made treasuries for his silver and gold and for his precious stones, spices, shields and all kinds of valuables. He also made buildings to store the harvest of grain, new wine and oil; and he made stalls for various kinds of cattle, and pens for the flocks. He built villages and acquired great numbers of flocks and herds, for God had given him very great riches.

It was Hezekiah who blocked the upper outlet of the Gihon spring and channeled the water down to the west side of the City of David. He succeeded in everything he undertook.

2 Kgs. 20:12-19
Isa. 39:1-8 ENVOYS FROM BABYLON. At that time Merodach-Baladan son of Baladan king of Babylon sent Hezekiah letters and a gift, because he had heard of Hezekiah's illness. Hezekiah received the messengers and showed them all that was in his storehouses—the silver, the gold, the spices and the fine oil—his armory and everything found among his treasures. There was nothing in his palace or in all his kingdom that Hezekiah did not show them.

Then Isaiah the prophet went to King Hezekiah and asked, "What did those men say, and where did they come from?"

"From a distant land," Hezekiah replied. "They came from Babylon."

The prophet asked, "What did they see in your palace?"

"They saw everything in my palace," Hezekiah said. "There is nothing among my treasures that I did not show them."

Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah, "Hear the word of the LORD: The time will surely come when everything in your palace, and all that your fathers have stored up until this day, will be carried off to Babylon. Nothing will be left, says the LORD. And some of your descendants, your own flesh and blood, that will be born to you, will be taken away, and they will become eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon."

"The word of the LORD you have spoken is good," Hezekiah replied. For he thought, "Will there not be peace and security in my lifetime?"

2 Chron. 32:31 ENVOYS A TEST. But when envoys were sent by the rulers of Babylon to ask him about the miraculous sign that had occurred in the land, God left him to test him and to know everything that was in his heart.

2 Chron. 32:1 SENNACHERIB INVADES AGAIN. After all that Hezekiah had so faithfully done, Sennacherib king of Assyria came and invaded Judah. He laid siege to the fortified cities, thinking to conquer them for himself.

2 Chron. 32:2-8 HEZEKIAH'S PREPARATIONS. When Hezekiah saw that Sennacherib had come and that he intended to make war on Jerusalem, he consulted with his officials and military staff about blocking off the water from the springs outside the city, and they helped him. A large force of men assembled, and they blocked all the springs and the stream that flowed through the land. "Why should the kings^k of Assyria come and find plenty of water?" they said. Then he worked hard repairing all the broken sections of the wall and building towers on it. He built another wall outside that one and reinforced the supporting terraces^l of the City of David. He also made large numbers of weapons and shields.

He appointed military officers over the people and assembled them before him in the square at the city gate and encouraged them with these words: "Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid or discouraged because of the king of Assyria and the vast army with him, for there is a greater power with us than with him. With him is only the arm of flesh, but with us is the LORD our God to help us and to fight our battles." And the people gained confidence from what Hezekiah the king of Judah said.

FIELD COMMANDER'S MESSAGE. ^{Ch} Later, when Sennacherib king of Assyria and all his forces were laying siege to Lachish, he sent his officers to Jerusalem with this message for Hezekiah king of Judah and for all the people of Judah who were there:

^{Ks} The king of Assyria sent his supreme commander, his chief officer and his field commander with a large army, from Lachish to King Hezekiah at Jerusalem. They came up to Jerusalem and stopped at the aqueduct of the Upper Pool, on the road to the Washerman's Field. They called for the king; and Eliakim son of Hilkiyah the palace administrator, Shebna the secretary, and Joah son of Asaph the recorder went out to them.

The field commander said to them, "Tell Hezekiah:

"This is what the great king, the king of Assyria, says: On what are you basing this confidence of yours? You say you have strategy and military strength—but you speak only empty words. On whom are you depending, that you rebel against me? Look now, you are depending on Egypt, that splintered reed of a staff, which pierces a man's hand and wounds him if he leans on it! Such is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all who depend on him. And if you say to me, "We are depending on the LORD our God"—isn't he the one whose high places and altars Hezekiah removed, saying to Judah and Jerusalem, "You must worship before this altar in Jerusalem"? ^{Ch} When Hezekiah says, "The LORD our God will save us from the hand of the king of Assyria," he is misleading you, to let you die of hunger and thirst.

"Do you not know what I and my fathers have done to all the peoples of the other lands? Were the gods of those nations ever able to deliver their land from my hand? Who of all the gods of these nations that my fathers destroyed has been able to save his people from me? How then can your god deliver you from my hand? Now do not let Hezekiah deceive you and mislead you like this. Do not believe him, for no god of any nation or kingdom has been able to deliver his people from my hand or the hand of my fathers. How much less will your god deliver you from my hand!"

^{Ks} "Come now, make a bargain with my master, the king of Assyria: I will give you two thousand horses—if you can put riders on them! How can you repulse one officer of the least of my master's officials, even though

Then the commander stood and called out in Hebrew: “Hear the word of the great king, the king of Assyria! This is what the king says: Do not let Hezekiah deceive you. He cannot deliver you from my hand. Do not let Hezekiah persuade you to trust in the LORD when he says, ‘The LORD will surely deliver us; this city will not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.’

“Do not listen to Hezekiah. This is what the king of Assyria says: Make peace with me and come out to me. Then every one of you will eat from his own vine and fig tree and drink water from his own cistern, until I come and take you to a land like your own, a land of grain and new wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olive trees and honey. Choose life and not death!

“Do not listen to Hezekiah, for he is misleading you when he says, ‘The LORD will deliver us.’ Has the god of any nation ever delivered his land from the hand of the king of Assyria? Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ivvah? Have they rescued Samaria from my hand? Who of all the gods of these countries has been able to save his land from me? How then can the LORD deliver Jerusalem from my hand?” ^{ch}Sennacherib’s officers spoke further against the LORD God and against his servant Hezekiah. Then they called out in Hebrew to the people of Jerusalem who were on the wall, to terrify them and make them afraid in order to capture the city. They spoke about the God of Jerusalem as they did about the gods of the other peoples of the world—the work of men’s hands.

They told him, “This is what Hezekiah says: This day is a day of distress and rebuke and disgrace, as when children come to the point of birth and there is no strength to deliver them. It may be that the LORD your God will hear all the words of the field commander, whom his master, the king of ISAIAH PREDICTS RELIEF. When King Hezekiah's officials came to Isaiah, Isaiah said to them, "Tell your master, 'This is what the LORD says: Do not be afraid of what you have heard—those words with which the underlings of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me. Against whom have you raised your voice and lifted your eyes in pride?

Against the Holy One of Israel!

ⁿThat is, from the upper Nile region

By your messengers
you have heaped insults on the Lord.
And you have said,
"With my many chariots
I have ascended the heights of the mountains,
the utmost heights of Lebanon.
I have cut down its tallest cedars,
the choicest of its pines.
I have reached its remotest parts,
the finest of its forests.
I have dug wells in foreign lands and drunk the water there.
With the soles of my feet
I have dried up all the streams of Egypt."

"Have you not heard?
Long ago I ordained it.
In days of old I planned it;
now I have brought it to pass,
that you have turned fortified cities into piles of stone.
Their people, drained of power,
are dismayed and put to shame.
They are like plants in the field,
like tender green shoots,
like grass sprouting on the roof,
scorched before it grows up.

"But I know where you stay and when you come and go and how you rage against me.
Because you rage against me
and your insolence has reached my ears,
I will put my hook in your nose and my bit in your mouth, and I will make you return
by the way you came.'

"This will be the sign for you, O Hezekiah:

"This year you will eat what grows by itself,
and the second year what springs from that.
But in the third year sow and reap,
plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
Once more a remnant of the house of Judah will take root below and bear fruit above.
For out of Jerusalem will come a remnant,
and out of Mount Zion a band of survivors.

The zeal of the LORD Almighty will accomplish this.

"Therefore this is what the LORD says concerning the king of Assyria:

"He will not enter this city
or shoot an arrow here.

He will not come before it with shield or build a siege ramp against it.
By the way that he came he will return;
he will not enter this city,

declares the LORD.

I will defend this city and save it, for my sake and for the sake of David my servant."

ASSYRIANS FLEE MIRACLE. ^{K8}That night the angel of the LORD went out and put to death a hundred and eighty-five thousand men in the Assyrian camp. Spiritual Decline Under Manasseh

For a quarter of a century, under Hezekiah's conscientious leadership, Judah has experienced a spiritual revival. But every generation must determine its own commitment, and the fibers of faith are so fragile that a single misguided leader can entice the hearts of believers to worship lesser gods. Whether it is because Hezekiah was so busy leading his nation to God that he neglected his own children, or because his son, at the age of 12, takes the reins of power at far too early an age, the sad fact is that Manasseh turns the people from God back to idolatry and other pagan practices.

MANASSEH KING OF JUDAH. And Manasseh his son succeeded him as king. Manasseh was twelve years old when he became king, and he reigned in Jerusalem fifty-five years. His mother's name was Hephzibah.

JUDAH RETURNS TO PAGANISM. He did evil in the eyes of the LORD, following the detestable practices of the nations the LORD had driven out before the Israelites. He rebuilt the high places his father Hezekiah had destroyed; he also erected altars to Baal and made an Asherah pole, as Ahab king of Israel had done. He bowed down to all the starry hosts and worshipped them. He built altars in the temple of the LORD, of which the LORD had said, "In Jerusalem I will put my Name." In both courts of the temple of the LORD, he built altars to all the starry hosts. He sacrificed his own son in^o the fire, practiced sorcery and divination, and consulted mediums and spiritists. He did much evil in the eyes of the LORD, provoking him to anger.

He took the carved Asherah pole he had made and put it in the temple, of which the LORD had said to David and to his son Solomon, "In this temple and in Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my Name forever. I will not again make the feet of the Israelites wander from the land I gave their forefathers, if only they will be careful to do everything I commanded them and will keep the whole Law that my servant Moses gave them." But the people did not listen. Manasseh led them astray, so that they did more evil than the nations the LORD had destroyed before the Israelites.

MESSAGE OF THE PROPHETS. The LORD said through his servants the prophets: "Manasseh king of Judah has committed these detestable sins. He has done more evil than the Amorites who preceded him and has led Judah into sin with his idols. Therefore this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: I am going to bring such disaster on Jerusalem and Judah that the ears of everyone who hears of it will tingle. I will stretch out over Jerusalem the measuring line used against Samaria and the plumb line used against the house of Ahab. I will wipe out Jerusalem as one wipes a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down. I will forsake the remnant of my inheritance and hand them over to their enemies. They will be looted and plundered by all their foes, because they have done evil in my eyes and have provoked me to anger from the day their forefathers came out of Egypt until this day."

Isaiah's Prophecies About Restoration and the Messiah

Isaiah is one of many prophets who have spoken out against Judah's sins and predicted captivity by foreign nations. Already the northern tribes have been taken away. If there was any cause for optimism during the reign of Hezekiah, it has now been lost amid the paganism which Manasseh has fostered. Therefore Isaiah once again takes to the streets to warn against idolatry, sorcery, and even astrology. But now in his last days, and with most of Israel already in foreign exile, Isaiah shifts his emphasis. He projects himself into the period of Judah's exile. He writes as if he were viewing God's people after Jerusalem's destruction. He sees their despair in Babylonian captivity. But even now, through God's revelation, Isaiah sees the restoration of Israel, their return from captivity to a prosperous nation, and the rebuilt city of Jerusalem.

^oOr He made his own son pass through

Isaiah declares that his mission at this time is to bring comfort to those already in exile and to those about to be taken captive. God has a further purpose in Isaiah's prophecies: he wants to reveal what is about to happen so that, when it does, the people will know that it is God who is punishing them and God who will deliver them. He does not want them to attribute anything to the pagan gods which they worship. To make sure there is no mistake about it, God specifically reveals the name of Cyrus the Persian king, who 150 years later will be God's instrument in bringing about the restoration.

Isaiah's prophecies serve further to help the people look forward to the coming of the Messiah and his everlasting kingdom of justice, righteousness, and salvation. The restoration messages are in an appropriate context for the messianic prophecies. Just as Israel has been a suffering servant of God, so too the Messiah will be a suffering servant for all people, including Gentiles. Just as Israel will be restored in prosperity, so too will the faithful believers of all time be blessed in the Messiah's kingdom. And just as the oppressors of God's people are themselves to be destroyed, so too will God's judgment eternally destroy the wicked. And yet for the righteous, God is preparing a place where all will be eternal joy and peace. So in many ways the present punishment of Israel and her promised restoration are analogous to the Messiah's kingdom, the final judgment at the end of time, and the eternal home of the saved.

In all of Scripture, Isaiah's prophecies concerning Israel's restoration and the coming of the Messiah may be the most marvelous, wonderful, comforting, inspiring, optimistic, and encouraging words ever read by a believer—particularly a believer who has either endured great personal suffering or known the despair of spiritual exile. It continues to be a solemn warning to those who would persist in unrighteousness, but it is a refreshing message of hope to all sinners willing to acknowledge their guilt and lead repentant lives in service to God.

¹Or A voice of one calling in the desert: / "Prepare the way for the LORD

a highway for our God.^q
 Every valley shall be raised up,
 every mountain and hill made low;
 the rough ground shall become level,
 the rugged places a plain.
 And the glory of the LORD will be revealed,
 and all mankind together will see it.
 For the mouth of the LORD has spoken."

Isa. 40:6-8 FRAGILITY OF LIFE.

A voice says, "Cry out."
 And I said, "What shall I cry?"
 "All men are like grass,
 and all their glory is like the flowers of the field.
 The grass withers and the flowers fall,
 because the breath of the LORD blows on them.
 Surely the people are grass.
 The grass withers and the flowers fall,
 but the word of our God stands forever."

Isa. 40:9-11 GOD'S LOVING CONCERN.

You who bring good tidings to Zion,
 go up on a high mountain.
 You who bring good tidings to Jerusalem,^r lift up your voice with a shout, lift it up, do not be afraid;
 say to the towns of Judah,
 "Here is your God!"
 See, the Sovereign LORD comes with power,
 and his arm rules for him.
 See, his reward is with him,
 and his recompense accompanies him.
 He tends his flock like a shepherd:
 He gathers the lambs in his arms and carries them close to his heart;
 he gently leads those that have young.

Isa.
40:12-14

GOD'S UNLIMITED POWER.

Who has measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, or with the breadth of his hand marked off the heavens?
 Who has held the dust of the earth in a basket, or weighed the mountains on the scales
 and the hills in a balance?
 Who has understood the mind^s of the LORD, or instructed him as his counselor?
 Whom did the LORD consult to enlighten him,
 and who taught him the right way?
 Who was it that taught him knowledge

^qHebrew; Septuagint make straight the paths of our God ^rOr O Zion, bringer of good tidings, / go up on a high mountain. / O Jerusalem, bringer of good tidings ^sOr Spirit; or spirit

VULNERABILITY OF NATIONS.

Isa.
40:15-17

Surely the nations are like a drop in a bucket;
they are regarded as dust on the scales;
he weighs the islands as though they were fine dust.
Lebanon is not sufficient for altar fires,
nor its animals enough for burnt offerings.
Before him all the nations are as nothing;
they are regarded by him as worthless and less than nothing.

FUTILITY OF IDOLATRY.

Isa.
40:18-20

To whom, then, will you compare God?
What image will you compare him to?
As for an idol, a craftsman casts it,
and a goldsmith overlays it with gold and fashions silver chains for it.
A man too poor to present such an offering selects wood that will not rot.
He looks for a skilled craftsman to set up an idol that will not topple.

CREATOR'S STRENGTH.

Isa.
40:21-26

Do you not know?
Have you not heard?
Has it not been told you from the beginning?
Have you not understood since the earth was founded?
He sits enthroned above the circle of the earth,
and its people are like grasshoppers.
He stretches out the heavens like a canopy, and spreads them out like a tent to live in.
He brings princes to naught and reduces the rulers of this world to nothing.
No sooner are they planted,
no sooner are they sown,
no sooner do they take root in the ground,
than he blows on them and they wither,
and a whirlwind sweeps them away like chaff.
"To whom will you compare me?
Or who is my equal?" says the Holy One.
Lift your eyes and look to the heavens:
Who created all these?
He who brings out the starry host one by one,
and calls them each by name.
Because of his great power and mighty strength, not one of them is missing.

MAN'S STRENGTH IN GOD.

Isa.
40:27-31

Why do you say, O Jacob,
and complain, O Israel,

"My way is hidden from the LORD;
 my cause is disregarded by my God"?
 Do you not know?
 Have you not heard?
 The LORD is the everlasting God,
 the Creator of the ends of the earth.
 He will not grow tired or weary,
 and his understanding no one can fathom.
 He gives strength to the weary and increases the power of the weak.
 Even youths grow tired and weary,
 and young men stumble and fall;
 but those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength.
 They will soar on wings like eagles;
 they will run and not grow weary,
 they will walk and not be faint.

Isa. 41:1-4 GOD'S PROVIDENTIAL CONTROL.

"Be silent before me, you islands!
 Let the nations renew their strength!
 Let them come forward and speak;
 let us meet together at the place of judgment.
 "Who has stirred up one from the east, calling him in righteousness to his service? ¹
 He hands nations over to him and subdues kings before him.
 He turns them to dust with his sword,
 to windblown chaff with his bow.
 He pursues them and moves on unscathed,
 by a path his feet have not traveled before.
 Who has done this and carried it through,
 calling forth the generations from the beginning?
 I, the LORD—with the first of them and with the last—I am he."

Isa. 41:5-10 ISRAEL SPECIALLY CHOSEN.

The islands have seen it and fear;
 the ends of the earth tremble.
 They approach and come forward;
 each helps the other and says to his brother, "Be strong!"
 The craftsman encourages the goldsmith, and he who smooths with the hammer spurs on him who strikes the anvil.
 He says of the welding, "It is good."
 He nails down the idol so it will not topple.
 "But you, O Israel, my servant,
 Jacob, whom I have chosen,

¹Or / whom victory meets at every step you descendants of Abraham my friend,

 I took you from the ends of the earth,
 from its farthest corners I called you.
 I said, 'You are my servant';
 I have chosen you and have not rejected you.
 So do not fear, for I am with you;
 do not be dismayed, for I am your God.
 I will strengthen you and help you;
 I will uphold you with my righteous right hand. ☞

NOTHING TO FEAR.

Isa.
41:11-16

"All who rage against you will surely be ashamed and disgraced;
 those who oppose you will be as nothing and perish.
 Though you search for your enemies,
 you will not find them.
 Those who wage war against you will be as nothing at all.
 For I am the LORD, your God, who takes hold of your right hand and says to you, Do not fear;
 I will help you.
 Do not be afraid, O worm Jacob,
 O little Israel,
 for I myself will help you," declares the LORD,
 your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.
 "See, I will make you into a threshing sledge,
 new and sharp, with many teeth.
 You will thresh the mountains and crush them,
 and reduce the hills to chaff.
 You will winnow them, the wind will pick them up,
 and a gale will blow them away.
 But you will rejoice in the LORD and glory in the Holy One of Israel.

NEEDS TO BE PROVIDED.

Isa.
41:17-20

"The poor and needy search for water,
 but there is none;
 their tongues are parched with thirst.
 But I the LORD will answer them;
 I, the God of Israel, will not forsake them.
 I will make rivers flow on barren heights, and springs within the valleys.
 I will turn the desert into pools of water,
 and the parched ground into springs.
 I will put in the desert
 the cedar and the acacia, the myrtle and the olive.
 I will set pines in the wasteland,
 the fir and the cypress together,
 so that people may see and know,
 may consider and understand, that the hand of the LORD has done this,

that the Holy One of Israel has created it.

Isa.
41:21-24

IDOLS CANNOT PROVIDE.

“Present your case,” says the LORD.
“Set forth your arguments,” says Jacob’s King.
“Bring in your idols, to tell us what is going to happen.
Tell us what the former things were,
so that we may consider them
and know their final outcome.
Or declare to us the things to come,
tell us what the future holds,
so we may know that you are gods.
Do something, whether good or bad,
so that we will be dismayed and filled with fear.
But you are less than nothing and your works are utterly worthless;
he who chooses you is detestable.

Isa.
41:25-29

FALSE PROPHETS FAIL.

“I have stirred up one from the north, and he comes—one from the rising sun who calls on my name.
He treads on rulers as if they were mortar,
as if he were a potter treading the clay.
Who told of this from the beginning, so we could know, or beforehand, so we could say, ‘He was right’?
No one told of this,
no one foretold it,
no one heard any words from you.
I was the first to tell Zion, ‘Look, here they are!’
I gave to Jerusalem a messenger of good tidings.
I look but there is no one—
no one among them to give counsel, no one to give answer when I ask them.
See, they are all false!
Their deeds amount to nothing;
their images are but wind and confusion.

Isa. 42:1-4

MESSIAH BRINGS JUSTICE.

“Here is my servant, whom I uphold,
my chosen one in whom I delight;
I will put my Spirit on him
and he will bring justice to the nations.
He will not shout or cry out,
or raise his voice in the streets.
A bruised reed he will not break,
and a smoldering wick he will not snuff out.
In faithfulness he will bring forth justice;
he will not falter or be discouraged till he establishes justice on earth.
In his law the islands will put their hope.”

NEW KINGDOM FOR ALL.

Isa. 42:5-7

This is what God the LORD says—
 he who created the heavens and stretched them out, who spread out the earth and all that comes out of it,
 who gives breath to its people,
 and life to those who walk on it:
 "I, the LORD, have called you in righteousness;
 I will take hold of your hand.
 I will keep you and will make you
 to be a covenant for the people and a light for the Gentiles, to open eyes that are blind, to free captives from prison and to release from the dungeon those who sit in darkness.

PREVIEW OF GOD'S PLANS.

Isa. 42:8,9

"I am the LORD; that is my name!
 I will not give my glory to another or my praise to idols.
 See, the former things have taken place,
 and new things I declare;
 before they spring into being
 I announce them to you."

PRAISE FOR GOD'S TRIUMPH.

Isa.
42:10-13

Sing to the LORD a new song,
 his praise from the ends of the earth,
 you who go down to the sea, and all that is in it,
 you islands, and all who live in them.
 Let the desert and its towns raise their voices;
 let the settlements where Kedar lives rejoice.
 Let the people of Sela sing for joy;
 let them shout from the mountaintops.
 Let them give glory to the LORD and proclaim his praise in the islands.
 The LORD will march out like a mighty man, like a warrior he will stir up his zeal;
 with a shout he will raise the battle cry and will triumph over his enemies.

NEW KINGDOM FOR BELIEVERS.

Isa.
42:14-17

"For a long time I have kept silent,
 I have been quiet and held myself back.
 But now, like a woman in childbirth,
 I cry out, I gasp and pant.
 I will lay waste the mountains and hills and dry up all their vegetation;
 I will turn rivers into islands and dry up the pools.
 I will lead the blind by ways they have not known,

along unfamiliar paths I will guide them;
I will turn the darkness into light before them
and make the rough places smooth.
These are the things I will do;
I will not forsake them.
But those who trust in idols, who say to images, 'You are our gods,' will be turned back in utter shame.

Isa.
42:18-22

ISRAEL BLIND AND DEAF.

"Hear, you deaf;
look, you blind, and see!
Who is blind but my servant,
and deaf like the messenger I send?
Who is blind like the one committed to me,
blind like the servant of the LORD?
You have seen many things, but have paid no attention;
your ears are open, but you hear nothing."
It pleased the LORD for the sake of his righteousness to make his law great and glorious.
But this is a people plundered and looted,
all of them trapped in pits or hidden away in prisons.
They have become plunder,
with no one to rescue them;
they have been made loot,
with no one to say, "Send them back."

Isa.
42:23-25

PUNISHMENT NOT UNDERSTOOD.

Which of you will listen to this or pay close attention in time to come?
Who handed Jacob over to become loot,
and Israel to the plunderers?
Was it not the LORD,
against whom we have sinned?
For they would not follow his ways;
they did not obey his law.
So he poured out on them his burning anger,
the violence of war.
It enveloped them in flames, yet they did not understand;
it consumed them, but they did not take it to heart.

Isa. 43:1-7

ISRAEL TO BE REDEEMED.

But now, this is what the LORD says—
he who created you, O Jacob,
he who formed you, O Israel:
"Fear not, for I have redeemed you;
I have summoned you by name; you are mine.
When you pass through the waters,
I will be with you;
and when you pass through the rivers,

they will not sweep over you.
 When you walk through the fire,
 you will not be burned;
 the flames will not set you ablaze.
 For I am the LORD, your God,
 the Holy One of Israel, your Savior;
 I give Egypt for your ransom,
 Cush^a and Seba in your stead.
 Since you are precious and honored in my sight,
 and because I love you,
 I will give men in exchange for you,
 and people in exchange for your life.
 Do not be afraid, for I am with you;
 I will bring your children from the east and gather you from the west.
 I will say to the north, 'Give them up!'
 and to the south, 'Do not hold them back.'
 Bring my sons from afar and my daughters from the ends of the earth—everyone who is called by my name, whom I created for my glory, whom I formed and made."

RESTORATION PROVES POWER.

Isa. 43:8-13

Lead out those who have eyes but are blind, who have ears but are deaf.
 All the nations gather together and the peoples assemble.
 Which of them foretold this and proclaimed to us the former things?
 Let them bring in their witnesses to prove they were right, so that others may hear and say, "It is true."
 "You are my witnesses," declares the LORD,
 "and my servant whom I have chosen,
 so that you may know and believe me and understand that I am he.
 Before me no god was formed,
 nor will there be one after me.
 I, even I, am the LORD,
 and apart from me there is no savior.
 I have revealed and saved and proclaimed—
 I, and not some foreign god among you.
 You are my witnesses," declares the LORD, "that I am God.
 Yes, and from ancient days I am he.
 No one can deliver out of my hand.
 When I act, who can reverse it?"

BABYLON WILL FALL.

Isa.
43:14,15

This is what the LORD says—
 your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:

^aThat is, the upper Nile region

“For your sake I will send to Babylon and bring down as fugitives all the Babylonians,” in the ships in which they took pride.
I am the LORD, your Holy One, Israel’s Creator, your King.”

Isa.
43:16-21

THE PAST IS PAST.

This is what the LORD says—
he who made a way through the sea,
a path through the mighty waters,
who drew out the chariots and horses,
the army and reinforcements together,
and they lay there, never to rise again,
extinguished, snuffed out like a wick: “Forget the former things;
do not dwell on the past.
See, I am doing a new thing!
Now it springs up; do you not perceive it?
I am making a way in the desert
and streams in the wasteland.
The wild animals honor me,
the jackals and the owls,
because I provide water in the desert
and streams in the wasteland,
to give drink to my people, my chosen,
the people I formed for myself that they may proclaim my praise.

Isa.
43:22-25

GOD FORGIVES ISRAEL.

“Yet you have not called upon me, O Jacob,
you have not wearied yourselves for me, O Israel.
You have not brought me sheep for burnt offerings,
nor honored me with your sacrifices.
I have not burdened you with grain offerings
nor wearied you with demands for incense.
You have not bought any fragrant calamus for me,
or lavished on me the fat of your sacrifices.
But you have burdened me with your sins and wearied me with your offenses.
“I, even I, am he who blots out your transgressions, for my own sake, and remembers your sins no more.

Isa.
43:26-28

NEED FOR FORGIVENESS.

Review the past for me,
let us argue the matter together;
state the case for your innocence.
Your first father sinned;
your spokesmen rebelled against me.

[†]Or Chaldeans

So I will disgrace the dignitaries of your temple, and I will consign Jacob to destruction^w and Israel to scorn.

SPIRIT TO BE GIVEN.

Isa. 44:1-5

"But now listen, O Jacob, my servant,
Israel, whom I have chosen.
This is what the LORD says—
he who made you, who formed you in the womb, and who will help you:
Do not be afraid, O Jacob, my servant,
Jeshurun, whom I have chosen.
For I will pour water on the thirsty land,
and streams on the dry ground;
I will pour out my Spirit on your offspring,
and my blessing on your descendants.
They will spring up like grass in a meadow,
like poplar trees by flowing streams.
One will say, 'I belong to the LORD';
another will call himself by the name of Jacob;
still another will write on his hand, 'The LORD's,'
and will take the name Israel.

GOD'S ACTIONS HIS WITNESS.

Isa. 44:6-8

"This is what the LORD says—
Israel's King and Redeemer, the LORD Almighty:
I am the first and I am the last;
apart from me there is no God.
Who then is like me? Let him proclaim it.
Let him declare and lay out before me what has happened since I established my ancient people, and what is yet to come—
yes, let him foretell what will come.
Do not tremble, do not be afraid.
Did I not proclaim this and foretell it long ago?
You are my witnesses. Is there any God besides me?
No, there is no other Rock; I know not one."

FUTILITY OF IDOLATRY.

Isa. 44:9-20

All who make idols are nothing, and the things they treasure are worthless.
Those who would speak up for them are blind;
they are ignorant, to their own shame.
Who shapes a god and casts an idol,
which can profit him nothing?
He and his kind will be put to shame;
craftsmen are nothing but men.
Let them all come together and take their stand;
they will be brought down to terror and infamy.

^wThe Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them.

The blacksmith takes a tool and works with it in the coals;
 he shapes an idol with hammers,
 he forges it with the might of his arm.
 He gets hungry and loses his strength;
 he drinks no water and grows faint.
 The carpenter measures with a line and makes an outline with a marker;
 he roughs it out with chisels and marks it with compasses.
 He shapes it in the form of man,
 of man in all his glory,
 that it may dwell in a shrine.
 He cut down cedars,
 or perhaps took a cypress or oak.
 He let it grow among the trees of the forest,
 or planted a pine, and the rain made it grow.
 It is man's fuel for burning;
 some of it he takes and warms himself,
 he kindles a fire and bakes bread.
 But he also fashions a god and worships it;
 he makes an idol and bows down to it.
 Half of the wood he burns in the fire;
 over it he prepares his meal,
 he roasts his meat and eats his fill.
 He also warms himself and says,
 "Ah! I am warm; I see the fire."
 From the rest he makes a god, his idol;
 he bows down to it and worships.
 He prays to it and says,
 "Save me; you are my god."
 They know nothing, they understand nothing;
 their eyes are plastered over so they cannot see,
 and their minds closed so they cannot understand.
 No one stops to think,
 no one has the knowledge or understanding to say,
 "Half of it I used for fuel;
 I even baked bread over its coals,
 I roasted meat and I ate.
 Shall I make a detestable thing from what is left?
 Shall I bow down to a block of wood?"
 He feeds on ashes, a deluded heart misleads him;
 he cannot save himself, or say,
 "Is not this thing in my right hand a lie?"

Isa.
44:21-23

GREATNESS OF GOD.

"Remember these things, O Jacob,
 for you are my servant, O Israel.
 I have made you, you are my servant;
 O Israel, I will not forget you.
 I have swept away your offenses like a cloud,
 your sins like the morning mist.

Return to me,
 for I have redeemed you."
 Sing for joy, O heavens, for the LORD has done this;
 shout aloud, O earth beneath.
 Burst into song, you mountains,
 you forests and all your trees,
 for the LORD has redeemed Jacob,
 he displays his glory in Israel.

JERUSALEM TO BE REBUILT.

Isa.
 44:24-28

"This is what the LORD says—
 your Redeemer, who formed you in the womb:
 I am the LORD,
 who has made all things,
 who alone stretched out the heavens,
 who spread out the earth by myself, who foils the signs of false prophets and makes fools of diviners, who overthrows the learning of the wise and turns it into nonsense, who carries out the words of his servants and fulfills the predictions of his messengers, who says of Jerusalem, 'It shall be inhabited,'
 of the towns of Judah, 'They shall be built,' and of their ruins, 'I will restore them,' who says to the watery deep, 'Be dry, and I will dry up your streams,' who says of Cyrus, 'He is my shepherd and will accomplish all that I please;
 he will say of Jerusalem, "Let it be rebuilt," and of the temple, "Let its foundations be laid."'"

CYRUS TO BE INSTRUMENT.

Isa. 45:1-7

"This is what the LORD says to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I take hold of to subdue nations before him and to strip kings of their armor, to open doors before him
 so that gates will not be shut:
 I will go before you
 and will level the mountains^x;
 I will break down gates of bronze and cut through bars of iron.
 I will give you the treasures of darkness, riches stored in secret places,
 so that you may know that I am the LORD,

^xDead Sea Scrolls and Septuagint; the meaning of the word in the Masoretic Text is uncertain.

the God of Israel, who summons you by name.
 For the sake of Jacob my servant,
 of Israel my chosen,
 I summon you by name
 and bestow on you a title of honor, though you do not acknowledge me.
 I am the LORD, and there is no other;
 apart from me there is no God.
 I will strengthen you,
 though you have not acknowledged me,
 so that from the rising of the sun to the place of its setting men may know there is none besides me.
 I am the LORD, and there is no other.
 I form the light and create darkness,
 I bring prosperity and create disaster;
 I, the LORD, do all these things.

Isa. 45:8 ABUNDANT RESTORATION.

“You heavens above, rain down righteousness;
 let the clouds shower it down.
 Let the earth open wide,
 let salvation spring up,
 let righteousness grow with it;
 I, the LORD, have created it.

Isa. 45:9-13 GOD’S RIGHT TO USE CYRUS.

“Woe to him who quarrels with his Maker, to him who is but a potsherd among the potsherds on the ground.
 Does the clay say to the potter,
 ‘What are you making?’
 Does your work say,
 ‘He has no hands’?
 Woe to him who says to his father,
 ‘What have you begotten?’
 or to his mother,
 ‘What have you brought to birth?’
 “This is what the LORD says—
 the Holy One of Israel, and its Maker: Concerning things to come,
 do you question me about my children,
 or give me orders about the work of my hands?
 It is I who made the earth and created mankind upon it.
 My own hands stretched out the heavens;
 I marshaled their starry hosts.
 I will raise up Cyrus^v in my righteousness:
 I will make all his ways straight.

^vHebrew him

EGYPTIANS WILL KNOW GOD. This is what the LORD says:

Isa. 45:14

"The products of Egypt and the merchandise of Cush,² and those tall Sabceans—
they will come over to you and will be yours;
they will trudge behind you,
coming over to you in chains.
They will bow down before you and plead with you, saying,
'Surely God is with you, and there is no other;
there is no other god.'"

IDOLATERS WILL KNOW GOD.

Isa.
45:15-25

Truly you are a God who hides himself,
O God and Savior of Israel.
All the makers of idols will be put to shame and disgraced;
they will go off into disgrace together.
But Israel will be saved by the LORD with an everlasting salvation;
you will never be put to shame or disgraced,
to ages everlasting.

For this is what the LORD says—
he who created the heavens,
he is God;
he who fashioned and made the earth,
he founded it;
he did not create it to be empty, but formed it to be inhabited—
he says:
"I am the LORD,
and there is no other.
I have not spoken in secret,
from somewhere in a land of darkness;
I have not said to Jacob's descendants,
'Seek me in vain.'
I, the LORD, speak the truth;
I declare what is right.
"Gather together and come;
assemble, you fugitives from the nations.
Ignorant are those who carry about idols of wood,
who pray to gods that cannot save.
Declare what is to be, present it—let them take counsel together.
Who foretold this long ago,

²That is, the upper Nile region who declared it from the distant past?

 Was it not I, the LORD?
 And there is no God apart from me, a righteous God and a Savior;
 there is none but me.

“Turn to me and be saved,
 all you ends of the earth;
 for I am God, and there is no other.
 By myself I have sworn,
 my mouth has uttered in all integrity
 a word that will not be revoked:
 Before me every knee will bow;
 by me every tongue will swear.
 They will say of me, ‘In the LORD alone are righteousness and strength.’”
 All who have raged against him will come to him and be put to shame.
 But in the LORD all the descendants of Israel will be found righteous and will exult.

Isa. 46:1-7 BABYLONIAN IDOLS POWERLESS.

Bel bows down, Nebo stoops low;
 their idols are borne by beasts of burden.^a
 The images that are carried about are burdensome, a burden for the weary.
 They stoop and bow down together;
 unable to rescue the burden,
 they themselves go off into captivity.

“Listen to me, O house of Jacob,
 all you who remain of the house of Israel,
 you whom I have upheld since you were conceived,
 and have carried since your birth.
 Even to your old age and gray hairs
 I am he, I am he who will sustain you.
 I have made you and I will carry you;
 I will sustain you and I will rescue you.

“To whom will you compare me or count me equal?
 To whom will you liken me that we may be compared?
 Some pour out gold from their bags and weigh out silver on the scales;
 they hire a goldsmith to make it into a god,
 and they bow down and worship it.
 They lift it to their shoulders and carry it;
 they set it up in its place, and there it stands.
 From that spot it cannot move.
 Though one cries out to it, it does not answer;
 it cannot save him from his troubles.

^aOr are but beasts and cattle

POWER SEEN IN RESTORATION.

Isa. 46:8-13

"Remember this, fix it in mind,
 take it to heart, you rebels.
 Remember the former things, those of long ago;
 I am God, and there is no other;
 I am God, and there is none like me.
 I make known the end from the beginning,
 from ancient times, what is still to come.
 I say: My purpose will stand,
 and I will do all that I please.
 From the east I summon a bird of prey;
 from a far-off land, a man to fulfill my purpose.
 What I have said, that will I bring about;
 what I have planned, that will I do.
 Listen to me, you stubborn-hearted,
 you who are far from righteousness.
 I am bringing my righteousness near,
 it is not far away;
 and my salvation will not be delayed.
 I will grant salvation to Zion,
 my splendor to Israel.

BABYLON WILL FALL.

Isa. 47:1-11

"Go down, sit in the dust,
 Virgin Daughter of Babylon;
 sit on the ground without a throne,
 Daughter of the Babylonians.^b
 No more will you be called tender or delicate.
 Take millstones and grind flour;
 take off your veil.
 Lift up your skirts, bare your legs,
 and wade through the streams.
 Your nakedness will be exposed and your shame uncovered.
 I will take vengeance;
 I will spare no one."

 Our Redeemer—the LORD Almighty is his name—is the Holy One of Israel.

 "Sit in silence, go into darkness, Daughter of the Babylonians;
 no more will you be called queen of kingdoms.
 I was angry with my people
 and desecrated my inheritance;
 I gave them into your hand,
 and you showed them no mercy.
 Even on the aged

^bOr Chaldeans; also in verse 5

you laid a very heavy yoke.
 You said, 'I will continue forever—
 the eternal queen!'

But you did not consider these things or reflect on what might happen.

"Now then, listen, you wanton creature, lounging in your security and saying to yourself,
 'I am, and there is none besides me.
 I will never be a widow or suffer the loss of children.'
 Both of these will overtake you in a moment, on a single day:
 loss of children and widowhood.

They will come upon you in full measure, in spite of your many sorceries and all your potent spells.

You have trusted in your wickedness and have said, 'No one sees me.'
 Your wisdom and knowledge mislead you when you say to yourself,
 'I am, and there is none besides me.'
 Disaster will come upon you,
 and you will not know how to conjure it away.

A calamity will fall upon you that you cannot ward off with a ransom;
 a catastrophe you cannot foresee will suddenly come upon you.

Isa.
 47:12-15

FRAUD OF ASTROLOGY.

"Keep on, then, with your magic spells and with your many sorceries, which you have labored at since childhood.

Perhaps you will succeed,
 perhaps you will cause terror.

All the counsel you have received has only worn you out!
 Let your astrologers come forward, those stargazers who make predictions month by month,
 let them save you from what is coming upon you.

Surely they are like stubble;
 the fire will burn them up.

They cannot even save themselves from the power of the flame.

Here are no coals to warm anyone;
 here is no fire to sit by.

That is all they can do for you—these you have labored with and trafficked with since childhood.

Each of them goes on in his error;
 there is not one that can save you.

SIN REQUIRED PROPHECIES.

Isa. 48:1-6a

"Listen to this, O house of Jacob, you who are called by the name of Israel and come from the line of Judah, you who take oaths in the name of the LORD and invoke the God of Israel—but not in truth or righteousness—you who call yourselves citizens of the holy city and rely on the God of Israel—
 the LORD Almighty is his name:
 I foretold the former things long ago,
 my mouth announced them and I made them known;
 then suddenly I acted, and they came to pass.
 For I knew how stubborn you were;
 the sinews of your neck were iron,
 your forehead was bronze.
 Therefore I told you these things long ago;
 before they happened I announced them to you so that you could not say,
 'My idols did them;
 my wooden image and metal god ordained them.'
 You have heard these things; look at them all.
 Will you not admit them?
 of hidden things unknown to you.

REASON FOR PROPHECIES.

Isa.
48:6b-11

"From now on I will tell you of new things,
 of hidden things unknown to you.
 They are created now, and not long ago;
 you have not heard of them before today.
 So you cannot say,
 'Yes, I knew of them.'
 You have neither heard nor understood;
 from of old your ear has not been open.
 Well do I know how treacherous you are;
 you were called a rebel from birth.
 For my own name's sake I delay my wrath;
 for the sake of my praise I hold it back from you,
 so as not to cut you off.
 See, I have refined you, though not as silver;
 I have tested you in the furnace of affliction.
 For my own sake, for my own sake, I do this.
 How can I let myself be defamed?
 I will not yield my glory to another.

GOD'S PLAN FOR BABYLON.

Isa.
48:12-15

"Listen to me, O Jacob,
 Israel, whom I have called:
 I am he;
 I am the first and I am the last.

My own hand laid the foundations of the earth, and my right hand spread out the heavens;
when I summon them,
they all stand up together.

“Come together, all of you, and listen:
Which of the idols has foretold these things?
The LORD’s chosen ally will carry out his purpose against Babylon;
his arm will be against the Babylonians.^c
I, even I, have spoken;
yes, I have called him.
I will bring him,
and he will succeed in his mission. ☞

Isa.
48:16-19

ISRAEL MUST LISTEN NOW. “Come near me and listen to this:

“From the first announcement I have not spoken in secret;
at the time it happens, I am there.”

And now the Sovereign LORD has sent me, with his Spirit.

This is what the LORD says—
your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel:
“I am the LORD your God,
who teaches you what is best for you,
who directs you in the way you should go.
If only you had paid attention to my commands,
your peace would have been like a river,
your righteousness like the waves of the sea.
Your descendants would have been like the sand,
your children like its numberless grains;
their name would never be cut off nor destroyed from before me.”

Isa.
48:20-22

REDEMPTION FOR THE RIGHTEOUS.

Leave Babylon,
flee from the Babylonians!
Announce this with shouts of joy and proclaim it.
Send it out to the ends of the earth;
say, “The LORD has redeemed his servant Jacob.”
They did not thirst when he led them through the deserts;
he made water flow for them from the rock;
he split the rock
and water gushed out.

“There is no peace,” says the LORD, “for the wicked.”

Isa. 49:1-4

ISRAEL GOD’S SERVANT.

Listen to me, you islands;
hear this, you distant nations:
Before I was born the LORD called me;

^cOr Chaldeans; also in verse 20

from my birth he has made mention of my name.
 He made my mouth like a sharpened sword,
 in the shadow of his hand he hid me;
 he made me into a polished arrow and concealed me in his quiver.
 He said to me, "You are my servant,
 Israel, in whom I will display my splendor."
 But I said, "I have labored to no purpose;
 I have spent my strength in vain and for nothing.
 Yet what is due me is in the LORD's hand,
 and my reward is with my God."

MESSIAH GOD'S SERVANT.

Isa. 49:5-7

And now the LORD says—
 he who formed me in the womb to be his servant to bring Jacob back to him and gather Israel to himself, for I am honored in the eyes of the LORD and my God has been my strength—
 he says:
 "It is too small a thing for you to be my servant to restore the tribes of Jacob and bring back those of Israel I have kept.
 I will also make you a light for the Gentiles, that you may bring my salvation to the ends of the earth."

This is what the LORD says—
 the Redeemer and Holy One of Israel—to him who was despised and abhorred by the nation, to the servant of rulers:
 "Kings will see you and rise up, princes will see and bow down,
 because of the LORD, who is faithful,
 the Holy One of Israel, who has chosen you."

EXILE WILL END. This is what the LORD says:

Isa. 49:8-13

"In the time of my favor I will answer you,
 and in the day of salvation I will help you;
 I will keep you and will make you
 to be a covenant for the people,
 to restore the land
 and to reassign its desolate inheritances, to say to the captives, 'Come out,'
 and to those in darkness, 'Be free!'"

"They will feed beside the roads and find pasture on every barren hill.
 They will neither hunger nor thirst,
 nor will the desert heat or the sun beat upon them.
 He who has compassion on them will guide them
 and lead them beside springs of water.
 I will turn all my mountains into roads,

and my highways will be raised up.
See, they will come from afar—
some from the north, some from the west,
some from the region of Aswan.^d "

Shout for joy, O heavens;
rejoice, O earth;
burst into song, O mountains!
For the LORD comforts his people and will have compassion on his afflicted ones.

Isa.
49:14-21

EXILES WILL NOT BE FORGOTTEN.

But Zion said, "The LORD has forsaken me,
the Lord has forgotten me."

"Can a mother forget the baby at her breast and have no compassion on the child she has borne?
Though she may forget,
I will not forget you!
See, I have engraved you on the palms of my hands;
your walls are ever before me.
Your sons hasten back,
and those who laid you waste depart from you.
Lift up your eyes and look around;
all your sons gather and come to you.
As surely as I live," declares the LORD,
"you will wear them all as ornaments;
you will put them on, like a bride.

"Though you were ruined and made desolate and your land laid waste,
now you will be too small for your people,
and those who devoured you will be far away.
The children born during your bereavement will yet say in your hearing,
'This place is too small for us;
give us more space to live in.'
Then you will say in your heart,
'Who bore me these?
I was bereaved and barren;
I was exiled and rejected.
Who brought these up?
I was left all alone,
but these—where have they come from?' "

Isa.
49:22,23

CAPTORS WILL HONOR EXILES. This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"See, I will beckon to the Gentiles,
I will lift up my banner to the peoples;
they will bring your sons in their arms and carry your daughters on their shoulders.
Kings will be your foster fathers,

^dDead Sea Scrolls; Masoretic Text Sinim

and their queens your nursing mothers.
 They will bow down before you with their faces to the ground;
 they will lick the dust at your feet.
 Then you will know that I am the LORD;
 those who hope in me will not be disappointed."

DELIVERANCE PROMISED.

Isa.
49:24-26

Can plunder be taken from warriors, or captives rescued from the fierce^c ?

But this is what the LORD says:

"Yes, captives will be taken from warriors, and plunder retrieved from the fierce;
 I will contend with those who contend with you,
 and your children I will save.
 I will make your oppressors eat their own flesh;
 they will be drunk on their own blood, as with wine.
 Then all mankind will know that I, the LORD, am your Savior,
 your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob."

EXILE CAUSED BY SIN. This is what the LORD says:

Isa. 50:1-3

"Where is your mother's certificate of divorce with which I sent her away?
 Or to which of my creditors
 did I sell you?
 Because of your sins you were sold;
 because of your transgressions your mother was sent away.
 When I came, why was there no one?
 When I called, why was there no one to answer?
 Was my arm too short to ransom you?
 Do I lack the strength to rescue you?
 By a mere rebuke I dry up the sea,
 I turn rivers into a desert;
 their fish rot for lack of water and die of thirst.
 I clothe the sky with darkness and make sackcloth its covering."

OBEDIENCE OF A SERVANT.

Isa. 50:4-9

The Sovereign LORD has given me an instructed tongue, to know the word that sustains the weary.
 He wakens me morning by morning,
 wakens my ear to listen like one being taught.
 The Sovereign LORD has opened my ears,
 and I have not been rebellious;
 I have not drawn back.

righteous

I offered my back to those who beat me, my cheeks to those who pulled out my beard;
 I did not hide my face
 from mocking and spitting.
 Because the Sovereign LORD helps me,
 I will not be disgraced.
 Therefore have I set my face like flint,
 and I know I will not be put to shame.
 He who vindicates me is near.
 Who then will bring charges against me?
 Let us face each other!
 Who is my accuser?
 Let him confront me!
 It is the Sovereign LORD who helps me.
 Who is he that will condemn me?
 They will all wear out like a garment;
 the moths will eat them up.

Isa.
 50:10,11

CAPTIVES MUST TRUST GOD.

Who among you fears the LORD and obeys the word of his servant?
 Let him who walks in the dark,
 who has no light,
 trust in the name of the LORD and rely on his God.
 But now, all you who light fires and provide yourselves with flaming torches, go, walk in the light of your fires and of the torches you have set ablaze.
 This is what you shall receive from my hand:
 You will lie down in torment.

Isa. 51:1-3 HOW ABRAHAM WAS BLESSED.

“Listen to me, you who pursue righteousness and who seek the LORD:
 Look to the rock from which you were cut and to the quarry from which you were hewn;
 look to Abraham, your father,
 and to Sarah, who gave you birth.
 When I called him he was but one,
 and I blessed him and made him many.
 The LORD will surely comfort Zion and will look with compassion on all her ruins;
 he will make her deserts like Eden,
 her wastelands like the garden of the LORD.
 Joy and gladness will be found in her, thanksgiving and the sound of singing.

Isa. 51:4-8 SALVATION IS COMING.

“Listen to me, my people;
 hear me, my nation:
 The law will go out from me;

my justice will become a light to the nations.
 My righteousness draws near speedily,
 my salvation is on the way,
 and my arm will bring justice to the nations.
 The islands will look to me and wait in hope for my arm.
 Lift up your eyes to the heavens,
 look at the earth beneath;
 the heavens will vanish like smoke,
 the earth will wear out like a garment and its inhabitants die like flies.
 But my salvation will last forever,
 my righteousness will never fail.

"Hear me, you who know what is right,
 you people who have my law in your hearts:
 Do not fear the reproach of men or be terrified by their insults.
 For the moth will eat them up like a garment;
 the worm will devour them like wool.
 But my righteousness will last forever,
 my salvation through all generations."

RESTORATION OF RANSOMED.

Isa. 51:9-11

Awake, awake! Clothe yourself with strength, O arm of the LORD;
 awake, as in days gone by,
 as in generations of old.
 Was it not you who cut Rahab to pieces, who pierced that monster through?
 Was it not you who dried up the sea,
 the waters of the great deep,
 who made a road in the depths of the sea
 so that the redeemed might cross over?
 The ransomed of the LORD will return.
 They will enter Zion with singing;
 everlasting joy will crown their heads.
 Gladness and joy will overtake them,
 and sorrow and sighing will flee away.

NO NEED TO FEAR.

Isa.
51:12-16

"I, even I, am he who comforts you.
 Who are you that you fear mortal men,
 the sons of men, who are but grass,
 that you forget the LORD your Maker, who stretched out the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth, that you live in constant terror every day because of the wrath of the oppressor, who is bent on destruction?
 For where is the wrath of the oppressor?
 The cowering prisoners will soon be set free;

they will not die in their dungeon,
 nor will they lack bread.
 For I am the LORD your God,
 who churns up the sea so that its waves roar—
 the LORD Almighty is his name.
 I have put my words in your mouth and covered you with the shadow of my hand—
 I who set the heavens in place, who laid the foundations of the earth, and who say to Zion, 'You are my people.' "

Isa.
 51:17-23

GOD'S WRATH WILL PASS.

Awake, awake!
 Rise up, O Jerusalem,
 you who have drunk from the hand of the LORD
 the cup of his wrath,
 you who have drained to its dregs
 the goblet that makes men stagger.
 Of all the sons she bore
 there was none to guide her;
 of all the sons she reared
 there was none to take her by the hand.
 These double calamities have come upon you—who can comfort you?— ruin and destruction, famine and sword—who can/ console you?
 Your sons have fainted;
 they lie at the head of every street,
 like antelope caught in a net.
 They are filled with the wrath of the LORD and the rebuke of your God.
 Therefore hear this, you afflicted one,
 made drunk, but not with wine.
 This is what your Sovereign LORD says, your God, who defends his people:
 "See, I have taken out of your hand
 the cup that made you stagger;
 from that cup, the goblet of my wrath,
 you will never drink again.
 I will put it into the hands of your tormentors,
 who said to you,
 'Fall prostrate that we may walk over you.'
 And you made your back like the ground, like a street to be walked over."

Isa. 52:1,2 BEAUTY OF RESTORATION.

Awake, awake, O Zion, clothe yourself with strength.
 Put on your garments of splendor,

O Jerusalem, the holy city.
 The uncircumcised and defiled will not enter you again.
 Shake off your dust;
 rise up, sit enthroned, O Jerusalem.
 Free yourself from the chains on your neck,
 O captive Daughter of Zion.

EXILE DISTASTEFUL TO GOD. For this is what the LORD says:

Isa. 52:3-6

"You were sold for nothing, and without money you will be redeemed."

For this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"At first my people went down to Egypt to live;
 lately, Assyria has oppressed them.

"And now what do I have here?" declares the LORD.

"For my people have been taken away for nothing, and those who rule them mock,^s"

declares the LORD.

"And all day long
 my name is constantly blasphemed.
 Therefore my people will know my name;
 therefore in that day they will know that it is I who foretold it.
 Yes, it is I."

JOY OF RESTORATION.

Isa. 52:7-10

How beautiful on the mountains are the feet of those who bring good news, who proclaim peace,
 who bring good tidings,
 who proclaim salvation,
 who say to Zion,
 "Your God reigns!"
 Listen! Your watchmen lift up their voices; together they shout for joy.
 When the LORD returns to Zion,
 they will see it with their own eyes.
 Burst into songs of joy together,
 you ruins of Jerusalem,
 for the LORD has comforted his people,
 he has redeemed Jerusalem.
 The LORD will lay bare his holy arm in the sight of all the nations, and all the ends of the earth will see the salvation of our God.

PURITY OF RESTORATION.

Isa.
 52:11,12

Depart, depart, go out from there!

^sDead Sea Scrolls and Vulgate; Masoretic Text wail

Touch no unclean thing!
 Come out from it and be pure,
 you who carry the vessels of the LORD.
 But you will not leave in haste

 the God of Israel will be your rear guard.

Isa.
 52:13-15

GLORY OF SUFFERING SERVANT.

See, my servant will act wisely^h;
 he will be raised and lifted up and highly exalted.
 Just as there were many who were appalled at himⁱ — his appearance was so disfigured beyond that of any man and his form marred beyond human likeness—so will he sprinkle many nations,ⁱ and kings will shut their mouths because of him.
 For what they were not told, they will see,
 and what they have not heard, they will understand.

Isa. 53:1-3

MESSIAH'S APPEARANCE.

Who has believed our message and to whom has the arm of the LORD been revealed?
 He grew up before him like a tender shoot,
 and like a root out of dry ground.
 He had no beauty or majesty to attract us to him,
 nothing in his appearance that we should desire him.
 He was despised and rejected by men,
 a man of sorrows, and familiar with suffering.
 Like one from whom men hide their faces
 he was despised, and we esteemed him not.

Isa. 53:4-6

HIS SUFFERING FOR OUR SINS.

Surely he took up our infirmities and carried our sorrows,
 yet we considered him stricken by God,
 smitten by him, and afflicted.
 But he was pierced for our transgressions,
 he was crushed for our iniquities;
 the punishment that brought us peace was upon him,
 and by his wounds we are healed.
 We all, like sheep, have gone astray,
 each of us has turned to his own way;
 and the LORD has laid on him
 the iniquity of us all.

Isa. 53:7-9

 though he had done no violence, nor was any deceit in his mouth.

TRIUMPH OF RESURRECTION.

Isa.
53:10-12

Yet it was the LORD's will to crush him and cause him to suffer, and though the LORD makes^m his life a guilt offering,
 he will see his offspring and prolong his days,
 and the will of the LORD will prosper in his hand.
 After the suffering of his soul,
 he will see the light of life,ⁿ and be satisfied^o ;
 by his knowledge^p my righteous servant will justify many,
 and he will bear their iniquities.
 Therefore I will give him a portion among the great,^q and he will divide the spoils with the strong,^r because he poured out his life unto death, and was numbered with the transgressors.
 For he bore the sin of many,
 and made intercession for the transgressors.

DESOLATE TO HAVE LIFE.

Isa. 54:1-3

"Sing, O barren woman,
 you who never bore a child;
 burst into song, shout for joy,
 you who were never in labor;
 because more are the children of the desolate woman than of her who has a husband,"
 says the LORD.
 "Enlarge the place of your tent,

 your descendants will dispossess nations

"Do not be afraid; you will not suffer shame.
 Do not fear disgrace; you will not be humiliated.
 You will forget the shame of your youth and remember no more the reproach of your widowhood.
 For your Maker is your husband—
 the LORD Almighty is his name—
 the Holy One of Israel is your Redeemer;
 he is called the God of all the earth.
 The LORD will call you back as if you were a wife deserted and distressed in spirit—
 a wife who married young,
 only to be rejected," says your God.
 "For a brief moment I abandoned you,
 but with deep compassion I will bring you back.
 In a surge of anger
 I hid my face from you for a moment, but with everlasting kindness
 I will have compassion on you," says the LORD your Redeemer.

Isa. 54:9,10 COVENANT AS WITH NOAH.

"To me this is like the days of Noah, when I swore that the waters of Noah would never again cover the earth.
 So now I have sworn not to be angry with you,
 never to rebuke you again.
 Though the mountains be shaken and the hills be removed,
 yet my unfailing love for you will not be shaken nor my covenant of peace be removed,"
 says the LORD, who has compassion on you.

Isa. 54:11-17 ISRAEL'S FUTURE SECURITY.

"O afflicted city, lashed by storms and not comforted,
 I will build you with stones of turquoise,^s your foundations with sapphires.^t
 I will make your battlements of rubies, your gates of sparkling jewels,
 and all your walls of precious stones.
 All your sons will be taught by the LORD,
 and great will be your children's peace.
 In righteousness you will be established:
 Tyranny will be far from you;
 you will have nothing to fear.
 Terror will be far removed;
 it will not come near you.
 If anyone does attack you, it will not be my doing;
 whoever attacks you will surrender to you.

declares the LORD.

SPLENDOR OF RESTORATION.

Isa. 55:1-5

"Come, all you who are thirsty, come to the waters;
 and you who have no money,
 come, buy and eat!
 Come, buy wine and milk
 without money and without cost.
 Why spend money on what is not bread,
 and your labor on what does not satisfy?
 Listen, listen to me, and eat what is good,
 and your soul will delight in the richest of fare.
 Give ear and come to me;
 hear me, that your soul may live.
 I will make an everlasting covenant with you,
 my faithful love promised to David.
 See, I have made him a witness to the peoples,
 a leader and commander of the peoples.
 Surely you will summon nations you know not,
 and nations that do not know you will hasten to you,
 because of the LORD your God,
 the Holy One of Israel,
 for he has endowed you with splendor."

CALL FOR OBEDIENCE.

Isa. 55:6,7

Seek the LORD while he may be found;
 call on him while he is near.
 Let the wicked forsake his way and the evil man his thoughts.
 Let him turn to the LORD, and he will have mercy on him,
 and to our God, for he will freely pardon.

CERTAINTY OF RESTORATION.

Isa. 55:8-13

"For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways,"
 declares the LORD.
 "As the heavens are higher than the earth,
 so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts.
 As the rain and the snow come down from heaven, and do not return to it without watering the earth and making it bud and flourish, so that it yields seed for the sower and bread for the eater,

 so is my word that goes out from my mouth:
 It will not return to me empty,
 but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it.
 You will go out in joy
 and be led forth in peace;
 the mountains and hills
 will burst into song before you,
 and all the trees of the field will clap their hands.
 Instead of the thornbush will grow the pine tree,
 and instead of briars the myrtle will grow.
 This will be for the LORD's renown,
 for an everlasting sign,
 which will not be destroyed."

Isa. 56:1,2 CALL FOR RIGHTEOUSNESS. This is what the LORD says:

"Maintain justice and do what is right, for my salvation is close at hand and my righteousness will soon be revealed.
 Blessed is the man who does this,
 the man who holds it fast,
 who keeps the Sabbath without desecrating it,
 and keeps his hand from doing any evil."

Isa. 56:3-8 SALVATION ALSO FOR GENTILES.

Let no foreigner who has bound himself to the LORD say,
 "The LORD will surely exclude me from his people."
 And let not any eunuch complain,
 "I am only a dry tree."

For this is what the LORD says:

"To the eunuchs who keep my Sabbaths, who choose what pleases me and hold fast to my covenant—to them I will give within my temple and its walls a memorial and a name better than sons and daughters;
 I will give them an everlasting name that will not be cut off.
 And foreigners who bind themselves to the LORD to serve him,
 to love the name of the LORD,
 and to worship him,
 all who keep the Sabbath without desecrating it and who hold fast to my covenant—these I will bring to my holy mountain and give them joy in my house of prayer.

Their burnt offerings and sacrifices will be accepted on my altar;
 for my house will be called a house of prayer for all nations."
 The Sovereign LORD declares—
 he who gathers the exiles of Israel:
 "I will gather still others to them besides those already gathered."

SPIRITUAL LEADERS CONDEMNED.

Isa. 56:9-12

Come, all you beasts of the field, come and devour, all you beasts of the forest!
 Israel's watchmen are blind,
 they all lack knowledge;
 they are all mute dogs,
 they cannot bark;
 they lie around and dream,
 they love to sleep.
 They are dogs with mighty appetites;
 they never have enough.
 They are shepherds who lack understanding;
 they all turn to their own way,
 each seeks his own gain.
 "Come," each one cries, "let me get wine!
 Let us drink our fill of beer!
 And tomorrow will be like today,
 or even far better."

WHY RIGHTEOUS DIE.

Isa. 57:1,2

The righteous perish,
 and no one ponders it in his heart;
 devout men are taken away,
 and no one understands that the righteous are taken away to be spared from evil.
 Those who walk uprightly
 enter into peace;
 they find rest as they lie in death.

RESTORATION NOT FOR WICKED.

Isa. 57:3-13

"But you—come here, you sons of a sorceress,
 you offspring of adulterers and prostitutes!
 Whom are you mocking?
 At whom do you sneer
 and stick out your tongue?
 Are you not a brood of rebels,
 the offspring of liars?
 You burn with lust among the oaks
 and under every spreading tree;
 you sacrifice your children in the ravines and under the overhanging crags.

[The idols, among the smooth stones of the ravines are your portion;
 they, they are your lot.
 Yes, to them you have poured out drink offerings and offered grain offerings.
 In the light of these things, should I relent?
 You have made your bed on a high and lofty hill;
 there you went up to offer your sacrifices.
 Behind your doors and your doorposts
 you have put your pagan symbols.
 Forsaking me, you uncovered your bed,
 you climbed into it and opened it wide;
 you made a pact with those whose beds you love,
 and you looked on their nakedness.
 You went to Molech^u with olive oil and increased your perfumes.
 You sent your ambassadors^v far away;
 you descended to the grave^w itself!
 You were wearied by all your ways,
 but you would not say, 'It is hopeless.'
 You found renewal of your strength, and so you did not faint.

"Whom have you so dreaded and feared that you have been false to me, and have neither remembered me
 nor pondered this in your hearts?
 Is it not because I have long been silent that you do not fear me?
 I will expose your righteousness and your works,
 and they will not benefit you.
 When you cry out for help,
 let your collection of idols, save you!
 The wind will carry all of them off,
 a mere breath will blow them away.
 But the man who makes me his refuge will inherit the land and possess my holy mountain."

Isa.
 57:14-21

RESTORATION FOR CONTRITE. And it will be said:

"Build up, build up, prepare the road!
 Remove the obstacles out of the way of my people."
 For this is what the high and lofty One says—
 he who lives forever, whose name is holy:
 "I live in a high and holy place,
 but also with him who is contrite and lowly in spirit, to revive the spirit of the lowly and to revive the heart of the contrite.
 I will not accuse forever,
 nor will I always be angry,

^uOr to the king

^vOr idols

^wHebrew Sheol

for then the spirit of man would grow faint before me—
 the breath of man that I have created.
 I was enraged by his sinful greed;
 I punished him, and hid my face in anger,
 yet he kept on in his willful ways.
 I have seen his ways, but I will heal him;
 I will guide him and restore comfort to him,
 creating praise on the lips of the mourners in Israel.
 Peace, peace, to those far and near,"
 says the LORD. "And I will heal them."
 But the wicked are like the tossing sea,
 which cannot rest,
 whose waves cast up mire and mud.
 "There is no peace," says my God, "for the wicked."

EMPTINESS OF FASTING.

Isa. 58:1-5

"Shout it aloud, do not hold back.
 Raise your voice like a trumpet.
 Declare to my people their rebellion and to the house of Jacob their sins.
 For day after day they seek me out;
 they seem eager to know my ways,
 as if they were a nation that does what is right and has not forsaken the commands of its God.
 They ask me for just decisions and seem eager for God to come near them.
 'Why have we fasted,' they say,
 'and you have not seen it?
 Why have we humbled ourselves, and you have not noticed?'
 "Yet on the day of your fasting, you do as you please and exploit all your workers.
 Your fasting ends in quarreling and strife,
 and in striking each other with wicked fists.
 You cannot fast as you do today and expect your voice to be heard on high.
 Is this the kind of fast I have chosen,
 only a day for a man to humble himself?
 Is it only for bowing one's head like a reed and for lying on sackcloth and ashes?
 Is that what you call a fast,
 a day acceptable to the LORD?"

TRUE FASTING AND ITS REWARD.

Isa. 58:6-12

"Is not this the kind of fasting I have chosen:
 to loose the chains of injustice and untie the cords of the yoke, to set the oppressed free
 and break every yoke?
 Is it not to share your food with the hungry and to provide the poor wanderer with shelter—

when you see the naked, to clothe him, and not to turn away from your own flesh and blood?
 Then your light will break forth like the dawn,
 and your healing will quickly appear;
 then your righteousness^x will go before you,
 and the glory of the LORD will be your rear guard.
 Then you will call, and the LORD will answer;
 you will cry for help, and he will say: Here am I.

“If you do away with the yoke of oppression, with the pointing finger and malicious talk,
 and if you spend yourselves in behalf of the hungry and satisfy the needs of the oppressed, then your light will rise in the darkness,
 and your night will become like the noonday.
 The LORD will guide you always;
 he will satisfy your needs in a sun-scorched land and will strengthen your frame.
 You will be like a well-watered garden,
 like a spring whose waters never fail.
 Your people will rebuild the ancient ruins and will raise up the age-old foundations;
 you will be called Repairer of Broken Walls, Restorer of Streets with Dwellings.

Isa.
 58:13,14

CALL FOR SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

“If you keep your feet from breaking the Sabbath and from doing as you please on my holy day, if you call the Sabbath a delight and the LORD’s holy day honorable, and if you honor it by not going your own way
 and not doing as you please or speaking idle words, then you will find your joy in the LORD, and I will cause you to ride on the heights of the land and to feast on the inheritance of your father Jacob.”

The mouth of the LORD has spoken.

Isa. 59:1-15

CONFESSION OF SINS.

Surely the arm of the LORD is not too short to save,
 nor his ear too dull to hear.
 But your iniquities have separated
 you from your God;
 your sins have hidden his face from you,
 so that he will not hear.
 For your hands are stained with blood,
 your fingers with guilt.
 Your lips have spoken lies,
 and your tongue mutters wicked things.
 No one calls for justice;
 no one pleads his case with integrity.

^xOr your righteous One

They rely on empty arguments and speak lies;
 they conceive trouble and give birth to evil.
 They hatch the eggs of vipers and spin a spider's web.
 Whoever eats their eggs will die,
 and when one is broken, an adder is hatched.
 Their cobwebs are useless for clothing;
 they cannot cover themselves with what they make.
 Their deeds are evil deeds,
 and acts of violence are in their hands.
 Their feet rush into sin;
 they are swift to shed innocent blood.
 Their thoughts are evil thoughts;
 ruin and destruction mark their ways.
 The way of peace they do not know;
 there is no justice in their paths.
 They have turned them into crooked roads;
 no one who walks in them will know peace.

So justice is far from us,
 and righteousness does not reach us.
 We look for light, but all is darkness;
 for brightness, but we walk in deep shadows.
 Like the blind we grope along the wall,
 feeling our way like men without eyes.
 At midday we stumble as if it were twilight;
 among the strong, we are like the dead.
 We all growl like bears;
 we moan mournfully like doves.
 We look for justice, but find none;
 for deliverance, but it is far away.

For our offenses are many in your sight,
 and our sins testify against us.
 Our offenses are ever with us,
 and we acknowledge our iniquities:
 rebellion and treachery against the LORD,
 turning our backs on our God,
 fomenting oppression and revolt,
 uttering lies our hearts have conceived.
 So justice is driven back,
 and righteousness stands at a distance;
 truth has stumbled in the streets, honesty cannot enter.
 Truth is nowhere to be found,
 and whoever shuns evil becomes a prey.
 The LORD looked and was displeased that there was no justice.

SALVATION FOR PENITENTS.

He saw that there was no one,
 he was appalled that there was no one to intervene;

so his own arm worked salvation for him,
 and his own righteousness sustained him.
 He put on righteousness as his breastplate,
 and the helmet of salvation on his head;
 he put on the garments of vengeance and wrapped himself in zeal as in a cloak.
 According to what they have done, so will he repay
 wrath to his enemies
 and retribution to his foes;
 he will repay the islands their due.
 From the west, men will fear the name of the LORD, and from the rising of the sun, they will revere his glory.
 For he will come like a pent-up flood that the breath of the LORD drives along. ⁹

“The Redeemer will come to Zion, to those in Jacob who repent of their sins,”
 declares the LORD.

Isa. 59:21 PROMISE OF THE SPIRIT. “As for me, this is my covenant with them,” says the LORD. “My Spirit, who is on you, and my words that I have put in your mouth will not depart from your mouth, or from the mouths of your children, or from the mouths of their descendants from this time on and forever,” says the LORD.

Isa. 60:1-14 THE GLORY OF ZION.

“Arise, shine, for your light has come,
 and the glory of the LORD rises upon you.
 See, darkness covers the earth and thick darkness is over the peoples, but the LORD rises upon you and his glory appears over you.
 Nations will come to your light,
 and kings to the brightness of your dawn.
 “Lift up your eyes and look about you:
 All assemble and come to you;
 your sons come from afar,
 and your daughters are carried on the arm.
 Then you will look and be radiant,
 your heart will throb and swell with joy;
 the wealth on the seas will be brought to you,
 to you the riches of the nations will come.
 Herds of camels will cover your land,
 young camels of Midian and Ephah.
 And all from Sheba will come,
 bearing gold and incense
 and proclaiming the praise of the LORD.
 All Kedar’s flocks will be gathered to you,
 the rams of Nebaioth will serve you;

⁹Or When the enemy comes in like a flood, / the Spirit of the LORD will put him to flight they will be accepted as offerings on my altar, and I will adorn my glorious temple.

“Who are these that fly along like clouds,
like doves to their nests?
Surely the islands look to me;
in the lead are the ships of Tarshish,^z bringing your sons from afar,
with their silver and gold,
to the honor of the LORD your God,
the Holy One of Israel,
for he has endowed you with splendor.

“Foreigners will rebuild your walls,
and their kings will serve you.
Though in anger I struck you,
in favor I will show you compassion.
Your gates will always stand open,
they will never be shut, day or night, so that men may bring you the wealth of the nations—their kings led in triumphal procession.
For the nation or kingdom that will not serve you will perish;
it will be utterly ruined.

“The glory of Lebanon will come to you,
the pine, the fir and the cypress together,
to adorn the place of my sanctuary;
and I will glorify the place of my feet.
The sons of your oppressors will come bowing before you;
all who despise you will bow down at your feet and will call you The City of the LORD, Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

“Although you have been forsaken and hated, with no one traveling through,
I will make you the everlasting pride and the joy of all generations.
You will drink the milk of nations and be nursed at royal breasts.
Then you will know that I, the LORD, am your Savior,
your Redeemer, the Mighty One of Jacob.
Instead of bronze I will bring you gold,
and silver in place of iron.
Instead of wood I will bring you bronze,
and iron in place of stones.
I will make peace your governor and righteousness your ruler.
No longer will violence be heard in your land,
nor ruin or destruction within your borders,
but you will call your walls Salvation

Isa.
60:15-22

^zOr the trading ships and your gates Praise.

 The sun will no more be your light by day,
 nor will the brightness of the moon shine on you,
 for the LORD will be your everlasting light,
 and your God will be your glory.
 Your sun will never set again,
 and your moon will wane no more;
 the LORD will be your everlasting light,
 and your days of sorrow will end.
 Then will all your people be righteous and they will possess the land forever.
 They are the shoot I have planted,
 the work of my hands,
 for the display of my splendor.
 The least of you will become a thousand,
 the smallest a mighty nation.
 I am the LORD;
 in its time I will do this swiftly.”

Isa. 61:1-3a ISAIAH'S MISSION TO COMFORT.

The Spirit of the Sovereign LORD is on me, because the LORD has anointed me
 to preach good news to the poor.
 He has sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim freedom for the captives and release from darkness for the prisoners,^a to proclaim the year of the LORD's favor and the day of vengeance of our God,
 to comfort all who mourn,
 and provide for those who grieve in Zion—to bestow on them a crown of beauty instead of ashes,
 the oil of gladness
 instead of mourning,
 and a garment of praise
 instead of a spirit of despair.

Isa. 61:3b-9 THE MESSAGE OF HOPE.

They will be called oaks of righteousness, a planting of the LORD
 for the display of his splendor.
 They will rebuild the ancient ruins and restore the places long devastated;
 they will renew the ruined cities that have been devastated for generations.
 Aliens will shepherd your flocks;
 foreigners will work your fields and vineyards.
 And you will be called priests of the LORD,
 you will be named ministers of our God.

^aHebrew; Septuagint the blind

You will feed on the wealth of nations, and in their riches you will boast.

Instead of their shame
my people will receive a double portion, and instead of disgrace
they will rejoice in their inheritance;
and so they will inherit a double portion in their land,
and everlasting joy will be theirs.

“For I, the LORD, love justice;
I hate robbery and iniquity.
In my faithfulness I will reward them
and make an everlasting covenant with them.
Their descendants will be known among the nations and their offspring among the peoples.
All who see them will acknowledge that they are a people the LORD has blessed.”

PRAISE FOR SALVATION.

Isa.
61:10,11

I delight greatly in the LORD;
my soul rejoices in my God.
For he has clothed me with garments of salvation and arrayed me in a robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom adorns his head like a priest,
and as a bride adorns herself with her jewels.
For as the soil makes the sprout come up and a garden causes seeds to grow, so the Sovereign LORD will make righteousness and praise spring up before all nations.

THE BRIDE'S NEW NAME.

Isa. 62:1-5

For Zion's sake I will not keep silent, for Jerusalem's sake I will not remain quiet, till her righteousness shines out like the dawn,
her salvation like a blazing torch.
The nations will see your righteousness,
and all kings your glory;
you will be called by a new name that the mouth of the LORD will bestow.
You will be a crown of splendor in the LORD's hand,
a royal diadem in the hand of your God.
No longer will they call you Deserted, or name your land Desolate.
But you will be called Hephzibah,^b and your land Beulah^c;
for the LORD will take delight in you,
and your land will be married.
As a young man marries a maiden,
so will your sons^d marry you;
as a bridegroom rejoices over his bride,

^bHephzibah means my delight is in her. ^cBeulah means married. ^dOr Builder

so will your God rejoice over you.

Isa. 62:6-12 THE HOLY AND REDEEMED.

I have posted watchmen on your walls, O Jerusalem;
they will never be silent day or night.
You who call on the LORD,
give yourselves no rest,
and give him no rest till he establishes Jerusalem and makes her the praise of the earth.

The LORD has sworn by his right hand and by his mighty arm:
"Never again will I give your grain
as food for your enemies, and never again will foreigners drink the new wine for which you have toiled;
but those who harvest it will eat it and praise the LORD, and those who gather the grapes will drink it in the courts of my sanctuary."

Pass through, pass through the gates!
Prepare the way for the people.
Build up, build up the highway!
Remove the stones.
Raise a banner for the nations.

The LORD has made proclamation to the ends of the earth:
"Say to the Daughter of Zion,
'See, your Savior comes!
See, his reward is with him,
and his recompense accompanies him.'"
They will be called the Holy People,
the Redeemed of the LORD;
and you will be called Sought After,
the City No Longer Deserted.

Isa. 63:1-6 VENGEANCE AGAINST WICKED.

Who is this coming from Edom,
from Bozrah, with his garments stained crimson?
Who is this, robed in splendor, striding forward in the greatness of his strength?

"It is I, speaking in righteousness, mighty to save."

Why are your garments red,
like those of one treading the winepress?

"I have trodden the winepress alone;
from the nations no one was with me.
I trampled them in my anger and trod them down in my wrath;
their blood spattered my garments,

and I stained all my clothing.
 For the day of vengeance was in my heart,
 and the year of my redemption has come.
 I looked, but there was no one to help,
 I was appalled that no one gave support;
 so my own arm worked salvation for me,
 and my own wrath sustained me.
 I trampled the nations in my anger;
 in my wrath I made them drunk and poured their blood on the ground."

KINDNESS TO RIGHTEOUS.

Isa. 63:7-9

I will tell of the kindnesses of the LORD,
 the deeds for which he is to be praised,
 according to all the LORD has done for us—
 yes, the many good things he has done for the house of Israel,
 according to his compassion and many kindnesses.
 He said, "Surely they are my people, sons who will not be false to me";
 and so he became their Savior.
 In all their distress he too was distressed,
 and the angel of his presence saved them.
 In his love and mercy he redeemed them;
 he lifted them up and carried them
 all the days of old.

WRATH AGAINST REBELLIOUS.

Isa. 63:10

Yet they rebelled
 and grieved his Holy Spirit.
 So he turned and became their enemy and he himself fought against them.

GOD'S PROTECTION RECALLED.

Isa.
63:11-14

Then his people recalled^e the days of old,
 the days of Moses and his people—where is he who brought them through the sea, with the shepherd of his flock?
 Where is he who set his Holy Spirit among them, who sent his glorious arm of power
 to be at Moses' right hand, who divided the waters before them,
 to gain for himself everlasting renown,
 who led them through the depths?
 Like a horse in open country,
 they did not stumble;
 like cattle that go down to the plain,
 they were given rest by the Spirit of the LORD.
 This is how you guided your people

^eOr But may he recall to make for yourself a glorious name.

Isa.
63:15-19

ISRAEL'S PRAYER TO GOD.

Look down from heaven and see
 from your lofty throne, holy and glorious.
 Where are your zeal and your might?
 Your tenderness and compassion are withheld from us.
 But you are our Father, though Abraham does not know us or Israel acknowledge us;
 you, O LORD, are our Father,
 our Redeemer from of old is your name.
 Why, O LORD, do you make us wander from your ways and harden our hearts so we do not revere you?
 Return for the sake of your servants,
 the tribes that are your inheritance.
 For a little while your people possessed your holy place, but now our enemies have trampled down your sanctuary.
 We are yours from of old;
 but you have not ruled over them,
 they have not been called by your name.^f

Isa. 64:1-12

Oh, that you would rend the heavens and come down, that the mountains would tremble before you!
 As when fire sets twigs ablaze and causes water to boil, come down to make your name known to your enemies and cause the nations to quake before you!
 For when you did awesome things that we did not expect,
 you came down, and the mountains trembled before you.
 Since ancient times no one has heard,
 no ear has perceived,
 no eye has seen any God besides you,
 who acts on behalf of those who wait for him.
 You come to the help of those who gladly do right,
 who remember your ways.
 But when we continued to sin against them,
 you were angry.
 How then can we be saved?
 All of us have become like one who is unclean,
 and all our righteous acts are like filthy rags;
 we all shrivel up like a leaf,
 and like the wind our sins sweep us away.
 No one calls on your name or strives to lay hold of you;
 for you have hidden your face from us
 and made us waste away because of our sins.
 Yet, O LORD, you are our Father.

^fOr We are like those you have never ruled, / like those never called by your name

We are the clay, you are the potter;
 we are all the work of your hand.
 Do not be angry beyond measure, O LORD;
 do not remember our sins forever.
 Oh, look upon us, we pray,
 for we are all your people.
 Your sacred cities have become a desert;
 even Zion is a desert, Jerusalem a desolation.
 Our holy and glorious temple, where our fathers praised you,
 has been burned with fire,
 and all that we treasured lies in ruins.
 After all this, O LORD, will you hold yourself back?
 Will you keep silent and punish us beyond measure?

GOD EXPLAINS JUDGMENT.

Isa. 65:1-7

"I revealed myself to those who did not ask for me;
 I was found by those who did not seek me.
 To a nation that did not call on my name,
 I said, 'Here am I, here am I.'
 All day long I have held out my hands
 to an obstinate people, who walk in ways not good,
 pursuing their own imaginations—a people who continually provoke me to my very face, offering sacrifices in gardens and burning incense on altars of brick;
 who sit among the graves and spend their nights keeping secret vigil;
 who eat the flesh of pigs,
 and whose pots hold broth of unclean meat;
 who say, 'Keep away; don't come near me,
 for I am too sacred for you!'
 Such people are smoke in my nostrils, a fire that keeps burning all day.
 "See, it stands written before me:
 I will not keep silent but will pay back in full;
 I will pay it back into their laps—both your sins and the sins of your fathers,"
 says the LORD.
 "Because they burned sacrifices on the mountains and defied me on the hills,
 I will measure into their laps
 the full payment for their former deeds."

SALVATION OF REMNANT. This is what the LORD says:

Isa. 65:8-10

"As when juice is still found in a cluster of grapes and men say, 'Don't destroy it, there is yet some good in it,'
 so will I do in behalf of my servants;

I will not destroy them all.
 I will bring forth descendants from Jacob,
 and from Judah those who will possess my mountains;
 my chosen people will inherit them,
 and there will my servants live.
 Sharon will become a pasture for flocks,
 and the Valley of Achor a resting place for herds,
 for my people who seek me.

Isa.
65:11,12

NO MERCY FOR UNREPENTANT.

“But as for you who forsake the LORD and forget my holy mountain, who spread a table for Fortune and fill bowls of mixed wine for Destiny,
 I will destine you for the sword,
 and you will all bend down for the slaughter;
 for I called but you did not answer,
 I spoke but you did not listen.
 You did evil in my sight and chose what displeases me.”

Isa.
65:13-16

BLESSINGS FOR SERVANTS. Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

“My servants will eat,
 but you will go hungry;
 my servants will drink,
 but you will go thirsty;
 my servants will rejoice,
 but you will be put to shame.
 My servants will sing
 out of the joy of their hearts, but you will cry out from anguish of heart and wail in brokenness of spirit.
 You will leave your name
 to my chosen ones as a curse;
 the Sovereign LORD will put you to death,
 but to his servants he will give another name.
 Whoever invokes a blessing in the land will do so by the God of truth;
 he who takes an oath in the land will swear by the God of truth.
 For the past troubles will be forgotten and hidden from my eyes.

Isa.
65:17-25

NEW HEAVEN AND EARTH.

“Behold, I will create new heavens and a new earth.
 The former things will not be remembered,
 nor will they come to mind.
 But be glad and rejoice forever in what I will create,

for I will create Jerusalem to be a delight and its people a joy.
I will rejoice over Jerusalem and take delight in my people;
the sound of weeping and of crying will be heard in it no more.

“Never again will there be in it an infant who lives but a few days, or an old man who does not live out his years;
he who dies at a hundred will be thought a mere youth;
he who fails to reach a hundred will be considered accursed.
They will build houses and dwell in them;
they will plant vineyards and eat their fruit.
No longer will they build houses and others live in them,
or plant and others eat.
For as the days of a tree,
so will be the days of my people;
my chosen ones will long enjoy the works of their hands.
They will not toil in vain or bear children doomed to misfortune;
for they will be a people blessed by the LORD,
they and their descendants with them.
Before they call I will answer;
while they are still speaking I will hear.
The wolf and the lamb will feed together,
and the lion will eat straw like the ox,
but dust will be the serpent's food.
They will neither harm nor destroy
on all my holy mountain,”

says the LORD.

GOD'S MAJESTY AND POWER. This is what the LORD says:

Isa. 66:1,2

“Heaven is my throne,
and the earth is my footstool.
Where is the house you will build for me?
Where will my resting place be?
Has not my hand made all these things, and so they came into being?”

declares the LORD.

“This is the one I esteem:
he who is humble and contrite in spirit,
and trembles at my word.

GOD'S ENEMIES WILL FALL.

Isa. 66:3-6

But whoever sacrifices a bull is like one who kills a man,

Or / the sinner who reaches and whoever offers a lamb, like one who breaks a dog's neck;

 whoever makes a grain offering is like one who presents pig's blood, and whoever burns memorial incense, like one who worships an idol.
 They have chosen their own ways,
 and their souls delight in their abominations;
 so I also will choose harsh treatment for them and will bring upon them what they dread.
 For when I called, no one answered, when I spoke, no one listened.
 They did evil in my sight
 and chose what displeases me."

Hear the word of the LORD,
 you who tremble at his word:
 "Your brothers who hate you,
 and exclude you because of my name, have said,
 'Let the LORD be glorified, that we may see your joy!
 Yet they will be put to shame.
 Hear that uproar from the city,
 hear that noise from the temple!
 It is the sound of the LORD
 repaying his enemies all they deserve.

Isa. 66:7-14 BELIEVERS WILL BE REWARDED.

"Before she goes into labor,
 she gives birth;
 before the pains come upon her,
 she delivers a son.
 Who has ever heard of such a thing?
 Who has ever seen such things?
 Can a country be born in a day or a nation be brought forth in a moment?
 Yet no sooner is Zion in labor than she gives birth to her children.
 Do I bring to the moment of birth and not give delivery?" says the LORD.
 "Do I close up the womb
 when I bring to delivery?" says your God.
 "Rejoice with Jerusalem and be glad for her,
 all you who love her;
 rejoice greatly with her,
 all you who mourn over her.
 For you will nurse and be satisfied at her comforting breasts;
 you will drink deeply and delight in her overflowing abundance."

For this is what the LORD says:

"I will extend peace to her like a river,
 and the wealth of nations like a flooding stream;
 you will nurse and be carried on her arm and dandled on her knees.
 As a mother comforts her child,
 so will I comfort you;
 and you will be comforted over Jerusalem."

When you see this, your heart will rejoice and you will flourish like grass;
 the hand of the LORD will be made known to his servants, but his fury will be shown to his foes.

DESTRUCTION OF WICKED.

Isa.
66:15-17

See, the LORD is coming with fire, and his chariots are like a whirlwind;
 he will bring down his anger with fury,
 and his rebuke with flames of fire.
 For with fire and with his sword
 the LORD will execute judgment upon all men, and many will be those slain by the LORD.

"Those who consecrate and purify themselves to go into the gardens, following the one in the midst of^h those who eat the flesh of pigs and rats and other abominable things—they will meet their end together," declares the LORD.

SURVIVORS TO BE EVANGELISTS. "And I, because of their actions and their imaginations, am about to comeⁱ and gather all nations and tongues, and they will come and see my glory.

Isa.
66:18-21

"I will set a sign among them, and I will send some of those who survive to the nations—to Tarshish, to the Libyans^j and Lydians (famous as archers), to Tubal and Greece, and to the distant islands that have not heard of my fame or seen my glory. They will proclaim my glory among the nations. And they will bring all your brothers, from all the nations, to my holy mountain in Jerusalem as an offering to the LORD—on horses, in chariots and wagons, and on mules and camels," says the LORD. "They will bring them, as the Israelites bring their grain offerings, to the temple of the LORD in ceremonially clean vessels. And I will select some of them also to be priests and Levites," says the LORD.

ETERNAL LIFE AND DEATH. "As the new heavens and the new earth that I make will endure before me," declares the LORD, "so will your name and descendants endure. From one New Moon to another and from one Sabbath to another, all mankind will come and bow down before me," says the LORD. "And they will go out and look upon the dead bodies of those who rebelled against me; their worm will not die, nor will their fire be quenched, and they will be loathsome to all mankind."

Isa.
66:22-24

How anyone could ignore or reject such a powerful message is difficult to fathom. But Isaiah himself speaks of those who will refuse to hear or see.

^hOr gardens behind one of your temples, and ⁱThe meaning of the Hebrew for this clause is uncertain. ^jSome Septuagint manuscripts Put (Libyans); Hebrew Pul

Some will reject the message because they are willfully stubborn, and others because they are caught up in material pursuits, or pleasurable diversions, or even false religious worship. Perhaps saddest of all, God's message will sometimes be hidden from the common people by the very ones who ought to bring understanding—the religious leaders. Once again Isaiah singles out these leaders for special judgment. It is quite possible that this very condemnation proves to be the death knell for Isaiah, for tradition holds that Isaiah was sawn in two by his enemies during Manasseh's reign.

Spiritual Renewal Under Manasseh _____

As a result of his wicked leadership, Manasseh is taken captive to Babylon by the army of a now-eclipsing Assyrian empire. There in exile with many of his fellow countrymen, Manasseh is conscience-stricken and sincerely repents. Consequently, God reestablishes Manasseh on the throne in Judah, and Manasseh does what he can to abolish the very idolatry he introduced. The historical record begins with a note about the Assyrian coup in which Sennacherib is assassinated by his own sons.

2 Chron.

Isa. 37:38
(681 B.C.)

SENNACHERIB ASSASSINATED. One day, while he was worshiping in the temple of his god Nisroch, his sons Adrammelech and Sharezer cut him down with the sword, and they escaped to the land of Ararat. And Esarhaddon his son succeeded him as king.

2 Chron.
33:10,11

MANASSEH TAKEN CAPTIVE. The LORD spoke to Manasseh and his people, but they paid no attention. So the LORD brought against them the army commanders of the king of Assyria, who took Manasseh prisoner, put a hook in his nose, bound him with bronze shackles and took him to Babylon.

2 Chron.
33:12,13

REPENTANCE BRINGS RESTORATION. In his distress he sought the favor of the LORD his God and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers. And when he prayed to him, the LORD was moved by his entreaty and listened to his plea; so he brought him back to Jerusalem and to his kingdom. Then Manasseh knew that the LORD is God.

2 Chron.
33:14-17

MANASSEH REFORMS JUDAH. Afterward he rebuilt the outer wall of the City of David, west of the Gihon spring in the valley, as far as the entrance of the Fish Gate and encircling the hill of Ophel; he also made it much higher. He stationed military commanders in all the fortified cities in Judah.

He got rid of the foreign gods and removed the image from the temple of the LORD, as well as all the altars he had built on the temple hill and in Jerusalem; and he threw them out of the city. Then he restored the altar of the LORD and sacrificed fellowship offerings^k and thank offerings on it, and told Judah to serve the LORD, the God of Israel. The people, however, continued to sacrifice at the high places, but only to the LORD their God.

Nahum's Prophecy Against Nineveh

It is about 650 B.C.—some 50 years after God's miraculous destruction of Sennacherib's army. Sennacherib returned from that defeat, in disgrace, to the Assyrian capital of Nineveh. When he was assassinated in 681 B.C., he was followed by his son Esarhaddon, who reigned for 11 years. (It may have been during Esarhaddon's reign that Manasseh was first taken captive and then released to be a puppet king back in Judah.) Esarhaddon is succeeded (in 669 B.C.) by the barbarous Ashurbanipal, who takes his army deep into Palestine and Egypt in 663 B.C. and destroys the Egyptian city of Thebes (No-Amon). The hallmark of the Assyrians at this time is not merely military success but ruthlessness and cruelty. They take great pride in maiming their enemies, and even boiling them in tar or skinning them alive. If the veneer of civilization is thin, Assyria is clearly the last fiber of humanity.

These atrocities are particularly disappointing in view of the fact that, only 125 years before, the people of Assyria had responded penitently to the preaching of Jonah and had been the recipients of God's mercy. Perhaps it is because the Ninevites have not shown appreciation for his mercy that God now displays his wrath. While Manasseh is bringing about reforms in Judah, Nahum prophesies against Judah's archenemy, Nineveh, and predicts her fall.

PREFACE. An oracle concerning Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite. Nahum 1:1

GOD'S WRATH AGAINST ENEMIES.

Nahum
1:2-6

The LORD is a jealous and avenging God;
 the LORD takes vengeance and is filled with wrath.
 The LORD takes vengeance on his foes and maintains his wrath against his enemies.
 The LORD is slow to anger and great in power;
 the LORD will not leave the guilty unpunished.
 His way is in the whirlwind and the storm,
 and clouds are the dust of his feet.
 He rebukes the sea and dries it up;
 he makes all the rivers run dry.
 Bashan and Carmel wither and the blossoms of Lebanon fade.
 The mountains quake before him
 and the hills melt away.
 The earth trembles at his presence,
 the world and all who live in it.
 Who can withstand his indignation?
 Who can endure his fierce anger?
 His wrath is poured out like fire;
 the rocks are shattered before him.

NINEVEH HAS REFUSED MERCY.

Nahum
1:7,8

The LORD is good,

a refuge in times of trouble.
 He cares for those who trust in him, but with an overwhelming flood he will make an end of Nineveh;
 he will pursue his foes into darkness.

Nahum
1:9,10

CAPTURE WHILE ARMY DRUNK.

Whatever they plot against the LORD
 he^l will bring to an end;
 trouble will not come a second time.
 They will be entangled among thorns and drunk from their wine;
 they will be consumed like dry stubble.^m

Nahum
1:11

SIN OF SENNACHERIB.

From you, O Nineveh,^j has one come forth who plots evil against the LORD and counsels wickedness.

Nahum
1:12,13

JUDAH'S VASSALAGE WILL CEASE. This is what the LORD says:

“Although they have allies and are numerous,
 they will be cut off and pass away.
 Although I have afflicted you, O Judah,^j
 I will afflict you no more.
 Now I will break their yoke from your neck and tear your shackles away.”

Nahum
1:14

COMPLETENESS OF DESTRUCTION.

The LORD has given a command concerning you, O Nineveh;^j
 “You will have no descendants to bear your name.
 I will destroy the carved images and cast idols that are in the temple of your gods.
 I will prepare your grave,
 for you are vile.”

Nahum
1:15

JUDAH WILL BE SAFE.

Look, there on the mountains,
 the feet of one who brings good news,
 who proclaims peace!
 Celebrate your festivals, O Judah, and fulfill your vows.
 No more will the wicked invade you;
 they will be completely destroyed.

Nahum
2:1,2

DESTRUCTION TO RESTORE ISRAEL.

An attacker advances against you, O Nineveh;^j Guard the fortress,
 watch the road,
 brace yourselves,

The LORD will restore the splendor of Jacob

DETAILS OF THE FALL.

Nahum
2:3-10

The shields of his soldiers are red;
the warriors are clad in scarlet.
The metal on the chariots flashes on the day they are made ready;
the spears of pine are brandished."
The chariots storm through the streets, rushing back and forth through the squares.
They look like flaming torches;
they dart about like lightning.

He summons his picked troops,
yet they stumble on their way.
They dash to the city wall;
the protective shield is put in place.
The river gates are thrown open and the palace collapses.

It is decreed^o that the city be exiled and carried away.

Its slave girls moan like doves and beat upon their breasts.

Nineveh is like a pool,
and its water is draining away.

"Stop! Stop!" they cry, but no one turns back.

Plunder the silver!
Plunder the gold!

The supply is endless,
the wealth from all its treasures!

She is pillaged, plundered, stripped!
Hearts melt, knees give way,
bodies tremble, every face grows pale.

ATROCITIES WILL CEASE.

Nahum
2:11-13

Where now is the lions' den, the place where they fed their young,
where the lion and lioness went,
and the cubs, with nothing to fear?
The lion killed enough for his cubs and strangled the prey for his mate, filling his lairs with the kill and his dens with the prey.

"I am against you,"
 declares the LORD Almighty.
 "I will burn up your chariots in smoke,
 and the sword will devour your young lions.
 I will leave you no prey on the earth.
 The voices of your messengers will no longer be heard."

Nahum
 3:1-4

GUILT OF BLOODSHED.

Woe to the city of blood,
 full of lies,
 full of plunder,
 never without victims!
 The crack of whips,
 the clatter of wheels,
 galloping horses
 and jolting chariots!
 Charging cavalry,
 flashing swords
 and glittering spears!
 Many casualties,
 piles of dead,
 bodies without number,
 people stumbling over the corpses—
 all because of the wanton lust of a harlot, alluring, the mistress of sorceries, who enslaved nations by her prostitution and peoples by her witchcraft.

Nahum
 3:5-7

SHAME AND DISGRACE.

"I am against you," declares the LORD Almighty.
 "I will lift your skirts over your face.
 I will show the nations your nakedness and the kingdoms your shame.
 I will pelt you with filth,
 I will treat you with contempt and make you a spectacle.
 All who see you will flee from you and say,
 'Nineveh is in ruins—who will mourn for her?'
 Where can I find anyone to comfort you?"

Nahum
 3:8-11

FATE SAME AS VICTIMS.

Are you better than Thebes,[¶] situated on the Nile, with water around her?
 The river was her defense,
 the waters her wall.
 Cush[¶] and Egypt were her boundless strength;
 Put and Libya were among her allies.
 Yet she was taken captive and went into exile.

 Her infants were dashed to pieces
 at the head of every street.
 Lots were cast for her nobles,
 and all her great men were put in chains.
 You too will become drunk;
 you will go into hiding and seek refuge from the enemy.

ASSYRIA'S VULNERABILITY.

Nahum
3:12-17

All your fortresses are like fig trees with their first ripe fruit;
 when they are shaken,
 the figs fall into the mouth of the eater.
 Look at your troops—
 they are all women!
 The gates of your land
 are wide open to your enemies;
 fire has consumed their bars.
 Draw water for the siege,
 strengthen your defenses!
 Work the clay,
 tread the mortar,
 repair the brickwork!
 There the fire will devour you;
 the sword will cut you down
 and, like grasshoppers, consume you.
 Multiply like grasshoppers, multiply like locusts!
 You have increased the number of your merchants till they are more than the stars of the sky, but like locusts they strip the land and then fly away.
 Your guards are like locusts, your officials like swarms of locusts that settle in the walls on a cold day—but when the sun appears they fly away, and no one knows where.

WORLD WILL CELEBRATE FALL.

Nahum
3:18,19

O king of Assyria, your shepherds^r slumber;
 your nobles lie down to rest.
 Your people are scattered on the mountains with no one to gather them.
 Nothing can heal your wound;
 your injury is fatal.
 Everyone who hears the news about you claps his hands at your fall, for who has not felt your endless cruelty?

From Manasseh to Josiah

Jn only 40 years Nahum's predictions will come true in exactly the way he has outlined: the Medes, Babylonians, and Scythians will turn the waters of the Khoser River into the city, causing the bricks to be dissolved. Just as Nahum has prophesied, Nineveh will be destroyed so completely that it will be some 2500 years before archaeological traces of this great city will be found.

Before Nineveh's fall, Manasseh's reign will come to an end with his death. Manasseh's son Amon supports idolatry and wickedness and is assassinated after a brief rule of two years. He is succeeded by Josiah, the most godly king that Judah has ever known. Josiah takes the throne when he is only eight years old and initiates sweeping reforms when he is 16.

Zephaniah Prophecies About The Day of the Lord

With a child for its king, the nation of Judah does not yet have the governmental leadership it needs for spiritual renewal. Spiritual leadership must come from older men; therefore one of the young king's distant relatives is called into God's service as a prophet. Zephaniah, like young King Josiah, is a descendant in the fourth generation from King Hezekiah. Zephaniah's mission and message is the same as that of the prophets before him—bringing judgment against immorality, injustice, and pagan idolatry—and yet his central theme is the coming of "the day of the Lord." In one sense, the day of the Lord is coming rather immediately for Judah, when it will be destroyed because of its sins. The day of the Lord is also coming for all the nations which have oppressed God's people. In another sense, the great day of the Lord is coming at the time when God will bring judgment against all the wicked. In each sense, the day of the Lord will be accompanied by salvation of God's faithful remnant. But it is God's terrible judgment against the unrighteous that really calls Zephaniah to his ministry, apparently between 635 and 625 B.C.

PREFACE. The word of the LORD that came to Zephaniah son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, during the reign of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah:

 they are treacherous men.
 Her priests profane the sanctuary

 I have left their streets deserted,

Josiah's Reforms

The extent to which the people of Judah are persuaded by Zephaniah's preaching is not known, but even half a century later Zephaniah's influence may have touched the young king. Within just a few years, at the youthful age of 16, Josiah begins to bring about sweeping reforms against idolatry and other pagan practices. Later rediscovery of a copy of the Law of Moses will lead to a great spiritual revival and further religious reforms.

JOSIAH ATTACKS PAGANISM. In the eighth year of his reign, while he was still young, he began to seek the God of his father David. In his twelfth year he began to purge Judah and Jerusalem of high places, Asherah poles, carved idols and cast images. Under his direction the altars of the Baals were torn down; he cut to pieces the incense altars that were above them, and smashed the Asherah poles, the idols and the images. These he broke to pieces and scattered over the graves of those who had sacrificed to them. He burned the bones of the priests on their altars, and so he purged Judah and Jerusalem. In the towns of Manasseh, Ephraim and Simeon, as far as Naphtali, and in the ruins around them, he tore down the altars and the Asherah poles and crushed the idols to powder and cut to pieces all the incense altars throughout Israel. Then he went back to Jerusalem.

Jeremiah the Weeping Prophet

How does one become a prophet of God? Although typically by training, this is not the case with some of God's most outstanding servants. From Samuel to Elisha to Amos as well as other prophets, the pattern is always the same: God directly calls his prophets to their special ministry. It should not be surprising, then, that some of these special prophets are reluctant to take on the responsibilities of moral leadership for which they are rarely appreciated and, more often than not, are actually persecuted.

An example of how God calls his prophets, and how they sometimes respond only with great reluctance, is seen in the call of Jeremiah in 626 B.C. In fairness to Jeremiah, he may have good reason to be reluctant: at the time of his call he is still a youth, though his exact age is not known. And had he known exactly how much opposition, persecution, and personal rejection he would face over the next 50 years, he would probably have tried to escape his calling, just as Jonah did. But God appeals to Jeremiah through two visions. The first is a branch of an almond tree by which, through a play on words, God explains that he is "watching" the execution of his purpose on earth. (The Hebrew word for "watching" sounds like the Hebrew word for almond tree.) The second vision is of a boiling pot, which is an Oriental symbol of raging war. Through that symbol God reveals to Jeremiah the destruction coming from the north—that is, the invasion by Babylon. God tells Jeremiah that his mission is to be one of rebuke and judgment on one hand and encouragement on the other. Finally, God promises to be with Jeremiah through the many personal trials he will face.

It may be that the persecutions Jeremiah will experience will be the result of the times in which he prophesies. When he begins his ministry, warning against impending national peril, Judah is resting complacently in an unusual period of peace and is soon to experience a brief period of spiritual revival. While Jeremiah is predicting the fall of Jerusalem, the popular message of the priests and false prophets is "peace, peace." Naturally the people prefer to believe the more optimistic line, and so they turn against the prophet of doom. Little do they realize that the political scene is rapidly changing. Even in this year of Jeremiah's call, Nabopolassar will rebel against Assyria and establish the Neo-Babylonian empire. Within 15 years Nineveh will fall under the Medo-Persian alliance, and seven years later Assyria, Babylonia, and Egypt will clash at Carchemish, with Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon emerging as the victor. Through it all Judah will stand in constant peril, and Jeremiah's thankless job will be to bring the message of judgment and national vulnerability to a people who do not want to hear it. What an awesome responsibility for this young man from the little town of Anathoth, a few miles northeast of Jerusalem! How amazed he must be to learn that he was chosen for this special mission before he was ever born!

- Jer. 1:1-3 PREFACE. The words of Jeremiah son of Hilkiyah, one of the priests at Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin. The word of the LORD came to him in the thirteenth year of the reign of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah, and through the reign of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, down to the fifth month of the eleventh year of Zedekiah son of Josiah king of Judah, when the people of Jerusalem went into exile.
- Jer. 1:4,5 JEREMIAH'S CALL. The word of the LORD came to me, saying,
 "Before I formed you in the womb I knew^h you,
 before you were born I set you apart;
 I appointed you as a prophet to the nations."
- Jer. 1:6-8 JEREMIAH'S RELUCTANCE. "Ah, Sovereign LORD," I said, "I do not know how to speak; I am only a child."
 But the LORD said to me, "Do not say, 'I am only a child.' You must go to everyone I send you to and say whatever I command you. Do not be afraid of them, for I am with you and will rescue you," declares the LORD.
- Jer. 1:9-12 VISION OF ALMOND BRANCH. Then the LORD reached out his hand and touched my mouth and said to me, "Now, I have put my words in your mouth. See, today I appoint you over nations and kingdoms to uproot and tear down, to destroy and overthrow, to build and to plant."
 The word of the LORD came to me: "What do you see, Jeremiah?"
 "I see the branch of an almond tree," I replied.
 The LORD said to me, "You have seen correctly, for I am watchingⁱ to see that my word is fulfilled."
- Jer. 1:13-16 VISION OF BOILING POT. The word of the LORD came to me again: "What do you see?"
 "I see a boiling pot, tilting away from the north," I answered.

^hOr chose ⁱThe Hebrew for watching sounds like the Hebrew for almond tree.

The LORD said to me, "From the north disaster will be poured out on all who live in the land. I am about to summon all the peoples of the northern kingdoms," declares the LORD.

"Their kings will come and set up their thrones in the entrance of the gates of Jerusalem;
they will come against all her surrounding walls and against all the towns of Judah.
I will pronounce my judgments on my people because of their wickedness in forsaking me, in burning incense to other gods and in worshiping what their hands have made.

STRENGTH FOR THE MINISTRY. "Get yourself ready! Stand up and say to them whatever I command you. Do not be terrified by them, or I will terrify you before them. Today I have made you a fortified city, an iron pillar and a bronze wall to stand against the whole land—against the kings of Judah, its officials, its priests and the people of the land. They will fight against you but will not overcome you, for I am with you and will rescue you," declares the LORD. Jer. 1:17-19

Jeremiah Rebukes an Unfaithful Nation _____

It does not take long for Jeremiah to get to the point. Characterizing Israel as an unfaithful bride, Jeremiah brings God's judgment against the people for their lust for foreign gods and calls them to repentance.

ISRAEL A LOVING BRIDE. The word of the LORD came to me: "Go and proclaim in the hearing of Jerusalem: Jer. 2:1-3

"I remember the devotion of your youth, how as a bride you loved me
and followed me through the desert, through a land not sown.
Israel was holy to the LORD,
the firstfruits of his harvest;
all who devoured her were held guilty, and disaster overtook them,"

declares the LORD.

NO CAUSE FOR INFIDELITY.

Hear the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, all you clans of the house of Israel. Jer. 2:4-9

This is what the LORD says:

"What fault did your fathers find in me,
that they strayed so far from me?
They followed worthless idols and became worthless themselves.
They did not ask, 'Where is the LORD, who brought us up out of Egypt and led us through the barren wilderness, through a land of deserts and rifts,

a land of drought and darkness,^j
 a land where no one travels and no one lives?^l
 I brought you into a fertile land to eat its fruit and rich produce.
 But you came and defiled my land and made my inheritance detestable.
 The priests did not ask,
 'Where is the LORD?'
 Those who deal with the law did not know me;
 the leaders rebelled against me.
 The prophets prophesied by Baal,
 following worthless idols.

"Therefore I bring charges against you again,"
 declares the LORD.
 "And I will bring charges against your children's children.

Jer. 2:10-12 IDOLATERS MORE FAITHFUL.

Cross over to the coasts of Kittim^k and look,
 send to Kedar^l and observe closely;
 see if there has ever been anything like this:
 Has a nation ever changed its gods?
 (Yet they are not gods at all.)
 But my people have exchanged their^m Glory for worthless idols.
 Be appalled at this, O heavens,
 and shudder with great horror,"

declares the LORD.

Jer. 2:13-19 LIVING WATER FORSAKEN.

"My people have committed two sins:
 They have forsaken me,
 the spring of living water,
 and have dug their own cisterns,
 broken cisterns that cannot hold water.
 Is Israel a servant, a slave by birth?
 Why then has he become plunder?
 Lions have roared;
 they have growled at him.
 They have laid waste his land;
 his towns are burned and deserted.
 Also, the men of Memphisⁿ and Tahpanhes have shaved the crown of your head.^o Have you not brought this on yourselves by forsaking the LORD your God when he led you in the way?
 Now why go to Egypt to drink water from the Shihor^p ?

^jOr and the shadow of death ^kThat is, Cyprus and western coastlands ^lThe home of Bedouin tribes in the Syro-Arabian desert ^mMasoretic Text; an ancient Hebrew scribal tradition my ⁿHebrew Noph ^oOr have cracked your skull ^pThat is, a branch of the Nile

And why go to Assyria to drink water from the River⁴ ?
Your wickedness will punish you;
your backsliding will rebuke you.
Consider then and realize how evil and bitter it is for you when you forsake the LORD your God and have no awe of me," declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty.

VINE BECAME CORRUPTED.

Jer. 2:20-22

"Long ago you broke off your yoke and tore off your bonds;
you said, 'I will not serve you!'
Indeed, on every high hill
and under every spreading tree
you lay down as a prostitute.
I had planted you like a choice vine of sound and reliable stock.
How then did you turn against me into a corrupt, wild vine?
Although you wash yourself with soda and use an abundance of soap, the stain of your guilt is still before me,"
declares the Sovereign LORD.

LUST FOR FOREIGN GODS.

Jer. 2:23-25

"How can you say, 'I am not defiled;
I have not run after the Baals'?
See how you behaved in the valley;
consider what you have done.
You are a swift she-camel running here and there,
a wild donkey accustomed to the desert, sniffing the wind in her craving—
in her heat who can restrain her?
Any males that pursue her need not tire themselves;
at mating time they will find her.
Do not run until your feet are bare and your throat is dry.
But you said, 'It's no use!
I love foreign gods,
and I must go after them.'

IDOLS SO POWERLESS.

Jer. 2:26-29

"As a thief is disgraced when he is caught,
so the house of Israel is disgraced—
they, their kings and their officials, their priests and their prophets.
They say to wood, 'You are my father,'

⁴That is, the Euphrates and to stone, 'You gave me birth.'

 They have turned their backs to me
 and not their faces;
 yet when they are in trouble, they say,
 'Come and save us!'
 Where then are the gods you made for yourselves?
 Let them come if they can save you when you are in trouble!
 For you have as many gods
 as you have towns, O Judah.

"Why do you bring charges against me?
 You have all rebelled against me,"

declares the LORD.

Jer. 2:30-32 GOD HAS NOT FORGOTTEN.

"In vain I punished your people;
 they did not respond to correction.
 Your sword has devoured your prophets like a ravaging lion.

"You of this generation, consider the word of the LORD:

"Have I been a desert to Israel
 or a land of great darkness?
 Why do my people say, 'We are free to roam;
 we will come to you no more?'
 Does a maiden forget her jewelry,
 a bride her wedding ornaments?
 Yet my people have forgotten me,
 days without number.

Jer. 2:33-35 SINS ARE DENIED.

How skilled you are at pursuing love!
 Even the worst of women can learn from your ways.
 On your clothes men find the lifeblood of the innocent poor, though you did not catch them breaking in.
 Yet in spite of all this you say, 'I am innocent;
 he is not angry with me.'
 But I will pass judgment on you because you say, 'I have not sinned.'

Jer. 2:36,37 ALLIES WILL DISAPPOINT.

Why do you go about so much,
 changing your ways?
 You will be disappointed by Egypt
 as you were by Assyria.
 You will also leave that place with your hands on your head, for the LORD has rejected those you trust;
 you will not be helped by them.

ISRAEL'S HARLOTRY.

Jer. 3:1-5

"If a man divorces his wife and she leaves him and marries another man, should he return to her again?
Would not the land be completely defiled?
But you have lived as a prostitute with many lovers—would you now return to me?"

declares the LORD.

"Look up to the barren heights and see.
Is there any place where you have not been ravished?
By the roadside you sat waiting for lovers,
sat like a nomad^r in the desert.
You have defiled the land with your prostitution and wickedness.
Therefore the showers have been withheld,
and no spring rains have fallen.
Yet you have the brazen look of a prostitute;
you refuse to blush with shame.
Have you not just called to me:
'My Father, my friend from my youth,
will you always be angry?
Will your wrath continue forever?'
This is how you talk,
but you do all the evil you can."

JUDAH IGNORES WARNING. During the reign of King Josiah, the LORD said to me, "Have you seen what faithless Israel has done? She has gone up on every high hill and under every spreading tree and has committed adultery there. I thought that after she had done all this she would return to me but she did not, and her unfaithful sister Judah saw it. I gave faithless Israel her certificate of divorce and sent her away because of all her adulteries. Yet I saw that her unfaithful sister Judah had no fear; she also went out and committed adultery. Because Israel's immorality mattered so little to her, she defiled the land and committed adultery with stone and wood. In spite of all this, her unfaithful sister Judah did not return to me with all her heart, but only in pretense," declares the LORD.

Jer. 3:6-11

The LORD said to me, "Faithless Israel is more righteous than unfaithful Judah.

ISRAEL INVITED TO RETURN. Go, proclaim this message toward the north:

Jer.
3:12-22a

"Return, faithless Israel," declares the LORD,
'I will frown on you no longer,
for I am merciful,' declares the LORD,
'I will not be angry forever.
Only acknowledge your guilt—
you have rebelled against the LORD your God, you have scattered your favors to foreign gods

^rOr an Arab

under every spreading tree, and have not obeyed me,'"

declares the LORD.

"Return, faithless people," declares the LORD, "for I am your husband. I will choose you—one from a town and two from a clan—and bring you to Zion. Then I will give you shepherds after my own heart, who will lead you with knowledge and understanding. In those days, when your numbers have increased greatly in the land," declares the LORD, "men will no longer say, 'The ark of the covenant of the LORD.' It will never enter their minds or be remembered; it will not be missed, nor will another one be made. At that time they will call Jerusalem The Throne of the LORD, and all nations will gather in Jerusalem to honor the name of the LORD. No longer will they follow the stubbornness of their evil hearts. In those days the house of Judah will join the house of Israel, and together they will come from a northern land to the land I gave your forefathers as an inheritance.

"I myself said,

" 'How gladly would I treat you like sons and give you a desirable land, the most beautiful inheritance of any nation.'
I thought you would call me 'Father' and not turn away from following me.
But like a woman unfaithful to her husband, so you have been unfaithful to me, O house of Israel,"
declares the LORD.

A cry is heard on the barren heights,
the weeping and pleading of the people of Israel, because they have perverted their ways and have forgotten the LORD their God.

"Return, faithless people;
I will cure you of backsliding."

Jer.
3:22b-25

ISRAEL'S CONFESSION.

"Yes, we will come to you,
for you are the LORD our God.
Surely the idolatrous commotion on the hills and mountains is a deception; surely in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.
From our youth shameful gods have consumed the fruits of our fathers' labor—their flocks and herds, their sons and daughters.
Let us lie down in our shame,
and let our disgrace cover us.
We have sinned against the LORD our God,
both we and our fathers;
from our youth till this day we have not obeyed the LORD our God."

CONDITIONS FOR RETURN.

Jer. 4:1,2

"If you will return, O Israel, return to me,"

declares the LORD.

"If you put your detestable idols out of my sight and no longer go astray, and if in a truthful, just and righteous way you swear, 'As surely as the LORD lives,' then the nations will be blessed by him and in him they will glory."

JUDAH CALLED TO REPENT. This is what the LORD says to the men of Judah and to Jerusalem: Jer. 4:3,4

"Break up your unplowed ground and do not sow among thorns.
Circumcise yourselves to the LORD,
circumcise your hearts,
you men of Judah and people of Jerusalem,
or my wrath will break out and burn like fire because of the evil you have done—
burn with no one to quench it.

IMPENDING FALL TO BABYLON.

Jer. 4:5-9

"Announce in Judah and proclaim in Jerusalem and say:
'Sound the trumpet throughout the land!
Cry aloud and say:
'Gather together!
Let us flee to the fortified cities!
Raise the signal to go to Zion!
Flee for safety without delay!
For I am bringing disaster from the north,
even terrible destruction."

A lion has come out of his lair;
a destroyer of nations has set out.
He has left his place
to lay waste your land.
Your towns will lie in ruins without inhabitant.
So put on sackcloth,
lament and wail,
for the fierce anger of the LORD has not turned away from us.

"In that day," declares the LORD,
"the king and the officials will lose heart,
the priests will be horrified, and the prophets will be appalled."

It is not long before Jeremiah discloses that he is not merely an instrument through whom God mechanically speaks. Jeremiah has his own feelings, doubts, and questions. He now records the first of many conversations he will have with God throughout his ministry. This one reveals Jeremiah's concern for his hearers.

Jer. 4:10 JEREMIAH QUESTIONS GOD. Then I said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD, how completely you have deceived this people and Jerusalem by saying, 'You will have peace,' when the sword is at our throats."

Jer. 4:11,12 GOD'S ANSWER. At that time this people and Jerusalem will be told, "A scorching wind from the barren heights in the desert blows toward my people, but not to winnow or cleanse; a wind too strong for that comes from me.^s Now I pronounce my judgments against them."

God reaffirms that there will indeed be peace, but not before judgment and terrible destruction which will bring agony to both God himself and his children in Judah.

Jer. 4:13-17 ADVERSARY IS COMING.

Look! He advances like the clouds, his chariots come like a whirlwind,
his horses are swifter than eagles.
Woe to us! We are ruined!
O Jerusalem, wash the evil from your heart and be saved.
How long will you harbor wicked thoughts?
A voice is announcing from Dan, proclaiming disaster from the hills of Ephraim.
"Tell this to the nations,
proclaim it to Jerusalem:
'A besieging army is coming from a distant land, raising a war cry against the cities of Judah.
They surround her like men guarding a field, because she has rebelled against me,' "

declares the LORD.

Jer. 4:18-21 GOD'S AGONY.

"Your own conduct and actions have brought this upon you.
This is your punishment.
How bitter it is!
How it pierces to the heart!"
Oh, my anguish, my anguish!
I writhe in pain.
Oh, the agony of my heart!
My heart pounds within me,
I cannot keep silent.
For I have heard the sound of the trumpet;
I have heard the battle cry.
Disaster follows disaster;
the whole land lies in ruins.
In an instant my tents are destroyed,
my shelter in a moment.

^sOr comes at my command

How long must I see the battle standard and hear the sound of the trumpet?

JUDAH'S FOOLISHNESS.

Jer. 4:22

“My people are fools;
they do not know me.
They are senseless children;
they have no understanding.
They are skilled in doing evil;
they know not how to do good.”

DISASTROUS CONSEQUENCES.

Jer. 4:23-29

I looked at the earth,
and it was formless and empty;
and at the heavens,
and their light was gone.
I looked at the mountains,
and they were quaking;
all the hills were swaying.
I looked, and there were no people;
every bird in the sky had flown away.
I looked, and the fruitful land was a desert;
all its towns lay in ruins
before the LORD, before his fierce anger.

This is what the LORD says:

“The whole land will be ruined,
though I will not destroy it completely.
Therefore the earth will mourn and the heavens above grow dark,
because I have spoken and will not relent,
I have decided and will not turn back.”

At the sound of horsemen and archers every town takes to flight.
Some go into the thickets;
some climb up among the rocks.
All the towns are deserted;
no one lives in them.

JUDAH TO BE BETRAYED.

Jer. 4:30,31

What are you doing, O devastated one?
Why dress yourself in scarlet and put on jewels of gold?
Why shade your eyes with paint?
You adorn yourself in vain.
Your lovers despise you;
they seek your life.

I hear a cry as of a woman in labor,
a groan as of one bearing her first child—
the cry of the Daughter of Zion gasping for breath, stretching out her hands and saying,

"Alas! I am fainting;
my life is given over to murderers."

Jer. 5:1,2 DISHONESTY RULES JERUSALEM.

"Go up and down the streets of Jerusalem, look around and consider,
search through her squares.
If you can find but one person who deals honestly and seeks the truth,
I will forgive this city.
Although they say, 'As surely as the LORD lives,' still they are swearing falsely."

Jer. 5:3-6 EVEN LEADERS UNFAITHFUL.

O LORD, do not your eyes look for truth?
You struck them, but they felt no pain;
you crushed them, but they refused correction.
They made their faces harder than stone and refused to repent.
I thought, "These are only the poor;
they are foolish,
for they do not know the way of the LORD,
the requirements of their God.
So I will go to the leaders and speak to them;
surely they know the way of the LORD,
the requirements of their God."
But with one accord they too had broken off the yoke and torn off the bonds.
Therefore a lion from the forest will attack them,
a wolf from the desert will ravage them,
a leopard will lie in wait near their towns to tear to pieces any who venture out, for their rebellion is great and their backslidings many.

Jer. 5:7-9 A LUSTFUL NATION.

"Why should I forgive you?
Your children have forsaken me and sworn by gods that are not gods.
I supplied all their needs,
yet they committed adultery and thronged to the houses of prostitutes.
They are well-fed, lusty stallions,
each neighing for another man's wife.
Should I not punish them for this?"
declares the LORD.
"Should I not avenge myself
on such a nation as this?"

Jer. 5:10,11 PUNISHMENT FOR INFIDELITY.

"Go through her vineyards and ravage them,

but do not destroy them completely.
 Strip off her branches,
 for these people do not belong to the LORD.
 The house of Israel and the house of Judah have been utterly unfaithful to me,"
 declares the LORD.

FALSE PROPHETS LIE.

Jer. 5:12,13

They have lied about the LORD;
 they said, "He will do nothing!
 No harm will come to us;
 we will never see sword or famine.
 The prophets are but wind and the word is not in them;
 so let what they say be done to them."

ADVERSARY WILL DEVOUR. Therefore this is what the LORD God
 Almighty says: Jer. 5:14-17

"Because the people have spoken these words,
 I will make my words in your mouth a fire and these people the wood it consumes.
 O house of Israel," declares the LORD,
 "I am bringing a distant nation against you—an ancient and enduring nation,
 a people whose language you do not know,
 whose speech you do not understand.
 Their quivers are like an open grave;
 all of them are mighty warriors.
 They will devour your harvests and food, devour your sons and daughters;
 they will devour your flocks and herds,
 devour your vines and fig trees.
 With the sword they will destroy the fortified cities in which you trust.

MEANING OF PUNISHMENT. "Yet even in those days," declares the LORD, "I will not destroy you completely. And when the people ask, 'Why has the LORD our God done all this to us?' you will tell them, 'As you have forsaken me and served foreign gods in your own land, so now you will serve foreigners in a land not your own.' Jer. 5:18,19

PEOPLE SHOULD FEAR GOD.

Jer. 5:20-25

"Announce this to the house of Jacob and proclaim it in Judah:
 Hear this, you foolish and senseless people, who have eyes but do not see,
 who have ears but do not hear:
 Should you not fear me?" declares the LORD.
 "Should you not tremble in my presence?
 I made the sand a boundary for the sea,
 an everlasting barrier it cannot cross.
 The waves may roll, but they cannot prevail;

they may roar, but they cannot cross it.
But these people have stubborn and rebellious hearts;
they have turned aside and gone away.
They do not say to themselves,
'Let us fear the LORD our God,
who gives autumn and spring rains in season,
who assures us of the regular weeks of harvest.'
Your wrongdoings have kept these away;
your sins have deprived you of good.

Jer. 5:26-29 INJUSTICE ABOUNDS.

"Among my people are wicked men who lie in wait like men who snare birds and like those who set traps to catch men.
Like cages full of birds,
their houses are full of deceit;
they have become rich and powerful and have grown fat and sleek.
Their evil deeds have no limit;
they do not plead the case of the fatherless to win it,
they do not defend the rights of the poor.
Should I not punish them for this?"
declares the LORD.
"Should I not avenge myself
on such a nation as this?"

Jer. 5:30,31 PEOPLE SUPPORT LEADERS.

"A horrible and shocking thing has happened in the land:
The prophets prophesy lies,
the priests rule by their own authority,
and my people love it this way.
But what will you do in the end?"

Jer. 6:1-8 SIEGE OF JERUSALEM.

"Flee for safety, people of Benjamin!
Flee from Jerusalem!
Sound the trumpet in Tekoa!
Raise the signal over Beth Hakkerem!
For disaster looms out of the north,
even terrible destruction.
I will destroy the Daughter of Zion,
so beautiful and delicate.
Shepherds with their flocks will come against her;
they will pitch their tents around her,
each tending his own portion."
"Prepare for battle against her!
Arise, let us attack at noon!
But, alas, the daylight is fading,
and the shadows of evening grow long.
So arise, let us attack at night and destroy her fortresses!"

This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Cut down the trees
and build siege ramps against Jerusalem.
This city must be punished;
it is filled with oppression.
As a well pours out its water,
so she pours out her wickedness.
Violence and destruction resound in her;
her sickness and wounds are ever before me.
Take warning, O Jerusalem, or I will turn away from you and make your land desolate
so no one can live in it."

EVERYONE IN JEOPARDY. This is what the LORD Almighty says: Jer. 6:9-12

"Let them glean the remnant of Israel
as thoroughly as a vine;
pass your hand over the branches again,
like one gathering grapes."

To whom can I speak and give warning?
Who will listen to me?
Their ears are closed¹
so they cannot hear.
The word of the LORD is offensive to them;
they find no pleasure in it.
But I am full of the wrath of the LORD,
and I cannot hold it in.

"Pour it out on the children in the street and on the young men gathered together;
both husband and wife will be caught in it,
and the old, those weighed down with years.
Their houses will be turned over to others,
together with their fields and their wives,
when I stretch out my hand against those who live in the land,"

declares the LORD.

LEADERS DECEIVE. Jer. 6:13,14

"From the least to the greatest,
all are greedy for gain;
prophets and priests alike,
all practice deceit.
They dress the wound of my people
as though it were not serious.
'Peace, peace,' they say,
when there is no peace.

¹Hebrew uncircumcised

Jer. 6:15 SINNERS UNASHAMED.

Are they ashamed of their loathsome conduct?
 No, they have no shame at all;
 they do not even know how to blush.
 So they will fall among the fallen;
 they will be brought down when I punish them,"
 says the LORD.

Jer. 6:16-21 ANCIENT PATHS IGNORED. This is what the LORD says:

"Stand at the crossroads and look;
 ask for the ancient paths,
 ask where the good way is, and walk in it,
 and you will find rest for your souls.
 But you said, 'We will not walk in it.'
 I appointed watchmen over you and said,
 'Listen to the sound of the trumpet!'
 But you said, 'We will not listen.'
 Therefore hear, O nations;
 observe, O witnesses,
 what will happen to them.
 Hear, O earth:
 I am bringing disaster on this people,
 the fruit of their schemes,
 because they have not listened to my words and have rejected my law.
 What do I care about incense from Sheba or sweet calamus from a distant land?
 Your burnt offerings are not acceptable;
 your sacrifices do not please me."

Therefore this is what the LORD says:

"I will put obstacles before this people.
 Fathers and sons alike will stumble over them;
 neighbors and friends will perish."

Jer. 6:22-26 CRUELTY OF ADVERSARY. This is what the LORD says:

"Look, an army is coming from the land of the north;
 a great nation is being stirred up from the ends of the earth.
 They are armed with bow and spear;
 they are cruel and show no mercy.
 They sound like the roaring sea
 as they ride on their horses;
 they come like men in battle formation
 to attack you, O Daughter of Zion."
 We have heard reports about them,
 and our hands hang limp.
 Anguish has gripped us,
 pain like that of a woman in labor.
 Do not go out to the fields or walk on the roads,

 for the enemy has a sword,
 and there is terror on every side.
 O my people, put on sackcloth and roll in ashes;
 mourn with bitter wailing
 as for an only son, for suddenly the destroyer will come upon us.

JUDAH AS IMPURE METAL.

Jer. 6:27-30

"I have made you a tester of metals and my people the ore, that you may observe and test their ways.
 They are all hardened rebels,
 going about to slander.
 They are bronze and iron;
 they all act corruptly.
 The bellows blow fiercely to burn away the lead with fire, but the refining goes on in vain;
 the wicked are not purged out.
 They are called rejected silver,
 because the LORD has rejected them."

FALSE RELIGIOSITY CONDEMNED. This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: "Stand at the gate of the LORD's house and there proclaim this message:

Jer. 7:1-11

"Hear the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah who come through these gates to worship the LORD. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Reform your ways and your actions, and I will let you live in this place. Do not trust in deceptive words and say, "This is the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD!" If you really change your ways and your actions and deal with each other justly, if you do not oppress the alien, the fatherless or the widow and do not shed innocent blood in this place, and if you do not follow other gods to your own harm, then I will let you live in this place, in the land I gave your forefathers for ever and ever. But look, you are trusting in deceptive words that are worthless.

"Will you steal and murder, commit adultery and perjury," burn incense to Baal and follow other gods you have not known, and then come and stand before me in this house, which bears my Name, and say, "We are safe"—safe to do all these detestable things? Has this house, which bears my Name, become a den of robbers to you? But I have been watching! declares the LORD.

TEMPLE TO BE DESTROYED. "Go now to the place in Shiloh where I first made a dwelling for my Name, and see what I did to it because of the wickedness of my people Israel. While you were doing all these things, declares the LORD, I spoke to you again and again, but you did not listen;

Jer. 7:12-15

"Or and swear by false gods

I called you, but you did not answer. Therefore, what I did to Shiloh I will now do to the house that bears my Name, the temple you trust in, the place I gave to you and your fathers. I will thrust you from my presence, just as I did all your brothers, the people of Ephraim.'

Jer. 7:16-20 IDOLATERS HARM THEMSELVES. "So do not pray for this people nor offer any plea or petition for them; do not plead with me, for I will not listen to you. Do you not see what they are doing in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem? The children gather wood, the fathers light the fire, and the women knead the dough and make cakes of bread for the Queen of Heaven. They pour out drink offerings to other gods to provoke me to anger. But am I the one they are provoking? declares the LORD. Are they not rather harming themselves, to their own shame?

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: My anger and my wrath will be poured out on this place, on man and beast, on the trees of the field and on the fruit of the ground, and it will burn and not be quenched.

Jer. 7:21-26 ISRAEL ALWAYS STUBBORN. "This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Go ahead, add your burnt offerings to your other sacrifices and eat the meat yourselves! For when I brought your forefathers out of Egypt and spoke to them, I did not just give them commands about burnt offerings and sacrifices, but I gave them this command: Obey me, and I will be your God and you will be my people. Walk in all the ways I command you, that it may go well with you. But they did not listen or pay attention; instead, they followed the stubborn inclinations of their evil hearts. They went backward and not forward. From the time your forefathers left Egypt until now, day after day, again and again I sent you my servants the prophets. But they did not listen to me or pay attention. They were stiff-necked and did more evil than their forefathers.'

Jer. 7:27-29 JEREMIAH TO BE REJECTED. "When you tell them all this, they will not listen to you; when you call to them, they will not answer. Therefore say to them, 'This is the nation that has not obeyed the LORD its God or responded to correction. Truth has perished; it has vanished from their lips. Cut off your hair and throw it away; take up a lament on the barren heights, for the LORD has rejected and abandoned this generation that is under his wrath.

Jer. 7:30-34 THE VALLEY OF SLAUGHTER. "The people of Judah have done evil in my eyes, declares the LORD. They have set up their detestable idols in the house that bears my Name and have defiled it. They have built the high places of Topheth in the Valley of Ben Hinnom to burn their sons and daughters in the fire—something I did not command, nor did it enter my mind. So beware, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when people will no longer call it Topheth or the Valley of Ben Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter, for they will bury the dead in Topheth until there is no more room. Then the carcasses of this people will become food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth, and there will be no one to frighten them away. I will bring an end to the sounds of joy and gladness and to the voices of bride and bridegroom in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem, for the land will become desolate.

Jer. 8:1-3 BONES TO BE EXPOSED. "At that time, declares the LORD, the bones of the kings and officials of Judah, the bones of the priests and prophets, and the bones of the people of Jerusalem will be removed from their graves. They will be exposed to the sun and the moon and all the stars of the heavens, which they have loved and served and which they have followed and consulted and worshiped. They will not be gathered up or buried, but will be like refuse lying on the ground. Wherever I banish them, all the survivors of this evil nation will prefer death to life, declares the LORD Almighty.'

ISRAEL REFUSES TO RETURN. "Say to them, 'This is what the LORD says: Jer. 8:4-7

"When men fall down, do they not get up?
 When a man turns away, does he not return?
 Why then have these people turned away?
 Why does Jerusalem always turn away?
 They cling to deceit;
 they refuse to return.
 I have listened attentively,
 but they do not say what is right.
 No one repents of his wickedness, saying, "What have I done?"
 Each pursues his own course like a horse charging into battle.
 Even the stork in the sky knows her appointed seasons, and the dove, the swift and the thrush observe the time of their migration.
 But my people do not know the requirements of the LORD.

SCRIBES HAVE MISHANDLED LAW.

Jer. 8:8,9

"How can you say, "We are wise, for we have the law of the LORD," when actually the lying pen of the scribes has handled it falsely?
 The wise will be put to shame;
 they will be dismayed and trapped.
 Since they have rejected the word of the LORD, what kind of wisdom do they have?

LEADERS AGAIN REBUKED.

Jer. 8:10-12

Therefore I will give their wives to other men and their fields to new owners.
 From the least to the greatest,
 all are greedy for gain;
 prophets and priests alike,
 all practice deceit.
 They dress the wound of my people
 as though it were not serious.
 "Peace, peace," they say,
 when there is no peace.
 Are they ashamed of their loathsome conduct?
 No, they have no shame at all;

they do not even know how to blush.
 So they will fall among the fallen;
 they will be brought down when they are punished,
 says the LORD.

Jer. 8:13 DEPRIVATION COMING.

“ I will take away their harvest,
 declares the LORD.

There will be no grapes on the vine.
 There will be no figs on the tree,
 and their leaves will wither.
 What I have given them will be taken from them. ^v ’ ’ ”

Jer. 8:14-17 DESTRUCTION FOR SINS.

“Why are we sitting here?
 Gather together!
 Let us flee to the fortified cities
 and perish there!
 For the LORD our God has doomed us to perish and given us poisoned water to drink, because we have sinned against him.
 We hoped for peace
 but no good has come,
 for a time of healing
 but there was only terror.
 The snorting of the enemy’s horses is heard from Dan;
 at the neighing of their stallions
 the whole land trembles.
 They have come to devour
 the land and everything in it,
 the city and all who live there.”

“See, I will send venomous snakes among you, vipers that cannot be charmed,
 and they will bite you,”

declares the LORD.

Jer.
 8:18-9:2 GOD’S SORROW.

O my Comforter^w in sorrow,
 my heart is faint within me.
 Listen to the cry of my people
 from a land far away:
 “Is the LORD not in Zion?
 Is her King no longer there?”

“Why have they provoked me to anger with their images, with their worthless foreign idols?”

^vThe meaning of the Hebrew for this sentence is uncertain.

^wThe meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

"The harvest is past,
the summer has ended,
and we are not saved."

Since my people are crushed, I am crushed;
I mourn, and horror grips me.
Is there no balm in Gilead?
Is there no physician there?

Why then is there no healing for the wound of my people?
Oh, that my head were a spring of water and my eyes a fountain of tears!
I would weep day and night for the slain of my people.
Oh, that I had in the desert
a lodging place for travelers, so that I might leave my people
and go away from them;
for they are all adulterers,
a crowd of unfaithful people.

NATION OF LIARS.

Jer. 9:3-9

"They make ready their tongue like a bow, to shoot lies;
it is not by truth
that they triumph^x in the land.
They go from one sin to another;
they do not acknowledge me,"

declares the LORD.

"Beware of your friends;
do not trust your brothers.
For every brother is a deceiver,^y and every friend a slanderer.
Friend deceives friend,
and no one speaks the truth.
They have taught their tongues to lie;
they weary themselves with sinning.
You^z live in the midst of deception;
in their deceit they refuse to acknowledge me,"

declares the LORD.

Therefore this is what the LORD Almighty says:

"See, I will refine and test them,
for what else can I do
because of the sin of my people?
Their tongue is a deadly arrow;
it speaks with deceit.
With his mouth each speaks cordially to his neighbor,

^xOr lies; / they are not valiant for truth Hebrew is singular)

^yOr a deceiving Jacob

^zThat is, Jeremiah (the

but in his heart he sets a trap for him.
Should I not punish them for this?"
declares the LORD.
"Should I not avenge myself
on such a nation as this?"

Jer. 9:10,11 THOROUGHNESS OF DESTRUCTION.

I will weep and wail for the mountains and take up a lament concerning the desert pastures.
They are desolate and untraveled,
and the lowing of cattle is not heard.
The birds of the air have fled and the animals are gone.

"I will make Jerusalem a heap of ruins,
a haunt of jackals;
and I will lay waste the towns of Judah
so no one can live there."

Jer. 9:12-16 REASON FOR DESTRUCTION. What man is wise enough to understand this? Who has been instructed by the LORD and can explain it? Why has the land been ruined and laid waste like a desert that no one can cross? The LORD said, "It is because they have forsaken my law, which I set before them; they have not obeyed me or followed my law. Instead, they have followed the stubbornness of their hearts; they have followed the Baals, as their fathers taught them." Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "See, I will make this people eat bitter food and drink poisoned water. I will scatter them among nations that neither they nor their fathers have known, and I will pursue them with the sword until I have destroyed them."

Jer. 9:17-22 WAILING FOR ZION. This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Consider now! Call for the wailing women to come;
send for the most skillful of them.
Let them come quickly and wail over us
till our eyes overflow with tears and water streams from our eyelids.
The sound of wailing is heard from Zion:
'How ruined we are!
How great is our shame!
We must leave our land
because our houses are in ruins.'"

Now, O women, hear the word of the LORD;
open your ears to the words of his mouth.
Teach your daughters how to wail;
teach one another a lament.
Death has climbed in through our windows and has entered our fortresses;
it has cut off the children from the streets and the young men from the public squares.

Say, "This is what the LORD declares:

“The dead bodies of men will lie like refuse on the open field, like cut grain behind the reaper,
with no one to gather them.”

PROPER BOASTING. This is what the LORD says:

Jer. 9:23,24

“Let not the wise man boast of his wisdom or the strong man boast of his strength or the rich man boast of his riches, but let him who boasts boast about this:
that he understands and knows me,
that I am the LORD, who exercises kindness, justice and righteousness on earth,
for in these I delight,”

declares the LORD.

CIRCUMCISION NO GUARANTEE. “The days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will punish all who are circumcised only in the flesh—Egypt, Judah, Edom, Ammon, Moab and all who live in the desert in distant places.^a For all these nations are really uncircumcised, and even the whole house of Israel is uncircumcised in heart.”

Jer. 9:25,26

IMPOTENCE OF IDOLS. Hear what the LORD says to you, O house of Israel. This is what the LORD says:

Jer. 10:1-5

“Do not learn the ways of the nations or be terrified by signs in the sky, though the nations are terrified by them.
For the customs of the peoples are worthless;
they cut a tree out of the forest,
and a craftsman shapes it with his chisel.
They adorn it with silver and gold;
they fasten it with hammer and nails
so it will not totter.
Like a scarecrow in a melon patch,
their idols cannot speak;
they must be carried
because they cannot walk.
Do not fear them;
they can do no harm
nor can they do any good.”

IDOLS COMPARED WITH GOD.

Jer. 10:6-10

No one is like you, O LORD;
you are great,
and your name is mighty in power.
Who should not revere you,
O King of the nations?
This is your due.
Among all the wise men of the nations and in all their kingdoms,
there is no one like you.

^aOr desert and who clip the hair by their foreheads

They are all senseless and foolish;
 they are taught by worthless wooden idols.
 Hammered silver is brought from Tarshish and gold from Uphaz.
 What the craftsman and goldsmith have made is then dressed in blue and purple—all made by skilled workers.
 But the LORD is the true God;
 he is the living God, the eternal King.
 When he is angry, the earth trembles;
 the nations cannot endure his wrath.

Jer.
 10:11-13

JEHOVAH CREATED UNIVERSE. "Tell them this: 'These gods, who did not make the heavens and the earth, will perish from the earth and from under the heavens.'"^b

But God made the earth by his power;
 he founded the world by his wisdom
 and stretched out the heavens by his understanding.
 When he thunders, the waters in the heavens roar;
 he makes clouds rise from the ends of the earth.
 He sends lightning with the rain
 and brings out the wind from his storehouses.

Jer.
 10:14-16

IDOLS CREATED BY MAN.

Everyone is senseless and without knowledge;
 every goldsmith is shamed by his idols.
 His images are a fraud;
 they have no breath in them.
 They are worthless, the objects of mockery;
 when their judgment comes, they will perish.
 He who is the Portion of Jacob is not like these,
 for he is the Maker of all things, including Israel, the tribe of his inheritance—
 the LORD Almighty is his name.

Jer.
 10:17-22

CAPTIVITY IS COMING.

Gather up your belongings to leave the land,
 you who live under siege.
 For this is what the LORD says:
 "At this time I will hurl out those who live in this land;
 I will bring distress on them
 so that they may be captured."
 Woe to me because of my injury!
 My wound is incurable!
 Yet I said to myself,
 "This is my sickness, and I must endure it."
 My tent is destroyed;
 all its ropes are snapped.

^bThe text of this verse is in Aramaic.

My sons are gone from me and are no more;
 no one is left now to pitch my tent or to set up my shelter.
 The shepherds are senseless and do not inquire of the LORD;
 so they do not prosper
 and all their flock is scattered.
 Listen! The report is coming—
 a great commotion from the land of the north!
 It will make the towns of Judah desolate,
 a haunt of jackals.

PRAYER AGAINST NATIONS.

Jer.
10:23-25

I know, O LORD, that a man's life is not his own;
 it is not for man to direct his steps.
 Correct me, LORD, but only with justice—not in your anger,
 lest you reduce me to nothing.
 Pour out your wrath on the nations
 that do not acknowledge you,
 on the peoples who do not call on your name.
 For they have devoured Jacob;
 they have devoured him completely and destroyed his homeland.

COVENANT HAS BEEN BROKEN. This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: "Listen to the terms of this covenant and tell them to the people of Judah and to those who live in Jerusalem. Tell them that this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Cursed is the man who does not obey the terms of this covenant—the terms I commanded your forefathers when I brought them out of Egypt, out of the iron-smelting furnace.' I said, 'Obey me and do everything I command you, and you will be my people, and I will be your God. Then I will fulfill the oath I swore to your forefathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey'—the land you possess today."

Jer. 11:1-5

I answered, "Amen, LORD."

COVENANT'S CURSES INVOKED. The LORD said to me, "Proclaim all these words in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem: 'Listen to the terms of this covenant and follow them. From the time I brought your forefathers up from Egypt until today, I warned them again and again, saying, "Obey me." But they did not listen or pay attention; instead, they followed the stubbornness of their evil hearts. So I brought on them all the curses of the covenant I had commanded them to follow but that they did not keep.'"

Jer. 11:6-8

IDOLATRY BROKE COVENANT. Then the LORD said to me, "There is a conspiracy among the people of Judah and those who live in Jerusalem. They have returned to the sins of their forefathers, who refused to listen to my words. They have followed other gods to serve them. Both the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken the covenant I made with their forefathers. Therefore this is what the LORD says: 'I will bring on them a disaster they cannot escape. Although they cry out to me, I will not listen to them. The towns of Judah and the people of Jerusalem will go and cry out to the gods to whom they burn incense, but they will not help them at all when disaster strikes. You have as many gods as you have towns, O Judah; and the altars you have set up to burn incense to that shameful god Baal are as many as the streets of Jerusalem.'

Jer. 11:9-13

Jer. 11:14 TOO LATE TO PRAY. "Do not pray for this people nor offer any plea or petition for them, because I will not listen when they call to me in the time of their distress.

Jer. 11:15-17 PAGANISM PROVOKES ANGER.

"What is my beloved doing in my temple
as she works out her evil schemes with many?
Can consecrated meat avert your punishment?
When you engage in your wickedness,
then you rejoice.^c"

The LORD called you a thriving olive tree with fruit beautiful in form.
But with the roar of a mighty storm
he will set it on fire, and its branches will be broken.

The LORD Almighty, who planted you, has decreed disaster for you, because the house of Israel and the house of Judah have done evil and provoked me to anger by burning incense to Baal.

All of this "hard preaching" finally brings violent reaction, and there is a plot against Jeremiah by the men of his own hometown. (Surely it is true that "a prophet is not without honor except in his own country.") But God exposes the plot and saves Jeremiah, who recalls his naiveté in not recognizing the plot sooner.

Jer. 11:18-23 PLOT AGAINST JEREMIAH. Because the LORD revealed their plot to me, I knew it, for at that time he showed me what they were doing. I had been like a gentle lamb led to the slaughter; I did not realize that they had plotted against me, saying,

"Let us destroy the tree and its fruit;
let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name be remembered no more."
But, O LORD Almighty, you who judge righteously and test the heart and mind,
let me see your vengeance upon them,
for to you I have committed my cause.

"Therefore this is what the LORD says about the men of Anathoth who are seeking your life and saying, 'Do not prophesy in the name of the LORD or you will die by our hands'— therefore this is what the LORD Almighty says: 'I will punish them. Their young men will die by the sword, their sons and daughters by famine. Not even a remnant will be left to them, because I will bring disaster on the men of Anathoth in the year of their punishment.'"

^cOr Could consecrated meat avert your punishment? / Then you would rejoice

Perhaps because of this first brush with serious persecution, Jeremiah feels the need to be reassured both of his mission and of God's support. He is probably both frightened and angry at the thought of what almost happened to him. It is possible, therefore, that this experience prompts the following exchange between Jeremiah and God.

JEREMIAH ANGRY AT DELAY.

Jer. 12:1-4

You are always righteous, O LORD,
 when I bring a case before you.
 Yet I would speak with you about your justice:
 Why does the way of the wicked prosper?
 Why do all the faithless live at ease?
 You have planted them, and they have taken root;
 they grow and bear fruit.
 You are always on their lips
 but far from their hearts.
 Yet you know me, O LORD;
 you see me and test my thoughts about you.
 Drag them off like sheep to be butchered!
 Set them apart for the day of slaughter!
 How long will the land lie parched^d and the grass in every field be withered?
 Because those who live in it are wicked,
 the animals and birds have perished.
 Moreover, the people are saying,
 "He will not see what happens to us."

GOD ANSWERS JEREMIAH.

Jer. 12:5-17

"If you have raced with men on foot and they have worn you out,
 how can you compete with horses?
 If you stumble in safe country,^e
 how will you manage in the thickets by^f the Jordan?
 Your brothers, your own family—
 even they have betrayed you;
 they have raised a loud cry against you.
 Do not trust them,
 though they speak well of you.
 "I will forsake my house,
 abandon my inheritance;
 I will give the one I love into the hands of her enemies.
 My inheritance has become to me like a lion in the forest.
 She roars at me;
 therefore I hate her.
 Has not my inheritance become to me like a speckled bird of prey that other birds of prey surround and attack?"

^dOr land mourn

^eOr If you put your trust in a land of safety

^fOr the flooding of

Go and gather all the wild beasts;
 bring them to devour.
 Many shepherds will ruin my vineyard and trample down my field;
 they will turn my pleasant field into a desolate wasteland.
 It will be made a wasteland, parched and desolate before me;
 the whole land will be laid waste because there is no one who cares.
 Over all the barren heights in the desert destroyers will swarm,
 for the sword of the LORD will devour from one end of the land to the other;
 no one will be safe.
 They will sow wheat but reap thorns;
 they will wear themselves out but gain nothing.
 So bear the shame of your harvest because of the LORD's fierce anger."

This is what the LORD says: "As for all my wicked neighbors who seize the inheritance I gave my people Israel, I will uproot them from their lands and I will uproot the house of Judah from among them. But after I uproot them, I will again have compassion and will bring each of them back to his own inheritance and his own country. And if they learn well the ways of my people and swear by my name, saying, 'As surely as the LORD lives'—even as they once taught my people to swear by Baal—then they will be established among my people. But if any nation does not listen, I will completely uproot and destroy it," declares the LORD. ☞

In order to give Jeremiah even further assurance, God now makes a tangible demonstration of his plans.

Jer. 13:1-11 LINEN BELT A SIGN. This is what the LORD said to me: "Go and buy a linen belt and put it around your waist, but do not let it touch water." So I bought a belt, as the LORD directed, and put it around my waist.

Then the word of the LORD came to me a second time: "Take the belt you bought and are wearing around your waist, and go now to Perath^s and hide it there in a crevice in the rocks." So I went and hid it at Perath, as the LORD told me.

Many days later the LORD said to me, "Go now to Perath and get the belt I told you to hide there." So I went to Perath and dug up the belt and took it from the place where I had hidden it, but now it was ruined and completely useless.

Then the word of the LORD came to me: "This is what the LORD says: 'In the same way I will ruin the pride of Judah and the great pride of Jerusalem. These wicked people, who refuse to listen to my words, who follow the stubbornness of their hearts and go after other gods to serve and worship them, will be like this belt—completely useless! For as a belt is bound around a man's waist, so I bound the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah to me,' declares the LORD, 'to be my people for my renown and praise and honor. But they have not listened.'

Strengthened and encouraged by this demonstration, Jeremiah continues his difficult mission.

WARNING OF WINESKINS. "Say to them: 'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Every wineskin should be filled with wine.' And if they say to you, 'Don't we know that every wineskin should be filled with wine?' then tell them, 'This is what the LORD says: I am going to fill with drunkenness all who live in this land, including the kings who sit on David's throne, the priests, the prophets and all those living in Jerusalem. I will smash them one against the other, fathers and sons alike, declares the LORD. I will allow no pity or mercy or compassion to keep me from destroying them.'"

Jer.
13:12-14

THREAT OF CAPTIVITY.

Jer.
13:15-17

Hear and pay attention,
do not be arrogant,
for the LORD has spoken.
Give glory to the LORD your God before he brings the darkness, before your feet stumble
on the darkening hills.
You hope for light,
but he will turn it to thick darkness and change it to deep gloom.
But if you do not listen,
I will weep in secret
because of your pride;
my eyes will weep bitterly,
overflowing with tears,
because the LORD's flock will be taken captive.

JEHOIACHIN TO BE EXILED.

Jer.
13:18,19

Say to the king and to the queen mother,
"Come down from your thrones, for your glorious crowns will fall from your heads."
The cities in the Negev will be shut up,
and there will be no one to open them.
All Judah will be carried into exile, carried completely away.

ALLIES WILL BE CAPTORS.

Jer.
13:20,21

Lift up your eyes and see those who are coming from the north.
Where is the flock that was entrusted to you,
the sheep of which you boasted?
What will you say when the LORD sets over you those you cultivated as your special allies?

Will not pain grip you like that of a woman in labor?

Jer.
13:22-27

SINS ARE THE CAUSE.

And if you ask yourself,
"Why has this happened to me?"—
it is because of your many sins that your skirts have been torn off and your body mistreated.
Can the Ethiopian^h change his skin or the leopard its spots?
Neither can you do good who are accustomed to doing evil.

"I will scatter you like chaff driven by the desert wind.
This is your lot,
the portion I have decreed for you,"

declares the LORD,

"because you have forgotten me
and trusted in false gods.
I will pull up your skirts over your face that your shame may be seen—your adulteries and lustful neighings, your shameless prostitution!
I have seen your detestable acts on the hills and in the fields.
Woe to you, O Jerusalem!
How long will you be unclean?"

Jer. 14:1-6

DESTRUCTION LIKE DROUGHT. This is the word of the LORD to Jeremiah concerning the drought:

"Judah mourns,
her cities languish;
they wail for the land,
and a cry goes up from Jerusalem.
The nobles send their servants for water;
they go to the cisterns
but find no water.
They return with their jars unfilled;
dismayed and despairing,
they cover their heads.
The ground is cracked
because there is no rain in the land;
the farmers are dismayed and cover their heads.
Even the doe in the field deserts her newborn fawn because there is no grass.
Wild donkeys stand on the barren heights and pant like jackals;

^hHebrew Cushite (probably a person from the upper Nile region)

their eyesight fails for lack of pasture."

HOW JUDAH WILL PRAY.

Jer. 14:7-9

Although our sins testify against us,
O LORD, do something for the sake of your name.
For our backsliding is great;
we have sinned against you.
O Hope of Israel,
its Savior in times of distress,
why are you like a stranger in the land,
like a traveler who stays only a night?
Why are you like a man taken by surprise,
like a warrior powerless to save?
You are among us, O LORD,
and we bear your name;
do not forsake us!

PRAYERS USELESS. This is what the LORD says about this people:

Jer.
14:10-12

"They greatly love to wander;
they do not restrain their feet.
So the LORD does not accept them;
he will now remember their wickedness
and punish them for their sins."

Then the LORD said to me, "Do not pray for the well-being of this people. Although they fast, I will not listen to their cry; though they offer burnt offerings and grain offerings, I will not accept them. Instead, I will destroy them with the sword, famine and plague."

When Jeremiah prophesies about Judah's impending peril, the people turn to other prophets. They undoubtedly want a second opinion. After all, in an age of prophets, with many speaking in God's name and many claiming to know his will, it is not that easy to distinguish the true from the false. The people, therefore, search for a message more favorable and comforting than that of Jeremiah.

Perhaps even Jeremiah is once again wavering in his confidence. (Why should he alone be preaching doom? Could he be misunderstanding God's revelations? Is it possible that the other prophets are right?) Or perhaps Jeremiah is fully assured in his own mind but needs to know how to respond to his opposition. Whatever his reason, Jeremiah puts the question to God and receives a clear response.

JEREMIAH'S QUESTION. But I said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD, the prophets keep telling them, 'You will not see the sword or suffer famine. Indeed, I will give you lasting peace in this place.'"

Jer. 14:13

GOD'S RESPONSE. Then the LORD said to me, "The prophets are prophesying lies in my name. I have not sent them or appointed them or spoken to them. They are prophesying to you false visions, divinations, idolatriesⁱ and the delusions of their own minds. Therefore, this is what the LORD says about the prophets who are prophesying in my name: I did not send them, yet they are saying, 'No sword or famine will touch this land.' Those same prophets will perish by sword and famine. And the people they are prophesying to will be thrown out into the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and sword. There will be no one to bury them or their wives, their sons or their daughters. I will pour out on them the calamity they deserve.

Jer.
14:14-18

"Speak this word to them:

" 'Let my eyes overflow with tears night and day without ceasing; for my virgin daughter—my people—has suffered a grievous wound,
 a crushing blow.
 If I go into the country,
 I see those slain by the sword;
 if I go into the city,
 I see the ravages of famine.
 Both prophet and priest have gone to a land they know not.' "

Surely there are some who understand and believe Jeremiah's preaching. Surely there are righteous individuals left in this sinful nation. (King Josiah, for example, has already begun the first of what will be many reforms.) Therefore it is likely that those who are still trying to do God's will are praying fervently for God to refrain from bringing judgment against Judah. Why, they ask, must they be punished at a time of righteous renewal? Jeremiah frames the issue in the form of a prayer, and receives what appears to be a harsh answer.

Jer.
 14:19-22

PRAYER OF THE JUST.

Have you rejected Judah completely?
 Do you despise Zion?
 Why have you afflicted us
 so that we cannot be healed?
 We hoped for peace
 but no good has come,
 for a time of healing
 but there is only terror.
 O LORD, we acknowledge our wickedness and the guilt of our fathers;
 we have indeed sinned against you.
 For the sake of your name do not despise us;
 do not dishonor your glorious throne.
 Remember your covenant with us and do not break it.
 Do any of the worthless idols of the nations bring rain?
 Do the skies themselves send down showers?

ⁱOr visions, worthless divinations

No, it is you, O LORD our God.
Therefore our hope is in you,
for you are the one who does all this.

SENTENCE ALREADY PASSED. Then the LORD said to me: "Even if Jer. 15:1,2 Moses and Samuel were to stand before me, my heart would not go out to this people. Send them away from my presence! Let them go! And if they ask you, 'Where shall we go?' tell them, 'This is what the LORD says:

"Those destined for death, to death;
those for the sword, to the sword;
those for starvation, to starvation;
those for captivity, to captivity.'

FOUR EXECUTIONS. "I will send four kinds of destroyers against Jer. 15:3,4 them," declares the LORD, "the sword to kill and the dogs to drag away and the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth to devour and destroy.
I will make them abhorrent to all the kingdoms of the earth because of what Manasseh son of Hezekiah king of Judah did in Jerusalem.

COMPASSION PREVENTED. Jer. 15:5-9

"Who will have pity on you, O Jerusalem?
Who will mourn for you?
Who will stop to ask how you are?
You have rejected me," declares the LORD.
"You keep on backsliding.
So I will lay hands on you and destroy you;
I can no longer show compassion.
I will winnow them with a winnowing fork at the city gates of the land.
I will bring bereavement and destruction on my people,
for they have not changed their ways.
I will make their widows more numerous than the sand of the sea.
At midday I will bring a destroyer against the mothers of their young men;
suddenly I will bring down on them anguish and terror.
The mother of seven will grow faint and breathe her last.
Her sun will set while it is still day;
she will be disgraced and humiliated.
I will put the survivors to the sword before their enemies,"

declares the LORD.

How can God be so cruel in his rejection of their plea? His response is that the nation is condemned for its corporate sins. And judgment against the nation has been accruing for many years, particularly since Manasseh reintroduced idolatry in Judah. Moreover, God knows that many people who have sincerely turned to him for a time will later backslide and turn away. So at this time in history God's compassion is cautious.

Because of this, Jeremiah finds it necessary not only to rebuke the wicked but also to tell believers that even their prayers may not be answered positively. Jeremiah is obviously exasperated by the weight of it all.

Jer. 15:10 JEREMIAH FEELS PRESSURE.

Alas, my mother, that you gave me birth,
a man with whom the whole land strives and contends!
I have neither lent nor borrowed,
yet everyone curses me.

Jer. 15:11 GOD REASSURES. The LORD said,

“Surely I will deliver you for a good purpose;
surely I will make your enemies plead with you in times of disaster and times of distress.

Jer. 15:12-14 THE DISASTER SPECIFIED.

“Can a man break iron—iron from the north—or bronze?
Your wealth and your treasures
I will give as plunder, without charge, because of all your sins
throughout your country.
I will enslave you to your enemies
inⁱ a land you do not know, for my anger will kindle a fire that will burn against you.”

Jer. 15:15-18 JEREMIAH COMPLAINS.

You understand, O LORD;
remember me and care for me.
Avenge me on my persecutors.
You are long-suffering—do not take me away;
think of how I suffer reproach for your sake.
When your words came, I ate them;
they were my joy and my heart’s delight,
for I bear your name,
O LORD God Almighty.
I never sat in the company of revelers,
never made merry with them;
I sat alone because your hand was on me and you had filled me with indignation.
Why is my pain unending and my wound grievous and incurable?
Will you be to me like a deceptive brook,
like a spring that fails?

Jer. 15:19-21 GOD CHASTISES JEREMIAH. Therefore this is what the LORD says:

“If you repent, I will restore you that you may serve me;

ⁱSome Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Syriac (see also Jer. 17:4); most Hebrew manuscripts I will cause your enemies to bring you / into

if you utter worthy, not worthless, words, you will be my spokesman.
 Let this people turn to you,
 but you must not turn to them.
 I will make you a wall to this people,
 a fortified wall of bronze;
 they will fight against you but will not overcome you, for I am with you
 to rescue and save you,"

declares the LORD.

"I will save you from the hands of the wicked and redeem you from the grasp of the cruel."

At the very time he is most discouraged, Jeremiah is instructed that more sacrifice is in store. He is not to marry, attend funerals, or join in festive celebrations.

JEREMIAH NOT TO MARRY. Then the word of the LORD came to me: Jer. 16:1-4
 "You must not marry and have sons or daughters in this place." For this is what the LORD says about the sons and daughters born in this land and about the women who are their mothers and the men who are their fathers: "They will die of deadly diseases. They will not be mourned or buried but will be like refuse lying on the ground. They will perish by sword and famine, and their dead bodies will become food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth."

JEREMIAH NOT TO MOURN. For this is what the LORD says: Jer. 16:5-7
 "Do not enter a house where there is a funeral meal; do not go to mourn or show sympathy, because I have withdrawn my blessing, my love and my pity from this people," declares the LORD. "Both high and low will die in this land. They will not be buried or mourned, and no one will cut himself or shave his head for them. No one will offer food to comfort those who mourn for the dead—not even for a father or a mother—nor will anyone give them a drink to console them."

JEREMIAH NOT TO FEAST. "And do not enter a house where there is Jer. 16:8,9 feasting and sit down to eat and drink. For this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Before your eyes and in your days I will bring an end to the sounds of joy and gladness and to the voices of bride and bridegroom in this place."

MESSAGE TO BE PREACHED. "When you tell these people all this and they ask you, 'Why has the LORD decreed such a great disaster against us? What wrong have we done? What sin have we committed against the LORD our God?' then say to them, 'It is because your fathers forsook me,' declares the LORD, 'and followed other gods and served and worshiped them. They forsook me and did not keep my law. But you have behaved more wickedly than your fathers. See how each of you is following the stubbornness of his evil heart instead of obeying me. So I will throw you out of this land into a land neither you nor your fathers have known, and there you will serve other gods day and night, for I will show you no favor.'

"However, the days are coming," declares the LORD, "when men will no longer say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the Israelites up out of Egypt,' but they will say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the Israelites up out of the land of the north and out of all the countries where he had banished them.' For I will restore them to the land I gave their forefathers.

"But now I will send for many fishermen," declares the LORD, "and they will catch them. After that I will send for many hunters, and they will hunt them down on every mountain and hill and from the crevices of the rocks. My eyes are on all their ways; they are not hidden from me, nor is their sin concealed from my eyes. I will repay them double for their wickedness and their sin, because they have defiled my land with the lifeless forms of their vile images and have filled my inheritance with their detestable idols."

O LORD, my strength and my fortress,
 my refuge in time of distress, to you the nations will come from the ends of the earth and say,
 "Our fathers possessed nothing but false gods, worthless idols that did them no good.
 Do men make their own gods?
 Yes, but they are not gods!"

"Therefore I will teach them—this time I will teach them my power and might.
 Then they will know that my name is the LORD.

To Jeremiah's credit, he rises to the occasion and subordinates his personal feelings. Of course, Jeremiah's persevering character was known to God, and that may be why God called him to this demanding ministry. (Calling one to difficult service may actually be God's way of honoring his servant's strength of character.) So it is that Jeremiah resumes his ministry and brings God's message to his people.

Jer. 17:1-4 GOD'S JUDGMENT CONVEYED.

"Judah's sin is engraved with an iron tool, inscribed with a flint point, on the tablets of their hearts and on the horns of their altars.
 Even their children remember their altars and Asherah poles^k beside the spreading trees and on the high hills.
 My mountain in the land and your^l wealth and all your treasures
 I will give away as plunder, together with your high places,
 because of sin throughout your country.

^kThat is, symbols of the goddess Asherah Your

^lOr hills / ^land the mountains of the land. /

Through your own fault you will lose the inheritance I gave you.
 I will enslave you to your enemies
 in a land you do not know,
 for you have kindled my anger,
 and it will burn forever."

TRUST IN MAN FUTILE. This is what the LORD says:

Jer. 17:5-8

"Cursed is the one who trusts in man, who depends on flesh for his strength and whose heart turns away from the LORD.
 He will be like a bush in the wastelands;
 he will not see prosperity when it comes.
 He will dwell in the parched places of the desert,
 in a salt land where no one lives.

"But blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD,
 whose confidence is in him.
 He will be like a tree planted by the water that sends out its roots by the stream.
 It does not fear when heat comes;
 its leaves are always green.
 It has no worries in a year of drought and never fails to bear fruit."

GOD KNOWS THE HEART.

Jer. 17:9-11

The heart is deceitful above all things and beyond cure.
 Who can understand it?

"I the LORD search the heart and examine the mind,
 to reward a man according to his conduct,
 according to what his deeds deserve."

Like a partridge that hatches eggs it did not lay is the man who gains riches by unjust means.
 When his life is half gone, they will desert him,
 and in the end he will prove to be a fool.

How often Jeremiah longs for his mission to conclude! The cynics and scoffers mock him by asking when all this wrath is going to happen. They observe nothing but peace and prosperity all around, and view talk of Jerusalem's destruction and Judah's fall as so much nonsense. It is probably such taunting that prompts the following prayer from Jeremiah.

PLEA FOR SWIFT EXECUTION.

Jer.
 17:12-18

A glorious throne, exalted from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuary.
 O LORD, the hope of Israel,
 all who forsake you will be put to shame.
 Those who turn away from you will be written in the dust because they have forsaken the LORD,

the spring of living water.

Heal me, O LORD, and I will be healed;
save me and I will be saved,
for you are the one I praise.

They keep saying to me,
"Where is the word of the LORD?
Let it now be fulfilled!"

I have not run away from being your shepherd;
you know I have not desired the day of despair.
What passes my lips is open before you.

Do not be a terror to me;
you are my refuge in the day of disaster.

Let my persecutors be put to shame,
but keep me from shame;
let them be terrified,
but keep me from terror.

Bring on them the day of disaster;
destroy them with double destruction. ☞

Jeremiah now records a special message which he is instructed to bring to Judah. The Sabbath has been honored mostly in the breach for many years, and God now wants it to be observed. Beyond being a requirement of the law, the Sabbath is symbolic of God's covenant with Israel, and its observance takes on added significance at a time when the covenant relationship has been so shattered.

Jer.
17:19-27

KEEPING THE SABBATH HOLY. This is what the LORD said to me: "Go and stand at the gate of the people, through which the kings of Judah go in and out; stand also at all the other gates of Jerusalem. Say to them, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah and all people of Judah and everyone living in Jerusalem who come through these gates. This is what the LORD says: Be careful not to carry a load on the Sabbath day or bring it through the gates of Jerusalem. Do not bring a load out of your houses or do any work on the Sabbath, but keep the Sabbath day holy, as I commanded your forefathers. Yet they did not listen or pay attention; they were stiff-necked and would not listen or respond to discipline. But if you are careful to obey me, declares the LORD, and bring no load through the gates of this city on the Sabbath, but keep the Sabbath day holy by not doing any work on it, then kings who sit on David's throne will come through the gates of this city with their officials. They and their officials will come riding in chariots and on horses, accompanied by the men of Judah and those living in Jerusalem, and this city will be inhabited forever. People will come from the towns of Judah and the villages around Jerusalem, from the territory of Benjamin and the western foothills, from the hill country and the Negev, bringing burnt offerings and sacrifices, grain offerings, incense and thank offerings to the house of the LORD. But if you do not obey me to keep the Sabbath day holy by not carrying any load as you come through the gates of Jerusalem on the Sabbath day, then I will kindle an unquenchable fire in the gates of Jerusalem that will consume her fortresses.'"

Another sign is now given to Jeremiah for use as an illustration in his preaching. Repeatedly God has likened his relationship with man to a potter's relationship with his clay. As the potter has power over his clay, so God as the Creator of the universe has unlimited power over men and nations, and the right to rule them as he sees fit. To bring that message home clearly to Jeremiah, God directs him to the house of a potter.

JEREMIAH VISITS POTTER. This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: "Go down to the potter's house, and there I will give you my message." So I went down to the potter's house, and I saw him working at the wheel. But the pot he was shaping from the clay was marred in his hands; so the potter formed it into another pot, shaping it as seemed best to him. Jer. 18:1-4

LESSON OF THE POTTER. Then the word of the LORD came to me: "O house of Israel, can I not do with you as this potter does?" declares the LORD. "Like clay in the hand of the potter, so are you in my hand, O house of Israel. If at any time I announce that a nation or kingdom is to be uprooted, torn down and destroyed, and if that nation I warned repents of its evil, then I will relent and not inflict on it the disaster I had planned. And if at another time I announce that a nation or kingdom is to be built up and planted, and if it does evil in my sight and does not obey me, then I will reconsider the good I had intended to do for it. Jer. 18:5-12

"Now therefore say to the people of Judah and those living in Jerusalem, 'This is what the LORD says: Look! I am preparing a disaster for you and devising a plan against you. So turn from your evil ways, each one of you, and reform your ways and your actions.' But they will reply, 'It's no use. We will continue with our own plans; each of us will follow the stubbornness of his evil heart.'"

THE POTTER'S PLANS. Therefore this is what the LORD says: Jer.
18:13-17

"Inquire among the nations:
Who has ever heard anything like this?
A most horrible thing has been done by Virgin Israel.
Does the snow of Lebanon ever vanish from its rocky slopes?
Do its cool waters from distant sources ever cease to flow?"^m
Yet my people have forgotten me;
they burn incense to worthless idols, which made them stumble in their ways
and in the ancient paths.
They made them walk in bypaths and on roads not built up.
Their land will be laid waste,
an object of lasting scorn;
all who pass by will be appalled and will shake their heads.
Like a wind from the east,

^mThe meaning of the Hebrew for this sentence is uncertain.

I will scatter them before their enemies;
I will show them my back and not my face in the day of their disaster."

Once again Jeremiah learns of a plot against him, but this plot seems to be more of a countercampaign than a threat to his physical life. Even so, Jeremiah is incensed and cries out for punishment of his detractors. The weeping prophet has now become the angry prophet.

Jer. 18:18 CONSPIRACY AGAINST JEREMIAH. They said, "Come, let's make plans against Jeremiah; for the teaching of the law by the priest will not be lost, nor will counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophets. So come, let's attack him with our tongues and pay no attention to anything he says."

Jer. 18:19-23 JEREMIAH'S ANGER.

Listen to me, O LORD;
hear what my accusers are saying!
Should good be repaid with evil?
Yet they have dug a pit for me.
Remember that I stood before you and spoke in their behalf to turn your wrath away from them.
So give their children over to famine;
hand them over to the power of the sword.
Let their wives be made childless and widows;
let their men be put to death,
their young men slain by the sword in battle.
Let a cry be heard from their houses
when you suddenly bring invaders against them, for they have dug a pit to capture me
and have hidden snares for my feet.
But you know, O LORD,
all their plots to kill me.
Do not forgive their crimes or blot out their sins from your sight.
Let them be overthrown before you;
deal with them in the time of your anger.

Angry and impatient as he may be, Jeremiah nevertheless continues to take God's message to the people. Once again God graphically illustrates his message, this time using a clay jar.

Jer. 19:1-9 MESSAGE FOR TOPETH. This is what the LORD says: "Go and buy a clay jar from a potter. Take along some of the elders of the people and of the priests and go out to the Valley of Ben Hinnom, near the entrance of the Potsherd Gate. There proclaim the words I tell you, and say, 'Hear the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah and people of Jerusalem. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Listen! I am going to bring a disaster on this place that will make the ears of everyone who hears of it tingle. For they have forsaken me and made this a place of foreign gods; they have burned sacrifices in it to gods that neither they nor their fathers nor the kings of Judah ever knew, and they have filled this place with the blood of the innocent. They have built the high places of Baal to burn their sons in the fire as offerings to Baal—something I did not command or mention, nor did it enter my mind. So beware, the days are coming, declares the LORD, when people will no longer call this place Topheth or the Valley of Ben Hinnom, but the Valley of Slaughter.

“In this place I will ruin” the plans of Judah and Jerusalem. I will make them fall by the sword before their enemies, at the hands of those who seek their lives, and I will give their carcasses as food to the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth. I will devastate this city and make it an object of scorn; all who pass by will be appalled and will scoff because of all its wounds. I will make them eat the flesh of their sons and daughters, and they will eat one another’s flesh during the stress of the siege imposed on them by the enemies who seek their lives.’

MEANING OF BROKEN JAR. “Then break the jar while those who go with you are watching, and say to them, ‘This is what the LORD Almighty says: I will smash this nation and this city just as this potter’s jar is smashed and cannot be repaired. They will bury the dead in Topheth until there is no more room. This is what I will do to this place and to those who live here, declares the LORD. I will make this city like Topheth. The houses in Jerusalem and those of the kings of Judah will be defiled like this place, Topheth—all the houses where they burned incense on the roofs to all the starry hosts and poured out drink offerings to other gods.’”

Jer.
19:10-13

Jeremiah has been prophesying for some time now during the reign of Josiah, and although he has angered the religious establishment, no official action or physical harm has been brought against him. But his fortune on both counts is about to change, and when it does Jeremiah will once again expose the inner pain that his outer suffering brings. And yet a new sense of trust in God is revealed: there is actually praise for the one who has gotten Jeremiah into all this trouble.

JEREMIAH PREDICTS DISASTER. Jeremiah then returned from Topheth, where the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and stood in the court of the LORD’s temple and said to all the people, “This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: ‘Listen! I am going to bring on this city and the villages around it every disaster I pronounced against them, because they were stiff-necked and would not listen to my words.’”

Jer.
19:14,15

BEATING AND IMPRISONMENT. When the priest Pashhur son of Immer, the chief officer in the temple of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these things, he had Jeremiah the prophet beaten and put in the stocks at the Upper Gate of Benjamin at the LORD’s temple.

Jer. 20:1,2

JUDGMENT AGAINST PASHHUR. The next day, when Pashhur released him from the stocks, Jeremiah said to him, “The LORD’s name for you is not Pashhur, but Magor-Missabib.^o For this is what the LORD says: ‘I will make you a terror to yourself and to all your friends; with your own eyes you will see them fall by the sword of their enemies. I will hand all Judah over to the king of Babylon, who will carry them away to Babylon or put them to the sword. I will hand over to their enemies all the wealth of this city—all its products, all its valuables and all the treasures of the kings of Judah. They will take it away as plunder and carry it off to Babylon. And you, Pashhur, and all who live in your house will go into exile to Babylon. There you will die and be buried, you and all your friends to whom you have prophesied lies.' ”

Jer. 20:3-6

^oThe Hebrew for ruin sounds like the Hebrew for jar (see verses 1 and 10).

^o*Magor-Missabib* means terror on every side.

Jer.
20:14-18

JEREMIAH'S SELF-PITY.

Cursed be the day I was born!
 May the day my mother bore me not be blessed!
 Cursed be the man who brought my father the news,
 who made him very glad, saying,
 “A child is born to you—a son!”
 May that man be like the towns
 the LORD overthrew without pity.
 May he hear wailing in the morning,
 a battle cry at noon.
 For he did not kill me in the womb,
 with my mother as my grave,
 her womb enlarged forever.
 Why did I ever come out of the womb to see trouble and sorrow and to end my days in shame?

Jer. 20:7-10 JEREMIAH FEELS BETRAYED.

O LORD, you deceived^p me, and I was deceived^p ;
 you overpowered me and prevailed.
 I am ridiculed all day long;
 everyone mocks me.
 Whenever I speak, I cry out proclaiming violence and destruction.
 So the word of the LORD has brought me insult and reproach all day long.
 But if I say, “I will not mention him or speak any more in his name,”
 his word is in my heart like a fire,
 a fire shut up in my bones.
 I am weary of holding it in;
 indeed, I cannot.
 I hear many whispering, “Terror on every side!
 Report him! Let’s report him!”
 All my friends are waiting for me to slip, saying, “Perhaps he will be deceived;
 then we will prevail over him and take our revenge on him.”

Jer.
20:11-13

JEREMIAH PRAISES GOD.

But the LORD is with me like a mighty warrior;
 so my persecutors will stumble and not prevail.

^pOr persuaded

They will fail and be thoroughly disgraced;
 their dishonor will never be forgotten.
 O LORD Almighty, you who examine the righteous and probe the heart and mind,
 let me see your vengeance upon them,
 for to you I have committed my cause.

Sing to the LORD!
 Give praise to the LORD!
 He rescues the life of the needy from the hands of the wicked.

Effect of Jeremiah's Preaching _____

It is obvious that Jeremiah is maturing both as a young man and as a prophet of God. He has been in the crucible of conflict and has emerged victorious. There will be more opposition and more personal sacrifice, but Jeremiah now has the fortitude to endure. Jeremiah will next be heard from after the reign of Josiah has ended. For now, however, the scene changes to a nation on the brink of a thorough, if brief, spiritual revival. Perhaps Jeremiah's preaching has been more effective than he realizes. (When one plants the seed, he never knows when it will bear fruit.)

TEMPLE IS REPAIRED. ^{Ch}In the eighteenth year of Josiah's reign, to purify the land and the temple, he sent Shaphan son of Azaliah and Maaseiah the ruler of the city, with Joah son of Joahaz, the recorder, to repair the temple of the LORD his God. ^{Ks}"Go up to Hilkiyah the high priest and have him get ready the money that has been brought into the temple of the LORD, which the doorkeepers have collected from the people. Have them entrust it to the men appointed to supervise the work on the temple. And have these men pay the workers who repair the temple of the LORD—the carpenters, the builders and the masons. Also have them purchase timber and dressed stone to repair the temple. But they need not account for the money entrusted to them, because they are acting faithfully."

^{Ch}They went to Hilkiyah the high priest and gave him the money that had been brought into the temple of God, which the Levites who were the doorkeepers had collected from the people of Manasseh, Ephraim and the entire remnant of Israel and from all the people of Judah and Benjamin and the inhabitants of Jerusalem. Then they entrusted it to the men appointed to supervise the work on the LORD's temple. These men paid the workers who repaired and restored the temple. They also gave money to the carpenters and builders to purchase dressed stone, and timber for joists and beams for the buildings that the kings of Judah had allowed to fall into ruin.

The men did the work faithfully. Over them to direct them were Jahath and Obadiah, Levites descended from Merari, and Zechariah and Meshullam, descended from Kohath. The Levites—all who were skilled in playing musical instruments—had charge of the laborers and supervised all the workers from job to job. Some of the Levites were secretaries, scribes and doorkeepers.

She said to them, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Tell the man who sent you to me, 'This is what the LORD says: I am going to bring disaster on this place and its people—all the curses written in the book that has been read in the presence of the king of Judah. Because they have forsaken me and burned incense to other gods and provoked me to anger by all that their hands have made,^u my anger will be poured out on this place and will not be quenched.' Tell the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of the LORD, 'This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says concerning the words you heard: Because your heart was responsive and you humbled yourself before God when you heard what he spoke against this place and its people, and because you humbled yourself before me and tore your robes and wept in my presence, I have heard you, declares the LORD. Now I will gather you to your fathers, and you will be buried in peace. Your eyes will not see all the disaster I am going to bring on this place and on those who live here.'"

So they took her answer back to the king.

JOSIAH'S SWEEPING REFORMS. ^κ The king ordered Hilkiah the high priest, the priests next in rank and the doorkeepers to remove from the temple of the LORD all the articles made for Baal and Asherah and all the starry hosts. He burned them outside Jerusalem in the fields of the Kidron Valley and took the ashes to Bethel. He did away with the pagan priests appointed by the kings of Judah to burn incense on the high places of the towns of Judah and on those around Jerusalem—those who burned incense to Baal, to the sun and moon, to the constellations and to all the starry hosts. He took the Asherah pole from the temple of the LORD to the Kidron Valley outside Jerusalem and burned it there. He ground it to powder and scattered the dust over the graves of the common people. He also tore down the quarters of the male shrine prostitutes, which were in the temple of the LORD and where women did weaving for Asherah.

Josiah brought all the priests from the towns of Judah and desecrated the high places, from Geba to Beersheba, where the priests had burned incense. He broke down the shrines^v at the gates—at the entrance to the Gate of Joshua, the city governor, which is on the left of the city gate. Although the priests of the high places did not serve at the altar of the LORD in Jerusalem, they ate unleavened bread with their fellow priests.

He desecrated Topheth, which was in the Valley of Ben Hinnom, so no one could use it to sacrifice his son or daughter in^w the fire to Molech. He removed from the entrance to the temple of the LORD the horses that the kings of Judah had dedicated to the sun. They were in the court near the room of an official named Nathan-Melech. Josiah then burned the chariots dedicated to the sun.

He pulled down the altars the kings of Judah had erected on the roof near the upper room of Ahaz, and the altars Manasseh had built in the two courts of the temple of the LORD. He removed them from there, smashed them to pieces and threw the rubble into the Kidron Valley. The king also desecrated the high places that were east of Jerusalem on the south of the Hill of Corruption—the ones Solomon king of Israel had built for Ashtoreth the vile goddess of the Sidonians, for Chemosh the vile god of Moab, and for Molech^x the detestable god of the people of Ammon. Josiah smashed the sacred stones and cut down the Asherah poles and covered the sites with human bones.

Furthermore, Josiah got rid of the mediums and spiritists, the household gods, the idols and all the other detestable things seen in Judah and Jerusalem. This he did to fulfill the requirements of the law written in the book that Hilkiah the priest had discovered in the temple of the LORD. ^{ch} Josiah removed all the detestable idols from all the territory belonging to the Israelites, and he had all who were present in Israel serve the LORD

REFORMS EXTEND TO SAMARIA. Even the altar at Bethel, the high place made by Jeroboam son of Nebat, who had caused Israel to sin—even that altar and high place he demolished. He burned the high place and ground it to powder, and burned the Asherah pole also. Then Josiah looked around, and when he saw the tombs that were there on the hillside, he had the bones removed from them and burned on the altar to defile it, in accordance with the word of the LORD proclaimed by the man of God who foretold these things.

The king asked, "What is that tombstone I see?"

The men of the city said, "It marks the tomb of the man of God who came from Judah and pronounced against the altar of Bethel the very things you have done to it."

"Leave it alone," he said. "Don't let anyone disturb his bones." So they spared his bones and those of the prophet who had come from Samaria.

Just as he had done at Bethel, Josiah removed and defiled all the shrines at the high places that the kings of Israel had built in the towns of Samaria that had provoked the LORD to anger. Josiah slaughtered all the priests of those high places on the altars and burned human bones on them. Then he went back to Jerusalem.

GREAT PASSOVER CELEBRATION. Josiah celebrated the Passover to the LORD in Jerusalem, and the Passover lamb was slaughtered on the fourteenth day of the first month. He appointed the priests to their duties and encouraged them in the service of the LORD's temple. He said to the Levites, who instructed all Israel and who had been consecrated to the LORD: "Put the sacred ark in the temple that Solomon son of David king of Israel built. It is not to be carried about on your shoulders. Now serve the LORD your God and his people Israel. Prepare yourselves by families in your divisions, according to the directions written by David king of Israel and by his son Solomon.

"Stand in the holy place with a group of Levites for each subdivision of the families of your fellow countrymen, the lay people. Slaughter the Passover lambs, consecrate yourselves and prepare the lambs for your fellow countrymen, doing what the LORD commanded through Moses."

Josiah provided for all the lay people who were there a total of thirty thousand sheep and goats for the Passover offerings, and also three thousand cattle—all from the king's own possessions.

His officials also contributed voluntarily to the people and the priests and Levites. Hilkiyah, Zechariah and Jehiel, the administrators of God's temple, gave the priests twenty-six hundred Passover offerings and three hundred cattle. Also Conaniah along with Shemaiah and Nethanel, his brothers, and Hashabiah, Jeiel and Jozabad, the leaders of the Levites, provided five thousand Passover offerings and five hundred head of cattle for the Levites.

The service was arranged and the priests stood in their places with the Levites in their divisions as the king had ordered. The Passover lambs were slaughtered, and the priests sprinkled the blood handed to them, while the Levites skinned the animals. They set aside the burnt offerings to give them to the subdivisions of the families of the people to offer to the LORD, as is written in the Book of Moses. They did the same with the cattle. They roasted the Passover animals over the fire as prescribed, and boiled the holy offerings in pots, caldrons and pans and served them quickly to all the people. After this, they made preparations for themselves and for the priests, because the priests, the descendants of Aaron, were sacrificing the burnt offerings and the fat portions until nightfall. So the Levites made preparations for themselves and for the Aaronic priests.

The musicians, the descendants of Asaph, were in the places prescribed by David, Asaph, Heman and Jeduthun the king's seer. The gatekeepers at each gate did not need to leave their posts, because their fellow Levites made the preparations for them.

So at that time the entire service of the LORD was carried out for the celebration of the Passover and the offering of burnt offerings on the altar of the LORD, as King Josiah had ordered. The Israelites who were present celebrated the Passover at that time and observed the Feast of Unleavened Bread for seven days. The Passover had not been observed like this in Israel since the days of the prophet Samuel; and none of the kings of Israel had ever celebrated such a Passover as did Josiah, with the priests, the Levites and all Judah and Israel who were there with the people of Jerusalem. This Passover was celebrated in the eighteenth year of Josiah's reign.

Assyria Falls and Babylonia Emerges _____

Already the prophecies about the nations are coming true. There is foreign unrest everywhere. Assyria, Babylonia, and Egypt are all vying for supremacy. Just as Jeremiah was beginning his ministry in 626 B.C., Nabopolassar rebelled against Assyria and established the Babylonian Empire. Now, some 14 years later, the time has come for the prophecies of Nahum and others regarding Nineveh's fall to be fulfilled. It takes only a two-month siege by the allied armies of the Medes, Babylonians, and Scythians (from north of the Black Sea) to bring Nineveh to its knees in 612 B.C. Under Nabopolassar, Babylonia begins its rise to world supremacy. But Babylonia must first contend with what is left of Assyria as well as with Pharaoh Neco of Egypt, who succeeds his father, Psammetichus I, in 610 B.C. When Neco recognizes the growing threat of Babylonia, he decides to bolster what few Assyrian forces remain, and that plan of action brings Neco through Canaan.

The incidental result for Judah is loss of its good king Josiah. Why Josiah decides to attack Egypt is not clear, but he goes to Megiddo, a city on the southern edge of the Plain of Esdraelon, and soon finds himself mortally wounded. Here now is the record of Josiah's untimely death and of the brief reign of his son Jehoahaz before Neco replaces him by Jehoahaz's brother Eliakim, whom the pharaoh calls Jehoiakim. During this time Neco tries to make Judah a buffer state between his own country and Babylonia.

JOSIAH KILLED IN BATTLE. After all this, when Josiah had set the temple in order, Neco king of Egypt went up to fight at Carchemish on the Euphrates, and Josiah marched out to meet him in battle. But Neco sent messengers to him, saying, "What quarrel is there between you and me, O king of Judah? It is not you I am attacking at this time, but the house with which I am at war. God has told me to hurry; so stop opposing God, who is with me, or he will destroy you."

Josiah, however, would not turn away from him, but disguised himself to engage him in battle. He would not listen to what Neco had said at God's command but went to fight him on the plain of Megiddo.

Archers shot King Josiah, and he told his officers, "Take me away; I am badly wounded." So they took him out of his chariot, put him in the other chariot he had and brought him to Jerusalem, where he died. He was buried in the tombs of his fathers, and all Judah and Jerusalem mourned for him.

Jeremiah composed laments for Josiah, and to this day all the men and women singers commemorate Josiah in the laments. These became a tradition in Israel and are written in the Laments.

Jer.
22:10-17

Do not weep for the dead king, or mourn his loss;
rather, weep bitterly for him who is exiled, because he will never return
nor see his native land again.

For this is what the LORD says about Shallum^b son of Josiah, who succeeded his father as king of Judah but has gone from this place: "He will never return. He will die in the place where they have led him captive; he will not see this land again."

"Woe to him who builds his palace by unrighteousness, his upper rooms by injustice, making his countrymen work for nothing,
not paying them for their labor.
He says, 'I will build myself a great palace with spacious upper rooms.'
So he makes large windows in it, panels it with cedar and decorates it in red.

"Does it make you a king to have more and more cedar?
Did not your father have food and drink?
He did what was right and just,
so all went well with him.
He defended the cause of the poor and needy,
and so all went well.
Is that not what it means to know me?"
declares the LORD.

"But your eyes and your heart are set only on dishonest gain, on shedding innocent blood and on oppression and extortion."

Jeremiah Faces Charges

Now that Josiah's good influence is gone and his sons have once again let Judah become corrupt, Jeremiah is in more jeopardy than he might otherwise have been. He is reminded of this by a confrontation in which he barely escapes with his life.

PREDICTION ABOUT JERUSALEM. Early in the reign of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came from the LORD: "This is what the LORD says: Stand in the courtyard of the LORD's house and speak to all the people of the towns of Judah who come to worship in the house of the LORD. Tell them everything I command you; do not omit a word. Perhaps they will listen and each will turn from his evil way. Then I will relent and not bring on them the disaster I was planning because of the evil they have done. Say to them, 'This is what the LORD says: If you do not listen to me and follow my law, which I have set before you, and if you do not listen to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I have sent to you again and again (though you have not listened), then I will make this house like Shiloh and this city an object of cursing among all the nations of the earth.'"

^bAlso called Jehoahaz

Jer. 26:7-9 PRIESTS CONFRONT JEREMIAH. The priests, the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speak these words in the house of the LORD. But as soon as Jeremiah finished telling all the people everything the LORD had commanded him to say, the priests, the prophets and all the people seized him and said, "You must die! Why do you prophesy in the LORD's name that this house will be like Shiloh and this city will be desolate and deserted?" And all the people crowded around Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.

Jer. 26:10,11 CHARGE BEFORE OFFICIALS. When the officials of Judah heard about these things, they went up from the royal palace to the house of the LORD and took their places at the entrance of the New Gate of the LORD's house. Then the priests and the prophets said to the officials and all the people, "This man should be sentenced to death because he has prophesied against this city. You have heard it with your own ears!"

Jer. 26:12-15 JEREMIAH'S DEFENSE. Then Jeremiah said to all the officials and all the people: "The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and this city all the things you have heard. Now reform your ways and your actions and obey the LORD your God. Then the LORD will relent and not bring the disaster he has pronounced against you. As for me, I am in your hands; do with me whatever you think is good and right. Be assured, however, that if you put me to death, you will bring the guilt of innocent blood on yourselves and on this city and on those who live in it, for in truth the LORD has sent me to you to speak all these words in your hearing."

Jer. 26:16-19 DEFENSE FROM OTHERS. Then the officials and all the people said to the priests and the prophets, "This man should not be sentenced to death! He has spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God."

Some of the elders of the land stepped forward and said to the entire assembly of people, "Micah of Moresheth prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah. He told all the people of Judah, 'This is what the LORD Almighty says:

" 'Zion will be plowed like a field,
Jerusalem will become a heap of rubble,
the temple hill a mound overgrown with thickets.'"

"Did Hezekiah king of Judah or anyone else in Judah put him to death? Did not Hezekiah fear the LORD and seek his favor? And did not the LORD relent, so that he did not bring the disaster he pronounced against them? We are about to bring a terrible disaster on ourselves!"

Jer. 26:24 JEREMIAH RELEASED. Furthermore, Ahikam son of Shaphan supported Jeremiah, and so he was not handed over to the people to be put to death.

Jer. 26:20-23 URIAH HAS WORSE FATE. (Now Uriah son of Shemaiah from Kiriath Jearim was another man who prophesied in the name of the LORD; he prophesied the same things against this city and this land as Jeremiah did.

©Micah 3:12

When King Jehoiakim and all his officers and officials heard his words, the king sought to put him to death. But Uriah heard of it and fled in fear to Egypt. King Jehoiakim, however, sent Elnathan son of Acbor to Egypt, along with some other men. They brought Uriah out of Egypt and took him to King Jehoiakim, who had him struck down with a sword and his body thrown into the burial place of the common people.)

Jeremiah's Judgment Against Egypt _____

Jeremiah's prophetic ministry extends not only to Judah but also to foreign nations which have been Judah's oppressors. Judah's most recent threat has been from Egypt, but the time is near for Egypt to reap its just reward. Here are Jeremiah's warnings to Egypt, as well as to the Philistines, who will be Egypt's last victim in this era of power.

DEFEAT COMING AT CARCHEMISH. This is the word of the LORD that Jer. 46:1-11 came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the nations:

Concerning Egypt:

This is the message against the army of Pharaoh Neco king of Egypt, which was defeated at Carchemish on the Euphrates River by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah:

"Prepare your shields, both large and small,
and march out for battle!
Harness the horses,
mount the steeds!
Take your positions with helmets on!
Polish your spears,
put on your armor!
What do I see?
They are terrified,
they are retreating,
their warriors are defeated.
They flee in haste
without looking back,
and there is terror on every side,"

declares the LORD.

"The swift cannot flee
nor the strong escape.
In the north by the River Euphrates they stumble and fall.

"Who is this that rises like the Nile,
like rivers of surging waters?
Egypt rises like the Nile,
like rivers of surging waters.
She says, 'I will rise and cover the earth;
I will destroy cities and their people.'
Charge, O horses!

Drive furiously, O charioteers!
 March on, O warriors—
 men of Cush^d and Put who carry shields, men of Lydia who draw the bow.
 But that day belongs to the Lord, the LORD Almighty—
 a day of vengeance, for vengeance on his foes.
 The sword will devour till it is satisfied,
 till it has quenched its thirst with blood.
 For the Lord, the LORD Almighty, will offer sacrifice in the land of the north by the River Euphrates.

“Go up to Gilead and get balm,
 O Virgin Daughter of Egypt.
 But you multiply remedies in vain;
 there is no healing for you.

Jer.
 46:12-26

BABYLON WILL SUBDUE EGYPT.

The nations will hear of your shame;
 your cries will fill the earth.
 One warrior will stumble over another;
 both will fall down together.”

This is the message the LORD spoke to Jeremiah the prophet about the coming of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to attack Egypt:

“Announce this in Egypt, and proclaim it in Migdol;
 proclaim it also in Memphis^e and Tahpanhes:
 ‘Take your positions and get ready, for the sword devours those around you.’
 Why will your warriors be laid low?
 They cannot stand, for the LORD will push them down.
 They will stumble repeatedly;
 they will fall over each other.
 They will say, ‘Get up, let us go back to our own people and our native lands, away from the sword of the oppressor.’
 There they will exclaim, ‘Pharaoh king of Egypt is only a loud noise;
 he has missed his opportunity.’

“As surely as I live,” declares the King, whose name is the LORD Almighty,
 “one will come who is like Tabor among the mountains,
 like Carmel by the sea.
 Pack your belongings for exile,
 you who live in Egypt,
 for Memphis will be laid waste and lie in ruins without inhabitant.

“Egypt is a beautiful heifer, but a gadfly is coming against her from the north.

^dThat is, the upper Nile region ^eHebrew Noph

The mercenaries in her ranks are like fattened calves.
 They too will turn and flee together,
 they will not stand their ground,
 for the day of disaster is coming upon them,
 the time for them to be punished.
 Egypt will hiss like a fleeing serpent as the enemy advances in force;
 they will come against her with axes,
 like men who cut down trees.
 They will chop down her forest,"

declares the LORD,

"dense though it be.
 They are more numerous than locusts,
 they cannot be counted.
 The Daughter of Egypt will be put to shame, handed over to the people of the north."

The LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "I am about to bring punishment on Amon god of Thebes,^f on Pharaoh, on Egypt and her gods and her kings, and on those who rely on Pharaoh. I will hand them over to those who seek their lives, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and his officers. Later, however, Egypt will be inhabited as in times past," declares the LORD.

REASSURANCE TO JUDAH.

Jer.
46:27,28

"Do not fear, O Jacob my servant;
 do not be dismayed, O Israel.
 I will surely save you out of a distant place,
 your descendants from the land of their exile.
 Jacob will again have peace and security,
 and no one will make him afraid.
 Do not fear, O Jacob my servant,
 for I am with you," declares the LORD.
 "Though I completely destroy all the nations
 among which I scatter you,
 I will not completely destroy you.
 I will discipline you but only with justice;
 I will not let you go entirely unpunished."

PHILISTINES' JEOPARDY. This is the word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning the Philistines before Pharaoh attacked Gaza:

Jer. 47:1-7

This is what the LORD says:

"See how the waters are rising in the north;
 they will become an overflowing torrent.
 They will overflow the land and everything in it,
 the towns and those who live in them.
 The people will cry out;
 all who dwell in the land will wail

^fHebrew No

 and to cut off all survivors who could help Tyre and Sidon.
 The LORD is about to destroy the Philistines,

Habakkuk's Questioning Prophecy

While Jeremiah is continuing his prophecies against Judah and its oppressors, one of Jeremiah's contemporaries, Habakkuk, poses the profound theological question which must nag at anyone who is seriously listening to the prophets. It may even be a question which the various prophets themselves have considered. Certainly Habakkuk is concerned about it. The question is this: how can a righteous and holy God use a wicked nation like Babylonia to bring punishment against God's own people, rebellious and sinful though they may be? Are not the ruthless Babylonians and the other oppressors of Judah merely acting on their own in great arrogance and with no thought whatever of achieving any divine purpose? How then can God permit these unrighteous nations to succeed in their evil oppressions? And the question stretches beyond even the present conflicts to other related issues. How can God permit the wicked to prosper, often at the expense of the righteous? How can a righteous God permit evil to exist at all?

Although God does not provide all the answers in his dialogue with Habakkuk, he does address the central question. His answer is that evil, wherever it is found, always bears within it the seeds of its own destruction. Judah's sins have condemned it to inevitable destruction. The particular agency by which that destruction comes is of no consequence. The enemy may be a righteous or a wicked nation—it matters not. But likewise, if the oppressors themselves are evil—as the Babylonians are—then they too will face their own destruction. Only in righteousness is there life; sin always brings death.

PREFACE. The oracle that Habakkuk the prophet received.

Hab. 1:1

SHOULD EVIL PREVAIL?

Hab. 1:2-4

How long, O LORD, must I call for help, but you do not listen?
Or cry out to you, "Violence!"
but you do not save?
Why do you make me look at injustice?
Why do you tolerate wrong?
Destruction and violence are before me;
there is strife, and conflict abounds.
Therefore the law is paralyzed,
and justice never prevails.
The wicked hem in the righteous,
so that justice is perverted.

BABYLON WILL PUNISH.

Hab.
1:5-11

"Look at the nations and watch—and be utterly amazed.
For I am going to do something in your days
that you would not believe,
even if you were told.
I am raising up the Babylonians,^h that ruthless and impetuous people, who sweep across the whole earth to seize dwelling places not their own.
They are a feared and dreaded people;
they are a law to themselves and promote their own honor.
Their horses are swifter than leopards, fiercer than wolves at dusk.
Their cavalry gallops headlong;
their horsemen come from afar.
They fly like a vulture swooping to devour;
they all come bent on violence.
Their hordesⁱ advance like a desert wind and gather prisoners like sand.
They deride kings
and scoff at rulers.
They laugh at all fortified cities;
they build earthen ramps and capture them.
Then they sweep past like the wind and go on—guilty men, whose own strength is their god."

WICKED AS EXECUTIONERS?

Hab.
1:12-2:1

O LORD, are you not from everlasting?

^hOr Chaldeans

ⁱThe meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

My God, my Holy One, we will not die.
 O LORD, you have appointed them to execute judgment;
 O Rock, you have ordained them to punish.
 Your eyes are too pure to look on evil;
 you cannot tolerate wrong.
 Why then do you tolerate the treacherous?
 Why are you silent while the wicked swallow up those more righteous than themselves?
 You have made men like fish in the sea,
 like sea creatures that have no ruler.
 The wicked foe pulls all of them up with hooks,
 he catches them in his net,
 he gathers them up in his dragnet;
 and so he rejoices and is glad.
 Therefore he sacrifices to his net and burns incense to his dragnet, for by his net he lives in luxury and enjoys the choicest food.
 Is he to keep on emptying his net,
 destroying nations without mercy?
 I will stand at my watch and station myself on the ramparts;
 I will look to see what he will say to me,
 and what answer I am to give to this complaint.ⁱ

Hab. 2:2-5 WICKED ALWAYS PUNISHED. Then the LORD replied:

“Write down the revelation

 For the revelation awaits an appointed time;
 it speaks of the end

 His ways are eternal.
 I saw the tents of Cushan in distress,
 the dwellings of Midian in anguish.

 You uncovered your bow,
 you called for many arrows. Selah

First Deportation from Judah

*A*s Judah cringes like a frightened child between two fighting bullies, the showdown finally takes place at the city of Carchemish on the Euphrates River in the Mesopotamian region east of Canaan. In one of the greatest battles of the ancient world, Nebuchadnezzar II, who has just succeeded his father, soundly defeats the Egyptians under Pharaoh Neco, just as Jeremiah has prophesied. So in 605 B.C. Judah is left in its most vulnerable position ever, and, as expected, Nebuchadnezzar seizes the opportunity to make Judah a tributary. As later historical records will show, many people of Judah, including a young man by the name of Daniel (who will become a great servant of God) are now taken captive to Babylon along with confiscated temple articles.

This group of captives is only the first of many who will follow. Later Babylonian incursions will result in even more people of Judah being carried away. In a somewhat enigmatic reference, the writer of the Chronicles says that King Jehoiakim is also bound and taken captive. Nebuchadnezzar evidently changes his mind, however, because it is clear that Jehoiakim continues as a puppet king in Jerusalem until his death, some eight years later.

Noteworthy in the historical record is a brief reference to the fact that Egypt is unable to help Judah in its time of crisis, just as the prophets had foretold.

2 Kgs. 24:1a (605 B.C.) JUDAH BABYLONIA'S CAPTIVE. During Jehoiakim's reign, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon invaded the land, and Jehoiakim became his vassal for three years.

2 Chron. 36:6 Babylon JEHOIAKIM BOUND. Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon attacked him and bound him with bronze shackles to take him to Babylon.

2 Chron. 36:7 FIRST CAPTIVES TAKEN. Nebuchadnezzar also took to Babylon articles from the temple of the LORD and put them in his temple^s there.

2 Kgs. 24:7 EGYPT CANNOT HELP. The king of Egypt did not march out from his own country again, because the king of Babylon had taken all his territory, from the Wadi of Egypt to the Euphrates River.

Jeremiah Tells Length of Captivity

With the first captives already taken away to Babylonia, God sends word to Jeremiah to tell the people exactly how long the period of captivity will last and to let them know that this first strike by Babylonia is by no means the last. Yet God reminds Judah that their oppressors will not escape their own punishment at the end of Judah's captivity. The cup of God's wrath will be poured out against all wicked nations.

Jer. 25:1-7 (604 B.C.) REMINDER OF REJECTION. The word came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, which was the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon. So Jeremiah the prophet said to all the people of Judah and to all those living in Jerusalem: For twenty-three years—from the thirteenth year of Josiah son of Amon king of Judah until this very day—the word of the LORD has come to me and I have spoken to you again and again, but you have not listened.

And though the LORD has sent all his servants the prophets to you again and again, you have not listened or paid any attention. They said, "Turn now, each of you, from your evil ways and your evil practices, and you can stay in the land the LORD gave to you and your fathers for ever and ever. Do not follow other gods to serve and worship them; do not provoke me to anger with what your hands have made. Then I will not harm you."

"But you did not listen to me," declares the LORD, "and you have provoked me with what your hands have made, and you have brought harm to yourselves."

Jer. 25:8-11 CAPTIVITY TO BE 70 YEARS. Therefore the LORD Almighty says this: "Because you have not listened to my words, I will summon all the peoples of the north and my servant Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon," declares the LORD, "and I will bring them against this land and its inhabitants and against all the surrounding nations. I will completely destroy^t them and make them an object of horror and scorn, and an everlasting ruin. I will banish from them the sounds of joy and gladness, the voices of bride and bridegroom, the sound of millstones and the light of the lamp. This whole country will become a desolate wasteland, and these nations will serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

BABYLONIA WILL FALL. "But when the seventy years are fulfilled, I will punish the king of Babylon and his nation, the land of the Babylonians," for their guilt," declares the LORD, "and will make it desolate forever. I will bring upon that land all the things I have spoken against it, all that are written in this book and prophesied by Jeremiah against all the nations. They themselves will be enslaved by many nations and great kings; I will repay them according to their deeds and the work of their hands."

Jer.
25:12-14

CUP OF GOD'S WRATH. This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, said to me: "Take from my hand this cup filled with the wine of my wrath and make all the nations to whom I send you drink it. When they drink it, they will stagger and go mad because of the sword I will send among them."

Jer.
25:15-26

So I took the cup from the LORD's hand and made all the nations to whom he sent me drink it: Jerusalem and the towns of Judah, its kings and officials, to make them a ruin and an object of horror and scorn and cursing, as they are today; Pharaoh king of Egypt, his attendants, his officials and all his people, and all the foreign people there; all the kings of Uz; all the kings of the Philistines (those of Ashkelon, Gaza, Ekron, and the people left at Ashdod); Edom, Moab and Ammon; all the kings of Tyre and Sidon; the kings of the coastlands across the sea; Dedan, Tema, Buz and all who are in distant places"; all the kings of Arabia and all the kings of the foreign people who live in the desert; all the kings of Zimri, Elam and Media; and all the kings of the north, near and far, one after the other—all the kingdoms on the face of the earth. And after all of them, the king of Sheshach^w will drink it too.

JUDGMENT AGAINST NATIONS. "Then tell them, 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Drink, get drunk and vomit, and fall to rise no more because of the sword I will send among you.' But if they refuse to take the cup from your hand and drink, tell them, 'This is what the LORD Almighty says: You must drink it! See, I am beginning to bring disaster on the city that bears my Name, and will you indeed go unpunished? You will not go unpunished, for I am calling down a sword upon all who live on the earth, declares the LORD Almighty.'

Jer.
25:27-32

"Now prophesy all these words against them and say to them:

"The LORD will roar from on high;
he will thunder from his holy dwelling and roar mightily against his land.
He will shout like those who tread the grapes,
shout against all who live on the earth.
The tumult will resound to the ends of the earth,
for the LORD will bring charges against the nations;
he will bring judgment on all mankind and put the wicked to the sword,'"

declares the LORD.

SEVERITY OF THE JUDGMENT. At that time those slain by the LORD will be everywhere—from one end of the earth to the other. They will not be mourned or gathered up or buried, but will be like refuse lying on the ground.

Weep and wail, you shepherds;
roll in the dust, you leaders of the flock.
For your time to be slaughtered has come;
you will fall and be shattered like fine pottery.
The shepherds will have nowhere to flee,
the leaders of the flock no place to escape.

the wailing of the leaders of the flock,
for the LORD is destroying their pasture.

because of the fierce anger of the LORD.
Like a lion he will leave his lair,
and their land will become desolate because of the sword^x of the oppressor and because of the LORD's fierce anger.

To illustrate further the cause of his wrath, God calls attention to the clan of Recabites, who for generations have obeyed their forefather's command to live an ascetic and nomadic life. The point is this: if there are those who will remain faithful for generations to a man's commands, then there ought to be more people obeying the commands of God, their very Creator.

Jer. 35:1-5 WINE SET BEFORE RECAPITES. This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD during the reign of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah: “Go to the Recabite family and invite them to come to one of the side rooms of the house of the LORD and give them wine to drink.”

So I went to get Jaazaniah son of Jeremiah, the son of Habazziniah, and his brothers and all his sons—the whole family of the Recabites. I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the room of the sons of Hanan son of Igdaliah the man of God. It was next to the room of the officials, which was over that of Maaseiah son of Shallum the doorkeeper. Then I set bowls full of wine and some cups before the men of the Recabite family and said to them, “Drink some wine.”

Jer. 35:6-12 RECAPITES TELL OF OBSERVANCE. But they replied, “We do not drink wine, because our forefather Jonadab son of Recab gave us this command: ‘Neither you nor your descendants must ever drink wine. Also you must never build houses, sow seed or plant vineyards; you must never have any of these things, but must always live in tents. Then you will live a long time in the land where you are nomads.’ We have obeyed everything our forefather Jonadab son of Recab commanded us. Neither we nor our wives nor our sons and daughters have ever drunk wine or built houses to live in or had vineyards, fields or crops. We have lived in tents and have fully obeyed everything our forefather Jonadab commanded us. But when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon invaded this land, we said, 'Come, we must go to Jerusalem to escape the Babylonian^v and Aramean armies.' So we have remained in Jerusalem."

Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying:

MESSAGE FOR JUDAH. "This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Go and tell the men of Judah and the people of Jerusalem, 'Will you not learn a lesson and obey my words?' declares the LORD. 'Jonadab son of Recab ordered his sons not to drink wine and this command has been kept. To this day they do not drink wine, because they obey their forefather's command. But I have spoken to you again and again, yet you have not obeyed me. Again and again I sent all my servants the prophets to you. They said, "Each of you must turn from your wicked ways and reform your actions; do not follow other gods to serve them. Then you will live in the land I have given to you and your fathers." But you have not paid attention or listened to me. The descendants of Jonadab son of Recab have carried out the command their forefather gave them, but these people have not obeyed me.'

Jer.
35:13-17

"Therefore, this is what the LORD God Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'Listen! I am going to bring on Judah and on everyone living in Jerusalem every disaster I pronounced against them. I spoke to them, but they did not listen; I called to them, but they did not answer.'"

RECAPITES BLESSED. Then Jeremiah said to the family of the Recabites, "This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'You have obeyed the command of your forefather Jonadab and have followed all his instructions and have done everything he ordered.' Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'Jonadab son of Recab will never fail to have a man to serve me.'"

Jehoiakim Burns Jeremiah's Scroll

After 23 years of preaching, none of Jeremiah's many prophecies has yet been recorded. Therefore God now directs Jeremiah to record his words on a scroll, apparently not only to preserve them for ages to come, but also to enable the people of Judah to review all of his messages at one time. After Jeremiah dictates God's words to a scribe named Baruch, he directs Baruch to read the scroll aloud in the temple. When news of this finally reaches King Jehoiakim, he brazenly burns the scroll, piece by piece. Not surprisingly, this serves only to bring a special judgment against Jehoiakim and his descendants. The burned scroll is replaced by another which, together with a later supplement, has preserved the history of Jeremiah's ministry even to this day.

SCROLL TO BE WRITTEN. In the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: "Take a scroll

Jer. 36:1-3
(604 B.C.)

^vOr Chaldean

and write on it all the words I have spoken to you concerning Israel, Judah and all the other nations from the time I began speaking to you in the reign of Josiah till now. Perhaps when the people of Judah hear about every disaster I plan to inflict on them, each of them will turn from his wicked way; then I will forgive their wickedness and their sin."

Jer. 36:4 DICTATED TO BARUCH. So Jeremiah called Baruch son of Neriah, and while Jeremiah dictated all the words the LORD had spoken to him, Baruch wrote them on the scroll.

The writing of the scroll has been no easy task. It has apparently been months in the making. Now that it is finally complete, Baruch expresses his weariness to Jeremiah, and Jeremiah responds with a message from God—a message which Jeremiah could just as profitably have directed to himself.

Jer. 45:1-5 BARUCH GIVEN PERSPECTIVE. This is what Jeremiah the prophet told Baruch son of Neriah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, after Baruch had written on a scroll the words Jeremiah was then dictating: "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says to you, Baruch: You said, 'Woe to me! The LORD has added sorrow to my pain; I am worn out with groaning and find no rest.'"

The LORD said, "Say this to him: 'This is what the LORD says: I will overthrow what I have built and uproot what I have planted, throughout the land. Should you then seek great things for yourself? Seek them not. For I will bring disaster on all people, declares the LORD, but wherever you go I will let you escape with your life.'"

If encouraged now by God's assurances, how discouraged Baruch will be when he learns that he must do it all over again!

Jer. 36:5-7 BARUCH TO READ SCROLL. Then Jeremiah told Baruch, "I am restricted; I cannot go to the LORD's temple. So you go to the house of the LORD on a day of fasting and read to the people from the scroll the words of the LORD that you wrote as I dictated. Read them to all the people of Judah who come in from their towns. Perhaps they will bring their petition before the LORD, and each will turn from his wicked ways, for the anger and wrath pronounced against this people by the LORD are great."

Jer. 36:8-10
(603 B.C.) BARUCH READS SCROLL. Baruch son of Neriah did everything Jeremiah the prophet told him to do; at the LORD's temple he read the words of the LORD from the scroll. In the ninth month of the fifth year of Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah, a time of fasting before the LORD was proclaimed for all the people in Jerusalem and those who had come from the towns of Judah. From the room of Gemariah son of Shaphan the secretary, which was in the upper courtyard at the entrance of the New Gate of the temple, Baruch read to all the people at the LORD's temple the words of Jeremiah from the scroll.

Jer.
36:11-15 OFFICIALS HEAR OF SCROLL. When Micaiah son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, heard all the words of the LORD from the scroll, he went down to the secretary's room in the royal palace, where all the officials were sitting: Elishama the secretary, Delaiah son of Shemaiah, Elnathan son of Acbor, Gemariah son of Shaphan, Zedekiah son of Hananiah, and all the other officials. After Micaiah told them everything he had heard Baruch read to the people from the scroll, all the officials sent Jehudi son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, to say to Baruch, "Bring the scroll from which you have read to the people and come." So Baruch son of Neriah went to them with the scroll in his hand. They said to him, "Sit down, please, and read it to us."

So Baruch read it to them.

OFFICIALS WARN BARUCH. When they heard all these words, they looked at each other in fear and said to Baruch, "We must report all these words to the king." Then they asked Baruch, "Tell us, how did you come to write all this? Did Jeremiah dictate it?"

Jer.
36:16-19

"Yes," Baruch replied, "he dictated all these words to me, and I wrote them in ink on the scroll."

Then the officials said to Baruch, "You and Jeremiah, go and hide. Don't let anyone know where you are."

JEHOIAKIM BURNS SCROLL. After they put the scroll in the room of Elishama the secretary, they went to the king in the courtyard and reported everything to him. The king sent Jehudi to get the scroll, and Jehudi brought it from the room of Elishama the secretary and read it to the king and all the officials standing beside him. It was the ninth month and the king was sitting in the winter apartment, with a fire burning in the firepot in front of him. Whenever Jehudi had read three or four columns of the scroll, the king cut them off with a scribe's knife and threw them into the firepot, until the entire scroll was burned in the fire. The king and all his attendants who heard all these words showed no fear, nor did they tear their clothes. Even though Elnathan, Delaiah and Gemariah urged the king not to burn the scroll, he would not listen to them. Instead, the king commanded Jerahmeel, a son of the king, Seraiah son of Azriel and Shelemiah son of Abdeel to arrest Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet. But the LORD had hidden them.

Jer.
36:20-26

SCROLL TO BE REWRITTEN. After the king burned the scroll containing the words that Baruch had written at Jeremiah's dictation, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: "Take another scroll and write on it all the words that were on the first scroll, which Jehoiakim king of Judah burned up.

Jer.
36:27,28

JUDGMENT AGAINST JEHOIAKIM. Also tell Jehoiakim king of Judah, "This is what the LORD says: You burned that scroll and said, 'Why did you write on it that the king of Babylon would certainly come and destroy this land and cut off both men and animals from it?' Therefore, this is what the LORD says about Jehoiakim king of Judah: He will have no one to sit on the throne of David; his body will be thrown out and exposed to the heat by day and the frost by night. I will punish him and his children and his attendants for their wickedness; I will bring on them and those living in Jerusalem and the people of Judah every disaster I pronounced against them, because they have not listened.'"

Jer.
36:29-31

SECOND SCROLL WRITTEN. So Jeremiah took another scroll and gave it to the scribe Baruch son of Neriah, and as Jeremiah dictated, Baruch wrote on it all the words of the scroll that Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire. And many similar words were added to them.

Daniel the Faithful Captive

While Jeremiah is having his problems with Jehoiakim, several captives in Babylon are being singled out for duty in the king's service. The requirements for their selection are unusually demanding, and to be chosen would be considered an honor even under normal circumstances. Among those chosen is a young man by the name of Daniel, who distinguishes himself by refusing to eat food or drink wine from Nebuchadnezzar's royal table. For this act of faith Daniel and three others with him are exceptionally blessed by God. After three years of special training they enter the king's service and are found to excel in understanding whenever Nebuchadnezzar inquires of them.

CAPTIVES FOR KING'S SERVICE. Then the king ordered Ashpenaz, chief of his court officials, to bring in some of the Israelites from the royal family and the nobility— young men without any physical defect, handsome, showing aptitude for every kind of learning, well informed, quick to understand, and qualified to serve in the king's palace. He was to teach them the language and literature of the Babylonians.² The king assigned them a daily amount of food and wine from the king's table. They were to be trained for three years, and after that they were to enter the king's service.

Dan. 1:6,7

NAMES CHANGED. Among these were some from Judah: Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah. The chief official gave them new names: to Daniel, the name Belteshazzar; to Hananiah, Shadrach; to Mishael, Meshach; and to Azariah, Abednego.

Dan.
1:8-16

ROYAL FOOD REFUSED. But Daniel resolved not to defile himself with the royal food and wine, and he asked the chief official for permission not to defile himself this way. Now God had caused the official to show favor and sympathy to Daniel, but the official told Daniel, "I am afraid of my lord the king, who has assigned your^a food and drink. Why should he see you looking worse than the other young men your age? The king would then have my head because of you."

Daniel then said to the guard whom the chief official had appointed over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah, "Please test your servants for ten days: Give us nothing but vegetables to eat and water to drink. Then compare our appearance with that of the young men who eat the royal food, and treat your servants in accordance with what you see." So he agreed to this and tested them for ten days.

At the end of the ten days they looked healthier and better nourished than any of the young men who ate the royal food. So the guard took away their choice food and the wine they were to drink and gave them vegetables instead.

FAVOR OF NEBUCHADNEZZAR. At the end of the time set by the king to bring them in, the chief official presented them to Nebuchadnezzar. The king talked with them, and he found none equal to Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah; so they entered the king's service. In every matter of wisdom and understanding about which the king questioned them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and enchanters in his whole kingdom.

Nebuchadnezzar's Dream

It is apparently not long after he has entered the king's service that Daniel is elevated to a high position in Nebuchadnezzar's palace as a result of his identifying and interpreting a dream. (The event is said to have taken place in the second year of Nebuchadnezzar's reign, but it obviously must have been in the second year of his sole reign after a time of shared rule with his aging father, Nabopolassar.) Nebuchadnezzar's wise men are willing to interpret the dream if only the king will reveal it to them. But Nebuchadnezzar is smarter than that, so he demands that the dream first be repeated to him. When Daniel learns of the dream, he seizes the occasion as an opportunity to glorify God, and volunteers to tell the king of the dream and its meaning.

The dream is of a statue made of different metals—gold, silver, bronze, and iron—and of a stone which breaks the statue. Daniel's interpretation through God's revelation is that there will be a succession of four kingdoms before the coming of an everlasting kingdom. Later history will reveal that in the symbolism of the statue reference is probably being made to Nebuchadnezzar's own Babylonian Empire, then to a Medo-Persian Empire, followed by a Grecian Empire, and finally by a Roman Empire (East and West) during which time the kingdom of the Messiah will have its beginning.

Here is the account of this marvelous foretelling of events to take place in centuries to come.

NEBUCHADNEZZAR HAS DREAM. In the second year of his reign, Nebuchadnezzar had dreams; his mind was troubled and he could not sleep. So the king summoned the magicians, enchanters, sorcerers and astrologers^b to tell him what he had dreamed. When they came in and stood before the king, he said to them, "I have had a dream that troubles me and I want to know what it means.^c"

Dan. 2:1-3
(Ca. 601

WISE MEN CANNOT REVEAL. Then the astrologers answered the king in Aramaic,^d "O king, live forever! Tell your servants the dream, and we will interpret it."

Dan.
2:4-11

The king replied to the astrologers, "This is what I have firmly decided: If you do not tell me what my dream was and interpret it, I will have you cut into pieces and your houses turned into piles of rubble. But if you tell me the dream and explain it, you will receive from me gifts and rewards and great honor. So tell me the dream and interpret it for me."

Once more they replied, "Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will interpret it."

Then the king answered, "I am certain that you are trying to gain time, because you realize that this is what I have firmly decided: If you do not tell me the dream, there is just one penalty for you. You have conspired to tell me misleading and wicked things, hoping the situation will change. So then, tell me the dream, and I will know that you can interpret it for me."

The astrologers answered the king, "There is not a man on earth who can do what the king asks! No king, however great and mighty, has ever asked such a thing of any magician or enchanter or astrologer. What the king asks is too difficult. No one can reveal it to the king except the gods, and they do not live among men."

Dan.
2:12-16

WISE MEN THREATENED. This made the king so angry and furious that he ordered the execution of all the wise men of Babylon. So the decree was issued to put the wise men to death, and men were sent to look for Daniel and his friends to put them to death.

When Arioch, the commander of the king's guard, had gone out to put to death the wise men of Babylon, Daniel spoke to him with wisdom and tact. He asked the king's officer, "Why did the king issue such a harsh decree?" Arioch then explained the matter to Daniel. At this, Daniel went in to the king and asked for time, so that he might interpret the dream for him.

Dan.
2:17-23

DANIEL PRAYS ABOUT DREAM. Then Daniel returned to his house and explained the matter to his friends Hananiah, Mishael and Azariah. He urged them to plead for mercy from the God of heaven concerning this mystery, so that he and his friends might not be executed with the rest of the wise men of Babylon. During the night the mystery was revealed to Daniel in a vision. Then Daniel praised the God of heaven and said:

"Praise be to the name of God for ever and ever;
wisdom and power are his.
He changes times and seasons;
he sets up kings and deposes them.
He gives wisdom to the wise and knowledge to the discerning.
He reveals deep and hidden things;
he knows what lies in darkness,
and light dwells with him.
I thank and praise you, O God of my fathers:
You have given me wisdom and power,
you have made known to me what we asked of you,
you have made known to us the dream of the king."

Dan.
2:24-30

GOD TO INTERPRET. Then Daniel went to Arioch, whom the king had appointed to execute the wise men of Babylon, and said to him, "Do not execute the wise men of Babylon. Take me to the king, and I will interpret his dream for him."

Arioch took Daniel to the king at once and said, "I have found a man among the exiles from Judah who can tell the king what his dream means."

The king asked Daniel (also called Belteshazzar), "Are you able to tell me what I saw in my dream and interpret it?"

Daniel replied, "No wise man, enchanter, magician or diviner can explain to the king the mystery he has asked about, but there is a God in heaven who reveals mysteries. He has shown King Nebuchadnezzar what will happen in days to come. Your dream and the visions that passed through your mind as you lay on your bed are these:

“As you were lying there, O king, your mind turned to things to come, and the revealer of mysteries showed you what is going to happen. As for me, this mystery has been revealed to me, not because I have greater wisdom than other living men, but so that you, O king, may know the interpretation and that you may understand what went through your mind.

THE DREAM REVEALED. “You looked, O king, and there before you stood a large statue—an enormous, dazzling statue, awesome in appearance. The head of the statue was made of pure gold, its chest and arms of silver, its belly and thighs of bronze, its legs of iron, its feet partly of iron and partly of baked clay. While you were watching, a rock was cut out, but not by human hands. It struck the statue on its feet of iron and clay and smashed them. Then the iron, the clay, the bronze, the silver and the gold were broken to pieces at the same time and became like chaff on a threshing floor in the summer. The wind swept them away without leaving a trace. But the rock that struck the statue became a huge mountain and filled the whole earth.

Dan.
2:31-35

THE DREAM INTERPRETED. “This was the dream, and now we will interpret it to the king. You, O king, are the king of kings. The God of heaven has given you dominion and power and might and glory; in your hands he has placed mankind and the beasts of the field and the birds of the air. Wherever they live, he has made you ruler over them all. You are that head of gold.

Dan.
2:36-45

“After you, another kingdom will rise, inferior to yours. Next, a third kingdom, one of bronze, will rule over the whole earth. Finally, there will be a fourth kingdom, strong as iron—for iron breaks and smashes everything—and as iron breaks things to pieces, so it will crush and break all the others. Just as you saw that the feet and toes were partly of baked clay and partly of iron, so this will be a divided kingdom; yet it will have some of the strength of iron in it, even as you saw iron mixed with clay. As the toes were partly iron and partly clay, so this kingdom will be partly strong and partly brittle. And just as you saw the iron mixed with baked clay, so the people will be a mixture and will not remain united, any more than iron mixes with clay.

“In the time of those kings, the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that will never be destroyed, nor will it be left to another people. It will crush all those kingdoms and bring them to an end, but it will itself endure forever. This is the meaning of the vision of the rock cut out of a mountain, but not by human hands—a rock that broke the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver and the gold to pieces.

“The great God has shown the king what will take place in the future. The dream is true and the interpretation is trustworthy.”

HONORS PAID TO DANIEL. Then King Nebuchadnezzar fell prostrate before Daniel and paid him honor and ordered that an offering and incense be presented to him. The king said to Daniel, “Surely your God is the God of gods and the Lord of kings and a revealer of mysteries, for you were able to reveal this mystery.”

Dan.
2:46-49

Then the king placed Daniel in a high position and lavished many gifts on him. He made him ruler over the entire province of Babylon and placed him in charge of all its wise men. Moreover, at Daniel's request the king appointed Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego administrators over the province of Babylon, while Daniel himself remained at the royal court.

Nebuchadnezzar is impressed, but he is still not a full believer in the true God. Nor is he going to relent in his oppression of Daniel's kinsmen. Furthermore, it does not appear that Daniel's high position in Babylon enables him to speak forcefully on behalf of his fellow countrymen, because the historical record now reflects further deportations from Judah to Babylonia. ☞

Jehoiakim's Last Years

Jehoiakim must have a death wish. He has callously burned God's written Word, and now, with the strength of a mouse pursuing a lion, Jehoiakim has the audacity to rebel against Nebuchadnezzar. Fortunately for Judah, Nebuchadnezzar does not react with immediate military force, at least not directly. However, he may well be the motivating force behind the attacks against Judah by several of its neighbors over a four-year period of inconclusive war. Jehoiakim is destined to live his last days in wearying conflict.

2 Kgs. 24:1b (602 B.C.) JEHOIAKIM ATTEMPTS REBELLION. But then he changed his mind and rebelled against Nebuchadnezzar.

2 Kgs. 24:2-4 (601-597 B.C.) JUDAH'S NEIGHBORS HARASS. The LORD sent Babylonian,^e Aramean, Moabite and Ammonite raiders against him. He sent them to destroy Judah, in accordance with the word of the LORD proclaimed by his servants the prophets. Surely these things happened to Judah according to the LORD's command, in order to remove them from his presence because of the sins of Manasseh and all he had done, including the shedding of innocent blood. For he had filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and the LORD was not willing to forgive.

Perhaps it is during these years of conflict with old enemies of Judah that Jeremiah brings the following judgments against those enemies.

Jer. 48:1-13 JUDGMENT AGAINST MOAB. Concerning Moab:

This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says:

"Woe to Nebo, for it will be ruined.

Kiriathaim will be disgraced and captured;

the stronghold^f will be disgraced and shattered.

Moab will be praised no more;

in Heshbon^g men will plot her downfall:

'Come, let us put an end to that nation.'

You too, O Madmen,^h will be silenced;

the sword will pursue you.

cries of great havoc and destruction.
 Moab will be broken;
 her little ones will cry out.ⁱ
 They go up the way to Luhith, weeping bitterly as they go;
 on the road down to Horonaim anguished cries over the destruction are heard.
 Flee! Run for your lives;
 become like a bush^j in the desert.
 Since you trust in your deeds and riches,
 you too will be taken captive,
 and Chemosh will go into exile,
 together with his priests and officials.
 The destroyer will come against every town,
 and not a town will escape.
 The valley will be ruined
 and the plateau destroyed, because the LORD has spoken.
 Put salt on Moab,
 for she will be laid waste^k ;
 her towns will become desolate,
 with no one to live in them.

“A curse on him who is lax in doing the LORD’s work!
 A curse on him who keeps his sword from bloodshed!

“Moab has been at rest from youth,
 like wine left on its dregs, not poured from one jar to another—
 she has not gone into exile.
 So she tastes as she did,
 and her aroma is unchanged.
 But days are coming,”
 declares the LORD,
 “when I will send men who pour from jars,
 and they will pour her out;
 they will empty her jars
 and smash her jugs.
 Then Moab will be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed
 when they trusted in Bethel.

“How can you say, ‘We are warriors, men valiant in battle’?
 Moab will be destroyed and her towns invaded;
 her finest young men will go down in the slaughter,”
 declares the King, whose name is the LORD Almighty.
 “The fall of Moab is at hand;
 her calamity will come quickly.
 Mourn for her, all who live around her,

declares the LORD.

declares the LORD,

I moan for the men of Kir Hareseth.

 Joy and gladness are gone from the orchards and fields of Moab.
 I have stopped the flow of wine from the presses;
 no one treads them with shouts of joy.
 Although there are shouts,
 they are not shouts of joy.

"The sound of their cry rises for even the waters of Nimrim are dried up.

 In Moab I will put an end to those who make offerings on the high places

declares the LORD.

"So my heart laments for Moab like a flute;
 it laments like a flute for the men of Kir Hareseth.
 The wealth they acquired is gone.
 Every head is shaved

 every hand is slashed and every waist is covered with sackcloth.
 On all the roofs in Moab

declares the LORD.

"How shattered she is! How they wail!

 an object of horror to all those around her."

This is what the LORD says:

declares the LORD.

declares the LORD.

"In the shadow of Heshbon for a fire has gone out from Heshbon,

it burns the foreheads of Moab,
the skulls of the noisy boasters.
Woe to you, O Moab!
The people of Chemosh are destroyed;
your sons are taken into exile and your daughters into captivity.

"Yet I will restore the fortunes of Moab in days to come,"

declares the LORD.

Here ends the judgment on Moab.

Jer. 49:1-6 AGAINST AMMON. Concerning the Ammonites:

This is what the LORD says:

"Has Israel no sons?
Has she no heirs?
Why then has Molech^a taken possession of Gad?
Why do his people live in its towns?
But the days are coming,"
declares the LORD,

"when I will sound the battle cry against Rabbah of the Ammonites;
it will become a mound of ruins,
and its surrounding villages will be set on fire.
Then Israel will drive out those who drove her out,"

says the LORD.

"Wail, O Heshbon, for Ai is destroyed!
Cry out, O inhabitants of Rabbah!
Put on sackcloth and mourn;

AGAINST KEDAR AND HAZOR. Concerning Kedar and the kingdoms

"Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has plotted against you;
he has devised a plan against you.

"Arise and attack a nation at ease, which lives in confidence,"
declares the LORD,

"a nation that has neither gates nor bars;
its people live alone.
Their camels will become plunder,
and their large herds will be booty.
I will scatter to the winds those who are in distant places⁹ and will bring disaster on them from every side,"
declares the LORD.

"Hazor will become a haunt of jackals,
a desolate place forever.
No one will live there;
no man will dwell in it."

But Jehoiakim will not live to see vengeance brought on his enemies.

JEHOIAKIM'S DEATH SEEN. Therefore this is what the LORD says Jer.
22:18-23
about Jehoiakim son of Josiah king of Judah:

"They will not mourn for him:
'Alas, my brother! Alas, my sister!'
They will not mourn for him:
'Alas, my master! Alas, his splendor!'
He will have the burial of a donkey—dragged away and thrown let your voice be heard in Bashan,

I warned you when you felt secure,
but you said, 'I will not listen!'
This has been your way from your youth;
you have not obeyed me.
The wind will drive all your shepherds away,

Then you will be ashamed and disgraced

The Great Deportation

Upon the death of his father, eight-year-old Jehoiachin ascends the throne of Judah, but he reigns for only three months. Nebuchadnezzar is not about to allow a second king of Judah to defy him, so he comes to lead the new king away as a captive. Although the historical record indicates that Jehoiachin's character is as evil as his father's, in all fairness it may simply be that during his brief reign nothing is done by his queen mother or advisors to alter the wicked course which Jehoiakim had taken. But God knows a man's heart long before his actions reveal it, and so it is altogether likely that, given enough time, Jehoiachin would have been just like his father. Therefore Jeremiah forewarns Jehoiachin and his mother of their pending fate.

Jehoiachin's fate is linked to the fate of thousands of God's people. There have been many deportations already, and more will follow, but this is to be by far the greatest deportation of them all. Significant among the royal and priestly captives is a man by the name of Ezekiel, who will soon be called by God to be a prophet among his fellow captives in Babylonia.

You will never come back to the land you long to return to."

Reign of Zedekiah

With the great deportation underway and young King Jehoiachin being taken to Babylon, Nebuchadnezzar sets up Jehoiachin's uncle Mattaniah to be a puppet king. Mattaniah is the third son of former King Josiah. Nebuchadnezzar calls Mattaniah by the name of Zedekiah, and that is how he will be remembered throughout history. Zedekiah's character, like that of his people, is unrighteous. Zedekiah has the dubious distinction of being the king of Judah during its final destruction. The 11 years of his reign will come to a disastrous end with the fall of Jerusalem.

The LORD, the God of their fathers, sent word to them through his messengers again and again, because he had pity on his people and on his dwelling place. But they mocked God's messengers, despised his words and scoffed at his prophets until the wrath of the LORD was aroused against his people and there was no remedy. ¹⁸Neither he nor his attendants nor the people of the land paid any attention to the words the LORD had spoken through Jeremiah the prophet. ¹⁹It was because of the LORD's anger that all this happened to Jerusalem and Judah, and in the end he thrust them from his presence.

Jeremiah's Prophecies Under Zedekiah

Jeremiah's chief concern during the early part of Zedekiah's reign is the number of false prophets who are still saying that all is well, and that Babylonia will be broken instead of Judah. Perhaps because of the persecution he faces as a true prophet of God, Jeremiah unleashes a blistering attack against those who are masquerading as God's prophets, even among the captives in Babylonia. Jeremiah is forced to write to the people in exile and tell them to settle in for the duration, which will be 70 years.

Jer. 24:1-10 VISION OF THE FIGS. After Jehoiachin^w son of Jehoiakim king of Judah and the officials, the craftsmen and the artisans of Judah were carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the LORD showed me two baskets of figs placed in front of the temple of the LORD. One basket had very good figs, like those that ripen early; the other basket had very poor figs, so bad they could not be eaten.

Then the LORD asked me, "What do you see, Jeremiah?"

"Figs," I answered. "The good ones are very good, but the poor ones are so bad they cannot be eaten."

Then the word of the LORD came to me: "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Like these good figs, I regard as good the exiles from Judah, whom I sent away from this place to the land of the Babylonians. ^x My eyes will watch over them for their good, and I will bring them back to this land. I will build them up and not tear them down; I will plant them and not uproot them. I will give them a heart to know me, that I am the LORD. They will be my people, and I will be their God, for they will return to me with all their heart.

"But like the poor figs, which are so bad they cannot be eaten,' says the LORD, 'so will I deal with Zedekiah king of Judah, his officials and the survivors from Jerusalem, whether they remain in this land or live in Egypt. I will make them abhorrent and an offense to all the kingdoms of the earth, a reproach and a byword, an object of ridicule and cursing, wherever I banish them. I will send the sword, famine and plague against them until they are destroyed from the land I gave to them and their fathers.'"

LETTER TO EXILES. This is the text of the letter that the prophet Jeremiah sent from Jerusalem to the surviving elders among the exiles and to the priests, the prophets and all the other people Nebuchadnezzar had carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon. (This was after King Jehoiachin^v and the queen mother, the court officials and the leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the craftsmen and the artisans had gone into exile from Jerusalem.) He entrusted the letter to Elasah son of Shaphan and to Gemariah son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to King Nebuchadnezzar in Babylon. It said:

Jer. 29:1-23

This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says to all those I carried into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon: "Build houses and settle down; plant gardens and eat what they produce. Marry and have sons and daughters; find wives for your sons and give your daughters in marriage, so that they too may have sons and daughters. Increase in number there; do not decrease. Also, seek the peace and prosperity of the city to which I have carried you into exile. Pray to the LORD for it, because if it prospers, you too will prosper." Yes, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "Do not let the prophets and diviners among you deceive you. Do not listen to the dreams you encourage them to have. They are prophesying lies to you in my name. I have not sent them," declares the LORD.

This is what the LORD says: "When seventy years are completed for Babylon, I will come to you and fulfill my gracious promise to bring you back to this place. For I know the plans I have for you," declares the LORD, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. Then you will call upon me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you. You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart. I will be found by you," declares the LORD, "and will bring you back from captivity.^z I will gather you from all the nations and places where I have banished you," declares the LORD, "and will bring you back to the place from which I carried you into exile."

You may say, "The LORD has raised up prophets for us in Babylon," but this is what the LORD says about the king who sits on David's throne and all the people who remain in this city, your countrymen who did not go with you into exile— yes, this is what the LORD Almighty says: "I will send the sword, famine and plague against them and I will make them like poor figs that are so bad they cannot be eaten. I will pursue them with the sword, famine and plague and will make them abhorrent to all the kingdoms of the earth and an object of cursing and horror, of scorn and reproach, among all the nations where I drive them. For they have not listened to my words," declares the LORD, "words that I sent to them again and again by my servants the prophets. And you exiles have not listened either," declares the LORD.

Therefore, hear the word of the LORD, all you exiles whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says about Ahab son of Kolaiah and Zedekiah son of Maaseiah, who are prophesying lies to you in my name: "I will hand them over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will put them to death before your very eyes. Because of them, all the exiles from Judah who are in Babylon will use this curse: 'The LORD treat you like Zedekiah and Ahab, ^vHebrew Jeconiah, a variant of Jehoiachin^zOr will restore your fortunes whom the king of Babylon burned in the fire.' For they have done outrageous things in Israel; they have committed adultery with their neighbors' wives and in my name have spoken lies, which I did not tell them to do. I know it and am a witness to it," declares the LORD.

Jer.
29:24-32

MESSAGE FOR SHEMAIAH. Tell Shemaiah the Nehelamite, "This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: You sent letters in your own name to all the people in Jerusalem, to Zephaniah son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the other priests. You said to Zephaniah, 'The LORD has appointed you priest in place of Jehoiada to be in charge of the house of the LORD; you should put any madman who acts like a prophet into the stocks and neck-irons. So why have you not reprimanded Jeremiah from Anathoth, who poses as a prophet among you? He has sent this message to us in Babylon: It will be a long time. Therefore build houses and settle down; plant gardens and eat what they produce.' "

Zephaniah the priest, however, read the letter to Jeremiah the prophet. Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: "Send this message to all the exiles: 'This is what the LORD says about Shemaiah the Nehelamite: Because Shemaiah has prophesied to you, even though I did not send him, and has led you to believe a lie, this is what the LORD says: I will surely punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite and his descendants. He will have no one left among this people, nor will he see the good things I will do for my people, declares the LORD, because he has preached rebellion against me.' "

Jer. 27:1-3
(593 B.C.)

JEREMIAH TO WEAR YOKE. Early in the reign of Zedekiah^a son of Josiah king of Judah, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: This is what the LORD said to me: "Make a yoke out of straps and crossbars and put it on your neck. Then send word to the kings of Edom, Moab, Ammon, Tyre and Sidon through the envoys who have come to Jerusalem to Zedekiah king of Judah.

Jer. 27:4-11

MEANING TO THE NATIONS. Give them a message for their masters and say, 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: "Tell this to your masters: With my great power and outstretched arm I made the earth and its people and the animals that are on it, and I give it to anyone I please. Now I will hand all your countries over to my servant Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; I will make even the wild animals subject to him. All nations will serve him and his son and his grandson until the time for his land comes; then many nations and great kings will subjugate him.

" " "If, however, any nation or kingdom will not serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon or bow its neck under his yoke, I will punish that nation with the sword, famine and plague, declares the LORD, until I destroy it by his hand. So do not listen to your prophets, your diviners, your interpreters of dreams, your mediums or your sorcerers who tell you, 'You will not serve the king of Babylon.' They prophesy lies to you that will only serve to remove you far from your lands; I will banish you and you will perish. But if any nation will bow its neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon and serve him, I will let that nation remain in its own land to till it and to live there, declares the LORD." " " "

^aA few Hebrew manuscripts and Syriac (see also Jer. 27:3, 12 and 28:1); most Hebrew manuscripts Jehoiakim (Most Septuagint manuscripts do not have this verse.)

MEANING TO JUDAH. I gave the same message to Zedekiah king of Judah. I said, "Bow your neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon; serve him and his people, and you will live. Why will you and your people die by the sword, famine and plague with which the LORD has threatened any nation that will not serve the king of Babylon? Do not listen to the words of the prophets who say to you, 'You will not serve the king of Babylon,' for they are prophesying lies to you. 'I have not sent them,' declares the LORD. 'They are prophesying lies in my name. Therefore, I will banish you and you will perish, both you and the prophets who prophesy to you.' "

Jer.
27:12-15

FATE OF TEMPLE ARTICLES. Then I said to the priests and all these people, "This is what the LORD says: Do not listen to the prophets who say, 'Very soon now the articles from the LORD's house will be brought back from Babylon.' They are prophesying lies to you. Do not listen to them. Serve the king of Babylon, and you will live. Why should this city become a ruin? If they are prophets and have the word of the LORD, let them plead with the LORD Almighty that the furnishings remaining in the house of the LORD and in the palace of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem not be taken to Babylon. For this is what the LORD Almighty says about the pillars, the Sea, the movable stands and the other furnishings that are left in this city, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon did not take away when he carried Jehoiachin^b son of Jehoiakim king of Judah into exile from Jerusalem to Babylon, along with all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem—yes, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says about the things that are left in the house of the LORD and in the palace of the king of Judah and in Jerusalem: 'They will be taken to Babylon and there they will remain until the day I come for them,' declares the LORD. 'Then I will bring them back and restore them to this place.' "

Jer.
27:16-22

HANANIAH CONTRADICTS JEREMIAH. In the fifth month of that same year, the fourth year, early in the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, the prophet Hananiah son of Azzur, who was from Gibeon, said to me in the house of the LORD in the presence of the priests and all the people: "This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon. Within two years I will bring back to this place all the articles of the LORD's house that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon removed from here and took to Babylon. I will also bring back to this place Jehoiachin^b son of Jehoiakim king of Judah and all the other exiles from Judah who went to Babylon,' declares the LORD, 'for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.' "

Jer. 28:1-4

JEREMIAH'S RESPONSE. Then the prophet Jeremiah replied to the prophet Hananiah before the priests and all the people who were standing in the house of the LORD. He said, "Amen! May the LORD do so! May the LORD fulfill the words you have prophesied by bringing the articles of the LORD's house and all the exiles back to this place from Babylon. Nevertheless, listen to what I have to say in your hearing and in the hearing of all the people: From early times the prophets who preceded you and me have prophesied war, disaster and plague against many countries and great kingdoms. But the prophet who prophesies peace will be recognized as one truly sent by the LORD only if his prediction comes true."

Jer. 28:5-9

^bHebrew Jeconiah, a variant of Jehoiachin

Jer. 28:10,11 HANANIAH BREAKS YOKE. Then the prophet Hananiah took the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah and broke it, and he said before all the people, "This is what the LORD says: 'In the same way will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon off the neck of all the nations within two years.'" At this, the prophet Jeremiah went on his way.

Jer. 28:12-17 HANANIAH'S PUNISHMENT. Shortly after the prophet Hananiah had broken the yoke off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: "Go and tell Hananiah, 'This is what the LORD says: You have broken a wooden yoke, but in its place you will get a yoke of iron. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I will put an iron yoke on the necks of all these nations to make them serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they will serve him. I will even give him control over the wild animals.'"

Then the prophet Jeremiah said to Hananiah the prophet, "Listen, Hananiah! The LORD has not sent you, yet you have persuaded this nation to trust in lies. Therefore, this is what the LORD says: 'I am about to remove you from the face of the earth. This very year you are going to die, because you have faced rebellion against the LORD.'" "

In the seventh month of that same year, Hananiah the prophet died.

Jer. 23:9-14 ATTACK AGAINST PROPHETS. Concerning the prophets:

My heart is broken within me;
 all my bones tremble.
 I am like a drunken man,
 like a man overcome by wine, because of the LORD
 and his holy words.
 The land is full of adulterers;
 because of the curse^c the land lies parched^d
 and the pastures in the desert are withered.
 The prophets follow an evil course and use their power unjustly.

"Both prophet and priest are godless;
 even in my temple I find their wickedness,"
 declares the LORD.

"Therefore their path will become slippery;
 they will be banished to darkness and there they will fall.
 I will bring disaster on them in the year they are punished,"
 declares the LORD.

"Among the prophets of Samaria
 I saw this repulsive thing:
 They prophesied by Baal
 and led my people Israel astray.
 And among the prophets of Jerusalem
 I have seen something horrible:
 They commit adultery and live a lie.
 They strengthen the hands of evildoers,

^cOr because of these things ^dOr land mourns

so that no one turns from his wickedness.
They are all like Sodom to me;
the people of Jerusalem are like Gomorrah."

Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty says concerning the prophets:

Jer.
23:15-24

"I will make them eat bitter food
and drink poisoned water, because from the prophets of Jerusalem ungodliness has spread throughout the land."

This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Do not listen to what the prophets are prophesying to you;
they fill you with false hopes.
They speak visions from their own minds,
not from the mouth of the LORD.
They keep saying to those who despise me,
'The LORD says: You will have peace.'
And to all who follow the stubbornness of their hearts
they say, 'No harm will come to you.'
But which of them has stood in the council of the LORD to see or to hear his word?
Who has listened and heard his word?
See, the storm of the LORD
will burst out in wrath,
a whirlwind swirling down
on the heads of the wicked.
The anger of the LORD will not turn back until he fully accomplishes
the purposes of his heart.
In days to come
you will understand it clearly.
I did not send these prophets,
yet they have run with their message;
I did not speak to them,
yet they have prophesied.
But if they had stood in my council,
they would have proclaimed my words to my people and would have turned them from their evil ways and from their evil deeds.

"Am I only a God nearby,"

declares the LORD,

"and not a God far away?
Can anyone hide in secret places
so that I cannot see him?"

declares the LORD.

"Do not I fill heaven and earth?"

declares the LORD.

DREAMS ARE DELUSIONS. "I have heard what the prophets say who prophesy lies in my name. They say, 'I had a dream! I had a dream!' How long will this continue in the hearts of these lying prophets, who prophesy

Jer.
23:25-32

the delusions of their own minds? They think the dreams they tell one another will make my people forget my name, just as their fathers forgot my name through Baal worship. Let the prophet who has a dream tell his dream, but let the one who has my word speak it faithfully. For what has straw to do with grain?" declares the LORD. "Is not my word like fire," declares the LORD, "and like a hammer that breaks a rock in pieces?"

"Therefore," declares the LORD, "I am against the prophets who steal from one another words supposedly from me. Yes," declares the LORD, "I am against the prophets who wag their own tongues and yet declare, 'The LORD declares.' Indeed, I am against those who prophesy false dreams," declares the LORD. "They tell them and lead my people astray with their reckless lies, yet I did not send or appoint them. They do not benefit these people in the least," declares the LORD.

Jer.
23:33-40

FALSE ORACLES. "When these people, or a prophet or a priest, ask you, 'What is the oracle of the LORD?' say to them, 'What oracle?' I will forsake you, declares the LORD." If a prophet or a priest or anyone else claims, 'This is the oracle of the LORD,' I will punish that man and his household. This is what each of you keeps on saying to his friend or relative: 'What is the LORD's answer?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' But you must not mention 'the oracle of the LORD' again, because every man's own word becomes his oracle and so you distort the words of the living God, the LORD Almighty, our God. This is what you keep saying to a prophet: 'What is the LORD's answer to you?' or 'What has the LORD spoken?' Although you claim, 'This is the oracle of the LORD,' this is what the LORD says: You used the words, 'This is the oracle of the LORD,' even though I told you that you must not claim, 'This is the oracle of the LORD.' Therefore, I will surely forget you and cast you out of my presence along with the city I gave to you and your fathers. I will bring upon you everlasting disgrace—everlasting shame that will not be forgotten."

If God and his servant Jeremiah are outraged against false prophets, their fierce chastisement is only a warm-up for the judgment that Jeremiah will bring against Babylonia. Prophets down through the years have brought many judgments against Babylonia, but none is more specific than Jeremiah's.

With Babylonia now a real threat, and not just the predicted enemy of earlier prophecies, the time is ripe to reassure Judah of the ultimate fate of its oppressor. Of all the people who need this assurance, it is the exiles in Babylonia who need it the most. Therefore this judgment against Babylon is given by Jeremiah to a staff officer named Seraiah, who is being sent to Babylon on behalf of King Zedekiah.

Jer. 51:59
(593 B.C.)

MESSAGE GIVEN TO SERAIAH. This is the message Jeremiah gave to the staff officer Seraiah son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, when he went to Babylon with Zedekiah king of Judah in the fourth year of his reign.

Jer. 50:1-3

JUDGMENT AGAINST BABYLON. This is the word the LORD spoke through Jeremiah the prophet concerning Babylon and the land of the Babylonians:

^aOr burden (see Septuagint and Vulgate) ^bHebrew; Septuagint and Vulgate 'You are the burden. (The Hebrew for oracle and burden is the same.) ^cOr Chaldeans

"Announce and proclaim among the nations, lift up a banner and proclaim it;
 keep nothing back, but say,
 'Babylon will be captured;
 Bel will be put to shame,
 Marduk filled with terror.
 Her images will be put to shame and her idols filled with terror.'
 A nation from the north will attack her and lay waste her land.
 No one will live in it;
 both men and animals will flee away.

JUDAH'S EXILE WILL END.

Jer. 50:4-10

"In those days, at that time,"
 declares the LORD,
 "the people of Israel and the people of Judah together will go in tears to seek the LORD their God.
 They will ask the way to Zion and turn their faces toward it.
 They will come and bind themselves to the LORD in an everlasting covenant that will not be forgotten.
 "My people have been lost sheep;
 their shepherds have led them astray and caused them to roam on the mountains.
 They wandered over mountain and hill and forgot their own resting place.
 Whoever found them devoured them;
 their enemies said, 'We are not guilty,
 for they sinned against the LORD, their true pasture, the LORD, the hope of their fathers.'
 "Flee out of Babylon;
 leave the land of the Babylonians,
 and be like the goats that lead the flock.
 For I will stir up and bring against Babylon an alliance of great nations from the land of the north.
 They will take up their positions against her,
 and from the north she will be captured.
 Their arrows will be like skilled warriors who do not return empty-handed.
 So Babylonia^h will be plundered;
 all who plunder her will have their fill,"
 declares the LORD.

BABYLON TO BE DISGRACED.

Jer.
50:11-13

"Because you rejoice and are glad,
 you who pillage my inheritance,
 because you frolic like a heifer threshing grain

^hOr Chaldea

and neigh like stallions, your mother will be greatly ashamed;
 she who gave you birth will be disgraced.
 She will be the least of the nations—
 a wilderness, a dry land, a desert.
 Because of the LORD's anger she will not be inhabited but will be completely desolate.
 All who pass Babylon will be horrified and scoff because of all her wounds.

Jer.
 50:14-16

BABYLON'S ENEMIES ENCOURAGED.

"Take up your positions around Babylon,
 all you who draw the bow.
 Shoot at her! Spare no arrows, for she has sinned against the LORD.
 Shout against her on every side!
 She surrenders, her towers fall,
 her walls are torn down.
 Since this is the vengeance of the LORD,
 take vengeance on her;
 do to her as she has done to others.
 Cut off from Babylon the sower,
 and the reaper with his sickle at harvest.
 Because of the sword of the oppressor let everyone return to his own people, let everyone flee to his own land.

Jer.
 50:17,18

NEBUCHADNEZZAR TO BE PUNISHED.

"Israel is a scattered flock that lions have chased away.
 The first to devour him
 was the king of Assyria;
 the last to crush his bones was Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon."

Therefore this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says:

"I will punish the king of Babylon and his land
 as I punished the king of Assyria.

Jer.
 50:19,20

ISRAEL AND JUDAH FORGIVEN.

But I will bring Israel back to his own pasture and he will graze on Carmel and Bashan;
 his appetite will be satisfied
 on the hills of Ephraim and Gilead.
 In those days, at that time,"
 declares the LORD,
 "search will be made for Israel's guilt,
 but there will be none,
 and for the sins of Judah,
 but none will be found,
 for I will forgive the remnant I spare.

ENEMIES CALLED TO WAR.

Jer.
50:21-30

“Attack the land of Merathaim and those who live in Pekod.
Pursue, kill and completely destroy¹ them,”
declares the LORD.

“Do everything I have commanded you.
The noise of battle is in the land,
the noise of great destruction!
How broken and shattered is the hammer of the whole earth!
How desolate is Babylon
among the nations!
I set a trap for you, O Babylon, and you were caught before you knew it;
you were found and captured because you opposed the LORD.
The LORD has opened his arsenal and brought out the weapons of his wrath, for the Sovereign LORD Almighty has work to do in the land of the Babylonians.
Come against her from afar.
Break open her granaries;
pile her up like heaps of grain.
Completely destroy her
and leave her no remnant.
Kill all her young bulls;
let them go down to the slaughter!
Woe to them! For their day has come,
the time for them to be punished.
Listen to the fugitives and refugees from Babylon declaring in Zion
how the LORD our God has taken vengeance, vengeance for his temple.

“Summon archers against Babylon, all those who draw the bow.
Encamp all around her;
let no one escape.
Repay her for her deeds;
do to her as she has done.
For she has defied the LORD,
the Holy One of Israel.
Therefore, her young men will fall in the streets;
all her soldiers will be silenced in that day,”
declares the LORD.

ARROGANCE CAUSES DEFEAT.

Jer.
50:31,32

“See, I am against you, O arrogant one,”
declares the Lord, the LORD Almighty,

¹The Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them

“for your day has come,
 the time for you to be punished.
 The arrogant one will stumble and fall and no one will help her up;
 I will kindle a fire in her towns that will consume all who are around her.”

Jer.
 50:33,34

ISRAEL'S REDEEMER STRONG. This is what the LORD Almighty says:

“The people of Israel are oppressed, and the people of Judah as well.
 All their captors hold them fast,
 refusing to let them go.
 Yet their Redeemer is strong;
 the LORD Almighty is his name.
 He will vigorously defend their cause
 so that he may bring rest to their land, but unrest to those who live in Babylon.

Jer.
 50:35-40

BABYLON'S COMING DESOLATION.

“A sword against the Babylonians!”
 declares the LORD—
 “against those who live in Babylon and against her officials and wise men!
 A sword against her false prophets!
 They will become fools.
 A sword against her warriors!
 They will be filled with terror.
 A sword against her horses and chariots and all the foreigners in her ranks!
 They will become women.
 A sword against her treasures!
 They will be plundered.
 A drought on her waters!
 They will dry up.
 For it is a land of idols,
 idols that will go mad with terror.
 “So desert creatures and hyenas will live there,
 and there the owl will dwell.
 It will never again be inhabited or lived in from generation to generation.
 As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah along with their neighboring towns,”
 declares the LORD,
 “so no one will live there;
 no man will dwell in it.

Jer.
 50:41-46

ENEMIES FROM THE NORTH.

“Look! An army is coming from the north;
 a great nation and many kings

Or A sword against are being stirred up from the ends of the earth.

 They are armed with bows and spears;
 they are cruel and without mercy.
 They sound like the roaring sea
 as they ride on their horses;
 they come like men in battle formation
 to attack you, O Daughter of Babylon.
 The king of Babylon has heard reports about them,
 and his hands hang limp.
 Anguish has gripped him,
 pain like that of a woman in labor.
 Like a lion coming up from Jordan's thickets to a rich pastureland,
 I will chase Babylon from its land in an instant.
 Who is the chosen one I will appoint for this?
 Who is like me and who can challenge me?
 And what shepherd can stand against me?"
 Therefore, hear what the LORD has planned against Babylon,
 what he has purposed against the land of the Babylonians:
 The young of the flock will be dragged away;
 he will completely destroy their pasture because of them.
 At the sound of Babylon's capture the earth will tremble;
 its cry will resound among the nations.

ISRAEL NOT FORSAKEN. This is what the LORD says:

Jer. 51:1-5

"See, I will stir up the spirit of a destroyer against Babylon and the people of Leb Kamai.^k
 I will send foreigners to Babylon to winnow her and to devastate her land;
 they will oppose her on every side in the day of her disaster.
 Let not the archer string his bow,
 nor let him put on his armor.
 Do not spare her young men;
 completely destroy^l her army.
 They will fall down slain in Babylon,^m fatally wounded in her streets.
 For Israel and Judah have not been forsaken by their God, the LORD Almighty, though their landⁿ is full of guilt before the Holy One of Israel.

JOY OF CAPTIVES' RELEASE.

Jer. 51:6-10

"Flee from Babylon!
 Run for your lives!
 Do not be destroyed because of her sins.

^kLeb Kamai is a cryptogram for Chaldea, that is, Babylonia. ^lThe Hebrew term refers to the irrevocable giving over of things or persons to the LORD, often by totally destroying them. ^mOr Chaldea ⁿOr / and the land of the Babylonians,

It is time for the LORD's vengeance;
 he will pay her what she deserves.
 Babylon was a gold cup in the LORD's hand;
 she made the whole earth drunk.

 therefore they have now gone mad.
 Babylon will suddenly fall and be broken.
 Wail over her!
 Get balm for her pain;
 perhaps she can be healed.

" 'We would have healed Babylon,

Jer.
 51:11-14

MEDES WILL SUBDUE BABYLON.

"Sharpen the arrows, take up the shields!
 The LORD has stirred up the kings of the Medes, because his purpose is to destroy Babylon.
 The LORD will take vengeance,
 vengeance for his temple.
 Lift up a banner against the walls of Babylon!
 Reinforce the guard,

 prepare an ambush!
 The LORD will carry out his purpose,
 his decree against the people of Babylon.
 You who live by many waters and are rich in treasures, your end has come,
 the time for you to be cut off.
 The LORD Almighty has sworn by himself:
 I will surely fill you with men, as with a swarm of locusts,
 and they will shout in triumph over you.

Jer.
 51:15,16

GOD'S CREATIVE POWER.

"He made the earth by his power;
 he founded the world by his wisdom
 and stretched out the heavens by his understanding.
 When he thunders, the waters in the heavens roar;
 he makes clouds rise from the ends of the earth.
 He sends lightning with the rain
 and brings out the wind from his storehouses.

IDOLS ARE POWERLESS.

Jer.
51:17-19

"Every man is senseless and without knowledge;
 every goldsmith is shamed by his idols.
 His images are a fraud;
 they have no breath in them.
 They are worthless, the objects of mockery;
 when their judgment comes, they will perish.
 He who is the Portion of Jacob is not like these,
 for he is the Maker of all things,
 including the tribe of his inheritance—
 the LORD Almighty is his name.

ISRAEL GOD'S INSTRUMENT.

Jer.
51:20-23

"You are my war club,
 my weapon for battle—
 with you I shatter nations, with you I destroy kingdoms,
 with you I shatter horse and rider,
 with you I shatter chariot and driver,
 with you I shatter man and woman,
 with you I shatter old man and youth,
 with you I shatter young man and maiden,
 with you I shatter shepherd and flock,
 with you I shatter farmer and oxen,
 with you I shatter governors and officials.

COMPLETENESS OF DESTRUCTION. "Before your eyes I will repay Babylon and all who live in Babylonia^o for all the wrong they have done in Zion," declares the LORD.

Jer.
51:24-26

"I am against you, O destroying mountain, you who destroy the whole earth,"

declares the LORD.

"I will stretch out my hand against you,
 roll you off the cliffs,
 and make you a burned-out mountain.
 No rock will be taken from you for a cornerstone,
 nor any stone for a foundation, for you will be desolate forever,"

declares the LORD.

STRENGTH OF THE MEDES.

Jer.
51:27-33

"Lift up a banner in the land!
 Blow the trumpet among the nations!
 Prepare the nations for battle against her;
 summon against her these kingdoms:
 Ararat, Minni and Ashkenaz.
 Appoint a commander against her;
 send up horses like a swarm of locusts.
 Prepare the nations for battle against her—

^oOr Chaldea; also in verse 35

the kings of the Medes,
 their governors and all their officials,
 and all the countries they rule.
 The land trembles and writhes, for the LORD's purposes against Babylon stand—to lay waste the land of Babylon
 so that no one will live there.
 Babylon's warriors have stopped fighting;
 they remain in their strongholds.
 Their strength is exhausted;
 they have become like women.
 Her dwellings are set on fire;
 the bars of her gates are broken.
 One courier follows another and messenger follows messenger to announce to the king of Babylon that his entire city is captured, the river crossings seized,
 the marshes set on fire,
 and the soldiers terrified."

This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says:

"The Daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floor at the time it is trampled;
 the time to harvest her will soon come."

Jer.
 51:34,35

VENGEANCE ON NEBUCHADNEZZAR.

"Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon has devoured us,
 he has thrown us into confusion,
 he has made us an empty jar.
 Like a serpent he has swallowed us and filled his stomach with our delicacies, and then has spewed us out.
 May the violence done to our flesh^p be upon Babylon," say the inhabitants of Zion.
 "May our blood be on those who live in Babylonia," says Jerusalem.

Jer.
 51:36-44

BABYLON'S GREAT FALL. Therefore, this is what the LORD says:

"See, I will defend your cause and avenge you;
 I will dry up her sea
 and make her streams dry.
 Babylon will be a heap of ruins,
 a haunt of jackals,
 an object of horror and scorn,
 a place where no one lives.
 Her people all roar like young lions,
 they growl like lion cubs.
 But while they are aroused,

^pOr done to us and to our children

I will set out a feast for them and make them drunk,
so that they shout with laughter—then sleep forever and not awake,"

declares the LORD.

"I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams and goats.

"How Sheshach^a will be captured,
the boast of the whole earth seized!
What a horror Babylon will be among the nations!

The sea will rise over Babylon;
its roaring waves will cover her.

Her towns will be desolate, a dry and desert land,
a land where no one lives,
through which no man travels.

I will punish Bel in Babylon and make him spew out what he has swallowed.
The nations will no longer stream to him.
And the wall of Babylon will fall.

PREPARE FOR RETURN.

Jer.
51:45-50

"Come out of her, my people!
Run for your lives!
Run from the fierce anger of the LORD.
Do not lose heart or be afraid
when rumors are heard in the land;
one rumor comes this year, another the next, rumors of violence in the land and of ruler against ruler.
For the time will surely come when I will punish the idols of Babylon; her whole land will be disgraced and her slain will all lie fallen within her.
Then heaven and earth and all that is in them will shout for joy over Babylon, for out of the north destroyers will attack her,"

declares the LORD.

"Babylon must fall because of Israel's slain, just as the slain in all the earth have fallen because of Babylon.
You who have escaped the sword,
leave and do not linger!
Remember the LORD in a distant land,
and think on Jerusalem."

^a*Sheshach* is a cryptogram for Babylon.

Jer.
51:51-58

GOD'S RETRIBUTION.

"We are disgraced,
for we have been insulted
and shame covers our faces, because foreigners have entered the holy places of the LORD's house."

"But days are coming," declares the LORD,
"when I will punish her idols, and throughout her land
the wounded will groan.
Even if Babylon reaches the sky and fortifies her lofty stronghold,
I will send destroyers against her,"

declares the LORD.

"The sound of a cry comes from Babylon, the sound of great destruction from the land of the Babylonians.^r
The LORD will destroy Babylon;
he will silence her noisy din.
Waves of enemies will rage like great waters;
the roar of their voices will resound.
A destroyer will come against Babylon;
her warriors will be captured,
and their bows will be broken.
For the LORD is a God of retribution;
he will repay in full.
I will make her officials and wise men drunk,
her governors, officers and warriors as well;
they will sleep forever and not awake,"
declares the King, whose name is the LORD Almighty.

This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"Babylon's thick wall will be leveled and her high gates set on fire;
the peoples exhaust themselves for nothing,
the nations' labor is only fuel for the flames."

Jer.
51:60-64a

SERAIAH'S INSTRUCTIONS. Jeremiah had written on a scroll about all the disasters that would come upon Babylon—all that had been recorded concerning Babylon. He said to Seraiah, "When you get to Babylon, see that you read all these words aloud. Then say, 'O LORD, you have said you will destroy this place, so that neither man nor animal will live in it; it will be desolate forever.' When you finish reading this scroll, tie a stone to it and throw it into the Euphrates. Then say, 'So will Babylon sink to rise no more because of the disaster I will bring upon her. And her people will fall.'"

Jeremiah also brings a brief judgment against Elam, a province in the south of modern Iran, on the eastern edge of Babylonia. Although Elam and

^rOr Chaldeans

Babylonia have been bitter enemies over the centuries, it is probable that Elam is at this time a part of Nebuchadnezzar's empire and an ally against Judah.

JUDGMENT AGAINST ELAM. This is the word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet concerning Elam, early in the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah: Jer.
49:34-39

This is what the LORD Almighty says:

"See, I will break the bow of Elam,
the mainstay of their might.
I will bring against Elam the four winds from the four quarters of the heavens;
I will scatter them to the four winds, and there will not be a nation
where Elam's exiles do not go.
I will shatter Elam before their foes,
before those who seek their lives;
I will bring disaster upon them,
even my fierce anger,"

declares the LORD.

"I will pursue them with the sword
until I have made an end of them.
I will set my throne in Elam and destroy her king and officials,"

declares the LORD.

"Yet I will restore the fortunes of Elam
in days to come,"

declares the LORD.

Is it possible that Zedekiah has a remnant of moral consciousness somewhere amid his callous unrighteousness? The following account seems to suggest that he does, at least for a time. For whatever reasons—perhaps sincere, perhaps only practical, perhaps even political—Zedekiah orders his people to free all their Hebrew slaves. The law given to Moses sets strict limitations on when fellow Hebrews can be enslaved, and requires their release at the end of seven years. Zedekiah's order is obeyed at first, but, when the people renege, Jeremiah rebukes their sin.

HEBREW SLAVES RETAKEN. The word came to Jeremiah from the LORD after King Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people in Jerusalem to proclaim freedom for the slaves. Everyone was to free his Hebrew slaves, both male and female; no one was to hold a fellow Jew in bondage. So all the officials and people who entered into this covenant agreed that they would free their male and female slaves and no longer hold them in bondage. They agreed, and set them free. But afterward they changed their minds and took back the slaves they had freed and enslaved them again. Jer. 34:8-11

LAW VIOLATED. Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: I made a covenant with your forefathers when I brought them out of Egypt, out of the land of slavery. I said, 'Every seventh year each of you must free any fellow Hebrew who Jer.
34:12-16

has sold himself to you. After he has served you six years, you must let him go free.^s Your fathers, however, did not listen to me or pay attention to me. Recently you repented and did what is right in my sight: Each of you proclaimed freedom to his countrymen. You even made a covenant before me in the house that bears my Name. But now you have turned around and profaned my name; each of you has taken back the male and female slaves you had set free to go where they wished. You have forced them to become your slaves again.

Jer.
34:17-20

FATE OF COVENANT-BREAKERS. "Therefore, this is what the LORD says: You have not obeyed me; you have not proclaimed freedom for your fellow countrymen. So I now proclaim 'freedom' for you, declares the LORD—'freedom' to fall by the sword, plague and famine. I will make you abhorrent to all the kingdoms of the earth. The men who have violated my covenant and have not fulfilled the terms of the covenant they made before me, I will treat like the calf they cut in two and then walked between its pieces. The leaders of Judah and Jerusalem, the court officials, the priests and all the people of the land who walked between the pieces of the calf, I will hand over to their enemies who seek their lives. Their dead bodies will become food for the birds of the air and the beasts of the earth.

Jer.
34:21,22

PUNISHMENT FOR JUDAH. "I will hand Zedekiah king of Judah and his officials over to their enemies who seek their lives, to the army of the king of Babylon, which has withdrawn from you. I am going to give the order, declares the LORD, and I will bring them back to this city. They will fight against it, take it and burn it down. And I will lay waste the towns of Judah so no one can live there."

Ezekiel, Prophet in Exile

What Jeremiah is to the people of Judah in Jerusalem, the prophet Ezekiel is to the captives in Babylonian exile. Ezekiel himself was among those of the priestly aristocracy who were carried away in the great deportation of 597 B.C., along with King Jehoiachin. His designated home is in a place called Tel Abib by the Kebar River in Chaldea. Of priestly heritage through the line of Aaron, Eleazar, and Zadok, Ezekiel brings to his role as prophet a unique acquaintance with the priesthood, the temple, and ceremonial worship, which shows through in many of his prophecies.

If there is a special theme to Ezekiel's prophetic messages, it is that, by both its severe punishment and subsequent restoration, Judah will come to know its God as the true God of the universe, who rules over the affairs of individuals and nations. Like virtually all the prophets of Judah, Ezekiel predicts the fall of Jerusalem due to Judah's many sins; he brings harsh judgment against Judah's oppressors; and he prophesies about the restoration of the nation. Like the other prophets of Israel and Judah, Ezekiel points to the coming Kingdom. Ezekiel's visions and writings are filled with symbolism, allegories, parables, and proverbs.

Ezekiel begins the record of his prophetic office with an account of his call to ministry. It happens in the fifth year of his exile, when he is 30 years old—the age of recognized maturity at which Levites begin their priestly service and at which other significant figures, including the Messiah and his forerunner, will begin their special missions.

^sDeut. 15:12

GOD'S HAND ON EZEKIEL. In the^t thirtieth year, in the fourth month on the fifth day, while I was among the exiles by the Kebar River, the heavens were opened and I saw visions of God.

Ezk. 1:1-3
River
Kebar
(592 B.C.)

On the fifth of the month—it was the fifth year of the exile of King Jehoiachin—the word of the LORD came to Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi,^u by the Kebar River in the land of the Babylonians.^v There the hand of the LORD was upon him.

VISION OF FOUR CREATURES. I looked, and I saw a windstorm coming out of the north—an immense cloud with flashing lightning and surrounded by brilliant light. The center of the fire looked like glowing metal, and in the fire was what looked like four living creatures. In appearance their form was that of a man, but each of them had four faces and four wings. Their legs were straight; their feet were like those of a calf and gleamed like burnished bronze. Under their wings on their four sides they had the hands of a man. All four of them had faces and wings, and their wings touched one another. Each one went straight ahead; they did not turn as they moved.

Ezk. 1:4-24

Their faces looked like this: Each of the four had the face of a man, and on the right side each had the face of a lion, and on the left the face of an ox; each also had the face of an eagle. Such were their faces. Their wings were spread out upward; each had two wings, one touching the wing of another creature on either side, and two wings covering its body. Each one went straight ahead. Wherever the spirit would go, they would go, without turning as they went. The appearance of the living creatures was like burning coals of fire or like torches. Fire moved back and forth among the creatures; it was bright, and lightning flashed out of it. The creatures sped back and forth like flashes of lightning.

As I looked at the living creatures, I saw a wheel on the ground beside each creature with its four faces. This was the appearance and structure of the wheels: They sparkled like chrysolite, and all four looked alike. Each appeared to be made like a wheel intersecting a wheel. As they moved, they would go in any one of the four directions the creatures faced; the wheels did not turn about^w as the creatures went. Their rims were high and awesome, and all four rims were full of eyes all around.

When the living creatures moved, the wheels beside them moved; and when the living creatures rose from the ground, the wheels also rose. Wherever the spirit would go, they would go, and the wheels would rise along with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels. When the creatures moved, they also moved; when the creatures stood still, they also stood still; and when the creatures rose from the ground, the wheels rose along with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in the wheels.

Spread out above the heads of the living creatures was what looked like an expanse, sparkling like ice, and awesome. Under the expanse their wings were stretched out one toward the other, and each had two wings covering its body. When the creatures moved, I heard the sound of their wings, like the roar of rushing waters, like the voice of the Almighty,^x like the tumult of an army. When they stood still, they lowered their wings.

Ezk.
1:25-28

APPEARANCE OF GOD. Then there came a voice from above the expanse over their heads as they stood with lowered wings. Above the expanse over their heads was what looked like a throne of sapphire,^y and high above on the throne was a figure like that of a man. I saw that from what appeared to be his waist up he looked like glowing metal, as if full of fire, and that from there down he looked like fire; and brilliant light surrounded him. Like the appearance of a rainbow in the clouds on a rainy day, so was the radiance around him.

This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. When I saw it, I fell facedown, and I heard the voice of one speaking.

Ezk. 2:1,2

GOD CALLS EZEKIEL. He said to me, "Son of man, stand up on your feet and I will speak to you." As he spoke, the Spirit came into me and raised me to my feet, and I heard him speaking to me.

Ezk. 2:3-8

EZEKIEL'S MISSION TOLD. He said: "Son of man, I am sending you to the Israelites, to a rebellious nation that has rebelled against me; they and their fathers have been in revolt against me to this very day. The people to whom I am sending you are obstinate and stubborn. Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says.' And whether they listen or fail to listen—for they are a rebellious house—they will know that a prophet has been among them. And you, son of man, do not be afraid of them or their words. Do not be afraid, though briars and thorns are all around you and you live among scorpions. Do not be afraid of what they say or terrified by them, though they are a rebellious house. You must speak my words to them, whether they listen or fail to listen, for they are rebellious. But you, son of man, listen to what I say to you. Do not rebel like that rebellious house; open your mouth and eat what I give you."

Ezk.
2:9-3:3

EZEKIEL EATS SCROLL. Then I looked, and I saw a hand stretched out to me. In it was a scroll, which he unrolled before me. On both sides of it were written words of lament and mourning and woe. And he said to me, "Son of man, eat what is before you, eat this scroll; then go and speak to the house of Israel." So I opened my mouth, and he gave me the scroll to eat.

Then he said to me, "Son of man, eat this scroll I am giving you and fill your stomach with it." So I ate it, and it tasted as sweet as honey in my mouth.

Ezk. 3:4-11

DIFFICULTY OF MINISTRY. He then said to me: "Son of man, go now to the house of Israel and speak my words to them. You are not being sent to a people of obscure speech and difficult language, but to the house of Israel—not to many peoples of obscure speech and difficult language, whose words you cannot understand. Surely if I had sent you to them, they would have listened to you. But the house of Israel is not willing to listen to you because they are not willing to listen to me, for the whole house of Israel is hardened and obstinate. But I will make you as unyielding and hardened as they are. I will make your forehead like the hardest stone, harder than flint. Do not be afraid of them or terrified by them, though they are a rebellious house."

^xHebrew Shaddai ^yOr lapis lazuli

And he said to me, "Son of man, listen carefully and take to heart all the words I speak to you. Go now to your countrymen in exile and speak to them. Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says,' whether they listen or fail to listen."

VISION ENDS. Then the Spirit lifted me up, and I heard behind me a loud rumbling sound—May the glory of the LORD be praised in his dwelling place!—the sound of the wings of the living creatures brushing against each other and the sound of the wheels beside them, a loud rumbling sound.

Ezk.
3:12,13

EZEKIEL STUNNED. The Spirit then lifted me up and took me away, and I went in bitterness and in the anger of my spirit, with the strong hand of the LORD upon me. I came to the exiles who lived at Tel Abib near the Kebar River. And there, where they were living, I sat among them for seven days—overwhelmed.

ACCOUNTABILITY OF MINISTRY. At the end of seven days the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; so hear the word I speak and give them warning from me. When I say to a wicked man, 'You will surely die,' and you do not warn him or speak out to dissuade him from his evil ways in order to save his life, that wicked man will die for^z his sin, and I will hold you accountable for his blood. But if you do warn the wicked man and he does not turn from his wickedness or from his evil ways, he will die for his sin; but you will have saved yourself.

Ezk.
3:16-21

"Again, when a righteous man turns from his righteousness and does evil, and I put a stumbling block before him, he will die. Since you did not warn him, he will die for his sin. The righteous things he did will not be remembered, and I will hold you accountable for his blood. But if you do warn the righteous man not to sin and he does not sin, he will surely live because he took warning, and you will have saved yourself."

As Ezekiel reels under the weight of his new responsibility, the Holy Spirit leads him to the plain, where God instructs him in five acts which are symbolic of Jerusalem's destruction and Judah's fall. The central message of his ministry follows, couched in a judgment against the mountains of Israel (perhaps because they are often the site of pagan worship) and a prophecy announcing Judah's end.

TAKEN TO PLAIN. The hand of the LORD was upon me there, and he said to me, "Get up and go out to the plain, and there I will speak to you." So I got up and went out to the plain. And the glory of the LORD was standing there, like the glory I had seen by the Kebar River, and I fell facedown.

Ezk.
3:22,23

SIGN OF CONFINEMENT. Then the Spirit came into me and raised me to my feet. He spoke to me and said: "Go, shut yourself inside your house. And you, son of man, they will tie with ropes; you will be bound so that you cannot go out among the people. I will make your tongue stick to the roof of your mouth so that you will be silent and unable to rebuke them, though they are a rebellious house. But when I speak to you, I will open your mouth and you shall say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says.' Whoever will listen let him listen, and whoever will refuse let him refuse; for they are a rebellious house.

Ezk.
3:24-27

Ezk. 4:1-3 SIGN OF SIEGE. "Now, son of man, take a clay tablet, put it in front of you and draw the city of Jerusalem on it. Then lay siege to it: Erect siege works against it, build a ramp up to it, set up camps against it and put battering rams around it. Then take an iron pan, place it as an iron wall between you and the city and turn your face toward it. It will be under siege, and you shall besiege it. This will be a sign to the house of Israel.

Ezk. 4:4-8 SIGN OF DISCOMFORT. "Then lie on your left side and put the sin of the house of Israel upon yourself.^a You are to bear their sin for the number of days you lie on your side. I have assigned you the same number of days as the years of their sin. So for 390 days you will bear the sin of the house of Israel.

"After you have finished this, lie down again, this time on your right side, and bear the sin of the house of Judah. I have assigned you 40 days, a day for each year. Turn your face toward the siege of Jerusalem and with bared arm prophesy against her. I will tie you up with ropes so that you cannot turn from one side to the other until you have finished the days of your siege.

Ezk. 4:9-17 SIGN OF DEFILED FOOD. "Take wheat and barley, beans and lentils, millet and spelt; put them in a storage jar and use them to make bread for yourself. You are to eat it during the 390 days you lie on your side. Weigh out twenty shekels^b of food to eat each day and eat it at set times. Also measure out a sixth of a hin^c of water and drink it at set times. Eat the food as you would a barley cake; bake it in the sight of the people, using human excrement for fuel." The LORD said, "In this way the people of Israel will eat defiled food among the nations where I will drive them."

Then I said, "Not so, Sovereign LORD! I have never defiled myself. From my youth until now I have never eaten anything found dead or torn by wild animals. No unclean meat has ever entered my mouth."

"Very well," he said, "I will let you bake your bread over cow manure instead of human excrement."

He then said to me: "Son of man, I will cut off the supply of food in Jerusalem. The people will eat rationed food in anxiety and drink rationed water in despair, for food and water will be scarce. They will be appalled at the sight of each other and will waste away because of^d their sin.

Ezk. 5:1-17 SIGN OF EZEKIEL'S HAIR. "Now, son of man, take a sharp sword and use it as a barber's razor to shave your head and your beard. Then take a set of scales and divide up the hair. When the days of your siege come to an end, burn a third of the hair with fire inside the city. Take a third and strike it with the sword all around the city. And scatter a third to the wind. For I will pursue them with drawn sword. But take a few strands of hair and tuck them away in the folds of your garment. Again, take a few of these and throw them into the fire and burn them up. A fire will spread from there to the whole house of Israel.

^aOr your side ^bThat is, about 8 ounces (about 0.2 kilogram) ^cThat is, about 2/3 quart (about 0.6 liter) ^dOr away in

"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: This is Jerusalem, which I have set in the center of the nations, with countries all around her. Yet in her wickedness she has rebelled against my laws and decrees more than the nations and countries around her. She has rejected my laws and has not followed my decrees.

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: You have been more unruly than the nations around you and have not followed my decrees or kept my laws. You have not even^c conformed to the standards of the nations around you.

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I myself am against you, Jerusalem, and I will inflict punishment on you in the sight of the nations. Because of all your detestable idols, I will do to you what I have never done before and will never do again. Therefore in your midst fathers will eat their children, and children will eat their fathers. I will inflict punishment on you and will scatter all your survivors to the winds. Therefore as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, because you have defiled my sanctuary with all your vile images and detestable practices, I myself will withdraw my favor; I will not look on you with pity or spare you. A third of your people will die of the plague or perish by famine inside you; a third will fall by the sword outside your walls; and a third I will scatter to the winds and pursue with drawn sword.

"Then my anger will cease and my wrath against them will subside, and I will be avenged. And when I have spent my wrath upon them, they will know that I the LORD have spoken in my zeal.

"I will make you a ruin and a reproach among the nations around you, in the sight of all who pass by. You will be a reproach and a taunt, a warning and an object of horror to the nations around you when I inflict punishment on you in anger and in wrath and with stinging rebuke. I the LORD have spoken. When I shoot at you with my deadly and destructive arrows of famine, I will shoot to destroy you. I will bring more and more famine upon you and cut off your supply of food. I will send famine and wild beasts against you, and they will leave you childless. Plague and bloodshed will sweep through you, and I will bring the sword against you. I the LORD have spoken."

PROPHECY AGAINST MOUNTAINS. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, set your face against the mountains of Israel; prophesy against them and say: 'O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Sovereign LORD. This is what the Sovereign LORD says to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys: I am about to bring a sword against you, and I will destroy your high places. Your altars will be demolished and your incense altars will be smashed; and I will slay your people in front of your idols. I will lay the dead bodies of the Israelites in front of their idols, and I will scatter your bones around your altars. Wherever you live, the towns will be laid waste and the high places demolished, so that your altars will be laid waste and devastated, your idols smashed and ruined, your incense altars broken down, and what you have made wiped out. Your people will fall slain among you, and you will know that I am the LORD.

Ezk. 6:1-14

"But I will spare some, for some of you will escape the sword when you are scattered among the lands and nations. Then in the nations where they have been carried captive, those who escape will remember me—how I have been grieved by their adulterous hearts, which have turned away from me, and by their eyes, which have lusted after their idols. They will loathe themselves for the evil they have done and for all their detestable practices. And they will know that I am the LORD; I did not threaten in vain to bring this calamity on them.

“This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Strike your hands together and stamp your feet and cry out “Alas!” because of all the wicked and detestable practices of the house of Israel, for they will fall by the sword, famine and plague. He that is far away will die of the plague, and he that is near will fall by the sword, and he that survives and is spared will die of famine. So will I spend my wrath upon them. And they will know that I am the LORD, when their people lie slain among their idols around their altars, on every high hill and on all the mountaintops, under every spreading tree and every leafy oak—places where they offered fragrant incense to all their idols. And I will stretch out my hand against them and make the land a desolate waste from the desert to Diblah^f—wherever they live. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

Ezk. 7:1-9

THE END HAS COME. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, this is what the Sovereign LORD says to the land of Israel: The end! The end has come upon the four corners of the land. The end is now upon you and I will unleash my anger against you. I will judge you according to your conduct and repay you for all your detestable practices. I will not look on you with pity or spare you; I will surely repay you for your conduct and the detestable practices among you. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

“This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Disaster! An unheard-of^g disaster is coming. The end has come! The end has come! It has roused itself against you. It has come! Doom has come upon you—you who dwell in the land. The time has come, the day is near; there is panic, not joy, upon the mountains. I am about to pour out my wrath on you and spend my anger against you; I will judge you according to your conduct and repay you for all your detestable practices. I will not look on you with pity or spare you; I will repay you in accordance with your conduct and the detestable practices among you. Then you will know that it is I the LORD who strikes the blow.

Ezk.
7:10-27

“The day is here! It has come! Doom has burst forth, the rod has budded, arrogance has blossomed! Violence has grown into^h a rod to punish wickedness; none of the people will be left, none of that crowd—no wealth, nothing of value. The time has come, the day has arrived. Let not the buyer rejoice nor the seller grieve, for wrath is upon the whole crowd. The seller will not recover the land he has sold as long as both of them live, for the vision concerning the whole crowd will not be reversed. Because of their sins, not one of them will preserve his life. Though they blow the trumpet and get everything ready, no one will go into battle, for my wrath is upon the whole crowd.

“Outside is the sword, inside are plague and famine; those in the country will die by the sword, and those in the city will be devoured by famine and plague. All who survive and escape will be in the mountains, moaning like doves of the valleys, each because of his sins. Every hand will go limp, and every knee will become as weak as water. They will put on sackcloth and be clothed with terror. Their faces will be covered with shame and their heads will be shaved. They will throw their silver into the streets, and their gold will be an unclean thing. Their silver and gold will not be able to save them in the day of the LORD's wrath. They will not satisfy their hunger or fill their stomachs with it, for it has made them stumble into sin. They were proud of their beautiful jewelry and used it to make their detestable idols and vile images. Therefore I will turn these into an unclean thing for them. I will hand it all over as plunder to foreigners and as loot to the wicked of the earth, and they will defile it. I will turn my face away from them, and they will desecrate my treasured place; robbers will enter it and desecrate it.

"Prepare chains, because the land is full of bloodshed and the city is full of violence. I will bring the most wicked of the nations to take possession of their houses; I will put an end to the pride of the mighty, and their sanctuaries will be desecrated. When terror comes, they will seek peace, but there will be none. Calamity upon calamity will come, and rumor upon rumor. They will try to get a vision from the prophet; the teaching of the law by the priest will be lost, as will the counsel of the elders. The king will mourn, the prince will be clothed with despair, and the hands of the people of the land will tremble. I will deal with them according to their conduct, and by their own standards I will judge them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

Ezekiel's Denunciations of Judah _____

Over the next five years, from 591 to 586 B.C., Ezekiel brings a number of denunciations against Judah for its idolatry, its false prophets, its corrupt leaders, its rebellious spirit, its religious infidelity, and its sins. An introduction to these denunciations comes in the form of a most unusual occurrence. Ezekiel says that God took him to Jerusalem to show him the idolatry in the temple and the punishment of idolaters and corrupt leaders, and then returned him to his house in Tel Abib. It all happens somehow while Ezekiel is sitting in his house in the presence of a group of elders.

EZEKIEL TAKEN TO JERUSALEM. In the sixth year, in the sixth month on the fifth day, while I was sitting in my house and the elders of Judah were sitting before me, the hand of the Sovereign LORD came upon me there. I looked, and I saw a figure like that of a man.ⁱ From what appeared to be his waist down he was like fire, and from there up his appearance was as bright as glowing metal. He stretched out what looked like a hand and took me by the hair of my head. The Spirit lifted me up between earth and heaven and in visions of God he took me to Jerusalem, to the entrance to the north gate of the inner court, where the idol that provokes to jealousy stood. And there before me was the glory of the God of Israel, as in the vision I had seen in the plain.

Ezk. 8:5-18 IDOLATRY IN TEMPLE. Then he said to me, "Son of man, look toward the north." So I looked, and in the entrance north of the gate of the altar I saw this idol of jealousy.

And he said to me, "Son of man, do you see what they are doing—the utterly detestable things the house of Israel is doing here, things that will drive me far from my sanctuary? But you will see things that are even more detestable."

Then he brought me to the entrance to the court. I looked, and I saw a hole in the wall. He said to me, "Son of man, now dig into the wall." So I dug into the wall and saw a doorway there.

And he said to me, "Go in and see the wicked and detestable things they are doing here." So I went in and looked, and I saw portrayed all over the walls all kinds of crawling things and detestable animals and all the idols of the house of Israel. In front of them stood seventy elders of the house of Israel, and Jaazaniah son of Shaphan was standing among them. Each had a censer in his hand, and a fragrant cloud of incense was rising.

He said to me, "Son of man, have you seen what the elders of the house of Israel are doing in the darkness, each at the shrine of his own idol? They say, 'The LORD does not see us; the LORD has forsaken the land.' " Again, he said, "You will see them doing things that are even more detestable."

Then he brought me to the entrance to the north gate of the house of the LORD, and I saw women sitting there, mourning for Tammuz. He said to me, "Do you see this, son of man? You will see things that are even more detestable than this."

He then brought me into the inner court of the house of the LORD, and there at the entrance to the temple, between the portico and the altar, were about twenty-five men. With their backs toward the temple of the LORD and their faces toward the east, they were bowing down to the sun in the east.

He said to me, "Have you seen this, son of man? Is it a trivial matter for the house of Judah to do the detestable things they are doing here? Must they also fill the land with violence and continually provoke me to anger? Look at them putting the branch to their nose! Therefore I will deal with them in anger; I will not look on them with pity or spare them. Although they shout in my ears, I will not listen to them."

Ezk. 9:1-11 DEATH OF IDOLATERS. Then I heard him call out in a loud voice, "Bring the guards of the city here, each with a weapon in his hand." And I saw six men coming from the direction of the upper gate, which faces north, each with a deadly weapon in his hand. With them was a man clothed in linen who had a writing kit at his side. They came in and stood beside the bronze altar.

Now the glory of the God of Israel went up from above the cherubim, where it had been, and moved to the threshold of the temple. Then the LORD called to the man clothed in linen who had the writing kit at his side and said to him, "Go throughout the city of Jerusalem and put a mark on the foreheads of those who grieve and lament over all the detestable things that are done in it."

As I listened, he said to the others, "Follow him through the city and kill, without showing pity or compassion. Slaughter old men, young men and maidens, women and children, but do not touch anyone who has the mark. Begin at my sanctuary." So they began with the elders who were in front of the temple.

Then he said to them, "Defile the temple and fill the courts with the slain. Go!" So they went out and began killing throughout the city. While they were killing and I was left alone, I fell facedown, crying out, "Ah, Sovereign LORD! Are you going to destroy the entire remnant of Israel in this outpouring of your wrath on Jerusalem?"

He answered me, "The sin of the house of Israel and Judah is exceedingly great; the land is full of bloodshed and the city is full of injustice. They say, 'The LORD has forsaken the land; the LORD does not see.' So I will not look on them with pity or spare them, but I will bring down on their own heads what they have done."

Then the man in linen with the writing kit at his side brought back word, saying, "I have done as you commanded."

GLORY LEAVES TEMPLE. I looked, and I saw the likeness of a throne of sapphireⁱ above the expanse that was over the heads of the cherubim. The LORD said to the man clothed in linen, "Go in among the wheels beneath the cherubim. Fill your hands with burning coals from among the cherubim and scatter them over the city." And as I watched, he went in.

Ezk.
10:1-22

Now the cherubim were standing on the south side of the temple when the man went in, and a cloud filled the inner court. Then the glory of the LORD rose from above the cherubim and moved to the threshold of the temple. The cloud filled the temple, and the court was full of the radiance of the glory of the LORD. The sound of the wings of the cherubim could be heard as far away as the outer court, like the voice of God Almighty^k when he speaks.

When the LORD commanded the man in linen, "Take fire from among the wheels, from among the cherubim," the man went in and stood beside a wheel. Then one of the cherubim reached out his hand to the fire that was among them. He took up some of it and put it into the hands of the man in linen, who took it and went out. (Under the wings of the cherubim could be seen what looked like the hands of a man.)

I looked, and I saw beside the cherubim four wheels, one beside each of the cherubim; the wheels sparkled like chrysolite. As for their appearance, the four of them looked alike; each was like a wheel intersecting a wheel. As they moved, they would go in any one of the four directions the cherubim faced; the wheels did not turn about^l as the cherubim went. The cherubim went in whatever direction the head faced, without turning as they went. Their entire bodies, including their backs, their hands and their wings, were completely full of eyes, as were their four wheels. I heard the wheels being called "the whirling wheels." Each of the cherubim had four faces: One face was that of a cherub, the second the face of a man, the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

Then the cherubim rose upward. These were the living creatures I had seen by the Kebar River. When the cherubim moved, the wheels beside them moved; and when the cherubim spread their wings to rise from the ground, the wheels did not leave their side. When the cherubim stood still,

ⁱOr lapis lazuli ^kHebrew El-Shaddai ^lOr aside

they also stood still; and when the cherubim rose, they rose with them, because the spirit of the living creatures was in them.

Then the glory of the LORD departed from over the threshold of the temple and stopped above the cherubim. While I watched, the cherubim spread their wings and rose from the ground, and as they went, the wheels went with them. They stopped at the entrance to the east gate of the LORD's house, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

These were the living creatures I had seen beneath the God of Israel by the Kebar River, and I realized that they were cherubim. Each had four faces and four wings, and under their wings was what looked like the hands of a man. Their faces had the same appearance as those I had seen by the Kebar River. Each one went straight ahead.

Ezk.

CORRUPT LEADERS JUDGED. Then the Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the gate of the house of the LORD that faces east. There at the entrance to the gate were twenty-five men, and I saw among them Jaazaniah son of Azzur and Pelatiah son of Benaiah, leaders of the people. The LORD said to me, "Son of man, these are the men who are plotting evil and giving wicked advice in this city. They say, 'Will it not soon be time to build houses?'^m This city is a cooking pot, and we are the meat.' Therefore prophesy against them; prophesy, son of man."

Then the Spirit of the LORD came upon me, and he told me to say: "This is what the LORD says: That is what you are saying, O house of Israel, but I know what is going through your mind. You have killed many people in this city and filled its streets with the dead.

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: The bodies you have thrown there are the meat and this city is the pot, but I will drive you out of it. You fear the sword, and the sword is what I will bring against you, declares the Sovereign LORD. I will drive you out of the city and hand you over to foreigners and inflict punishment on you. You will fall by the sword, and I will execute judgment on you at the borders of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD. This city will not be a pot for you, nor will you be the meat in it; I will execute judgment on you at the borders of Israel. And you will know that I am the LORD, for you have not followed my decrees or kept my laws but have conformed to the standards of the nations around you."

Now as I was prophesying, Pelatiah son of Benaiah died. Then I fell facedown and cried out in a loud voice, "Ah, Sovereign LORD! Will you completely destroy the remnant of Israel?"

Ezk.
11:14-21

PROMISE OF RESTORATION. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, your brothers—your brothers who are your blood relativesⁿ and the whole house of Israel—are those of whom the people of Jerusalem have said, 'They are^o far away from the LORD; this land was given to us as our possession.'

"Therefore say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Although I sent them far away among the nations and scattered them among the countries, yet for a little while I have been a sanctuary for them in the countries where they have gone.'

"Therefore say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will gather you

^mOr This is not the time to build houses. ⁿOr are in exile with you (see Septuagint and Syriac) ^oOr those to whom the people of Jerusalem have said, 'Stay from the nations and bring you back from the countries where you have been scattered, and I will give you back the land of Israel again.'

"They will return to it and remove all its vile images and detestable idols. I will give them an undivided heart and put a new spirit in them; I will remove from them their heart of stone and give them a heart of flesh. Then they will follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws. They will be my people, and I will be their God. But as for those whose hearts are devoted to their vile images and detestable idols, I will bring down on their own heads what they have done, declares the Sovereign LORD."

EZEKIEL RETURNED TO TEL ABIB. Then the cherubim, with the wheels beside them, spread their wings, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them. The glory of the LORD went up from within the city and stopped above the mountain east of it. The Spirit lifted me up and brought me to the exiles in Babylonia" in the vision given by the Spirit of God.

Ezk.
11:22-25

Then the vision I had seen went up from me, and I told the exiles everything the LORD had shown me.

Sometime after Ezekiel's visionary trip to Jerusalem, God directs him to enact two signs before his people: one depicts the further exile of those still in Judah, while the other shows all the anxiety which will accompany the fall. When Ezekiel actually performs these enactments it must be a curious scene for the onlookers. Presumably there are those who accept Ezekiel as God's prophet and who look sincerely for whatever message is to be derived. Yet there are not many believers among these bitter exiles, and the unbelievers must think Ezekiel is insane. In explaining the significance of the enactment, Ezekiel brings a prophecy about King Zedekiah's final fate that, five years later, will come true in minute detail.

THE EXILE ENACTMENT. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, you are living among a rebellious people. They have eyes to see but do not see and ears to hear but do not hear, for they are a rebellious people.

Ezk.
12:1-16

"Therefore, son of man, pack your belongings for exile and in the daytime, as they watch, set out and go from where you are to another place. Perhaps they will understand, though they are a rebellious house. During the daytime, while they watch, bring out your belongings packed for exile. Then in the evening, while they are watching, go out like those who go into exile. While they watch, dig through the wall and take your belongings out through it. Put them on your shoulder as they are watching and carry them out at dusk. Cover your face so that you cannot see the land, for I have made you a sign to the house of Israel."

So I did as I was commanded. During the day I brought out my things packed for exile. Then in the evening I dug through the wall with my hands. I took my belongings out at dusk, carrying them on my shoulders while they watched.

In the morning the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, did not that rebellious house of Israel ask you, 'What are you doing?'

"Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: This oracle concerns the prince in Jerusalem and the whole house of Israel who are there.' Say to them, 'I am a sign to you.'

“As I have done, so it will be done to them. They will go into exile as captives.

“The prince among them will put his things on his shoulder at dusk and leave, and a hole will be dug in the wall for him to go through. He will cover his face so that he cannot see the land. I will spread my net for him, and he will be caught in my snare; I will bring him to Babylonia, the land of the Chaldeans, but he will not see it, and there he will die. I will scatter to the winds all those around him—his staff and all his troops—and I will pursue them with drawn sword.

“They will know that I am the LORD, when I disperse them among the nations and scatter them through the countries. But I will spare a few of them from the sword, famine and plague, so that in the nations where they go they may acknowledge all their detestable practices. Then they will know that I am the LORD.”

Ezk.
12:17-20

THE ANXIETY ENACTMENT. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, tremble as you eat your food, and shudder in fear as you drink your water. Say to the people of the land: ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says about those living in Jerusalem and in the land of Israel: They will eat their food in anxiety and drink their water in despair, for their land will be stripped of everything in it because of the violence of all who live there. The inhabited towns will be laid waste and the land will be desolate. Then you will know that I am the LORD.’”

In order to correct two prevalent misunderstandings about the certainty and timing of God’s prophecies, God brings these two messages to Ezekiel.

Ezk.
12:21-25

CERTAINTY OF PROPHECIES. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, what is this proverb you have in the land of Israel: ‘The days go by and every vision comes to nothing’? Say to them, ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am going to put an end to this proverb, and they will no longer quote it in Israel.’ Say to them, ‘The days are near when every vision will be fulfilled. For there will be no more false visions or flattering divinations among the people of Israel. But I the LORD will speak what I will, and it shall be fulfilled without delay. For in your days, you rebellious house, I will fulfill whatever I say, declares the Sovereign LORD.’”

Ezk.
12:26-28

IMMEDIACY OF FULFILLMENT. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, the house of Israel is saying, ‘The vision he sees is for many years from now, and he prophesies about the distant future.’

“Therefore say to them, ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: None of my words will be delayed any longer; whatever I say will be fulfilled, declares the Sovereign LORD.’”

One of the primary reasons that people have so little confidence in God’s proclamations is that many false messages are being preached by those pretending to be men of God. Over the centuries there will be no end to such men. Therefore God calls Ezekiel to speak out against the false prophets and prophetesses who are deceiving Judah into believing their captivity will soon end with swift victory over Babylonia.

DECEIT OF FALSE PROPHETS. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel who are now prophesying. Say to those who prophesy out of their own imagination: 'Hear the word of the LORD! This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Woe to the foolish^a prophets who follow their own spirit and have seen nothing! Your prophets, O Israel, are like jackals among ruins. You have not gone up to the breaks in the wall to repair it for the house of Israel so that it will stand firm in the battle on the day of the LORD. Their visions are false and their divinations a lie. They say, "The LORD declares," when the LORD has not sent them; yet they expect their words to be fulfilled. Have you not seen false visions and uttered lying divinations when you say, "The LORD declares," though I have not spoken?"

Ezk.
13:1-16

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because of your false words and lying visions, I am against you, declares the Sovereign LORD. My hand will be against the prophets who see false visions and utter lying divinations. They will not belong to the council of my people or be listed in the records of the house of Israel, nor will they enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the Sovereign LORD.

"Because they lead my people astray, saying, "Peace," when there is no peace, and because, when a flimsy wall is built, they cover it with whitewash, therefore tell those who cover it with whitewash that it is going to fall. Rain will come in torrents, and I will send hailstones hurtling down, and violent winds will burst forth. When the wall collapses, will people not ask you, "Where is the whitewash you covered it with?"

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: In my wrath I will unleash a violent wind, and in my anger hailstones and torrents of rain will fall with destructive fury. I will tear down the wall you have covered with whitewash and will level it to the ground so that its foundation will be laid bare. When it^r falls, you will be destroyed in it; and you will know that I am the LORD. So I will spend my wrath against the wall and against those who covered it with whitewash. I will say to you, "The wall is gone and so are those who whitewashed it, those prophets of Israel who prophesied to Jerusalem and saw visions of peace for her when there was no peace, declares the Sovereign LORD." "

SIN OF THE PROPHETESSES. "Now, son of man, set your face against the daughters of your people who prophesy out of their own imagination. Prophesy against them and say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Woe to the women who sew magic charms on all their wrists and make veils of various lengths for their heads in order to ensnare people. Will you ensnare the lives of my people but preserve your own? You have profaned me among my people for a few handfuls of barley and scraps of bread. By lying to my people, who listen to lies, you have killed those who should not have died and have spared those who should not live.

Ezk.
13:17-23

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against your magic charms with which you ensnare people like birds and I will tear them from your arms; I will set free the people that you ensnare like birds. I will tear off your veils and save my people from your hands, and they will no longer fall prey to your power. Then you will know that I am the LORD. Because you disheartened the righteous with your lies, when I had brought them no grief, and because you encouraged the wicked not to turn from their evil ways and so save their lives, therefore you will no longer see false visions or practice divination. I will save my people from your hands. And then you will know that I am the LORD.' "

^aOr wicked

One irony of the people's continued idolatry is their practice of seeking God's will from the prophets. They are fascinated and allured by the various idols they have set up in their hearts, but deep down in those same hearts there is evidently the realization that only a much greater God can provide the real answers to life. Yet God considers their dual allegiance an affront and orders Ezekiel not to accommodate their curiosity.

Ezk.
14:1-11

PROPHECY NOT FOR IDOLATERS. Some of the elders of Israel came to me and sat down in front of me. Then the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, these men have set up idols in their hearts and put wicked stumbling blocks before their faces. Should I let them inquire of me at all? Therefore speak to them and tell them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: When any Israelite sets up idols in his heart and puts a wicked stumbling block before his face and then goes to a prophet, I the LORD will answer him myself in keeping with his great idolatry. I will do this to recapture the hearts of the people of Israel, who have all deserted me for their idols.'

"Therefore say to the house of Israel, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Repent! Turn from your idols and renounce all your detestable practices!

" 'When any Israelite or any alien living in Israel separates himself from me and sets up idols in his heart and puts a wicked stumbling block before his face and then goes to a prophet to inquire of me, I the LORD will answer him myself. I will set my face against that man and make him an example and a byword. I will cut him off from my people. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

" 'And if the prophet is enticed to utter a prophecy, I the LORD have enticed that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand against him and destroy him from among my people Israel. They will bear their guilt—the prophet will be as guilty as the one who consults him. Then the people of Israel will no longer stray from me, nor will they defile themselves anymore with all their sins. They will be my people, and I will be their God, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

How many righteous people does it take to save a nation? It has been 1500 years since Abraham asked that same question concerning Sodom and Gomorrah. Surely at this time there are righteous believers among both the captives and their Jerusalem kinsmen who are asking this same question themselves. God's answer to Ezekiel is that there comes a time when a nation's sins so completely condemn it that not even a remnant of righteous citizens can stop the destruction inherent in evil. God uses as his illustration of a righteous remnant a trio of faithful believers: Noah, who saw all of mankind (except his own family) destroyed by the great flood; Job, the patient patriarch; and Daniel (possibly the Daniel who is one of the chosen captives serving in Nebuchadnezzar's palace, who will distinguish himself among God's exiles even more than he already has).

JUDGMENT INESCAPABLE. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, if a country sins against me by being unfaithful and I stretch out my hand against it to cut off its food supply and send famine upon it and kill its men and their animals, even if these three men—Noah, Daniel^s and Job—were in it, they could save only themselves by their righteousness, declares the Sovereign LORD.

Ezk.
14:12-23

"Or if I send wild beasts through that country and they leave it childless and it becomes desolate so that no one can pass through it because of the beasts, as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, even if these three men were in it, they could not save their own sons or daughters. They alone would be saved, but the land would be desolate.

"Or if I bring a sword against that country and say, 'Let the sword pass throughout the land,' and I kill its men and their animals, as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, even if these three men were in it, they could not save their own sons or daughters. They alone would be saved.

"Or if I send a plague into that land and pour out my wrath upon it through bloodshed, killing its men and their animals, as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, even if Noah, Daniel and Job were in it, they could save neither son nor daughter. They would save only themselves by their righteousness.

"For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: How much worse will it be when I send against Jerusalem my four dreadful judgments—sword and famine and wild beasts and plague—to kill its men and their animals! Yet there will be some survivors—sons and daughters who will be brought out of it. They will come to you, and when you see their conduct and their actions, you will be consoled regarding the disaster I have brought upon Jerusalem—every disaster I have brought upon it. You will be consoled when you see their conduct and their actions, for you will know that I have done nothing in it without cause, declares the Sovereign LORD."

Using three allegories, God foretells Judah's imminent destruction. The first allegory shows Judah as a useless vine to be burned. The second is a vitriolic attack against Judah's unfaithfulness, portraying Judah as an adulterous wife, worse than her two sisters, Israel and Edom, and less moral than a prostitute. The third allegory, using two eagles and a vine, calls specific attention to the personal ruin of King Zedekiah.

THE USELESS VINE. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, how is the wood of a vine better than that of a branch on any of the trees in the forest? Is wood ever taken from it to make anything useful? Do they make pegs from it to hang things on? And after it is thrown on the fire as fuel and the fire burns both ends and chars the middle, is it then useful for anything? If it was not useful for anything when it was whole, how much less can it be made into something useful when the fire has burned it and it is charred?

Ezk. 15:1-8

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: As I have given the wood of the vine among the trees of the forest as fuel for the fire, so will

^sOr Danel; the Hebrew spelling may suggest a person other than the prophet Daniel

I treat the people living in Jerusalem. I will set my face against them. Although they have come out of the fire, the fire will yet consume them. And when I set my face against them, you will know that I am the LORD. I will make the land desolate because they have been unfaithful, declares the Sovereign LORD."

Ezk.
16:1-14

THE UNFAITHFUL WIFE. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, confront Jerusalem with her detestable practices and say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says to Jerusalem: Your ancestry and birth were in the land of the Canaanites; your father was an Amorite and your mother a Hittite. On the day you were born your cord was not cut, nor were you washed with water to make you clean, nor were you rubbed with salt or wrapped in cloths. No one looked on you with pity or had compassion enough to do any of these things for you. Rather, you were thrown out into the open field, for on the day you were born you were despised.

"Then I passed by and saw you kicking about in your blood, and as you lay there in your blood I said to you, 'Live!'^t I made you grow like a plant of the field. You grew up and developed and became the most beautiful of jewels.^u Your breasts were formed and your hair grew, you who were naked and bare.

"Later I passed by, and when I looked at you and saw that you were old enough for love, I spread the corner of my garment over you and covered your nakedness. I gave you my solemn oath and entered into a covenant with you, declares the Sovereign LORD, and you became mine.

"I bathed^v you with water and washed the blood from you and put ointments on you. I clothed you with an embroidered dress and put leather sandals on you. I dressed you in fine linen and covered you with costly garments. I adorned you with jewelry: I put bracelets on your arms and a necklace around your neck, and I put a ring on your nose, earrings on your ears and a beautiful crown on your head. So you were adorned with gold and silver; your clothes were of fine linen and costly fabric and embroidered cloth. Your food was fine flour, honey and olive oil. You became very beautiful and rose to be a queen. And your fame spread among the nations on account of your beauty, because the splendor I had given you made your beauty perfect, declares the Sovereign LORD.

Ezk.
16:15-22

"But you trusted in your beauty and used your fame to become a prostitute. You lavished your favors on anyone who passed by and your beauty became his.^w You took some of your garments to make gaudy high places, where you carried on your prostitution. Such things should not happen, nor should they ever occur. You also took the fine jewelry I gave you, the jewelry made of my gold and silver, and you made for yourself male idols and engaged in prostitution with them. And you took your embroidered clothes to put on them, and you offered my oil and incense before them. Also the food I provided for you—the fine flour, olive oil and honey I gave you to eat—you offered as fragrant incense before them. That is what happened, declares the Sovereign LORD.

"And you took your sons and daughters whom you bore to me and sacrificed them as food to the idols. Was your prostitution not enough?

You slaughtered my children and sacrificed them^x to the idols. In all your detestable practices and your prostitution you did not remember the days of your youth, when you were naked and bare, kicking about in your blood.

“Woe! Woe to you, declares the Sovereign LORD. In addition to all your other wickedness, you built a mound for yourself and made a lofty shrine in every public square. At the head of every street you built your lofty shrines and degraded your beauty, offering your body with increasing promiscuity to anyone who passed by. You engaged in prostitution with the Egyptians, your lustful neighbors, and provoked me to anger with your increasing promiscuity. So I stretched out my hand against you and reduced your territory; I gave you over to the greed of your enemies, the daughters of the Philistines, who were shocked by your lewd conduct. You engaged in prostitution with the Assyrians too, because you were insatiable; and even after that, you still were not satisfied. Then you increased your promiscuity to include Babylonia,^y a land of merchants, but even with this you were not satisfied.

Ezk.
16:23-34

“How weak-willed you are, declares the Sovereign LORD, when you do all these things, acting like a brazen prostitute! When you built your mounds at the head of every street and made your lofty shrines in every public square, you were unlike a prostitute, because you scorned payment.

“You adulterous wife! You prefer strangers to your own husband! Every prostitute receives a fee, but you give gifts to all your lovers, bribing them to come to you from everywhere for your illicit favors. So in your prostitution you are the opposite of others; no one runs after you for your favors. You are the very opposite, for you give payment and none is given to you.

“Therefore, you prostitute, hear the word of the LORD! This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because you poured out your wealth^z and exposed your nakedness in your promiscuity with your lovers, and because of all your detestable idols, and because you gave them your children's blood, therefore I am going to gather all your lovers, with whom you found pleasure, those you loved as well as those you hated. I will gather them against you from all around and will strip you in front of them, and they will see all your nakedness. I will sentence you to the punishment of women who commit adultery and who shed blood; I will bring upon you the blood vengeance of my wrath and jealous anger. Then I will hand you over to your lovers, and they will tear down your mounds and destroy your lofty shrines. They will strip you of your clothes and take your fine jewelry and leave you naked and bare. They will bring a mob against you, who will stone you and hack you to pieces with their swords. They will burn down your houses and inflict punishment on you in the sight of many women. I will put a stop to your prostitution, and you will no longer pay your lovers. Then my wrath against you will subside and my jealous anger will turn away from you; I will be calm and no longer angry.

Ezk.
16:35-43

“Because you did not remember the days of your youth but enraged me with all these things, I will surely bring down on your head what you have done, declares the Sovereign LORD. Did you not add lewdness to all your other detestable practices?

Ezk.
16:44-52

“Everyone who quotes proverbs will quote this proverb about you: “Like mother, like daughter.” You are a true daughter of your mother, who despised her husband and her children; and you are a true sister of your sisters, who despised their husbands and their children. Your mother was a Hittite and your father an Amorite. Your older sister was Samaria, who lived to the north of you with her daughters; and your younger sister, who lived to the south of you with her daughters, was Sodom. You not only walked in their ways and copied their detestable practices, but in all your ways you soon became more depraved than they. As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, your sister Sodom and her daughters never did what you and your daughters have done.

“Now this was the sin of your sister Sodom: She and her daughters were arrogant, overfed and unconcerned; they did not help the poor and needy. They were haughty and did detestable things before me. Therefore I did away with them as you have seen. Samaria did not commit half the sins you did. You have done more detestable things than they, and have made your sisters seem righteous by all these things you have done. Bear your disgrace, for you have furnished some justification for your sisters. Because your sins were more vile than theirs, they appear more righteous than you. So then, be ashamed and bear your disgrace, for you have made your sisters appear righteous.

Ezk.
16:53-58

“However, I will restore the fortunes of Sodom and her daughters and of Samaria and her daughters, and your fortunes along with them, so that you may bear your disgrace and be ashamed of all you have done in giving them comfort. And your sisters, Sodom with her daughters and Samaria with her daughters, will return to what they were before; and you and your daughters will return to what you were before. You would not even mention your sister Sodom in the day of your pride, before your wickedness was uncovered. Even so, you are now scorned by the daughters of Edom^a and all her neighbors and the daughters of the Philistines—all those around you who despise you. You will bear the consequences of your lewdness and your detestable practices, declares the LORD.

Ezk.
16:59-63

“This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will deal with you as you deserve, because you have despised my oath by breaking the covenant. Yet I will remember the covenant I made with you in the days of your youth, and I will establish an everlasting covenant with you. Then you will remember your ways and be ashamed when you receive your sisters, both those who are older than you and those who are younger. I will give them to you as daughters, but not on the basis of my covenant with you. So I will establish my covenant with you, and you will know that I am the LORD. Then, when I make atonement for you for all you have done, you will remember and be ashamed and never again open your mouth because of your humiliation, declares the Sovereign LORD.’”

Ezk.
17:1-18

TWO EAGLES AND A VINE. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, set forth an allegory and tell the house of Israel a parable. Say to them, ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: A great eagle with powerful wings, long feathers and full plumage of varied colors came to Lebanon.

^aMany Hebrew manuscripts and Syriac; most Hebrew manuscripts, Septuagint and Vulgate Aram

Taking hold of the top of a cedar, he broke off its topmost shoot and carried it away to a land of merchants, where he planted it in a city of traders.

"He took some of the seed of your land and put it in fertile soil. He planted it like a willow by abundant water, and it sprouted and became a low, spreading vine. Its branches turned toward him, but its roots remained under it. So it became a vine and produced branches and put out leafy boughs.

"But there was another great eagle with powerful wings and full plumage. The vine now sent out its roots toward him from the plot where it was planted and stretched out its branches to him for water. It had been planted in good soil by abundant water so that it would produce branches, bear fruit and become a splendid vine.'

"Say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Will it thrive? Will it not be uprooted and stripped of its fruit so that it withers? All its new growth will wither. It will not take a strong arm or many people to pull it up by the roots. Even if it is transplanted, will it thrive? Will it not wither completely when the east wind strikes it—wither away in the plot where it grew?'"

Then the word of the LORD came to me: "Say to this rebellious house, 'Do you not know what these things mean?' Say to them: 'The king of Babylon went to Jerusalem and carried off her king and her nobles, bringing them back with him to Babylon. Then he took a member of the royal family and made a treaty with him, putting him under oath. He also carried away the leading men of the land, so that the kingdom would be brought low, unable to rise again, surviving only by keeping his treaty. But the king rebelled against him by sending his envoys to Egypt to get horses and a large army. Will he succeed? Will he who does such things escape? Will he break the treaty and yet escape?'"

"As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, he shall die in Babylon, in the land of the king who put him on the throne, whose oath he despised and whose treaty he broke. Pharaoh with his mighty army and great horde will be of no help to him in war, when ramps are built and siege works erected to destroy many lives. He despised the oath by breaking the covenant. Because he had given his hand in pledge and yet did all these things, he shall not escape.

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: As surely as I live, I will bring down on his head my oath that he despised and my covenant that he broke. I will spread my net for him, and he will be caught in my snare. I will bring him to Babylon and execute judgment upon him there because he was unfaithful to me. All his fleeing troops will fall by the sword, and the survivors will be scattered to the winds. Then you will know that I the LORD have spoken.

"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I myself will take a shoot from the very top of a cedar and plant it; I will break off a tender sprig from its topmost shoots and plant it on a high and lofty mountain. On the mountain heights of Israel I will plant it; it will produce branches and bear fruit and become a splendid cedar. Birds of every kind will nest in it; they will find shelter in the shade of its branches. All the trees of the field will know that I the LORD bring down the tall tree and make the low tree grow tall. I dry up the green tree and make the dry tree flourish.

"I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it.'"

Ezk.
17:19-24

It is only natural in times of pending punishment to place the blame on others, to hide behind prior good conduct, or perhaps to take security in one's family or heritage. In one of the clearest passages in all of prophecy, God discredits any notion that the people of Judah are suffering only because of their predecessors' sins, or that they can claim any immunity as descendants of faithful forefathers such as Abraham. No, each person is accountable for his own sins, says Ezekiel; and God assures his people that, just as the wicked can repent and be saved, the righteous can fall into sin and be destroyed.

Ezk. 18:1-9 PERSONAL ACCOUNTABILITY. The word of the LORD came to me: "What do you people mean by quoting this proverb about the land of Israel:

"The fathers eat sour grapes,
and the children's teeth are set on edge?"

"As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, you will no longer quote this proverb in Israel. For every living soul belongs to me, the father as well as the son—both alike belong to me. The soul who sins is the one who will die.

"Suppose there is a righteous man who does what is just and right.
He does not eat at the mountain shrines
or look to the idols of the house of Israel.
He does not defile his neighbor's wife or lie with a woman during her period.
He does not oppress anyone,
but returns what he took in pledge for a loan.
He does not commit robbery
but gives his food to the hungry
and provides clothing for the naked.
He does not lend at usury or take excessive interest.^b
He withholds his hand from doing wrong and judges fairly between man and man.
He follows my decrees and faithfully keeps my laws.
That man is righteous;
he will surely live,

declares the Sovereign LORD.

Ezk. 18:10-20 "Suppose he has a violent son, who sheds blood or does any of these other things^c (though the father has done none of them):

"He eats at the mountain shrines.
He defiles his neighbor's wife.
He oppresses the poor and needy.
He commits robbery.
He does not return what he took in pledge.
He looks to the idols.
He does detestable things.

^bOr take interest; similarly in verses 13 and 17 ^cOr things to a brother

He lends at usury and takes excessive interest.

Will such a man live? He will not! Because he has done all these detestable things, he will surely be put to death and his blood will be on his own head.

"But suppose this son has a son who sees all the sins his father commits, and though he sees them, he does not do such things:

"He does not eat at the mountain shrines
or look to the idols of the house of Israel.
He does not defile his neighbor's wife.
He does not oppress anyone or require a pledge for a loan.
He does not commit robbery
but gives his food to the hungry
and provides clothing for the naked.
He withholds his hand from sin^d and takes no usury or excessive interest.
He keeps my laws and follows my decrees.

He will not die for his father's sin; he will surely live. But his father will die for his own sin, because he practiced extortion, robbed his brother and did what was wrong among his people.

"Yet you ask, 'Why does the son not share the guilt of his father?' Since the son has done what is just and right and has been careful to keep all my decrees, he will surely live. The soul who sins is the one who will die. The son will not share the guilt of the father, nor will the father share the guilt of the son. The righteousness of the righteous man will be credited to him, and the wickedness of the wicked will be charged against him.

REPENTANCE AND REJECTION. "But if a wicked man turns away from all the sins he has committed and keeps all my decrees and does what is just and right, he will surely live; he will not die. None of the offenses he has committed will be remembered against him. Because of the righteous things he has done, he will live. Do I take any pleasure in the death of the wicked? declares the Sovereign LORD. Rather, am I not pleased when they turn from their ways and live?

Ezk.
18:21-32

"But if a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits sin and does the same detestable things the wicked man does, will he live? None of the righteous things he has done will be remembered. Because of the unfaithfulness he is guilty of and because of the sins he has committed, he will die.

"Yet you say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' Hear, O house of Israel: Is my way unjust? Is it not your ways that are unjust? If a righteous man turns from his righteousness and commits sin, he will die for it; because of the sin he has committed he will die. But if a wicked man turns away from the wickedness he has committed and does what is just and right, he will save his life. Because he considers all the offenses he has committed and turns away from them, he will surely live; he will not die. Yet the house of Israel says, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' Are my ways unjust, O house of Israel? Is it not your ways that are unjust?

"Therefore, O house of Israel, I will judge you, each one according to ^dSeptuagint (see also verse 8); Hebrew from the poor

his ways, declares the Sovereign LORD. Repent! Turn away from all your offenses; then sin will not be your downfall. Rid yourselves of all the offenses you have committed, and get a new heart and a new spirit. Why will you die, O house of Israel? For I take no pleasure in the death of anyone, declares the Sovereign LORD. Repent and live! ☞

As a lasting reminder of how the wicked are brought down, Ezekiel writes a lament for two of Judah's kings who were taken by Judah's oppressors. It has been some 17 years since Pharaoh Neco led King Jehohaz away to captivity in Egypt, and some six years since Nebuchadnezzar brought a subdued King Jehoiakim to Babylonia. Their capture and exile are witness to Judah's vulnerability to God's judgment.

Ezk. 19:1-9 LAMENT FOR THE KINGS. "Take up a lament concerning the princes of Israel and say:

" 'What a lioness was your mother
among the lions!
She lay down among the young lions and reared her cubs.
She brought up one of her cubs,
and he became a strong lion.
He learned to tear the prey
and he devoured men.
The nations heard about him,
and he was trapped in their pit.
They led him with hooks to the land of Egypt.

" 'When she saw her hope unfulfilled,
her expectation gone,
she took another of her cubs and made him a strong lion.
He prowled among the lions,
for he was now a strong lion.
He learned to tear the prey
and he devoured men.
He broke down^e their strongholds and devastated their towns.
The land and all who were in it were terrified by his roaring.
Then the nations came against him,
those from regions round about.
They spread their net for him,
and he was trapped in their pit.
With hooks they pulled him into a cage and brought him to the king of Babylon.
They put him in prison,
so his roar was heard no longer
on the mountains of Israel.

^eTargum (see Septuagint); Hebrew He knew

" 'Your mother was like a vine in your vineyard/planted by the water;
 it was fruitful and full of branches
 because of abundant water.
 Its branches were strong,
 fit for a ruler's scepter.
 It towered high above the thick foliage, conspicuous for its height and for its many branches.
 But it was uprooted in fury and thrown to the ground.
 The east wind made it shrivel,
 it was stripped of its fruit;
 its strong branches withered and fire consumed them.
 Now it is planted in the desert,
 in a dry and thirsty land.
 Fire spread from one of its main^s branches and consumed its fruit.
 No strong branch is left on it fit for a ruler's scepter.'

 19:10-14

This is a lament and is to be used as a lament."

In the following year, 590 B.C., God once again chastises Israel, citing their long history of rebellion and his repeated reluctance to bring ultimate punishment against them. He reminds Israel that they continue to be as sinful as their fathers, but that the day is coming when God's chosen ones will be an obedient and holy people.

HISTORY OF REBELLIOUSNESS. In the seventh year, in the fifth month on the tenth day, some of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and they sat down in front of me.

Ezk.
 20:1-12

Then the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, speak to the elders of Israel and say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Have you come to inquire of me? As surely as I live, I will not let you inquire of me, declares the Sovereign LORD.'

"Will you judge them? Will you judge them, son of man? Then confront them with the detestable practices of their fathers and say to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On the day I chose Israel, I swore with uplifted hand to the descendants of the house of Jacob and revealed myself to them in Egypt. With uplifted hand I said to them, "I am the LORD your God." On that day I swore to them that I would bring them out of Egypt into a land I had searched out for them, a land flowing with milk and honey, the most beautiful of all lands. And I said to them, "Each of you, get rid of the vile images you have set your eyes on, and do not defile yourselves with the idols of Egypt. I am the LORD your God."

" 'But they rebelled against me and would not listen to me; they did not get rid of the vile images they had set their eyes on, nor did they forsake

the idols of Egypt. So I said I would pour out my wrath on them and spend my anger against them in Egypt. But for the sake of my name I did what would keep it from being profaned in the eyes of the nations they lived among and in whose sight I had revealed myself to the Israelites by bringing them out of Egypt. Therefore I led them out of Egypt and brought them into the desert. I gave them my decrees and made known to them my laws, for the man who obeys them will live by them. Also I gave them my Sabbaths as a sign between us, so they would know that I the LORD made them holy.

“Yet the people of Israel rebelled against me in the desert. They did not follow my decrees but rejected my laws—although the man who obeys them will live by them—and they utterly desecrated my Sabbaths. So I said I would pour out my wrath on them and destroy them in the desert. But for the sake of my name I did what would keep it from being profaned in the eyes of the nations in whose sight I had brought them out. Also with uplifted hand I swore to them in the desert that I would not bring them into the land I had given them—a land flowing with milk and honey, most beautiful of all lands—because they rejected my laws and did not follow my decrees and desecrated my Sabbaths. For their hearts were devoted to their idols. Yet I looked on them with pity and did not destroy them or put an end to them in the desert. I said to their children in the desert, “Do not follow the statutes of your fathers or keep their laws or defile yourselves with their idols. I am the LORD your God; follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws. Keep my Sabbaths holy, that they may be a sign between us. Then you will know that I am the LORD your God.”

“But the children rebelled against me: They did not follow my decrees, they were not careful to keep my laws—although the man who obeys them will live by them—and they desecrated my Sabbaths. So I said I would pour out my wrath on them and spend my anger against them in the desert. But I withheld my hand, and for the sake of my name I did what would keep it from being profaned in the eyes of the nations in whose sight I had brought them out. Also with uplifted hand I swore to them in the desert that I would disperse them among the nations and scatter them through the countries, because they had not obeyed my laws but had rejected my decrees and desecrated my Sabbaths, and their eyes [lusted, after their fathers’ idols. I also gave them over to statutes that were not good and laws they could not live by; I let them become defiled through their gifts—the sacrifice of every firstborn^h—that I might fill them with horror so they would know that I am the LORD.’

“Therefore, son of man, speak to the people of Israel and say to them, ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: In this also your fathers blasphemed me by forsaking me: When I brought them into the land I had sworn to give them and they saw any high hill or any leafy tree, there they offered their sacrifices, made offerings that provoked me to anger, presented their fragrant incense and poured out their drink offerings. Then I said to them: What is this high place you go to?’” (It is called Bamahⁱ to this day.)

Ezk.
20:30-38

PRESENT REBELLIOUSNESS. “Therefore say to the house of Israel: ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Will you defile yourselves the way your fathers did and lust after their vile images? When you offer your gifts—the sacrifice of your sons inⁱ the fire—you continue to defile yourselves with all your idols to this day. Am I to let you inquire of me, O house of Israel? As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I will not let you inquire of me.

“You say, “We want to be like the nations, like the peoples of the world, who serve wood and stone.” But what you have in mind will never happen. As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I will rule over you with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm and with outpoured wrath. I will bring you from the nations and gather you from the countries where you have been scattered—with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm and with outpoured wrath. I will bring you into the desert of the nations and there, face to face, I will execute judgment upon you. As I judged your fathers in the desert of the land of Egypt, so I will judge you, declares the Sovereign LORD. I will take note of you as you pass under my rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant. I will purge you of those who revolt and rebel against me. Although I will bring them out of the land where they are living, yet they will not enter the land of Israel. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

TIME OF NO REBELLION. “As for you, O house of Israel, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Go and serve your idols, every one of you! But afterward you will surely listen to me and no longer profane my holy name with your gifts and idols. For on my holy mountain, the high mountain of Israel, declares the Sovereign LORD, there in the land the entire house of Israel will serve me, and there I will accept them. There I will require your offerings and your choice gifts,^k along with all your holy sacrifices. I will accept you as fragrant incense when I bring you out from the nations and gather you from the countries where you have been scattered, and I will show myself holy among you in the sight of the nations. Then you will know that I am the LORD, when I bring you into the land of Israel, the land I had sworn with uplifted hand to give to your fathers. There you will remember your conduct and all the actions by which you have defiled yourselves, and you will loathe yourselves for all the evil you have done. You will know that I am the LORD, when I deal with you for my name's sake and not according to your evil ways and your corrupt practices, O house of Israel, declares the Sovereign LORD.’”

Ezk.
20:39-44

Because of Israel's rebellion, judgment has already come against the northern tribes, and God's vengeance is poised against Judah. Ezekiel now sees the sword of judgment coming. Ezekiel turns his face southward and brings still other pronouncements against Judah's sin. Perhaps the judgments keep coming for the simple reason that so far few people have believed their message. As Ezekiel complains, they think he is simply bringing nice little parables—interesting sermons from which they derive entertainment. Hence the picture of a sword. Maybe it will get their attention.

VIEW TO THE HOMELAND. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, set your face toward the south; preach against the south and prophesy against the forest of the southland. Say to the southern forest:

Ezk.
20:45-49

ⁱOr —making your sons pass through

^kOr and the gifts of your firstfruits

'Hear the word of the LORD. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to set fire to you, and it will consume all your trees, both green and dry. The blazing flame will not be quenched, and every face from south to north will be scorched by it. Everyone will see that I the LORD have kindled it; it will not be quenched.' "

Then I said, "Ah, Sovereign LORD! They are saying of me, 'Isn't he just telling parables?'" "

Ezk.
21:1-12

SWORD OF JUDGMENT. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, set your face against Jerusalem and preach against the sanctuary. Prophecy against the land of Israel and say to her: 'This is what the LORD says: I am against you. I will draw my sword from its scabbard and cut off from you both the righteous and the wicked. Because I am going to cut off the righteous and the wicked, my sword will be unsheathed against everyone from south to north. Then all people will know that I the LORD have drawn my sword from its scabbard; it will not return again.'

"Therefore groan, son of man! Groan before them with broken heart and bitter grief. And when they ask you, 'Why are you groaning?' you shall say, 'Because of the news that is coming. Every heart will melt and every hand go limp; every spirit will become faint and every knee become as weak as water.' It is coming! It will surely take place, declares the Sovereign LORD."

The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, prophesy and say, 'This is what the Lord says:

" 'A sword, a sword, sharpened and polished—sharpened for the slaughter, polished to flash like lightning!

" 'Shall we rejoice in the scepter of my son Judah? The sword despises every such stick.

" 'The sword is appointed to be polished, to be grasped with the hand;
it is sharpened and polished,
made ready for the hand of the slayer.
Cry out and wail, son of man,
for it is against my people;
it is against all the princes of Israel.
They are thrown to the sword along with my people.
Therefore beat your breast.

Ezk.
21:13-17

" 'Testing will surely come. And what if the scepter of Judah, which the sword despises, does not continue? declares the Sovereign LORD.'

"So then, son of man, prophesy and strike your hands together.
Let the sword strike twice,
even three times.
It is a sword for slaughter—
a sword for great slaughter, closing in on them from every side.
So that hearts may melt and the fallen be many,

 I have stationed the sword for slaughter!¹
 at all their gates.
 Oh! It is made to flash like lightning, it is grasped for slaughter.
 O sword, slash to the right,
 then to the left,
 wherever your blade is turned.
 I too will strike my hands together,
 and my wrath will subside.
 I the LORD have spoken."

BABYLONIA IS SWORD. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, mark out two roads for the sword of the king of Babylon to take, both starting from the same country. Make a signpost where the road branches off to the city. Mark out one road for the sword to come against Rabbah of the Ammonites and another against Judah and fortified Jerusalem. For the king of Babylon will stop at the fork in the road, at the junction of the two roads, to seek an omen: He will cast lots with arrows, he will consult his idols, he will examine the liver. Into his right hand will come the lot for Jerusalem, where he is to set up battering rams, to give the command to slaughter, to sound the battle cry, to set battering rams against the gates, to build a ramp and to erect siege works. It will seem like a false omen to those who have sworn allegiance to him, but he will remind them of their guilt and take them captive.

Ezk.
21:18-24

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because you people have brought to mind your guilt by your open rebellion, revealing your sins in all that you do—because you have done this, you will be taken captive.

WARNING TO ZEDEKIAH. "'O profane and wicked prince of Israel, whose day has come, whose time of punishment has reached its climax, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Take off the turban, remove the crown. It will not be as it was: The lowly will be exalted and the exalted will be brought low. A ruin! A ruin! I will make it a ruin! It will not be restored until he comes to whom it rightfully belongs; to him I will give it.'

ENUMERATION OF SINS. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, will you judge her? Will you judge this city of bloodshed? Then confront her with all her detestable practices and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: O city that brings on herself doom by shedding blood in her midst and defiles herself by making idols, you have become guilty because of the blood you have shed and have become defiled by the idols you have made. You have brought your days to a close, and the end of your years has come. Therefore I will make you an object of scorn to the nations and a laughingstock to all the countries. Those who are near and those who are far away will mock you, O infamous city, full of turmoil.

"See how each of the princes of Israel who are in you uses his power to shed blood. In you they have treated father and mother with contempt; in you they have oppressed the alien and mistreated the fatherless and the widow. You have despised my holy things and desecrated my Sabbaths. In you are slanderous men bent on shedding blood; in you are those who eat at the mountain shrines and commit lewd acts. In you are those who dishonor their fathers' bed; in you are those who violate women during their period, when they are ceremonially unclean. In you one man commits a detestable offense with his neighbor's wife, another shamefully defiles his daughter-in-law, and another violates his sister, his own father's daughter. In you men accept bribes to shed blood; you take usury and excessive interest^m and make unjust gain from your neighbors by extortion. And you have forgotten me, declares the Sovereign LORD.

"I will surely strike my hands together at the unjust gain you have made and at the blood you have shed in your midst. Will your courage endure or your hands be strong in the day I deal with you? I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it. I will disperse you among the nations and scatter you through the countries; and I will put an end to your uncleanness. When you have been defiledⁿ in the eyes of the nations, you will know that I am the LORD.'''

Ezk.
22:17-31

Then the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, the house of Israel has become dross to me; all of them are the copper, tin, iron and lead left inside a furnace. They are but the dross of silver. Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because you have all become dross, I will gather you into Jerusalem. As men gather silver, copper, iron, lead and tin into a furnace to melt it with a fiery blast, so will I gather you in my anger and my wrath and put you inside the city and melt you. I will gather you and

ⁿOr When I have allotted you your inheritance

I will blow on you with my fiery wrath, and you will be melted inside her. As silver is melted in a furnace, so you will be melted inside her, and you will know that I the LORD have poured out my wrath upon you.'"

Again the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, say to the land, 'You are a land that has had no rain or showers^o in the day of wrath.' There is a conspiracy of her princes^p within her like a roaring lion tearing its prey; they devour people, take treasures and precious things and make many widows within her. Her priests do violence to my law and profane my holy things; they do not distinguish between the holy and the common; they teach that there is no difference between the unclean and the clean; and they shut their eyes to the keeping of my Sabbaths, so that I am profaned among them. Her officials within her are like wolves tearing their prey; they shed blood and kill people to make unjust gain. Her prophets whitewash these deeds for them by false visions and lying divinations. They say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says'—when the LORD has not spoken. The people of the land practice extortion and commit robbery; they oppress the poor and needy and mistreat the alien, denying them justice.

"I looked for a man among them who would build up the wall and stand before me in the gap on behalf of the land so I would not have to destroy it, but I found none. So I will pour out my wrath on them and consume them with my fiery anger, bringing down on their own heads all they have done, declares the Sovereign LORD."

If the picture of a sword fails to get Judah's attention, the following allegory certainly ought to. In all of Scripture there is probably no more graphic an indictment. Modern readers are almost offended by the candid exposure of two promiscuous sisters, representing Israel and Judah. One gets at least some idea of the degree to which God himself is offended by his people's infidelity.

TWO PROMISCUOUS SISTERS. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, there were two women, daughters of the same mother. They became prostitutes in Egypt, engaging in prostitution from their youth. In that land their breasts were fondled and their virgin bosoms caressed. The older was named Oholah, and her sister was Oholibah. They were mine and gave birth to sons and daughters. Oholah is Samaria, and Oholibah is Jerusalem.

Ezk.
23:1-13

"Oholah engaged in prostitution while she was still mine; and she lusted after her lovers, the Assyrians—warriors clothed in blue, governors and commanders, all of them handsome young men, and mounted horsemen. She gave herself as a prostitute to all the elite of the Assyrians and defiled herself with all the idols of everyone she lusted after. She did not give up the prostitution she began in Egypt, when during her youth men slept with her, caressed her virgin bosom and poured out their lust upon her.

"Therefore I handed her over to her lovers, the Assyrians, for whom she lusted. They stripped her naked, took away her sons and daughters and killed her with the sword. She became a byword among women, and punishment was inflicted on her.

^oSeptuagint; Hebrew has not been cleansed or rained on

^pSeptuagint; Hebrew prophets

"Her sister Oholibah saw this, yet in her lust and prostitution she was more depraved than her sister. She too lusted after the Assyrians—governors and commanders, warriors in full dress, mounted horsemen, all handsome young men. I saw that she too defiled herself; both of them went the same way.

Ezk.
23:14-27

"But she carried her prostitution still further. She saw men portrayed on a wall, figures of Chaldeans⁶ portrayed in red, with belts around their waists and flowing turbans on their heads; all of them looked like Babylonian chariot officers, natives of Chaldea.⁷ As soon as she saw them, she lusted after them and sent messengers to them in Chaldea. Then the Babylonians came to her, to the bed of love, and in their lust they defiled her. After she had been defiled by them, she turned away from them in disgust. When she carried on her prostitution openly and exposed her nakedness, I turned away from her in disgust, just as I had turned away from her sister. Yet she became more and more promiscuous as she recalled the days of her youth, when she was a prostitute in Egypt. There she lusted after her lovers, whose genitals were like those of donkeys and whose emission was like that of horses. So you longed for the lewdness of your youth, when in Egypt your bosom was caressed and your young breasts fondled.⁸

"Therefore, Oholibah, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will stir up your lovers against you, those you turned away from in disgust, and I will bring them against you from every side—the Babylonians and all the Chaldeans, the men of Pekod and Shoa and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them, handsome young men, all of them governors and commanders, chariot officers and men of high rank, all mounted on horses. They will come against you with weapons,⁹ chariots and wagons and with a throng of people; they will take up positions against you on every side with large and small shields and with helmets. I will turn you over to them for punishment, and they will punish you according to their standards. I will direct my jealous anger against you, and they will deal with you in fury. They will cut off your noses and your ears, and those of you who are left will fall by the sword. They will take away your sons and daughters, and those of you who are left will be consumed by fire. They will also strip you of your clothes and take your fine jewelry. So I will put a stop to the lewdness and prostitution you began in Egypt. You will not look on these things with longing or remember Egypt anymore.

Ezk.
23:28-45

"For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to hand you over to those you hate, to those you turned away from in disgust. They will deal with you in hatred and take away everything you have worked for. They will leave you naked and bare, and the shame of your prostitution will be exposed. Your lewdness and promiscuity have brought this upon you, because you lusted after the nations and defiled yourself with their idols. You have gone the way of your sister; so I will put her cup into your hand.

"This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"You will drink your sister's cup,
a cup large and deep;

⁶Or Babylonians ⁷Or Babylonia; also in verse 16 ⁸Syriac (see also verse 3); Hebrew caressed because of your young breasts ⁹The meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.

it will bring scorn and derision, for it holds so much.
 You will be filled with drunkenness and sorrow,
 the cup of ruin and desolation,
 the cup of your sister Samaria.
 You will drink it and drain it dry;
 you will dash it to pieces and tear your breasts.

I have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD.

"Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Since you have forgotten me and thrust me behind your back, you must bear the consequences of your lewdness and prostitution."

The LORD said to me: "Son of man, will you judge Oholah and Oholibah? Then confront them with their detestable practices, for they have committed adultery and blood is on their hands. They committed adultery with their idols; they even sacrificed their children, whom they bore to me, as food for them. They have also done this to me: At that same time they defiled my sanctuary and desecrated my Sabbaths. On the very day they sacrificed their children to their idols, they entered my sanctuary and desecrated it. That is what they did in my house.

"They even sent messengers for men who came from far away, and when they arrived you bathed yourself for them, painted your eyes and put on your jewelry. You sat on an elegant couch, with a table spread before it on which you had placed the incense and oil that belonged to me.

"The noise of a carefree crowd was around her; Sabeans" were brought from the desert along with men from the rabble, and they put bracelets on the arms of the woman and her sister and beautiful crowns on their heads. Then I said about the one worn out by adultery, 'Now let them use her as a prostitute, for that is all she is.' And they slept with her. As men sleep with a prostitute, so they slept with those lewd women, Oholah and Oholibah. But righteous men will sentence them to the punishment of women who commit adultery and shed blood, because they are adulterous and blood is on their hands.

"This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Bring a mob against them and give them over to terror and plunder. The mob will stone them and cut them down with their swords; they will kill their sons and daughters and burn down their houses.

"So I will put an end to lewdness in the land, that all women may take warning and not imitate you. You will suffer the penalty for your lewdness and bear the consequences of your sins of idolatry. Then you will know that I am the Sovereign LORD."

Ezk.
23:46-49

What more can be said? God feels deeply the shame and disgrace that his "bride" has brought him. Her disrespect for his spiritual leadership, her chasing after material satisfaction, and her many adulteries with lesser gods have left him no choice. Israel must be put away until she repents. The time has come. Even now it begins.

"Or even made the children they bore to me pass through the fire,

Siege of Jerusalem

It is not known exactly when Zedekiah first gets the foolish notion to rebel against Nebuchadnezzar, but it is probably around 590-589 B.C. When he does rebel, Nebuchadnezzar responds in predictable fashion about 588 B.C. by entering Judah with his powerful Babylonian army and laying siege to its cities, including Jerusalem. (Have not all the prophets warned that it would happen?)

(588 B.C.)

SIEGE OF JERUSALEM. So in the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, on the tenth day of the tenth month, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon marched against Jerusalem with his whole army. He encamped outside the city and built siege works all around it.

Siege Announced to Ezekiel

Most amazing thing happens on the very day of the siege, in the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign, in the tenth month on the tenth day. Some 300 to 700 miles away from Jerusalem, in the city of Tel Abib, near the Kebar River in Babylonia, the prophet Ezekiel is told about the siege. No messenger of Ezekiel's day can deliver news that quickly! None, that is, except God himself. And here is what Ezekiel is told.

Ezk. 24:1,2
(588 B.C.)

THE SIEGE ANNOUNCED. In the ninth year, in the tenth month on the tenth day, the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, record this date, this very date, because the king of Babylon has laid siege to Jerusalem this very day.

Ezk.
24:3-14

PARABLE OF COOKING POT. Tell this rebellious house a parable and say to them: "This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"Put on the cooking pot; put it on and pour water into it.
Put into it the pieces of meat,
all the choice pieces—the leg and the shoulder.
Fill it with the best of these bones;
take the pick of the flock.
Pile wood beneath it for the bones;
bring it to a boil
and cook the bones in it.

"For this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

"Woe to the city of bloodshed,
to the pot now encrusted,
whose deposit will not go away!
Empty it piece by piece without casting lots for them.

"For the blood she shed is in her midst:
She poured it on the bare rock;
she did not pour it on the ground,

where the dust would cover it.
 To stir up wrath and take revenge
 I put her blood on the bare rock, so that it would not be covered.

“Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says:

“Woe to the city of bloodshed!
 I, too, will pile the wood high.
 So heap on the wood and kindle the fire.
 Cook the meat well,
 mixing in the spices;
 and let the bones be charred.
 Then set the empty pot on the coals till it becomes hot and its copper glows so its impurities may be melted and its deposit burned away.
 It has frustrated all efforts;
 its heavy deposit has not been removed,
 not even by fire.

“Now your impurity is lewdness. Because I tried to cleanse you but you would not be cleansed from your impurity, you will not be clean again until my wrath against you has subsided.

“I the LORD have spoken. The time has come for me to act. I will not hold back; I will not have pity, nor will I relent. You will be judged according to your conduct and your actions, declares the Sovereign LORD.”

Following this word about the beginning of Jerusalem's siege comes one of the most disturbing accounts in all of recorded Scripture. It is nothing new for God to provide signs of his working. Ezekiel himself has enacted many of these signs in the presence of his people and provided the interpretation for their edification. And it is nothing new for God to require great sacrifice on the part of his prophets. But God now brings a sign which requires the ultimate sacrifice of Ezekiel. As a sign that there is to be no mourning for the loss of life when Jerusalem finally falls, God actually takes the life of Ezekiel's wife!

DEATH OF WIFE. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, with one blow I am about to take away from you the delight of your eyes. Yet do not lament or weep or shed any tears. Groan quietly; do not mourn for the dead. Keep your turban fastened and your sandals on your feet; do not cover the lower part of your face or eat the customary food of mourners.”

Ezk.
24:15-24

So I spoke to the people in the morning, and in the evening my wife died. The next morning I did as I had been commanded.

Then the people asked me, “Won't you tell us what these things have to do with us?”

So I said to them, “The word of the LORD came to me: Say to the house of Israel, ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to desecrate my sanctuary—the stronghold in which you take pride, the delight of your eyes, the object of your affection. The sons and daughters you left behind will fall by the sword. And you will do as I have done. You will not cover the lower part of your face or eat the customary food of mourners. You will keep your turbans on your heads and your sandals on your feet. You will not mourn or weep but will waste away because of^w your sins and groan among yourselves. Ezekiel will be a sign to you; you will do just as he has done. When this happens, you will know that I am the Sovereign LORD.’

Ezk.
24:25-27

SIGN OF JERUSALEM’S FALL. “And you, son of man, on the day I take away their stronghold, their joy and glory, the delight of their eyes, their heart’s desire, and their sons and daughters as well— on that day a fugitive will come to tell you the news. At that time your mouth will be opened; you will speak with him and will no longer be silent. So you will be a sign to them, and they will know that I am the LORD.”

Perhaps Ezekiel’s wife was dying in any event, and God simply used her death as a way of bringing an important message. But that would be highly coincidental and clearly contrary to Ezekiel’s account. Certainly it can be said that Ezekiel is being asked to give up no more than what God himself will give up one day in order to bring a sign to all the world. Perhaps that itself is the very answer: as Creator of the universe God can and does act in ways that confound man. Death undoubtedly has a totally different significance to God than it does to man. But the immediate mystery is how Ezekiel can seemingly take his wife’s death in stride and continue his ministry. What testimony to any man’s faith this would be! ☞

Jeremiah’s Prophecies During Siege _____

The focus returns to Jerusalem. With Nebuchadnezzar’s army just outside the walls, Zedekiah realizes that it is time to consult God. But the answer from Jeremiah is to surrender or be destroyed.

Jer. 21:1,2 ZEDEKIAH INQUIRES OF FATE. The word came to Jeremiah from the LORD when King Zedekiah sent to him Pashhur son of Malkijah and the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah. They said: “Inquire now of the LORD for us because Nebuchadnezzar^x king of Babylon is attacking us. Perhaps the LORD will perform wonders for us as in times past so that he will withdraw from us.”

Jer. 21:3-7 FAMINE, PLAGUE, AND SWORD. But Jeremiah answered them, “Tell Zedekiah, ‘This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: I am about to turn against you the weapons of war that are in your hands, which you are using to fight the king of Babylon and the Babylonians^y who are outside the wall besieging you. And I will gather them inside this city. I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and a mighty arm in anger and fury and great wrath. I will strike down those who live in this city—both men and animals—and they will die of a terrible plague.

^wOr away in ^xHebrew Nebuchadrezzar, of which Nebuchadnezzar is a variant; here and often in Jeremiah and Ezekiel ^yOr Chaldeans

After that, declares the LORD, I will hand over Zedekiah king of Judah, his officials and the people in this city who survive the plague, sword and famine, to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and to their enemies who seek their lives. He will put them to the sword; he will show them no mercy or pity or compassion.'

CHOICE OF SURRENDER. "Furthermore, tell the people, 'This is what the LORD says: See, I am setting before you the way of life and the way of death. Whoever stays in this city will die by the sword, famine or plague. But whoever goes out and surrenders to the Babylonians who are besieging you will live; he will escape with his life. I have determined to do this city harm and not good, declares the LORD. It will be given into the hands of the king of Babylon, and he will destroy it with fire.'

Jer. 21:8-10

RIGHTEOUSNESS PARAMOUNT. "Moreover, say to the royal house of Judah, 'Hear the word of the LORD; O house of David, this is what the LORD says:

Jer.
21:11-14

"Administer justice every morning;
rescue from the hand of his oppressor
the one who has been robbed,
or my wrath will break out and burn like fire
because of the evil you have done—
burn with no one to quench it.
I am against you, Jerusalem, you who live above this valley
on the rocky plateau,

declares the LORD—

you who say, "Who can come against us?
Who can enter our refuge?"
I will punish you as your deeds deserve,

declares the LORD.

I will kindle a fire in your forests that will consume everything around you.' "

JUDGMENT AGAINST EVIL KINGS. This is what the LORD says: "Go down to the palace of the king of Judah and proclaim this message there: 'Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, you who sit on David's throne—you, your officials and your people who come through these gates. This is what the LORD says: Do what is just and right. Rescue from the hand of his oppressor the one who has been robbed. Do no wrong or violence to the alien, the fatherless or the widow, and do not shed innocent blood in this place. For if you are careful to carry out these commands, then kings who sit on David's throne will come through the gates of this palace, riding in chariots and on horses, accompanied by their officials and their people. But if you do not obey these commands, declares the LORD, I swear by myself that this palace will become a ruin.' "

Jer. 22:1-9

For this is what the LORD says about the palace of the king of Judah:

"Though you are like Gilead to me,
like the summit of Lebanon,
I will surely make you like a desert,
like towns not inhabited.
I will send destroyers against you,
each man with his weapons,

and they will cut up your fine cedar beams and throw them into the fire.

“People from many nations will pass by this city and will ask one another, ‘Why has the LORD done such a thing to this great city?’ And the answer will be: ‘Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God and have worshiped and served other gods.’”

Zedekiah chooses not to surrender, and the siege continues. All but a few of the other fortified cities in Judah have been taken when God sends Jeremiah to Zedekiah with a message about Zedekiah’s personal future. Although he is told that he will die a natural death in Babylon, he is spared the knowledge that he will lose his eyes in the process.

Jer. 34:1-3 ZEDEKIAH TO BE CAPTIVE. While Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his army and all the kingdoms and peoples in the empire he ruled were fighting against Jerusalem and all its surrounding towns, this word came to Jeremiah from the LORD: “This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Go to Zedekiah king of Judah and tell him, ‘This is what the LORD says: I am about to hand this city over to the king of Babylon, and he will burn it down. You will not escape from his grasp but will surely be captured and handed over to him. You will see the king of Babylon with your own eyes, and he will speak with you face to face. And you will go to Babylon.’”

Jer. 34:4,5 NOT TO BE KILLED. “Yet hear the promise of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah. This is what the LORD says concerning you: You will not die by the sword; you will die peacefully. As people made a funeral fire in honor of your fathers, the former kings who preceded you, so they will make a fire in your honor and lament, ‘Alas, O master!’ I myself make this promise, declares the LORD.”

Jer. 34:6,7 JEREMIAH INFORMS ZEDEKIAH. Then Jeremiah the prophet told all this to Zedekiah king of Judah, in Jerusalem, while the army of the king of Babylon was fighting against Jerusalem and the other cities of Judah that were still holding out—Lachish and Azekah. These were the only fortified cities left in Judah.

Zedekiah finds no comfort in these words. In fact he is angered to the point of having Jeremiah placed under house arrest. It is during his own confinement in the royal palace, and Jerusalem’s confinement as well, that Jeremiah goes to great lengths to reassure the people of Jerusalem that, after the city’s fall and an appropriate time of national penitence, both Jerusalem and all of Israel will be restored. Jeremiah begins by using the illustration of a field he has bought. His point is that there will come a time when everything will return to normal, and life will go on as usual. So that there is no mistake about it, God reveals the good news through Jeremiah not once but twice.

Jer. 32:1-5
(587 B.C.) JEREMIAH’S CONFINEMENT. This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar. The army of the king of Babylon was then besieging Jerusalem, and Jeremiah the prophet was confined in the courtyard of the guard in the royal palace of Judah.

Now Zedekiah king of Judah had imprisoned him there, saying, "Why do you prophesy as you do? You say, 'This is what the LORD says: I am about to hand this city over to the king of Babylon, and he will capture it. Zedekiah king of Judah will not escape out of the hands of the Babylonians^z but will certainly be handed over to the king of Babylon, and will speak with him face to face and see him with his own eyes. He will take Zedekiah to Babylon, where he will remain until I deal with him, declares the LORD. If you fight against the Babylonians, you will not succeed.'"

JEREMIAH RELATES PURCHASE. Jeremiah said, "The word of the LORD came to me: Hanamel son of Shallum your uncle is going to come to you and say, 'Buy my field at Anathoth, because as nearest relative it is your right and duty to buy it.'

Jer. 32:6-12

"Then, just as the LORD had said, my cousin Hanamel came to me in the courtyard of the guard and said, 'Buy my field at Anathoth in the territory of Benjamin. Since it is your right to redeem it and possess it, buy it for yourself.'

"I knew that this was the word of the LORD; so I bought the field at Anathoth from my cousin Hanamel and weighed out for him seventeen shekels^a of silver. I signed and sealed the deed, had it witnessed, and weighed out the silver on the scales. I took the deed of purchase—the sealed copy containing the terms and conditions, as well as the unsealed copy—and I gave this deed to Baruch son of Neriah, the son of Mahseiah, in the presence of my cousin Hanamel and of the witnesses who had signed the deed and of all the Jews sitting in the courtyard of the guard.

LIFE WILL GO ON. "In their presence I gave Baruch these instructions: 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Take these documents, both the sealed and unsealed copies of the deed of purchase, and put them in a clay jar so they will last a long time. For this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Houses, fields and vineyards will again be bought in this land.'

Jer.
32:13-15

JEREMIAH PRAISES GOD. "After I had given the deed of purchase to Baruch son of Neriah, I prayed to the LORD:

Jer.
32:16-25

"Ah, Sovereign LORD, you have made the heavens and the earth by your great power and outstretched arm. Nothing is too hard for you. You show love to thousands but bring the punishment for the fathers' sins into the laps of their children after them. O great and powerful God, whose name is the LORD Almighty, great are your purposes and mighty are your deeds. Your eyes are open to all the ways of men; you reward everyone according to his conduct and as his deeds deserve. You performed miraculous signs and wonders in Egypt and have continued them to this day, both in Israel and among all mankind, and have gained the renown that is still yours. You brought your people Israel out of Egypt with signs and wonders, by a mighty hand and an outstretched arm and with great terror. You gave them this land you had sworn to give their forefathers, a land flowing with milk and honey. They came in and took possession of it, but they did not obey you or follow your law; they did not do what you commanded them to do. So you brought all this disaster upon them.

“See how the siege ramps are built up to take the city. Because of the sword, famine and plague, the city will be handed over to the Babylonians who are attacking it. What you said has happened, as you now see. And though the city will be handed over to the Babylonians, you, O Sovereign LORD, say to me, ‘Buy the field with silver and have the transaction witnessed.’”

Jer.
32:26-35

CHARGE AGAINST JERUSALEM. Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: “I am the LORD, the God of all mankind. Is anything too hard for me? Therefore, this is what the LORD says: I am about to hand this city over to the Babylonians and to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, who will capture it. The Babylonians who are attacking this city will come in and set it on fire; they will burn it down, along with the houses where the people provoked me to anger by burning incense on the roofs to Baal and by pouring out drink offerings to other gods.

“The people of Israel and Judah have done nothing but evil in my sight from their youth; indeed, the people of Israel have done nothing but provoke me with what their hands have made, declares the LORD. From the day it was built until now, this city has so aroused my anger and wrath that I must remove it from my sight. The people of Israel and Judah have provoked me by all the evil they have done—they, their kings and officials, their priests and prophets, the men of Judah and the people of Jerusalem. They turned their backs to me and not their faces; though I taught them again and again, they would not listen or respond to discipline. They set up their abominable idols in the house that bears my Name and defiled it. They built high places for Baal in the Valley of Ben Hinnom to sacrifice their sons and daughters^b to Molech, though I never commanded, nor did it enter my mind, that they should do such a detestable thing and so make Judah sin.

Jer.
32:36-41

PROMISE OF RESTORATION. “You are saying about this city, ‘By the sword, famine and plague it will be handed over to the king of Babylon’; but this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: I will surely gather them from all the lands where I banish them in my furious anger and great wrath; I will bring them back to this place and let them live in safety. They will be my people, and I will be their God. I will give them singleness of heart and action, so that they will always fear me for their own good and the good of their children after them. I will make an everlasting covenant with them: I will never stop doing good to them, and I will inspire them to fear me, so that they will never turn away from me. I will rejoice in doing them good and will assuredly plant them in this land with all my heart and soul.

Jer.
32:42-44

BUSINESS WILL REVIVE. “This is what the LORD says: As I have brought all this great calamity on this people, so I will give them all the prosperity I have promised them. Once more fields will be bought in this land of which you say, ‘It is a desolate waste, without men or animals, for it has been handed over to the Babylonians.’ Fields will be bought for silver, and deeds will be signed, sealed and witnessed in the territory of Benjamin, in the villages around Jerusalem, in the towns of Judah and in the towns of the hill country, of the western foothills and of the Negev, because I will restore their fortunes,^c declares the LORD.”

SECOND WARNING. While Jeremiah was still confined in the courtyard of the guard, the word of the LORD came to him a second time: “This is what the LORD says, he who made the earth, the LORD who formed it and established it—the LORD is his name: ‘Call to me and I will answer you and tell you great and unsearchable things you do not know.’ For this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says about the houses in this city and the royal palaces of Judah that have been torn down to be used against the siege ramps and the sword in the fight with the Babylonians^d: ‘They will be filled with the dead bodies of the men I will slay in my anger and wrath. I will hide my face from this city because of all its wickedness.

Jer. 33:1-5

SECOND PROMISE. “ ‘Nevertheless, I will bring health and healing to it; I will heal my people and will let them enjoy abundant peace and security. I will bring Judah and Israel back from captivity^e and will rebuild them as they were before. I will cleanse them from all the sin they have committed against me and will forgive all their sins of rebellion against me. Then this city will bring me renown, joy, praise and honor before all nations on earth that hear of all the good things I do for it; and they will be in awe and will tremble at the abundant prosperity and peace I provide for it.’

Jer. 33:6-9

JOY WILL RETURN. “This is what the LORD says: ‘You say about this place, “It is a desolate waste, without men or animals.” Yet in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem that are deserted, inhabited by neither men nor animals, there will be heard once more the sounds of joy and gladness, the voices of bride and bridegroom, and the voices of those who bring thank offerings to the house of the LORD, saying,

Jer. 33:10,11

“Give thanks to the LORD Almighty, for the LORD is good;
his love endures forever.”

For I will restore the fortunes of the land as they were before,’ says the LORD.

PROSPERITY WILL RETURN. “This is what the LORD Almighty says: ‘In this place, desolate and without men or animals—in all its towns there will again be pastures for shepherds to rest their flocks. In the towns of the hill country, of the western foothills and of the Negev, in the territory of Benjamin, in the villages around Jerusalem and in the towns of Judah, flocks will again pass under the hand of the one who counts them,’ says the LORD.

Jer. 33:12,13

So that all will know that the eventual release of the people of Israel is due not to mere chance or changing political winds, God directs Jeremiah to record God’s promises regarding the restoration. Using the prophetic poetry he often employs, Jeremiah makes it clear that it will be the God of Israel who purposely restores his people—nothing else.

^cOr will bring them back from captivity ^dOr Chaldeans ^eOr will restore the fortunes of Judah and Israel

Jer. 30:1-3 RESTORATION PROMISES. This is the word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD: "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: 'Write in a book all the words I have spoken to you. The days are coming,' declares the LORD, 'when I will bring my people Israel and Judah back from captivity^f and restore them to the land I gave their forefathers to possess,' says the LORD."

Jer. 30:4-11 EXILE WILL END. These are the words the LORD spoke concerning Israel and Judah: "This is what the LORD says:

" 'Cries of fear are heard—terror, not peace.

Ask and see:

Can a man bear children?

Then why do I see every strong man with his hands on his stomach like a woman in labor, every face turned deathly pale?

How awful that day will be!

None will be like it.

It will be a time of trouble for Jacob, but he will be saved out of it.

" ' In that day,' declares the LORD Almighty,

I will break the yoke off their necks and will tear off their bonds;

no longer will foreigners enslave them.

Instead, they will serve the LORD their God and David their king, whom I will raise up for them.

" 'So do not fear, O Jacob my servant;

do not be dismayed, O Israel,'

declares the LORD.

I will surely save you out of a distant place,
your descendants from the land of their exile.

Jacob will again have peace and security,

and no one will make him afraid.

I am with you and will save you,'

declares the LORD.

Though I completely destroy all the nations

among which I scatter you,

I will not completely destroy you.

I will discipline you but only with justice;

I will not let you go entirely unpunished.'

Jer.
30:12-15

SINS BROUGHT EXILE. "This is what the LORD says:

" 'Your wound is incurable,

your injury beyond healing.

There is no one to plead your cause,

no remedy for your sore,

no healing for you.

All your allies have forgotten you;

^fOr will restore the fortunes of my people Israel and Judah they care nothing for you.

 I have struck you as an enemy would and punished you as would the cruel, because your guilt is so great and your sins so many.
 Why do you cry out over your wound,
 your pain that has no cure?
 Because of your great guilt and many sins
 I have done these things to you.

HEALING COMING.

Jer.
30:16,17

“ ‘But all who devour you will be devoured;
 all your enemies will go into exile.
 Those who plunder you will be plundered;
 all who make spoil of you I will despoil.
 But I will restore you to health and heal your wounds,’

declares the LORD,

‘because you are called an outcast,
 Zion for whom no one cares.’

ALL WILL BE NORMAL. “This is what the LORD says:

Jer.
30:18-24

“ ‘I will restore the fortunes of Jacob’s tents and have compassion on his dwellings;
 the city will be rebuilt on her ruins,
 and the palace will stand in its proper place.
 From them will come songs of thanksgiving and the sound of rejoicing.
 I will add to their numbers,
 and they will not be decreased;
 I will bring them honor,
 and they will not be disdained.
 Their children will be as in days of old,
 and their community will be established before me;
 I will punish all who oppress them.
 Their leader will be one of their own;
 their ruler will arise from among them.
 I will bring him near and he will come close to me, for who is he who will devote himself to be close to me?’

declares the LORD.

“ ‘So you will be my people, and I will be your God.’ ”

See, the storm of the LORD
 will burst out in wrath,
 a driving wind swirling down
 on the heads of the wicked.
 The fierce anger of the LORD will not turn back
 until he fully accomplishes
 the purposes of his heart.

In days to come
you will understand this.

Jer. 31:1-14 THE JOY OF RESTORATION. "At that time," declares the LORD, "I will be the God of all the clans of Israel, and they will be my people."

This is what the LORD says:

"The people who survive the sword will find favor in the desert;
I will come to give rest to Israel."

The LORD appeared to us in the past,^s saying:

"I have loved you with an everlasting love;
I have drawn you with loving-kindness.
I will build you up again and you will be rebuilt, O Virgin Israel.
Again you will take up your tambourines and go out to dance with the joyful.
Again you will plant vineyards
on the hills of Samaria;
the farmers will plant them
and enjoy their fruit.
There will be a day when watchmen cry out on the hills of Ephraim,
'Come, let us go up to Zion, to the LORD our God.'"

This is what the LORD says:

"Sing with joy for Jacob;
shout for the foremost of the nations.
Make your praises heard, and say,
'O LORD, save your people,
the remnant of Israel.'
See, I will bring them from the land of the north and gather them from the ends of the earth.
Among them will be the blind and the lame, expectant mothers and women in labor;
a great throng will return.
They will come with weeping;
they will pray as I bring them back.
I will lead them beside streams of water on a level path where they will not stumble, because I am Israel's father,
and Ephraim is my firstborn son.
"Hear the word of the LORD, O nations;
proclaim it in distant coastlands:
'He who scattered Israel will gather them and will watch over his flock like a shepherd.'
For the LORD will ransom Jacob and redeem them from the hand of those stronger than they.

^sOr LORD has appeared to us from afar

They will come and shout for joy on the heights of Zion;
 they will rejoice in the bounty of the LORD—
 the grain, the new wine and the oil,
 the young of the flocks and herds.
 They will be like a well-watered garden,
 and they will sorrow no more.
 Then maidens will dance and be glad,
 young men and old as well.
 I will turn their mourning into gladness;
 I will give them comfort and joy instead of sorrow.
 I will satisfy the priests with abundance, and my people will be filled with my bounty,"
 declares the LORD.

To those who languish as captives in the deportation camp at Ramah,
 God brings this special word of hope.

ENCOURAGEMENT. This is what the LORD says:

Jer.
31:15-17

"A voice is heard in Ramah,
 mourning and great weeping,
 Rachel weeping for her children
 and refusing to be comforted, because her children are no more."

This is what the LORD says:

"Restrain your voice from weeping and your eyes from tears, for your work will be rewarded,"
 declares the LORD.

"They will return from the land of the enemy.
 So there is hope for your future,"
 declares the LORD.

"Your children will return to their own land.

"I have surely heard Ephraim's moaning:
 'You disciplined me like an unruly calf,
 and I have been disciplined.
 Restore me, and I will return, because you are the LORD my God.
 After I strayed,
 I repented;
 after I came to understand,
 I beat my breast.
 I was ashamed and humiliated because I bore the disgrace of my youth.'
 Is not Ephraim my dear son,
 the child in whom I delight?
 Though I often speak against him,
 I still remember him.
 Therefore my heart yearns for him;
 I have great compassion for him,"

Jer.
31:18-25

declares the LORD.

“Set up road signs;
 put up guideposts.
 Take note of the highway,
 the road that you take.
 Return, O Virgin Israel, return to your towns.
 How long will you wander,
 O unfaithful daughter?
 The LORD will create a new thing on earth—
 a woman will surround^h a man.”

This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: “When I bring them back from captivity,ⁱ the people in the land of Judah and in its towns will once again use these words: ‘The LORD bless you, O righteous dwelling, O sacred mountain.’ People will live together in Judah and all its towns—farmers and those who move about with their flocks. I will refresh the weary and satisfy the faint.”

These words may have come to Jeremiah in a dream, because he indicates that he now awakes from a pleasant sleep.

Jer. 31:26 AWAKENING. At this I awoke and looked around. My sleep had been pleasant to me.

Jeremiah Sees Spiritual Restoration Under The Messiah

There can be no doubt that God intends to bring the people of Israel back to Canaan from their various places of exile. And there can be no doubt that he intends to reestablish Israel as a united nation. But he says that the new kingdom will last forever, that a son of David will always be on Israel's throne, that Israel will enjoy continuous peace, and that sin will never again separate Israel from God.

All of this will cause great confusion to future generations of Hebrews who read the restoration promises of Jeremiah, Isaiah, and the other prophets, yet continue to see a hostile world about them. Many of them will keep vigil for the coming of a political Israel which will truly have lasting peace and prosperity. Many will look for a mighty king to bring them deliverance from future oppressors. Many will look for a country whose geographical boundaries are clearly delineated and secure. Yet Jeremiah suggests that their attitude toward the coming kingdom is misguided.

Here now are three separate discourses in which Jeremiah appears to reach beyond the end of the 70-year exile to a kingdom of a different nature and to the Messiah who will save his people from their sins. In two of the discourses Jeremiah repeats virtually the same poetic prophecy, which itself is similar to several prophecies brought by Isaiah.

^hOr will go about seeking; or will protect ⁱOr I restore their fortunes

First Discourse

REGATHERING OF REMNANT. "Woe to the shepherds who are destroying and scattering the sheep of my pasture!" declares the LORD. Therefore this is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says to the shepherds who tend my people: "Because you have scattered my flock and driven them away and have not bestowed care on them, I will bestow punishment on you for the evil you have done," declares the LORD. "I myself will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries where I have driven them and will bring them back to their pasture, where they will be fruitful and increase in number. I will place shepherds over them who will tend them, and they will no longer be afraid or terrified, nor will any be missing," declares the LORD.

Jer. 23:1-4

RIGHTEOUS BRANCH OF DAVID.

Jer. 23:5,6

"The days are coming," declares the LORD,
 "when I will raise up to David^l a righteous Branch, a King who will reign wisely and do what is just and right in the land.
 In his days Judah will be saved and Israel will live in safety.
 This is the name by which he will be called:
 The LORD Our Righteousness.

RESTORATION WILL BE WITNESS. "So then, the days are coming," declares the LORD, "when people will no longer say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the Israelites up out of Egypt,' but they will say, 'As surely as the LORD lives, who brought the descendants of Israel up out of the land of the north and out of all the countries where he had banished them.' Then they will live in their own land."

Jer. 23:7,8

Second Discourse

RIGHTEOUS BRANCH OF DAVID. "'The days are coming,' declares the LORD, 'when I will fulfill the gracious promise I made to the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.

Jer.
33:14-16

"'In those days and at that time
 I will make a righteous Branch sprout from David's line;
 he will do what is just and right in the land.
 In those days Judah will be saved and Jerusalem will live in safety.
 This is the name by which it^k will be called:
 The LORD Our Righteousness.'

SPIRITUAL LEADERSHIP. For this is what the LORD says: 'David will never fail to have a man to sit on the throne of the house of Israel, nor will the priests, who are Levites, ever fail to have a man to stand before me continually to offer burnt offerings, to burn grain offerings and to present sacrifices.'

Jer.
33:17,18

CERTAINTY OF THE PROMISE. The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: "This is what the LORD says: 'If you can break my covenant with the day and my covenant with the night, so that day and night no longer

Jer.
33:19-22

^lOr up from David's line ^kOr he come at their appointed time, then my covenant with David my servant—and my covenant with the Levites who are priests ministering before me—can be broken and David will no longer have a descendant to reign on his throne. I will make the descendants of David my servant and the Levites who minister before me as countless as the stars of the sky and as measureless as the sand on the seashore.’”

Jer.
33:23-26

ISRAEL IN THE NEW KINGDOM. The word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: “Have you not noticed that these people are saying, ‘The LORD has rejected the two kingdoms’ he chose? So they despise my people and no longer regard them as a nation. This is what the LORD says: ‘If I have not established my covenant with day and night and the fixed laws of heaven and earth, then I will reject the descendants of Jacob and David my servant and will not choose one of his sons to rule over the descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. For I will restore their fortunes^m and have compassion on them.’”

Third Discourse

Jer.
31:27,28

TIME OF REBUILDING. “The days are coming,” declares the LORD, “when I will plant the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the offspring of men and of animals. Just as I watched over them to uproot and tear down, and to overthrow, destroy and bring disaster, so I will watch over them to build and to plant,” declares the LORD.

Jer.
31:29,30

PERSONAL ACCOUNTABILITY. “In those days people will no longer say,

‘The fathers have eaten sour grapes,
and the children’s teeth are set on edge.’

Instead, everyone will die for his own sin; whoever eats sour grapes—his own teeth will be set on edge.

Jer.
31:31-34

A NEW COVENANT.

“The time is coming,” declares the LORD,
“when I will make a new covenant
with the house of Israel
and with the house of Judah.
It will not be like the covenant
I made with their forefathers
when I took them by the hand
to lead them out of Egypt,
because they broke my covenant,
though I was a husband toⁿ them,^o”

declares the LORD.

“This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel
after that time,” declares the LORD.

“I will put my law in their minds and write it on their hearts.

I will be their God,

and they will be my people.

No longer will a man teach his neighbor,

^lOr families ^mOr will bring them back from captivity
I and I turned away from ^oOr was their master ⁿHebrew; Septuagint and Syriac or a man his brother, saying, 'Know the LORD,'

because they will all know me,
from the least of them to the greatest,"
declares the LORD.
"For I will forgive their wickedness and will remember their sins no more."

ISRAEL ALWAYS SPECIAL. This is what the LORD says,

Jer.
31:35-37

he who appoints the sun
to shine by day,
who decrees the moon and stars
to shine by night,
who stirs up the sea
so that its waves roar—
the LORD Almighty is his name:
"Only if these decrees vanish from my sight,"
declares the LORD,
"will the descendants of Israel ever cease to be a nation before me."

This is what the LORD says:

"Only if the heavens above can be measured and the foundations of the earth below be searched out will I reject all the descendants of Israel because of all they have done,"

declares the LORD.

A LASTING JERUSALEM. "The days are coming," declares the LORD,
"when this city will be rebuilt for me from the Tower of Hananel to the Corner Gate. The measuring line will stretch from there straight to the hill of Gareb and then turn to Goah. The whole valley where dead bodies and ashes are thrown, and all the terraces out to the Kidron Valley on the east as far as the corner of the Horse Gate, will be holy to the LORD. The city will never again be uprooted or demolished."

Jer.
31:38-40

Ezekiel's Prophecies During Siege

While Jeremiah is prophesying in Jerusalem about events to happen in centuries to come, Ezekiel is bringing prophecies to his fellow captives in Babylonia concerning events destined for more immediate fulfillment. Over the two-year period of Jerusalem's siege, Ezekiel's prophecies concentrate on Judah's many oppressors: Ammon, Moab, Edom, Philistia, Egypt, and the cities of Tyre and Sidon. Particularly singled out are Egypt, Tyre, and Sidon. Like prophets before him, Ezekiel pronounces scathing judgments against these nations for their own wickedness and their many wars against God's people. During Jehoiakim's reign, only a decade prior to this time, Syrian, Moabite, and Ammonite raiders had harassed Judah for at least four years. Edom, Egypt, and Philistia had been almost-continual enemies of the nation of Israel.

Beyond the various judgments against Israel's enemies which Isaiah, Jeremiah, and others have already brought, Ezekiel's judgments condemn the celebration which will take place over Judah's fall. The prophecies are written prospectively, as if Jerusalem has already fallen, and point out that no tears will come from Judah's neighbors. On the contrary, they will attempt to take advantage of Judah's vulnerability. (Ammon, for example, will prove Ezekiel true by promoting the assassination of the governor appointed by the Babylonians to rule over the remnant not taken captive.) It will be the nations' self-righteous gloating which will draw God's wrath. He will not sit idly by when his people are disgraced in the eyes of their haughty neighbors.

Ezk. 25:1-7
(Ca. 588
B.C.?)

JUDGMENT AGAINST AMMON. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, set your face against the Ammonites and prophesy against them. Say to them, 'Hear the word of the Sovereign LORD. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because you said "Aha!" over my sanctuary when it was desecrated and over the land of Israel when it was laid waste and over the people of Judah when they went into exile, therefore I am going to give you to the people of the East as a possession. They will set up their camps and pitch their tents among you; they will eat your fruit and drink your milk. I will turn Rabbah into a pasture for camels and Ammon into a resting place for sheep. Then you will know that I am the LORD. For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because you have clapped your hands and stamped your feet, rejoicing with all the malice of your heart against the land of Israel, therefore I will stretch out my hand against you and give you as plunder to the nations. I will cut you off from the nations and exterminate you from the countries. I will destroy you, and you will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezk. 25:8-11

JUDGMENT AGAINST MOAB. "This is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because Moab and Seir said, "Look, the house of Judah has become like all the other nations," therefore I will expose the flank of Moab, beginning at its frontier towns—Beth Jeshimoth, Baal Meon and Kiriathaim—the glory of that land. I will give Moab along with the Ammonites to the people of the East as a possession, so that the Ammonites will not be remembered among the nations; and I will inflict punishment on Moab. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezk. 25:12-14

JUDGMENT AGAINST EDMOM. "This is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because Edom took revenge on the house of Judah and became very guilty by doing so, therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will stretch out my hand against Edom and kill its men and their animals. I will lay it waste, and from Teman to Dedan they will fall by the sword. I will take vengeance on Edom by the hand of my people Israel, and they will deal with Edom in accordance with my anger and my wrath; they will know my vengeance, declares the Sovereign LORD.'"

Ezk. 25:15-17

JUDGMENT AGAINST PHILISTIA. "This is what the Sovereign LORD says: 'Because the Philistines acted in vengeance and took revenge with malice in their hearts, and with ancient hostility sought to destroy Judah, therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am about to stretch out my hand against the Philistines, and I will cut off the Kerethites and destroy those remaining along the coast. I will carry out great vengeance on them and punish them in my wrath. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I take vengeance on them.'"

JUDGMENT AGAINST EGYPT. In the tenth year, in the tenth month on the twelfth day, the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, set your face against Pharaoh king of Egypt and prophesy against him and against all Egypt. Speak to him and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

Ezk.
29:1-16
(587 B.C.)

" 'I am against you, Pharaoh king of Egypt, you great monster lying among your streams.
You say, "The Nile is mine;
I made it for myself."
But I will put hooks in your jaws and make the fish of your streams stick to your scales.
I will pull you out from among your streams,
with all the fish sticking to your scales.
I will leave you in the desert,
you and all the fish of your streams.
You will fall on the open field and not be gathered or picked up.
I will give you as food to the beasts of the earth and the birds of the air.

Then all who live in Egypt will know that I am the LORD.

" 'You have been a staff of reed for the house of Israel. When they grasped you with their hands, you splintered and you tore open their shoulders; when they leaned on you, you broke and their backs were wrenched.'"

" 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will bring a sword against you and kill your men and their animals. Egypt will become a desolate wasteland. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

" 'Because you said, "The Nile is mine; I made it," therefore I am against you and against your streams, and I will make the land of Egypt a ruin and a desolate waste from Migdol to Aswan, as far as the border of Cush.[¶] No foot of man or animal will pass through it; no one will live there for forty years. I will make the land of Egypt desolate among devastated lands, and her cities will lie desolate forty years among ruined cities. And I will disperse the Egyptians among the nations and scatter them through the countries.

" 'Yet this is what the Sovereign LORD says: At the end of forty years I will gather the Egyptians from the nations where they were scattered. I will bring them back from captivity and return them to Upper Egypt,[¶] the land of their ancestry. There they will be a lowly kingdom. It will be the lowliest of kingdoms and will never again exalt itself above the other nations. I will make it so weak that it will never again rule over the nations. Egypt will no longer be a source of confidence for the people of Israel but will be a reminder of their sin in turning to her for help. Then they will know that I am the Sovereign LORD.' " LAMENT FOR EGYPT. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, prophesy and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

Ezk.
30:1-19

 When the slain fall in Egypt,
 her wealth will be carried away

Cush and Put, Lydia and all Arabia, Libya^t and the people of the covenant land will fall by the sword along with Egypt.

 declares the Sovereign LORD.

“They will be desolate

 Then they will know that I am the LORD,
 when I set fire to Egypt

“On that day messengers will go out from me in ships to frighten Cush out of her complacency. Anguish will take hold of them on the day of Egypt’s doom, for it is sure to come.

“This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

“I will put an end to the hordes of Egypt

 He and his army—the most ruthless of nations—

 I will dry up the streams of the Nile

JUDGMENT AGAINST PHARAOH. In the eleventh year, in the first month on the seventh day, the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt. It has not been bound up for healing or put in a splint so as to become strong enough to hold a sword. Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt. I will break both his arms, the good arm as well as the broken one, and make the sword fall from his hand. I will disperse the Egyptians among the nations and scatter them through the countries. I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon and put my sword in his hand, but I will break the arms of Pharaoh, and he will groan before him like a mortally wounded man. I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, but the arms of Pharaoh will fall limp. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon and he brandishes it against Egypt. I will disperse the Egyptians among the nations and scatter them through the countries. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

EGYPT COMPARED TO ASSYRIA. In the eleventh year, in the third month on the first day, the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, say to Pharaoh king of Egypt and to his hordes:

Ezk.
 31:1-18
 (586 B.C.)

" 'Who can be compared with you in majesty?
 Consider Assyria, once a cedar in Lebanon, with beautiful branches overshadowing the forest;
 it towered on high,
 its top above the thick foliage.
 The waters nourished it,
 deep springs made it grow tall;
 their streams flowed
 all around its base

and sent their channels to all the trees of the field.
So it towered higher than all the trees of the field;
its boughs increased and its branches grew long, spreading because of abundant waters.
All the birds of the air nested in its boughs,
all the beasts of the field gave birth under its branches;
all the great nations
lived in its shade.
It was majestic in beauty,
with its spreading boughs,
for its roots went down
to abundant waters.
The cedars in the garden of God
could not rival it, nor could the pine trees
equal its boughs,
nor could the plane trees compare with its branches—no tree in the garden of God could match its beauty.
I made it beautiful
with abundant branches, the envy of all the trees of Eden
in the garden of God.

“Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because it towered on high, lifting its top above the thick foliage, and because it was proud of its height, I handed it over to the ruler of the nations, for him to deal with according to its wickedness. I cast it aside, and the most ruthless of foreign nations cut it down and left it. Its boughs fell on the mountains and in all the valleys; its branches lay broken in all the ravines of the land. All the nations of the earth came out from under its shade and left it. All the birds of the air settled on the fallen tree, and all the beasts of the field were among its branches. Therefore no other trees by the waters are ever to tower proudly on high, lifting their tops above the thick foliage. No other trees so well-watered are ever to reach such a height; they are all destined for death, for the earth below, among mortal men, with those who go down to the pit.

“This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On the day it was brought down to the grave^a I covered the deep springs with mourning for it; I held back its streams, and its abundant waters were restrained. Because of it I clothed Lebanon with gloom, and all the trees of the field withered away. I made the nations tremble at the sound of its fall when I brought it down to the grave with those who go down to the pit. Then all the trees of Eden, the choicest and best of Lebanon, all the trees that were well-watered, were consoled in the earth below. Those who lived in its shade, its allies among the nations, had also gone down to the grave with it, joining those killed by the sword.

“Which of the trees of Eden can be compared with you in splendor and majesty? Yet you, too, will be brought down with the trees of Eden to the earth below; you will lie among the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword.

“This is Pharaoh and all his hordes, declares the Sovereign LORD.”

It will be some 60 years before Egypt will be ruled by a foreign nation, but in 525 B.C., during the reign of Pharaoh Amasis, Egypt will be made a part of the great Persian Empire under Cambyses II. ☞

Ezekiel now turns to the great maritime cities of Tyre and Sidon, whose seaports and trading fleets have made them wealthy. The original city of Tyre was located on the mainland, whereas the new city was built on an island half a mile offshore. Thus Ezekiel describes the destroyed island city as being like a bare rock, and the wicked king of Tyre apparently has such pride that he is compared with Satan himself.

JUDGMENT AGAINST TYRE. In the eleventh year, on the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, because Tyre has said of Jerusalem, ‘Aha! The gate to the nations is broken, and its doors have swung open to me; now that she lies in ruins I will prosper,’ therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against you, O Tyre, and I will bring many nations against you, like the sea casting up its waves. They will destroy the walls of Tyre and pull down her towers; I will scrape away her rubble and make her a bare rock. Out in the sea she will become a place to spread fishnets, for I have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD. She will become plunder for the nations, and her settlements on the mainland will be ravaged by the sword. Then they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezk. 26:1-6
(586 B.C.)

“For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: From the north I am going to bring against Tyre Nebuchadnezzar^b king of Babylon, king of kings, with horses and chariots, with horsemen and a great army. He will ravage your settlements on the mainland with the sword; he will set up siege works against you, build a ramp up to your walls and raise his shields against you. He will direct the blows of his battering rams against your walls and demolish your towers with his weapons. His horses will be so many that they will cover you with dust. Your walls will tremble at the noise of the war horses, wagons and chariots when he enters your gates as men enter a city whose walls have been broken through. The hoofs of his horses will trample all your streets; he will kill your people with the sword, and your strong pillars will fall to the ground. They will plunder your wealth and loot your merchandise; they will break down your walls and demolish your fine houses and throw your stones, timber and rubble into the sea. I will put an end to your noisy songs, and the music of your harps will be heard no more. I will make you a bare rock, and you will become a place to spread fishnets. You will never be rebuilt, for I the LORD have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD.

Then all the princes of the coast will step down from their thrones and lay aside their robes and take off their embroidered garments. Clothed with terror, they will sit on the ground, trembling every moment, appalled at you. Then they will take up a lament concerning you and say to you:

“ ‘How you are destroyed, O city of renown, peopled by men of the sea!
You were a power on the seas,
you and your citizens;
you put your terror
on all who lived there.
Now the coastlands tremble on the day of your fall;
the islands in the sea
are terrified at your collapse.’

“This is what the Sovereign LORD says: When I make you a desolate city, like cities no longer inhabited, and when I bring the ocean depths over you and its vast waters cover you, then I will bring you down with those who go down to the pit, to the people of long ago. I will make you dwell in the earth below, as in ancient ruins, with those who go down to the pit, and you will not return or take your place^c in the land of the living. I will bring you to a horrible end and you will be no more. You will be sought, but you will never again be found, declares the Sovereign LORD.”

LAMENT FOR TYRE. The word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, take up a lament concerning Tyre. Say to Tyre, situated at the gateway to the sea, merchant of peoples on many coasts, ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

JUDGMENT AGAINST TYRE'S KING. The word of the LORD came to me:
"Son of man, say to the ruler of Tyre, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD
says:

 You will be but a man, not a god,
 in the hands of those who slay you.
 You will die the death of the uncircumcised at the hands of foreigners.

JUDGMENT AGAINST SIDON. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, set your face against Sidon; prophesy against her and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says:

 and I will gain glory within you.
 They will know that I am the LORD,
 when I inflict punishment on her

 The slain will fall within her,
 with the sword against her on every side.
 Then they will know that I am the LORD.

Then they will live in their own land, which I gave to my servant Jacob. They will live there in safety and will build houses and plant vineyards; they will live in safety when I inflict punishment on all their neighbors who maligned them. Then they will know that I am the LORD their God.' "

Sixteen years from now, after Nebuchadnezzar has laid a 13-year siege against Tyre, Ezekiel will record a footnote to his present prophecy.

Jeremiah Escapes Death

After apparently having been released for a time from house arrest in the royal palace, Jeremiah is first imprisoned in a dungeon and then put down into an empty well, before being saved by, of all people, Zedekiah. One gets the feeling that Zedekiah really does fear God and his prophet after all. This is somewhat confirmed when Zedekiah approaches Jeremiah secretly to learn what God's plans are. Unfortunately, Zedekiah never accepts God's words.

It is revealed somewhat incidentally that, before the end of Jerusalem's siege, Nebuchadnezzar temporarily withdraws his forces in order to push the Egyptian army back to its borders. Egypt had hoped to come to Judah's rescue in order to keep Judah as a buffer state between Babylonia and its own territory. But Babylonia prevails and returns to finish off Jerusalem.

Here are the incidents leading to Jeremiah's imprisonment and close brush with death. With famine having set in and bread being scarce, these events evidently take place just prior to Jerusalem's fall.

FUTURE FATE SOUGHT. King Zedekiah, however, sent Jehucal son of Shelemiah with the priest Zephaniah son of Maaseiah to Jeremiah the prophet with this message: "Please pray to the LORD our God for us." Jer. 37:3-5

Now Jeremiah was free to come and go among the people, for he had not yet been put in prison. Pharaoh's army had marched out of Egypt, and when the Babylonians^o who were besieging Jerusalem heard the report about them, they withdrew from Jerusalem.

BABYLONIANS WILL RETURN. Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet: "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, says: Tell the king of Judah, who sent you to inquire of me, 'Pharaoh's army, which has marched out to support you, will go back to its own land, to Egypt. Then the Babylonians will return and attack this city; they will capture it and burn it down.'" Jer. 37:6-10

"This is what the LORD says: Do not deceive yourselves, thinking, 'The Babylonians will surely leave us.' They will not! Even if you were to defeat the entire Babylonian^p army that is attacking you and only wounded men were left in their tents, they would come out and burn this city down."

JEREMIAH IMPRISONED. After the Babylonian army had withdrawn from Jerusalem because of Pharaoh's army, Jeremiah started to leave the city to go to the territory of Benjamin to get his share of the property among the people there. But when he reached the Benjamin Gate, the captain of the guard, whose name was Irijah son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah, arrested him and said, "You are deserting to the Babylonians!" Jer. 37:11-16

"That's not true!" Jeremiah said. "I am not deserting to the Babylonians." But Irijah would not listen to him; instead, he arrested Jeremiah and brought him to the officials. They were angry with Jeremiah and had him beaten and imprisoned in the house of Jonathan the secretary, which they had made into a prison.

^oOr Chaldeans; also in verses 8, 9, 13 and 14

^pOr Chaldean; also in verse 11

Jeremiah was put into a vaulted cell in a dungeon, where he remained a long time.

Jer. 37:17 ZEDEKIAH WARNED AGAIN. Then King Zedekiah sent for him and had him brought to the palace, where he asked him privately, "Is there any word from the LORD?"

"Yes," Jeremiah replied, "you will be handed over to the king of Babylon."

Jer. 37:18-21 LIMITED RELEASE. Then Jeremiah said to King Zedekiah, "What crime have I committed against you or your officials or this people, that you have put me in prison? Where are your prophets who prophesied to you, 'The king of Babylon will not attack you or this land'? But now, my lord the king, please listen. Let me bring my petition before you: Do not send me back to the house of Jonathan the secretary, or I will die there."

King Zedekiah then gave orders for Jeremiah to be placed in the courtyard of the guard and given bread from the street of the bakers each day until all the bread in the city was gone. So Jeremiah remained in the courtyard of the guard.

Jer. 38:1-3 OFFICIALS CONSPIRE. Shephatiah son of Mattan, Gedaliah son of Pashhur, Jehucal^q son of Shelemiah, and Pashhur son of Malkijah heard what Jeremiah was telling all the people when he said, "This is what the LORD says: 'Whoever stays in this city will die by the sword, famine or plague, but whoever goes over to the Babylonians^r will live. He will escape with his life; he will live.' And this is what the LORD says: 'This city will certainly be handed over to the army of the king of Babylon, who will capture it.'"

Jer. 38:4-6 JEREMIAH PUT INTO CISTERN. Then the officials said to the king, "This man should be put to death. He is discouraging the soldiers who are left in this city, as well as all the people, by the things he is saying to them. This man is not seeking the good of these people but their ruin."

"He is in your hands," King Zedekiah answered. "The king can do nothing to oppose you."

So they took Jeremiah and put him into the cistern of Malkijah, the king's son, which was in the courtyard of the guard. They lowered Jeremiah by ropes into the cistern; it had no water in it, only mud, and Jeremiah sank down into the mud.

Jer. 38:7-13 JEREMIAH RESCUED. But Ebed-Melech, a Cushite,^s an official^t in the royal palace, heard that they had put Jeremiah into the cistern. While the king was sitting in the Benjamin Gate, Ebed-Melech went out of the palace and said to him, "My lord the king, these men have acted wickedly in all they have done to Jeremiah the prophet. They have thrown him into a cistern, where he will starve to death when there is no longer any bread in the city."

Then the king commanded Ebed-Melech the Cushite, "Take thirty men from here with you and lift Jeremiah the prophet out of the cistern before he dies."

So Ebed-Melech took the men with him and went to a room under the treasury in the palace. He took some old rags and worn-out clothes from there and let them down with ropes to Jeremiah in the cistern. Ebed-Melech the Cushite said to Jeremiah, "Put these old rags and worn-out clothes under your arms to pad the ropes." Jeremiah did so, and they pulled him up with the ropes and lifted him out of the cistern. And Jeremiah remained in the courtyard of the guard.

ZEDEKIAH ASKS PRIVATELY. Then King Zedekiah sent for Jeremiah the prophet and had him brought to the third entrance to the temple of the LORD. "I am going to ask you something," the king said to Jeremiah. "Do not hide anything from me."

Jer.
38:14-16

Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "If I give you an answer, will you not kill me? Even if I did give you counsel, you would not listen to me."

But King Zedekiah swore this oath secretly to Jeremiah: "As surely as the LORD lives, who has given us breath, I will neither kill you nor hand you over to those who are seeking your life."

ZEDEKIAH'S OPTIONS. Then Jeremiah said to Zedekiah, "This is what the LORD God Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'If you surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, your life will be spared and this city will not be burned down; you and your family will live. But if you will not surrender to the officers of the king of Babylon, this city will be handed over to the Babylonians and they will burn it down; you yourself will not escape from their hands.'"

Jer.
38:17,18

ZEDEKIAH FEARS SURRENDER. King Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "I am afraid of the Jews who have gone over to the Babylonians, for the Babylonians may hand me over to them and they will mistreat me."

Jer.
38:19-23

"They will not hand you over," Jeremiah replied. "Obey the LORD by doing what I tell you. Then it will go well with you, and your life will be spared. But if you refuse to surrender, this is what the LORD has revealed to me: All the women left in the palace of the king of Judah will be brought out to the officials of the king of Babylon. Those women will say to you:

"They misled you and overcame you—those trusted friends of yours.
Your feet are sunk in the mud;
your friends have deserted you."

"All your wives and children will be brought out to the Babylonians. You yourself will not escape from their hands but will be captured by the king of Babylon; and this city will be burned down."

CONVERSATION KEPT SECRET. Then Zedekiah said to Jeremiah, "Do not let anyone know about this conversation, or you may die. If the officials hear that I talked with you, and they come to you and say, 'Tell us what you said to the king and what the king said to you; do not hide it from us or we will kill you,' then tell them, 'I was pleading with the king not to send me back to Jonathan's house to die there.'"

Jer.
38:24-27

All the officials did come to Jeremiah and question him, and he told them everything the king had ordered him to say. So they said no more to him, for no one had heard his conversation with the king.

HOUSE ARREST CONTINUES. And Jeremiah remained in the courtyard of the guard until the day Jerusalem was captured.

Jer. 38:28

Fall of Jerusalem

The end has finally come. Plagued by famine, drought, and pestilence from within, and besieged by the Babylonian hordes from without, the City of David finally falls. The historical record is mercifully brief in its account, as if the shame of it all forbids greater mention. The essential details are these: the wall is breached in the fourth month of 586 B.C.; when Zedekiah and his troops flee the city by night, they are quickly captured; a month later the glorious temple of Solomon and the royal palace are razed; the remaining noblemen are killed and temple treasures are taken as booty; and, over a period of four years, hundreds of people are taken captive and deported to Babylon. With the fall now an undeniable reality, the final chapter of the glorious era of Israel comes to a close, and the prophets of God are regrettably vindicated. Ezekiel in particular is proved correct as to the final fate of Zedekiah and the exact manner in which it happens.

TREASURES TAKEN. The Babylonians broke up the bronze pillars, the movable stands and the bronze Sea that were at the temple of the LORD and they carried all the bronze to Babylon. They also took away the pots, shovels, wick trimmers, sprinkling bowls, dishes and all the bronze articles used in the temple service. The commander of the imperial guard took away the basins, censers, sprinkling bowls, pots, lampstands, dishes and bowls used for drink offerings—all that were made of pure gold or silver.

The bronze from the two pillars, the Sea and the twelve bronze bulls under it, and the movable stands, which King Solomon had made for the temple of the LORD, was more than could be weighed. Each of the pillars was eighteen cubits high and twelve cubits in circumference^a; each was four fingers thick, and hollow. The bronze capital on top of the one pillar was five cubits^b high and was decorated with a network and pomegranates of bronze all around. The other pillar, with its pomegranates, was similar. There were ninety-six pomegranates on the sides; the total number of pomegranates above the surrounding network was a hundred.

FURTHER DEPORTATIONS BEGIN. ¶Nebuzaradan the commander of the guard carried into exile some of the poorest people and those who remained in the city, along with the rest of the craftsmen^c and those who had gone over to the king of Babylon. ¶But Nebuzaradan the commander of the guard left behind in the land of Judah some of the poor people, who owned nothing; and at that time he gave them vineyards and fields.

832 people from Jerusalem;
in his twenty-third year, 745 Jews taken into exile by Nebuzaradan
the commander of the imperial guard.
There were 4,600 people in all.

PROSPECT FOR CAPTIVES. He carried into exile to Babylon the remnant, who escaped from the sword, and they became servants to him and his sons until the kingdom of Persia came to power. The land enjoyed its sabbath rests; all the time of its desolation it rested, until the seventy years were completed in fulfillment of the word of the LORD spoken by Jeremiah.

Gedaliah and Jeremiah

While the city that Jeremiah had tried to save was being destroyed and the people to whom he had preached God's words of warning were being killed or taken away captive, God reassured Jeremiah that he would be saved. Working through Nebuchadnezzar and his officers, God now fulfills his promise. Jeremiah's future is about to cross paths with a man named Gedaliah, whom Nebuchadnezzar appoints as governor over the people left behind.

GEDALIAH MADE GOVERNOR. Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, to be over the people he had left behind in Judah.

JEREMIAH'S PRIOR ASSURANCE. While Jeremiah had been confined in the courtyard of the guard, the word of the LORD came to him: "Go and tell Ebed-Melech the Cushite, 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I am about to fulfill my words against this city through disaster, not prosperity. At that time they will be fulfilled before your eyes. But I will rescue you on that day, declares the LORD; you will not be handed over to those you fear. I will save you; you will not fall by the sword but will escape with your life, because you trust in me, declares the LORD.'"

Jer.
39:11-14

JEREMIAH SAVED. Now Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had given these orders about Jeremiah through Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard: "Take him and look after him; don't harm him but do for him whatever he asks." So Nebuzaradan the commander of the guard, Nebushazban a chief officer, Nergal-Sharezzer a high official and all the other officers of the king of Babylon sent and had Jeremiah taken out of the courtyard of the guard. They turned him over to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, to take him back to his home. So he remained among his own people.

Jer. 40:1-5
Ramah

DETAILS OF RELEASE. The word came to Jeremiah from the LORD after Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard had released him at Ramah. He had found Jeremiah bound in chains among all the captives from Jerusalem and Judah who were being carried into exile to Babylon. When the commander of the guard found Jeremiah, he said to him, "The LORD your God decreed this disaster for this place. And now the LORD has brought it about; he has done just as he said he would. All this happened because you people sinned against the LORD and did not obey him. But today I am freeing you from the chains on your wrists. Come with me to Babylon, if you like, and I will look after you; but if you do not want to, then don't come. Look, the whole country lies before you; go wherever you please." However, before Jeremiah turned to go,^d Nebuzaradan added, "Go back to Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon has appointed over the towns of Judah, and live with him among the people, or go anywhere else you please."

Then the commander gave him provisions and a present and let him go.

Jeremiah's Lamentations

Jt would be altogether reasonable for Jeremiah to gloat over the fall of Jerusalem. After all, he stood virtually alone in predicting its destruction, and suffered a great deal of persecution as a result. Now that his prophecies have come true, it would be natural enough for him to say, "I told you so!" But that would not be consistent with Jeremiah's character. Like the God he serves, Jeremiah is grieved at the loss of Jerusalem and the scattering of God's people. He is both angry and sad. He is angry at the priests and prophets whose sins made the destruction necessary. He is angry at the nations which have either directly overthrown Judah or failed to come to her rescue. But mostly Jeremiah is sad. This weeping prophet, who so many times lamented his own sufferings, now laments the suffering of his fellow countrymen.

Although its authorship is not specifically indicated, it seems most likely that Jeremiah is the author of a writing known simply as Lamentations. The poem expresses the many mixed feelings which this aging and weary man of God must have. Sometimes he speaks from a personal viewpoint about his own sufferings and persecutions; sometimes he voices the nation's collective horror, grief, confusion, and yet hope. So poignant is this beautiful lament that even to this day it is read by these Hebrews' descendants each year on the anniversary of the temple's destruction. From a literary standpoint alone, the poem is a classic. Far beyond that, however, it is one of the most powerful and moving expressions of human emotions that one will ever read, and it bears a timeless message which is nothing less than sublime.

How^e deserted lies the city,
 once so full of people!
 How like a widow is she,
 who once was great among the nations!
 She who was queen among the provinces has now become a slave.
 Bitterly she weeps at night,
 tears are upon her cheeks.
 Among all her lovers
 there is none to comfort her.
 All her friends have betrayed her;
 they have become her enemies.
 After affliction and harsh labor,
 Judah has gone into exile.
 She dwells among the nations;
 she finds no resting place.

All who pursue her have overtaken her in the midst of her distress.

The roads to Zion mourn,
for no one comes to her appointed feasts.
All her gateways are desolate,
her priests groan,
her maidens grieve,
and she is in bitter anguish.

Her foes have become her masters;
her enemies are at ease.
The LORD has brought her grief
because of her many sins.
Her children have gone into exile,
captive before the foe.

All the splendor has departed from the Daughter of Zion.
Her princes are like deer that find no pasture;
in weakness they have fled before the pursuer.

In the days of her affliction and wandering Jerusalem remembers all the treasures that were hers in days of old.
When her people fell into enemy hands,
there was no one to help her.
Her enemies looked at her and laughed at her destruction.

Jerusalem has sinned greatly and so has become unclean.
All who honored her despise her,
for they have seen her nakedness;
she herself groans and turns away.

Her filthiness clung to her skirts;
she did not consider her future.
Her fall was astounding;
there was none to comfort her.
“Look, O LORD, on my affliction, for the enemy has triumphed.”

The enemy laid hands on all her treasures;
she saw pagan nations
enter her sanctuary—
those you had forbidden to enter your assembly.

All her people groan
as they search for bread;
they barter their treasures for food to keep themselves alive.

 "Look, O LORD, and consider, for I am despised."

"Is it nothing to you, all you who pass by?
 Look around and see.
 Is any suffering like my suffering that the LORD brought on me in the day of his fierce anger?"

 by his hands they were woven together.
 They have come upon my neck and the Lord has sapped my strength.
 He has handed me over

 In his winepress the Lord has trampled the Virgin Daughter of Judah.

"This is why I weep and my eyes overflow with tears.
 No one is near to comfort me,
 no one to restore my spirit.
 My children are destitute because the enemy has prevailed."

Zion stretches out her hands,
 but there is no one to comfort her.
 The LORD has decreed for Jacob that his neighbors become his foes;
 Jerusalem has become

How^h the Lord has covered the Daughter of Zion with the cloud of his angerⁱ !
He has hurled down the splendor of Israel from heaven to earth;
he has not remembered his footstool
in the day of his anger.

Without pity the Lord has swallowed up all the dwellings of Jacob;
in his wrath he has torn down
the strongholds of the Daughter of Judah.
He has brought her kingdom and its princes down to the ground in dishonor.

In fierce anger he has cut off
every horn^j of Israel.
He has withdrawn his right hand
at the approach of the enemy.
He has burned in Jacob like a flaming fire that consumes everything around it.

Like an enemy he has strung his bow;
his right hand is ready.

Like a foe he has slain
 all who were pleasing to the eye;
 he has poured out his wrath like fire on the tent of the Daughter of Zion.

The Lord is like an enemy;
 he has swallowed up Israel.
 He has swallowed up all her palaces and destroyed her strongholds.
 He has multiplied mourning and lamentation for the Daughter of Judah.

He has laid waste his dwelling like a garden;
 he has destroyed his place of meeting.
 The LORD has made Zion forget her appointed feasts and her Sabbaths; in his fierce anger he has spurned
 both king and priest.

The Lord has rejected his altar and abandoned his sanctuary.
 He has handed over to the enemy
 the walls of her palaces;
 they have raised a shout in the house of the LORD as on the day of an appointed feast.

The LORD determined to tear down
 the wall around the Daughter of Zion.
 He stretched out a measuring line and did not withhold his hand from destroying.
 He made ramparts and walls lament;
 together they wasted away.

Her gates have sunk into the ground;
 their bars he has broken and destroyed.
 Her king and her princes are exiled among the nations,
 the law is no more,
 and her prophets no longer find visions from the LORD.

The elders of the Daughter of Zion sit on the ground in silence;
 they have sprinkled dust on their heads and put on sackcloth.
 The young women of Jerusalem have bowed their heads to the ground.

My eyes fail from weeping,
 I am in torment within,
 my heart is poured out on the ground
 because my people are destroyed, because children and infants faint
 in the streets of the city.

They say to their mothers,
 "Where is bread and wine?"

Lam.
 2:11-17

as they faint like wounded men
in the streets of the city, as their lives ebb away
in their mothers' arms.

What can I say for you?
With what can I compare you,
O Daughter of Jerusalem?
To what can I liken you,
that I may comfort you,
O Virgin Daughter of Zion?
Your wound is as deep as the sea.
Who can heal you?

The visions of your prophets were false and worthless;
they did not expose your sin to ward off your captivity.
The oracles they gave you were false and misleading.

All who pass your way
clap their hands at you;
they scoff and shake their heads
at the Daughter of Jerusalem:
"Is this the city that was called the perfection of beauty,
the joy of the whole earth?"

All your enemies open their mouths wide against you;
they scoff and gnash their teeth and say, "We have swallowed her up.
This is the day we have waited for;
we have lived to see it."

The LORD has done what he planned;
he has fulfilled his word,
which he decreed long ago.
He has overthrown you without pity,
he has let the enemy gloat over you,
he has exalted the horn^k of your foes.

The hearts of the people
cry out to the Lord.
O wall of the Daughter of Zion, let your tears flow like a river day and night;

your eyes no rest.

 Should women eat their offspring,
 the children they have cared for?
 Should priest and prophet be killed

“Young and old lie together

I am the man who has seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.
 He has driven me away and made me walk in darkness rather than light;
 indeed, he has turned his hand against me again and again, all day long.
 He has made my skin and my flesh grow old and has broken my bones.
 He has besieged me and surrounded me with bitterness and hardship.
 He has made me dwell in darkness like those long dead.
 He has walled me in so I cannot escape;
 he has weighed me down with chains.

 he shuts out my prayer.
 He has barred my way with blocks of stone;

he dragged me from the path and mangled me and left me without help.

He drew his bow
and made me the target for his arrows.

He pierced my heart
with arrows from his quiver.

I became the laughingstock of all my people;
they mock me in song all day long.

He has filled me with bitter herbs and sated me with gall.

He has broken my teeth with gravel;
he has trampled me in the dust.

I have been deprived of peace;
I have forgotten what prosperity is.

So I say, "My splendor is gone and all that I had hoped from the LORD."

I remember my affliction and my wandering, the bitterness and the gall.

I well remember them,
and my soul is downcast within me.

Yet this I call to mind
and therefore I have hope:

Because of the LORD's great love we are not consumed, for his compassions never fail.

They are new every morning;
great is your faithfulness.

So I say to myself, "The LORD is my portion;
therefore I will wait for him."

The LORD is good to those whose hope is in him,
to the one who seeks him;

it is good to wait quietly for the salvation of the LORD.

It is good for a man to bear the yoke while he is young.

Let him sit alone in silence,
for the LORD has laid it on him.

Let him bury his face in the dust—
there may yet be hope.

Let him offer his cheek to one who would strike him,
and let him be filled with disgrace.

For men are not cast off by the Lord forever.

Though he brings grief, he will show compassion,
so great is his unfailing love.

For he does not willingly bring affliction or grief to the children of men.

To crush underfoot
all prisoners in the land,

Lam.
3:22-33

to deny a man his rights before the Most High,
 to deprive a man of justice—
 would not the Lord see such things?

Who can speak and have it happen
 if the Lord has not decreed it?
 Is it not from the mouth of the Most High that both calamities and good things come?
 Why should any living man complain when punished for his sins?

Let us examine our ways and test them,
 and let us return to the LORD.
 Let us lift up our hearts and our hands to God in heaven, and say:
 "We have sinned and rebelled and you have not forgiven.

"You have covered yourself with anger and pursued us;
 you have slain without pity.
 You have covered yourself with a cloud
 so that no prayer can get through.
 You have made us scum and refuse
 among the nations.

"All our enemies have opened their mouths wide against us.
 We have suffered terror and pitfalls, ruin and destruction."
 Streams of tears flow from my eyes because my people are destroyed.

My eyes will flow unceasingly, without relief,
 until the LORD looks down
 from heaven and sees.
 What I see brings grief to my soul because of all the women of my city.

Those who were my enemies without cause hunted me like a bird.
 They tried to end my life in a pit and threw stones at me;
 the waters closed over my head,
 and I thought I was about to be cut off.

I called on your name, O LORD,
 from the depths of the pit.
 You heard my plea: "Do not close your ears to my cry for relief."
 You came near when I called you, and you said, "Do not fear."

O Lord, you took up my case;
 you redeemed my life.

You have seen, O LORD, the wrong done to me.
 Uphold my cause!
 You have seen the depth of their vengeance,
 all their plots against me.

O LORD, you have heard their insults,
 all their plots against me—
 what my enemies whisper and mutter against me all day long.
 Look at them! Sitting or standing, they mock me in their songs.

Pay them back what they deserve, O LORD, for what their hands have done.
 Put a veil over their hearts,
 and may your curse be on them!
 Pursue them in anger and destroy them from under the heavens of the LORD.

How^m the gold has lost its luster,
 the fine gold become dull!
 The sacred gems are scattered
 at the head of every street.

How the precious sons of Zion,
 once worth their weight in gold,
 are now considered as pots of clay,
 the work of a potter's hands!

Even jackals offer their breasts to nurse their young, but my people have become heartless like ostriches in the desert.

Because of thirst the infant's tongue sticks to the roof of its mouth;
 the children beg for bread,
 but no one gives it to them.

Those who once ate delicacies are destitute in the streets.
 Those nurtured in purple
 now lie on ash heaps.

The punishment of my people is greater than that of Sodom, which was overthrown in a moment without a hand turned to help her.

Their princes were brighter than snow and whiter than milk,
 their bodies more ruddy than rubies, their appearance like sapphires."

But now they are blacker than soot;
they are not recognized in the streets.
Their skin has shriveled on their bones;
it has become as dry as a stick.

Those killed by the sword are better off than those who die of famine;
racked with hunger, they waste away for lack of food from the field.

With their own hands compassionate women

The LORD has given full vent to his wrath;
he has poured out his fierce anger.
He kindled a fire in Zion

4:11-22

The kings of the earth did not believe,
nor did any of the world's people, that enemies and foes could enter the gates of Jerusalem.

But it happened because of the sins of her prophets and the iniquities of her priests, who shed within her
the blood of the righteous.

Now they grope through the streets like men who are blind.
They are so defiled with blood that no one dares to touch their garments.

"Go away! You are unclean!" men cry to them.
"Away! Away! Don't touch us!"
When they flee and wander about,
people among the nations say,
"They can stay here no longer."

The LORD himself has scattered them;
he no longer watches over them.
The priests are shown no honor,
the elders no favor.

Moreover, our eyes failed,
looking in vain for help;
from our towers we watched for a nation that could not save us.

Men stalked us at every step,
so we could not walk in our streets.
Our end was near, our days were numbered,
for our end had come.

Our pursuers were swifter than eagles in the sky;

they chased us over the mountains and lay in wait for us in the desert.

The LORD's anointed, our very life breath, was caught in their traps.
We thought that under his shadow
we would live among the nations.

Rejoice and be glad, O Daughter of Edom,
you who live in the land of Uz.
But to you also the cup will be passed;
you will be drunk and stripped naked.

O Daughter of Zion, your punishment will end;
he will not prolong your exile.
But, O Daughter of Edom, he will punish your sin and expose your wickedness.

Lam.
5:1-18

Remember, O LORD, what has happened to us;
look, and see our disgrace.
Our inheritance has been turned over to aliens,
our homes to foreigners.
We have become orphans and fatherless,
our mothers like widows.
We must buy the water we drink;
our wood can be had only at a price.
Those who pursue us are at our heels;
we are weary and find no rest.
We submitted to Egypt and Assyria to get enough bread.
Our fathers sinned and are no more,
and we bear their punishment.
Slaves rule over us,
and there is none to free us from their hands.
We get our bread at the risk of our lives because of the sword in the desert.
Our skin is hot as an oven,
feverish from hunger.
Women have been ravished in Zion,
and virgins in the towns of Judah.
Princes have been hung up by their hands;
elders are shown no respect.
Young men toil at the millstones;
boys stagger under loads of wood.
The elders are gone from the city gate;
the young men have stopped their music.
Joy is gone from our hearts;
our dancing has turned to mourning.
The crown has fallen from our head.
Woe to us, for we have sinned!
Because of this our hearts are faint, because of these things our eyes grow dim for Mount Zion, which lies desolate, with jackals prowling over it.

You, O LORD, reign forever;
your throne endures from generation to generation.
Why do you always forget us?
Why do you forsake us so long?
Restore us to yourself, O LORD, that we may return;
renew our days as of old unless you have utterly rejected us and are angry with us beyond measure.

A Remnant Flees to Egypt

Only two months will pass before there is conflict from within the ranks of those who have been left desolate in Judah. A contingent of army officers who had not been captured will apparently fall under the influence of the Ammonites, who will persuade them to assassinate Gedaliah. Their character is further revealed when they murder 70 innocent men, apparently without reason, and take captive their own countrymen at Mizpah.

Just when it appears that other former officers are about to right all the wrongs, they too exhibit wicked character. After lying to Jeremiah, they lead away to Egypt a whole remnant of Hebrews, including Jeremiah and Baruch. Egypt is seemingly chosen for two reasons: first of all, there is fear that Nebuchadnezzar will punish the former officers for killing his appointed governor, and they therefore believe that they can find safety under Pharaoh Hophra's protection. Second, they—and particularly their wives—seem drawn to Egypt's idolatry and worship of the pagan Queen of Heaven.

So it is that in the very country against which he has brought such harsh judgments, Jeremiah finds himself once again crying out against idolatry and having to bring more rebuke and judgment.

GEDALIAH WELCOMES OFFICERS. When all the army officers and their men who were still in the open country heard that the king of Babylon had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam as governor over the land and had put him in charge of the men, women and children who were the poorest in the land and who had not been carried into exile to Babylon, they came to Gedaliah at Mizpah—Ishmael son of Nethaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, Seraiah son of Tanhumeth, the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jaazaniah^o the son of the Maacathite, and their men. Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, took an oath to reassure them and their men. "Do not be afraid to serve the Babylonians," he said. "Settle down in the land and serve the king of Babylon, and it will go well with you. I myself will stay at Mizpah to represent you before the Babylonians who come to us, but you are to harvest the wine, summer fruit and oil, and put them in your storage jars, and live in the towns you have taken over."

When all the Jews in Moab, Ammon, Edom and all the other countries heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant in Judah and had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, as governor over them, they all came back to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah at Mizpah, from all the countries where they had been scattered. But Gedaliah son of Ahikam did not believe them.
- Then Johanan son of Kareah said privately to Gedaliah in Mizpah, "Let me go and kill Ishmael son of Nethaniah, and no one will know it. Why should he take your life and cause all the Jews who are gathered around you to be scattered and the remnant of Judah to perish?"

Jer 41:1-3 GEDALIAH ASSASSINATED. In the seventh month Ishmael son of Nethaniah, the son of Elishama, who was of royal blood and had been one of the king's officers, came with ten men to Gedaliah son of Ahikam at Mizpah. While they were eating together there, Ishmael son of Nethaniah and the ten men who were with him got up and struck down Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, with the sword, killing the one whom the king of Babylon had appointed as governor over the land. Ishmael also killed all the Jews who were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, as well as the Babylonian^a soldiers who were there.
- Jer. 41:4-9 SEVENTY MURDERED. The day after Gedaliah's assassination, before anyone knew about it, eighty men who had shaved off their beards, torn their clothes and cut themselves came from Shechem, Shiloh and Samaria, bringing grain offerings and incense with them to the house of the LORD. Ishmael son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, weeping as he went. When he met them, he said, "Come to Gedaliah son of Ahikam." When they went into the city, Ishmael son of Nethaniah and the men who were with him slaughtered them and threw them into a cistern. But ten of them said to Ishmael, "Don't kill us! We have wheat and barley, oil and honey, hidden in a field." So he let them alone and did not kill them with the others. Now the cistern where he threw all the bodies of the men he had killed along with Gedaliah was the one King Asa had made as part of his defense against Baasha king of Israel. Ishmael son of Nethaniah filled it with the dead.
- Jer. 41:10 PEOPLE OF MIZPAH TAKEN. Ishmael made captives of all the rest of the people who were in Mizpah—the king's daughters along with all the others who were left there, over whom Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard had appointed Gedaliah son of Ahikam. Ishmael son of Nethaniah took them captive and set out to cross over to the Ammonites.
- Jer. 41:11-15 JOHANAN RESCUES. When Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him heard about all the crimes Ishmael son of Nethaniah had committed, they took all their men and went to fight

Ishmael son of Nethaniah. They caught up with him near the great pool in Gibeon. When all the people Ishmael had with him saw Johanan son of Kareah and the army officers who were with him, they were glad. All the people Ishmael had taken captive at Mizpah turned and went over to Johanan son of Kareah. But Ishmael son of Nethaniah and eight of his men escaped from Johanan and fled to the Ammonites.

FEAR OF BABYLONIANS. Then Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him led away all the survivors from Mizpah whom he had recovered from Ishmael son of Nethaniah after he had assassinated Gedaliah son of Ahikam: the soldiers, women, children and court officials he had brought from Gibeon. And they went on, stopping at Geruth Kimham near Bethlehem on their way to Egypt to escape the Babylonians.^r They were afraid of them because Ishmael son of Nethaniah had killed Gedaliah son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had appointed as governor over the land.

JEREMIAH ASKS FOR DIRECTION. Then all the army officers, including Johanan son of Kareah and Jezaniah^s son of Hoshaiiah, and all the people from the least to the greatest approached Jeremiah the prophet and said to him, "Please hear our petition and pray to the LORD your God for this entire remnant. For as you now see, though we were once many, now only a few are left. Pray that the LORD your God will tell us where we should go and what we should do."

Jer. 42:1-4

"I have heard you," replied Jeremiah the prophet. "I will certainly pray to the LORD your God as you have requested; I will tell you everything the LORD says and will keep nothing back from you."

PROMISE OF COMPLIANCE. Then they said to Jeremiah, "May the LORD be a true and faithful witness against us if we do not act in accordance with everything the LORD your God sends you to tell us. Whether it is favorable or unfavorable, we will obey the LORD our God, to whom we are sending you, so that it will go well with us, for we will obey the LORD our God."

Jer. 42:5,6

REMNANT TO STAY. Ten days later the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah. So he called together Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers who were with him and all the people from the least to the greatest. He said to them, "This is what the LORD, the God of Israel, to whom you sent me to present your petition, says: 'If you stay in this land, I will build you up and not tear you down; I will plant you and not uproot you, for I am grieved over the disaster I have inflicted on you. Do not be afraid of the king of Babylon, whom you now fear. Do not be afraid of him, declares the LORD, for I am with you and will save you and deliver you from his hands. I will show you compassion so that he will have compassion on you and restore you to your land.'

Jer. 42:7-18

"However, if you say, 'We will not stay in this land,' and so disobey the LORD your God, and if you say, 'No, we will go and live in Egypt, where we will not see war or hear the trumpet or be hungry for bread,' then hear the word of the LORD, O remnant of Judah. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'If you are determined to go to Egypt and you do go to settle there, then the sword you fear will overtake you there, and the famine you dread will follow you into Egypt, and there you will die. Indeed, all who are determined to go to Egypt to settle there will die by the sword, famine and plague; not one of them will survive or escape the disaster I will bring on them.' This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: 'As my anger and wrath have been poured out on those who lived in Jerusalem, so will my wrath be poured out on you when you go to Egypt. You will be an object of cursing and horror, of condemnation and reproach; you will never see this place again.'

Jer. 42:19-22 WARNING AGAINST FLIGHT. "O remnant of Judah, the LORD has told you, 'Do not go to Egypt.' Be sure of this: I warn you today that you made a fatal mistake! when you sent me to the LORD your God and said, 'Pray to the LORD our God for us; tell us everything he says and we will do it.' I have told you today, but you still have not obeyed the LORD your God in all he sent me to tell you. So now, be sure of this: You will die by the sword, famine and plague in the place where you want to go to settle."

Jer. 43:1-3 JEREMIAH CALLED LIAR. When Jeremiah finished telling the people all the words of the LORD their God—everything the LORD had sent him to tell them— Azariah son of Hoshaiah and Johanan son of Kareah and all the arrogant men said to Jeremiah, "You are lying! The LORD our God has not sent you to say, 'You must not go to Egypt to settle there.' But Baruch son of Neriah is inciting you against us to hand us over to the Babylonians," so they may kill us or carry us into exile to Babylon."

Jer. 43:4-7 REMNANT LED AWAY. So Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers and all the people disobeyed the LORD's command to stay in the land of Judah. Instead, Johanan son of Kareah and all the army officers led away all the remnant of Judah who had come back to live in the land of Judah from all the nations where they had been scattered. They also led away all the men, women and children and the king's daughters whom Nebuzaradan commander of the imperial guard had left with Gedaliah son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet and Baruch son of Neriah. So they entered Egypt in disobedience to the LORD and went as far as Tahpanhes.

Jer. 43:8-13 PROPHECY ABOUT EGYPT. In Tahpanhes the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah: "While the Jews are watching, take some large stones with you and bury them in clay in the brick pavement at the entrance to Pharaoh's palace in Tahpanhes. Then say to them, 'This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I will send for my servant Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and I will set his throne over these stones I have buried here; he will spread his royal canopy above them. He will come and attack Egypt, bringing death to those destined for death, captivity to those destined for captivity, and the sword to those destined for the sword. He^v will set fire to the temples of the gods of Egypt; he will burn their temples and take their gods captive. As a shepherd wraps his garment around him, so will he wrap Egypt around himself and depart from there unscathed. There in the temple of the sun^w in Egypt he will demolish the sacred pillars and will burn down the temples of the gods of Egypt.' "

Jer. 44:1-14 EGYPTIAN HEBREWS WARNED. This word came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews living in Lower Egypt—in Migdol, Tahpanhes and Memphis¹—and in Upper Egypt²: “This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: You saw the great disaster I brought on Jerusalem and on all the towns of Judah. Today they lie deserted and in ruins because of the evil they have done. They provoked me to anger by burning incense and by worshiping other gods that neither they nor you nor your fathers ever knew. Again and again I sent my servants the prophets, who said, ‘Do not do this detestable thing that I hate!’ But they did not listen or pay attention; they did not turn from their wickedness or stop burning incense to other gods. Therefore, my fierce anger was poured out; it raged against the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem and made them the desolate ruins they are today.

“Now this is what the LORD God Almighty, the God of Israel, says: Why bring such great disaster on yourselves by cutting off from Judah the men and women, the children and infants, and so leave yourselves without a remnant? Why provoke me to anger with what your hands have made, burning incense to other gods in Egypt, where you have come to live? You will destroy yourselves and make yourselves an object of cursing and reproach among all the nations on earth. Have you forgotten the wickedness committed by your fathers and by the kings and queens of Judah and the wickedness committed by you and your wives in the land of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem? To this day they have not humbled themselves or shown reverence, nor have they followed my law and the decrees I set before you and your fathers.

“Therefore, this is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: I am determined to bring disaster on you and to destroy all Judah. I will take away the remnant of Judah who were determined to go to Egypt to settle there. They will all perish in Egypt; they will fall by the sword or die from famine. From the least to the greatest, they will die by sword or famine. They will become an object of cursing and horror, of condemnation and reproach. I will punish those who live in Egypt with the sword, famine and plague, as I punished Jerusalem. None of the remnant of Judah who have gone to live in Egypt will escape or survive to return to the land of Judah, to which they long to return and live; none will return except a few fugitives.”

PEOPLE'S IMPUDENT RESPONSE. Then all the men who knew that their wives were burning incense to other gods, along with all the women who were present—a large assembly—and all the people living in Lower and Upper Egypt,³ said to Jeremiah, “We will not listen to the message you have spoken to us in the name of the LORD! We will certainly do everything we said we would: We will burn incense to the Queen of Heaven and will pour out drink offerings to her just as we and our fathers, our kings and our officials did in the towns of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem. At that time we had plenty of food and were well off and suffered no harm. But ever since we stopped burning incense to the Queen of Heaven and pouring out drink offerings to her, we have had nothing and have been perishing by sword and famine.”

The women added, “When we burned incense to the Queen of Heaven and poured out drink offerings to her, did not our husbands know that we were making cakes like her image and pouring out drink offerings to her?”

Jer. 44:20-23 PAGANISM JUDAH'S DOWNFALL. Then Jeremiah said to all the people, both men and women, who were answering him, "Did not the LORD remember and think about the incense burned in the towns of Judah and the streets of Jerusalem by you and your fathers, your kings and your officials and the people of the land? When the LORD could no longer endure your wicked actions and the detestable things you did, your land became an object of cursing and a desolate waste without inhabitants, as it is today. Because you have burned incense and have sinned against the LORD and have not obeyed him or followed his law or his decrees or his stipulations, this disaster has come upon you, as you now see."

Jer. 44:24-28 JUDGMENT AGAINST IDOLATERS. Then Jeremiah said to all the people, including the women, "Hear the word of the LORD, all you people of Judah in Egypt. This is what the LORD Almighty, the God of Israel, says: You and your wives have shown by your actions what you promised when you said, 'We will certainly carry out the vows we made to burn incense and pour out drink offerings to the Queen of Heaven.'

"Go ahead then, do what you promised! Keep your vows! But hear the word of the LORD, all Jews living in Egypt: 'I swear by my great name,' says the LORD, 'that no one from Judah living anywhere in Egypt will ever again invoke my name or swear, "As surely as the Sovereign LORD lives.'" For I am watching over them for harm, not for good; the Jews in Egypt will perish by sword and famine until they are all destroyed. Those who escape the sword and return to the land of Judah from Egypt will be very few. Then the whole remnant of Judah who came to live in Egypt will know whose word will stand—mine or theirs.

Jer. 44:29,30 PHARAOH'S FATE A SIGN. " 'This will be the sign to you that I will punish you in this place,' declares the LORD, 'so that you will know that my threats of harm against you will surely stand.' This is what the LORD says: 'I am going to hand Pharaoh Hophra king of Egypt over to his enemies who seek his life, just as I handed Zedekiah king of Judah over to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, the enemy who was seeking his life.' "

Jer. 51:64b END OF JEREMIAH'S MINISTRY. The words of Jeremiah end here.

What a disheartening experience this must be for Jeremiah—off in a foreign country, separated from his scattered family, and surrounded by idolatrous Hebrews who have not even begun to learn the lesson of Judah's fall. Now in his older years Jeremiah must indeed have a broken heart. But surely in the kingdom of the Messiah about whom he has confidently prophesied he will receive great reward. ☞

THE EXILED NATION

Ezekiel's Restoration Prophecies

Twenty years have passed since the first captives were deported from Judah and the exile was begun. Now the city of Jerusalem has fallen and the exile of the nation continues with greater magnitude. It will be another fifty years before the exile will end.

It is evidently some six months before one of the survivors of the Jerusalem slaughter finally makes his way to the prophet Ezekiel in Babylonia. Ezekiel gets a few hours' advance warning of Jerusalem's fall when, on the evening before the messenger's arrival, Ezekiel is suddenly unable to speak. Undoubtedly he recalls the day the siege against Jerusalem began—the day of his wife's death—when God told him that his mouth would be opened when the messenger from Jerusalem arrived with news of the fall. Just as promised, Ezekiel's temporary muteness disappears the following morning before the messenger arrives. With this dramatic confirmation of his earlier predictions regarding Jerusalem, Ezekiel sets about once again to take God's word to the people. He reminds them that the desolation has not yet ended, but assures them that it will end soon, and that the promised restoration will begin. The time for healing will come quickly, and so Ezekiel changes his focus to comfort a scattered and defeated people.

JERUSALEM'S FALL ANNOUNCED. In the twelfth year of our exile, in the tenth month on the fifth day, a man who had escaped from Jerusalem came to me and said, "The city has fallen!" Now the evening before the man arrived, the hand of the LORD was upon me, and he opened my mouth before the man came to me in the morning. So my mouth was opened and I was no longer silent.

Ezk.

REASON FOR DISPOSSESSION. Then the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, the people living in those ruins in the land of Israel are saying, 'Abraham was only one man, yet he possessed the land. But we are many; surely the land has been given to us as our possession.' Therefore say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Since you eat meat with the blood still in it and look to your idols and shed blood, should you then possess the land? You rely on your sword, you do detestable things, and each of you defiles his neighbor's wife. Should you then possess the land?'"

Ezk.
33:23-26

Ezk.
33:27-29

DESOLATION NOT ENDED. "Say this to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: As surely as I live, those who are left in the ruins will fall by the sword, those out in the country I will give to the wild animals to be devoured, and those in strongholds and caves will die of a plague. I will make the land a desolate waste, and her proud strength will come to an end, and the mountains of Israel will become desolate so that no one will cross them. Then they will know that I am the LORD, when I have made the land a desolate waste because of all the detestable things they have done.'

Ezk.
33:30-33

NOBODY REALLY CARES. "As for you, son of man, your countrymen are talking together about you by the walls and at the doors of the houses, saying to each other, 'Come and hear the message that has come from the LORD.' My people come to you, as they usually do, and sit before you to listen to your words, but they do not put them into practice. With their mouths they express devotion, but their hearts are greedy for unjust gain. Indeed, to them you are nothing more than one who sings love songs with a beautiful voice and plays an instrument well, for they hear your words but do not put them into practice.

"When all this comes true—and it surely will—then they will know that a prophet has been among them."

Now, in a prophecy about the lost sheep of Israel, Ezekiel summarizes the basic message of his entire ministry: that Israel's spiritual leaders have led the people to slaughter, but that God is going to gather his scattered people back in Palestine (as Canaan will come to be known), and that he will one day raise up a Savior for his people—the Messiah—who will be the Good Shepherd.

Ezk.
34:1-10

LEADERS ACCOUNTABLE. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel; prophesy and say to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Woe to the shepherds of Israel who only take care of themselves! Should not shepherds take care of the flock? You eat the curds, clothe yourselves with the wool and slaughter the choice animals, but you do not take care of the flock. You have not strengthened the weak or healed the sick or bound up the injured. You have not brought back the strays or searched for the lost. You have ruled them harshly and brutally. So they were scattered because there was no shepherd, and when they were scattered they became food for all the wild animals. My sheep wandered over all the mountains and on every high hill. They were scattered over the whole earth, and no one searched or looked for them.

"Therefore, you shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, because my flock lacks a shepherd and so has been plundered and has become food for all the wild animals, and because my shepherds did not search for my flock but cared for themselves rather than for my flock, therefore, O shepherds, hear the word of the LORD: This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against the shepherds and will hold them accountable for my flock. I will remove them from tending the flock so that the shepherds can no longer feed themselves. I will rescue my flock from their mouths, and it will no longer be food for them.

NATION TO BE RESTORED. " 'For this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I myself will search for my sheep and look after them. As a shepherd looks after his scattered flock when he is with them, so will I look after my sheep. I will rescue them from all the places where they were scattered on a day of clouds and darkness. I will bring them out from the nations and gather them from the countries, and I will bring them into their own land. I will pasture them on the mountains of Israel, in the ravines and in all the settlements in the land. I will tend them in a good pasture, and the mountain heights of Israel will be their grazing land. There they will lie down in good grazing land, and there they will feed in a rich pasture on the mountains of Israel. I myself will tend my sheep and have them lie down, declares the Sovereign LORD. I will search for the lost and bring back the strays. I will bind up the injured and strengthen the weak, but the sleek and the strong I will destroy. I will shepherd the flock with justice.

Ezk.
34:11-16

INDIVIDUAL JUDGMENT. " 'As for you, my flock, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will judge between one sheep and another, and between rams and goats. Is it not enough for you to feed on the good pasture? Must you also trample the rest of your pasture with your feet? Is it not enough for you to drink clear water? Must you also muddy the rest with your feet? Must my flock feed on what you have trampled and drink what you have muddied with your feet?

Ezk.
34:17-19

THE GOOD SHEPHERD. " 'Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says to them: See, I myself will judge between the fat sheep and the lean sheep. Because you shove with flank and shoulder, butting all the weak sheep with your horns until you have driven them away, I will save my flock, and they will no longer be plundered. I will judge between one sheep and another. I will place over them one shepherd, my servant David, and he will tend them; he will tend them and be their shepherd. I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David will be prince among them. I the LORD have spoken.

Ezk.
34:20-24

THE NEW COVENANT. " 'I will make a covenant of peace with them and rid the land of wild beasts so that they may live in the desert and sleep in the forests in safety. I will bless them and the places surrounding my hill.^a I will send down showers in season; there will be showers of blessing. The trees of the field will yield their fruit and the ground will yield its crops; the people will be secure in their land. They will know that I am the LORD, when I break the bars of their yoke and rescue them from the hands of those who enslaved them. They will no longer be plundered by the nations, nor will wild animals devour them. They will live in safety, and no one will make them afraid. I will provide for them a land renowned for its crops, and they will no longer be victims of famine in the land or bear the scorn of the nations. Then they will know that I, the LORD their God, am with them and that they, the house of Israel, are my people, declares the Sovereign LORD. You my sheep, the sheep of my pasture, are people, and I am your God, declares the Sovereign LORD.' "

Ezk.
34:25-31

During the siege Ezekiel brought judgment against Judah's oppressors, particularly for the glee with which they would welcome the fall of Jerusalem.

^aOr I will make them and the places surrounding my hill a blessing

Using Edom to represent all those nations, Ezekiel again promises that destruction awaits them. He then consoles Israel with more assurances of the national restoration to come.

Ezk.
35:1-15

EDOM'S PUNISHMENT. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, set your face against Mount Seir; prophesy against it and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against you, Mount Seir, and I will stretch out my hand against you and make you a desolate waste. I will turn your towns into ruins and you will be desolate. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

"Because you harbored an ancient hostility and delivered the Israelites over to the sword at the time of their calamity, the time their punishment reached its climax, therefore as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I will give you over to bloodshed and it will pursue you. Since you did not hate bloodshed, bloodshed will pursue you. I will make Mount Seir a desolate waste and cut off from it all who come and go. I will fill your mountains with the slain; those killed by the sword will fall on your hills and in your valleys and in all your ravines. I will make you desolate forever; your towns will not be inhabited. Then you will know that I am the LORD.

"Because you have said, 'These two nations and countries will be ours and we will take possession of them,' even though I the LORD was there, therefore as surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I will treat you in accordance with the anger and jealousy you showed in your hatred of them and I will make myself known among them when I judge you. Then you will know that I the LORD have heard all the contemptible things you have said against the mountains of Israel. You said, 'They have been laid waste and have been given over to us to devour.' You boasted against me and spoke against me without restraint, and I heard it. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: While the whole earth rejoices, I will make you desolate. Because you rejoiced when the inheritance of the house of Israel became desolate, that is how I will treat you. You will be desolate, O Mount Seir, you and all of Edom. Then they will know that I am the LORD.'"

Ezk. 36:1-7

SCORN TO REPAY SCORN. "Son of man, prophesy to the mountains of Israel and say, 'O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: The enemy said of you, 'Aha! The ancient heights have become our possession.' Therefore prophesy and say, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because they ravaged and hounded you from every side so that you became the possession of the rest of the nations and the object of people's malicious talk and slander, therefore, O mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Sovereign LORD: This is what the Sovereign LORD says to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys, to the desolate ruins and the deserted towns that have been plundered and ridiculed by the rest of the nations around you— this is what the Sovereign LORD says: In my burning zeal I have spoken against the rest of the nations, and against all Edom, for with glee and with malice in their hearts they made my land their own possession so that they might plunder its pastureland.' Therefore prophesy concerning the land of Israel and say to the mountains and hills, to the ravines and valleys: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I speak in my jealous wrath because you have suffered the scorn of the nations. Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I swear with uplifted hand that the nations around you will also suffer scorn.

ISRAEL TO PROSPER. “ ‘But you, O mountains of Israel, will produce branches and fruit for my people Israel, for they will soon come home. I am concerned for you and will look on you with favor; you will be plowed and sown, and I will multiply the number of people upon you, even the whole house of Israel. The towns will be inhabited and the ruins rebuilt. I will increase the number of men and animals upon you, and they will be fruitful and become numerous. I will settle people on you as in the past and will make you prosper more than before. Then you will know that I am the LORD. I will cause people, my people Israel, to walk upon you. They will possess you, and you will be their inheritance; you will never again deprive them of their children.

Ezk.
36:8-12

TAUNTS WILL CEASE. “ ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Because people say to you, “You devour men and deprive your nation of its children,” therefore you will no longer devour men or make your nation childless, declares the Sovereign LORD. No longer will I make you hear the taunts of the nations, and no longer will you suffer the scorn of the peoples or cause your nation to fall, declares the Sovereign LORD.’ ”

Ezk.
36:13-15

HOLY NAME HONORED. Again the word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, when the people of Israel were living in their own land, they defiled it by their conduct and their actions. Their conduct was like a woman’s monthly uncleanness in my sight. So I poured out my wrath on them because they had shed blood in the land and because they had defiled it with their idols. I dispersed them among the nations, and they were scattered through the countries; I judged them according to their conduct and their actions. And wherever they went among the nations they profaned my holy name, for it was said of them, ‘These are the LORD’s people, and yet they had to leave his land.’ I had concern for my holy name, which the house of Israel profaned among the nations where they had gone.

Ezk.
36:16-23

“Therefore say to the house of Israel, ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: It is not for your sake, O house of Israel, that I am going to do these things, but for the sake of my holy name, which you have profaned among the nations where you have gone. I will show the holiness of my great name, which has been profaned among the nations, the name you have profaned among them. Then the nations will know that I am the LORD, declares the Sovereign LORD, when I show myself holy through you before their eyes.

A NEW SPIRIT. “ ‘For I will take you out of the nations; I will gather you from all the countries and bring you back into your own land. I will sprinkle clean water on you, and you will be clean; I will cleanse you from all your impurities and from all your idols. I will give you a new heart and put a new spirit in you; I will remove from you your heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. And I will put my Spirit in you and move you to follow my decrees and be careful to keep my laws. You will live in the land I gave your forefathers; you will be my people, and I will be your God. I will save you from all your uncleanness. I will call for the grain and make it plentiful and will not bring famine upon you. I will increase the fruit of the trees and the crops of the field, so that you will no longer suffer disgrace among the nations because of famine. Then you will remember your evil ways and wicked deeds, and you will loathe yourselves for your sins and detestable practices. I want you to know that I am not doing this for your sake, declares the Sovereign LORD. Be ashamed and disgraced for your conduct, O house of Israel!

Ezk.
36:33-36

A GREAT REPLANTING. "This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On the day I cleanse you from all your sins, I will resettle your towns, and the ruins will be rebuilt. The desolate land will be cultivated instead of lying desolate in the sight of all who pass through it. They will say, "This land that was laid waste has become like the garden of Eden; the cities that were lying in ruins, desolate and destroyed, are now fortified and inhabited." Then the nations around you that remain will know that I the LORD have rebuilt what was destroyed and have replanted what was desolate. I the LORD have spoken, and I will do it.'

Ezk.
36:37,38

REPOPULATION OF NATION. "This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Once again I will yield to the plea of the house of Israel and do this for them: I will make their people as numerous as sheep, as numerous as the flocks for offerings at Jerusalem during her appointed feasts. So will the ruined cities be filled with flocks of people. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

God brings a fascinating vision to Ezekiel in demonstration of the new life which Israel will have. The visual image—of dry bones coming to life—must bring a smile to Ezekiel's face as he now relates the vision.

Ezk.
37:1-14

VISION OF DRY BONES. The hand of the LORD was upon me, and he brought me out by the Spirit of the LORD and set me in the middle of a valley; it was full of bones. He led me back and forth among them, and I saw a great many bones on the floor of the valley, bones that were very dry. He asked me, "Son of man, can these bones live?"

I said, "O Sovereign LORD, you alone know."

Then he said to me, "Prophecy to these bones and say to them, 'Dry bones, hear the word of the LORD! This is what the Sovereign LORD says to these bones: I will make breath^b enter you, and you will come to life. I will attach tendons to you and make flesh come upon you and cover you with skin; I will put breath in you, and you will come to life. Then you will know that I am the LORD.'"

So I prophesied as I was commanded. And as I was prophesying, there was a noise, a rattling sound, and the bones came together, bone to bone. I looked, and tendons and flesh appeared on them and skin covered them, but there was no breath in them.

Then he said to me, "Prophecy to the breath; prophecy, son of man, and say to it, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe into these slain, that they may live.'"

So I prophesied as he commanded me, and breath entered them; they came to life and stood up on their feet—a vast army.

Then he said to me: "Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel. They say, 'Our bones are dried up and our hope is gone; we are cut off.' Therefore prophesy and say to them: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: O my people, I am going to open your graves and bring you up from them; I will bring you back to the land of Israel. Then you, my people, will know that I am the LORD, when I open your graves and bring you up from them. I will put my Spirit in you and you will live, and I will settle you in your own land. Then you will know that I the LORD have spoken, and I have done it, declares the LORD.' "

Another sign is to be shown to the people. Two sticks, one representing the northern tribes and the other depicting the tribe of Judah, are to be held together to signify the reunification of the nation of Israel. This is followed by a messianic prophecy of the new kingdom to come.

SIGN OF TWO STICKS. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, take a stick of wood and write on it, 'Belonging to Judah and the Israelites associated with him.' Then take another stick of wood, and write on it, 'Ephraim's stick, belonging to Joseph and all the house of Israel associated with him.' Join them together into one stick so that they will become one in your hand.

Ezk.
37:15-23

"When your countrymen ask you, 'Won't you tell us what you mean by this?' say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am going to take the stick of Joseph—which is in Ephraim's hand—and of the Israelite tribes associated with him, and join it to Judah's stick, making them a single stick of wood, and they will become one in my hand.' Hold before their eyes the sticks you have written on and say to them, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will take the Israelites out of the nations where they have gone. I will gather them from all around and bring them back into their own land. I will make them one nation in the land, on the mountains of Israel. There will be one king over all of them and they will never again be two nations or be divided into two kingdoms. They will no longer defile themselves with their idols and vile images or with any of their offenses, for I will save them from all their sinful backsliding,^c and I will cleanse them. They will be my people, and I will be their God.

THE NEW KINGDOM. " 'My servant David will be king over them, and they will all have one shepherd. They will follow my laws and be careful to keep my decrees. They will live in the land I gave to my servant Jacob, the land where your fathers lived. They and their children and their children's children will live there forever, and David my servant will be their prince forever. I will make a covenant of peace with them; it will be an everlasting covenant. I will establish them and increase their numbers, and I will put my sanctuary among them forever. My dwelling place will be with them; I will be their God, and they will be my people. Then the nations will know that I the LORD make Israel holy, when my sanctuary is among them forever.' "

Ezk.
37:24-28

The climax of Ezekiel's restoration prophecies takes his hearers not only to the new kingdom of the Good Shepherd but apparently to the time when the forces of evil will be destroyed forever. The language is apocalyptic (that is, symbolically predictive of future events) and challenging to interpret. The forces of evil are represented by Gog, ruler of a land called Magog, and by Meshech and Tubal. These names correspond to the sons of the patriarch Japheth, who have generally been associated with the warlike Goths, Cretans, and Scythians. God's vision to Ezekiel is that of a great battle on a wide panorama of the universe in which death and destruction are cataclysmic—far beyond anything which either Israel or Judah has experienced. But the reasons for the destruction are the same: rebellion and wickedness. The other difference is that the punishment will be of an eternal nature. At that time there will be no restoration of the wicked—only everlasting peace and joy for the righteous.

Ezk. 38:1-6 JUDGMENT AGAINST EVIL. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, set your face against Gog, of the land of Magog, the chief prince of^d Meshech and Tubal; prophesy against him and say: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of^e Meshech and Tubal. I will turn you around, put hooks in your jaws and bring you out with your whole army—your horses, your horsemen fully armed, and a great horde with large and small shields, all of them brandishing their swords. Persia, Cush/^f and Put will be with them, all with shields and helmets, also Gomer with all its troops, and Beth Togarmah from the far north with all its troops—the many nations with you.

Ezk. 38:7-9 HORDES OF EVIL. "'Get ready; be prepared, you and all the hordes gathered about you, and take command of them. After many days you will be called to arms. In future years you will invade a land that has recovered from war, whose people were gathered from many nations to the mountains of Israel, which had long been desolate. They had been brought out from the nations, and now all of them live in safety. You and all your troops and the many nations with you will go up, advancing like a storm; you will be like a cloud covering the land.

Ezk. 38:10-13 EVIL COVETS THE RIGHTEOUS. "'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: On that day thoughts will come into your mind and you will devise an evil scheme. You will say, "I will invade a land of unwalled villages; I will attack a peaceful and unsuspecting people—all of them living without walls and without gates and bars. I will plunder and loot and turn my hand against the resettled ruins and the people gathered from the nations, rich in livestock and goods, living at the center of the land." Sheba and Dedan and the merchants of Tarshish and all her villages^g will say to you, "Have you come to plunder? Have you gathered your hordes to loot, to carry off silver and gold, to take away livestock and goods and to seize much plunder?"' Ezk. 38:14-16 BATTLE TO BE SIGN. "Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say to Gog: 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: In that day, when my people Israel are living in safety, will you not take notice of it? You will come from your place in the far north, you and many nations with you, all of them riding on horses, a great horde, a mighty army. You will advance against my people Israel like a cloud that covers the land. In days to come, O Gog, DESTRUCTION OF EVIL. “ ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Are you not the one I spoke of in former days by my servants the prophets of Israel? At that time they prophesied for years that I would bring you against them. This is what will happen in that day: When Gog attacks the land of Israel, my hot anger will be aroused, declares the Sovereign LORD. In my zeal and fiery wrath I declare that at that time there shall be a great earthquake in the land of Israel. The fish of the sea, the birds of the air, the beasts of the field, every creature that moves along the ground, and all the people on the face of the earth will tremble at my presence. The mountains will be overturned, the cliffs will crumble and every wall will fall to the ground. I will summon a sword against Gog on all my mountains, declares the Sovereign LORD. Every man’s sword will be against his brother. I will execute judgment upon him with plague and bloodshed; I will pour down torrents of rain, hailstones and burning sulfur on him and on his troops and on the many nations with him. And so I will show my greatness and my holiness, and I will make myself known in the sight of many nations. Then they will know that I am the LORD.’ “ ‘Son of man, prophesy against Gog and say: ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am against you, O Gog, chief prince of^h Meshech and Tubal. I will turn you around and drag you along. I will bring you from the far north and send you against the mountains of Israel. Then I will strike your bow from your left hand and make your arrows drop from your right hand. On the mountains of Israel you will fall, you and all your troops and the nations with you. I will give you as food to all kinds of carrion birds and to the wild animals. You will fall in the open field, for I have spoken, declares the Sovereign LORD. I will send fire on Magog and on those who live in safety in the coastlands, and they will know that I am the LORD.

Ezk.

THE DAY IS COMING. “ ‘I will make known my holy name among my people Israel. I will no longer let my holy name be profaned, and the nations will know that I the LORD am the Holy One in Israel. It is coming! It will surely take place, declares the Sovereign LORD. This is the day I have spoken of.

Ezk. 39:7,8

FINALITY OF DESTRUCTION. “ ‘Then those who live in the towns of Israel will go out and use the weapons for fuel and burn them up—the small and large shields, the bows and arrows, the war clubs and spears. For seven years they will use them for fuel. They will not need to gather wood from the fields or cut it from the forests, because they will use the weapons for fuel. And they will plunder those who plundered them and loot those who looted them, declares the Sovereign LORD.

(Also a town called Hamonah¹ will be there.) And so they will cleanse the land.’

CELEBRATION OF RIGHTEOUS. “Son of man, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: Call out to every kind of bird and all the wild animals: ‘Assemble and come together from all around to the sacrifice I am preparing for you, the great sacrifice on the mountains of Israel. There you will eat flesh and drink blood. You will eat the flesh of mighty men and drink the blood of the princes of the earth as if they were rams and lambs, goats and bulls—all of them fattened animals from Bashan. At the sacrifice I am preparing for you, you will eat fat till you are glutted and drink blood till you are drunk. At my table you will eat your fill of horses and riders, mighty men and soldiers of every kind,’ declares the Sovereign LORD.

ISRAEL EXAMPLE OF JUDGMENT. “I will display my glory among the nations, and all the nations will see the punishment I inflict and the hand I lay upon them. From that day forward the house of Israel will know that I am the LORD their God. And the nations will know that the people of Israel went into exile for their sin, because they were unfaithful to me. So I hid my face from them and handed them over to their enemies, and they all fell by the sword. I dealt with them according to their uncleanness and their offenses, and I hid my face from them.

Ezk.
39:25-29

RESTORATION OF SPIRIT. “Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I will now bring Jacob back from captivity^m and will have compassion on all the people of Israel, and I will be zealous for my holy name. They will forget their shame and all the unfaithfulness they showed toward me when they lived in safety in their land with no one to make them afraid. When I have brought them back from the nations and have gathered them from the countries of their enemies, I will show myself holy through them in the sight of many nations. Then they will know that I am the LORD their God, for though I sent them into exile among the nations, I will gather them to their own land, not leaving any behind. I will no longer hide my face from them, for I will pour out my Spirit on the house of Israel, declares the Sovereign LORD.”

Egypt has the dubious distinction of being singled out among the nations as an example of the forces of evil. Ezekiel first brings a lament for Egypt, then assigns her a place of burial in the same grave with the hordes of evil, including Meshech and Tubal.

LAMENT FOR EGYPT. In the twelfth year, in the twelfth month on the first day, the word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, take up a lament concerning Pharaoh king of Egypt and say to him:

 I will spread your flesh on the mountains

 I will drench the land with your flowing blood

GRAVES OF EVIL. In the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came to me: “Son of man, wail for the hordes of Egypt and consign to the earth below both her and the daughters of mighty nations, with those who go down to the pit. Say to them, ‘Are you more favored than others? Go down and be laid among the uncircumcised.’ They will fall among those killed by the sword. The sword is drawn; let her be dragged off with all her hordes. From within the grave^o the mighty leaders will say of Egypt and her allies, ‘They have come down and they lie with the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword.’

“Assyria is there with her whole army; she is surrounded by the graves of all her slain, all who have fallen by the sword. Their graves are in the depths of the pit and her army lies around her grave. All who had spread terror in the land of the living are slain, fallen by the sword.

“Elam is there, with all her hordes around her grave. All of them are slain, fallen by the sword. All who had spread terror in the land of the living went down uncircumcised to the earth below. They bear their shame with those who go down to the pit. A bed is made for her among the slain, with all her hordes around her grave. All of them are uncircumcised, killed by the sword. Because their terror had spread in the land of the living, they bear their shame with those who go down to the pit; they are laid among the slain.

“Meshech and Tubal are there, with all their hordes around their graves. All of them are uncircumcised, killed by the sword because they spread their terror in the land of the living. Do they not lie with the other uncircumcised warriors who have fallen, who went down to the grave with their weapons of war, whose swords were placed under their heads? The punishment for their sins rested on their bones, though the terror of these warriors had stalked through the land of the living.

“You too, O Pharaoh, will be broken and will lie among the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword.

“Edom is there, her kings and all her princes; despite their power, they are laid with those killed by the sword. They lie with the uncircumcised, with those who go down to the pit.

“All the princes of the north and all the Sidonians are there; they went down with the slain in disgrace despite the terror caused by their power. They lie uncircumcised with those killed by the sword and bear their shame with those who go down to the pit.

“Pharaoh—he and all his army—will see them and he will be consoled for all his hordes that were killed by the sword, declares the Sovereign LORD. Although I had him spread terror in the land of the living, Pharaoh and all his hordes will be laid among the uncircumcised, with those killed by the sword, declares the Sovereign LORD."

As a messenger of the eternal destruction to come, Ezekiel sees that God has made him personally accountable—not for the response of his hearers, but for his own faithfulness in preaching the word. His role is that of the watchman seeing the approach of danger.

WATCHMAN'S ACCOUNTABILITY. The word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, speak to your countrymen and say to them: 'When I bring the sword against a land, and the people of the land choose one of their men and make him their watchman, and he sees the sword coming against the land and blows the trumpet to warn the people, then if anyone hears the trumpet but does not take warning and the sword comes and takes his life, his blood will be on his own head. Since he heard the sound of the trumpet but did not take warning, his blood will be on his own head. If he had taken warning, he would have saved himself. But if the watchman sees the sword coming and does not blow the trumpet to warn the people and the sword comes and takes the life of one of them, that man will be taken away because of his sin, but I will hold the watchman accountable for his blood.' Ezk. 33:1-9

"Son of man, I have made you a watchman for the house of Israel; so hear the word I speak and give them warning from me. When I say to the wicked, 'O wicked man, you will surely die,' and you do not speak out to dissuade him from his ways, that wicked man will die for^p his sin, and I will hold you accountable for his blood. But if you do warn the wicked man to turn from his ways and he does not do so, he will die for his sin, but you will have saved yourself.

The response from those he is warning is predictable: they demand to know what right God has to bring punishment against Israel. Although Ezekiel has already answered their arguments, he insists one last time that, although God hates the punishment which must come to the wicked, it must nevertheless come (and furthermore, that no one is in a position to argue the matter). Yet the promise is equally sure that even the wicked can be saved through sincere and righteous repentance.

GOD HATES PUNISHMENT. "Son of man, say to the house of Israel, 'This is what you are saying: "Our offenses and sins weigh us down, and we are wasting away because of^q them. How then can we live?" ' Say to them, 'As surely as I live, declares the Sovereign LORD, I take no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but rather that they turn from their ways and live. Turn! Turn from your evil ways! Why will you die, O house of Israel?' Ezk. 33:10,11

REPENTANCE CAN SAVE. "Therefore, son of man, say to your countrymen, 'The righteousness of the righteous man will not save him when he disobeys, and the wickedness of the wicked man will not cause him to fall when he turns from it. The righteous man, if he sins, will not be allowed to live because of his former righteousness.' If I tell the righteous man that he will surely live, but then he trusts in his righteousness and Ezk. 33:12-16 does evil, none of the righteous things he has done will be remembered; he will die for the evil he has done. And if I say to the wicked man, 'You will surely die,' but he then turns away from his sin and does what is just and right—if he gives back what he took in pledge for a loan, returns what he has stolen, follows the decrees that give life, and does no evil, he will surely live; he will not die. None of the sins he has committed will be remembered against him. He has done what is just and right; he will surely live.

Ezk.
33:17-20

GOD IS JUST. "Yet your countrymen say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' But it is their way that is not just. If a righteous man turns from his righteousness and does evil, he will die for it. And if a wicked man turns away from his wickedness and does what is just and right, he will live by doing so. Yet, O house of Israel, you say, 'The way of the Lord is not just.' But I will judge each of you according to his own ways."

Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego

While Ezekiel is dealing with the issue of punishment for the wicked, Daniel's three friends, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, are in the capital city of Babylon, about to be punished by King Nebuchadnezzar for being faithful to God. Possibly using the gold recently seized as booty in the capture of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar erects a huge image which he commands all the people to worship. When Daniel's three friends refuse to do so, they are put into a fiery furnace. But they are saved from death by the power of God, and Nebuchadnezzar is once again impressed by the God in whom they place their trust. (Where Daniel is during this episode is not known. Presumably he is away from the capital, for surely he would have interceded on behalf of his friends.)

Dan. 3:1-3
B.C.?)

GOLDEN IMAGE ERECTED. King Nebuchadnezzar made an image of gold, ninety feet high and nine feet^r wide, and set it up on the plain of Dura in the province of Babylon. He then summoned the satraps, prefects, governors, advisers, treasurers, judges, magistrates and all the other provincial officials to come to the dedication of the image he had set up. So the satraps, prefects, governors, advisers, treasurers, judges, magistrates and all the other provincial officials assembled for the dedication of the image that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up, and they stood before it.

Dan. 3:4-7

MANDATE REQUIRING WORSHIP. Then the herald loudly proclaimed, "This is what you are commanded to do, O peoples, nations and men of every language: As soon as you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipes and all kinds of music, you must fall down and worship the image of gold that King Nebuchadnezzar has set up. Whoever does not fall down and worship will immediately be thrown into a blazing furnace."

Therefore, as soon as they heard the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp and all kinds of music, all the peoples, nations and men of every language fell down and worshiped the image of gold that King Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

^rAramaic sixty cubits high and six cubits wide (about 27 meters high and 2.7 meters wide)

ASTROLOGERS ACCUSE HEBREWS. At this time some astrologers^s came forward and denounced the Jews. They said to King Nebuchadnezzar, "O king, live forever! You have issued a decree, O king, that everyone who hears the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipes and all kinds of music must fall down and worship the image of gold, and that whoever does not fall down and worship will be thrown into a blazing furnace. But there are some Jews whom you have set over the affairs of the province of Babylon—Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego—who pay no attention to you, O king. They neither serve your gods nor worship the image of gold you have set up."

Dan.
3:8-12

NEBUCHADNEZZAR REBUFFED. Furious with rage, Nebuchadnezzar summoned Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego. So these men were brought before the king, and Nebuchadnezzar said to them, "Is it true, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, that you do not serve my gods or worship the image of gold I have set up? Now when you hear the sound of the horn, flute, zither, lyre, harp, pipes and all kinds of music, if you are ready to fall down and worship the image I made, very good. But if you do not worship it, you will be thrown immediately into a blazing furnace. Then what god will be able to rescue you from my hand?"

Dan.
3:13-18

Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego replied to the king, "O Nebuchadnezzar, we do not need to defend ourselves before you in this matter. If we are thrown into the blazing furnace, the God we serve is able to save us from it, and he will rescue us from your hand, O king. But even if he does not, we want you to know, O king, that we will not serve your gods or worship the image of gold you have set up."

THREE THROWN INTO FURNACE. Then Nebuchadnezzar was furious with Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, and his attitude toward them changed. He ordered the furnace heated seven times hotter than usual and commanded some of the strongest soldiers in his army to tie up Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego and throw them into the blazing furnace. So these men, wearing their robes, trousers, turbans and other clothes, were bound and thrown into the blazing furnace. The king's command was so urgent and the furnace so hot that the flames of the fire killed the soldiers who took up Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, and these three men, firmly tied, fell into the blazing furnace.

Dan.
3:19-23

THREE RESCUED BY ANGEL. Then King Nebuchadnezzar leaped to his feet in amazement and asked his advisers, "Weren't there three men that we tied up and threw into the fire?"

Dan.
3:24-27

They replied, "Certainly, O king."

He said, "Look! I see four men walking around in the fire, unbound and unharmed, and the fourth looks like a son of the gods."

Nebuchadnezzar then approached the opening of the blazing furnace and shouted, "Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, servants of the Most High God, come out! Come here!"

So Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego came out of the fire, and the satraps, prefects, governors and royal advisers crowded around them. They saw that the fire had not harmed their bodies, nor was a hair of their heads singed; their robes were not scorched, and there was no smell of fire on them.

Dan.
3:28-30

THREE ARE HONORED. Then Nebuchadnezzar said, "Praise be to the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, who has sent his angel and rescued his servants! They trusted in him and defied the king's command and were willing to give up their lives rather than serve or worship any god except their own God. Therefore I decree that the people of any nation or language who say anything against the God of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego be cut into pieces and their houses be turned into piles of rubble, for no other god can save in this way."

Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego in the province of Babylon.

Just as before, when Daniel had interpreted his dream and Nebuchadnezzar had praised the God of the Hebrews, there is no evidence of any lasting conviction in Nebuchadnezzar's heart. But the concept of a real and powerful God is steadily having its effect on this pagan world leader, and may someday result in true conversion. ☒

Ezekiel's Great Temple Vision

It has been some 12 years since any recorded word of the Lord has come to Ezekiel. In what seems to be a mere continuation of his previous futuristic vision, Ezekiel now sees the great temple. The vision reminds one in many ways (particularly in its attention to detail) of two earlier descriptions—of the tabernacle in the wilderness and of Solomon's magnificent temple in Jerusalem. The similarity suggests that, to the people of Israel, one of the most important features of the restoration is the rebuilding of their now-ruined temple. Ezekiel's prophecy must surely give renewed hope to this downcast nation, yet his vision casts another image far beyond the time when the nation will be reestablished and the temple will be rebuilt. This becomes clear when it is realized that the rebuilt temple will not have the physical beauty of the one which it replaces, and that the dimensions of the great temple described here are on a much grander scale than could possibly be built in the soon-to-be-reconstructed city of Jerusalem.

There are also significant differences to be seen in the religious service of the great temple. Notably missing, for example, are the ark of the covenant, the golden lampstand, the bread of the Presence, and the veil. There is no observance of the Feast of Weeks and no Day of Atonement, that holiest of all days. Nor will the Levites serve as they have served under Moses' Law. Although there will still be priests, there is no high priest. Instead, there will be a "prince," or a succession of "princes," who will offer sacrifices as representatives of the people. What Ezekiel is about to be shown is something far different from anything he or his people have known to this time.

As he was at the beginning of his ministry, Ezekiel is once again taken by the hand of the Lord to the land of Israel. There he is shown symbolically the new temple to come, its worship rituals, its celebrations, its servants and priests, its laws, and the division of the land surrounding it.

Ezk. 40:1-4
(572 B.C.)

EZEKIEL TAKEN TO ISRAEL. In the twenty-fifth year of our exile, at the beginning of the year, on the tenth of the month, in the fourteenth year after the fall of the city—on that very day the hand of the LORD was upon me and he took me there. In visions of God he took me to the land of Israel and set me on a very high mountain, on whose south side were some buildings that looked like a city. He took me there, and I saw a man whose appearance was like bronze; he was standing in the gateway with a linen cord and a measuring rod in his hand. The man said to me, "Son of man, look with your eyes and hear with your ears and pay attention to everything I am going to show you, for that is why you have been brought here. Tell the house of Israel everything you see."

THE EAST GATE. I saw a wall completely surrounding the temple area. The length of the measuring rod in the man's hand was six long cubits, each of which was a cubit^t and a handbreadth.^u He measured the wall; it was one measuring rod thick and one rod high.

Ezk.
40:5-16

Then he went to the gate facing east. He climbed its steps and measured the threshold of the gate; it was one rod deep.^v The alcoves for the guards were one rod long and one rod wide, and the projecting walls between the alcoves were five cubits thick. And the threshold of the gate next to the portico facing the temple was one rod deep.

Then he measured the portico of the gateway; it^w was eight cubits deep and its jambs were two cubits thick. The portico of the gateway faced the temple.

Inside the east gate were three alcoves on each side; the three had the same measurements, and the faces of the projecting walls on each side had the same measurements. Then he measured the width of the entrance to the gateway; it was ten cubits and its length was thirteen cubits. In front of each alcove was a wall one cubit high, and the alcoves were six cubits square. Then he measured the gateway from the top of the rear wall of one alcove to the top of the opposite one; the distance was twenty-five cubits from one parapet opening to the opposite one. He measured along the faces of the projecting walls all around the inside of the gateway—sixty cubits. The measurement was up to the portico^x facing the courtyard.^y The distance from the entrance of the gateway to the far end of its portico was fifty cubits. The alcoves and the projecting walls inside the gateway were surmounted by narrow parapet openings all around, as was the portico; the openings all around faced inward. The faces of the projecting walls were decorated with palm trees.

THE OUTER COURT. Then he brought me into the outer court. There I saw some rooms and a pavement that had been constructed all around the court; there were thirty rooms along the pavement. It abutted the sides of the gateways and was as wide as they were long; this was the lower pavement. Then he measured the distance from the inside of the lower gateway to the outside of the inner court; it was a hundred cubits on the east side as well as on the north.

Ezk.
40:17-19

THE NORTH GATE. Then he measured the length and width of the gate facing north, leading into the outer court. Its alcoves—three on each side—its projecting walls and its portico had the same measurements as those of the first gateway. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. Its openings, its portico and its palm tree decorations had the same measurements as those of the gate facing east. Seven steps led up to it, with its portico opposite them. There was a gate to the inner court facing the north gate, just as there was on the east. He measured from one gate to the opposite one; it was a hundred cubits.

Ezk.
40:24-27

THE SOUTH GATE. Then he led me to the south side and I saw a gate facing south. He measured its jambs and its portico, and they had the same measurements as the others. The gateway and its portico had narrow openings all around, like the openings of the others. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. Seven steps led up to it, with its portico opposite them; it had palm tree decorations on the faces of the projecting walls on each side. The inner court also had a gate facing south, and he measured from this gate to the outer gate on the south side; it was a hundred cubits.

Ezk.

GATES TO INNER COURT. Then he brought me into the inner court through the south gate, and he measured the south gate; it had the same measurements as the others. Its alcoves, its projecting walls and its portico had the same measurements as the others. The gateway and its portico had openings all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. (The porticoes of the gateways around the inner court were twenty-five cubits wide and five cubits deep.) Its portico faced the outer court; palm trees decorated its jambs, and eight steps led up to it.

Then he brought me to the inner court on the east side, and he measured the gateway; it had the same measurements as the others. Its alcoves, its projecting walls and its portico had the same measurements as the others. The gateway and its portico had openings all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. Its portico faced the outer court; palm trees decorated the jambs on either side, and eight steps led up to it.

Then he brought me to the north gate and measured it. It had the same measurements as the others, as did its alcoves, its projecting walls and its portico, and it had openings all around. It was fifty cubits long and twenty-five cubits wide. Its portico² faced the outer court; palm trees decorated the jambs on either side, and eight steps led up to it.

Ezk.
40:38-43

ROOMS FOR PREPARATION. A room with a doorway was by the portico in each of the inner gateways, where the burnt offerings were washed. In the portico of the gateway were two tables on each side, on which the burnt offerings, sin offerings and guilt offerings were slaughtered. By the outside wall of the portico of the gateway, near the steps at the entrance to the north gateway were two tables, and on the other side of the steps were two tables. So there were four tables on one side of the gateway and four on the other—eight tables in all—on which the sacrifices were slaughtered. There were also four tables of dressed stone for the burnt offerings, each a cubit and a half long, a cubit and a half wide and a cubit high. On them were placed the utensils for slaughtering the burnt offerings and the other sacrifices. And double-pronged hooks, each a handbreadth long, were attached to the wall all around. The tables were for the flesh of the offerings.

ROOMS FOR PRIESTS. Outside the inner gate, within the inner court, were two rooms, one^a at the side of the north gate and facing south, and another at the side of the south^b gate and facing north. He said to me, "The room facing south is for the priests who have charge of the temple, and the room facing north is for the priests who have charge of the altar. These are the sons of Zadok, who are the only Levites who may draw near to the LORD to minister before him."

Ezk.
40:44-46

COURT AND ALTAR. Then he measured the court: It was square—a hundred cubits long and a hundred cubits wide. And the altar was in front of the temple.

Ezk. 40:47

THE PORTICO. He brought me to the portico of the temple and measured the jambs of the portico; they were five cubits wide on either side. The width of the entrance was fourteen cubits and its projecting walls were^c three cubits wide on either side. The portico was twenty cubits wide, and twelve^d cubits from front to back. It was reached by a flight of stairs,^e and there were pillars on each side of the jambs.

Ezk.
40:48,49

OUTER SANCTUARY. Then the man brought me to the outer sanctuary and measured the jambs; the width of the jambs was six cubits^f on each side.^g The entrance was ten cubits wide, and the projecting walls on each side of it were five cubits wide. He also measured the outer sanctuary; it was forty cubits long and twenty cubits wide.

Ezk. 41:1,2

MOST HOLY PLACE. Then he went into the inner sanctuary and measured the jambs of the entrance; each was two cubits wide. The entrance was six cubits wide, and the projecting walls on each side of it were seven cubits wide. And he measured the length of the inner sanctuary; it was twenty cubits, and its width was twenty cubits across the end of the outer sanctuary. He said to me, "This is the Most Holy Place."

Ezk. 41:3,4

SIDE ROOMS. Then he measured the wall of the temple; it was six cubits thick, and each side room around the temple was four cubits wide. The side rooms were on three levels, one above another, thirty on each level. There were ledges all around the wall of the temple to serve as supports for the side rooms, so that the supports were not inserted into the wall of the temple. The side rooms all around the temple were wider at each successive level. The structure surrounding the temple was built in ascending stages, so that the rooms widened as one went upward. A stairway went up from the lowest floor to the top floor through the middle floor.

Ezk.
41:5-12

I saw that the temple had a raised base all around it, forming the foundation of the side rooms. It was the length of the rod, six long cubits. The outer wall of the side rooms was five cubits thick. The open area between the side rooms of the temple and the priests'^h rooms was twenty cubits wide all around the temple. There were entrances to the side rooms from the open area, one on the north and another on the south; and the base adjoining the open area was five cubits wide all around.

The building facing the temple courtyard on the west side was seventy cubits wide. The wall of the building was five cubits thick all around, and its length was ninety cubits.

Ezk. 41:13-15a TEMPLE MEASUREMENTS. Then he measured the temple; it was a hundred cubits long, and the temple courtyard and the building with its walls were also a hundred cubits long. The width of the temple courtyard on the east, including the front of the temple, was a hundred cubits.

Then he measured the length of the building facing the courtyard at the rear of the temple, including its galleries on each side; it was a hundred cubits.

Ezk. 41:15b-20 DECORATIONS. The outer sanctuary, the inner sanctuary and the portico facing the court, as well as the thresholds and the narrow windows and galleries around the three of them—everything beyond and including the threshold was covered with wood. The floor, the wall up to the windows, and the windows were covered. In the space above the outside of the entrance to the inner sanctuary and on the walls at regular intervals all around the inner and outer sanctuary were carved cherubim and palm trees. Palm trees alternated with cherubim. Each cherub had two faces: the face of a man toward the palm tree on one side and the face of a lion toward the palm tree on the other. They were carved all around the whole temple. From the floor to the area above the entrance, cherubim and palm trees were carved on the wall of the outer sanctuary.

Ezk. 41:21-26 TABLE AND DOORS. The outer sanctuary had a rectangular doorframe, and the one at the front of the Most Holy Place was similar. There was a wooden altar three cubits high and two cubits square^h; its corners, its baseⁱ and its sides were of wood. The man said to me, "This is the table that is before the LORD." Both the outer sanctuary and the Most Holy Place had double doors. Each door had two leaves—two hinged leaves for each door. And on the doors of the outer sanctuary were carved cherubim and palm trees like those carved on the walls, and there was a wooden overhang on the front of the portico. On the sidewalls of the portico were narrow windows with palm trees carved on each side. The side rooms of the temple also had overhangs.

Ezk. 42:1-14 USE OF PRIESTS' ROOMS. Then the man led me northward into the outer court and brought me to the rooms opposite the temple courtyard and opposite the outer wall on the north side. The building whose door faced north was a hundred cubits^j long and fifty cubits wide. Both in the section twenty cubits from the inner court and in the section opposite the pavement of the outer court, gallery faced gallery at the three levels. In front of the rooms was an inner passageway ten cubits wide and a hundred cubits^k long. Their doors were on the north. Now the upper rooms were narrower, for the galleries took more space from them than from the rooms on the lower and middle floors of the building. The rooms on the third floor had no pillars, as the courts had; so they were smaller in floor space than those on the lower and middle floors. There was an outer wall parallel to the rooms and the outer court; it extended in front of the rooms for fifty cubits. While the row of rooms on the side next to the outer court was fifty cubits long, the row on the side nearest the sanctuary was a hundred cubits long. The lower rooms had an entrance on the east side as one enters them from the outer court.

On the south side^l along the length of the wall of the outer court, adjoining the temple courtyard and opposite the outer wall, were rooms with a passageway in front of them. These were like the rooms on the north; they had the same length and width, with similar exits and dimensions. Similar to the doorways on the north were the doorways of the rooms on the south. There was a doorway at the beginning of the passageway that was parallel to the corresponding wall extending eastward, by which one enters the rooms.

Then he said to me, "The north and south rooms facing the temple courtyard are the priests' rooms, where the priests who approach the LORD will eat the most holy offerings. There they will put the most holy offerings—the grain offerings, the sin offerings and the guilt offerings—for the place is holy. Once the priests enter the holy precincts, they are not to go into the outer court until they leave behind the garments in which they minister, for these are holy. They are to put on other clothes before they go near the places that are for the people."

OUTER TEMPLE AREA. When he had finished measuring what was inside the temple area, he led me out by the east gate and measured the area all around: He measured the east side with the measuring rod; it was five hundred cubits.^m He measured the north side; it was five hundred cubitsⁿ by the measuring rod. He measured the south side; it was five hundred cubits by the measuring rod. Then he turned to the west side and measured; it was five hundred cubits by the measuring rod. So he measured the area on all four sides. It had a wall around it, five hundred cubits long and five hundred cubits wide, to separate the holy from the common.

Ezk.
42:15-20

GLORY ENTERS TEMPLE. Then the man brought me to the gate facing east, and I saw the glory of the God of Israel coming from the east. His voice was like the roar of rushing waters, and the land was radiant with his glory. The vision I saw was like the vision I had seen when he^o came to destroy the city and like the visions I had seen by the Kebar River, and I fell facedown. The glory of the LORD entered the temple through the gate facing east. Then the Spirit lifted me up and brought me into the inner court, and the glory of the LORD filled the temple.

Ezk. 43:1-5

HOLINESS OF TEMPLE. While the man was standing beside me, I heard someone speaking to me from inside the temple. He said: "Son of man, this is the place of my throne and the place for the soles of my feet. This is where I will live among the Israelites forever. The house of Israel will never again defile my holy name—neither they nor their kings—by their prostitution^p and the lifeless idols^q of their kings at their high places. When they placed their threshold next to my threshold and their doorposts beside my doorposts, with only a wall between me and them, they defiled my holy name by their detestable practices. So I destroyed them in my anger. Now let them put away from me their prostitution and the lifeless idols of their kings, and I will live among them forever.

- Ezk. 43:10,11 VISION FOR SINNERS' SHAME. "Son of man, describe the temple to the people of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their sins. Let them consider the plan, and if they are ashamed of all they have done, make known to them the design of the temple—its arrangement, its exits and entrances—its whole design and all its regulations^r and laws. Write these down before them so that they may be faithful to its design and follow all its regulations.
- Ezk. 43:12 SURROUNDING AREA HOLY. "This is the law of the temple: All the surrounding area on top of the mountain will be most holy. Such is the law of the temple.
- Ezk. 43:13-17 THE ALTAR. "These are the measurements of the altar in long cubits, that cubit being a cubit^s and a handbreadth^t: Its gutter is a cubit deep and a cubit wide, with a rim of one span^u around the edge. And this is the height of the altar: From the gutter on the ground up to the lower ledge it is two cubits high and a cubit wide, and from the smaller ledge up to the larger ledge it is four cubits high and a cubit wide. The altar hearth is four cubits high, and four horns project upward from the hearth. The altar hearth is square, twelve cubits long and twelve cubits wide. The upper ledge also is square, fourteen cubits long and fourteen cubits wide, with a rim of half a cubit and a gutter of a cubit all around. The steps of the altar face east."
- Ezk. 43:18-27 DEDICATION OF ALTAR. Then he said to me, "Son of man, this is what the Sovereign LORD says: These will be the regulations for sacrificing burnt offerings and sprinkling blood upon the altar when it is built: You are to give a young bull as a sin offering to the priests, who are Levites, of the family of Zadok, who come near to minister before me, declares the Sovereign LORD. You are to take some of its blood and put it on the four horns of the altar and on the four corners of the upper ledge and all around the rim, and so purify the altar and make atonement for it. You are to take the bull for the sin offering and burn it in the designated part of the temple area outside the sanctuary.
- "On the second day you are to offer a male goat without defect for a sin offering, and the altar is to be purified as it was purified with the bull. When you have finished purifying it, you are to offer a young bull and a ram from the flock, both without defect. You are to offer them before the LORD, and the priests are to sprinkle salt on them and sacrifice them as a burnt offering to the LORD.
- "For seven days you are to provide a male goat daily for a sin offering; you are also to provide a young bull and a ram from the flock, both without defect. For seven days they are to make atonement for the altar and cleanse it; thus they will dedicate it. At the end of these days, from the eighth day on, the priests are to present your burnt offerings and fellowship offerings^v on the altar. Then I will accept you, declares the Sovereign LORD."
- Ezk. 44:1-3 PRIVILEGE OF PRINCE. Then the man brought me back to the outer gate of the sanctuary, the one facing east, and it was shut. The LORD said to me, "This gate is to remain shut. It must not be opened; no one may enter through it. It is to remain shut because the LORD, the God of Israel, has entered through it. The prince himself is the only one who may sit inside the gateway to eat in the presence of the LORD. He is to enter by way of the portico of the gateway and go out the same way."

UNCIRCUMCISED EXCLUDED. Then the man brought me by way of the north gate to the front of the temple. I looked and saw the glory of the LORD filling the temple of the LORD, and I fell facedown.

Ezk. 44:4-9

The LORD said to me, "Son of man, look carefully, listen closely and give attention to everything I tell you concerning all the regulations regarding the temple of the LORD. Give attention to the entrance of the temple and all the exits of the sanctuary. Say to the rebellious house of Israel, 'This is what the Sovereign LORD says: Enough of your detestable practices, O house of Israel! In addition to all your other detestable practices, you brought foreigners uncircumcised in heart and flesh into my sanctuary, desecrating my temple while you offered me food, fat and blood, and you broke my covenant. Instead of carrying out your duty in regard to my holy things, you put others in charge of my sanctuary. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: No foreigner uncircumcised in heart and flesh is to enter my sanctuary, not even the foreigners who live among the Israelites.

LIMITATIONS ON LEVITES. "The Levites who went far from me when Israel went astray and who wandered from me after their idols must bear the consequences of their sin. They may serve in my sanctuary, having charge of the gates of the temple and serving in it; they may slaughter the burnt offerings and sacrifices for the people and stand before the people and serve them. But because they served them in the presence of their idols and made the house of Israel fall into sin, therefore I have sworn with uplifted hand that they must bear the consequences of their sin, declares the Sovereign LORD. They are not to come near to serve me as priests or come near any of my holy things or my most holy offerings; they must bear the shame of their detestable practices. Yet I will put them in charge of the duties of the temple and all the work that is to be done in it.

Ezk.
44:10-14

PRIESTS OF ZADOK ANCESTRY. "But the priests, who are Levites and descendants of Zadok and who faithfully carried out the duties of my sanctuary when the Israelites went astray from me, are to come near to minister before me; they are to stand before me to offer sacrifices of fat and blood, declares the Sovereign LORD. They alone are to enter my sanctuary; they alone are to come near my table to minister before me and perform my service.

Ezk.
44:15,16

PRIESTS' GARMENTS. "When they enter the gates of the inner court, they are to wear linen clothes; they must not wear any woolen garment while ministering at the gates of the inner court or inside the temple. They are to wear linen turbans on their heads and linen undergarments around their waists. They must not wear anything that makes them perspire. When they go out into the outer court where the people are, they are to take off the clothes they have been ministering in and are to leave them in the sacred rooms, and put on other clothes, so that they do not consecrate the people by means of their garments.

Ezk.
44:17-19

RESTRICTIONS ON PRIESTS. "They must not shave their heads or let their hair grow long, but they are to keep the hair of their heads trimmed. No priest is to drink wine when he enters the inner court. They must not marry widows or divorced women; they may marry only virgins of Israelite descent or widows of priests. They are to teach my people the difference between the holy and the common and show them how to distinguish between the unclean and the clean.

They are to keep my laws and my decrees for all my appointed feasts, and they are to keep my Sabbaths holy.

“A priest must not defile himself by going near a dead person; however, if the dead person was his father or mother, son or daughter, brother or unmarried sister, then he may defile himself. After he is cleansed, he must wait seven days. On the day he goes into the inner court of the sanctuary to minister in the sanctuary, he is to offer a sin offering for himself, declares the Sovereign LORD. The priests must not eat anything, bird or animal, found dead or torn by wild animals.

Ezk. 44:24a PRIESTS TO BE JUDGES. “In any dispute, the priests are to serve as judges and decide it according to my ordinances.

Ezk. 44:28-30 NO POSSESSION FOR PRIESTS. “I am to be the only inheritance the priests have. You are to give them no possession in Israel; I will be their possession. They will eat the grain offerings, the sin offerings and the guilt offerings; and everything in Israel devoted^w to the LORD will belong to them. The best of all the firstfruits and of all your special gifts will belong to the priests. You are to give them the first portion of your ground meal so that a blessing may rest on your household.

Ezk. 45:1-5 SACRED LAND. “When you allot the land as an inheritance, you are to present to the LORD a portion of the land as a sacred district, 25,000 cubits long and 20,000^x cubits wide; the entire area will be holy. Of this, a section 500 cubits square is to be for the sanctuary, with 50 cubits around it for open land. In the sacred district, measure off a section 25,000 cubits^y long and 10,000 cubits^z wide. In it will be the sanctuary, the Most Holy Place. It will be the sacred portion of the land for the priests, who minister in the sanctuary and who draw near to minister before the LORD. It will be a place for their houses as well as a holy place for the sanctuary. An area 25,000 cubits long and 10,000 cubits wide will belong to the Levites, who serve in the temple, as their possession for towns to live in.^a Ezk. 45:6 LAND FOR CITY. “You are to give the city as its property an area 5,000 cubits wide and 25,000 cubits long, adjoining the sacred portion; it will belong to the whole house of Israel.

Ezk. 45:7,8a PRINCE'S LAND. “The prince will have the land bordering each side of the area formed by the sacred district and the property of the city. It will extend westward from the west side and eastward from the east side, running lengthwise from the western to the eastern border parallel to one of the tribal portions. This land will be his possession in Israel.

Ezk. 45:8b-12 JUSTICE OF PRINCES. And my princes will no longer oppress my people but will allow the house of Israel to possess the land according to their tribes.

“This is what the Sovereign LORD says: You have gone far enough, O princes of Israel! Give up your violence and oppression and do what is just

You are to use accurate scales, an accurate ephah^b and an accurate bath.^c The ephah and the bath are to be the same size, the bath containing a tenth of a homer^d and the ephah a tenth of a homer; the homer is to be the standard measure for both. OFFERINGS FROM PEOPLE. "This is the special gift you are to offer: a sixth of an ephah from each homer of wheat and a sixth of an ephah from each homer of barley. The prescribed portion of oil, measured by the bath, is a tenth of a bath from each cor (which consists of ten baths or one homer, for ten baths are equivalent to a homer). Also one sheep is to be taken from every flock of two hundred from the well-watered pastures of Israel. These will be used for the grain offerings, burnt offerings and fellowship offerings^g to make atonement for the people, declares the Sovereign LORD. All the people of the land will participate in this special gift for the use of the prince in Israel.

Ezk.
45:13-16

PRINCE'S ROLE IN OFFERINGS. It will be the duty of the prince to provide the burnt offerings, grain offerings and drink offerings at the festivals, the New Moons and the Sabbaths—at all the appointed feasts of the house of Israel. He will provide the sin offerings, grain offerings, burnt offerings and fellowship offerings to make atonement for the house of Israel.

Ezk. 45:17

SIN OFFERINGS. "This is what the Sovereign LORD says: In the first month on the first day you are to take a young bull without defect and purify the sanctuary. The priest is to take some of the blood of the sin offering and put it on the doorposts of the temple, on the four corners of the upper ledge of the altar and on the gateposts of the inner court. You are to do the same on the seventh day of the month for anyone who sins unintentionally or through ignorance; so you are to make atonement for the temple.

Ezk.
45:18-20

PASSOVER. "In the first month on the fourteenth day you are to observe the Passover, a feast lasting seven days, during which you shall eat bread made without yeast. On that day the prince is to provide a bull as a sin offering for himself and for all the people of the land. Every day during the seven days of the Feast he is to provide seven bulls and seven rams without defect as a burnt offering to the LORD, and a male goat for a sin offering. He is to provide as a grain offering an ephah for each bull and an ephah for each ram, along with a hin^h of oil for each ephah.

Ezk.
45:21-25

"During the seven days of the Feast, which begins in the seventh month on the fifteenth day, he is to make the same provision for sin offerings, burnt offerings, grain offerings and oil.

SABBATHS AND NEW MOON. "This is what the Sovereign LORD says: The gate of the inner court facing east is to be shut on the six working days, but on the Sabbath day and on the day of the New Moon it is to be opened. The prince is to enter from the outside through the portico of the gateway and stand by the gatepost. The priests are to sacrifice his burnt offering and his fellowship offerings.ⁱ He is to worship at the threshold of the gateway and then go out, but the gate will not be shut until evening. On the Sabbaths and New Moons the people of the land are to worship in the presence of the LORD at the entrance to that gateway. The burnt offering the prince brings to the LORD on the Sabbath day is to be six male lambs and a ram, all without defect. The grain offering given with the ram is to be an ephah,^j and the grain offering with the lambs is to be as much as he pleases, along with a hin^k of oil for each ephah. On the day of the New Moon he is to offer a young bull, six lambs and a ram, all without defect. He is to provide as a grain offering one ephah with the bull, one ephah with the ram, and with the lambs as much as he wants to give, along with a hin of oil with each ephah. When the prince enters, he is to go in through the portico of the gateway, and he is to come out the same way.

Ezk. 46:9,10 ENTRY AND EXIT. “ ‘When the people of the land come before the LORD at the appointed feasts, whoever enters by the north gate to worship is to go out the south gate; and whoever enters by the south gate is to go out the north gate. No one is to return through the gate by which he entered, but each is to go out the opposite gate. The prince is to be among them, going in when they go in and going out when they go out.

Ezk. 46:11,12 GRAIN AND FREEWILL OFFERINGS. “ ‘At the festivals and the appointed feasts, the grain offering is to be an ephah with a bull, an ephah with a ram, and with the lambs as much as one pleases, along with a hin of oil for each ephah. When the prince provides a freewill offering to the LORD—whether a burnt offering or fellowship offerings—the gate facing east is to be opened for him. He shall offer his burnt offering or his fellowship offerings as he does on the Sabbath day. Then he shall go out, and after he has gone out, the gate will be shut.

Ezk. 46:13-15 GRAIN AND BURNT OFFERINGS. “ ‘Every day you are to provide a year-old lamb without defect for a burnt offering to the LORD; morning by morning you shall provide it. You are also to provide with it morning by morning a grain offering, consisting of a sixth of an ephah with a third of a hin of oil to moisten the flour. The presenting of this grain offering to the LORD is a lasting ordinance. So the lamb and the grain offering and the oil shall be provided morning by morning for a regular burnt offering.

Ezk. 46:16-18 INHERITANCE TO PRINCE'S SONS. “ ‘This is what the Sovereign LORD says: If the prince makes a gift from his inheritance to one of his sons, it will also belong to his descendants; it is to be their property by inheritance. If, however, he makes a gift from his inheritance to one of his servants, the servant may keep it until the year of freedom; then it will revert to the prince. His inheritance belongs to his sons only; it is theirs. The prince must not take any of the inheritance of the people, driving them off their property. He is to give his sons their inheritance out of his own property, so that none of my people will be separated from his property.’ ”

Ezk. 46:19,20 PREPARATION OF OFFERINGS. Then the man brought me through the entrance at the side of the gate to the sacred rooms facing north, which belonged to the priests, and showed me a place at the western end. He said to me, "This is the place where the priests will cook the guilt offering and the sin offering and bake the grain offering, to avoid bringing them into the outer court and consecrating the people."

THE KITCHENS. He then brought me to the outer court and led me around to its four corners, and I saw in each corner another court. In the four corners of the outer court were enclosed¹ courts, forty cubits long and thirty cubits wide; each of the courts in the four corners was the same size. Around the inside of each of the four courts was a ledge of stone, with places for fire built all around under the ledge. He said to me, "These are the kitchens where those who minister at the temple will cook the sacrifices of the people."

THE TEMPLE'S RIVER. The man brought me back to the entrance of the temple, and I saw water coming out from under the threshold of the temple toward the east (for the temple faced east). The water was coming down from under the south side of the temple, south of the altar. He then brought me out through the north gate and led me around the outside to the outer gate facing east, and the water was flowing from the south side.

Ezk.

As the man went eastward with a measuring line in his hand, he measured off a thousand cubits^m and then led me through water that was ankle-deep. He measured off another thousand cubits and led me through water that was knee-deep. He measured off another thousand and led me through water that was up to the waist. He measured off another thousand, but now it was a river that I could not cross, because the water had risen and was deep enough to swim in—a river that no one could cross. He asked me, "Son of man, do you see this?"

Then he led me back to the bank of the river. When I arrived there, I saw a great number of trees on each side of the river. He said to me, "This water flows toward the eastern region and goes down into the Arabah,ⁿ where it enters the Sea.^o When it empties into the Sea,^o the water there becomes fresh. Swarms of living creatures will live wherever the river flows. There will be large numbers of fish, because this water flows there and makes the salt water fresh; so where the river flows everything will live. Fishermen will stand along the shore; from En Gedi to En Eglaim there will be places for spreading nets. The fish will be of many kinds—like the fish of the Great Sea.^p But the swamps and marshes will not become fresh; they will be left for salt. Fruit trees of all kinds will grow on both banks of the river. Their leaves will not wither, nor will their fruit fail. Every month they will bear, because the water from the sanctuary flows to them. Their fruit will serve for food and their leaves for healing."

EQUAL DIVISION OF LAND. This is what the Sovereign LORD says: "These are the boundaries by which you are to divide the land for an inheritance among the twelve tribes of Israel, with two portions for Joseph. You are to divide it equally among them. Because I swore with uplifted hand to give it to your forefathers, this land will become your inheritance.

INHERITANCE OF ALIENS. "You are to distribute this land among yourselves according to the tribes of Israel. SEVEN TRIBES' LAND. "These are the tribes, listed by name: At the northern frontier; Dan will have one portion; it will follow the Hethlon road to Lebo^v Hamath; Hazar Enan and the northern border of Damascus next to Hamath will be part of its border from the east side to the west side.

"Asher will have one portion; it will border the territory of Dan from east to west.

"Naphtali will have one portion; it will border the territory of Asher from east to west.

"Manasseh will have one portion; it will border the territory of Naphtali from east to west.

"Ephraim will have one portion; it will border the territory of Manasseh from east to west.

priests. It will be 25,000 cubits long on the north side, 10,000 cubits wide on the west side, 10,000 cubits wide on the east side and 25,000 cubits long on the south side. In the center of it will be the sanctuary of the LORD. This will be for the consecrated priests, the Zadokites, who were faithful in serving me and did not go astray as the Levites did when the Israelites went astray. It will be a special gift to them from the sacred portion of the land, a most holy portion, bordering the territory of the Levites.

"Alongside the territory of the priests, the Levites will have an allotment 25,000 cubits long and 10,000 cubits wide. Its total length will be 25,000 cubits and its width 10,000 cubits. They must not sell or exchange any of it. This is the best of the land and must not pass into other hands, because it is holy to the LORD.

COMMON LAND. "The remaining area, 5,000 cubits wide and 25,000 cubits long, will be for the common use of the city, for houses and for pastureland. The city will be in the center of it and will have these measurements: the north side 4,500 cubits, the south side 4,500 cubits, the east side 4,500 cubits, and the west side 4,500 cubits. The pastureland for the city will be 250 cubits on the north, 250 cubits on the south, 250 cubits on the east, and 250 cubits on the west. What remains of the area, bordering on the sacred portion and running the length of it, will be 10,000 cubits on the east side and 10,000 cubits on the west side. Its produce will supply food for the workers of the city. The workers from the city who farm it will come from all the tribes of Israel. The entire portion will be a square, 25,000 cubits on each side. As a special gift you will set aside the sacred portion, along with the property of the city.

Ezk.
48:15-20

THE PRINCE'S LAND. "What remains on both sides of the area formed by the sacred portion and the city property will belong to the prince. It will extend eastward from the 25,000 cubits of the sacred portion to the eastern border, and westward from the 25,000 cubits to the western border. Both these areas running the length of the tribal portions will belong to the prince, and the sacred portion with the temple sanctuary will be in the center of them. So the property of the Levites and the property of the city will lie in the center of the area that belongs to the prince. The area belonging to the prince will lie between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin.

"Gad will have one portion; it will border the territory of Zebulun from east to west.

"The southern boundary of Gad will run south from Tamar to the waters of Meribah Kadesh, then along the Wadi of Egypt to the Great Sea.^v Ezk. 48:30-34 CITY GATES. "These will be the exits of the city: Beginning on the north side, which is 4,500 cubits long, the gates of the city will be named after the tribes of Israel. The three gates on the north side will be the gate of Reuben, the gate of Judah and the gate of Levi.

"On the east side, which is 4,500 cubits long, will be three gates: the gate of Joseph, the gate of Benjamin and the gate of Dan.

"On the south side, which measures 4,500 cubits, will be three gates: the gate of Simeon, the gate of Issachar and the gate of Zebulun.

"On the west side, which is 4,500 cubits long, will be three gates: the gate of Gad, the gate of Asher and the gate of Naphtali.

End of Ezekiel's Ministry

After Ezekiel's great temple vision, it is another two years before the word of the Lord comes to him again. This time it comes as a somewhat strange footnote to a judgment which Ezekiel had brought 16 years earlier against the city of Tyre. Pursuant to the earlier prophecy, Nebuchadnezzar was to destroy Tyre completely, and someday it would be left a "bare rock." Since then Nebuchadnezzar has indeed laid a 13-year siege against Tyre, and the mainland city has evidently been destroyed. But Nebuchadnezzar has apparently not been able to reach the island city itself—at least not profitably enough to make it worth his trouble. Therefore God seems to be telling Ezekiel that he is giving Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar as a consolation prize. For such a brief passage, it raises several interesting questions. It even ends on a mysterious note.

Ezk. 29:17-20 (570 B.C.) UNPROFITABLE SIEGE OF TYRE. In the twenty-seventh year, in the first month on the first day, the word of the LORD came to me: "Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon drove his army in a hard campaign against Tyre; every head was rubbed bare and every shoulder made raw. Yet he and his army got no reward from the campaign he led against Tyre. Therefore this is what the Sovereign LORD says: I am going to give Egypt to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he will carry off its wealth. He will loot and plunder the land as pay for his army. I have given him Egypt as a reward for his efforts because he and his army did it for me, declares the Sovereign LORD.

Ezk. 29:21 EZEKIEL'S FUTURE ROLE. "On that day I will make a horn^z grow for the house of Israel, and I will open your mouth among them. Then they will know that I am the LORD."

^zHorn here symbolizes strength.

If, in fact, Nebuchadnezzar was unable to subdue Tyre completely, the city's fate is not yet secure. In 322 B.C. Alexander the Great and his mighty Grecian army will build a causeway to the island and bring about the very degree of destruction which Ezekiel has predicted.

With this enigmatic passage the prophecies of Ezekiel come to an end. At age 55 Ezekiel has had a wonderful ministry lasting 25 years, and perhaps God continues to use him, as the last passage seems to suggest. It will be another 34 years before the first exiles return to Palestine. Ezekiel will be 89 years old if his life continues until that time. So, even if Ezekiel dies in his land of exile, it is altogether possible that he will live long enough to see the beginning of the great restoration about which he has brought such hope.

Nebuchadnezzar's Temporary Insanity _____

In what appears to be the last two or three years of his reign, King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylonia apparently becomes a true believer in the powerful God of his servant Daniel. The process of belief has been a long one, developing over some 40 years. Nebuchadnezzar was first awed by Daniel's God when Daniel was given the ability to tell the king his dreams and interpret their meaning. He was further amazed when this God of the Hebrews saved Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego from the fiery furnace. Polytheistic in his beliefs, however, he has yet to confront the singular, exclusive power of a creative and personal God of the universe, and does not at this point recognize his dependence upon such a divine being. He in fact still believes that all his accomplishments have been the result of his own abilities, and he fails to see a purposeful God working through him. As he reflects on his reign, his heart is filled with false pride. Yet, ironically, this very pride makes Nebuchadnezzar an easy target for God's final appeal to him.

In the account that follows, Nebuchadnezzar issues an edict telling the whole world how God first warned him and then proceeded to humble him by bringing on a period of temporary insanity, during which time he roamed outside his palace like the animals among which he lived. His expressed reason for revealing the embarrassing incident is to bring honor to a God powerful enough to so humble a world leader, yet gracious enough to restore him to his throne. In issuing the royal decree Nebuchadnezzar appears to be a sincere believer, even to the point of evangelistically urging all people to turn to this very special King of heaven, the Most High God. What a happy ending to the life of one who has spent years oppressing God's chosen nation!

NEBUCHADNEZZAR ISSUES EDICT. King Nebuchadnezzar,

Dan. 4:1-3
(Ca. 562
B.C.?)

To the peoples, nations and men of every language, who live in all the world:

May you prosper greatly!

It is my pleasure to tell you about the miraculous signs and wonders that the Most High God has performed for me.

How great are his signs,

how mighty his wonders!
His kingdom is an eternal kingdom;
his dominion endures from generation to generation.

Dan.
4:4-18

DANIEL TOLD OF DREAM. I, Nebuchadnezzar, was at home in my palace, contented and prosperous. I had a dream that made me afraid. As I was lying in my bed, the images and visions that passed through my mind terrified me. So I commanded that all the wise men of Babylon be brought before me to interpret the dream for me. When the magicians, enchanters, astrologers^a and diviners came, I told them the dream, but they could not interpret it for me. Finally, Daniel came into my presence and I told him the dream. (He is called Belteshazzar, after the name of my god, and the spirit of the holy gods is in him.)

I said, "Belteshazzar, chief of the magicians, I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in you, and no mystery is too difficult for you. Here is my dream; interpret it for me. These are the visions I saw while lying in my bed: I looked, and there before me stood a tree in the middle of the land. Its height was enormous. The tree grew large and strong and its top touched the sky; it was visible to the ends of the earth. Its leaves were beautiful, its fruit abundant, and on it was food for all. Under it the beasts of the field found shelter, and the birds of the air lived in its branches; from it every creature was fed.

"In the visions I saw while lying in my bed, I looked, and there before me was a messenger,^b a holy one, coming down from heaven. He called in a loud voice: 'Cut down the tree and trim off its branches; strip off its leaves and scatter its fruit. Let the animals flee from under it and the birds from its branches. But let the stump and its roots, bound with iron and bronze, remain in the ground, in the grass of the field.

" 'Let him be drenched with the dew of heaven, and let him live with the animals among the plants of the earth. Let his mind be changed from that of a man and let him be given the mind of an animal, till seven times^c pass by for him.

" 'The decision is announced by messengers, the holy ones declare the verdict, so that the living may know that the Most High is sovereign over the kingdoms of men and gives them to anyone he wishes and sets over them the lowliest of men.'

"This is the dream that I, King Nebuchadnezzar, had. Now, Belteshazzar, tell me what it means, for none of the wise men in my kingdom can interpret it for me. But you can, because the spirit of the holy gods is in you."

Dan.
4:19-27

DREAM IS WARNING. Then Daniel (also called Belteshazzar) was greatly perplexed for a time, and his thoughts terrified him. So the king said, "Belteshazzar, do not let the dream or its meaning alarm you."

Belteshazzar answered, "My lord, if only the dream applied to your enemies and its meaning to your adversaries! The tree you saw, which grew large and strong, with its top touching the sky, visible to the whole earth, with beautiful leaves and abundant fruit, providing food for all, giving shelter to the beasts of the field, and having nesting places in its branches for the birds of the air— you, O king, are that tree! You have become great and strong; your greatness has grown until it reaches the sky, and your dominion extends to distant parts of the earth.

"You, O king, saw a messenger, a holy one, coming down from heaven and saying, 'Cut down the tree and destroy it, but leave the stump, bound with iron and bronze, in the grass of the field, while its roots remain in the ground. Let him be drenched with the dew of heaven; let him live like the wild animals, until seven times pass by for him.'

"This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree the Most High has issued against my lord the king: You will be driven away from people and will live with the wild animals; you will eat grass like cattle and be drenched with the dew of heaven. Seven times will pass by for you until you acknowledge that the Most High is sovereign over the kingdoms of men and gives them to anyone he wishes. The command to leave the stump of the tree with its roots means that your kingdom will be restored to you when you acknowledge that Heaven rules. Therefore, O king, be pleased to accept my advice: Renounce your sins by doing what is right, and your wickedness by being kind to the oppressed. It may be that then your prosperity will continue."

YEAR WITHOUT REPENTANCE. All this happened to King Nebuchadnezzar. Twelve months later, as the king was walking on the roof of the royal palace of Babylon, he said, "Is not this the great Babylon I have built as the royal residence, by my mighty power and for the glory of my majesty?"

Dan.
4:28-30

TEMPORARY INSANITY. The words were still on his lips when a voice came from heaven, "This is what is decreed for you, King Nebuchadnezzar: Your royal authority has been taken from you. You will be driven away from people and will live with the wild animals; you will eat grass like cattle. Seven times will pass by for you until you acknowledge that the Most High is sovereign over the kingdoms of men and gives them to anyone he wishes."

Dan.
4:31-33

Immediately what had been said about Nebuchadnezzar was fulfilled. He was driven away from people and ate grass like cattle. His body was drenched with the dew of heaven until his hair grew like the feathers of an eagle and his nails like the claws of a bird.

SANITY RESTORED. At the end of that time, I, Nebuchadnezzar, raised my eyes toward heaven, and my sanity was restored. Then I praised the Most High; I honored and glorified him who lives forever.

Dan.
4:34,35

His dominion is an eternal dominion;
his kingdom endures from generation to generation.
All the peoples of the earth are regarded as nothing.
He does as he pleases with the powers of heaven and the peoples of the earth.
No one can hold back his hand or say to him: "What have you done?"

PRAISE TO THE TRUE GOD. At the same time that my sanity was restored, my honor and splendor were returned to me for the glory of my kingdom. My advisers and nobles sought me out, and I was restored to my throne and became even greater than before. Now I, Nebuchadnezzar, praise and exalt and glorify the King of heaven, because everything he does is right and all his ways are just. And those who walk in pride he is able to humble.

Dan.
4:36,37

How long Nebuchadnezzar's mental illness lasted is not clear from the phrase "seven times." What is clear is that it was long enough to confront Nebuchadnezzar with his sinful state and his need for a redeeming God. How often it is that God humbles the proud, weakens the powerful, and brings shame to the beautiful in an effort to call all his creatures to know him! Of course not all people respond in penitent belief, but in Nebuchadnezzar God apparently found a fertile conscience that was ripe for conversion.

End of Jeremiah's Ministry _____

A minor historical footnote brings to a close the record of Jeremiah's ministry. It comes at a time of changing leadership in Babylonia. After a reign of some 45 years, Nebuchadnezzar is succeeded by his son Evil-Merodach (Awel-Marduk in Babylonian). In the first year of his reign he releases Jehoiachin from prison and brings him to a place of honor in Babylonia. Evil-Merodach evidently considers Jehoiachin the legitimate king of Judah and thus accords him an elevated status. (Jehoiachin had been taken captive 37 years earlier in the great deportation of 597 B.C.) At 45 he gets a new lease on life, but he will not figure in Judah's future history.

Jer.
52:31-34
2 Kgs.
25:27-30
(Ca. 561
B.C.)

JEHOIACHIN'S RELEASE. In the thirty-seventh year of the exile of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the year Evil-Merodach^d became king of Babylon, he released Jehoiachin king of Judah and freed him from prison on the twenty-fifth day of the twelfth month. He spoke kindly to him and gave him a seat of honor higher than those of the other kings who were with him in Babylon. So Jehoiachin put aside his prison clothes and for the rest of his life ate regularly at the king's table. Day by day the king of Babylon gave Jehoiachin a regular allowance as long as he lived, till the day of his death.

Whether Jeremiah is still alive at this time is not known. His last prophetic utterance took place in 586 B.C. after he had been taken to Egypt by a renegade band of his own people. At that time his ministry had spanned more than 40 years, and it has been about 25 years since then. Without knowing how old Jeremiah was when he received his prophetic call, in 627 B.C., it is not possible to determine his age at this time. In any event, the record of Jehoiachin's release is probably added to Jeremiah's prophecies by his faithful scribe, Baruch.

Although there will be other prophets and prophecies to come, the era of the great written prophecies of Isaiah, Jeremiah, and Ezekiel now comes to a close. ☞

Job and the Problem of Suffering

Now, some 45 years following the first deportation from Judah, God's chosen nation continues to be a dispersed people. By this time many of them must wonder if there is still a God—not a “state God” attached to a nation which has been virtually destroyed, but a personal God who knows their personal misery and still cares. Even the wicked and rebellious exiles, who by now must have bent their knees in prayer for deliverance, are surely thinking that God no longer hears them. For a nation in suffering, there are many questions to be asked: how can they believe in a God who would allow such suffering? On the other hand, how can they curse a God in times of adversity when he has previously brought such prosperity? Is their faith to be contingent upon economic well-being?

The ones who must be the most perplexed, however, are the faithful ones who never understood their personal involvement in the first place. After remaining true to God while almost everyone else chased after idolatry and wickedness, their reward has been the same—and sometimes worse. They too were taken captive. They too saw swords enter their children's bodies. In the siege of Jerusalem they had starved and been victims of pestilence and plague. Here in captivity they still often go hungry and are poorly clothed. Whatever happened to the promise that the righteous would be blessed? Why were some of the wicked not taken into exile, but rather allowed to prosper under the same government that has enslaved their fellow countrymen? Where is the justice of God in these circumstances? And if punishment is for the wicked, what sin has led to the suffering of the righteous?

Of course these are the same questions which every generation asks about death, sorrow, pain, and suffering. But because his people are suffering so greatly at this time, it may well be that God chooses this context in which to give at least some insight into both the thorny theological issues and the intense emotional feelings of individual sufferers. Although there is a wide difference of opinion about its date, one of the most outstanding masterpieces in all of literature is possibly written during this period. The writing is in the form of a historical poem. It is historical in that it is based upon the life of one of the early patriarchs named Job. Job's steadfastness following more adversity than most people will ever face has been legendary. Even the prophet Ezekiel referred to Job, along with Noah and Daniel, as a man of great righteousness. And yet Job apparently struggled with the reasons for his adversity before coming to peace about it. Therefore it is altogether fitting that this poem addressing the problem of suffering be based upon Job's personal struggle.

There is still another reason why Job is a most appropriate choice. At this time when people are in search of a personal God, the writer takes them back before their own prophets, before the teaching of the law, before the promises made to Abraham, to a man who is not even one of the children of Israel. He is just a lone human being who finds himself in terrible suffering for no apparent reason.

The first scene of the poem opens with a picture of Job's enviable prosperity, then turns quickly to a conversation between God and Satan. When God points to Job as an example of a righteous man, Satan suggests that Job remains righteous only because of his prosperity. God permits Satan to test this theory by removing Job's prosperity. Job's faith remains intact. So Satan next suggests that personal suffering will bring curses against God. Once again Job disappoints Satan.

In the second scene, Job still does not curse God, but he does put some hard questions to God. Why must he, a righteous man, suffer? What sins have brought on his pain? Why is God so inconsistent in his punishment of the wicked? Throughout the presentation of Job's case against God, three of Job's friends—Eliphaz, Bildad, and Zophar—argue against him. They try to convince him that the answer lies in a simple syllogism: God always punishes sin; suffering is the result of sin; therefore Job is more of a sinner than he is willing to admit. Throughout it all, Job maintains his innocence and demands to know God's rationale.

The third scene introduces a young man named Elihu who claims that neither Job nor his friends is correct. God does not act capriciously, as Job claims, and suffering is not necessarily the result of sin, as Job's friends claim. Elihu argues that suffering is often used by God to teach lessons and to strengthen a person.

In the final scene God himself speaks to Job and demands to know what right Job has to question the Creator of the universe about his ways. Job's humble response demonstrates the depth of his righteous character, and his prosperity is restored.

Job 1:1-3 PROSPERITY OF JOB. In the land of Uz there lived a man whose name was Job. This man was blameless and upright; he feared God and shunned evil. He had seven sons and three daughters, and he owned seven thousand sheep, three thousand camels, five hundred yoke of oxen and five hundred donkeys, and had a large number of servants. He was the greatest man among all the people of the East.

Job 1:4,5 RIGHTEOUSNESS OF JOB. His sons used to take turns holding feasts in their homes, and they would invite their three sisters to eat and drink with them. When a period of feasting had run its course, Job would send and have them purified. Early in the morning he would sacrifice a burnt offering for each of them, thinking, "Perhaps my children have sinned and cursed God in their hearts." This was Job's regular custom.

Job 1:6-12 SATAN PROPOSES CHALLENGE. One day the angels^e came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan^f also came with them. The LORD said to Satan, "Where have you come from?"

Satan answered the LORD, "From roaming through the earth and going back and forth in it."

Then the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job? There is no one on earth like him; he is blameless and upright, a man who fears God and shuns evil."

"Does Job fear God for nothing?" Satan replied. "Have you not put a ^eHebrew the sons of God ^fSatan means accuser.

hedge around him and his household and everything he has? You have blessed the work of his hands, so that his flocks and herds are spread throughout the land. But stretch out your hand and strike everything he has, and he will surely curse you to your face."

The LORD said to Satan, "Very well, then, everything he has is in your hands, but on the man himself do not lay a finger."

Then Satan went out from the presence of the LORD.

JOB LOSES ALL. One day when Job's sons and daughters were feasting and drinking wine at the oldest brother's house, a messenger came to Job and said, "The oxen were plowing and the donkeys were grazing nearby, and the Sabeans attacked and carried them off. They put the servants to the sword, and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you!" Job 1:13-19

While he was still speaking, another messenger came and said, "The fire of God fell from the sky and burned up the sheep and the servants, and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you!"

While he was still speaking, another messenger came and said, "The Chaldeans formed three raiding parties and swept down on your camels and carried them off. They put the servants to the sword, and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you!"

While he was still speaking, yet another messenger came and said, "Your sons and daughters were feasting and drinking wine at the oldest brother's house, when suddenly a mighty wind swept in from the desert and struck the four corners of the house. It collapsed on them and they are dead, and I am the only one who has escaped to tell you!"

JOB'S RESPONSE. At this, Job got up and tore his robe and shaved his head. Then he fell to the ground in worship and said: Job 1:20-22

"Naked I came from my mother's womb, and naked I will depart.^s
The LORD gave and the LORD has taken away;
may the name of the LORD be praised."

In all this, Job did not sin by charging God with wrongdoing.

JOB PERSONALLY AFFLICTED. On another day the angels^h came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan also came with them to present himself before him. And the LORD said to Satan, "Where have you come from?" Job 2:1-9

Satan answered the LORD, "From roaming through the earth and going back and forth in it."

Then the LORD said to Satan, "Have you considered my servant Job? There is no one on earth like him; he is blameless and upright, a man who fears God and shuns evil. And he still maintains his integrity, though you incited me against him to ruin him without any reason."

"Skin for skin!" Satan replied. "A man will give all he has for his own life. But stretch out your hand and strike his flesh and bones, and he will surely curse you to your face."

The LORD said to Satan, "Very well, then, he is in your hands; but you must spare his life."

So Satan went out from the presence of the LORD and afflicted Job with painful sores from the soles of his feet to the top of his head. Then Job took ^sOr will return there ^hHebrew the sons of God

a piece of broken pottery and scraped himself with it as he sat among the ashes.

His wife said to him, "Are you still holding on to your integrity? Curse God and die!"

Job 2:10 JOB'S RESPONSE. He replied, "You are talking like a foolishⁱ woman. Shall we accept good from God, and not trouble?"

In all this, Job did not sin in what he said.

Job 2:11-13 JOB'S THREE FRIENDS. When Job's three friends, Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite, heard about all the troubles that had come upon him, they set out from their homes and met together by agreement to go and sympathize with him and comfort him. When they saw him from a distance, they could hardly recognize him; they began to weep aloud, and they tore their robes and sprinkled dust on their heads. Then they sat on the ground with him for seven days and seven nights. No one said a word to him, because they saw how great his suffering was.

Job

Job 3:1-26 JOB CURSES BIRTH. After this, Job opened his mouth and cursed the day of his birth. He said:

"May the day of my birth perish, and the night it was said, 'A boy is born!'
That day—may it turn to darkness;
may God above not care about it;
may no light shine upon it.
May darkness and deep shadow^j claim it once more;
may a cloud settle over it;
may blackness overwhelm its light.
That night—may thick darkness seize it;
may it not be included among the days of the year nor be entered in any of the months.
May that night be barren;
may no shout of joy be heard in it.
May those who curse days^k curse that day,
those who are ready to rouse Leviathan.
May its morning stars become dark;
may it wait for daylight in vain and not see the first rays of dawn, for it did not shut the doors of the womb on me to hide trouble from my eyes.

"Why did I not perish at birth,
and die as I came from the womb?
Why were there knees to receive me and breasts that I might be nursed?
For now I would be lying down in peace;
I would be asleep and at rest with kings and counselors of the earth, who built for themselves places now lying in ruins,

 with rulers who had gold,
 who filled their houses with silver.
 Or why was I not hidden in the ground like a stillborn child,
 like an infant who never saw the light of day?
 There the wicked cease from turmoil,
 and there the weary are at rest.
 Captives also enjoy their ease;
 they no longer hear the slave driver's shout.
 The small and the great are there,
 and the slave is freed from his master.

"Why is light given to those in misery, and life to the bitter of soul,
 to those who long for death that does not come,
 who search for it more than for hidden treasure, who are filled with gladness and rejoice when they reach the grave?
 Why is life given to a man whose way is hidden,
 whom God has hedged in?
 For sighing comes to me instead of food;
 my groans pour out like water.
 What I feared has come upon me;
 what I dreaded has happened to me.
 I have no peace, no quietness;
 I have no rest, but only turmoil."

Eliphaz

BELIEVE YOUR OWN TEACHING. Then Eliphaz the Temanite replied: Job 4:1-6

"If someone ventures a word with you, will you be impatient?
 But who can keep from speaking?
 Think how you have instructed many,
 how you have strengthened feeble hands.
 Your words have supported those who stumbled;
 you have strengthened faltering knees.
 But now trouble comes to you, and you are discouraged;
 it strikes you, and you are dismayed.
 Should not your piety be your confidence and your blameless ways your hope?

ONLY WICKED TRULY DESTROYED.

Job 4:7-11

"Consider now: Who, being innocent, has ever perished?
 Where were the upright ever destroyed?
 As I have observed, those who plow evil and those who sow trouble reap it.
 At the breath of God they are destroyed;
 at the blast of his anger they perish.
 The lions may roar and growl,
 yet the teeth of the great lions are broken.

The lion perishes for lack of prey,
and the cubs of the lioness are scattered.

Job 4:12-16 APPEAL TO MYSTICISM.

“A word was secretly brought to me,
my ears caught a whisper of it.
Amid disquieting dreams in the night,
when deep sleep falls on men,
fear and trembling seized me
and made all my bones shake.
A spirit glided past my face,
and the hair on my body stood on end.
It stopped,
but I could not tell what it was.
A form stood before my eyes,
and I heard a hushed voice:

Job 4:17-21 MAN’S VULNERABILITY.

‘Can a mortal be more righteous than God?
Can a man be more pure than his Maker?
If God places no trust in his servants, if he charges his angels with error,
how much more those who live in houses of clay,
whose foundations are in the dust,
who are crushed more readily than a moth!
Between dawn and dusk they are broken to pieces;
unnoticed, they perish forever.
Are not the cords of their tent pulled up,
so that they die without wisdom?’¹

Job 5:1-7 EVERYONE HAS TROUBLE.

“Call if you will, but who will answer you?
To which of the holy ones will you turn?
Resentment kills a fool,
and envy slays the simple.
I myself have seen a fool taking root,
but suddenly his house was cursed.
His children are far from safety, crushed in court without a defender.
The hungry consume his harvest,
taking it even from among thorns,
and the thirsty pant after his wealth.
For hardship does not spring from the soil,
nor does trouble sprout from the ground.
Yet man is born to trouble
as surely as sparks fly upward.

Job 5:8-16 ONLY GOD KNOWS WHY.

“But if it were I, I would appeal to God;
I would lay my cause before him.

¹Some interpreters end the quotation after verse 17.

He performs wonders that cannot be fathomed,
 miracles that cannot be counted.
 He bestows rain on the earth;
 he sends water upon the countryside.
 The lowly he sets on high,
 and those who mourn are lifted to safety.
 He thwarts the plans of the crafty,
 so that their hands achieve no success.
 He catches the wise in their craftiness,
 and the schemes of the wily are swept away.
 Darkness comes upon them in the daytime;
 at noon they grope as in the night.
 He saves the needy from the sword in their mouth;
 he saves them from the clutches of the powerful.
 So the poor have hope,
 and injustice shuts its mouth.

BLESSINGS FOLLOW DISCIPLINE.

Job 5:17-27

"Blessed is the man whom God corrects;
 so do not despise the discipline of the Almighty."^m
 For he wounds, but he also binds up;
 he injures, but his hands also heal.
 From six calamities he will rescue you;
 in seven no harm will befall you.
 In famine he will ransom you from death,
 and in battle from the stroke of the sword.
 You will be protected from the lash of the tongue,
 and need not fear when destruction comes.
 You will laugh at destruction and famine,
 and need not fear the beasts of the earth.
 For you will have a covenant with the stones of the field,
 and the wild animals will be at peace with you.
 You will know that your tent is secure;
 you will take stock of your property and find nothing missing.
 You will know that your children will be many,
 and your descendants like the grass of the earth.
 You will come to the grave in full vigor, like sheaves gathered in season.
 "We have examined this, and it is true.
 So hear it and apply it to yourself."

Job

CURSES COME FROM ANGUISH. Then Job replied:

Job 6:1-7

"If only my anguish could be weighed and all my misery be placed on the scales!
 It would surely outweigh the sand of the seas—
 no wonder my words have been impetuous.
 The arrows of the Almighty are in me,

^mHebrew Shaddai; here and throughout Job

my spirit drinks in their poison;
 God's terrors are marshaled against me.
 Does a wild donkey bray when it has grass,
 or an ox bellow when it has fodder?
 Is tasteless food eaten without salt, or is there flavor in the white of an egg?ⁿ
 I refuse to touch it;
 such food makes me ill.

Job 6:8-13 FEAR OF SINNING IN PAIN.

"Oh, that I might have my request, that God would grant what I hope for,
 that God would be willing to crush me,
 to let loose his hand and cut me off!
 Then I would still have this consolation—my joy in unrelenting pain—that I had not denied the words of the Holy One.

"What strength do I have, that I should still hope?
 What prospects, that I should be patient?
 Do I have the strength of stone?
 Is my flesh bronze?
 Do I have any power to help myself,
 now that success has been driven from me?"

Job 6:14-23 CANNOT DEPEND ON FRIENDS.

"A despairing man should have the devotion of his friends,
 even though he forsakes the fear of the Almighty.
 But my brothers are as undependable as intermittent streams,
 as the streams that overflow
 when darkened by thawing ice and swollen with melting snow,
 but that cease to flow in the dry season,
 and in the heat vanish from their channels.
 Caravans turn aside from their routes;
 they go up into the wasteland and perish.
 The caravans of Tema look for water,
 the traveling merchants of Sheba look in hope.
 They are distressed, because they had been confident;
 they arrive there, only to be disappointed.
 Now you too have proved to be of no help;
 you see something dreadful and are afraid.
 Have I ever said, 'Give something on my behalf, pay a ransom for me from your wealth, deliver me from the hand of the enemy, ransom me from the clutches of the ruthless'?"

Job 6:24-27 REBUKE FOR CHIDING.

"Teach me, and I will be quiet;

ⁿThe meaning of the Hebrew for this phrase is uncertain.

show me where I have been wrong.
 How painful are honest words!
 But what do your arguments prove?
 Do you mean to correct what I say,
 and treat the words of a despairing man as wind?
 You would even cast lots for the fatherless and barter away your friend.

NO MALICE IN CURSES.

Job 6:28-30

"But now be so kind as to look at me.
 Would I lie to your face?
 Relent, do not be unjust;
 reconsider, for my integrity is at stake.^o
 Is there any wickedness on my lips?
 Can my mouth not discern malice?

EXPECTANCY OF HARDSHIP.

Job 7:1-5

"Does not man have hard service on earth?
 Are not his days like those of a hired man?
 Like a slave longing for the evening shadows,
 or a hired man waiting eagerly for his wages,
 so I have been allotted months of futility,
 and nights of misery have been assigned to me.
 When I lie down I think, 'How long before I get up?'
 The night drags on, and I toss till dawn.
 My body is clothed with worms and scabs,
 my skin is broken and festering.

BREVITY OF LIFE.

Job 7:6-10

"My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and they come to an end without hope.
 Remember, O God, that my life is but a breath;
 my eyes will never see happiness again.
 The eye that now sees me will see me no longer;
 you will look for me, but I will be no more.
 As a cloud vanishes and is gone,
 so he who goes down to the graveⁿ does not return.
 He will never come to his house again;
 his place will know him no more.

BITTERNESS OF PAIN.

Job 7:11-16

"Therefore I will not keep silent;
 I will speak out in the anguish of my spirit,
 I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.
 Am I the sea, or the monster of the deep,
 that you put me under guard?
 When I think my bed will comfort me and my couch will ease my complaint, even then you frighten me with dreams and terrify me with visions,

^oOr my righteousness still stands ⁿHebrew Sheol

so that I prefer strangling and death, rather than this body of mine.
I despise my life; I would not live forever.
Let me alone; my days have no meaning.

Job 7:17-21 WHAT IS MAN'S SIGNIFICANCE?

“What is man that you make so much of him, that you give him so much attention, that you examine him every morning and test him every moment?
Will you never look away from me,
or let me alone even for an instant?
If I have sinned, what have I done to you,
O watcher of men?
Why have you made me your target?
Have I become a burden to you?^a Why do you not pardon my offenses and forgive my sins?
For I will soon lie down in the dust;
you will search for me, but I will be no more.”

Bildad

Job 8:1-7 GOD IS JUST. Then Bildad the Shuhite replied:

“How long will you say such things?
Your words are a blustering wind.
Does God pervert justice?
Does the Almighty pervert what is right?
When your children sinned against him,
he gave them over to the penalty of their sin.
But if you will look to God and plead with the Almighty,
if you are pure and upright,
even now he will rouse himself on your behalf and restore you to your rightful place.
Your beginnings will seem humble, so prosperous will your future be.

Job 8:8-10 APPEAL TO SCHOLARSHIP.

“Ask the former generations and find out what their fathers learned, for we were born only yesterday and know nothing,
and our days on earth are but a shadow.
Will they not instruct you and tell you?
Will they not bring forth words from their understanding?

Job 8:11-19 SECURITY IS IN GOD.

they wither more quickly than grass.
 Such is the destiny of all who forget God;
 so perishes the hope of the godless.
 What he trusts in is fragile^r ;
 what he relies on is a spider's web.
 He leans on his web, but it gives way;
 he clings to it, but it does not hold.
 He is like a well-watered plant in the sunshine, spreading its shoots over the garden;
 it entwines its roots around a pile of rocks and looks for a place among the stones.
 But when it is torn from its spot,
 that place disowns it and says, 'I never saw you.'
 Surely its life withers away,
 and^s from the soil other plants grow.

MISERY WILL BE AVENGED.

Job 8:20-22

"Surely God does not reject a blameless man or strengthen the hands of evildoers.
 He will yet fill your mouth with laughter and your lips with shouts of joy.
 Your enemies will be clothed in shame,
 and the tents of the wicked will be no more."

Job

GOD'S CREATIVE POWER. Then Job replied:

Job 9:1-13

"Indeed, I know that this is true.
 But how can a mortal be righteous before God?
 Though one wished to dispute with him,
 he could not answer him one time out of a thousand.
 His wisdom is profound, his power is vast.
 Who has resisted him and come out unscathed?
 He moves mountains without their knowing it and overturns them in his anger.
 He shakes the earth from its place and makes its pillars tremble.
 He speaks to the sun and it does not shine;
 he seals off the light of the stars.
 He alone stretches out the heavens and treads on the waves of the sea.
 He is the Maker of the Bear and Orion,
 the Pleiades and the constellations of the south.
 He performs wonders that cannot be fathomed,
 miracles that cannot be counted.
 When he passes me, I cannot see him;
 when he goes by, I cannot perceive him.
 If he snatches away, who can stop him?
 Who can say to him, 'What are you doing?'"

^rThe meaning of the Hebrew for this word is uncertain.
 is that

God does not restrain his anger;
even the cohorts of Rahab cowered at his feet.

Job 9:14-20 NO ARGUMENT AGAINST GOD.

“How then can I dispute with him?
How can I find words to argue with him?
Though I were innocent, I could not answer him;
I could only plead with my Judge for mercy.
Even if I summoned him and he responded,
I do not believe he would give me a hearing.
He would crush me with a storm and multiply my wounds for no reason.
He would not let me regain my breath
but would overwhelm me with misery.
If it is a matter of strength, he is mighty!
And if it is a matter of justice, who will summon him? ¹
Even if I were innocent, my mouth would condemn me;
if I were blameless, it would pronounce me guilty.

Job 9:21-24 INNOCENCE NO GUARANTEE.

“Although I am blameless,
I have no concern for myself;
I despise my own life.
It is all the same; that is why I say,
‘He destroys both the blameless and the wicked.’
When a scourge brings sudden death,
he mocks the despair of the innocent.
When a land falls into the hands of the wicked,
he blindfolds its judges.
If it is not he, then who is it?

Job 9:25-31 SUFFERING REMAINS.

“My days are swifter than a runner;
they fly away without a glimpse of joy.
They skim past like boats of papyrus,
like eagles swooping down on their prey.
If I say, ‘I will forget my complaint,
I will change my expression, and smile,’
I still dread all my sufferings,
for I know you will not hold me innocent.
Since I am already found guilty,
why should I struggle in vain?
Even if I washed myself with soap² and my hands with washing soda, you would plunge me into a slime pit
so that even my clothes would detest me.

Job 9:32-35 NO ADVOCATE FOR MAN.

“He is not a man like me that I might answer him, that we might confront each other in court.

IS MAN'S CONDITION KNOWN?

Job 10:1-7

"I loathe my very life;
 therefore I will give free rein to my complaint and speak out in the bitterness of my soul.
 I will say to God: Do not condemn me,
 but tell me what charges you have against me.
 Does it please you to oppress me,
 to spurn the work of your hands,
 while you smile on the schemes of the wicked?
 Do you have eyes of flesh?
 Do you see as a mortal sees?
 Are your days like those of a mortal or your years like those of a man, that you must search out my faults and probe after my sin—though you know that I am not guilty and that no one can rescue me from your hand?"

SHOULD CREATOR DESTROY?

Job 10:8-12

"Your hands shaped me and made me.
 Will you now turn and destroy me?
 Remember that you molded me like clay.
 Will you now turn me to dust again?
 Did you not pour me out like milk and curdle me like cheese, clothe me with skin and flesh and knit me together with bones and sinews?
 You gave me life and showed me kindness, and in your providence watched over my spirit.

SINFULNESS NOT THE ISSUE.

Job
10:13-17

"But this is what you concealed in your heart,
 and I know that this was in your mind:
 If I sinned, you would be watching me and would not let my offense go unpunished.
 If I am guilty—woe to me!
 Even if I am innocent, I cannot lift my head,
 for I am full of shame
 and drowned in^v my affliction.
 If I hold my head high, you stalk me like a lion

 You bring new witnesses against me your forces come against me wave upon wave.

Zophar

Job 11:1-6

APPEAL TO ZOPHAR’S INSIGHT. Then Zophar the Naamathite replied:

“Are all these words to go unanswered?
Is this talker to be vindicated?
Will your idle talk reduce men to silence?
Will no one rebuke you when you mock?
You say to God, ‘My beliefs are flawless that he would open his lips against you Know this: God has even forgotten some of your sin.

Job 11:7-9

GOD’S WISDOM HIDDEN.

“Can you fathom the mysteries of God?
Can you probe the limits of the Almighty?

 You will lie down, with no one to make you afraid,

Job

TRUTH IN ARGUMENTS. Then Job replied:

Job 12:1-3

"Doubtless you are the people,
 and wisdom will die with you!
 But I have a mind as well as you;
 I am not inferior to you.
 Who does not know all these things?"

GOD'S PROVIDENTIAL CONTROL.

 If he holds back the waters, there is drought;

 and makes fools of judges.
 He takes off the shackles put on by kings and ties a loincloth^a around their waist.
 He leads priests away stripped and overthrows men long established.
 He silences the lips of trusted advisers and takes away the discernment of elders.
 He pours contempt on nobles and disarms the mighty.
 He reveals the deep things of darkness and brings deep shadows into the light.
 He makes nations great, and destroys them;
 he enlarges nations, and disperses them.
 He deprives the leaders of the earth of their reason;
 he sends them wandering through a trackless waste.
 They grope in darkness with no light;
 he makes them stagger like drunkards.

Job 13:1-5 NEED FOR GOD'S ANSWERS.

"My eyes have seen all this,
 my ears have heard and understood it.
 What you know, I also know;
 I am not inferior to you.
 But I desire to speak to the Almighty and to argue my case with God.
 You, however, smear me with lies;
 you are worthless physicians, all of you!
 If only you would be altogether silent!
 For you, that would be wisdom.

Job 13:6-12 MAN'S ANSWERS INADEQUATE.

Hear now my argument;
 listen to the plea of my lips.
 Will you speak wickedly on God's behalf?
 Will you speak deceitfully for him?
 Will you show him partiality?
 Will you argue the case for God?
 Would it turn out well if he examined you?
 Could you deceive him as you might deceive men?

^aOr shackles of kings / and ties a belt

He would surely rebuke you if you secretly showed partiality.
 Would not his splendor terrify you?
 Would not the dread of him fall on you?
 Your maxims are proverbs of ashes;
 your defenses are defenses of clay.

CONFIDENCE IN QUESTIONING.

Job
13:13-19

“Keep silent and let me speak;
 then let come to me what may.
 Why do I put myself in jeopardy and take my life in my hands?
 Though he slay me, yet will I hope in him;
 I will surely^b defend my ways to his face.
 Indeed, this will turn out for my deliverance,
 for no godless man would dare come before him!
 Listen carefully to my words;
 let your ears take in what I say.
 Now that I have prepared my case,
 I know I will be vindicated.
 Can anyone bring charges against me?
 If so, I will be silent and die.

JOB'S OPENING STATEMENT.

Job
13:20-22

“Only grant me these two things, O God, and then I will not hide from you:
 Withdraw your hand far from me,
 and stop frightening me with your terrors.
 Then summon me and I will answer, or let me speak, and you reply.

WHAT SINS MERIT THIS?

Job
13:23-27

How many wrongs and sins have I committed?
 Show me my offense and my sin.
 Why do you hide your face
 and consider me your enemy?
 Will you torment a windblown leaf?
 Will you chase after dry chaff?
 For you write down bitter things against me
 and make me inherit the sins of my youth.
 You fasten my feet in shackles;
 you keep close watch on all my paths
 by putting marks on the soles of my feet.

LIFE IS LIMITED.

Job
13:28-14:6

“So man wastes away like something rotten, like a garment eaten by moths.
 “Man born of woman
 is of few days and full of trouble.

^bOr He will surely slay me; I have no hope — / yet I will

He springs up like a flower and withers away;
 like a fleeting shadow, he does not endure.
 Do you fix your eye on such a one?
 Will you bring him^c before you for judgment?
 Who can bring what is pure from the impure?
 No one!
 Man's days are determined;
 you have decreed the number of his months and have set limits he cannot exceed.
 So look away from him and let him alone,
 till he has put in his time like a hired man.

Job 14:7-12 MAN LIVES ONLY ONCE.

"At least there is hope for a tree:
 If it is cut down, it will sprout again,
 and its new shoots will not fail.
 Its roots may grow old in the ground and its stump die in the soil, yet at the scent of water it will bud and put forth shoots like a plant.
 But man dies and is laid low;
 he breathes his last and is no more.
 As water disappears from the sea or a riverbed becomes parched and dry, so man lies down and does not rise;
 till the heavens are no more, men will not awake or be roused from their sleep.

Job 14:13-17 ONLY HOPE IS RESURRECTION.

"If only you would hide me in the grave^d and conceal me till your anger has passed!
 If only you would set me a time and then remember me!
 If a man dies, will he live again?
 All the days of my hard service
 I will wait for my renewal^e to come.
 You will call and I will answer you;
 you will long for the creature your hands have made.
 Surely then you will count my steps
 but not keep track of my sin.
 My offenses will be sealed up in a bag;
 you will cover over my sin.

Job 14:18-22 SORROW IN MEANTIME.

"But as a mountain erodes and crumbles and as a rock is moved from its place, as water wears away stones and torrents wash away the soil, so you destroy man's hope.
 You overpower him once for all, and he is gone;

^cSeptuagint, Vulgate and Syriac; Hebrew me ^dHebrew Sheol ^eOr release you change his countenance and send him away.

 If his sons are honored, he does not know it;
 if they are brought low, he does not see it.
 He feels but the pain of his own body and mourns only for himself."

Eliphaz

REBUKE FOR QUESTIONING GOD. Then Eliphaz the Temanite replied: Job 15:1-13

"Would a wise man answer with empty notions or fill his belly with the hot east wind?
 Would he argue with useless words,
 with speeches that have no value?
 But you even undermine piety and hinder devotion to God.
 Your sin prompts your mouth;
 you adopt the tongue of the crafty.
 Your own mouth condemns you, not mine;
 your own lips testify against you.

"Are you the first man ever born?
 Were you brought forth before the hills?
 Do you listen in on God's council?
 Do you limit wisdom to yourself?
 What do you know that we do not know?
 What insights do you have that we do not have?
 The gray-haired and the aged are on our side,
 men even older than your father.
 Are God's consolations not enough for you,
 words spoken gently to you?
 Why has your heart carried you away,
 and why do your eyes flash,
 so that you vent your rage against God and pour out such words from your mouth?

MAN MERELY GOD'S PAWN.

Job
15:14-16

"What is man, that he could be pure,
 or one born of woman, that he could be righteous?
 If God places no trust in his holy ones,
 if even the heavens are not pure in his eyes,
 how much less man, who is vile and corrupt, who drinks up evil like water!

INEVITABLE FATE OF WICKED.

Job
15:17-35

"Listen to me and I will explain to you;
 let me tell you what I have seen,
 what wise men have declared, hiding nothing received from their fathers (to whom alone the land was given when no alien passed among them):
 All his days the wicked man suffers torment,

the ruthless through all the years stored up for him.
 Terrifying sounds fill his ears;
 when all seems well, marauders attack him.
 He despairs of escaping the darkness;
 he is marked for the sword.
 He wanders about—food for vultures¹ ;
 he knows the day of darkness is at hand.
 Distress and anguish fill him with terror;
 they overwhelm him, like a king poised to attack, because he shakes his fist at God and vaunts himself against the Almighty, defiantly charging against him with a thick, strong shield.

“Though his face is covered with fat and his waist bulges with flesh, he will inhabit ruined towns and houses where no one lives, houses crumbling to rubble.
 He will no longer be rich and his wealth will not endure, nor will his possessions spread over the land.
 He will not escape the darkness;
 a flame will wither his shoots,
 and the breath of God’s mouth will carry him away.
 Let him not deceive himself by trusting what is worthless, for he will get nothing in return.
 Before his time he will be paid in full,
 and his branches will not flourish.
 He will be like a vine stripped of its unripe grapes,
 like an olive tree shedding its blossoms.
 For the company of the godless will be barren, and fire will consume the tents of those who love bribes.
 They conceive trouble and give birth to evil;
 their womb fashions deceit.”

Job

Job 16:1-6 SPEECHES NO RELIEF. Then Job replied:

“I have heard many things like these;
 miserable comforters are you all!
 Will your long-winded speeches never end?
 What ails you that you keep on arguing?
 I also could speak like you,
 if you were in my place;
 I could make fine speeches against you and shake my head at you.
 But my mouth would encourage you;
 comfort from my lips would bring you relief.
 “Yet if I speak, my pain is not relieved;
 and if I refrain, it does not go away.

HOW GOD HAS DEVASTATED.

Job 16:7-14

Surely, O God, you have worn me out;
 you have devastated my entire household.
 You have bound me—and it has become a witness;
 my gauntness rises up and testifies against me.
 God assails me and tears me in his anger and gnashes his teeth at me;
 my opponent fastens on me his piercing eyes.
 Men open their mouths to jeer at me;
 they strike my cheek in scorn and unite together against me.
 God has turned me over to evil men and thrown me into the clutches of the wicked.
 All was well with me, but he shattered me;
 he seized me by the neck and crushed me.
 He has made me his target;
 his archers surround me.
 Without pity, he pierces my kidneys and spills my gall on the ground.
 Again and again he bursts upon me;
 he rushes at me like a warrior.

MAINTAINING INNOCENCE.

Job
16:15-17

"I have sewed sackcloth over my skin and buried my brow in the dust.
 My face is red with weeping,
 deep shadows ring my eyes;
 yet my hands have been free of violence and my prayer is pure.

SURELY THERE IS ADVOCATE.

Job
16:18-21

"O earth, do not cover my blood;
 may my cry never be laid to rest!
 Even now my witness is in heaven;
 my advocate is on high.
 My intercessor is my friend^s
 as my eyes pour out tears to God;
 on behalf of a man he pleads with God
 as a man pleads for his friend.

FRIENDS MOCK CURIOSITY.

Job
16:22-17:9

"Only a few years will pass
 before I go on the journey of no return.
 My spirit is broken,
 my days are cut short,
 the grave awaits me.
 Surely mockers surround me;
 my eyes must dwell on their hostility.
 "Give me, O God, the pledge you demand.

^sOr My friends treat me with scorn

Who else will put up security for me?
 You have closed their minds to understanding;
 therefore you will not let them triumph.
 If a man denounces his friends for reward,
 the eyes of his children will fail.

“God has made me a byword to everyone,
 a man in whose face people spit.
 My eyes have grown dim with grief;
 my whole frame is but a shadow.
 Upright men are appalled at this;
 the innocent are aroused against the ungodly.
 Nevertheless, the righteous will hold to their ways,
 and those with clean hands will grow stronger.

Job
 17:10-16

LIMITATIONS ON SYMPATHY.

“But come on, all of you, try again!
 I will not find a wise man among you.
 My days have passed, my plans are shattered,
 and so are the desires of my heart.
 These men turn night into day;
 in the face of darkness they say, ‘Light is near.’
 If the only home I hope for is the grave,^h
 if I spread out my bed in darkness, if I say to corruption, ‘You are my father,’
 and to the worm, ‘My mother’ or ‘My sister,’ where then is my hope?
 Who can see any hope for me?
 Will it go down to the gates of death^h?
 Will we descend together into the dust?”

Bildad.

Job 18:1-4 NONSUFFERERS KNOW SOMETHING. Then Bildad the Shuhite replied:

“When will you end these speeches?
 Be sensible, and then we can talk.
 Why are we regarded as cattle and considered stupid in your sight?
 You who tear yourself to pieces in your anger,
 is the earth to be abandoned for your sake?
 Or must the rocks be moved from their place?”

Job 18:5-21 SUFFERING FROM WICKEDNESS.

“The lamp of the wicked is snuffed out;
 the flame of his fire stops burning.
 The light in his tent becomes dark;
 the lamp beside him goes out.
 The vigor of his step is weakened;
 his own schemes throw him down.
 His feet thrust him into a net

^hHebrew Sheol

and he wanders into its mesh.
 A trap seizes him by the heel;
 a snare holds him fast.
 A noose is hidden for him on the ground;
 a trap lies in his path.
 Terrors startle him on every side and dog his every step.
 Calamity is hungry for him;
 disaster is ready for him when he falls.
 It eats away parts of his skin;
 death's firstborn devours his limbs.
 He is torn from the security of his tent and marched off to the king of terrors.
 Fire residesⁱ in his tent;
 burning sulfur is scattered over his dwelling.
 His roots dry up below and his branches wither above.
 The memory of him perishes from the earth;
 he has no name in the land.
 He is driven from light into darkness and is banished from the world.
 He has no offspring or descendants among his people,
 no survivor where once he lived.
 Men of the west are appalled at his fate;
 men of the east are seized with horror.
 Surely such is the dwelling of an evil man;
 such is the place of one who knows not God."

Job

EVEN RIGHTEOUS SUFFER. Then Job replied:

Job 19:1-6

"How long will you torment me
 and crush me with words?
 Ten times now you have reproached me;
 shamelessly you attack me.
 If it is true that I have gone astray,
 my error remains my concern alone.
 If indeed you would exalt yourselves above me and use my humiliation against me, then know that God has wronged me and drawn his net around me.

JOB'S DESTRUCTION.

Job 19:7-12

"Though I cry, 'I've been wronged!' I get no response;
 though I call for help, there is no justice.
 He has blocked my way so I cannot pass;
 he has shrouded my paths in darkness.
 He has stripped me of my honor and removed the crown from my head.
 He tears me down on every side till I am gone;

ⁱOr Nothing he had remains

he uproots my hope like a tree.
 His anger burns against me;
 he counts me among his enemies.
 His troops advance in force;
 they build a siege ramp against me and encamp around my tent.

Job
 19:13-20

JOB'S ALIENATION.

"He has alienated my brothers from me;
 my acquaintances are completely estranged from me.
 My kinsmen have gone away;
 my friends have forgotten me.
 My guests and my maidservants count me a stranger;
 they look upon me as an alien.
 I summon my servant, but he does not answer, though I beg him with my own mouth.
 My breath is offensive to my wife;
 I am loathsome to my own brothers.
 Even the little boys scorn me;
 when I appear, they ridicule me.
 All my intimate friends detest me;
 those I love have turned against me.
 I am nothing but skin and bones;
 I have escaped with only the skin of my teeth.^j

Job

"My troubled thoughts prompt me to answer
because I am greatly disturbed.
I hear a rebuke that dishonors me,

WICKED ALWAYS FALL. Job 20:4-11

"Surely you know how it has been from of old,
ever since man^r was placed on the earth,
that the mirth of the wicked is brief,
the joy of the godless lasts but a moment.
Though his pride reaches to the heavens and his head touches the clouds,
he will perish forever, like his own dung;
those who have seen him will say, 'Where is he?'
Like a dream he flies away, no more to be found, banished like a vision of the night.
The eye that saw him will not see him again;
his place will look on him no more.
His children must make amends to the poor;
his own hands must give back his wealth.
The youthful vigor that fills his bones will lie with him in the dust.

REPAYMENT FOR SINS. Job
20:12-19

"Though evil is sweet in his mouth and he hides it under his tongue, though he cannot bear to let it go and keeps it in his mouth,
yet his food will turn sour in his stomach;
it will become the venom of serpents within him.
He will spit out the riches he swallowed;
God will make his stomach vomit them up.
He will suck the poison of serpents;
the fangs of an adder will kill him.
He will not enjoy the streams,
the rivers flowing with honey and cream.
What he toiled for he must give back uneaten;
he will not enjoy the profit from his trading.
For he has oppressed the poor and left them destitute;
he has seized houses he did not build.

WICKED HAVE NO DEFENSE. Job
20:20-29

"Surely he will have no respite from his craving;
he cannot save himself by his treasure.

Nothing is left for him to devour;
 his prosperity will not endure.
 In the midst of his plenty, distress will overtake him;
 the full force of misery will come upon him.
 When he has filled his belly,
 God will vent his burning anger against him and rain down his blows upon him.
 Though he flees from an iron weapon,
 a bronze-tipped arrow pierces him.
 He pulls it out of his back,
 the gleaming point out of his liver.
 Terrors will come over him;
 total darkness lies in wait for his treasures.
 A fire unfanned will consume him and devour what is left in his tent.
 The heavens will expose his guilt;
 the earth will rise up against him.
 A flood will carry off his house,
 rushing waters^s on the day of God's wrath.
 Such is the fate God allots the wicked,
 the heritage appointed for them by God."

Job

Job 21:1-3 LISTEN FURTHER. Then Job replied:

"Listen carefully to my words;
 let this be the consolation you give me.
 Bear with me while I speak,
 and after I have spoken, mock on.

Job 21:4-18 WICKED OFTEN PROSPER.

"Is my complaint directed to man?
 Why should I not be impatient?
 Look at me and be astonished;
 clap your hand over your mouth.
 When I think about this, I am terrified;
 trembling seizes my body.
 Why do the wicked live on,
 growing old and increasing in power?
 They see their children established around them,
 their offspring before their eyes.
 Their homes are safe and free from fear;
 the rod of God is not upon them.
 Their bulls never fail to breed;
 their cows calve and do not miscarry.
 They send forth their children as a flock;
 their little ones dance about.
 They sing to the music of tambourine and harp;
 they make merry to the sound of the flute.
 They spend their years in prosperity

^sOr The possessions in his house will be carried off, / washed away and go down to the grave¹ in peace."

 Yet they say to God, 'Leave us alone!
 We have no desire to know your ways.
 Who is the Almighty, that we should serve him?
 What would we gain by praying to him?'
 But their prosperity is not in their own hands,
 so I stand aloof from the counsel of the wicked.

"Yet how often is the lamp of the wicked snuffed out?
 How often does calamity come upon them,
 the fate God allots in his anger?
 How often are they like straw before the wind,
 like chaff swept away by a gale?

UNFAIR PUNISHMENT.

It is said,² 'God stores up a man's punishment for his sons.'
 Let him repay the man himself, so that he will know it!
 Let his own eyes see his destruction;
 let him drink of the wrath of the Almighty.³
 For what does he care about the family he leaves behind when his allotted months come to an end?

Job

INEQUITIES IN DEATH.

"Can anyone teach knowledge to God, since he judges even the highest?
 One man dies in full vigor, completely secure and at ease,
 his body⁴ well nourished,
 his bones rich with marrow.
 Another man dies in bitterness of soul,
 never having enjoyed anything good.
 Side by side they lie in the dust,

Job

DEATH INADEQUATE PUNISHMENT.

"I know full well what you are thinking,
 the schemes by which you would wrong me.
 You say, 'Where now is the great man's house,

 Have you paid no regard to their accounts—

Job 21:34 ANSWERS FALL SHORT.

“So how can you console me with your nonsense?
Nothing is left of your answers but falsehood!”

Eliphaz

Job 22:1-3 MAN CANNOT BENEFIT GOD. Then Eliphaz the Temanite replied:

“Can a man be of benefit to God?
Can even a wise man benefit him?
What pleasure would it give the Almighty if you were righteous?
What would he gain if your ways were blameless?”

Job 22:4-11 LESS RIGHTEOUS THAN BELIEVED.

“Is it for your piety that he rebukes you and brings charges against you?
Is not your wickedness great?
Are not your sins endless?
You demanded security from your brothers for no reason;
you stripped men of their clothing, leaving them naked.
You gave no water to the weary and you withheld food from the hungry, though you were a powerful man, owning land—
an honored man, living on it.
And you sent widows away empty-handed and broke the strength of the fatherless.
That is why snares are all around you,
why sudden peril terrifies you,
why it is so dark you cannot see,
and why a flood of water covers you.

Job
22:12-20

WICKEDNESS CANNOT BE HIDDEN.

“Is not God in the heights of heaven?
And see how lofty are the highest stars!
Yet you say, ‘What does God know?
Does he judge through such darkness?
Thick clouds veil him, so he does not see us as he goes about in the vaulted heavens.’
Will you keep to the old path that evil men have trod?
They were carried off before their time, their foundations washed away by a flood.
They said to God, ‘Leave us alone!
What can the Almighty do to us?’
Yet it was he who filled their houses with good things,
so I stand aloof from the counsel of the wicked.
“The righteous see their ruin and rejoice;
the innocent mock them, saying,

Or / as a countless throng went

'Surely our foes are destroyed, and fire devours their wealth.'

JOB SHOULD REPENT.

Job
22:21-30

"Submit to God and be at peace with him;
in this way prosperity will come to you.
Accept instruction from his mouth and lay up his words in your heart.
If you return to the Almighty, you will be restored:
If you remove wickedness far from your tent and assign your nuggets to the dust, your gold of Ophir to the rocks in the ravines, then the Almighty will be your gold,
the choicest silver for you.
Surely then you will find delight in the Almighty and will lift up your face to God.
You will pray to him, and he will hear you,
and you will fulfill your vows.
What you decide on will be done,
and light will shine on your ways.
When men are brought low and you say, 'Lift them up!'
then he will save the downcast.
He will deliver even one who is not innocent, who will be delivered through the cleanness of your hands."

Job

DESIRE FOR PERSONAL HEARING. Then Job replied:

Job 23:1-7

If only I knew where to find him;
if only I could go to his dwelling!
I would state my case before him

I would find out what he would answer me,
and consider what he would say.
Would he oppose me with great power?
No, he would not press charges against me.
There an upright man could present his case before him,
and I would be delivered forever from my judge.

RIGHTEOUSNESS REASSERTED.

Job 23:8-12

if I go to the west, I do not find him.
When he is at work in the north, I do not see him;

"But he stands alone, and who can oppose him?
 He does whatever he pleases.
 He carries out his decree against me,

 That is why I am terrified before him;
 when I think of all this, I fear him.
 God has made my heart faint;
 the Almighty has terrified me.
 Yet I am not silenced by the darkness,

Job 24:1-12

SUFFERING WITHOUT JUDGMENT.

"Why does the Almighty not set times for judgment?
 Why must those who know him look in vain for such days?
 Men move boundary stones;
 they pasture flocks they have stolen.
 They drive away the orphan's donkey and take the widow's ox in pledge.
 They thrust the needy from the path and force all the poor of the land into hiding.
 Like wild donkeys in the desert,
 the poor go about their labor of foraging food;
 the wasteland provides food for their children.
 They gather fodder in the fields and glean in the vineyards of the wicked.
 Lacking clothes, they spend the night naked;
 they have nothing to cover themselves in the cold.
 They are drenched by mountain rains and hug the rocks for lack of shelter.
 The fatherless child is snatched from the breast;
 the infant of the poor is seized for a debt.
 Lacking clothes, they go about naked;
 they carry the sheaves, but still go hungry.
 They crush olives among the terraces^b ;
 they tread the winepresses, yet suffer thirst.
 The groans of the dying rise from the city,
 and the souls of the wounded cry out for help.
 But God charges no one with wrongdoing.

WICKED FACE DEATH.

"Yet they are foam on the surface of the water;
 their portion of the land is cursed,
 so that no one goes to the vineyards.
 As heat and drought snatch away the melted snow,
 so the grave^c snatches away those who have sinned.
 The womb forgets them,
 the worm feasts on them;
 evil men are no longer remembered
 but are broken like a tree.
 They prey on the barren and childless woman,
 and to the widow show no kindness.
 But God drags away the mighty by his power;
 though they become established, they have no assurance of life.
 He may let them rest in a feeling of security,
 but his eyes are on their ways.
 For a little while they are exalted, and then they are gone;
 they are brought low and gathered up like all others;
 they are cut off like heads of grain.
 "If this is not so, who can prove me false and reduce my words to nothing?"

Job
24:18-25

Bildad

RIGHTEOUSNESS IS IMPOSSIBLE. Then Bildad the Shuhite replied: Job 25:1-6

"Dominion and awe belong to God;
 he establishes order in the heights of heaven.
 Can his forces be numbered?
 Upon whom does his light not rise?
 How then can a man be righteous before God?
 How can one born of woman be pure?
 If even the moon is not bright and the stars are not pure in his eyes, how much less man, who is but a maggot—
 a son of man, who is only a worm!"

Job

Job 26:1-4 WORDS NO CONSOLATION. Then Job replied:

“How you have helped the powerless!
 How you have saved the arm that is feeble!
 What advice you have offered to one without wisdom!
 And what great insight you have displayed!
 Who has helped you utter these words?
 And whose spirit spoke from your mouth?”

Job 26:5-14 GOD’S WAYS UNFATHOMABLE.

“The dead are in deep anguish, those beneath the waters and all that live in them.
 Death^f is naked before God;
 Destruction^s lies uncovered.
 He spreads out the northern skies^j over empty space;
 he suspends the earth over nothing.
 He wraps up the waters in his clouds,
 yet the clouds do not burst under their weight.
 He covers the face of the full moon,
 spreading his clouds over it.
 He marks out the horizon on the face of the waters for a boundary between light and darkness.
 The pillars of the heavens quake, aghast at his rebuke.
 By his power he churned up the sea;
 by his wisdom he cut Rahab to pieces.
 By his breath the skies became fair;
 his hand pierced the gliding serpent.
 And these are but the outer fringe of his works;
 how faint the whisper we hear of him!
 Who then can understand the thunder of his power?”

Job 27:1-6 JOB’S FAITH WILL CONTINUE. And Job continued his discourse:

“As surely as God lives, who has denied me justice,
 the Almighty, who has made me taste bitterness of soul,
 as long as I have life within me,
 the breath of God in my nostrils,
 my lips will not speak wickedness,
 and my tongue will utter no deceit.
 I will never admit you are in the right;
 till I die, I will not deny my integrity.
 I will maintain my righteousness and never let go of it;
 my conscience will not reproach me as long as I live.”

Job 27:7-12 WICKED ARE NOT HEARD.

“May my enemies be like the wicked,
 my adversaries like the unjust!
 For what hope has the godless when he is cut off, when God takes away his life?”

Does God listen to his cry
 when distress comes upon him?
 Will he find delight in the Almighty?
 Will he call upon God at all times?

"I will teach you about the power of God;
 the ways of the Almighty I will not conceal.
 You have all seen this yourselves.
 Why then this meaningless talk?

FATE OF WICKED.

Job
 27:13-23

"Here is the fate God allots to the wicked,
 the heritage a ruthless man receives from the Almighty:
 However many his children, their fate is the sword;
 his offspring will never have enough to eat.
 The plague will bury those who survive him,
 and their widows will not weep for them.
 Though he heaps up silver like dust and clothes like piles of clay,
 what he lays up the righteous will wear,
 and the innocent will divide his silver.
 The house he builds is like a moth's cocoon,
 like a hut made by a watchman.
 He lies down wealthy, but will do so no more;
 when he opens his eyes, all is gone.
 Terrors overtake him like a flood;
 a tempest snatches him away in the night.
 The east wind carries him off, and he is gone;
 it sweeps him out of his place.
 It hurls itself against him without mercy
 as he flees headlong from its power.
 It claps its hands in derision and hisses him out of his place.

WISDOM IS HIDDEN.

Job 28:1-19

"There is a mine for silver and a place where gold is refined.
 Iron is taken from the earth,
 and copper is smelted from ore.
 Man puts an end to the darkness;
 he searches the farthest recesses for ore in the blackest darkness.
 Far from where people dwell he cuts a shaft,
 in places forgotten by the foot of man;
 far from men he dangles and sways.
 The earth, from which food comes,
 is transformed below as by fire;
 sapphires^h come from its rocks,
 and its dust contains nuggets of gold.
 No bird of prey knows that hidden path,

^hOr lapis lazuli

no falcon's eye has seen it.
 Proud beasts do not set foot on it,
 and no lion prowls there.
 Man's hand assaults the flinty rock and lays bare the roots of the mountains.
 He tunnels through the rock;
 his eyes see all its treasures.
 He searchesⁱ the sources of the rivers and brings hidden things to light.

"But where can wisdom be found?
 Where does understanding dwell?
 Man does not comprehend its worth;
 it cannot be found in the land of the living.
 The deep says, 'It is not in me';
 the sea says, 'It is not with me.'
 It cannot be bought with the finest gold, nor can its price be weighed in silver.
 It cannot be bought with the gold of Ophir, with precious onyx or sapphires.
 Neither gold nor crystal can compare with it,
 nor can it be had for jewels of gold.
 Coral and jasper are not worthy of mention;
 the price of wisdom is beyond rubies.
 The topaz of Cush cannot compare with it;
 it cannot be bought with pure gold.

Job
 28:20-28

WISDOM IN FEAR OF GOD.

"Where then does wisdom come from?
 Where does understanding dwell?
 It is hidden from the eyes of every living thing, concealed even from the birds of the air.
 Destruction^j and Death say,
 'Only a rumor of it has reached our ears.'
 God understands the way to it and he alone knows where it dwells, for he views the ends of the earth and sees everything under the heavens.
 When he established the force of the wind and measured out the waters, when he made a decree for the rain and a path for the thunderstorm, then he looked at wisdom and appraised it;
 he confirmed it and tested it.
 And he said to man,
 'The fear of the Lord—that is wisdom, and to shun evil is understanding.'"

Job 29:1-6

JOB'S FORMER PROSPERITY. Job continued his discourse:

"How I long for the months gone by,

ⁱSeptuagint, Aquila and Vulgate; Hebrew He dams up ^jHebrew Abaddon

for the days when God watched over me, when his lamp shone upon my head and by his light I walked through darkness!
 Oh, for the days when I was in my prime,
 when God's intimate friendship blessed my house, when the Almighty was still with me and my children were around me, when my path was drenched with cream and the rock poured out for me streams of olive oil.

JOB'S FORMER ESTEEM.

Job 29:7-25

"When I went to the gate of the city and took my seat in the public square, the young men saw me and stepped aside and the old men rose to their feet;
 the chief men refrained from speaking and covered their mouths with their hands;
 the voices of the nobles were hushed,
 and their tongues stuck to the roof of their mouths.
 Whoever heard me spoke well of me,
 and those who saw me commended me,
 because I rescued the poor who cried for help,
 and the fatherless who had none to assist him.
 The man who was dying blessed me;
 I made the widow's heart sing.
 I put on righteousness as my clothing;
 justice was my robe and my turban.
 I was eyes to the blind
 and feet to the lame.
 I was a father to the needy;
 I took up the case of the stranger.
 I broke the fangs of the wicked and snatched the victims from their teeth.
 "I thought, 'I will die in my own house,
 my days as numerous as the grains of sand.
 My roots will reach to the water,
 and the dew will lie all night on my branches.
 My glory will remain fresh in me,
 the bow ever new in my hand.'
 "Men listened to me expectantly, waiting in silence for my counsel.
 After I had spoken, they spoke no more;
 my words fell gently on their ears.
 They waited for me as for showers and drank in my words as the spring rain.
 When I smiled at them, they scarcely believed it;
 the light of my face was precious to them.^k
 I chose the way for them and sat as their chief;
 I dwelt as a king among his troops;
 I was like one who comforts mourners.

^kThe meaning of the Hebrew for this clause is uncertain.

Job 30:1-15 ROBBED OF DIGNITY.

"But now they mock me,
 men younger than I,
 whose fathers I would have disdained to put with my sheep dogs.
 Of what use was the strength of their hands to me,
 since their vigor had gone from them?
 Haggard from want and hunger,
 they roamed^l the parched land
 in desolate wastelands at night.
 In the brush they gathered salt herbs,
 and their food^m was the root of the broom tree.
 They were banished from their fellow men, shouted at as if they were thieves.
 They were forced to live in the dry stream beds,
 among the rocks and in holes in the ground.
 They brayed among the bushes and huddled in the undergrowth.
 A base and nameless brood,
 they were driven out of the land.

"And now their sons mock me in song;
 I have become a byword among them.
 They detest me and keep their distance;
 they do not hesitate to spit in my face.
 Now that God has unstrung my bow and afflicted me,
 they throw off restraint in my presence.
 On my right the tribeⁿ attacks;
 they lay snares for my feet,
 they build their siege ramps against me.
 They break up my road;
 they succeed in destroying me—
 without anyone's helping them.^o
 They advance as through a gaping breach;
 amid the ruins they come rolling in.
 Terrors overwhelm me;
 my dignity is driven away as by the wind,
 my safety vanishes like a cloud.

Job
30:16-19

ROBBED OF HEALTH.

"And now my life ebbs away;
 days of suffering grip me.
 Night pierces my bones;
 my gnawing pains never rest.
 In his great power God_g becomes like clothing to me^p;
 he binds me like the neck of my garment.
 He throws me into the mud,
 and I am reduced to dust and ashes.

NO RESPONSE TO GRIEF.

Job
30:20-26

"I cry out to you, O God, but you do not answer;
 I stand up, but you merely look at me.
 You turn on me ruthlessly;
 with the might of your hand you attack me.
 You snatch me up and drive me before the wind;
 you toss me about in the storm.
 I know you will bring me down to death,
 to the place appointed for all the living.

"Surely no one lays a hand on a broken man
 when he cries for help in his distress.
 Have I not wept for those in trouble?
 Has not my soul grieved for the poor?
 Yet when I hoped for good, evil came;
 when I looked for light, then came darkness.

HORROR OF PAIN.

Job
30:27-31

The churning inside me never stops;
 days of suffering confront me.
 I go about blackened, but not by the sun;
 I stand up in the assembly and cry for help.
 I have become a brother of jackals,
 a companion of owls.
 My skin grows black and peels;
 my body burns with fever.
 My harp is tuned to mourning,
 and my flute to the sound of wailing.

EYES CLOSED TO LUST.

Job 31:1-4

"I made a covenant with my eyes not to look lustfully at a girl.
 For what is man's lot from God above,
 his heritage from the Almighty on high?
 Is it not ruin for the wicked, disaster for those who do wrong?
 Does he not see my ways and count my every step?

DECEIT DISDAINED.

Job 31:5-8

"If I have walked in falsehood or my foot has hurried after deceit—let God weigh me in honest scales and he will know that I am blameless—
 if my steps have turned from the path, if my heart has been led by my eyes,
 or if my hands have been defiled,
 then may others eat what I have sown,
 and may my crops be uprooted.

Job 31:9-12 FAITHFUL TO WIFE.

“If my heart has been enticed by a woman, or if I have lurked at my neighbor’s door,
 then may my wife grind another man’s grain,
 and may other men sleep with her.
 For that would have been shameful,
 a sin to be judged.
 It is a fire that burns to Destruction^a ;
 it would have uprooted my harvest.

Job 31:13-15 SERVANTS TREATED JUSTLY.

“If I have denied justice to my menservants and maidservants
 when they had a grievance against me, what will I do when God confronts me?
 What will I answer when called to account?
 Did not he who made me in the womb make them?
 Did not the same one form us both within our mothers?

Job 31:16-23 BENEVOLENT TO NEEDY.

“If I have denied the desires of the poor or let the eyes of the widow grow weary,
 if I have kept my bread to myself, not sharing it with the fatherless—
 but from my youth I reared him as would a father, and from my birth I guided the widow—
 if I have seen anyone perishing for lack of clothing, or a needy man without a garment, and his heart did not bless me
 for warming him with the fleece from my sheep, if I have raised my hand against the fatherless, knowing that I had influence in court,
 then let my arm fall from the shoulder,
 let it be broken off at the joint.
 For I dreaded destruction from God, and for fear of his splendor I could not do such things.

Job 31:24,25 NO TRUST IN RICHES.

“If I have put my trust in gold or said to pure gold, ‘You are my security,’ if I have rejoiced over my great wealth,
 the fortune my hands had gained,

Job 31:26-28 NO IDOLATRY.

if I have regarded the sun in its radiance or the moon moving in splendor, so that my heart was secretly enticed and my hand offered them a kiss of homage, then these also would be sins to be judged,
 for I would have been unfaithful to God on high.

^aHebrew Abaddon

NO VENGEFUL GLOATING.

Job
31:29,30

"If I have rejoiced at my enemy's misfortune or gloated over the trouble that came to him—
I have not allowed my mouth to sin by invoking a curse against his life—

HOSPITABLE TO STRANGERS.

Job
31:31,32

if the men of my household have never said,
'Who has not had his fill of Job's meat?'— but no stranger had to spend the night in the street, for my door was always open to the traveler—

NO HYPOCRISY.

Job
31:33,34

if I have concealed my sin as men do,^r
by hiding my guilt in my heart because I so feared the crowd and so dreaded the contempt of the clans that I kept silent and would not go outside

INDICTMENT WELCOMED.

Job
31:35-37

("Oh, that I had someone to hear me!
I sign now my defense—let the Almighty answer me;
let my accuser put his indictment in writing.
Surely I would wear it on my shoulder,
I would put it on like a crown.
I would give him an account of my every step;
like a prince I would approach him.)—

NO TENANTS MISTREATED.

Job
31:38-40

"if my land cries out against me and all its furrows are wet with tears, if I have devoured its yield without payment or broken the spirit of its tenants, then let briars come up instead of wheat and weeds instead of barley."

The words of Job are ended.

Elihu

ELIHU'S YOUTHFUL ANGER. So these three men stopped answering Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes. But Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite, of the family of Ram, became very angry with Job for justifying himself rather than God. He was also angry with the three friends, because they had found no way to refute Job, and yet had condemned him.^s Now Elihu had waited before speaking to Job because they were older than he. But when he saw that the three men had nothing more to say, his anger was aroused.

Job 32:1-5

^rOr as Adam did

^sMasoretic Text; an ancient Hebrew scribal tradition Job, and so had

Job 32:6-9 INSIGHT OF THE YOUNG. So Elihu son of Barakel the Buzite said:

“I am young in years,
 and you are old;
 that is why I was fearful,
 not daring to tell you what I know.
 I thought, ‘Age should speak;
 advanced years should teach wisdom.’
 But it is the spirit¹ in a man,
 the breath of the Almighty, that gives him understanding.
 It is not only the old² who are wise,
 not only the aged who understand what is right.

Job
 32:10-14 PREVIOUS ANSWERS INADEQUATE.

“Therefore I say: Listen to me;
 I too will tell you what I know.
 I waited while you spoke,
 I listened to your reasoning;
 while you were searching for words,
 I gave you my full attention.
 But not one of you has proved Job wrong;
 none of you has answered his arguments.
 Do not say, ‘We have found wisdom;
 let God refute him, not man.’
 But Job has not marshaled his words against me, and I will not answer him with your arguments.

Job
 32:15-22 COMPULSION TO SPEAK.

“They are dismayed and have no more to say;
 words have failed them.
 Must I wait, now that they are silent,
 now that they stand there with no reply?
 I too will have my say;
 I too will tell what I know.
 For I am full of words,
 and the spirit within me compels me;
 inside I am like bottled-up wine,
 like new wineskins ready to burst.
 I must speak and find relief;
 I must open my lips and reply.
 I will show partiality to no one,
 nor will I flatter any man;
 for if I were skilled in flattery,
 my Maker would soon take me away.

Job 33:1-7 SINCERITY OF CONCERN.

“But now, Job, listen to my words;
 pay attention to everything I say.
 I am about to open my mouth;
 my words are on the tip of my tongue.

¹Or Spirit ²Or many; or great

My words come from an upright heart;
 my lips sincerely speak what I know.
 The Spirit of God has made me;
 the breath of the Almighty gives me life.
 Answer me then, if you can;
 prepare yourself and confront me.
 I am just like you before God;
 I too have been taken from clay.
 No fear of me should alarm you,
 nor should my hand be heavy upon you.

WHERE JOB IS WRONG.

Job 33:8-13

“But you have said in my hearing—
 I heard the very words—
 ‘I am pure and without sin;
 I am clean and free from guilt.
 Yet God has found fault with me;
 he considers me his enemy.
 He fastens my feet in shackles;
 he keeps close watch on all my paths.’
 “But I tell you, in this you are not right, for God is greater than man.
 Why do you complain to him that he answers none of man’s words?”

HOW GOD SPEAKS.

Job
33:14-22

For God does speak—now one way, now another—though man may not perceive it.
 In a dream, in a vision of the night,
 when deep sleep falls on men
 as they slumber in their beds, he may speak in their ears and terrify them with warnings, to turn man from wrongdoing
 and keep him from pride, to preserve his soul from the pit,^w his life from perishing by the sword.^x
 Or a man may be chastened on a bed of pain with constant distress in his bones, so that his very being finds food repulsive and his soul loathes the choicest meal.
 His flesh wastes away to nothing,
 and his bones, once hidden, now stick out.
 His soul draws near to the pit,^y and his life to the messengers of death.^z

INTERVENTION OF ANGELS.

Job
33:23-28

“Yet if there is an angel on his side

^wOr that he does not answer for any of his actions from crossing the River ^xOr preserve him from the grave ^yOr He draws near to the grave ^zOr to the dead as a mediator, one out of a thousand,

to tell a man what is right for him,
to be gracious to him and say,
'Spare him from going down to the pit^a ;
I have found a ransom for him'— then his flesh is renewed like a child's;
it is restored as in the days of his youth.
He prays to God and finds favor with him,
he sees God's face and shouts for joy;
he is restored by God to his righteous state.
Then he comes to men and says,
'I sinned, and perverted what was right,
but I did not get what I deserved.
He redeemed my soul from going down to the pit,^b and I will live to enjoy the light.'

Job
33:29,30

A REASON FOR SUFFERING.

"God does all these things to a man—twice, even three times—to turn back his soul from the pit,^c that the light of life may shine on him.

Job
33:31-34:4

PLEA FOR ATTENTION.

"Pay attention, Job, and listen to me;
be silent, and I will speak.
If you have anything to say, answer me;
speak up, for I want you to be cleared.
But if not, then listen to me;
be silent, and I will teach you wisdom."
Then Elihu said:

"Hear my words, you wise men;
listen to me, you men of learning.
For the ear tests words
as the tongue tastes food.
Let us discern for ourselves what is right;
let us learn together what is good.

Job 34:5-9

JOB'S BASIC POSITION.

"Job says, 'I am innocent,
but God denies me justice.
Although I am right,
I am considered a liar;
although I am guiltless,
his arrow inflicts an incurable wound.'
What man is like Job,
who drinks scorn like water?
He keeps company with evildoers;
he associates with wicked men.

^aOr grave

^bOr redeemed me from going down to the grave

^cOr turn him back from the

For he says, 'It profits a man nothing when he tries to please God.'

ALMIGHTY IS JUST.

Job
34:10-20

"So listen to me, you men of understanding.
Far be it from God to do evil,
from the Almighty to do wrong.
He repays a man for what he has done;
he brings upon him what his conduct deserves.
It is unthinkable that God would do wrong,
that the Almighty would pervert justice.
Who appointed him over the earth?
Who put him in charge of the whole world?
If it were his intention and he withdrew his spirit^d and breath, all mankind would perish together and man would return to the dust.

"If you have understanding, hear this;
listen to what I say.
Can he who hates justice govern?
Will you condemn the just and mighty One?
Is he not the One who says to kings, 'You are worthless,' and to nobles, 'You are wicked,' who shows no partiality to princes and does not favor the rich over the poor, for they are all the work of his hands?
They die in an instant, in the middle of the night;
the people are shaken and they pass away;
the mighty are removed without human hand.

GOD SEES WICKEDNESS.

Job
34:21-30

"His eyes are on the ways of men;
he sees their every step.
There is no dark place, no deep shadow,
where evildoers can hide.
God has no need to examine men further,
that they should come before him for judgment.
Without inquiry he shatters the mighty and sets up others in their place.
Because he takes note of their deeds,
he overthrows them in the night and they are crushed.
He punishes them for their wickedness where everyone can see them, because they turned from following him
and had no regard for any of his ways.
They caused the cry of the poor to come before him,
so that he heard the cry of the needy.
But if he remains silent, who can condemn him?
If he hides his face, who can see him?

^dOr Spirit

Yet he is over man and nation alike, to keep a godless man from ruling,
from laying snares for the people.

Job
34:31-33

NOMINAL REPENTANCE.

“Suppose a man says to God,
‘I am guilty but will offend no more.
Teach me what I cannot see;
if I have done wrong, I will not do so again.’
Should God then reward you on your terms, when you refuse to repent?
You must decide, not I;
so tell me what you know.

Job
34:34-37

JOB IS COMPOUNDING SINS.

“Men of understanding declare,
wise men who hear me say to me, ‘Job speaks without knowledge;
his words lack insight.’
Oh, that Job might be tested to the utmost for answering like a wicked man!
To his sin he adds rebellion;
scornfully he claps his hands among us and multiplies his words against God.”

Job 35:1-3

JOB ARGUES INCONSISTENTLY. Then Elihu said:

“Do you think this is just?
You say, ‘I will be cleared by God.^e’
Yet you ask him, ‘What profit is it to me,^f and what do I gain by not sinning?’

Job 35:4-8

SINS DO NOT AFFECT GOD.

“I would like to reply to you and to your friends with you.
Look up at the heavens and see;
gaze at the clouds so high above you.
If you sin, how does that affect him?
If your sins are many, what does that do to him?
If you are righteous, what do you give to him,
or what does he receive from your hand?
Your wickedness affects only a man like yourself, and your righteousness only the sons of men.

Job 35:9-16

TALKING TO GOD IS USELESS.

“Men cry out under a load of oppression;
they plead for relief from the arm of the powerful.
But no one says, ‘Where is God my Maker, who gives songs in the night,
who teaches more to us than to^g the beasts of the earth

^eOr My righteousness is more than God's ^fOr you ^gOr teaches us by and makes us wiser than^h the birds of the air?

 He does not answer when men cry out because of the arrogance of the wicked.
 Indeed, God does not listen to their empty plea;
 the Almighty pays no attention to it.
 How much less, then, will he listen when you say that you do not see him, that your case is before him
 and you must wait for him,
 and further, that his anger never punishes and he does not take the least notice of wickedness.ⁱ
 So Job opens his mouth with empty talk; without knowledge he multiplies words."

CLAIMED AUTHORITY. Elihu continued:

Job 36:1-4

"Bear with me a little longer and I will show you that there is more to be said in God's behalf.
 I get my knowledge from afar;
 I will ascribe justice to my Maker.
 Be assured that my words are not false;
 one perfect in knowledge is with you.

GOD RULES RATIONALLY.

Job 36:5-12

"God is mighty, but does not despise men;
 he is mighty, and firm in his purpose.
 He does not keep the wicked alive
 but gives the afflicted their rights.
 He does not take his eyes off the righteous;
 he enthrones them with kings and exalts them forever.
 But if men are bound in chains, held fast by cords of affliction,
 he tells them what they have done—
 that they have sinned arrogantly.
 He makes them listen to correction and commands them to repent of their evil.
 If they obey and serve him,
 they will spend the rest of their days in prosperity and their years in contentment.
 But if they do not listen, they will perish by the sword^j and die without knowledge.

GOD ANSWERS SUFFERERS.

Job
36:13-15

"The godless in heart harbor resentment;
 even when he fetters them, they do not cry for help.
 They die in their youth,
 among male prostitutes of the shrines.

Job
36:16-21

WARNING AGAINST WICKEDNESS.

“He is wooing you from the jaws of distress to a spacious place free from restriction, to the comfort of your table laden with choice food.
But now you are laden with the judgment due the wicked;
judgment and justice have taken hold of you.
Be careful that no one entices you by riches;
do not let a large bribe turn you aside.
Would your wealth
or even all your mighty efforts sustain you so you would not be in distress?
Do not long for the night, to drag people away from their homes.^k
Beware of turning to evil, which you seem to prefer to affliction.

Job
36:22-26

GOD’S GREATNESS.

“God is exalted in his power.
Who is a teacher like him?
Who has prescribed his ways for him,
or said to him, ‘You have done wrong’?
Remember to extol his work,
which men have praised in song.
All mankind has seen it;
men gaze on it from afar.
How great is God—beyond our understanding!
The number of his years is past finding out.

Job
36:27-37:13

LIGHTNING-LIKE POWER.

“He draws up the drops of water, which distill as rain to the streams^l ;
the clouds pour down their moisture and abundant showers fall on mankind.
Who can understand how he spreads out the clouds,
how he thunders from his pavilion?
See how he scatters his lightning about him,
bathing the depths of the sea.
This is the way he governs^m the nations and provides food in abundance.
He fills his hands with lightning and commands it to strike its mark.
His thunder announces the coming storm;
even the cattle make known its approach.”
“At this my heart pounds and leaps from its place.

Listen! Listen to the roar of his voice, to the rumbling that comes from his mouth.
 He unleashes his lightning beneath the whole heaven and sends it to the ends of the earth.
 After that comes the sound of his roar;
 he thunders with his majestic voice.
 When his voice resounds,
 he holds nothing back.
 God's voice thunders in marvelous ways;
 he does great things beyond our understanding.
 He says to the snow, 'Fall on the earth,' and to the rain shower, 'Be a mighty downpour.'
 So that all men he has made may know his work, he stops every man from his labor.^o
 The animals take cover;
 they remain in their dens.
 The tempest comes out from its chamber,

 The breath of God produces ice,
 and the broad waters become frozen.
 He loads the clouds with moisture;
 he scatters his lightning through them.
 At his direction they swirl around over the face of the whole earth to do whatever he commands them.
 He brings the clouds to punish men,
 or to water his earth^o and show his love.

Job
 37:14-18

"Listen to this, Job;
 stop and consider God's wonders.
 Do you know how God controls the clouds and makes his lightning flash?
 Do you know how the clouds hang poised,
 those wonders of him who is perfect in knowledge?
 You who swelter in your clothes
 when the land lies hushed under the south wind, can you join him in spreading out the skies,

Job
 37:19-24

 Should he be told that I want to speak?
 Would any man ask to be swallowed up?

 Out of the north he comes in golden splendor;
 God comes in awesome majesty.

The Lord

Job 38:1-3 GOD'S TURN TO QUESTION. Then the LORD answered Job out of the storm.

He said:

"Who is this that darkens my counsel with words without knowledge?
Brace yourself like a man;
I will question you,
and you shall answer me.

Job 38:4-15 WHAT POWER DO YOU HAVE?

"Where were you when I laid the earth's foundation?
Tell me, if you understand.
Who marked off its dimensions? Surely you know!
Who stretched a measuring line across it?
On what were its footings set,
or who laid its cornerstone—while the morning stars sang together and all the angels^r shouted for joy?

"Have you ever given orders to the morning,
or shown the dawn its place,

and their upraised arm is broken.

but they cannot compare with the pinions and feathers of the stork.
She lays her eggs on the ground and lets them warm in the sand, unmindful that a foot may crush them,
that some wild animal may trample them.
She treats her young harshly, as if they were not hers;
she cares not that her labor was in vain,

for God did not endow her with wisdom or give her a share of good sense.
Yet when she spreads her feathers to run,
she laughs at horse and rider.

“Do you give the horse his strength or clothe his neck with a flowing mane?
Do you make him leap like a locust, striking terror with his proud snorting?
He paws fiercely, rejoicing in his strength,
and charges into the fray.
He laughs at fear, afraid of nothing;
he does not shy away from the sword.
The quiver rattles against his side,
along with the flashing spear and lance.
In frenzied excitement he eats up the ground;
he cannot stand still when the trumpet sounds.
At the blast of the trumpet he snorts, ‘Aha!’
He catches the scent of battle from afar,
the shout of commanders and the battle cry.

“Does the hawk take flight by your wisdom and spread his wings toward the south?
Does the eagle soar at your command and build his nest on high?
He dwells on a cliff and stays there at night;
a rocky crag is his stronghold.
From there he seeks out his food;
his eyes detect it from afar.
His young ones feast on blood, and where the slain are, there is he.”

RESPONSE DEMANDED. The LORD said to Job: Job 40:1,2

“Will the one who contends with the Almighty correct him?
Let him who accuses God answer him!”

JOB IS DUMBFUNDED. Then Job answered the LORD: Job 40:3-5

“I am unworthy—how can I reply to you?
I put my hand over my mouth.
I spoke once, but I have no answer—

MORE QUESTIONS. Then the LORD spoke to Job out of the storm: Job 40:6,7

 His bones are tubes of bronze, his limbs like rods of iron.
 He ranks first among the works of God,
 yet his Maker can approach him with his sword.
 The hills bring him their produce,
 and all the wild animals play nearby.
 Under the lotus plants he lies,

 If you lay a hand on him,

 the mere sight of him is overpowering.
 No one is fierce enough to rouse him.
 Who then is able to stand against me?
 Who has a claim against me that I must pay?
 Everything under heaven belongs to me.

"I will not fail to speak of his limbs,

 Firebrands stream from his mouth;

 and flames dart from his mouth.
 Strength resides in his neck;
 dismay goes before him.
 The folds of his flesh are tightly joined;

 When he rises up, the mighty are terrified;
 they retreat before his thrashing.
 The sword that reaches him has no effect,
 nor does the spear or the dart or the javelin.
 Iron he treats like straw and bronze like rotten wood.
 Arrows do not make him flee;
 slingstones are like chaff to him.
 A club seems to him but a piece of straw;
 he laughs at the rattling of the lance.
 His undersides are jagged potsherds, leaving a trail in the mud like a threshing sledge.
 He makes the depths churn like a boiling caldron and stirs up the sea like a pot of ointment.

^cOr His pride is his

Behind him he leaves a glistening wake;
 one would think the deep had white hair.
 Nothing on earth is his equal—a creature without fear.
 He looks down on all that are haughty;
 he is king over all that are proud.”

Job 42:1 JOB’S REPLY. Then Job replied to the LORD:

Job 42:2,3 JOB’S CONFESSION.

“I know that you can do all things;
 no plan of yours can be thwarted.
 You asked, ‘Who is this that obscures my counsel without knowledge?’
 Surely I spoke of things I did not understand, things too wonderful for me to know.

Job 42:4-6 JOB’S REPENTANCE.

“You said, ‘Listen now, and I will speak;
 I will question you,
 and you shall answer me.’
 My ears had heard of you but now my eyes have seen you.
 Therefore I despise myself and repent in dust and ashes.”

Job 42:7-9 JOB’S FRIENDS REBUKED. After the LORD had said these things to Job, he said to Eliphaz the Temanite, “I am angry with you and your two friends, because you have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has. So now take seven bulls and seven rams and go to my servant Job and sacrifice a burnt offering for yourselves. My servant Job will pray for you, and I will accept his prayer and not deal with you according to your folly. You have not spoken of me what is right, as my servant Job has.” So Eliphaz the Temanite, Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite did what the LORD told them; and the LORD accepted Job’s prayer.

Job 42:10-17 JOB’S PROSPERITY RESTORED. After Job had prayed for his friends, the LORD made him prosperous again and gave him twice as much as he had before. All his brothers and sisters and everyone who had known him before came and ate with him in his house. They comforted and consoled him over all the trouble the LORD had brought upon him, and each one gave him a piece of silver^d and a gold ring.

The LORD blessed the latter part of Job’s life more than the first. He had fourteen thousand sheep, six thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen and a thousand donkeys. And he also had seven sons and three daughters. The first daughter he named Jemimah, the second Keziah and the third Keren-Happuch. Nowhere in all the land were there found women as beautiful as Job’s daughters, and their father granted them an inheritance along with their brothers.

After this, Job lived a hundred and forty years; he saw his children and their children to the fourth generation. And so he died, old and full of years.

Even in this literary masterpiece, one does not find all the answers one might wish. But that in itself is part of what Job learned. In this life man will never know all of God's wisdom, and in some respects is not even in a position to ask the question "Why?" But some things are made clear from Job's confrontation. First, although it is not always readily noticeable, the wicked will one day come to judgment. Second, the notion that suffering is always the result of sin is totally destroyed. And finally, man is in no position to justify his own situation by accusing God of injustice.

As Job himself points out, these theological niceties are not likely to stop the tears of one who is languishing in captivity, or suffering persecution, or writhing in pain from a cruel disease. But they do challenge God's people in exile to recognize with humility the sovereignty of God, and to trust that in his wisdom there truly is a time and purpose for all things, including adversity and suffering. Whether or not it is apparent, God is working in the life of each individual, as well as in the lives of nations, to bring his people into a closer relationship with him, and thereby into greater harmony within themselves and with each other. ☞

Psalms of a People in Exile

Many of the sentiments expressed by Job are the same feelings contained within a number of psalms written about the people of Israel in exile. Like Job, the people have fallen from prosperity into shame. Like Job, they are facing ridicule and even death. Their prayers in the midst of captivity and exile reveal a people reflecting seriously upon their predicament and the sins which brought it about. Confession is a central theme, and hope for deliverance is their prayer. The following ten psalms expose the agonizing loneliness of not only these captives but anyone who has ever awakened to the harsh realization that he or she is in spiritual exile.

Confession of national sin and prayer for restoration.

Psa. 44

For the director of music. Of the Sons of Korah. A maskil.^c

We have heard with our ears, O God;
 our fathers have told us
 what you did in their days,
 in days long ago.
 With your hand you drove out the nations and planted our fathers;
 you crushed the peoples and made our fathers flourish.
 It was not by their sword that they won the land,
 nor did their arm bring them victory;
 it was your right hand, your arm,

^cTitle: Probably a literary or musical term and the light of your face, for you loved them.

You are my King and my God,
 who decrees^f victories for Jacob.
 Through you we push back our enemies;
 through your name we trample our foes.
 I do not trust in my bow,
 my sword does not bring me victory;
 but you give us victory over our enemies,
 you put our adversaries to shame.
 In God we make our boast all day long,
 and we will praise your name forever.

Selah

But now you have rejected and humbled us;
 you no longer go out with our armies.
 You made us retreat before the enemy,
 and our adversaries have plundered us.
 You gave us up to be devoured like sheep and have scattered us among the nations.
 You sold your people for a pittance, gaining nothing from their sale.

You have made us a reproach to our neighbors,
 the scorn and derision of those around us.
 You have made us a byword among the nations;
 the peoples shake their heads at us.
 My disgrace is before me all day long,
 and my face is covered with shame
 at the taunts of those who reproach and revile me, because of the enemy, who is bent on revenge.

All this happened to us,
 though we had not forgotten you or been false to your covenant.
 Our hearts had not turned back;
 our feet had not strayed from your path.
 But you crushed us and made us a haunt for jackals and covered us over with deep darkness.

If we had forgotten the name of our God or spread out our hands to a foreign god, would not God have discovered it,
 since he knows the secrets of the heart?
 Yet for your sake we face death all day long;
 we are considered as sheep to be slaughtered.

Awake, O Lord! Why do you sleep?
 Rouse yourself! Do not reject us forever.
 Why do you hide your face
 and forget our misery and oppression?

We are brought down to the dust;
 our bodies cling to the ground.

^fSeptuagint, Aquila and Syriac; Hebrew King, O God; I command

Rise up and help us;

Prayer for God to use limitless power to restore the people.

Psa. 74

A maskil^s of Asaph.

Why have you rejected us forever, O God?
Why does your anger smolder against the sheep of your pasture?

Remember the people you purchased of old,
the tribe of your inheritance, whom you redeemed—
Mount Zion, where you dwelt.

Turn your steps toward these everlasting ruins, all this destruction the enemy has brought on the sanctuary.

Your foes roared in the place where you met with us;
they set up their standards as signs.

They behaved like men wielding axes to cut through a thicket of trees.

They smashed all the carved paneling with their axes and hatchets.

They burned your sanctuary to the ground;
they defiled the dwelling place of your Name.

They said in their hearts, "We will crush them completely!"
They burned every place where God was worshiped in the land.

We are given no miraculous signs;
no prophets are left,
and none of us knows how long this will be.

How long will the enemy mock you, O God?
Will the foe revile your name forever?

Why do you hold back your hand, your right hand?
Take it from the folds of your garment and destroy them!

But you, O God, are my king from of old;
you bring salvation upon the earth.

It was you who split open the sea by your power;
you broke the heads of the monster in the waters.

It was you who crushed the heads of Leviathan and gave him as food to the creatures of the desert.

It was you who opened up springs and streams;
you dried up the ever flowing rivers.

The day is yours, and yours also the night;
you established the sun and moon.

It was you who set all the boundaries of the earth;
you made both summer and winter.

Remember how the enemy has mocked you, O LORD,
how foolish people have reviled your name.
Do not hand over the life of your dove to wild beasts;
do not forget the lives of your afflicted people forever.

^sTitle: Probably a literary or musical term

Have regard for your covenant, because haunts of violence fill the dark places of the land.
Do not let the oppressed retreat in disgrace;
may the poor and needy praise your name.

Rise up, O God, and defend your cause;
remember how fools mock you all day long.
Do not ignore the clamor of your adversaries,
the uproar of your enemies, which rises continually.

Psa. 79

When will God hear the captives' cry and repay enemies?

A psalm of Asaph.

O God, the nations have invaded your inheritance;
they have defiled your holy temple,
they have reduced Jerusalem to rubble.
They have given the dead bodies of your servants as food to the birds of the air, the flesh of your saints to the beasts of the earth.
They have poured out blood like water
all around Jerusalem,
and there is no one to bury the dead.
We are objects of reproach to our neighbors,
of scorn and derision to those around us.

How long, O LORD? Will you be angry forever?
How long will your jealousy burn like fire?
Pour out your wrath on the nations
that do not acknowledge you, on the kingdoms
that do not call on your name;
for they have devoured Jacob
and destroyed his homeland.
Do not hold against us the sins of the fathers;
may your mercy come quickly to meet us,
for we are in desperate need.

Help us, O God our Savior,
for the glory of your name;
deliver us and forgive our sins
for your name's sake.
Why should the nations say,
"Where is their God?"
Before our eyes, make known among the nations that you avenge the outpoured blood of your servants.
May the groans of the prisoners come before you;
by the strength of your arm preserve those condemned to die.

Pay back into the laps of our neighbors seven times
the reproach they have hurled at you, O Lord.
Then we your people, the sheep of your pasture,
will praise you forever;
from generation to generation
we will recount your praise.

Prayer for restoration of the vine brought out of Egypt.

Psa. 80

For the director of music. To [the tune of] "The Lilies of the Covenant." Of Asaph. A psalm.

Hear us, O Shepherd of Israel,
 you who lead Joseph like a flock;
 you who sit enthroned between the cherubim, shine forth before Ephraim, Benjamin and Manasseh.
 Awaken your might;
 come and save us.

Restore us, O God;
 make your face shine upon us,
 that we may be saved.

O LORD God Almighty,
 how long will your anger smolder against the prayers of your people?
 You have fed them with the bread of tears;
 you have made them drink tears by the bowlful.
 You have made us a source of contention to our neighbors,
 and our enemies mock us.

Restore us, O God Almighty;
 make your face shine upon us,
 that we may be saved.

You brought a vine out of Egypt;
 you drove out the nations and planted it.
 You cleared the ground for it,
 and it took root and filled the land.
 The mountains were covered with its shade,
 the mighty cedars with its branches.
 It sent out its boughs to the Sea,^h its shoots as far as the River.ⁱ

Why have you broken down its walls
 so that all who pass by pick its grapes?
 Boars from the forest ravage it and the creatures of the field feed on it.
 Return to us, O God Almighty!
 Look down from heaven and see!

Watch over this vine,
 the root your right hand has planted,
 the sonⁱ you have raised up for yourself.

Your vine is cut down, it is burned with fire;
 at your rebuke your people perish.
 Let your hand rest on the man at your right hand,

 Then we will not turn away from you;
 revive us, and we will call on your name.

Psa. 85 Restoration must be accompanied by righteousness.

For the director of music. Of the Sons of Korah. A psalm.

You showed favor to your land, O LORD;
you restored the fortunes of Jacob.

You forgave the iniquity of your people and covered all their sins.

Selah

You set aside all your wrath and turned from your fierce anger.

Restore us again, O God our Savior, and put away your displeasure toward us.

Will you be angry with us forever?

Will you prolong your anger through all generations?

Will you not revive us again,
that your people may rejoice in you?

Show us your unfailing love, O LORD, and grant us your salvation.

I will listen to what God the LORD will say;
he promises peace to his people, his saints—
but let them not return to folly.

Surely his salvation is near those who fear him,
that his glory may dwell in our land.

Love and faithfulness meet together;
righteousness and peace kiss each other.

Faithfulness springs forth from the earth,

 when its waves mount up, you still them.
 You crushed Rahab like one of the slain;
 with your strong arm you scattered your enemies.
 The heavens are yours, and yours also the earth;
 you founded the world and all that is in it.
 You created the north and the south;
 Tabor and Hermon sing for joy at your name.
 Your arm is endued with power;
 your hand is strong, your right hand exalted.

Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne;
 love and faithfulness go before you.
 Blessed are those who have learned to acclaim you,
 who walk in the light of your presence, O LORD.
 They rejoice in your name all day long;
 they exult in your righteousness.
 For you are their glory and strength, and by your favor you exalt our horn.^l
 Indeed, our shield^m belongs to the LORD, our king to the Holy One of Israel.

Once you spoke in a vision,
 to your faithful people you said:
 "I have bestowed strength on a warrior;
 I have exalted a young man from among the people.
 I have found David my servant;
 with my sacred oil I have anointed him.
 My hand will sustain him;
 surely my arm will strengthen him.
 No enemy will subject him to tribute;
 no wicked man will oppress him.
 I will crush his foes before him and strike down his adversaries.
 My faithful love will be with him,
 and through my name his hornⁿ will be exalted.
 I will set his hand over the sea,
 his right hand over the rivers.
 He will call out to me, 'You are my Father,
 my God, the Rock my Savior.'
 I will also appoint him my firstborn, the most exalted of the kings of the earth.

^lHorn here symbolizes strong one.

^mOr sovereign

ⁿHorn here symbolizes strength.

I will maintain my love to him forever,
 and my covenant with him will never fail.
 I will establish his line forever,
 his throne as long as the heavens endure.

“If his sons forsake my law and do not follow my statutes, if they violate my decrees and fail to keep my commands,
 I will punish their sin with the rod,
 their iniquity with flogging;
 but I will not take my love from him,
 nor will I ever betray my faithfulness.
 I will not violate my covenant or alter what my lips have uttered.
 Once for all, I have sworn by my holiness—and I will not lie to David—that his line will continue forever and his throne endure before me like the sun;
 it will be established forever like the moon,
 the faithful witness in the sky.”

Selah

But you have rejected, you have spurned, you have been very angry with your anointed one.
 You have renounced the covenant with your servant and have defiled his crown in the dust.
 You have broken through all his walls and reduced his strongholds to ruins.
 All who pass by have plundered him;
 he has become the scorn of his neighbors.
 You have exalted the right hand of his foes;
 you have made all his enemies rejoice.
 You have turned back the edge of his sword and have not supported him in battle.
 You have put an end to his splendor and cast his throne to the ground.
 You have cut short the days of his youth;
 you have covered him with a mantle of shame.

Selah

How long, O LORD? Will you hide yourself forever?
 How long will your wrath burn like fire?
 Remember how fleeting is my life.

For what futility you have created all men!
 What man can live and not see death,
 or save himself from the power of the grave^o ?

Selah

O Lord, where is your former great love, which in your faithfulness you swore to David?
 Remember, Lord, how your servant has^p been mocked, how I bear in my heart the taunts of all the nations,
 the taunts with which your enemies have mocked, O LORD, ^oHebrew Sheol ^pOr your servants have with which they have mocked every step of your anointed one.

Praise be to the LORD forever!

Amen and Amen.

Nation's prayer is like that of an afflicted man.

Psa. 102

A prayer of an afflicted man. When he is faint and pours out his lament before the LORD.

Hear my prayer, O LORD;
let my cry for help come to you.

Do not hide your face from me when I am in distress.

Turn your ear to me;
when I call, answer me quickly.

For my days vanish like smoke;
my bones burn like glowing embers.
My heart is blighted and withered like grass;
I forget to eat my food.

Because of my loud groaning
I am reduced to skin and bones.

I am like a desert owl,
like an owl among the ruins.

I lie awake; I have become like a bird alone on a roof.

All day long my enemies taunt me;
those who rail against me use my name as a curse.

For I eat ashes as my food and mingle my drink with tears because of your great wrath, for you have taken me up and thrown me aside.

My days are like the evening shadow;
I wither away like grass.

But you, O LORD, sit enthroned forever;
your renown endures through all generations.

You will arise and have compassion on Zion, for it is time to show favor to her;
the appointed time has come.

For her stones are dear to your servants;
her very dust moves them to pity.

The nations will fear the name of the LORD,
all the kings of the earth will revere your glory.

For the LORD will rebuild Zion and appear in his glory.

He will respond to the prayer of the destitute;
he will not despise their plea.

Let this be written for a future generation, that a people not yet created may praise the LORD:
"The LORD looked down from his sanctuary on high,
from heaven he viewed the earth, to hear the groans of the prisoners and release those condemned to death.”

So the name of the LORD will be declared in Zion and his praise in Jerusalem when the peoples and the kingdoms assemble to worship the LORD.

In the course of my life^a he broke my strength;
he cut short my days.

So I said:

“Do not take me away, O my God, in the midst of my days;

your years go on through all generations.
In the beginning you laid the foundations of the earth,
and the heavens are the work of your hands.

They will perish, but you remain;
they will all wear out like a garment.

Like clothing you will change them and they will be discarded.

But you remain the same,
and your years will never end.

The children of your servants will live in your presence;
their descendants will be established before you.”

Psa. 106

Israel's history and prayer for people's return.

Praise the LORD.^r

Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
his love endures forever.

Who can proclaim the mighty acts of the LORD or fully declare his praise?

Blessed are they who maintain justice, who constantly do what is right.

Remember me, O LORD, when you show favor to your people,

come to my aid when you save them,
that I may enjoy the prosperity of your chosen ones, that I may share in the joy of your nation and join your inheritance in giving praise.

We have sinned, even as our fathers did;
we have done wrong and acted wickedly.

When our fathers were in Egypt,
they gave no thought to your miracles;
they did not remember your many kindnesses,
and they rebelled by the sea, the Red Sea.^s

Yet he saved them for his name's sake, to make his mighty power known.

He rebuked the Red Sea, and it dried up;
he led them through the depths as through a desert.

^aOr By his power

^rHebrew Hallelu Yah

^sHebrew Yam Suph; that is, Sea of Reeds

He saved them from the hand of the foe;
from the hand of the enemy he redeemed them.
The waters covered their adversaries;
not one of them survived.
Then they believed his promises and sang his praise.

But they soon forgot what he had done and did not wait for his counsel.
In the desert they gave in to their craving;
in the wasteland they put God to the test.
So he gave them what they asked for,
but sent a wasting disease upon them.

In the camp they grew envious of Moses and of Aaron, who was consecrated to the LORD.
The earth opened up and swallowed Dathan;
it buried the company of Abiram.
Fire blazed among their followers;
a flame consumed the wicked.

At Horeb they made a calf and worshiped an idol cast from metal.
They exchanged their Glory
for an image of a bull, which eats grass.
They forgot the God who saved them,
who had done great things in Egypt, miracles in the land of Ham and awesome deeds by the Red Sea.
So he said he would destroy them—had not Moses, his chosen one, stood in the breach before him
to keep his wrath from destroying them.

Then they despised the pleasant land;
they did not believe his promise.
They grumbled in their tents and did not obey the LORD.
So he swore to them with uplifted hand that he would make them fall in the desert, make their descendants fall among the nations and scatter them throughout the lands.

They yoked themselves to the Baal of Peor and ate sacrifices offered to lifeless gods;
they provoked the LORD to anger by their wicked deeds,
and a plague broke out among them.
But Phinehas stood up and intervened,
and the plague was checked.
This was credited to him as righteousness for endless generations to come.

By the waters of Meribah they angered the LORD, and trouble came to Moses because of them;
for they rebelled against the Spirit of God, and rash words came from Moses' lips.¹

They did not destroy the peoples
as the LORD had commanded them, but they mingled with the nations and adopted their customs.
They worshiped their idols,
which became a snare to them.
They sacrificed their sons and their daughters to demons.
They shed innocent blood,
the blood of their sons and daughters,
whom they sacrificed to the idols of Canaan,
and the land was desecrated by their blood.
They defiled themselves by what they did;
by their deeds they prostituted themselves.

Therefore the LORD was angry with his people and abhorred his inheritance.
He handed them over to the nations,
and their foes ruled over them.
Their enemies oppressed them
and subjected them to their power.
Many times he delivered them,
but they were bent on rebellion and they wasted away in their sin.

But he took note of their distress
when he heard their cry;
for their sake he remembered his covenant and out of his great love he relented.
He caused them to be pitied
by all who held them captive.

Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from the nations, that we may give thanks to your holy name
and glory in your praise.

Praise be to the LORD, the God of Israel,
from everlasting to everlasting.
Let all the people say, "Amen!"

Praise the LORD.

Psa. 123 Prayer for mercy.

A song of ascents.

I lift up my eyes to you,
to you whose throne is in heaven.
As the eyes of slaves look to the hand of their master,
as the eyes of a maid look to the hand of her mistress,
so our eyes look to the LORD our God, till he shows us his mercy.

¹Or against his spirit, / and rash words came from his lips

Have mercy on us, O LORD, have mercy on us, for we have endured much contempt.
We have endured much ridicule from the proud,
much contempt from the arrogant.

Lament in Babylon.

Psa. 137

By the rivers of Babylon we sat and wept
when we remembered Zion.
There on the poplars
we hung our harps,
for there our captors asked us for songs,
our tormentors demanded songs of joy;
they said, "Sing us one of the songs of Zion!"

How can we sing the songs of the LORD
while in a foreign land?
If I forget you, O Jerusalem, may my right hand forget its skill,
May my tongue cling to the roof of my mouth
if I do not remember you,
if I do not consider Jerusalem
my highest joy.

Remember, O LORD, what the Edomites did on the day Jerusalem fell.
"Tear it down," they cried,
"tear it down to its foundations!"

O Daughter of Babylon, doomed to destruction, happy is he who repays you for what you have done to us—he who seizes your infants and dashes them against the rocks.

Daniel's Apocalyptic Visions

It has been perhaps ten to twelve years since anything has been heard from Daniel, God's captive servant who was put into the service of King Nebuchadnezzar as a young man. During this time Daniel had achieved great respect in the royal palace, primarily due to his successful interpretation of various dreams and riddles. Now in his later years, Daniel has served a succession of Babylonian leaders. After Nebuchadnezzar came his son, Evil-Merodach, who reigned only about two years (ca. 561-559 B.C.) before being assassinated by his brother-in-law, Neriglissar. Neriglissar ruled for four years (ca. 559-555 B.C.). His reign was followed very briefly by Labashi-Marduk (ca. 555 B.C.) before a usurper named Nabonidus took the throne (ca. 555 B.C.). Although Nabonidus will technically be the ruler of Babylonia until about 539 B.C., he earlier removed himself to northern Arabia when he was strongly opposed by priests of Marduk, who objected to his introduction of the moon-god, Sin. In 552 B.C. his son Belshazzar became a co-regent and now rules the rapidly declining empire.

During the first and third years of Belshazzar's rule, Daniel has two of the most amazing prophetic dreams since Ezekiel's vision of the great battle against Gog and the hordes of evil. Interestingly, there are events and characters in Daniel's dreams which seem to correspond with things Ezekiel saw in his great temple vision. The first dream shows four beasts which, as Daniel is told, represent the four kingdoms prior to the kingdom of the Most High. The second dream pictures a battle between a ram and a goat. It apparently has to do with the time when one will challenge the Prince of Princes.

Various themes are evident. Throughout the universe, just as between warring nations, there is an ongoing battle between the forces of good and evil, between God and Satan, between justice and injustice, between morality and immorality. And the same battle is waged within every individual. While evil brings about its own destruction even now, there will come a time when the great destruction of evil and its champions will take place. It will be a final destruction, giving way to a permanent state of peace and righteousness in the eternal kingdom of God.

Dan.

(592 B.C.)

DREAM OF FOUR BEASTS. In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel had a dream, and visions passed through his mind as he was lying on his bed. He wrote down the substance of his dream.

Daniel said: "In my vision at night I looked, and there before me were the four winds of heaven churning up the great sea. Four great beasts, each different from the others, came up out of the sea.

"The first was like a lion, and it had the wings of an eagle. I watched until its wings were torn off and it was lifted from the ground so that it stood on two feet like a man, and the heart of a man was given to it.

"And there before me was a second beast, which looked like a bear. It was raised up on one of its sides, and it had three ribs in its mouth between its teeth. It was told, 'Get up and eat your fill of flesh!'

"After that, I looked, and there before me was another beast, one that looked like a leopard. And on its back it had four wings like those of a bird. This beast had four heads, and it was given authority to rule.

"After that, in my vision at night I looked, and there before me was a fourth beast—terrifying and frightening and very powerful. It had large iron teeth; it crushed and devoured its victims and trampled underfoot whatever was left. It was different from all the former beasts, and it had ten horns.

"While I was thinking about the horns, there before me was another horn, a little one, which came up among them; and three of the first horns were uprooted before it. This horn had eyes like the eyes of a man and a mouth that spoke boastfully.

"As I looked,

"thrones were set in place,
and the Ancient of Days took his seat.
His clothing was as white as snow;
the hair of his head was white like wool.
His throne was flaming with fire,
and its wheels were all ablaze.
A river of fire was flowing,
coming out from before him.

Thousands upon thousands attended him;
 ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him.
 The court was seated,
 and the books were opened.

"Then I continued to watch because of the boastful words the horn was speaking. I kept looking until the beast was slain and its body destroyed and thrown into the blazing fire. (The other beasts had been stripped of their authority, but were allowed to live for a period of time.)

"In my vision at night I looked, and there before me was one like a son of man, coming with the clouds of heaven. He approached the Ancient of Days and was led into his presence. He was given authority, glory and sovereign power; all peoples, nations and men of every language worshipped him. His dominion is an everlasting dominion that will not pass away, and his kingdom is one that will never be destroyed.

THE INTERPRETATION. "I, Daniel, was troubled in spirit, and the visions that passed through my mind disturbed me. I approached one of those standing there and asked him the true meaning of all this.

Dan.
7:15-18

"So he told me and gave me the interpretation of these things: 'The four great beasts are four kingdoms that will rise from the earth. But the saints of the Most High will receive the kingdom and will possess it forever—yes, for ever and ever.'

DANIEL'S FURTHER QUESTIONS. "Then I wanted to know the true meaning of the fourth beast, which was different from all the others and most terrifying, with its iron teeth and bronze claws—the beast that crushed and devoured its victims and trampled underfoot whatever was left. I also wanted to know about the ten horns on its head and about the other horn that came up, before which three of them fell—the horn that looked more imposing than the others and that had eyes and a mouth that spoke boastfully. As I watched, this horn was waging war against the saints and defeating them, until the Ancient of Days came and pronounced judgment in favor of the saints of the Most High, and the time came when they possessed the kingdom.

Dan.
7:19-22

FURTHER EXPLANATION. "He gave me this explanation: 'The fourth beast is a fourth kingdom that will appear on earth. It will be different from all the other kingdoms and will devour the whole earth, trampling it down and crushing it. The ten horns are ten kings who will come from this kingdom. After them another king will arise, different from the earlier ones; he will subdue three kings. He will speak against the Most High and oppress his saints and try to change the set times and the laws. The saints will be handed over to him for a time, times and half a time.'

Dan.
7:23-27

"'But the court will sit, and his power will be taken away and completely destroyed forever. Then the sovereignty, power and greatness of the kingdoms under the whole heaven will be handed over to the saints, the people of the Most High. His kingdom will be an everlasting kingdom, and all rulers will worship and obey him.'

DANIEL TROUBLED. "This is the end of the matter. I, Daniel, was deeply troubled by my thoughts, and my face turned pale, but I kept the matter to myself."

Dan. 7:28

"Or for a year, two years and half a year

VISION OF RAM AND GOAT. In the third year of King Belshazzar's reign, I, Daniel, had a vision, after the one that had already appeared to me. In my vision I saw myself in the citadel of Susa in the province of Elam; in the vision I was beside the Ulai Canal. I looked up, and there before me was a ram with two horns, standing beside the canal, and the horns were long. One of the horns was longer than the other but grew up later. I watched the ram as he charged toward the west and the north and the south. No animal could stand against him, and none could rescue from his power. He did as he pleased and became great.

As I was thinking about this, suddenly a goat with a prominent horn between his eyes came from the west, crossing the whole earth without touching the ground. He came toward the two-horned ram I had seen standing beside the canal and charged at him in great rage. I saw him attack the ram furiously, striking the ram and shattering his two horns. The ram was powerless to stand against him; the goat knocked him to the ground and trampled on him, and none could rescue the ram from his power. The goat became very great, but at the height of his power his large horn was broken off, and in its place four prominent horns grew up toward the four winds of heaven.

Out of one of them came another horn, which started small but grew in power to the south and to the east and toward the Beautiful Land. It grew until it reached the host of the heavens, and it threw some of the starry host down to the earth and trampled on them. It set itself up to be as great as the Prince of the host; it took away the daily sacrifice from him, and the place of his sanctuary was brought low. Because of rebellion, the host of the saints,^v and the daily sacrifice were given over to it. It prospered in everything it did, and truth was thrown to the ground.

Then I heard a holy one speaking, and another holy one said to him, "How long will it take for the vision to be fulfilled—the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, the rebellion that causes desolation, and the surrender of the sanctuary and of the host that will be trampled underfoot?"

He said to me, "It will take 2,300 evenings and mornings; then the sanctuary will be reconsecrated."

Dan.
8:15-26

INTERPRETATION GIVEN. While I, Daniel, was watching the vision and trying to understand it, there before me stood one who looked like a man. And I heard a man's voice from the Ulai calling, "Gabriel, tell this man the meaning of the vision."

As he came near the place where I was standing, I was terrified and fell prostrate. "Son of man," he said to me, "understand that the vision concerns the time of the end."

While he was speaking to me, I was in a deep sleep, with my face to the ground. Then he touched me and raised me to my feet.

He said: "I am going to tell you what will happen later in the time of wrath, because the vision concerns the appointed time of the end.^w The two-horned ram that you saw represents the kings of Media and Persia. The shaggy goat is the king of Greece, and the large horn between his eyes is the first king. The four horns that replaced the one that was broken off represent four kingdoms that will emerge from his nation but will not have the same power.

^vOr rebellion, the armies

^wOr because the end will be at the appointed time

"In the latter part of their reign, when rebels have become completely wicked, a stern-faced king, a master of intrigue, will arise. He will become very strong, but not by his own power. He will cause astounding devastation and will succeed in whatever he does. He will destroy the mighty men and the holy people. He will cause deceit to prosper, and he will consider himself superior. When they feel secure, he will destroy many and take his stand against the Prince of princes. Yet he will be destroyed, but not by human power.

"The vision of the evenings and mornings that has been given you is true, but seal up the vision, for it concerns the distant future."

DANIEL MYSTIFIED. I, Daniel, was exhausted and lay ill for several days. Then I got up and went about the king's business. I was appalled by the vision; it was beyond understanding. Dan. 8:27

Daniel himself did not know exactly what to make of all that he had seen, and any difficult questions which the visions may raise should not obscure the more obvious message of hope which the visions clearly bring.

The Writing on the Wall _____

Over the next seven years Daniel again slips into obscurity in Belshazzar's palace. Then, on the occasion of a great banquet at which there is excessive drunkenness, praise of lesser gods, and defilement of goblets taken from Solomon's temple, Belshazzar sees a finger writing something unintelligible on the wall. When Daniel is finally called to interpret it, the message is that Belshazzar's arrogance has cost him his life. As if to stave off God's judgment, Belshazzar elevates Daniel to the third-highest position in his government. But by the end of the night Belshazzar is dead.

BANQUET AND REVELRY. King Belshazzar gave a great banquet for a thousand of his nobles and drank wine with them. While Belshazzar was drinking his wine, he gave orders to bring in the gold and silver goblets that Nebuchadnezzar his father^x had taken from the temple in Jerusalem, so that the king and his nobles, his wives and his concubines might drink from them. So they brought in the gold goblets that had been taken from the temple of God in Jerusalem, and the king and his nobles, his wives and his concubines drank from them. As they drank the wine, they praised the gods of gold and silver, of bronze, iron, wood and stone. Dan. 5:1-4

WRITING ON WALL. Suddenly the fingers of a human hand appeared and wrote on the plaster of the wall, near the lampstand in the royal palace. The king watched the hand as it wrote. His face turned pale and he was so frightened that his knees knocked together and his legs gave way. Dan. 5:5,6

WISE MEN CANNOT INTERPRET. The king called out for the enchanters, astrologers^y and diviners to be brought and said to these wise men of Babylon, "Whoever reads this writing and tells me what it means will be clothed in purple and have a gold chain placed around his neck, and he will be made the third highest ruler in the kingdom." Dan. 5:7-9

^xOr ancestor; or predecessor

^yOr Chaldeans

Then all the king's wise men came in, but they could not read the writing or tell the king what it meant. So King Belshazzar became even more terrified and his face grew more pale. His nobles were baffled.

Dan.
5:10-16

DANIEL BROUGHT IN. The queen,^z hearing the voices of the king and his nobles, came into the banquet hall. "O king, live forever!" she said. "Don't be alarmed! Don't look so pale! There is a man in your kingdom who has the spirit of the holy gods in him. In the time of your father he was found to have insight and intelligence and wisdom like that of the gods. King Nebuchadnezzar your father—your father the king, I say—appointed him chief of the magicians, enchanters, astrologers and diviners. This man Daniel, whom the king called Belteshazzar, was found to have a keen mind and knowledge and understanding, and also the ability to interpret dreams, explain riddles and solve difficult problems. Call for Daniel, and he will tell you what the writing means."

So Daniel was brought before the king, and the king said to him, "Are you Daniel, one of the exiles my father the king brought from Judah? I have heard that the spirit of the gods is in you and that you have insight, intelligence and outstanding wisdom. The wise men and enchanters were brought before me to read this writing and tell me what it means, but they could not explain it. Now I have heard that you are able to give interpretations and to solve difficult problems. If you can read this writing and tell me what it means, you will be clothed in purple and have a gold chain placed around your neck, and you will be made the third highest ruler in the kingdom."

Dan.
5:17-23

REASON FOR WRITING. Then Daniel answered the king, "You may keep your gifts for yourself and give your rewards to someone else. Nevertheless, I will read the writing for the king and tell him what it means.

"O king, the Most High God gave your father Nebuchadnezzar sovereignty and greatness and glory and splendor. Because of the high position he gave him, all the peoples and nations and men of every language dreaded and feared him. Those the king wanted to put to death, he put to death; those he wanted to spare, he spared; those he wanted to promote, he promoted; and those he wanted to humble, he humbled. But when his heart became arrogant and hardened with pride, he was deposed from his royal throne and stripped of his glory. He was driven away from people and given the mind of an animal; he lived with the wild donkeys and ate grass like cattle; and his body was drenched with the dew of heaven, until he acknowledged that the Most High God is sovereign over the kingdoms of men and sets over them anyone he wishes.

"But you his son,^a O Belshazzar, have not humbled yourself, though you knew all this. Instead, you have set yourself up against the Lord of heaven. You had the goblets from his temple brought to you, and you and your nobles, your wives and your concubines drank wine from them. You praised the gods of silver and gold, of bronze, iron, wood and stone, which cannot see or hear or understand. But you did not honor the God who holds in his hand your life and all your ways.

Dan.
5:24-28

WRITING INTERPRETED. Therefore he sent the hand that wrote the inscription.

^zOr queen mother

^aOr descendant; or successor

"This is the inscription that was written:

MENE, MENE, TEKEL, PARSIN^b

"This is what these words mean:

Mene^c: God has numbered the days of your reign and brought it to an end.

Tekel^d: You have been weighed on the scales and found wanting.

Peres^e: Your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and Persians."

DANIEL ELEVATED. Then at Belshazzar's command, Daniel was clothed in purple, a gold chain was placed around his neck, and he was proclaimed the third highest ruler in the kingdom. Dan. 5:29

BELSHAZZAR KILLED. That very night Belshazzar, king of the Babylonians,^f was slain, and Darius the Mede took over the kingdom, at the age of sixty-two. Dan. 5:30,31

Who actually killed Belshazzar is not known, but presumably it was Darius the Mede. Yet that only compounds the issue, because the identity of Darius is itself unclear. He is definitely not the great Darius of Persia who will come to power some 20 years later. Most speculation centers on a man by the name of Gobryas (or Gubaru), who is sometimes identified as an ally of Cyrus and the governor of the Gutium peoples, who took Babylon from the Babylonians. Whoever he might actually be, this Darius the Mede will have control of the nation for about three years before he sees his own writing on the wall, as it were, and virtually hands Babylonia over to the ascending Persian Empire.

The Seventy "Sevens"

Sometime during the first year of Darius the Mede's reign, Daniel reads a copy of Jeremiah's prophecies. Evidently copies have been circulating among the exiles ever since Baruch penned the last words on the third scroll 20 years earlier. Daniel is particularly moved by the recitation of Israel's sins and the 70-year exile which Jeremiah predicted. Here in 542 B.C., 63 years have passed since Daniel and other exiles were taken in the first deportation, in 605 B.C. Realizing that the prophecy indicates still another seven years before the promised restoration is to begin, Daniel turns to God in prayer. Here now is his prayer in which he not only confesses his own sins, but also those of his fellow sons of Israel.

DANIEL READS JEREMIAH. In the first year of Darius son of Xerxes^g (a Mede by descent), who was made ruler over the Babylonian^h kingdom—in the first year of his reign, I, Daniel, understood from the Scriptures, according to the word of the LORD given to Jeremiah the prophet, that the desolation of Jerusalem would last seventy years. 9:3-19

DANIEL'S PRAYER. So I turned to the Lord God and pleaded with him in prayer and petition, in fasting, and in sackcloth and ashes.

I prayed to the LORD my God and confessed:

"O Lord, the great and awesome God, who keeps his covenant of love with all who love him and obey his commands, we have sinned and done wrong. We have been wicked and have rebelled; we have turned away from your commands and laws. We have not listened to your servants the prophets, who spoke in your name to our kings, our princes and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

"Lord, you are righteous, but this day we are covered with shame—the men of Judah and people of Jerusalem and all Israel, both near and far, in all the countries where you have scattered us because of our unfaithfulness to you. O LORD, we and our kings, our princes and our fathers are covered with shame because we have sinned against you. The Lord our God is merciful and forgiving, even though we have rebelled against him; we have not obeyed the LORD our God or kept the laws he gave us through his servants the prophets. All Israel has transgressed your law and turned away, refusing to obey you.

"Therefore the curses and sworn judgments written in the Law of Moses, the servant of God, have been poured out on us, because we have sinned against you. You have fulfilled the words spoken against us and against our rulers by bringing upon us great disaster. Under the whole heaven nothing has ever been done like what has been done to Jerusalem. Just as it is written in the Law of Moses, all this disaster has come upon us, yet we have not sought the favor of the LORD our God by turning from our sins and giving attention to your truth. The LORD did not hesitate to bring the disaster upon us, for the LORD our God is righteous in everything he does; yet we have not obeyed him.

"Now, O Lord our God, who brought your people out of Egypt with a mighty hand and who made for yourself a name that endures to this day, we have sinned, we have done wrong. O Lord, in keeping with all your righteous acts, turn away your anger and your wrath from Jerusalem, your city, your holy hill. Our sins and the iniquities of our fathers have made Jerusalem and your people an object of scorn to all those around us.

"Now, our God, hear the prayers and petitions of your servant. For your sake, O Lord, look with favor on your desolate sanctuary. Give ear, O God, and hear; open your eyes and see the desolation of the city that bears your Name. We do not make requests of you because we are righteous, but because of your great mercy. O Lord, listen! O Lord, forgive! O Lord, hear and act! For your sake, O my God, do not delay, because your city and your people bear your Name."

One of the most intriguing passages of all Scripture follows this account of Daniel's beautiful prayer of contrition. As Daniel is in his period of prayer, he is approached by the angel Gabriel, whom he recognizes from earlier visions. Gabriel brings a message about seventy "sevens," a message which apparently speaks in response to Daniel's concern about the restoration. There is general consensus that each "seven" represents a week of years—that is, seven years. From that point forward much discussion has ensued.

The first seven "sevens," or 49 years, may well have reference to the time it will take to rebuild the city of Jerusalem. But the particular decree setting that time period into motion is much debated in light of the various decrees which will issue concerning Jerusalem's reconstruction.

The second set of "sevens," the 62 "sevens," has apparent reference to the coming of the Messiah. (The Hebrew text says there are 69 "sevens," whereas the number used in most translations is 62, which may or may not simply be 69 less the first seven "sevens.") This would set the Messiah's coming at roughly 550 years from the time of Daniel.

As with the preceding weeks, the final week, or last seven years, has also been the subject of much discussion. Some believe it represents the beginning of the Messiah's church and the apostolic age. Others believe it foretells a seven-year period during which time God will reestablish Israel as his covenant people prior to the Messiah's second advent. What all agree on is the fact that God is working purposely in history on the behalf of his righteous ones.

GABRIEL APPEARS TO DANIEL. While I was speaking and praying, confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel and making my request to the LORD my God for his holy hill— while I was still in prayer, Gabriel, the man I had seen in the earlier vision, came to me in swift flight about the time of the evening sacrifice. He instructed me and said to me, "Daniel, I have now come to give you insight and understanding. As soon as you began to pray, an answer was given, which I have come to tell you, for you are highly esteemed. Therefore, consider the message and understand the vision:

Daniel in the Lions' Den

Sometime later during the reign of Darius the Mede, a plot is laid against Daniel by those opposed to his rise to greater power. The end result is that Daniel is placed in a den of lions but saved from harm by the God to whom he faithfully prays. The incident allows an interesting insight into Darius, who (at least for a time) is even evangelistic on behalf of this marvelous "God of Daniel."

- Dan. 6:1-3
541-540
B.C.) DANIEL'S HIGH RANK. It pleased Darius to appoint 120 satraps to rule throughout the kingdom, with three administrators over them, one of whom was Daniel. The satraps were made accountable to them so that the king might not suffer loss. Now Daniel so distinguished himself among the administrators and the satraps by his exceptional qualities that the king planned to set him over the whole kingdom.
- Dan. 6:4,5 CONSPIRATORS PLOT TRAP. At this, the administrators and the satraps tried to find grounds for charges against Daniel in his conduct of government affairs, but they were unable to do so. They could find no corruption in him, because he was trustworthy and neither corrupt nor negligent. Finally these men said, "We will never find any basis for charges against this man Daniel unless it has something to do with the law of his God."
- Dan. 6:6-9 DECREE AGAINST PRAYERS. So the administrators and the satraps went as a group to the king and said: "O King Darius, live forever! The royal administrators, prefects, satraps, advisers and governors have all agreed that the king should issue an edict and enforce the decree that anyone who prays to any god or man during the next thirty days, except to you, O king, shall be thrown into the lions' den. Now, O king, issue the decree and put it in writing so that it cannot be altered—in accordance with the laws of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be repealed." So King Darius put the decree in writing.
- Dan. 6:10 DANIEL PRAYS ANYWAY. Now when Daniel learned that the decree had been published, he went home to his upstairs room where the windows opened toward Jerusalem. Three times a day he got down on his knees and prayed, giving thanks to his God, just as he had done before.
- Dan. 6:11-15 KING TOLD ABOUT DANIEL. Then these men went as a group and found Daniel praying and asking God for help. So they went to the king and spoke to him about his royal decree: "Did you not publish a decree that during the next thirty days anyone who prays to any god or man except to you, O king, would be thrown into the lions' den?"
The king answered, "The decree stands—in accordance with the laws of the Medes and Persians, which cannot be repealed."
Then they said to the king, "Daniel, who is one of the exiles from Judah, pays no attention to you, O king, or to the decree you put in writing. He still prays three times a day." When the king heard this, he was greatly distressed; he was determined to rescue Daniel and made every effort until sundown to save him.
Then the men went as a group to the king and said to him, "Remember, O king, that according to the law of the Medes and Persians no decree or edict that the king issues can be changed."

DANIEL IN LIONS' DEN. So the king gave the order, and they brought Daniel and threw him into the lions' den. The king said to Daniel, "May your God, whom you serve continually, rescue you!" Dan. 6:16-18

A stone was brought and placed over the mouth of the den, and the king sealed it with his own signet ring and with the rings of his nobles, so that Daniel's situation might not be changed. Then the king returned to his palace and spent the night without eating and without any entertainment being brought to him. And he could not sleep.

DANIEL UNHARMED. At the first light of dawn, the king got up and hurried to the lions' den. When he came near the den, he called to Daniel in an anguished voice, "Daniel, servant of the living God, has your God, whom you serve continually, been able to rescue you from the lions?" Dan. 6:19-23

Daniel answered, "O king, live forever! My God sent his angel, and he shut the mouths of the lions. They have not hurt me, because I was found innocent in his sight. Nor have I ever done any wrong before you, O king."

The king was overjoyed and gave orders to lift Daniel out of the den. And when Daniel was lifted from the den, no wound was found on him, because he had trusted in his God.

CONSPIRATORS KILLED. At the king's command, the men who had falsely accused Daniel were brought in and thrown into the lions' den, along with their wives and children. And before they reached the floor of the den, the lions overpowered them and crushed all their bones. Dan. 6:24

KING'S DECREE. Then King Darius wrote to all the peoples, nations and men of every language throughout the land: Dan. 6:25-27

"May you prosper greatly!

"I issue a decree that in every part of my kingdom people must fear and reverence the God of Daniel.

"For he is the living God
and he endures forever;
his kingdom will not be destroyed,
his dominion will never end.
He rescues and he saves;
he performs signs and wonders in the heavens and on the earth.
He has rescued Daniel from the power of the lions."

Darius' enthusiasm for the "God of Daniel" is evidently not long-lived. There is no evidence that Babylon did in fact turn to God. On the contrary, it appears that Darius' character is so unaffected that he betrays his own nation. Realizing Babylonia's now-weakened condition against the power of Persia, Darius deserts to Cyrus and helps bring about the final overthrow of the very nation he has ruled. Since Nabonidus has gotten into such a drunken state while in exile that he cannot raise a defense, Cyrus walks into Babylon without any opposition and is hailed as king of Babylonia.

So ends the power of the great Babylonian Empire, just as the prophets had foretold. Never again will it rise to a position of great power. Concurrent with the change of rule in Babylon, Daniel leaves the palace and his position of governmental prominence.

Dan. 1:21 KING'S SERVICE ENDS. And Daniel remained there until the first year of King Cyrus.

And yet apparently Daniel finds favor under the new Persian government as well.

Dan. 6:28 DANIEL'S FATE. So Daniel prospered during the reign of Darius and the reign of Cyrus' the Persian.

What Daniel does from this point on is unknown, but presumably he remains in Babylon. He will be heard from once again after a period of two or three years. ☐

PERIOD OF RESTORATION

First Return to Jerusalem

The rise of the Persian Empire will prove to be a real blessing to the exiled nation of Israel. Unlike the Assyrians and Babylonians, who believed in the uprooting of their captives, Persia's policy is one of repatriation and maintaining the status quo of the political, social, and religious situation to the extent possible. The idea, apparently, is that a happy people will be less likely to rebel. For that reason, as well as for the fulfillment of God's promised restoration, a very important step is taken by Cyrus the Great in 539-538 B.C. He issues the following decree encouraging volunteers among the Hebrews to return to Jerusalem and rebuild the temple.

CYRUS' DECREE. In the first year of Cyrus king of Persia, in order to fulfill the word of the LORD spoken by Jeremiah, the LORD moved the heart of Cyrus king of Persia to make a proclamation throughout his realm and to put it in writing:

Ezra 1:1-4
2 Chron.
36:22,23
(539-538
B.C.)

"This is what Cyrus king of Persia says:

"The LORD, the God of heaven, has given me all the kingdoms of the earth and he has appointed me to build a temple for him at Jerusalem in Judah. Anyone of his people among you—may his God be with him, and let him go up to Jerusalem in Judah and build the temple of the LORD, the God of Israel, the God who is in Jerusalem. And the people of any place where survivors may now be living are to provide him with silver and gold, with goods and livestock, and with freewill offerings for the temple of God in Jerusalem.'"

Imagine the excitement and celebration which must come when the news of this decree makes its way to all the captives in exile! And yet there is an immediate dilemma. After over six decades away from their homeland, the people of Israel are pretty well entrenched in the Babylonian-turned-Persian society. Those who took Jeremiah's advice have bought or built homes, begun businesses, and learned a new language and way of life. There is also a whole new generation of Jews, as they are now called, who have never even set foot in Palestine. Therefore it will take a real pioneering spirit to leave a prosperous situation for the desolation of the Palestinian landscape.

Despite the hard decision, over 42,000 decide to return under the leadership of Sheshbazzar, who is appointed governor. Relatives and neighbors give what they can to support the resettlement and reconstruction programs. Even Cyrus assists by returning the temple articles which Nebuchadnezzar had looted. All is set, and the great migration takes place in 538 B.C. Within two years, in 536 B.C., the initial resettlement has been completed and the foundation of the temple laid—70 years after the first deportation, in 605 B.C.! And yet, even as they get started, the people are met with opposition. Restoration will not come easily.

Ezra 1:5,6
(538 B.C.)

RESETTLEMENT PREPARATIONS. Then the family heads of Judah and Benjamin, and the priests and Levites—everyone whose heart God had moved—prepared to go up and build the house of the LORD in Jerusalem. All their neighbors assisted them with articles of silver and gold, with goods and livestock, and with valuable gifts, in addition to all the freewill offerings.

Ezra 1:7-11

TEMPLE ARTICLES RETURNED. Moreover, King Cyrus brought out the articles belonging to the temple of the LORD, which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and had placed in the temple of his god.^a Cyrus king of Persia had them brought by Mithredath the treasurer, who counted them out to Sheshbazzar the prince of Judah.

This was the inventory:

gold dishes	30
silver dishes	1,000
silver pans ^b	29
gold bowls	30
matching silver bowls	410
other articles	1,000

In all, there were 5,400 articles of gold and of silver. Sheshbazzar brought all these along when the exiles came up from Babylon to Jerusalem.

These searched for their family records, but they could not find them and so were excluded from the priesthood as unclean. The governor ordered them not to eat any of the most sacred food until there was a priest ministering with the Urim and Thummim.

Ezra 2:64-67 NUMBER OF COMPANY. The whole company numbered 42,360, besides their 7,337 menservants and maidservants; and they also had 200 men and women singers. They had 736 horses, 245 mules, 435 camels and 6,720 donkeys.

Ezra 2:68,69 Jerusalem OFFERINGS AT JERUSALEM. When they arrived at the house of the LORD in Jerusalem, some of the heads of the families gave freewill offerings toward the rebuilding of the house of God on its site. According to their ability they gave to the treasury for this work 61,000 drachmas^d of gold, 5,000 minas^e of silver and 100 priestly garments.

Ezra 2:70 SETTLERS DISPERSE. The priests, the Levites, the singers, the gatekeepers and the temple servants settled in their own towns, along with some of the other people, and the rest of the Israelites settled in their towns.

Ezra 3:1-6 ALTAR REBUILT. When the seventh month came and the Israelites had settled in their towns, the people assembled as one man in Jerusalem. Then Jeshua son of Jozadak and his fellow priests and Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and his associates began to build the altar of the God of Israel to sacrifice burnt offerings on it, in accordance with what is written in the Law of Moses the man of God. Despite their fear of the peoples around them, they built the altar on its foundation and sacrificed burnt offerings on it to the LORD, both the morning and evening sacrifices. Then in accordance with what is written, they celebrated the Feast of Tabernacles with the required number of burnt offerings prescribed for each day. After that, they presented the regular burnt offerings, the New Moon sacrifices and the sacrifices for all the appointed sacred feasts of the LORD, as well as those brought as freewill offerings to the LORD. On the first day of the seventh month they began to offer burnt offerings to the LORD, though the foundation of the LORD's temple had not yet been laid.

PREPARATIONS FOR TEMPLE. Then they gave money to the masons and carpenters, and gave food and drink and oil to the people of Sidon and Tyre, so that they would bring cedar logs by sea from Lebanon to Joppa, as authorized by Cyrus king of Persia. Ezra 3:7

TEMPLE FOUNDATION LAID. In the second month of the second year after their arrival at the house of God in Jerusalem, Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, Jeshua son of Jozadak and the rest of their brothers (the priests and the Levites and all who had returned from the captivity to Jerusalem) began the work, appointing Levites twenty years of age and older to supervise the building of the house of the LORD. Jeshua and his sons and brothers and Kadmiel and his sons (descendants of Hodaviah¹) and the sons of Henadad and their sons and brothers—all Levites—joined together in supervising those working on the house of God. Ezra 3:8,9

CELEBRATION ENSUES. When the builders laid the foundation of the temple of the LORD, the priests in their vestments and with trumpets, and the Levites (the sons of Asaph) with cymbals, took their places to praise the LORD, as prescribed by David king of Israel. With praise and thanksgiving they sang to the LORD: Ezra 3:10,11

"He is good;
his love to Israel endures forever."

And all the people gave a great shout of praise to the LORD, because the foundation of the house of the LORD was laid.

MIXED EMOTIONS. But many of the older priests and Levites and family heads, who had seen the former temple, wept aloud when they saw the foundation of this temple being laid, while many others shouted for joy. No one could distinguish the sound of the shouts of joy from the sound of weeping, because the people made so much noise. And the sound was heard far away. Ezra 3:12,13

ENEMIES FEIGN HELP. When the enemies of Judah and Benjamin heard that the exiles were building a temple for the LORD, the God of Israel, they came to Zerubbabel and to the heads of the families and said, "Let us help you build because, like you, we seek your God and have been sacrificing to him since the time of Esarhaddon king of Assyria, who brought us here." Ezra 4:1-3

But Zerubbabel, Jeshua and the rest of the heads of the families of Israel answered, "You have no part with us in building a temple to our God. We alone will build it for the LORD, the God of Israel, as King Cyrus, the king of Persia, commanded us.”

Ezra 4:4,5

ENEMIES DISCOURAGE PLANS. Then the peoples around them set out to discourage the people of Judah and make them afraid to go on building.⁸ They hired counselors to work against them and frustrate their plans during the entire reign of Cyrus king of Persia and down to the reign of Darius king of Persia.

Daniel's Last Vision

Is it just coincidence that, in the same year the temple foundation is laid and the restoration is begun in earnest, God should bring to Daniel another amazing vision of both near and future events? This is a time of great expectations! It is a time for perspective and overview. It is a time for reassurance that God will continue to rule in this world and in the world beyond, even after his promised restoration is complete. It is a time for looking far into the future and having the comfort that all the struggles of this life are going to be vindicated.

As with Daniel's previous visions, this vision too is filled with symbolism—with names apparently having double meanings and with oblique references to future historical events. The first part of the vision calls Daniel's attention to various kings and princes, especially kings of "the North" who do battle with kings of "the South." The four Persian kings may well be Cambyses, Smerdis, Darius, and Xerxes. "The mighty king of Greece" is probably Alexander the Great. If Egypt is the kingdom of the South, then perhaps the kings referred to are the Ptolemies: Soter (ca. 283 B.C.), Philadelphus (ca. 285-486 B.C.) and his daughter Bernice, and Ptolemy Philopator. If the Seleucid kingdom of Syria is the kingdom of the North, then perhaps the kings referred to are Antiochus III (ca. 198-187 B.C.) and almost certainly the contemptible Antiochus Epiphanes, who will desecrate the temple and bring a temporary end to sacrificing (ca. 165 B.C.).

The second part of the vision appears to be much more futuristic. Using the character of "the king of the North" as a springboard, it looks as if the vision jumps ahead to the time when a certain "king" will pretentiously exalt himself. The vision then ends on the most hopeful note of all—resurrection!

Dan.
10:1-3
(536 B.C.)

PERIOD OF MOURNING. In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia, a revelation was given to Daniel (who was called Belteshazzar). Its message was true and it concerned a great war.^h The understanding of the message came to him in a vision.

At that time I, Daniel, mourned for three weeks. I ate no choice food; no meat or wine touched my lips; and I used no lotions at all until the three weeks were over.

Dan.
10:4-6

STARTLING VISION. On the twenty-fourth day of the first month, as I was standing on the bank of the great river, the Tigris, I looked up and there before me was a man dressed in linen, with a belt of the finest gold around his waist. His body was like chrysolite, his face like lightning, his

⁸Or and troubled them as they built

^hOr true and burdensome

eyes like flaming torches, his arms and legs like the gleam of burnished bronze, and his voice like the sound of a multitude.

REACTION TO VISION. I, Daniel, was the only one who saw the vision; the men with me did not see it, but such terror overwhelmed them that they fled and hid themselves. So I was left alone, gazing at this great vision; I had no strength left, my face turned deathly pale and I was helpless. Then I heard him speaking, and as I listened to him, I fell into a deep sleep, my face to the ground.

Dan.
10:7-9

DANIEL COMFORTED. A hand touched me and set me trembling on my hands and knees. He said, "Daniel, you who are highly esteemed, consider carefully the words I am about to speak to you, and stand up, for I have now been sent to you." And when he said this to me, I stood up trembling.

Dan.
10:10-19

Then he continued, "Do not be afraid, Daniel. Since the first day that you set your mind to gain understanding and to humble yourself before your God, your words were heard, and I have come in response to them. But the prince of the Persian kingdom resisted me twenty-one days. Then Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me, because I was detained there with the king of Persia. Now I have come to explain to you what will happen to your people in the future, for the vision concerns a time yet to come."

While he was saying this to me, I bowed with my face toward the ground and was speechless. Then one who looked like a man¹ touched my lips, and I opened my mouth and began to speak. I said to the one standing before me, "I am overcome with anguish because of the vision, my lord, and I am helpless. How can I, your servant, talk with you, my lord? My strength is gone and I can hardly breathe."

Again the one who looked like a man touched me and gave me strength. "Do not be afraid, O man highly esteemed," he said. "Peace! Be strong now; be strong."

When he spoke to me, I was strengthened and said, "Speak, my lord, since you have given me strength."

POLITICAL CHANGES. So he said, "Do you know why I have come to you? Soon I will return to fight against the prince of Persia, and when I go, the prince of Greece will come; but first I will tell you what is written in the Book of Truth. (No one supports me against them except Michael, your prince. And in the first year of Darius the Mede, I took my stand to support and protect him.)

Dan.
10:20-11:4

"Now then, I tell you the truth: Three more kings will appear in Persia, and then a fourth, who will be far richer than all the others. When he has gained power by his wealth, he will stir up everyone against the kingdom of Greece. Then a mighty king will appear, who will rule with great power and do as he pleases. After he has appeared, his empire will be broken up and parceled out toward the four winds of heaven. It will not go to his descendants, nor will it have the power he exercised, because his empire will be uprooted and given to others.

KINGS OF NORTH AND SOUTH. "The king of the South will become strong, but one of his commanders will become even stronger than he and will rule his own kingdom with great power. After some years, they will become allies. The daughter of the king of the South will go to the king of the North to make an alliance, but she will not retain her power, and he and his power^r will not last. In those days she will be handed over, together with her royal escort and her father^k and the one who supported her.

“One from her family line will arise to take her place. He will attack the forces of the king of the North and enter his fortress; he will fight against them and be victorious. He will also seize their gods, their metal images and their valuable articles of silver and gold and carry them off to Egypt. For some years he will leave the king of the North alone. Then the king of the North will invade the realm of the king of the South but will retreat to his own country. His sons will prepare for war and assemble a great army, which will sweep on like an irresistible flood and carry the battle as far as his fortress.

“Then the king of the South will march out in a rage and fight against the king of the North, who will raise a large army, but it will be defeated. When the army is carried off, the king of the South will be filled with pride and will slaughter many thousands, yet he will not remain triumphant. For the king of the North will muster another army, larger than the first; and after several years, he will advance with a huge army fully equipped.

“In those times many will rise against the king of the South. The violent men among your own people will rebel in fulfillment of the vision, but without success. Then the king of the North will come and build up siege ramps and will capture a fortified city. The forces of the South will be powerless to resist; even their best troops will not have the strength to stand. The invader will do as he pleases; no one will be able to stand against him. He will establish himself in the Beautiful Land and will have the power to destroy it. He will determine to come with the might of his entire kingdom and will make an alliance with the king of the South. And he will give him a daughter in marriage in order to overthrow the kingdom, but his plans^l will not succeed or help him. Then he will turn his attention to the coastlands and will take many of them, but a commander will put an end to his insolence and will turn his insolence back upon him. After this, he will turn back toward the fortresses of his own country but will stumble and fall, to be seen no more.

“His successor will send out a tax collector to maintain the royal splendor. In a few years, however, he will be destroyed, yet not in anger or in battle.

THE CONTEMPTIBLE KING. “He will be succeeded by a contemptible person who has not been given the honor of royalty. He will invade the kingdom when its people feel secure, and he will seize it through intrigue. Then an overwhelming army will be swept away before him; both it and a prince of the covenant will be destroyed. After coming to an agreement with him, he will act deceitfully, and with only a few people he will rise to power. When the richest provinces feel secure, he will invade them and will achieve what neither his fathers nor his forefathers did. He will distribute plunder, loot and wealth among his followers. He will plot the overthrow of fortresses—but only for a time.

"With a large army he will stir up his strength and courage against the king of the South. The king of the South will wage war with a large and very powerful army, but he will not be able to stand because of the plots devised against him. Those who eat from the king's provisions will try to destroy him; his army will be swept away, and many will fall in battle. The two kings, with their hearts bent on evil, will sit at the same table and lie to each other, but to no avail, because an end will still come at the appointed time. The king of the North will return to his own country with great wealth, but his heart will be set against the holy covenant. He will take action against it and then return to his own country.

"At the appointed time he will invade the South again, but this time the outcome will be different from what it was before. Ships of the western coastlands^m will oppose him, and he will lose heart. Then he will turn back and vent his fury against the holy covenant. He will return and show favor to those who forsake the holy covenant.

"His armed forces will rise up to desecrate the temple fortress and will abolish the daily sacrifice. Then they will set up the abomination that causes desolation. With flattery he will corrupt those who have violated the covenant, but the people who know their God will firmly resist him.

"Those who are wise will instruct many, though for a time they will fall by the sword or be burned or captured or plundered. When they fall, they will receive a little help, and many who are not sincere will join them. Some of the wise will stumble, so that they may be refined, purified and made spotless until the time of the end, for it will still come at the appointed time.

KING WHO EXALTS HIMSELF. "The king will do as he pleases. He will exalt and magnify himself above every god and will say unheard-of things against the God of gods. He will be successful until the time of wrath is completed, for what has been determined must take place. He will show no regard for the gods of his fathers or for the one desired by women, nor will he regard any god, but will exalt himself above them all. Instead of them, he will honor a god of fortresses; a god unknown to his fathers he will honor with gold and silver, with precious stones and costly gifts. He will attack the mightiest fortresses with the help of a foreign god and will greatly honor those who acknowledge him. He will make them rulers over many people and will distribute the land at a price."

Dan.
11:36-45

"At the time of the end the king of the South will engage him in battle, and the king of the North will storm out against him with chariots and cavalry and a great fleet of ships. He will invade many countries and sweep through them like a flood. He will also invade the Beautiful Land. Many countries will fall, but Edom, Moab and the leaders of Ammon will be delivered from his hand. He will extend his power over many countries; Egypt will not escape. He will gain control of the treasures of gold and silver and all the riches of Egypt, with the Libyans and Nubians in submission. But reports from the east and the north will alarm him, and he will set out in a great rage to destroy and annihilate many. He will pitch his royal tents between the seas at^o the beautiful holy mountain. Yet he will come to his end, and no one will help him.

There will be a time of distress such as has not happened from the beginning of nations until then. But at that time your people—everyone whose name is found written in the book—will be delivered. Multitudes who sleep in the dust of the earth will awake: some to everlasting life, others to shame and everlasting contempt. Those who are wise^p will shine like the brightness of the heavens, and those who lead many to righteousness, like the stars for ever and ever. But you, Daniel, close up and seal the words of the scroll until the time of the end. Many will go here and there to increase knowledge."

Dan. 12:5-12 TIME OF FULFILLMENT. Then I, Daniel, looked, and there before me stood two others, one on this bank of the river and one on the opposite bank. One of them said to the man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, "How long will it be before these astonishing things are fulfilled?"

The man clothed in linen, who was above the waters of the river, lifted his right hand and his left hand toward heaven, and I heard him swear by him who lives forever, saying, "It will be for a time, times and half a time.^q When the power of the holy people has been finally broken, all these things will be completed."

I heard, but I did not understand. So I asked, "My lord, what will the outcome of all this be?"

He replied, "Go your way, Daniel, because the words are closed up and sealed until the time of the end. Many will be purified, made spotless and refined, but the wicked will continue to be wicked. None of the wicked will understand, but those who are wise will understand.

"From the time that the daily sacrifice is abolished and the abomination that causes desolation is set up, there will be 1,290 days.

Blessed is the one who waits for and reaches the end of the 1,335 days.

As with all apocalyptic prophecies, the time when these events are to occur is subject to widely diverse interpretation. The first part of the vision apparently has reference to events to take place over the next four centuries. Because the historical account in Scripture falls mostly silent during the period evidently referred to, this revelation may well be meant to fill that gap, at least in outline form. Moreover, these events would be especially significant in leading up to the time just before the coming of the Messiah.

As for Daniel himself, the vision ends with an assurance that after his death he will rise again to receive his reward.

Dan. 12:13 PROMISE TO DANIEL. "As for you, go your way till the end. You will rest, and then at the end of the days you will rise to receive your allotted inheritance."

So ends the record of Daniel's life and marvelous encounters with the world beyond. Challenging as his visions sometimes may be, they are invaluable in stretching one's imagination to the time when all mysteries will be revealed.

Opposition to Temple's Construction

From 536 B.C. until 522 B.C., work on the temple comes to a halt. The opposition of Israel's enemies is in part the problem, but another part is the priority given by the settlers to building their own houses and preparing the land for crops. The record of the opposition contains various correspondence between Israel's enemies and the Persian leaders by whom the resettlement is being permitted. The first formal accusation against Israel is apparently lodged during the reign of Cambyses, who took control of the Persian Empire when his father, Cyrus, died in 530 B.C. Like his father, Cambyses is basically a good man. He is an apt ruler during his seven-year reign. He is referred to in this brief account as Xerxes, a name which applies to his position and is not to be confused with a later Persian ruler better known by that name.

ACCUSATIONS. At the beginning of the reign of Xerxes,^r they lodged an accusation against the people of Judah and Jerusalem. Ezra 4:6 (529-520
B.C.)

There is no indication that Cambyses takes any official action to stop the reconstruction program. In 525 B.C. he leads his forces into Egypt and takes Memphis from Pharaoh Amasis and his son Psamtik II. This Persian dominance must surely be at least the beginning of the fulfillment of the many prophecies concerning Egypt's fall. Egypt will come under complete domination during the next six years. While Cambyses is involved in the Egyptian campaign, back home his half-brother, Smerdis, has been killed by Cambyses' aides to prevent any chance of a coup. However, a Mede by the name of Guamata, claiming to be Smerdis, does in fact lead a revolt and rules for about ten months in 522 B.C. It is this pseudo-Smerdis to whom the historical record evidently refers as Artaxerxes in the following account of the letters between the local commanding officer and this usurper. Again, there should be no confusion between this titular name and the better-known Artaxerxes to come 60 years later.

REHUM'S LETTER. And in the days of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Bishlam, Mithredath, Tabeel and the rest of his associates wrote a letter to Artaxerxes. The letter was written in Aramaic script and in the Aramaic language.^s Ezra 4:7-16
(522 B.C.)

Rehum the commanding officer and Shimshai the secretary wrote a letter against Jerusalem to Artaxerxes the king as follows:

Rehum the commanding officer and Shimshai the secretary, together with the rest of their associates—the judges and officials over the men from Tripolis, Persia,^u Erech and Babylon, the Elamites of Susa, and the other people whom the great and honorable Ashurbanipal^v deported and settled in the city of Samaria and elsewhere in Trans-Euphrates.

To King Artaxerxes,
From your servants, the men of Trans-Euphrates:

The king should know that the Jews who came up to us from you have gone to Jerusalem and are rebuilding that rebellious and wicked city. They are restoring the walls and repairing the foundations.

Furthermore, the king should know that if this city is built and its walls are restored, no more taxes, tribute or duty will be paid, and the royal revenues will suffer. Now since we are under obligation to the palace and it is not proper for us to see the king dishonored, we are sending this message to inform the king, so that a search may be made in the archives of your predecessors. In these records you will find that this city is a rebellious city, troublesome to kings and provinces, a place of rebellion from ancient times. That is why this city was destroyed. We inform the king that if this city is built and its walls are restored, you will be left with nothing in Trans-Euphrates.

Ezra
4:17-22

KING'S REPLY. The king sent this reply:

To Rehum the commanding officer, Shimshai the secretary and the rest of their associates living in Samaria and elsewhere in Trans-Euphrates:

Greetings.

The letter you sent us has been read and translated in my presence. I issued an order and a search was made, and it was found that this city has a long history of revolt against kings and has been a place of rebellion and sedition. Jerusalem has had powerful kings ruling over the whole of Trans-Euphrates, and taxes, tribute and duty were paid to them. Now issue an order to these men to stop work, so that this city will not be rebuilt until I so order. Be careful not to neglect this matter. Why let this threat grow, to the detriment of the royal interests?

Ezra
4:23,24

TEMPLE CONSTRUCTION HALTED. As soon as the copy of the letter of King Artaxerxes was read to Rehum and Shimshai the secretary and their associates, they went immediately to the Jews in Jerusalem and compelled them by force to stop.

Thus the work on the house of God in Jerusalem came to a standstill until the second year of the reign of Darius king of Persia.

No sooner has the order to stop construction been given than there is a shake-up in the Persian power structure. When Cambyses dies, near Mount Carmel (possibly by suicide), a distant relative named Darius moves against Guamata and assumes control of the empire here in 522 B.C. Darius moves quickly to pull together his shaky kingdom and creates a code of laws to be enforced throughout his empire. It is not surprising, then, that under circumstances soon to appear Darius is receptive to a plea by the people of Israel to be permitted to continue work on the temple. The issue is raised when the prophets Haggai and Zechariah defy the earlier order of Guamata.

Ezra 5:1,2 (522-521
B.C.)

TEMPLE WORK RESTARTED. Now Haggai the prophet and Zechariah the prophet, a descendant of Iddo, prophesied to the Jews in Judah and Jerusalem in the name of the God of Israel, who was over them. Then Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel and Jeshua son of Jozadak set to work to rebuild the house of God in Jerusalem. And the prophets of God were with them, helping them.

AUTHORITY QUESTIONED. At that time Tattenai, governor of Trans-Euphrates, and Shethar-Bozenai and their associates went to them and asked, "Who authorized you to rebuild this temple and restore this structure?" They also asked, "What are the names of the men constructing this building?"^w But the eye of their God was watching over the elders of the Jews, and they were not stopped until a report could go to Darius and his written reply be received.

Ezra 5:3-5

LETTER TO DARIUS. This is a copy of the letter that Tattenai, governor of Trans-Euphrates, and Shethar-Bozenai and their associates, the officials of Trans-Euphrates, sent to King Darius. The report they sent him read as follows:

Ezra 5:6-17

To King Darius:

Cordial greetings.

The king should know that we went to the district of Judah, to the temple of the great God. The people are building it with large stones and placing the timbers in the walls. The work is being carried on with diligence and is making rapid progress under their direction.

We questioned the elders and asked them, "Who authorized you to rebuild this temple and restore this structure?" We also asked them their names, so that we could write down the names of their leaders for your information.

This is the answer they gave us:

"We are the servants of the God of heaven and earth, and we are rebuilding the temple that was built many years ago, one that a great king of Israel built and finished. But because our fathers angered the God of heaven, he handed them over to Nebuchadnezzar the Chaldean, king of Babylon, who destroyed this temple and deported the people to Babylon.

"However, in the first year of Cyrus king of Babylon, King Cyrus issued a decree to rebuild this house of God. He even removed from the temple^x of Babylon the gold and silver articles of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had taken from the temple in Jerusalem and brought to the temple^x in Babylon.

"Then King Cyrus gave them to a man named Sheshbazzar, whom he had appointed governor, and he told him, 'Take these articles and go and deposit them in the temple in Jerusalem. And rebuild the house of God on its site.' So this Sheshbazzar came and laid the foundations of the house of God in Jerusalem. From that day to the present it has been under construction but is not yet finished."

Now if it pleases the king, let a search be made in the royal archives of Babylon to see if King Cyrus did in fact issue a decree to rebuild this house of God in Jerusalem. Then let the king send us his decision in this matter.

Ezra 6:1-5 MEMO OF CYRUS' DECREE. King Darius then issued an order, and they searched in the archives stored in the treasury at Babylon. A scroll was found in the citadel of Ecbatana in the province of Media, and this was written on it:

Memorandum:

In the first year of King Cyrus, the king issued a decree concerning the temple of God in Jerusalem:

Let the temple be rebuilt as a place to present sacrifices, and let its foundations be laid. It is to be ninety feet^y high and ninety feet wide, with three courses of large stones and one of timbers. The costs are to be paid by the royal treasury. Also, the gold and silver articles of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar took from the temple in Jerusalem and brought to Babylon, are to be returned to their places in the temple in Jerusalem; they are to be deposited in the house of God.

Ezra 6:6-12
(521-520
B.C.)

DARIUS' DECREE. Now then, Tattenai, governor of Trans-Euphrates, and Shethar-Bozenai and you, their fellow officials of that province, stay away from there. Do not interfere with the work on this temple of God. Let the governor of the Jews and the Jewish elders rebuild this house of God on its site.

Moreover, I hereby decree what you are to do for these elders of the Jews in the construction of this house of God:

The expenses of these men are to be fully paid out of the royal treasury, from the revenues of Trans-Euphrates, so that the work will not stop. Whatever is needed—young bulls, rams, male lambs for burnt offerings to the God of heaven, and wheat, salt, wine and oil, as requested by the priests in Jerusalem—must be given them daily without fail, so that they may offer sacrifices pleasing to the God of heaven and pray for the well-being of the king and his sons.

Furthermore, I decree that if anyone changes this edict, a beam is to be pulled from his house and he is to be lifted up and impaled on it. And for this crime his house is to be made a pile of rubble. May God, who has caused his Name to dwell there, overthrow any king or people who lifts a hand to change this decree or to destroy this temple in Jerusalem.

I Darius have decreed it. Let it be carried out with diligence.

Ezra 6:13 TATTENAI COMPLIES. Then, because of the decree King Darius had sent, Tattenai, governor of Trans-Euphrates, and Shethar-Bozenai and their associates carried it out with diligence.

Once again God works through a Persian ruler to implement the promised restoration. The Persian government is even supplying funds for the temple's construction and the sacrifices to be made in it! This sounds highly unusual, but it is consistent with the Persian policy of promoting polytheism throughout the empire. Darius' decree suggests that he welcomes the goodwill of any god, including this "God of heaven."

Preaching of Haggai and Zechariah

From this point on, finishing the temple ought to be easy. But the cessation of official opposition does not eliminate all the problems besetting the project. The people of Israel themselves are still part of the problem. They are having droughts and famine and are putting off work on the temple until they are prosperous enough to give it their attention.

The two men who come to the rescue of the temple project are Haggai and Zechariah, both prophets of God. Little is known about Haggai, but it is surmised that he is one of the exiles who remembers the former temple before its destruction. If so, he is probably at least 75 years old. His very young associate, Zechariah, was evidently born in Babylonia into the priestly family of Iddo, his grandfather. It was Haggai and Zechariah, of course, who had initiated the renewal of the work which led to Tattenai's letter and Darius' decree. Now, over a four-month period, they will continue to encourage the construction effort.

Through Haggai, God tells the people why they have been facing such economic problems. It is because they have set their own selfish interests as the highest priority rather than totally committing themselves to construction of the temple. This message comes to Haggai in the summer of 520 B.C. It is addressed to Zerubbabel, who has become governor, and Joshua (Jeshua) the high priest, but it is meant for all the people.

PRIORITIES CHASTISED. In the second year of King Darius, on the first day of the sixth month, the word of the LORD came through the prophet Haggai to Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua: son of Jehozadak, the high priest:

Haggai
1:1-11
(520 B.C.)

This is what the LORD Almighty says: "These people say, 'The time has not yet come for the LORD's house to be built.'"

Then the word of the LORD came through the prophet Haggai: "Is it a time for you yourselves to be living in your paneled houses, while this house remains a ruin?"

Now this is what the LORD Almighty says: "Give careful thought to your ways. You have planted much, but have harvested little. You eat, but never have enough. You drink, but never have your fill. You put on clothes, but are not warm. You earn wages, only to put them in a purse with holes in it."

This is what the LORD Almighty says: "Give careful thought to your ways. Go up into the mountains and bring down timber and build the house, so that I may take pleasure in it and be honored," says the LORD. "You expected much, but see, it turned out to be little. What you brought home, I blew away. Why?" declares the LORD Almighty. "Because of my house, which remains a ruin, while each of you is busy with his own house. Therefore, because of you the heavens have withheld their dew and the earth its crops. I called for a drought on the fields and the mountains, on the grain, the new wine, the oil and whatever the ground produces, on men and cattle, and on the labor of your hands."

PEOPLE RESPOND POSITIVELY. Then Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the whole remnant of the people obeyed the voice of the LORD their God and the message of the prophet Haggai, because the LORD their God had sent him. And the people feared the LORD.

Then Haggai, the LORD's messenger, gave this message of the LORD to the people: "I am with you," declares the LORD.

Within three months the verbal commitment becomes reality, and the work is renewed in earnest.

Haggai
1:14,15

WORK BEGUN AGAIN. So the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and the spirit of the whole remnant of the people. They came and began to work on the house of the LORD Almighty, their God, on the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month in the second year of King Darius.

A month later God asks Haggai to address the concern of the older exiles, who had wept when the temple foundation was laid. Remembering the beauty of the great temple of Solomon, they know that its replacement will be smaller and less ornate. God's words of comfort are perhaps messianic in nature. He promises that, even though the architectural appointments will not compare with those of Solomon's temple, God will one day fill this new temple with an even greater glory. Perhaps the message alludes symbolically to another temple, or possibly to the fact that the Messiah will personally walk through the very building they are now erecting.

Haggai
2:1-9
(520 B.C.)

TEMPLE'S FUTURE GLORY. On the twenty-first day of the seventh month, the word of the LORD came through the prophet Haggai: "Speak to Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, to Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest, and to the remnant of the people. Ask them, 'Who of you is left who saw this house in its former glory? How does it look to you now? Does it not seem to you like nothing? But now be strong, O Zerubbabel,' declares the LORD. 'Be strong, O Joshua son of Jehozadak, the high priest. Be strong, all you people of the land,' declares the LORD, 'and work. For I am with you,' declares the LORD Almighty. 'This is what I covenanted with you when you came out of Egypt. And my Spirit remains among you. Do not fear.'

"This is what the LORD Almighty says: 'In a little while I will once more shake the heavens and the earth, the sea and the dry land. I will shake all nations, and the desired of all nations will come, and I will fill this house with glory,' says the LORD Almighty. 'The silver is mine and the gold is mine,' declares the LORD Almighty. 'The glory of this present house will be greater than the glory of the former house,' says the LORD Almighty. 'And in this place I will grant peace,' declares the LORD Almighty."

In the next month Zechariah is given a brief message for the people to remind them how their forefathers had fallen time and again into sinful practices. Now that the work on the temple is underway, there can be no turning back, except a turning back to God.

LESSON FROM FOREFATHERS. In the eighth month of the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Zechariah son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo:

Zech. 1:1-6
(520 B.C.)

“The LORD was very angry with your forefathers. Therefore tell the people: This is what the LORD Almighty says: ‘Return to me,’ declares the LORD Almighty, ‘and I will return to you,’ says the LORD Almighty. Do not be like your forefathers, to whom the earlier prophets proclaimed: This is what the LORD Almighty says: ‘Turn from your evil ways and your evil practices.’ But they would not listen or pay attention to me, declares the LORD. Where are your forefathers now? And the prophets, do they live forever? But did not my words and my decrees, which I commanded my servants the prophets, overtake your forefathers?

“Then they repented and said, ‘The LORD Almighty has done to us what our ways and practices deserve, just as he determined to do.’”

At the end of the following month Haggai continues Zechariah’s theme. Haggai contends that the temple workers cannot claim to be righteous simply because they are working on the house of the Lord. In fact, if their personal lives are not holy, their involvement in the temple’s construction will actually desecrate the holy sanctuary. Haggai brings his lessons in the form of two hypothetical questions to the priests.

HYPOTHETICAL QUESTIONS. On the twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Haggai: “This is what the LORD Almighty says: ‘Ask the priests what the law says: If a person carries consecrated meat in the fold of his garment, and that fold touches some bread or stew, some wine, oil or other food, does it become consecrated?’”

Haggai
2:10-14
(520 B.C.)

The priests answered, “No.”

Then Haggai said, “If a person defiled by contact with a dead body touches one of these things, does it become defiled?”

“Yes,” the priests replied, “it becomes defiled.”

Then Haggai said, “‘So it is with this people and this nation in my sight,’ declares the LORD. ‘Whatever they do and whatever they offer there is defiled.’”

PROSPERITY FROM COMMITMENT. “‘Now give careful thought to this from this day on—consider how things were before one stone was laid on another in the LORD’s temple. When anyone came to a heap of twenty measures, there were only ten. When anyone went to a wine vat to draw fifty measures, there were only twenty. I struck all the work of your hands with blight, mildew and hail, yet you did not turn to me,’ declares the LORD. ‘From this day on, from this twenty-fourth day of the ninth month, give careful thought to the day when the foundation of the LORD’s temple was laid. Give careful thought: Is there yet any seed left in the barn? Until now, the vine and the fig tree, the pomegranate and the olive tree have not borne fruit.

Haggai
2:15-19

“‘From this day on I will bless you.’”

Later in the same day God brings a special message, ostensibly for Zerubbabel the governor. However, there is reason to believe that Zerubbabel himself is not being referred to in the prophetic wording, but rather another leader of God's people—the coming Messiah.

Haggai
2:20-23
(520 B.C.)

SPECIAL PROPHECY. The word of the LORD came to Haggai a second time on the twenty-fourth day of the month: "Tell Zerubbabel governor of Judah that I will shake the heavens and the earth. I will overturn royal thrones and shatter the power of the foreign kingdoms. I will overthrow chariots and their drivers; horses and their riders will fall, each by the sword of his brother.

"'On that day,' declares the LORD Almighty, 'I will take you, my servant Zerubbabel son of Shealtiel,' declares the LORD, 'and I will make you like my signet ring, for I have chosen you,' declares the LORD Almighty."

The work on the temple now fully underway, Haggai slips from further notice in the historical record. Brief as his recorded ministry may have been, it has filled a most significant need in the restoration of the nation and its religious life.

Zechariah's Visions

Exactly two months after Haggai's last prophecy, Zechariah is shown a series of eight graphic visions, not unlike those shown to Daniel. They refer to many of the people and events of the present time but repeatedly appear to have dual significance, either messianic or apocalyptic. These visions are then followed by a symbolic occurrence involving Joshua the high priest. If there is one theme to all of the visions, it may be the theme of assurance.

In the first vision is assurance that Israel will be restored in prosperity.

Zech.
1:7-17
(520 B.C.)

ANGEL AND HORSEMEN. On the twenty-fourth day of the eleventh month, the month of Shebat, in the second year of Darius, the word of the LORD came to the prophet Zechariah son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo.

During the night I had a vision—and there before me was a man riding a red horse! He was standing among the myrtle trees in a ravine. Behind him were red, brown and white horses.

I asked, "What are these, my lord?"

The angel who was talking with me answered, "I will show you what they are."

Then the man standing among the myrtle trees explained, "They are the ones the LORD has sent to go throughout the earth."

And they reported to the angel of the LORD, who was standing among the myrtle trees, "We have gone throughout the earth and found the whole world at rest and in peace."

Then the angel of the LORD said, "LORD Almighty, how long will you withhold mercy from Jerusalem and from the towns of Judah, which you have been angry with these seventy years?" So the LORD spoke kind and comforting words to the angel who talked with me.

Then the angel who was speaking to me said, "Proclaim this word: This is what the LORD Almighty says: 'I am very jealous for Jerusalem and Zion, but I am very angry with the nations that feel secure. I was only a little angry, but they added to the calamity.'

"Therefore, this is what the LORD says: 'I will return to Jerusalem with mercy, and there my house will be rebuilt. And the measuring line will be stretched out over Jerusalem,' declares the LORD Almighty.

"Proclaim further: This is what the LORD Almighty says: 'My towns will again overflow with prosperity, and the LORD will again comfort Zion and choose Jerusalem.'"

In the second vision is assurance that Israel's oppressors will indeed be punished.

HORNS AND CRAFTSMEN. Then I looked up—and there before me were four horns! I asked the angel who was speaking to me, "What are these?"

Zech.
1:18-21

He answered me, "These are the horns that scattered Judah, Israel and Jerusalem."

Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen. I asked, "What are these coming to do?"

He answered, "These are the horns that scattered Judah so that no one could raise his head, but the craftsmen have come to terrify them and throw down these horns of the nations who lifted up their horns against the land of Judah to scatter its people."

In the third vision is assurance that God will be among his returning people.

MAN WITH MEASURING LINE. Then I looked up—and there before me was a man with a measuring line in his hand! I asked, "Where are you going?"

Zech.
2:1-13

He answered me, "To measure Jerusalem, to find out how wide and how long it is."

Then the angel who was speaking to me left, and another angel came to meet him and said to him: "Run, tell that young man, 'Jerusalem will be a city without walls because of the great number of men and livestock in it. And I myself will be a wall of fire around it,' declares the LORD, 'and I will be its glory within.'

"Come! Come! Flee from the land of the north," declares the LORD, "for I have scattered you to the four winds of heaven," declares the LORD.

"Come, O Zion! Escape, you who live in the Daughter of Babylon!" For this is what the LORD Almighty says: "After he has honored me and has sent me against the nations that have plundered you—for whoever touches you touches the apple of his eye—I will surely raise my hand against them so that their slaves will plunder them.^b Then you will know that the LORD Almighty has sent me.

"Shout and be glad, O Daughter of Zion. For I am coming, and I will live among you," declares the LORD. "Many nations will be joined with the LORD in that day and will become my people. I will live among you and you will know that the LORD Almighty has sent me to you. The LORD will inherit Judah as his portion in the holy land and will again choose Jerusalem. Be still before the LORD, all mankind, because he has roused himself from his holy dwelling."

In the fourth vision is assurance that the sins of the people will be removed by him who is called the Branch.

Zech. 3:1-10 PRIEST'S GARMENTS. Then he showed me Joshua^c the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan^d standing at his right side to accuse him. The LORD said to Satan, "The LORD rebuke you, Satan! The LORD, who has chosen Jerusalem, rebuke you! Is not this man a burning stick snatched from the fire?"

Now Joshua was dressed in filthy clothes as he stood before the angel. The angel said to those who were standing before him, "Take off his filthy clothes."

Then he said to Joshua, "See, I have taken away your sin, and I will put rich garments on you."

Then I said, "Put a clean turban on his head." So they put a clean turban on his head and clothed him, while the angel of the LORD stood by.

The angel of the LORD gave this charge to Joshua: "This is what the LORD Almighty says: 'If you will walk in my ways and keep my requirements, then you will govern my house and have charge of my courts, and I will give you a place among these standing here.

"'Listen, O high priest Joshua and your associates seated before you, who are men symbolic of things to come: I am going to bring my servant, the Branch. See, the stone I have set in front of Joshua! There are seven eyes^e on that one stone, and I will engrave an inscription on it,' says the LORD Almighty, 'and I will remove the sin of this land in a single day.

"'In that day each of you will invite his neighbor to sit under his vine and fig tree,' declares the LORD Almighty."

In the fifth vision is assurance that God will complete his temple through his two anointed ones.

Zech. 4:1-14 LAMPSTAND AND OLIVE TREES. Then the angel who talked with me returned and wakened me, as a man is wakened from his sleep. He asked me, "What do you see?"

I answered, "I see a solid gold lampstand with a bowl at the top and seven lights on it, with seven channels to the lights. Also there are two olive trees by it, one on the right of the bowl and the other on its left."

I asked the angel who talked with me, "What are these, my lord?"

He answered, "Do you not know what these are?"

"No, my lord," I replied.

So he said to me, "This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel: 'Not by might nor by power, but by my Spirit,' says the LORD Almighty.

"What^f are you, O mighty mountain? Before Zerubbabel you will become level ground. Then he will bring out the capstone to shouts of 'God bless it! God bless it!'"

Then the word of the LORD came to me: "The hands of Zerubbabel have ^cA variant of Jeshua; here and elsewhere in Zechariah ^d*Satan* means accuser. ^eOr facets ^fOr Who laid the foundation of this temple; his hands will also complete it. Then you will know that the LORD Almighty has sent me to you.

"Who despises the day of small things? Men will rejoice when they see the plumb line in the hand of Zerubbabel.

"(These seven are the eyes of the LORD, which range throughout the earth.)"

Then I asked the angel, "What are these two olive trees on the right and the left of the lampstand?"

Again I asked him, "What are these two olive branches beside the two gold pipes that pour out golden oil?"

He replied, "Do you not know what these are?"

"No, my lord," I said.

So he said, "These are the two who are anointed to serve the Lord of all the earth."

In the sixth vision is assurance that wickedness will always be punished.

THE FLYING SCROLL. I looked again—and there before me was a flying scroll! Zech. 5:1-4

He asked me, "What do you see?"

I answered, "I see a flying scroll, thirty feet long and fifteen feet wide.^h"

And he said to me, "This is the curse that is going out over the whole land; for according to what it says on one side, every thief will be banished, and according to what it says on the other, everyone who swears falsely will be banished. The LORD Almighty declares, 'I will send it out, and it will enter the house of the thief and the house of him who swears falsely by my name. It will remain in his house and destroy it, both its timbers and its stones.'"

In the seventh vision is assurance that wicked nations will be brought to their knees.

WOMAN IN A BASKET. Then the angel who was speaking to me came forward and said to me, "Look up and see what this is that is appearing." Zech. 5:5-11

I asked, "What is it?"

He replied, "It is a measuring basket."ⁱ And he added, "This is the iniquity^j of the people throughout the land."

Then the cover of lead was raised, and there in the basket sat a woman! He said, "This is wickedness," and he pushed her back into the basket and pushed the lead cover down over its mouth.

Then I looked up—and there before me were two women, with the wind in their wings! They had wings like those of a stork, and they lifted up the basket between heaven and earth.

"Where are they taking the basket?" I asked the angel who was speaking to me.

He replied, "To the country of Babylonia^k to build a house for it. When it is ready, the basket will be set there in its place."

In the eighth vision is assurance that there is to be rest at last!

Zech. 6:1-8 FOUR CHARIOTS. I looked up again—and there before me were four chariots coming out from between two mountains—mountains of bronze! The first chariot had red horses, the second black, the third white, and the fourth dappled—all of them powerful. I asked the angel who was speaking to me, “What are these, my lord?”

The angel answered me, “These are the four spirits^l of heaven, going out from standing in the presence of the Lord of the whole world. The one with the black horses is going toward the north country, the one with the white horses toward the west,^m and the one with the dappled horses toward the south.”

When the powerful horses went out, they were straining to go throughout the earth. And he said, “Go throughout the earth!” So they went throughout the earth.

Then he called to me, “Look, those going toward the north country have given my Spiritⁿ rest in the land of the north.”

Zechariah is now told to place a crown on the head of Joshua the high priest, an enactment which is symbolic of the Messiah, who will be both Priest and King over his people. As the office of high priest evolves in postexilic Israel, it will take on kinglike overtones. This change will prove to be significant when the Messiah comes to establish his own kingdom, for his “kingship” will threaten the priestly power structure and will lead ultimately to his death.

Zech. 6:9-15 CROWN FOR JOSHUA. The word of the LORD came to me: “Take silver and gold, from the exiles Heldai, Tobijah and Jedaiah, who have arrived from Babylon. Go the same day to the house of Josiah son of Zephaniah. Take the silver and gold and make a crown, and set it on the head of the high priest, Joshua son of Jehozadak. Tell him this is what the LORD Almighty says: ‘Here is the man whose name is the Branch, and he will branch out from his place and build the temple of the LORD. It is he who will build the temple of the LORD, and he will be clothed with majesty and will sit and rule on his throne. And he will be a priest on his throne. And there will be harmony between the two.’ The crown will be given to Heldai,^o Tobijah, Jedaiah and Hen^p son of Zephaniah as a memorial in the temple of the LORD. Those who are far away will come and help to build the temple of the LORD, and you will know that the LORD Almighty has sent me to you. This will happen if you diligently obey the LORD your God.”

Do the carpenters and masons now laboring at the temple site have any idea of the majestic stage upon which they are playing their roles? Perhaps they do. If so, Zechariah’s visions must bring both comfort and incredible excitement! ☞

The Meaning of Restoration

As Haggai's mission was to construct the temple of God in Jerusalem, Zechariah's mission is to establish the spiritual house of Israel. It is Zechariah's role to interpret the significance of their work and to give them reason to persevere. The temple is still not completed. The city walls have not even begun to be rebuilt. The outlying towns and lands are still in rubble and disarray. And, worst of all, the religious life of the people is slow in developing after the years in exile, during which religious exercise had naturally waned.

Therefore God presents Zechariah with an opportunity to bring encouragement to his people, to explain the essence of true religion and thus to breathe meaning into the noble enterprise in which they are engaged. The opportunity comes two years after Zechariah's eight visions, when the people of Bethel ask Zechariah about observing certain religious days. God's message through Zechariah is like that brought by the prophet Amos: true religion finds its expression in moral lives and social justice.

INQUIRY FROM BETHEL. In the fourth year of King Darius, the word of the LORD came to Zechariah on the fourth day of the ninth month, the month of Kislev. The people of Bethel had sent Sharezer and Regem-Melech, together with their men, to entreat the LORD by asking the priests of the house of the LORD Almighty and the prophets, "Should I mourn and fast in the fifth month, as I have done for so many years?"

Zech. 7:1-3
(518 B.C.)

MOTIVE FOR FASTING. Then the word of the LORD Almighty came to me: "Ask all the people of the land and the priests, 'When you fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh months for the past seventy years, was it really for me that you fasted? And when you were eating and drinking, were you not just feasting for yourselves? Are these not the words the LORD proclaimed through the earlier prophets when Jerusalem and its surrounding towns were at rest and prosperous, and the Negev and the western foothills were settled?'"

Zech. 7:4-7

ESSENCE OF RELIGION. And the word of the LORD came again to Zechariah: "This is what the LORD Almighty says: 'Administer true justice; show mercy and compassion to one another. Do not oppress the widow or the fatherless, the alien or the poor. In your hearts do not think evil of each other.'

Zech.
7:8-10

FOREFATHERS MISSED POINT. "But they refused to pay attention; stubbornly they turned their backs and stopped up their ears. They made their hearts as hard as flint and would not listen to the law or to the words that the LORD Almighty had sent by his Spirit through the earlier prophets. So the LORD Almighty was very angry.

Zech.
7:11-14

"'When I called, they did not listen; so when they called, I would not listen,' says the LORD Almighty. 'I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations, where they were strangers. The land was left so desolate behind them that no one could come or go. This is how they made the pleasant land desolate.'"

Zech. 8:1-8 RESTORATION HAS COME. Again the word of the LORD Almighty came to me. This is what the LORD Almighty says: "I am very jealous for Zion; I am burning with jealousy for her."

This is what the LORD says: "I will return to Zion and dwell in Jerusalem. Then Jerusalem will be called the City of Truth, and the mountain of the LORD Almighty will be called the Holy Mountain."

This is what the LORD Almighty says: "Once again men and women of ripe old age will sit in the streets of Jerusalem, each with cane in hand because of his age. The city streets will be filled with boys and girls playing there."

This is what the LORD Almighty says: "It may seem marvelous to the remnant of this people at that time, but will it seem marvelous to me?" declares the LORD Almighty.

This is what the LORD Almighty says: "I will save my people from the countries of the east and the west. I will bring them back to live in Jerusalem; they will be my people, and I will be faithful and righteous to them as their God."

Zech. 8:9-13 MOTIVATION FOR WORKERS. This is what the LORD Almighty says: "You who now hear these words spoken by the prophets who were there when the foundation was laid for the house of the LORD Almighty, let your hands be strong so that the temple may be built. Before that time there were no wages for man or beast. No one could go about his business safely because of his enemy, for I had turned every man against his neighbor. But now I will not deal with the remnant of this people as I did in the past," declares the LORD Almighty.

"The seed will grow well, the vine will yield its fruit, the ground will produce its crops, and the heavens will drop their dew. I will give all these things as an inheritance to the remnant of this people. As you have been an object of cursing among the nations, O Judah and Israel, so will I save you, and you will be a blessing. Do not be afraid, but let your hands be strong."

Zech. 8:14-17 CALL FOR TRUE RELIGION. This is what the LORD Almighty says: "Just as I had determined to bring disaster upon you and showed no pity when your fathers angered me," says the LORD Almighty, "so now I have determined to do good again to Jerusalem and Judah. Do not be afraid. These are the things you are to do: Speak the truth to each other, and render true and sound judgment in your courts; do not plot evil against your neighbor, and do not love to swear falsely. I hate all this," declares the LORD.

Zech. 8:18, 19 JOY OF OBSERVANCES. Again the word of the LORD Almighty came to me. This is what the LORD Almighty says: "The fasts of the fourth, fifth, seventh and tenth months will become joyful and glad occasions and happy festivals for Judah. Therefore love truth and peace."

Zech. 8:20-23 FUTURE RESTORATION. This is what the LORD Almighty says: "Many peoples and the inhabitants of many cities will yet come, and the inhabitants of one city will go to another and say, 'Let us go at once to entreat the LORD and seek the LORD Almighty. I myself am going.' And many peoples and powerful nations will come to Jerusalem to seek the LORD Almighty and to entreat him."

This is what the LORD Almighty says: "In those days ten men from all languages and nations will take firm hold of one Jew by the hem of his robe and say, 'Let us go with you, because we have heard that God is with you.'"

An Oracle

This encouragement to the workers has its predictable effect, as the historical record indicates.

TEMPLE PROGRESSES. So the elders of the Jews continued to build and prosper under the preaching of Haggai the prophet and Zechariah, a descendant of Iddo. Ezra 6:14a

Completion of the Temple

With the encouragement of Haggai and Zechariah, the work on the temple goes forward to completion in the year 516 B.C. Just as 70 years elapsed from the first deportation to the return of the first settlers, it has been 70 years since the temple of Solomon was destroyed, in 586 B.C. The precision with which God works in the affairs of nations stands as a wonderful witness to his power in the lives of individuals as well. This exact fulfillment of God's promise ought to encourage people everywhere to know that he truly is God—the faithful God who keeps his promises.

Even though this new sanctuary lacks the splendor of the temple it replaces, the people nevertheless greet the day of completion with joyous celebration!

TEMPLE COMPLETED. They finished building the temple according to the command of the God of Israel and the decrees of Cyrus, Darius and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia. The temple was completed on the third day of the month Adar, in the sixth year of the reign of King Darius. Ezra
6:14b,15
(516 B.C.)

JOYOUS CELEBRATION. Then the people of Israel—the priests, the Levites and the rest of the exiles—celebrated the dedication of the house of God with joy. For the dedication of this house of God they offered a hundred bulls, two hundred rams, four hundred male lambs and, as a sin offering for all Israel, twelve male goats, one for each of the tribes of Israel. And they installed the priests in their divisions and the Levites in their groups for the service of God at Jerusalem, according to what is written in the Book of Moses. Ezra
6:16-18

PASSOVER OBSERVED. On the fourteenth day of the first month, the exiles celebrated the Passover. The priests and Levites had purified themselves and were all ceremonially clean. The Levites slaughtered the Passover lamb for all the exiles, for their brothers the priests and for themselves. So the Israelites who had returned from the exile ate it, together with all who had separated themselves from the unclean practices of their Gentile neighbors in order to seek the LORD, the God of Israel. For seven days they celebrated with joy the Feast of Unleavened Bread, because the LORD had filled them with joy by changing the attitude of the king of Assyria, so that he assisted them in the work on the house of God, the God of Israel. Ezra 6:19-22

Psalms of a Nation Restored

The celebration over the completion of the temple is only symbolic of the greater joy that has been brought to the people of this restored nation. There are many struggles still ahead and more opposition to come, but the people are no longer in captivity and those who have chosen to return are no longer in a foreign land. With the house of God now restored, the nation's new life has begun in earnest.

These feelings are reflected in a number of psalms which give praise to God for hearing the people's prayers in captivity and for being faithful in his promises of restoration. The 11 psalms presented here are the last of the 150 psalms (as presented). They are a fitting conclusion to the first group of psalms, which poured out the troubled souls of those who were beset by the threats and scorn of their enemies. Truly God has been just and faithful to his people.

Psa. 78 God's faithfulness to a rebellious nation.

*A maskil*⁹ of Asaph.

O my people, hear my teaching;
 listen to the words of my mouth.
 I will open my mouth in parables,
 I will utter hidden things, things from of old—what we have heard and known, what our fathers have told us.
 We will not hide them from their children;
 we will tell the next generation
 the praiseworthy deeds of the LORD, his power, and the wonders he has done.
 He decreed statutes for Jacob and established the law in Israel, which he commanded our forefathers to teach their children,
 so the next generation would know them,
 even the children yet to be born,
 and they in turn would tell their children.
 Then they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds
 but would keep his commands.
 They would not be like their forefathers—
 a stubborn and rebellious generation, whose hearts were not loyal to God,
 whose spirits were not faithful to him.
 The men of Ephraim, though armed with bows, turned back on the day of battle;
 they did not keep God's covenant and refused to live by his law.
 They forgot what he had done,
 the wonders he had shown them.

⁹Title: Probably a literary or musical term

He did miracles in the sight of their fathers in the land of Egypt, in the region of Zoan.
He divided the sea and led them through;
he made the water stand firm like a wall.
He guided them with the cloud by day and with light from the fire all night.
He split the rocks in the desert and gave them water as abundant as the seas;
he brought streams out of a rocky crag and made water flow down like rivers.

But they continued to sin against him,
rebellng in the desert against the Most High.
They willfully put God to the test
by demanding the food they craved.
They spoke against God, saying,
"Can God spread a table in the desert?
When he struck the rock, water gushed out,
and streams flowed abundantly.
But can he also give us food?
Can he supply meat for his people?"
When the LORD heard them, he was very angry;
his fire broke out against Jacob,
and his wrath rose against Israel,
for they did not believe in God or trust in his deliverance.

Yet he gave a command to the skies above and opened the doors of the heavens;
he rained down manna for the people to eat,
he gave them the grain of heaven.
Men ate the bread of angels;
he sent them all the food they could eat.
He let loose the east wind from the heavens and led forth the south wind by his power.
He rained meat down on them like dust,
flying birds like sand on the seashore.
He made them come down inside their camp,
all around their tents.

They ate till they had more than enough,
for he had given them what they craved.
But before they turned from the food they craved,
even while it was still in their mouths,
God's anger rose against them;
he put to death the sturdiest among them,
cutting down the young men of Israel.

In spite of all this, they kept on sinning;
in spite of his wonders, they did not believe.
So he ended their days in futility and their years in terror.
Whenever God slew them, they would seek him;
they eagerly turned to him again.
They remembered that God was their Rock, that God Most High was their Redeemer.

But then they would flatter him with their mouths, lying to him with their tongues;
their hearts were not loyal to him,
they were not faithful to his covenant.
Yet he was merciful;
he forgave their iniquities
and did not destroy them.
Time after time he restrained his anger and did not stir up his full wrath.
He remembered that they were but flesh,
a passing breeze that does not return.

How often they rebelled against him in the desert and grieved him in the wasteland!
Again and again they put God to the test;
they vexed the Holy One of Israel.
They did not remember his power—
the day he redeemed them from the oppressor,
the day he displayed his miraculous signs in Egypt,
his wonders in the region of Zoan.
He turned their rivers to blood;
they could not drink from their streams.
He sent swarms of flies that devoured them,
and frogs that devastated them.
He gave their crops to the grasshopper,
their produce to the locust.
He destroyed their vines with hail and their sycamore-figs with sleet.
He gave over their cattle to the hail,
their livestock to bolts of lightning.
He unleashed against them his hot anger, his wrath, indignation and hostility—
a band of destroying angels.
He prepared a path for his anger;
he did not spare them from death
but gave them over to the plague.
He struck down all the firstborn of Egypt,
the firstfruits of manhood in the tents of Ham.
But he brought his people out like a flock;
he led them like sheep through the desert.
He guided them safely, so they were unafraid;
but the sea engulfed their enemies.
Thus he brought them to the border of his holy land, to the hill country his right hand had taken.
He drove out nations before them and allotted their lands to them as an inheritance;
he settled the tribes of Israel in their homes.

But they put God to the test and rebelled against the Most High;
they did not keep his statutes.
Like their fathers they were disloyal and faithless,

as unreliable as a faulty bow.
 They angered him with their high places;
 they aroused his jealousy with their idols.
 When God heard them, he was very angry;
 he rejected Israel completely.
 He abandoned the tabernacle of Shiloh,
 the tent he had set up among men.
 He sent the ark of his might into captivity,
 his splendor into the hands of the enemy.
 He gave his people over to the sword;
 he was very angry with his inheritance.
 Fire consumed their young men,
 and their maidens had no wedding songs;
 their priests were put to the sword,
 and their widows could not weep.

 Then the Lord awoke as from sleep,
 as a man wakes from the stupor of wine.
 He beat back his enemies;
 he put them to everlasting shame.
 Then he rejected the tents of Joseph,
 he did not choose the tribe of Ephraim;
 but he chose the tribe of Judah,
 Mount Zion, which he loved.
 He built his sanctuary like the heights,
 like the earth that he established forever.
 He chose David his servant and took him from the sheep pens;
 from tending the sheep he brought him to be the shepherd of his people Jacob, of Israel his inheritance.
 And David shepherded them with integrity of heart;
 with skillful hands he led them.

Israel's restoration after punishment.

Psa. 107

Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
 his love endures forever.
 Let the redeemed of the LORD say this—those he redeemed from the hand of the foe, those he gathered from the lands,
 from east and west, from north and south.^r

 Some wandered in desert wastelands, finding no way to a city where they could settle.
 They were hungry and thirsty,
 and their lives ebbed away.
 Then they cried out to the LORD in their trouble,
 and he delivered them from their distress.
 He led them by a straight way to a city where they could settle.
 Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love

^rHebrew north and the sea and his wonderful deeds for men,

for he satisfies the thirsty and fills the hungry with good things.

Some sat in darkness and the deepest gloom, prisoners suffering in iron chains,
for they had rebelled against the words of God and despised the counsel of the Most High.
So he subjected them to bitter labor;
they stumbled, and there was no one to help.
Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
and he saved them from their distress.
He brought them out of darkness and the deepest gloom and broke away their chains.
Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love
and his wonderful deeds for men,
for he breaks down gates of bronze and cuts through bars of iron.

Some became fools through their rebellious ways and suffered affliction because of their iniquities.
They loathed all food
and drew near the gates of death.
Then they cried to the LORD in their trouble,
and he saved them from their distress.
He sent forth his word and healed them;
he rescued them from the grave.
Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love
and his wonderful deeds for men.
Let them sacrifice thank offerings and tell of his works with songs of joy.

Others went out on the sea in ships;
they were merchants on the mighty waters.
They saw the works of the LORD,
his wonderful deeds in the deep.
For he spoke and stirred up a tempest that lifted high the waves.
They mounted up to the heavens and went down to the depths;
in their peril their courage melted away.
They reeled and staggered like drunken men;
they were at their wits' end.
Then they cried out to the LORD in their trouble,
and he brought them out of their distress.
He stilled the storm to a whisper;
the waves of the sea were hushed.
They were glad when it grew calm,
and he guided them to their desired haven.
Let them give thanks to the LORD for his unfailing love
and his wonderful deeds for men.
Let them exalt him in the assembly of the people and praise him in the council of the elders.

He turned rivers into a desert, flowing springs into thirsty ground,
 and fruitful land into a salt waste,
 because of the wickedness of those who lived there.
 He turned the desert into pools of water and the parched ground into flowing springs;
 there he brought the hungry to live,
 and they founded a city where they could settle.
 They sowed fields and planted vineyards that yielded a fruitful harvest;
 he blessed them, and their numbers greatly increased,
 and he did not let their herds diminish.

Then their numbers decreased, and they were humbled by oppression, calamity and sorrow;
 he who pours contempt on nobles made them wander in a trackless waste.
 But he lifted the needy out of their affliction and increased their families like flocks.
 The upright see and rejoice,
 but all the wicked shut their mouths.

Whoever is wise, let him heed these things and consider the great love of the LORD.

Praise for deliverance from the chains and death of captivity.

I love the LORD, for he heard my voice;
 he heard my cry for mercy.
 Because he turned his ear to me,
 I will call on him as long as I live.

The cords of death entangled me,
 the anguish of the grave^s came upon me;
 I was overcome by trouble and sorrow.
 Then I called on the name of the LORD:
 "O LORD, save me!"

The LORD is gracious and righteous;
 our God is full of compassion.
 The LORD protects the simplehearted;
 when I was in great need, he saved me.

Be at rest once more, O my soul,
 for the LORD has been good to you.

For you, O LORD, have delivered my soul from death,
 my eyes from tears,
 my feet from stumbling,
 that I may walk before the LORD
 in the land of the living.
 I believed; therefore¹ I said,
 "I am greatly afflicted."
 And in my dismay I said,

How can I repay the LORD
for all his goodness to me?
I will lift up the cup of salvation
and call on the name of the LORD.
I will fulfill my vows to the LORD
in the presence of all his people.

Precious in the sight of the LORD

O LORD, truly I am your servant;
I am your servant, the son of your maidservant^u;
you have freed me from my chains.

I will sacrifice a thank offering to you
and call on the name of the LORD.
I will fulfill my vows to the LORD
in the presence of all his people, in the courts of the house of the LORD—
in your midst, O Jerusalem.

Praise the LORD.^v

Psa. 118

Praise for a renewed life.

Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
his love endures forever.

Let Israel say:
"His love endures forever."

Let the house of Aaron say:
"His love endures forever."

Let those who fear the LORD say:
"His love endures forever."

In my anguish I cried to the LORD, and he answered by setting me free.
The LORD is with me; I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?

The LORD is with me; he is my helper.
I will look in triumph on my enemies.

It is better to take refuge in the LORD
than to trust in man.

It is better to take refuge in the LORD
than to trust in princes.

All the nations surrounded me,
but in the name of the LORD I cut them off.

They surrounded me on every side,
but in the name of the LORD I cut them off.

They swarmed around me like bees,
but they died out as quickly as burning thorns;
in the name of the LORD I cut them off.

^uOr servant, your faithful son

^vHebrew Hallelu Yah

I was pushed back and about to fall,
 but the LORD helped me.
 The LORD is my strength and my song;
 he has become my salvation.

Shouts of joy and victory
 resound in the tents of the righteous:
 "The LORD's right hand has done mighty things!
 The LORD's right hand is lifted high;
 the LORD's right hand has done mighty things!"

I will not die but live,
 and will proclaim what the LORD has done.
 The LORD has chastened me severely,
 but he has not given me over to death.

Open for me the gates of righteousness;
 I will enter and give thanks to the LORD.
 This is the gate of the LORD through which the righteous may enter.
 I will give you thanks, for you answered me;
 you have become my salvation.

The stone the builders rejected
 has become the capstone;
 the LORD has done this,
 and it is marvelous in our eyes.
 This is the day the LORD has made;
 let us rejoice and be glad in it.

O LORD, save us;
 O LORD, grant us success.
 Blessed is he who comes in the name of the LORD.
 From the house of the LORD we bless you.^w
 The LORD is God,

You are my God, and I will give you thanks;
 you are my God, and I will exalt you.

Give thanks to the LORD, for he is good;
 his love endures forever.

Prayer of trust that foreign dominance will end.

Psa. 125

A song of ascents.

Those who trust in the LORD are like Mount Zion, which cannot be shaken but endures forever.

 so the LORD surrounds his people to those who are upright in heart.

But those who turn to crooked ways
the LORD will banish with the evildoers.

Peace be upon Israel. S

Psa. 126 Joy of return to Jerusalem.

A song of ascents.

When the LORD brought back the captives to^y Zion, we were like men who dreamed.^z
Our mouths were filled with laughter, our tongues with songs of joy.
Then it was said among the nations,
"The LORD has done great things for them."
The LORD has done great things for us, and we are filled with joy.

Restore our fortunes,^a O LORD,
like streams in the Negev.
Those who sow in tears will reap with songs of joy.
He who goes out weeping,
carrying seed to sow,
will return with songs of joy,
carrying sheaves with him.

Psa. 128 Blessings of righteousness and prosperity of Jerusalem.

A song of ascents.

Blessed are all who fear the LORD, who walk in his ways.
You will eat the fruit of your labor;
blessings and prosperity will be yours.
Your wife will be like a fruitful vine within your house;
your sons will be like olive shoots around your table.
Thus is the man blessed who fears the LORD.
May the LORD bless you from Zion
all the days of your life;
may you see the prosperity of Jerusalem,
and may you live to see your children's children.
Peace be upon Israel.

 they have greatly oppressed me from my youth,
 but they have not gained the victory over me.
 Plowmen have plowed my back and made their furrows long.
 But the LORD is righteous;
 he has cut me free from the cords of the wicked.

May all who hate Zion
 be turned back in shame.
 May they be like grass on the roof,
 which withers before it can grow;

 May those who pass by not say,
 "The blessing of the LORD be upon you;
 we bless you in the name of the LORD."

Call for God's fulfillment of royal promise.

Psa. 132

A song of ascents.

O LORD, remember David and all the hardships he endured.
 He swore an oath to the LORD and made a vow to the Mighty One of Jacob:
 "I will not enter my house or go to my bed—
 I will allow no sleep to my eyes,
 no slumber to my eyelids,
 till I find a place for the LORD,
 a dwelling for the Mighty One of Jacob."
 We heard it in Ephrathah,
 we came upon it in the fields of Jaar^b :^c
 "Let us go to his dwelling place;
 let us worship at his footstool—arise, O LORD, and come to your resting place, you and the ark of your might.
 May your priests be clothed with righteousness;
 may your saints sing for joy."
 For the sake of David your servant,
 do not reject your anointed one.
 The LORD swore an oath to David,
 a sure oath that he will not revoke:
 "One of your own descendants
 I will place on your throne—

^bThat is, Kiriath Jearim ^cOr heard of it in Ephrathah, / we found it in the fields of Jaar.
 (And no quotes around verses 7-9)

if your sons keep my covenant and the statutes I teach them, then their sons will sit on your throne for ever and ever.”

For the LORD has chosen Zion,
he has desired it for his dwelling:
“This is my resting place for ever and ever;
here I will sit enthroned, for I have desired it—
I will bless her with abundant provisions;
her poor will I satisfy with food.
I will clothe her priests with salvation,
and her saints will ever sing for joy.
“Here I will make a horn^d grow for David and set up a lamp for my anointed one.
I will clothe his enemies with shame,
but the crown on his head will be resplendent.”

Psa. 147 Creator's power has brought restoration.

Praise the LORD.^e
How good it is to sing praises to our God,
how pleasant and fitting to praise him!
The LORD builds up Jerusalem;
he gathers the exiles of Israel.
He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds.
He determines the number of the stars
and calls them each by name.
Great is our Lord and mighty in power;
his understanding has no limit.
The LORD sustains the humble
but casts the wicked to the ground.
Sing to the LORD with thanksgiving;
make music to our God on the harp.
He covers the sky with clouds;
he supplies the earth with rain and makes grass grow on the hills.
He provides food for the cattle and for the young ravens when they call.
His pleasure is not in the strength of the horse,
nor his delight in the legs of a man;
the LORD delights in those who fear him,
who put their hope in his unfailing love.
Extol the LORD, O Jerusalem;
praise your God, O Zion,
for he strengthens the bars of your gates and blesses your people within you.

^dHorn here symbolizes strong one, that is, king. ^eHebrew Hallelu Yah and satisfies you with the finest of wheat.

He sends his command to the earth;
his word runs swiftly.

He spreads the snow like wool and scatters the frost like ashes.

He hurls down his hail like pebbles.

Who can withstand his icy blast?

He sends his word and melts them;
he stirs up his breezes, and the waters flow.

He has revealed his word to Jacob,
his laws and decrees to Israel.

He has done this for no other nation;
they do not know his laws.

Praise the LORD.

Praise for the King and preparedness to fight for the nation.

Psa. 149

Praise the LORD.†

Sing to the LORD a new song,
his praise in the assembly of the saints.

Let Israel rejoice in their Maker;
let the people of Zion be glad in their King.

Let them praise his name with dancing and make music to him with tambourine and harp.

For the LORD takes delight in his people;
he crowns the humble with salvation.

Let the saints rejoice in this honor and sing for joy on their beds.

May the praise of God be in their mouths and a double-edged sword in their hands, to inflict vengeance on the nations and punishment on the peoples, to bind their kings with fetters,
their nobles with shackles of iron,
to carry out the sentence written against them.
This is the glory of all his saints.

Praise the LORD.

Zechariah's Futuristic Prophecies _____

There is no indication at all as to when the final prophecies of Zechariah are either received or recorded. It is not likely that they would have come later than about 460 B.C. Since the historical record is otherwise virtually silent for about 35 years, Zechariah's last prophecies will be set forth at this point.

†Hebrew Hallelu Yah

The prophecies, in the form of two oracles, are once again highly figurative. They are undoubtedly messianic and give some of the clearest details about the life and death of the Messiah. For example, in contrast to the present kings and their chariots of war, this spiritual King will come gently in peace, riding on a donkey. He will be betrayed for 30 pieces of silver, and he will be pierced at the time of his death.

Zechariah addresses a number of themes—past, present, and future—which lead to an apocalyptic view of the great battle between good and evil, the destruction of the wicked, and the salvation of the righteous.

Zech. 9:1-8 DESTRUCTION OF OPPRESSORS.

The word of the LORD is against the land of Hadrach and will rest upon Damascus—for the eyes of men and all the tribes of Israel are on the LORD—^s and upon Hamath too, which borders on it,
and upon Tyre and Sidon, though they are very skillful.
Tyre has built herself a stronghold;
she has heaped up silver like dust,
and gold like the dirt of the streets.
But the Lord will take away her possessions and destroy her power on the sea, and she will be consumed by fire.
Ashkelon will see it and fear;
Gaza will writhe in agony,
and Ekron too, for her hope will wither.
Gaza will lose her king and Ashkelon will be deserted.
Foreigners will occupy Ashdod,
and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.
I will take the blood from their mouths,
the forbidden food from between their teeth.
Those who are left will belong to our God and become leaders in Judah, and Ekron will be like the Jebusites.
But I will defend my house against marauding forces.
Never again will an oppressor overrun my people,
for now I am keeping watch.

Zech.
9:9-13

COMING OF ZION'S KING.

and the war-horses from Jerusalem,
 and the battle bow will be broken.
 He will proclaim peace to the nations.
 His rule will extend from sea to sea and from the Riverⁱ to the ends of the earth.^j
 As for you, because of the blood of my covenant with you,
 I will free your prisoners from the waterless pit.
 Return to your fortress, O prisoners of hope;
 even now I announce that I will restore twice as much to
 you.
 I will bend Judah as I bend my bow and fill it with Ephraim.
 I will rouse your sons, O Zion, against your sons, O Greece,
 and make you like a warrior's sword.

APPEARANCE OF THE LORD.

Zech.
9:14-17

Then the LORD will appear over them;
 his arrow will flash like lightning.
 The Sovereign LORD will sound the trumpet;
 he will march in the storms of the south,
 and the LORD Almighty will shield them.
 They will destroy and overcome with slingstones.
 They will drink and roar as with wine;
 they will be full like a bowl used for sprinkling^k the corners of the altar.
 The LORD their God will save them on that day
 as the flock of his people.
 They will sparkle in his land like jewels in a crown.

REDEMPTION OF ISRAEL.

Together they¹ will be like mighty men trampling the muddy streets in battle.
Because the LORD is with them,
they will fight and overthrow the horsemen.

and save the house of Joseph.
I will restore them
because I have compassion on them.
They will be as though
I had not rejected them, for I am the LORD their God and I will answer them.

The Ephraimites will become like mighty men,
and their hearts will be glad as with wine.
Their children will see it and be joyful;
their hearts will rejoice in the LORD.

I will signal for them and gather them in.

Surely I will redeem them;
they will be as numerous as before.
Though I scatter them among the peoples,
yet in distant lands they will remember me.
They and their children will survive,
and they will return.

I will bring them back from Egypt and gather them from Assyria.
I will bring them to Gilead and Lebanon,
and there will not be room enough for them.
They will pass through the sea of trouble;
the surging sea will be subdued and all the depths of the Nile will dry up.

Assyria's pride will be brought down and Egypt's scepter will pass away.

I will strengthen them in the LORD and in his name they will walk,”

declares the LORD.

Zech.

LAMENT FOR SHEPHERDS.

Open your doors, O Lebanon,
so that fire may devour your cedars!
Wail, O pine tree, for the cedar has fallen;

¹Or ruler, all of them together. / ⁵They

the stately trees are ruined!
 Wail, oaks of Bashan;
 the dense forest has been cut down!
 Listen to the wail of the shepherds;
 their rich pastures are destroyed!
 Listen to the roar of the lions;
 the lush thicket of the Jordan is ruined!

THE GOOD AND BAD SHEPHERDS. This is what the LORD my God says: "Pasture the flock marked for slaughter. Their buyers slaughter them and go unpunished. Those who sell them say, 'Praise the LORD, I am rich!' Their own shepherds do not spare them. For I will no longer have pity on the people of the land," declares the LORD. "I will hand everyone over to his neighbor and his king. They will oppress the land, and I will not rescue them from their hands."

Zech.
11:4-17

So I pastured the flock marked for slaughter, particularly the oppressed of the flock. Then I took two staffs and called one Favor and the other Union, and I pastured the flock. In one month I got rid of the three shepherds.

The flock detested me, and I grew weary of them and said, "I will not be your shepherd. Let the dying die, and the perishing perish. Let those who are left eat one another's flesh."

Then I took my staff called Favor and broke it, revoking the covenant I had made with all the nations. It was revoked on that day, and so the afflicted of the flock who were watching me knew it was the word of the LORD.

I told them, "If you think it best, give me my pay; but if not, keep it." So they paid me thirty pieces of silver.

And the LORD said to me, "Throw it to the potter"—the handsome price at which they priced me! So I took the thirty pieces of silver and threw them into the house of the LORD to the potter.

Then I broke my second staff called Union, breaking the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

Then the LORD said to me, "Take again the equipment of a foolish shepherd. For I am going to raise up a shepherd over the land who will not care for the lost, or seek the young, or heal the injured, or feed the healthy, but will eat the meat of the choice sheep, tearing off their hoofs.

"Woe to the worthless shepherd, who deserts the flock!
 May the sword strike his arm and his right eye!
 May his arm be completely withered, his right eye totally blinded!"

An Oracle

SALVATION OF JERUSALEM. This is the word of the LORD concerning Israel. The LORD, who stretches out the heavens, who lays the foundation of the earth, and who forms the spirit of man within him, declares: "I am going to make Jerusalem a cup that sends all the surrounding peoples reeling. Judah will be besieged as well as Jerusalem. On that day, when all the nations of the earth are gathered against her, I will make Jerusalem an immovable rock for all the nations. All who try to move it will injure themselves. On that day I will strike every horse with panic and its rider with madness," declares the LORD. "I will keep a watchful eye over the house of Judah, but I will blind all the horses of the nations. Then the leaders of Judah will say in their hearts, 'The people of Jerusalem are strong, because the LORD Almighty is their God.'

Zech.
12:1-9

"On that day I will make the leaders of Judah like a firepot in a woodpile, like a flaming torch among sheaves. They will consume right and left all the surrounding peoples, but Jerusalem will remain intact in her place.

"The LORD will save the dwellings of Judah first, so that the honor of the house of David and of Jerusalem's inhabitants may not be greater than that of Judah. On that day the LORD will shield those who live in Jerusalem, so that the feeblest among them will be like David, and the house of David will be like God, like the Angel of the LORD going before them. On that day I will set out to destroy all the nations that attack Jerusalem.

Zech.
12:10-14

MOURNING FOR ONE PIERCED. "And I will pour out on the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem a spirit^m of grace and supplication. They will look onⁿ me, the one they have pierced, and they will mourn for him as one mourns for an only child, and grieve bitterly for him as one grieves for a firstborn son. On that day the weeping in Jerusalem will be great, like the weeping of Hadad Rimmon in the plain of Megiddo. The land will mourn, each clan by itself, with their wives by themselves: the clan of the house of David and their wives, the clan of the house of Nathan and their wives, the clan of the house of Levi and their wives, the clan of Shimei and their wives, and all the rest of the clans and their wives.

Zech.
13:1-6

CLEANSING FROM SIN. "On that day a fountain will be opened to the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to cleanse them from sin and impurity.

"On that day, I will banish the names of the idols from the land, and they will be remembered no more," declares the LORD Almighty. "I will remove both the prophets and the spirit of impurity from the land. And if anyone still prophesies, his father and mother, to whom he was born, will say to him, 'You must die, because you have told lies in the LORD's name.' When he prophesies, his own parents will stab him.

"On that day every prophet will be ashamed of his prophetic vision. He will not put on a prophet's garment of hair in order to deceive. He will say, 'I am not a prophet. I am a farmer; the land has been my livelihood since my youth.^o If someone asks him, 'What are these wounds on your body?' he will answer, 'The wounds I was given at the house of my friends.'

Zech.
13:7-9

THE SCATTERED SHEEP.

"Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, against the man who is close to me!"
declares the LORD Almighty.

"Strike the shepherd,
and the sheep will be scattered,
and I will turn my hand against the little ones.

In the whole land," declares the LORD,
"two-thirds will be struck down and perish;
yet one-third will be left in it.

THE GREAT BATTLE. A day of the LORD is coming when your plunder will be divided among you. Zech.
14:1-7

I will gather all the nations to Jerusalem to fight against it; the city will be captured, the houses ransacked, and the women raped. Half of the city will go into exile, but the rest of the people will not be taken from the city.

Then the LORD will go out and fight against those nations, as he fights in the day of battle. On that day his feet will stand on the Mount of Olives, east of Jerusalem, and the Mount of Olives will be split in two from east to west, forming a great valley, with half of the mountain moving north and half moving south. You will flee by my mountain valley, for it will extend to Azel. You will flee as you fled from the earthquake^q in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. Then the LORD my God will come, and all the holy ones with him.

On that day there will be no light, no cold or frost. It will be a unique day, without daytime or nighttime—a day known to the LORD. When evening comes, there will be light.

THE KING'S REIGN. On that day living water will flow out from Jerusalem, half to the eastern sea^r and half to the western sea,^s in summer and in winter. Zech.
14:8-11

The LORD will be king over the whole earth. On that day there will be one LORD, and his name the only name.

The whole land, from Geba to Rimmon, south of Jerusalem, will become like the Arabah. But Jerusalem will be raised up and remain in its place, from the Benjamin Gate to the site of the First Gate, to the Corner Gate, and from the Tower of Hananel to the royal winepresses. It will be inhabited; never again will it be destroyed. Jerusalem will be secure.

PUNISHMENT OF WICKED. This is the plague with which the LORD will strike all the nations that fought against Jerusalem: Their flesh will rot while they are still standing on their feet, their eyes will rot in their sockets, and their tongues will rot in their mouths. On that day men will be stricken by the LORD with great panic. Each man will seize the hand of another, and they will attack each other. Judah too will fight at Jerusalem. The wealth of all the surrounding nations will be collected—great quantities of gold and silver and clothing. A similar plague will strike the horses and mules, the camels and donkeys, and all the animals in those camps. Zech.
14:12-15

CELEBRATION OF RIGHTEOUS. Then the survivors from all the nations that have attacked Jerusalem will go up year after year to worship the King, the LORD Almighty, and to celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles. Zech.
14:16

ALL WILL ACKNOWLEDGE KING. If any of the peoples of the earth do not go up to Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD Almighty, they Zech.

will have no rain. If the Egyptian people do not go up and take part, they will have no rain. The LORD¹ will bring on them the plague he inflicts on the nations that do not go up to celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles. This will be the punishment of Egypt and the punishment of all the nations that do not go up to celebrate the Feast of Tabernacles.

Zech.
14:20,21

HOLINESS OF KINGDOM. On that day HOLY TO THE LORD will be inscribed on the bells of the horses, and the cooking pots in the LORD's house will be like the sacred bowls in front of the altar. Every pot in Jerusalem and Judah will be holy to the LORD Almighty, and all who come to sacrifice will take some of the pots and cook in them. And on that day there will no longer be a Canaanite^u in the house of the LORD Almighty.

What a grand picture of the age to come! And what a perfect way for Zechariah to end his ministry. Like Daniel, Zechariah undoubtedly will rest for a time, then awake to meet the exciting fulfillment of his own words from God.

Esther and the Feast of Purim _____

With the temple now completed, the people of Israel are free to go about the job of recultivating the land and reconstructing other buildings in the cities. The resettlement process is laborious, and it will take another 60 years to restore the level of civilization that the nation once knew.

During this time Darius has thoroughly subdued Egypt, but, as with Israel, has permitted life in Egypt to go on pretty much as usual. When Darius dies, in 486 B.C., he is replaced by his son Xerxes I. Xerxes does not share the tolerant policies of his father and grandfather. He offends the Egyptians and Greeks through repressive measures, and offends even his own countrymen by his high taxes and destruction of a statue of the god Marduk. It is not known what kind of relationship Xerxes has with Israel at the outset, but it does not appear that he has any particular animosity against the Jews. There are still many Jews in his own country and, although they do have enemies there, no official opposition is apparent.

If Xerxes is the king referred to in other records as Ahasuerus (and there is considerable disagreement on the issue), then it is during his reign that one of the most fascinating stories in all of Jewish history takes place. It is a story of intrigue at the royal palace in Susa. There is plot and counterplot. There is suspense and danger, and unexpected twists of fate. And the final undoing of the villain is delightfully ironic. It is such a wonderful story that it should not be ruined by any preview. Suffice it to say that it takes place over a period of four years (presumably beginning in 483 B.C., the third year of Xerxes' reign), and features a beautiful Jewish girl whose Persian name is Esther, her father-figure Mordecai, his wicked enemy Haman, and the king himself.

¹Or part, then the LORD ^uOr merchant

THE STORY OF ESTHER. This is what happened during the time of Xerxes,¹ the Xerxes who ruled over 127 provinces stretching from India to Cush²: At that time King Xerxes reigned from his royal throne in the citadel of Susa, and in the third year of his reign he gave a banquet for all his nobles and officials. The military leaders of Persia and Media, the princes, and the nobles of the provinces were present.

Esther
1:1-22
(483-479
B.C.?)
Susa

For a full 180 days he displayed the vast wealth of his kingdom and the splendor and glory of his majesty. When these days were over, the king gave a banquet, lasting seven days, in the enclosed garden of the king's palace, for all the people from the least to the greatest, who were in the citadel of Susa. The garden had hangings of white and blue linen, fastened with cords of white linen and purple material to silver rings on marble pillars. There were couches of gold and silver on a mosaic pavement of porphyry, marble, mother-of-pearl and other costly stones. Wine was served in goblets of gold, each one different from the other, and the royal wine was abundant, in keeping with the king's liberality. By the king's command each guest was allowed to drink in his own way, for the king instructed all the wine stewards to serve each man what he wished.

Queen Vashti also gave a banquet for the women in the royal palace of King Xerxes.

On the seventh day, when King Xerxes was in high spirits from wine, he commanded the seven eunuchs who served him—Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar and Carcas—to bring before him Queen Vashti, wearing her royal crown, in order to display her beauty to the people and nobles, for she was lovely to look at. But when the attendants delivered the king's command, Queen Vashti refused to come. Then the king became furious and burned with anger.

Since it was customary for the king to consult experts in matters of law and justice, he spoke with the wise men who understood the times and were closest to the king—Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena and Memucan, the seven nobles of Persia and Media who had special access to the king and were highest in the kingdom.

"According to law, what must be done to Queen Vashti?" he asked. "She has not obeyed the command of King Xerxes that the eunuchs have taken to her."

Then Memucan replied in the presence of the king and the nobles, "Queen Vashti has done wrong, not only against the king but also against all the nobles and the peoples of all the provinces of King Xerxes. For the queen's conduct will become known to all the women, and so they will despise their husbands and say, 'King Xerxes commanded Queen Vashti to be brought before him, but she would not come.' This very day the Persian and Median women of the nobility who have heard about the queen's conduct will respond to all the king's nobles in the same way. There will be no end of disrespect and discord.

"Therefore, if it pleases the king, let him issue a royal decree and let it be written in the laws of Persia and Media, which cannot be repealed, that Vashti is never again to enter the presence of King Xerxes. Also let the king give her royal position to someone else who is better than she. Then when the king's edict is proclaimed throughout all his vast realm, all the women will respect their husbands, from the least to the greatest."

The king and his nobles were pleased with this advice, so the king did as Memucan proposed. He sent dispatches to all parts of the kingdom, to each province in its own script and to each people in its own language, proclaiming in each people's tongue that every man should be ruler over his own household.

Esther
2:1-23

Later when the anger of King Xerxes had subsided, he remembered Vashti and what she had done and what he had decreed about her. Then the king's personal attendants proposed, "Let a search be made for beautiful young virgins for the king. Let the king appoint commissioners in every province of his realm to bring all these beautiful girls into the harem at the citadel of Susa. Let them be placed under the care of Hegai, the king's eunuch, who is in charge of the women; and let beauty treatments be given to them. Then let the girl who pleases the king be queen instead of Vashti." This advice appealed to the king, and he followed it.

Now there was in the citadel of Susa a Jew of the tribe of Benjamin, named Mordecai son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, who had been carried into exile from Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, among those taken captive with Jehoiachin^x king of Judah. Mordecai had a cousin named Hadassah, whom he had brought up because she had neither father nor mother. This girl, who was also known as Esther, was lovely in form and features, and Mordecai had taken her as his own daughter when her father and mother died.

When the king's order and edict had been proclaimed, many girls were brought to the citadel of Susa and put under the care of Hegai. Esther also was taken to the king's palace and entrusted to Hegai, who had charge of the harem. The girl pleased him and won his favor. Immediately he provided her with her beauty treatments and special food. He assigned to her seven maids selected from the king's palace and moved her and her maids into the best place in the harem.

Esther had not revealed her nationality and family background, because Mordecai had forbidden her to do so. Every day he walked back and forth near the courtyard of the harem to find out how Esther was and what was happening to her.

Before a girl's turn came to go in to King Xerxes, she had to complete twelve months of beauty treatments prescribed for the women, six months with oil of myrrh and six with perfumes and cosmetics. And this is how she would go to the king: Anything she wanted was given her to take with her from the harem to the king's palace. In the evening she would go there and in the morning return to another part of the harem to the care of Shaashgaz, the king's eunuch who was in charge of the concubines. She would not return to the king unless he was pleased with her and summoned her by name.

When the turn came for Esther (the girl Mordecai had adopted, the daughter of his uncle Abihail) to go to the king, she asked for nothing other than what Hegai, the king's eunuch who was in charge of the harem, suggested. And Esther won the favor of everyone who saw her. She was taken to King Xerxes in the royal residence in the tenth month, the month of Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

Now the king was attracted to Esther more than to any of the other women, and she won his favor and approval more than any of the other virgins. So he set a royal crown on her head and made her queen instead of Vashti. And the king gave a great banquet, Esther's banquet, for all his nobles and officials. He proclaimed a holiday throughout the provinces and distributed gifts with royal liberality.

When the virgins were assembled a second time, Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate. But Esther had kept secret her family background and nationality just as Mordecai had told her to do, for she continued to follow Mordecai's instructions as she had done when he was bringing her up.

During the time Mordecai was sitting at the king's gate, Bigthana^y and Teresh, two of the king's officers who guarded the doorway, became angry and conspired to assassinate King Xerxes. But Mordecai found out about the plot and told Queen Esther, who in turn reported it to the king, giving credit to Mordecai. And when the report was investigated and found to be true, the two officials were hanged on a gallows.^z All this was recorded in the book of the annals in the presence of the king.

After these events, King Xerxes honored Haman son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, elevating him and giving him a seat of honor higher than that of all the other nobles. All the royal officials at the king's gate knelt down and paid honor to Haman, for the king had commanded this concerning him. But Mordecai would not kneel down or pay him honor.

Then the royal officials at the king's gate asked Mordecai, "Why do you disobey the king's command?" Day after day they spoke to him but he refused to comply. Therefore they told Haman about it to see whether Mordecai's behavior would be tolerated, for he had told them he was a Jew.

When Haman saw that Mordecai would not kneel down or pay him honor, he was enraged. Yet having learned who Mordecai's people were, he scorned the idea of killing only Mordecai. Instead Haman looked for a way to destroy all Mordecai's people, the Jews, throughout the whole kingdom of Xerxes.

In the twelfth year of King Xerxes, in the first month, the month of Nisan, they cast the pur (that is, the lot) in the presence of Haman to select a day and month. And the lot fell on^a the twelfth month, the month of Adar.

Then Haman said to King Xerxes, "There is a certain people dispersed and scattered among the peoples in all the provinces of your kingdom whose customs are different from those of all other people and who do not obey the king's laws; it is not in the king's best interest to tolerate them. If it pleases the king, let a decree be issued to destroy them, and I will put ten thousand talents^b of silver into the royal treasury for the men who carry out this business."

So the king took his signet ring from his finger and gave it to Haman son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of the Jews. "Keep the money," the king said to Haman, "and do with the people as you please."

^yHebrew Bigthan, a variant of Bigthana ^zOr were hung (or impaled) on poles; similarly elsewhere in Esther ^aSeptuagint; Hebrew does not have And the lot fell on. ^bThat is, about 375 tons (about 345 metric tons)

Then on the thirteenth day of the first month the royal secretaries were summoned. They wrote out in the script of each province and in the language of each people all Haman's orders to the king's satraps, the governors of the various provinces and the nobles of the various peoples. These were written in the name of King Xerxes himself and sealed with his own ring. Dispatches were sent by couriers to all the king's provinces with the order to destroy, kill and annihilate all the Jews—young and old, women and little children—on a single day, the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar, and to plunder their goods. A copy of the text of the edict was to be issued as law in every province and made known to the people of every nationality so they would be ready for that day.

Spurred on by the king's command, the couriers went out, and the edict was issued in the citadel of Susa. The king and Haman sat down to drink, but the city of Susa was bewildered.

Esther
4:1-17

When Mordecai learned of all that had been done, he tore his clothes, put on sackcloth and ashes, and went out into the city, wailing loudly and bitterly. But he went only as far as the king's gate, because no one clothed in sackcloth was allowed to enter it. In every province to which the edict and order of the king came, there was great mourning among the Jews, with fasting, weeping and wailing. Many lay in sackcloth and ashes.

When Esther's maids and eunuchs came and told her about Mordecai, she was in great distress. She sent clothes for him to put on instead of his sackcloth, but he would not accept them. Then Esther summoned Hathach, one of the king's eunuchs assigned to attend her, and ordered him to find out what was troubling Mordecai and why.

So Hathach went out to Mordecai in the open square of the city in front of the king's gate. Mordecai told him everything that had happened to him, including the exact amount of money Haman had promised to pay into the royal treasury for the destruction of the Jews. He also gave him a copy of the text of the edict for their annihilation, which had been published in Susa, to show to Esther and explain it to her, and he told him to urge her to go into the king's presence to beg for mercy and plead with him for her people.

Hathach went back and reported to Esther what Mordecai had said. Then she instructed him to say to Mordecai, "All the king's officials and the people of the royal provinces know that for any man or woman who approaches the king in the inner court without being summoned the king has but one law: that he be put to death. The only exception to this is for the king to extend the gold scepter to him and spare his life. But thirty days have passed since I was called to go to the king."

When Esther's words were reported to Mordecai, he sent back this answer: "Do not think that because you are in the king's house you alone of all the Jews will escape. For if you remain silent at this time, relief and deliverance for the Jews will arise from another place, but you and your father's family will perish. And who knows but that you have come to royal position for such a time as this?"

Then Esther sent this reply to Mordecai: "Go, gather together all the Jews who are in Susa, and fast for me. Do not eat or drink for three days, night or day. I and my maids will fast as you do. When this is done, I will go to the king, even though it is against the law. And if I perish, I perish."

So Mordecai went away and carried out all of Esther's instructions.

Esther
5:1-14

On the third day Esther put on her royal robes and stood in the inner court of the palace, in front of the king's hall. The king was sitting on his royal throne in the hall, facing the entrance. When he saw Queen Esther standing in the court, he was pleased with her and held out to her the gold scepter that was in his hand. So Esther approached and touched the tip of the scepter.

Then the king asked, "What is it, Queen Esther? What is your request? Even up to half the kingdom, it will be given you."

"If it pleases the king," replied Esther, "let the king, together with Haman, come today to a banquet I have prepared for him."

"Bring Haman at once," the king said, "so that we may do what Esther asks."

So the king and Haman went to the banquet Esther had prepared. As they were drinking wine, the king again asked Esther, "Now what is your petition? It will be given you. And what is your request? Even up to half the kingdom, it will be granted."

Esther replied, "My petition and my request is this: If the king regards me with favor and if it pleases the king to grant my petition and fulfill my request, let the king and Haman come tomorrow to the banquet I will prepare for them. Then I will answer the king's question."

Haman went out that day happy and in high spirits. But when he saw Mordecai at the king's gate and observed that he neither rose nor showed fear in his presence, he was filled with rage against Mordecai. Nevertheless, Haman restrained himself and went home.

Calling together his friends and Zeresh, his wife, Haman boasted to them about his vast wealth, his many sons, and all the ways the king had honored him and how he had elevated him above the other nobles and officials. "And that's not all," Haman added. "I'm the only person Queen Esther invited to accompany the king to the banquet she gave. And she has invited me along with the king tomorrow. But all this gives me no satisfaction as long as I see that Jew Mordecai sitting at the king's gate."

His wife Zeresh and all his friends said to him, "Have a gallows built, seventy-five feet^c high, and ask the king in the morning to have Mordecai hanged on it. Then go with the king to the dinner and be happy." This suggestion delighted Haman, and he had the gallows built.

That night the king could not sleep; so he ordered the book of the chronicles, the record of his reign, to be brought in and read to him. It was found recorded there that Mordecai had exposed Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's officers who guarded the doorway, who had conspired to assassinate King Xerxes.

Esther
6:1-14

"What honor and recognition has Mordecai received for this?" the king asked.

"Nothing has been done for him," his attendants answered.

The king said, "Who is in the court?" Now Haman had just entered the outer court of the palace to speak to the king about hanging Mordecai on the gallows he had erected for him.

His attendants answered, "Haman is standing in the court."

"Bring him in," the king ordered.

^cHebrew fifty cubits (about 23 meters)

When Haman entered, the king asked him, "What should be done for the man the king delights to honor?"

Now Haman thought to himself, "Who is there that the king would rather honor than me?" So he answered the king, "For the man the king delights to honor, have them bring a royal robe the king has worn and a horse the king has ridden, one with a royal crest placed on its head. Then let the robe and horse be entrusted to one of the king's most noble princes. Let them robe the man the king delights to honor, and lead him on the horse through the city streets, proclaiming before him, 'This is what is done for the man the king delights to honor!'"

"Go at once," the king commanded Haman. "Get the robe and the horse and do just as you have suggested for Mordecai the Jew, who sits at the king's gate. Do not neglect anything you have recommended."

So Haman got the robe and the horse. He robed Mordecai, and led him on horseback through the city streets, proclaiming before him, "This is what is done for the man the king delights to honor!"

Afterward Mordecai returned to the king's gate. But Haman rushed home, with his head covered in grief, and told Zeresh his wife and all his friends everything that had happened to him.

His advisers and his wife Zeresh said to him, "Since Mordecai, before whom your downfall has started, is of Jewish origin, you cannot stand against him—you will surely come to ruin!" While they were still talking with him, the king's eunuchs arrived and hurried Haman away to the banquet Esther had prepared.

Esther
7:1-10

So the king and Haman went to dine with Queen Esther, and as they were drinking wine on that second day, the king again asked, "Queen Esther, what is your petition? It will be given you. What is your request? Even up to half the kingdom, it will be granted."

Then Queen Esther answered, "If I have found favor with you, O king, and if it pleases your majesty, grant me my life—this is my petition. And spare my people—this is my request. For I and my people have been sold for destruction and slaughter and annihilation. If we had merely been sold as male and female slaves, I would have kept quiet, because no such distress would justify disturbing the king.^d"

King Xerxes asked Queen Esther, "Who is he? Where is the man who has dared to do such a thing?"

Esther said, "The adversary and enemy is this vile Haman."

Then Haman was terrified before the king and queen. The king got up in a rage, left his wine and went out into the palace garden. But Haman, realizing that the king had already decided his fate, stayed behind to beg Queen Esther for his life.

Just as the king returned from the palace garden to the banquet hall, Haman was falling on the couch where Esther was reclining.

The king exclaimed, "Will he even molest the queen while she is with me in the house?"

As soon as the word left the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face. Then Harbona, one of the eunuchs attending the king, said, "A gallows

^dOr quiet, but the compensation our adversary offers cannot be compared with the loss the king would suffer seventy-five feet^e high stands by Haman's house. He had it made for Mordecai, who spoke up to help the king."

The king said, "Hang him on it!" So they hanged Haman on the gallows he had prepared for Mordecai. Then the king's fury subsided.

That same day King Xerxes gave Queen Esther the estate of Haman, the enemy of the Jews. And Mordecai came into the presence of the king, for Esther had told how he was related to her. The king took off his signet ring, which he had reclaimed from Haman, and presented it to Mordecai. And Esther appointed him over Haman's estate.

Esther
8:1-17

Esther again pleaded with the king, falling at his feet and weeping. She begged him to put an end to the evil plan of Haman the Agagite, which he had devised against the Jews. Then the king extended the gold scepter to Esther and she arose and stood before him.

"If it pleases the king," she said, "and if he regards me with favor and thinks it the right thing to do, and if he is pleased with me, let an order be written overruling the dispatches that Haman son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, devised and wrote to destroy the Jews in all the king's provinces. For how can I bear to see disaster fall on my people? How can I bear to see the destruction of my family?"

King Xerxes replied to Queen Esther and to Mordecai the Jew, "Because Haman attacked the Jews, I have given his estate to Esther, and they have hanged him on the gallows. Now write another decree in the king's name in behalf of the Jews as seems best to you, and seal it with the king's signet ring—for no document written in the king's name and sealed with his ring can be revoked."

At once the royal secretaries were summoned—on the twenty-third day of the third month, the month of Sivan. They wrote out all Mordecai's orders to the Jews, and to the satraps, governors and nobles of the 127 provinces stretching from India to Cush.^f These orders were written in the script of each province and the language of each people and also to the Jews in their own script and language. Mordecai wrote in the name of King Xerxes, sealed the dispatches with the king's signet ring, and sent them by mounted couriers, who rode fast horses especially bred for the king.

The king's edict granted the Jews in every city the right to assemble and protect themselves; to destroy, kill and annihilate any armed force of any nationality or province that might attack them and their women and children; and to plunder the property of their enemies. The day appointed for the Jews to do this in all the provinces of King Xerxes was the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar. A copy of the text of the edict was to be issued as law in every province and made known to the people of every nationality so that the Jews would be ready on that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.

The couriers, riding the royal horses, raced out, spurred on by the king's command. And the edict was also issued in the citadel of Susa.

Mordecai left the king's presence wearing royal garments of blue and white, a large crown of gold and a purple robe of fine linen. And the city of Susa held a joyous celebration. For the Jews it was a time of happiness and joy, gladness and honor. In every province and in every city,

^eHebrew fifty cubits (about 23 meters)

^fThat is, the upper Nile region

wherever the edict of the king went, there was joy and gladness among the Jews, with feasting and celebrating. And many people of other nationalities became Jews because fear of the Jews had seized them.

Esther
9:1-17

On the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, the month of Adar, the edict commanded by the king was to be carried out. On this day the enemies of the Jews had hoped to overpower them, but now the tables were turned and the Jews got the upper hand over those who hated them. The Jews assembled in their cities in all the provinces of King Xerxes to attack those seeking their destruction. No one could stand against them, because the people of all the other nationalities were afraid of them. And all the nobles of the provinces, the satraps, the governors and the king's administrators helped the Jews, because fear of Mordecai had seized them. Mordecai was prominent in the palace; his reputation spread throughout the provinces, and he became more and more powerful.

The Jews struck down all their enemies with the sword, killing and destroying them, and they did what they pleased to those who hated them. In the citadel of Susa, the Jews killed and destroyed five hundred men. They also killed Parshandatha, Dalphon, Aspatha, Poratha, Adalia, Aridatha, Parmashta, Arisai, Aridai and Vaizatha, the ten sons of Haman son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews. But they did not lay their hands on the plunder.

The number of those slain in the citadel of Susa was reported to the king that same day. The king said to Queen Esther, "The Jews have killed and destroyed five hundred men and the ten sons of Haman in the citadel of Susa. What have they done in the rest of the king's provinces? Now what is your petition? It will be given you. What is your request? It will also be granted."

"If it pleases the king," Esther answered, "give the Jews in Susa permission to carry out this day's edict tomorrow also, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged on gallows.

So the king commanded that this be done. An edict was issued in Susa, and they hanged the ten sons of Haman. The Jews in Susa came together on the fourteenth day of the month of Adar, and they put to death in Susa three hundred men, but they did not lay their hands on the plunder.

Meanwhile, the remainder of the Jews who were in the king's provinces also assembled to protect themselves and get relief from their enemies. They killed seventy-five thousand of them but did not lay their hands on the plunder. This happened on the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, and on the fourteenth they rested and made it a day of feasting and joy.

This wonderful historical account must surely be an inspiration to Jews all over the Persian Empire whose ancestors have suffered continual persecution. It is a patriotic story and a supreme example of personal courage. Although there is no mention of God or covenant or restoration, there is the clear message that God watches providentially over his people.

The celebration which ensued following the great victory over Haman and his supporters was the beginning of a yearly commemoration observed by Jews even to this day. At each celebration the story of Esther is read as a reminder of God's deliverance of his people. How the tradition of Purim comes about is recorded in an appendix to the story itself, as is a historical footnote about Mordecai's rise to power in Xerxes' government.

INSTITUTION OF PURIM. The Jews in Susa, however, had assembled on the thirteenth and fourteenth, and then on the fifteenth they rested and made it a day of feasting and joy.

Esther
9:18-32
(479 B. C.?)

That is why rural Jews—those living in villages—observe the fourteenth of the month of Adar as a day of joy and feasting, a day for giving presents to each other.

Mordecai recorded these events, and he sent letters to all the Jews throughout the provinces of King Xerxes, near and far, to have them celebrate annually the fourteenth and fifteenth days of the month of Adar as the time when the Jews got relief from their enemies, and as the month when their sorrow was turned into joy and their mourning into a day of celebration. He wrote them to observe the days as days of feasting and joy and giving presents of food to one another and gifts to the poor.

So the Jews agreed to continue the celebration they had begun, doing what Mordecai had written to them. For Haman son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had plotted against the Jews to destroy them and had cast the pur (that is, the lot) for their ruin and destruction. But when the plot came to the king's attention,⁸ he issued written orders that the evil scheme Haman had devised against the Jews should come back onto his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows. (Therefore these days were called Purim, from the word pur.) Because of everything written in this letter and because of what they had seen and what had happened to them, the Jews took it upon themselves to establish the custom that they and their descendants and all who join them should without fail observe these two days every year, in the way prescribed and at the time appointed. These days should be remembered and observed in every generation by every family, and in every province and in every city. And these days of Purim should never cease to be celebrated by the Jews, nor should the memory of them die out among their descendants.

So Queen Esther, daughter of Abihail, along with Mordecai the Jew, wrote with full authority to confirm this second letter concerning Purim. And Mordecai sent letters to all the Jews in the 127 provinces of the kingdom of Xerxes—words of good will and assurance—to establish these days of Purim at their designated times, as Mordecai the Jew and Queen Esther had decreed for them, and as they had established for themselves and their descendants in regard to their times of fasting and lamentation. Esther's decree confirmed these regulations about Purim, and it was written down in the records.

MORDECAI'S HIGH POSITION. King Xerxes imposed tribute throughout the empire, to its distant shores. And all his acts of power and might, together with a full account of the greatness of Mordecai to which the king had raised him, are they not written in the book of the annals of the kings of Media and Persia? Mordecai the Jew was second in rank to King Xerxes, preeminent among the Jews, and held in high esteem by his many fellow Jews, because he worked for the good of his people and spoke up for the welfare of all the Jews.

Prophecies of Malachi

From the time of Esther's courageous intercession it will be another 20 years before the historical record resumes. In the first 14 years of that time, King Xerxes' fortunes will take a turn for the worse, and he will finally be murdered in his own bedroom in 465 B.C. Xerxes' younger son, Longimanus, will then assume the Persian throne as Artaxerxes I.

Little is known of what happens in the area known as Trans-Euphrates in the 60 years following the completion of the temple. Later history indicates that the excitement surrounding the rebuilding of the temple, and even the incident with Esther and Haman, is not long-lived. Once again in the roller-coaster history of this beleaguered nation, discouragement apparently sets in. Part of the problem is that it simply takes a long time to revitalize a country which has been so totally devastated. But another part of the problem seemingly stems from the very thing that was meant to give the people of Israel hope and encouragement—that is, all the restoration prophecies with their grand visions of the coming Messiah and his powerful kingdom. After many years of slow progress, ongoing opposition, and continued dominance by the Persians, the people are asking the obvious questions: is this the restoration we were promised? Where is this Branch of Jesse, this King of the house of David who is supposed to deliver us from our enemies and establish an everlasting kingdom? When will this city that still lies mostly in ruins be transformed into a glorious Jerusalem? Was the Haman incident only a coincidence? Does God really care about his people? Is there really divine justice?

As discouragement and cynicism set in, the people's spiritual commitment suffers: the temple service is being neglected for lack of tithes and offerings; the priests are offering blemished sacrifices and failing to give instruction in the law; the men are marrying wives who worship foreign gods; and divorce is rampant.

Is there no spiritual leader during this decline—no one to chastise the sinners and bring hope to the disheartened? Although it is not at all certain that this is the context in which his ministry takes place, it is possible that this is the very time when the prophet Malachi comes on the scene. Without a doubt his prophecies speak to the very issues of this period. Malachi's message is powerful in its simplicity: yes, God does still love his people; and, yes, all the grandeur of the ultimate restoration is still coming—in God's own time. In the meantime, it is each person's responsibility to lead the kind of life that will be fit for God's holy kingdom.

Nothing much is known about who this prophet of God really is. Malachi's style of prophecy is distinctive by its use of affirmations, questions, and answers. After first presenting a given affirmation, Malachi asks the questions a doubter would ask, then proceeds to demonstrate the foolishness of the doubter and the wisdom of the stated affirmation. Throughout it all is Malachi's assurance that "the day of the Lord" is definitely coming.

PREFACE. An oracle: The word of the LORD to Israel through Malachi.^h Mal. 1:1

^hMalachi means my messenger.

GOD'S LOVE CONTINUES. "I have loved you," says the LORD.

"But you ask, 'How have you loved us?'"

"Was not Esau Jacob's brother?" the LORD says. "Yet I have loved Jacob, but Esau I have hated, and I have turned his mountains into a wasteland and left his inheritance to the desert jackals."

Edom may say, "Though we have been crushed, we will rebuild the ruins."

But this is what the LORD Almighty says: "They may build, but I will demolish. They will be called the Wicked Land, a people always under the wrath of the LORD. You will see it with your own eyes and say, 'Great is the LORD—even beyond the borders of Israel!'"

BLEMISHED SACRIFICES. "A son honors his father, and a servant his master. If I am a father, where is the honor due me? If I am a master, where is the respect due me?" says the LORD Almighty. "It is you, O priests, who show contempt for my name.

"But you ask, 'How have we shown contempt for your name?'"

"You place defiled food on my altar.

"But you ask, 'How have we defiled you?'"

"By saying that the LORD's table is contemptible. When you bring blind animals for sacrifice, is that not wrong? When you sacrifice crippled or diseased animals, is that not wrong? Try offering them to your governor! Would he be pleased with you? Would he accept you?" says the LORD Almighty.

"Now implore God to be gracious to us. With such offerings from your hands, will he accept you?"—says the LORD Almighty.

"Oh, that one of you would shut the temple doors, so that you would not light useless fires on my altar! I am not pleased with you," says the LORD Almighty, "and I will accept no offering from your hands. My name will be great among the nations, from the rising to the setting of the sun. In every place incense and pure offerings will be brought to my name, because my name will be great among the nations," says the LORD Almighty.

"But you profane it by saying of the Lord's table, 'It is defiled,' and of its food, 'It is contemptible.' And you say, 'What a burden!' and you sniff at it contemptuously," says the LORD Almighty.

"When you bring injured, crippled or diseased animals and offer them as sacrifices, should I accept them from your hands?" says the LORD. "Cursed is the cheat who has an acceptable male in his flock and vows to give it, but then sacrifices a blemished animal to the Lord. For I am a great king," says the LORD Almighty, "and my name is to be feared among the nations.

NO PRIESTLY TEACHING. "And now this admonition is for you, O priests. If you do not listen, and if you do not set your heart to honor my name," says the LORD Almighty, "I will send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings. Yes, I have already cursed them, because you have not set your heart to honor me.

"Because of you I will rebukeⁱ your descendants; I will spread on your faces the offal from your festival sacrifices, and you will be carried off with it. And you will know that I have sent you this admonition so that my covenant with Levi may continue," says the LORD Almighty. "My covenant was with him, a covenant of life and peace, and I gave them to him; this called for reverence and he revered me and stood in awe of my name. True instruction was in his mouth and nothing false was found on his lips. He walked with me in peace and uprightness, and turned many from sin.

"For the lips of a priest ought to preserve knowledge, and from his mouth men should seek instruction—because he is the messenger of the LORD Almighty. But you have turned from the way and by your teaching have caused many to stumble; you have violated the covenant with Levi," says the LORD Almighty. "So I have caused you to be despised and humiliated before all the people, because you have not followed my ways but have shown partiality in matters of the law."

INTERMARRIAGES. Have we not all one Father^k? Did not one God create us? Why do we profane the covenant of our fathers by breaking faith with one another?

Judah has broken faith. A detestable thing has been committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: Judah has desecrated the sanctuary the LORD loves, by marrying the daughter of a foreign god. As for the man who does this, whoever he may be, may the LORD cut him off from the tents of Jacob^l—even though he brings offerings to the LORD Almighty.

Mal.
2:13-16

RAMPANT DIVORCE. Another thing you do: You flood the LORD's altar with tears. You weep and wail because he no longer pays attention to your offerings or accepts them with pleasure from your hands. You ask, "Why?" It is because the LORD is acting as the witness between you and the wife of your youth, because you have broken faith with her, though she is your partner, the wife of your marriage covenant.

Has not the LORD made them one? In flesh and spirit they are his. And why one? Because he was seeking godly offspring.^m So guard yourself in your spirit, and do not break faith with the wife of your youth.

"I hate divorce," says the LORD God of Israel, "and I hate a man's covering himselfⁿ with violence as well as with his garment," says the LORD Almighty.

So guard yourself in your spirit, and do not break faith.

Mal.
2:17-3:4

LORD OF JUSTICE COMING. You have wearied the LORD with your words.

"How have we wearied him?" you ask.

By saying, "All who do evil are good in the eyes of the LORD, and he is pleased with them" or "Where is the God of justice?" "See, I will send my messenger, who will prepare the way before me. Then suddenly the Lord you are seeking will come to his temple; the messenger of the covenant, whom you desire, will come," says the LORD Almighty.

But who can endure the day of his coming? Who can stand when he appears? For he will be like a refiner's fire or a launderer's soap. He will sit as a refiner and purifier of silver; he will purify the Levites and refine them like gold and silver. Then the LORD will have men who will bring offerings in righteousness, and the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem will be acceptable to the LORD, as in days gone by, as in former years.

WICKED TO BE JUDGED. "So I will come near to you for judgment. I will be quick to testify against sorcerers, adulterers and perjurers, against those who defraud laborers of their wages, who oppress the widows and the fatherless, and deprive aliens of justice, but do not fear me," says the LORD Almighty. Mal. 3:5

ROBBING GOD. "I the LORD do not change. So you, O descendants of Jacob, are not destroyed. Ever since the time of your forefathers you have turned away from my decrees and have not kept them. Return to me, and I will return to you," says the LORD Almighty. Mal. 3:6-12

"But you ask, 'How are we to return?'

"Will a man rob God? Yet you rob me.

"But you ask, 'How do we rob you?'

"In tithes and offerings. You are under a curse—the whole nation of you—because you are robbing me. Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house. Test me in this," says the LORD Almighty, "and see if I will not throw open the floodgates of heaven and pour out so much blessing that you will not have room enough for it. I will prevent pests from devouring your crops, and the vines in your fields will not cast their fruit," says the LORD Almighty. "Then all the nations will call you blessed, for yours will be a delightful land," says the LORD Almighty.

DAY OF THE LORD COMING. "You have said harsh things against me," says the LORD. Mal. 3:13-4:3

"Yet you ask, 'What have we said against you?'

"You have said, 'It is futile to serve God. What did we gain by carrying out his requirements and going about like mourners before the LORD Almighty? But now we call the arrogant blessed. Certainly the evildoers prosper, and even those who challenge God escape.'"

Then those who feared the LORD talked with each other, and the LORD listened and heard. A scroll of remembrance was written in his presence concerning those who feared the LORD and honored his name.

"They will be mine," says the LORD Almighty, "in the day when I make up my treasured possession.^o I will spare them, just as in compassion a man spares his son who serves him. And you will again see the distinction between the righteous and the wicked, between those who serve God and those who do not. "Surely the day is coming; it will burn like a furnace. All the arrogant and every evildoer will be stubble, and that day that is coming will set them on fire," says the LORD Almighty. "Not a root or a branch will be left to them. But for you who revere my name, the sun of righteousness will rise with healing in its wings. And you will go out and leap like calves released from the stall. Then you will trample down the wicked; they will be ashes under the soles of your feet on the day when I do these things," says the LORD Almighty.

PEOPLE'S RESPONSIBILITY. "Remember the law of my servant Moses, the decrees and laws I gave him at Horeb for all Israel. Mal. 4:4

Ezra and the Second Return

If in fact Malachi prophesied during the prior 40 to 60 years, he paved the way for a time of renewed interest in the law and in the work of two men whose joint leadership brings about a time of religious reform. It happens during the reign of Artaxerxes, who took over the Persian rule upon the death of his father, in 465 B.C. Like Xerxes' final years, Artaxerxes' reign is also troublesome, with revolts to be quelled in Egypt and Greece, where his father had been so insensitive. It is somewhat surprising, then, that any attempt by the Jews to strengthen their own nation would not be viewed with more suspicion. However, it may well be that Artaxerxes sees Israel as a peaceful nation minding its own business, and geographically suited to be a buffer against Egypt if sufficiently redeveloped. Therefore Artaxerxes actually promotes further development of Israel and particularly the promulgation of its unique law, which he greatly admires.

With Artaxerxes' blessings, a great teacher of the law named Ezra, along with a company of over 1500 Jews, leave Babylon in 458 B.C. to be the second contingent of Jews to return to Palestine since the exile. After a rushed five-month trek, they arrive in Jerusalem with more treasures for the temple service and the ongoing redevelopment project.

Ezra 7:1-7 (458 B.C.) EZRA PREPARES RETURN. After these things, during the reign of Artaxerxes king of Persia, Ezra son of Seraiah, the son of Azariah, the son of Hilkiah, the son of Shallum, the son of Zadok, the son of Ahitub, the son of Amariah, the son of Azariah, the son of Meraioth, the son of Zerariah, the son of Uzzi, the son of Bukki, the son of Abishua, the son of Phinehas, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the chief priest— this Ezra came up from Babylon. He was a teacher well versed in the Law of Moses, which the LORD, the God of Israel, had given. The king had granted him everything he asked, for the hand of the LORD his God was on him. Some of the Israelites, including priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers and temple servants, also came up to Jerusalem in the seventh year of King Artaxerxes.

ARTAXERXES' AUTHORIZATION. This is a copy of the letter King Artaxerxes had given to Ezra the priest and teacher, a man learned in matters concerning the commands and decrees of the LORD for Israel:

¶Artaxerxes, king of kings,

To Ezra the priest, a teacher of the Law of the God of heaven:

Greetings.

Now I decree that any of the Israelites in my kingdom, including priests and Levites, who wish to go to Jerusalem with you, may go. You are sent by the king and his seven advisers to inquire about Judah and Jerusalem with regard to the Law of your God, which is in your hand. Moreover, you are to take with you the silver and gold that the king and his advisers have freely given to the God of Israel, whose dwelling is in Jerusalem, together with all the silver and gold you may obtain from the province of Babylon, as well as the freewill offerings of the people and priests for the temple of their God in Jerusalem. With this money be sure to buy bulls, rams and male lambs, together with their grain offerings and drink offerings, and sacrifice them on the altar of the temple of your God in Jerusalem.

You and your brother Jews may then do whatever seems best with the rest of the silver and gold, in accordance with the will of your God. Deliver to the God of Jerusalem all the articles entrusted to you for worship in the temple of your God. And anything else needed for the temple of your God that you may have occasion to supply, you may provide from the royal treasury.

Now I, King Artaxerxes, order all the treasurers of Trans-Euphrates to provide with diligence whatever Ezra the priest, a teacher of the Law of the God of heaven, may ask of you— up to a hundred talents⁶ of silver, a hundred cors⁷ of wheat, a hundred baths⁸ of wine, a hundred baths⁹ of olive oil, and salt without limit. Whatever the God of heaven has prescribed, let it be done with diligence for the temple of the God of heaven. Why should there be wrath against the realm of the king and of his sons? You are also to know that you have no authority to impose taxes, tribute or duty on any of the priests, Levites, singers, gatekeepers, temple servants or other workers at this house of God.

And you, Ezra, in accordance with the wisdom of your God, which you possess, appoint magistrates and judges to administer justice to all the people of Trans-Euphrates—all who know the laws of your God. And you are to teach any who do not know them. Whoever does not obey the law of your God and the law of the king must surely be punished by death, banishment, confiscation of property, or imprisonment.

EZRA'S GRATITUDE. Praise be to the LORD, the God of our fathers, who has put it into the king's heart to bring honor to the house of the LORD in Jerusalem in this way and who has extended his good favor to me before the king and his advisers and all the king's powerful officials. Because the hand of the LORD my God was on me, I took courage and gathered leading men from Israel to go up with me.

Ezra
7:27,28

LEVITES SUMMONED. I assembled them at the canal that flows toward Ahava, and we camped there three days. When I checked among the people and the priests, I found no Levites there. So I summoned Eliezer, Ariel, Shemaiah, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zechariah and Meshullam, who were leaders, and Joiarib and Elnathan, who were men of learning, and I sent them to Iddo, the leader in Casiphia. I told them what to say to Iddo and his kinsmen, the temple servants in Casiphia, so that they might bring attendants to us for the house of our God. Because the gracious hand of our God was on us, they brought us Sherebiah, a capable man, from the descendants of Mahli son of Levi, the son of Israel, and Sherebiah's sons and brothers, 18 men; and Hashabiah, together with Jeshaiiah from the descendants of Merari, and his brothers and nephews, 20 men. They also brought 220 of the temple servants—a body that David and the officials had established to assist the Levites. All were registered by name.

PRAYER FOR SAFETY. There, by the Ahava Canal, I proclaimed a fast, so that we might humble ourselves before our God and ask him for a safe journey for us and our children, with all our possessions. I was ashamed to ask the king for soldiers and horsemen to protect us from enemies on the road, because we had told the king, "The gracious hand of our God is on everyone who looks to him, but his great anger is against all who forsake him." So we fasted and petitioned our God about this, and he answered our prayer.

VALUABLES ENTRUSTED. Then I set apart twelve of the leading priests, together with Sherebiah, Hashabiah and ten of their brothers, and I weighed out to them the offering of silver and gold and the articles that the king, his advisers, his officials and all Israel present there had donated for the house of our God. I weighed out to them 650 talents¹ of silver, silver articles weighing 100 talents,^u 100 talents^u of gold, 20 bowls of gold valued at 1,000 darics,^v and two fine articles of polished bronze, as precious as gold.

I said to them, "You as well as these articles are consecrated to the LORD. The silver and gold are a freewill offering to the LORD, the God of your fathers. Guard them carefully until you weigh them out in the chambers of the house of the LORD in Jerusalem before the leading priests and the Levites and the family heads of Israel." Then the priests and Levites received the silver and gold and sacred articles that had been weighed out to be taken to the house of our God in Jerusalem.

JOURNEY TO JERUSALEM. On the twelfth day of the first month we set out from the Ahava Canal to go to Jerusalem. The hand of our God was on us, and he protected us from enemies and bandits along the way. So we arrived in Jerusalem, where we rested three days.

Ezra arrived in Jerusalem in the fifth month of the seventh year of the king. He had begun his journey from Babylon on the first day of the first month, and he arrived in Jerusalem on the first day of the fifth month, for the gracious hand of his God was on him. For Ezra had devoted himself to the study and observance of the Law of the LORD, and to teaching its decrees and laws in Israel.

Ezra 8:1-14

ENUMERATION OF RETURNEES. These are the family heads and those registered with them who came up with me from Babylon during the reign of King Artaxerxes:

- of the descendants of Phinehas, Gershom;
- of the descendants of Ithamar, Daniel;
- of the descendants of David, Hattush of the descendants of Shecaniah;
- of the descendants of Parosh, Zechariah, and with him were registered 150 men;

of the descendants of Pahath-Moab, Eliehoenai son of Zerariah, and with him 200 men; of the descendants of Zattu,^w Shecaniah son of Jahaziel, and with him 300 men; of the descendants of Adin, Ebed son of Jonathan, and with him 50 men; of the descendants of Elam, Jeshaiiah son of Athaliah, and with him 70 men; of the descendants of Shephatiah, Zebadiah son of Michael, and with him 80 men; of the descendants of Joab, Obadiah son of Jehiel, and with him 218 men; of the descendants of Bani,^x Shelomith son of Josiphiah, and with him 160 men; of the descendants of Bebai, Zechariah son of Bebai, and with him 28 men; of the descendants of Azgad, Johanan son of Hakkatan, and with him 110 men; of the descendants of Adonikam, the last ones, whose names were Eliphelet, Jeuel and Shemaiah, and with them 60 men; of the descendants of Bigvai, Uthai and Zaccur, and with them 70 men.

ACCOUNTING AND SACRIFICE. On the fourth day, in the house of our God, we weighed out the silver and gold and the sacred articles into the hands of Meremoth son of Uriah, the priest. Eleazar son of Phinehas was with him, and so were the Levites Jozabad son of Jeshua and Noadiah son of Binnui. Everything was accounted for by number and weight, and the entire weight was recorded at that time.

Ezra
8:33-36

Then the exiles who had returned from captivity sacrificed burnt offerings to the God of Israel: twelve bulls for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven male lambs, and as a sin offering, twelve male goats. All this was a burnt offering to the LORD. They also delivered the king's orders to the royal satraps and to the governors of Trans-Euphrates, who then gave assistance to the people and to the house of God.

Problem of Intermarriage

Upon Ezra's arrival in Palestine, he is informed that many of the men of Israel have married wives of foreign extract, in violation of the law given to Moses. Ezra is distressed at the news because he knows the reason behind the rule and fears the consequences of disobedience. Marriage to foreign wives was prohibited because of the danger that the women would influence their husbands and children to worship their strange gods and idols. And history had proved the wisdom of the rule. Disastrous results came when the rule was violated during the wilderness wanderings, and Solomon himself fell spiritually as a result of his many foreign wives. Therefore Ezra takes immediate and drastic steps to remedy the problem. The men who are guilty are called upon to put away their wives, which most of them do after special hearings are set up to decide individual cases. This move is probably representative of Ezra's broader role in bringing back the teaching of the law and setting up courts of justice to enforce it.

Ezra 9:1-4
(458 B.C.)

INTERMARRIAGES TOLD. After these things had been done, the leaders came to me and said, "The people of Israel, including the priests and the Levites, have not kept themselves separate from the neighboring peoples with their detestable practices, like those of the Canaanites, Hittites, Perizzites, Jebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians and Amorites. They have taken some of their daughters as wives for themselves and their sons, and have mingled the holy race with the peoples around them. And the leaders and officials have led the way in this unfaithfulness."

When I heard this, I tore my tunic and cloak, pulled hair from my head and beard and sat down appalled. Then everyone who trembled at the words of the God of Israel gathered around me because of this unfaithfulness of the exiles. And I sat there appalled until the evening sacrifice.

Ezra 9:5-15

EZRA'S PRAYER. Then, at the evening sacrifice, I rose from my self-abasement, with my tunic and cloak torn, and fell on my knees with my hands spread out to the LORD my God and prayed:

"O my God, I am too ashamed and disgraced to lift up my face to you, my God, because our sins are higher than our heads and our guilt has reached to the heavens. From the days of our forefathers until now, our guilt has been great. Because of our sins, we and our kings and our priests have been subjected to the sword and captivity, to pillage and humiliation at the hand of foreign kings, as it is today.

"But now, for a brief moment, the LORD our God has been gracious in leaving us a remnant and giving us a firm place in his sanctuary, and so our God gives light to our eyes and a little relief in our bondage. Though we are slaves, our God has not deserted us in our bondage. He has shown us kindness in the sight of the kings of Persia: He has granted us new life to rebuild the house of our God and repair its ruins, and he has given us a wall of protection in Judah and Jerusalem.

"But now, O our God, what can we say after this? For we have disregarded the commands you gave through your servants the prophets when you said: 'The land you are entering to possess is a land polluted by the corruption of its peoples. By their detestable practices they have filled it with their impurity from one end to the other. Therefore, do not give your daughters in marriage to their sons or take their daughters for your sons. Do not seek a treaty of friendship with them at any time, that you may be strong and eat the good things of the land and leave it to your children as an everlasting inheritance.'

"What has happened to us is a result of our evil deeds and our great guilt, and yet, our God, you have punished us less than our sins have deserved and have given us a remnant like this. Shall we again break your commands and intermarry with the peoples who commit such detestable practices? Would you not be angry enough with us to destroy us, leaving us no remnant or survivor? O LORD, God of Israel, you are righteous! We are left this day as a remnant. Here we are before you in our guilt, though because of it not one of us can stand in your presence."

SHECANIAH'S SUGGESTION. While Ezra was praying and confessing, weeping and throwing himself down before the house of God, a large crowd of Israelites—men, women and children—gathered around him. They too wept bitterly. Then Shecaniah son of Jehiel, one of the descendants of Elam, said to Ezra, “We have been unfaithful to our God by marrying foreign women from the peoples around us. But in spite of this, there is still hope for Israel. Now let us make a covenant before our God to send away all these women and their children, in accordance with the counsel of my lord and of those who fear the commands of our God. Let it be done according to the Law. Rise up; this matter is in your hands. We will support you, so take courage and do it.” Ezra 10:1-4

CALL FOR ASSEMBLY. So Ezra rose up and put the leading priests and Levites and all Israel under oath to do what had been suggested. And they took the oath. Then Ezra withdrew from before the house of God and went to the room of Jehohanan son of Eliashib. While he was there, he ate no food and drank no water, because he continued to mourn over the unfaithfulness of the exiles. Ezra 10:5-8

A proclamation was then issued throughout Judah and Jerusalem for all the exiles to assemble in Jerusalem. Anyone who failed to appear within three days would forfeit all his property, in accordance with the decision of the officials and elders, and would himself be expelled from the assembly of the exiles.

EZRA'S PLEA. Within the three days, all the men of Judah and Benjamin had gathered in Jerusalem. And on the twentieth day of the ninth month, all the people were sitting in the square before the house of God, greatly distressed by the occasion and because of the rain. Then Ezra the priest stood up and said to them, “You have been unfaithful; you have married foreign women, adding to Israel's guilt. Now make confession to the LORD, the God of your fathers, and do his will. Separate yourselves from the peoples around you and from your foreign wives.” Ezra 10:9-11

PLAN FOR RESOLUTION. The whole assembly responded with a loud voice: “You are right! We must do as you say. But there are many people here and it is the rainy season; so we cannot stand outside. Besides, this matter cannot be taken care of in a day or two, because we have sinned greatly in this thing. Let our officials act for the whole assembly. Then let everyone in our towns who has married a foreign woman come at a set time, along with the elders and judges of each town, until the fierce anger of our God in this matter is turned away from us.” Only Jonathan son of Asahel and Jahzeiah son of Tikvah, supported by Meshullam and Shabbe-thai the Levite, opposed this. Ezra 10:12-15

CASES DECIDED. So the exiles did as was proposed. Ezra the priest selected men who were family heads, one from each family division, and all of them designated by name. On the first day of the tenth month they sat down to investigate the cases, and by the first day of the first month they finished dealing with all the men who had married foreign women. Nehemiah Rebuilds the Wall

While Ezra is proceeding with the revitalization of the law in Israel, a man soon to be his closest associate is back in the Persian palace at Susa in the position of the king's cupbearer. That may not sound like a probable stepping-stone to political greatness, or even a very noteworthy position at all, but considering the fact that many kings have met their deaths by poisoning, being a royal cupbearer is a position of great trust. The man who holds that position in Artaxerxes' house is a Jew named Nehemiah. The relationship between Artaxerxes and Nehemiah is evidently much closer than one might normally expect. It is both a compliment to Nehemiah and a good insight into the character of Artaxerxes.

It has been some 14 years since Artaxerxes authorized Ezra to lead the second group of exiles back to Jerusalem. In the interim, the further construction of the city and its wall has been hampered by a number of problems, apparently including sabotage by those who wish to see Israel remain weak. Israel's principal opponents are certain secular-minded and fearful nobles, as well as Sanballat and other leaders of Samaria, who still harbor resentment from the time that Zerubbabel refused their help in building the temple.

Now, in 445 B.C., a report of this delay comes to Nehemiah through one of his brothers who has just arrived from Palestine. The report so upsets Nehemiah that Artaxerxes notices his sadness and inquires as to its cause. When Nehemiah explains his concern, Artaxerxes agrees to appoint Nehemiah as temporary governor and commissions him to go to Jerusalem to rebuild the wall. It takes little time to see that Nehemiah is a man of action. He immediately travels to Jerusalem, assesses the situation firsthand, devises an ingenious plan for working on the wall, sidesteps his opponents, and completes his primary mission within six months of receiving his commission from the king! Here is how it all happens.

NEWS FROM JERUSALEM. The words of Nehemiah son of Hacaliah:

Neh. 1:1-3
(445-444
B.C.)

In the month of Kislev in the twentieth year, while I was in the citadel of Susa, Hanani, one of my brothers, came from Judah with some other men, and I questioned them about the Jewish remnant that survived the exile, and also about Jerusalem.

They said to me, "Those who survived the exile and are back in the province are in great trouble and disgrace. The wall of Jerusalem is broken down, and its gates have been burned with fire."

NEHEMIAH'S PRAYER. When I heard these things, I sat down and wept. For some days I mourned and fasted and prayed before the God of heaven. Then I said:

Neh.
1:4-11a

"O LORD, God of heaven, the great and awesome God, who keeps his covenant of love with those who love him and obey his commands, let your ear be attentive and your eyes open to hear the prayer your servant is praying before you day and night for your servants, the people of Israel. I confess the sins we Israelites, including myself and my father's house, have committed against you. We have acted very wickedly toward you.

We have not obeyed the commands, decrees and laws you gave your servant Moses.

“Remember the instruction you gave your servant Moses, saying, ‘If you are unfaithful, I will scatter you among the nations, but if you return to me and obey my commands, then even if your exiled people are at the farthest horizon, I will gather them from there and bring them to the place I have chosen as a dwelling for my Name.’

“They are your servants and your people, whom you redeemed by your great strength and your mighty hand. O Lord, let your ear be attentive to the prayer of this your servant and to the prayer of your servants who delight in revering your name. Give your servant success today by granting him favor in the presence of this man.”

Neh.
1:11b-2:3

KING NOTICES SADNESS. I was cupbearer to the king. In the month of Nisan in the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when wine was brought for him, I took the wine and gave it to the king. I had not been sad in his presence before; so the king asked me, “Why does your face look so sad when you are not ill? This can be nothing but sadness of heart.”

I was very much afraid, but I said to the king, “May the king live forever! Why should my face not look sad when the city where my fathers are buried lies in ruins, and its gates have been destroyed by fire?”

Neh. 2:4-6

NEHEMIAH COMMISSIONED. The king said to me, “What is it you want?”

Then I prayed to the God of heaven, and I answered the king, “If it pleases the king and if your servant has found favor in his sight, let him send me to the city in Judah where my fathers are buried so that I can rebuild it.”

Then the king, with the queen sitting beside him, asked me, “How long will your journey take, and when will you get back?” It pleased the king to send me; so I set a time.

Neh. 2:7,8

ADDITIONAL AUTHORITY. I also said to him, “If it pleases the king, may I have letters to the governors of Trans-Euphrates, so that they will provide me safe-conduct until I arrive in Judah? And may I have a letter to Asaph, keeper of the king’s forest, so he will give me timber to make beams for the gates of the citadel by the temple and for the city wall and for the residence I will occupy?” And because the gracious hand of my God was upon me, the king granted my requests.

SAMARITANS UPSET. So I went to the governors of Trans-Euphrates and gave them the king’s letters. The king had also sent army officers and cavalry with me.

When Sanballat the Horonite and Tobiah the Ammonite official heard about this, they were very much disturbed that someone had come to promote the welfare of the Israelites.

Jerusalem

NIGHTTIME INSPECTION. I went to Jerusalem, and after staying there three days I set out during the night with a few men. I had not told anyone what my God had put in my heart to do for Jerusalem. There were no mounts with me except the one I was riding on.

By night I went out through the Valley Gate toward the Jackal^a Well and the Dung Gate, examining the walls of Jerusalem, which had been broken down, and its gates, which had been destroyed by fire. Then I moved on toward the Fountain Gate and the King's Pool, but there was not enough room for my mount to get through; so I went up the valley by night, examining the wall. Finally, I turned back and reentered through the Valley Gate. The officials did not know where I had gone or what I was doing, because as yet I had said nothing to the Jews or the priests or nobles or officials or any others who would be doing the work.

PLANS REVEALED. Then I said to them, "You see the trouble we are in: Jerusalem lies in ruins, and its gates have been burned with fire. Come, let us rebuild the wall of Jerusalem, and we will no longer be in disgrace." I also told them about the gracious hand of my God upon me and what the king had said to me.

Neh.
2:17,18

They replied, "Let us start rebuilding." So they began this good work.

PLANS RIDICULED. But when Sanballat the Horonite, Tobiah the Ammonite official and Geshem the Arab heard about it, they mocked and ridiculed us. "What is this you are doing?" they asked. "Are you rebelling against the king?"

Neh.
2:19,20

I answered them by saying, "The God of heaven will give us success. We his servants will start rebuilding, but as for you, you have no share in Jerusalem or any claim or historic right to it."

DIVISION OF LABOR. Eliashib the high priest and his fellow priests went to work and rebuilt the Sheep Gate. They dedicated it and set its doors in place, building as far as the Tower of the Hundred, which they dedicated, and as far as the Tower of Hananel. The men of Jericho built the adjoining section, and Zaccur son of Imri built next to them.

Neh.
3:19-32

The Fish Gate was rebuilt by the sons of Hassenaah. They laid its beams and put its doors and bolts and bars in place. Meremoth son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz, repaired the next section. Next to him Meshullam son of Berekiah, the son of Meshezabel, made repairs, and next to him Zadok son of Baana also made repairs. The next section was repaired by the men of Tekoa, but their nobles would not put their shoulders to the work under their supervisors.^b

The Jeshanah^c Gate was repaired by Joiada son of Paseah and Meshullam son of Besodeiah. They laid its beams and put its doors and bolts and bars in place. Next to them, repairs were made by men from Gibeon and Mizpah—Melatiah of Gibeon and Jadon of Meronoth—places under the authority of the governor of Trans-Euphrates. Uzziel son of Harhaiah, one of the goldsmiths, repaired the next section; and Hananiah, one of the perfume-makers, made repairs next to that. They restored^d Jerusalem as far as the Broad Wall. Rephaiah son of Hur, ruler of a half-district of Jerusalem, repaired the next section. Adjoining this, Jedaiah son of Harumaph made repairs opposite his house, and Hattush son of Hashabneiah made repairs next to him. Malkijah son of Harim and Hasshub son of Pahath-Moab repaired another section and the Tower of the Ovens. Shalum son of Hallohesh, ruler of a half-district of Jerusalem, repaired the next section with the help of his daughters.

The Valley Gate was repaired by Hanun and the residents of Zanoah.

The Dung Gate was repaired by Malkijah son of Recab, ruler of the district of Beth Hakkerem. He rebuilt it and put its doors and bolts and bars in place.

The Fountain Gate was repaired by Shallun son of Col-Hozeh, ruler of the district of Mizpah. He rebuilt it, roofing it over and putting its doors and bolts and bars in place. He also repaired the wall of the Pool of Siloam,^f by the King's Garden, as far as the steps going down from the City of David. Beyond him, Nehemiah son of Azbuk, ruler of a half-district of Beth Zur, made repairs up to a point opposite the tombs^g of David, as far as the artificial pool and the House of the Heroes.

Next to him, the repairs were made by the Levites under Rehum son of Bani. Beside him, Hashabiah, ruler of half the district of Keilah, carried out repairs for his district. Next to him, the repairs were made by their countrymen under Binnui^h son of Henadad, ruler of the other half-district of Keilah. Next to him, Ezer son of Jeshua, ruler of Mizpah, repaired another section, from a point facing the ascent to the armory as far as the angle. Next to him, Baruch son of Zabbai zealously repaired another section, from the angle to the entrance of the house of Eliashib the high priest. Next to him, Meremoth son of Uriah, the son of Hakkoz, repaired another section, from the entrance of Eliashib's house to the end of it.

The repairs next to him were made by the priests from the surrounding region. Beyond them, Benjamin and Hasshub made repairs in front of their house; and next to them, Azariah son of Maaseiah, the son of Ananiah, made repairs beside his house. Next to him, Binnui son of Henadad repaired another section, from Azariah's house to the angle and the corner, and Palal son of Uzai worked opposite the angle and the tower projecting from the upper palace near the court of the guard. Next to him, Pedaiah son of Parosh and the temple servants living on the hill of Ophel made repairs up to a point opposite the Water Gate toward the east and the projecting tower. Next to them, the men of Tekoa repaired another section, from the great projecting tower to the wall of Ophel.

Above the Horse Gate, the priests made repairs, each in front of his own house. Next to them, Zadok son of Immer made repairs opposite his house. Next to him, Shemaiah son of Shecaniah, the guard at the East Gate, made repairs. Next to him, Hananiah son of Shelemiah, and Hanun, the sixth son of Zalaph, repaired another section. Next to them, Meshullam son of Berekiah made repairs opposite his living quarters. Next to him, Malkijah, one of the goldsmiths, made repairs as far as the house of the temple servants and the merchants, opposite the Inspection Gate, and as far as the room above the corner; and between the room above the corner and the Sheep Gate the goldsmiths and merchants made repairs.

Neh. 4:1-3 TAUNTS OF SAMARITANS. When Sanballat heard that we were rebuilding the wall, he became angry and was greatly incensed. He ridiculed the Jews, and in the presence of his associates and the army of Samaria, he said, "What are those feeble Jews doing? Will they restore their wall? Will they offer sacrifices? Will they finish in a day? Can they bring the stones back to life from those heaps of rubble—burned as they are?"

Tobiah the Ammonite, who was at his side, said, "What they are building—if even a fox climbed up on it, he would break down their wall of stones!"

PRAYER ABOUT TAUNTS. Hear us, O our God, for we are despised. Turn their insults back on their own heads. Give them over as plunder in a land of captivity. Do not cover up their guilt or blot out their sins from your sight, for they have thrown insults in the face ofⁱ the builders. Neh. 4:4,5

OPPOSITION BECOMES VIOLENT. So we rebuilt the wall till all of it reached half its height, for the people worked with all their heart. Neh. 4:6-9

But when Sanballat, Tobiah, the Arabs, the Ammonites and the men of Ashdod heard that the repairs to Jerusalem's walls had gone ahead and that the gaps were being closed, they were very angry. They all plotted together to come and fight against Jerusalem and stir up trouble against it. But we prayed to our God and posted a guard day and night to meet this threat.

WORKERS DISCOURAGED. Meanwhile, the people in Judah said, "The strength of the laborers is giving out, and there is so much rubble that we cannot rebuild the wall." Neh. 4:10-12

Also our enemies said, "Before they know it or see us, we will be right there among them and will kill them and put an end to the work."

Then the Jews who lived near them came and told us ten times over, "Wherever you turn, they will attack us."

NEHEMIAH'S PLAN. Therefore I stationed some of the people behind the lowest points of the wall at the exposed places, posting them by families, with their swords, spears and bows. After I looked things over, I stood up and said to the nobles, the officials and the rest of the people, "Don't be afraid of them. Remember the Lord, who is great and awesome, and fight for your brothers, your sons and your daughters, your wives and your homes." Neh. 4:13-23

When our enemies heard that we were aware of their plot and that God had frustrated it, we all returned to the wall, each to his own work.

From that day on, half of my men did the work, while the other half were equipped with spears, shields, bows and armor. The officers posted themselves behind all the people of Judah who were building the wall. Those who carried materials did their work with one hand and held a weapon in the other, and each of the builders wore his sword at his side as he worked. But the man who sounded the trumpet stayed with me.

Then I said to the nobles, the officials and the rest of the people, "The work is extensive and spread out, and we are widely separated from each other along the wall. Wherever you hear the sound of the trumpet, join us there. Our God will fight for us!"

So we continued the work with half the men holding spears, from the first light of dawn till the stars came out. At that time I also said to the people, "Have every man and his helper stay inside Jerusalem at night, ⁱOr have provoked you to anger before so they can serve us as guards by night and workmen by day." Neither I nor my brothers nor my men nor the guards with me took off our clothes; each had his weapon, even when he went for water.ⁱ

Neh. 5:1-5 USURY PROBLEM ARISES. Now the men and their wives raised a great outcry against their Jewish brothers. Some were saying, "We and our sons and daughters are numerous; in order for us to eat and stay alive, we must get grain."

Others were saying, "We are mortgaging our fields, our vineyards and our homes to get grain during the famine."

Still others were saying, "We have had to borrow money to pay the king's tax on our fields and vineyards. Although we are of the same flesh and blood as our countrymen and though our sons are as good as theirs, yet we have to subject our sons and daughters to slavery. Some of our daughters have already been enslaved, but we are powerless, because our fields and our vineyards belong to others."

Neh. 5:6-11 NEHEMIAH CHASTISES NOBLES. When I heard their outcry and these charges, I was very angry. I pondered them in my mind and then accused the nobles and officials. I told them, "You are exacting usury from your own countrymen!" So I called together a large meeting to deal with them and said: "As far as possible, we have bought back our Jewish brothers who were sold to the Gentiles. Now you are selling your brothers, only for them to be sold back to us!" They kept quiet, because they could find nothing to say.

So I continued, "What you are doing is not right. Shouldn't you walk in the fear of our God to avoid the reproach of our Gentile enemies? I and my brothers and my men are also lending the people money and grain. But let the exacting of usury stop! Give back to them immediately their fields, vineyards, olive groves and houses, and also the usury you are charging them—the hundredth part of the money, grain, new wine and oil."

Neh. 5:12,13 NOBLES PROMISE CESSATION. "We will give it back," they said. "And we will not demand anything more from them. We will do as you say."

Then I summoned the priests and made the nobles and officials take an oath to do what they had promised. I also shook out the folds of my robe and said, "In this way may God shake out of his house and possessions every man who does not keep this promise. So may such a man be shaken out and emptied!"

At this the whole assembly said, "Amen," and praised the LORD. And the people did as they had promised.

Neh. 5:14-16 NO ABUSE OF OFFICE. Moreover, from the twentieth year of King Artaxerxes, when I was appointed to be their governor in the land of Judah, until his thirty-second year—twelve years—neither I nor my brothers ate the food allotted to the governor. But the earlier governors—those preceding me—placed a heavy burden on the people and took forty shekels^k of silver from them in addition to food and wine. Their assistants also lorded it over the people. But out of reverence for God I did not act ⁱThe meaning of the Hebrew for this clause is uncertain. ^kThat is, about 1 pound (about 0.5 kilogram)

like that. Instead, I devoted myself to the work on this wall. All my men were assembled there for the work; we¹ did not acquire any land.

NEHEMIAH'S BENEVOLENCE. Furthermore, a hundred and fifty Jews and officials ate at my table, as well as those who came to us from the surrounding nations. Each day one ox, six choice sheep and some poultry were prepared for me, and every ten days an abundant supply of wine of all kinds. In spite of all this, I never demanded the food allotted to the governor, because the demands were heavy on these people.

Neh.
5:17-19

Remember me with favor, O my God, for all I have done for these people.

SANBALLAT SCHEMES. When word came to Sanballat, Tobiah, Geshem the Arab and the rest of our enemies that I had rebuilt the wall and not a gap was left in it—though up to that time I had not set the doors in the gates—Sanballat and Geshem sent me this message: "Come, let us meet together in one of the villages² on the plain of Ono."

Neh. 6:1-4

But they were scheming to harm me; so I sent messengers to them with this reply: "I am carrying on a great project and cannot go down. Why should the work stop while I leave it and go down to you?" Four times they sent me the same message, and each time I gave them the same answer.

VEILED THREAT. Then, the fifth time, Sanballat sent his aide to me with the same message, and in his hand was an unsealed letter in which was written:

Neh. 6:5-9

"It is reported among the nations—and Geshem³ says it is true—that you and the Jews are plotting to revolt, and therefore you are building the wall. Moreover, according to these reports you are about to become their king and have even appointed prophets to make this proclamation about you in Jerusalem: 'There is a king in Judah!' Now this report will get back to the king; so come, let us confer together."

I sent him this reply: "Nothing like what you are saying is happening; you are just making it up out of your head."

They were all trying to frighten us, thinking, "Their hands will get too weak for the work, and it will not be completed."

But I prayed,⁴ "Now strengthen my hands."

PLOY TO DISCREDIT. One day I went to the house of Shemaiah son of Delaiah, the son of Mehetabel, who was shut in at his home. He said, "Let us meet in the house of God, inside the temple, and let us close the temple doors, because men are coming to kill you—by night they are coming to kill you."

Neh.
6:10-13

But I said, "Should a man like me run away? Or should one like me go into the temple to save his life? I will not go!" I realized that God had not sent him, but that he had prophesied against me because Tobiah and Sanballat had hired him. He had been hired to intimidate me so that I would commit a sin by doing this, and then they would give me a bad name to discredit me.

- Neh. 6:17-19 LETTERS OF INTIMIDATION. Also, in those days the nobles of Judah were sending many letters to Tobiah, and replies from Tobiah kept coming to them. For many in Judah were under oath to him, since he was son-in-law to Shecaniah son of Arah, and his son Jehohanan had married the daughter of Meshullam son of Berekiah. Moreover, they kept reporting to me his good deeds and then telling him what I said. And Tobiah sent letters to intimidate me.
- Neh. 6:14 PRAYER ABOUT ENEMIES. Remember Tobiah and Sanballat, O my God, because of what they have done; remember also the prophetess Noadiah and the rest of the prophets who have been trying to intimidate me.
- Neh. 6:15
(444 B.C.) COMPLETION OF WALL. So the wall was completed on the twenty-fifth of Elul, in fifty-two days.
- Neh. 6:16
 ENEMIES GIVE UP. When all our enemies heard about this, all the surrounding nations were afraid and lost their self-confidence, because they realized that this work had been done with the help of our God.

Redistribution of Population

Now that the wall has been completed, it occurs to Nehemiah that the city is too large for the number of people inhabiting it; it would take a larger population to defend it properly and to maintain it. Therefore Nehemiah first reviews the record of the initial group of exiles to return and then devises a plan by which 10 percent of the population of Judah and Benjamin will be asked to move into Jerusalem. The record begins with some administrative details.

- Neh. 7:1,2
(444 B.C.) HANANI APPOINTED. After the wall had been rebuilt and I had set the doors in place, the gatekeepers and the singers and the Levites were appointed. I put in charge of Jerusalem my brother Hanani, along with^o Hananiah the commander of the citadel, because he was a man of integrity and feared God more than most men do.
- Neh. 7:3 GATE REGULATIONS. I said to them, "The gates of Jerusalem are not to be opened until the sun is hot. While the gatekeepers are still on duty, have them shut the doors and bar them. Also appoint residents of Jerusalem as guards, some at their posts and some near their own houses."
- Neh. 7:4 UNDERPOPULATION PROBLEM. Now the city was large and spacious, but there were few people in it, and the houses had not yet been rebuilt.
- Neh. 7:5-73 GENEALOGICAL RECORD. So my God put it into my heart to assemble the nobles, the officials and the common people for registration by families. I found the genealogical record of those who had been the first to return. This is what I found written there:

These are the people of the province who came up from the captivity of the exiles whom Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had taken captive (they returned to Jerusalem and Judah, each to his own town, in company with Zerubbabel, Jeshua, Nehemiah, Azariah, Raamiah, Nahamani, Mordecai, Bilshan, Mispereth, Bigvai, Nehum and Baanah):

RECORD OF OTHER SETTLEMENTS. The rest of the Israelites, with the priests and Levites, were in all the towns of Judah, each on his ancestral property.

The temple servants lived on the hill of Ophel, and Ziha and Gishpa were in charge of them.

The chief officer of the Levites in Jerusalem was Uzzi son of Bani, the son of Hashabiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Mica. Uzzi was one of Asaph's descendants, who were the singers responsible for the service of the house of God. The singers were under the king's orders, which regulated their daily activity.

Pethahiah son of Meshezabel, one of the descendants of Zerach son of Judah, was the king's agent in all affairs relating to the people.

As for the villages with their fields, some of the people of Judah lived in Kiriath Arba and its surrounding settlements, in Dibon and its settlements, in Jekabzeel and its villages, in Jeshua, in Moladah, in Beth Pelet, in Hazar Shual, in Beersheba and its settlements, in Ziklag, in Meconah and its settlements, in En Rimmon, in Zorah, in Jarmuth, Zanoah, Adullam and their villages, in Lachish and its fields, and in Azekah and its settlements. So they were living all the way from Beersheba to the Valley of Hinnom.

The descendants of the Benjamites from Geba lived in Micmash, Aija, Bethel and its settlements, in Anathoth, Nob and Ananiah, in Hazor, Ramah and Gittaim, in Hadid, Zeboim and Neballat, in Lod and Ono, and in the Valley of the Craftsmen.

Some of the divisions of the Levites of Judah settled in Benjamin.

At this time of record-keeping the following four lists are given for historical purposes.

These were the leaders of the priests and their associates in the days of Jeshua.

The Levites were Jeshua, Binnui, Kadmiel, Sherebiah, Judah, and also Mattaniah, who, together with his associates, was in charge of the songs of thanksgiving. Bakbukiah and Unni, their associates, stood opposite them in the services.

CHIEF LEVITICAL HEADS. The family heads of the Levites in the days of Eliashib, Joiada, Johanan and Jaddua, as well as those of the priests, were recorded in the reign of Darius the Persian. The family heads among the descendants of Levi up to the time of Johanan son of Eliashib were recorded in the book of the annals. And the leaders of the Levites were Hashabiah, Sherebiah, Jeshua son of Kadmiel, and their associates, who stood opposite them to give praise and thanksgiving, one section responding to the other, as prescribed by David the man of God. Neh.
12:22-26

Mattaniah, Bakbukiah, Obadiah, Meshullam, Talmon and Akkub were gatekeepers who guarded the storerooms at the gates. They served in the days of Joiakim son of Jeshua, the son of Jozadak, and in the days of Nehemiah the governor and of Ezra the priest and scribe. ☞

Law and Covenant

Once settled, the people are called together for a reading of the law on the first day of the civil year. Ezra, Nehemiah, and the Levites spend long hours reading and interpreting the law. When the people mourn for all the sins they have committed under the law, they are reminded that it is a festival day to be celebrated. And the people soon join in the reinstatement of the Feast of Tabernacles, which commemorates the Israelites' living in tents during the wilderness wanderings.

Some three weeks later the law is read again, and the people respond with a great national confession and a written covenant with God. Truly it is one of the finest hours in the history of God's people. Perhaps the years of exile have served to purge much of the rebelliousness of earlier generations.

Neh. 8:1-6
(444 B.C.)

EZRA READS LAW. all the people assembled as one man in the square before the Water Gate. They told Ezra the scribe to bring out the Book of the Law of Moses, which the LORD had commanded for Israel.

So on the first day of the seventh month Ezra the priest brought the Law before the assembly, which was made up of men and women and all who were able to understand. He read it aloud from daybreak till noon as he faced the square before the Water Gate in the presence of the men, women and others who could understand. And all the people listened attentively to the Book of the Law.

Ezra the scribe stood on a high wooden platform built for the occasion. Beside him on his right stood Mattithiah, Shema, Anaiah, Uriah, Hilkiah and Maaseiah; and on his left were Pedaiah, Mishael, Malkijah, Hashum, Hashbaddanah, Zechariah and Meshullam.

Ezra opened the book. All the people could see him because he was standing above them; and as he opened it, the people all stood up. Ezra praised the LORD, the great God; and all the people lifted their hands and responded, "Amen! Amen!" Then they bowed down and worshiped the LORD with their faces to the ground.

Neh. 8:7,8

LEVITES INTERPRET LAW. The Levites—Jeshua, Bani, Sherebiah, Jamin, Akkub, Shabbethai, Hodiah, Maaseiah, Kelita, Azariah, Jozabad, Hanan and Pelaiah—instructed the people in the Law while the people were standing there. They read from the Book of the Law of God, making it clear^z and giving the meaning so that the people could understand what was being read.

Neh.
8:9-12

MOURNERS TO CELEBRATE. Then Nehemiah the governor, Ezra the priest and scribe, and the Levites who were instructing the people said to them all, "This day is sacred to the LORD your God. Do not mourn or weep." For all the people had been weeping as they listened to the words of the Law.

Nehemiah said, "Go and enjoy choice food and sweet drinks, and send some to those who have nothing prepared. This day is sacred to our Lord. Do not grieve, for the joy of the LORD is your strength."

The Levites calmed all the people, saying, "Be still, for this is a sacred day. Do not grieve."

Then all the people went away to eat and drink, to send portions of food and to celebrate with great joy, because they now understood the words that had been made known to them.

8:13-18

FEAST OF TABERNACLES. On the second day of the month, the heads of all the families, along with the priests and the Levites, gathered around Ezra the scribe to give attention to the words of the Law. They found written in the Law, which the LORD had commanded through Moses, that the Israelites were to live in booths during the feast of the seventh month and that they should proclaim this word and spread it throughout their towns and in Jerusalem: "Go out into the hill country and bring back branches from olive and wild olive trees, and from myrtles, palms and shade trees, to make booths"—as it is written.^a

So the people went out and brought back branches and built themselves booths on their own roofs, in their courtyards, in the courts of the house of God and in the square by the Water Gate and the one by the Gate of Ephraim. The whole company that had returned from exile built booths and lived in them. From the days of Joshua son of Nun until that day, the Israelites had not celebrated it like this. And their joy was very great.

Day after day, from the first day to the last, Ezra read from the Book of the Law of God. They celebrated the feast for seven days, and on the eighth day, in accordance with the regulation, there was an assembly.

DAY OF CONFESSION. On the twenty-fourth day of the same month, the Israelites gathered together, fasting and wearing sackcloth and having dust on their heads. Those of Israelite descent had separated themselves from all foreigners. They stood in their places and confessed their sins and the wickedness of their fathers. They stood where they were and read from the Book of the Law of the LORD their God for a quarter of the day, and spent another quarter in confession and in worshiping the LORD their God. Standing on the stairs were the Levites—Jeshua, Bani, Kadmiel, Shebaniah, Bunni, Sherebiah, Bani and Kenani—who called with loud voices to the LORD their God.

Neh. 9:1-4

CONFESSIONAL PRAYER. And the Levites—Jeshua, Kadmiel, Bani, Hashabneiah, Sherebiah, Hodiah, Shebaniah and Pethahiah—said: "Stand up and praise the LORD your God, who is from everlasting to everlasting."^b

"Blessed be your glorious name, and may it be exalted above all blessing and praise. You alone are the LORD. You made the heavens, even the highest heavens, and all their starry host, the earth and all that is on it, the seas and all that is in them. You give life to everything, and the multitudes of heaven worship you.

"You are the LORD God, who chose Abram and brought him out of Ur of the Chaldeans and named him Abraham. You found his heart faithful to you, and you made a covenant with him to give to his descendants the land of the Canaanites, Hittites, Amorites, Perizzites, Jebusites and Gergashites. You have kept your promise because you are righteous.

"You saw the suffering of our forefathers in Egypt; you heard their cry at the Red Sea.^c You sent miraculous signs and wonders against Pharaoh, against all his officials and all the people of his land, for you knew how arrogantly the Egyptians treated them. You made a name for yourself, which remains to this day. You divided the sea before them, so that they passed through it on dry ground, but you hurled their pursuers into the depths, like a stone into mighty waters. By day you led them with a pillar of cloud, and by night with a pillar of fire to give them light on the way they were to take.

"You came down on Mount Sinai; you spoke to them from heaven. You gave them regulations and laws that are just and right, and decrees and commands that are good. You made known to them your holy Sabbath and gave them commands, decrees and laws through your servant Moses. In their hunger you gave them bread from heaven and in their thirst you brought them water from the rock; you told them to go in and take possession of the land you had sworn with uplifted hand to give them.

“But they, our forefathers, became arrogant and stiff-necked, and did not obey your commands. They refused to listen and failed to remember the miracles you performed among them. They became stiff-necked and in their rebellion appointed a leader in order to return to their slavery. But you are a forgiving God, gracious and compassionate, slow to anger and abounding in love. Therefore you did not desert them, even when they cast for themselves an image of a calf and said, ‘This is your god, who brought you up out of Egypt,’ or when they committed awful blasphemies.

“Because of your great compassion you did not abandon them in the desert. By day the pillar of cloud did not cease to guide them on their path, nor the pillar of fire by night to shine on the way they were to take. You gave your good Spirit to instruct them. You did not withhold your manna from their mouths, and you gave them water for their thirst. For forty years you sustained them in the desert; they lacked nothing, their clothes did not wear out nor did their feet become swollen.

“You gave them kingdoms and nations, allotting to them even the remotest frontiers. They took over the country of Sihon^d king of Heshbon and the country of Og king of Bashan. You made their sons as numerous as the stars in the sky, and you brought them into the land that you told their fathers to enter and possess. Their sons went in and took possession of the land. You subdued before them the Canaanites, who lived in the land; you handed the Canaanites over to them, along with their kings and the peoples of the land, to deal with them as they pleased. They captured fortified cities and fertile land; they took possession of houses filled with all kinds of good things, wells already dug, vineyards, olive groves and fruit trees in abundance. They ate to the full and were well-nourished; they reveled in your great goodness.

“But they were disobedient and rebelled against you; they put your law behind their backs. They killed your prophets, who had admonished them in order to turn them back to you; they committed awful blasphemies. So you handed them over to their enemies, who oppressed them. But when they were oppressed they cried out to you. From heaven you heard them, and in your great compassion you gave them deliverers, who rescued them from the hand of their enemies.

“But as soon as they were at rest, they again did what was evil in your sight. Then you abandoned them to the hand of their enemies so that they ruled over them. And when they cried out to you again, you heard from heaven, and in your compassion you delivered them time after time.

“You warned them to return to your law, but they became arrogant and disobeyed your commands. They sinned against your ordinances, by which a man will live if he obeys them. Stubbornly they turned their backs on you, became stiff-necked and refused to listen. For many years you were patient with them. By your Spirit you admonished them through your prophets. Yet they paid no attention, so you handed them over to the neighboring peoples. But in your great mercy you did not put an end to them or abandon them, for you are a gracious and merciful God.

“Now therefore, O our God, the great, mighty and awesome God, who keeps his covenant of love, do not let all this hardship seem trifling in your eyes—the hardship that has come upon us, upon our kings and leaders, upon our priests and prophets, upon our fathers and all your people, from the days of the kings of Assyria until today. In all that has happened to us, you have been just; you have acted faithfully, while we did wrong. Our kings, our leaders, our priests and our fathers did not follow your law; they did not pay attention to your commands or the warnings you gave them. Even while they were in their kingdom, enjoying your great goodness to them in the spacious and fertile land you gave them, they did not serve you or turn from their evil ways.

“But see, we are slaves today, slaves in the land you gave our forefathers so they could eat its fruit and the other good things it produces. Because of our sins, its abundant harvest goes to the kings you have placed over us. They rule over our bodies and our cattle as they please. We are in great distress.

“In view of all this, we are making a binding agreement, putting it in writing, and our leaders, our Levites and our priests are affixing their seals to it.”

THE WRITTEN COVENANT. "The rest of the people—priests, Levites, gatekeepers, singers, temple servants and all who separated themselves from the neighboring peoples for the sake of the Law of God, together with their wives and all their sons and daughters who are able to understand—all these now join their brothers the nobles, and bind themselves with a curse and an oath to follow the Law of God given through Moses the servant of God and to obey carefully all the commands, regulations and decrees of the LORD our Lord.

"We promise not to give our daughters in marriage to the peoples around us or take their daughters for our sons.

"When the neighboring peoples bring merchandise or grain to sell on the Sabbath, we will not buy from them on the Sabbath or on any holy day. Every seventh year we will forgo working the land and will cancel all debts.

"We assume the responsibility for carrying out the commands to give a third of a shekel^e each year for the service of the house of our God: for the bread set out on the table; for the regular grain offerings and burnt offerings; for the offerings on the Sabbaths, New Moon festivals and appointed feasts; for the holy offerings; for sin offerings to make atonement for Israel; and for all the duties of the house of our God.

"We—the priests, the Levites and the people—have cast lots to determine when each of our families is to bring to the house of our God at set times each year a contribution of wood to burn on the altar of the LORD our God, as it is written in the Law.

"We also assume responsibility for bringing to the house of the LORD each year the firstfruits of our crops and of every fruit tree.

"As it is also written in the Law, we will bring the firstborn of our sons and of our cattle, of our herds and of our flocks to the house of our God, to the priests ministering there.

"Moreover, we will bring to the storerooms of the house of our God, to the priests, the first of our ground meal, of our grain offerings, of the fruit of all our trees and of our new wine and oil. And we will bring a tithe of our crops to the Levites, for it is the Levites who collect the tithes in all the towns where we work. A priest descended from Aaron is to accompany the Levites when they receive the tithes, and the Levites are to bring a tenth of the tithes up to the house of our God, to the storerooms of the treasury. The people of Israel, including the Levites, are to bring their contributions of grain, new wine and oil to the storerooms where the articles for the sanctuary are kept and where the ministering priests, the gatekeepers and the singers stay.

"We will not neglect the house of our God."

Nehemiah's Religious Reforms

Nehemiah continues to govern Israel over the next 11 years, and then, in 432 B.C., at the end of his term of appointment, returns to Artaxerxes in Susa. What Nehemiah does while there is not indicated, but presumably he reports on his work and makes plans for a return. One thing which he has never done, but which he has probably wanted to do for some time, is to dedicate the wall which he was so instrumental in building. Evidently Nehemiah has not wished to proceed without Artaxerxes' approval for such a celebration. If that is the case, Artaxerxes' permission is presumably granted. The king also gives permission for Nehemiah to return, perhaps this time for an indefinite period or even permanently.

It is not known how long Nehemiah stayed in Susa, but it was long enough for some of the people back in Palestine to forget the covenant they made when Nehemiah was with them. Since then, they have neglected and desecrated the temple, violated the Sabbath, failed to continue temple offerings, and begun again to marry foreign wives. When Nehemiah sees what has happened in his absence, he is furious! Nehemiah's fierce anger is evident in the way he calls down divine curses upon, and even physically abuses, those who have been violating the law. Here is a man of God who is not content with pious preaching while sin runs rampant about him. Nehemiah's personal involvement in cleansing the temple puts him in good company. Centuries from now, the Messiah (about whom Nehemiah undoubtedly has read) will himself angrily throw offenders out of this very same house of God.

Nehemiah is anxious to have his overdue dedication of the wall, but the celebration will have to wait until the people's sinful ways are corrected.

TEMPLE DESECRATION. Before this, Eliashib the priest had been put in charge of the storerooms of the house of our God. He was closely associated with Tobiah, and he had provided him with a large room formerly used to store the grain offerings and incense and temple articles, and also the tithes of grain, new wine and oil prescribed for the Levites, singers and gatekeepers, as well as the contributions for the priests.

Neh.
13:4-9

But while all this was going on, I was not in Jerusalem, for in the thirty-second year of Artaxerxes king of Babylon I had returned to the king. Some time later I asked his permission and came back to Jerusalem. Here I learned about the evil thing Eliashib had done in providing Tobiah a room in the courts of the house of God. I was greatly displeased and threw all Tobiah's household goods out of the room. I gave orders to purify the rooms, and then I put back into them the equipment of the house of God, with the grain offerings and the incense.

TEMPLE SUPPORT NEGLECTED. I also learned that the portions assigned to the Levites had not been given to them, and that all the Levites and singers responsible for the service had gone back to their own fields. So I rebuked the officials and asked them, "Why is the house of God neglected?" Then I called them together and stationed them at their posts.

SABBATH VIOLATED. In those days I saw men in Judah treading wine-presses on the Sabbath and bringing in grain and loading it on donkeys, together with wine, grapes, figs and all other kinds of loads. And they were bringing all this into Jerusalem on the Sabbath. Therefore I warned them against selling food on that day. Men from Tyre who lived in Jerusalem were bringing in fish and all kinds of merchandise and selling them in Jerusalem on the Sabbath to the people of Judah. I rebuked the nobles of Judah and said to them, "What is this wicked thing you are doing—desecrating the Sabbath day? Didn't your forefathers do the same things, so that our God brought all this calamity upon us and upon this city? Now you are stirring up more wrath against Israel by desecrating the Sabbath."

When evening shadows fell on the gates of Jerusalem before the Sabbath, I ordered the doors to be shut and not opened until the Sabbath was over. I stationed some of my own men at the gates so that no load could be brought in on the Sabbath day. Once or twice the merchants and sellers of all kinds of goods spent the night outside Jerusalem. But I warned them and said, "Why do you spend the night by the wall? If you do this again, I will lay hands on you." From that time on they no longer came on the Sabbath. Then I commanded the Levites to purify themselves and go and guard the gates in order to keep the Sabbath day holy.

Remember me for this also, O my God, and show mercy to me according to your great love.

Neh.
13:23-31

FOREIGN MARRIAGES. Moreover, in those days I saw men of Judah who had married women from Ashdod, Ammon and Moab. Half of their children spoke the language of Ashdod or the language of one of the other peoples, and did not know how to speak the language of Judah. I rebuked them and called curses down on them. I beat some of the men and pulled out their hair. I made them take an oath in God's name and said: "You are not to give your daughters in marriage to their sons, nor are you to take their daughters in marriage for your sons or for yourselves. Was it not because of marriages like these that Solomon king of Israel sinned? Among the many nations there was no king like him. He was loved by his God, and God made him king over all Israel, but even he was led into sin by foreign women. Must we hear now that you too are doing all this terrible wickedness and are being unfaithful to our God by marrying foreign women?"

One of the sons of Joiada son of Eliashib the high priest was son-in-law to Sanballat the Horonite. And I drove him away from me.

Remember them, O my God, because they defiled the priestly office and the covenant of the priesthood and of the Levites.

So I purified the priests and the Levites of everything foreign, and assigned them duties, each to his own task. I also made provision for contributions of wood at designated times, and for the firstfruits.

Remember me with favor, O my God.

Dedication of the Wall

With these religious reforms behind him, Nehemiah can get on with his plans for dedicating the wall. And it is only appropriate for him to have such a celebration, because it is the rebuilding of the wall for which Nehemiah will be most remembered in the centuries to come. When the day set for dedication finally arrives, there is a great choral procession by two choirs marching in opposite directions on top of the wall. This is followed by sacrifices, offerings, and a reading of the law. The account of this day of celebration begins with the call for Levites and singers. Then follows, in Nehemiah's own words, the record of the happy events which follow.

CALL FOR PARTICIPANTS. At the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem, the Levites were sought out from where they lived and were brought to Jerusalem to celebrate joyfully the dedication with songs of thanksgiving and with the music of cymbals, harps and lyres. The singers also were brought together from the region around Jerusalem—from the villages of the Netophathites, from Beth Gilgal, and from the area of Geba and Azmaveth, for the singers had built villages for themselves around Jerusalem.

Neh.
12:27-29
(Ca. 425

CEREMONIAL PURIFICATION. When the priests and Levites had purified themselves ceremonially, they purified the people, the gates and the wall.

Neh. 12:30

TWO CHORAL PROCESSIONS. I had the leaders of Judah go up on top^f of the wall. I also assigned two large choirs to give thanks. One was to proceed on top^g of the wall to the right, toward the Dung Gate. Hoshaiah and half the leaders of Judah followed them, along with Azariah, Ezra, Meshullam, Judah, Benjamin, Shemaiah, Jeremiah, as well as some priests with trumpets, and also Zechariah son of Jonathan, the son of Shemaiah, the son of Mattaniah, the son of Micaiah, the son of Zaccur, the son of Asaph, and his associates—Shemaiah, Azarel, Milalai, Gilalai, Maai, Nethanel, Judah and Hanani—with musical instruments prescribed by David the man of God. Ezra the scribe led the procession. At the Fountain Gate they continued directly up the steps of the City of David on the ascent to the wall and passed above the house of David to the Water Gate on the east.

Neh.
12:31-39

The second choir proceeded in the opposite direction. I followed them on top^h of the wall, together with half the people—past the Tower of the Ovens to the Broad Wall, over the Gate of Ephraim, the Jeshanahⁱ Gate, the Fish Gate, the Tower of Hananel and the Tower of the Hundred, as far as the Sheep Gate. At the Gate of the Guard they stopped.

CHOIRS IN TEMPLE. The two choirs that gave thanks then took their places in the house of God; so did I, together with half the officials, as well as the priests—Eliakim, Maaseiah, Miniamin, Micaiah, Elioenai, Zechariah and Hananiah with their trumpets—and also Maaseiah, Shemaiah, Eleazar, Uzzi, Jehohanan, Malkijah, Elam and Ezer. The choirs sang under the direction of Jezrahiah.

Neh. 12:44-47
13:12-14 FILLING THE STOREROOMS. All Judah brought the tithes of grain, new wine and oil into the storerooms.

At that time men were appointed to be in charge of the storerooms for the contributions, firstfruits and tithes. From the fields around the towns they were to bring into the storerooms the portions required by the Law for the priests and the Levites, for Judah was pleased with the ministering priests and Levites. I put Shelemiah the priest, Zadok the scribe, and a Levite named Pedaiah in charge of the storerooms and made Hanan son of Zaccur, the son of Mattaniah, their assistant, because these men were considered trustworthy. They were made responsible for distributing the supplies to their brothers.

They performed the service of their God and the service of purification, as did also the singers and gatekeepers, according to the commands of David and his son Solomon. For long ago, in the days of David and Asaph, there had been directors for the singers and for the songs of praise and thanksgiving to God. So in the days of Zerubbabel and of Nehemiah, all Israel contributed the daily portions for the singers and gatekeepers. They also set aside the portion for the other Levites, and the Levites set aside the portion for the descendants of Aaron.

Remember me for this, O my God, and do not blot out what I have so faithfully done for the house of my God and its services.

Neh. 13:1,2 READING OF LAW. On that day the Book of Moses was read aloud in the hearing of the people and there it was found written that no Ammonite or Moabite should ever be admitted into the assembly of God, because they had not met the Israelites with food and water but had hired Balaam to call a curse down on them. (Our God, however, turned the curse into a blessing.)

Neh. 13:3 PEOPLE'S RESPONSE. When the people heard this law, they excluded from Israel all who were of foreign descent.

Official Records of Israel _____

This passage brings to an end any further account of either Ezra or Nehemiah. Presumably they both remain in Palestine exercising their respective responsibilities until their deaths. On several occasions Ezra is referred to as a scribe. Consistent with that role, it is thought that he is one of several scribes who may have compiled chronicles of Israel's history. To a nation whose history has been so turbulent, and whose people are even now scattered throughout many nations, it is vitally important that a record of their existence be preserved. Undoubtedly a man of God such as Ezra would be particularly concerned that future generations be made aware of Israel's unique status as a chosen nation through which God has revealed himself to the whole world.

An important part of any nation's history is the preservation of national archives. Genealogical records are particularly vital to the division and ownership of property, to marriages and inheritance, to right of office, and to royal privilege. Perhaps one of the most important reasons for the genealogies will not be fully appreciated until the Messiah is born. At that time one of the many proofs of his messiahship will be that he is of the lineage of King David and the house of Judah, just as the prophets have foretold.

Therefore it may well be that Ezra spends part of his final years recording Israel's history, particularly through the eras of the monarchy, the divided kingdom, the exile, and the initial period of restoration. If so, one might speculate that Ezra also compiles the national archives and major genealogical lists. Although they do not make particularly exciting reading, their importance to the nation at this time cannot be overstated. Throughout these genealogies and other related records are various historical footnotes, many of which have already been included where appropriate in the historical record. Several of the genealogical lists have also been seen in the earlier Genesis accounts, but additional names often appear in the present listings.

Included in the following records are: genealogies from Adam to Noah to Abraham and Isaac; the descendants of Esau (the Edomites); and the 12 tribes descending from Jacob (Israel), with the exception of Dan and Zebulun. Special emphasis is given to the royal tribe of Judah, the priestly line of Levi, and the Benjamite genealogy of King Saul.

Some of the Kohathite clans were given as their territory towns from the tribe of Ephraim.

In the hill country of Ephraim they were given Shechem (a city of refuge), and Gezer,^s Jokmeam, Beth Horon, Aijalon and Gath Rimmon, together with their pasturelands.

CONCLUSION. All Israel was listed in the genealogies recorded in the book of the kings of Israel. 1 Chron.
9:1a

Following these genealogies is a record of the people of Jerusalem, but the specific time, either before or after the exile, is not entirely clear. It does seem to correspond most closely, however, to similar listings in Nehemiah's accounts. If so, these are the families living in Jerusalem at the very time that these national archives are being compiled.

INHABITANTS OF JERUSALEM. All Israel was listed in the genealogies recorded in the book of the kings of Israel. 1 Chron.
9:1b-9

The people of Judah were taken captive to Babylon because of their unfaithfulness. Now the first to resettle on their own property in their own towns were some Israelites, priests, Levites and temple servants.

Those from Judah, from Benjamin, and from Ephraim and Manasseh who lived in Jerusalem were:

Uthai son of Ammihud, the son of Omri, the son of Imri, the son of Bani, a descendant of Perez son of Judah.

Of the Shilonites:

Asaiah the firstborn and his sons.

Of the Zerahites:

Jeuel.

The people from Judah numbered 690.

Of the Benjamites:

Sallu son of Meshullam, the son of Hodaviah, the son of Hassenuah; Ibneiah son of Jeroham; Elah son of Uzzi, the son of Micri; and Meshullam son of Shephatiah, the son of Reuel, the son of Ib-nijah.

The people from Benjamin, as listed in their genealogy, numbered 956. All these men were heads of their families.

Of the priests:

Jedaiah; Jehoiarib; Jakin;

Azariah son of Hilkiah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Zadok, the son of Meraioth, the son of Ahitub, the official in charge of the house of God;

Adaiah son of Jeroham, the son of Pashhur, the son of Malkijah; and Maasai son of Adiel, the son of Jahzerah, the son of Meshullam, the son of Meshillemith, the son of Immer.

The priests, who were heads of families, numbered 1,760. They were able men, responsible for ministering in the house of God.

Of the Levites:

Shemaiah son of Hasshub, the son of Azrikam, the son of Hashabiah, a Merarite; Bakbakkar, Heresh, Galal and Mattaniah son of Mica, the son of Zicri, the son of Asaph; Obadiah son of Shemaiah, the son of Galal, the son of Jeduthun; and Berekiah son of Asa, the son of Elkanah, who lived in the villages of the Netophathites.

The gatekeepers:

Shallum, Akkub, Talmon, Ahiman and their brothers, Shallum their chief being stationed at the King's Gate on the east, up to the present time. These were the gatekeepers belonging to the camp of the Levites. Shallum son of Kore, the son of Ebiasaph, the son of Korah, and his fellow gatekeepers from his family (the Korahites) were responsible for guarding the thresholds of the Tent¹ just as their fathers had been responsible for guarding the entrance to the dwelling of the LORD. In earlier times Phinehas son of Eleazar was in charge of the gatekeepers, and the LORD was with him. Zechariah son of Meshelemiah was the gatekeeper at the entrance to the Tent of Meeting.

Altogether, those chosen to be gatekeepers at the thresholds numbered 212. They were registered by genealogy in their villages. The gatekeepers had been assigned to their positions of trust by David and Samuel the seer. They and their descendants were in charge of guarding the gates of the house of the LORD—the house called the Tent. The gatekeepers were on the four sides: east, west, north and south. Their brothers in their villages had to come from time to time and share their duties for seven-day periods. But the four principal gatekeepers, who were Levites, were entrusted with the responsibility for the rooms and treasuries in the house of God. They would spend the night stationed around the house of God, because they had to guard it; and they had charge of the key for opening it each morning.

Some of them were in charge of the articles used in the temple service; they counted them when they were brought in and when they were taken out. Others were assigned to take care of the furnishings and all the other articles of the sanctuary, as well as the flour and wine, and the oil, incense and spices. But some of the priests took care of mixing the spices. A Levite named Mattithiah, the firstborn son of Shallum the Korahite, was entrusted with the responsibility for baking the offering bread. Some of their Kohathite brothers were in charge of preparing for every Sabbath the bread set out on the table.

Those who were musicians, heads of Levite families, stayed in the rooms of the temple and were exempt from other duties because they were responsible for the work day and night.

All these were heads of Levite families, chiefs as listed in their genealogy, and they lived in Jerusalem.

HISTORICAL INTERLUDE

End of Old Testament Record _____

*A*s the historical record of the Old Testament comes to a close, the curtain falls on the early centuries of mankind's existence. From Adam and Eve to Ezra and Nehemiah, God has revealed himself in the affairs of both individuals and nations. From the earliest days of the patriarchs, a divine master plan has been unfolding to teach mankind the nature of God, and to prepare the world for a Savior who will transform man's sinful condition and bring true life. God's instrumentality in this plan has been the relatively obscure Hebrew nation of Israel. Some 650 years before it came into being, God promised the faithful patriarch Abraham that his descendants would become a great nation and have a land of their own—and that through them all the people of the earth would be blessed.

When the 12 tribes of Israel were delivered out of Egyptian bondage and brought to Mount Sinai, the first promise was fulfilled. God covenanted with the new nation of Israel that he would be their God and they in turn covenanted that they would be his people. Among other symbols of the covenant was the law given through Moses. In its divine origin and theocratic nature it was like no other law ever given. Through that law, God elevated moral consciousness and established a whole new religion, with a tabernacle, priests, sacrifices, offerings, Sabbaths, and holy festivals. It was a great beginning. But in the very week of its inception, the nation exhibited a spirit of rebellion which would continue generation after generation. This rebellion brought 40 years of wandering in the wilderness as punishment. But God in his mercy forgave his people and led them to the promised land of Canaan. After the local inhabitants were substantially subdued over the period of the judges, the nation finally had its own land, and God's second promise to Abraham was fulfilled.

From that point on, it remained only for the nation of Israel to become a blessing to the whole world. In the 120-year-long monarchy of Saul, David, and Solomon it seemed that the nation's rise to prominence and power was the beginning of the third fulfillment. But upon Solomon's death the rebellion of the people once again brought disaster—this time civil war and a divided kingdom. For 325 years the people became more and more rebellious, turning away from their God, the Creator of the universe, to pagan gods and idols of man's own making. Because sin always brings death, the people's sins were a death knell to the nation itself. God used Israel's territorial enemies as his agents of judgment, and both segments of the kingdom were taken captive and carried away into exile. Throughout the period of spiritual and political decline, God had sent one messenger after another, crying out against the people's sins and warning of impending punishment. And yet, without exception, every message had ended with a note of hope and a promise of restoration. Exile would end within 70 years, and the temple would be rebuilt. Even beyond that were prophecies of a Messiah who would come and establish an everlasting kingdom of peace and joy.

Faithful as always, God fulfilled his promise when he brought his people back into their land, exactly as he had foretold—70 years after the first deportation. And when the temple was rebuilt, some 20 years later, God's word was once again proved true. But when foreign dominance and local oppression continued over the next century, disillusionment and cynicism set in—and with it, renewed spiritual rebellion.

Despite the message of Malachi that the day of the Lord was coming, and despite the temporary spiritual revival under Ezra and Nehemiah, the Old Testament record does not end on a note of great optimism or confidence. The people of Israel continue even now in their willful violation of God's laws; the nation is still at the mercy of the Persian Empire; and, as far as the Jews can tell, there is no sign that any super-king is about to establish the ideal kingdom which they have come to expect. Never mind that every other promise that God has made in over 40 centuries has been faithfully fulfilled. Where is this great Messiah of which the prophets have spoken? Has God finally gone too far in an effort to hold his people's attention? Is this a promise that is too difficult for even the God of heaven to fulfill?

Although comfortable retrospect might chide the Jews for their lack of faith, it is easy to understand their true discouragement. Others in later centuries—Jew and non-Jew alike—whose primary focus is on a physical rather than a spiritual kingdom, or the coming of the end when they mistakenly expect it, will suffer the same disillusionment. And saddest of all, when the Messiah finally does come, he will be so unlike the Jews' preconceived image of him that most of them will not even recognize him.

How long will it be before the Messiah comes? How long must the Jews—indeed the whole world—wait for this glorious day of promise? If Daniel has given a clue in his vision of the seventy "sevens," the Messiah's coming will not be before some 400 years from now. Indeed this is approximately the same period during which the historical record of Scripture will lie silent.

But why would there be such a historical interlude? Certainly one can only speculate, but perhaps it is simply to dramatize the most important event in the history of mankind. Perhaps there is something to be said for disassociating the Messiah from any exclusive ties to this small Hebrew nation so that his kingdom may be seen as truly universal. Perhaps the political situation in a later time will be more conducive to the Messiah's mission. Or perhaps the delay is to insure against any possibility that fulfillment of relatively recent prophecies is merely contrived by wishful believers. Whatever God's reasons, it is clear that the nation of Israel will have to wait further for the promised Messiah and for the day when, through their race, all the nations of the earth will be blessed. ☞

Writings of the Apocrypha

The historical record of the Old Testament, as presently divided, is composed of 39 separate writings. In the presentation thus far, the contents of these various writings have been integrated into one continuous narrative—arranged, to the degree possible, in the chronological order of their occurrence. The events span the period from creation to approximately 425 B.C. Not until approximately 5 B.C. will any further events be recorded in any scriptural writings. These accounts will be contained in the New Testament, which is itself a collection of 27 different writings.

Over the next four to six centuries, many other historical and religious documents pertaining to the Jews will be written. Therefore it cannot be said that there are no historical records of the Jews arising out of this period. When it is said that the historical record of Scripture lies silent during this time, emphasis is being placed on the word Scripture. The so-called apocryphal or "hidden" writings of this period are not accepted as Scripture by all believers.

Jumping several centuries ahead, the inclusion of these writings will begin with the Greek version of the Old Testament—the Septuagint—which will be widely used in the first century. The Apocrypha will then be adopted as part of the Latin Vulgate, edited by Jerome in about A.D. 400. In more modern times, all English versions of the Bible from A.D. 1382 down to and including the original King James Version of A.D. 1611 will contain the apocryphal writings. In the earlier Greek and Latin versions, the apocryphal writings are interspersed with the other Old Testament writings. In his German Bible of 1534, Luther will collect them into a unified supplement and present them at the end of the Old Testament. The Catholic English version retains the more scattered format even until now, but most Protestant versions will drop the Apocrypha altogether, beginning about A.D. 1629.

In the view of those who reject their inclusion in scriptural canon, the apocryphal writings do not meet the test of having originated from divine inspiration. The Apocrypha are never included in the Hebrew Old Testament, and the Jews do not accept these writings as part of their approved Scriptures. In fact, Hebrew manuscripts of most of the apocryphal writings are not even to be found. It is perhaps significant that several of the writings reflect notions of mysticism and demonology apparently traceable to Persian influences during the Jewish dispersion and arguably inconsistent with either Jewish or later Christian beliefs.

Despite their current lack of credibility among a large segment of believers, these disputed writings are generally moral in nature and do give insight into some of the history, customs, and religious developments of the Jews during this intertestamental period. The following 14 writings, briefly summarized at this point, comprise the so-called Apocrypha. Although most of them emerge from 300 B.C. to A.D. 100, several refer back to earlier times and assume various specific historical contexts.

FIRST ESDRAS, the Greek name for Ezra, is a historical record from the end of the exile until the completion of the temple. It is a compilation which virtually duplicates portions of Ezra, Nehemiah, and the Chronicles. One additional story purports to explain Zerubbabel's leading role in the rebuilding of the temple. According to the story, Zerubbabel argued successfully against two other guards of King Darius that women and truth are stronger than kings and wine.

SECOND ESDRAS is of Latin origin in the first three centuries A.D. and purports to record a series of apocalyptic visions about the future of the world. In that regard it is similar to the apocalyptic visions of the leading prophets, particularly those of Daniel. A major portion of the writing addresses many of the hard issues confronted in the book of Job: how can God permit the suffering of his people? Why should God choose nations more wicked than Israel itself to punish Israel? Why live righteously when the wicked seem to be more prosperous? How long will it be before the righteous finally get their reward? How will the wicked be punished? And, just as in Job, although some answers are provided, the basic response is that there are simply many things which man cannot yet know.

THE BOOK OF TOBIT is a piece of religious fiction about a pious Jew named Tobit and his son Tobias. The story itself is primarily about Tobias' journey from Nineveh to a city called Ecbatana to retrieve money which his father has deposited there. On his journey Tobias meets and marries a distant cousin, Sarah, who has lost seven husbands, each on the night of the wedding before the marriage was consummated. A central figure in the story introduces elements of Persian mysticism and demonism. This figure purports to be an archangel by the name of Raphael who is disguised as Tobias' guide. Apart from the story line, the moral message is a promotion of unselfishness and charity, particularly as seen in the life of Tobit and in the principles which he instills in his son.

THE BOOK OF JUDITH is another piece of religious fiction, about a beautiful Jewish woman named Judith who saves her city, and indeed the entire nation of Israel, by deceiving an Assyrian general and cutting off his head. The general, whose name is Holofernes, is supposedly under the command of Nebuchadnezzar, king over the Assyrians in Nineveh. That obvious historical miscue only further confirms the fictional nature of the tale and draws attention more clearly to the author's apparent purpose in writing it. That purpose seems to be the promotion of strict observance of the Jewish law, particularly the ceremonial and dietary laws. The story may well be a product of the Jewish Pharisees, who will be further described in following narrative.

THE ADDITIONS TO THE BOOK OF ESTHER are supplements to the canonical account of Esther. Those supplements are found scattered throughout the Greek translations of the book of Esther. Because there are no direct references in Esther to God or the Jewish religion, it may well be that the translators decided to add the various supplements in order to bolster the book's religious impact. Among the additions are a dream by Mordecai about the events recorded in Esther; the purported contents of King Artaxerxes' edict authorizing the massacre of the Jews; a supposed account of Esther's prayer to God before approaching the king unsummoned; the purported contents of the letter which permitted the Jews to defend themselves; and finally an epilogue in which Mordecai demonstrates how his dream had been fulfilled in all the prior events.

THE WISDOM OF SOLOMON is a poem similar in style to Ecclesiastes and is characteristic of the literature in the wisdom movement of Solomon. Therefore, although it is written apparently as late as 50-40 B.C., it sometimes bears Solomon's name. The poem speaks beautifully of God's omniscience, the nature of death, the security of the upright, the superiority of virtue, and the destruction of the wicked. As all wisdom literature, it eloquently exalts the value of wisdom. And, reminiscent of the prophets, the writer launches a vicious assault against idolatry and pagan perversion. The writing concludes with a review of God's dealings with Israel and his perpetual care for his people, even in the times of their unfaithfulness.

ECCLESIASTICUS is the longest book of the Apocrypha and is most similar in content and style to the book of Proverbs. It was originally written in Hebrew about 180 B.C. in the city of Jerusalem, and then translated into Greek some 50 years later in the city of Alexandria. The last section of the book contains a review of all the great men in Jewish history, ending with Simon the high priest, who dies in 199 B.C. A prologue indicates that the author is a man by the name of Jeshua and that he has derived his thoughts from many years of studying the law, the prophets, and other Old Testament wisdom literature. It is not surprising that Ecclesiasticus, also known as the Wisdom of Sirach (after Jeshua's father) should begin with the words, "All wisdom comes from the Lord and remains with him forever."

Like the book of Proverbs, Ecclesiasticus finds wisdom in the fear of the Lord and also in self-control, particularly of the tongue. Charity and humility are encouraged, and there are warnings against improper desires and excessive use of wine. The brevity of life and punishment of the wicked are seen as motivations for proper living. Wicked women and woeful wives are bitterly denounced, as are adulterous husbands. Unlike any of the wisdom literature found in the canonical Scriptures, Ecclesiasticus includes such mundane advice as proper dining etiquette and basic health habits. There is praise for various occupations, from physicians to ordinary tradesmen, of whom it is said, "They support the fabric of the world" and "Their prayer is in the practice of their trade." In all, Ecclesiasticus covers a broad scope of wise sayings reflective of the wisdom literature already presented.

THE BOOK OF BARUCH, supposed to have been written by Jeremiah's scribe, purportedly accompanied a donation of money to support the worship in the temple in 582 B.C. However, the fact that the temple was in ruins at that time casts doubt upon the historical accuracy of the writing. It appears that the writing actually emerges near the end of the first century at a time when Jerusalem and the reconstructed temple are once again threatened. In the writing is a confession of national sin, a plea for mercy, a call for wisdom, and words of encouragement to a nation under oppression. These are followed by "The Letter of Jeremiah," purportedly from the great weeping prophet to the captives in Babylon, warning them against involvement in idolatry. The supposed letter is one of the most insightful and scathing attacks against idolatry ever written.

THE STORY OF SUSANNA is a short story about a virtuous woman named Susanna who is falsely accused of infidelity by two evil Jewish elders when she spurns their lustful advances. As she is being led away for execution, following a trial in which her accusers have perjured themselves, Daniel—presumably the Daniel of the Old Testament—urges that the two elders be questioned outside each other's presence. That move results in conflicting testimony which confirms Susanna's innocence. The story may well be simply a hypothetical case used to bring about reform of a rule of evidence in capital cases. While under the law it takes two witnesses to establish guilt, it remains possible for the two to conspire to bring about the death of an innocent person. The new rule of procedure would help to expose any such conspiracy and provide the death penalty for the conspirators instead.

THE SONG OF THE THREE CHILDREN is a writing of the period 170-150 B.C. which is meant for integration with the book of Daniel (at 3:23). It purports to record the miracle which saved Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego as they were in the fiery furnace, along with a prayer by Azariah (Abednego), which is really a confession of Israel's sin and a plea for the nation's salvation. There is also a song of praise to the God who has delivered the three men from the fires of death.

THE STORY OF BEL AND THE DRAGON is the third story attached to the book of Daniel and is an attack against idolatry, especially the worship of serpents, or "dragons," as is prevalent in 100 B.C., when the story is written. The story sets Daniel in a controversy with King Cyrus as to whether the Babylonian god Bel actually eats the food offered to it daily. Through simple ingenuity, Daniel is able to demonstrate that the food is consumed by the priests of Bel. Daniel then causes the death of a revered serpent, which so angers its Babylonian worshipers that they throw Daniel into a lions' den. In this fictional version of the lions' den, Daniel is ministered to by the prophet Habakkuk, who is supposedly whisked, in some miraculous fashion, from Judea to Babylon for the occasion.

THE PRAYER OF MANASSES is a brief but excellent example of a pious penitent prayer, perhaps Pharisaic in origin.

THE FIRST BOOK OF MACCABEES contains the history of the Jewish people in Judea in the period from 175-132 B.C. It details much of the history which will appear in summary form in later narrative. The principal kings of the period—the Seleucids in Syria and the Ptolemies in Egypt—are seen in a seesaw struggle, with the Jews caught in the middle. Reference is made to a later Roman power, but during this period there is no direct Roman rule affecting Judea. The historical account begins primarily with the Seleucid king, Antiochus Epiphanes, who brings great persecution against the Jews and their religion. Militant reaction comes from those Jews who would rather die than see the law suppressed. Those Jews are led in battle after battle over several decades by a man named Mattathias and three of his sons.

The first son to take over his father's leadership is named Judas, but is called Maccabeus. It is this man after whom the historical record is named. Judas Maccabeus is followed by his two brothers Jonathan and Simon, and later by Simon's son John Hyrcanus. The military exploits of the Jews against Syrians, Greeks, Egyptians, and Edomites, as well as a number of more local enemies, are reminiscent of the wars of King David. But the almost-constant fighting finally brings Judea and the Jews a brief period of peace in the midst of centuries of conflict. Jonathan and Simon are appointed as both high priests and governors, which indicates an evolution in the traditional roles of Jewish leadership. The First Book of Maccabees is the most important and trustworthy history of the Jews during its time.

THE SECOND BOOK OF MACCABEES presumes to cover the period from 175-160 B.C. but is less historical than patriotic. The book professes to be a readable summary of a much-detailed, five-volume work by Jason of Cyrene. Most notable in the book are the graphic accounts of violent atrocities which Antiochus Epiphanes allegedly brought against the Jews.

From these writings and the historical records of other nations over the next four centuries, something of the Jews' continued development, as both a nation and a dispersed people, can be pieced together. ☞

Influences on a Dispersed People _____

It is easy to think that after the exile all the Jews in Babylonia return to Palestine. That is by no means the case. Many Jews choose not to return and are still living in Babylonia, Egypt, and other areas as well. Those who have been assimilated into other cultures have been influenced in a number of ways, including their religious beliefs and practices. With the Hebrew language rapidly giving way to Aramaic and other languages, there is waning interest in reading the Torah, as the Law of Moses has come to be known. Thus the law's influence itself has diminished. That fact, combined with local eating habits, has led many Jews to ignore the strict dietary rules imposed on them by the law.

Of course local religious beliefs have a profound effect, as already seen when the Jews intermarried with those involved in idolatry and various pagan practices. Also of significant impact are the Persian beliefs in astrology and the occult. As a result, when many Jews read their Scriptures in this postexilic period, they attach special meanings to any passage dealing with demons and angels, or light and darkness. The Torah is gradually being mystified in the eyes of many. A good example is found in the apocryphal book of Tobit, in which Persian Zoroastrianism and pagan demons are promoted.

One of the most disastrous influences of Persian origin is the belief that God is an aloof, impersonal god. It does not take long for any Jew, or non-Jew for that matter, who accepts this notion to have difficulty with Isaiah's prophecy that the Messiah would be called Immanuel—that is, God with us.

With these and other cultural threats becoming increasingly apparent, the more orthodox Jews take steps to combat the pagan influences. And yet, ironically, the steps they take are not particularly in the direction of the very law they are trying to preserve. They too are victims of their strange environment. Under the law, the temple is to be the center of their sacrificial form of worship, and priests have the responsibility of teaching the law to each generation. Yet during the exile, and even after its end in areas other than Palestine, there is no temple, and sacrificing is often politically impossible. Substituting as best they can, the faithful begin to emphasize prayer and the inward sacrifice of the heart. The temple is replaced by an institution known as the synagogue, where the people gather for singing, prayer, and discussion of God's laws. Ezekiel's house in Tel Abib of Babylonia may have been a prototype, and Ezra's assembly for the reading of the law may have given impetus to the synagogue movement even in the shadow of the reconstructed temple. And the further away from Jerusalem one might go at this time, the more synagogues he would find.

The synagogues themselves foster changes in the Jewish religion. First to be noticed is the declining role of the priest, and his replacement by those known as rabbis. The rabbis are men whose superior knowledge of the law has set them in positions of great respect as the teachers in the synagogues. The fact that they gain such respect, oddly enough, leads to a second, and most significant, link in the evolution of Judaism. That link is the rise of sectarianism. The synagogues lend themselves readily to both special-interest groups and different schools of thought which are no longer under the direct influence of the priestly line of authority.

Another extension of the rabbinical movement is the development of the many written interpretations of the rabbis and the often greater importance attached to these writings than to those of the Torah itself. The first collections of these writings, known as the Midrash, is closely linked to the Torah. However, later collections will begin to incorporate oral traditions without such direct ties.

One final important development at this time is the beginning of so-called remnant theology. With paganism and secularism bringing about a compromised theology, the more orthodox are beginning to think the unthinkable. Perhaps there are Jews who are "erring Jews"—which, when interpreted, really means they are not true Jews at all! Of course this radical idea hardly touches ground before the next logical question is asked: who then is the faithful remnant? Predictably enough, each of the sects believes that its own special teachings and understandings of the law qualify them—and perhaps only them. The irony of it all is that there are those in Palestine who also take up the faithful-remnant cry. They in turn condemn even the more orthodox Jews in Babylonia for not returning to the land of promise and, presumably, for abandoning temple worship in favor of these unauthorized synagogues!

As all these changes are starting to have their impact on Judaism, the Persian Empire is slowly crumbling around the Jews in Palestine and those who are dispersed. From the time of Artaxerxes' death, in 424 B.C., the Persian throne is both shaky and bloodstained. Over the following century, intrigue, assassinations, and coup after coup will take place in Susa. The final fall of the empire will come in 330 B.C. at the hands of Alexander the Great of Macedonia. Under Persian dominance they have had both relative peace and official cooperation—even encouragement. In the years to come they will not always be so blessed.

Hellenism and the Jews

Even before the fall of the Persian forces under Darius III at the great Battle of Arbela, Alexander sweeps through Syria, Palestine, and Egypt. It is during this time that he finally and completely destroys the city of Tyre, ending any doubt as to whether Ezekiel's prophecy would be fulfilled. He also establishes a new city on the Nile to take its place. That city, appropriately named Alexandria, will become a significant center of Greek influence. And because a large number of Jews will eventually be citizens of Alexandria, the Greek Hellenistic culture will have a profound effect on both the Jewish people and their religion for centuries to come. Therefore, by 332 B.C. Jews in both Egypt and Palestine are feeling the effects of still another foreign dominance. Apparently Alexander permits the Jews in Palestine a measure of self-rule, and generally views them with favor.

In later centuries, Alexander's military victories will become legendary. After crushing the Persians, Alexander pushes on as far as the Ganges River in India, thus linking together for the first time the cultures of both East and West. For a God who works through history, this may well be a providential step in the divine plan, because along with Alexander's military dominance goes the Hellenistic culture, and along with the culture goes the koiné Greek language. Its universality in future years will be of inestimable value in spreading to the known world the good news of the Messiah's coming.

When Alexander dies, in 323 B.C., there is a classic power struggle and land grab among his generals. In brief, the Ptolemies take control over Egypt and the Seleucids end up with Syria. It does not take long to realize who is caught in the middle—the Jews in Palestine. Ptolemy I captures Jerusalem and takes a number of Jews to colonize Alexandria. He gives them full citizenship and encourages Jewish scholarship. Here for the first time many Jewish intellectuals come under the influence of Greek philosophy with its logic and abstract concepts. The effects will soon be seen. In addition, Alexandria becomes the source of several of the apocryphal writings. Perhaps the most significant outgrowth of this intellectual community comes during the reign of Ptolemy II, who commissions a Greek translation of the Old Testament for the great library at Alexandria. Over the next 300 years this Greek version, known as the Septuagint, will virtually replace the use of the Hebrew manuscripts.

While the Ptolemies and their Hellenism are proving to be in many ways advantageous to the Jews, the Seleucids have an altogether different view of how Hellenism ought to be used. And unfortunately they manage to take Palestine away from the Ptolemies, at least from time to time. Throughout the second century B.C. there is a tug-of-war over Palestine which gives the Seleucids on-again, off-again control over the Jews there. In 190 B.C. the Seleucid king, Antiochus III, is defeated by an emerging world power—Rome. Rome has just emerged from 65 years of Punic wars with Carthage and a magnificent victory in 201 B.C. over the famed General Hannibal. Now it has cast greedy eyes on Greece. In order to concentrate entirely on Greece itself, Rome makes a pact with Antiochus IV and permits continued rule over Syria and Palestine. This Seleucid ruler, whose name is Epiphanes, is one of the cruelest men ever to hold public office. His idea of extending Greek influence and paying the heavy tribute he owes the Roman emperor is not exactly the friendliest gesture to a conquered nation. He begins by selling the office of high priest, then builds a gymnasium for naked athletes, confiscates property, loots the temple, and haughtily sacrifices a pig on a pagan altar he has erected there.

The pig may have been the last straw for a group of Jews called Maccabees, under the leadership of Mattathias. They begin a running guerilla warfare which lasts from 163 to 143 B.C. Epiphanes' response is to massacre 1000 Jewish soldiers in his army who refuse to fight on the Sabbath. With the help of the pious Hasidim sect, the Maccabees finally achieve a Jewish dynasty under John Hyrcanus in 135 B.C. Of course they exercise a fairly tenuous self-rule under the watchful eye of Rome, but for the next three-quarters of a century at least it will be a refreshing break in the action for a beleaguered nation of Jews.

As they savor the temporary return to power which they have achieved, and reflect on some 50 years of brutal persecution, the Jews surely must be thinking more and more about their national destiny. At this point they have come a long way from the early days of restoration and its hope of a politically strong kingdom. If there were ever any doubts about what kind of Messiah is needed, they are all gone now. It is clear that what Israel needs now is a strong political and military leader—perhaps someone like Alexander the Great. After all, it is only a matter of time before the Romans are free to turn their attention to Palestine. And when they do, even the brave Maccabees will be no match for the Roman legions. Without doubt, the Jews' only hope is the coming of the conquering king they have been promised, and what better time than now? It may be this very thinking which, just over a century from now, will be a significant factor in how the Jews of that day react to an unassuming man of peace who claims to be their king.

Judaism Under Roman Rule

In 63 B.C. the inevitable happens. Under General Pompey the Romans invade Palestine and capture Jerusalem. But a measure of self-rule remains while Pompey and his former ally, Julius Caesar, turn against each other in a power struggle. Pompey is defeated in 48 B.C. In the next year Caesar appoints Antipater as procurator over all Judea, as Palestine is now known, and is himself assassinated in 44 B.C. After Caesar's friend Antony appoints Antipator's son Herod as tetrarch of Galilee, the Hasmoneans briefly revolt and force Herod to his fortress at Masada, near the Dead Sea. When Herod manages to get to Rome, Antony names him king of Judea and proceeds to resubdue the province so that Herod can establish his rule.

Between 37 B.C. and 30 B.C. political intrigue and more wars will bring to the Egyptian stage the last and most famous of all the Ptolemies—Cleopatra. As a Greek ruler she poses the last real threat to Roman dominance. Her marriage to Antony is legendary, along with their battle of Actium in 31 B.C., where both lose their lives to Caesar's nephew and adopted son, Octavian.

Judea is not greatly affected by these Roman infightings, and Herod retains his control of Judea under Octavian. In 27 B.C. the Roman Senate gives Octavian the title of Augustus, and it is this Augustus Caesar who gets credit for founding the Roman Empire with its Pax Romana, or Roman Peace. For the next two centuries the civilized world will enjoy unprecedented peace, prosperity, and, for the most part, good civil government under Roman rule. It causes one to think again of a God who is working through history to achieve his eternal purposes. A century from now one will be able to look back and see what an ideal time this is for the divine events about to happen in Judea, and later throughout the whole empire.

Meanwhile, Herod curries Jewish favor by restoring the temple in Jerusalem, which had been virtually destroyed by King Epiphanes. Despite this, Herod will not prove to be a true friend to the Jews. In fact he orders that when he dies a number of prominent Jews are to be killed so that there will be a time of national mourning! In the meantime he is so obsessed with the security of his throne that he virtually eliminates any possible contenders. He has his favorite wife executed, and "playfully" drowns his young brother-in-law, Aristobulus. It is no wonder, then, that news of the birth of a Jewish "king" will not be received with enthusiasm.

Herod will not be the only one to greet any such news with distress. Ironically, many of the Jews themselves will have serious doubts. To understand their doubts, it is necessary to understand who the Jews are religiously at this point in history. The sectarianism which began after the exile has increased and solidified at this time. The sects are as much political and cultural as they are religious.

The Pharisees have become masters of the oral traditions which have come down from the rabbis over the past four centuries. They are enamored with interpretations and legalistic hypotheticals which do not necessarily have to be answered with reference to the Torah. Although they probably would not acknowledge it, apparently for the Pharisees tradition is on a par with the law itself. That fact takes on added significance when it is coupled with the belief that one earns merit with God by scrupulously observing every technicality of law and tradition. And yet the Pharisees have broad support among the common people, particularly because they hold to a belief in life after death, which some of the other sects now deny. With this popular support, many Pharisees have been chosen for high government positions, including the Sanhedrin, which is the highest tribunal of the Jews.

The second major sect is known as the Sadducees. They are closely associated with the Greek intellectual movement arising earlier out of the Alexandrian community, and have adopted the Epicurean belief that the soul dies with the body. They do not believe in a resurrection. Somewhat curiously, the Sadducees reject oral tradition and accept only the written law, but they readily apply their Hellenistic logic to their understanding of the Torah.

Many more sects also have come into being, including the radical pious ones, called Essenes, the openly rebellious Zealots, the politically active Herodians, and the Samaritans, whose hybrid religion continues from centuries past. Found throughout several of the sects are traces of Persian mysticism, Greek humanism, patriotic Judaism, and time-honored ritualistic traditions. In their religious beliefs and practices, the Jews have come a long way from Mount Sinai. ☞

JESUS THE CHRIST

(Ca. 5 B.C.-A.D. 30)

The Coming of the Messiah _____

*A*ll is now ready for the most important event in human history. It is an event planned even before the creation of the world. It is the keeping of a promise made to Abraham over 2000 years earlier. It is the fulfillment of a host of prophecies regarding a Messiah who would come to establish his kingdom. Most importantly, it is the beginning of a dynamically new relationship between God and man. The event is the coming of the Savior of the world, the Messiah—or, as referred to in the Greek, the Christ.

This Christ is not to be just another world leader, as Cyrus, Alexander, or Caesar. He is not to be just another great man of God, as Abraham, Moses, or David. He is to be God himself in human flesh! The Lord of heaven is to become a servant of the earth. God, who has previously made himself known through a nation and a law, is now to reveal himself in the most personal way possible—in the form of a man. Until now God's blessings have been reserved mostly for a chosen people, but now they are to become available to all people in every generation.

Who is this Christ, this Messiah? His name is Jesus. His symbolic name, Immanuel (meaning "God with us"), signifies his deity. He is man, to be sure, but God as well; and he is God—the God of Creation—but man as well. God lowers himself so that man might be elevated. He leaves heaven so that man might enter it. To man, who cannot begin to understand the ways of God, it is clearly a great mystery. But what a marvelous and wonderful mystery it is!

As the New Testament record now begins, the Scriptures proclaim the good news about the salvation of mankind which comes through obedient faith in Jesus the Christ. The good news begins with the miraculous birth of Jesus to a virgin of Galilee in the days of Herod, King of Judea. Then, as Jesus grows into manhood, his coming as the promised Messiah and Savior is announced by John the Baptist. As Jesus begins his own ministry, he confirms his deity with miraculous healings and other signs and wonders, and proclaims the imminent coming of the kingdom of God. His teaching calls men and women to new spiritual heights in their worship of God and in their relationships with one another.

But because his teaching challenges traditional practices of the Jewish religion of his day, and because he claims divine authority, Jesus meets strong opposition from religious leaders. That opposition ultimately leads to arrest and trial before Jewish and Roman authorities. Although falsely accused, Jesus is condemned and sentenced to die by crucifixion—an event which is intended to silence both the man and his message. Instead, the good news comes to a powerful climax when, on the third day after his death, Jesus rises from the grave and shows himself alive, proving his own miraculous resurrection. The Christian hope which derives from the gospel message is that, just as Jesus is raised from the dead, so also the righteous in Christ will be raised to eternal life!

The Gospel Accounts

Although secular history attests to his ministry and influence, the details of Jesus' life were never preserved in an explicitly biographical form. What is known about the historical Jesus comes primarily from the Gospel accounts of Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John—four of Jesus' disciples. However, none of the accounts purports to be a biography of Jesus, as such, despite the fact that certain aspects of his life are covered in great detail and are usually set within specific historical contexts. The Gospel accounts, while clearly historic in nature, are principally documents of faith—the record of those events and teaching upon which Jesus' followers based their belief and hope. Therefore the exact times and places of those events are not always recorded, and the actual sequence of events can be traced with only limited certainty.

The Gospel accounts vary in the order in which the record of Jesus' ministry is presented. Apart from the fact that the Gospel accounts were never intended as chronological records, the differences in sequential order may be attributed to several factors. First of all, each account was written by a different author, each having a unique perspective. Each writer also focused upon different events, either because he was writing primarily to a particular audience or because he wished to achieve a particular purpose in his writing. This is especially true, for example, of John's account. This also explains why some events are recorded by only one, or perhaps two, of the Gospel writers, and why one account will include certain particulars not included in other accounts of the same event. Although a cursory reading of the different accounts can seem somewhat confusing, careful study discloses a striking harmony not expected of purely human documents which might have been written under the same diversity of time and circumstances.

What follows is a combination of the four Gospel accounts with an integration of the recorded events as nearly as possible in their proper chronological sequence. As previously indicated, any such attempt necessarily involves a degree of speculation, because it is simply not revealed when certain events actually occurred. It is not even certain whether Jesus' entire ministry lasted for 2½ years or for 3½ years. Each position has its supporters. Much of the problem of dating depends upon which feasts Jesus attended, and upon references to certain seasons of the year. The harmony which follows assumes a 3½-year ministry.

While major areas of Jesus' ministry can be ascertained fairly easily, it is not always easy to know which events occurred within which major ministry. Sometimes it is also difficult to judge whether two very similar events actually occurred twice or whether there was only one such event which was recorded in a somewhat different context by a different writer. Examples of this problem are the cleansings of the temple and the laments over Jerusalem.

Despite these difficulties, however, the record of Jesus' life and work can be seen very well from a careful study of the four accounts. Any individual perspective which might be lost in attempting to combine the four separate accounts is far outweighed, at least for the purpose of this presentation of the Bible, by a new sense of context and an added appreciation of the significance of each separate event within that context.

In developing this particular harmony of the Gospels, the usual approach is to take the single account which most completely records a particular event and use it as a basis for the full text. To that account is added any significant additional aspects of the event which are recorded by any other writer. As often as possible, a particular account is followed as long as practicable in order to maintain a given literary style and continuity of authorship. This approach becomes increasingly difficult to maintain at the end of Jesus' ministry, since all four accounts recorded most of the final events, often from different perspectives.

The following scheme is used to alert the reader to the composition of the harmony. In the margin beside each paragraph is an indication of all accounts which record the events within that paragraph. Repetitive verses are indicated by light-face type. Where more than one account is used in the text, the text itself will indicate which account is being cited at the time.

In addition, there are also marginal indications of the geographic location of particular occurrences and the dates or times of given events as best as can be determined. Attempts to assign exact times, dates, and locations often depend solely upon a generally assumed framework which cannot be verified with complete accuracy. However, having some frame of reference seems desirable as an aid to better understanding the wonderful life and ministry of Jesus.

Introductions by the Gospel Writers _____

Mark's account begins simply,

The beginning of the gospel about Jesus Christ, the Son of God.^a MK. 1:1

Mark introduces the reader to the good news about Jesus the Christ which is about to be told. That good news is beautifully summarized by John in a prologue to his account. It begins, as does the first book of Old Testament ^aSome manuscripts do not have the Son of God.

Scripture, with the creation of man, and shows that the Word (a designation for God as Christ) was not only the source through which all things were made, but also came into this world in human form as the man Jesus. It also shows that through Jesus mankind has received the grace of God unto salvation, as attested to during Christ's ministry by John the Baptist, a special messenger of God.

Jn. 1:1-18 In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was with God in the beginning.

Through him all things were made; without him nothing was made that has been made. In him was life, and that life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, but the darkness has not understood^b it.

There came a man who was sent from God; his name was John. He came as a witness to testify concerning that light, so that through him all men might believe. He himself was not the light; he came only as a witness to the light. The true light that gives light to every man was coming into the world.^c

He was in the world, and though the world was made through him, the world did not recognize him. He came to that which was his own, but his own did not receive him. Yet to all who received him, to those who believed in his name, he gave the right to become children of God—children born not of natural descent,^d nor of human decision or a husband's will, but born of God.

The Word became flesh and made his dwelling among us. We have seen his glory, the glory of the One and Only,^e who came from the Father, full of grace and truth.

John testifies concerning him. He cries out, saying, "This was he of whom I said, 'He who comes after me has surpassed me because he was before me.'" From the fullness of his grace we have all received one blessing after another. For the law was given through Moses; grace and truth came through Jesus Christ. No one has ever seen God, but God the One and Only,^e who is at the Father's side, has made him known.

In his own introduction, Luke writes to a man by the name of Theophilus in order to provide a more complete narrative of the life and work of this incarnate Word, Jesus the Christ, and of the things accomplished by Jesus' followers. Luke points out that, prior to his own account, other writers had already undertaken to record the events surrounding Jesus' coming and the work of his disciples during his ministry. Thus the records of Christ began to be compiled soon after his death and resurrection.

Lk. 1:1-4 Many have undertaken to draw up an account of the things that have been fulfilled^g among us, just as they were handed down to us by those who from the first were eyewitnesses and servants of the word. Therefore, since I myself have carefully investigated everything from the beginning, it seemed good also to me to write an orderly account for you, most excellent Theophilus, so that you may know the certainty of the things you have been taught.

The Genealogies of Jesus

Matthew's account has no formal introduction, but rather begins with a genealogy tracing the descent of Jesus from his ancestor, Abraham, through the royal lineage of David the King. Matthew lists 42 of the known generations and divides these into three groups of 14 each. The genealogy is traced through Jesus' legal father, Joseph, as the husband of the virgin Mary, to whom Jesus was born.

Matthew's genealogy contains several happy surprises. Back in Jesus' early roots are not only such notable righteous men as Abraham and David, but also several who stand out in history as being particularly unrighteous, including wicked King Manasseh. Not only are there Jews, as would be expected, but also Gentiles, including a Canaanite and a Moabite, whose respective countrymen have been notorious enemies of God's people. Also somewhat surprising, in view of their social status at this time, is the listing of women as well as men. Furthermore, at least two of the women are known best for sins which they had committed.

A record of the genealogy of Jesus Christ the son of David, the son of Abraham: Mt. 1:1-17

Abraham was the father of Isaac,
 Isaac the father of Jacob,
 Jacob the father of Judah and his brothers,
 Judah the father of Perez and Zerah, whose mother was Tamar, Perez the father of Hezron,
 Hezron the father of Ram,
 Ram the father of Amminadab,
 Amminadab the father of Nahshon,
 Nahshon the father of Salmon,
 Salmon the father of Boaz, whose mother was Rahab, Boaz the father of Obed, whose mother was Ruth,
 Obed the father of Jesse,
 and Jesse the father of King David.

David was the father of Solomon, whose mother had been Uriah's wife, Solomon the father of Rehoboam,
 Rehoboam the father of Abijah, Abijah the father of Asa,
 Asa the father of Jehoshaphat,
 Jehoshaphat the father of Jehoram,
 Jehoram the father of Uzziah,
 Uzziah the father of Jotham, Jotham the father of Ahaz,
 Ahaz the father of Hezekiah,
 Hezekiah the father of Manasseh,
 Manasseh the father of Amon, Amon the father of Josiah, and Josiah the father of Jeconiah^h and his brothers at the time of the exile to Babylon.

^hThat is, Jehoiachin

After the exile to Babylon:

Jeconiah was the father of Shealtiel,
 Shealtiel the father of Zerubbabel,
 Zerubbabel the father of Abiud,
 Abiud the father of Eliakim,
 Eliakim the father of Azor,
 Azor the father of Zadok,
 Zadok the father of Akim,
 Akim the father of Eliud,
 Eliud the father of Eleazar,
 Eleazar the father of Matthan, Matthan the father of Jacob, and Jacob the father of Joseph, the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.

Thus there were fourteen generations in all from Abraham to David, fourteen from David to the exile to Babylon, and fourteen from the exile to the Christ.ⁱ

Luke also provides a genealogy of Jesus, but his account traces the lineage directly through Jesus' mother, Mary. This explains the difference in ancestors from Heli (assumed to be the father-in-law of Mary's husband, Joseph) to David. Luke's genealogy also goes beyond Abraham, all the way back through Noah, Enoch, Seth, and Adam to God himself, who created the human race.

Lk.

the son of Heli, the son of Matthat,
 the son of Levi, the son of Melki,
 the son of Jannai, the son of Joseph,
 the son of Mattathias, the son of Amos,
 the son of Nahum, the son of Esli,

 the son of Seth, the son of Adam,
 the son of God.

Perhaps the most significant aspect of these genealogies is the connection between Jesus and his ancestor, King David. The prophets of old had repeatedly foretold that the Messiah would be of the house of David, and a branch of Jesse, David's father. Therefore, from the Jews' perspective, Jesus is of the royal lineage and worthy to be King of Israel. While this brings comfort to many, it brings confusion to others, who are expecting the Messiah to be the same kind of political king as those who reigned before him. ☐

The Births of Jesus and John the Baptist _____

Jesus is to be born in Judea approximately 747 years after the foundation of Rome. Now in the time of Herod the Great, who has been granted the title "King of the Jews" by the Roman senate under Emperor Caesar Augustus, the former land of Palestine is divided into the provinces of Judea, Samaria, and Galilee to the west of the Jordan River, and Perea and Decapolis to the east. The cities of Jerusalem and Bethlehem are both in Judea, while Nazareth is in Galilee. That Jesus is born in the province of Judea is surprising because his family's home is in Nazareth, some 75 miles north. But, due to a decree by Caesar Augustus requiring everyone to return to his own city, Jesus' birth takes place in Bethlehem—the very city named by the prophet Micah over 700 years earlier!

If that fulfillment is not enough to catch the attention of those familiar with earlier prophecies, an even more amazing fulfillment is involved—namely, Jesus' virgin birth. Isaiah had prophesied that the Messiah would be born of a virgin. Certainly there have been miraculous births before, as when couples were beyond the normal age of childbearing. Abraham and Sarah are the foremost example, and Zechariah and Elizabeth are soon to become another. However, never before nor since has a woman conceived without the seed of man. Not only is Mary a virgin in the sense of being a young woman, but, more importantly, she is a virgin in the fact that she has not had sexual relations with either her fiancé, Joseph, or any other man. The Gospel accounts state unequivocally that Jesus is miraculously conceived in Mary by the Holy Spirit of God.

The divine nature of Jesus' birth is both wonderful and exciting, but the human side of the story is touching in and of itself. Although she is told in advance about the miraculous birth, Mary must surely feel the embarrassment of being thought unchaste by her family and friends. She must surely feel the weight of concern in the mind of Joseph. When the two of them find themselves far from home at the time of delivery, they must both feel a terrible isolation and awesome expectation about this special child from God. Yet Mary's confident faith and Joseph's loving support are both rewarded with more celebration than any other human family has ever known at the arrival of a new child. From lowly shepherds on the earth to the highest halls of heaven, the majesty of the occasion is heralded with songs of joy!

As the account of Jesus' birth begins, there is another birth announced as well—that of God's special messenger, John, who, because of his ministry of repentance and baptism, will later be known as John the Baptist. Luke and Matthew tell the story of the two births and of the early events which follow in the young life of Jesus.

Lk. 1:5-17
(Ca. 6-4
B.C.)

JOHN'S BIRTH FORETOLD. In the time of Herod king of Judea there was a priest named Zechariah, who belonged to the priestly division of Abijah; his wife Elizabeth was also a descendant of Aaron. Both of them were upright in the sight of God, observing all the Lord's commandments and regulations blamelessly. But they had no children, because Elizabeth was barren; and they were both well along in years.

Once when Zechariah's division was on duty and he was serving as priest before God, he was chosen by lot, according to the custom of the priesthood, to go into the temple of the Lord and burn incense. And when the time for the burning of incense came, all the assembled worshipers were praying outside.

Then an angel of the Lord appeared to him, standing at the right side of the altar of incense. When Zechariah saw him, he was startled and was gripped with fear. But the angel said to him: "Do not be afraid, Zechariah; your prayer has been heard. Your wife Elizabeth will bear you a son, and you are to give him the name John. He will be a joy and delight to you, and many will rejoice because of his birth, for he will be great in the sight of the Lord. He is never to take wine or other fermented drink, and he will be filled with the Holy Spirit even from birth.¹ Many of the people of Israel will he bring back to the Lord their God. And he will go on before the Lord, in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers to their children and the disobedient to the wisdom of the righteous—to make ready a people prepared for the Lord."

Lk. 1:18-25

ZECHARIAH MADE SPEECHLESS. Zechariah asked the angel, "How can I be sure of this? I am an old man and my wife is well along in years."

The angel answered, "I am Gabriel. I stand in the presence of God, and I have been sent to speak to you and to tell you this good news. And now you will be silent and not able to speak until the day this happens, because you did not believe my words, which will come true at their proper time."

¹Or from his mother's womb

Meanwhile, the people were waiting for Zechariah and wondering why he stayed so long in the temple. When he came out, he could not speak to them. They realized he had seen a vision in the temple, for he kept making signs to them but remained unable to speak.

When his time of service was completed, he returned home. After this his wife Elizabeth became pregnant and for five months remained in seclusion. "The Lord has done this for me," she said. "In these days he has shown his favor and taken away my disgrace among the people."

MARY TOLD OF CONCEPTION. In the sixth month, God sent the angel Gabriel to Nazareth, a town in Galilee, to a virgin pledged to be married to a man named Joseph, a descendant of David. The virgin's name was Mary. The angel went to her and said, "Greetings, you who are highly favored! The Lord is with you."

Lk. 1:26-38
Nazareth

Mary was greatly troubled at his words and wondered what kind of greeting this might be. But the angel said to her, "Do not be afraid, Mary, you have found favor with God. You will be with child and give birth to a son, and you are to give him the name Jesus. He will be great and will be called the Son of the Most High. The Lord God will give him the throne of his father David, and he will reign over the house of Jacob forever; his kingdom will never end."

"How will this be," Mary asked the angel, "since I am a virgin?"

The angel answered, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you. So the holy one to be born will be called³ the Son of God. Even Elizabeth your relative is going to have a child in her old age, and she who was said to be barren is in her sixth month. For nothing is impossible with God."

"I am the Lord's servant," Mary answered. "May it be to me as you have said." Then the angel left her.

MARY VISITS ELIZABETH. At that time Mary got ready and hurried to a town in the hill country of Judea, where she entered Zechariah's home and greeted Elizabeth. When Elizabeth heard Mary's greeting, the baby leaped in her womb, and Elizabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit. In a loud voice she exclaimed: "Blessed are you among women, and blessed is the child you will bear! But why am I so favored, that the mother of my Lord should come to me? As soon as the sound of your greeting reached my ears, the baby in my womb leaped for joy. Blessed is she who has believed that what the Lord has said to her will be accomplished!"

Lk. 1:39-45

MARY PRAISES GOD. And Mary said:

Lk. 1:46-56

"My soul glorifies the Lord and my spirit rejoices in God my Savior, for he has been mindful of the humble state of his servant.
From now on all generations will call me blessed, for the Mighty One has done great things for me—
holy is his name.
His mercy extends to those who fear him,
from generation to generation.

³Or So the child to be born will be called holy.

He has performed mighty deeds with his arm;
 he has scattered those who are proud in their inmost thoughts.
 He has brought down rulers from their thrones
 but has lifted up the humble.
 He has filled the hungry with good things but has sent the rich away empty.
 He has helped his servant Israel, remembering to be merciful to Abraham and his descendants forever, even as he said to our fathers."

Mary stayed with Elizabeth for about three months and then returned home.

Lk. 1:57-66 JOHN THE BAPTIST IS BORN. When it was time for Elizabeth to have her baby, she gave birth to a son. Her neighbors and relatives heard that the Lord had shown her great mercy, and they shared her joy.

On the eighth day they came to circumcise the child, and they were going to name him after his father Zechariah, but his mother spoke up and said, "No! He is to be called John."

They said to her, "There is no one among your relatives who has that name."

Then they made signs to his father, to find out what he would like to name the child. He asked for a writing tablet, and to everyone's astonishment he wrote, "His name is John." Immediately his mouth was opened and his tongue was loosed, and he began to speak, praising God. The neighbors were all filled with awe, and throughout the hill country of Judea people were talking about all these things. Everyone who heard this wondered about it, asking, "What then is this child going to be?" For the Lord's hand was with him.

Lk. 1:67-80 ZECHARIAH PROPHECIES. His father Zechariah was filled with the Holy Spirit and prophesied:

"Praise be to the Lord, the God of Israel,
 because he has come and has redeemed his people.
 He has raised up a horn" of salvation for us in the house of his servant David (as he said through his holy prophets of long ago), salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us—to show mercy to our fathers and to remember his holy covenant,
 the oath he swore to our father Abraham:
 to rescue us from the hand of our enemies,
 and to enable us to serve him without fear in holiness and righteousness before him all our days.

And you, my child, will be called a prophet of the Most High;

"Horn" here symbolizes strength.

for you will go on before the Lord to prepare the way for him, to give his people the knowledge of salvation through the forgiveness of their sins, because of the tender mercy of our God,
by which the rising sun will come to us from heaven to shine on those living in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the path of peace."

And the child grew and became strong in spirit; and he lived in the desert until he appeared publicly to Israel.

JOSEPH TOLD OF CONCEPTION. This is how the birth of Jesus Christ came about: His mother Mary was pledged to be married to Joseph, but before they came together, she was found to be with child through the Holy Spirit. Because Joseph her husband was a righteous man and did not want to expose her to public disgrace, he had in mind to divorce her quietly.

Mt.
1:18-25a

But after he had considered this, an angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, "Joseph son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary home as your wife, because what is conceived in her is from the Holy Spirit. She will give birth to a son, and you are to give him the name Jesus,^o because he will save his people from their sins."

All this took place to fulfill what the Lord had said through the prophet: "The virgin will be with child and will give birth to a son, and they will call him Immanuel"^p—which means, "God with us."

When Joseph woke up, he did what the angel of the Lord had commanded him and took Mary home as his wife. But he had no union with her until she gave birth to a son.

JESUS THE CHRIST IS BORN. In those days Caesar Augustus issued a decree that a census should be taken of the entire Roman world. (This was the first census that took place while Quirinius was governor of Syria.) And everyone went to his own town to register.

Lk. 2:1-7
Bethlehem
(Ca. 5-3
B.C.)

So Joseph also went up from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to Bethlehem the town of David, because he belonged to the house and line of David. He went there to register with Mary, who was pledged to be married to him and was expecting a child. While they were there, the time came for the baby to be born, and she gave birth to her firstborn, a son. She wrapped him in cloths and placed him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

ANGELS PROCLAIM BIRTH. And there were shepherds living out in the fields nearby, keeping watch over their flocks at night. An angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were terrified. But the angel said to them, "Do not be afraid. I bring you good news of great joy that will be for all the people. Today in the town of David a Savior has been born to you; he is Christ^q the Lord. This will be a sign to you: You will find a baby wrapped in cloths and lying in a manger."

Lk. 2:8-14

^oJesus is the Greek form of Joshua, which means the Lord saves. ^pIsaiah 7:14 ^qOr Messiah. "The Christ" (Greek) and "the Messiah" (Hebrew) both mean "the Anointed One"

Suddenly a great company of the heavenly host appeared with the angel, praising God and saying, “Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to men on whom his favor rests.”

Lk. 2:15-20 SHEPHERDS VISIT BABY. When the angels had left them and gone into heaven, the shepherds said to one another, “Let’s go to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has told us about.”

So they hurried off and found Mary and Joseph, and the baby, who was lying in the manger. When they had seen him, they spread the word concerning what had been told them about this child, and all who heard it were amazed at what the shepherds said to them. But Mary treasured up all these things and pondered them in her heart. The shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things they had heard and seen, which were just as they had been told.

Mt. 1:25b
Lk. 2:21 JESUS CIRCUMCISED AND NAMED. On the eighth day, when it was time to circumcise him, he was named Jesus, the name the angel had given him before he had been conceived.

Lk. 2:22-24
Jerusalem JESUS PRESENTED IN TEMPLE. When the time of their purification according to the Law of Moses had been completed, Joseph and Mary took him to Jerusalem to present him to the Lord (as it is written in the Law of the Lord, “Every firstborn male is to be consecrated to the Lord”), and to offer a sacrifice in keeping with what is said in the Law of the Lord: “a pair of doves or two young pigeons.”^s

Lk. 2:25-35 SIMEON EXPRESSES HIS JOY. Now there was a man in Jerusalem called Simeon, who was righteous and devout. He was waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Spirit was upon him. It had been revealed to him by the Holy Spirit that he would not die before he had seen the Lord’s Christ. Moved by the Spirit, he went into the temple courts. When the parents brought in the child Jesus to do for him what the custom of the Law required, Simeon took him in his arms and praised God, saying:

“Sovereign Lord, as you have promised,
you now dismiss^t your servant in peace.
For my eyes have seen your salvation, which you have prepared in the sight of all people,
a light for revelation to the Gentiles and for glory to your people Israel.”

The child’s father and mother marveled at what was said about him. Then Simeon blessed them and said to Mary, his mother: “This child is destined to cause the falling and rising of many in Israel, and to be a sign that will be spoken against, so that the thoughts of many hearts will be revealed. And a sword will pierce your own soul too.”

Lk. 2:36-38 ANNA THE PROPHETESS. There was also a prophetess, Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Asher. She was very old; she had lived with her husband seven years after her marriage, and then was a widow until she was eighty-four.^u She never left the temple but worshiped night and day, fasting and praying. Coming up to them at that very moment, she gave thanks to God and spoke about the child to all who were looking forward to the redemption of Jerusalem. ☞

Visit of the Magi and Flight into Egypt

The rite of purification takes place 40 days after Jesus' birth and ordinarily would have required the offering of a yearling lamb and a pigeon. However, the law permits poor parents, such as Joseph and Mary are, to offer a second pigeon or dove instead of the lamb, which they cannot afford. Thus, even by his parents' offering of purification, it can be seen that Jesus comes humbly into the world.

Despite these lowly beginnings, news of Jesus' birth spreads quickly throughout Judea and even beyond its borders. Matthew records the account of a visit to Bethlehem by certain philosopher-priests who, interestingly enough, may even be pagan Zoroastrians from Persia. Their presumed contact with Jews of the Dispersion has undoubtedly made them familiar with the Jewish Messiah of prophecy. The Magi are prompted to travel the great distance to Jerusalem because of a star which appeared at the time of Jesus' birth. It is not known how many make the long journey (certainly no compelling evidence exists for the traditional three), but they apparently arrive some six months after Jesus' birth and inquire as to the child's whereabouts. By this time Joseph and Mary have found accommodations in a house, and it is in this house that the Magi's gifts are offered to the newborn "King of the Jews."

King Herod is alarmed by the Magi's visit because he believes Jesus' birth poses a political threat to his reign. Because of this, Herod sends his soldiers to Bethlehem to kill all male children who might have been born within the time-frame suggested by the Magi's calculations. By Jewish reckoning, any child over 12 months is considered two years old. Since apparently six months have passed following Jesus' birth, Herod makes his order broad enough to prevent any mistake by including all of the estimated 40 to 50 baby boys in Bethlehem who would be up to 12 or 13 months old at this time.

As will be seen, however, Joseph will be warned about the slaughter and will quickly depart for Egypt, where he and Mary and the child Jesus will stay until after Herod's own death.

WISE MEN SEEK JESUS. After Jesus was born in Bethlehem in Judea, during the time of King Herod, Magi^v from the east came to Jerusalem and asked, "Where is the one who has been born king of the Jews? We saw his star in the east^w and have come to worship him."

Mt. 2:1-8
Jerusalem
(Ca. 4-2
B.C.)

When King Herod heard this he was disturbed, and all Jerusalem with him. When he had called together all the people's chief priests and teachers of the law, he asked them where the Christ^x was to be born. "In Bethlehem in Judea," they replied, "for this is what the prophet has written:

"But you, Bethlehem, in the land of Judah, are by no means least among the rulers of Judah;
for out of you will come a ruler who will be the shepherd of my people Israel.'^y"

Then Herod called the Magi secretly and found out from them the exact time the star had appeared. He sent them to Bethlehem and said, "Go and make a careful search for the child. As soon as you find him, report to me, so that I too may go and worship him."

Mt. 2:9-12
Bethlehem WISE MEN VISIT JESUS. After they had heard the king, they went on their way, and the star they had seen in the east^z went ahead of them until it stopped over the place where the child was. When they saw the star, they were overjoyed. On coming to the house, they saw the child with his mother Mary, and they bowed down and worshiped him. Then they opened their treasures and presented him with gifts of gold and of incense and of myrrh. And having been warned in a dream not to go back to Herod, they returned to their country by another route.

Mt. 2:13-15
Egypt FLIGHT TO EGYPT. When they had gone, an angel of the Lord appeared to Joseph in a dream. "Get up," he said, "take the child and his mother and escape to Egypt. Stay there until I tell you, for Herod is going to search for the child to kill him."

So he got up, took the child and his mother during the night and left for Egypt, where he stayed until the death of Herod. And so was fulfilled what the Lord had said through the prophet: "Out of Egypt I called my son."^a

Mt. 2:16-18 HEROD ORDERS SLAUGHTER. When Herod realized that he had been outwitted by the Magi, he was furious, and he gave orders to kill all the boys in Bethlehem and its vicinity who were two years old and under, in accordance with the time he had learned from the Magi. Then what was said through the prophet Jeremiah was fulfilled:

"A voice is heard in Ramah,
weeping and great mourning,
Rachel weeping for her children
and refusing to be comforted, because they are no more."^b

From Infancy to Manhood

After their brief stay in Egypt, Joseph and Mary return to their home in Nazareth of Galilee, where Joseph resumes his trade as a carpenter. Over the next ten years Jesus continues to grow physically, mentally, and spiritually. There is no further record of Jesus until, at the age of 12, he is taken to Jerusalem for the Passover celebration. At age 12, Jesus has reached the point at which a Jewish boy is soon to become a "son of the law," which law he is expected to learn and obey. But Jesus' understanding of the law is far greater than that of other boys his age. After the Passover celebration is completed, Jesus' parents lose track of his whereabouts until they discover him in profound conversation with the learned rabbis. When his parents express their concern about his leaving them, Jesus gives a response which indicates that, even now, he is aware of his divine sonship and role as the Messiah.

RETURN TO NAZARETH. ^{Mt} After Herod died, an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt and said, "Get up, take the child and his mother and go to the land of Israel, for those who were trying to take the child's life are dead."

Mt. 2:19-23
Lk. 2:39,40
Nazareth

So he got up, took the child and his mother and went to the land of Israel. But when he heard that Archelaus was reigning in Judea in place of his father Herod, he was afraid to go there. Having been warned in a dream, he withdrew to the district of Galilee, and he went and lived in a town called Nazareth. So was fulfilled what was said through the prophets: "He will be called a Nazarene." ^{Lk} And the child grew and became strong; he was filled with wisdom, and the grace of God was upon him.

JESUS VISITS JERUSALEM. Every year his parents went to Jerusalem for the Feast of the Passover. When he was twelve years old, they went up to the Feast, according to the custom. After the Feast was over, while his parents were returning home, the boy Jesus stayed behind in Jerusalem, but they were unaware of it. Thinking he was in their company, they traveled on for a day. Then they began looking for him among their relatives and friends. When they did not find him, they went back to Jerusalem to look for him. After three days they found him in the temple courts, sitting among the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions. Everyone who heard him was amazed at his understanding and his answers. When his parents saw him, they were astonished. His mother said to him, "Son, why have you treated us like this? Your father and I have been anxiously searching for you."

Lk. 2:41-50
Jerusalem

"Why were you searching for me?" he asked. "Didn't you know I had to be in my Father's house?" But they did not understand what he was saying to them.

GROWING UP IN NAZARETH. Then he went down to Nazareth with them and was obedient to them. But his mother treasured all these things in her heart. And Jesus grew in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men.

Lk. 2:51,52
Nazareth

Little more is known of Jesus' first 30 years. It is known that Jesus has at least four brothers—James, Joses, Judas (Jude), and Simon—and also some sisters, who are not named. Because there is no further reference to Joseph, it appears that he probably died while Jesus was still a relatively young man. The support of his mother and younger brothers and sisters, therefore, would naturally fall upon Jesus as the firstborn. For many years, then, Jesus evidently has provided for his family by working as a carpenter, having learned the trade from his father.

Now at about the age of 30—the Jewish age of spiritual leadership—Jesus turns from the work of supporting his earthly family to the task of spiritually feeding the whole family of man. ☐

The Ministry of John the Baptist

When it comes time for Jesus to carry out his divine commission, the ground has already been broken by the successful ministry of John the Baptist, who proclaims Jesus to be "the Lamb of God." John thereby sets the stage for Jesus' own claim that he is the Messiah. As seen so many times before, the Jews have been awaiting the coming of the prophesied Messiah, believing that he will deliver them from political bondage and be an ideal national leader. What they have not expected is a leader arising from among the common people—yet divine in nature—and establishing a spiritual rather than a political kingdom. Perhaps because of this very misconception, John the Baptist is called to prepare the way for Jesus and to testify on his behalf. It is with this announcement of Jesus' special ministry that the gospel message begins its central focus, as seen by the fact that only at this point do Mark and John begin their Gospel accounts.

Jesus' forerunner, John, is a prophet of priestly descent, as were several of the prophets of old. Like Elijah, John is not a writer, but an evangelist and a spokesman for God whose outspoken preaching of repentance and baptism brings him multitudes of disciples. Some of these disciples will be so devoted to John and his teaching that they will not accept even the deity of Jesus, which John is sent to proclaim. As with most of his fellow prophets, John's teaching of spiritual purity is accompanied by strong appeals for practical ethical conduct toward one's fellowman.

Living much of his time in desert areas and existing on a diet of locusts and honey, John strikes an image of being some kind of ascetic wild man. However, his lifestyle is probably dictated more out of necessity than eccentricity, and is by no means offensive to the throngs who come from the cities to hear him. The more intriguing question is why sophisticated city people would go out of their way to be taught by a rough man of the wilderness whose preaching is unusually harsh and demanding. Could it be, ironically, that John's appeal lies in the very strictness of his message, which is in sharp contrast to the soft religiosity peddled by religious leaders seeking popular support? Could it be that John's call for personal purity and individual righteousness is seen as a refreshing change from the ritualistic and institutional religion which has developed over the centuries? Whatever his appeal, John's ministry is given the highest possible honor when even Jesus himself comes to receive John's baptism. Although it is not for sins that Jesus is baptized, his exemplary act of ceremonial washing gives occasion for a dramatic confirmation of his deity.

JOHN DECLARES HIS MISSION. In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar—when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, Herod tetrarch of Galilee, his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea and Traconitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene—during the high priesthood of Annas and Caiaphas, the word of God came to John son of Zechariah in the desert. He went into all the country around the Jordan, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. As is written in the book of the words of Isaiah the prophet:

“A voice of one calling in the desert, ‘Prepare the way for the Lord,
 make straight paths for him.
 Every valley shall be filled in,
 every mountain and hill made low.
 The crooked roads shall become straight,
 the rough ways smooth.
 And all mankind will see God’s salvation.’”^c

JOHN BAPTIZES THE PEOPLE. John’s clothes were made of camel’s hair, and he had a leather belt around his waist. His food was locusts and wild honey. People went out to him from Jerusalem and all Judea and the whole region of the Jordan. Confessing their sins, they were baptized by him in the Jordan River.

Mt. 3:4-6
 Mk. 1:5,6

JOHN PREACHES REPENTANCE. John said to the crowds coming out to be baptized by him, “You brood of vipers! Who warned you to flee from the coming wrath? Produce fruit in keeping with repentance. And do not begin to say to yourselves, ‘We have Abraham as our father.’ For I tell you that out of these stones God can raise up children for Abraham. The ax is already at the root of the trees, and every tree that does not produce good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire.”

Mt. 3:7-10
 Lk. 3:7-14

“What should we do then?” the crowd asked.

John answered, “The man with two tunics should share with him who has none, and the one who has food should do the same.”

Tax collectors also came to be baptized. “Teacher,” they asked, “what should we do?”

“Don’t collect any more than you are required to,” he told them.

Then some soldiers asked him, “And what should we do?”

He replied, “Don’t extort money and don’t accuse people falsely—be content with your pay.”

JOHN ANNOUNCES CHRIST. The people were waiting expectantly and were all wondering in their hearts if John might possibly be the Christ.^d John answered them all, “I baptize you with^e water. But one more powerful than I will come, the thongs of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie. He will baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. His winnowing fork is in his hand to clear his threshing floor and to gather the wheat into his barn, but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.” And with many other words John exhorted the people and preached the good news to them.

Mt. 3:11,12
 Mk. 1:7,8
 Lk. 3:15-18

JESUS IS BAPTIZED. ^{Mt} Then Jesus came from Galilee to the Jordan to be baptized by John. But John tried to deter him, saying, “I need to be baptized by you, and do you come to me?”

Jesus replied, “Let it be so now; it is proper for us to do this to fulfill all righteousness.” Then John consented.

As soon as Jesus was baptized, he went up out of the water. At that moment heaven was opened, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and lighting on him. And a voice from heaven said, “This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased.” ^{Lk} Now Jesus himself was about thirty years old when he began his ministry.

Jesus Faces Temptations

One of the big, as-yet-unanswered questions about Jesus' identity is whether he, as God in the flesh, is vulnerable to the same temptations which all other people face. Although not every temptation which Jesus may encounter will be found in the Gospel accounts, the writers do record a series of temptations which are representative of most of the temptations faced by man. In various encounters with Satan, Jesus must deal with the need to satisfy fleshly appetites, the urge to acquire that which pleases the eye, and the desire to give vent to pride.

This is no academic exercise. As he does with everyone else, Satan confronts Jesus when he is most vulnerable. Jesus has just had a mountaintop spiritual experience: he has been honored by the voice from heaven. How tempting it would be to flaunt his deity in some dramatic way! He is just beginning his mission to a world looking desperately for a leader. How tempting it would be to acquire the whole world's allegiance in one fell swoop! And at the time of the first temptation, Jesus is physically weakened from a 40-day fast. How tempting it would be to produce that which would satisfy normal human hunger!

In every case Jesus' response to temptation is the same. Alone in the desert of temptation, Jesus—divine though he is—recognizes the value of prayer and fasting, and with every temptation he recalls the words of Scripture, which are a reminder of truth and wisdom in the face of Satan's lies.

DEVIL TEMPTS JESUS. Then Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert to be tempted by the devil. After fasting forty days and forty nights, he was hungry. The tempter came to him and said, "If you are the Son of God, tell these stones to become bread."^f

Jesus answered, "It is written: 'Man does not live on bread alone, but on every word that comes from the mouth of God.'^f "

Then the devil took him to the holy city and had him stand on the highest point of the temple. "If you are the Son of God," he said, "throw yourself down. For it is written:

" 'He will command his angels concerning you,
and they will lift you up in their hands,
so that you will not strike your foot against a stone.'^g "

Jesus answered him, "It is also written: 'Do not put the Lord your God to the test.'^h "

Again, the devil took him to a very high mountain and showed him all the kingdoms of the world and their splendor. "All this I will give you," he said, "if you will bow down and worship me."

Jesus said to him, "Away from me, Satan! For it is written: 'Worship the Lord your God, and serve him only.'ⁱ "

Then the devil left him, and angels came and attended him.

Throughout his life Jesus will continue to resist all temptation and remain sinless. It is his perfect righteousness—beyond the righteousness of even such great prophets as Elijah and now John the Baptist—that shows Jesus to be the Messiah. By virtue of the heavenly annunciation which he witnesses, John is convinced that Jesus is not only incomparably righteous, but also truly God's Anointed One, the Christ. John therefore repudiates any possibility of himself being viewed as the Messiah, and forcefully proclaims Jesus as the messianic Lamb of God.

JOHN EXPLAINS HIS MINISTRY. Now this was John's testimony when the Jews of Jerusalem sent priests and Levites to ask him who he was. He did not fail to confess, but confessed freely, "I am not the Christ."ⁱ

Jn. 1:19-28
Bethany

They asked him, "Then who are you? Are you Elijah?"

He said, "I am not."

"Are you the Prophet?"

He answered, "No."

Finally they said, "Who are you? Give us an answer to take back to those who sent us. What do you say about yourself?"

John replied in the words of Isaiah the prophet, "I am the voice of one calling in the desert, 'Make straight the way for the Lord.'"^k

Now some Pharisees who had been sent questioned him, "Why then do you baptize if you are not the Christ, nor Elijah, nor the Prophet?"

"I baptize with^l water," John replied, "but among you stands one you do not know. He is the one who comes after me, the thongs of whose sandals I am not worthy to untie."

This all happened at Bethany on the other side of the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

JOHN SAYS JESUS IS CHRIST. The next day John saw Jesus coming toward him and said, "Look, the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world! This is the one I meant when I said, 'A man who comes after me has surpassed me because he was before me.' I myself did not know him, but the reason I came baptizing with water was that he might be revealed to Israel."

Jn. 1:29-34

Then John gave this testimony: "I saw the Spirit come down from heaven as a dove and remain on him. I would not have known him, except that the one who sent me to baptize with water told me, 'The man on whom you see the Spirit come down and remain is he who will baptize with the Holy Spirit.' I have seen and I testify that this is the Son of God."

Jesus' Early Work in Judea, Samaria, and Galilee

The early ministry of Jesus is reported solely by the apostle John. His account shows that Jesus' teaching quickly appeals to the common people and results in many faithful disciples. It is during this time that Jesus also performs his first miracles. And just as Nehemiah had done centuries before, Jesus wastes no time in confronting those who profane the sanctity of the temple worship. Jesus also makes it clear from the beginning

ⁱOr Messiah. "The Christ" (Greek) and "the Messiah" (Hebrew) both mean "the Anointed One" ^kIsaiah 40:3 ^lOr in that his message of salvation will extend beyond the Jewish nation to all people. As if to emphasize the universality of his spiritual kingdom, Jesus takes his ministry to the Samaritans. This people of mixed nationality and religion have been archenemies of the Jews ever since their ancestors were brought in from Assyria to repopulate northern Israel after the first Jews were taken into Assyrian captivity. So Jesus' outreach to Gentiles could not begin more pointedly.

The ministry of John the Baptist will come to an end when he is imprisoned by Herod Antipas, the second son of Herod the Great, who became tetrarch over the provinces of Galilee and Perea upon his father's death. The reason for John's imprisonment will subsequently appear, but for now the Gospel accounts resume with John the Baptist pointing his own disciples to the true Lamb of God.

Jn. 1:35-42 ANDREW AND SIMON PETER. The next day John was there again with two of his disciples. When he saw Jesus passing by, he said, "Look, the Lamb of God!"

When the two disciples heard him say this, they followed Jesus. Turning around, Jesus saw them following and asked, "What do you want?"

They said, "Rabbi" (which means Teacher), "where are you staying?" "Come," he replied, "and you will see."

So they went and saw where he was staying, and spent that day with him. It was about the tenth hour.

Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, was one of the two who heard what John had said and who had followed Jesus. The first thing Andrew did was to find his brother Simon and tell him, "We have found the Messiah" (that is, the Christ). And he brought him to Jesus.

Jesus looked at him and said, "You are Simon son of John. You will be called Cephas" (which, when translated, is Peter^m).

Jn. 1:43-51 PHILIP AND NATHANAEL. The next day Jesus decided to leave for Galilee. Finding Philip, he said to him, "Follow me."

Philip, like Andrew and Peter, was from the town of Bethsaida. Philip found Nathanael and told him, "We have found the one Moses wrote about in the Law, and about whom the prophets also wrote—Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph."

"Nazareth! Can anything good come from there?" Nathanael asked.

"Come and see," said Philip.

When Jesus saw Nathanael approaching, he said of him, "Here is a true Israelite, in whom there is nothing false."

"How do you know me?" Nathanael asked.

Jesus answered, "I saw you while you were still under the fig tree before Philip called you."

Then Nathanael declared, "Rabbi, you are the Son of God; you are the King of Israel."

Jesus said, "You believe" because I told you I saw you under the fig tree. You shall see greater things than that." He then added, "I tell you^o the truth, you^o shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending on the Son of Man."

^mBoth Cephas (Aramaic) and Peter (Greek) mean rock. ^oOr Do you believe . . . ?

JESUS TURNS WATER INTO WINE. On the third day a wedding took place at Cana in Galilee. Jesus' mother was there, and Jesus and his disciples had also been invited to the wedding. When the wine was gone, Jesus' mother said to him, "They have no more wine."

Jn. 2:1-12
Cana

"Dear woman, why do you involve me?" Jesus replied, "My time has not yet come."

His mother said to the servants, "Do whatever he tells you."

Nearby stood six stone water jars, the kind used by the Jews for ceremonial washing, each holding from twenty to thirty gallons.^p

Jesus said to the servants, "Fill the jars with water"; so they filled them to the brim.

Then he told them, "Now draw some out and take it to the master of the banquet."

They did so, and the master of the banquet tasted the water that had been turned into wine. He did not realize where it had come from, though the servants who had drawn the water knew. Then he called the bridegroom aside and said, "Everyone brings out the choice wine first and then the cheaper wine after the guests have had too much to drink; but you have saved the best till now."

This, the first of his miraculous signs, Jesus performed in Cana of Galilee. He thus revealed his glory, and his disciples put their faith in him.

After this he went down to Capernaum with his mother and brothers and his disciples. There they stayed for a few days.

MERCHANTS DRIVEN FROM TEMPLE. When it was almost time for the Jewish Passover, Jesus went up to Jerusalem. In the temple courts he found men selling cattle, sheep and doves, and others sitting at tables exchanging money. So he made a whip out of cords, and drove all from the temple area, both sheep and cattle; he scattered the coins of the money changers and overturned their tables. To those who sold doves he said, "Get these out of here! How dare you turn my Father's house into a market!"

His disciples remembered that it is written: "Zeal for your house will consume me."^q

Then the Jews demanded of him, "What miraculous sign can you show us to prove your authority to do all this?"

Jesus answered them, "Destroy this temple, and I will raise it again in three days."

The Jews replied, "It has taken forty-six years to build this temple, and you are going to raise it in three days?" But the temple he had spoken of was his body. After he was raised from the dead, his disciples recalled what he had said. Then they believed the Scripture and the words that Jesus had spoken.

Now while he was in Jerusalem at the Passover Feast, many people saw the miraculous signs he was doing and believed in his name.^r But Jesus would not entrust himself to them, for he knew all men. He did not need man's testimony about man, for he knew what was in a man.

JESUS TEACHES NICODEMUS. Now there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a member of the Jewish ruling council. He came to Jesus at night and said, "Rabbi, we know you are a teacher who has come from God. For no one could perform the miraculous signs you are doing if God were not with him."

In reply Jesus declared, "I tell you the truth, no one can see the kingdom of God unless he is born again.^s"

"How can a man be born when he is old?" Nicodemus asked. "Surely he cannot enter a second time into his mother's womb to be born!"

Jesus answered, "I tell you the truth, no one can enter the kingdom of God unless he is born of water and the Spirit. Flesh gives birth to flesh, but the Spirit^t gives birth to spirit. You should not be surprised at my saying, 'You^u must be born again.' The wind blows wherever it pleases. You hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with everyone born of the Spirit."

"How can this be?" Nicodemus asked.

"You are Israel's teacher," said Jesus, "and do you not understand these things? I tell you the truth, we speak of what we know, and we testify to what we have seen, but still you people do not accept our testimony. I have spoken to you of earthly things and you do not believe; how then will you believe if I speak of heavenly things? No one has ever gone into heaven except the one who came from heaven—the Son of Man.^v Just as Moses lifted up the snake in the desert, so the Son of Man must be lifted up, that everyone who believes in him may have eternal life.^w

"For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son,^x that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life. For God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him. Whoever believes in him is not condemned, but whoever does not believe stands condemned already because he has not believed in the name of God's one and only Son.^y This is the verdict: Light has come into the world, but men loved darkness instead of light because their deeds were evil. Everyone who does evil hates the light, and will not come into the light for fear that his deeds will be exposed. But whoever lives by the truth comes into the light, so that it may be seen plainly that what he has done has been done through God."^z

JESUS AND JOHN BAPTIZE. After this, Jesus and his disciples went out into the Judean countryside, where he spent some time with them, and baptized. Now John also was baptizing at Aenon near Salim, because there was plenty of water, and people were constantly coming to be baptized. (This was before John was put in prison.)

Jn. 3:25-36

JOHN TESTIFIES ABOUT JESUS. An argument developed between some of John's disciples and a certain Jew^a over the matter of ceremonial washing. They came to John and said to him, "Rabbi, that man who was with you on the other side of the Jordan—the one you testified about—well, he is baptizing, and everyone is going to him."

To this John replied, "A man can receive only what is given him from heaven. You yourselves can testify that I said, 'I am not the Christ^b but am sent ahead of him.' The bride belongs to the bridegroom. The friend who attends the bridegroom waits and listens for him, and is full of joy when he hears the bridegroom's voice. That joy is mine, and it is now complete. He must become greater; I must become less.

"The one who comes from above is above all; the one who is from the earth belongs to the earth, and speaks as one from the earth. The one who comes from heaven is above all. He testifies to what he has seen and heard, but no one accepts his testimony. The man who has accepted it has certified that God is truthful. For the one whom God has sent speaks the words of God, for God^c gives the Spirit without limit. The Father loves the Son and has placed everything in his hands. Whoever believes in the Son has eternal life, but whoever rejects the Son will not see life, for God's wrath remains on him."^d

JESUS LEAVES FOR GALILEE. The Pharisees heard that Jesus was gaining and baptizing more disciples than John, although in fact it was not Jesus who baptized, but his disciples. When the Lord learned of this, he left Judea and went back once more to Galilee.

Jn. 4:1-3

WOMAN AT THE WELL. Now he had to go through Samaria. So he came to a town in Samaria called Sychar, near the plot of ground Jacob had given to his son Joseph. Jacob's well was there, and Jesus, tired as he was from the journey, sat down by the well. It was about the sixth hour.

Jn. 4:4-26
Sychar

When a Samaritan woman came to draw water, Jesus said to her, "Will you give me a drink?" (His disciples had gone into the town to buy food.)

The Samaritan woman said to him, "You are a Jew and I am a Samaritan woman. How can you ask me for a drink?" (For Jews do not associate with Samaritans.^e)

Jesus answered her, "If you knew the gift of God and who it is that asks you for a drink, you would have asked him and he would have given you living water."

"Sir," the woman said, "you have nothing to draw with and the well is deep. Where can you get this living water? Are you greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well and drank from it himself, as did also his sons and his flocks and herds?"

Jesus answered, "Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again, but whoever drinks the water I give him will never thirst. Indeed, the water I give him will become in him a spring of water welling up to eternal life."

The woman said to him, "Sir, give me this water so that I won't get thirsty and have to keep coming here to draw water."

He told her, "Go, call your husband and come back."

"I have no husband," she replied.

Jesus said to her, "You are right when you say you have no husband. The fact is, you have had five husbands, and the man you now have is not your husband. What you have just said is quite true."

"Sir," the woman said, "I can see that you are a prophet. Our fathers worshiped on this mountain, but you Jews claim that the place where we must worship is in Jerusalem."

Jesus declared, "Believe me, woman, a time is coming when you will worship the Father neither on this mountain nor in Jerusalem. You Samaritans worship what you do not know; we worship what we do know, for salvation is from the Jews. Yet a time is coming and has now come when the true worshipers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for they are the kind of worshipers the Father seeks. God is spirit, and his worshipers must worship in spirit and in truth."

The woman said, "I know that Messiah" (called Christ) "is coming. When he comes, he will explain everything to us."

Then Jesus declared, "I who speak to you am he."

SPIRITUAL FOOD. Just then his disciples returned and were surprised to find him talking with a woman. But no one asked, "What do you want?" or "Why are you talking with her?"

Then, leaving her water jar, the woman went back to the town and said to the people, "Come, see a man who told me everything I ever did. Could this be the Christ?" They came out of the town and made their way toward him.

Meanwhile his disciples urged him, "Rabbi, eat something."

But he said to them, "I have food to eat that you know nothing about."

Then his disciples said to each other, "Could someone have brought him food?"

"My food," said Jesus, "is to do the will of him who sent me and to finish his work. Do you not say, 'Four months more and then the harvest'? I tell you, open your eyes and look at the fields! They are ripe for harvest. Even now the reaper draws his wages, even now he harvests the crop for eternal life, so that the sower and the reaper may be glad together. Thus the saying 'One sows and another reaps' is true. I sent you to reap what you have not worked for. Others have done the hard work, and you have reaped the benefits of their labor."

Jn. 4:39-42

MANY SAMARITANS CONVERTED. Many of the Samaritans from that town believed in him because of the woman's testimony, "He told me everything I ever did." So when the Samaritans came to him, they urged him to stay with them, and he stayed two days. And because of his words many more became believers.

They said to the woman, "We no longer believe just because of what you said; now we have heard for ourselves, and we know that this man really is the Savior of the world."

Jn. 4:43-45
Galilee

JESUS RETURNS TO GALILEE. After the two days he left for Galilee. (Now Jesus himself had pointed out that a prophet has no honor in his own country.) When he arrived in Galilee, the Galileans welcomed him. They had seen all that he had done in Jerusalem at the Passover Feast, for they also had been there.

Jn. 4:46-54

BOY IN CAPERNAUM HEALED. Once more he visited Cana in Galilee, where he had turned the water into wine. And there was a certain royal official whose son lay sick at Capernaum. When this man heard that Jesus had arrived in Galilee from Judea, he went to him and begged him to come and heal his son, who was close to death.

"Unless you people see miraculous signs and wonders," Jesus told him, "you will never believe."

The royal official said, "Sir, come down before my child dies."

Jesus replied, "You may go. Your son will live."

The man took Jesus at his word and departed. While he was still on the way, his servants met him with the news that his boy was living. When he inquired as to the time when his son got better, they said to him, "The fever left him yesterday at the seventh hour."

Then the father realized that this was the exact time at which Jesus had said to him, "Your son will live." So he and all his household believed.

This was the second miraculous sign that Jesus performed, having come from Judea to Galilee.

JOHN THE BAPTIST IMPRISONED. But when John rebuked Herod the tetrarch because of Herodias, his brother's wife, and all the other evil things he had done, Herod added this to them all: He locked John up in prison.

Lk. 3:19,20

Beginning of the Great Galilean Ministry _____

Apparently in order to emphasize the nature of his ministry, Jesus does not come as a religious leader in any traditional sense. He holds no official position, nor is he specially trained to be a priest or other cleric. Instead, he takes his ministry to the city streets and roads of Palestine, to homes and fields, and wherever else the common people might be found. He is particularly fond of attending the Jewish synagogues, where the common man is permitted to discuss the meaning of Jewish Scripture.

Rejected by those closest to him in Nazareth, Jesus takes his ministry elsewhere. Surprisingly, though, it is not to Jerusalem and surrounding Judea that Jesus goes, despite the fact that Jerusalem is the Holy City—capital of ancient Israel, site of the temple, and surely, as the Jews anticipate it, the seat of the coming Messiah's government. Contrary to their expectation, Jesus takes his ministry primarily to Galilee. Using the city of Capernaum as a base for his travels, Jesus teaches and performs miracles around the Sea of Galilee (Lake of Gennesaret) and throughout the entire province. It is here that Jesus gains popularity among the people and begins to see the crowds swell. Matthew begins his account of the Galilean ministry by observing that this phase of Jesus' ministry is a fulfillment of Isaiah's prophecy.

COMING OF KINGDOM PREACHED. ^{Mt} When Jesus heard that John had been put in prison, he returned to Galilee. Leaving Nazareth, he went and lived in Capernaum, which was by the lake in the area of Zebulun and Naphtali—to fulfill what was said through the prophet Isaiah:

Mt. 4:12-17
Mk.
1:14,15
Lk. 4:14,15
Capernaum

"Land of Zebulun and land of Naphtali,
the way to the sea, along the Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles—
the people living in darkness
have seen a great light;
on those living in the land of the shadow of death
a light has dawned."^s

From that time on Jesus began to preach, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is near." ^{Lk} [And] news about him spread through the whole countryside. He taught in their synagogues, and everyone praised him.

^sIsaiah 9:1,2

Lk. 4:16-30
Nazareth

JESUS REJECTED AT NAZARETH. He went to Nazareth, where he had been brought up, and on the Sabbath day he went into the synagogue, as was his custom. And he stood up to read. The scroll of the prophet Isaiah was handed to him. Unrolling it, he found the place where it is written:

“The Spirit of the Lord is on me, because he has anointed me
to preach good news to the poor.
He has sent me to proclaim freedom for the prisoners and recovery of sight for the blind, to release the oppressed,
to proclaim the year of the Lord’s favor.”^h

Then he rolled up the scroll, gave it back to the attendant and sat down. The eyes of everyone in the synagogue were fastened on him, and he began by saying to them, “Today this scripture is fulfilled in your hearing.”

All spoke well of him and were amazed at the gracious words that came from his lips. “Isn’t this Joseph’s son?” they asked.

Jesus said to them, “Surely you will quote this proverb to me: ‘Physician, heal yourself! Do here in your hometown what we have heard that you did in Capernaum.’”

“I tell you the truth,” he continued, “no prophet is accepted in his hometown. I assure you that there were many widows in Israel in Elijah’s time, when the sky was shut for three and a half years and there was a severe famine throughout the land. Yet Elijah was not sent to any of them, but to a widow in Zarephath in the region of Sidon. And there were many in Israel with leprosyⁱ in the time of Elisha the prophet, yet not one of them was cleansed—only Naaman the Syrian.”

All the people in the synagogue were furious when they heard this. They got up, drove him out of the town, and took him to the brow of the hill on which the town was built, in order to throw him down the cliff. But he walked right through the crowd and went on his way.

Lake of Gennesaret

GREAT CATCH OF FISH. One day as Jesus was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret,^j with the people crowding around him and listening to the word of God, he saw at the water’s edge two boats, left there by the fishermen, who were washing their nets. He got into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, and asked him to put out a little from shore. Then he sat down and taught the people from the boat.

When he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, “Put out into deep water, and let down^k the nets for a catch.”

Simon answered, “Master, we’ve worked hard all night and haven’t caught anything. But because you say so, I will let down the nets.”

When they had done so, they caught such a large number of fish that their nets began to break. So they signaled their partners in the other boat to come and help them, and they came and filled both boats so full that they began to sink.

When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at Jesus’ knees and said, “Go away from me, Lord; I am a sinful man!” For he and all his companions were astonished at the catch of fish they had taken, and so were James and John, the sons of Zebedee, Simon's partners.

SIMON, ANDREW, JAMES, AND JOHN.

^{Lk}Then Jesus said to Simon, "Don't be afraid; from now on you will catch men." ^{Mt}"Come, follow me," Jesus said, "and I will make you fishers of men." At once they left their nets and followed him.

Going on from there, he saw two other brothers, James son of Zebedee and his brother John. They were in a boat with their father Zebedee, preparing their nets. Jesus called them, and immediately they left the boat and their father and followed him.

JESUS TEACHES AT CAPERNAUM. They went to Capernaum, and when the Sabbath came, Jesus went into the synagogue and began to teach. The people were amazed at his teaching, because he taught them as one who had authority, not as the teachers of the law.

UNCLEAN SPIRIT HEALED. Just then a man in their synagogue who was possessed by an evil^l spirit cried out, "What do you want with us, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us? I know who you are—the Holy One of God!"

Mk.

Lk. 4:33-37

"Be quiet!" said Jesus sternly. "Come out of him!" The evil spirit shook the man violently and came out of him with a shriek.

The people were all so amazed that they asked each other, "What is this? A new teaching—and with authority! He even gives orders to evil spirits and they obey him." News about him spread quickly over the whole region of Galilee.

PETER'S MOTHER-IN-LAW HEALED. As soon as they left the synagogue, they went with James and John to the home of Simon and Andrew. Simon's mother-in-law was in bed with a fever, and they told Jesus about her. So he went to her, took her hand and helped her up. The fever left her and she began to wait on them.

OTHERS HEALED. That evening after sunset the people brought to Jesus all the sick and demon-possessed. The whole town gathered at the door, and Jesus healed many who had various diseases. He also drove out many demons, but he would not let the demons speak because they knew who he was.

JESUS GOES OUT TO PRAY. Very early in the morning, while it was still dark, Jesus got up, left the house and went off to a solitary place, where he prayed. Simon and his companions went to look for him, and when they found him, they exclaimed: "Everyone is looking for you!"

Mk.

Lk. 4:42,43

Jesus replied, "Let us go somewhere else—to the nearby villages—so I can preach there also. That is why I have come."

JESUS TRAVELS ABOUT. Jesus went throughout Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the good news of the kingdom, and healing every disease and sickness among the people. News about him spread all over Syria, and people brought to him all who were ill with various diseases, those suffering severe pain, the demon-possessed, those having seizures, and the paralyzed, and he healed them. Filled with compassion, Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man. "I am willing," he said. "Be clean!" Immediately the leprosy left him and he was cured.

Jesus sent him away at once with a strong warning: "See that you don't tell this to anyone. But go, show yourself to the priest and offer the sacrifices that Moses commanded for your cleansing, as a testimony to them." Instead he went out and began to talk freely, spreading the news. As a result, Jesus could no longer enter a town openly but stayed outside in lonely places. Yet the people still came to him from everywhere.

PARALYTIC HEALED. A few days later, when Jesus again entered Capernaum, the people heard that he had come home. So many gathered that there was no room left, not even outside the door, and he preached the word to them. Some men came, bringing to him a paralytic, carried by four of them. Since they could not get him to Jesus because of the crowd, they made an opening in the roof above Jesus and, after digging through it, lowered the mat the paralyzed man was lying on. When Jesus saw their faith, he said to the paralytic, "Son, your sins are forgiven."

SCRIBES QUESTION AUTHORITY. Now some teachers of the law were sitting there, thinking to themselves, "Why does this fellow talk like that? He's blaspheming! Who can forgive sins but God alone?"

Immediately Jesus knew in his spirit that this was what they were thinking in their hearts, and he said to them, "Why are you thinking these things? Which is easier: to say to the paralytic, 'Your sins are forgiven,' or to say, 'Get up, take your mat and walk'? But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority on earth to forgive sins . . ." He said to the paralytic, "I tell you, get up, take your mat and go home." He got up, took his mat and walked out in full view of them all. This amazed everyone and they praised God, saying, "We have never seen anything like this!"

The Rise of Opposition

This confrontation is but the first of many which will take place between Jesus and the religious leaders of his day. By indicating that he has the divine authority to forgive sins, Jesus naturally arouses immediate reaction from the Scribes and Pharisees. Since they correctly believe that only God can forgive sins, they reject the possibility that Jesus himself is divine and conclude instead that he is guilty of blasphemy.

In addition to the written law given through Moses, the Pharisees accept as equally binding the oral traditions of the rabbis, which traditions have evolved into a highly ritualistic set of religious observances. So when Jesus and his disciples violate some of these traditional rules, the Pharisees are highly offended. Through two parables Jesus tells them that their system of legalistic observances simply will not substitute for the true righteousness which God has always demanded.

¹The Greek word was used for various diseases affecting the skin—not necessarily leprosy.

John alone records what is apparently a brief trip to Jerusalem, where Jesus attends "a feast of the Jews." Although the exact feast is not indicated, there is strong evidence that it is the Passover of A.D. 28. (Some believe it was Pentecost or the Feast of Tabernacles.) While in Jerusalem, Jesus is once again criticized, this time for healing a man on the Sabbath, the day on which no work is to be done. If there was ever a perfect example of the fallacy of legalism, surely this is it. The incident also raises some fundamental questions: what is at stake—the law itself, or only interpretations of the law? Under what circumstances, if any, may the letter of the law be disregarded in favor of higher concerns consistent with the spirit of the law? Does Jesus consider the law given through Moses to be binding upon his disciples? These very legitimate questions are clearly on the minds of the religious establishment.

Despite growing opposition, Jesus continues to go about teaching and performing miracles, yet almost consciously without fanfare. As if to underscore the urgency of his mission in the face of opposition, Jesus appoints 12 of his disciples as specially chosen apostles to aid him in his ministry. With their added support, Jesus continues to attract even greater crowds from among the common people.

MATTHEW (LEVI) IS CALLED. Once again Jesus went out beside the lake. A large crowd came to him, and he began to teach them. As he walked along, he saw Levi son of Alphaeus sitting at the tax collector's booth. "Follow me," Jesus told him, and Levi got up and followed him.

EATING WITH SINNERS. ^{1k} Then Levi held a great banquet for Jesus at his house, and a large crowd of tax collectors and others were eating with them. But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law who belonged to their sect complained to his disciples, "Why do you eat and drink with tax collectors and 'sinners'?" ^{1m} On hearing this, Jesus said, "It is not the healthy who need a doctor, but the sick. But go and learn what this means: 'I desire mercy, not sacrifice.'^o For I have not come to call the righteous, but sinners."

DISCIPLES NOT FASTING. They said to him, "John's disciples often fast and pray, and so do the disciples of the Pharisees, but yours go on eating and drinking."

Mt. 9:14-17

Lk. 5:33-39

Jesus answered, "Can you make the guests of the bridegroom fast while he is with them? But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them; in those days they will fast."

He told them this parable: "No one tears a patch from a new garment and sews it on an old one. If he does, he will have torn the new garment, and the patch from the new will not match the old. And no one pours new wine into old wineskins. If he does, the new wine will burst the skins, the wine will run out and the wineskins will be ruined. No, new wine must be poured into new wineskins. And no one after drinking old wine wants the new, for he says, 'The old is better.'"

HEALING AT POOL OF BETHESDA. Some time later, Jesus went up to Jerusalem for a feast of the Jews. Now there is in Jerusalem near the Sheep Gate a pool, which in Aramaic is called Bethesda^p and which is sur-

Jerusalem rounded by five covered colonnades. Here a great number of disabled people used to lie—the blind, the lame, the paralyzed.⁹ One who was there had been an invalid for thirty-eight years. When Jesus saw him lying there and learned that he had been in this condition for a long time, he asked him, “Do you want to get well?”

“Sir,” the invalid replied, “I have no one to help me into the pool when the water is stirred. While I am trying to get in, someone else goes down ahead of me.”

Then Jesus said to him, “Get up! Pick up your mat and walk.” At once the man was cured; he picked up his mat and walked.

Jn. 5:9b-15 HEALED MAN QUESTIONED. The day on which this took place was a Sabbath, and so the Jews said to the man who had been healed, “It is the Sabbath; the law forbids you to carry your mat.”

But he replied, “The man who made me well said to me, ‘Pick up your mat and walk.’”

So they asked him, “Who is this fellow who told you to pick it up and walk?”

The man who was healed had no idea who it was, for Jesus had slipped away into the crowd that was there.

Later Jesus found him at the temple and said to him, “See, you are well again. Stop sinning or something worse may happen to you.” The man went away and told the Jews that it was Jesus who had made him well.

Jn. 5:16-29 RESURRECTION AND LIFE. So, because Jesus was doing these things on the Sabbath, the Jews persecuted him. Jesus said to them, “My Father is always at his work to this very day, and I, too, am working.” For this reason the Jews tried all the harder to kill him; not only was he breaking the Sabbath, but he was even calling God his own Father, making himself equal with God.

Jesus gave them this answer: “I tell you the truth, the Son can do nothing by himself; he can do only what he sees his Father doing, because whatever the Father does the Son also does. For the Father loves the Son and shows him all he does. Yes, to your amazement he will show him even greater things than these. For just as the Father raises the dead and gives them life, even so the Son gives life to whom he is pleased to give it. Moreover, the Father judges no one, but has entrusted all judgment to the Son, that all may honor the Son just as they honor the Father. He who does not honor the Son does not honor the Father, who sent him.

“I tell you the truth, whoever hears my word and believes him who sent me has eternal life and will not be condemned; he has crossed over from death to life. I tell you the truth, a time is coming and has now come when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God and those who hear will live. For as the Father has life in himself, so he has granted the Son to have life in himself. And he has given him authority to judge because he is the Son of Man.

“Do not be amazed at this, for a time is coming when all who are in their graves will hear his voice and come out—those who have done good will rise to live, and those who have done evil will rise to be condemned.

DISCUSSION OF AUTHORITY. By myself I can do nothing; I judge only as I hear, and my judgment is just, for I seek not to please myself but him who sent me.

Jn. 5:30-47

"If I testify about myself, my testimony is not valid. There is another who testifies in my favor, and I know that his testimony about me is valid.

"You have sent to John and he has testified to the truth. Not that I accept human testimony; but I mention it that you may be saved. John was a lamp that burned and gave light, and you chose for a time to enjoy his light.

"I have testimony weightier than that of John. For the very work that the Father has given me to finish, and which I am doing, testifies that the Father has sent me. And the Father who sent me has himself testified concerning me. You have never heard his voice nor seen his form, nor does his word dwell in you, for you do not believe the one he sent. You diligently study^r the Scriptures because you think that by them you possess eternal life. These are the Scriptures that testify about me, yet you refuse to come to me to have life.

"I do not accept praise from men, but I know you. I know that you do not have the love of God in your hearts. I have come in my Father's name, and you do not accept me; but if someone else comes in his own name, you will accept him. How can you believe if you accept praise from one another, yet make no effort to obtain the praise that comes from the only God^s ?

"But do not think I will accuse you before the Father. Your accuser is Moses, on whom your hopes are set. If you believed Moses, you would believe me, for he wrote about me. But since you do not believe what he wrote, how are you going to believe what I say?"

PLUCKING GRAIN ON SABBATH. ^{Mt} At that time Jesus went through the grainfields on the Sabbath. His disciples were hungry and began to pick some heads of grain and eat them. When the Pharisees saw this, they said to him, "Look! Your disciples are doing what is unlawful on the Sabbath."

He answered, "Haven't you read what David did when he and his companions were hungry? He entered the house of God, and he and his companions ate the consecrated bread—which was not lawful for them to do, but only for the priests. Or haven't you read in the Law that on the Sabbath the priests in the temple desecrate the day and yet are innocent? I tell you that one^t greater than the temple is here. If you had known what these words mean, 'I desire mercy, not sacrifice,'^u you would not have condemned the innocent. ^{Mk} Then he said to them, "The Sabbath was made for man, not man for the Sabbath. So the Son of Man is Lord even of the Sabbath."

HEALING ON SABBATH. ^{Lk} On another Sabbath he went into the synagogue and was teaching, and a man was there whose right hand was shriveled. The Pharisees and the teachers of the law were looking for a reason to accuse Jesus, so they watched him closely to see if he would heal on the Sabbath. ^{Mt} Looking for a reason to accuse Jesus, they asked him, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath?"

Sabbath, will you not take hold of it and lift it out? How much more valuable is a man than a sheep! Therefore it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath." ^{Mk} Jesus said to the man with the shriveled hand, "Stand up in front of everyone."

Then Jesus asked them, "Which is lawful on the Sabbath: to do good or to do evil, to save life or to kill?" But they remained silent.

He looked around at them in anger and, deeply distressed at their stubborn hearts, said to the man, "Stretch out your hand." He stretched it out, and his hand was completely restored. ^{Lk} But they were furious and began to discuss with one another what they might do to Jesus. ^{Mk} Then the Pharisees went out and began to plot with the Herodians how they might kill Jesus.

JESUS HEALS OTHERS. ^{Mk} Jesus withdrew with his disciples to the lake, and a large crowd from Galilee followed. When they heard all he was doing, many people came to him from Judea, Jerusalem, Idumea, and the regions across the Jordan and around Tyre and Sidon. Because of the crowd he told his disciples to have a small boat ready for him, to keep the people from crowding him. For he had healed many, so that those with diseases were pushing forward to touch him. Whenever the evil^v spirits saw him, they fell down before him and cried out, "You are the Son of God." But he gave them strict orders not to tell who he was. ^{Mt} This was to fulfill what was spoken through the prophet Isaiah:

"Here is my servant whom I have chosen,
the one I love, in whom I delight;
I will put my Spirit on him,
and he will proclaim justice to the nations.
He will not quarrel or cry out;
no one will hear his voice in the streets.
A bruised reed he will not break,
and a smoldering wick he will not snuff out,
till he leads justice to victory.
In his name the nations will put their hope."^w

JESUS APPOINTS 12 APOSTLES. One of those days Jesus went out to a mountainside to pray, and spent the night praying to God. When morning came, he called his disciples to him and chose twelve of them, whom he also designated apostles: Simon (whom he named Peter), his brother Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James son of Alphaeus, Simon who was called the Zealot, Judas son of James, and Judas Iscariot, who became a traitor.

GREAT CROWD GATHERS. He went down with them and stood on a level place. A large crowd of his disciples was there and a great number of people from all over Judea, from Jerusalem, and from the coast of Tyre and Sidon, who had come to hear him and to be healed of their diseases. Those troubled by evil^x spirits were cured, and the people all tried to touch him, because power was coming from him and healing them all.

The Sermon on the Mount

The "Sermon on the Mount" is perhaps the most familiar and instructive sermon ever presented by Jesus. Matthew and Luke may record Jesus' teaching in two different settings, although the content appears much the same. Just as many of Jesus' sermons are apparently never recorded, so too some of his sermons are probably repeated from place to place. In any event, this collection of Jesus' teachings brings one to the heart of his message concerning the kingdom of God.

Covering a broad spectrum of spiritual topics, Jesus speaks of the nature of the kingdom, of repentance, of faith, and of worship—and particularly of prayer and humility. Always demonstrating a concern for human welfare, Jesus deals specifically with family and social relationships and discusses at length the effect of possessions on one's faith and peace of mind. The discourse begins beautifully with the blessings in store for the righteous, and harshly with the woes which will befall those whose lives are spiritually rebellious.

BEATITUDES PROCLAIMED. Now when he saw the crowds, he went up on a mountainside and sat down. His disciples came to him, and he began to teach them, saying:

Mt. 5:1-12

"Blessed are the poor in spirit,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Blessed are those who mourn,
for they will be comforted.
Blessed are the meek,
for they will inherit the earth.
Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they will be filled.
Blessed are the merciful,
for they will be shown mercy.
Blessed are the pure in heart,
for they will see God.
Blessed are the peacemakers,
for they will be called sons of God.
Blessed are those who are persecuted because of righteousness,
for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

"Blessed are you when people insult you, persecute you and falsely say all kinds of evil against you because of me. Rejoice and be glad, because great is your reward in heaven, for in the same way they persecuted the prophets who were before you.

WOES PRONOUNCED.

Lk. 6:24-26

"But woe to you who are rich,
for you have already received your comfort.
Woe to you who are well fed now,
for you will go hungry.
Woe to you who laugh now,
for you will mourn and weep.

Woe to you when all men speak well of you,
for that is how their fathers treated the false prophets.

Mt. 5:13-16 NATURE OF BELIEVERS. "You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt loses its saltiness, how can it be made salty again? It is no longer good for anything, except to be thrown out and trampled by men.

"You are the light of the world. A city on a hill cannot be hidden. Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before men, that they may see your good deeds and praise your Father in heaven.

Mt. 5:17-20 LAW AND GOSPEL. "Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them. I tell you the truth, until heaven and earth disappear, not the smallest letter, not the least stroke of a pen, will by any means disappear from the Law until everything is accomplished. Anyone who breaks one of the least of these commandments and teaches others to do the same will be called least in the kingdom of heaven, but whoever practices and teaches these commands will be called great in the kingdom of heaven. For I tell you that unless your righteousness surpasses that of the Pharisees and the teachers of the law, you will certainly not enter the kingdom of heaven.

Mt. 5:21-26 THE SIXTH COMMANDMENT. "You have heard that it was said to the people long ago, 'Do not murder,^y and anyone who murders will be subject to judgment.' But I tell you that anyone who is angry with his brother^z will be subject to judgment. Again, anyone who says to his brother, 'Raca,^a' is answerable to the Sanhedrin. But anyone who says, 'You fool!' will be in danger of the fire of hell.

"Therefore, if you are offering your gift at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your gift there in front of the altar. First go and be reconciled to your brother; then come and offer your gift.

"Settle matters quickly with your adversary who is taking you to court. Do it while you are still with him on the way, or he may hand you over to the judge, and the judge may hand you over to the officer, and you may be thrown into prison. I tell you the truth, you will not get out until you have paid the last penny.^b

Mt. 5:27-30 THE SEVENTH COMMANDMENT. "You have heard that it was said, 'Do not commit adultery.'^c But I tell you that anyone who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart. If your right eye causes you to sin, gouge it out and throw it away. It is better for you to lose one part of your body than for your whole body to be thrown into hell. And if your right hand causes you to sin, cut it off and throw it away. It is better for you to lose one part of your body than for your whole body to go into hell.

Mt. 5:31,32 MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE. "It has been said, 'Anyone who divorces his wife must give her a certificate of divorce.'^d But I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife, except for marital unfaithfulness, causes her to become an adulteress, and anyone who marries the divorced woman commits adultery.

HONESTY WITHOUT OATHS. ^{Mt}“Again, you have heard that it was said to the people long ago, ‘Do not break your oath, but keep the oaths you have made to the Lord.’ But I tell you, Do not swear at all: either by heaven, for it is God’s throne; or by the earth, for it is his footstool; or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the Great King. And do not swear by your head, for you cannot make even one hair white or black. Simply let your ‘Yes’ be ‘Yes,’ and your ‘No,’ ‘No’; anything beyond this comes from the evil one. Mt. 5:33-37

REGARDING RETALIATION. ^{Mt}“You have heard that it was said, ‘Eye for eye, and tooth for tooth.’^c But I tell you, Do not resist an evil person. If someone strikes you on the right cheek, turn to him the other also. And if someone wants to sue you and take your tunic, let him have your cloak as well. If someone forces you to go one mile, go with him two miles. Give to the one who asks you, and do not turn away from the one who wants to borrow from you. ^{Lk}Do to others as you would have them do to you. Mt. 5:38-42

LOVE FOR ENEMIES. ^{Mt}“You have heard that it was said, ‘Love your neighbor^f and hate your enemy.’ But I tell you: Love your enemies^g and pray for those who persecute you, that you may be sons of your Father in heaven. He causes his sun to rise on the evil and the good, and sends rain on the righteous and the unrighteous. If you love those who love you, what reward will you get? Are not even the tax collectors doing that? And if you greet only your brothers, what are you doing more than others? Do not even pagans do that? ^{Lk}And if you lend to those from whom you expect repayment, what credit is that to you? Even ‘sinners’ lend to ‘sinners,’ expecting to be repaid in full. But love your enemies, do good to them, and lend to them without expecting to get anything back. Then your reward will be great, and you will be sons of the Most High, because he is kind to the ungrateful and wicked. Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful. Mt. 5:43-48
Lk. 6:32-36

ON GIVING. “Be careful not to do your ‘acts of righteousness’ before men, to be seen by them. If you do, you will have no reward from your Father in heaven. Mt. 6:1-4

“So when you give to the needy, do not announce it with trumpets, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and on the streets, to be honored by men. I tell you the truth, they have received their reward in full. But when you give to the needy, do not let your left hand know what your right hand is doing, so that your giving may be in secret. Then your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you.

ON PRAYING. “And when you pray, do not be like the hypocrites, for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and on the street corners to be seen by men. I tell you the truth, they have received their reward in full. But when you pray, go into your room, close the door and pray to your Father, who is unseen. Then your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you. And when you pray, do not keep on babbling like pagans, for they think they will be heard because of their many words. Mt. 6:5-15

Do not be like them, for your Father knows what you need before you ask him.

“This, then, is how you should pray:

“ ‘Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name,
your kingdom come,
your will be done
on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us today our daily bread.
Forgive us our debts,
as we also have forgiven our debtors.
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from the evil one.’^h”

For if you forgive men when they sin against you, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. But if you do not forgive men their sins, your Father will not forgive your sins.

Mt. 6:16-18 ON FASTING. “When you fast, do not look somber as the hypocrites do, for they disfigure their faces to show men they are fasting. I tell you the truth, they have received their reward in full. But when you fast, put oil on your head and wash your face, so that it will not be obvious to men that you are fasting, but only to your Father, who is unseen; and your Father, who sees what is done in secret, will reward you.

Mt. 6:19-21 SPIRITUAL TREASURES. “Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and rust destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moth and rust do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

Mt. 6:22,23 VALUE OF SPIRITUAL INSIGHT. “The eye is the lamp of the body. If your eyes are good, your whole body will be full of light. But if your eyes are bad, your whole body will be full of darkness. If then the light within you is darkness, how great is that darkness!

Mt. 6:24 NEED FOR UNDIVIDED LOYALTY. “No one can serve two masters. Either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and Money.

Mt. 6:25-34 AVOIDING ANXIETY. “Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat or drink; or about your body, what you will wear. Is not life more important than food, and the body more important than clothes? Look at the birds of the air; they do not sow or reap or store away in barns, and yet your heavenly Father feeds them. Are you not much more valuable than they? Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his lifeⁱ ?

“And why do you worry about clothes? See how the lilies of the field grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you that not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, will he not much more clothe you, O you of little faith? So do not worry, saying, ‘What shall we eat?’ or ‘What shall we drink?’ or ‘What shall we wear?' For the pagans run after all these things, and your heavenly Father knows that you need them. But seek first his kingdom and his righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well. Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself. Each day has enough trouble of its own.

HYPOCRITICAL JUDGING. "Do not judge, and you will not be judged. Do not condemn, and you will not be condemned. Forgive, and you will be forgiven. Give, and it will be given to you. A good measure, pressed down, shaken together and running over, will be poured into your lap. For with the measure you use, it will be measured to you."

Mt. 7:1-5
Lk. 6:37-42

He also told them this parable: "Can a blind man lead a blind man? Will they not both fall into a pit? A student is not above his teacher, but everyone who is fully trained will be like his teacher.

"Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? How can you say to your brother, 'Brother, let me take the speck out of your eye,' when you yourself fail to see the plank in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye.

INAPPROPRIATE CONCERN. "Do not give dogs what is sacred; do not throw your pearls to pigs. If you do, they may trample them under their feet, and then turn and tear you to pieces.

Mt. 7:6

SEEKING GRACE. "Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. For everyone who asks receives; he who seeks finds; and to him who knocks, the door will be opened.

Mt. 7:7-12

"Which of you, if his son asks for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake? If you, then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good gifts to those who ask him! So in everything, do to others what you would have them do to you, for this sums up the Law and the Prophets.

UNPOPULAR DISCIPLESHIP. "Enter through the narrow gate. For wide is the gate and broad is the road that leads to destruction, and many enter through it. But small is the gate and narrow the road that leads to life, and only a few find it.

Mt. 7:13,14

TESTING RELIGIOUS LEADERS. ^{Mt} "Watch out for false prophets. They come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ferocious wolves. By their fruit you will recognize them. Do people pick grapes from thornbushes, or figs from thistles? Likewise every good tree bears good fruit, but a bad tree bears bad fruit. A good tree cannot bear bad fruit, and a bad tree cannot bear good fruit. Every tree that does not bear good fruit is cut down and thrown into the fire. Thus, by their fruit you will recognize them. ^{Lk} The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in his heart, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in his heart. For out of the overflow of his heart his mouth speaks. ^{Mt} "Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven. Many will say to me on that day, 'Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy in your name, and in your name drive out demons and perform many miracles?' Then

Mt. 7:15-23

 Mt. 7:24-27 FAITH AND DEEDS. ^{Lk} "Why do you call me, 'Lord, Lord,' and do not Lk. 6:46-49 do what I say? ^{Mt} "Therefore everyone who hears these words of mine and puts them into practice is like a wise man who built his house on the rock.
 The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house; yet it did not fall, because it had its foundation on the rock. But everyone who hears these words of mine and does not put them into practice is like a foolish man who built his house on sand. The rain came down, the streams rose, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell with a great crash."

Mt. 7:28,29 CROWD IS ASTONISHED. When Jesus had finished saying these things, the crowds were amazed at his teaching, because he taught as one who had authority, and not as their teachers of the law.

The Ministry Continues

Such perceptive and authoritative teaching has obviously won the attention of the multitudes, who have long been disillusioned by the empty ritualism and superficiality of their present religious system. As Jesus' fame continues to spread, John the Baptist sends a message to Jesus asking for final confirmation of his messiahship. John is perhaps sensing an impending death and undoubtedly wants to reassure himself that his own ministry has not been in vain. Jesus sends a message of reassurance and praises John for his courage and dedication as a servant of God.

No doubt by this time the religious leaders are also becoming increasingly aware of Jesus' extraordinary power. Instead of accepting it as divine, they accuse Jesus of having power from Satan. What follows is a scathing rebuke of the Pharisees for their disbelief and hypocrisy, and an urgent call for repentance. The events leading to this confrontation begin to unfold as Jesus makes his way from the mountain back to Capernaum.

Mt. 8:5-13 CENTURION'S SLAVE HEALED. ^{Lk} When Jesus had finished saying all
 Lk. 7:1-10 this in the hearing of the people, he entered Capernaum. There a centu-Capernaum rion's servant, whom his master valued highly, was sick and about to die.
 The centurion heard of Jesus and sent some elders of the Jews to him, asking him to come and heal his servant. When they came to Jesus, they pleaded earnestly with him, "This man deserves to have you do this, because he loves our nation and has built our synagogue." So Jesus went with them.

He was not far from the house when the centurion sent friends to say to him: "Lord, don't trouble yourself, for I do not deserve to have you come under my roof. That is why I did not even consider myself worthy to come to you. But say the word, and my servant will be healed. For I myself am a man under authority, with soldiers under me. I tell this one, 'Go,' and he goes; and that one, 'Come,' and he comes. I say to my servant, 'Do this,' and he does it."

When Jesus heard this, he was amazed at him, and turning to the crowd following him, he said, "I tell you, I have not found such great faith even in Israel." ^{Mt} I say to you that many will come from the east and the west, and will take their places at the feast with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven. But the subjects of the kingdom will be thrown outside, into the darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth."

Then Jesus said to the centurion, "Go! It will be done just as you believed it would." And his servant was healed at that very hour. ^{1k}Then the men who had been sent returned to the house and found the servant well.

WIDOW'S SON RAISED. Soon afterward, Jesus went to a town called Nain, and his disciples and a large crowd went along with him. As he approached the town gate, a dead person was being carried out—the only son of his mother, and she was a widow. And a large crowd from the town was with her. When the Lord saw her, his heart went out to her and he said, "Don't cry."

Lk. 7:11-17
Nain

Then he went up and touched the coffin, and those carrying it stood still. He said, "Young man, I say to you, get up!" The dead man sat up and began to talk, and Jesus gave him back to his mother.

They were all filled with awe and praised God. "A great prophet has appeared among us," they said. "God has come to help his people." This news about Jesus spread throughout Judea^l and the surrounding country.

JOHN THE BAPTIST QUESTIONS. John's disciples told him about all these things. Calling two of them, he sent them to the Lord to ask, "Are you the one who was to come, or should we expect someone else?"

Mt. 11:2-6
Lk. 7:18-23

When the men came to Jesus, they said, "John the Baptist sent us to you to ask, 'Are you the one who was to come, or should we expect someone else?'"

At that very time Jesus cured many who had diseases, sicknesses and evil spirits, and gave sight to many who were blind. So he replied to the messengers, "Go back and report to John what you have seen and heard: The blind receive sight, the lame walk, those who have leprosy^k are cured, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the good news is preached to the poor. Blessed is the man who does not fall away on account of me."

JESUS PRAISES JOHN. ^{1k}After John's messengers left, Jesus began to speak to the crowd about John: "What did you go out into the desert to see? A reed swayed by the wind? If not, what did you go out to see? A man dressed in fine clothes? No, those who wear expensive clothes and indulge in luxury are in palaces. But what did you go out to see? A prophet? Yes, I tell you, and more than a prophet. This is the one about whom it is written:

Mt. 11:7-15
Lk. 7:24-30

"I will send my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way before you."^l

I tell you, among those born of women there is no one greater than John; yet the one who is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he."

^{3k}From the days of John the Baptist until now, the kingdom of heaven has been forcefully advancing, and forceful men lay hold of it. For all the Prophets and the Law prophesied until John. And if you are willing to accept it, he is the Elijah who was to come. He who has ears, let him hear.

 ⚭(All the people, even the tax collectors, when they heard Jesus' words, acknowledged that God's way was right, because they had been baptized by John. But the Pharisees and experts in the law rejected God's purpose for themselves, because they had not been baptized by John.)

Mt.
 11:16-19
 Lk. 7:31-35

JESUS REPROVES REJECTION. "To what, then, can I compare the people of this generation? What are they like? They are like children sitting in the marketplace and calling out to each other:

" 'We played the flute for you,
 and you did not dance;
 we sang a dirge,
 and you did not cry.'

For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine, and you say, 'He has a demon.' The Son of Man came eating and drinking, and you say, 'Here is a glutton and a drunkard, a friend of tax collectors and "sinners." ' But wisdom is proved right by all her children."

Lk. 7:36-50

ANOINTING BY SINFUL WOMAN. Now one of the Pharisees invited Jesus to have dinner with him, so he went to the Pharisee's house and reclined at the table. When a woman who had lived a sinful life in that town learned that Jesus was eating at the Pharisee's house, she brought an alabaster jar of perfume, and as she stood behind him at his feet weeping, she began to wet his feet with her tears. Then she wiped them with her hair, kissed them and poured perfume on them.

When the Pharisee who had invited him saw this, he said to himself, "If this man were a prophet, he would know who is touching him and what kind of woman she is—that she is a sinner."

Jesus answered him, "Simon, I have something to tell you."

"Tell me, teacher," he said.

"Two men owed money to a certain moneylender. One owed him five hundred denarii,^m and the other fifty. Neither of them had the money to pay him back, so he canceled the debts of both. Now which of them will love him more?"

Simon replied, "I suppose the one who had the bigger debt canceled."

"You have judged correctly," Jesus said.

Then he turned toward the woman and said to Simon, "Do you see this woman? I came into your house. You did not give me any water for my feet, but she wet my feet with her tears and wiped them with her hair. You did not give me a kiss, but this woman, from the time I entered, has not stopped kissing my feet. You did not put oil on my head, but she has poured perfume on my feet. Therefore, I tell you, her many sins have been forgiven—for she loved much. But he who has been forgiven little loves little."

Then Jesus said to her, "Your sins are forgiven."

The other guests began to say among themselves, "Who is this who even forgives sins?"

Jesus said to the woman, "Your faith has saved you; go in peace."

^mA denarius was a coin worth about a day's wages.

WOMEN PROVIDE SUPPORT. After this, Jesus traveled about from one town and village to another, proclaiming the good news of the kingdom of God. The Twelve were with him, and also some women who had been cured of evil spirits and diseases: Mary (called Magdalene) from whom seven demons had come out; Joanna the wife of Cuza, the manager of Herod's household; Susanna; and many others. These women were helping to support them out of their own means.

JESUS ACCUSED. ^{Mk} Then Jesus entered a house, and again a crowd gathered, so that he and his disciples were not even able to eat. ^{Mt} Then they brought him a demon-possessed man who was blind and mute, and Jesus healed him, so that he could both talk and see. All the people were astonished and said, "Could this be the Son of David?"

But when the Pharisees heard this, they said, "It is only by Beelzebub, the prince of demons, that this fellow drives out demons."

Jesus knew their thoughts and said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself will be ruined, and every city or household divided against itself will not stand. If Satan drives out Satan, he is divided against himself. How then can his kingdom stand? And if I drive out demons by Beelzebub, by whom do your people drive them out? So then, they will be your judges. But if I drive out demons by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God has come upon you.

"Or again, how can anyone enter a strong man's house and carry off his possessions unless he first ties up the strong man? Then he can rob his house.

"He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me scatters.

BLASPHEMY CONDEMNED. ^{Mt} And so I tell you, every sin and blasphemy will be forgiven men, but the blasphemy against the Spirit will not be forgiven. Anyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but anyone who speaks against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven, either in this age or in the age to come. ^{Mk} He said this because they were saying, "He has an evil spirit." ^{Mt} "Make a tree good and its fruit will be good, or make a tree bad and its fruit will be bad, for a tree is recognized by its fruit. You brood of vipers, how can you who are evil say anything good? For out of the overflow of the heart the mouth speaks. The good man brings good things out of the good stored up in him, and the evil man brings evil things out of the evil stored up in him. But I tell you that men will have to give account on the day of judgment for every careless word they have spoken. For by your words you will be acquitted, and by your words you will be condemned." ^{Mk} When his family heard about this, they went to take charge of him, for they said, "He is out of his mind."

REQUEST FOR PROOF REBUKED. Then some of the Pharisees and teachers of the law said to him, "Teacher, we want to see a miraculous sign from you."

Mt.

Lk.
11:29-32

He answered, "A wicked and adulterous generation asks for a miraculous sign! But none will be given it except the sign of the prophet Jonah. For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of a huge fish, so the Son of Man will be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth. The men of Nineveh will stand up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and now one^o greater than Jonah is here. The Queen of the South will rise at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for she came from the ends of the earth to listen to Solomon's wisdom, and now one greater than Solomon is here.

NEED FOR MORAL REFORM. ^{Mt} "When an evilⁿ spirit comes out of a man, it goes through arid places seeking rest and does not find it. Then it says, 'I will return to the house I left.' When it arrives, it finds the house unoccupied, swept clean and put in order. Then it goes and takes with it seven other spirits more wicked than itself, and they go in and live there. And the final condition of that man is worse than the first. That is how it will be with this wicked generation." ^{Lk} As Jesus was saying these things, a woman in the crowd called out, "Blessed is the mother who gave you birth and nursed you."

He replied, "Blessed rather are those who hear the word of God and obey it."

JESUS TELLS TRUE KINSHIP. While Jesus was still talking to the crowd, his mother and brothers stood outside, wanting to speak to him. Someone told him, "Your mother and brothers are standing outside, wanting to speak to you."^q

He replied to him, "Who is my mother, and who are my brothers?" Pointing to his disciples, he said, "Here are my mother and my brothers. For whoever does the will of my Father in heaven is my brother and sister and mother."

Lk.

INNER RIGHTEOUSNESS. "No one lights a lamp and puts it in a place where it will be hidden, or under a bowl. Instead he puts it on its stand, so that those who come in may see the light. Your eye is the lamp of your body. When your eyes are good, your whole body also is full of light. But when they are bad, your body also is full of darkness. See to it, then, that the light within you is not darkness. Therefore, if your whole body is full of light, and no part of it dark, it will be completely lighted, as when the light of a lamp shines on you."

Lk.

HYPOCRISY CONDEMNED. When Jesus had finished speaking, a Pharisee invited him to eat with him; so he went in and reclined at the table. But the Pharisee, noticing that Jesus did not first wash before the meal, was surprised.

Then the Lord said to him, "Now then, you Pharisees clean the outside of the cup and dish, but inside you are full of greed and wickedness. You foolish people! Did not the one who made the outside make the inside also? But give what is inside [the dish,^r to the poor, and everything will be clean for you.

"Woe to you Pharisees, because you give God a tenth of your mint, rue and all other kinds of garden herbs, but you neglect justice and the love of God. You should have practiced the latter without leaving the former undone.

"Woe to you Pharisees, because you love the most important seats in the synagogues and greetings in the marketplaces.

“Woe to you, because you are like unmarked graves, which men walk over without knowing it.”

LAWYERS CONDEMNED. One of the experts in the law answered him, “Teacher, when you say these things, you insult us also.” Lk.
11:45-52

Jesus replied, “And you experts in the law, woe to you, because you load people down with burdens they can hardly carry, and you yourselves will not lift one finger to help them.

“Woe to you, because you build tombs for the prophets, and it was your forefathers who killed them. So you testify that you approve of what your forefathers did; they killed the prophets, and you build their tombs. Because of this, God in his wisdom said, ‘I will send them prophets and apostles, some of whom they will kill and others they will persecute.’ Therefore this generation will be held responsible for the blood of all the prophets that has been shed since the beginning of the world, from the blood of Abel to the blood of Zechariah, who was killed between the altar and the sanctuary. Yes, I tell you, this generation will be held responsible for it all.

“Woe to you experts in the law, because you have taken away the key to knowledge. You yourselves have not entered, and you have hindered those who were entering.”

LEADERS TRY TO TRAP JESUS. When Jesus left there, the Pharisees and the teachers of the law began to oppose him fiercely and to besiege him with questions, waiting to catch him in something he might say. Lk.
11:53,54

WARNING AGAINST HYPOCRISY. Meanwhile, when a crowd of many thousands had gathered, so that they were trampling on one another, Jesus began to speak first to his disciples, saying: “Be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy. There is nothing concealed that will not be disclosed, or hidden that will not be made known. What you have said in the dark will be heard in the daylight, and what you have whispered in the ear in the inner rooms will be proclaimed from the roofs.” Lk. 12:1-3

FEARING GOD, NOT MAN. “I tell you, my friends, do not be afraid of those who kill the body and after that can do no more. But I will show you whom you should fear: Fear him who, after the killing of the body, has power to throw you into hell. Yes, I tell you, fear him. Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies? Yet not one of them is forgotten by God. Indeed, the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Don’t be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.” Lk. 12:4-12

“I tell you, whoever acknowledges me before men, the Son of Man will also acknowledge him before the angels of God. But he who disowns me before men will be disowned before the angels of God. And everyone who speaks a word against the Son of Man will be forgiven, but anyone who blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will not be forgiven.

“When you are brought before synagogues, rulers and authorities, do not worry about how you will defend yourselves or what you will say, for the Holy Spirit will teach you at that time what you should say.”

FOOLISH RICH MAN. Someone in the crowd said to him, “Teacher, tell my brother to divide the inheritance with me.” Lk.
12:13-21

•Greek two assaria

Jesus replied, "Man, who appointed me a judge or an arbiter between you?" Then he said to them, "Watch out! Be on your guard against all kinds of greed; a man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions."

And he told them this parable: "The ground of a certain rich man produced a good crop. He thought to himself, 'What shall I do? I have no place to store my crops.'

"Then he said, 'This is what I'll do. I will tear down my barns and build bigger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. And I'll say to myself, 'You have plenty of good things laid up for many years. Take life easy; eat, drink and be merry.'"

"But God said to him, 'You fool! This very night your life will be demanded from you. Then who will get what you have prepared for yourself?'

"This is how it will be with anyone who stores up things for himself but is not rich toward God."

Lk.
12:22-34

TRUSTING GOD'S PROVIDENCE. Then Jesus said to his disciples: "Therefore I tell you, do not worry about your life, what you will eat; or about your body, what you will wear. Life is more than food, and the body more than clothes. Consider the ravens: They do not sow or reap, they have no storeroom or barn; yet God feeds them. And how much more valuable you are than birds! Who of you by worrying can add a single hour to his life? Since you cannot do this very little thing, why do you worry about the rest?

"Consider how the lilies grow. They do not labor or spin. Yet I tell you, not even Solomon in all his splendor was dressed like one of these. If that is how God clothes the grass of the field, which is here today, and tomorrow is thrown into the fire, how much more will he clothe you, O you of little faith! And do not set your heart on what you will eat or drink; do not worry about it. For the pagan world runs after all such things, and your Father knows that you need them. But seek his kingdom, and these things will be given to you as well.

"Do not be afraid, little flock, for your Father has been pleased to give you the kingdom. Sell your possessions and give to the poor. Provide purses for yourselves that will not wear out, a treasure in heaven that will not be exhausted, where no thief comes near and no moth destroys. For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

Lk.
12:35-40

PARABLE OF WATCHFUL SERVANTS. "Be dressed ready for service and keep your lamps burning, like men waiting for their master to return from a wedding banquet, so that when he comes and knocks they can immediately open the door for him. It will be good for those servants whose master finds them watching when he comes. I tell you the truth, he will dress himself to serve, will have them recline at the table and will come and wait on them. It will be good for those servants whose master finds them ready, even if he comes in the second or third watch of the night. But understand this: If the owner of the house had known at what hour the thief was coming, he would not have let his house be broken into. You also must be ready, because the Son of Man will come at an hour when you do not expect him."

¹Or single cubit to his height

EXHORTATION TO WATCHFULNESS. Peter asked, "Lord, are you telling this parable to us, or to everyone?"

Lk.
12:41-48

The Lord answered, "Who then is the faithful and wise manager, whom the master puts in charge of his servants to give them their food allowance at the proper time? It will be good for that servant whom the master finds doing so when he returns. I tell you the truth, he will put him in charge of all his possessions. But suppose the servant says to himself, 'My master is taking a long time in coming,' and he then begins to beat the menservants and maidservants and to eat and drink and get drunk. The master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he is not aware of. He will cut him to pieces and assign him a place with the unbelievers.

"That servant who knows his master's will and does not get ready or does not do what his master wants will be beaten with many blows. But the one who does not know and does things deserving punishment will be beaten with few blows. From everyone who has been given much, much will be demanded; and from the one who has been entrusted with much, much more will be asked.

DIVISION PREDICTED. "I have come to bring fire on the earth, and how I wish it were already kindled! But I have a baptism to undergo, and how distressed I am until it is completed! Do you think I came to bring peace on earth? No, I tell you, but division. From now on there will be five in one family divided against each other, three against two and two against three. They will be divided, father against son and son against father, mother against daughter and daughter against mother, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law and daughter-in-law against mother-in-law."

Lk.
12:49-53

TIMELY ACCEPTANCE URGED. He said to the crowd: "When you see a cloud rising in the west, immediately you say, 'It's going to rain,' and it does. And when the south wind blows, you say, 'It's going to be hot,' and it is. Hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of the earth and the sky. How is it that you don't know how to interpret this present time?"

Lk.
12:54-59

"Why don't you judge for yourselves what is right? As you are going with your adversary to the magistrate, try hard to be reconciled to him on the way, or he may drag you off to the judge, and the judge turn you over to the officer, and the officer throw you into prison. I tell you, you will not get out until you have paid the last penny."

URGENCY OF REPENTANCE. Now there were some present at that time who told Jesus about the Galileans whose blood Pilate had mixed with their sacrifices. Jesus answered, "Do you think that these Galileans were worse sinners than all the other Galileans because they suffered this way? I tell you, no! But unless you repent, you too will all perish. Or those eighteen who died when the tower in Siloam fell on them—do you think they were more guilty than all the others living in Jerusalem? I tell you, no! But unless you repent, you too will all perish."

Lk. 13:1-5

UNFRUITFUL FIG TREE. Then he told this parable: "A man had a fig tree, planted in his vineyard, and he went to look for fruit on it, but did not find any. So he said to the man who took care of the vineyard, 'For three years now I've been coming to look for fruit on this fig tree and haven't found any. Cut it down! Why should it use up the soil?"

Lk. 13:6-9

"'Sir,' the man replied, 'leave it alone for one more year, and I'll dig around it and fertilize it. If it bears fruit next year, fine! If not, then cut it down.'"

Lk.
13:10-17

STOOPED WOMAN HEALED. On a Sabbath Jesus was teaching in one of the synagogues, and a woman was there who had been crippled by a spirit for eighteen years. She was bent over and could not straighten up at all. When Jesus saw her, he called her forward and said to her, "Woman, you are set free from your infirmity." Then he put his hands on her, and immediately she straightened up and praised God.

Indignant because Jesus had healed on the Sabbath, the synagogue ruler said to the people, "There are six days for work. So come and be healed on those days, not on the Sabbath."

The Lord answered him, "You hypocrites! Doesn't each of you on the Sabbath untie his ox or donkey from the stall and lead it out to give it water? Then should not this woman, a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan has kept bound for eighteen long years, be set free on the Sabbath day from what bound her?"

When he said this, all his opponents were humiliated, but the people were delighted with all the wonderful things he was doing.

Teaching Through Parables

Between the many heated confrontations, Jesus continues to teach his disciples quietly concerning the kingdom of God. As the Great Teacher, Jesus uses numerous methods of instructing his disciples. He employs hyperbole, warnings, laments, and denunciations. He presents truth through beatitudes, proverbs, and dialogue. Of all his methods, however, perhaps the most interesting and distinctive mode of teaching is his use of parables. These illustrations of a moral truth or principle are usually in the form of a simple comparison. As often as not, Jesus' parables are comparisons with things either found in nature or known through human experience.

Although Jesus says the parables will have the effect of concealing truth, he must have in mind those hearers whose hearts are closed to his teaching. Most of the lessons are fairly simple to understand and especially well-suited for the common man, to whom Jesus directs his teaching.

Many parables are recorded by the Gospel writers throughout Jesus' ministry, but a particular series has been collected, principally by Matthew, which gives unique insight into Jesus' use of these simple illustrations.

Mt. 13:1-9
Mk. 4:1-9
Lk. 8:4-8
Sea of Galilee

PARABLE OF THE SOWER. That same day Jesus went out of the house and sat by the lake. Such large crowds gathered around him that he got into a boat and sat in it, while all the people stood on the shore. Then he told them many things in parables, saying: "A farmer went out to sow his seed. As he was scattering the seed, some fell along the path, and the birds came and ate it up. Some fell on rocky places, where it did not have much soil. It sprang up quickly, because the soil was shallow. But when the sun came up, the plants were scorched, and they withered because they had no root. Other seed fell among thorns, which grew up and choked the plants. Still other seed fell on good soil, where it produced a crop—a hundred, sixty or thirty times what was sown. He who has ears, let him hear.”

PURPOSE OF PARABLES. The disciples came to him and asked, “Why do you speak to the people in parables?”

He replied, “The knowledge of the secrets of the kingdom of heaven has been given to you, but not to them. Whoever has will be given more, and he will have an abundance. Whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him. This is why I speak to them in parables:

“Though seeing, they do not see;
though hearing, they do not hear or understand.

In them is fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah:

“‘You will be ever hearing but never understanding;
you will be ever seeing but never perceiving.
For this people’s heart has become calloused;
they hardly hear with their ears,
and they have closed their eyes.
Otherwise they might see with their eyes,
hear with their ears,
understand with their hearts
and turn, and I would heal them.’”

But blessed are your eyes because they see, and your ears because they hear. For I tell you the truth, many prophets and righteous men longed to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it.

PARABLE OF SOWER EXPLAINED. “Listen then to what the parable of the sower means: When anyone hears the message about the kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what was sown in his heart. This is the seed sown along the path. The one who received the seed that fell on rocky places is the man who hears the word and at once receives it with joy. But since he has no root, he lasts only a short time. When trouble or persecution comes because of the word, he quickly falls away. The one who received the seed that fell among the thorns is the man who hears the word, but the worries of this life and the deceitfulness of wealth choke it, making it unfruitful. But the one who received the seed that fell on good soil is the man who hears the word and understands it. He produces a crop, yielding a hundred, sixty or thirty times what was sown.”

PARABLE OF THE WEEDS. Jesus told them another parable: “The kingdom of heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field. But while everyone was sleeping, his enemy came and sowed weeds among the wheat, and went away. When the wheat sprouted and formed heads, then the weeds also appeared.

“The owner’s servants came to him and said, ‘Sir, didn’t you sow good seed in your field? Where then did the weeds come from?’

“‘An enemy did this,’ he replied.

“The servants asked him, ‘Do you want us to go and pull them up?’

“‘No,’ he answered, ‘because while you are pulling the weeds, you may root up the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest. At that time I will tell the harvesters: First collect the weeds and tie them in bundles to be burned; then gather the wheat and bring it into my barn.’”

Mt.
13:36-43 PARABLE OF THE WEEDS EXPLAINED. Then he left the crowd and went into the house. His disciples came to him and said, “Explain to us the parable of the weeds in the field.”

He answered, “The one who sowed the good seed is the Son of Man. The field is the world, and the good seed stands for the sons of the kingdom. The weeds are the sons of the evil one, and the enemy who sows them is the devil. The harvest is the end of the age, and the harvesters are angels.

“As the weeds are pulled up and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the age. The Son of Man will send out his angels, and they will weed out of his kingdom everything that causes sin and all who do evil. They will throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Then the righteous will shine like the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear.

Lk. 8:16-18 PARABLE OF THE LIGHTED LAMP. He said to them, “Do you bring in a lamp to put it under a bowl or a bed? Instead, don’t you put it on its stand? For whatever is hidden is meant to be disclosed, and whatever is concealed is meant to be brought out into the open. If anyone has ears to hear, let him hear.”

“Consider carefully what you hear,” he continued. “With the measure you use, it will be measured to you—and even more. Whoever has will be given more; whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him.”

Mk.
4:26-29 PARABLE OF THE SEED GROWING. He also said, “This is what the kingdom of God is like. A man scatters seed on the ground. Night and day, whether he sleeps or gets up, the seed sprouts and grows, though he does not know how. All by itself the soil produces grain—first the stalk, then the head, then the full kernel in the head. As soon as the grain is ripe, he puts the sickle to it, because the harvest has come.”

Lk.
13:18,19 PARABLE OF THE MUSTARD SEED. He told them another parable: “The kingdom of heaven is like a mustard seed, which a man took and planted in his field. Though it is the smallest of all your seeds, yet when it grows, it is the largest of garden plants and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and perch in its branches.”

Lk.
13:20,21 PARABLE OF THE YEAST. He told them still another parable: “The kingdom of heaven is like yeast that a woman took and mixed into a large amount^w of flour until it worked all through the dough.”

Mt. 13:44 PARABLE OF HIDDEN TREASURE. “The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field. When a man found it, he hid it again, and then in his joy went and sold all he had and bought that field.

PARABLE OF THE NET. "Once again, the kingdom of heaven is like a net that was let down into the lake and caught all kinds of fish. When it was full, the fishermen pulled it up on the shore. Then they sat down and collected the good fish in baskets, but threw the bad away. This is how it will be at the end of the age. The angels will come and separate the wicked from the righteous and throw them into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Mt. 13:47-50

PARABLE OF TREASURES. "Have you understood all these things?" Jesus asked. Mt. 13:51,52

"Yes," they replied.

He said to them, "Therefore every teacher of the law who has been instructed about the kingdom of heaven is like the owner of a house who brings out of his storeroom new treasures as well as old."

PARABLES FULFILL PROPHECY. ^{Mk} With many similar parables Jesus spoke the word to them, as much as they could understand. He did not say anything to them without using a parable. But when he was alone with his own disciples, he explained everything. ^{Mt} So was fulfilled what was spoken through the prophet: Mt. 13:34,35
Mk. 4:33,34

"I will open my mouth in parables,
I will utter things hidden since the creation of the world."^x

Performing Miracles

It is one thing for a man to teach what he claims is truth; it is quite another thing to demonstrate one's authority to claim that truth. That is why the miracles which Jesus performs are such a vital part of his ministry. They are not being performed merely to entertain, or to show off his divine power, or even to convince the skeptical. Nor does Jesus heal the sick and raise the dead simply because of his great compassion for those who suffer.

More than this, the miracles are a means of confirming the message that the kingdom of God is now being established with power! God is establishing his rule through Christ, and proving it with the miraculous power which Jesus exercises over the forces of nature, over the spirit world, and over death and disease. Mark's account takes Jesus from his teaching in parables and follows him throughout Galilee as he confirms the authority of his teaching with miraculous works.

CHALLENGING FOLLOWERS. ^{Mt} When Jesus saw the crowd around him, he gave orders to cross to the other side of the lake. Then a teacher of the law came to him and said, "Teacher, I will follow you wherever you go." ^{Lk} Jesus replied, "Foxes have holes and birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man has no place to lay his head." Mt. 8:18-22

He said to another man, "Follow me."

But the man replied, "Lord, first let me go and bury my father."

Jesus said to him, "Let the dead bury their own dead, but you go and proclaim the kingdom of God."

Still another said, "I will follow you, Lord; but first let me go back and say good-by to my family."

Jesus replied, "No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for service in the kingdom of God."

Sea of Galilee

JESUS CALMS THE SEA. That day when evening came, he said to his disciples, "Let us go over to the other side." Leaving the crowd behind, they took him along, just as he was, in the boat. There were also other boats with him. A furious squall came up, and the waves broke over the boat, so that it was nearly swamped. Jesus was in the stern, sleeping on a cushion. The disciples woke him and said to him, "Teacher, don't you care if we drown?"

He got up, rebuked the wind and said to the waves, "Quiet! Be still!" Then the wind died down and it was completely calm.

He said to his disciples, "Why are you so afraid? Do you still have no faith?"

They were terrified and asked each other, "Who is this? Even the wind and the waves obey him!"

DEMON-POSSESSED GERASENE. They went across the lake to the region of the Gerasenes.^y When Jesus got out of the boat, a man with an evil^z spirit came from the tombs to meet him. This man lived in the tombs, and no one could bind him any more, not even with a chain. For he had often been chained hand and foot, but he tore the chains apart and broke the irons on his feet. No one was strong enough to subdue him. Night and day among the tombs and in the hills he would cry out and cut himself with stones.

When he saw Jesus from a distance, he ran and fell on his knees in front of him. He shouted at the top of his voice, "What do you want with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? Swear to God that you won't torture me!" For Jesus had said to him, "Come out of this man, you evil spirit!"

Then Jesus asked him, "What is your name?"

"My name is Legion," he replied, "for we are many." And he begged Jesus again and again not to send them out of the area.

A large herd of pigs was feeding on the nearby hillside. The demons begged Jesus, "Send us among the pigs; allow us to go into them." He gave them permission, and the evil spirits came out and went into the pigs. The herd, about two thousand in number, rushed down the steep bank into the lake and were drowned.

Those tending the pigs ran off and reported this in the town and countryside, and the people went out to see what had happened. When they came to Jesus, they saw the man who had been possessed by the legion of demons, sitting there, dressed and in his right mind; and they were afraid. Those who had seen it told the people what had happened to the demon-possessed man—and told about the pigs as well. Then the people began to plead with Jesus to leave their region.

As Jesus was getting into the boat, the man who had been demon-posessed begged to go with him. Jesus did not let him, but said, "Go home to your family and tell them how much the Lord has done for you, and how he has had mercy on you." So the man went away and began to tell in the Decapolis^a how much Jesus had done for him. And all the people were amazed.

JAIRUS BEGS JESUS TO HEAL. When Jesus had again crossed over by boat to the other side of the lake, a large crowd gathered around him while he was by the lake. Then one of the synagogue rulers, named Jairus, came there. Seeing Jesus, he fell at his feet and pleaded earnestly with him, "My little daughter is dying. Please come and put your hands on her so that she will be healed and live." So Jesus went with him.

WOMAN TOUCHES GARMENT. A large crowd followed and pressed around him. And a woman was there who had been subject to bleeding for twelve years. She had suffered a great deal under the care of many doctors and had spent all she had, yet instead of getting better she grew worse. When she heard about Jesus, she came up behind him in the crowd and touched his cloak, because she thought, "If I just touch his clothes, I will be healed." Immediately her bleeding stopped and she felt in her body that she was freed from her suffering.

Mt. 9:20-22
Mk.

Lk. 8:43-48

At once Jesus realized that power had gone out from him. He turned around in the crowd and asked, "Who touched my clothes?"

"You see the people crowding against you," his disciples answered, "and yet you can ask, 'Who touched me?'"

But Jesus kept looking around to see who had done it. Then the woman, knowing what had happened to her, came and fell at his feet and, trembling with fear, told him the whole truth. He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has healed you. Go in peace and be freed from your suffering."

JAIRUS' DAUGHTER RAISED. While Jesus was still speaking, some men came from the house of Jairus, the synagogue ruler. "Your daughter is dead," they said. "Why bother the teacher any more?"

Ignoring what they said, Jesus told the synagogue ruler, "Don't be afraid; just believe."

He did not let anyone follow him except Peter, James and John the brother of James. When they came to the home of the synagogue ruler, Jesus saw a commotion, with people crying and wailing loudly. He went in and said to them, "Why all this commotion and wailing? The child is not dead but asleep." But they laughed at him.

After he put them all out, he took the child's father and mother and the disciples who were with him, and went in where the child was. He took her by the hand and said to her, "Talitha koum!" (which means, "Little girl, I say to you, get up!"). Immediately the girl stood up and walked around (she was twelve years old). At this they were completely astonished. He gave strict orders not to let anyone know about this, and told them to give her something to eat.

TWO BLIND MEN HEALED. As Jesus went on from there, two blind men followed him, calling out, "Have mercy on us, Son of David!"

Mt. 9:27-31

When he had gone indoors, the blind men came to him, and he asked them, "Do you believe that I am able to do this?"

"Yes, Lord," they replied.

Then he touched their eyes and said, "According to your faith will it be done to you"; and their sight was restored. Jesus warned them sternly, "See that no one knows about this." But they went out and spread the news about him all over that region.

Mt. 9:32-34 MUTE MADE TO SPEAK. While they were going out, a man who was demon-possessed and could not talk was brought to Jesus. And when the demon was driven out, the man who had been mute spoke. The crowd was amazed and said, "Nothing like this has ever been seen in Israel."

But the Pharisees said, "It is by the prince of demons that he drives out demons."

Nazareth

JESUS REJECTED AGAIN. Jesus left there and went to his hometown, accompanied by his disciples. When the Sabbath came, he began to teach in the synagogue, and many who heard him were amazed.

"Where did this man get these things?" they asked. "What's this wisdom that has been given him, that he even does miracles! Isn't this the carpenter? Isn't this Mary's son and the brother of James, Joseph,^b Judas and Simon? Aren't his sisters here with us?" And they took offense at him.

Jesus said to them, "Only in his hometown, among his relatives and in his own house is a prophet without honor." He could not do any miracles there, except lay his hands on a few sick people and heal them. And he was amazed at their lack of faith.

Sending Out Apostles

After his second rejection in his hometown of Nazareth, Jesus gains renewed encouragement as he is met by crowds in other parts of Galilee. Keenly aware of their need for spiritual guidance, Jesus calls for those who are willing to work among the multitudes for the sake of his kingdom. The time is especially appropriate, then, for sending out the 12 apostles on a special mission of teaching and performing miracles with the power he gives them. He warns them that they, like all who would work in the Lord's name, will be persecuted and will face the need for sacrifice.

Perhaps for that reason, or perhaps to provide a stronger witness of his messiahship, Jesus sends the apostles out in pairs. Interestingly, Jesus does not appear to place particular emphasis on organization, methods of evangelism, or academic religious training. The 12 apostles are mostly of simple education, but the power of Christ is with them.

As the apostles are away carrying out their mission, Jesus will hear that John the Baptist has been put to death by Herod.

NEED FOR WORKERS. Jesus went through all the towns and villages, teaching in their synagogues, preaching the good news of the kingdom and healing every disease and sickness. When he saw the crowds, he had compassion on them, because they were harassed and helpless, like sheep without a shepherd. Then he said to his disciples, "The harvest is plentiful but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field."

As you go, preach this message: 'The kingdom of heaven is near. Heal the sick, raise the dead, cleanse those who have leprosy,^d drive out demons. Freely you have received, freely give. If anyone will not welcome you or listen to your words, shake the dust off your feet when you leave that home or town. I tell you the truth, it will be more bearable for Sodom and Gomorrah on the day of judgment than for that town.

Mt.
10:16-33

"Be on your guard against men; they will hand you over to the local councils and flog you in their synagogues. On my account you will be brought before governors and kings as witnesses to them and to the Gentiles. But when they arrest you, do not worry about what to say or how to say it. At that time you will be given what to say, for it will not be you speaking, but the Spirit of your Father speaking through you.

"Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child; children will rebel against their parents and have them put to death. All men will hate you because of me, but he who stands firm to the end will be saved. When you are persecuted in one place, flee to another. I tell you the truth, you will not finish going through the cities of Israel before the Son of Man comes.

"A student is not above his teacher, nor a servant above his master. It is enough for the student to be like his teacher, and the servant like his master. If the head of the house has been called Beelzebub,^e how much more the members of his household!

"So do not be afraid of them. There is nothing concealed that will not be disclosed, or hidden that will not be made known. What I tell you in the dark, speak in the daylight; what is whispered in your ear, proclaim from the roofs. Do not be afraid of those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather, be afraid of the One who can destroy both soul and body in hell. Are not two sparrows sold for a penny? Yet not one of them will fall to the ground apart from the will of your Father. And even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. So don't be afraid; you are worth more than many sparrows.

"Whoever acknowledges me before men, I will also acknowledge him before my Father in heaven. But whoever disowns me before men, I will disown him before my Father in heaven.

And if anyone gives even a cup of cold water to one of these little ones because he is my disciple, I tell you the truth, he will certainly not lose his reward."

Mt. 11:1 APOSTLES IN ACTION. ^{Mt}After Jesus had finished instructing his twelve disciples, he went on from there to teach and preach in the towns of Galilee.^h ^{Lk}So they set out and went from village to village, preaching the gospel and healing people everywhere.

Mt. 14:1,2 HEROD CURIOUS ABOUT JESUS. ^{Mk}King Herod heard about this, for Jesus' name had become well known. Some were saying,ⁱ "John the Baptist has been raised from the dead, and that is why miraculous powers are at work in him."

Others said, "He is Elijah."

And still others claimed, "He is a prophet, like one of the prophets of long ago."

But when Herod heard this, he said, "John, the man I beheaded, has been raised from the dead!" ^{Lk} . . . "I beheaded John. Who, then, is this I hear such things about?" And he tried to see him.

Mt. 14:3-12a DEATH OF JOHN THE BAPTIST. ^{Mk}For Herod himself had given orders to have John arrested, and he had him bound and put in prison. He did this because of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife, whom he had married. For John had been saying to Herod, "It is not lawful for you to have your brother's wife." So Herodias nursed a grudge against John and wanted to kill him. But she was not able to, because Herod feared John and protected him, knowing him to be a righteous and holy man. When Herod heard John, he was greatly puzzled;^j yet he liked to listen to him.

Finally the opportune time came. On his birthday Herod gave a banquet for his high officials and military commanders and the leading men of Galilee. When the daughter of Herodias came in and danced, she pleased Herod and his dinner guests.

The king said to the girl, "Ask me for anything you want, and I'll give it to you." And he promised her with an oath, "Whatever you ask I will give you, up to half my kingdom."

She went out and said to her mother, "What shall I ask for?"

"The head of John the Baptist," she answered.

At once the girl hurried in to the king with the request: "I want you to give me right now the head of John the Baptist on a platter."

The king was greatly distressed, but because of his oaths and his dinner guests, he did not want to refuse her. So he immediately sent an executioner with orders to bring John's head. The man went, beheaded John in the prison, and brought back his head on a platter. He presented it to the girl, and she gave it to her mother. ^{Mt}John's disciples came and took his body and buried it.

APOSTLES RETURN AND REPORT. ^{Lk} When the apostles returned, they reported to Jesus what they had done. ^{Mk} Then, because so many people were coming and going that they did not even have a chance to eat, he said to them, "Come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest."

So they went away by themselves in a boat . . . ^{Jn} to the far shore of the Sea of Galilee (that is, the Sea of Tiberias), ^{Mk} to a solitary place. But many who saw them leaving recognized them and ran on foot from all the towns and got there ahead of them.

Miracles and Multitudes

As his ministry nears its second year, Jesus reaches a peak of popularity among the multitudes. He amazes a crowd of over 5000 by feeding them all, using just a few loaves of bread and some fish. Upon that demonstration they are ready to make him king, but of course they have misunderstood the nature of his kingdom. When Jesus says that he is the true bread of life and that they must eat his flesh, many are offended and turn away. They can accept Jesus as a popular hero who works wonders, but they are unwilling to accept the demands of discipleship.

Jesus continues his dialogue with the Pharisees, pointing out the danger of legalism, especially regarding traditional doctrinal rules which are not a part of the law. Naturally, Jesus' condemnation of their institutionalized religion, as well as his threat to their political power base, evokes their hostility. Opposition in Judea grows to such a point that the political and religious leaders there are seeking to kill Jesus. Therefore Jesus remains in Galilee for a while longer, apparently not even leaving to attend the Passover Feast in Jerusalem, which takes place during this time.

Despite his opposition, what is so impressive about Jesus is the extent to which he has won the hearts of the common people. The prophets of old had also preached righteousness and brought judgment against false religious leaders, but none of them ever had the popular following of Jesus. Which of the prophets could match Jesus' insight? Which of the prophets could approach Jesus' personal righteousness? And which of the prophets did the people want to make their king? This Jesus is not just another prophet, but rather the Messiah about whom all the other prophets have prophesied.

FIVE THOUSAND FED. ^{Mk} By this time it was late in the day, so his disciples came to him. "This is a remote place," they said, "and it's already very late. Send the people away so they can go to the surrounding countryside and villages and buy themselves something to eat." ^{Jn} When Jesus looked up and saw a great crowd coming toward him, he said to Philip, "Where shall we buy bread for these people to eat?" He asked this only to test him, for he already had in mind what he was going to do.

Philip answered him, "Eight months' wages^k would not buy enough bread for each one to have a bite!"

Another of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, spoke up, "Here is a boy with five small barley loaves and two small fish, but how far will they go among so many?" ^{Mk} Then Jesus directed them to have all the people sit down in groups on the green grass. So they sat down in groups of hundreds and fifties. Taking the five loaves and the two fish and looking up to heaven, he gave thanks and broke the loaves. Then he gave them to his disciples to set before the people. He also divided the two fish among them all. They all ate and were satisfied, and the disciples picked up twelve basketfuls of broken pieces of bread and fish. The number of the men who had eaten was five thousand. ^{Jn} After the people saw the miraculous sign that Jesus did, they began to say, "Surely this is the Prophet who is to come into the world."

MIRACLES AT GENNESARET. When they had crossed over, they landed at Gennesaret and anchored there. As soon as they got out of the boat, people recognized Jesus. They ran throughout that whole region and carried the sick on mats to wherever they heard he was. And wherever he went—into villages, towns or countryside—they placed the sick in the marketplaces. They begged him to let them touch even the edge of his cloak, and all who touched him were healed.

JESUS' CROSSING IS MYSTERY. The next day the crowd that had stayed on the opposite shore of the lake realized that only one boat had been there, and that Jesus had not entered it with his disciples, but that they had gone away alone. Then some boats from Tiberias landed near the place where the people had eaten the bread after the Lord had given thanks. Once the crowd realized that neither Jesus nor his disciples were there, they got into the boats and went to Capernaum in search of Jesus.

Jesus answered, "I tell you the truth, you are looking for me, not because you saw miraculous signs but because you ate the loaves and had your fill. Do not work for food that spoils, but for food that endures to eternal life, which the Son of Man will give you. On him God the Father has placed his seal of approval."

Then they asked him, "What must we do to do the works God requires?"

Jesus answered, "The work of God is this: to believe in the one he has sent."

So they asked him, "What miraculous sign then will you give that we may see it and believe you? What will you do? Our forefathers ate the manna in the desert; as it is written: 'He gave them bread from heaven to eat.'"^m

Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, it is not Moses who has given you the bread from heaven, but it is my Father who gives you the true bread from heaven. For the bread of God is he who comes down from heaven and gives life to the world."

"Sir," they said, "from now on give us this bread."

Then Jesus declared, "I am the bread of life. He who comes to me will never go hungry, and he who believes in me will never be thirsty. But as I told you, you have seen me and still you do not believe. All that the Father gives me will come to me, and whoever comes to me I will never drive away. For I have come down from heaven not to do my will but to do the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I shall lose none of all that he has given me, but raise them up at the last day. For my Father's will is that everyone who looks to the Son and believes in him shall have eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day."

Jn. 6:41-51 JEWS CHALLENGE JESUS' CLAIM. At this the Jews began to grumble about him because he said, "I am the bread that came down from heaven." They said, "Is this not Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How can he now say, 'I came down from heaven'?"

"Stop grumbling among yourselves," Jesus answered. "No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him, and I will raise him up at the last day. It is written in the Prophets: 'They will all be taught by God.'ⁿ Everyone who listens to the Father and learns from him comes to me. No one has seen the Father except the one who is from God; only he has seen the Father. I tell you the truth, he who believes has everlasting life. I am the bread of life. Your forefathers ate the manna in the desert, yet they died. But here is the bread that comes down from heaven, which a man may eat and not die. I am the living bread that came down from heaven. If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. This bread is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world."

Jn. 6:52-59 JEWS QUESTION EATING FLESH. Then the Jews began to argue sharply among themselves, "How can this man give us his flesh to eat?"

Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of Man and drink his blood, you have no life in you. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood has eternal life, and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is real food and my blood is real drink. Whoever eats my flesh and drinks my blood remains in me, and I in him. Just as the living Father sent me and I live because of the Father, so the one who feeds on me will live because of me. This is the bread that came down from heaven. Your forefathers ate manna and died, but he who feeds on this bread will live forever." He said this while teaching in the synagogue in Capernaum.

Jn. 6:60-66 OFFENDED DISCIPLES TURN AWAY. On hearing it, many of his disciples said, "This is a hard teaching. Who can accept it?"

Aware that his disciples were grumbling about this, Jesus said to them, "Does this offend you? What if you see the Son of Man ascend to where he was before! The Spirit gives life; the flesh counts for nothing. The words I have spoken to you are spirit^o and they are life. Yet there are some of you who do not believe." For Jesus had known from the beginning which of them did not believe and who would betray him. He went on to say, "This is why I told you that no one can come to me unless the Father has enabled him."

From this time many of his disciples turned back and no longer followed him.

Jn. 6:67-71 PETER AFFIRMS FAITH. "You do not want to leave too, do you?" Jesus asked the Twelve.

Capernaum

Simon Peter answered him, "Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. We believe and know that you are the Holy One of God."

Then Jesus replied, "Have I not chosen you, the Twelve? Yet one of you is a devil!" (He meant Judas, the son of Simon Iscariot, who, though one of the Twelve, was later to betray him.)

TRADITION CONDEMNED. The Pharisees and some of the teachers of the law who had come from Jerusalem gathered around Jesus and saw some of his disciples eating food with hands that were "unclean," that is, unwashed. (The Pharisees and all the Jews do not eat unless they give their hands a ceremonial washing, holding to the tradition of the elders. When they come from the marketplace they do not eat unless they wash. And they observe many other traditions, such as the washing of cups, pitchers and kettles.^p)

Mt. 15:1-9
Mk. 7:1-13
(Spring,

So the Pharisees and teachers of the law asked Jesus, "Why don't your disciples live according to the tradition of the elders instead of eating their food with 'unclean' hands?"

He replied, "Isaiah was right when he prophesied about you hypocrites; as it is written:

"These people honor me with their lips,
but their hearts are far from me.
They worship me in vain;
their teachings are but rules taught by men.'^q

You have let go of the commands of God and are holding on to the traditions of men."

And he said to them: "You have a fine way of setting aside the commands of God in order to observe your own traditions! For Moses said, 'Honor your father and your mother,'^s and, 'Anyone who curses his father or mother must be put to death.'^t But you say that if a man says to his father or mother: 'Whatever help you might otherwise have received from me is Corban' (that is, a gift devoted to God), then you no longer let him do anything for his father or mother. Thus you nullify the word of God by your tradition that you have handed down. And you do many things like that."

DEFILEMENT CONTRASTED. ^{Mk} Again Jesus called the crowd to him and said, "Listen to me, everyone, and understand this. Nothing outside a man can make him 'unclean' by going into him. Rather, it is what comes out of a man that makes him 'unclean.'^u" ^{Mt} Then the disciples came to him and asked, "Do you know that the Pharisees were offended when they heard this?"

"Are you still so dull?" Jesus asked them. ^{Mk} "Don't you see that nothing that enters a man from the outside can make him 'unclean'? For it doesn't go into his heart but into his stomach, and then out of his body." (In saying this, Jesus declared all foods "clean.")

He went on: "What comes out of a man is what makes him 'unclean.' For from within, out of men's hearts, come evil thoughts, sexual immorality, theft, murder, adultery, greed, malice, deceit, lewdness, envy, slan-

MINISTRY ONLY IN GALILEE. After this, Jesus went around in Galilee, purposely staying away from Judea because the Jews there were waiting to take his life.

Extensive Tour Throughout Galilee

Perhaps in an act of withdrawal from the Jews, or perhaps as part of a plan for wider evangelism, Jesus turns his ministry now to Phoenicia and the area around Tyre and Sidon. Here he encounters a Canaanite woman who begs Jesus to heal her daughter. As descendants of Noah's son Ham, against whom a curse had been directed, the Canaanites are looked down upon by the Jews as unworthy of God's blessings. So the woman's request is an excellent opportunity for Jesus to teach his disciples once again about the universality of his kingdom. At first it appears that Jesus rebuffs the woman, but the end result demonstrates Jesus' concern for all people, and also provides an excellent example of persistent faith on the part of a believer.

Returning to the Sea of Galilee, Jesus will perform more miracles and chastise the Pharisees for demanding signs of his deity. After that Jesus will continue his extensive tour by going north into Caesarea Philippi.

CANAANITE WOMAN PLEADS. ^{Mt} Leaving that place, Jesus withdrew to the region of Tyre and Sidon. ^{Mk} He entered a house and did not want anyone to know it; yet he could not keep his presence secret. ^{Mt} A Canaanite woman from that vicinity came to him, crying out, "Lord, Son of David, have mercy on me! My daughter is suffering terribly from demon-possession."

Jesus did not answer a word. So his disciples came to him and urged him, "Send her away, for she keeps crying out after us."

He answered, "I was sent only to the lost sheep of Israel."

The woman came and knelt before him. "Lord, help me!" she said.

He replied, "It is not right to take the children's bread and toss it to their dogs."

"Yes, Lord," she said, "but even the dogs eat the crumbs that fall from their masters' table."

Then Jesus answered, "Woman, you have great faith! Your request is granted." And her daughter was healed from that very hour.

DEAF MUTE HEALED. ^{Mk} Then Jesus left the vicinity of Tyre and went through Sidon, down to the Sea of Galilee and into the region of the Decapolis. ^w There some people brought to him a man who was deaf and could hardly talk, and they begged him to place his hand on the man.

After he took him aside, away from the crowd, Jesus put his fingers into the man's ears. Then he spit and touched the man's tongue. He looked up to heaven and with a deep sigh said to him, "Ephphatha!" (which means, "Be opened!"). At this, the man's ears were opened, his tongue was loosened and he began to speak plainly.

^wThat is, the Ten Cities

Jesus commanded them not to tell anyone. But the more he did so, the more they kept talking about it. People were overwhelmed with amazement. "He has done everything well," they said. "He even makes the deaf hear and the mute speak." ^{Mt}Great crowds came to him, bringing the lame, the blind, the crippled, the mute and many others, and laid them at his feet; and he healed them. The people were amazed when they saw the mute speaking, the crippled made well, the lame walking and the blind seeing. And they praised the God of Israel.

FOUR THOUSAND FED. During those days another large crowd gathered. Since they had nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples to him and said, "I have compassion for these people; they have already been with me three days and have nothing to eat. If I send them home hungry, they will collapse on the way, because some of them have come a long distance."

His disciples answered, "But where in this remote place can anyone get enough bread to feed them?"

"How many loaves do you have?" Jesus asked.

"Seven," they replied.

He told the crowd to sit down on the ground. When he had taken the seven loaves and given thanks, he broke them and gave them to his disciples to set before the people, and they did so. They had a few small fish as well; he gave thanks for them also and told the disciples to distribute them. The people ate and were satisfied. Afterward the disciples picked up seven basketfuls of broken pieces that were left over. About four thousand men were present. And having sent them away, he got into the boat with his disciples and went to the region of Dalmanutha.

PHARISEES ASK FOR SIGN. ^{Mt}The Pharisees and Sadducees came to Jesus and tested him by asking him to show them a sign from heaven.

He replied,^x "When evening comes, you say, 'It will be fair weather, for the sky is red,' and in the morning, 'Today it will be stormy, for the sky is red and overcast.' You know how to interpret the appearance of the sky, but you cannot interpret the signs of the times. A wicked and adulterous generation looks for a miraculous sign, but none will be given it except the sign of Jonah." ^{Mk}Then he left them, got back into the boat and crossed to the other side.

WARNING ABOUT LEADERS. ^{Mk}The disciples had forgotten to bring bread, except for one loaf they had with them in the boat. ^{Mt}"Be careful," Jesus said to them. "Be on your guard against the yeast of the Pharisees and Sadducees." ^{Mk}They discussed this with one another and said, "It is because we have no bread."

Aware of their discussion, Jesus asked them: "Why are you talking about having no bread? Do you still not see or understand? Are your hearts hardened? Do you have eyes but fail to see, and ears but fail to hear? And don't you remember? When I broke the five loaves for the five thousand, how many basketfuls of pieces did you pick up?"

"Twelve," they replied.

"And when I broke the seven loaves for the four thousand, how many basketfuls of pieces did you pick up?"

They answered, "Seven."

He looked up and said, "I see people; they look like trees walking around."

Once more Jesus put his hands on the man's eyes. Then his eyes were opened, his sight was restored, and he saw everything clearly. Jesus sent him home, saying, "Don't go into the village."⁹

Preparation of Apostles for the End _____

As Jesus now continues his extensive tour north through Caesarea Philippi and then south again into Galilee, he uses this time to prepare his chosen disciples for his death and to strengthen their ministry in carrying on his work. At this point in Jesus' ministry the apostles are truly convinced that Jesus is the Messiah, but apparently they too have notions of a political Messiah. Realizing that their understanding of his messiahship is still very limited, and that their somewhat simplistic faith will be tested, Jesus begins to tell the apostles about his death, as well as the burdens which they themselves will face. Talk of their Leader's imminent death must surely confuse these men, who have hopes of playing key roles in a wholly different kind of kingdom.

The highlight of this period of preparation comes when Jesus takes Peter, James, and John (who seem to be the inner circle of the disciples) to (apparently) Mount Hermon. There Jesus is transfigured. In what is evidently more than a mere vision, Moses and Elijah appear with Jesus as representatives of the law and the prophets. The subsequent disappearance of Moses and Elijah, as well as words of confirmation spoken from heaven, indicate to the three disciples the demise of the former dispensation and the supremacy of the kingdom of God in Christ Jesus.

Even with this demonstration to the inner three, and despite Jesus' warning about humility in the use of their miraculous power, it is not long before all the disciples begin to dispute among themselves as to who among them is the greatest. Jesus sets a young child before them as an example of humility and teaches them about temptation, discipline, and forgiveness.

The Gospel accounts record here a confession by Peter that Jesus is the Christ. Using the word "rock" symbolically (since Peter's name means "rock"), Jesus says that it is upon the rock of Peter's confession of Christ that Jesus' kingdom will be established.

⁹Some manuscripts Don't go and tell anyone in the village

PETER ACKNOWLEDGES CHRIST. When Jesus came to the region of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, "Who do people say the Son of Man is?"

They replied, "Some say John the Baptist; others say Elijah; and still others, Jeremiah or one of the prophets."

"But what about you?" he asked. "Who do you say I am?"

Simon Peter answered, "You are the Christ,^z the Son of the living God."

Jesus replied, "Blessed are you, Simon son of Jonah, for this was not revealed to you by man, but by my Father in heaven. And I tell you that you are Peter,^a and on this rock I will build my church, and the gates of Hades^b will not overcome it.^c I will give you the keys of the kingdom of heaven; whatever you bind on earth will be^d bound in heaven, and whatever you loose on earth will be^d loosed in heaven." Then he warned his disciples not to tell anyone that he was the Christ.

SUFFERING FORETOLD. From that time on Jesus began to explain to his disciples that he must go to Jerusalem and suffer many things at the hands of the elders, chief priests and teachers of the law, and that he must be killed and on the third day be raised to life.

Peter took him aside and began to rebuke him. "Never, Lord!" he said. "This shall never happen to you!"

Jesus turned and said to Peter, "Get behind me, Satan! You are a stumbling block to me; you do not have in mind the things of God, but the things of men."

BURDENS OF DISCIPLESHIP. Then he called the crowd to him along with his disciples and said: "If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever wants to save his life^e will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me and for the gospel will save it. What good is it for a man to gain the whole world, yet forfeit his soul? Or what can a man give in exchange for his soul? If anyone is ashamed of me and my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, the Son of Man will be ashamed of him when he comes in his Father's glory with the holy angels."

KINGDOM WITHIN LIFETIME. And he said to them, "I tell you the truth, some who are standing here will not taste death before they see the kingdom of God come with power."

JESUS IS TRANSFIGURED. After six days Jesus took with him Peter, James and John the brother of James, and led them up a high mountain by themselves. There he was transfigured before them. His face shone like the sun, and his clothes became as white as the light. Just then there appeared before them Moses and Elijah, talking with Jesus.

Peter said to Jesus, "Lord, it is good for us to be here. If you wish, I will put up three shelters—one for you, one for Moses and one for Elijah."

While he was still speaking, a bright cloud enveloped them, and a voice from the cloud said, "This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased. Listen to him!"

When the disciples heard this, they fell facedown to the ground, terri-

Jesus replied, "To be sure, Elijah comes and will restore all things. But I tell you, Elijah has already come, and they did not recognize him, but have done to him everything they wished. EPILEPTIC BOY HEALED. ^{Mk}When they came to the other disciples, they saw a large crowd around them and the teachers of the law arguing with them. As soon as all the people saw Jesus, they were overwhelmed with wonder and ran to greet him.

"What are you arguing with them about?" he asked.

A man in the crowd answered, "Teacher, I brought you my son, who is possessed by a spirit that has robbed him of speech. Whenever it seizes him, it throws him to the ground. He foams at the mouth, gnashes his teeth and becomes rigid. I asked your disciples to drive out the spirit, but they could not."

"O unbelieving generation," Jesus replied, "how long shall I stay with you? How long shall I put up with you? Bring the boy to me."

So they brought him. When the spirit saw Jesus, it immediately threw the boy into a convulsion. He fell to the ground and rolled around, foaming at the mouth.

Jesus asked the boy's father, "How long has he been like this?"

"From childhood," he answered. "It has often thrown him into fire or water to kill him. But if you can do anything, take pity on us and help us."

"If you can?" said Jesus. "Everything is possible for him who believes."

Immediately the boy's father exclaimed, "I do believe; help me overcome my unbelief!"

When Jesus saw that a crowd was running to the scene, he rebuked the evil spirit. "You deaf and mute spirit," he said, "I command you, come out of him and never enter him again."

The spirit shrieked, convulsed him violently and came out. The boy looked so much like a corpse that many said, "He's dead." But Jesus took him by the hand and lifted him to his feet, and he stood up.

After Jesus had gone indoors, his disciples asked him privately, "Why couldn't we drive it out?" ^{Mt}He replied, "Because you have so little faith. I tell you the truth, if you have faith as small as a mustard seed, you can say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there' and it will move. Nothing will be impossible for you." ^{Mk}"This kind can come out only by prayer." ^h

DEATH AGAIN FORETOLD. They left that place and passed through Galilee. Jesus did not want anyone to know where they were, because he was teaching his disciples. In Jerusalem for Feast of Tabernacles _____

It has been six months since the last Passover, which Jesus evidently did not attend because of threats on his life. However, as the time arrives for the annual Feast of Tabernacles, held for eight days in late September and early October, apparently Jesus feels that he can once again journey safely to Jerusalem. The Feast of Tabernacles, one of three national festivals (along with Passover and Pentecost) which all males are obliged to attend, is a commemoration of the ancient wilderness journey, during which the Israelites had lived in tents. Accordingly, during the festival the people live in improvised booths made of tree branches. For this reason the feast is also known as the Festival of Booths. More anciently, the feast was referred to as the Feast of the Harvest, or the Feast of the Ingathering, since it was celebrated after the vintage and harvest were gathered.

Though some of Jesus' brothers will later become leaders in the church, apparently at this point they cannot bring themselves to believe that their brother is the Messiah. Almost tauntingly, it seems, they urge him to go up to Jerusalem to celebrate the feast. Jesus puts them off, however, perhaps realizing that their intentions for him are not sincere. For his own reasons he prefers to go up quietly and therefore tells them that he is not yet ready to go. Jesus will follow them after they have gone, but only after some delay.

When Jesus finally arrives in Jerusalem he will spend his time teaching and confronting the religious leaders who have assembled. It is a time of mixed feelings among the Jews. Some are busy trying to have Jesus arrested,

⁹That is, a few dollars

while others are convinced by his teaching and miraculous works that he is the Messiah.

BROTHERS TAUNT JESUS. But when the Jewish Feast of Tabernacles was near, Jesus' brothers said to him, "You ought to leave here and go to Judea, so that your disciples may see the miracles you do. No one who wants to become a public figure acts in secret. Since you are doing these things, show yourself to the world." For even his own brothers did not believe in him.

Therefore Jesus told them, "The right time for me has not yet come; for you any time is right. The world cannot hate you, but it hates me because I testify that what it does is evil. You go to the Feast. I am not yet^r going up to this Feast, because for me the right time has not yet come." Having said this, he stayed in Galilee.

JESUS GOES PRIVATELY. However, after his brothers had left for the Feast, he went also, not publicly, but in secret. Now at the Feast the Jews were watching for him and asking, "Where is that man?"

Among the crowds there was widespread whispering about him. Some said, "He is a good man."

Others replied, "No, he deceives the people." But no one would say anything publicly about him for fear of the Jews.

Jn. 7:14-24

JESUS TEACHES IN TEMPLE. Not until halfway through the Feast did Jesus go up to the temple courts and begin to teach. The Jews were amazed and asked, "How did this man get such learning without having studied?"

Jesus answered, "My teaching is not my own. It comes from him who sent me. If anyone chooses to do God's will, he will find out whether my teaching comes from God or whether I speak on my own. He who speaks on his own does so to gain honor for himself, but he who works for the honor of the one who sent him is a man of truth; there is nothing false about him. Has not Moses given you the law? Yet not one of you keeps the law. Why are you trying to kill me?"

"You are demon-possessed," the crowd answered. "Who is trying to kill you?"

Jesus said to them, "I did one miracle, and you are all astonished. Yet, because Moses gave you circumcision (though actually it did not come from Moses, but from the patriarchs), you circumcise a child on the Sabbath. Now if a child can be circumcised on the Sabbath so that the law of Moses may not be broken, why are you angry with me for healing the whole man on the Sabbath? Stop judging by mere appearances, and make a right judgment."

Jn. 7:25-31

JEWS DISCUSS CHRIST. At that point some of the people of Jerusalem began to ask, "Isn't this the man they are trying to kill? Here he is, speaking publicly, and they are not saying a word to him. Have the authorities really concluded that he is the Christ?^s But we know where this man is from; when the Christ comes, no one will know where he is from."

Then Jesus, still teaching in the temple courts, cried out, "Yes, you know me, and you know where I am from. I am not here on my own, but he who sent me is true. You do not know him, but I know him because I am from him and he sent me."

^rSome early manuscripts do not have yet. ^sOr Messiah

At this they tried to seize him, but no one laid a hand on him, because his time had not yet come. Still, many in the crowd put their faith in him. They said, "When the Christ comes, will he do more miraculous signs than this man?"

GUARDS SENT TO ARREST. The Pharisees heard the crowd whispering such things about him. Then the chief priests and the Pharisees sent temple guards to arrest him. Jn. 7:32-36

Jesus said, "I am with you for only a short time, and then I go to the one who sent me. You will look for me, but you will not find me; and where I am, you cannot come."

The Jews said to one another, "Where does this man intend to go that we cannot find him? Will he go where our people live scattered among the Greeks, and teach the Greeks? What did he mean when he said, 'You will look for me, but you will not find me,' and 'Where I am, you cannot come'?"

SPIRITUAL DRINK. On the last and greatest day of the Feast, Jesus stood and said in a loud voice, "If anyone is thirsty, let him come to me and drink. Whoever believes in me, as¹ the Scripture has said, streams of living water will flow from within him." By this he meant the Spirit, whom those who believed in him were later to receive. Up to that time the Spirit had not been given, since Jesus had not yet been glorified. Jn. 7:37-39

MORE DIVISION AMONG JEWS. On hearing his words, some of the people said, "Surely this man is the Prophet." Jn. 7:40-44

Others said, "He is the Christ."

Still others asked, "How can the Christ come from Galilee? Does not the Scripture say that the Christ will come from David's family² and from Bethlehem, the town where David lived?" Thus the people were divided because of Jesus. Some wanted to seize him, but no one laid a hand on him.

NICODEMUS COUNSELS CAUTION. Finally the temple guards went back to the chief priests and Pharisees, who asked them, "Why didn't you bring him in?" Jn. 7:45-52

"No one ever spoke the way this man does," the guards declared.

"You mean he has deceived you also?" the Pharisees retorted. "Has any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed in him? No! But this mob that knows nothing of the law—there is a curse on them."

Nicodemus, who had gone to Jesus earlier and who was one of their own number, asked, "Does our law condemn anyone without first hearing him to find out what he is doing?"

They replied, "Are you from Galilee, too? Look into it, and you will find that a prophet³ does not come out of Galilee."

WOMAN CAUGHT IN ADULTERY. Then each went to his own home. But Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. At dawn he appeared again in the temple courts, where all the people gathered around him, and he sat down to teach them. The teachers of the law and the Pharisees brought in a woman caught in adultery. They made her stand before the group and said to Jesus, "Teacher, this woman was caught in the act of adultery. In the Law Moses commanded us to stone such women. Now what do you say?" They were using this question as a trap, in order to have a basis for accusing him.

But Jesus bent down and started to write on the ground with his finger. When they kept on questioning him, he straightened up and said to them, "If any one of you is without sin, let him be the first to throw a stone at her." Again he stooped down and wrote on the ground.

At this, those who heard began to go away one at a time, the older ones first, until only Jesus was left, with the woman still standing there. Jesus straightened up and asked her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?"

"No one, sir," she said.

"Then neither do I condemn you," Jesus declared. "Go now and leave your life of sin."

Jn. 8:12-20

LIGHT OF THE WORLD. When Jesus spoke again to the people, he said, "I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will never walk in darkness, but will have the light of life."

The Pharisees challenged him, "Here you are, appearing as your own witness; your testimony is not valid."

Jesus answered, "Even if I testify on my own behalf, my testimony is valid, for I know where I came from and where I am going. But you have no idea where I come from or where I am going. You judge by human standards; I pass judgment on no one. But if I do judge, my decisions are right, because I am not alone. I stand with the Father, who sent me. In your own Law it is written that the testimony of two men is valid. I am one who testifies for myself; my other witness is the Father, who sent me."

Then they asked him, "Where is your father?"

"You do not know me or my Father," Jesus replied. "If you knew me, you would know my Father also." He spoke these words while teaching in the temple area near the place where the offerings were put. Yet no one seized him, because his time had not yet come.

Jn. 8:21-30

WARNING AGAINST UNBELIEF. Once more Jesus said to them, "I am going away, and you will look for me, and you will die in your sin. Where I go, you cannot come."

This made the Jews ask, "Will he kill himself? Is that why he says, 'Where I go, you cannot come'?"

But he continued, "You are from below; I am from above. You are of this world; I am not of this world. I told you that you would die in your sins; if you do not believe that I am ^{the one I claim to be,}^w you will indeed die in your sins."

^wOr I am he

"Who are you?" they asked.

"Just what I have been claiming all along," Jesus replied. "I have much to say in judgment of you. But he who sent me is reliable, and what I have heard from him I tell the world."

They did not understand that he was telling them about his Father. So Jesus said, "When you have lifted up the Son of Man, then you will know that I am the one I claim to be, and that I do nothing on my own but speak just what the Father has taught me. The one who sent me is with me; he has not left me alone, for I always do what pleases him." Even as he spoke, many put their faith in him.

ON SPIRITUAL FREEDOM. To the Jews who had believed him, Jesus said, "If you hold to my teaching, you are really my disciples. Then you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free."

Jn. 8:31-36

They answered him, "We are Abraham's descendants^x and have never been slaves of anyone. How can you say that we shall be set free?"

Jesus replied, "I tell you the truth, everyone who sins is a slave to sin. Now a slave has no permanent place in the family, but a son belongs to it forever. So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed. I know you are Abraham's descendants. Yet you are ready to kill me, because you have no room for my word. I am telling you what I have seen in the Father's presence, and you do what you have heard from your father."^y

TRUE CHILDREN OF ABRAHAM. "Abraham is our father," they answered.

Jn. 8:39-47

"If you were Abraham's children," said Jesus, "then you would^z do the things Abraham did. As it is, you are determined to kill me, a man who has told you the truth that I heard from God. Abraham did not do such things. You are doing the things your own father does."

"We are not illegitimate children," they protested. "The only Father we have is God himself."

Jesus said to them, "If God were your Father, you would love me, for I came from God and now am here. I have not come on my own; but he sent me. Why is my language not clear to you? Because you are unable to hear what I say. You belong to your father, the devil, and you want to carry out your father's desire. He was a murderer from the beginning, not holding to the truth, for there is no truth in him. When he lies, he speaks his native language, for he is a liar and the father of lies. Yet because I tell the truth, you do not believe me! Can any of you prove me guilty of sin? If I am telling the truth, why don't you believe me? He who belongs to God hears what God says. The reason you do not hear is that you do not belong to God."

DECLARES ETERNAL EXISTENCE. The Jews answered him, "Aren't we right in saying that you are a Samaritan and demon-possessed?"

Jn. 8:48-59

"I am not possessed by a demon," said Jesus, "but I honor my Father and you dishonor me. I am not seeking glory for myself; but there is one who seeks it, and he is the judge. I tell you the truth, if anyone keeps my word, he will never see death."

At this the Jews exclaimed, "Now we know that you are demon-possessed! Abraham died and so did the prophets, yet you say that if anyone ^xGreek seed; also in verse 37 ^yOr presence. Therefore do what you have heard from the Father. ^zSome early manuscripts "If you are Abraham's children," said Jesus, "then keeps your word, he will never taste death. Are you greater than our father Abraham? He died, and so did the prophets. Who do you think you are?"

Jesus replied, "If I glorify myself, my glory means nothing. My Father, whom you claim as your God, is the one who glorifies me. Though you do not know him, I know him. If I said I did not, I would be a liar like you, but I do know him and keep his word. Your father Abraham rejoiced at the thought of seeing my day; he saw it and was glad."

"You are not yet fifty years old," the Jews said to him, "and you have seen Abraham!"

"I tell you the truth," Jesus answered, "before Abraham was born, I am!" At this, they picked up stones to stone him, but Jesus hid himself, slipping away from the temple grounds.

Jn. 9:1-12

HEALING OF MAN BORN BLIND. As he went along, he saw a man blind from birth. His disciples asked him, "Rabbi, who sinned, this man or his parents, that he was born blind?"

"Neither this man nor his parents sinned," said Jesus, "but this happened so that the work of God might be displayed in his life. As long as it is day, we must do the work of him who sent me. Night is coming, when no one can work. While I am in the world, I am the light of the world."

Having said this, he spit on the ground, made some mud with the saliva, and put it on the man's eyes. "Go," he told him, "wash in the Pool of Siloam" (this word means Sent). So the man went and washed, and came home seeing.

His neighbors and those who had formerly seen him begging asked, "Isn't this the same man who used to sit and beg?" Some claimed that he was.

Others said, "No, he only looks like him."

But he himself insisted, "I am the man."

"How then were your eyes opened?" they demanded.

He replied, "The man they call Jesus made some mud and put it on my eyes. He told me to go to Siloam and wash. So I went and washed, and then I could see."

"Where is this man?" they asked him.

"I don't know," he said.

Jn. 9:13-17

PHARISEES QUESTION MAN. They brought to the Pharisees the man who had been blind. Now the day on which Jesus had made the mud and opened the man's eyes was a Sabbath. Therefore the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. "He put mud on my eyes," the man replied, "and I washed, and now I see."

Some of the Pharisees said, "This man is not from God, for he does not keep the Sabbath."

But others asked, "How can a sinner do such miraculous signs?" So they were divided.

Finally they turned again to the blind man, "What have you to say about him? It was your eyes he opened."

The man replied, "He is a prophet."

Jn. 9:18-23

PARENTS ARE QUESTIONED. The Jews still did not believe that he had been blind and had received his sight until they sent for the man's parents. "Is this your son?" they asked. "Is this the one you say was born blind? How is it that now he can see?"

"We know he is our son," the parents answered, "and we know he was born blind. But how he can see now, or who opened his eyes, we don't know. Ask him. He is of age; he will speak for himself." His parents said this because they were afraid of the Jews, for already the Jews had decided that anyone who acknowledged that Jesus was the Christ^a would be put out of the synagogue. That was why his parents said, "He is of age; ask him."

MAN QUESTIONED AGAIN. A second time they summoned the man who had been blind. "Give glory to God,"^b they said. "We know this man is a sinner."

Jn. 9:24-34

He replied, "Whether he is a sinner or not, I don't know. One thing I do know. I was blind but now I see!"

Then they asked him, "What did he do to you? How did he open your eyes?"

He answered, "I have told you already and you did not listen. Why do you want to hear it again? Do you want to become his disciples, too?"

Then they hurled insults at him and said, "You are this fellow's disciple! We are disciples of Moses! We know that God spoke to Moses, but as for this fellow, we don't even know where he comes from."

The man answered, "Now that is remarkable! You don't know where he comes from, yet he opened my eyes. We know that God does not listen to sinners. He listens to the godly man who does his will. Nobody has ever heard of opening the eyes of a man born blind. If this man were not from God, he could do nothing."

To this they replied, "You were steeped in sin at birth; how dare you lecture us!" And they threw him out.

JESUS CONFRONTS HEALED MAN. Jesus heard that they had thrown him out, and when he found him, he said, "Do you believe in the Son of Man?"

Jn. 9:35-41

"Who is he, sir?" the man asked. "Tell me so that I may believe in him."

Jesus said, "You have now seen him; in fact, he is the one speaking with you."

Then the man said, "Lord, I believe," and he worshiped him.

Jesus said, "For judgment I have come into this world, so that the blind will see and those who see will become blind."

Some Pharisees who were with him heard him say this and asked, "What? Are we blind too?"

Jesus said, "If you were blind, you would not be guilty of sin; but now that you claim you can see, your guilt remains.

SHEEP AND THEIR SHEPHERD. "I tell you the truth, the man who does not enter the sheep pen by the gate, but climbs in by some other way, is a thief and a robber. The man who enters by the gate is the shepherd of his sheep. The watchman opens the gate for him, and the sheep listen to his voice. He calls his own sheep by name and leads them out. When he has brought out all his own, he goes on ahead of them, and his sheep follow him because they know his voice. But they will never follow a stranger; in fact, they will run away from him because they do not recognize a stranger's voice." Jesus used this figure of speech, but they did not understand what he was telling them.

Jn. 10:1-6

^aOr Messiah^bA solemn charge to tell the truth (see Joshua 7:19)

Jn. 10:7-10 THE GATE FOR THE SHEEP. Therefore Jesus said again, "I tell you the truth, I am the gate for the sheep. All who ever came before me were thieves and robbers, but the sheep did not listen to them. I am the gate; whoever enters through me will be saved.^c He will come in and go out, and find pasture. The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy; I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full.

Jn. 10:11-18 THE GOOD SHEPHERD. "I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. The hired hand is not the shepherd who owns the sheep. So when he sees the wolf coming, he abandons the sheep and runs away. Then the wolf attacks the flock and scatters it. The man runs away because he is a hired hand and cares nothing for the sheep. "I am the good shepherd; I know my sheep and my sheep know me—just as the Father knows me and I know the Father—and I lay down my life for the sheep. I have other sheep that are not of this sheep pen. I must bring them also. They too will listen to my voice, and there shall be one flock and one shepherd. The reason my Father loves me is that I lay down my life—only to take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of my own accord. I have authority to lay it down and authority to take it up again. This command I received from my Father."

Jn. 10:19-21 JEWS STILL DIVIDED. At these words the Jews were again divided. Many of them said, "He is demon-possessed and raving mad. Why listen to him?"

But others said, "These are not the sayings of a man possessed by a demon. Can a demon open the eyes of the blind?"

Ministry from Galilee to Judea _____

After the Feast of Dedication, Jesus apparently returns to Capernaum for the final two months of his Galilean ministry. He not only feels growing opposition from the people there who want a political leader, but also knows that it is nearing the time for him to be delivered up. From this time forward, Jesus resolutely faces his final suffering. As he sets out on his journey to Jerusalem, in Samaria he again encounters immediate rejection. Making what amounts to a final appeal to the northern region, Jesus sends out 72 of his disciples, to whom he gives the power to heal in his name, with the mission of proclaiming the coming of his kingdom.

As Jesus proceeds down through Judea, he is apparently near Jericho when he tells the parable of the Good Samaritan, an illustration all the more remarkable in view of Jesus' own rejection by the Samaritans just a short time before. Jesus will then travel on to Bethany, visiting in the home of Martha and Mary, and later proceed to Jerusalem for the Feast of Dedication.

This is a time of transition for the Master. Initial excitement among the masses is followed by doubt and even hostility as Jesus refuses to accept the role that most people want him to play. In a way it is characteristic of the turnabout which inevitably comes when people accept Jesus into their lives for any number of wrong reasons: the excitement can give way to disappointment.

GALILEAN MINISTRY ENDS. As the time approached for him to be taken up to heaven, Jesus resolutely set out for Jerusalem. And he sent messengers on ahead, who went into a Samaritan village to get things ready for him; but the people there did not welcome him, because he was heading for Jerusalem. When the disciples James and John saw this, they asked, "Lord, do you want us to call fire down from heaven to destroy them?" But Jesus turned and rebuked them, and they went to another village.

TEN LEPERS HEALED. Now on his way to Jerusalem, Jesus traveled along the border between Samaria and Galilee. As he was going into a village, ten men who had leprosy^f met him. They stood at a distance and called out in a loud voice, "Jesus, Master, have pity on us!"

Lk.
17:11-19

When he saw them, he said, "Go, show yourselves to the priests." And as they went, they were cleansed.

One of them, when he saw he was healed, came back, praising God in a loud voice. He threw himself at Jesus' feet and thanked him—and he was a Samaritan.

Jesus asked, "Were not all ten cleansed? Where are the other nine? Was no one found to return and give praise to God except this foreigner?" Then he said to him, "Rise and go; your faith has made you well."

SEVENTY-TWO SENT OUT. After this the Lord appointed seventy-two^g others and sent them two by two ahead of him to every town and place where he was about to go. He told them, "The harvest is plentiful, but the workers are few. Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field. Go! I am sending you out like lambs among wolves. Do not take a purse or bag or sandals; and do not greet anyone on the road.

"When you enter a town and are welcomed, eat what is set before you. Heal the sick who are there and tell them, 'The kingdom of God is near you.' But when you enter a town and are not welcomed, go into its streets and say, 'Even the dust of your town that sticks to our feet we wipe off against you. Yet be sure of this: The kingdom of God is near.' I tell you, it will be more bearable on that day for Sodom than for that town.

"All things have been committed to me by my Father. No one knows who the Son is except the Father, and no one knows who the Father is except the Son and those to whom the Son chooses to reveal him."

Then he turned to his disciples and said privately, "Blessed are the eyes that see what you see. For I tell you that many prophets and kings wanted to see what you see but did not see it, and to hear what you hear but did not hear it."

PARABLE OF GOOD SAMARITAN. On one occasion an expert in the law stood up to test Jesus. "Teacher," he asked, "what must I do to inherit eternal life?"

"What is written in the Law?" he replied. "How do you read it?"

He answered: "'Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind'; and, 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'"

"You have answered correctly," Jesus replied. "Do this and you will live."

But he wanted to justify himself, so he asked Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?"

In reply Jesus said: "A man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, when he fell into the hands of robbers. They stripped him of his clothes, beat him and went away, leaving him half dead. A priest happened to be going down the same road, and when he saw the man, he passed by on the other side. So too, a Levite, when he came to the place and saw him, passed by on the other side. But a Samaritan, as he traveled, came where the man was; and when he saw him, he took pity on him. He went to him and bandaged his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. Then he put the man on his own donkey, took him to an inn and took care of him. The next day he took out two silver coins^k and gave them to the innkeeper. 'Look after him,' he said, 'and when I return, I will reimburse you for any extra expense you may have.'

WITH MARTHA AND MARY. As Jesus and his disciples were on their way, he came to a village where a woman named Martha opened her home to him. She had a sister called Mary, who sat at the Lord's feet listening to what he said. But Martha was distracted by all the preparations that had to be made. PARABLE OF PERSISTENCE. Then he said to them, "Suppose one of you has a friend, and he goes to him at midnight and says, 'Friend, lend me three loaves of bread, because a friend of mine on a journey has come to me, and I have nothing to set before him.'

In Jerusalem for Feast of Dedication

Whether intentionally present for the feast or there for other reasons, Jesus is in Jerusalem in December during the eight-day Feast of Dedication, known more modernly as Hanukkah. This feast was instituted as recently as 164 B.C. by Judas Maccabaeus in commemoration of the refurbishing of the temple after it had been profaned for idolatrous use in 168 B.C. by Antiochus Epiphanes. Faithful Jews are gathering in Jerusalem in order to celebrate the rededication of the temple, and Jesus takes this opportunity to reach out to the large number of people present.

When various Jewish leaders ask Jesus whether he is the Christ, he reminds them of his miraculous works as proof of his deity. He then says that he and the Father are one, thereby infuriating the Jews, who see this as rank blasphemy. They take up rocks to stone Jesus and try to have him arrested, but Jesus escapes.

JESUS AFFIRMS OWN DEITY. Then came the Feast of Dedication^s at Jerusalem. It was winter, and Jesus was in the temple area walking in Solomon's Colonnade. The Jews gathered around him, saying, "How long will you keep us in suspense? If you are the Christ,^t tell us plainly."

Jesus answered, "I did tell you, but you do not believe. The miracles I do in my Father's name speak for me, but you do not believe because you are not my sheep. My sheep listen to my voice; I know them, and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish; no one can snatch them out of my hand. My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all^u; no one can snatch them out of my Father's hand. I and the Father are one."

Jn.
10:31-39

ATTEMPT TO STONE JESUS. Again the Jews picked up stones to stone him, but Jesus said to them, "I have shown you many great miracles from the Father. For which of these do you stone me?"

"We are not stoning you for any of these," replied the Jews, "but for blasphemy, because you, a mere man, claim to be God."

Jesus answered them, "Is it not written in your Law, 'I have said you are gods'^v? If he called them 'gods,' to whom the word of God came—and the Scripture cannot be broken—what about the one whom the Father set apart as his very own and sent into the world? Why then do you accuse me of blasphemy because I said, 'I am God's Son'? Do not believe me unless I do what my Father does. But if I do it, even though you do not believe me, believe the miracles, that you may know and understand that the Father is in me, and I in the Father." Again they tried to seize him, but he escaped their grasp.

Perea

TO PEREA. Then Jesus went back across the Jordan to the place where John had been baptizing in the early days. Here he stayed and many people came to him. They said, "Though John never performed a miraculous sign, all that John said about this man was true." And in that place many believed in Jesus.

The Perea Ministry

When Jesus goes into the area beyond the Jordan River, he is entering the Perea province ruled by the tetrarch Herod Antipas, who also rules Galilee. It is this same Herod who had earlier beheaded John the Baptist, and he probably now fears a popular uprising of the people in response to Jesus' presence in that territory. Jesus does not fear Herod, however, because he knows that his end will come only in Jerusalem. It is unclear whether a warning about Herod comes from Pharisees who really believe in Jesus or whether they are simply trying to get Jesus to leave their area.

During this period of his ministry Jesus once again teaches through numerous parables. His parables cover a wide range of subjects, including the cost of discipleship, the value of lost souls, the rejection of his kingdom, the need for humility, and the unrighteousness of hypocritical religion.

NUMBER TO BE SAVED. Then Jesus went through the towns and villages, teaching as he made his way to Jerusalem. Someone asked him, "Lord, are only a few people going to be saved?"

Lk.
13:22-30
Perea

He said to them, "Make every effort to enter through the narrow door, because many, I tell you, will try to enter and will not be able to. Once the owner of the house gets up and closes the door, you will stand outside knocking and pleading, 'Sir, open the door for us.'

"But he will answer, 'I don't know you or where you come from.'

"Then you will say, 'We ate and drank with you, and you taught in our streets.'

"But he will reply, 'I don't know you or where you come from. Away from me, all you evildoers!'

"There will be weeping there, and gnashing of teeth, when you see Abraham, Isaac and Jacob and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, but you yourselves thrown out. People will come from east and west and north and south, and will take their places at the feast in the kingdom of God. Indeed there are those who are last who will be first, and first who will be last."

JESUS WARNED ABOUT HEROD. At that time some Pharisees came to Jesus and said to him, "Leave this place and go somewhere else. Herod wants to kill you."

Lk.
13:31-33

He replied, "Go tell that fox, 'I will drive out demons and heal people today and tomorrow, and on the third day I will reach my goal.' In any case, I must keep going today and tomorrow and the next day—for surely no prophet can die outside Jerusalem!

LAMENT OVER JERUSALEM. "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, you who kill the prophets and stone those sent to you, how often I have longed to gather your children together, as a hen gathers her chicks under her wings, but you were not willing! Look, your house is left to you desolate. I tell you, you will not see me again until you say, 'Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord.'"^w

Lk. 14:1-6 MAN HEALED OF DROPSY. One Sabbath, when Jesus went to eat in the house of a prominent Pharisee, he was being carefully watched. There in front of him was a man suffering from dropsy. Jesus asked the Pharisees and experts in the law, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath or not?" But they remained silent. So taking hold of the man, he healed him and sent him away.

Then he asked them, "If one of you has a son^x or an ox that falls into a well on the Sabbath day, will you not immediately pull him out?" And they had nothing to say.

Lk. 14:7-11 PARABLE OF PLACE OF HONOR. When he noticed how the guests picked the places of honor at the table, he told them this parable: "When someone invites you to a wedding feast, do not take the place of honor, for a person more distinguished than you may have been invited. If so, the host who invited both of you will come and say to you, 'Give this man your seat.' Then, humiliated, you will have to take the least important place. But when you are invited, take the lowest place, so that when your host comes, he will say to you, 'Friend, move up to a better place.' Then you will be honored in the presence of all your fellow guests. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted."

Lk. 14:12-14 URGING UNSELFISHNESS. Then Jesus said to his host, "When you give a luncheon or dinner, do not invite your friends, your brothers or relatives, or your rich neighbors; if you do, they may invite you back and so you will be repaid. But when you give a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, and you will be blessed. Although they cannot repay you, you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous."

Lk. 14:15-24 PARABLE OF GREAT BANQUET. When one of those at the table with him heard this, he said to Jesus, "Blessed is the man who will eat at the feast in the kingdom of God."

Jesus replied: "A certain man was preparing a great banquet and invited many guests. At the time of the banquet he sent his servant to tell those who had been invited, 'Come, for everything is now ready.'

"But they all alike began to make excuses. The first said, 'I have just bought a field, and I must go and see it. Please excuse me.'

"Another said, 'I have just bought five yoke of oxen, and I'm on my way to try them out. Please excuse me.'

"Still another said, 'I just got married, so I can't come.'

"The servant came back and reported this to his master. Then the owner of the house became angry and ordered his servant, 'Go out quickly into the streets and alleys of the town and bring in the poor, the crippled, the blind and the lame.'

"'Sir,' the servant said, 'what you ordered has been done, but there is still room.'

"Then the master told his servant, 'Go out to the roads and country lanes and make them come in, so that my house will be full. I tell you, not one of those men who were invited will get a taste of my banquet.'"

Lk. 14:25-33 COST OF DISCIPLESHIP. Large crowds were traveling with Jesus, and turning to them he said: "If anyone comes to me and does not hate his father and mother, his wife and children, his brothers and sisters—yes, even his own life—he cannot be my disciple. And anyone who does not carry his cross and follow me cannot be my disciple.

“Suppose one of you wants to build a tower. Will he not first sit down and estimate the cost to see if he has enough money to complete it? For if he lays the foundation and is not able to finish it, everyone who sees it will ridicule him, saying, ‘This fellow began to build and was not able to finish.’

“Or suppose a king is about to go to war against another king. Will he not first sit down and consider whether he is able with ten thousand men to oppose the one coming against him with twenty thousand? If he is not able, he will send a delegation while the other is still a long way off and will ask for terms of peace. In the same way, any of you who does not give up everything he has cannot be my disciple.

PARABLE OF THE SALT. “Salt is good, but if it loses its saltiness, how can it be made salty again? It is fit neither for the soil nor for the manure pile; it is thrown out.

Lk.
14:34,35

“He who has ears to hear, let him hear.”

PARABLE OF LOST SHEEP. Now the tax collectors and “sinners” were all gathering around to hear him. But the Pharisees and the teachers of the law muttered, “This man welcomes sinners and eats with them.”

Lk. 15:1-7

Then Jesus told them this parable: “Suppose one of you has a hundred sheep and loses one of them. Does he not leave the ninety-nine in the open country and go after the lost sheep until he finds it? And when he finds it, he joyfully puts it on his shoulders and goes home. Then he calls his friends and neighbors together and says, ‘Rejoice with me; I have found my lost sheep.’ I tell you that in the same way there will be more rejoicing in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous persons who do not need to repent.

PARABLE OF LOST COIN. “Or suppose a woman has ten silver coins⁴ and loses one. Does she not light a lamp, sweep the house and search carefully until she finds it? And when she finds it, she calls her friends and neighbors together and says, ‘Rejoice with me; I have found my lost coin.’ In the same way, I tell you, there is rejoicing in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner who repents.”

Lk. 15:8-10

PARABLE OF LOST SON. Jesus continued: “There was a man who had two sons. The younger one said to his father, ‘Father, give me my share of the estate.’ So he divided his property between them.

Lk.
15:11-32

“Not long after that, the younger son got together all he had, set off for a distant country and there squandered his wealth in wild living. After he had spent everything, there was a severe famine in that whole country, and he began to be in need. So he went and hired himself out to a citizen of that country, who sent him to his fields to feed pigs. He longed to fill his stomach with the pods that the pigs were eating, but no one gave him anything.

“When he came to his senses, he said, ‘How many of my father’s hired men have food to spare, and here I am starving to death! I will set out and go back to my father and say to him: Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son; make me like one of your hired men.’ So he got up and went to his father.

⁴Greek ten drachmas, each worth about a day’s wages

"But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and was filled with compassion for him; he ran to his son, threw his arms around him and kissed him.

"The son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you. I am no longer worthy to be called your son.'"

"But the father said to his servants, 'Quick! Bring the best robe and put it on him. Put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. Bring the fattened calf and kill it. Let's have a feast and celebrate. For this son of mine was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.' So they began to celebrate.

"Meanwhile, the older son was in the field. When he came near the house, he heard music and dancing. So he called one of the servants and asked him what was going on. 'Your brother has come,' he replied, 'and your father has killed the fattened calf because he has him back safe and sound.'

"The older brother became angry and refused to go in. So his father went out and pleaded with him. But he answered his father, 'Look! All these years I've been slaving for you and never disobeyed your orders. Yet you never gave me even a young goat so I could celebrate with my friends. But when this son of yours who has squandered your property with prostitutes comes home, you kill the fattened calf for him!'

"'My son,' the father said, 'you are always with me, and everything I have is yours. But we had to celebrate and be glad, because this brother of yours was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.'"

Lk. 16:1-13

PARABLE OF DISHONEST MANAGER. Jesus told his disciples: "There was a rich man whose manager was accused of wasting his possessions. So he called him in and asked him, 'What is this I hear about you? Give an account of your management, because you cannot be manager any longer.'

"The manager said to himself, 'What shall I do now? My master is taking away my job. I'm not strong enough to dig, and I'm ashamed to beg—I know what I'll do so that, when I lose my job here, people will welcome me into their houses.'

"So he called in each one of his master's debtors. He asked the first, 'How much do you owe my master?'

"'Eight hundred gallons^a of olive oil,' he replied.

"The manager told him, 'Take your bill, sit down quickly, and make it four hundred.'

"Then he asked the second, 'And how much do you owe?'

"'A thousand bushels^b of wheat,' he replied.

"He told him, 'Take your bill and make it eight hundred.'

"The master commended the dishonest manager because he had acted shrewdly. For the people of this world are more shrewd in dealing with their own kind than are the people of the light. I tell you, use worldly wealth to gain friends for yourselves, so that when it is gone, you will be welcomed into eternal dwellings.

"Whoever can be trusted with very little can also be trusted with much, and whoever is dishonest with very little will also be dishonest with much.

So if you have not been trustworthy in handling worldly wealth, who will trust you with true riches? And if you have not been trustworthy with someone else's property, who will give you property of your own?

"No servant can serve two masters. Either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and Money."

PHARISEES SCOFF AT PARABLE. The Pharisees, who loved money, heard all this and were sneering at Jesus. He said to them, "You are the ones who justify yourselves in the eyes of men, but God knows your hearts. What is highly valued among men is detestable in God's sight.

Lk.
16:14,15

SUBSTANCE OF LAW. "The Law and the Prophets were proclaimed until John. Since that time, the good news of the kingdom of God is being preached, and everyone is forcing his way into it. It is easier for heaven and earth to disappear than for the least stroke of a pen to drop out of the Law.

Lk.
16:16-18

"Anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery, and the man who marries a divorced woman commits adultery.

RICH MAN AND LAZARUS. "There was a rich man who was dressed in purple and fine linen and lived in luxury every day. At his gate was laid a beggar named Lazarus, covered with sores and longing to eat what fell from the rich man's table. Even the dogs came and licked his sores.

Lk.
16:19-31

"The time came when the beggar died and the angels carried him to Abraham's side. The rich man also died and was buried. In hell,^c where he was in torment, he looked up and saw Abraham far away, with Lazarus by his side. So he called to him, 'Father Abraham, have pity on me and send Lazarus to dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, because I am in agony in this fire.'

"But Abraham replied, 'Son, remember that in your lifetime you received your good things, while Lazarus received bad things, but now he is comforted here and you are in agony. And besides all this, between us and you a great chasm has been fixed, so that those who want to go from here to you cannot, nor can anyone cross over from there to us.'

"He answered, 'Then I beg you, father, send Lazarus to my father's house, for I have five brothers. Let him warn them, so that they will not also come to this place of torment.'

"Abraham replied, 'They have Moses and the Prophets; let them listen to them.'

"'No, father Abraham,' he said, 'but if someone from the dead goes to them, they will repent.'

"He said to him, 'If they do not listen to Moses and the Prophets, they will not be convinced even if someone rises from the dead.'"

COMING OF KINGDOM. Once, having been asked by the Pharisees when the kingdom of God would come, Jesus replied, "The kingdom of God does not come with your careful observation, nor will people say, 'Here it is,' or 'There it is,' because the kingdom of God is within^d you."

Lk.
17:20-35,37

Then he said to his disciples, "The time is coming when you will long to see one of the days of the Son of Man, but you will not see it. Men will tell you, 'There he is!' or 'Here he is!' Do not go running off after them. For the Son of Man in his day^e will be like the lightning, which flashes and lights up the sky from one end to the other. But first he must suffer many things and be rejected by this generation.

“Just as it was in the days of Noah, so also will it be in the days of the Son of Man. People were eating, drinking, marrying and being given in marriage up to the day Noah entered the ark. Then the flood came and destroyed them all.

“It was the same in the days of Lot. People were eating and drinking, buying and selling, planting and building. But the day Lot left Sodom, fire and sulfur rained down from heaven and destroyed them all.

“It will be just like this on the day the Son of Man is revealed. On that day no one who is on the roof of his house, with his goods inside, should go down to get them. Likewise, no one in the field should go back for anything. Remember Lot’s wife! Whoever tries to keep his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life will preserve it. I tell you, on that night two people will be in one bed; one will be taken and the other left. Two women will be grinding grain together; one will be taken and the other left.^f”

“Where, Lord?” they asked.

He replied, “Where there is a dead body, there the vultures will gather.”

Lk. 18:1-8 PERSISTENT WIDOW. Then Jesus told his disciples a parable to show them that they should always pray and not give up. He said: “In a certain town there was a judge who neither feared God nor cared about men. And there was a widow in that town who kept coming to him with the plea, ‘Grant me justice against my adversary.’

“For some time he refused. But finally he said to himself, ‘Even though I don’t fear God or care about men, yet because this widow keeps bothering me, I will see that she gets justice, so that she won’t eventually wear me out with her coming!’”

And the Lord said, “Listen to what the unjust judge says. And will not God bring about justice for his chosen ones, who cry out to him day and night? Will he keep putting them off? I tell you, he will see that they get justice, and quickly. However, when the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on the earth?”

Lk. 18:9-14 PHARISEE AND TAX COLLECTOR. To some who were confident of their own righteousness and looked down on everybody else, Jesus told this parable: “Two men went up to the temple to pray, one a Pharisee and the other a tax collector. The Pharisee stood up and prayed about^s himself: ‘God, I thank you that I am not like other men—robbers, evildoers, adulterers—or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week and give a tenth of all I get.’

“But the tax collector stood at a distance. He would not even look up to heaven, but beat his breast and said, ‘God, have mercy on me, a sinner.’

“I tell you that this man, rather than the other, went home justified before God. For everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and he who humbles himself will be exalted.”

Mt. 20:1-16 VINEYARD WORKERS. “For the kingdom of heaven is like a landowner who went out early in the morning to hire men to work in his vineyard. He agreed to pay them a denarius for the day and sent them into his vineyard.

^fSome manuscripts left. ^sTwo men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left.

"About the third hour he went out and saw others standing in the marketplace doing nothing. He told them, 'You also go and work in my vineyard, and I will pay you whatever is right.' So they went.

"He went out again about the sixth hour and the ninth hour and did the same thing. About the eleventh hour he went out and found still others standing around. He asked them, 'Why have you been standing here all day long doing nothing?'

"'Because no one has hired us,' they answered.

"He said to them, 'You also go and work in my vineyard.'

"When evening came, the owner of the vineyard said to his foreman, 'Call the workers and pay them their wages, beginning with the last ones hired and going on to the first.'

"The workers who were hired about the eleventh hour came and each received a denarius. So when those came who were hired first, they expected to receive more. But each one of them also received a denarius. When they received it, they began to grumble against the landowner. 'These men who were hired last worked only one hour,' they said, 'and you have made them equal to us who have borne the burden of the work and the heat of the day.'

"But he answered one of them, 'Friend, I am not being unfair to you. Didn't you agree to work for a denarius? Take your pay and go. I want to give the man who was hired last the same as I gave you. Don't I have the right to do what I want with my own money? Or are you envious because I am generous?'

"So the last will be first, and the first will be last."

Return to Judea to Raise Lazarus

John records one of the most poignant events found in all of the Gospel accounts. While Jesus is in Perea he learns that his friend Lazarus is seriously ill in Bethany, near Jerusalem. Jesus, of course, wants to be with Lazarus, but the disciples counsel against it, realizing the danger of returning that close to Jerusalem. Jesus then perceives that Lazarus has died, and he immediately determines to go to Bethany.

What follows is a touching account of Jesus meeting Lazarus' sisters, Martha and Mary, and being moved to tears. Then, although it has been four days since Lazarus died, Jesus goes to the tomb and raises Lazarus from the dead. This, of course, is such a dramatic and conclusive demonstration of Jesus' power that his opponents call a hasty conference and immediately plot to kill him. Aware of the danger, Jesus withdraws northward to the town of Ephraim, near the wilderness.

LAZARUS' ILLNESS TOLD. Now a man named Lazarus was sick. He was from Bethany, the village of Mary and her sister Martha. This Mary, whose brother Lazarus now lay sick, was the same one who poured perfume on the Lord and wiped his feet with her hair. So the sisters sent word to Jesus, "Lord, the one you love is sick."

Jn. 11:1-4
Perea

When he heard this, Jesus said, "This sickness will not end in death. No, it is for God's glory so that God's Son may be glorified through it."

Jn. 11:5-16 DISCIPLES FEAR RETURN. Jesus loved Martha and her sister and Lazarus. Yet when he heard that Lazarus was sick, he stayed where he was two more days.

Then he said to his disciples, "Let us go back to Judea."

"But Rabbi," they said, "a short while ago the Jews tried to stone you, and yet you are going back there?"

Jesus answered, "Are there not twelve hours of daylight? A man who walks by day will not stumble, for he sees by this world's light. It is when he walks by night that he stumbles, for he has no light."

After he had said this, he went on to tell them, "Our friend Lazarus has fallen asleep; but I am going there to wake him up."

His disciples replied, "Lord, if he sleeps, he will get better." Jesus had been speaking of his death, but his disciples thought he meant natural sleep.

So then he told them plainly, "Lazarus is dead, and for your sake I am glad I was not there, so that you may believe. But let us go to him."

Then Thomas (called Didymus) said to the rest of the disciples, "Let us also go, that we may die with him."

Jn.
11:17-27

JESUS TALKS WITH MARTHA. On his arrival, Jesus found that Lazarus had already been in the tomb for four days. Bethany was less than two miles^h from Jerusalem, and many Jews had come to Martha and Mary to comfort them in the loss of their brother. When Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went out to meet him, but Mary stayed at home.

"Lord," Martha said to Jesus, "if you had been here, my brother would not have died. But I know that even now God will give you whatever you ask."

Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again."

Martha answered, "I know he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day."

Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me will live, even though he dies; and whoever lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?"

"Yes, Lord," she told him, "I believe that you are the Christ,ⁱ the Son of God, who was to come into the world."

Jn.
11:28-37

JESUS TALKS WITH MARY. And after she had said this, she went back and called her sister Mary aside. "The Teacher is here," she said, "and is asking for you." When Mary heard this, she got up quickly and went to him. Now Jesus had not yet entered the village, but was still at the place where Martha had met him. When the Jews who had been with Mary in the house, comforting her, noticed how quickly she got up and went out, they followed her, supposing she was going to the tomb to mourn there.

When Mary reached the place where Jesus was and saw him, she fell at his feet and said, "Lord, if you had been here, my brother would not have died."

When Jesus saw her weeping, and the Jews who had come along with her also weeping, he was deeply moved in spirit and troubled. "Where have you laid him?" he asked.

"Come and see, Lord," they replied.

Jesus wept.

^hGreek fifteen stadia (about 3 kilometers) ⁱOr Messiah

Then the Jews said, "See how he loved him!"

But some of them said, "Could not he who opened the eyes of the blind man have kept this man from dying?"

LAZARUS RAISED. Jesus, once more deeply moved, came to the tomb. It was a cave with a stone laid across the entrance. "Take away the stone," he said. Jn. 11:38-44

"But, Lord," said Martha, the sister of the dead man, "by this time there is a bad odor, for he has been there four days."

Then Jesus said, "Did I not tell you that if you believed, you would see the glory of God?"

So they took away the stone. Then Jesus looked up and said, "Father, I thank you that you have heard me. I knew that you always hear me, but I said this for the benefit of the people standing here, that they may believe that you sent me."

When he had said this, Jesus called in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!" The dead man came out, his hands and feet wrapped with strips of linen, and a cloth around his face.

Jesus said to them, "Take off the grave clothes and let him go."

COUNCIL PLOTS TO KILL JESUS. Therefore many of the Jews who had come to visit Mary, and had seen what Jesus did, put their faith in him. But some of them went to the Pharisees and told them what Jesus had done. Then the chief priests and the Pharisees called a meeting of the Sanhedrin. Jn. 11:45-53

"What are we accomplishing?" they asked. "Here is this man performing many miraculous signs. If we let him go on like this, everyone will believe in him, and then the Romans will come and take away both our place and our nation."

Then one of them, named Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, spoke up, "You know nothing at all! You do not realize that it is better for you that one man die for the people than that the whole nation perish."

He did not say this on his own, but as high priest that year he prophesied that Jesus would die for the Jewish nation, and not only for that nation but also for the scattered children of God, to bring them together and make them one. So from that day on they plotted to take his life.

JESUS GOES TO EPHRAIM. Therefore Jesus no longer moved about publicly among the Jews. Instead he withdrew to a region near the desert, to a village called Ephraim, where he stayed with his disciples. Jn. 11:54
Ephraim

The Final Journey

From Ephraim, the final days of Jesus' life and ministry begin to count down. What occurs during this period, probably between January and the end of March, is a microcosm of his entire ministry. There is more teaching to be done and, as always, the need for dialogue and confrontation with the Pharisees. Jesus once again blesses little children and once again reminds those who would follow him of the burdens they must bear. As he has done twice before, Jesus again tells of his impending death. And there are more parables to be taught and still more people to be healed.

¹Or temple

Surely it is a constant source of discouragement to Jesus—even in these last days, and after repeated lessons on humility—that his disciples are still seeking personal glory in the kingdom. Even now the apostles continue to think only in terms of an earthly kingdom. James and John, prompted by their mother, ask that they be given special positions. Jesus admonishes them once again, pointing to the spiritual nature of his kingdom and to the need for humility and service. Yet the time is short now, and Jesus knows that they will soon understand.

There is at least one person who already seems to understand about Jesus' mission and his call for humility. That person is Mary, the sister of Lazarus. As Jesus' journey to Jerusalem comes to an end, the Gospel accounts tell the beautiful story of Mary anointing Jesus with precious ointments. It will be a touching prelude to the brutal events of the final week.

Mt. 19:3-9 PHARISEES QUESTION DIVORCE. Some Pharisees came to him to test him. They asked, "Is it lawful for a man to divorce his wife for any and every reason?"

Mk. 10:2-9 "Haven't you read," he replied, "that at the beginning the Creator 'made them male and female,'^k and said, 'For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh'? So they are no longer two, but one. Therefore what God has joined together, let man not separate."

"Why then," they asked, "did Moses command that a man give his wife a certificate of divorce and send her away?"

Jesus replied, "Moses permitted you to divorce your wives because your hearts were hard. But it was not this way from the beginning. I tell you that anyone who divorces his wife, except for marital unfaithfulness, and marries another woman commits adultery."

Mt. 19:10-12 DISCIPLES QUESTION JESUS. Mk When they were in the house again, the disciples asked Jesus about this. He answered, "Anyone who divorces his wife and marries another woman commits adultery against her. And if she divorces her husband and marries another man, she commits adultery."^m The disciples said to him, "If this is the situation between a husband and wife, it is better not to marry."

Mk. 10:10-12 Jesus replied, "Not everyone can accept this word, but only those to whom it has been given. For some are eunuchs because they were born that way; others were made that way by men; and others have renounced marriage^m because of the kingdom of heaven. The one who can accept this should accept it."

Mt. 19:13-15 JESUS BLESSES CHILDREN. People were bringing little children to Jesus to have him touch them, but the disciples rebuked them. When Jesus saw this, he was indignant. He said to them, "Let the little children come to me, and do not hinder them, for the kingdom of God belongs to such as these. I tell you the truth, anyone who will not receive the kingdom of God like a little child will never enter it." And he took the children in his arms, put his hands on them and blessed them.

RICH YOUNG MAN. As Jesus started on his way, a man ran up to him and fell on his knees before him. "Good teacher," he asked, "what must I do to inherit eternal life?"

Mt.
19:16-22
Mk.
10:17-22
Lk.
18:18-23

"Why do you call me good?" Jesus answered. "No one is good—except God alone. You know the commandments: 'Do not murder, do not commit adultery, do not steal, do not give false testimony, do not defraud, honor your father and mother.'"

"Teacher," he declared, "all these I have kept since I was a boy."

Jesus looked at him and loved him. "One thing you lack," he said. "Go, sell everything you have and give to the poor, and you will have treasure in heaven. Then come, follow me."

At this the man's face fell. He went away sad, because he had great wealth.

LOVE OF POSSESSIONS. Jesus looked around and said to his disciples, "How hard it is for the rich to enter the kingdom of God!"

Mt.
19:23-26
Mk.
10:23-27
Lk.
18:24-27

The disciples were amazed at his words. But Jesus said again, "Children, how hard it is^o to enter the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God."

The disciples were even more amazed, and said to each other, "Who then can be saved?"

Jesus looked at them and said, "With man this is impossible, but not with God; all things are possible with God."

FORSAKING EARTHLY ATTACHMENTS. Peter answered him, "We have left everything to follow you! What then will there be for us?"

Mt.

Lk.
18:28-30

Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, at the renewal of all things, when the Son of Man sits on his glorious throne, you who have followed me will also sit on twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel. And everyone who has left houses or brothers or sisters or father or mother^p or children or fields for my sake will receive a hundred times as much and will inherit eternal life. But many who are first will be last, and many who are last will be first.

DEATH FORETOLD THIRD TIME. ^{Mk}They were on their way up to Jerusalem, with Jesus leading the way, and the disciples were astonished, while those who followed were afraid. Again he took the Twelve aside and told them what was going to happen to him. "We are going up to Jerusalem," he said, "and the Son of Man will be betrayed to the chief priests and teachers of the law. They will condemn him to death and will hand him over to the Gentiles, who will mock him and spit on him, flog him and kill him. Three days later he will rise." ^{Lk}The disciples did not understand any of this. Its meaning was hidden from them, and they did not know what he was talking about.

REQUEST BY JAMES AND JOHN. ^{Mt}Then the mother of Zebedee's sons came to Jesus with her sons and, kneeling down, asked a favor of him.

"What is it you want?" he asked.

She said, "Grant that one of these two sons of mine may sit at your right and the other at your left in your kingdom." ^{Mk}Then James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came to him. "Teacher," they said, "we want you to do for us whatever we ask."

"What do you want me to do for you?" he asked.

They replied, "Let one of us sit at your right and the other at your left in your glory."

"You don't know what you are asking," Jesus said. "Can you drink the cup I drink or be baptized with the baptism I am baptized with?"

"We can," they answered.

Jesus said to them, "You will drink the cup I drink and be baptized with the baptism I am baptized with, but to sit at my right or left is not for me to grant. These places belong to those for whom they have been prepared."

JESUS TEACHES HUMILITY. When the ten heard about this, they became indignant with James and John. Jesus called them together and said, "You know that those who are regarded as rulers of the Gentiles lord it over them, and their high officials exercise authority over them. Not so with you. Instead, whoever wants to become great among you must be your servant, and whoever wants to be first must be slave of all. For even the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve, and to give his life as a ransom for many."

In Jericho

ZACCHAEUS RECEIVES JESUS. Jesus entered Jericho and was passing through. A man was there by the name of Zacchaeus; he was a chief tax collector and was wealthy. He wanted to see who Jesus was, but being a short man he could not, because of the crowd. So he ran ahead and climbed a sycamore-fig tree to see him, since Jesus was coming that way.

When Jesus reached the spot, he looked up and said to him, "Zacchaeus, come down immediately. I must stay at your house today." So he came down at once and welcomed him gladly.

All the people saw this and began to mutter, "He has gone to be the guest of a 'sinner.'"

But Zacchaeus stood up and said to the Lord, "Look, Lord! Here and now I give half of my possessions to the poor, and if I have cheated anybody out of anything, I will pay back four times the amount."

Jesus said to him, "Today salvation has come to this house, because this man, too, is a son of Abraham. For the Son of Man came to seek and to save what was lost."

BLIND BARTIMAEUS HEALED. ^{Mk} As Jesus and his disciples, together with a large crowd, were leaving the city, a blind man, Bartimaeus (that is, the Son of Timaeus), was sitting by the roadside begging. When he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to shout, "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!"

Many rebuked him and told him to be quiet, but he shouted all the more, "Son of David, have mercy on me!"

Jesus stopped and said, "Call him."

So they called to the blind man, "Cheer up! On your feet! He's calling you." Throwing his cloak aside, he jumped to his feet and came to Jesus.

"What do you want me to do for you?" Jesus asked him.

The blind man said, "Rabbi, I want to see."

"Go," said Jesus, "your faith has healed you." ^{Lk} Immediately he received his sight and followed Jesus, praising God. When all the people saw it, they also praised God.

PARABLE OF THE TEN MINAS. While they were listening to this, he went on to tell them a parable, because he was near Jerusalem and the people thought that the kingdom of God was going to appear at once. He said: "A man of noble birth went to a distant country to have himself appointed king and then to return. So he called ten of his servants and gave them ten minas.^a 'Put this money to work,' he said, 'until I come back.'

Lk.
19:11-27

"But his subjects hated him and sent a delegation after him to say, 'We don't want this man to be our king.'

"He was made king, however, and returned home. Then he sent for the servants to whom he had given the money, in order to find out what they had gained with it.

"The first one came and said, 'Sir, your mina has earned ten more.'

"'Well done, my good servant!' his master replied. 'Because you have been trustworthy in a very small matter, take charge of ten cities.'

"The second came and said, 'Sir, your mina has earned five more.'

"His master answered, 'You take charge of five cities.'

"Then another servant came and said, 'Sir, here is your mina; I have kept it laid away in a piece of cloth. I was afraid of you, because you are a hard man. You take out what you did not put in and reap what you did not sow.'

"His master replied, 'I will judge you by your own words, you wicked servant! You knew, did you, that I am a hard man, taking out what I did not put in, and reaping what I did not sow? Why then didn't you put my money on deposit, so that when I came back, I could have collected it with interest?'

"Then he said to those standing by, 'Take his mina away from him and give it to the one who has ten minas.'

"'Sir,' they said, 'he already has ten!'

"He replied, 'I tell you that to everyone who has, more will be given, but as for the one who has nothing, even what he has will be taken away. But those enemies of mine who did not want me to be king over them—bring them here and kill them in front of me.'"

TRAVELING TOWARD JERUSALEM. After Jesus had said this, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.

Lk. 19:28

ARREST PLANNED FOR PASSOVER. When it was almost time for the Jewish Passover, many went up from the country to Jerusalem for their ceremonial cleansing before the Passover. They kept looking for Jesus, and as they stood in the temple area they asked one another, "What do you think? Isn't he coming to the Feast at all?" But the chief priests and Pharisees had given orders that if anyone found out where Jesus was, he should report it so that they might arrest him.

MARY ANOINTS JESUS. ^{Jn} Six days before the Passover, Jesus arrived at Bethany, where Lazarus lived, whom Jesus had raised from the dead. Here [^{Mt} in the home of a man known as Simon the Leper] a dinner was given in Jesus' honor. Martha served, while Lazarus was among those reclining at the table with him. Then Mary took about a pint^r of pure nard, an expensive perfume; she poured it on Jesus' feet and wiped his feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the fragrance of the perfume.

But one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, who was later to betray him, objected, "Why wasn't this perfume sold and the money given to the poor? It was worth a year's wages.^s" He did not say this because he cared about the poor but because he was a thief; as keeper of the money bag, he used to help himself to what was put into it.

"Leave her alone," Jesus replied. "It was intended that she should save this perfume for the day of my burial. You will always have the poor among you, but you will not always have me."^{mk} I tell you the truth, wherever the gospel is preached throughout the world, what she has done will also be told, in memory of her."

PLOT TO KILL LAZARUS. Meanwhile a large crowd of Jews found out that Jesus was there and came, not only because of him but also to see Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead. So the chief priests made plans to kill Lazarus as well, for on account of him many of the Jews were going over to Jesus and putting their faith in him.

The Triumphant Entry—Sunday _____

It is late March and the Feast of the Passover is near. The time has come for Jesus to be delivered up. No Jewish feast is more important to the people, and no feast could be more appropriate for the culmination of Jesus' life and ministry. Passover comes at the beginning of the Feast of Unleavened Bread, which lasts for seven days. It commemorates the exodus of the people of ancient Israel from their captivity in Egypt. On the Passover, the paschal lamb is slain, just as it was at the beginning of the exodus, at which time its blood was sprinkled over the doors of the Israelites. When death passed over Egypt and the firstborn of each household was killed, God spared only those households whose doors were covered by the blood. As the perfect Lamb of God, Jesus himself is about to be slain for the salvation of all who would recognize and accept the power in his blood.

Even as Jesus approaches Jerusalem, his enemies are plotting his death. But the suffering will not come until Jesus has entered the city in triumph. Riding on a lowly colt, Jesus is met by multitudes who shout praise to God for having sent this "great prophet" in whom they now believe. Jesus knows, however, that most of them still do not understand the true nature of his messiahship and deity, and that there are many more who still do not believe in him at all. As Jesus is now given the greatest welcome of his ministry, his enemies fear his popularity and let him have his day of glory.

CROWD GOES TO MEET JESUS. The next day the great crowd that had come for the Feast heard that Jesus was on his way to Jerusalem. They took palm branches and went out to meet him, shouting,

"Hosanna! "

"Blessed is the King of Israel!"

JESUS SENDS FOR COLT. ^{Lk} As he approached Bethphage and Bethany at the hill called the Mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples, saying to them, "Go to the village ahead of you, and as you enter it, you will find a colt tied there, which no one has ever ridden. Untie it and bring it here. If anyone asks you, 'Why are you untying it?' tell him, 'The Lord needs it.'" ^{Mt} This took place to fulfill what was spoken through the prophet:

Mt. 21:1-7
Mk. 11:1-7
Lk.
19:29-35
Jn.
12:14-16

"Say to the Daughter of Zion,
 'See, your king comes to you,
gentle and riding on a donkey,
 on a colt, the foal of a donkey.'" ^v

^{Jn} At first his disciples did not understand all this. Only after Jesus was glorified did they realize that these things had been written about him and that they had done these things to him. ^{Mk} They went and found a colt outside in the street, tied at a doorway. As they untied it, some people standing there asked, "What are you doing, untying that colt?" They answered as Jesus had told them to, and the people let them go. When they brought the colt to Jesus and threw their cloaks over it, he sat on it.

JESUS ENTERS JERUSALEM. ^{Lk} When he came near the place where the road goes down the Mount of Olives, the whole crowd of disciples began joyfully to praise God in loud voices for all the miracles they had seen:

"Peace in heaven and glory in the highest!"

Some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to Jesus, "Teacher, rebuke your disciples!"

"I tell you," he replied, "if they keep quiet, the stones will cry out." ^{Mk} Many people spread their cloaks on the road, while others spread branches they had cut in the fields.

JESUS FORESEES DESTRUCTION. As he approached Jerusalem and saw the city, he wept over it and said, "If you, even you, had only known on this day what would bring you peace—but now it is hidden from your eyes. The days will come upon you when your enemies will build an embankment against you and encircle you and hem you in on every side. They will dash you to the ground, you and the children within your walls. They will not leave one stone on another, because you did not recognize the time of God's coming to you."

JESUS' POPULARITY RECOGNIZED. ^{Mt} When Jesus entered Jerusalem, the whole city was stirred and asked, "Who is this?"

Mt.
21:10,11
Jn.
12:17-19

The crowds answered, "This is Jesus, the prophet from Nazareth in Galilee." ^{Jn} Now the crowd that was with him when he called Lazarus from the tomb and raised him from the dead continued to spread the word. Many people, because they had heard that he had given this miraculous sign, went out to meet him. So the Pharisees said to one another, "See, this is getting us nowhere. Look how the whole world has gone after him!"

RETURN TO BETHANY. Jesus entered Jerusalem and went to the temple. He looked around at everything, but since it was already late, he went out to Bethany with the Twelve.

Final Week—Monday

On the next day Jesus' popularity is still at a high peak, and children sing his praises as if to thank him for his continual remembrance of them. In a contrasting mood of the day, Matthew, Mark, and Luke each record an incident almost identical to one recorded by John at the beginning of Jesus' ministry—that is, the throwing out of the temple merchants. If this is in fact a separate incident, it just may be that Jesus is taking this last opportunity to purify the temple. Enraged as they must be, the merchants and the money changers, like the religious leaders, fear the people and will bide their time.

Jesus now speaks freely of his pending crucifixion and makes a special effort to explain its purpose. There are many who still disbelieve, but, as John observes, even their disbelief is the fulfillment of prophecy.

Now Jesus leaves Bethany and places a curse on an unfruitful fig tree, an incident which he will later use to illustrate a lesson on the power of faith.

Mt. UNFRUITFUL FIG TREE. The next day as they were leaving Bethany, 21:18,19 Jesus was hungry. Seeing in the distance a fig tree in leaf, he went to find Mk. out if it had any fruit. When he reached it, he found nothing but leaves, 11:12-14 because it was not the season for figs. Then he said to the tree, "May no one ever eat fruit from you again." And his disciples heard him say it.

Mt. JESUS CLEANSSES TEMPLE. On reaching Jerusalem, Jesus entered the 21:12,13 temple area and began driving out those who were buying and selling Mk. there. He overturned the tables of the money changers and the benches 11:15-17 of those selling doves, and would not allow anyone to carry merchandise Lk. through the temple courts. And as he taught them, he said, "Is it not 19:45,46 written: At temple

" 'My house will be called a house of prayer for all nations'^x ?

But you have made it 'a den of robbers.'^y "

Mk. 11:18 PLOT DELAYED. ^{Mk}The chief priests and the teachers of the law heard Lk. this and began looking for a way to kill him, for they feared him, because 19:47,48 the whole crowd was amazed at his teaching. ^{Lk}Yet they could not find any way to do it, because all the people hung on his words.

Mt. CHILDREN PRAISE JESUS. The blind and the lame came to him at the 21:14-16 temple, and he healed them. But when the chief priests and the teachers of the law saw the wonderful things he did and the children shouting in the temple area, "Hosanna to the Son of David," they were indignant.

"Do you hear what these children are saying?" they asked him.

"Yes," replied Jesus, "have you never read,

" 'From the lips of children and infants you have ordained praise'^z ?"

Jn. PURPOSE OF DEATH. Now there were some Greeks among those who 12:20-26 went up to worship at the Feast. They came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, with a request. "Sir," they said, "we would like to see Jesus." Philip went to tell Andrew; Andrew and Philip in turn told Jesus.

^xIsaiah 56:7 ^yJer. 7:11 ^zPsalms 8:2

Jesus replied, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. I tell you the truth, unless a kernel of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains only a single seed. But if it dies, it produces many seeds. The man who loves his life will lose it, while the man who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life. Whoever serves me must follow me; and where I am, my servant also will be. My Father will honor the one who serves me.

FORETELLING CRUCIFIXION. "Now my heart is troubled, and what shall I say? 'Father, save me from this hour'? No, it was for this very reason I came to this hour. Father, glorify your name!"

Jn.
12:27-33

Then a voice came from heaven, "I have glorified it, and will glorify it again." The crowd that was there and heard it said it had thundered; others said an angel had spoken to him.

Jesus said, "This voice was for your benefit, not mine. Now is the time for judgment on this world; now the prince of this world will be driven out. But I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself." He said this to show the kind of death he was going to die.

CALL FOR WALKING IN LIGHT. The crowd spoke up, "We have heard from the Law that the Christ^a will remain forever, so how can you say, 'The Son of Man must be lifted up'? Who is this 'Son of Man'?"

Jn.
12:34-36

Then Jesus told them, "You are going to have the light just a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, before darkness overtakes you. The man who walks in the dark does not know where he is going. Put your trust in the light while you have it, so that you may become sons of light." When he had finished speaking, Jesus left and hid himself from them.

RETURN TO BETHANY. When evening came, they^b went out of the city.

Final Week—Tuesday Morning

Tuesday comes as a day of great confrontation with the religious leaders assembled in Jerusalem. By way of parables, Jesus points out that the leaders' predecessors have always rejected God's messengers and that now they themselves are rejecting even the Son of God. This obviously angers the Pharisees, and they attempt to trap Jesus into making some statement by which they can have him arrested. His answer takes them by surprise, and they are left with no basis for a charge.

The Pharisees are then joined in their questioning by the Sadducees. Although the Sadducees often clash politically and religiously with the Pharisees, the Sadducees are equally threatened by Jesus' teaching. So they are willing to join with the Pharisees to rid themselves of this Galilean troublemaker. Since the Sadducees deny any resurrection from the dead, it is only natural that they try to catch Jesus by posing a potentially embarrassing hypothetical situation concerning any supposed life after death. To their dismay Jesus, as the Son of God, once again responds with superior spiritual insight.

When the Pharisees question Jesus concerning the greatest commandment, he delivers a response that goes to the heart of his message and ministry. He then sharply chastises both sects for having failed to grasp the true meaning of worship and service before God. Observing a widow contributing all that she has—although it is only a small coin—Jesus points to her as an example of true spirituality.

Mt. LESSON FROM FIG TREE. ^{Mk}In the morning, as they went along, they saw the fig tree withered from the roots. Peter remembered and said to Jesus, "Rabbi, look! The fig tree you cursed has withered!" ^{Mt}When the disciples saw this, they were amazed. "How did the fig tree wither so quickly?" they asked.

Jesus replied, "I tell you the truth, if you have faith and do not doubt, not only can you do what was done to the fig tree, but also you can say to this mountain, 'Go, throw yourself into the sea,' and it will be done. If you believe, you will receive whatever you ask for in prayer." ^{Mk}And when you stand praying, if you hold anything against anyone, forgive him, so that your Father in heaven may forgive you your sins.^c

Mt. JESUS' AUTHORITY QUESTIONED. They arrived again in Jerusalem, and while Jesus was walking in the temple courts, the chief priests, the teachers of the law and the elders came to him. "By what authority are you doing these things?" they asked. "And who gave you authority to do this?"

21:23-27
Mk.

Lk. 20:1-8

Jesus replied, "I will ask you one question. Answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I am doing these things. John's baptism—was it from heaven, or from men? Tell me!"

They discussed it among themselves and said, "If we say, 'From heaven,' he will ask, 'Then why didn't you believe him?' But if we say, 'From men'. . . ." (They feared the people, for everyone held that John really was a prophet.)

So they answered Jesus, "We don't know."

Jesus said, "Neither will I tell you by what authority I am doing these things."

Mt. PARABLE OF TWO SONS. "What do you think? There was a man who had two sons. He went to the first and said, 'Son, go and work today in the vineyard.'

"I will not," he answered, but later he changed his mind and went.

"Then the father went to the other son and said the same thing. He answered, 'I will, sir,' but he did not go.

"Which of the two did what his father wanted?"

"The first," they answered.

Jesus said to them, "I tell you the truth, the tax collectors and the prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God ahead of you. For John came to you to show you the way of righteousness, and you did not believe him, but the tax collectors and the prostitutes did. And even after you saw this, you did not repent and believe him.

^cSome manuscripts sins. ^bBut if you do not forgive, neither will your Father who is in heaven forgive your sins.

PARABLE OF MURDEROUS TENANTS. ^{Mk} He then began to speak to them in parables: "A man planted a vineyard. He put a wall around it, dug a pit for the winepress and built a watchtower. Then he rented the vineyard to some farmers and went away on a journey. At harvest time he sent a servant to the tenants to collect from them some of the fruit of the vineyard. But they seized him, beat him and sent him away empty-handed. Then he sent another servant to them; they struck this man on the head and treated him shamefully. He sent still another, and that one they killed. He sent many others; some of them they beat, others they killed.

Mt.
21:33-41
Mk. 12:1-9
Lk. 20:9-16

"He had one left to send, a son, whom he loved. He sent him last of all, saying, 'They will respect my son.'

"But the tenants said to one another, 'This is the heir. Come, let's kill him, and the inheritance will be ours.' So they took him and killed him, and threw him out of the vineyard.

"What then will the owner of the vineyard do? He will come and kill those tenants and give the vineyard to others.

^{Lk}When the people heard this, they said, "May this never be!"

THE REJECTED STONE. Jesus said to them, "Have you never read in the Scriptures:

Mt.
21:42-44
Mk.
12:10,11
Lk.
20:17,18

and it is marvelous in our eyes^e ?

"Therefore I tell you that the kingdom of God will be taken away from you and given to a people who will produce its fruit. He who falls on this stone will be broken to pieces, but he on whom it falls will be crushed."^f

RELIGIOUS LEADERS ANGERED. When the chief priests and the Pharisees heard Jesus' parables, they knew he was talking about them. They looked for a way to arrest him, but they were afraid of the crowd because the people held that he was a prophet.

PARABLE OF WEDDING BANQUET. Jesus spoke to them again in parables, saying: "The kingdom of heaven is like a king who prepared a wedding banquet for his son. He sent his servants to those who had been invited to the banquet to tell them to come, but they refused to come.

Mt. 22:1-14

"Then he sent some more servants and said, 'Tell those who have been invited that I have prepared my dinner: My oxen and fattened cattle have been butchered, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding banquet.'

"But they paid no attention and went off—one to his field, another to his business. The rest seized his servants, mistreated them and killed them. The king was enraged. He sent his army and destroyed those murderers and burned their city.

"Then he said to his servants, 'The wedding banquet is ready, but those I invited did not deserve to come. Go to the street corners and invite to the banquet anyone you find.' So the servants went out into the streets and gathered all the people they could find, both good and bad, and the wedding hall was filled with guests.

"But when the king came in to see the guests, he noticed a man there who was not wearing wedding clothes. 'Friend,' he asked, 'how did you get in here without wedding clothes?' The man was speechless.

LEADERS ASK ABOUT TAXES. ^{Mt} Then the Pharisees went out and laid plans to trap him in his words. They sent their disciples to him along with the Herodians . . . ^{Lk} spies, who pretended to be honest. They hoped to catch Jesus in something he said so that they might hand him over to the power and authority of the governor. So the spies questioned him: "Teacher, we know that you speak and teach what is right, and that you do not show partiality but teach the way of God in accordance with the truth. Is it right for us to pay taxes to Caesar or not?"

He saw through their duplicity and said to them, "Show me a denarius. Whose portrait and inscription are on it?"

"Caesar's," they replied.

He said to them, "Then give to Caesar what is Caesar's, and to God what is God's."

They were unable to trap him in what he had said there in public. And astonished by his answer, they became silent.

RESURRECTION QUESTIONED. That same day the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection, came to him with a question. "Teacher," they said, "Moses told us that if a man dies without having children, his brother must marry the widow and have children for him. Now there were seven brothers among us. The first one married and died, and since he had no children, he left his wife to his brother. The same thing happened to the second and third brother, right on down to the seventh. Finally, the woman died. Now then, at the resurrection, whose wife will she be of the seven, since all of them were married to her?"

Jesus replied, "You are in error because you do not know the Scriptures or the power of God. At the resurrection people will neither marry nor be given in marriage; they will be like the angels in heaven. But about the resurrection of the dead—have you not read what God said to you, 'I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob's'? He is not the God of the dead but of the living."

When the crowds heard this, they were astonished at his teaching.

THE GREATEST COMMANDMENT. One of the teachers of the law came and heard them debating. Noticing that Jesus had given them a good answer, he asked him, "Of all the commandments, which is the most important?"

"The most important one," answered Jesus, "is this: 'Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God, the Lord is one.^h Love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your mind and with all your strength.'ⁱ The second is this: 'Love your neighbor as yourself.'^j There is no commandment greater than these."

"Well said, teacher," the man replied. "You are right in saying that God is one and there is no other but him. To love him with all your heart, with all your understanding and with all your strength, and to love your neighbor as yourself is more important than all burnt offerings and sacrifices."

When Jesus saw that he had answered wisely, he said to him, "You are not far from the kingdom of God."

JESUS ASKS ABOUT ANCESTRY. ^{Mt} While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, "What do you think about the Christ^k? Whose son is he?"

"The son of David," they replied.

He said to them, "How is it then that David, speaking by the Spirit, calls him 'Lord'? For he says,

"The Lord said to my Lord:
"Sit at my right hand
until I put your enemies
under your feet."'^l

If then David calls him 'Lord,' how can he be his son?"

^{Mt} The large crowd listened to him with delight. ^{Mt} No one could say a word in reply, and from that day on no one dared to ask him any more questions.

SELF-RIGHTEOUSNESS CONDEMNED. Then Jesus said to the crowds and to his disciples: "The teachers of the law and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat. So you must obey them and do everything they tell you. But do not do what they do, for they do not practice what they preach. They tie up heavy loads and put them on men's shoulders, but they themselves are not willing to lift a finger to move them.

"Everything they do is done for men to see: They make their phylacteries^m wide and the tassels on their garments long; they love the place of honor at banquets and the most important seats in the synagogues; they love to be greeted in the marketplaces and to have men call them 'Rabbi.'

"But you are not to be called 'Rabbi,' for you have only one Master and you are all brothers. And do not call anyone on earth 'father,' for you have one Father, and he is in heaven. Nor are you to be called 'teacher,' for you have one Teacher, the Christ.^k The greatest among you will be your servant. For whoever exalts himself will be humbled, and whoever humbles himself will be exalted.

FALSE RELIGION CONDEMNED. "Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You shut the kingdom of heaven in men's faces. You yourselves do not enter, nor will you let those enter who are trying to."

"Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You travel over land and sea to win a single convert, and when he becomes one, you make him twice as much a son of hell as you are.

LEGALISM CONDEMNED. "Woe to you, blind guides! You say, 'If anyone swears by the temple, it means nothing; but if anyone swears by the gold of the temple, he is bound by his oath.' You blind fools! Which is greater: the gold, or the temple that makes the gold sacred? You also PERSECUTION CONDEMNED. "Woe to you, teachers of the law and Pharisees, you hypocrites! You build tombs for the prophets and decorate the graves of the righteous. And you say, 'If we had lived in the days of our forefathers, we would not have taken part with them in shedding the blood of the prophets.' So you testify against yourselves that you are the descendants of those who murdered the prophets. Fill up, then, the measure of the sin of your forefathers!

"You snakes! You brood of vipers! How will you escape being condemned to hell? Therefore I am sending you prophets and wise men and teachers. Some of them you will kill and crucify; others you will flog in your synagogues and pursue from town to town. widow has put more into the treasury than all the others. They all gave out of their wealth; but she, out of her poverty, put in everything—all she had to live on.”

Discourse on Future Events

At the end of this indicting exposé, Jesus and his disciples make their way out of the temple. When one of the disciples comments on the beauty of the temple and its stones, Jesus makes the cryptic observation that there will come a time when the temple will be destroyed. Jesus and his disciples then go to the Mount of Olives, just outside the city. Peter, Andrew, James, and John come to Jesus privately, wanting to know more about the temple’s destruction, the signs of his coming, and the end of the age. From their Jewish apocalyptic perspective, they apparently anticipate that the end of the age will coincide with Jesus’ imminent political ascendancy. Even now, they misunderstand the nature of his kingdom. Like many of the ancient prophecies, Jesus’ answer has been the source of much discussion.

There is general agreement regarding Jesus’ reference to the destruction of the temple. In retrospect, it is known that only 40 years later, in A.D. 70, the Roman legions laid siege to Jerusalem, thoroughly sacking it and completely destroying the temple. Most would agree that Jesus describes events which precede that destruction. Some feel that Jesus’ entire discourse is made with reference to Jerusalem’s destruction by the Romans, while others see in it additional apocalyptic prophecy concerning future events. Still others view it as one prophecy having a dual significance.

In order to underscore the need for watchfulness, faithfulness, and spiritual readiness, Jesus will conclude his prophecies by telling two parables and describing the final judgment.

TEMPLE TO BE DESTROYED. As he was leaving the temple, one of his disciples said to him, “Look, Teacher! What massive stones! What magnificent buildings!”

“Do you see all these great buildings?” replied Jesus. “Not one stone here will be left on another; every one will be thrown down.”

DISCIPLES ASK QUESTIONS. ^{Mk} As Jesus was sitting on the Mount of Olives opposite the temple, Peter, James, John and Andrew asked him privately, ^{Mt} “Tell us,” they said, “when will this happen, and what will be the sign of your coming and of the end of the age?”

JESUS TELLS OF SIGNS. ^{Mt} Jesus answered: “Watch out that no one deceives you. For many will come in my name, claiming, ‘I am the Christ,’ and will deceive many. You will hear of wars and rumors of wars, but see to it that you are not alarmed. Such things must happen, but the end is still to come. Nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines and earthquakes in various places. All these are the beginning of birth pains. ^{Mk} “You must be on your guard. gogues. On account of me you will stand before governors and kings as witnesses to them. And the gospel must first be preached to all nations. Whenever you are arrested and brought to trial, do not worry beforehand about what to say. Just say whatever is given you at the time, for it is not you speaking, but the Holy Spirit.

“Brother will betray brother to death, and a father his child. Children will rebel against their parents and have them put to death. ^MBecause of the increase of wickedness, the love of most will grow cold, . . . ^{Mk}All men will hate you because of me, but he who stands firm to the end will be saved. ^MAnd this gospel of the kingdom will be preached in the whole world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.

“So when you see standing in the holy place ‘the abomination that causes desolation,’^s spoken of through the prophet Daniel—let the reader understand— then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains. Let no one on the roof of his house go down to take anything out of the house. Let no one in the field go back to get his cloak. ^{Lk}“When you see Jerusalem being surrounded by armies, you will know that its desolation is near. Then let those who are in Judea flee to the mountains, let those in the city get out, and let those in the country not enter the city. For this is the time of punishment in fulfillment of all that has been written. ^MHow dreadful it will be in those days for pregnant women and nursing mothers! Pray that your flight will not take place in winter or on the Sabbath. For then there will be great distress, unequaled from the beginning of the world until now—and never to be equaled again. ^{Lk}There will be great distress in the land and wrath against this people. They will fall by the sword and will be taken as prisoners to all the nations. Jerusalem will be trampled on by the Gentiles until the times of the Gentiles are fulfilled. ^MIf those days had not been cut short, no one would survive, but for the sake of the elect those days will be shortened. At that time if anyone says to you, ‘Look, here is the Christ!’ or, ‘There he is!’ do not believe it. For false Christs and false prophets will appear and perform great signs and miracles to deceive even the elect—if that were possible. See, I have told you ahead of time.

“So if anyone tells you, ‘There he is, out in the desert,’ do not go out; or, ‘Here he is, in the inner rooms,’ do not believe it. For as lightning that comes from the east is visible even in the west, so will be the coming of the Son of Man. Wherever there is a carcass, there the vultures will gather.

“Immediately after the distress of those days

“ ‘the sun will be darkened,
and the moon will not give its light;
the stars will fall from the sky,
and the heavenly bodies will be shaken.’^t

“At that time the sign of the Son of Man will appear in the sky, and all the nations of the earth will mourn. They will see the Son of Man coming on the clouds of the sky, with power and great glory. And he will send his angels with a loud trumpet call, and they will gather his elect from the four winds, from one end of the heavens to the other. ^{Lk}“There will be signs in the sun, moon and stars. On the earth, nations will be in anguish and perplexity at the roaring and tossing of the sea. Men will faint from terror, apprehensive of what is coming on the world, for the heavenly bodies will be shaken. At that time they will see the Son of Man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. When these things begin to take place, stand up and lift up your heads, because your redemption is drawing near." ^{Mt} "Now learn this lesson from the fig tree: As soon as its twigs get tender and its leaves come out, you know that summer is near. Even so, when you see all these things, you know that it^u is near, right at the door. I tell you the truth, this generation^v will certainly not pass away until all these things have happened. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away.

EXACT TIMES UNKNOWN. "No one knows about that day or hour, not even the angels in heaven, nor the Son,^w but only the Father. As it was in the days of Noah, so it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. For in the days before the flood, people were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, up to the day Noah entered the ark; and they knew nothing about what would happen until the flood came and took them all away. That is how it will be at the coming of the Son of Man. Two men will be in the field; one will be taken and the other left. Two women will be grinding with a hand mill; one will be taken and the other left.

"Therefore keep watch, because you do not know on what day your Lord will come. But understand this: If the owner of the house had known at what time of night the thief was coming, he would have kept watch and would not have let his house be broken into. So you also must be ready, because the Son of Man will come at an hour when you do not expect him.

JESUS URGES WATCHFULNESS. ^{Lk} "Be careful, or your hearts will be weighed down with dissipation, drunkenness and the anxieties of life, and that day will close on you unexpectedly like a trap. For it will come upon all those who live on the face of the whole earth. Be always on the watch, and pray that you may be able to escape all that is about to happen, and that you may be able to stand before the Son of Man." ^{Mk} "It's like a man going away: He leaves his house and puts his servants in charge, each with his assigned task, and tells the one at the door to keep watch. ^{Mt} "Who then is the faithful and wise servant, whom the master has put in charge of the servants in his household to give them their food at the proper time? It will be good for that servant whose master finds him doing so when he returns. I tell you the truth, he will put him in charge of all his possessions. But suppose that servant is wicked and says to himself, 'My master is staying away a long time,' and he then begins to beat his fellow servants and to eat and drink with drunkards. The master of that servant will come on a day when he does not expect him and at an hour he is not aware of. He will cut him to pieces and assign him a place with the hypocrites, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. ^{Mk} "Therefore keep watch because you do not know when the owner of the house will come back—whether in the evening, or at midnight, or when the rooster crows, or at dawn. If he comes suddenly, do not let him find you sleeping. What I say to you, I say to everyone: 'Watch!' " bridegroom. Five of them were foolish and five were wise. The foolish ones took their lamps but did not take any oil with them. The wise, however, took oil in jars along with their lamps. The bridegroom was a long time in coming, and they all became drowsy and fell asleep.

"At midnight the cry rang out: 'Here's the bridegroom! Come out to meet him!'

"Then all the virgins woke up and trimmed their lamps. The foolish ones said to the wise, 'Give us some of your oil; our lamps are going out.'

"'No,' they replied, 'there may not be enough for both us and you. Instead, go to those who sell oil and buy some for yourselves.'

"But while they were on their way to buy the oil, the bridegroom arrived. The virgins who were ready went in with him to the wedding banquet. And the door was shut.

PARABLE OF TALENTS. "Again, it will be like a man going on a journey, who called his servants and entrusted his property to them. To one he gave five talents^x of money, to another two talents, and to another one talent, each according to his ability. Then he went on his journey. The man who had received the five talents went at once and put his money to work and gained five more. So also, the one with the two talents gained two more. But the man who had received the one talent went off, dug a hole in the ground and hid his master's money.

"After a long time the master of those servants returned and settled accounts with them. The man who had received the five talents brought the other five. 'Master,' he said, 'you entrusted me with five talents. See, I have gained five more.'

"His master replied, 'Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master's happiness!'

"The man with the two talents also came. 'Master,' he said, 'you entrusted me with two talents; see, I have gained two more.'

"His master replied, 'Well done, good and faithful servant! You have been faithful with a few things; I will put you in charge of many things. Come and share your master's happiness!'

"Then the man who had received the one talent came. 'Master,' he said, 'I knew that you are a hard man, harvesting where you have not sown and gathering where you have not scattered seed. So I was afraid and went out and hid your talent in the ground. See, here is what belongs to you.'

"His master replied, 'You wicked, lazy servant! So you knew that I harvest where I have not sown and gather where I have not scattered seed? Well then, you should have put my money on deposit with the bankers, so that when I returned I would have received it back with interest.'

"'Take the talent from him and give it to the one who has the ten talents. For everyone who has will be given more, and he will have an abundance. Whoever does not have, even what he has will be taken from him. And throw that worthless servant outside, into the darkness, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth.'

^xA talent was worth more than a thousand dollars.

CONCERNING LAST JUDGMENT. "When the Son of Man comes in his glory, and all the angels with him, he will sit on his throne in heavenly glory. All the nations will be gathered before him, and he will separate the people one from another as a shepherd separates the sheep from the goats. He will put the sheep on his right and the goats on his left.

Mt.
25:31-46

"Then the King will say to those on his right, 'Come, you who are blessed by my Father; take your inheritance, the kingdom prepared for you since the creation of the world. For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink, I was a stranger and you invited me in, I needed clothes and you clothed me, I was sick and you looked after me, I was in prison and you came to visit me.'

"Then the righteous will answer him, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry and feed you, or thirsty and give you something to drink? When did we see you a stranger and invite you in, or needing clothes and clothe you? When did we see you sick or in prison and go to visit you?'

"The King will reply, 'I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did for me.'

"Then he will say to those on his left, 'Depart from me, you who are cursed, into the eternal fire prepared for the devil and his angels. For I was hungry and you gave me nothing to eat, I was thirsty and you gave me nothing to drink, I was a stranger and you did not invite me in, I needed clothes and you did not clothe me, I was sick and in prison and you did not look after me.'

"They also will answer, 'Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty or a stranger or needing clothes or sick or in prison, and did not help you?'

"He will reply, 'I tell you the truth, whatever you did not do for one of the least of these, you did not do for me.'

"Then they will go away to eternal punishment, but the righteous to eternal life."

Final Week—Tuesday Afternoon _____

As the long day of confrontation and teaching comes to an end, Jesus tells his disciples that his death is only two days away. Already the chief priests and elders are conspiring against him in the palace of the high priest. Aware that the feast is almost upon them, the conspirators are anxious to have Jesus killed before that time. Even as they plot how to snare Jesus, they are approached by Judas Iscariot, one of Christ's chosen disciples.

For his own reasons, Judas has decided to betray Jesus, and has therefore come to bargain with the members of the council. Of course they are delighted at this unexpected assistance. The amount agreed to is 30 pieces of silver (which at this time is the approximate price of a slave). It is not clear whether Judas knows fully the serious consequences of the betrayal. Later evidence indicates that he may not have anticipated that Jesus would actually die as a result. Be that as it may, Judas is apparently both covetous and dishonest—this despite the fact that he has been acting as a kind of treasurer for the disciples.

- Mt. 26:1,2 JESUS FORESEES CRUCIFIXION. When Jesus had finished saying all these things, he said to his disciples, "As you know, the Passover is two days away—and the Son of Man will be handed over to be crucified."

So they counted out for him thirty silver coins. ^{Lk} He consented, and watched for an opportunity to hand Jesus over to them when no crowd was present.

Final Week—Wednesday

The preceding events of this final week appear to be accounted for by the Gospel writers within the clear context of either Sunday, Monday, or Tuesday, just as they have been presented. The exact timing of what happens after those events, however, appears less certain. John in particular touches only lightly upon the events between Jesus' triumphant entry and the so-called "last supper" which Jesus shares with his disciples. Referring to various public reactions during that time, John notes that, despite Jesus' teaching and miraculous works, there are still many people who either disbelieve or are afraid to acknowledge their belief. Then John records what is apparently Jesus' last public appeal before his subsequent arrest. As there is no evidence that these events occurred on any of the prior three days, they are set forth here as occurring on Wednesday, though that time frame is only speculative.

Of far greater significance at this point is the chronology related to the last supper, Jesus' crucifixion, and his subsequent resurrection. Traditionally the last supper is believed to have occurred on Thursday evening, followed by the crucifixion on Friday afternoon and the resurrection on Sunday morning. However, such reckoning raises at least two questions. First, in an action-packed final week, what reason is there to believe that there would be a whole day of either actual inactivity or activity which is left unrecorded? Second, and far more important—if Jesus is crucified on Friday afternoon and thereafter hurriedly put into the tomb, how can there be sufficient time to match Jesus' own prediction that he would remain in the tomb for three days and three nights before being resurrected? Even if one stretches imagination within the traditional time frame in order to find parts of three days, it is not possible to find three nights.

The resolution of both questions appears to be found in recognizing that the last supper took place on Wednesday evening, followed by the crucifixion and burial on Thursday. Acceptance of that assumption requires an understanding of the Passover, the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and the way in which the Jews reckon time. As for the reckoning of time, the Jewish day begins at sunset on the previous evening. This means, for example, that our Wednesday night is actually Thursday, and our Thursday night is actually Friday.

Passover is observed on the 14th day of the month of Nisan, corresponding to March-April. As noted earlier, Passover is observed in commemoration of the deliverance of the ancient Israelites from their Egyptian bondage. The name derives from the "passing over" of the Israelites when death came to the firstborn of each Egyptian family. As part of that same commemoration, Passover is followed by the seven-day Feast of Unleavened Bread, which reminds the Jews of their forefathers' flight from Egypt, during which time the Israelites ate unleavened bread only. (It is common among the Jews of Jesus' day to refer to both celebrations by only one name, either as "Passover" or as the "Feast of Unleavened Bread.") By God's direction (Leviticus 23), a lamb is to be slaughtered late on the 14th day (Passover) and the Passover meal eaten that evening, which would be the beginning of the 15th day, the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread. The entire 15th day is then to be observed as a special Sabbath, or high holy day, regardless of the day of the week on which it might fall in any given year. (If the 15th day is a Friday, then both that Friday and the next day, Saturday, are observed as Sabbaths.)

With that background the picture begins to come clear. Matthew, Mark, and Luke record the disciples' preparation for the Passover on the first day of the Feast of Unleavened Bread on which the Passover lamb had to be sacrificed. That would place their preparations, then, at the beginning of the 14th day, which, of course, begins on the evening of the 13th day. (Among the preparations common on the evening of the 13th day is the removal of all leaven from the house.) Therefore it appears that the disciples assume they are preparing the upper room primarily for the special paschal meal which they expect to share with Jesus the following evening, and they apparently do not contemplate that the regular meal on the first night will in fact be their "last supper" with Jesus.

Although generally referring to the occasion as a part of the Passover celebration, Jesus seems to explain why it is important for him to eat with them on the night before the actual Passover meal. As will be seen, Jesus' words are: "I have eagerly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer. For I tell you, I will not eat it again until it finds fulfillment in the kingdom of God." In referring to his suffering, Jesus is obviously anticipating that his own sacrificial death will take place later that day, preventing him from participating in the actual Passover supper.

John's account eliminates any doubt that this supper occurred prior to the actual Passover meal. When Jesus tells Judas during the supper to do what he is about to do, some of the other disciples "thought Jesus was telling him to buy what was needed for the Feast." Furthermore, the Jews who have obtained Jesus' arrest will not enter Caiaphas' palace for fear that they will be ceremonially unclean, and therefore unable to eat the Passover. Most convincing is the fact that the day of Jesus' crucifixion is plainly stated to be "the day of Preparation of Passover Week"—the day on which the paschal lamb is slain for the Passover meal taken during the evening of that day.

The most meaningful result of moving away from the traditional time-frame is seeing how Jesus' crucifixion becomes the perfect "type" of the Passover Lamb. Under Hebrew law, the paschal lamb is chosen on the tenth day and then "kept up" until the 14th day, when it is sacrificed for the sins of the people. If Jesus' triumphant entry into Jerusalem is counted as the tenth day, Thursday would be the 14th day, and thus the day on which Jesus is crucified. Far more important than this possible parallel is the fact that Jesus, as the perfect Lamb of God, does not celebrate the Passover with some other ordinary sacrificial lamb, but rather becomes himself the Lamb who is slain—precisely at the appropriate hour!

There is therefore strong evidence that the last supper takes place on the evening prior to the Day of Preparation, which by modern reckoning would be Wednesday night. Proceeding upon that assumption, the events associated with this final Wednesday include not only Jesus' last public teaching, but also the account of Peter and John finding the upper room and making preparations for the Passover celebration.

Lk. 21:37,38
At temple

Jn. 12:37

JESUS TEACHES AT TEMPLE. Each day Jesus was teaching at the temple, and each evening he went out to spend the night on the hill called the Mount of Olives, and all the people came early in the morning to hear him at the temple.

MANY STILL DISBELIEVE. Even after Jesus had done all these miraculous signs in their presence, they still would not believe in him.

Jn. 12:38-41

DISBELIEF FULFILLS PROPHECY. This was to fulfill the word of Isaiah the prophet:

"Lord, who has believed our message and to whom has the arm of the Lord been revealed?"^v

For this reason they could not believe, because, as Isaiah says elsewhere:

"He has blinded their eyes and deadened their hearts,
so they can neither see with their eyes,
nor understand with their hearts,
nor turn—and I would heal them."^z

Isaiah said this because he saw Jesus' glory and spoke about him.

Jn. 12:42,43

SOME ARE AFRAID. Yet at the same time many even among the leaders believed in him. But because of the Pharisees they would not confess their faith for fear they would be put out of the synagogue; for they loved praise from men more than praise from God.

Jn. 12:44-50

FINAL PUBLIC APPEAL. Then Jesus cried out, "When a man believes in me, he does not believe in me only, but in the one who sent me. When he looks at me, he sees the one who sent me. I have come into the world as a light, so that no one who believes in me should stay in darkness. "As for the person who hears my words but does not keep them, I do not judge him. For I did not come to judge the world, but to save it. There is a judge for the one who rejects me and does not accept my words; that very word which I spoke will condemn him at the last day. For I did not speak of my own accord, but the Father who sent me commanded me what to say and how to say it. I know that his command leads to eternal life. So whatever I say is just what the Father has told me to say."

^vIsaiah 53:1 ^zIsaiah 6:10

DISCIPLES MAKE PREPARATIONS. Then came the day of Unleavened Bread on which the Passover lamb had to be sacrificed. Jesus sent Peter and John, saying, "Go and make preparations for us to eat the Passover."

"Where do you want us to prepare for it?" they asked.

He replied, "As you enter the city, a man carrying a jar of water will meet you. Follow him to the house that he enters, and say to the owner of the house, 'The Teacher asks: Where is the guest room, where I may eat the Passover with my disciples?' He will show you a large upper room, all furnished. Make preparations there."

They left and found things just as Jesus had told them. So they prepared the Passover.

The Upper Room

With the plot to kill Jesus taking its final form, and with the clamor for his life reaching a crescendo, an upper room in Jerusalem becomes the calm at the center of the storm. Here Jesus and his chosen disciples withdraw to themselves to await participation in the Passover Feast. Undoubtedly because Jesus has indicated that the coming of his kingdom is imminent, the apostles begin to discuss who among themselves is the greatest. Is it conceivable that, after having been with Jesus throughout his ministry, and having listened to all his teaching about the nature of the kingdom, his chosen 12 still have political aspirations for power and rank within an earthly kingdom? What must Jesus do to convince them otherwise? Taking on the role of a servant, Jesus begins to wash the feet of his disciples in order to teach them the need, not for power and position, but for humility and service to others.

As the supper progresses, Jesus takes the bread and wine and tells his disciples to partake of them as symbols of his body and blood, thereby instituting his special memorial and covenant with all his disciples. Then, as if to prepare for the sealing of that covenant, Jesus reveals Judas as his betrayer and sends him out to complete the betrayal, now near at hand.

What follows is a call for mutual love, not only because of the petty rivalries which continue to divide the disciples, but also because Jesus knows they will need each other's support in order to endure the challenges soon to come their way.

When Jesus tells them that he is going away, Peter replies that he wants to follow. And when Jesus responds that Peter cannot go with him at this time, Peter insists that, if necessary, he is willing to die for Jesus. Luke and John record the first of two warnings to Peter that he will deny Jesus before the coming of daylight. Matthew and Mark show that Jesus repeats the warning a little later in a different setting as the disciples make their way toward the Mount of Olives.

The events in the upper room begin now with Jesus expressing his love for his disciples.

- Lk. 22:14-16

IMPORTANCE OF OCCASION. When the hour came, Jesus and his apostles reclined at the table. And he said to them, "I have eagerly desired to eat this Passover with you before I suffer. For I tell you, I will not eat it again until it finds fulfillment in the kingdom of God."
- Mt. 26:26-29

INSTITUTION OF MEMORIAL. After taking the cup, he gave thanks and said, "Take this and divide it among you. For I tell you I will not drink again of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes."
And he took bread, gave thanks and broke it, and gave it to them, saying, "This is my body given for you; do this in remembrance of me."
In the same way, after the supper he took the cup, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood, which is poured out for you."
- Lk. 22:21,23
JESUS HINTS OF BETRAYER. But the hand of him who is going to betray me is with mine on the table. They began to question among themselves which of them it might be who would do this.
- Lk. 22:24-30
APOSTLES DISPUTE. Also a dispute arose among them as to which of them was considered to be greatest. Jesus said to them, "The kings of the Gentiles lord it over them; and those who exercise authority over them call themselves Benefactors. But you are not to be like that. Instead, the greatest among you should be like the youngest, and the one who rules like the one who serves. For who is greater, the one who is at the table or the one who serves? Is it not the one who is at the table? But I am among you as one who serves. You are those who have stood by me in my trials. And I confer on you a kingdom, just as my Father conferred one on me, so that you may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel."
- Jn. 13:1-5
JESUS WASHES APOSTLES' FEET. Jesus knew that the time had come for him to leave this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he now showed them the full extent of his love.^a
The evening meal was being served, and the devil had already prompted Judas Iscariot, son of Simon, to betray Jesus. Jesus knew that the Father had put all things under his power, and that he had come from God and was returning to God; so he got up from the meal, took off his outer clothing, and wrapped a towel around his waist. After that, he poured water into a basin and began to wash his disciples' feet, drying them with the towel that was wrapped around him.
- Jn. 13:6-11
PETER IS HESITANT. He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Lord, are you going to wash my feet?"
Jesus replied, "You do not realize now what I am doing, but later you will understand."
"No," said Peter, "you shall never wash my feet."
Jesus answered, "Unless I wash you, you have no part with me."
"Then, Lord," Simon Peter replied, "not just my feet but my hands and my head as well!"
Jesus answered, "A person who has had a bath needs only to wash his feet; his whole body is clean. And you are clean, though not every one

^aOr he loved them to the last of you." For he knew who was going to betray him, and that was why he said not every one was clean.

JESUS EXPLAINS WASHING. When he had finished washing their feet, he put on his clothes and returned to his place. "Do you understand what I have done for you?" he asked them. "You call me 'Teacher' and 'Lord,' and rightly so, for that is what I am. Now that I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also should wash one another's feet. I have set you an example that you should do as I have done for you. I tell you the truth, no servant is greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. Now that you know these things, you will be blessed if you do them.

After he had said this, Jesus was troubled in spirit and testified, "I tell you the truth, one of you is going to betray me."

Jesus replied, "The one who has dipped his hand into the bowl with me will betray me. The Son of Man will go just as it is written about him. But woe to that man who betrays the Son of Man! It would be better for him if he had not been born."^b His disciples stared at one another, at a loss to know which of them he meant. One of them, the disciple whom Jesus loved, was reclining next to him. Simon Peter motioned to this disciple and said, "Ask him which one he means."

Jn.
13:22-27a

Leaning back against Jesus, he asked him, "Lord, who is it?"

Jesus answered, "It is the one to whom I will give this piece of bread when I have dipped it in the dish." Then, dipping the piece of bread, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, son of Simon. As soon as Judas took the bread, Satan entered into him. ^{Mt}Then Judas, the one who would betray him, said, "Surely not I, Rabbi?"

Jesus answered, "Yes, it is you."^c

JESUS SENDS JUDAS OUT. "What you are about to do, do quickly," Jesus told him, but no one at the meal understood why Jesus said this to him. Since Judas had charge of the money, some thought Jesus was telling him to buy what was needed for the Feast, or to give something to the poor. As soon as Judas had taken the bread, he went out. And it was night.

PETER MAKES REQUEST. ^{1a} Simon Peter asked him, “Lord, where are you going?”

Jesus replied, “Where I am going, you cannot follow now, but you will follow later.”

Peter asked, “Lord, why can’t I follow you now? I will lay down my life for you.” ^{1b} “Simon, Simon, Satan has asked to sift you^c as wheat. But I have prayed for you, Simon, that your faith may not fail. And when you have turned back, strengthen your brothers.”

But he replied, “Lord, I am ready to go with you to prison and to death.”

Jesus answered, “I tell you, Peter, before the rooster crows today, you will deny three times that you know me.”

Jn. 14:1-4

JESUS TO PREPARE PLACE. “Do not let your hearts be troubled. Trust in God^d; trust also in me. In my Father’s house are many rooms; if it were not so, I would have told you. I am going there to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am. You know the way to the place where I am going.”

Jn. 14:5-7

THOMAS WANTS TO KNOW WAY. Thomas said to him, “Lord, we don’t know where you are going, so how can we know the way?”

Jesus answered, “I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me. If you really knew me, you would know^e my Father as well. From now on, you do know him and have seen him.”

Jn. 14:8-15

PHILIP WANTS TO SEE FATHER. Philip said, “Lord, show us the Father and that will be enough for us.”

Jesus answered: “Don’t you know me, Philip, even after I have been among you such a long time? Anyone who has seen me has seen the Father. How can you say, ‘Show us the Father’? Don’t you believe that I am in the Father, and that the Father is in me? The words I say to you are not just my own. Rather, it is the Father, living in me, who is doing his work. Believe me when I say that I am in the Father and the Father is in me; or at least believe on the evidence of the miracles themselves. I tell you the truth, anyone who has faith in me will do what I have been doing. He will do even greater things than these, because I am going to the Father. And I will do whatever you ask in my name, so that the Son may bring glory to the Father. You may ask me for anything in my name, and I will do it.

“If you love me, you will obey what I command.

Jn.
14:16-21

JESUS PROMISES HOLY SPIRIT. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Counselor to be with you forever— the Spirit of truth. The world cannot accept him, because it neither sees him nor knows him. But you know him, for he lives with you and will be^f in you. I will not leave you as orphans; I will come to you. Before long, the world will not see me anymore, but you will see me. Because I live, you also will live. On that day you will realize that I am in my Father, and you are in me, and I am in you. Whoever has my commands and obeys them, he is the one who loves me. He who loves me will be loved by my Father, and I too will love him and show myself to him."

JUDAS IS PUZZLED. Then Judas (not Judas Iscariot) said, "But, Lord, why do you intend to show yourself to us and not to the world?" Jn. 14:22-24

Jesus replied, "If anyone loves me, he will obey my teaching. My Father will love him, and we will come to him and make our home with him. He who does not love me will not obey my teaching. These words you hear are not my own; they belong to the Father who sent me."

JESUS PREDICTS RETURN. "All this I have spoken while still with you. But the Counselor, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, will teach you all things and will remind you of everything I have said to you. Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid." Jn. 14:25-31a

"You heard me say, 'I am going away and I am coming back to you.' If you loved me, you would be glad that I am going to the Father, for the Father is greater than I. I have told you now before it happens, so that when it does happen you will believe. I will not speak with you much longer, for the prince of this world is coming. He has no hold on me, but the world must learn that I love the Father and that I do exactly what my Father has commanded me."

FULFILLMENT OF PROPHECY. Then Jesus asked them, "When I sent you without purse, bag or sandals, did you lack anything?" Lk. 22:35-38

"Nothing," they answered.

He said to them, "But now if you have a purse, take it, and also a bag; and if you don't have a sword, sell your cloak and buy one. It is written: 'And he was numbered with the transgressors'; and I tell you that this must be fulfilled in me. Yes, what is written about me is reaching its fulfillment."

The disciples said, "See, Lord, here are two swords."

"That is enough," he replied.

Final Discourse

John alone records the final discourse of Jesus with his chosen disciples. It comes as Jesus and his disciples continue toward the Mount of Olives, just before they cross the Kidron Valley, which forms the eastern border of Jerusalem. Each word Jesus speaks reflects the burden which he feels in leaving these men to finish the work which he has begun. Jesus encourages them in their faith and promises that in his name they will perform great works. Again he calls them to mutual love in order to withstand the inevitable persecution which awaits them. Explaining the necessity of his going away, Jesus promises that they will not be left wholly on their own. Jesus reassures them that the Holy Spirit will be with them and will guide them in their mission.

After reminding them that joy will come from the sorrow they are about to bear, Jesus offers up a prayer. In that prayer Jesus asks first for glorification that his work on earth might be completed, then prays for the 11 disciples, and finally for all his disciples, that they might love one another and thereby be a continuing witness to the world.

The final discourse begins with an allegory about the vine and its branches as a lesson in fruitfulness through Christ.

Jn. 15:1-8 VINE AND BRANCHES. "I am the true vine, and my Father is the gardener. He cuts off every branch in me that bears no fruit, while every branch that does bear fruit he prunes^k so that it will be even more fruitful. You are already clean because of the word I have spoken to you. Remain in me, and I will remain in you. No branch can bear fruit by itself; it must remain in the vine. Neither can you bear fruit unless you remain in me.

"I am the vine; you are the branches. If a man remains in me and I in him, he will bear much fruit; apart from me you can do nothing. If anyone does not remain in me, he is like a branch that is thrown away and withers; such branches are picked up, thrown into the fire and burned. If you remain in me and my words remain in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be given you. This is to my Father's glory, that you bear much fruit, showing yourselves to be my disciples.

Jn. 15:9-17 TO LOVE ONE ANOTHER. "As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Now remain in my love. If you obey my commands, you will remain in my love, just as I have obeyed my Father's commands and remain in his love. I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be complete. My command is this: Love each other as I have loved you. Greater love has no one than this, that he lay down his life for his friends. You are my friends if you do what I command. I no longer call you servants, because a servant does not know his master's business. Instead, I have called you friends, for everything that I learned from my Father I have made known to you. You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit—fruit that will last. Then the Father will give you whatever you ask in my name. This is my command: Love each other.

^kThe Greek for prunes also means cleans.

PREPARATION FOR PERSECUTION. "If the world hates you, keep in mind that it hated me first. If you belonged to the world, it would love you as its own. As it is, you do not belong to the world, but I have chosen you out of the world. That is why the world hates you. Remember the words I spoke to you: 'No servant is greater than his master.'¹ If they persecuted me, they will persecute you also. If they obeyed my teaching, they will obey yours also. They will treat you this way because of my name, for they do not know the One who sent me. If I had not come and spoken to them, they would not be guilty of sin. Now, however, they have no excuse for their sin. He who hates me hates my Father as well. If I had not done among them what no one else did, they would not be guilty of sin. But now they have seen these miracles, and yet they have hated both me and my Father. But this is to fulfill what is written in their Law: 'They hated me without reason.'^m

Jn.
15:18-16:4

"When the Counselor comes, whom I will send to you from the Father, the Spirit of truth who goes out from the Father, he will testify about me. And you also must testify, for you have been with me from the beginning. "All this I have told you so that you will not go astray. They will put you out of the synagogue; in fact, a time is coming when anyone who kills you will think he is offering a service to God. They will do such things because they have not known the Father or me. I have told you this, so that when the time comes you will remember that I warned you. I did not tell you this at first because I was with you.

NECESSITY OF GOING AWAY. "Now I am going to him who sent me, yet none of you asks me, 'Where are you going?' Because I have said these things, you are filled with grief. But I tell you the truth: It is for your good that I am going away. Unless I go away, the Counselor will not come to you; but if I go, I will send him to you. When he comes, he will convict the world of guiltⁿ in regard to sin and righteousness and judgment: in regard to sin, because men do not believe in me; in regard to righteousness, because I am going to the Father, where you can see me no longer; and in regard to judgment, because the prince of this world now stands condemned.

Jn. 16:5-11

HOLY SPIRIT'S GUIDANCE. "I have much more to say to you, more than you can now bear. But when he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth. He will not speak on his own; he will speak only what he hears, and he will tell you what is yet to come. He will bring glory to me by taking from what is mine and making it known to you. All that belongs to the Father is mine. That is why I said the Spirit will take from what is mine and make it known to you.

Jn.
16:12-15

DISCIPLES PERPLEXED. "In a little while you will see me no more, and then after a little while you will see me."

Jn.
16:16-18

Some of his disciples said to one another, "What does he mean by saying, 'In a little while you will see me no more, and then after a little while you will see me,' and 'Because I am going to the Father?'" They kept asking, "What does he mean by 'a little while'? We don't understand what he is saying."

JOY OUT OF SORROW. Jesus saw that they wanted to ask him about this, so he said to them, "Are you asking one another what I meant when ⁿOr will expose the guilt of the world

I said, 'In a little while you will see me no more, and then after a little while you will see me'? I tell you the truth, you will weep and mourn while the world rejoices. You will grieve, but your grief will turn to joy. A woman giving birth to a child has pain because her time has come; but when her baby is born she forgets the anguish because of her joy that a child is born into the world. So with you: Now is your time of grief, but I will see you again and you will rejoice, and no one will take away your joy. In that day you will no longer ask me anything. I tell you the truth, my Father will give you whatever you ask in my name. Until now you have not asked for anything in my name. Ask and you will receive, and your joy will be complete.

Jn. 16:25-28 SPEECH WILL BE MADE CLEAR. "Though I have been speaking figuratively, a time is coming when I will no longer use this kind of language but will tell you plainly about my Father. In that day you will ask in my name. I am not saying that I will ask the Father on your behalf. No, the Father himself loves you because you have loved me and have believed that I came from God. I came from the Father and entered the world; now I am leaving the world and going back to the Father."

Jn. 16:29-33 DISCIPLES EXPRESS BELIEF. Then Jesus' disciples said, "Now you are speaking clearly and without figures of speech. Now we can see that you know all things and that you do not even need to have anyone ask you questions. This makes us believe that you came from God."

"You believe at last!"^o Jesus answered. "But a time is coming, and has come, when you will be scattered, each to his own home. You will leave me all alone. Yet I am not alone, for my Father is with me.

"I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world."

Jn. 17:1-5 JESUS PRAYS FOR HIMSELF. After Jesus said this, he looked toward heaven and prayed:

"Father, the time has come. Glorify your Son, that your Son may glorify you. For you granted him authority over all people that he might give eternal life to all those you have given him. Now this is eternal life: that they may know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent. I have brought you glory on earth by completing the work you gave me to do. And now, Father, glorify me in your presence with the glory I had with you before the world began.

Jn. 17:6-19 JESUS PRAYS FOR DISCIPLES. "I have revealed you" to those whom you gave me out of the world. They were yours; you gave them to me and they have obeyed your word. Now they know that everything you have given me comes from you. For I gave them the words you gave me and they accepted them. They knew with certainty that I came from you, and they believed that you sent me. I pray for them. I am not praying for the world, but for those you have given me, for they are yours. All I have is yours, and all you have is mine. And glory has come to me through them. I will remain in the world no longer, but they are still in the world, and I am coming to you. Holy Father, protect them by the power of your name—the name you gave me—so that they may be one as we are one. While I was with them, I protected them and kept them safe by that name you gave me. None has been lost except the one doomed to destruction so that Scripture would be fulfilled.

"I am coming to you now, but I say these things while I am still in the world, so that they may have the full measure of my joy within them. I have given them your word and the world has hated them, for they are not of the world any more than I am of the world. My prayer is not that you take them out of the world but that you protect them from the evil one. They are not of the world, even as I am not of it. Sanctify^a them by the truth; your word is truth. As you sent me into the world, I have sent them into the world. For them I sanctify myself, that they too may be truly sanctified.

JESUS PRAYS FOR BELIEVERS. "My prayer is not for them alone. I pray also for those who will believe in me through their message, that all of them may be one, Father, just as you are in me and I am in you. May they also be in us so that the world may believe that you have sent me. I have given them the glory that you gave me, that they may be one as we are one: I in them and you in me. May they be brought to complete unity to let the world know that you sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me.

"Father, I want those you have given me to be with me where I am, and to see my glory, the glory you have given me because you loved me before the creation of the world.

"Righteous Father, though the world does not know you, I know you, and they know that you have sent me. I have made you known to them, and will continue to make you known in order that the love you have for me may be in them and that I myself may be in them."

Betrayal and Arrest

At the end of this parting discourse, there is little time remaining for solitude or reflection. The time of betrayal is near. Very soon now Judas will lead the officers of the chief priests to Jesus and betray him in the presence of the other apostles. So the stage is now set, and the arrest is soon to take place. As the hour of betrayal fast approaches, the record begins now with Jesus leading his disciples to an olive grove known as Gethsemane, on the Mount of Olives, just east of Jerusalem. As they arrive in the quiet garden, Jesus' heart is clearly heavy with the prospect of the events soon to take place. Taking Peter, James, and John beyond the others, Jesus goes still further to a quiet place alone, where he agonizes in prayer with the Father. And his aloneness during this critical time is all the more reinforced when three times Jesus returns to the disciples only to find them asleep.

TO GETHSEMANE. ^{Jn} When he had finished praying, Jesus left with his disciples and crossed the Kidron Valley. On the other side there was an olive grove, and he and his disciples went into it. ^{Mk} They went to a place called Gethsemane, and Jesus said to his disciples, "Sit here while I pray." He took Peter, James and John along with him, and he began to be deeply JUDAS BETRAYS JESUS. ^{Jn}Now Judas, who betrayed him, knew the place, because Jesus had often met there with his disciples. So Judas came to the grove, guiding a detachment of soldiers and some officials from the chief priests and Pharisees. They were carrying torches, lanterns and weapons. ^{Mk}Now the betrayer had arranged a signal with them: "The one I kiss is the man; arrest him and lead him away under guard." ^{Lk}He approached Jesus to kiss him, but Jesus asked him, "Judas, are you betraying the Son of Man with a kiss?" ^{Mk}Going at once to Jesus, Judas said, "Rabbi!" and kissed him.

DISCIPLES' SAFETY INSURED. Jesus, knowing all that was going to happen to him, went out and asked them, "Who is it you want?"

"Jesus of Nazareth," they replied.

"I am he," Jesus said. (And Judas the traitor was standing there with them.) When Jesus said, "I am he," they drew back and fell to the ground.

Again he asked them, "Who is it you want?"

And they said, "Jesus of Nazareth."

"I told you that I am he," Jesus answered. "If you are looking for me, then let these men go." This happened so that the words he had spoken would be fulfilled: "I have not lost one of those you gave me."^s

Trial Before Sanhedrin

Following Jesus' arrest, John records that Jesus is first taken before Annas, who had been high priest from A.D. 6-15, before being deposed by the Roman procurator Valerius Gratus. It appears that Annas continued to exercise great influence among the Jews, and so it is no surprise that Jesus is brought before him for questioning. Jesus is sent next to Annas' son-in-law, Caiaphas, who has served as high priest since A.D. 18. Caiaphas presides over the Sanhedrin (also known as The Council), which is the Jewish Supreme Court, composed of 71 elders drawn from among the chief priests and scribes. Some of the members of the Sanhedrin apparently join Caiaphas at his house in the late hours of the night in order to interrogate Jesus regarding his claims of messiahship. Then, as day breaks on Thursday morning, the entire council is called together in order to vote official condemnation.

Laced throughout the record of Jesus' trial before the Jewish leaders is a moving account of Peter's personal struggle with loyalty to Jesus. In the garden Peter had been characteristically impulsive in rushing to Jesus' defense. But now, as he comes to understand the seriousness of Jesus' arrest, Peter realizes his own potential jeopardy. When confronted with charges that he is one of Jesus' disciples, Peter weakens and denies any such association. On three separate occasions throughout this long night, and to a number of different accusers, Peter will make vehement and even profane denials in order to shield himself. His later feelings of remorse and his subsequent leadership in the establishment of the church will stand in clear contrast to Judas, who on this same day will be consumed by his guilt and take his own life.

JESUS LED TO ANNAS. They bound him and brought him first to Annas, who was the father-in-law of Caiaphas, the high priest that year. Caiaphas was the one who had advised the Jews that it would be good if one man died for the people.

He replied, "I am not."

JESUS BEFORE ANNAS. Meanwhile, the high priest questioned Jesus about his disciples and his teaching.

"I have spoken openly to the world," Jesus replied. "I always taught in synagogues or at the temple, where all the Jews come together. I said nothing in secret. Why question me? Ask those who heard me. Surely they know what I said."

When Jesus said this, one of the officials nearby struck him in the face. "Is this the way you answer the high priest?" he demanded.

"If I said something wrong," Jesus replied, "testify as to what is wrong. But if I spoke the truth, why did you strike me?"

But he denied it. "Woman, I don't know him," he said. ^{Mt} Then he went out to the gateway, where another girl saw him and said to the people there, "This fellow was with Jesus of Nazareth."

He denied it again, with an oath: "I don't know the man!" ^{Lk} A little later someone else saw him and said, "You also are one of them."

BEFORE CAIAPHAS AND COUNCIL. The chief priests and the whole Sanhedrin were looking for evidence against Jesus so that they could put him to death, but they did not find any. Many testified falsely against him, but their statements did not agree.

Then some stood up and gave this false testimony against him: "We heard him say, 'I will destroy this man-made temple and in three days will build another, not made by man.'" Yet even then their testimony did not agree.

Then the high priest stood up before them and asked Jesus, "Are you not going to answer? What is this testimony that these men are bringing against you?" But Jesus remained silent and gave no answer.

Again the high priest asked him, "Are you the Christ, the Son of the Blessed One?"

"I am," said Jesus. "And you will see the Son of Man sitting at the right hand of the Mighty One and coming on the clouds of heaven."

The high priest tore his clothes. "Why do we need any more witnesses?" he asked. "You have heard the blasphemy. What do you think?"

They all condemned him as worthy of death.

He replied, "You are right in saying I am."

Then they said, "Why do we need any more testimony? We have heard it from his own lips."^{Mt} Early in the morning, all the chief priests and the elders of the people came to the decision to put Jesus to death.

JUDAS COMMITS SUICIDE. When Judas, who had betrayed him, saw that Jesus was condemned, he was seized with remorse and returned the thirty silver coins to the chief priests and the elders. "I have sinned," he said, "for I have betrayed innocent blood."

Mt. 27:3-10

"What is that to us?" they replied. "That's your responsibility."

So Judas threw the money into the temple and left. Then he went away and hanged himself.

The chief priests picked up the coins and said, "It is against the law to put this into the treasury, since it is blood money." So they decided to use the money to buy the potter's field as a burial place for foreigners. That is why it has been called the Field of Blood to this day. Then what was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet was fulfilled: "They took the thirty silver coins, the price set on him by the people of Israel, and they used them to buy the potter's field, as the Lord commanded me."^w

Trial Before Pilate

The significance of what is about to happen can only be understood in the context of the political relationship between the Jews and their Roman rulers. The Jews have condemned Jesus to death on the basis of their own religious laws against blasphemy, in response to Jesus' claim to be the Son of God. But the Sanhedrin has no power to execute condemned prisoners without approval of the Roman government. Yet clearly such a pagan government will not regard a charge of blasphemy with the same degree of seriousness as do the Jews. Therefore more appropriate charges will have to be laid before the governor. Being politically astute, the Jewish leaders will accuse Jesus of sedition in allegedly urging refusal to pay taxes and in claiming to be the King of the Jews.

The man to hear these charges is the Roman procurator and governor, Pontius Pilate, who rules over Judea, Idumea, and Samaria. Pilate began his rule about the time John the Baptist began his ministry. Although his primary responsibility is that of financial administration and collection of taxes for the Roman Empire, Pilate is also burdened with the responsibility of approving and carrying out the execution of anyone sentenced to death by the people's own government—in this case the Sanhedrin. Pilate has a reputation for unprincipled capriciousness, and the manner in which he handles Jesus' case gives no reason to doubt the truth of that reputation. Apparently convinced of Jesus' innocence, Pilate initially takes every available step to avoid personal responsibility. He sends Jesus to Herod Antipas (beheader of John the Baptist), but Herod wants no part of it either. Pilate then tries to release Jesus, but the mob insists that a notorious insurrectionist by the name of Barabbas be released instead. When even a scourging of Jesus fails to placate the crowd, Pilate finally washes his hands of the matter and orders that Jesus be put to death.

Matthew's account begins the record of these tense hours as Jesus is first led to Pilate.

JESUS TAKEN TO PILATE. ^{Mt}They bound him, led him away and handed him over to Pilate, the governor. ^{Jn}By now it was early morning, and to avoid ceremonial uncleanness the Jews did not enter the palace; they wanted to be able to eat the Passover. So Pilate came out to them and asked, "What charges are you bringing against this man?"

"If he were not a criminal," they replied, "we would not have handed him over to you." ^{Lk}And they began to accuse him, saying, "We have found this man subverting our nation. He opposes payment of taxes to Caesar and claims to be Christ,^x a king." ^{Jn}Pilate said, "Take him yourselves and judge him by your own law."

"But we have no right to execute anyone," the Jews objected. This happened so that the words Jesus had spoken indicating the kind of death he was going to die would be fulfilled.

PILATE QUESTIONS JESUS. ^{Jn}Pilate then went back inside the palace, summoned Jesus and asked him, "Are you the king of the Jews?"

^xOr Messiah

"Is that your own idea," Jesus asked, "or did others talk to you about me?"

"Am I a Jew?" Pilate replied. "It was your people and your chief priests who handed you over to me. What is it you have done?"

Jesus said, "My kingdom is not of this world. If it were, my servants would fight to prevent my arrest by the Jews. But now my kingdom is from another place."

"You are a king, then!" said Pilate.

Jesus answered, "You are right in saying I am a king. In fact, for this reason I was born, and for this I came into the world, to testify to the truth. Everyone on the side of truth listens to me."

"What is truth?" Pilate asked. With this he went out again to the Jews and said, "I find no basis for a charge against him. ³⁰When he was accused by the chief priests and the elders, he gave no answer. Then Pilate asked him, "Don't you hear the testimony they are bringing against you?" But Jesus made no reply, not even to a single charge—to the great amazement of the governor.

PILATE SENDS JESUS TO HEROD. But they insisted, "He stirs up the people all over Judea³¹ by his teaching. He started in Galilee and has come all the way here." Lk. 23:5-7

On hearing this, Pilate asked if the man was a Galilean. When he learned that Jesus was under Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who was also in Jerusalem at that time.

JESUS BEFORE HEROD ANTIPAS. When Herod saw Jesus, he was greatly pleased, because for a long time he had been wanting to see him. From what he had heard about him, he hoped to see him perform some miracle. He plied him with many questions, but Jesus gave him no answer. The chief priests and the teachers of the law were standing there, vehemently accusing him. Then Herod and his soldiers ridiculed and mocked him. Dressing him in an elegant robe, they sent him back to Pilate. That day Herod and Pilate became friends—before this they had been enemies. Lk. 23:8-12

PILATE SEEKS TO RELEASE. Pilate called together the chief priests, the rulers and the people, and said to them, "You brought me this man as one who was inciting the people to rebellion. I have examined him in your presence and have found no basis for your charges against him. Neither has Herod, for he sent him back to us; as you can see, he has done nothing to deserve death. Therefore, I will punish him and then release him." Lk. 23:13-16

JESUS OR BARABBAS. Now it was the custom at the Feast to release a prisoner whom the people requested. A man called Barabbas was in prison with the insurrectionists who had committed murder in the uprising. The crowd came up and asked Pilate to do for them what he usually did. Mt. 27:15-18

They all answered, "Crucify him!"

"Why? What crime has he committed?" asked Pilate.

But they shouted all the louder, "Crucify him!" ^{Lk} Wanting to release Jesus, Pilate appealed to them again. But they kept shouting, "Crucify him! Crucify him!"

For the third time he spoke to them: "Why? What crime has this man committed? I have found in him no grounds for the death penalty. Therefore I will have him punished and then release him."

But with loud shouts they insistently demanded that he be crucified, and their shouts prevailed.

CROWN OF THORNS. ^{Jn} Then Pilate took Jesus and had him flogged. ^{Mt} Then the governor's soldiers took Jesus into the Praetorium and gathered the whole company of soldiers around him. They stripped him and put a scarlet robe on him, and then twisted together a crown of thorns and set it on his head. They put a staff in his right hand and knelt in front of him and mocked him. "Hail, king of the Jews!" they said. They spit on him, and took the staff and struck him on the head again and again.

PILATE PRESENTS JESUS. Once more Pilate came out and said to the Jews, "Look, I am bringing him out to you to let you know that I find no basis for a charge against him." When Jesus came out wearing the crown of thorns and the purple robe, Pilate said to them, "Here is the man!"

As soon as the chief priests and their officials saw him, they shouted, "Crucify! Crucify!"

But Pilate answered, "You take him and crucify him. As for me, I find no basis for a charge against him."

Jn. 19:7-11

JESUS QUESTIONED AGAIN. The Jews insisted, "We have a law, and according to that law he must die, because he claimed to be the Son of God."

When Pilate heard this, he was even more afraid, and he went back inside the palace. "Where do you come from?" he asked Jesus, but Jesus gave him no answer. "Do you refuse to speak to me?" Pilate said. "Don't you realize I have power either to free you or to crucify you?"

Jesus answered, "You would have no power over me if it were not given to you from above. Therefore the one who handed me over to you is guilty of a greater sin."

Jn.
19:12-15

PLAY ON PILATE'S LOYALTY. From then on, Pilate tried to set Jesus free, but the Jews kept shouting, "If you let this man go, you are no friend of Caesar. Anyone who claims to be a king opposes Caesar."

When Pilate heard this, he brought Jesus out and sat down on the judge's seat at a place known as the Stone Pavement (which in Aramaic is Gabbatha). It was the day of Preparation of Passover Week, about the sixth hour.

"Here is your king," Pilate said to the Jews.

But they shouted, "Take him away! Take him away! Crucify him!"

"Shall I crucify your king?" Pilate asked.

"We have no king but Caesar," the chief priests answered.

PILATE WASHES HANDS. When Pilate saw that he was getting nowhere, but that instead an uproar was starting, he took water and washed his hands in front of the crowd. "I am innocent of this man's blood," he said. "It is your responsibility!"

The Crucifixion of Jesus

It is sometime before noon when the procession reaches the outskirts of Jerusalem and the crowd gathers on a craggy little hill which is known as Golgotha—that is, The Skull. As Jesus is nailed to the wooden cross and lifted up, the scene below him becomes a strange mixture of emotions. On one hand he sees the bitter sorrow of his family and followers, and on the other hand he sees the carnival-like atmosphere of the soldiers and those who have demanded his death. As he awaits his death with increasing pain and agony, Jesus speaks briefly with one of the two robbers crucified with him. Then, seeing his mother, Mary, he directs John to care for her. By early afternoon the end is near. As unusual darkness covers the land, Jesus cries out his last words and gives up his spirit in death. The significance of the hour is marked by a series of miraculous events which fill the people with awe.

JESUS IS CRUCIFIED. ^{Lk} Two other men, both criminals, were also led out with him to be executed. When they came to the place called the Skull, there they crucified him, along with the criminals—one on his right, the other on his left. Jesus said, "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing."^b ^{Mk} Then they offered him wine mixed with myrrh, but he did not take it.
It was the third hour when they crucified him.

INSCRIPTION ON CROSS. Pilate had a notice prepared and fastened to the cross. It read: JESUS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE JEWS. Many of the Jews read this sign, for the place where Jesus was crucified was near the city, and the sign was written in Aramaic, Latin and Greek. The chief priests of the Jews protested to Pilate, "Do not write 'The King of the Jews,' but that this man claimed to be king of the Jews."
Pilate answered, "What I have written, I have written."

SOLDIERS CAST LOTS. When the soldiers crucified Jesus, they took his clothes, dividing them into four shares, one for each of them, with the undergarment remaining. This garment was seamless, woven in one piece from top to bottom.
"Let's not tear it," they said to one another. "Let's decide by lot who will get it."

This happened that the scripture might be fulfilled which said,

"They divided my garments among them and cast lots for my clothing."^c

So this is what the soldiers did.

CROWD MOCKS JESUS. ^{Mt} Those who passed by hurled insults at him, shaking their heads and saying, "You who are going to destroy the temple and build it in three days, save yourself! Come down from the cross, if you are the Son of God!"

In the same way the chief priests, the teachers of the law and the elders mocked him. "He saved others," they said, "but he can't save himself! He's the King of Israel! Let him come down now from the cross, and we will believe in him. He trusts in God. Let God rescue him now if he wants him, for he said, 'I am the Son of God.'" ^{Lk} The soldiers also came up and mocked him. They offered him wine vinegar and said, "If you are the king of the Jews, save yourself."

THIEF ASKS REMEMBRANCE. One of the criminals who hung there hurled insults at him: "Aren't you the Christ? Save yourself and us!"
But the other criminal rebuked him. "Don't you fear God," he said, "since you are under the same sentence? We are punished justly, for we are getting what our deeds deserve. But this man has done nothing wrong."

Then he said, "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom^d."

JESUS PROVIDES FOR MARY. Near the cross of Jesus stood his mother, his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene. When Jesus saw his mother there, and the disciple whom he loved standing nearby, he said to his mother, "Dear woman, here is your son," and to the disciple, "Here is your mother." From that time on, this disciple took her into his home.

Among them were Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James the younger and of Joses, and Salome. In Galilee these women had followed him and cared for his needs. Many other women who had come up with him to Jerusalem were also there. ^{Lk} When all the people who had gathered to witness this sight saw what took place, they beat their breasts and went away. JESUS IS PIERCED. Now it was the day of Preparation, and the next day was to be a special Sabbath. Because the Jews did not want the bodies left on the crosses during the Sabbath, they asked Pilate to have the legs broken and the bodies taken down. The soldiers therefore came and broke the legs of the first man who had been crucified with Jesus, and then those of the other. But when they came to Jesus and found that he was already dead, they did not break his legs. Instead, one of the soldiers pierced Jesus' side with a spear, bringing a sudden flow of blood and water. The Burial of Jesus

Even in Jesus' burial a remarkable story unfolds involving two men whose names will live throughout history: Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathea. That anyone outside Jesus' family would have sufficient courage to ask for his body would be curious enough. The real surprise, however, is that it should be a member of the very council which had called for Jesus' execution. Yet the record notes that Joseph of Arimathea, a respected member of the council, is also a believer, and it is he who will bury Jesus' body in his own tomb. Joseph will be aided by Nicodemus, the Pharisee and Jewish ruler who had come to Jesus by night asking how one is to be born again. Although the record of that visit did not disclose the result of their discussion, the happy ending is that apparently Nicodemus has become a believer. It is fitting, therefore, that two men whose lives have been so touched by Jesus should now express their gratitude in this final tribute.

JOSEPH ASKS FOR BODY. It was Preparation Day (that is, the day before the Sabbath). So as evening approached, Joseph of Arimathea, a prominent member of the Council, who was himself waiting for the kingdom of God, went boldly to Pilate and asked for Jesus' body. Pilate was surprised to hear that he was already dead. Summoning the centurion, he asked him if Jesus had already died. When he learned from the centurion that it was so, he gave the body to Joseph.

JESUS BURIED. ^hWith Pilate's permission, he came and took the body away. He was accompanied by Nicodemus, the man who earlier had visited Jesus at night. Nicodemus brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about seventy-five pounds.ⁱ Taking Jesus' body, the two of them wrapped it, with the spices, in strips of linen. This was in accordance with Jewish burial customs. ^mJoseph took the body, wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, and placed it in his own new tomb that he had cut out of the rock. ⁿBecause it was the Jewish day of Preparation and since the tomb was nearby, they laid Jesus there. ^mHe rolled a big stone in front of the entrance to the tomb and went away.

Otherwise, his disciples may come and steal the body and

"Take a guard," Pilate answered. "Go, make the tomb as secure as you know how." So they went and made the tomb secure by putting a seal on the stone and posting the guard.

Jesus' Resurrection and Appearances _____

The importance of Jesus' death is surpassed only by the good news of his resurrection! Jesus has prophesied that he will live again, and therefore his credibility is in jeopardy if he is now unable to demonstrate power over his own death. That very claim, and its obvious implications, has already prompted the Jewish leaders to demand a Roman guard at the tomb.

The events which follow are nothing short of marvelous. They not only confirm Jesus' credibility but also provide for believers the assurance of life after death. The drama of Jesus' reappearance unfolds with initial fear, amazement, and outright disbelief on the part of the disciples, but thereafter turns to both belief and joyous celebration. His reappearance is not merely an apparition from the spirit world. Jesus eats in their presence and invites them to touch the wounds where his hands were nailed to the cross. He appears not only in Jerusalem immediately after his resurrection but also later in Galilee. Jesus' appearance is no mere figment of their imagination. This is Jesus himself!

The Gospel writers begin their accounts of the resurrection as the stone sealing the tomb is rolled away. Several of the women come to the tomb early Sunday morning, only to find it empty. When angels at the tomb tell them that Jesus has been raised from the dead, the women react with both fear and joy. At that point the chronology of events becomes somewhat complex, but it appears that Mary Magdalene runs ahead of the other women to find Peter and John, who, upon being told of the body's disappearance, rush with Mary to the empty tomb. As Peter and John go away greatly perplexed, Jesus himself appears to Mary Magdalene there by the tomb, and then to the other women who are still on their way back from the tomb to tell of the resurrection. Of course Jesus' appearance to Mary and the other women gives them even more to tell about, but when the disciples hear it, they simply cannot bring themselves to believe it.

Although there is no direct record of it, apparently Jesus makes a special appearance to Peter sometime on Sunday. The other apostles make reference to that appearance as they are discussing the resurrection later that night with a disciple named Cleopas, to whom Jesus had appeared during the same day. Finally, on this day of resurrection, Jesus will be seen to appear to all the other apostles except for Thomas, who is not present at the time. Thomas' subsequent disbelief is dispelled a week later, when Jesus again appears to the apostles and Thomas views Jesus in person. The apostles will be with Jesus on several occasions, both in Jerusalem and further north in Galilee, before he gives them their apostolic commission and parting instructions.

Sense now the quietness and anticipation on the morning of this ultimate miracle—the resurrection of Jesus the Christ!

Mt. 28:2-4
(Sunday morning) STONE ROLLED AWAY. There was a violent earthquake, for an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and, going to the tomb, rolled back the stone and sat on it. His appearance was like lightning, and his clothes were white as snow. The guards were so afraid of him that they shook and became like dead men.

Jn. 20:1
At the tomb
(Sunday morning) WOMEN COME TO TOMB. When the Sabbath was over, Mary Magdalene, Mary the mother of James, and Salome bought spices so that they might go to anoint Jesus' body. Very early on the first day of the week, just after sunrise, they were on their way to the tomb and they asked each other, "Who will roll the stone away from the entrance of the tomb?" But when they looked up, they saw that the stone, which was very large, had been rolled away.

Mt. 28:5-7
Mk. 16:5-7 RESURRECTION ANNOUNCED. As they entered the tomb, they saw a young man dressed in a white robe sitting on the right side, and they were alarmed.

"Don't be alarmed," he said. "You are looking for Jesus the Nazarene, who was crucified. He has risen! He is not here. See the place where they laid him. But go, tell his disciples and Peter, 'He is going ahead of you into Galilee. There you will see him, just as he told you.'"

Lk. 24:4-8 WOMEN REMINDED OF PROPHECY. While they were wondering about this, suddenly two men in clothes that gleamed like lightning stood beside them. In their fright the women bowed down with their faces to the ground, but the men said to them, "Why do you look for the living among the dead? He is not here; he has risen! Remember how he told you, while he was still with you in Galilee: 'The Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, be crucified and on the third day be raised again.'" Then they remembered his words.

Mk. 16:8 WOMEN GO AWAY FEARFUL. Trembling and bewildered, the women went out and fled from the tomb. They said nothing to anyone, because they were afraid.

Jn. 20:2 PETER AND JOHN TOLD. So [Mary of Magdala] came running to Simon Peter and the other disciple, the one Jesus loved, and said, "They have taken the Lord out of the tomb, and we don't know where they have put him!"

Lk. 24:12
Jn. 20:3-10
At tomb PETER AND JOHN VIEW TOMB. So Peter and the other disciple started for the tomb. Both were running, but the other disciple outran Peter and reached the tomb first. He bent over and looked in at the strips of linen lying there but did not go in. Then Simon Peter, who was behind him, arrived and went into the tomb. He saw the strips of linen lying there, as well as the burial cloth that had been around Jesus' head. The cloth was folded up by itself, separate from the linen. Finally the other disciple, who had reached the tomb first, also went inside. He saw and believed. (They still did not understand from Scripture that Jesus had to rise from the dead.)

Then the disciples went back to their homes,

Mk. 16:9
Jn. 20:11-17 JESUS WITH MARY MAGDALENE. ^{Mk}[When Jesus rose early on the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had driven seven demons.]ⁿ Mary stood outside the tomb crying. As she wept, she bent over to look into the tomb and saw two angels in white, seated where Jesus' body had been, one at the head and the other at the foot.

They asked her, "Woman, why are you crying?"

"They have taken my Lord away," she said, "and I don't know where they have put him." At this, she turned around and saw Jesus standing there, but she did not realize that it was Jesus.

"Woman," he said, "why are you crying? Who is it you are looking for?"

Thinking he was the gardener, she said, "Sir, if you have carried him away, tell me where you have put him, and I will get him."

Jesus said to her, "Mary."

She turned toward him and cried out in Aramaic, "Rabboni!" (which means Teacher).

Jesus said, "Do not hold on to me, for I have not yet returned to the Father. Go instead to my brothers and tell them, 'I am returning to my Father and your Father, to my God and your God.'"

JESUS APPEARS TO WOMEN. So the women hurried away from the tomb, afraid yet filled with joy, and ran to tell his disciples. Suddenly Jesus met them. "Greetings," he said. They came to him, clasped his feet and worshiped him. Then Jesus said to them, "Do not be afraid. Go and tell my brothers to go to Galilee; there they will see me."

Mt. 28:8-10

CHIEF PRIESTS COVER UP. While the women were on their way, some of the guards went into the city and reported to the chief priests everything that had happened. When the chief priests had met with the elders and devised a plan, they gave the soldiers a large sum of money, telling them, "You are to say, 'His disciples came during the night and stole him away while we were asleep.' If this report gets to the governor, we will satisfy him and keep you out of trouble." So the soldiers took the money and did as they were instructed. And this story has been widely circulated among the Jews to this very day.

Mt.
28:11-15

WOMEN TELL OF APPEARANCE. When they came back from the tomb, they told all these things to the Eleven and to all the others. It was Mary Magdalene, Joanna, Mary the mother of James, and the others with them who told this to the apostles. But they did not believe the women, because their words seemed to them like nonsense.

"What things?" he asked.

"About Jesus of Nazareth," they replied. "He was a prophet, powerful in word and deed before God and all the people. The chief priests and our rulers handed him over to be sentenced to death, and they crucified him; but we had hoped that he was the one who was going to redeem Israel. And what is more, it is the third day since all this took place. In addition, some of our women amazed us. They went to the tomb early this morning but didn't find his body. They came and told us that they had seen a vision of angels, who said he was alive. Then some of our companions went to the tomb and found it just as the women had said, but him they did not see."

He said to them, "How foolish you are, and how slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken! Did not the Christ^l have to suffer these things and then enter his glory?" And beginning with Moses and all the Prophets, he explained to them what was said in all the Scriptures concerning himself.

JESUS' IDENTITY REVEALED. As they approached the village to which they were going, Jesus acted as if he were going farther. But they urged him strongly, "Stay with us, for it is nearly evening; the day is almost over." So he went in to stay with them.

When he was at the table with them, he took bread, gave thanks, broke it and began to give it to them. Then their eyes were opened and they recognized him, and he disappeared from their sight. They asked each other, "Were not our hearts burning within us while he talked with us on the road and opened the Scriptures to us?"

JESUS APPEARS TO DISCIPLES. While they were still talking about this, Jesus himself stood among them and said to them, "Peace be with you."

They were startled and frightened, thinking they saw a ghost. He said to them, "Why are you troubled, and why do doubts rise in your minds? Look at my hands and my feet. It is I myself! Touch me and see; a ghost does not have flesh and bones, as you see I have."

When he had said this, he showed them his hands and feet. And while they still did not believe it because of joy and amazement, he asked them, "Do you have anything here to eat?" They gave him a piece of broiled fish, and he took it and ate it in their presence.

He said to them, "This is what I told you while I was still with you: Everything must be fulfilled that is written about me in the Law of Moses, the Prophets and the Psalms."

APOSTLES RECEIVE AUTHORITY. Again Jesus said, "Peace be with you! As the Father has sent me, I am sending you." And with that he breathed on them and said, "Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive anyone his sins, they are forgiven; if you do not forgive them, they are not forgiven."

THOMAS DOUBTS. Now Thomas (called Didymus), one of the Twelve, was not with the disciples when Jesus came. So the other disciples told him, "We have seen the Lord!"

But he said to them, "Unless I see the nail marks in his hands and put my finger where the nails were, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe it."

JESUS APPEARS TO THOMAS. A week later his disciples were in the house again, and Thomas was with them. Though the doors were locked, Jesus came and stood among them and said, "Peace be with you!" Then he said to Thomas, "Put your finger here; see my hands. Reach out your hand and put it into my side. Stop doubting and believe."

JESUS APPEARS TO DISCIPLES. Afterward Jesus appeared again to his disciples, by the Sea of Tiberias.^m It happened this way: Simon Peter, Thomas (called Didymus), Nathanael from Cana in Galilee, the sons of Zebedee, and two other disciples were together. "I'm going out to fish," Simon Peter told them, and they said, "We'll go with you." So they went out and got into the boat, but that night they caught nothing.

Jn. 21:1-14
Sea of Galilee
(Some

Early in the morning, Jesus stood on the shore, but the disciples did not realize that it was Jesus.

He called out to them, "Friends, haven't you any fish?"

"No," they answered.

He said, "Throw your net on the right side of the boat and you will find some." When they did, they were unable to haul the net in because of the large number of fish.

Then the disciple whom Jesus loved said to Peter, "It is the Lord!" As soon as Simon Peter heard him say, "It is the Lord," he wrapped his outer garment around him (for he had taken it off) and jumped into the water. The other disciples followed in the boat, towing the net full of fish, for they were not far from shore, about a hundred yards.ⁿ When they landed, they saw a fire of burning coals there with fish on it, and some bread.

Jesus said to them, "Bring some of the fish you have just caught."

Simon Peter climbed aboard and dragged the net ashore. It was full of large fish, 153, but even with so many the net was not torn. Jesus said to them, "Come and have breakfast." None of the disciples dared ask him, "Who are you?" They knew it was the Lord. Jesus came, took the bread and gave it to them, and did the same with the fish. This was now the third time Jesus appeared to his disciples after he was raised from the dead.

PETER REINSTATED. When they had finished eating, Jesus said to Simon Peter, "Simon son of John, do you truly love me more than these?"

Jn.
21:15-17

"Yes, Lord," he said, "you know that I love you."

Jesus said, "Feed my lambs."

Again Jesus said, "Simon son of John, do you truly love me?"

He answered, "Yes, Lord, you know that I love you."

Jesus said, "Take care of my sheep."

The third time he said to him, "Simon son of John, do you love me?"

Peter was hurt because Jesus asked him the third time, "Do you love PETER'S DEATH FORETOLD. I tell you the truth, when you were younger you dressed yourself and went where you wanted; but when you are old you will stretch out your hands, and someone else will dress you and lead you where you do not want to go." Jesus said this to indicate the kind of death by which Peter would glorify God. Then he said to him, "Follow me!"

Jn.
21:20-24

JOHN'S DEATH QUESTIONED. Peter turned and saw that the disciple whom Jesus loved was following them. (This was the one who had leaned back against Jesus at the supper and had said, "Lord, who is going to betray you?") When Peter saw him, he asked, "Lord, what about him?"

Jesus answered, "If I want him to remain alive until I return, what is that to you? You must follow me." Because of this, the rumor spread among the brothers that this disciple would not die. But Jesus did not say that he would not die; he only said, "If I want him to remain alive until I return, what is that to you?"

This is the disciple who testifies to these things and who wrote them down. We know that his testimony is true.

[The most reliable early manuscripts and other ancient witnesses do not have Mark 16:9-20.]

Final Instructions and Ascension

After these wonderful events, Jesus is next seen again with his 11 apostles on a mountain in Galilee. There they are given the special mission of evangelizing the world, a task to be accomplished through their personal testimonies regarding Jesus' life, death, and resurrection. Even as they are receiving this commission, some among them still have doubts about their mission. But the time is soon to come when, filled with God's Holy Spirit, each will stand strong in his faith and become a vibrant force in changing the hearts of men and women throughout the civilized world.

Some time passes before Jesus makes his final appearance with the apostles, and the scene changes to Jerusalem. There Jesus directs the apostles to remain in the city until they receive a special power which he promises will come from the Father. Later he gives them their final instructions, promises them the Holy Spirit, and then is caught up into heaven as two angels stand by to comfort the apostles with the grand promise of his second coming.

JESUS COMMISSIONS APOSTLES. ^{Mt} Then Jesus came to them and said, "All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Therefore go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in^o the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age." ^{Mk}Whoever believes and is baptized will be saved, but whoever does not believe will be condemned. ^{Mk}And these signs will accompany those who believe: In my name they will drive out demons; they will speak in new tongues; they will pick up snakes with their hands; and when they drink deadly poison, it will not hurt them at all; they will place their hands on sick people, and they will get well."

PARTING INSTRUCTIONS. Then he opened their minds so they could understand the Scriptures. He told them, "This is what is written: The Christ will suffer and rise from the dead on the third day, and repentance and forgiveness of sins will be preached in his name to all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. You are witnesses of these things. I am going to send you what my Father has promised; but stay in the city until you have been clothed with power from on high."

He said to them: "It is not for you to know the times or dates the Father has set by his own authority. But you will receive power when the Holy Spirit comes on you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

After he said this, he was taken up before their very eyes, and a cloud hid him from their sight.

They were looking intently up into the sky as he was going, when suddenly two men dressed in white stood beside them. "Men of Galilee," they said, "why do you stand here looking into the sky? This same Jesus, who has been taken from you into heaven, will come back in the same way you have seen him go into heaven."

DISCIPLES RETURN JOYFULLY. ^{Lk}Then they worshiped him and returned to Jerusalem with great joy. ^{Ac}When they arrived, they went upstairs to the room where they were staying. Those present were Peter, John, James and Andrew; Philip and Thomas, Bartholomew and Matthew; James son of Alphaeus and Simon the Zealot, and Judas son of James. They all joined together constantly in prayer, along with the women and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brothers.

CALL FOR JUDAS' REPLACEMENT. In those days Peter stood up among the believers^g (a group numbering about a hundred and twenty) and said, "Brothers, the Scripture had to be fulfilled which the Holy Spirit spoke long ago through the mouth of David concerning Judas, who served as guide for those who arrested Jesus— he was one of our number and shared in this ministry."

" 'May his place be deserted; and, “ ‘May another take his place of leadership.’^r Therefore it is necessary to choose one of the men who have been with us the whole time the Lord Jesus went in and out among us, beginning from John’s baptism to the time when Jesus was taken up from us. For one of these must become a witness with us of his resurrection.”

Acts 1:23-26 MATTHIAS CHOSEN AS APOSTLE. So they proposed two men: Joseph called Barsabbas (also known as Justus) and Matthias. Then they prayed, “Lord, you know everyone’s heart. Show us which of these two you have chosen to take over this apostolic ministry, which Judas left to go where he belongs.” Then they cast lots, and the lot fell to Matthias; so he was added to the eleven apostles.

Mk. 16:20 JESUS PREACHED. Then the disciples went out and preached everywhere, and the Lord worked with them and confirmed his word by the signs that accompanied it.

Conclusion to the Gospel Accounts _____

John’s account includes this statement as to his purpose in recording the events of Jesus’ ministry:

Jn. 20:30,31 Jesus did many other miraculous signs in the presence of his disciples, which are not recorded in this book. But these are written that you may^s believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God, and that by believing you may have life in his name.

Indeed, each of the other accounts unquestionably has the same purpose—the preservation of Jesus’ life, teaching, and miraculous works so that all who read may acknowledge him as Lord and Savior.

John concludes his account by indicating that he and the other Gospel writers had been able to capture in written words only a small fraction of all the miracles, healings, praying, and preaching that Jesus did while on this earth.

Jn. 21:25 Jesus did many other things as well. If every one of them were written down, I suppose that even the whole world would not have room for the books that would be written.

Even with only these four brief accounts of his life, the story of Jesus has been preserved throughout the centuries for every generation, translated into virtually every language on earth, and believed by countless millions who have responded in obedient faith to God through his Son, Jesus the Christ.

CHRIST'S CHURCH AND THE APOSTLES

(Ca. A.D. 30-100)

Acts of the Apostles _____

As the Gospel accounts come to a close with Jesus' ascension, the focus of Scripture turns to the work of the apostles and others in their efforts to spread the good news about Jesus throughout the world, and to the beginning of the church, which is comprised of Christ's faithful disciples. The historical record of the church in the first 30 years of its history, commonly known as the Acts of the Apostles, is evidently written by Luke. Luke's writing records many of the acts of some of the apostles, principally those of Peter and of Paul (who will become a special apostle), and also includes the work of others, such as Stephen, Philip, Barnabas, and Silas. More importantly, Luke records the work of the Holy Spirit in the church of the first century. After a brief introduction to his writing, Luke stresses the powerful manifestation of the Holy Spirit in the confirmation and spread of the gospel message.

INTRODUCTION TO BOOK. In my former book, Theophilus, I wrote about all that Jesus began to do and to teach until the day he was taken up to heaven, after giving instructions through the Holy Spirit to the apostles he had chosen. After his suffering, he showed himself to these men and gave many convincing proofs that he was alive. He appeared to them over a period of forty days and spoke about the kingdom of God. On one occasion, while he was eating with them, he gave them this command: "Do not leave Jerusalem, but wait for the gift my Father promised, which you have heard me speak about. For John baptized with^a water, but in a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit."

Power of the Holy Spirit _____

As recorded in the Gospel accounts, Jesus had told the apostles to wait in Jerusalem until they should receive power from on high, a reference undoubtedly to the power of God's Holy Spirit, which he had promised they would receive. Luke begins his historical record with the account of a special demonstration of God's power in the ministry of the apostles. The occasion is the Feast of Pentecost, which is celebrated by the Jews each year 50 days after Passover. Also known as the Feast of Weeks, the feast was originally given in celebration of the firstfruits of the harvest. As one of the three major Jewish feasts, Pentecost attracts large numbers of Jews to Jerusalem from throughout the world.

^aOr in

Here in the midst of a throng of Pentecost celebrants, the Holy Spirit descends in power upon the small band of Galilean men whom Jesus has chosen to be his spokesmen. Amazingly, they are heard speaking in all the native languages represented in Jerusalem, declaring the wonders of God. Luke records the sermon preached by Peter, which is a stirring call for the Jews to see Jesus both as the Messiah of prophecy and as the resurrected Lord. When Peter strongly indicts his audience for having played a part in crucifying their Messiah, thousands immediately repent and are baptized. This occasion heralds not only the special power of the Holy Spirit in the ministry of the apostles, but also the formal beginning of Christ's spiritual body, the church.

Acts 2:1-4 THE HOLY SPIRIT. When the day of Pentecost came, they were all together in one place. Suddenly a sound like the blowing of a violent wind came from heaven and filled the whole house where they were sitting. They saw what seemed to be tongues of fire that separated and came to rest on each of them. All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues^b as the Spirit enabled them.

Acts 2:5-13 SPEAKING IN OTHER LANGUAGES. Now there were staying in Jerusalem God-fearing Jews from every nation under heaven. When they heard this sound, a crowd came together in bewilderment, because each one heard them speaking in his own language. Utterly amazed, they asked: "Are not all these men who are speaking Galileans? Then how is it that each of us hears them in his own native language? Parthians, Medes and Elamites; residents of Mesopotamia, Judea and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia, Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt and the parts of Libya near Cyrene; visitors from Rome (both Jews and converts to Judaism); Cretans and Arabs—we hear them declaring the wonders of God in our own tongues!" Amazed and perplexed, they asked one another, "What does this mean?"

Some, however, made fun of them and said, "They have had too much wine."^c

Acts 2:14-36 PETER PROCLAIMS JESUS AS CHRIST. Then Peter stood up with the Eleven, raised his voice and addressed the crowd: "Fellow Jews and all of you who live in Jerusalem, let me explain this to you; listen carefully to what I say. These men are not drunk, as you suppose. It's only nine in the morning! No, this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel:

" 'In the last days, God says,
I will pour out my Spirit on all people.
Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions,
your old men will dream dreams.
Even on my servants, both men and women,
I will pour out my Spirit in those days,

^bOr languages ^cOr sweet wine and they will prophesy.

 I will show wonders in the heaven above and signs on the earth below, blood and fire and billows of smoke.
 The sun will be turned to darkness and the moon to blood before the coming of the great and glorious day of the Lord.
 And everyone who calls
 on the name of the Lord will be saved.^d

“Men of Israel, listen to this: Jesus of Nazareth was a man accredited by God to you by miracles, wonders and signs, which God did among you through him, as you yourselves know. This man was handed over to you by God’s set purpose and foreknowledge; and you, with the help of wicked men,^e put him to death by nailing him to the cross. But God raised him from the dead, freeing him from the agony of death, because it was impossible for death to keep its hold on him. David said about him:

“I saw the Lord always before me.
 Because he is at my right hand,
 I will not be shaken.
 Therefore my heart is glad and my tongue rejoices;
 my body also will live in hope,
 because you will not abandon me to the grave,
 nor will you let your Holy One see decay.
 You have made known to me the paths of life;
 you will fill me with joy in your presence.”^f

“Brothers, I can tell you confidently that the patriarch David died and was buried, and his tomb is here to this day. But he was a prophet and knew that God had promised him on oath that he would place one of his descendants on his throne. Seeing what was ahead, he spoke of the resurrection of the Christ,^g that he was not abandoned to the grave, nor did his body see decay. God has raised this Jesus to life, and we are all witnesses of the fact. Exalted to the right hand of God, he has received from the Father the promised Holy Spirit and has poured out what you now see and hear. For David did not ascend to heaven, and yet he said,

“The Lord said to my Lord:
 “Sit at my right hand
 until I make your enemies
 a footstool for your feet.”^h

“Therefore let all Israel be assured of this: God has made this Jesus, whom you crucified, both Lord and Christ.”

FIRST BELIEVERS BAPTIZED. When the people heard this, they were cut to the heart and said to Peter and the other apostles, “Brothers, what shall we do?”

Peter replied, “Repent and be baptized, every one of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins. And you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. The promise is for you and your children and for all who are far off—for all whom the Lord our God will call.”

With many other words he warned them; and he pleaded with them, “Save yourselves from this corrupt generation.” Those who accepted his message were baptized, and about three thousand were added to their number that day.

Acts
2:42-47

FELLOWSHIP OF BELIEVERS. They devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and to the fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer. Everyone was filled with awe, and many wonders and miraculous signs were done by the apostles. All the believers were together and had everything in common. Selling their possessions and goods, they gave to anyone as he had need. Every day they continued to meet together in the temple courts. They broke bread in their homes and ate together with glad and sincere hearts, praising God and enjoying the favor of all the people. And the Lord added to their number daily those who were being saved.

Growth of the Early Church _____

The fellowship and brotherhood of the early church continues to attract more and more believers. As news of the gospel message and the miracles which accompany its proclamation spread throughout Jerusalem, the church grows rapidly. In fact, the growth is so astounding that the Jewish leaders become alarmed and have the apostles arrested repeatedly. The Sanhedrin elders possibly realize, however, that they are in no position to make martyrs of the apostles, and are therefore forced to postpone any harsher treatment.

But persecution from without is not the only challenge facing the early church. Problems arise even within the church itself. Luke records, for example, that on one occasion some rather drastic discipline befalls a husband and wife who lie about a contribution they are making to the church. But not even such weaknesses of individual believers can slow the pace of this revolutionary spiritual movement. Not less than a dozen times throughout the historical record, Luke carefully notes the incredible growth of the church. Acting without formal organization and prompted only by their commitment to Christ, these early Christians repeatedly multiply their number by sharing the good news of Christ with all who will listen.

The historical record of this period of growth begins now with the account of the healing and teaching done by Peter and John, activities which will eventually lead to their first arrest.

Acts 3:1-10
Near the temple
30-31)

PETER HEALS CRIPPLED BEGGAR. One day Peter and John were going up to the temple at the time of prayer—at three in the afternoon. Now a man crippled from birth was being carried to the temple gate called Beautiful, where he was put every day to beg from those going into the temple courts. When he saw Peter and John about to enter, he asked them for money. Peter looked straight at him, as did John. Then Peter said, “Look at us!” So the man gave them his attention, expecting to get something from them.

Then Peter said, “Silver or gold I do not have, but what I have I give you. In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, walk." Taking him by the right hand, he helped him up, and instantly the man's feet and ankles became strong. He jumped to his feet and began to walk. Then he went with them into the temple courts, walking and jumping, and praising God. When all the people saw him walking and praising God, they recognized him as the same man who used to sit begging at the temple gate called Beautiful, and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what had happened to him.

MIRACULOUS POWER EXPLAINED. While the beggar held on to Peter and John, all the people were astonished and came running to them in the place called Solomon's Colonnade. When Peter saw this, he said to them: "Men of Israel, why does this surprise you? Why do you stare at us as if by our own power or godliness we had made this man walk? The God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, the God of our fathers, has glorified his servant Jesus. You handed him over to be killed, and you disowned him before Pilate, though he had decided to let him go. You disowned the Holy and Righteous One and asked that a murderer be released to you. You killed the author of life, but God raised him from the dead. We are witnesses of this. By faith in the name of Jesus, this man whom you see and know was made strong. It is Jesus' name and the faith that comes through him that has given this complete healing to him, as you can all see.

Acts
3:11-16

PETER PREACHES REPENTANCE. "Now, brothers, I know that you acted in ignorance, as did your leaders. But this is how God fulfilled what he had foretold through all the prophets, saying that his Christⁱ would suffer. Repent, then, and turn to God, so that your sins may be wiped out, that times of refreshing may come from the Lord, and that he may send the Christ, who has been appointed for you—even Jesus. He must remain in heaven until the time comes for God to restore everything, as he promised long ago through his holy prophets. For Moses said, 'The Lord your God will raise up for you a prophet like me from among your own people; you must listen to everything he tells you. Anyone who does not listen to him will be completely cut off from among his people.'^j

Acts
3:17-26

"Indeed, all the prophets from Samuel on, as many as have spoken, have foretold these days. And you are heirs of the prophets and of the covenant God made with your fathers. He said to Abraham, 'Through your offspring all peoples on earth will be blessed.'^k When God raised up his servant, he sent him first to you to bless you by turning each of you from your wicked ways."

PETER AND JOHN ARRESTED. The priests and the captain of the temple guard and the Sadducees came up to Peter and John while they were speaking to the people. They were greatly disturbed because the apostles were teaching the people and proclaiming in Jesus the resurrection of the dead. They seized Peter and John, and because it was evening, they put them in jail until the next day. But many who heard the message believed, and the number of men grew to about five thousand.

Acts 4:1-4

DEFENSE BEFORE SANHEDRIN. The next day the rulers, elders and teachers of the law met in Jerusalem. Annas the high priest was there, and so were Caiaphas, John, Alexander and the other men of the high priest's family. They had Peter and John brought before them and began to question them: "By what power or what name did you do this?"

Then Peter, filled with the Holy Spirit, said to them: "Rulers and elders of the people! If we are being called to account today for an act of kindness shown to a cripple and are asked how he was healed, then know this, you and all the people of Israel: It is by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom you crucified but whom God raised from the dead, that this man stands before you healed. He is " 'the stone you builders rejected, which has become the capstone.'"^m

Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved."

Acts
4:13-22

APOSTLES WARNED AND FREED. When they saw the courage of Peter and John and realized that they were unschooled, ordinary men, they were astonished and they took note that these men had been with Jesus. But since they could see the man who had been healed standing there with them, there was nothing they could say. So they ordered them to withdraw from the Sanhedrin and then conferred together. "What are we going to do with these men?" they asked. "Everybody living in Jerusalem knows they have done an outstanding miracle, and we cannot deny it. But to stop this thing from spreading any further among the people, we must warn these men to speak no longer to anyone in this name."

Then they called them in again and commanded them not to speak or teach at all in the name of Jesus. But Peter and John replied, "Judge for yourselves whether it is right in God's sight to obey you rather than God. For we cannot help speaking about what we have seen and heard."

After further threats they let them go. They could not decide how to punish them, because all the people were praising God for what had happened. For the man who was miraculously healed was over forty years old.

Acts
4:23-31
Jerusalem

PRAYER OF CHURCH. On their release, Peter and John went back to their own people and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said to them. When they heard this, they raised their voices together in prayer to God. "Sovereign Lord," they said, "you made the heaven and the earth and the sea, and everything in them. You spoke by the Holy Spirit through the mouth of your servant, our father David:

" 'Why do the nations rage and the peoples plot in vain?
The kings of the earth take their stand and the rulers gather together against the Lord and against his Anointed One.'"^{o'}

Indeed Herod and Pontius Pilate met together with the Gentiles and the people ^p of Israel in this city to conspire against your holy servant Jesus, whom you anointed. They did what your power and will had decided beforehand should happen. Now, Lord, consider their threats and enable your servants to speak your word with great boldness. Stretch out your hand to heal and perform miraculous signs and wonders through the name of your holy servant Jesus."

After they prayed, the place where they were meeting was shaken. And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and spoke the word of God boldly.

SHARING OF POSSESSIONS. All the believers were one in heart and mind. No one claimed that any of his possessions was his own, but they shared everything they had. With great power the apostles continued to testify to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus, and much grace was upon them all. There were no needy persons among them. For from time to time those who owned lands or houses sold them, brought the money from the sales and put it at the apostles' feet, and it was distributed to anyone as he had need.

Acts
4:32-37

Joseph, a Levite from Cyprus, whom the apostles called Barnabas (which means Son of Encouragement), sold a field he owned and brought the money and put it at the apostles' feet.

PUNISHMENT OF ANANIAS. Now a man named Ananias, together with his wife Sapphira, also sold a piece of property. With his wife's full knowledge he kept back part of the money for himself, but brought the rest and put it at the apostles' feet.

Acts 5:1-6

Then Peter said, "Ananias, how is it that Satan has so filled your heart that you have lied to the Holy Spirit and have kept for yourself some of the money you received for the land? Didn't it belong to you before it was sold? And after it was sold, wasn't the money at your disposal? What made you think of doing such a thing? You have not lied to men but to God."

When Ananias heard this, he fell down and died. And great fear seized all who heard what had happened. Then the young men came forward, wrapped up his body, and carried him out and buried him.

PUNISHMENT OF SAPPHIRA. About three hours later his wife came in, not knowing what had happened. Peter asked her, "Tell me, is this the price you and Ananias got for the land?"

Acts 5:7-11

"Yes," she said, "that is the price."

Peter said to her, "How could you agree to test the Spirit of the Lord? Look! The feet of the men who buried your husband are at the door, and they will carry you out also."

At that moment she fell down at his feet and died. Then the young men came in and, finding her dead, carried her out and buried her beside her husband. Great fear seized the whole church and all who heard about these events.

SIGNS AND WONDERS. The apostles performed many miraculous signs and wonders among the people. And all the believers used to meet together in Solomon's Colonnade. No one else dared join them, even though they were highly regarded by the people. Nevertheless, more and more men and women believed in the Lord and were added to their number. As a result, people brought the sick into the streets and laid them on beds and mats so that at least Peter's shadow might fall on some of them as he passed by. Crowds gathered also from the towns around

5:12-16

Jerusalem, bringing their sick and those tormented by evil^a spirits, and all of them were healed.

Acts
5:17-21a

APOSTLES IMPRISONED. Then the high priest and all his associates, who were members of the party of the Sadducees, were filled with jealousy. They arrested the apostles and put them in the public jail. But during the night an angel of the Lord opened the doors of the jail and brought them out. "Go, stand in the temple courts," he said, "and tell the people the full message of this new life."

At daybreak they entered the temple courts, as they had been told, and began to teach the people.

Acts
5:21b-26

APOSTLES' RELEASE DISCOVERED. When the high priest and his associates arrived, they called together the Sanhedrin—the full assembly of the elders of Israel—and sent to the jail for the apostles. But on arriving at the jail, the officers did not find them there. So they went back and reported, "We found the jail securely locked, with the guards standing at the doors; but when we opened them, we found no one inside." On hearing this report, the captain of the temple guard and the chief priests were puzzled, wondering what would come of this.

Then someone came and said, "Look! The men you put in jail are standing in the temple courts teaching the people." At that, the captain went with his officers and brought the apostles. They did not use force, because they feared that the people would stone them.

Acts
5:27-32

APOSTLES REJECT WARNING. Having brought the apostles, they made them appear before the Sanhedrin to be questioned by the high priest. "We gave you strict orders not to teach in this name," he said. "Yet you have filled Jerusalem with your teaching and are determined to make us guilty of this man's blood."

Peter and the other apostles replied: "We must obey God rather than men! The God of our fathers raised Jesus from the dead—whom you had killed by hanging him on a tree. God exalted him to his own right hand as Prince and Savior that he might give repentance and forgiveness of sins to Israel. We are witnesses of these things, and so is the Holy Spirit, whom God has given to those who obey him."

Acts
5:33-39

GAMALIEL'S ADVICE. When they heard this, they were furious and wanted to put them to death. But a Pharisee named Gamaliel, a teacher of the law, who was honored by all the people, stood up in the Sanhedrin and ordered that the men be put outside for a little while. Then he addressed them: "Men of Israel, consider carefully what you intend to do to these men. Some time ago Theudas appeared, claiming to be somebody, and about four hundred men rallied to him. He was killed, all his followers were dispersed, and it all came to nothing. After him, Judas the Galilean appeared in the days of the census and led a band of people in revolt. He too was killed, and all his followers were scattered. Therefore, in the present case I advise you: Leave these men alone! Let them go! For if their purpose or activity is of human origin, it will fail. But if it is from God, you will not be able to stop these men; you will only find yourselves fighting against God."

^aGreek unclean

APOSTLES RELEASED. His speech persuaded them. They called the apostles in and had them flogged. Then they ordered them not to speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.

Acts
5:40-42

The apostles left the Sanhedrin, rejoicing because they had been counted worthy of suffering disgrace for the Name. Day after day, in the temple courts and from house to house, they never stopped teaching and proclaiming the good news that Jesus is the Christ.⁷

SEVEN CHOSEN. In those days when the number of disciples was increasing, the Grecian Jews among them complained against the Hebraic Jews because their widows were being overlooked in the daily distribution of food. So the Twelve gathered all the disciples together and said, "It would not be right for us to neglect the ministry of the word of God in order to wait on tables. Brothers, choose seven men from among you who are known to be full of the Spirit and wisdom. We will turn this responsibility over to them and will give our attention to prayer and the ministry of the word."

Acts 6:1-7
Jerusalem

This proposal pleased the whole group. They chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Spirit; also Philip, Procorus, Nicanor, Timon, Parmenas, and Nicolas from Antioch, a convert to Judaism. They presented these men to the apostles, who prayed and laid their hands on them.

So the word of God spread. The number of disciples in Jerusalem increased rapidly, and a large number of priests became obedient to the faith.

Martyrdom of Stephen

Throughout the centuries since the death of Jesus, thousands of Christians have died as martyrs to the cause of Christ. It is only fitting, then, that Luke should record the events surrounding the very first martyrdom, that of Stephen. This Stephen had been one of the seven men chosen to resolve the problems which arose with regard to distribution of assistance to the Grecian widows. He is a man known for his faith and his ability to do great wonders through the Holy Spirit. But it is his boldness and wisdom that finally prompt his adversaries to bring him before The Council on a charge of blasphemy.

Stephen's defense is a classic review of the history of God's dealing with the Jewish people, and a reminder to The Council that leaders such as themselves have always rejected and persecuted God's prophets and teachers. When he accuses them of murdering the Son of God, they angrily condemn him to death by stoning. Stephen's dying words echo down through time as the prayer of other martyrs and all believers as well.

CHARGES AGAINST STEPHEN. Now Stephen, a man full of God's grace and power, did great wonders and miraculous signs among the people. Opposition arose, however, from members of the Synagogue of the Freedmen (as it was called)—Jews of Cyrene and Alexandria as well as the provinces of Cilicia and Asia. These men began to argue with

⁷Or Messiah

Stephen, but they could not stand up against his wisdom or the Spirit by whom he spoke.

Then they secretly persuaded some men to say, "We have heard Stephen speak words of blasphemy against Moses and against God."

So they stirred up the people and the elders and the teachers of the law. They seized Stephen and brought him before the Sanhedrin. They produced false witnesses, who testified, "This fellow never stops speaking against this holy place and against the law. For we have heard him say that this Jesus of Nazareth will destroy this place and change the customs Moses handed down to us."

All who were sitting in the Sanhedrin looked intently at Stephen, and they saw that his face was like the face of an angel.

Acts 7:1-19 STEPHEN'S DEFENSE. Then the high priest asked him, "Are these charges true?"

To this he replied: "Brothers and fathers, listen to me! The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham while he was still in Mesopotamia, before he lived in Haran. 'Leave your country and your people,' God said, 'and go to the land I will show you.'^s

"So he left the land of the Chaldeans and settled in Haran. After the death of his father, God sent him to this land where you are now living. He gave him no inheritance here, not even a foot of ground. But God promised him that he and his descendants after him would possess the land, even though at that time Abraham had no child. God spoke to him in this way: 'Your descendants will be strangers in a country not their own, and they will be enslaved and mistreated four hundred years. But I will punish the nation they serve as slaves,' God said, 'and afterward they will come out of that country and worship me in this place.'^t Then he gave Abraham the covenant of circumcision. And Abraham became the father of Isaac and circumcised him eight days after his birth. Later Isaac became the father of Jacob, and Jacob became the father of the twelve patriarchs.

"Because the patriarchs were jealous of Joseph, they sold him as a slave into Egypt. But God was with him and rescued him from all his troubles. He gave Joseph wisdom and enabled him to gain the goodwill of Pharaoh king of Egypt; so he made him ruler over Egypt and all his palace.

"Then a famine struck all Egypt and Canaan, bringing great suffering, and our fathers could not find food. When Jacob heard that there was grain in Egypt, he sent our fathers on their first visit. On their second visit, Joseph told his brothers who he was, and Pharaoh learned about Joseph's family. After this, Joseph sent for his father Jacob and his whole family, seventy-five in all. Then Jacob went down to Egypt, where he and our fathers died. Their bodies were brought back to Shechem and placed in the tomb that Abraham had bought from the sons of Hamor at Shechem for a certain sum of money.

"As the time drew near for God to fulfill his promise to Abraham, the number of our people in Egypt greatly increased. Then another king, who knew nothing about Joseph, became ruler of Egypt. He dealt treacherously with our people and oppressed our forefathers by forcing them to throw out their newborn babies so that they would die.

"At that time Moses was born, and he was no ordinary child."^u For three months he was cared for in his father's house. When he was placed outside, Pharaoh's daughter took him and brought him up as her own son. Moses was educated in all the wisdom of the Egyptians and was powerful in speech and action.

"When Moses was forty years old, he decided to visit his fellow Israelites. He saw one of them being mistreated by an Egyptian, so he went to his defense and avenged him by killing the Egyptian. Moses thought that his own people would realize that God was using him to rescue them, but they did not. The next day Moses came upon two Israelites who were fighting. He tried to reconcile them by saying, 'Men, you are brothers; why do you want to hurt each other?'

"But the man who was mistreating the other pushed Moses aside and said, 'Who made you ruler and judge over us? Do you want to kill me as you killed the Egyptian yesterday?'^v When Moses heard this, he fled to Midian, where he settled as a foreigner and had two sons.

"After forty years had passed, an angel appeared to Moses in the flames of a burning bush in the desert near Mount Sinai. When he saw this, he was amazed at the sight. As he went over to look more closely, he heard the Lord's voice: 'I am the God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.'^w Moses trembled with fear and did not dare to look.

"Then the Lord said to him, 'Take off your sandals; the place where you are standing is holy ground. I have indeed seen the oppression of my people in Egypt. I have heard their groaning and have come down to set them free. Now come, I will send you back to Egypt.'^x

"This is the same Moses whom they had rejected with the words, 'Who made you ruler and judge?' He was sent to be their ruler and deliverer by God himself, through the angel who appeared to him in the bush. He led them out of Egypt and did wonders and miraculous signs in Egypt, at the Red Sea^y and for forty years in the desert.

This is that Moses who told the Israelites, 'God will send you a prophet like me from your own people.'^z He was in the assembly in the desert, with the angel who spoke to him on Mount Sinai, and with our fathers; and he received living words to pass on to us.

"But our fathers refused to obey him. Instead, they rejected him and in their hearts turned back to Egypt. They told Aaron, 'Make us gods who will go before us. As for this fellow Moses who led us out of Egypt—we don't know what has happened to him!'^a That was the time they made an idol in the form of a calf. They brought sacrifices to it and held a celebration in honor of what their hands had made. But God turned away and gave them over to the worship of the heavenly bodies. This agrees with what is written in the book of the prophets:

" 'Did you bring me sacrifices and offerings
 forty years in the desert, O house of Israel?
 You have lifted up the shrine of Molech and the star of your god Rephan, the idols you made to worship.
 Therefore I will send you into exile'^b beyond Babylon.

desert. It had been made as God directed Moses, according to the pattern he had seen. Having received the tabernacle, our fathers under Joshua brought it with them when they took the land from the nations God drove out before them. It remained in the land until the time of David, who enjoyed God's favor and asked that he might provide a dwelling place for the God of Jacob.^c But it was Solomon who built the house for him.

"However, the Most High does not live in houses made by men. As the prophet says:

"Heaven is my throne,
and the earth is my footstool.
What kind of house will you build for me?

says the Lord.

Or where will my resting place be?
Has not my hand made all these things?"^d

"You stiff-necked people, with uncircumcised hearts and ears! You are just like your fathers: You always resist the Holy Spirit! Was there ever a prophet your fathers did not persecute? They even killed those who predicted the coming of the Righteous One. And now you have betrayed and murdered him—you who have received the law that was put into effect through angels but have not obeyed it."

Acts
7:54-8:1a

STEPHEN STONED TO DEATH. When they heard this, they were furious and gnashed their teeth at him. But Stephen, full of the Holy Spirit, looked up to heaven and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing at the right hand of God. "Look," he said, "I see heaven open and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God."

At this they covered their ears and, yelling at the top of their voices, they all rushed at him, dragged him out of the city and began to stone him. Meanwhile, the witnesses laid their clothes at the feet of a young man named Saul.

While they were stoning him, Stephen prayed, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." Then he fell on his knees and cried out, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them." When he had said this, he fell asleep. And Saul was there, giving approval to his death.

Persecution and Preaching

It is no surprise that the growing church encounters opposition. Some people are annoyed by the efforts being made to teach them; others are enraged when presented with the truth of Christ. Many are apparently jealous of the joyous fellowship which can be seen among the disciples. There are also rulers and religious leaders who fear loss of power or influence as so many people turn to follow the teaching of the Man from Nazareth. So it is not surprising that the apostles have been put into prison so often, or that Stephen has now been killed.

Yet the early Christians are probably caught by surprise when a more widespread, organized persecution arises. Reacting swiftly, these new converts leave Jerusalem and flee to cities throughout Judea and Samaria. Yet despite the personal tragedies involved, their persecution actually becomes a blessing. Because of their zeal in sharing the gospel with others, the church thereby expands its boundaries far beyond Jerusalem.

^cSome early manuscripts the house of Jacob ^dIsaiah 66:1,2

Two examples of this preaching are given in the historical record, both involving the evangelist Philip. He is first seen in Samaria with a magician named Simon, and sometime later he is seen on the road from Jerusalem to Gaza teaching an Ethiopian government official.

Throughout this period of persecution, the apostles stay in Jerusalem at the core of the church, except for a brief trip to Samaria made by Peter and John to take care of a matter of special concern.

As the account of this general period of persecution begins, Luke notes that an influential Jew by the name of Saul is among those in charge of imprisoning the Christians. It will not be long before Saul will face a crisis of conscience in which he must answer the call of Christ.

CHURCH SCATTERED. On that day a great persecution broke out against the church at Jerusalem, and all except the apostles were scattered throughout Judea and Samaria. Godly men buried Stephen and mourned deeply for him. But Saul began to destroy the church. Going from house to house, he dragged off men and women and put them in prison. Acts 8:1b-3

PHILIP'S SAMARIAN MINISTRY. Those who had been scattered preached the word wherever they went. Philip went down to a city in Samaria and proclaimed the Christ^o there. When the crowds heard Philip and saw the miraculous signs he did, they all paid close attention to what he said. With shrieks, evil^l spirits came out of many, and many paralytics and cripples were healed. So there was great joy in that city. Acts 8:4-8
Samaria

SIMON THE SORCERER. Now for some time a man named Simon had practiced sorcery in the city and amazed all the people of Samaria. He boasted that he was someone great, and all the people, both high and low, gave him their attention and exclaimed, "This man is the divine power known as the Great Power." They followed him because he had amazed them for a long time with his magic. But when they believed Philip as he preached the good news of the kingdom of God and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women. Simon himself believed and was baptized. And he followed Philip everywhere, astonished by the great signs and miracles he saw. Acts 8:9-13

PRAYER FOR HOLY SPIRIT. When the apostles in Jerusalem heard that Samaria had accepted the word of God, they sent Peter and John to them. When they arrived, they prayed for them that they might receive the Holy Spirit, because the Holy Spirit had not yet come upon any of them; they had simply been baptized into^s the name of the Lord Jesus. Then Peter and John placed their hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit. Acts 8:14-17

SIMON REBUKED BY PETER. When Simon saw that the Spirit was given at the laying on of the apostles' hands, he offered them money and said, "Give me also this ability so that everyone on whom I lay my hands may receive the Holy Spirit." Acts 8:18-24

Peter answered: "May your money perish with you, because you thought you could buy the gift of God with money! You have no part or share in this ministry, because your heart is not right before God. Repent of this wickedness and pray to the Lord. Perhaps he will forgive you for having such a thought in your heart. For I see that you are full of bitterness and captive to sin.”

Then Simon answered, “Pray to the Lord for me so that nothing you have said may happen to me.”

Acts 8:25

RETURN TO JERUSALEM. When they had testified and proclaimed the word of the Lord, Peter and John returned to Jerusalem, preaching the gospel in many Samaritan villages.

PHILIP TEACHES ETHIOPIAN. Now an angel of the Lord said to Philip, “Go south to the road—the desert road—that goes down from Jerusalem to Gaza.” So he started out, and on his way he met an Ethiopian^h eunuch, an important official in charge of all the treasury of Candace, queen of the Ethiopians. This man had gone to Jerusalem to worship, and on his way home was sitting in his chariot reading the book of Isaiah the prophet. The Spirit told Philip, “Go to that chariot and stay near it.”

Then Philip ran up to the chariot and heard the man reading Isaiah the prophet. “Do you understand what you are reading?” Philip asked.

“How can I,” he said, “unless someone explains it to me?” So he invited Philip to come up and sit with him.

The eunuch was reading this passage of Scripture:

“He was led like a sheep to the slaughter, and as a lamb before the shearer is silent,
so he did not open his mouth.

In his humiliation he was deprived of justice.

Who can speak of his descendants?

For his life was taken from the earth.”ⁱ

The eunuch asked Philip, “Tell me, please, who is the prophet talking about, himself or someone else?” Then Philip began with that very passage of Scripture and told him the good news about Jesus.

Acts

ETHIOPIAN BAPTIZED. As they traveled along the road, they came to some water and the eunuch said, “Look, here is water. Why shouldn’t I be baptized?”^j And he gave orders to stop the chariot. Then both Philip and the eunuch went down into the water and Philip baptized him. When they came up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord suddenly took Philip away, and the eunuch did not see him again, but went on his way rejoicing.

Conversion of Saul

Saul will later become one of the most widely known and widely read of all the apostles. He will make three major missionary journeys, establishing churches throughout what is known today as Turkey, Greece, and Italy. He will write at least 13 inspired letters of Scripture and preach Christ to high government officials. And he will suffer perhaps as much persecution for the sake of the Lord as any other who has defended Jesus' name. But for now Saul is known only as the great persecutor of the Lord's church. He is feared by all who regard the name of Jesus as precious.

The events which lead to the radical change in this man Saul are truly remarkable. In one sense his conversion experience is like that of any other believer who commits his life in faithful obedience to Christ. But Saul is destined to become a special apostle for the Lord, and that necessitates his ability to testify to the resurrection of Jesus. Therefore Saul's conversion involves a personal appearance by Jesus himself. Later in his ministry, in response to those who will question his apostleship, Saul (then to be known as Paul) will refer to this experience as the basis for his apostleship and the beginning of his special mission for Christ.

Unaware at this point of what the future holds for his life, Saul is seen now relentlessly searching out believers in Jesus (whose sect is known at this time simply as "The Way") in order to arrest and persecute them.

JESUS APPEARS TO SAUL. Meanwhile, Saul was still breathing out murderous threats against the Lord's disciples. He went to the high priest and asked him for letters to the synagogues in Damascus, so that if he found any there who belonged to the Way, whether men or women, he might take them as prisoners to Jerusalem. As he neared Damascus on his journey, suddenly a light from heaven flashed around him. He fell to the ground and heard a voice say to him, "Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me?"

Acts 9:1-9
Near
Damascus

"Who are you, Lord?" Saul asked.

"I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting," he replied. "Now get up and go into the city, and you will be told what you must do."

The men traveling with Saul stood there speechless; they heard the sound but did not see anyone. Saul got up from the ground, but when he opened his eyes he could see nothing. So they led him by the hand into Damascus. For three days he was blind, and did not eat or drink anything.

ANANIAS SENT TO SAUL. In Damascus there was a disciple named Ananias. The Lord called to him in a vision, "Ananias!"

Acts
9:10-16
Damascus

"Yes, Lord," he answered.

The Lord told him, "Go to the house of Judas on Straight Street and ask for a man from Tarsus named Saul, for he is praying. In a vision he has seen a man named Ananias come and place his hands on him to restore his sight."

"Lord," Ananias answered, "I have heard many reports about this man and all the harm he has done to your saints in Jerusalem. And he has come here with authority from the chief priests to arrest all who call on your name."

But the Lord said to Ananias, "Go! This man is my chosen instrument to carry my name before the Gentiles and their kings and before the people of Israel. I will show him how much he must suffer for my name.”

Acts
9:17-19

SAUL BAPTIZED BY ANANIAS. Then Ananias went to the house and entered it. Placing his hands on Saul, he said, “Brother Saul, the Lord—Jesus, who appeared to you on the road as you were coming here—has sent me so that you may see again and be filled with the Holy Spirit.” Immediately, something like scales fell from Saul’s eyes, and he could see again. He got up and was baptized, and after taking some food, he regained his strength.

Saul spent several days with the disciples in Damascus.

Acts
9:20-22

SAUL PROCLAIMS JESUS. At once he began to preach in the synagogues that Jesus is the Son of God. All those who heard him were astonished and asked, “Isn’t he the man who raised havoc in Jerusalem among those who call on this name? And hasn’t he come here to take them as prisoners to the chief priests?” Yet Saul grew more and more powerful and baffled the Jews living in Damascus by proving that Jesus is the Christ.^k

Acts
9:23-25

CONSPIRACY TO KILL SAUL. After many days had gone by, the Jews conspired to kill him, but Saul learned of their plan. Day and night they kept close watch on the city gates in order to kill him. But his followers took him by night and lowered him in a basket through an opening in the wall.

Acts
9:26-30

MIXED RECEPTION IN JERUSALEM. When he came to Jerusalem, he tried to join the disciples, but they were all afraid of him, not believing that he really was a disciple. But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles. He told them how Saul on his journey had seen the Lord and that the Lord had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had preached fearlessly in the name of Jesus. So Saul stayed with them and moved about freely in Jerusalem, speaking boldly in the name of the Lord. He talked and debated with the Grecian Jews, but they tried to kill him. When the brothers learned of this, they took him down to Caesarea and sent him off to Tarsus.

Acts 9:31

PEACE AND CONTINUED GROWTH. Then the church throughout Judea, Galilee and Samaria enjoyed a time of peace. It was strengthened; and encouraged by the Holy Spirit, it grew in numbers, living in the fear of the Lord.

First Gentile Converts

As the church enters this period of peace and continued growth, the time is ripe for God’s eternal plan to be implemented in still another major dimension—the extension of God’s grace to the Gentiles. For hundreds of years God’s dealings with man have focused upon the small nation of Israel and its Jewish people. Yet God had promised their father Abraham that through his seed all nations would be blessed. And Jesus himself continually proclaimed and demonstrated that his saving power was for all. But neither the apostles nor the early Jewish Christians have as yet comprehended the full implications of that message.

God's eternal plan all along has been that all people of the world—Jew and non-Jew alike—should come to know him through Christ Jesus. Until this time, however, only Jews, or Gentile converts known as proselytes, have been the subjects of early evangelistic efforts. To approach "pagan" Gentiles has seemed unthinkable. Even the apostle Peter still shares this narrow view. Thus it will take a special vision from the Lord to convince him that the Gentiles are also included within God's plan.

The first Gentile recipient of the gospel message is a devout Roman military leader by the name of Cornelius. Because of Cornelius' continual prayers, God arranges for Peter to preach to Cornelius the good news of Jesus. Peter's initial reluctance is overcome by an outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon Cornelius and his household—a fact which Peter will later use in defense of his actions to his Jewish brethren who question his association with Gentiles. With this event, the new era of God's grace for all mankind is boldly proclaimed. Shortly thereafter, other Christians begin teaching Greeks in Antioch, north of Jerusalem. Then the Jerusalem church sends Barnabas to Antioch to work among the Gentiles, and he in turn enlists the aid of Saul. So the church's Gentile ministry and fellowship grows steadily, even to the point that when the Jewish Christians in Judea have a special financial need, the Gentile Christians in Antioch volunteer to supply that need.

Luke begins now with the account of Peter raising a woman from the dead, not realizing that he is soon to become involved in an even more significant event.

AENEAS HEALED OF PARALYSIS. As Peter traveled about the country, he went to visit the saints in Lydda. There he found a man named Aeneas, a paralytic who had been bedridden for eight years. "Aeneas," Peter said to him, "Jesus Christ heals you. Get up and take care of your mat." Immediately Aeneas got up. All those who lived in Lydda and Sharon saw him and turned to the Lord.

DORCAS RAISED FROM DEAD. In Joppa there was a disciple named Tabitha (which, when translated, is Dorcas¹), who was always doing good and helping the poor. About that time she became sick and died, and her body was washed and placed in an upstairs room. Lydda was near Joppa; so when the disciples heard that Peter was in Lydda, they sent two men to him and urged him, "Please come at once!"

Acts

Joppa

Peter went with them, and when he arrived he was taken upstairs to the room. All the widows stood around him, crying and showing him the robes and other clothing that Dorcas had made while she was still with them.

Peter sent them all out of the room; then he got down on his knees and prayed. Turning toward the dead woman, he said, "Tabitha, get up." She opened her eyes, and seeing Peter she sat up. He took her by the hand and helped her to her feet. Then he called the believers and the widows and presented her to them alive. This became known all over Joppa, and many people believed in the Lord. Peter stayed in Joppa for some time with a tanner named Simon.

Acts 10:1-8
Caesarea

CORNELIUS HAS VISION. At Caesarea there was a man named Cornelius, a centurion in what was known as the Italian Regiment. He and all his family were devout and God-fearing; he gave generously to those in need and prayed to God regularly. One day at about three in the afternoon he had a vision. He distinctly saw an angel of God, who came to him and said, "Cornelius!"

Cornelius stared at him in fear. "What is it, Lord?" he asked.

The angel answered, "Your prayers and gifts to the poor have come up as a memorial offering before God. Now send men to Joppa to bring back a man named Simon who is called Peter. He is staying with Simon the tanner, whose house is by the sea."

When the angel who spoke to him had gone, Cornelius called two of his servants and a devout soldier who was one of his attendants. He told them everything that had happened and sent them to Joppa.

Acts

PETER HAS VISION. About noon the following day as they were on their journey and approaching the city, Peter went up on the roof to pray. He became hungry and wanted something to eat, and while the meal was being prepared, he fell into a trance. He saw heaven opened and something like a large sheet being let down to earth by its four corners. It contained all kinds of four-footed animals, as well as reptiles of the earth and birds of the air. Then a voice told him, "Get up, Peter. Kill and eat."

"Surely not, Lord!" Peter replied. "I have never eaten anything impure or unclean."

The voice spoke to him a second time, "Do not call anything impure that God has made clean."

This happened three times, and immediately the sheet was taken back to heaven.

Acts
10:17-23a

CORNELIUS SENDS FOR PETER. While Peter was wondering about the meaning of the vision, the men sent by Cornelius found out where Simon's house was and stopped at the gate. They called out, asking if Simon who was known as Peter was staying there.

While Peter was still thinking about the vision, the Spirit said to him, "Simon, three^m men are looking for you. So get up and go downstairs. Do not hesitate to go with them, for I have sent them."

Peter went down and said to the men, "I'm the one you're looking for. Why have you come?"

The men replied, "We have come from Cornelius the centurion. He is a righteous and God-fearing man, who is respected by all the Jewish people. A holy angel told him to have you come to his house so that he could hear what you have to say." Then Peter invited the men into the house to be his guests.

PETER GOES TO CORNELIUS. The next day Peter started out with them, and some of the brothers from Joppa went along. The following day he arrived in Caesarea. Cornelius was expecting them and had called together his relatives and close friends. As Peter entered the house, Cornelius met him and fell at his feet in reverence. But Peter made him get up. "Stand up," he said, "I am only a man myself."

Talking with him, Peter went inside and found a large gathering of people. He said to them: "You are well aware that it is against our law for a Jew to associate with a Gentile or visit him. But God has shown me that I should not call any man impure or unclean. So when I was sent for, I came without raising any objection. May I ask why you sent for me?"

CORNELIUS TELLS OF VISION. Cornelius answered: "Four days ago I was in my house praying at this hour, at three in the afternoon. Suddenly a man in shining clothes stood before me and said, 'Cornelius, God has heard your prayer and remembered your gifts to the poor. Send to Joppa for Simon who is called Peter. He is a guest in the home of Simon the tanner, who lives by the sea.' So I sent for you immediately, and it was good of you to come. Now we are all here in the presence of God to listen to everything the Lord has commanded you to tell us."

Acts
10:30-33

PETER PROCLAIMS JESUS. Then Peter began to speak: "I now realize how true it is that God does not show favoritism but accepts men from every nation who fear him and do what is right. You know the message God sent to the people of Israel, telling the good news of peace through Jesus Christ, who is Lord of all. You know what has happened throughout Judea, beginning in Galilee after the baptism that John preached— how God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Spirit and power, and how he went around doing good and healing all who were under the power of the devil, because God was with him.

Acts
10:34-43

"We are witnesses of everything he did in the country of the Jews and in Jerusalem. They killed him by hanging him on a tree, but God raised him from the dead on the third day and caused him to be seen. He was not seen by all the people, but by witnesses whom God had already chosen—by us who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead. He commanded us to preach to the people and to testify that he is the one whom God appointed as judge of the living and the dead. All the prophets testify about him that everyone who believes in him receives forgiveness of sins through his name."

CORNELIUS BAPTIZED. While Peter was still speaking these words, the Holy Spirit came on all who heard the message. The circumcised believers who had come with Peter were astonished that the gift of the Holy Spirit had been poured out even on the Gentiles. For they heard them speaking in tongues" and praising God.

Acts
10:44-48

Then Peter said, "Can anyone keep these people from being baptized with water? They have received the Holy Spirit just as we have." So he ordered that they be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ. Then they asked Peter to stay with them for a few days.

PETER RESPONDS TO QUESTIONS. The apostles and the brothers throughout Judea heard that the Gentiles also had received the word of God. So when Peter went up to Jerusalem, the circumcised believers criticized him and said, "You went into the house of uncircumcised men and ate with them."

Acts
11:1-18
Jerusalem

Peter began and explained everything to them precisely as it had happened: "I was in the city of Joppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision.

"Or other languages

I saw something like a large sheet being let down from heaven by its four corners, and it came down to where I was. I looked into it and saw four-footed animals of the earth, wild beasts, reptiles, and birds of the air. Then I heard a voice telling me, 'Get up, Peter. Kill and eat.'

"I replied, 'Surely not, Lord! Nothing impure or unclean has ever entered my mouth.'

"The voice spoke from heaven a second time, 'Do not call anything impure that God has made clean.' This happened three times, and then it was all pulled up to heaven again.

"Right then three men who had been sent to me from Caesarea stopped at the house where I was staying. The Spirit told me to have no hesitation about going with them. These six brothers also went with me, and we entered the man's house. He told us how he had seen an angel appear in his house and say, 'Send to Joppa for Simon who is called Peter. He will bring you a message through which you and all your household will be saved.'

"As I began to speak, the Holy Spirit came on them as he had come on us at the beginning. Then I remembered what the Lord had said: 'John baptized with^o water, but you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.' So if God gave them the same gift as he gave us, who believed in the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I to think that I could oppose God?"

When they heard this, they had no further objections and praised God, saying, "So then, God has granted even the Gentiles repentance unto life."

Acts
11:19-21

GOSPEL PREACHED IN ANTIOCH. Now those who had been scattered by the persecution in connection with Stephen traveled as far as Phoenicia, Cyprus and Antioch, telling the message only to Jews. Some of them, however, men from Cyprus and Cyrene, went to Antioch and began to speak to Greeks also, telling them the good news about the Lord Jesus. The Lord's hand was with them, and a great number of people believed and turned to the Lord.

BARNABAS AND SAUL IN ANTIOCH. News of this reached the ears of the church at Jerusalem, and they sent Barnabas to Antioch. When he arrived and saw the evidence of the grace of God, he was glad and encouraged them all to remain true to the Lord with all their hearts. He was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and faith, and a great number of people were brought to the Lord.

Then Barnabas went to Tarsus to look for Saul, and when he found him, he brought him to Antioch. So for a whole year Barnabas and Saul met with the church and taught great numbers of people. The disciples were called Christians first at Antioch.

Persecution by Herod Agrippa I

The period of calm which permitted the church to reach out to Gentiles is not to continue for long. King Herod Agrippa I will soon find it politically advantageous to instigate a new period of persecution against these believers, who are now called Christians. To Agrippa, persecution must be a familiar practice. It was Agrippa's grandfather, Herod the Great, who had ordered the killing of infants near the time of Jesus' birth, and it was his uncle, Herod Antipas, who had beheaded John the Baptist and joined with Pontius Pilate in mocking Jesus. Agrippa himself is the son of Aristobulus, who was killed by order of his own father, Herod the Great. Agrippa's uncles—Archelaus, Philip, and Antipas—had ruled various provinces of the kingdom, but have now either died or been banished from their rule. Their departure has left Herod Agrippa in control of all the territory formerly ruled by Herod the Great.

Among his other acts of persecution, Agrippa seizes James, the brother of John, and puts him to death. Peter too is imprisoned, and probably destined for the same fate. But Peter will be spared by a miracle. Ironically, Herod's wickedness will result in his own death, and the church will continue to grow despite his attempt at oppression.

JAMES KILLED. It was about this time that King Herod arrested some who belonged to the church, intending to persecute them. He had James, the brother of John, put to death with the sword. When he saw that this pleased the Jews, he proceeded to seize Peter also. This happened during the Feast of Unleavened Bread. After arresting him, he put him in prison, handing him over to be guarded by four squads of four soldiers each. Herod intended to bring him out for public trial after the Passover.

Acts 12:1-5
Jerusalem

So Peter was kept in prison, but the church was earnestly praying to God for him.

ANGEL RESCUES PETER. The night before Herod was to bring him to trial, Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains, and sentries stood guard at the entrance. Suddenly an angel of the Lord appeared and a light shone in the cell. He struck Peter on the side and woke him up. "Quick, get up!" he said, and the chains fell off Peter's wrists.

Acts
12:6-11

Then the angel said to him, "Put on your clothes and sandals." And Peter did so. "Wrap your cloak around you and follow me," the angel told him. Peter followed him out of the prison, but he had no idea that what the angel was doing was really happening; he thought he was seeing a vision. They passed the first and second guards and came to the iron gate leading to the city. It opened for them by itself, and they went through it. When they had walked the length of one street, suddenly the angel left him.

Then Peter came to himself and said, "Now I know without a doubt that the Lord sent his angel and rescued me from Herod's clutches and from everything the Jewish people were anticipating."

PETER TELLS OF DELIVERANCE. When this had dawned on him, he went to the house of Mary the mother of John, also called Mark, where many people had gathered and were praying. Peter knocked at the outer entrance, and a servant girl named Rhoda came to answer the door. When she recognized Peter's voice, she was so overjoyed she ran back without opening it and exclaimed, "Peter is at the door!"

"You're out of your mind," they told her. When she kept insisting that it was so, they said, "It must be his angel."

But Peter kept on knocking, and when they opened the door and saw him, they were astonished. Peter motioned with his hand for them to be quiet and described how the Lord had brought him out of prison. "Tell James and the brothers about this," he said, and then he left for another place.

Acts
12:18,19a

HEROD HAS GUARDS KILLED. In the morning, there was no small commotion among the soldiers as to what had become of Peter. After Herod had a thorough search made for him and did not find him, he cross-examined the guards and ordered that they be executed.

Acts
12:19b-23
Caesarea

HEROD DIES BECAUSE OF PRIDE. Then Herod went from Judea to Caesarea and stayed there a while. He had been quarreling with the people of Tyre and Sidon; they now joined together and sought an audience with him. Having secured the support of Blastus, a trusted personal servant of the king, they asked for peace, because they depended on the king's country for their food supply.

On the appointed day Herod, wearing his royal robes, sat on his throne and delivered a public address to the people. They shouted, "This is the voice of a god, not of a man." Immediately, because Herod did not give praise to God, an angel of the Lord struck him down, and he was eaten by worms and died.

12:24,25

JOHN MARK TAKEN TO ANTIOCH. But the word of God continued to increase and spread.

When Barnabas and Saul had finished their mission, they returned from^v Jerusalem, taking with them John, also called Mark.

First Missionary Journey

In order to evangelize more effectively the world outside Judea and Samaria, the Holy Spirit now directs Barnabas and Saul (from this time on referred to as Paul) to set out on a tour of what is known today as Cyprus and central Turkey. Leaving from Antioch in northern Syria and sailing from the port of Seleucia, Paul and Barnabas land at Salamis, on the Mediterranean island of Cyprus. After crossing the island to Paphos, they then sail for the region of Pamphylia, on the southern Turkish coast, where they spend some time in the city of Perga. It is here that John Mark, who will later write one of the four Gospel accounts and who has apparently been traveling with them, returns to Jerusalem. Later in the historical record it will be seen that John's return causes some problems in the relationship between Paul and the young evangelist, but a reconciliation will ultimately prevail.

From Perga, Paul's group travels to the city of Antioch in the region of Pisidia. Luke records Paul's sermon there, a sermon that is perhaps representative of Paul's preaching throughout the entire tour. Similar in some respects to Peter's sermon on Pentecost, it is principally aimed at Jews who gather in the synagogues on the sabbath. It recites a history of God's dealings with the nation of Israel, notes the many prophecies about the coming Messiah, and sets forth Jesus as that resurrected Lord. But Paul is quick to add that even the Gentiles are now recipients of God's grace.

^vSome manuscripts to

Thereafter in Antioch, and in the cities of Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe, many Jews and Gentiles believe in Jesus. But certain ones among the Jews who are jealous of Paul's success stir up the people and instigate persecution against him. Withstanding even stoning, Paul then begins the return trip to Syria. Along the way he will visit the newly established congregations of Christians and appoint elders as spiritual shepherds in each congregation.

BARNABAS AND SAUL CALLED. In the church at Antioch there were prophets and teachers: Barnabas, Simeon called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen (who had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch) and Saul. While they were worshipping the Lord and fasting, the Holy Spirit said, "Set apart for me Barnabas and Saul for the work to which I have called them." So after they had fasted and prayed, they placed their hands on them and sent them off.

Acts 13:1-3

JOURNEY BEGINS IN CYPRUS. The two of them, sent on their way by the Holy Spirit, went down to Seleucia and sailed from there to Cyprus. When they arrived at Salamis, they proclaimed the word of God in the Jewish synagogues. John was with them as their helper.

Acts 13:4,5
Cyprus

ELYMAS BLINDED. They traveled through the whole island until they came to Paphos. There they met a Jewish sorcerer and false prophet named Bar-Jesus, who was an attendant of the proconsul, Sergius Paulus. The proconsul, an intelligent man, sent for Barnabas and Saul because he wanted to hear the word of God. But Elymas the sorcerer (for that is what his name means) opposed them and tried to turn the proconsul from the faith. Then Saul, who was also called Paul, filled with the Holy Spirit, looked straight at Elymas and said, "You are a child of the devil and an enemy of everything that is right! You are full of all kinds of deceit and trickery. Will you never stop perverting the right ways of the Lord? Now the hand of the Lord is against you. You are going to be blind, and for a time you will be unable to see the light of the sun."

Acts

Immediately mist and darkness came over him, and he groped about, seeking someone to lead him by the hand. When the proconsul saw what had happened, he believed, for he was amazed at the teaching about the Lord.

JOHN MARK RETURNS. From Paphos, Paul and his companions sailed to Perga in Pamphylia, where John left them to return to Jerusalem. From Perga they went on to Pisidian Antioch.

PAUL'S FIRST RECORDED SERMON. On the Sabbath they entered the synagogue and sat down. After the reading from the Law and the Prophets, the synagogue rulers sent word to them, saying, "Brothers, if you have a message of encouragement for the people, please speak."

Acts
13:14b-25
Antioch in Pisidia

Standing up, Paul motioned with his hand and said: "Men of Israel and you Gentiles who worship God, listen to me! The God of the people of Israel chose our fathers; he made the people prosper during their stay in Egypt, with mighty power he led them out of that country, he endured their conduct^a for about forty years in the desert, he overthrew seven nations in Canaan and gave their land to his people as their inheritance. All this took about 450 years.

"After this, God gave them judges until the time of Samuel the prophet. Then the people asked for a king, and he gave them Saul son of Kish, of the tribe of Benjamin, who ruled forty years. After removing Saul, he made David their king. He testified concerning him: 'I have found David son of Jesse a man after my own heart; he will do everything I want him to do.'

"From this man's descendants God has brought to Israel the Savior Jesus, as he promised. Before the coming of Jesus, John preached repentance and baptism to all the people of Israel. As John was completing his work, he said: 'Who do you think I am? I am not that one. No, but he is coming after me, whose sandals I am not worthy to untie.'

Acts
13:26-41

"Brothers, children of Abraham, and you God-fearing Gentiles, it is to us that this message of salvation has been sent. The people of Jerusalem and their rulers did not recognize Jesus, yet in condemning him they fulfilled the words of the prophets that are read every Sabbath. Though they found no proper ground for a death sentence, they asked Pilate to have him executed. When they had carried out all that was written about him, they took him down from the tree and laid him in a tomb. But God raised him from the dead, and for many days he was seen by those who had traveled with him from Galilee to Jerusalem. They are now his witnesses to our people.

"We tell you the good news: What God promised our fathers he has fulfilled for us, their children, by raising up Jesus. As it is written in the second Psalm:

" 'You are my Son;
today I have become your Father.'^s The fact that God raised him from the dead, never to decay, is stated in these words:

" 'I will give you the holy and sure blessings promised to David.'^t So it is stated elsewhere:

" 'You will not let your Holy One see decay.'^u

"For when David had served God's purpose in his own generation, he fell asleep; he was buried with his fathers and his body decayed. But the one whom God raised from the dead did not see decay.

"Therefore, my brothers, I want you to know that through Jesus the forgiveness of sins is proclaimed to you. Through him everyone who believes is justified from everything you could not be justified from by the law of Moses. Take care that what the prophets have said does not happen to you:

" 'Look, you scoffers, wonder and perish,
for I am going to do something in your days
that you would never believe, even if someone told you.'^v "

SERMON WELL-RECEIVED. As Paul and Barnabas were leaving the synagogue, the people invited them to speak further about these things on the next Sabbath. When the congregation was dismissed, many of the Jews and devout converts to Judaism followed Paul and Barnabas, who talked with them and urged them to continue in the grace of God.

Acts
13:42,43

JEALOUSY AND OPPOSITION. On the next Sabbath almost the whole city gathered to hear the word of the Lord. When the Jews saw the crowds, they were filled with jealousy and talked abusively against what Paul was saying.

Acts
13:44-47

Then Paul and Barnabas answered them boldly: "We had to speak the word of God to you first. Since you reject it and do not consider yourselves worthy of eternal life, we now turn to the Gentiles. For this is what the Lord has commanded us:

"I have made you^w a light for the Gentiles, that you^w may bring salvation to the ends of the earth.'^x"

GENTILES BELIEVE. When the Gentiles heard this, they were glad and honored the word of the Lord; and all who were appointed for eternal life believed.

Acts
13:48-52

The word of the Lord spread through the whole region. But the Jews incited the God-fearing women of high standing and the leading men of the city. They stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them from their region. So they shook the dust from their feet in protest against them and went to Iconium. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Spirit.

MIXED RESPONSE IN ICONIUM. At Iconium Paul and Barnabas went as usual into the Jewish synagogue. There they spoke so effectively that a great number of Jews and Gentiles believed. But the Jews who refused to believe stirred up the Gentiles and poisoned their minds against the brothers. So Paul and Barnabas spent considerable time there, speaking boldly for the Lord, who confirmed the message of his grace by enabling them to do miraculous signs and wonders. The people of the city were divided; some sided with the Jews, others with the apostles. There was a plot afoot among the Gentiles and Jews, together with their leaders, to mistreat them and stone them. But they found out about it and fled to the Lycaonian cities of Lystra and Derbe and to the surrounding country, where they continued to preach the good news.

Acts 14:1-7
Iconium

CRIPPLED MAN HEALED. In Lystra there sat a man crippled in his feet, who was lame from birth and had never walked. He listened to Paul as he was speaking. Paul looked directly at him, saw that he had faith to be healed and called out, "Stand up on your feet!" At that, the man jumped up and began to walk.

Acts
14:8-10
Lystra

BARNABAS AND PAUL WORSHIPED. When the crowd saw what Paul had done, they shouted in the Lycaonian language, "The gods have come down to us in human form!" Barnabas they called Zeus, and Paul they called Hermes because he was the chief speaker. The priest of Zeus, whose temple was just outside the city, brought bulls and wreaths to the city gates because he and the crowd wanted to offer sacrifices to them.

Acts
14:11-18

^wThe Greek is singular. ^xIsaiah 49:6

But when the apostles Barnabas and Paul heard of this, they tore their clothes and rushed out into the crowd, shouting: "Men, why are you doing this? We too are only men, human like you. We are bringing you good news, telling you to turn from these worthless things to the living God, who made heaven and earth and sea and everything in them. In the past, he let all nations go their own way. Yet he has not left himself without testimony: He has shown kindness by giving you rain from heaven and crops in their seasons; he provides you with plenty of food and fills your hearts with joy." Even with these words, they had difficulty keeping the crowd from sacrificing to them.

Acts 14:19,20 PAUL STONED. Then some Jews came from Antioch and Iconium and won the crowd over. They stoned Paul and dragged him outside the city, thinking he was dead. But after the disciples had gathered around him, he got up and went back into the city. The next day he and Barnabas left for Derbe.

Acts 14:21-23 Antioch in Pisidia STRENGTHENING CHURCHES. They preached the good news in that city and won a large number of disciples. Then they returned to Lystra, Iconium and Antioch, strengthening the disciples and encouraging them to remain true to the faith. "We must go through many hardships to enter the kingdom of God," they said. Paul and Barnabas appointed elders^v for them in each church and, with prayer and fasting, committed them to the Lord, in whom they had put their trust.

Acts 14:24-28 Antioch in Syria REPORT TO CHURCH IN ANTIOCH. After going through Pisidia, they came into Pamphylia, and when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down to Attalia.

From Attalia they sailed back to Antioch, where they had been committed to the grace of God for the work they had now completed. On arriving there, they gathered the church together and reported all that God had done through them and how he had opened the door of faith to the Gentiles. And they stayed there a long time with the disciples.

The Jerusalem Conference

The tour through ancient Asia Minor apparently ends somewhere around A.D. 47. Paul and Barnabas probably settle back into concentrated efforts at teaching in the local area, but their respite is not to last for long. By A.D. 48 there is trouble in the church. Certain Jewish Christians from Jerusalem go north to Antioch, teaching the Gentile Christians that they must be circumcised, in addition to being baptized, in order to be obedient to God. To the Jews the rite of circumcision is a sign of the covenant relationship which they have with God, so it is only natural that they should think the same act would be required of Gentile Christians. But their more serious misconception lies in their belief that circumcision is required as part of keeping the Law of Moses. They are not only urging Gentiles to be circumcised, but demanding that they keep the entire law, just as the Jewish Christians are continuing to do.

^vOr Barnabas ordained elders; or Barnabas had elders elected

The problem posed by these so-called "Judaizing teachers" will continue to divide the church in the ensuing years, and it will be a subject for discussion in several of Paul's later letters. For now, however, the problem is temporarily solved by a conference at Jerusalem in which Paul and Barnabas meet with the apostles and elders. After reviewing the work of the Holy Spirit in leading the way to Gentile evangelism, and after consulting Scripture for prophecy concerning the Gentiles, they all agree that circumcision (and by implication the law itself) is not binding on the Gentiles. This message is sent to Gentile Christians, along with a warning that they avoid certain idolatrous practices common among pagan Gentiles. As a result of this agreement, unity will finally prevail, at least temporarily.

JUDAIZERS PROMPT MEETING. Some men came down from Judea to Antioch and were teaching the brothers: "Unless you are circumcised, according to the custom taught by Moses, you cannot be saved." This brought Paul and Barnabas into sharp dispute and debate with them. So Paul and Barnabas were appointed, along with some other believers, to go up to Jerusalem to see the apostles and elders about this question. The church sent them on their way, and as they traveled through Phoenicia and Samaria, they told how the Gentiles had been converted. This news made all the brothers very glad. When they came to Jerusalem, they were welcomed by the church and the apostles and elders, to whom they reported everything God had done through them.

Acts 15:1-5
Antioch
48-50)

Then some of the believers who belonged to the party of the Pharisees stood up and said, "The Gentiles must be circumcised and required to obey the law of Moses."

GENTILE EVANGELISM RECOUNTED. The apostles and elders met to consider this question. After much discussion, Peter got up and addressed them: "Brothers, you know that some time ago God made a choice among you that the Gentiles might hear from my lips the message of the gospel and believe. God, who knows the heart, showed that he accepted them by giving the Holy Spirit to them, just as he did to us. He made no distinction between us and them, for he purified their hearts by faith. Now then, why do you try to test God by putting on the necks of the disciples a yoke that neither we nor our fathers have been able to bear? No! We believe it is through the grace of our Lord Jesus that we are saved, just as they are."

Acts
15:6-12
Jerusalem

The whole assembly became silent as they listened to Barnabas and Paul telling about the miraculous signs and wonders God had done among the Gentiles through them.

JAMES SUGGESTS RESOLUTION. When they finished, James spoke up: "Brothers, listen to me. Simon^z has described to us how God at first showed his concern by taking from the Gentiles a people for himself. The words of the prophets are in agreement with this, as it is written:

Acts
15:13-21

"It is my judgment, therefore, that we should not make it difficult for the Gentiles who are turning to God. Instead we should write to them, telling them to abstain from food polluted by idols, from sexual immorality, from the meat of strangled animals and from blood. For Moses has been preached in every city from the earliest times and is read in the synagogues on every Sabbath."

Acts
15:22-29

LETTER SENT TO GENTILES. Then the apostles and elders, with the whole church, decided to choose some of their own men and send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas. They chose Judas (called Barsabbas) and Silas, two men who were leaders among the brothers. With them they sent the following letter:

The apostles and elders, your brothers,

To the Gentile believers in Antioch, Syria and Cilicia:

Greetings.

We have heard that some went out from us without our authorization and disturbed you, troubling your minds by what they said. So we all agreed to choose some men and send them to you with our dear friends Barnabas and Paul— men who have risked their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. Therefore we are sending Judas and Silas to confirm by word of mouth what we are writing. It seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us not to burden you with anything beyond the following requirements: You are to abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from sexual immorality. You will do well to avoid these things.

Farewell.

GENTILES REJOICE. The men were sent off and went down to Antioch, where they gathered the church together and delivered the letter. The people read it and were glad for its encouraging message. Judas and Silas, who themselves were prophets, said much to encourage and strengthen the brothers. After spending some time there, they were sent off by the brothers with the blessing of peace to return to those who had sent them.^c But Paul and Barnabas remained in Antioch, where they and many others taught and preached the word of the Lord.

Letter to the Galatians

Although there is no consensus on the matter, it appears that while Paul and Barnabas were in Antioch, Paul may have written his letter to the Galatian Christians among whom he and Barnabas had worked during their recent travels to Antioch of Pisidia, Iconium, Lystra, and Derbe. If this assumption is correct, the letter would have been written about A.D. 50, shortly following the Jerusalem conference. The subject of Paul's letter parallels that of the conference itself, which pertained to the problems created by those Jewish Christians who were insisting that Gentile converts submit to the rite of circumcision and observe other rituals to which the Jews were accustomed. Again, the real issue is undoubtedly the contention by the Judaizers that Christians should be required to continue obeying the Law of Moses. In his letter Paul strongly defends the Christian's freedom from the law, and proclaims the new covenant relationship which Christians have through God's grace.

Paul begins this letter by defending his own apostleship, which apparently has been questioned by the Judaizers in Galatia in their attempt to discredit Paul's teaching. The main thrust of his defense is that he did not receive his gospel from the other apostles. As proof, he carefully outlines his limited contact with the apostles in Jerusalem. (The one contact to which Paul makes no reference is his brief trip to Jerusalem to deliver the gift from the brethren in Antioch.) Paul urges that, as a specially chosen apostle, he received directly from God the good news of freedom in Christ.

SALUTATION. Paul, an apostle—sent not from men nor by man, but by Jesus Christ and God the Father, who raised him from the dead— and all the brothers with me, Gal. 1:1-5

To the churches in Galatia:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ, who gave himself for our sins to rescue us from the present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Authority As an Apostle

PERVERSION OF GOSPEL. I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting the one who called you by the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel— which is really no gospel at all. Evidently some people are throwing you into confusion and are trying to pervert the gospel of Christ. But even if we or an angel from heaven should preach a gospel other than the one we preached to you, let him be eternally condemned! As we have already said, so now I say again: If anybody is preaching to you a gospel other than what you accepted, let him be eternally condemned! Gal. 1:6-9

GOSPEL'S DIVINE ORIGIN. Am I now trying to win the approval of men, or of God? Or am I trying to please men? If I were still trying to please men, I would not be a servant of Christ. Gal. 1:10-12

I want you to know, brothers, that the gospel I preached is not something that man made up. I did not receive it from any man, nor was I taught it; rather, I received it by revelation from Jesus Christ.

Gal.
1:13-17

TEACHING DIVINELY REVEALED. For you have heard of my previous way of life in Judaism, how intensely I persecuted the church of God and tried to destroy it. I was advancing in Judaism beyond many Jews of my own age and was extremely zealous for the traditions of my fathers. But when God, who set me apart from birth^d and called me by his grace, was pleased to reveal his Son in me so that I might preach him among the Gentiles, I did not consult any man, nor did I go up to Jerusalem to see those who were apostles before I was, but I went immediately into Arabia and later returned to Damascus.

Gal.
1:18-24

DOCTRINE NOT FROM APOSTLES. Then after three years, I went up to Jerusalem to get acquainted with Peter^e and stayed with him fifteen days. I saw none of the other apostles—only James, the Lord's brother. I assure you before God that what I am writing you is no lie. Later I went to Syria and Cilicia. I was personally unknown to the churches of Judea that are in Christ. They only heard the report: "The man who formerly persecuted us is now preaching the faith he once tried to destroy." And they praised God because of me.

Gal. 2:1-10

GENTILE EVANGELISM ACCEPTED. Fourteen years later I went up again to Jerusalem, this time with Barnabas. I took Titus along also. I went in response to a revelation and set before them the gospel that I preach among the Gentiles. But I did this privately to those who seemed to be leaders, for fear that I was running or had run my race in vain. Yet not even Titus, who was with me, was compelled to be circumcised, even though he was a Greek. This matter arose, because some false brothers had infiltrated our ranks to spy on the freedom we have in Christ Jesus and to make us slaves. We did not give in to them for a moment, so that the truth of the gospel might remain with you.

As for those who seemed to be important—whatever they were makes no difference to me; God does not judge by external appearance—those men added nothing to my message. On the contrary, they saw that I had been entrusted with the task of preaching the gospel to the Gentiles,^f just as Peter had been to the Jews.^g For God, who was at work in the ministry of Peter as an apostle to the Jews, was also at work in my ministry as an apostle to the Gentiles. James, Peter^h and John, those reputed to be pillars, gave me and Barnabas the right hand of fellowship when they recognized the grace given to me. They agreed that we should go to the Gentiles, and they to the Jews. All they asked was that we should continue to remember the poor, the very thing I was eager to do.

Gal.
2:11-14

PAUL REBUKED PETER. When Peter came to Antioch, I opposed him to his face, because he was clearly in the wrong. Before certain men came from James, he used to eat with the Gentiles. But when they arrived, he began to draw back and separate himself from the Gentiles because he was afraid of those who belonged to the circumcision group. The other Jews joined him in his hypocrisy, so that by their hypocrisy even Barnabas was led astray.

When I saw that they were not acting in line with the truth of the gospel,

I said to Peter in front of them all, "You are a Jew, yet you live like a Gentile and not like a Jew. How is it, then, that you force Gentiles to follow Jewish customs?"

Doctrine of Justification

LAW AND CHRIST. "We who are Jews by birth and not 'Gentile sinners' know that a man is not justified by observing the law, but by faith in Jesus Christ. So we, too, have put our faith in Christ Jesus that we may be justified by faith in Christ and not by observing the law, because by observing the law no one will be justified.

Gal.
2:15-21

"If, while we seek to be justified in Christ, it becomes evident that we ourselves are sinners, does that mean that Christ promotes sin? Absolutely not! If I rebuild what I destroyed, I prove that I am a lawbreaker. For through the law I died to the law so that I might live for God. I have been crucified with Christ and I no longer live, but Christ lives in me. The life I live in the body, I live by faith in the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself for me. I do not set aside the grace of God, for if righteousness could be gained through the law, Christ died for nothing!"ⁱ LAW AND FAITH. You foolish Galatians! Who has bewitched you? Before your very eyes Jesus Christ was clearly portrayed as crucified. I would like to learn just one thing from you: Did you receive the Spirit by observing the law, or by believing what you heard? Are you so foolish? After beginning with the Spirit, are you now trying to attain your goal by human effort? Have you suffered so much for nothing—if it really was for nothing? Does God give you his Spirit and work miracles among you because you observe the law, or because you believe what you heard?

Gal. 3:1-5

ABRAHAM'S FAITH. Consider Abraham: "He believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."ⁱ Understand, then, that those who believe are children of Abraham. The Scripture foresaw that God would justify the Gentiles by faith, and announced the gospel in advance to Abraham: "All nations will be blessed through you."^k So those who have faith are blessed along with Abraham, the man of faith.

Gal. 3:6-9

CHRIST SAVES, NOT WORKS. All who rely on observing the law are under a curse, for it is written: "Cursed is everyone who does not continue to do everything written in the Book of the Law."^l Clearly no one is justified before God by the law, because, "The righteous will live by faith."^m The law is not based on faith; on the contrary, "The man who does these things will live by them."ⁿ Christ redeemed us from the curse of the law by becoming a curse for us, for it is written: "Cursed is everyone who is hung on a tree."^o He redeemed us in order that the blessing given to Abraham might come to the Gentiles through Christ Jesus, so that by faith we might receive the promise of the Spirit.

Gal.
3:10-14

INHERITANCE BY PROMISE. Brothers, let me take an example from everyday life. Just as no one can set aside or add to a human covenant that has been duly established, so it is in this case. The promises were spoken to Abraham and to his seed. The Scripture does not say "and to seeds," meaning many people, but "and to your seed,"^p meaning one person,

Gal.
3:15-18

ⁱSome interpreters end the quotation after verse 14. ^jGen. 15:6 ^kGen. 12:3; 18:18; 22:18 ^lDeut. 27:26 ^mHab. 2:4 ⁿLev. 18:5 ^oDeut. 21:23 ^pGen. 12:7; 13:15; 24:7

who is Christ. What I mean is this: The law, introduced 430 years later, does not set aside the covenant previously established by God and thus do away with the promise. For if the inheritance depends on the law, then it no longer depends on a promise; but God in his grace gave it to Abraham through a promise.

Gal.
3:19-22

PURPOSE OF LAW. What, then, was the purpose of the law? It was added because of transgressions until the Seed to whom the promise referred had come. The law was put into effect through angels by a mediator. A mediator, however, does not represent just one party; but God is one.

Is the law, therefore, opposed to the promises of God? Absolutely not! For if a law had been given that could impart life, then righteousness would certainly have come by the law. But the Scripture declares that the whole world is a prisoner of sin, so that what was promised, being given through faith in Jesus Christ, might be given to those who believe.

Gal.
3:23-29

HEIRS THROUGH FAITH. Before this faith came, we were held prisoners by the law, locked up until faith should be revealed. So the law was put in charge to lead us to Christ^a that we might be justified by faith. Now that faith has come, we are no longer under the supervision of the law.

You are all sons of God through faith in Christ Jesus, for all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek, slave nor free, male nor female, for you are all one in Christ Jesus. If you belong to Christ, then you are Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

Gal. 4:1-7

ADOPTION AS SONS. What I am saying is that as long as the heir is a child, he is no different from a slave, although he owns the whole estate. He is subject to guardians and trustees until the time set by his father. So also, when we were children, we were in slavery under the basic principles of the world. But when the time had fully come, God sent his Son, born of a woman, born under law, to redeem those under law, that we might receive the full rights of sons. Because you are sons, God sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, the Spirit who calls out, "Abba," Father." So you are no longer a slave, but a son; and since you are a son, God has made you also an heir.

Gal. 4:8-11

RETURN TO LEGALISM. Formerly, when you did not know God, you were slaves to those who by nature are not gods. But now that you know God—or rather are known by God—how is it that you are turning back to those weak and miserable principles? Do you wish to be enslaved by them all over again? You are observing special days and months and seasons and years! I fear for you, that somehow I have wasted my efforts on you.

Gal.
4:12-20

PAUL CALLS ON THEIR LOVE. I plead with you, brothers, become like me, for I became like you. You have done me no wrong. As you know, it was because of an illness that I first preached the gospel to you. Even though my illness was a trial to you, you did not treat me with contempt or scorn. Instead, you welcomed me as if I were an angel of God, as if I were Christ Jesus himself. What has happened to all your joy? I can testify that, if you could have done so, you would have torn out your eyes and given them to me. Have I now become your enemy by telling you the truth?

^aOr charge until Christ came ^rAramaic for Father

Those people are zealous to win you over, but for no good. What they want is to alienate you from us, so that you may be zealous for them. It is fine to be zealous, provided the purpose is good, and to be so always and not just when I am with you. My dear children, for whom I am again in the pains of childbirth until Christ is formed in you, how I wish I could be with you now and change my tone, because I am perplexed about you!

ALLEGORY OF SARAH AND HAGAR. Tell me, you who want to be under the law, are you not aware of what the law says? For it is written that Abraham had two sons, one by the slave woman and the other by the free woman. His son by the slave woman was born in the ordinary way; but his son by the free woman was born as the result of a promise.

Gal.
4:21-5:1

These things may be taken figuratively, for the women represent two covenants. One covenant is from Mount Sinai and bears children who are to be slaves: This is Hagar. Now Hagar stands for Mount Sinai in Arabia and corresponds to the present city of Jerusalem, because she is in slavery with her children. But the Jerusalem that is above is free, and she is our mother. For it is written:

"Be glad, O barren woman, who bears no children;
break forth and cry aloud,
you who have no labor pains;
because more are the children of the desolate woman
than of her who has a husband."^s

Now you, brothers, like Isaac, are children of promise. At that time the son born in the ordinary way persecuted the son born by the power of the Spirit. It is the same now. But what does the Scripture say? "Get rid of the slave woman and her son, for the slave woman's son will never share in the inheritance with the free woman's son."^t Therefore, brothers, we are not children of the slave woman, but of the free woman. It is for freedom that Christ has set us free. Stand firm, then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery.

Christian Liberty

CIRCUMCISION A MATTER OF LAW. Mark my words! I, Paul, tell you that if you let yourselves be circumcised, Christ will be of no value to you at all. Again I declare to every man who lets himself be circumcised that he is obligated to obey the whole law. You who are trying to be justified by law have been alienated from Christ; you have fallen away from grace. But by faith we eagerly await through the Spirit the righteousness for which we hope. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor uncircumcision has any value. The only thing that counts is faith expressing itself through love.

Gal. 5:2-12

You were running a good race. Who cut in on you and kept you from obeying the truth? That kind of persuasion does not come from the one who calls you. "A little yeast works through the whole batch of dough." I am confident in the Lord that you will take no other view. The one who is throwing you into confusion will pay the penalty, whoever he may be. Brothers, if I am still preaching circumcision, why am I still being persecuted? In that case the offense of the cross has been abolished. As for those agitators, I wish they would go the whole way and emasculate themselves!

Gal. 5:13-15 LAW FULFILLED IN LOVE. You, my brothers, were called to be free. But do not use your freedom to indulge the sinful nature^u; rather, serve one another in love. The entire law is summed up in a single command: "Love your neighbor as yourself."^v If you keep on biting and devouring each other, watch out or you will be destroyed by each other.

Gal. 5:16-26 FLESH AND SPIRIT. So I say, live by the Spirit, and you will not gratify the desires of the sinful nature. For the sinful nature desires what is contrary to the Spirit, and the Spirit what is contrary to the sinful nature. They are in conflict with each other, so that you do not do what you want. But if you are led by the Spirit, you are not under law.

The acts of the sinful nature are obvious: sexual immorality, impurity and debauchery; idolatry and witchcraft; hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage, selfish ambition, dissensions, factions and envy; drunkenness, orgies, and the like. I warn you, as I did before, that those who live like this will not inherit the kingdom of God.

But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control. Against such things there is no law. Those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the sinful nature its passions and desires. Since we live by the Spirit, let us keep in step with the Spirit. Let us not become conceited, provoking and envying each other.

Gal. 6:1-6 MUTUAL RESPONSIBILITY. Brothers, if someone is caught in a sin, you who are spiritual should restore him gently. But watch yourself, or you also may be tempted. Carry each other's burdens, and in this way you will fulfill the law of Christ. If anyone thinks he is something when he is nothing, he deceives himself. Each one should test his own actions. Then he can take pride in himself, without comparing himself to somebody else, for each one should carry his own load.

Anyone who receives instruction in the word must share all good things with his instructor.

Gal. 6:7-10 LIVING BY THE SPIRIT. Do not be deceived: God cannot be mocked. A man reaps what he sows. The one who sows to please his sinful nature, from that nature^w will reap destruction; the one who sows to please the Spirit, from the Spirit will reap eternal life. Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up. Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, especially to those who belong to the family of believers.

Gal. 6:11-16 NEITHER CIRCUMCISION NOR LAW. See what large letters I use as I write to you with my own hand!

Those who want to make a good impression outwardly are trying to compel you to be circumcised. The only reason they do this is to avoid being persecuted for the cross of Christ. Not even those who are circumcised obey the law, yet they want you to be circumcised that they may boast about your flesh. May I never boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which^x the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world. Neither circumcision nor uncircumcision means anything; what counts is a new creation. Peace and mercy to all who follow this rule, even to the Israel of God.

BENEDICTION. Finally, let no one cause me trouble, for I bear on my body the marks of Jesus.

Gal.
6:17,18

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers. Amen.

Second Missionary Journey

Apparently not long after writing his letter to the churches in Galatia, Paul decides that it is an appropriate time for a personal visit. Through such a visit Paul hopes to observe how the churches are developing and lend the weight of his actual presence to resolving the circumcision question about which he has written. Accompanying Paul from Antioch is his fellow minister, Silas, who was one of the two representatives sent to Antioch following the Jerusalem conference. After traveling through northern Syria and Cilicia, they proceed to Derbe and then on to Lystra, where they find a disciple named Timothy. Their meeting is the beginning of a close and productive relationship between the older apostle and this young man, who is to become Paul's protégé.

With Timothy now added to their number, Paul and Silas continue traveling through the regions of Phrygia and Galatia. Being directed by the Holy Spirit, Paul passes by Mysia and spends some time in Troas, where Luke indicates that he joins Paul's company. Then, through a vision, Paul is again given directions—this time to go to Macedonia, a province in what today is northern Greece. There, in the city of Philippi, Paul converts a godly woman named Lydia and establishes a congregation with which Paul will have perhaps one of his closest associations over the ensuing years. Some of that great mutual affection undoubtedly arises from an experience in which Paul and Silas are imprisoned, only to be released miraculously from their chains and thereby given opportunity to convert both their jailer and his household.

Apparently leaving Luke behind at Philippi, Paul, Silas, and Timothy travel on to Thessalonica, where they spend three weeks with only marginal results, and then go on to Berea, where their preaching is received with great eagerness by both Jews and Greeks. But opposition stirred up by Jews from Thessalonica forces Paul to leave Silas and Timothy temporarily and proceed alone to Athens, the capital of ancient Greece. There Paul engages the Epicurean and Stoic philosophers in discussion and, standing among their pagan altars, gives a classic discourse concerning the true and living God. Thereafter Silas and Timothy apparently join Paul in Athens for a brief time, but are then sent to Thessalonica.

After remaining alone for some time in Athens, Paul journeys west to Corinth, where he spends over a year-and-a-half teaching the gospel. While in Corinth, Paul supports himself in the trade of tentmaking, together with

^xOr whom

Aquila and his wife, Priscilla, who have recently come from Italy. Paul is rejoined by Silas and Timothy, who bring news from Macedonia. In response to questions which have been raised, Paul writes two letters to the brethren in Thessalonica before leaving Corinth. Thereafter he returns to Antioch by way of Ephesus, Caesarea, and Jerusalem.

Luke's record of this second missionary journey begins on a discordant note as Paul has a dispute with Barnabas, who was initially planning to join Paul on the tour.

- Acts
15:36-41
Antioch
- PAUL AND BARNABAS SEPARATE. Some time later Paul said to Barnabas, "Let us go back and visit the brothers in all the towns where we preached the word of the Lord and see how they are doing." Barnabas wanted to take John, also called Mark, with them, but Paul did not think it wise to take him, because he had deserted them in Pamphylia and had not continued with them in the work. They had such a sharp disagreement that they parted company. Barnabas took Mark and sailed for Cyprus, but Paul chose Silas and left, commended by the brothers to the grace of the Lord. He went through Syria and Cilicia, strengthening the churches.
- Acts 16:1-3
Lystra
- TIMOTHY JOINS PAUL AND SILAS. He came to Derbe and then to Lystra, where a disciple named Timothy lived, whose mother was a Jewess and a believer, but whose father was a Greek. The brothers at Lystra and Iconium spoke well of him. Paul wanted to take him along on the journey, so he circumcised him because of the Jews who lived in that area, for they all knew that his father was a Greek.
- Acts 16:4,5
Phrygia
and Galatia
- CHURCHES ARE STRENGTHENED. As they traveled from town to town, they delivered the decisions reached by the apostles and elders in Jerusalem for the people to obey. So the churches were strengthened in the faith and grew daily in numbers.
- Acts
16:6-10
Troas
- VISION OF MACEDONIAN CALL. Paul and his companions traveled throughout the region of Phrygia and Galatia, having been kept by the Holy Spirit from preaching the word in the province of Asia. When they came to the border of Mysia, they tried to enter Bithynia, but the Spirit of Jesus would not allow them to. So they passed by Mysia and went down to Troas. During the night Paul had a vision of a man of Macedonia standing and begging him, "Come over to Macedonia and help us." After Paul had seen the vision, we got ready at once to leave for Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to preach the gospel to them.
- Acts
16:11-15
Philippi
- LYDIA CONVERTED IN PHILIPPI. From Troas we put out to sea and sailed straight for Samothrace, and the next day on to Neapolis. From there we traveled to Philippi, a Roman colony and the leading city of that district of Macedonia. And we stayed there several days.
- On the Sabbath we went outside the city gate to the river, where we expected to find a place of prayer. We sat down and began to speak to the women who had gathered there. One of those listening was a woman named Lydia, a dealer in purple cloth from the city of Thyatira, who was a worshiper of God. The Lord opened her heart to respond to Paul's message. When she and the members of her household were baptized, she invited us to her home. "If you consider me a believer in the Lord," she said, "come and stay at my house." And she persuaded us.

EVIL SPIRIT REMOVED. Once when we were going to the place of prayer, we were met by a slave girl who had a spirit by which she predicted the future. She earned a great deal of money for her owners by fortune-telling. This girl followed Paul and the rest of us, shouting, "These men are servants of the Most High God, who are telling you the way to be saved." She kept this up for many days. Finally Paul became so troubled that he turned around and said to the spirit, "In the name of Jesus Christ I command you to come out of her!" At that moment the spirit left her.

Acts
16:16-18

PAUL AND SILAS IMPRISONED. When the owners of the slave girl realized that their hope of making money was gone, they seized Paul and Silas and dragged them into the marketplace to face the authorities. They brought them before the magistrates and said, "These men are Jews, and are throwing our city into an uproar by advocating customs unlawful for us Romans to accept or practice."

Acts
16:19-24

The crowd joined in the attack against Paul and Silas, and the magistrates ordered them to be stripped and beaten. After they had been severely flogged, they were thrown into prison, and the jailer was commanded to guard them carefully. Upon receiving such orders, he put them in the inner cell and fastened their feet in the stocks.

PHILIPPIAN JAILER CONVERTED. About midnight Paul and Silas were praying and singing hymns to God, and the other prisoners were listening to them. Suddenly there was such a violent earthquake that the foundations of the prison were shaken. At once all the prison doors flew open, and everybody's chains came loose. The jailer woke up, and when he saw the prison doors open, he drew his sword and was about to kill himself because he thought the prisoners had escaped. But Paul shouted, "Don't harm yourself! We are all here!"

Acts
16:25-34

The jailer called for lights, rushed in and fell trembling before Paul and Silas. He then brought them out and asked, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?"

They replied, "Believe in the Lord Jesus, and you will be saved—you and your household." Then they spoke the word of the Lord to him and to all the others in his house. At that hour of the night the jailer took them and washed their wounds; then immediately he and all his family were baptized. The jailer brought them into his house and set a meal before them; he was filled with joy because he had come to believe in God—he and his whole family.

PAUL AND SILAS RELEASED. When it was daylight, the magistrates sent their officers to the jailer with the order: "Release those men." The jailer told Paul, "The magistrates have ordered that you and Silas be released. Now you can leave. Go in peace."

Acts
16:35-40

But Paul said to the officers: "They beat us publicly without a trial, even though we are Roman citizens, and threw us into prison. And now do they want to get rid of us quietly? No! Let them come themselves and escort us out."

The officers reported this to the magistrates, and when they heard that Paul and Silas were Roman citizens, they were alarmed. They came to appease them and escorted them from the prison, requesting them to leave the city. After Paul and Silas came out of the prison, they went to Lydia's house, where they met with the brothers and encouraged them. Then they left.

- Acts 17:1-4
Thessalonica TEACHING IN THESSALONICA. When they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where there was a Jewish synagogue. As his custom was, Paul went into the synagogue, and on three Sabbath days he reasoned with them from the Scriptures, explaining and proving that the Christ^y had to suffer and rise from the dead. "This Jesus I am proclaiming to you is the Christ,^y" he said. Some of the Jews were persuaded and joined Paul and Silas, as did a large number of God-fearing Greeks and not a few prominent women.
- Acts 17:5-9 ATTACK ON JASON'S HOUSE. But the Jews were jealous; so they rounded up some bad characters from the marketplace, formed a mob and started a riot in the city. They rushed to Jason's house in search of Paul and Silas in order to bring them out to the crowd.^z But when they did not find them, they dragged Jason and some other brothers before the city officials, shouting: "These men who have caused trouble all over the world have now come here, and Jason has welcomed them into his house. They are all defying Caesar's decrees, saying that there is another king, one called Jesus." When they heard this, the crowd and the city officials were thrown into turmoil. Then they made Jason and the others post bond and let them go.
- Acts 17:10-12
Berea GOOD RECEPTION AT BEREIA. As soon as it was night, the brothers sent Paul and Silas away to Berea. On arriving there, they went to the Jewish synagogue. Now the Bereans were of more noble character than the Thessalonians, for they received the message with great eagerness and examined the Scriptures every day to see if what Paul said was true. Many of the Jews believed, as did also a number of prominent Greek women and many Greek men.
- Acts 17:13-15 AGITATORS FORCE DEPARTURE. When the Jews in Thessalonica learned that Paul was preaching the word of God at Berea, they went there too, agitating the crowds and stirring them up. The brothers immediately sent Paul to the coast, but Silas and Timothy stayed at Berea. The men who escorted Paul brought him to Athens and then left with instructions for Silas and Timothy to join him as soon as possible.
- Acts 17:16-21
Athens WITH PHILOSOPHERS IN ATHENS. While Paul was waiting for them in Athens, he was greatly distressed to see that the city was full of idols. So he reasoned in the synagogue with the Jews and the God-fearing Greeks, as well as in the marketplace day by day with those who happened to be there. A group of Epicurean and Stoic philosophers began to dispute with him. Some of them asked, "What is this babbling trying to say?" Others remarked, "He seems to be advocating foreign gods." They said this because Paul was preaching the good news about Jesus and the resurrection. Then they took him and brought him to a meeting of the Areopagus, where they said to him, "May we know what this new teaching is that you are presenting? You are bringing some strange ideas to our ears, and we want to know what they mean." (All the Athenians and the foreigners who lived there spent their time doing nothing but talking about and listening to the latest ideas.)
- Acts 17:22-31
Areopagus SERMON ABOUT "UNKNOWN GOD." Paul then stood up in the meeting of the Areopagus and said: "Men of Athens! I see that in every way you are very religious. For as I walked around and looked carefully at your objects of worship, I even found an altar with this inscription: TO AN UNKNOWN GOD. Now what you worship as something unknown I am going to proclaim to you.

“The God who made the world and everything in it is the Lord of heaven and earth and does not live in temples built by hands. And he is not served by human hands, as if he needed anything, because he himself gives all men life and breath and everything else. From one man he made every nation of men, that they should inhabit the whole earth; and he determined the times set for them and the exact places where they should live. God did this so that men would seek him and perhaps reach out for him and find him, though he is not far from each one of us. ‘For in him we live and move and have our being.’ As some of your own poets have said, ‘We are his offspring.’

“Therefore since we are God’s offspring, we should not think that the divine being is like gold or silver or stone—an image made by man’s design and skill. In the past God overlooked such ignorance, but now he commands all people everywhere to repent. For he has set a day when he will judge the world with justice by the man he has appointed. He has given proof of this to all men by raising him from the dead.”

CROWD’S REACTION. When they heard about the resurrection of the dead, some of them sneered, but others said, “We want to hear you again on this subject.” At that, Paul left the Council. A few men became followers of Paul and believed. Among them was Dionysius, a member of the Areopagus, also a woman named Damaris, and a number of others.

Acts
17:32-34

AQUILA AND PRISCILLA. After this, Paul left Athens and went to Corinth. There he met a Jew named Aquila a native of Pontus, who had recently come from Italy with his wife Priscilla, because Claudius had ordered all the Jews to leave Rome. Paul went to see them, and because he was a tentmaker as they were, he stayed and worked with them. Every Sabbath he reasoned in the synagogue, trying to persuade Jews and Greeks.

Acts 18:1-4
Corinth

UNBELIEVING JEWS. When Silas and Timothy came from Macedonia, Paul devoted himself exclusively to preaching, testifying to the Jews that Jesus was the Christ.^a But when the Jews opposed Paul and became abusive, he shook out his clothes in protest and said to them, “Your blood be on your own heads! I am clear of my responsibility. From now on I will go to the Gentiles.”

Acts 18:5-7

Then Paul left the synagogue and went next door to the house of Titius Justus, a worshiper of God.

MANY JEWS ACCEPT GOSPEL. Crispus, the synagogue ruler, and his entire household believed in the Lord; and many of the Corinthians who heard him believed and were baptized.

Acts
18:8-11

One night the Lord spoke to Paul in a vision: “Do not be afraid; keep on speaking, do not be silent. For I am with you, and no one is going to attack and harm you, because I have many people in this city.” So Paul stayed for a year and a half, teaching them the word of God.

First Letter to the Thessalonians

During this time, somewhere around A.D. 51, it seems likely that Paul writes two letters to the Christians in Thessalonica, through which Paul has passed on his way to Corinth. At some point Paul has sent Timothy back to Thessalonica in order to establish more fully the Thessalonians' faith and to exhort them to steadfastness in the face of persecution. Paul's letter takes on the same purpose. Although Luke's historical record of Paul's visit to Thessalonica mentions only three weeks of confrontation with the Jews in the synagogue, Paul's letter clearly addresses Gentile Christians, probably Greeks, who had been converted from paganism. Paul reminds these new converts that they have turned from idols to worship the true and living God, and he exhorts them to continue in purity, love, and labor for the Lord. He also answers questions which have arisen in their minds regarding the second coming of Christ. As a basis for his many exhortations, Paul begins his letter by referring to Timothy, Silas, and himself as examples of sacrifice and suffering.

1 Thess. 1:1 SALUTATION. Paul, Silas^b and Timothy,

To the church of the Thessalonians in God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

Grace and peace to you.^c

1 Thess. 1:2-10

THANKS FOR THEIR FAITH. We always thank God for all of you, mentioning you in our prayers. We continually remember before our God and Father your work produced by faith, your labor prompted by love, and your endurance inspired by hope in our Lord Jesus Christ.

For we know, brothers loved by God, that he has chosen you, because our gospel came to you not simply with words, but also with power, with the Holy Spirit and with deep conviction. You know how we lived among you for your sake. You became imitators of us and of the Lord; in spite of severe suffering, you welcomed the message with the joy given by the Holy Spirit. And so you became a model to all the believers in Macedonia and Achaia. The Lord's message rang out from you not only in Macedonia and Achaia—your faith in God has become known everywhere. Therefore we do not need to say anything about it, for they themselves report what kind of reception you gave us. They tell how you turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God, and to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead—Jesus, who rescues us from the coming wrath.

1 Thess. 2:1-12

PAUL'S MINISTRY AMONG THEM. You know, brothers, that our visit to you was not a failure. We had previously suffered and been insulted in Philippi, as you know, but with the help of our God we dared to tell you his gospel in spite of strong opposition. For the appeal we make does not spring from error or impure motives, nor are we trying to trick you. On the contrary, we speak as men approved by God to be entrusted with the gospel. We are not trying to please men but God, who tests our hearts.

^bGreek Silvanus, a variant of Silas
and the Lord Jesus Christ

^cSome early manuscripts you from God our Father

You know we never used flattery, nor did we put on a mask to cover up greed—God is our witness. We were not looking for praise from men, not from you or anyone else.

As apostles of Christ we could have been a burden to you, but we were gentle among you, like a mother caring for her little children. We loved you so much that we were delighted to share with you not only the gospel of God but our lives as well, because you had become so dear to us. Surely you remember, brothers, our toil and hardship; we worked night and day in order not to be a burden to anyone while we preached the gospel of God to you.

You are witnesses, and so is God, of how holy, righteous and blameless we were among you who believed. For you know that we dealt with each of you as a father deals with his own children, encouraging, comforting and urging you to live lives worthy of God, who calls you into his kingdom and glory.

EAGER RECEPTION APPRECIATED. And we also thank God continually because, when you received the word of God, which you heard from us, you accepted it not as the word of men, but as it actually is, the word of God, which is at work in you who believe. For you, brothers, became imitators of God's churches in Judea, which are in Christ Jesus: You suffered from your own countrymen the same things those churches suffered from the Jews, who killed the Lord Jesus and the prophets and also drove us out. They displease God and are hostile to all men in their effort to keep us from speaking to the Gentiles so that they may be saved. In this way they always heap up their sins to the limit. The wrath of God has come upon them at last.^d

1 Thess.
2:13-16

DESIRE TO BE WITH THEM. But, brothers, when we were torn away from you for a short time (in person, not in thought), out of our intense longing we made every effort to see you. For we wanted to come to you—certainly I, Paul, did, again and again—but Satan stopped us. For what is our hope, our joy, or the crown in which we will glory in the presence of our Lord Jesus when he comes? Is it not you? Indeed, you are our glory and joy.

1 Thess.
2:17-20

TIMOTHY'S MISSION. So when we could stand it no longer, we thought it best to be left by ourselves in Athens. We sent Timothy, who is our brother and God's fellow worker^e in spreading the gospel of Christ, to strengthen and encourage you in your faith, so that no one would be unsettled by these trials. You know quite well that we were destined for them. In fact, when we were with you, we kept telling you that we would be persecuted. And it turned out that way, as you well know. For this reason, when I could stand it no longer, I sent to find out about your faith. I was afraid that in some way the tempter might have tempted you and our efforts might have been useless.

1 Thess.
3:1-5

GOOD NEWS COMFORTING. But Timothy has just now come to us from you and has brought good news about your faith and love. He has told us that you always have pleasant memories of us and that you long to see us, just as we also long to see you. Therefore, brothers, in all our distress and persecution we were encouraged about you because of your faith. For now we really live, since you are standing firm in the Lord. How can we thank God enough for you in return for all the joy we have in the presence of our God because of you? Night and day we pray most earnestly that we may see you again and supply what is lacking in your faith.

1 Thess.
3:11-13

PAUL'S PRAYER FOR THEM. Now may our God and Father himself and our Lord Jesus clear the way for us to come to you. May the Lord make your love increase and overflow for each other and for everyone else, just as ours does for you. May he strengthen your hearts so that you will be blameless and holy in the presence of our God and Father when our Lord Jesus comes with all his holy ones.

1 Thess.
4:1-8

EXHORTATION TO CHASTITY. Finally, brothers, we instructed you how to live in order to please God, as in fact you are living. Now we ask you and urge you in the Lord Jesus to do this more and more. For you know what instructions we gave you by the authority of the Lord Jesus.

It is God's will that you should be sanctified: that you should avoid sexual immorality; that each of you should learn to control his own body^f in a way that is holy and honorable, not in passionate lust like the heathen, who do not know God; and that in this matter no one should wrong his brother or take advantage of him. The Lord will punish men for all such sins, as we have already told you and warned you. For God did not call us to be impure, but to live a holy life. Therefore, he who rejects this instruction does not reject man but God, who gives you his Holy Spirit.

1 Thess.
4:9-12

EXHORTATION TOWARD LOVE. Now about brotherly love we do not need to write to you, yourselves have been taught by God to love each other. And in fact, you do love all the brothers throughout Macedonia. Yet we urge you, brothers, to do so more and more.

Make it your ambition to lead a quiet life, to mind your own business and to work with your hands, just as we told you, so that your daily life may win the respect of outsiders and so that you will not be dependent on anybody.

1 Thess.
4:13-18

NATURE OF THE RESURRECTION. Brothers, we do not want you to be ignorant about those who fall asleep, or to grieve like the rest of men, who have no hope. We believe that Jesus died and rose again and so we believe that God will bring with Jesus those who have fallen asleep in him. According to the Lord's own word, we tell you that we who are still alive, who are left till the coming of the Lord, will certainly not precede those who have fallen asleep. For the Lord himself will come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call of God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. Therefore encourage each other with these words.

1 Thess.
5:1-11

READINESS FOR SECOND COMING. Now, brothers, about times and dates we do not need to write to you, for you know very well that the day of the Lord will come like a thief in the night. While people are saying, "Peace and safety," destruction will come on them suddenly, as labor pains on a pregnant woman, and they will not escape.

But you, brothers, are not in darkness so that this day should surprise

^fOr learn to live with his own wife; or learn to acquire a wife you like a thief. You are all sons of the light and sons of the day. We do not belong to the night or to the darkness. So then, let us not be like others, who are asleep, but let us be alert and self-controlled. For those who sleep, sleep at night, and those who get drunk, get drunk at night. But since we belong to the day, let us be self-controlled, putting on faith and love as a breastplate, and the hope of salvation as a helmet. For God did not appoint us to suffer wrath but to receive salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ. He died for us so that, whether we are awake or asleep, we may live together with him. Therefore encourage one another and build each other up, just as in fact you are doing.

VARIOUS EXHORTATIONS. Now we ask you, brothers, to respect those who work hard among you, who are over you in the Lord and who admonish you. Hold them in the highest regard in love because of their work. Live in peace with each other. And we urge you, brothers, warn those who are idle, encourage the timid, help the weak, be patient with everyone. Make sure that nobody pays back wrong for wrong, but always try to be kind to each other and to everyone else.

1 Thess.
5:12-22

Be joyful always; pray continually; give thanks in all circumstances, for this is God's will for you in Christ Jesus.

Do not put out the Spirit's fire; do not treat prophecies with contempt. Test everything. Hold on to the good. Avoid every kind of evil.

BENEDICTION. May God himself, the God of peace, sanctify you through and through. May your whole spirit, soul and body be kept blameless at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. The one who calls you is faithful and he will do it.

1 Thess.
5:23-28

Brothers, pray for us. Greet all the brothers with a holy kiss. I charge you before the Lord to have this letter read to all the brothers.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.

Second Letter to the Thessalonians

Paul's first letter seemingly causes some misunderstanding among the Thessalonians, many of whom interpreted it as saying that the second coming would be taking place right away. Therefore Paul sends a second letter to clarify this misunderstanding. He points to some of the events which will precede the second coming and admonishes them to continue working both for their own support and for the Lord.

SALUTATION. Paul, Silas^x and Timothy,

2 Thess.
1:1,2

To the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

Grace and peace to you from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

PRAISING STEADFASTNESS. We ought always to thank God for you, brothers, and rightly so, because your faith is growing more and more, and the love every one of you has for each other is increasing. Therefore,

2 Thess.
1:3,4

^xGreek Silvanus, a variant of Silas

among God's churches we boast about your perseverance and faith in all the persecutions and trials you are enduring.

2 Thess.
1:5-10

ENDURANCE TO BE REWARDED. All this is evidence that God's judgment is right, and as a result you will be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which you are suffering. God is just: He will pay back trouble to those who trouble you and give relief to you who are troubled, and to us as well. This will happen when the Lord Jesus is revealed from heaven in blazing fire with his powerful angels. He will punish those who do not know God and do not obey the gospel of our Lord Jesus. They will be punished with everlasting destruction and shut out from the presence of the Lord and from the majesty of his power on the day he comes to be glorified in his holy people and to be marveled at among all those who have believed. This includes you, because you believed our testimony to you.

2 Thess.
1:11,12

PAUL'S PRAYER FOR THEM. With this in mind, we constantly pray for you, that our God may count you worthy of his calling, and that by his power he may fulfill every good purpose of yours and every act prompted by your faith. We pray this so that the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.^h

2 Thess.
2:1-12

EVENTS BEFORE SECOND COMING. Concerning the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and our being gathered to him, we ask you, brothers, not to become easily unsettled or alarmed by some prophecy, report or letter supposed to have come from us, saying that the day of the Lord has already come. Don't let anyone deceive you in any way, for [that day will not come until the rebellion occurs and the man of lawlessnessⁱ is revealed, the man doomed to destruction. He will oppose and will exalt himself over everything that is called God or is worshiped, so that he sets himself up in God's temple, proclaiming himself to be God.

Don't you remember that when I was with you I used to tell you these things? And now you know what is holding him back, so that he may be revealed at the proper time. For the secret power of lawlessness is already at work; but the one who now holds it back will continue to do so till he is taken out of the way. And then the lawless one will be revealed, whom the Lord Jesus will overthrow with the breath of his mouth and destroy by the splendor of his coming. The coming of the lawless one will be in accordance with the work of Satan displayed in all kinds of counterfeit miracles, signs and wonders, and in every sort of evil that deceives those who are perishing. They perish because they refused to love the truth and so be saved. For this reason God sends them a powerful delusion so that they will believe the lie and so that all will be condemned who have not believed the truth but have delighted in wickedness.

2 Thess.
2:13-17

CALL TO STAND FIRM. But we ought always to thank God for you, brothers loved by the Lord, because from the beginning God chose youⁱ to be saved through the sanctifying work of the Spirit and through belief in the truth. He called you to this through our gospel, that you might share in the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. So then, brothers, stand firm and

^hOr God and Lord, Jesus Christ

hold to the teachings^k we passed on to you, whether by word of mouth or by letter.

May our Lord Jesus Christ himself and God our Father, who loved us and by his grace gave us eternal encouragement and good hope, encourage your hearts and strengthen you in every good deed and word.

REQUEST FOR PRAYER. Finally, brothers, pray for us that the message of the Lord may spread rapidly and be honored, just as it was with you. And pray that we may be delivered from wicked and evil men, for not everyone has faith. But the Lord is faithful, and he will strengthen and protect you from the evil one. We have confidence in the Lord that you are doing and will continue to do the things we command. May the Lord direct your hearts into God's love and Christ's perseverance.

2 Thess.
3:1-5

WARNING AGAINST IDLENESS. In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, we command you, brothers, to keep away from every brother who is idle and does not live according to the teaching^l you received from us. For you yourselves know how you ought to follow our example. We were not idle when we were with you, nor did we eat anyone's food without paying for it. On the contrary, we worked night and day, laboring and toiling so that we would not be a burden to any of you. We did this, not because we do not have the right to such help, but in order to make ourselves a model for you to follow. For even when we were with you, we gave you this rule: "If a man will not work, he shall not eat."

2 Thess.
3:6-15

We hear that some among you are idle. They are not busy; they are busybodies. Such people we command and urge in the Lord Jesus Christ to settle down and earn the bread they eat. And as for you, brothers, never tire of doing what is right.

If anyone does not obey our instruction in this letter, take special note of him. Do not associate with him, in order that he may feel ashamed. Yet do not regard him as an enemy, but warn him as a brother.

BENEDICTION. Now may the Lord of peace himself give you peace at all times and in every way. The Lord be with all of you.

2 Thess.
3:16-18

I, Paul, write this greeting in my own hand, which is the distinguishing mark in all my letters. This is how I write.

The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all.

The historical record continues with this account of Paul being persecuted in Corinth.

CHARGES BEFORE GALLIO. While Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews made a united attack on Paul and brought him into court. "This man," they charged, "is persuading the people to worship God in ways contrary to the law."

Acts
18:12-17

Just as Paul was about to speak, Gallio said to the Jews, "If you Jews were making a complaint about some misdemeanor or serious crime, it would be reasonable for me to listen to you. But since it involves questions about words and names and your own law—settle the matter yourselves. I will not be a judge of such things." So he had them ejected from the court. Then they all turned on Sosthenes the synagogue ruler and beat him in front of the court. But Gallio showed no concern whatever.

Acts
18:18-22
Antioch

RETURN TO ANTIOCH. Paul stayed on in Corinth for some time. Then he left the brothers and sailed for Syria, accompanied by Priscilla and Aquila. Before he sailed, he had his hair cut off at Cenchrea because of a vow he had taken. They arrived at Ephesus, where Paul left Priscilla and Aquila. He himself went into the synagogue and reasoned with the Jews. When they asked him to spend more time with them, he declined. But as he left, he promised, "I will come back if it is God's will." Then he set sail from Ephesus. When he landed at Caesarea, he went up and greeted the church and then went down to Antioch.

Third Missionary Journey

Luke does not indicate how long Paul stays in Antioch after returning from his second missionary journey. But it is probably not long before Paul is once again preparing for an extended evangelistic tour. He begins his third journey by passing north and west through Galatia and Phrygia. It is clear that Paul continues to be concerned about the spiritual growth of those whom he had converted several years earlier.

Paul then travels on through Asia to its capital, Ephesus, and thereby fulfills a desire he first felt on his second tour, when he was directed by the Holy Spirit to Macedonia instead. It appears that Paul relishes the opportunity to be in this important city, because he stays here for approximately three years. Of special significance during this time are letters which Paul writes to the church in Corinth—a church which has developed some serious problems since Paul last visited with them.

Acts 18:23
Galatia
and Phrygia

BEGINNING OF JOURNEY. After spending some time in Antioch, Paul set out from there and traveled from place to place throughout the region of Galatia and Phrygia, strengthening all the disciples.

Acts
18:24-28
Ephesus
and Achaia

APOLLOS IS TAUGHT. Meanwhile a Jew named Apollos, a native of Alexandria, came to Ephesus. He was a learned man, with a thorough knowledge of the Scriptures. He had been instructed in the way of the Lord, and he spoke with great fervor^m and taught about Jesus accurately, though he knew only the baptism of John. He began to speak boldly in the synagogue. When Priscilla and Aquila heard him, they invited him to their home and explained to him the way of God more adequately.

When Apollos wanted to go to Achaia, the brothers encouraged him and wrote to the disciples there to welcome him. On arriving, he was a great help to those who by grace had believed. For he vigorously refuted the Jews in public debate, proving from the Scriptures that Jesus was the Christ.

Acts 19:1-7
Ephesus

DISCIPLES REBAPTIZED. While Apollos was at Corinth, Paul took the road through the interior and arrived at Ephesus. There he found some disciples and asked them, "Did you receive the Holy Spirit when you believed?"

They answered, "No, we have not even heard that there is a Holy Spirit."

So Paul asked, "Then what baptism did you receive?"

^mOr with fervor in the Spirit ⁿOr after

"John's baptism," they replied.

Paul said, "John's baptism was a baptism of repentance. He told the people to believe in the one coming after him, that is, in Jesus." On hearing this, they were baptized into^o the name of the Lord Jesus. When Paul placed his hands on them, the Holy Spirit came on them, and they spoke in tongues^p and prophesied. There were about twelve men in all.

MINISTRY IN EPHEBUS. Paul entered the synagogue and spoke boldly there for three months, arguing persuasively about the kingdom of God. But some of them became obstinate; they refused to believe and publicly maligned the Way. So Paul left them. He took the disciples with him and had discussions daily in the lecture hall of Tyrannus. This went on for two years, so that all the Jews and Greeks who lived in the province of Asia heard the word of the Lord.

Acts
19:8-10
(From A.D.
53 to 55)

EXORCISTS USE JESUS' NAME. God did extraordinary miracles through Paul, so that even handkerchiefs and aprons that had touched him were taken to the sick, and their illnesses were cured and the evil spirits left them.

Acts
19:11-16

Some Jews who went around driving out evil spirits tried to invoke the name of the Lord Jesus over those who were demon-possessed. They would say, "In the name of Jesus, whom Paul preaches, I command you to come out." Seven sons of Sceva, a Jewish chief priest, were doing this. One day the evil spirit answered them, "Jesus I know, and I know about Paul, but who are you?" Then the man who had the evil spirit jumped on them and overpowered them all. He gave them such a beating that they ran out of the house naked and bleeding.

SORCERY GIVEN UP. When this became known to the Jews and Greeks living in Ephesus, they were all seized with fear, and the name of the Lord Jesus was held in high honor. Many of those who believed now came and openly confessed their evil deeds. A number who had practiced sorcery brought their scrolls together and burned them publicly. When they calculated the value of the scrolls, the total came to fifty thousand drachmas.^q In this way the word of the Lord spread widely and grew in power.

Acts
19:17-20

PAUL ANTICIPATES JOURNEY. After all this had happened, Paul decided to go to Jerusalem, passing through Macedonia and Achaia. "After I have been there," he said, "I must visit Rome also." He sent two of his helpers, Timothy and Erastus, to Macedonia, while he stayed in the province of Asia a little longer.

Acts
19:21,22

First Letter to the Corinthians

Paul has apparently sent a letter to the church in Corinth by the hands of Timothy, who recently would have passed through Corinth on his way to Macedonia. In a second letter, written perhaps A.D. 55-56, Paul mentions the previous Corinthian letter and indicates that he has received a return letter from the Corinthians which has been brought to Ephesus by a group including Stephanas, Fortunatus, and Achaicus. Although the content of Paul's first letter is unknown, the letter which Paul received from the Corinthians evidently posed specific questions regarding marriage and singleness, food sacrificed to idols, spiritual gifts, and certain special contributions which the Corinthians were making. Paul answers these questions in his second letter (traditionally referred to as 1 Corinthians) and expresses concern about various divisions among the Corinthians which have been reported to Paul by members of Chloe's family. Additionally, Paul addresses some of the particular problems which these Christians are facing in the pagan city of Corinth, including matters pertaining to sexual morality and modesty, and the issue of fellowship with pagans.

1 Cor.
1:1-3 SALUTATION. Paul, called to be an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and our brother Sosthenes,

To the church of God in Corinth, to those sanctified in Christ Jesus and called to be holy, together with all those everywhere who call on the name of our Lord Jesus Christ—their Lord and ours:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1 Cor.
1:4-9 THANKSGIVING FOR GRACE. I always thank God for you because of his grace given you in Christ Jesus. For in him you have been enriched in every way—in all your speaking and in all your knowledge— because our testimony about Christ was confirmed in you. Therefore you do not lack any spiritual gift as you eagerly wait for our Lord Jesus Christ to be revealed. He will keep you strong to the end, so that you will be blameless on the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. God, who has called you into fellowship with his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, is faithful.

Regarding Divisions Within the Church

1 Cor.
1:10-17 WARNING AGAINST DIVISIONS. I appeal to you, brothers, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree with one another so that there may be no divisions among you and that you may be perfectly united in mind and thought. My brothers, some from Chloe's household have informed me that there are quarrels among you. What I mean is this: One of you says, "I follow Paul"; another, "I follow Apollos"; another, "I follow Cephas"; still another, "I follow Christ."

Is Christ divided? Was Paul crucified for you? Were you baptized into^s the name of Paul? I am thankful that I did not baptize any of you except Crispus and Gaius, so no one can say that you were baptized into my name. (Yes, I also baptized the household of Stephanas; beyond that, I don't remember if I baptized anyone else.) For Christ did not send me to baptize, but to preach the gospel—not with words of human wisdom, lest the cross of Christ be emptied of its power.

1 Cor.
1:18-25 GOD'S WISDOM. For the message of the cross is foolishness to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. For it is written:

"I will destroy the wisdom of the wise;
the intelligence of the intelligent I will frustrate."^t

Where is the wise man? Where is the scholar? Where is the philosopher of this age? Has not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? For since in the wisdom of God the world through its wisdom did not know him, God was pleased through the foolishness of what was preached to save those who believe. Jews demand miraculous signs and Greeks look for wisdom, but we preach Christ crucified: a stumbling block to Jews and foolishness to Gentiles, but to those whom God has called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. For the foolishness of God is wiser than man's wisdom, and the weakness of God is stronger than man's strength.

^rThat is, Peter ^sOr in ^tIsaiah 29:14

EXAMPLE OF LOWLINESS. Brothers, think of what you were when you were called. Not many of you were wise by human standards; not many were influential; not many were of noble birth. But God chose the foolish things of the world to shame the wise; God chose the weak things of the world to shame the strong. He chose the lowly things of this world and the despised things—and the things that are not—to nullify the things that are, so that no one may boast before him. It is because of him that you are in Christ Jesus, who has become for us wisdom from God—that is, our righteousness, holiness and redemption. Therefore, as it is written: "Let him who boasts boast in the Lord."^u

1 Cor.
1:26-31

PREACHING NOT ELOQUENT. When I came to you, brothers, I did not come with eloquence or superior wisdom as I proclaimed to you the testimony about God.^v For I resolved to know nothing while I was with you except Jesus Christ and him crucified. I came to you in weakness and fear, and with much trembling. My message and my preaching were not with wise and persuasive words, but with a demonstration of the Spirit's power, so that your faith might not rest on men's wisdom, but on God's power.

1 Cor.
2:1-5

WISDOM FROM THE SPIRIT. We do, however, speak a message of wisdom among the mature, but not the wisdom of this age or of the rulers of this age, who are coming to nothing. No, we speak of God's secret wisdom, a wisdom that has been hidden and that God destined for our glory before time began. None of the rulers of this age understood it, for if they had, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory. However, as it is written:

1 Cor.
2:6-13

"No eye has seen,
no ear has heard,
no mind has conceived
what God has prepared for those who love him"^w— but God has revealed it to us by his Spirit.

The Spirit searches all things, even the deep things of God. For who among men knows the thoughts of a man except the man's spirit within him? In the same way no one knows the thoughts of God except the Spirit of God. We have not received the spirit of the world but the Spirit who is from God, that we may understand what God has freely given us. This is what we speak, not in words taught us by human wisdom but in words taught by the Spirit, expressing spiritual truths in spiritual words.^x

WISDOM FOR SPIRITUALLY-MINDED. The man without the Spirit does not accept the things that come from the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness to him, and he cannot understand them, because they are spiritually discerned. The spiritual man makes judgments about all things, but he himself is not subject to any man's judgment:

"For who has known the mind of the Lord that he may instruct him?"^y

But we have the mind of Christ.

1 Cor.
3:1-4

DIVISIONS PREVENT GROWTH. Brothers, I could not address you as spiritual but as worldly—mere infants in Christ. I gave you milk, not solid food, for you were not yet ready for it. Indeed, you are still not ready. You are still worldly. For since there is jealousy and quarreling among you, are you not worldly? Are you not acting like mere men? For when one says, "I follow Paul," and another, "I follow Apollos," are you not mere men?

1 Cor.
3:5-9

MINISTERS ARE SERVANTS. What, after all, is Apollos? And what is Paul? Only servants, through whom you came to believe—as the Lord has assigned to each his task. I planted the seed, Apollos watered it, but God made it grow. So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God, who makes things grow. The man who plants and the man who waters have one purpose, and each will be rewarded according to his own labor. For we are God's fellow workers; you are God's field, God's building.

1 Cor.
3:10-15

CHRIST IS FOUNDATION. By the grace God has given me, I laid a foundation as an expert builder, and someone else is building on it. But each one should be careful how he builds. For no one can lay any foundation other than the one already laid, which is Jesus Christ. If any man builds on this foundation using gold, silver, costly stones, wood, hay or straw, his work will be shown for what it is, because the Day will bring it to light. It will be revealed with fire, and the fire will test the quality of each man's work. If what he has built survives, he will receive his reward. If it is burned up, he will suffer loss; he himself will be saved, but only as one escaping through the flames.

1 Cor.
3:16,17

DIVISION DESTROYS TEMPLE. Don't you know that you yourselves are God's temple and that God's Spirit lives in you? If anyone destroys God's temple, God will destroy him; for God's temple is sacred, and you are that temple.

1 Cor.
3:18-23

LOYALTY TO CHRIST ALONE. Do not deceive yourselves. If any one of you thinks he is wise by the standards of this age, he should become a "fool" so that he may become wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness in God's sight. As it is written: "He catches the wise in their craftiness"^z; and again, "The Lord knows that the thoughts of the wise are futile."^a So then, no more boasting about men! All things are yours, whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas^b or the world or life or death or the present or the future—all are yours, and you are of Christ, and Christ is of God.

1 Cor.
4:1-5

MINISTERS TO BE JUDGED. So then, men ought to regard us as servants of Christ and as those entrusted with the secret things of God. Now it is required that those who have been given a trust must prove faithful. I care very little if I am judged by you or by any human court; indeed, I do not ^yIsaiah 40:13

^zJob 5:13

^aPsalms 94:11

^bThat is, Peter

even judge myself. My conscience is clear, but that does not make me innocent. It is the Lord who judges me. Therefore judge nothing before the appointed time; wait till the Lord comes. He will bring to light what is hidden in darkness and will expose the motives of men's hearts. At that time each will receive his praise from God.

WARNING AGAINST PRIDE. Now, brothers, I have applied these things to myself and Apollos for your benefit, so that you may learn from us the meaning of the saying, "Do not go beyond what is written." Then you will not take pride in one man over against another. For who makes you different from anyone else? What do you have that you did not receive? And if you did receive it, why do you boast as though you did not?

1 Cor.

Already you have all you want! Already you have become rich! You have become kings—and that without us! How I wish that you really had become kings so that we might be kings with you!

EVEN APOSTLES ARE DEBASED. For it seems to me that God has put us apostles on display at the end of the procession, like men condemned to die in the arena. We have been made a spectacle to the whole universe, to angels as well as to men. We are fools for Christ, but you are so wise in Christ! We are weak, but you are strong! You are honored, we are dishonored! To this very hour we go hungry and thirsty, we are in rags, we are brutally treated, we are homeless. We work hard with our own hands. When we are cursed, we bless; when we are persecuted, we endure it; when we are slandered, we answer kindly. Up to this moment we have become the scum of the earth, the refuse of the world.

1 Cor.
4:9-13

PAUL APPEALS AS FATHER. I am not writing this to shame you, but to warn you, as my dear children. Even though you have ten thousand guardians in Christ, you do not have many fathers, for in Christ Jesus I became your father through the gospel. Therefore I urge you to imitate me. For this reason I am sending to you Timothy, my son whom I love, who is faithful in the Lord. He will remind you of my way of life in Christ Jesus, which agrees with what I teach everywhere in every church.

1 Cor.
4:14-21

Some of you have become arrogant, as if I were not coming to you. But I will come to you very soon, if the Lord is willing, and then I will find out not only how these arrogant people are talking, but what power they have. For the kingdom of God is not a matter of talk but of power. What do you prefer? Shall I come to you with a whip, or in love and with a gentle spirit?

Regarding Immorality

CALL FOR DISCIPLINE. It is actually reported that there is sexual immorality among you, and of a kind that does not occur even among pagans: A man has his father's wife. And you are proud! Shouldn't you rather have been filled with grief and have put out of your fellowship the man who did this? Even though I am not physically present, I am with you in spirit. And I have already passed judgment on the one who did this, just as if I were present. When you are assembled in the name of our Lord Jesus and I am with you in spirit, and the power of our Lord Jesus is present, hand this man over to Satan, so that the sinful nature^c may be destroyed and his spirit saved on the day of the Lord.

1 Cor.
5:1-5

1 Cor.
5:6-8

DANGER OF TOLERATING SIN. Your boasting is not good. Don't you know that a little yeast works through the whole batch of dough? Get rid of the old yeast that you may be a new batch without yeast—as you really are. For Christ, our Passover lamb, has been sacrificed. Therefore let us keep the Festival, not with the old yeast, the yeast of malice and wickedness, but with bread without yeast, the bread of sincerity and truth.

1 Cor.
5:9-13

DUTY OF SELF-POLICING. I have written you in my letter not to associate with sexually immoral people— not at all meaning the people of this world who are immoral, or the greedy and swindlers, or idolaters. In that case you would have to leave this world. But now I am writing you that you must not associate with anyone who calls himself a brother but is sexually immoral or greedy, an idolater or a slanderer, a drunkard or a swindler. With such a man do not even eat.

What business is it of mine to judge those outside the church? Are you not to judge those inside? God will judge those outside. "Expel the wicked man from among you."^d

1 Cor.
6:1-8

JUDGMENT AMONG SELVES. If any of you has a dispute with another, dare he take it before the ungodly for judgment instead of before the saints? Do you not know that the saints will judge the world? And if you are to judge the world, are you not competent to judge trivial cases? Do you not know that we will judge angels? How much more the things of this life! Therefore, if you have disputes about such matters, appoint as judges even men of little account in the church!^e I say this to shame you. Is it possible that there is nobody among you wise enough to judge a dispute between believers? But instead, one brother goes to law against another—and this in front of unbelievers!

The very fact that you have lawsuits among you means you have been completely defeated already. Why not rather be wronged? Why not rather be cheated? Instead, you yourselves cheat and do wrong, and you do this to your brothers.

1 Cor.
6:9-11

SIN PREVENTS INHERITANCE. Do you not know that the wicked will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived: Neither the sexually immoral nor idolaters nor adulterers nor male prostitutes nor homosexual offenders nor thieves nor the greedy nor drunkards nor slanderers nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God. And that is what some of you were. But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God.

1 Cor.
6:12-20

BODIES NOT MEANT FOR SIN. "Everything is permissible for me"—but not everything is beneficial. "Everything is permissible for me"—but I will not be mastered by anything. "Food for the stomach and the stomach for food"—but God will destroy them both. The body is not meant for sexual immorality, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body. By his power God raised the Lord from the dead, and he will raise us also. Do you not know that your bodies are members of Christ himself? Shall I then take the members of Christ and unite them with a prostitute? Never!

^cOr that his body; or that the flesh ^dDeut. 17:7; 19:19; 21:21; 22:21,24; 24:7 ^eOr matters, do you appoint as judges men of little account in the church?

Do you not know that he who unites himself with a prostitute is one with her in body? For it is said, "The two will become one flesh."^f But he who unites himself with the Lord is one with him in spirit.

Flee from sexual immorality. All other sins a man commits are outside his body, but he who sins sexually sins against his own body. Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your body.

Regarding Marriage and Singleness

MARITAL RELATIONS. Now for the matters you wrote about: It is good for a man not to marry.^g But since there is so much immorality, each man should have his own wife, and each woman her own husband. The husband should fulfill his marital duty to his wife, and likewise the wife to her husband. The wife's body does not belong to her alone but also to her husband. In the same way, the husband's body does not belong to him alone but also to his wife. Do not deprive each other except by mutual consent and for a time, so that you may devote yourselves to prayer. Then come together again so that Satan will not tempt you because of your lack of self-control. I say this as a concession, not as a command. I wish that all men were as I am. But each man has his own gift from God; one has this gift, another has that.

1 Cor.
7:1-7

SINGLENES. Now to the unmarried and the widows I say: It is good for them to stay unmarried, as I am. But if they cannot control themselves, they should marry, for it is better to marry than to burn with passion.

1 Cor.
7:8,9

REGARDING SEPARATION. To the married I give this command (not I, but the Lord): A wife must not separate from her husband. But if she does, she must remain unmarried or else be reconciled to her husband. And a husband must not divorce his wife.

1 Cor.
7:10,11

UNBELIEVING SPOUSES. To the rest I say this (I, not the Lord): If any brother has a wife who is not a believer and she is willing to live with him, he must not divorce her. And if a woman has a husband who is not a believer and he is willing to live with her, she must not divorce him. For the unbelieving husband has been sanctified through his wife, and the unbelieving wife has been sanctified through her believing husband. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but as it is, they are holy.

1 Cor.
7:12-16

But if the unbeliever leaves, let him do so. A believing man or woman is not bound in such circumstances; God has called us to live in peace. How do you know, wife, whether you will save your husband? Or, how do you know, husband, whether you will save your wife?

REMAINING IN PRESENT STATE. Nevertheless, each one should retain the place in life that the Lord assigned to him and to which God has called him. This is the rule I lay down in all the churches. Was a man already circumcised when he was called? He should not become uncircumcised. Was a man uncircumcised when he was called? He should not be circumcised. Circumcision is nothing and uncircumcision is nothing. Keeping God's commands is what counts. Each one should remain in the situation which he was in when God called him. Were you a slave when you were called? Don't let it trouble you—although if you can gain your freedom, do so. For he who was a slave when he was called by the Lord is the Lord's freedman; similarly, he who was a free man when he was called is Christ's slave. You were bought at a price; do not become slaves of men. Brothers, each man, as responsible to God, should remain in the situation God called him to.

1 Cor.
7:17-24

^fGen. 2:24 ^gOr "It is good for a man not to have sexual relations with a woman."

1 Cor.
7:25-31

REASON FOR ADVICE. Now about virgins: I have no command from the Lord, but I give a judgment as one who by the Lord's mercy is trustworthy. Because of the present crisis, I think that it is good for you to remain as you are. Are you married? Do not seek a divorce. Are you unmarried? Do not look for a wife. But if you do marry, you have not sinned; and if a virgin marries, she has not sinned. But those who marry will face many troubles in this life, and I want to spare you this.

What I mean, brothers, is that the time is short. From now on those who have wives should live as if they had none; those who mourn, as if they did not; those who are happy, as if they were not; those who buy something, as if it were not theirs to keep; those who use the things of the world, as if not engrossed in them. For this world in its present form is passing away.

1 Cor.
7:32-35

ADVANTAGES OF SINGLENESS. I would like you to be free from concern. An unmarried man is concerned about the Lord's affairs—how he can please the Lord. But a married man is concerned about the affairs of this world—how he can please his wife—and his interests are divided. An unmarried woman or virgin is concerned about the Lord's affairs: Her aim is to be devoted to the Lord in both body and spirit. But a married woman is concerned about the affairs of this world—how she can please her husband. I am saying this for your own good, not to restrict you, but that you may live in a right way in undivided devotion to the Lord.

1 Cor.
7:36-38

REGARDING MARRIAGE. If anyone thinks he is acting improperly toward the virgin he is engaged to, and if she is getting along in years and he feels he ought to marry, he should do as he wants. He is not sinning. They should get married. But the man who has settled the matter in his own mind, who is under no compulsion but has control over his own will, and who has made up his mind not to marry the virgin—this man also does the right thing. So then, he who marries the virgin does right, but he who does not marry her does even better.^h

1 Cor.
7:39,40

REGARDING WIDOWS. A woman is bound to her husband as long as he lives. But if her husband dies, she is free to marry anyone she wishes, but he must belong to the Lord. In my judgment, she is happier if she stays as she is—and I think that I too have the Spirit of God.

Regarding Mutual Submission

1 Cor.
8:1-3

KNOWLEDGE WITH LOVE. Now about food sacrificed to idols: We know that we all possess knowledge.ⁱ Knowledge puffs up, but love

^hOr ^hIf anyone thinks he is not treating his daughter properly, and if she is getting along in years, and he feels she ought to marry, he should do as he wants. He is not sinning. He should let her get married. ⁱBut the man who has settled the matter in his own mind, who is under no compulsion but has control over his own will, and who has made up his mind to keep the virgin unmarried—this man also does the right thing. ^hSo then, he who gives his virgin in marriage does right, but he who does not give her in marriage does even better. ⁱOr "We all possess knowledge," as you say builds up. The man who thinks he knows something does not yet know as he ought to know. But the man who loves God is known by God.

KNOWLEDGE REGARDING IDOLS. So then, about eating food sacrificed to idols: We know that an idol is nothing at all in the world and that there is no God but one. For even if there are so-called gods, whether in heaven or on earth (as indeed there are many "gods" and many "lords"), yet for us there is but one God, the Father, from whom all things came and for whom we live; and there is but one Lord, Jesus Christ, through whom all things came and through whom we live.

1 Cor.
8:4-6

WEAK WITHOUT KNOWLEDGE. But not everyone knows this. Some people are still so accustomed to idols that when they eat such food they think of it as having been sacrificed to an idol, and since their conscience is weak, it is defiled. But food does not bring us near to God; we are no worse if we do not eat, and no better if we do.

1 Cor.
8:7,8

RESPONSIBILITY TOWARD WEAK. Be careful, however, that the exercise of your freedom does not become a stumbling block to the weak. For if anyone with a weak conscience sees you who have this knowledge eating in an idol's temple, won't he be emboldened to eat what has been sacrificed to idols? So this weak brother, for whom Christ died, is destroyed by your knowledge. When you sin against your brothers in this way and wound their weak conscience, you sin against Christ. Therefore, if what I eat causes my brother to fall into sin, I will never eat meat again, so that I will not cause him to fall.

1 Cor.
8:9-13

FREEDOM IS NOT THE ISSUE. Am I not free? Am I not an apostle? Have I not seen Jesus our Lord? Are you not the result of my work in the Lord? Even though I may not be an apostle to others, surely I am to you! For you are the seal of my apostleship in the Lord.

1 Cor.
9:1,2

RIGHTS ARE NOT THE ISSUE. This is my defense to those who sit in judgment on me. Don't we have the right to food and drink? Don't we have the right to take a believing wife along with us, as do the other apostles and the Lord's brothers and Cephas? Or is it only I and Barnabas who must work for a living?

1 Cor.
9:3-7

Who serves as a soldier at his own expense? Who plants a vineyard and does not eat of its grapes? Who tends a flock and does not drink of the milk?

EXAMPLE OF A LAWFUL CLAIM. Do I say this merely from a human point of view? Doesn't the Law say the same thing? For it is written in the Law of Moses: "Do not muzzle an ox while it is treading out the grain."^k Is it about oxen that God is concerned? Surely he says this for us, doesn't he? Yes, this was written for us, because when the plowman plows and the thresher threshes, they ought to do so in the hope of sharing in the harvest. If we have sown spiritual seed among you, is it too much if we reap a material harvest from you? If others have this right of support from you, shouldn't we have it all the more?

1 Cor.
9:8-12a

FORGOING RIGHTS. But we did not use this right. On the contrary, we put up with anything rather than hinder the gospel of Christ. Don't you know that those who work in the temple get their food from the temple, and those who serve at the altar share in what is offered on the altar? In

1 Cor.
9:12b-14

ⁱThat is, Peter ^kDeut. 25:4

the same way, the Lord has commanded that those who preach the gospel should receive their living from the gospel.

1 Cor.
9:15-18

REWARDS FOR GIVING UP RIGHTS. But I have not used any of these rights. And I am not writing this in the hope that you will do such things for me. I would rather die than have anyone deprive me of this boast. Yet when I preach the gospel, I cannot boast, for I am compelled to preach. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! If I preach voluntarily, I have a reward; if not voluntarily, I am simply discharging the trust committed to me. What then is my reward? Just this: that in preaching the gospel I may offer it free of charge, and so not make use of my rights in preaching it.

1 Cor.
9:19-23

CONCESSION VERSUS ASSERTION. Though I am free and belong to no man, I make myself a slave to everyone, to win as many as possible. To the Jews I became like a Jew, to win the Jews. To those under the law I became like one under the law (though I myself am not under the law), so as to win those under the law. To those not having the law I became like one not having the law (though I am not free from God's law but am under Christ's law), so as to win those not having the law. To the weak I became weak, to win the weak. I have become all things to all men so that by all possible means I might save some. I do all this for the sake of the gospel, that I may share in its blessings.

1 Cor.
9:24-27

VALUE OF SELF-DISCIPLINE. Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize? Run in such a way as to get the prize. Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They do it to get a crown that will not last; but we do it to get a crown that will last forever. Therefore I do not run like a man running aimlessly; I do not fight like a man beating the air. No, I beat my body and make it my slave so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified for the prize.

1 Cor.
10:1-5

EXAMPLE OF OVERCONFIDENCE. For I do not want you to be ignorant of the fact, brothers, that our forefathers were all under the cloud and that they all passed through the sea. They were all baptized into Moses in the cloud and in the sea. They all ate the same spiritual food and drank the same spiritual drink; for they drank from the spiritual rock that accompanied them, and that rock was Christ. Nevertheless, God was not pleased with most of them; their bodies were scattered over the desert.

1 Cor.
10:6-10

EXAMPLE OF SELF-INDULGENCE. Now these things occurred as examples^l to keep us from setting our hearts on evil things as they did. Do not be idolaters, as some of them were; as it is written: "The people sat down to eat and drink and got up to indulge in pagan revelry."^m We should not commit sexual immorality, as some of them did—and in one day twenty-three thousand of them died. We should not test the Lord, as some of them did—and were killed by snakes. And do not grumble, as some of them did—and were killed by the destroying angel.

1 Cor.
10:11-13

EXAMPLES ARE WARNING. These things happened to them as examples and were written down as warnings for us, on whom the fulfillment of the ages has come. So, if you think you are standing firm, be careful that you don't fall! No temptation has seized you except what is common to man. And God is faithful; he will not let you be tempted beyond what you can bear. But when you are tempted, he will also provide a way out so that you can stand up under it.

^lOr types ^mExodus 32:6

ACTIONS INDICATE LOYALTIES. Therefore, my dear friends, flee from idolatry. I speak to sensible people; judge for yourselves what I say. Is not the cup of thanksgiving for which we give thanks a participation in the blood of Christ? And is not the bread that we break a participation in the body of Christ? Because there is one loaf, we, who are many, are one body, for we all partake of the one loaf.

1 Cor.
10:14-22

Consider the people of Israel: Do not those who eat the sacrifices participate in the altar? Do I mean then that a sacrifice offered to an idol is anything, or that an idol is anything? No, but the sacrifices of pagans are offered to demons, not to God, and I do not want you to be participants with demons. You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons too; you cannot have a part in both the Lord's table and the table of demons. Are we trying to arouse the Lord's jealousy? Are we stronger than he?

LIBERTY YIELDS FORBEARANCE. "Everything is permissible"—but not everything is beneficial. "Everything is permissible"—but not everything is constructive. Nobody should seek his own good, but the good of others.

1 Cor.
10:23-30

Eat anything sold in the meat market without raising questions of conscience, for, "The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it."^o

If some unbeliever invites you to a meal and you want to go, eat whatever is put before you without raising questions of conscience. But if anyone says to you, "This has been offered in sacrifice," then do not eat it, both for the sake of the man who told you and for conscience' sake^o—the other man's conscience, I mean, not yours. For why should my freedom be judged by another's conscience? If I take part in the meal with thankfulness, why am I denounced because of something I thank God for?

YIELD SELF FOR OTHERS' SAKE. So whether you eat or drink or whatever you do, do it all for the glory of God. Do not cause anyone to stumble, whether Jews, Greeks or the church of God—even as I try to please everybody in every way. For I am not seeking my own good but the good of many, so that they may be saved. Follow my example, as I follow the example of Christ.

1 Cor.
10:31-11:1

Regarding Role Distinctions

VEILS AS SYMBOL. I praise you for remembering me in everything and for holding to the teachings,^p just as I passed them on to you.

1 Cor.
11:2-10

Now I want you to realize that the head of every man is Christ, and the head of the woman is man, and the head of Christ is God. Every man who prays or prophesies with his head covered dishonors his head. And every woman who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonors her head—it is just as though her head were shaved. If a woman does not cover her head, she should have her hair cut off; and if it is a disgrace for a woman to have her hair cut or shaved off, she should cover her head.

^oPsalms 24:1 ^oSome manuscripts conscience' sake, for "the earth is the Lord's and everything in it" ^pOr traditions

A man ought not to cover his head,^q since he is the image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of man. For man did not come from woman, but woman from man; neither was man created for woman, but woman for man. For this reason, and because of the angels, the woman ought to have a sign of authority on her head.

1 Cor.
11:11-16

EQUALITY DESPITE DISTINCTIONS. In the Lord, however, woman is not independent of man, nor is man independent of woman. For as woman came from man, so also man is born of woman. But everything comes from God. Judge for yourselves: Is it proper for a woman to pray to God with her head uncovered? Does not the very nature of things teach you that if a man has long hair, it is a disgrace to him, but that if a woman has long hair, it is her glory? For long hair is given to her as a covering. If anyone wants to be contentious about this, we have no other practice—nor do the churches of God.

Regarding Body Unity and Fellowship

1 Cor.
11:17-22

PROBLEM WITH FELLOWSHIP. In the following directives I have no praise for you, for your meetings do more harm than good. In the first place, I hear that when you come together as a church, there are divisions among you, and to some extent I believe it. No doubt there have to be differences among you to show which of you have God's approval. When you come together, it is not the Lord's Supper you eat, for as you eat, each of you goes ahead without waiting for anybody else. One remains hungry, another gets drunk. Don't you have homes to eat and drink in? Or do you despise the church of God and humiliate those who have nothing? What shall I say to you? Shall I praise you for this? Certainly not!

1 Cor.
11:23-26

SUPPER AS REMINDER OF UNITY. For I received from the Lord what I also passed on to you: The Lord Jesus, on the night he was betrayed, took bread, and when he had given thanks, he broke it and said, "This is my body, which is for you; do this in remembrance of me." In the same way, after supper he took the cup, saying, "This cup is the new covenant in my blood; do this, whenever you drink it, in remembrance of me." For whenever you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes.

1 Cor.
11:27-34

EATING WITH VIEW TO UNITY. Therefore, whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord in an unworthy manner will be guilty of sinning against the body and blood of the Lord. A man ought to examine himself before he eats of the bread and drinks of the cup. For anyone who eats and drinks without recognizing the body of the Lord eats and drinks judgment on himself. That is why many among you are weak and sick, and a number of you have fallen asleep. But if we judged ourselves, we would not come under judgment. When we are judged by the Lord, we are being disciplined so that we will not be condemned with the world.

So then, my brothers, when you come together to eat, wait for each

^qOr ⁴Every man who prays or prophesies with long hair dishonors his head. ⁵And every woman who prays or prophesies with no covering of hair, on her head dishonors her head—she is just like one of the "shorn women." ⁶If a woman has no covering, let her be for now with short hair, but since it is a disgrace for a woman to have her hair shorn or shaved, she should grow it again. ⁷A man ought not to have long hair other. If anyone is hungry, he should eat at home, so that when you meet together it may not result in judgment.

And when I come I will give further directions.

Regarding Spiritual Gifts

SOURCE OF GIFTS. Now about spiritual gifts, brothers, I do not want you to be ignorant. You know that when you were pagans, somehow or other you were influenced and led astray to mute idols. Therefore I tell you that no one who is speaking by the Spirit of God says, "Jesus be cursed," and no one can say, "Jesus is Lord," except by the Holy Spirit. 1 Cor.
12:1-3

DESPITE VARIETY, SAME SOURCE. There are different kinds of gifts, but the same Spirit. There are different kinds of service, but the same Lord. There are different kinds of working, but the same God works all of them in all men. 1 Cor.
12:4-11

Now to each one the manifestation of the Spirit is given for the common good. To one there is given through the Spirit the message of wisdom, to another the message of knowledge by means of the same Spirit, to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by that one Spirit, to another miraculous powers, to another prophecy, to another distinguishing between spirits, to another speaking in different kinds of tongues,^r and to still another the interpretation of tongues.^r All these are the work of one and the same Spirit, and he gives them to each one, just as he determines.

BODY HAS MANY MEMBERS. The body is a unit, though it is made up of many parts; and though all its parts are many, they form one body. So it is with Christ. For we were all baptized by^s one Spirit into one body—whether Jews or Greeks, slave or free—and we were all given the one Spirit to drink. 1 Cor.
12:12-14

Now the body is not made up of one part but of many.

BODY IS DIVERSE. If the foot should say, "Because I am not a hand, I do not belong to the body," it would not for that reason cease to be part of the body. And if the ear should say, "Because I am not an eye, I do not belong to the body," it would not for that reason cease to be part of the body. If the whole body were an eye, where would the sense of hearing be? If the whole body were an ear, where would the sense of smell be? But in fact God has arranged the parts in the body, every one of them, just as he wanted them to be. If they were all one part, where would the body be? As it is, there are many parts, but one body. 1 Cor.
12:15-21

The eye cannot say to the hand, "I don't need you!" And the head cannot say to the feet, "I don't need you!"

EVERY MEMBER IMPORTANT. On the contrary, those parts of the body that seem to be weaker are indispensable, and the parts that we think are less honorable we treat with special honor. And the parts that are unrepresentable are treated with special modesty, while our presentable parts need no special treatment. But God has combined the members of the body and has given greater honor to the parts that lacked it, so that there should be no division in the body, but that its parts should have equal 1 Cor.
12:22-26

^rOr languages ^sOr with; or in

concern for each other. If one part suffers, every part suffers with it; if one part is honored, every part rejoices with it.

1 Cor. 12:27-31 CHURCH NEEDS DIVERSITY. Now you are the body of Christ, and each one of you is a part of it. And in the church God has appointed first of all apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then workers of miracles, also those having gifts of healing, those able to help others, those with gifts of administration, and those speaking in different kinds of tongues. Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all teachers? Do all work miracles? Do all have gifts of healing? Do all speak in tongues?^t Do all interpret? But eagerly desire^u the greater gifts.

And now I will show you the most excellent way.

1 Cor. 13:1-3 LOVE IS GREATEST GIFT. If I speak in the tongues^v of men and of angels, but have not love, I am only a resounding gong or a clanging cymbal. If I have the gift of prophecy and can fathom all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have a faith that can move mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. If I give all I possess to the poor and surrender my body to the flames,^w but have not love, I gain nothing.

1 Cor. 13:4-7 THE QUALITIES OF LOVE. Love is patient, love is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud. It is not rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not easily angered, it keeps no record of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres.

1 Cor. 13:8-13 LOVE WILL OUTLAST GIFTS. Love never fails. But where there are prophecies, they will cease; where there are tongues, they will be stilled; where there is knowledge, it will pass away. For we know in part and we prophesy in part, but when perfection comes, the imperfect disappears. When I was a child, I talked like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child. When I became a man, I put childish ways behind me. Now we see but a poor reflection as in a mirror; then we shall see face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known.

And now these three remain: faith, hope and love. But the greatest of these is love.

1 Cor. 14:1-5 PROPHECY VERSUS TONGUES. Follow the way of love and eagerly desire spiritual gifts, especially the gift of prophecy. For anyone who speaks in a tongue^x does not speak to men but to God. Indeed, no one understands him; he utters mysteries with his spirit.^y But everyone who prophesies speaks to men for their strengthening, encouragement and comfort. He who speaks in a tongue edifies himself, but he who prophesies edifies the church. I would like every one of you to speak in tongues,^z but I would rather have you prophesy. He who prophesies is greater than one who speaks in tongues,^z unless he interprets, so that the church may be edified.

1 Cor. 14:6-12 TONGUES NEED INTERPRETATION. Now, brothers, if I come to you and speak in tongues, what good will I be to you, unless I bring you some revelation or knowledge or prophecy or word of instruction? Even in the case of lifeless things that make sounds, such as the flute or harp, how

^tOr other languages ^uOr But you are eagerly desiring ^vOr languages ^wSome early manuscripts body that I may boast ^xOr another language; also in verses 4, 13, 14, 19, 26 and 27 ^yOr by the Spirit ^zOr other languages; also in verses 6, 18, 22, 23 and 39 will anyone know what tune is being played unless there is a distinction in the notes? Again, if the trumpet does not sound a clear call, who will get ready for battle? So it is with you. Unless you speak intelligible words with your tongue, how will anyone know what you are saying? You will just be speaking into the air. Undoubtedly there are all sorts of languages in the world, yet none of them is without meaning. If then I do not grasp the meaning of what someone is saying, I am a foreigner to the speaker, and he is a foreigner to me. So it is with you. Since you are eager to have spiritual gifts, try to excel in gifts that build up the church.

TONGUES CANNOT EDIFY. For this reason anyone who speaks in a tongue should pray that he may interpret what he says. For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit prays, but my mind is unfruitful. So what shall I do? I will pray with my spirit, but I will also pray with my mind; I will sing with my spirit, but I will also sing with my mind. If you are praising God with your spirit, how can one who finds himself among those who do not understand^a say "Amen" to your thanksgiving, since he does not know what you are saying? You may be giving thanks well enough, but the other man is not edified.

1 Cor.
14:13-19

I thank God that I speak in tongues more than all of you. But in the church I would rather speak five intelligible words to instruct others than ten thousand words in a tongue.

TONGUES ARE SIGN. Brothers, stop thinking like children. In regard to evil be infants, but in your thinking be adults. In the Law it is written:

1 Cor.
14:20-22

"Through men of strange tongues and through the lips of foreigners
I will speak to this people, but even then they will not listen to me,"^b

says the Lord.

Tongues, then, are a sign, not for believers but for unbelievers; prophecy, however, is for believers, not for unbelievers.

PROPHECY TEACHES. So if the whole church comes together and everyone speaks in tongues, and some who do not understand^c or some unbelievers come in, will they not say that you are out of your mind? But if an unbeliever or someone who does not understand^d comes in while everybody is prophesying, he will be convinced by all that he is a sinner and will be judged by all, and the secrets of his heart will be laid bare. So he will fall down and worship God, exclaiming, "God is really among you!"

1 Cor.
14:23-25

ORDERLY USE OF GIFTS. What then shall we say, brothers? When you come together, everyone has a hymn, or a word of instruction, a revelation, a tongue or an interpretation. All of these must be done for the strengthening of the church. If anyone speaks in a tongue, two—or at the most three—should speak, one at a time, and someone must interpret. If there is no interpreter, the speaker should keep quiet in the church and speak to himself and God.

1 Cor.
14:26-33a

Two or three prophets should speak, and the others should weigh carefully what is said. And if a revelation comes to someone who is sitting down, the first speaker should stop. For you can all prophesy in turn so

^aOr among the inquirers

^bIsaiah 28:11,12

^cOr some inquirers

^dOr or some inquirer

that everyone may be instructed and encouraged. The spirits of prophets are subject to the control of prophets. For God is not a God of disorder but of peace.

1 Cor.
14:33b-36

WOMEN NOT TO LEAD. As in all the congregations of the saints, women should remain silent in the churches. They are not allowed to speak, but must be in submission, as the Law says. If they want to inquire about something, they should ask their own husbands at home; for it is disgraceful for a woman to speak in the church.

Did the word of God originate with you? Or are you the only people it has reached?

1 Cor.
14:37-40

DIRECTIONS ARE LORD'S COMMAND. If anybody thinks he is a prophet or spiritually gifted, let him acknowledge that what I am writing to you is the Lord's command. If he ignores this, he himself will be ignored.^e

Therefore, my brothers, be eager to prophesy, and do not forbid speaking in tongues. But everything should be done in a fitting and orderly way.

Regarding the Resurrection

1 Cor.
15:1-11

RESURRECTION A PROVABLE FACT. Now, brothers, I want to remind you of the gospel I preached to you, which you received and on which you have taken your stand. By this gospel you are saved, if you hold firmly to the word I preached to you. Otherwise, you have believed in vain.

For what I received I passed on to you as of first importance^f: that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures, that he was buried, that he was raised on the third day according to the Scriptures, and that he appeared to Peter,^g and then to the Twelve. After that, he appeared to more than five hundred of the brothers at the same time, most of whom are still living, though some have fallen asleep. Then he appeared to James, then to all the apostles, and last of all he appeared to me also, as to one abnormally born.

For I am the least of the apostles and do not even deserve to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace to me was not without effect. No, I worked harder than all of them—yet not I, but the grace of God that was with me. Whether, then, it was I or they, this is what we preach, and this is what you believed.

1 Cor.
15:12-19

RESURRECTION IS CENTRAL. But if it is preached that Christ has been raised from the dead, how can some of you say that there is no resurrection of the dead? If there is no resurrection of the dead, then not even Christ has been raised. And if Christ has not been raised, our preaching is useless and so is your faith. More than that, we are then found to be false witnesses about God, for we have testified about God that he raised Christ from the dead. But he did not raise him if in fact the dead are not raised. For if the dead are not raised, then Christ has not been raised either. And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile; you are still in your sins. Then those also who have fallen asleep in Christ are lost. If only for this life we have hope in Christ, we are to be pitied more than all men.

^eSome manuscripts If he is ignorant of this, let him be ignorant

^gGreek Cephas

^fOr you at the first

OUR RESURRECTION CERTAIN. But Christ has indeed been raised from the dead, the firstfruits of those who have fallen asleep. For since death came through a man, the resurrection of the dead comes also through a man. For as in Adam all die, so in Christ all will be made alive. But each in his own turn: Christ, the firstfruits; then, when he comes, those who belong to him. Then the end will come, when he hands over the kingdom to God the Father after he has destroyed all dominion, authority and power. For he must reign until he has put all his enemies under his feet. The last enemy to be destroyed is death. For he "has put everything under his feet."^h Now when it says that "everything" has been put under him, it is clear that this does not include God himself, who put everything under Christ. When he has done this, then the Son himself will be made subject to him who put everything under him, so that God may be all in all.

CONDUCT BASED UPON HOPE. Now if there is no resurrection, what will those do who are baptized for the dead? If the dead are not raised at all, why are people baptized for them? And as for us, why do we endanger ourselves every hour? I die every day—I mean that, brothers—just as surely as I glory over you in Christ Jesus our Lord. If I fought wild beasts in Ephesus for merely human reasons, what have I gained? If the dead are not raised,

1 Cor.

"Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we die."ⁱ

Do not be misled: "Bad company corrupts good character." Come back to your senses as you ought, and stop sinning; for there are some who are ignorant of God—I say this to your shame.

NEW BODIES IN RESURRECTION. But someone may ask, "How are the dead raised? With what kind of body will they come?" How foolish! What you sow does not come to life unless it dies. When you sow, you do not plant the body that will be, but just a seed, perhaps of wheat or of something else. But God gives it a body as he has determined, and to each kind of seed he gives its own body. All flesh is not the same: Men have one kind of flesh, animals have another, birds another and fish another. There are also heavenly bodies and there are earthly bodies; but the splendor of the heavenly bodies is one kind, and the splendor of the earthly bodies is another. The sun has one kind of splendor, the moon another and the stars another; and star differs from star in splendor.

1 Cor.
15:35-41

BODIES TO BE SPIRITUAL. So will it be with the resurrection of the dead. The body that is sown is perishable, it is raised imperishable; it is sown in dishonor, it is raised in glory; it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power; it is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body.

1 Cor.
15:42-50

If there is a natural body, there is also a spiritual body. So it is written: "The first man Adam became a living being"^j; the last Adam, a life-giving spirit. The spiritual did not come first, but the natural, and after that the spiritual. The first man was of the dust of the earth, the second man from heaven. As was the earthly man, so are those who are of the earth; and as is the man from heaven, so also are those who are of heaven. And just as we have borne the likeness of the earthly man, so shall we^k bear the likeness of the man from heaven.

^hPsalm 8:6 ⁱIsaiah 22:13 ^jGen. 2:7

I declare to you, brothers, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God, nor does the perishable inherit the imperishable.

1 Cor.
15:51-53

RESURRECTION AND GLORIFICATION. Listen, I tell you a mystery: We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed— in a flash, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. For the perishable must clothe itself with the imperishable, and the mortal with immortality.

1 Cor.
15:54-58

CONFIDENCE IN DEATH. When the perishable has been clothed with the imperishable, and the mortal with immortality, then the saying that is written will come true: "Death has been swallowed up in victory."^l

"Where, O death, is your victory?

Where, O death, is your sting?"^m

The sting of death is sin, and the power of sin is the law. But thanks be to God! He gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Therefore, my dear brothers, stand firm. Let nothing move you. Always give yourselves fully to the work of the Lord, because you know that your labor in the Lord is not in vain.

Closing Personal Thoughts

COLLECTION FOR JERUSALEM. Now about the collection for God's people: Do what I told the Galatian churches to do. On the first day of every week, each one of you should set aside a sum of money in keeping with his income, saving it up, so that when I come no collections will have to be made. Then, when I arrive, I will give letters of introduction to the men you approve and send them with your gift to Jerusalem. If it seems advisable for me to go also, they will accompany me.

PAUL'S FUTURE PLANS. After I go through Macedonia, I will come to you—for I will be going through Macedonia. Perhaps I will stay with you awhile, or even spend the winter, so that you can help me on my journey, wherever I go. I do not want to see you now and make only a passing visit; I hope to spend some time with you, if the Lord permits. But I will stay on at Ephesus until Pentecost, because a great door for effective work has opened to me, and there are many who oppose me.

ABOUT TIMOTHY AND APOLLOS. If Timothy comes, see to it that he has nothing to fear while he is with you, for he is carrying on the work of the Lord, just as I am. No one, then, should refuse to accept him. Send him on his way in peace so that he may return to me. I am expecting him along with the brothers.

Now about our brother Apollos: I strongly urged him to go to you with the brothers. He was quite unwilling to go now, but he will go when he has the opportunity.

If Paul expects a quick response to his letter, apparently it does not come. In the meantime, the historical record in Acts returns to Paul's final days in Ephesus.

SILVERSMITHS INCITED. About that time there arose a great disturbance about the Way. A silversmith named Demetrius, who made silver shrines of Artemis, brought in no little business for the craftsmen. He called them together, along with the workmen in related trades, and said: "Men, you know we receive a good income from this business. And you see and hear how this fellow Paul has convinced and led astray large numbers of people here in Ephesus and in practically the whole province of Asia. He says that man-made gods are no gods at all. There is danger not only that our trade will lose its good name, but also that the temple of the great goddess Artemis will be discredited, and the goddess herself, who is worshiped throughout the province of Asia and the world, will be robbed of her divine majesty." Acts 19:23-27
Ephesus

RIOT ENSUES. When they heard this, they were furious and began shouting: "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!" Soon the whole city was in an uproar. The people seized Gaius Aristarchus, Paul's traveling companions from Macedonia, and rushed as one man into the theater. Paul wanted to appear before the crowd, but the disciples would not let him. Even some of the officials of the province, friends of Paul, sent him a message begging him not to venture into the theater. Acts
19:28-34

The assembly was in confusion: Some were shouting one thing, some another. Most of the people did not even know why they were there. The Jews pushed Alexander to the front, and some of the crowd shouted instructions to him. He motioned for silence in order to make a defense before the people. But when they realized he was a Jew, they all shouted in unison for about two hours: "Great is Artemis of the Ephesians!"

TOWN CLERK CALMS CROWD. The city clerk quieted the crowd and said: "Men of Ephesus, doesn't all the world know that the city of Ephesus is the guardian of the temple of the great Artemis and of her image, which Acts fell from heaven? Therefore, since these facts are undeniable, you ought to be quiet and not do anything rash. You have brought these men here, though they have neither robbed temples nor blasphemed our goddess. If, then, Demetrius and his fellow craftsmen have a grievance against anybody, the courts are open and there are proconsuls. They can press charges. If there is anything further you want to bring up, it must be settled in a legal assembly. As it is, we are in danger of being charged with rioting because of today's events. In that case we would not be able to account for this commotion, since there is no reason for it." After he had said this, he dismissed the assembly.

PAUL LEAVES EPHEBUS. When the uproar had ended, Paul sent for the disciples and, after encouraging them, said good-by and set out for Macedonia. ☞

Second Letter to the Corinthians

The confrontation with Demetrius and the other craftsmen is undoubtedly not the only reason Paul left Ephesus. Understandably, Paul must be anxious to hear from Titus regarding the Corinthians' reaction to his previous letter, so it appears that Paul decides to go on to Troas, where he hopes to meet Titus. Perhaps disappointed at not finding Titus there, Paul goes on to Macedonia, where Titus joins him. There Paul writes his final letter to the Corinthians, probably about A.D. 56-57. In the letter he explains why he has not visited them a third time, as he had hoped, and shares with them at great length the sense of fulfillment he has in both his ministry and in them personally. At the end of his letter (10-13), Paul's tone changes abruptly as he once again defends his apostleship and personal character. This letter is sent with Titus and others who are returning to Corinth to receive funds being given for relief of the brethren in Judea who are in need of financial assistance.

2 Cor. 1:1,2 SALUTATION. Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,

To the church of God in Corinth, together with all the saints throughout Achaia:

2 Cor. 1:3-7 GRATITUDE FOR GOD'S COMFORT. Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of compassion and the God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our troubles, so that we can comfort those in any trouble with the comfort we ourselves have received from God. For just as the sufferings of Christ flow over into our lives, so also through Christ our comfort overflows. If we are distressed, it is for your comfort and salvation; if we are comforted, it is for your comfort, which produces in you patient endurance of the same sufferings we suffer. And our hope for you is firm, because we know that just as you share in our sufferings, so also you share in our comfort.

2 Cor. 1:8-11 EARLIER DESPAIR DISSIPATED. We do not want you to be uninformed, brothers, about the hardships we suffered in the province of Asia. We were under great pressure, far beyond our ability to endure, so that we despaired even of life. Indeed, in our hearts we felt the sentence of death. But this happened that we might not rely on ourselves but on God, who raises the dead. He has delivered us from such a deadly peril, and he will deliver us. On him we have set our hope that he will continue to deliver us, as you help us by your prayers. Then many will give thanks on our^g behalf for the gracious favor granted us in answer to the prayers of many.

HOPE FOR POSITIVE VIEW. Now this is our boast: Our conscience testifies that we have conducted ourselves in the world, and especially in our relations with you, in the holiness and sincerity that are from God. We have done so not according to worldly wisdom but according to God's grace. For we do not write you anything you cannot read or understand. And I hope that, as you have understood us in part, you will come to understand fully that you can boast of us just as we will boast of you in the day of the Lord Jesus.

2 Cor.
1:12-14

TRAVEL PLANS NOT WHIMSICAL. Because I was confident of this, I planned to visit you first so that you might benefit twice. I planned to visit you on my way to Macedonia and to come back to you from Macedonia, and then to have you send me on my way to Judea. When I planned this, did I do it lightly? Or do I make my plans in a worldly manner so that in the same breath I say, "Yes, yes" and "No, no"?

2 Cor.
1:15-22

But as surely as God is faithful, our message to you is not "Yes" and "No." For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by me and Silas^h and Timothy, was not "Yes" and "No," but in him it has always been "Yes." For no matter how many promises God has made, they are "Yes" in Christ. And so through him the "Amen" is spoken by us to the glory of God. Now it is God who makes both us and you stand firm in Christ. He anointed us, set his seal of ownership on us, and put his Spirit in our hearts as a deposit, guaranteeing what is to come.

REASONS FOR LETTER. I call God as my witness that it was in order to spare you that I did not return to Corinth. Not that we lord it over your faith, but we work with you for your joy, because it is by faith you stand firm. So I made up my mind that I would not make another painful visit to you. For if I grieve you, who is left to make me glad but you whom I have grieved? I wrote as I did so that when I came I should not be distressed by those who ought to make me rejoice. I had confidence in all of you, that you would all share my joy. For I wrote you out of great distress and anguish of heart and with many tears, not to grieve you but to let you know the depth of my love for you.

2 Cor.
1:23-2:4

TROUBLEMAKERS TO BE FORGIVEN. If anyone has caused grief, he has not so much grieved me as he has grieved all of you, to some extent—not to put it too severely. The punishment inflicted on him by the majority is sufficient for him. Now instead, you ought to forgive and comfort him, so that he will not be overwhelmed by excessive sorrow. I urge you, therefore, to reaffirm your love for him. The reason I wrote you was to see if you would stand the test and be obedient in everything. If you forgive anyone, I also forgive him. And what I have forgiven—if there was anything to forgive—I have forgiven in the sight of Christ for your sake, in order that Satan might not outwit us. For we are not unaware of his schemes.

2 Cor. 2:12,13 EAGERNESS FOR TITUS' REPORT. Now when I went to Troas to preach the gospel of Christ and found that the Lord had opened a door for me, I still had no peace of mind, because I did not find my brother Titus there. So I said good-by to them and went on to Macedonia.

Regarding Paul's Ministry

2 Cor. 2:14-17 SUCCESS OF MINISTRY. But thanks be to God, who always leads us in triumphal procession in Christ and through us spreads everywhere the fragrance of the knowledge of him. For we are to God the aroma of Christ among those who are being saved and those who are perishing. To the one we are the smell of death; to the other, the fragrance of life. And who is equal to such a task? Unlike so many, we do not peddle the word of God for profit. On the contrary, in Christ we speak before God with sincerity, like men sent from God.

2 Cor. 3:1-3 THEY ARE PAUL'S PROOF. Are we beginning to commend ourselves again? Or do we need, like some people, letters of recommendation to you or from you? You yourselves are our letter, written on our hearts, known and read by everybody. You show that you are a letter from Christ, the result of our ministry, written not with ink but with the Spirit of the living God, not on tablets of stone but on tablets of human hearts.

2 Cor. 3:4-6 SOURCE OF PAUL'S COMPETENCE. Such confidence as this is ours through Christ before God. Not that we are competent in ourselves to claim anything for ourselves, but our competence comes from God. He has made us competent as ministers of a new covenant—not of the letter but of the Spirit; for the letter kills, but the Spirit gives life.

2 Cor. 3:7-11 SPLENDOR OF GOSPEL MESSAGE. Now if the ministry that brought death, which was engraved in letters on stone, came with glory, so that the Israelites could not look steadily at the face of Moses because of its glory, fading though it was, will not the ministry of the Spirit be even more glorious? If the ministry that condemns men is glorious, how much more glorious is the ministry that brings righteousness! For what was glorious has no glory now in comparison with the surpassing glory. And if what was fading away came with glory, how much greater is the glory of that which lasts!

2 Cor. 3:12-18 UNVEILING OF THE SPIRIT. Therefore, since we have such a hope, we are very bold. We are not like Moses, who would put a veil over his face to keep the Israelites from gazing at it while the radiance was fading away. But their minds were made dull, for to this day the same veil remains when the old covenant is read. It has not been removed, because only in Christ is it taken away. Even to this day when Moses is read, a veil covers their hearts. But whenever anyone turns to the Lord, the veil is taken away. Now the Lord is the Spirit, and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is freedom. And we, who with unveiled faces all reflect^s the Lord's glory, are being transformed into his likeness with ever-increasing glory, which comes from the Lord, who is the Spirit.

^sOr contemplate

GOSPEL PREACHED HONESTLY. Therefore, since through God's mercy we have this ministry, we do not lose heart. Rather, we have renounced secret and shameful ways; we do not use deception, nor do we distort the word of God. On the contrary, by setting forth the truth plainly we commend ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God. And even if our gospel is veiled, it is veiled to those who are perishing. The god of this age has blinded the minds of unbelievers, so that they cannot see the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God. For we do not preach ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord, and ourselves as your servants for Jesus' sake. For God, who said, "Let light shine out of darkness,"¹ made his light shine in our hearts to give us the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ.

2 Cor.
4:1-6

PERSECUTION IS PROOF. But we have this treasure in jars of clay to show that this all-surpassing power is from God and not from us. We are hard pressed on every side, but not crushed; perplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not abandoned; struck down, but not destroyed. We always carry around in our body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be revealed in our body. For we who are alive are always being given over to death for Jesus' sake, so that his life may be revealed in our mortal body. So then, death is at work in us, but life is at work in you.

2 Cor.
4:7-12

PREACHING FROM FAITH. It is written: "I believed; therefore I have spoken."² With that same spirit of faith we also believe and therefore speak, because we know that the one who raised the Lord Jesus from the dead will also raise us with Jesus and present us with you in his presence. All this is for your benefit, so that the grace that is reaching more and more people may cause thanksgiving to overflow to the glory of God.

2 Cor.
4:13-15

INNER STRENGTH. Therefore we do not lose heart. Though outwardly we are wasting away, yet inwardly we are being renewed day by day. For our light and momentary troubles are achieving for us an eternal glory that far outweighs them all. So we fix our eyes not on what is seen, but on what is unseen. For what is seen is temporary, but what is unseen is eternal.

2 Cor.
4:16-18

LONGING FOR ETERNAL DWELLING. Now we know that if the earthly tent we live in is destroyed, we have a building from God, an eternal house in heaven, not built by human hands. Meanwhile we groan, longing to be clothed with our heavenly dwelling, because when we are clothed, we will not be found naked. For while we are in this tent, we groan and are burdened, because we do not wish to be unclothed but to be clothed with our heavenly dwelling, so that what is mortal may be swallowed up by life. Now it is God who has made us for this very purpose and has given us the Spirit as a deposit, guaranteeing what is to come.

2 Cor.
5:1-5

COURAGE FACING DEATH. Therefore we are always confident and know that as long as we are at home in the body we are away from the Lord. We live by faith, not by sight. We are confident, I say, and would prefer to be away from the body and at home with the Lord. So we make it our goal to please him, whether we are at home in the body or away from it. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive what is due him for the things done while in the body, whether good or bad.

2 Cor.
5:6-10

¹Gen. 1:3 ²Psalm 116:10

2 Cor.
5:11-15

BOASTING FOR THEIR SAKE. Since, then, we know what it is to fear the Lord, we try to persuade men. What we are is plain to God, and I hope it is also plain to your conscience. We are not trying to commend ourselves to you again, but are giving you an opportunity to take pride in us, so that you can answer those who take pride in what is seen rather than in what is in the heart. If we are out of our mind, it is for the sake of God; if we are in our right mind, it is for you. For Christ's love compels us, because we are convinced that one died for all, and therefore all died. And he died for all, that those who live should no longer live for themselves but for him who died for them and was raised again.

2 Cor.
5:16-6:2

MINISTRY OF RECONCILIATION. So from now on we regard no one from a worldly point of view. Though we once regarded Christ in this way, we do so no longer. Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has gone, the new has come! All this is from God, who reconciled us to himself through Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation: that God was reconciling the world to himself in Christ, not counting men's sins against them. And he has committed to us the message of reconciliation. We are therefore Christ's ambassadors, as though God were making his appeal through us. We implore you on Christ's behalf: Be reconciled to God. God made him who had no sin to be sin^v for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God. As God's fellow workers we urge you not to receive God's grace in vain. For he says,

"In the time of my favor I heard you,
and in the day of salvation I helped you."^w

I tell you, now is the time of God's favor, now is the day of salvation.

2 Cor.
6:3-10

SUBMISSION WHERE AFFLICTION. We put no stumbling block in anyone's path, so that our ministry will not be discredited. Rather, as servants of God we commend ourselves in every way: in great endurance; in troubles, hardships and distresses; in beatings, imprisonments and riots; in hard work, sleepless nights and hunger; in purity, understanding, patience and kindness; in the Holy Spirit and in sincere love; in truthful speech and in the power of God; with weapons of righteousness in the right hand and in the left; through glory and dishonor, bad report and good report; genuine, yet regarded as impostors; known, yet regarded as unknown; dying, and yet we live on; beaten, and yet not killed; sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; poor, yet making many rich; having nothing, and yet possessing everything.

2 Cor.
6:11-13

CALL FOR FULL ACCEPTANCE. We have spoken freely to you, Corinthians, and opened wide our hearts to you. We are not withholding our affection from you, but you are withholding yours from us. As a fair exchange—I speak as to my children—open wide your hearts also.

2 Cor.
6:14-7:1

THOSE WHO OPPOSE GOSPEL. Do not be yoked together with unbelievers. For what do righteousness and wickedness have in common? Or what fellowship can light have with darkness? What harmony is there between Christ and Belial^x? What does a believer have in common with an unbeliever? What agreement is there between the temple of God and idols? For we are the temple of the living God. As God has said: "I will

^vOr be a sin offering live with them and walk among them, and I will be their God, and they will be my people."^y

"Therefore come out from them and be separate,

says the Lord.

Touch no unclean thing,
and I will receive you."^z

"I will be a Father to you, and you will be my sons and daughters,

says the Lord Almighty."^a

Since we have these promises, dear friends, let us purify ourselves from everything that contaminates body and spirit, perfecting holiness out of reverence for God.

PLEADING FOR FELLOWSHIP. Make room for us in your hearts. We have wronged no one, we have corrupted no one, we have exploited no one. I do not say this to condemn you; I have said before that you have such a place in our hearts that we would live or die with you. I have great confidence in you; I take great pride in you. I am greatly encouraged; in all our troubles my joy knows no bounds.

2 Cor.
7:2-4

JOY AT NEWS OF ATTITUDE. For when we came into Macedonia, this body of ours had no rest, but we were harassed at every turn—conflicts on the outside, fears within. But God, who comforts the downcast, comforted us by the coming of Titus, and not only by his coming but also by the comfort you had given him. He told us about your longing for me, your deep sorrow, your ardent concern for me, so that my joy was greater than ever.

2 Cor.
7:5-7

JOY IN THEIR ZEAL. Even if I caused you sorrow by my letter, I do not regret it. Though I did regret it—I see that my letter hurt you, but only for a little while—yet now I am happy, not because you were made sorry, but because your sorrow led you to repentance. For you became sorrowful as God intended and so were not harmed in any way by us. Godly sorrow brings repentance that leads to salvation and leaves no regret, but worldly sorrow brings death. See what this godly sorrow has produced in you: what earnestness, what eagerness to clear yourselves, what indignation, what alarm, what longing, what concern, what readiness to see justice done. At every point you have proved yourselves to be innocent in this matter. So even though I wrote to you, it was not on account of the one who did the wrong or of the injured party, but rather that before God you could see for yourselves how devoted to us you are. By all this we are encouraged.

2 Cor.
7:8-13a

JOY REGARDING TITUS. In addition to our own encouragement, we were especially delighted to see how happy Titus was, because his spirit has been refreshed by all of you. I had boasted to him about you, and you have not embarrassed me. But just as everything we said to you was true, so our boasting about you to Titus has proved to be true as well. And his affection for you is all the greater when he remembers that you were all

Regarding Collection for Brethren in Judea

2 Cor.
8:1-5

LIBERALITY OF MACEDONIANS. And now, brothers, we want you to know about the grace that God has given the Macedonian churches. Out of the most severe trial, their overflowing joy and their extreme poverty welled up in rich generosity. For I testify that they gave as much as they were able, and even beyond their ability. Entirely on their own, they urgently pleaded with us for the privilege of sharing in this service to the saints. And they did not do as we expected, but they gave themselves first to the Lord and then to us in keeping with God's will.

2 Cor.
8:6-9

GIFT A PROOF OF LOVE. So we urged Titus, since he had earlier made a beginning, to bring also to completion this act of grace on your part. But just as you excel in everything—in faith, in speech, in knowledge, in complete earnestness and in your love for us^b—see that you also excel in this grace of giving.

I am not commanding you, but I want to test the sincerity of your love by comparing it with the earnestness of others. For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, so that you through his poverty might become rich.

2 Cor.
8:10-15

LIBERALITY MAKES EQUALITY. And here is my advice about what is best for you in this matter: Last year you were the first not only to give but also to have the desire to do so. Now finish the work, so that your eager willingness to do it may be matched by your completion of it, according to your means. For if the willingness is there, the gift is acceptable according to what one has, not according to what he does not have.

Our desire is not that others might be relieved while you are hard pressed, but that there might be equality. At the present time your plenty will supply what they need, so that in turn their plenty will supply what you need. Then there will be equality, as it is written: "He who gathered much did not have too much, and he who gathered little did not have too little."^c

2 Cor.
8:16-24

MEN TO CONVEY GIFT. I thank God, who put into the heart of Titus the same concern I have for you. For Titus not only welcomed our appeal, but he is coming to you with much enthusiasm and on his own initiative. And we are sending along with him the brother who is praised by all the churches for his service to the gospel. What is more, he was chosen by the churches to accompany us as we carry the offering, which we administer in order to honor the Lord himself and to show our eagerness to help. We want to avoid any criticism of the way we administer this liberal gift. For we are taking pains to do what is right, not only in the eyes of the Lord but also in the eyes of men.

In addition, we are sending with them our brother who has often proved to us in many ways that he is zealous, and now even more so because of his great confidence in you. As for Titus, he is my partner and fellow worker among you; as for our brothers, they are representatives of the churches and an honor to Christ. Therefore show these men the proof of your love and the reason for our pride in you, so that the churches can see it.

READINESS OF GIFT. There is no need for me to write to you about this service to the saints. For I know your eagerness to help, and I have been boasting about it to the Macedonians, telling them that since last year you in Achaia were ready to give; and your enthusiasm has stirred most of them to action. But I am sending the brothers in order that our boasting about you in this matter should not prove hollow, but that you may be ready, as I said you would be. For if any Macedonians come with me and find you unprepared, we—not to say anything about you—would be ashamed of having been so confident. So I thought it necessary to urge the brothers to visit you in advance and finish the arrangements for the generous gift you had promised. Then it will be ready as a generous gift, not as one grudgingly given.

2 Cor.
9:1-5

CHEERFUL, ABUNDANT GIVING. Remember this: Whoever sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and whoever sows generously will also reap generously. Each man should give what he has decided in his heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver. And God is able to make all grace abound to you, so that in all things at all times, having all that you need, you will abound in every good work. As it is written:

2 Cor.
9:6-9

“He has scattered abroad his gifts to the poor;
his righteousness endures forever.”^d

GENEROSITY GLORIFIES GOD. Now he who supplies seed to the sower and bread for food will also supply and increase your store of seed and will enlarge the harvest of your righteousness. You will be made rich in every way so that you can be generous on every occasion, and through us your generosity will result in thanksgiving to God.

2 Cor.
9:10-15

This service that you perform is not only supplying the needs of God’s people but is also overflowing in many expressions of thanks to God. Because of the service by which you have proved yourselves, men will praise God for the obedience that accompanies your confession of the gospel of Christ, and for your generosity in sharing with them and with everyone else. And in their prayers for you their hearts will go out to you, because of the surpassing grace God has given you. Thanks be to God for his indescribable gift!

Defense of Paul’s Apostleship

PAUL’S RESPONSE TO CHARGE. By the meekness and gentleness of Christ, I appeal to you—I, Paul, who am “timid” when face to face with you, but “bold” when away! I beg you that when I come I may not have to be as bold as I expect to be toward some people who think that we live by the standards of this world. For though we live in the world, we do not wage war as the world does. The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds. We demolish arguments and every pretension that sets itself up against the knowledge of God, and we take captive every thought to make it obedient to Christ. And we will be ready to punish every act of disobedience, once your obedience is complete.

2 Cor.
10:1-6

^dP’salm 112:9

- 2 Cor.
10:7-11 APPEARANCES AND LETTERS. You are looking only on the surface of things.^c If anyone is confident that he belongs to Christ, he should consider again that we belong to Christ just as much as he. For even if I boast somewhat freely about the authority the Lord gave us for building you up rather than pulling you down, I will not be ashamed of it. I do not want to seem to be trying to frighten you with my letters. For some say, "His letters are weighty and forceful, but in person he is unimpressive and his speaking amounts to nothing." Such people should realize that what we are in our letters when we are absent, we will be in our actions when we are present.
- 2 Cor.
10:12-18 COMPARISONS WITH OTHERS. We do not dare to classify or compare ourselves with some who commend themselves. When they measure themselves by themselves and compare themselves with themselves, they are not wise. We, however, will not boast beyond proper limits, but will confine our boasting to the field God has assigned to us, a field that reaches even to you. We are not going too far in our boasting, as would be the case if we had not come to you, for we did get as far as you with the gospel of Christ. Neither do we go beyond our limits by boasting of work done by others.^f Our hope is that, as your faith continues to grow, our area of activity among you will greatly expand, so that we can preach the gospel in the regions beyond you. For we do not want to boast about work already done in another man's territory. But, "Let him who boasts boast in the Lord."^g For it is not the one who commends himself who is approved, but the one whom the Lord commends.
- 2 Cor.
11:1-6 ORATORY VERSUS KNOWLEDGE. I hope you will put up with a little of my foolishness; but you are already doing that. I am jealous for you with a godly jealousy. I promised you to one husband, to Christ, so that I might present you as a pure virgin to him. But I am afraid that just as Eve was deceived by the serpent's cunning, your minds may somehow be led astray from your sincere and pure devotion to Christ. For if someone comes to you and preaches a Jesus other than the Jesus we preached, or if you receive a different spirit from the one you received, or a different gospel from the one you accepted, you put up with it easily enough. But I do not think I am in the least inferior to those "super-apostles." I may not be a trained speaker, but I do have knowledge. We have made this perfectly clear to you in every way.
- 2 Cor.
11:7-11 PREACHING A MATTER OF LOVE. Was it a sin for me to lower myself in order to elevate you by preaching the gospel of God to you free of charge? I robbed other churches by receiving support from them so as to serve you. And when I was with you and needed something, I was not a burden to anyone, for the brothers who came from Macedonia supplied what I needed. I have kept myself from being a burden to you in any way, and will continue to do so. As surely as the truth of Christ is in me, nobody in the regions of Achaia will stop this boasting of mine. Why? Because I do not love you? God knows I do!

^cOr Look at the obvious facts ^fOr ¹³We, however, will not boast about things that cannot be measured, but we will boast according to the standard of measurement that the God of measure has assigned us—a measurement that relates even to you. ¹⁴ . . . ¹⁵Neither do we boast about things that cannot be measured in regard to the work done by others. ^gJer. 9:24

OTHERS' PREACHING A RUSE. And I will keep on doing what I am doing in order to cut the ground from under those who want an opportunity to be considered equal with us in the things they boast about. 2 Cor.
11:12-15

For such men are false apostles, deceitful workmen, masquerading as apostles of Christ. And no wonder, for Satan himself masquerades as an angel of light. It is not surprising, then, if his servants masquerade as servants of righteousness. Their end will be what their actions deserve.

PAUL FORCED TO BOAST. I repeat: Let no one take me for a fool. But if you do, then receive me just as you would a fool, so that I may do a little boasting. In this self-confident boasting I am not talking as the Lord would, but as a fool. Since many are boasting in the way the world does, I too will boast. You gladly put up with fools since you are so wise! In fact, you even put up with anyone who enslaves you or exploits you or takes advantage of you or pushes himself forward or slaps you in the face. To my shame I admit that we were too weak for that! 2 Cor.
11:16-21a

BASIS FOR BOASTING. What anyone else dares to boast about—I am speaking as a fool—I also dare to boast about. Are they Hebrews? So am I. Are they Israelites? So am I. Are they Abraham's descendants? So am I. Are they servants of Christ? (I am out of my mind to talk like this.) I am more. I have worked much harder, been in prison more frequently, been flogged more severely, and been exposed to death again and again. Five times I received from the Jews the forty lashes minus one. Three times I was beaten with rods, once I was stoned, three times I was shipwrecked, I spent a night and a day in the open sea, I have been constantly on the move. I have been in danger from rivers, in danger from bandits, in danger from my own countrymen, in danger from Gentiles; in danger in the city, in danger in the country, in danger at sea; and in danger from false brothers. I have labored and toiled and have often gone without sleep; I have known hunger and thirst and have often gone without food; I have been cold and naked. Besides everything else, I face daily the pressure of my concern for all the churches. Who is weak, and I do not feel weak? Who is led into sin, and I do not inwardly burn? 2 Cor.
11:21b-29

SUFFERINGS INDICATE STRENGTH. If I must boast, I will boast of the things that show my weakness. The God and Father of the Lord Jesus, who is to be praised forever, knows that I am not lying. In Damascus the governor under King Aretas had the city of the Damascenes guarded in order to arrest me. But I was lowered in a basket from a window in the wall and slipped through his hands. 2 Cor.
11:30-33

REVELATIONS VERIFY. I must go on boasting. Although there is nothing to be gained, I will go on to visions and revelations from the Lord. I know a man in Christ who fourteen years ago was caught up to the third heaven. Whether it was in the body or out of the body I do not know—God knows. And I know that this man—whether in the body or apart from the body I do not know, but God knows— was caught up to paradise. He heard inexpressible things, things that man is not permitted to tell. I will boast about a man like that, but I will not boast about myself, except about my weaknesses. Even if I should choose to boast, I would not be a fool, because I would be speaking the truth. But I refrain, so no one will think more of me than is warranted by what I do or say. 2 Cor.
12:1-6

- 2 Cor.
12:7-10 WEAKNESS FOR CHRIST'S SAKE. To keep me from becoming conceited because of these surpassingly great revelations, there was given me a thorn in my flesh, a messenger of Satan, to torment me. Three times I pleaded with the Lord to take it away from me. But he said to me, "My grace is sufficient for you, for my power is made perfect in weakness." Therefore I will boast all the more gladly about my weaknesses, so that Christ's power may rest on me. That is why, for Christ's sake, I delight in weaknesses, in insults, in hardships, in persecutions, in difficulties. For when I am weak, then I am strong.
- 2 Cor.
12:11-13 MIRACLES ARE CREDENTIALS. I have made a fool of myself, but you drove me to it. I ought to have been commended by you, for I am not in the least inferior to the "super-apostles," even though I am nothing. The things that mark an apostle—signs, wonders and miracles—were done among you with great perseverance. How were you inferior to the other churches, except that I was never a burden to you? Forgive me this wrong!
- 2 Cor.
12:14-18 NO ULTERIOR ADVANTAGE. Now I am ready to visit you for the third time, and I will not be a burden to you, because what I want is not your possessions but you. After all, children should not have to save up for their parents, but parents for their children. So I will very gladly spend for you everything I have and expend myself as well. If I love you more, will you love me less? Be that as it may, I have not been a burden to you. Yet, crafty fellow that I am, I caught you by trickery! Did I exploit you through any of the men I sent you? I urged Titus to go to you and I sent our brother with him. Titus did not exploit you, did he? Did we not act in the same spirit and follow the same course?
- 2 Cor.
12:19-21 REASON FOR DEFENSE. Have you been thinking all along that we have been defending ourselves to you? We have been speaking in the sight of God as those in Christ; and everything we do, dear friends, is for your strengthening. For I am afraid that when I come I may not find you as I want you to be, and you may not find me as you want me to be. I fear that there may be quarreling, jealousy, outbursts of anger, factions, slander, gossip, arrogance and disorder. I am afraid that when I come again my God will humble me before you, and I will be grieved over many who have sinned earlier and have not repented of the impurity, sexual sin and debauchery in which they have indulged.
- 2 Cor.
13:1-4 REGARDING TROUBLEMAKERS. This will be my third visit to you. "Every matter must be established by the testimony of two or three witnesses."^h I already gave you a warning when I was with you the second time. I now repeat it while absent: On my return I will not spare those who sinned earlier or any of the others, since you are demanding proof that Christ is speaking through me. He is not weak in dealing with you, but is powerful among you. For to be sure, he was crucified in weakness, yet he lives by God's power. Likewise, we are weak in him, yet by God's power we will live with him to serve you.
- 2 Cor.
13:5-10 EACH TO EXAMINE HIMSELF. Examine yourselves to see whether you are in the faith; test yourselves. Do you not realize that Christ Jesus is in you—unless, of course, you fail the test? And I trust that you will discover that we have not failed the test. Now we pray to God that you will not do anything wrong. Not that people will see that we have stood the test but that you will do what is right even though we may seem to have failed. For we cannot do anything against the truth, but only for the truth. We are glad whenever we are weak but you are strong; and our prayer is for your perfection. This is why I write these things when I am absent, that when I come I may not have to be harsh in my use of authority—the authority the Lord gave me for building you up, not for tearing you down.

EXHORTATIONS AND GREETINGS. Finally, brothers, good-by. Aim for perfection, listen to my appeal, be of one mind, live in peace. And the God of love and peace will be with you.

2 Cor.
13:11-13

Greet one another with a holy kiss. All the saints send their greetings.

BENEDICTION. May the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

It is not long after the writing of this letter that Paul finally is able to make his promised third visit to Corinth and other parts of Achaia.

PAUL ARRIVES IN GREECE. He traveled through that area, speaking many words of encouragement to the people, and finally arrived in Greece, where he stayed three months. ☞

Acts
20:2-3a
(Ca. A.D.
56,57)

Letter to the Romans

During this short time in Corinth, somewhere around A.D. 56-58, Paul writes a letter to the saints in Rome, telling of his desire to visit them, but indicating his inability to do so at this time. He tells them that he must first go to Jerusalem in order to deliver contributions being sent by the brethren in Macedonia and Achaia. Anticipating that he will eventually be able to visit Rome on his way to Spain, and perhaps feeling the need to establish his credentials before his arrival, Paul first explains his understanding of the gospel, carefully contrasting the gospel with the Law of Moses. Paul then concludes with various practical teachings which necessarily flow out of the gospel message.

The theme of Paul's letter is that those who are righteous through faith will be those who truly live. Paul begins by examining the judgment of God and the righteousness of God. Under God's judgment, even the man who thinks himself "righteous" is a sinner without excuse. Under God's righteousness, even the "sinful" man is justified and reconciled to God through grace. Paul then shows how, through Christ, there is freedom from judgment, sin, the law, and even death. Next, Paul discusses the unique problem faced by certain Jews who are having difficulty believing that the God of the Jews could possibly include the Gentiles in his promises made to Abraham. After laying a deep theological foundation, Paul concludes the letter with practical applications for transforming one's life to Christian service, and for regulating one's conduct in relation to his fellowman, to civil government, and to those brothers and sisters in Christ who may be spiritually weak. The thrust of the letter is the superiority of obedient faith over futile attempts to earn salvation through strict law-keeping. Grace is not seen as a substitute for law, but rather as a higher motivation to obey God's laws.

Rom. 1:1-7 SALUTATION. Paul, a servant of Christ Jesus, called to be an apostle and set apart for the gospel of God—the gospel he promised beforehand through his prophets in the Holy Scriptures regarding his Son, who as to his human nature was a descendant of David, and who through the Spiritⁱ of holiness was declared with power to be the Son of God^j by his resurrection from the dead: Jesus Christ our Lord. Through him and for his name's sake, we received grace and apostleship to call people from among all the Gentiles to the obedience that comes from faith. And you also are among those who are called to belong to Jesus Christ.

To all in Rome who are loved by God and called to be saints:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Rom. 1:8-15 DESIRE TO BE WITH ROMANS. First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for all of you, because your faith is being reported all over the world. God, whom I serve with my whole heart in preaching the gospel of his Son, is my witness how constantly I remember you in my prayers at all times; and I pray that now at last by God's will the way may be opened for me to come to you.

I long to see you so that I may impart to you some spiritual gift to make you strong—that is, that you and I may be mutually encouraged by each other's faith. I do not want you to be unaware, brothers, that I planned many times to come to you (but have been prevented from doing so until now) in order that I might have a harvest among you, just as I have had among the other Gentiles.

I am obligated both to Greeks and non-Greeks, both to the wise and the foolish. That is why I am so eager to preach the gospel also to you who are at Rome.

Rom. 1:16,17 THEME OF THE GOSPEL. I am not ashamed of the gospel, because it is the power of God for the salvation of everyone who believes: first for the Jew, then for the Gentile. For in the gospel a righteousness from God is revealed, a righteousness that is by faith from first to last,^k just as it is written: "The righteous will live by faith."^l

Judgment of God

Rom. 1:18-23 GENTILES REJECTED GOD. The wrath of God is being revealed from heaven against all the godlessness and wickedness of men who suppress the truth by their wickedness, since what may be known about God is plain to them, because God has made it plain to them. For since the creation of the world God's invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse.

For although they knew God, they neither glorified him as God nor gave thanks to him, but their thinking became futile and their foolish hearts were darkened. Although they claimed to be wise, they became fools and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images made to look like mortal man and birds and animals and reptiles.

ⁱOr who as to his spirit ^jOr was appointed to be the Son of God with power ^kOr is from faith to faith ^lHab. 2:4

IDOLATRY LED TO IMMORALITY. Therefore God gave them over in the sinful desires of their hearts to sexual impurity for the degrading of their bodies with one another. They exchanged the truth of God for a lie, and worshiped and served created things rather than the Creator—who is forever praised. Amen.

Rom.
1:24,25

UNNATURAL REPLACED NATURAL. Because of this, God gave them over to shameful lusts. Even their women exchanged natural relations for unnatural ones. In the same way the men also abandoned natural relations with women and were inflamed with lust for one another. Men committed indecent acts with other men, and received in themselves the due penalty for their perversion.

Rom.
1:26,27

SINFULNESS REPLACED PURITY. Furthermore, since they did not think it worthwhile to retain the knowledge of God, he gave them over to a depraved mind, to do what ought not to be done. They have become filled with every kind of wickedness, evil, greed and depravity. They are full of envy, murder, strife, deceit and malice. They are gossips, slanderers, God-haters, insolent, arrogant and boastful; they invent ways of doing evil; they disobey their parents; they are senseless, faithless, heartless, ruthless. Although they know God's righteous decree that those who do such things deserve death, they not only continue to do these very things but also approve of those who practice them.

Rom.
1:28-32

ALL ARE SINNERS. You, therefore, have no excuse, you who pass judgment on someone else, for at whatever point you judge the other, you are condemning yourself, because you who pass judgment do the same things. Now we know that God's judgment against those who do such things is based on truth. So when you, a mere man, pass judgment on them and yet do the same things, do you think you will escape God's judgment? Or do you show contempt for the riches of his kindness, tolerance and patience, not realizing that God's kindness leads you towards repentance?

Rom. 2:1-5

But because of your stubbornness and your unrepentant heart, you are storing up wrath against yourself for the day of God's wrath, when his righteous judgment will be revealed.

GOD'S JUDGMENT IMPARTIAL. God "will give to each person according to what he has done."^m To those who by persistence in doing good seek glory, honor and immortality, he will give eternal life. But for those who are self-seeking and who reject the truth and follow evil, there will be wrath and anger. There will be trouble and distress for every human being who does evil: first for the Jew, then for the Gentile; but glory, honor and peace for everyone who does good: first for the Jew, then for the Gentile. For God does not show favoritism.

Rom.
2:6-11

THOSE WITHOUT THE LAW. All who sin apart from the law will also perish apart from the law, and all who sin under the law will be judged by the law. For it is not those who hear the law who are righteous in God's sight, but it is those who obey the law who will be declared righteous. (Indeed, when Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature things required by the law, they are a law for themselves, even though they do not have the law, since they show that the requirements of the law are written on their hearts, their consciences also bearing witness, and their thoughts now accusing, now even defending them.) This will take place on the day when God will judge men's secrets through Jesus Christ, as my gospel declares.

Rom.
2:12-16

^mPsalm 62:12; Prov. 24:12

Rom.
2:17-24

LAW CANNOT JUSTIFY. Now you, if you call yourself a Jew; if you rely on the law and brag about your relationship to God; if you know his will and approve of what is superior because you are instructed by the law; if you are convinced that you are a guide for the blind, a light for those who are in the dark, an instructor of the foolish, a teacher of infants, because you have in the law the embodiment of knowledge and truth— you, then, who teach others, do you not teach yourself? You who preach against stealing, do you steal? You who say that people should not commit adultery, do you commit adultery? You who abhor idols, do you rob temples? You who brag about the law, do you dishonor God by breaking the law? As it is written: "God's name is blasphemed among the Gentiles because of you."ⁿ

Rom.
2:25-29

CIRCUMCISION CANNOT JUSTIFY. Circumcision has value if you observe the law, but if you break the law, you have become as though you had not been circumcised. If those who are not circumcised keep the law's requirements, will they not be regarded as though they were circumcised? The one who is not circumcised physically and yet obeys the law will condemn you who, even though you have the^o written code and circumcision, are a lawbreaker.

A man is not a Jew if he is only one outwardly, nor is circumcision merely outward and physical. No, a man is a Jew if he is one inwardly; and circumcision is circumcision of the heart, by the Spirit, not by the written code. Such a man's praise is not from men, but from God.

Rom. 3:1-4

PRIDE IN HERITAGE. What advantage, then, is there in being a Jew, or what value is there in circumcision? Much in every way! First of all, they have been entrusted with the very words of God.

What if some did not have faith? Will their lack of faith nullify God's faithfulness? Not at all! Let God be true, and every man a liar. As it is written:

"So that you may be proved right when you speak and prevail when you judge."^p

Rom. 3:5-8

GOD'S JUDGMENT IS JUST. But if our unrighteousness brings out God's righteousness more clearly, what shall we say? That God is unjust in bringing his wrath on us? (I am using a human argument.) Certainly not! If that were so, how could God judge the world? Someone might argue, "If my falsehood enhances God's truthfulness and so increases his glory, why am I still condemned as a sinner?" Why not say—as we are being slanderously reported as saying and as some claim that we say—"Let us do evil that good may result"? Their condemnation is deserved.

Rom.
3:9-18

ALL ARE UNDER JUDGMENT. What shall we conclude then? Are we any better^q? Not at all! We have already made the charge that Jews and Gentiles alike are all under sin. As it is written:

ⁿIsaiah 52:5; Ezek. 36:22

^oOr who, by means of a

^pPsalms 51:4

^qOr worse

"There is no one righteous, not even one;
 there is no one who understands,
 no one who seeks God.
 All have turned away,
 they have together become worthless;
 there is no one who does good,
 not even one."^r

"Their throats are open graves;
 their tongues practice deceit."^s

"The poison of vipers is on their lips."^t

"Their mouths are full of cursing and bitterness."^u

"Their feet are swift to shed blood;
 ruin and misery mark their ways,
 and the way of peace they do not know."^v

"There is no fear of God before their eyes."^w

LAW FOR EDUCATION. Now we know that whatever the law says, it says to those who are under the law, so that every mouth may be silenced and the whole world held accountable to God. Therefore no one will be declared righteous in his sight by observing the law; rather, through the law we become conscious of sin.

Rom.
3:19,20

Righteousness of God

JUSTIFICATION THROUGH FAITH. But now a righteousness from God, apart from law, has been made known, to which the Law and the Prophets testify. This righteousness from God comes through faith in Jesus Christ to all who believe. There is no difference, for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and are justified freely by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus. God presented him as a sacrifice of atonement,^x through faith in his blood. He did this to demonstrate his justice, because in his forbearance he had left the sins committed beforehand unpunished — he did it to demonstrate his justice at the present time, so as to be just and the one who justifies those who have faith in Jesus.

Rom.
3:21-26

LAWKEEPING NOT EFFECTUAL. Where, then, is boasting? It is excluded. On what principle? On that of observing the law? No, but on that of faith. For we maintain that a man is justified by faith apart from observing the law. Is God the God of Jews only? Is he not the God of Gentiles too? Yes, of Gentiles too, since there is only one God, who will justify the circumcised by faith and the uncircumcised through that same faith. Do we, then, nullify the law by this faith? Not at all! Rather, we uphold the law.

Rom.
3:27-31

RIGHTEOUSNESS WITHOUT LAW. What then shall we say that Abraham, our forefather, discovered in this matter? If, in fact, Abraham was justified by works, he had something to boast about—but not before God. What does the Scripture say? "Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness."^y

Rom. 4:1-5

Now when a man works, his wages are not credited to him as a gift, but

^rPsalms 14:1-3; 53:1-3; Eccles. 7:20 ^sPsalms 5:9 ^tPsalms 140:3 ^uPsalms 10:7

^vIsaiah 59:7,8 ^wPsalms 36:1 ^xOr as the one who would turn aside his wrath, taking away sin ^yGen. 15:6

as an obligation. However, to the man who does not work but trusts God who justifies the wicked, his faith is credited as righteousness.

Rom. 4:6-8 DAVID RECOGNIZED GRACE. David says the same thing when he speaks of the blessedness of the man to whom God credits righteousness apart from works:

“Blessed are they whose transgressions are forgiven, whose sins are covered.
Blessed is the man whose sin the Lord will never count against him.”^z

Rom. 4:9-12 CIRCUMCISION’S VALUE. Is this blessedness only for the circumcised, or also for the uncircumcised? We have been saying that Abraham’s faith was credited to him as righteousness. Under what circumstances was it credited? Was it after he was circumcised, or before? It was not after, but before! And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness that he had by faith while he was still uncircumcised. So then, he is the father of all who believe but have not been circumcised, in order that righteousness might be credited to them. And he is also the father of the circumcised who not only are circumcised but who also walk in the footsteps of the faith that our father Abraham had before he was circumcised.

Rom. 4:13-15 PROMISE BASED UPON FAITH. It was not through law that Abraham and his offspring received the promise that he would be heir of the world, but through the righteousness that comes by faith. For if those who live by law are heirs, faith has no value and the promise is worthless, because law brings wrath. And where there is no law there is no transgression.

Rom. 4:16-18 PROMISE IS FOR ALL PEOPLE. Therefore, the promise comes by faith, so that it may be by grace and may be guaranteed to all Abraham’s offspring—not only to those who are of the law but also to those who are of the faith of Abraham. He is the father of us all. As it is written: “I have made you a father of many nations.”^a He is our father in the sight of God, in whom he believed—the God who gives life to the dead and calls things that are not as though they were.

Against all hope, Abraham in hope believed and so became the father of many nations, just as it had been said to him, “So shall your offspring be.”^b

Rom. 4:19-25 ABRAHAM’S FAITH AN EXAMPLE. Without weakening in his faith, he faced the fact that his body was as good as dead—since he was about a hundred years old—and that Sarah’s womb was also dead. Yet he did not waver through unbelief regarding the promise of God, but was strengthened in his faith and gave glory to God, being fully persuaded that God had power to do what he had promised. This is why “it was credited to him as righteousness.” The words “it was credited to him” were written not for him alone, but also for us, to whom God will credit righteousness—for us who believe in him who raised Jesus our Lord from the dead. He was delivered over to death for our sins and was raised to life for our justification.

^zPsalms 32:1,2 ^aGen. 17:5 ^bGen. 15:5

Freedom from Condemnation

JUSTIFICATION BRINGS PEACE. Therefore, since we have been justified through faith, we^c have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have gained access by faith into this grace in which we now stand. And we^c rejoice in the hope of the glory of God. Not only so, but we^c also rejoice in our sufferings, because we know that suffering produces perseverance; perseverance, character; and character, hope. And hope does not disappoint us, because God has poured out his love into our hearts by the Holy Spirit, whom he has given us. Rom. 5:1-5

CHRIST'S BLOOD SAVES. You see, at just the right time, when we were still powerless, Christ died for the ungodly. Very rarely will anyone die for a righteous man, though for a good man someone might possibly dare to die. But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us. Rom. 5:6-11

Since we have now been justified by his blood, how much more shall we be saved from God's wrath through him! For if, when we were God's enemies, we were reconciled to him through the death of his Son, how much more, having been reconciled, shall we be saved through his life! Not only is this so, but we also rejoice in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have now received reconciliation.

ALL DIE FROM SIN. Therefore, just as sin entered the world through one man, and death through sin, and in this way death came to all men, because all sinned— for before the law was given, sin was in the world. But sin is not taken into account when there is no law. Nevertheless, death reigned from the time of Adam to the time of Moses, even over those who did not sin by breaking a command, as did Adam, who was a pattern of the one to come. Rom. 5:12-14

ALL CAN BE JUSTIFIED. But the gift is not like the trespass. For if the many died by the trespass of the one man, how much more did God's grace and the gift that came by the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ, overflow to the many! Again, the gift of God is not like the result of the one man's sin: The judgment followed one sin and brought condemnation, but the gift followed many trespasses and brought justification. For if, by the trespass of the one man, death reigned through that one man, how much more will those who receive God's abundant provision of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one man, Jesus Christ. Rom. 5:15-19

Consequently, just as the result of one trespass was condemnation for all men, so also the result of one act of righteousness was justification that brings life for all men. For just as through the disobedience of the one man the many were made sinners, so also through the obedience of the one man the many will be made righteous.

GRACE INCREASED. The law was added so that the trespass might increase. But where sin increased, grace increased all the more, so that, just as sin reigned in death, so also grace might reign through righteousness to bring eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Rom. 5:20,21

Freedom from Sin

Rom. 6:1-4 GRACE NO EXCUSE TO SIN. What shall we say, then? Shall we go on sinning so that grace may increase? By no means! We died to sin; how can we live in it any longer? Or don't you know that all of us who were baptized into Christ Jesus were baptized into his death? We were therefore buried with him through baptism into death in order that, just as Christ was raised from the dead through the glory of the Father, we too may live a new life.

Rom. 6:5-11 DEAD TO SIN. If we have been united with him like this in his death, we will certainly also be united with him in his resurrection. For we know that our old self was crucified with him so that the body of sin might be done away with,^d that we should no longer be slaves to sin— because anyone who has died has been freed from sin.

Now if we died with Christ, we believe that we will also live with him. For we know that since Christ was raised from the dead, he cannot die again; death no longer has mastery over him. The death he died, he died to sin once for all; but the life he lives, he lives to God.

In the same way, count yourselves dead to sin but alive to God in Christ Jesus.

Rom. 6:12-14 GRACE REQUIRES SUBMISSION. Therefore do not let sin reign in your mortal body so that you obey its evil desires. Do not offer the parts of your body to sin, as instruments of wickedness, but rather offer yourselves to God, as those who have been brought from death to life; and offer the parts of your body to him as instruments of righteousness. For sin shall not be your master, because you are not under law, but under grace.

Rom. 6:15-19 SLAVERY TO RIGHTEOUSNESS. What then? Shall we sin because we are not under law but under grace? By no means! Don't you know that when you offer yourselves to someone to obey him as slaves, you are slaves to the one whom you obey—whether you are slaves to sin, which leads to death, or to obedience, which leads to righteousness? But thanks be to God that, though you used to be slaves to sin, you wholeheartedly obeyed the form of teaching to which you were entrusted. You have been set free from sin and have become slaves to righteousness.

I put this in human terms because you are weak in your natural selves. Just as you used to offer the parts of your body in slavery to impurity and to ever-increasing wickedness, so now offer them in slavery to righteousness leading to holiness.

Rom. 6:20-23 GRACE BRINGS LIFE. When you were slaves to sin, you were free from the control of righteousness. What benefit did you reap at that time from the things you are now ashamed of? Those things result in death! But now that you have been set free from sin and have become slaves to God, the benefit you reap leads to holiness, and the result is eternal life. For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in^e Christ Jesus our Lord.

Freedom from the Law

Rom. 7:1-3 LAW BINDING DURING LIFETIME. Do you not know, brothers—for I am speaking to men who know the law—that the law has authority over

^dOr be rendered powerless ^eOr through a man only as long as he lives? For example, by law a married woman is bound to her husband as long as he is alive, but if her husband dies, she is released from the law of marriage. So then, if she marries another man while her husband is still alive, she is called an adulteress. But if her husband dies, she is released from that law and is not an adulteress, even though she marries another man.

NOW MARRIED TO CHRIST. So, my brothers, you also died to the law through the body of Christ, that you might belong to another, to him who was raised from the dead, in order that we might bear fruit to God. For when we were controlled by the sinful nature,^f the sinful passions aroused by the law were at work in our bodies, so that we bore fruit for death. But now, by dying to what once bound us, we have been released from the law so that we serve in the new way of the Spirit, and not in the old way of the written code.

Rom. 7:4-6

LAW GAVE OPPORTUNITY TO SIN. What shall we say, then? Is the law sin? Certainly not! Indeed I would not have known what sin was except through the law. For I would not have known what coveting really was if the law had not said, "Do not covet."^g But sin, seizing the opportunity afforded by the commandment, produced in me every kind of covetous desire. For apart from law, sin is dead. Once I was alive apart from law; but when the commandment came, sin sprang to life and I died. I found that the very commandment that was intended to bring life actually brought death. For sin, seizing the opportunity afforded by the commandment, deceived me, and through the commandment put me to death. So then, the law is holy, and the commandment is holy, righteous and good.

Rom.
7:7-12

LAW DID NOT CAUSE SIN. Did that which is good, then, become death to me? By no means! But in order that sin might be recognized as sin, it produced death in me through what was good, so that through the commandment sin might become utterly sinful.

Rom.
7:13,14

We know that the law is spiritual; but I am unspiritual, sold as a slave to sin.

LAW IS GOOD; MAN IS SINFUL. I do not understand what I do. For what I want to do I do not do, but what I hate I do. And if I do what I do not want to do, I agree that the law is good. As it is, it is no longer I myself who do it, but it is sin living in me. I know that nothing good lives in me, that is, in my sinful nature.^h For I have the desire to do what is good, but I cannot carry it out. For what I do is not the good I want to do; no, the evil I do not want to do—this I keep on doing. Now if I do what I do not want to do, it is no longer I who do it, but it is sin living in me that does it.

Rom.
7:15-20

FLESH AND SPIRIT STRUGGLE. So I find this law at work: When I want to do good, evil is right there with me. For in my inner being I delight in God's law; but I see another law at work in the members of my body, waging war against the law of my mind and making me a prisoner of the law of sin at work within my members. What a wretched man I am! Who will rescue me from this body of death? Thanks be to God—through Jesus Christ our Lord!

Rom.
7:21-25

^fOr the flesh; also in verse 25 ^gExodus 20:17; Deut. 5:21 ^hOr my flesh

So then, I myself in my mind am a slave to God's law, but in the sinful nature a slave to the law of sin.

Freedom from Death

Rom. 8:1-8 NO CONDEMNATION. Therefore, there is now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus,ⁱ because through Christ Jesus the law of the Spirit of life set me free from the law of sin and death. For what the law was powerless to do in that it was weakened by the sinful nature,^j God did by sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful man to be a sin offering.^k And so he condemned sin in sinful man,^l in order that the righteous requirements of the law might be fully met in us, who do not live according to the sinful nature but according to the Spirit.

Those who live according to the sinful nature have their minds set on what that nature desires; but those who live in accordance with the Spirit have their minds set on what the Spirit desires. The mind of sinful man^m is death, but the mind controlled by the Spirit is life and peace; the sinful mindⁿ is hostile to God. It does not submit to God's law, nor can it do so. Those controlled by the sinful nature cannot please God.

Rom. 8:9-11 SPIRIT GIVES LIFE. You, however, are controlled not by the sinful nature but by the Spirit, if the Spirit of God lives in you. And if anyone does not have the Spirit of Christ, he does not belong to Christ. But if Christ is in you, your body is dead because of sin, yet your spirit is alive because of righteousness. And if the Spirit of him who raised Jesus from the dead is living in you, he who raised Christ from the dead will also give life to your mortal bodies through his Spirit, who lives in you.

Rom. 8:12-17 DUTY TO LIVE BY SPIRIT. Therefore, brothers, we have an obligation— but it is not to the sinful nature, to live according to it. For if you live according to the sinful nature, you will die; but if by the Spirit you put to death the misdeeds of the body, you will live, because those who are led by the Spirit of God are sons of God. For you did not receive a spirit that makes you a slave again to fear, but you received the Spirit of sonship.^o And by him we cry, "Abba,^p Father." The Spirit himself testifies with our spirit that we are God's children. Now if we are children, then we are heirs—heirs of God and co-heirs with Christ, if indeed we share in his sufferings in order that we may also share in his glory.

Rom. 8:18-25 SUFFERINGS DIMINISH IN HOPE. I consider that our present sufferings are not worth comparing with the glory that will be revealed in us. The creation waits in eager expectation for the sons of God to be revealed. For the creation was subjected to frustration, not by its own choice, but by the will of the one who subjected it, in hope that^q the creation itself will be liberated from its bondage to decay and brought into the glorious freedom of the children of God.

We know that the whole creation has been groaning as in the pains of childbirth right up to the present time. Not only so, but we ourselves, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, groan inwardly as we wait eagerly for our adoption as sons, the redemption of our bodies. For in this hope we were saved. But hope that is seen is no hope at all. Who hopes for what he already has? But if we hope for what we do not yet have, we wait for it patiently.

SPIRIT BRIDGES GAP. In the same way, the Spirit helps us in our weakness. We do not know what we ought to pray for, but the Spirit himself intercedes for us with groans that words cannot express. And he who searches our hearts knows the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for the saints in accordance with God's will.

Rom.
8:26,27

ETERNAL PLAN FOR BELIEVERS. And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love him,^r who^s have been called according to his purpose. For those God foreknew he also predestined to be conformed to the likeness of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brothers. And those he predestined, he also called; those he called, he also justified; those he justified, he also glorified.

Rom.
8:28-34

What, then, shall we say in response to this? If God is for us, who can be against us? He who did not spare his own Son, but gave him up for us all—how will he not also, along with him, graciously give us all things? Who will bring any charge against those whom God has chosen? It is God who justifies. Who is he that condemns? Christ Jesus, who died—more than that, who was raised to life—is at the right hand of God and is also interceding for us.

GOD'S LOVE UNFAILING. Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall trouble or hardship or persecution or famine or nakedness or danger or sword? As it is written:

Rom.
8:35-39

“For your sake we face death all day long;
we are considered as sheep to be slaughtered.”^t

No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us. For I am convinced that neither death nor life, neither angels nor demons,^u neither the present nor the future, nor any powers, neither height nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God that is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

Regarding the Jewish Experience

CONCERN FOR JEWISH HERITAGE. I speak the truth in Christ—I am not lying, my conscience confirms it in the Holy Spirit—I have great sorrow and unceasing anguish in my heart. For I could wish that I myself were cursed and cut off from Christ for the sake of my brothers, those of my own race, the people of Israel. Theirs is the adoption as sons; theirs the divine glory, the covenants, the receiving of the law, the temple worship and the promises. Theirs are the patriarchs, and from them is traced the human ancestry of Christ, who is God over all, forever praised!^v Amen.

Rom. 9:1-5

BASIS OF GOD'S PROMISE. It is not as though God's word had failed. For not all who are descended from Israel are Israel. Nor because they are his descendants are they all Abraham's children. On the contrary, "It is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned."^w In other words, it is not the natural children who are God's children, but it is the children of the promise who are regarded as Abraham's offspring. For this was how the promise was stated: "At the appointed time I will return, and Sarah will have a son."^x

Not only that, but Rebekah's children had one and the same father, our father Isaac. Yet, before the twins were born or had done anything good or bad—in order that God's purpose in election might stand: not by works but by him who calls—she was told, "The older will serve the younger."^y Just as it is written: "Jacob I loved, but Esau I hated."^z

Rom.
9:14-18

GOD CAN HAVE MERCY ON ANYONE. What then shall we say? Is God unjust? Not at all! For he says to Moses,

"I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion."^a

It does not, therefore, depend on man's desire or effort, but on God's mercy. For the Scripture says to Pharaoh: "I raised you up for this very purpose, that I might display my power in you and that my name might be proclaimed in all the earth."^b Therefore God has mercy on whom he wants to have mercy, and he hardens whom he wants to harden.

Rom.
9:19-24

MAN CANNOT LIMIT GOD'S GRACE. One of you will say to me: "Then why does God still blame us? For who resists his will?" But who are you, O man, to talk back to God? "Shall what is formed say to him who formed it, 'Why did you make me like this?'"^c Does not the potter have the right to make out of the same lump of clay some pottery for noble purposes and some for common use?

What if God, choosing to show his wrath and make his power known, bore with great patience the objects of his wrath—prepared for destruction? What if he did this to make the riches of his glory known to the objects of his mercy, whom he prepared in advance for glory—even us, whom he also called, not only from the Jews but also from the Gentiles?

them,

'You are not my people,'
they will be called 'sons of the living God.'"^e

It is just as Isaiah said previously:

"Unless the Lord Almighty
had left us descendants,
we would have become like Sodom,
we would have been like Gomorrah."^g

JEWS DID NOT SEE GRACE. What then shall we say? That the Gentiles, who did not pursue righteousness, have obtained it, a righteousness that is by faith; but Israel, who pursued a law of righteousness, has not attained it. Why not? Because they pursued it not by faith but as if it were by works. They stumbled over the "stumbling stone." As it is written:

Rom.
9:30-33

"See, I lay in Zion a stone that causes men to stumble
and a rock that makes them fall, and the one who trusts in him will never be put to shame."^h

JEWS TRIED TO EARN SALVATION. Brothers, my heart's desire and prayer to God for the Israelites is that they may be saved. For I can testify about them that they are zealous for God, but their zeal is not based on knowledge. Since they did not know the righteousness that comes from God and sought to establish their own, they did not submit to God's righteousness. Christ is the end of the law so that there may be righteousness for everyone who believes.

Rom.
10:1-4

SALVATION FOR ALL. Moses describes in this way the righteousness that is by the law: "The man who does these things will live by them."ⁱ But the righteousness that is by faith says: "Do not say in your heart, 'Who will ascend into heaven?' " (that is, to bring Christ down) "or 'Who will descend into the deep?'" (that is, to bring Christ up from the dead). But what does it say? "The word is near you; it is in your mouth and in your heart,"^j that is, the word of faith we are proclaiming: That if you confess with your mouth, "Jesus is Lord," and believe in your heart that God raised him from the dead, you will be saved. For it is with your heart that you believe and are justified, and it is with your mouth that you confess and are saved. As the Scripture says, "Anyone who trusts in him will never be put to shame."^k For there is no difference between Jew and Gentile—the same Lord is Lord of all and richly blesses all who call on him, for, "Everyone who calls on the name of the Lord will be saved."^l

Rom.
10:5-13

GOSPEL PRODUCES FAITH. How, then, can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them? And how can they preach unless they are sent? As it is written, "How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news!"^m

Rom.
10:14-17

But not all the Israelites accepted the good news. For Isaiah says, "Lord, who has believed our message?"ⁿ Consequently, faith comes from hearing the message, and the message is heard through the word of Christ.

 Again I ask: Did Israel not understand? First, Moses says,
 "I will make you envious by those who are not a nation;
 I will make you angry by a nation that has no understanding."^r
 And Isaiah boldly says,
 "I was found by those who did not seek me;
 I revealed myself to those who did not ask for me."^s
 But concerning Israel he says,
 "All day long I have held out my hands to a disobedient and obstinate people."^t
- Rom. 11:1-6 ALWAYS A FAITHFUL REMNANT. I ask then: Did God reject his people? By no means! I am an Israelite myself, a descendant of Abraham, from the tribe of Benjamin. God did not reject his people, whom he foreknew. Don't you know what the Scripture says in the passage about Elijah—how he appealed to God against Israel: "Lord, they have killed your prophets and torn down your altars; I am the only one left, and they are trying to kill me"^u? And what was God's answer to him? "I have reserved for myself seven thousand who have not bowed the knee to Baal."^v So too, at the present time there is a remnant chosen by grace. And if by grace, then it is no longer by works; if it were, grace would no longer be grace.^w
- Rom. 11:7-10 UNRIGHTEOUS BLINDED TO TRUTH. What then? What Israel sought so earnestly it did not obtain, but the elect did. The others were hardened, as it is written:
 "God gave them a spirit of stupor, eyes so that they could not see and ears so that they could not hear, to this very day."^x
 And David says:
 "May their table become a snare and a trap,
 a stumbling block and a retribution for them.
 May their eyes be darkened so they cannot see,
 and their backs be bent forever."^y
- Rom. 11:11,12 JEWS BROUGHT GRACE TO GENTILES. Again I ask: Did they stumble so as to fall beyond recovery? Not at all! Rather, because of their transgression, salvation has come to the Gentiles to make Israel envious. But if their transgression means riches for the world, and their loss means riches for the Gentiles, how much greater riches will their fullness bring!
- Rom. 11:13-16 GENTILES MAY WIN BACK JEWS. I am talking to you Gentiles. Inasmuch as I am the apostle to the Gentiles, I make much of my ministry in the hope that I may somehow arouse my own people to envy and save some of them. For if their rejection is the reconciliation of the world, what will their acceptance be but life from the dead? If the part of the dough offered as firstfruits is holy, then the whole batch is holy; if the root is holy, so are the branches.

GENTILES NOT TO BOAST. If some of the branches have been broken off, and you, though a wild olive shoot, have been grafted in among the others and now share in the nourishing sap from the olive root, do not boast over those branches. If you do, consider this: You do not support the root, but the root supports you. You will say then, "Branches were broken off so that I could be grafted in." Granted. But they were broken off because of unbelief, and you stand by faith. Do not be arrogant, but be afraid. For if God did not spare the natural branches, he will not spare you either.

Rom.
11:17-24

Consider therefore the kindness and sternness of God: sternness to those who fell, but kindness to you, provided that you continue in his kindness. Otherwise, you also will be cut off. And if they do not persist in unbelief, they will be grafted in, for God is able to graft them in again. After all, if you were cut out of an olive tree that is wild by nature, and contrary to nature were grafted into a cultivated olive tree, how much more readily will these, the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree!

GRACE EXTENDS TO ALL. I do not want you to be ignorant of this mystery, brothers, so that you may not be conceited: Israel has experienced a hardening in part until the full number of the Gentiles has come in. And so all Israel will be saved, as it is written:

Rom.
11:25-32

"The deliverer will come from Zion;
he will turn godlessness away from Jacob.
And this is^z my covenant with them
when I take away their sins."^a

As far as the gospel is concerned, they are enemies on your account; but as far as election is concerned, they are loved on account of the patriarchs, for God's gifts and his call are irrevocable. Just as you who were at one time disobedient to God have now received mercy as a result of their disobedience, so they too have now become disobedient in order that they too may now^b receive mercy as a result of God's mercy to you. For God has bound all men over to disobedience so that he may have mercy on them all.

Christian Life and Conduct

- Rom. 12:1,2 CALL TO HOLINESS. Therefore, I urge you, brothers, in view of God's mercy, to offer your bodies as living sacrifices, holy and pleasing to God—this is your spiritual^f act of worship. Do not conform any longer to the pattern of this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind. Then you will be able to test and approve what God's will is—his good, pleasing and perfect will.
- Rom. 12:3-8 USE OF GIFTS. For by the grace given me I say to every one of you: Do not think of yourself more highly than you ought, but rather think of yourself with sober judgment, in accordance with the measure of faith God has given you. Just as each of us has one body with many members, and these members do not all have the same function, so in Christ we who are many form one body, and each member belongs to all the others. We have different gifts, according to the grace given us. If a man's gift is prophesying, let him use it in proportion to his^g faith. If it is serving, let him serve; if it is teaching, let him teach; if it is encouraging, let him encourage; if it is contributing to the needs of others, let him give generously; if it is leadership, let him govern diligently; if it is showing mercy, let him do it cheerfully.
- Rom. 12:9-13 SHOW LOVE THROUGH DEEDS: Love must be sincere. Hate what is evil; cling to what is good. Be devoted to one another in brotherly love. Honor one another above yourselves. Never be lacking in zeal, but keep your spiritual fervor, serving the Lord. Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer. Share with God's people who are in need. Practice hospitality.
- Rom. 12:14-21 SHOW LOVE IN RELATIONSHIPS. Bless those who persecute you; bless and do not curse. Rejoice with those who rejoice; mourn with those who mourn. Live in harmony with one another. Do not be proud, but be willing to associate with people of low position.^h Do not be conceited. Do not repay anyone evil for evil. Be careful to do what is right in the eyes of everybody. If it is possible, as far as it depends on you, live at peace with everyone. Do not take revenge, my friends, but leave room for God's wrath, for it is written: "It is mine to avenge; I will repay,"ⁱ says the Lord. On the contrary:
- "If your enemy is hungry, feed him;
if he is thirsty, give him something to drink.
In doing this, you will heap burning coals on his head."ⁱ
- Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good.
- Rom. 13:1-7 DUTY TOWARD CIVIL AUTHORITY. Everyone must submit himself to the governing authorities, for there is no authority except that which God has established. The authorities that exist have been established by God. Consequently, he who rebels against the authority is rebelling against what God has instituted, and those who do so will bring judgment on themselves. For rulers hold no terror for those who do right, but for those who do wrong. Do you want to be free from fear of the one in authority? Then do what is right and he will commend you. to do you good. But if you do wrong, be afraid, for he does not bear the sword for nothing. He is God's servant, an agent of wrath to bring punishment on the wrongdoer. Therefore, it is necessary to submit to the authorities, not only because of possible punishment but also because of conscience.

This is also why you pay taxes, for the authorities are God's servants, who give their full time to governing. Give everyone what you owe him: If you owe taxes, pay taxes; if revenue, then revenue; if respect, then respect; if honor, then honor.

LOVE IS KEY TO OBLIGATIONS. Let no debt remain outstanding, except the continuing debt to love one another, for he who loves his fellowman has fulfilled the law. The commandments, "Do not commit adultery," "Do not murder," "Do not steal," "Do not covet,"^k and whatever other commandment there may be, are summed up in this one rule: "Love your neighbor as yourself."^l Love does no harm to its neighbor. Therefore love is the fulfillment of the law.

Rom.
13:8-10

HOPE IS KEY TO MOTIVATION. And do this, understanding the present time. The hour has come for you to wake up from your slumber, because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed. The night is nearly over; the day is almost here. So let us put aside the deeds of darkness and put on the armor of light. Let us behave decently, as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and debauchery, not in dissension and jealousy. Rather, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not think about how to gratify the desires of the sinful nature.^m

Rom.
13:11-14

Regarding Mutual Responsibility

NOT TO JUDGE CONSCIENCE. Accept him whose faith is weak, without passing judgment on disputable matters. One man's faith allows him to eat everything, but another man, whose faith is weak, eats only vegetables. The man who eats everything must not look down on him who does not, and the man who does not eat everything must not condemn the man who does, for God has accepted him. Who are you to judge someone else's servant? To his own master he stands or falls. And he will stand, for the Lord is able to make him stand.

Rom.
14:1-4

MATTERS OF CONSCIENCE. One man considers one day more sacred than another; another man considers every day alike. Each one should be fully convinced in his own mind. He who regards one day as special, does so to the Lord. He who eats meat, eats to the Lord, for he gives thanks to God; and he who abstains, does so to the Lord and gives thanks to God. For none of us lives to himself alone and none of us dies to himself alone. If we live, we live to the Lord; and if we die, we die to the Lord. So, whether we live or die, we belong to the Lord.

Rom.
14:5-9

For this very reason, Christ died and returned to life so that he might be the Lord of both the dead and the living.

EACH MUST ANSWER. You, then, why do you judge your brother? Or why do you look down on your brother? For we will all stand before God's judgment seat. It is written:

^lLev. 19:18

^mOr the flesh

“ ‘As surely as I live,’ says the Lord, ‘every knee will bow before me;
 every tongue will confess to God.’ ”ⁿ

So then, each of us will give an account of himself to God.

Rom.
14:13-21

CAUSING BROTHER TO STUMBLE. Therefore let us stop passing judgment on one another. Instead, make up your mind not to put any stumbling block or obstacle in your brother’s way. As one who is in the Lord Jesus, I am fully convinced that no food^o is unclean in itself. But if anyone regards something as unclean, then for him it is unclean. If your brother is distressed because of what you eat, you are no longer acting in love. Do not by your eating destroy your brother for whom Christ died. Do not allow what you consider good to be spoken of as evil. For the kingdom of God is not a matter of eating and drinking, but of righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit, because anyone who serves Christ in this way is pleasing to God and approved by men.

Let us therefore make every effort to do what leads to peace and to mutual edification. Do not destroy the work of God for the sake of food. All food is clean, but it is wrong for a man to eat anything that causes someone else to stumble. It is better not to eat meat or drink wine or to do anything else that will cause your brother to fall.

Rom.
14:22,23

BASE ACTIONS UPON CONVICTION. So whatever you believe about these things keep between yourself and God. Blessed is the man who does not condemn himself by what he approves. But the man who has doubts is condemned if he eats, because his eating is not from faith; and everything that does not come from faith is sin.

Rom.
15:1-6

EXAMPLE OF FORBEARANCE. We who are strong ought to bear with the failings of the weak and not to please ourselves. Each of us should please his neighbor for his good, to build him up. For even Christ did not please himself but, as it is written: “The insults of those who insult you have fallen on me.”^p For everything that was written in the past was written to teach us, so that through endurance and the encouragement of the Scriptures we might have hope.

May the God who gives endurance and encouragement give you a spirit of unity among yourselves as you follow Christ Jesus, so that with one heart and mouth you may glorify the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Rom.
15:7-13

CALL FOR MUTUAL ACCEPTANCE. Accept one another, then, just as Christ accepted you, in order to bring praise to God. For I tell you that Christ has become a servant of the Jews^q on behalf of God’s truth, to confirm the promises made to the patriarchs so that the Gentiles may glorify God for his mercy, as it is written:

“Therefore I will praise you among the Gentiles;
 I will sing hymns to your name.”^r

Again, it says,

“Rejoice, O Gentiles, with his people.”^s

And again,

“Praise the Lord, all you Gentiles, and sing praises to him, all you peoples.”^t

Closing Remarks

REASON FOR WRITING. I myself am convinced, my brothers, that you yourselves are full of goodness, complete in knowledge and competent to instruct one another. I have written you quite boldly on some points, as if to remind you of them again, because of the grace God gave me to be a minister of Christ Jesus to the Gentiles with the priestly duty of proclaiming the gospel of God, so that the Gentiles might become an offering acceptable to God, sanctified by the Holy Spirit. Rom.
15:14-16

PRIDE IN GENTILE MINISTRY. Therefore I glory in Christ Jesus in my service to God. I will not venture to speak of anything except what Christ has accomplished through me in leading the Gentiles to obey God by what I have said and done— by the power of signs and miracles, through the power of the Spirit. So from Jerusalem all the way around to Illyricum, I have fully proclaimed the gospel of Christ. It has always been my ambition to preach the gospel where Christ was not known, so that I would not be building on someone else’s foundation. Rather, as it is written: Rom.
15:17-21

“Those who were not told about him will see,
and those who have not heard will understand.”^v

But now that there is no more place for me to work in these regions, and since I have been longing for many years to see you, I plan to do so when I go to Spain. I hope to visit you while passing through and to have you assist me on my journey there, after I have enjoyed your company for a while. Now, however, I am on my way to Jerusalem in the service of the saints there. For Macedonia and Achaia were pleased to make a contribution for the poor among the saints in Jerusalem. They were pleased to do it, and indeed they owe it to them. For if the Gentiles have shared in the Jews’ spiritual blessings, they owe it to the Jews to share with them their material blessings. So after I have completed this task and have made sure that they have received this fruit, I will go to Spain and visit you on the way. I know that when I come to you, I will come in the full measure of the blessing of Christ.

REQUEST FOR PRAYERS. I urge you, brothers, by our Lord Jesus Christ and by the love of the Spirit, to join me in my struggle by praying to God for me. Pray that I may be rescued from the unbelievers in Judea and that my service in Jerusalem may be acceptable to the saints there, so that by God’s will I may come to you with joy and together with you be refreshed. The God of peace be with you all. Amen. Rom.

WARNING ABOUT TROUBLEMAKERS. I urge you, brothers, to watch out for those who cause divisions and put obstacles in your way that are contrary to the teaching you have learned. Keep away from them. For such people are not serving our Lord Christ, but their own appetites. By smooth talk and flattery they deceive the minds of naive people. Everyone has heard about your obedience, so I am full of joy over you; but I want you to be wise about what is good, and innocent about what is evil.

As the historical record continues, Paul's plans to leave directly for Jerusalem are abruptly changed, and a detour is made necessary. Paul begins his return to Syria through Philippi, Troas, and Miletus (near Ephesus). While at Miletus, Paul addresses the elders from the church at Ephesus and tells them that he anticipates possible imprisonment and persecution upon his return to Jerusalem. Paul undoubtedly also warns them of the danger of falling away from the teaching of Christ—a concern which he will address at length in various letters later in his life. Sadly concluding his close association with the church in Ephesus, Paul leaves resolutely to face whatever outcome awaits him in Syria.

FROM GREECE TO TROAS. Because the Jews made a plot against him just as he was about to sail for Syria, he decided to go back through Macedonia. He was accompanied by Sopater son of Pyrrhus from Berea, Aristarchus and Secundus from Thessalonica, Gaius from Derbe, Timothy also, Tychicus and Trophimus from the province of Asia. These men went on ahead and waited for us at Troas. But we sailed from Philippi after the Feast of Unleavened Bread, and five days later joined the others at Troas, where we stayed seven days.

Acts

(Spring,

EUTYCHUS REVIVED. On the first day of the week we came together to break bread. Paul spoke to the people and, because he intended to leave the next day, kept on talking until midnight. There were many lamps in the upstairs room where we were meeting. Seated in a window was a young man named Eutychus, who was sinking into a deep sleep as Paul talked on and on. When he was sound asleep, he fell to the ground from the third story and was picked up dead. Paul went down, threw himself on the young man and put his arms around him. "Don't be alarmed," he said. "He's alive!" Then he went upstairs again and broke bread and ate. After talking until daylight, he left. The people took the young man home alive and were greatly comforted.

FROM TROAS TO MILETUS. We went on ahead to the ship and sailed for Assos, where we were going to take Paul aboard. He had made this arrangement because he was going there on foot. When he met us at Assos, we took him aboard and went on to Mitylene. The next day we set sail from there and arrived off Kios. The day after that we crossed over to Samos, and on the following day arrived at Miletus. Paul had decided to sail past Ephesus to avoid spending time in the province of Asia, for he was in a hurry to reach Jerusalem, if possible, by the day of Pentecost.

DISCOURSE TO EPHESIAN ELDERS. From Miletus, Paul sent to Ephesus for the elders of the church. I served the Lord with great humility and with tears, although I was severely tested by the plots of the Jews. You know that I have not hesitated to preach anything that would be helpful to you but have taught you publicly and from house to house. I have declared to both Jews and Greeks that they must turn to God in repentance and have faith in our Lord Jesus.

“And now, compelled by the Spirit, I am going to Jerusalem, not knowing what will happen to me there. I only know that in every city the Holy Spirit warns me that prison and hardships are facing me. However, I consider my life worth nothing to me, if only I may finish the race and complete the task the Lord Jesus has given me—the task of testifying to the gospel of God’s grace.

“Now I know that none of you among whom I have gone about preaching the kingdom will ever see me again. Therefore, I declare to you today that I am innocent of the blood of all men. For I have not hesitated to proclaim to you the whole will of God. Keep watch over yourselves and all the flock of which the Holy Spirit has made you overseers.² Be shepherds of the church of God,^a which he bought with his own blood. I know that after I leave, savage wolves will come in among you and will not spare the flock. Even from your own number men will arise and distort the truth in order to draw away disciples after them. So be on your guard! Remember that for three years I never stopped warning each of you night and day with tears.

“Now I commit you to God and to the word of his grace, which can build you up and give you an inheritance among all those who are sanctified. I have not coveted anyone’s silver or gold or clothing. You yourselves know that these hands of mine have supplied my own needs and the needs of my companions. In everything I did, I showed you that by this kind of hard work we must help the weak, remembering the words the Lord Jesus himself said: ‘It is more blessed to give than to receive.’”

We found a ship crossing over to Phoenicia, went on board and set sail. After sighting Cyprus and passing to the south of it, we sailed on to Syria. We landed at Tyre, where our ship was to unload its cargo. Finding the disciples there, we stayed with them seven days. Through the Spirit they urged Paul not to go on to Jerusalem. But when our time was up, we left and continued on our way. All the disciples and their wives and children accompanied us out of the city, and there on the beach we knelt to pray. After saying good-by to each other, we went aboard the ship, and they returned home.

AGABUS PROPHECIES IMPRISONMENT. We continued our voyage from Tyre and landed at Ptolemais, where we greeted the brothers and stayed with them for a day. After we had been there a number of days, a prophet named Agabus came down from Judea. Coming over to us, he took Paul's belt, tied his own hands and feet with it and said, "The Holy Spirit says, 'In this way the Jews of Jerusalem will bind the owner of this belt and will hand him over to the Gentiles.'"

When we heard this, we and the people there pleaded with Paul not to go up to Jerusalem. Then Paul answered, "Why are you weeping and breaking my heart? I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die in Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus." When he would not be dissuaded, we gave up and said, "The Lord's will be done."

JOURNEY ENDS IN JERUSALEM. After this, we got ready and went up to Jerusalem. Some of the disciples from Caesarea accompanied us and brought us to the home of Mnason, where we were to stay. He was a man from Cyprus and one of the early disciples.

Paul's Arrest and Trial

The prophecy of Agabus is soon to be fulfilled. Upon his return to Jerusalem, Paul now finds himself being arrested and attacked by local Jews who have been stirred up by certain men from Asia. Fortunately, however, Paul will be rescued by Roman soldiers acting under Claudius Lysias, the local Roman commander. The historical record sets forth Paul's attempt to defend himself before a mob which is demanding his death, and indicates a fair reception to his discourse until he mentions being God's messenger to the Gentiles. Angry crowd reaction to that assertion forces Claudius Lysias to take Paul into protective custody.

On the following day, the record reveals that Paul is put on trial before the Sanhedrin Council, in much the same way that Jesus himself had been tried years earlier. By referring to his own heritage as a Pharisee, and to his belief in a resurrection after death, Paul adroitly sets the Pharisees in controversy against the Sadducees, who do not believe in a resurrection. In the debate which ensues, no charges are brought and Paul is returned to custody. When a plot to kill Paul is uncovered, Paul is secreted away by night to Caesarea, where he will later be brought before the governor, Felix.

Now, as Luke records Paul's arrival in Jerusalem before his arrest, an effort is made by James and the elders at Jerusalem to calm the anxiety of Jewish Christians, who are uncertain about Paul's teaching.

PLAN FOR UNITY. When we arrived at Jerusalem, the brothers received us warmly. The next day Paul and the rest of us went to see James, and all the elders were present. Paul greeted them and reported in detail what God had done among the Gentiles through his ministry.

Acts
21:17-26
Jerusalem
(Pentecost,
A.D. 58?)

When they heard this, they praised God. Then they said to Paul: "You see, brother, how many thousands of Jews have believed, and all of them are zealous for the law. They have been informed that you teach all the Jews who live among the Gentiles to turn away from Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children or live according to our customs. What shall we do? They will certainly hear that you have come, so do what we tell you. There are four men with us who have made a vow. Take these men, join in their purification rites and pay their expenses, so that they can have their heads shaved. Then everybody will know there is no truth in these reports about you, but that you yourself are living in obedience to the law. As for the Gentile believers, we have written to them our decision that they should abstain from food sacrificed to idols, from blood, from the meat of strangled animals and from sexual immorality."

The next day Paul took the men and purified himself along with them. Then he went to the temple to give notice of the date when the days of purification would end and the offering would be made for each of them.

Acts
21:27-30

JEWES SEIZE PAUL IN TEMPLE. When the seven days were nearly over, some Jews from the province of Asia saw Paul at the temple. They stirred up the whole crowd and seized him, shouting, "Men of Israel, help us! This is the man who teaches all men everywhere against our people and our law and this place. And besides, he has brought Greeks into the temple area and defiled this holy place." (They had previously seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with Paul and assumed that Paul had brought him into the temple area.)

The whole city was aroused, and the people came running from all directions. Seizing Paul, they dragged him from the temple, and immediately the gates were shut.

Acts
21:31-36

PAUL ARRESTED. While they were trying to kill him, news reached the commander of the Roman troops that the whole city of Jerusalem was in an uproar. He at once took some officers and soldiers and ran down to the crowd. When the rioters saw the commander and his soldiers, they stopped beating Paul.

The commander came up and arrested him and ordered him to be bound with two chains. Then he asked who he was and what he had done. Some in the crowd shouted one thing and some another, and since the commander could not get at the truth because of the uproar, he ordered that Paul be taken into the barracks. When Paul reached the steps, the violence of the mob was so great he had to be carried by the soldiers. The crowd that followed kept shouting, "Away with him!"

Acts
21:37-39

PAUL ASKS TO SPEAK. As the soldiers were about to take Paul into the barracks, he asked the commander, "May I say something to you?"

"Do you speak Greek?" he replied. "Aren't you the Egyptian who started a revolt and led four thousand terrorists out into the desert some time ago?"

Paul answered, "I am a Jew, from Tarsus in Cilicia, a citizen of no ordinary city. Please let me speak to the people."

Acts
21:40-22:1

DEFENSE TO THE CROWD. Having received the commander's permission, Paul stood on the steps and motioned to the crowd. When they were all silent, he said to them in Aramaic^b: "Brothers and fathers, listen now to my defense."

When they heard him speak to them in Aramaic, they became very quiet.

Then Paul said: "I am a Jew, born in Tarsus of Cilicia, but brought up in this city. Under Gamaliel I was thoroughly trained in the law of our fathers and was just as zealous for God as any of you are today. I persecuted the followers of this Way to their death, arresting both men and women and throwing them into prison, as also the high priest and all the Council can testify. I even obtained letters from them to their brothers in

^bOr possibly Hebrew; also in 22:2

Damascus, and went there to bring these people as prisoners to Jerusalem to be punished.

"About noon as I came near Damascus, suddenly a bright light from heaven flashed around me. I fell to the ground and heard a voice say to me, 'Saul! Saul! Why do you persecute me?'

" 'Who are you, Lord?' I asked.

" 'I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom you are persecuting,' he replied. My companions saw the light, but they did not understand the voice of him who was speaking to me.

" 'What shall I do, Lord?' I asked.

" 'Get up,' the Lord said, 'and go into Damascus. There you will be told all that you have been assigned to do.' My companions led me by the hand into Damascus, because the brilliance of the light had blinded me.

"A man named Ananias came to see me. He was a devout observer of the law and highly respected by all the Jews living there. He stood beside me and said, 'Brother Saul, receive your sight!' And at that very moment I was able to see him.

"Then he said: 'The God of our fathers has chosen you to know his will and to see the Righteous One and to hear words from his mouth. You will be his witness to all men of what you have seen and heard. And now what are you waiting for? Get up, be baptized and wash your sins away, calling on his name.'

"When I returned to Jerusalem and was praying at the temple, I fell into a trance and saw the Lord speaking. 'Quick!' he said to me. 'Leave Jerusalem immediately, because they will not accept your testimony about me.'

" 'Lord,' I replied, 'these men know that I went from one synagogue to another to imprison and beat those who believe in you. And when the blood of your martyr Stephen was shed, I stood there giving my approval and guarding the clothes of those who were killing him.'

"Then the Lord said to me, 'Go; I will send you far away to the Gentiles.'

ROMAN CITIZENSHIP ASSERTED. The crowd listened to Paul until he said this. Then they raised their voices and shouted, "Rid the earth of him! He's not fit to live!"

Acts
22:22-29

As they were shouting and throwing off their cloaks and flinging dust into the air, the commander ordered Paul to be taken into the barracks. He directed that he be flogged and questioned in order to find out why the people were shouting at him like this. As they stretched him out to flog him, Paul said to the centurion standing there, "Is it legal for you to flog a Roman citizen who hasn't even been found guilty?"

When the centurion heard this, he went to the commander and reported it. "What are you going to do?" he asked. "This man is a Roman citizen."

The commander went to Paul and asked, "Tell me, are you a Roman citizen?"

"Yes, I am," he answered.

Then the commander said, "I had to pay a big price for my citizenship."

"But I was born a citizen," Paul replied.

Those who were about to question him withdrew immediately. The commander himself was alarmed when he realized that he had put Paul, a Roman citizen, in chains.

Or witness

Acts
22:30-23:5

ON TRIAL BEFORE SANHEDRIN. The next day, since the commander wanted to find out exactly why Paul was being accused by the Jews, he released him and ordered the chief priests and all the Sanhedrin to assemble. Then he brought Paul and had him stand before them. Paul looked straight at the Sanhedrin and said, "My brothers, I have fulfilled my duty to God in all good conscience to this day." At this the high priest Ananias ordered those standing near Paul to strike him on the mouth. Then Paul said to him, "God will strike you, you whitewashed wall! You sit there to judge me according to the law, yet you yourself violate the law by commanding that I be struck!"

Those who were standing near Paul said, "You dare to insult God's high priest?"

Paul replied, "Brothers, I did not realize that he was the high priest; for it is written: 'Do not speak evil about the ruler of your people.'^d"

Acts
23:6-11

CONTENTION ARISES. Then Paul, knowing that some of them were Sadducees and the others Pharisees, called out in the Sanhedrin, "My brothers, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee. I stand on trial because of my hope in the resurrection of the dead." When he said this, a dispute broke out between the Pharisees and the Sadducees, and the assembly was divided. (The Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, and that there are neither angels nor spirits, but the Pharisees acknowledge them all.)

There was a great uproar, and some of the teachers of the law who were Pharisees stood up and argued vigorously. "We find nothing wrong with this man," they said. "What if a spirit or an angel has spoken to him?" The dispute became so violent that the commander was afraid Paul would be torn to pieces by them. He ordered the troops to go down and take him away from them by force and bring him into the barracks.

The following night the Lord stood near Paul and said, "Take courage! As you have testified about me in Jerusalem, so you must also testify in Rome."

Acts
23:12-15

CONSPIRACY TO KILL PAUL. The next morning the Jews formed a conspiracy and bound themselves with an oath not to eat or drink until they had killed Paul. More than forty men were involved in this plot. They went to the chief priests and elders and said, "We have taken a solemn oath not to eat anything until we have killed Paul. Now then, you and the Sanhedrin petition the commander to bring him before you on the pretext of wanting more accurate information about his case. We are ready to kill him before he gets here."

Acts
23:16-22

PAUL'S NEPHEW GIVES WARNING. But when the son of Paul's sister heard of this plot, he went into the barracks and told Paul.

Then Paul called one of the centurions and said, "Take this young man to the commander; he has something to tell him." So he took him to the commander.

The centurion said, "Paul, the prisoner, sent for me and asked me to bring this young man to you because he has something to tell you."

^dExodus 22:28

The commander took the young man by the hand, drew him aside and asked, "What is it you want to tell me?"

He said: "The Jews have agreed to ask you to bring Paul before the Sanhedrin tomorrow on the pretext of wanting more accurate information about him. Don't give in to them, because more than forty of them are waiting in ambush for him. They have taken an oath not to eat or drink until they have killed him. They are ready now, waiting for your consent to their request."

The commander dismissed the young man and cautioned him, "Don't tell anyone that you have reported this to me."

PREPARATIONS FOR TRANSFER. Then he called two of his centurions and ordered them, "Get ready a detachment of two hundred soldiers, seventy horsemen and two hundred spearmen* to go to Caesarea at nine tonight. Provide mounts for Paul so that he may be taken safely to Governor Felix."

Acts
23:23-30

He wrote a letter as follows:

Claudius Lysias,

To His Excellency, Governor Felix:

Greetings.

This man was seized by the Jews and they were about to kill him, but I came with my troops and rescued him, for I had learned that he is a Roman citizen. I wanted to know why they were accusing him, so I brought him to their Sanhedrin. I found that the accusation had to do with questions about their law, but there was no charge against him that deserved death or imprisonment. When I was informed of a plot to be carried out against the man, I sent him to you at once. I also ordered his accusers to present to you their case against him.

PAUL REMOVED TO CAESAREA. So the soldiers, carrying out their orders, took Paul with them during the night and brought him as far as Antipatris. The next day they let the cavalry go on with him, while they returned to the barracks. When the cavalry arrived in Caesarea, they delivered the letter to the governor and handed Paul over to him. The governor read the letter and asked what province he was from. Learning that he was from Cilicia, he said, "I will hear your case when your accusers get here." Then he ordered that Paul be kept under guard in Herod's palace.

Paul Before Felix, Festus, and Agrippa _____

At Caesarea, Paul has three opportunities to present his defense and to preach the gospel to the Roman authorities who now hold him under arrest. The first appearance is before Felix, the governor and procurator of Judea. Felix had been appointed initially by Claudius Caesar and then confirmed by Claudius' successor, Nero. Felix's wife, Drusilla, who is mentioned by Luke, is the daughter of Herod Agrippa I and the sister of

*The meaning of the Greek for this word is uncertain.

Herod Agrippa II, before whom Paul will also appear. Felix knows enough about "The Way" to realize that there is no substance to the charges being brought against Paul, and Luke's account hints that Felix is even somewhat troubled by Paul's teaching. But he is primarily motivated by greed and therefore is angered when Paul fails to offer a bribe. Luke's record notes that Paul is forced to remain in jail for two years, at the end of which time Felix is removed from office. (Secular history indicates that serious riots and charges against Felix by the Jews prompted his recall to Rome.)

Felix is succeeded by Porcius Festus, about whom little is known. Festus also finds no fault in Paul and suggests that Paul once again be taken before the Sanhedrin in Jerusalem. But Paul (who, though a Jew, is also a Roman citizen by birth) exercises his right to appeal his case to Caesar.

Shortly after Paul seeks an appeal, Festus is visited by King Herod Agrippa II and his sister Bernice. (It was their father, Herod Agrippa I, who had persecuted the church and killed James the brother of John.) When Festus expresses frustration regarding Paul's case, Agrippa asks if he can hear Paul's story for himself. Paul's presentation before Agrippa summarizes his personal conversion and subsequent ministry. At the conclusion of Paul's discourse Luke relates a memorable conversation between Agrippa and Paul in which Agrippa appears to be uncomfortably vulnerable to the gospel message presented by Paul. But if Agrippa is touched at all, there is no record that he ever responds in full belief.

Acts 24:1-9

INDICTMENT AGAINST PAUL. Five days later the high priest Ananias went down to Caesarea with some of the elders and a lawyer named Tertullus, and they brought their charges against Paul before the governor. When Paul was called in, Tertullus presented his case before Felix: "We have enjoyed a long period of peace under you, and your foresight has brought about reforms in this nation. Everywhere and in every way, most excellent Felix, we acknowledge this with profound gratitude. But in order not to weary you further, I would request that you be kind enough to hear us briefly.

"We have found this man to be a troublemaker, stirring up riots among the Jews all over the world. He is a ringleader of the Nazarene sect and even tried to desecrate the temple; so we seized him. By^f examining him yourself you will be able to learn the truth about all these charges we are bringing against him." The Jews joined in the accusation, asserting that these things were true.

Acts
24:10-21

STATEMENT IN DEFENSE. When the governor motioned for him to speak, Paul replied: "I know that for a number of years you have been a judge over this nation; so I gladly make my defense. You can easily verify that no more than twelve days ago I went up to Jerusalem to worship. My accusers did not find me arguing with anyone at the temple, or stirring up a crowd in the synagogues or anywhere else in the city. And they cannot prove to you the charges they are now making against me. However, I admit that I worship the God of our fathers as a follower of the Way, which they call a sect. I believe everything that agrees with the Law and that is written in the Prophets, and I have the same hope in God as these men, that there will be a resurrection of both the righteous and the wicked. So I strive always to keep my conscience clear before God and man.

"After an absence of several years, I came to Jerusalem to bring my people gifts for the poor and to present offerings. I was ceremonially clean when they found me in the temple courts doing this. There was no crowd with me, nor was I involved in any disturbance. But there are some Jews from the province of Asia, who ought to be here before you and bring charges if they have anything against me. Or these who are here should state what crime they found in me when I stood before the Sanhedrin—unless it was this one thing I shouted as I stood in their presence: 'It is concerning the resurrection of the dead that I am on trial before you today.'"

FELIX POSTPONES DECISION. Then Felix, who was well acquainted with the Way, adjourned the proceedings. "When Lysias the commander comes," he said, "I will decide your case." He ordered the centurion to keep Paul under guard but to give him some freedom and permit his friends to take care of his needs.

Acts
24:22,23

IN PRISON TWO YEARS. Several days later Felix came with his wife Drusilla, who was a Jewess. He sent for Paul and listened to him as he spoke about faith in Christ Jesus. As Paul discoursed on righteousness, self-control and the judgment to come, Felix was afraid and said, "That's enough for now! You may leave. When I find it convenient, I will send for you." At the same time he was hoping that Paul would offer him a bribe, so he sent for him frequently and talked with him.

Acts
24:24-27
(From A. D.
58 to 60)

When two years had passed, Felix was succeeded by Porcius Festus, but because Felix wanted to grant a favor to the Jews, he left Paul in prison.

JEWES ASK FOR PAUL. Three days after arriving in the province, Festus went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem, where the chief priests and Jewish leaders appeared before him and presented the charges against Paul. They urgently requested Festus, as a favor to them, to have Paul transferred to Jerusalem, for they were preparing an ambush to kill him along the way. Festus answered, "Paul is being held at Caesarea, and I myself am going there soon. Let some of your leaders come with me and press charges against the man there, if he has done anything wrong."

Acts 25:1-5
Jerusalem

FESTUS HEARS PAUL'S CASE. After spending eight or ten days with them, he went down to Caesarea, and the next day he convened the court and ordered that Paul be brought before him. When Paul appeared, the Jews who had come down from Jerusalem stood around him, bringing many serious charges against him, which they could not prove.

Acts 25:6-8
Caesarea

Then Paul made his defense: "I have done nothing wrong against the law of the Jews or against the temple or against Caesar."

PAUL APPEALS TO CAESAR. Festus, wishing to do the Jews a favor, said to Paul, "Are you willing to go up to Jerusalem and stand trial before me there on these charges?"

Acts
25:9-12

Paul answered: "I am now standing before Caesar's court, where I ought to be tried. I have not done any wrong to the Jews, as you yourself know very well. If, however, I am guilty of doing anything deserving death, I do not refuse to die. But if the charges brought against me by these Jews are not true, no one has the right to hand me over to them. I appeal to Caesar!"

After Festus had conferred with his council, he declared: "You have appealed to Caesar. To Caesar you will go!"

Acts
25:13-22

FESTUS AND AGRIPPA. A few days later King Agrippa and Bernice arrived at Caesarea to pay their respects to Festus. Since they were spending many days there, Festus discussed Paul's case with the king. He said: "There is a man here whom Felix left as a prisoner. When I went to Jerusalem, the chief priests and elders of the Jews brought charges against him and asked that he be condemned.

"I told them that it is not the Roman custom to hand over any man before he has faced his accusers and has had an opportunity to defend himself against their charges. When they came here with me, I did not delay the case, but convened the court the next day and ordered the man to be brought in. When his accusers got up to speak, they did not charge him with any of the crimes I had expected. Instead, they had some points of dispute with him about their own religion and about a dead man named Jesus who Paul claimed was alive. I was at a loss how to investigate such matters; so I asked if he would be willing to go to Jerusalem and stand trial there on these charges. When Paul made his appeal to be held over for the Emperor's decision, I ordered him held until I could send him to Caesar."

Then Agrippa said to Festus, "I would like to hear this man myself." He replied, "Tomorrow you will hear him."

Acts
25:23-27

PAUL PRESENTED TO AUDIENCE. The next day Agrippa and Bernice came with great pomp and entered the audience room with the high ranking officers and the leading men of the city. At the command of Festus, Paul was brought in. Festus said: "King Agrippa, and all who are present with us, you see this man! The whole Jewish community has petitioned me about him in Jerusalem and here in Caesarea, shouting that he ought not to live any longer. I found he had done nothing deserving of death, but because he made his appeal to the Emperor I decided to send him to Rome. But I have nothing definite to write to His Majesty about him. Therefore I have brought him before all of you, and especially before you, King Agrippa, so that as a result of this investigation I may have something to write. For I think it is unreasonable to send on a prisoner without specifying the charges against him."

Acts
26:1-23

PAUL TELLS OF MISSION. Then Agrippa said to Paul, "You have permission to speak for yourself."

So Paul motioned with his hand and began his defense: "King Agrippa, I consider myself fortunate to stand before you today as I make my defense against all the accusations of the Jews, and especially so because you are well acquainted with all the Jewish customs and controversies. Therefore, I beg you to listen to me patiently.

"The Jews all know the way I have lived ever since I was a child, from the beginning of my life in my own country, and also in Jerusalem. They have known me for a long time and can testify, if they are willing, that according to the strictest sect of our religion, I lived as a Pharisee. And now it is because of my hope in what God has promised our fathers that I am on trial today. This is the promise our twelve tribes are hoping to see fulfilled as they earnestly serve God day and night. O king, it is because of this hope that the Jews are accusing me. Why should any of you consider it incredible that God raises the dead?

"I too was convinced that I ought to do all that was possible to oppose the name of Jesus of Nazareth. And that is just what I did in Jerusalem. On the authority of the chief priests I put many of the saints in prison, and when they were put to death, I cast my vote against them. Many a time I went from one synagogue to another to have them punished, and I tried to force them to blaspheme. In my obsession against them, I even went to foreign cities to persecute them.

"On one of these journeys I was going to Damascus with the authority and commission of the chief priests. About noon, O king, as I was on the road, I saw a light from heaven, brighter than the sun, blazing around me and my companions. We all fell to the ground, and I heard a voice saying to me in Aramaic,^s 'Saul, Saul, why do you persecute me? It is hard for you to kick against the goads.'

"Then I asked, 'Who are you, Lord?'

"'I am Jesus, whom you are persecuting,' the Lord replied. 'Now get up and stand on your feet. I have appeared to you to appoint you as a servant and as a witness of what you have seen of me and what I will show you. I will rescue you from your own people and from the Gentiles. I am sending you to them to open their eyes and turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan to God, so that they may receive forgiveness of sins and a place among those who are sanctified by faith in me.'

"So then, King Agrippa, I was not disobedient to the vision from heaven. First to those in Damascus, then to those in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and to the Gentiles also, I preached that they should repent and turn to God and prove their repentance by their deeds. That is why the Jews seized me in the temple courts and tried to kill me. But I have had God's help to this very day, and so I stand here and testify to small and great alike. I am saying nothing beyond what the prophets and Moses said would happen—that the Christ^h would suffer and, as the first to rise from the dead, would proclaim light to his own people and to the Gentiles:"

AGRIPPA'S RESPONSE. At this point Festus interrupted Paul's defense. "You are out of your mind, Paul!" he shouted. "Your great learning is driving you insane."

Acts
26:24-29

"I am not insane, most excellent Festus," Paul replied. "What I am saying is true and reasonable. The king is familiar with these things, and I can speak freely to him. I am convinced that none of this has escaped his notice, because it was not done in a corner. King Agrippa, do you believe the prophets? I know you do."

Then Agrippa said to Paul, "Do you think that in such a short time you can persuade me to be a Christian?"

Paul replied, "Short time or long—I pray God that not only you but all who are listening to me today may become what I am, except for these chains."

INNOCENCE ACKNOWLEDGED. The king rose, and with him the governor and Bernice and those sitting with them. They left the room, and while talking with one another, they said, "This man is not doing anything that deserves death or imprisonment."

Agrippa said to Festus, "This man could have been set free if he had not appealed to Caesar." ☞

Voyage to Rome

The time now approaches for Paul to be sent to Rome to make his appeal to Caesar. Paul is placed in the custody of a Roman officer named Julius, and is accompanied by Luke and Aristarchus, a brother in the Lord from Thessalonica. What follows is Luke's account of their almost-disastrous voyage from Caesarea to Rome. Leaving Caesarea, they sail north along the Syrian coast to Sidon, then west along the southern coast of what is known today as Turkey, past the ancient provinces of Cilicia and Pamphylia, to the port city of Myra in Lycia.

At Myra, Paul's entourage obtains passage on an Egyptian ship bound for Italy with both cargo and 276 persons on board. Despite a warning from Paul that trouble awaits them, the crew sets sail and they soon find themselves in difficulty off the east coast of the island of Crete. Attempting to make a safe harbor at Phoenix, on the west coast, the ship is blown off course during a two-week storm and finally breaks apart as it approaches the small island of Malta (Melita), south of Sicily. By God's grace, however, all lives are spared. During the next three months Paul works among the people of Malta and heals many of their diseases. When it is once again safe to sail, the group sets out for Italy on another Egyptian ship which has been waiting out winter storms in the harbor at Malta. The remainder of the voyage is happily uneventful, and Luke records the warm welcome which they receive from the brethren in Italy.

FROM CAESAREA TO CRETE. When it was decided that we would sail for Italy, Paul and some other prisoners were handed over to a centurion named Julius, who belonged to the Imperial Regiment. We boarded a ship from Adramyttium about to sail for ports along the coast of the province of Asia, and we put out to sea. Aristarchus, a Macedonian from Thessalonica, was with us.

The next day we landed at Sidon; and Julius, in kindness to Paul, allowed him to go to his friends so they might provide for his needs. From there we put out to sea again and passed to the lee of Cyprus because the winds were against us. When we had sailed across the open sea off the coast of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we landed at Myra in Lycia. There the centurion found an Alexandrian ship sailing for Italy and put us on board. We made slow headway for many days and had difficulty arriving off Cnidus. When the wind did not allow us to hold our course, we sailed to the lee of Crete, opposite Salmone. We moved along the coast with difficulty and came to a place called Fair Havens, near the town of Lasea.

Acts

WARNING AGAINST VOYAGE. Much time had been lost, and sailing had already become dangerous because by now it was after the Fast.ⁱ So Paul warned them, "Men, I can see that our voyage is going to be disasⁱThat is, the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur)

trous and bring great loss to ship and cargo, and to our own lives also." But the centurion, instead of listening to what Paul said, followed the advice of the pilot and of the owner of the ship. Since the harbor was unsuitable to winter in, the majority decided that we should sail on, hoping to reach Phoenix and winter there. This was a harbor in Crete, facing both southwest and northwest.

SHIP BLOWN BY STORM. When a gentle south wind began to blow, they thought they had obtained what they wanted; so they weighed anchor and sailed along the shore of Crete. Before very long, a wind of hurricane force, called the "northeaster," swept down from the island. The ship was caught by the storm and could not head into the wind; so we gave way to it and were driven along. As we passed to the lee of a small island called Cauda, we were hardly able to make the lifeboat secure. When the men had hoisted it aboard, they passed ropes under the ship itself to hold it together. Fearing that they would run aground on the sandbars of Syrtis, they lowered the sea anchor and let the ship be driven along. We took such a violent battering from the storm that the next day they began to throw the cargo overboard. On the third day, they threw the ship's tackle overboard with their own hands. When neither sun nor stars appeared for many days and the storm continued raging, we finally gave up all hope of being saved.

Acts

PAUL PROMISES SAFE PASSAGE. After the men had gone a long time without food, Paul stood up before them and said: "Men, you should have taken my advice not to sail from Crete; then you would have spared yourselves this damage and loss. But now I urge you to keep up your courage, because not one of you will be lost; only the ship will be destroyed. Last night an angel of the God whose I am and whom I serve stood beside me and said, 'Do not be afraid, Paul. You must stand trial before Caesar; and God has graciously given you the lives of all who sail with you.' So keep up your courage, men, for I have faith in God that it will happen just as he told me. Nevertheless, we must run aground on some island."

Acts
27:21-26

SAILORS ATTEMPT ESCAPE. On the fourteenth night we were still being driven across the Adriatic^l Sea, when about midnight the sailors sensed they were approaching land. They took soundings and found that the water was a hundred and twenty feet^k deep. A short time later they took soundings again and found it was ninety feet^l deep. Fearing that we would be dashed against the rocks, they dropped four anchors from the stern and prayed for daylight. In an attempt to escape from the ship, the sailors let the lifeboat down into the sea, pretending they were going to lower some anchors from the bow. Then Paul said to the centurion and the soldiers, "Unless these men stay with the ship, you cannot be saved." So the soldiers cut the ropes that held the lifeboat and let it fall away.

PASSENGERS EAT LAST MEAL. Just before dawn Paul urged them all to eat. Not one of you will lose a single hair from his head." After he said this, he took some bread

SHIP WRECKED. When daylight came, they did not recognize the land, but they saw a bay with a sandy beach, where they decided to run the ship aground if they could. Cutting loose the anchors, they left them in the sea and at the same time untied the ropes that held the rudders. Then they hoisted the foresail to the wind and made for the beach. But the ship struck a sandbar and ran aground. The bow stuck fast and would not move, and the stern was broken to pieces by the pounding of the surf.

The soldiers planned to kill the prisoners to prevent any of them from swimming away and escaping. But the centurion wanted to spare Paul's life and kept them from carrying out their plan. He ordered those who could swim to jump overboard first and get to land. The rest were to get there on planks or on pieces of the ship. In this way everyone reached land in safety.

Acts 28:1-6

PAUL SEEN AS A GOD. Once safely on shore, we found out that the island was called Malta. The islanders showed us unusual kindness. They built a fire and welcomed us all because it was raining and cold. Paul gathered a pile of brushwood and, as he put it on the fire, a viper, driven out by the heat, fastened itself on his hand. When the islanders saw the snake hanging from his hand, they said to each other, "This man must be a murderer; for though he escaped from the sea, Justice has not allowed him to live." But Paul shook the snake off into the fire and suffered no ill effects. The people expected him to swell up or suddenly fall dead, but after waiting a long time and seeing nothing unusual happen to him, they changed their minds and said he was a god.

Acts

SICK HEALED ON MALTA. There was an estate nearby that belonged to Publius, the chief official of the island. He welcomed us to his home and for three days entertained us hospitably. His father was sick in bed, suffering from fever and dysentery. Paul went in to see him and, after prayer, placed his hands on him and healed him. When this had happened, the rest of the sick on the island came and were cured. They honored us in many ways and when we were ready to sail, they furnished us with the supplies we needed.

Acts
28:11-15

FINAL VOYAGE TO ROME. After three months we put out to sea in a ship that had wintered in the island. It was an Alexandrian ship with the figurehead of the twin gods Castor and Pollux. We put in at Syracuse and stayed there three days. From there we set sail and arrived at Rhegium. The next day the south wind came up, and on the following day we reached Puteoli. There we found some brothers who invited us to spend a week with them. And so we came to Rome. The brothers there had heard that we were coming, and they traveled as far as the Forum of Appius and the Three Taverns to meet us. At the sight of these men Paul thanked God and was encouraged.

House Arrest in Rome

As Paul arrives in Rome, there is no indication that he appears before any court or government official to press his appeal. Instead, it appears that he is placed under house arrest, being permitted to maintain his own living quarters while being guarded by a Roman soldier. Paul is given the freedom to continue preaching from his place of lodging. Luke thereafter records that Paul invites the local Jewish leaders to his house in order to tell them about Jesus and the kingdom of God. Characteristically, some believe while others do not, a result which Paul attributes to the openness of mind with which a person might listen to the good news about Jesus.

PAUL UNDER HOUSE ARREST. When we got to Rome, Paul was allowed to live by himself, with a soldier to guard him.

Acts 28:16
Rome

JEWISH LEADERS VISIT. Three days later he called together the leaders of the Jews. When they had assembled, Paul said to them: "My brothers, although I have done nothing against our people or against the customs of our ancestors, I was arrested in Jerusalem and handed over to the Romans. They examined me and wanted to release me, because I was not guilty of any crime deserving death. But when the Jews objected, I was compelled to appeal to Caesar—not that I had any charge to bring against my own people. For this reason I have asked to see you and talk with you. It is because of the hope of Israel that I am bound with this chain."

Acts
28:17-22

They replied, "We have not received any letters from Judea concerning you, and none of the brothers who have come from there has reported or said anything bad about you. But we want to hear what your views are, for we know that people everywhere are talking against this sect."

PAUL PROCLAIMS JESUS. They arranged to meet Paul on a certain day, and came in even larger numbers to the place where he was staying. From morning till evening he explained and declared to them the kingdom of God and tried to convince them about Jesus from the Law of Moses and from the Prophets. Some were convinced by what he said, but others would not believe. They disagreed among themselves and began to leave after Paul had made this final statement: "The Holy Spirit spoke the truth to your forefathers when he said through Isaiah the prophet:

TWO YEARS OF MINISTRY. For two whole years Paul stayed there in his own rented house and welcomed all who came to see him. Boldly and without hindrance he preached the kingdom of God and taught about the Lord Jesus Christ. ☞

Letter to the Colossians

During these two years of house arrest, generally believed to be about A.D. 61-63, Paul writes four letters which have come to be known as the Prison Epistles. Two of them, the letter to the Colossians and the letter to Philemon, are probably written at the same time. Although Paul has never visited Colosse, one of his companions during this time, Epaphras, has been preaching in the towns of Colosse, Laodicea, and Hierapolis. Epaphras has evidently informed Paul of the pagan secularism which threatens the churches in that region.

In paganism, virtue is not associated with religion. Religious practice is for the purpose of warding off demons and evil ancestors—not for the purpose of becoming a better person. Paul sees that this notion of religion can influence even Christian worship in which slavish adherence to supposed spiritual standards misses the point of one's being transformed into the likeness of Christ. To Paul, the Christian life is more than simply giving up bad habits. It is acquiring a newness of mind which comes from setting your heart and mind on Christ Jesus—who, as Paul says, is the image of the invisible God. Only a person with the mind of Christ can truly overcome the sins of the flesh and live according to the Spirit.

The Preeminence of Christ

THE PERSON OF CHRIST. He is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn over all creation. For by him all things were created: things in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or powers or rulers or authorities; all things were created by him and for him. He is before all things, and in him all things hold together. And he is the head of the body, the church; he is the beginning and the firstborn from among the dead, so that in everything he might have the supremacy. For God was pleased to have all his fullness dwell in him, and through him to reconcile to himself all things, whether things on earth or things in heaven, by making peace through his blood, shed on the cross.

Col.
1:15-20

RELATIONSHIP WITH CHRIST. Once you were alienated from God and were enemies in your minds because of^t your evil behavior. But now he has reconciled you by Christ's physical body through death to present you holy in his sight, without blemish and free from accusation— if you continue in your faith, established and firm, not moved from the hope held out in the gospel. This is the gospel that you heard and that has been proclaimed to every creature under heaven, and of which I, Paul, have become a servant.

Col.
1:21-23

PROCLAIMING CHRIST. Now I rejoice in what was suffered for you, and I fill up in my flesh what is still lacking in regard to Christ's afflictions, for the sake of his body, which is the church. I have become its servant by the commission God gave me to present to you the word of God in its fullness—the mystery that has been kept hidden for ages and generations, but is now disclosed to the saints. To them God has chosen to make known among the Gentiles the glorious riches of this mystery, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.

Col.
1:24-29

We proclaim him, admonishing and teaching everyone with all wisdom, so that we may present everyone perfect in Christ. To this end I labor, struggling with all his energy, which so powerfully works in me.

CONCERN FOR THEIR FAITH. I want you to know how much I am struggling for you and for those at Laodicea, and for all who have not met me personally. My purpose is that they may be encouraged in heart and united in love, so that they may have the full riches of complete understanding, in order that they may know the mystery of God, namely, Christ, in whom are hidden all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge. I tell you this so that no one may deceive you by fine-sounding arguments. For though I am absent from you in body, I am present with you in spirit and delight to see how orderly you are and how firm your faith in Christ is.

Col. 2:6-8 WARNING OF FALSE TEACHING. So then, just as you received Christ Jesus as Lord, continue to live in him, rooted and built up in him, strengthened in the faith as you were taught, and overflowing with thankfulness.

See to it that no one takes you captive through hollow and deceptive philosophy, which depends on human tradition and the basic principles of this world rather than on Christ.

Col. 2:9-15 CHRIST IS ALL-SUFFICIENT. For in Christ all the fullness of the Deity lives in bodily form, and you have been given fullness in Christ, who is the head over every power and authority. In him you were also circumcised, in the putting off of the sinful nature,^u not with a circumcision done by the hands of men but with the circumcision done by Christ, having been buried with him in baptism and raised with him through your faith in the power of God, who raised him from the dead.

When you were dead in your sins and in the uncircumcision of your sinful nature,^v God made you^w alive with Christ. He forgave us all our sins, having canceled the written code, with its regulations, that was against us and that stood opposed to us; he took it away, nailing it to the cross. And having disarmed the powers and authorities, he made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them by the cross.^x

Carnality and Spirituality

Col. 2:16-19 CHRIST SHOULD BE FOCUS. Therefore do not let anyone judge you by what you eat or drink, or with regard to a religious festival, a New Moon celebration or a Sabbath day. These are a shadow of the things that were to come; the reality, however, is found in Christ. Do not let anyone who delights in false humility and the worship of angels disqualify you for the prize. Such a person goes into great detail about what he has seen, and his unspiritual mind puffs him up with idle notions. He has lost connection with the Head, from whom the whole body, supported and held together by its ligaments and sinews, grows as God causes it to grow.

Col. 2:20-23 DOCTRINES MISS SPIRIT. Since you died with Christ to the basic principles of this world, why, as though you still belonged to it, do you submit to its rules: "Do not handle! Do not taste! Do not touch!"? These are all destined to perish with use, because they are based on human commands and teachings. Such regulations indeed have an appearance of wisdom, with their self-imposed worship, their false humility and their harsh treatment of the body, but they lack any value in restraining sensual indulgence.

Col. 3:1-4 TO BE SPIRITUALLY-MINDED. Since, then, you have been raised with Christ, set your hearts on things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things. For you died, and your life is now hidden with Christ in God. When Christ, who is your^y life, appears, then you also will appear with him in glory.

Col. 3:5-11 LIVES TO BE TRANSFORMED. Put to death, therefore, whatever belongs to your earthly nature: sexual immorality, impurity, lust, evil desires

^uOr the flesh ^vOr your flesh ^wSome manuscripts us ^xOr them in him ^ySome manuscripts our

and greed, which is idolatry. Because of these, the wrath of God is coming.² You used to walk in these ways, in the life you once lived. But now you must rid yourselves of all such things as these: anger, rage, malice, slander, and filthy language from your lips. Do not lie to each other, since you have taken off your old self with its practices and have put on the new self, which is being renewed in knowledge in the image of its Creator. Here there is no Greek or Jew, circumcised or uncircumcised, barbarian, Scythian, slave or free, but Christ is all, and is in all.

PUTTING ON CHRIST. Therefore, as God's chosen people, holy and dearly loved, clothe yourselves with compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience. Bear with each other and forgive whatever grievances you may have against one another. Forgive as the Lord forgave you. And over all these virtues put on love, which binds them all together in perfect unity.

Col.
3:12-17

Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, since as members of one body you were called to peace. And be thankful. Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly as you teach and admonish one another with all wisdom, and as you sing psalms, hymns and spiritual songs with gratitude in your hearts to God. And whatever you do, whether in word or deed, do it all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the Father through him.

Christlikeness in Relationships

IN THE FAMILY. Wives, submit to your husbands, as is fitting in the Lord.

Col.
3:18-21

Husbands, love your wives and do not be harsh with them.

Children, obey your parents in everything, for this pleases the Lord.

Fathers, do not embitter your children, or they will become discouraged.

AMONG MASTERS AND SLAVES. Slaves, obey your earthly masters in everything; and do it, not only when their eye is on you and to win their favor, but with sincerity of heart and reverence for the Lord. Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart, as working for the Lord, not for men, since you know that you will receive an inheritance from the Lord as a reward. It is the Lord Christ you are serving. Anyone who does wrong will be repaid for his wrong, and there is no favoritism. Masters, provide your slaves with what is right and fair, because you know that you also have a Master in heaven.

Col.
3:22-4:1

Concluding Thoughts

CALL FOR PRAYER. Devote yourselves to prayer, being watchful and thankful. And pray for us, too, that God may open a door for our message, so that we may proclaim the mystery of Christ, for which I am in chains. Pray that I may proclaim it clearly, as I should.

Col. 4:2-4

WORDS OF CAUTION. Be wise in the way you act toward outsiders; make the most of every opportunity. Let your conversation be always full of grace, seasoned with salt, so that you may know how to answer everyone.

Col. 4:5,6

Col. 4:7-9 REPORT TO BE GIVEN. Tychicus will tell you all the news about me. He is a dear brother, a faithful minister and fellow servant in the Lord. I am sending him to you for the express purpose that you may know about our^a circumstances and that he may encourage your hearts. He is coming with Onesimus, our faithful and dear brother, who is one of you. They will tell you everything that is happening here.

Col. 4:10-17 GREETINGS AMONG BRETHREN. My fellow prisoner Aristarchus sends you his greetings, as does Mark, the cousin of Barnabas. (You have received instructions about him; if he comes to you, welcome him.) Jesus, who is called Justus, also sends greetings. These are the only Jews among my fellow workers for the kingdom of God, and they have proved a comfort to me. Epaphras, who is one of you and a servant of Christ Jesus, sends greetings. He is always wrestling in prayer for you, that you may stand firm in all the will of God, mature and fully assured. I vouch for him that he is working hard for you and for those at Laodicea and Hierapolis. Our dear friend Luke, the doctor, and Demas send greetings. Give my greetings to the brothers at Laodicea, and to Nympha and the church in her house.

After this letter has been read to you, see that it is also read in the church of the Laodiceans and that you in turn read the letter from Laodicea.

Tell Archippus: "See to it that you complete the work you have received in the Lord."

Col. 4:18 BENEDICTION. I, Paul, write this greeting in my own hand. Remember my chains. Grace be with you.

Letter to Philemon

As Paul indicated, the letter to the Colossians was to be delivered by Tychicus and Onesimus. Another letter, of special significance to Onesimus, is also being sent. Before coming to Rome and being converted by Paul, Onesimus had been a slave of a Christian named Philemon. Onesimus (whose name means "useless") had run away from Philemon and had evidently taken some money or property belonging to his master. Paul now writes to Philemon on behalf of Onesimus and asks that Philemon accept Onesimus back as a brother in Christ. The letter is an insightful study in personal relationships among Christians and contrasts the freedoms that come when one is under bondage to Christ.

Philemon 1-3 SALUTATION. Paul, a prisoner of Christ Jesus, and Timothy our brother,

To Philemon our dear friend and fellow worker, to Apphia our sister, to Archippus our fellow soldier and to the church that meets in your home:

Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Philemon 4-7 PAUL'S LOVE FOR PHILEMON. I always thank my God as I remember you in my prayers, because I hear about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints. I pray that you may be active in sharing your faith, so that you will have a full understanding of every good thing ^aSome manuscripts that he may know about your

we have in Christ. Your love has given me great joy and encouragement, because you, brother, have refreshed the hearts of the saints.

APPEAL ON BEHALF OF ONESIMUS. Therefore, although in Christ I could be bold and order you to do what you ought to do, yet I appeal to you on the basis of love. I then, as Paul—an old man and now also a prisoner of Christ Jesus—I appeal to you for my son Onesimus,^b who became my son while I was in chains. Formerly he was useless to you, but now he has become useful both to you and to me.

Philemon
8-14

I am sending him—who is my very heart—back to you. I would have liked to keep him with me so that he could take your place in helping me while I am in chains for the gospel. But I did not want to do anything without your consent, so that any favor you do will be spontaneous and not forced.

ONESIMUS RETURNING AS BROTHER. Perhaps the reason he was separated from you for a little while was that you might have him back for good—no longer as a slave, but better than a slave, as a dear brother. He is very dear to me but even dearer to you, both as a man and as a brother in the Lord.

Philemon
15-17

So if you consider me a partner, welcome him as you would welcome me.

OFFER TO REPAY ANY LOSS. If he has done you any wrong or owes you anything, charge it to me. I, Paul, am writing this with my own hand. I will pay it back—not to mention that you owe me your very self. I do wish, brother, that I may have some benefit from you in the Lord; refresh my heart in Christ.

Philemon
18-20

PAUL'S HOPE TO SEE PHILEMON. Confident of your obedience, I write to you, knowing that you will do even more than I ask.

Philemon
21,22

And one thing more: Prepare a guest room for me, because I hope to be restored to you in answer to your prayers.

GREETINGS AND BENEDICTION. Epaphras, my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus, sends you greetings. And so do Mark, Aristarchus, Demas and Luke, my fellow workers.

Philemon
23-25

The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit.

Letter to the Ephesians

A second letter was also to be delivered by Tychicus, but much less is known about its intended destination. Because there is some textual evidence that it was written to the church in Ephesus, the writing has been regarded traditionally as Paul's letter to the Ephesians. That would certainly be consistent with the direction of Tychicus' travel from Rome to Colosse, and of course Paul is no stranger to the Ephesians. But because there are no personal greetings (as might be expected, since the believers in the church there are well-known to Paul), it may be that the letter is one for general circulation to all the churches throughout the region.

^bOnesimus means useful.

Whatever its intended destination, the message is universal. Paul writes about the exalted relationship between Christ and the church and the practical results which that knowledge ought to bring into the lives of individual Christians. He begins by summarizing how God's eternal plan is revealed through Christ, then proceeds to teach various lessons regarding the church, personal righteousness, earthly relationships, and the Christian's relationship with God.

Eph. 1:1,2 SALUTATION. Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God,
To the saints in Ephesus,^c the faithful^d in Christ Jesus:
Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Revelation of God's Mystery

Eph. 1:3-10 PRAISE FOR GOD'S GRACE. Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who has blessed us in the heavenly realms with every spiritual blessing in Christ. For he chose us in him before the creation of the world to be holy and blameless in his sight. In love he^e predestined us to be adopted as his sons through Jesus Christ, in accordance with his pleasure and will—to the praise of his glorious grace, which he has freely given us in the One he loves. In him we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, in accordance with the riches of God's grace that he lavished on us with all wisdom and understanding. And he^f made known to us the mystery of his will according to his good pleasure, which he purposed in Christ, to be put into effect when the times will have reached their fulfillment—to bring all things in heaven and on earth together under one head, even Christ.

Eph. 1:11-14 HOPE IN CHRIST IS SEALED. In him we were also chosen,^g having been predestined according to the plan of him who works out everything in conformity with the purpose of his will, in order that we, who were the first to hope in Christ, might be for the praise of his glory. And you also were included in Christ when you heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation. Having believed, you were marked in him with a seal, the promised Holy Spirit, who is a deposit guaranteeing our inheritance until the redemption of those who are God's possession—to the praise of his glory.

Eph. 1:15-23 CHRIST'S POWER AND POSITION. For this reason, ever since I heard about your faith in the Lord Jesus and your love for all the saints, I have not stopped giving thanks for you, remembering you in my prayers. I keep asking that the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the glorious Father, may give you the Spirit^h of wisdom and revelation, so that you may know him better. I pray also that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened in order that you may know the hope to which he has called you, the riches of his glorious inheritance in the saints, and his incomparably great power for us who believe. That power is like the working of his mighty strength, which he exerted in Christ when he raised him from the dead and seated him at his right hand in the heavenly realms, far above all rule and authority, power and dominion, and every title that can be given, not only in the present age but also in the one to come. And God placed all things under his feet and appointed him to be head over everything for the church, which is his body, the fullness of him who fills everything in every way.

RAISED FROM SPIRITUAL DEATH. As for you, you were dead in your transgressions and sins, in which you used to live when you followed the ways of this world and of the ruler of the kingdom of the air, the spirit who is now at work in those who are disobedient. All of us also lived among them at one time, gratifying the cravings of our sinful natureⁱ and following its desires and thoughts. Like the rest, we were by nature objects of wrath. But because of his great love for us, God, who is rich in mercy, made us alive with Christ even when we were dead in transgressions—it is by grace you have been saved. And God raised us up with Christ and seated us with him in the heavenly realms in Christ Jesus, in order that in the coming ages he might show the incomparable riches of his grace, expressed in his kindness to us in Christ Jesus.

Eph. 2:1-7

GRACE TO LIVE RIGHTEOUSLY. For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith—and this not from yourselves, it is the gift of God— not by works, so that no one can boast. For we are God’s workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do.

Eph. 2:8-10

BARRIER BROKEN. Therefore, remember that formerly you who are Gentiles by birth and called “uncircumcised” by those who call themselves “the circumcision” (that done in the body by the hands of men)— remember that at that time you were separate from Christ, excluded from citizenship in Israel and foreigners to the covenants of the promise, without hope and without God in the world. But now in Christ Jesus you who once were far away have been brought near through the blood of Christ.

Eph.
2:11-18

For he himself is our peace, who has made the two one and has destroyed the barrier, the dividing wall of hostility, by abolishing in his flesh the law with its commandments and regulations. His purpose was to create in himself one new man out of the two, thus making peace, and in this one body to reconcile both of them to God through the cross, by which he put to death their hostility. He came and preached peace to you who were far away and peace to those who were near. For through him we both have access to the Father by one Spirit.

CHRIST AS CORNERSTONE. Consequently, you are no longer foreigners and aliens, but fellow citizens with God’s people and members of God’s household, built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, with Christ Jesus himself as the chief cornerstone. In him the whole building is joined together and rises to become a holy temple in the Lord. And in him you too are being built together to become a dwelling in which God lives by his Spirit.

Eph.
2:19-22

REVELATION OF FORMER MYSTERY. For this reason I, Paul, the prisoner of Christ Jesus for the sake of you Gentiles—

Eph. 3:1-6

Surely you have heard about the administration of God’s grace that was given to me for you, that is, the mystery made known to me by revelation, ⁱOr our flesh

as I have already written briefly. In reading this, then, you will be able to understand my insight into the mystery of Christ, which was not made known to men in other generations as it has now been revealed by the Spirit to God's holy apostles and prophets. This mystery is that through the gospel the Gentiles are heirs together with Israel, members together of one body, and sharers together in the promise in Christ Jesus.

Eph. 3:7-13 WISDOM SEEN IN CHURCH. I became a servant of this gospel by the gift of God's grace given me through the working of his power. Although I am less than the least of all God's people, this grace was given me: to preach to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ, and to make plain to everyone the administration of this mystery, which for ages past was kept hidden in God, who created all things. His intent was that now, through the church, the manifold wisdom of God should be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly realms, according to his eternal purpose which he accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord. In him and through faith in him we may approach God with freedom and confidence. I ask you, therefore, not to be discouraged because of my sufferings for you, which are your glory.

Eph. 3:14-19 PRAYER FOR STRENGTH. For this reason I kneel before the Father, from whom his whole family^j in heaven and on earth derives its name. I pray that out of his glorious riches he may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith. And I pray that you, being rooted and established in love, may have power, together with all the saints, to grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ, and to know this love that surpasses knowledge—that you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God.

Eph. 3:20,21 PRAISE TO GOD. Now to him who is able to do immeasurably more than all we ask or imagine, according to his power that is at work within us, to him be glory in the church and in Christ Jesus throughout all generations, for ever and ever! Amen.

Exhortation Regarding the Church

Eph. 4:1-6 UNITY AMONG SAINTS. As a prisoner for the Lord, then, I urge you to live a life worthy of the calling you have received. Be completely humble and gentle; be patient, bearing with one another in love. Make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace. There is one body and one Spirit— just as you were called to one hope when you were called— one Lord, one faith, one baptism; one God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all.

Eph. 4:7-13 GIFTS FOR ACHIEVING UNITY. But to each one of us grace has been given as Christ apportioned it. This is why it^k says:

“When he ascended on high,
he led captives in his train and gave gifts to men.”^l

(What does “he ascended” mean except that he also descended to the lower, earthly regions^m? He who descended is the very one who ascended higher than all the heavens, in order to fill the whole universe.) It was he who gave some to be apostles, some to be prophets, some to be evangelists, and some to be pastors and teachers, to prepare God's people for works of service, so that the body of Christ may be built up until we all reach unity in the faith and in the knowledge of the Son of God and become mature, attaining to the whole measure of the fullness of Christ.

^jOr whom all fatherhood

MATURING AS A BODY. Then we will no longer be infants, tossed back and forth by the waves, and blown here and there by every wind of teaching and by the cunning and craftiness of men in their deceitful scheming. Instead, speaking the truth in love, we will in all things grow up into him who is the Head, that is, Christ. From him the whole body, joined and held together by every supporting ligament, grows and builds itself up in love, as each part does its work.

Eph.
4:14-16

Exhortation Regarding Personal Righteousness

RENOUNCE SENSUALITY. So I tell you this, and insist on it in the Lord, that you must no longer live as the Gentiles do, in the futility of their thinking. They are darkened in their understanding and separated from the life of God because of the ignorance that is in them due to the hardening of their hearts. Having lost all sensitivity, they have given themselves over to sensuality so as to indulge in every kind of impurity, with a continual lust for more.

Eph.
4:17-19

RENEW HOLINESS. You, however, did not come to know Christ that way. Surely you heard of him and were taught in him in accordance with the truth that is in Jesus. You were taught, with regard to your former way of life, to put off your old self, which is being corrupted by its deceitful desires; to be made new in the attitude of your minds; and to put on the new self, created to be like God in true righteousness and holiness.

Eph.
4:20-24

DISCARD UNRIGHTEOUSNESS. Therefore each of you must put off falsehood and speak truthfully to his neighbor, for we are all members of one body. "In your anger do not sin": Do not let the sun go down while you are still angry, and do not give the devil a foothold. He who has been stealing must steal no longer, but must work, doing something useful with his own hands, that he may have something to share with those in need.

Eph.
4:25-32

Do not let any unwholesome talk come out of your mouths, but only what is helpful for building others up according to their needs, that it may benefit those who listen. And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, with whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. Get rid of all bitterness, rage and anger, brawling and slander, along with every form of malice. Be kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you.

IMITATE GOD IN LOVE. Be imitators of God, therefore, as dearly loved children and live a life of love, just as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us as a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God.

Eph. 5:1,2

BE MORALLY PURE. But among you there must not be even a hint of sexual immorality, or of any kind of impurity, or of greed, because these are improper for God's holy people. Nor should there be obscenity, foolish talk or coarse joking, which are out of place, but rather thanksgiving. For of this you can be sure: No immoral, impure or greedy person—such a man is an idolater—has any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.^o Let no one deceive you with empty words, for because of such things God's wrath comes on those who are disobedient.

Eph. 5:3-6

^aPsalm 4:4

Eph. 5:7-14 WALK AS CHILDREN OF LIGHT. Therefore do not be partners with them.

For you were once darkness, but now you are light in the Lord. Live as children of light (for the fruit of the light consists in all goodness, righteousness and truth) and find out what pleases the Lord. Have nothing to do with the fruitless deeds of darkness, but rather expose them. For it is shameful even to mention what the disobedient do in secret. But everything exposed by the light becomes visible, for it is light that makes everything visible. This is why it is said:

“Wake up, O sleeper, rise from the dead,
and Christ will shine on you.”

Eph. 5:15-20 LIVE SPIRIT-FILLED LIVES. Be very careful, then, how you live—not as unwise but as wise, making the most of every opportunity, because the days are evil. Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the Lord's will is. Do not get drunk on wine, which leads to debauchery. Instead, be filled with the Spirit. Speak to one another with psalms, hymns and spiritual songs. Sing and make music in your heart to the Lord, always giving thanks to God the Father for everything, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Exhortation Regarding Relationships

Eph. 5:21-33 MUTUAL SUBMISSION. Submit to one another out of reverence for Christ.

Wives, submit to your husbands as to the Lord. For the husband is the head of the wife as Christ is the head of the church, his body, of which he is the Savior. Now as the church submits to Christ, so also wives should submit to their husbands in everything.

Husbands, love your wives, just as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her to make her holy, cleansing^p her by the washing with water through the word, and to present her to himself as a radiant church, without stain or wrinkle or any other blemish, but holy and blameless. In this same way, husbands ought to love their wives as their own bodies. He who loves his wife loves himself. After all, no one ever hated his own body, but he feeds and cares for it, just as Christ does the church— for we are members of his body. “For this reason a man will leave his father and mother and be united to his wife, and the two will become one flesh.”^q This is a profound mystery—but I am talking about Christ and the church. However, each one of you also must love his wife as he loves himself, and the wife must respect her husband.

Eph. 6:1-4 PARENT-CHILD RELATIONSHIPS. Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right. “Honor your father and mother”—which is the first

^pOr having cleansed

^qGen. 2:24

commandment with a promise— “that it may go well with you and that you may enjoy long life on the earth.”⁷

Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead, bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord.

MASTER-SERVANT ATTITUDES. Slaves, obey your earthly masters with respect and fear, and with sincerity of heart, just as you would obey Christ. Obey them not only to win their favor when their eye is on you, but like slaves of Christ, doing the will of God from your heart. Serve wholeheartedly, as if you were serving the Lord, not men, because you know that the Lord will reward everyone for whatever good he does, whether he is slave or free.

Eph. 6:5-9

And masters, treat your slaves in the same way. Do not threaten them, since you know that he who is both their Master and yours is in heaven, and there is no favoritism with him.

Exhortation Regarding Relationship With God

SPIRITUAL STRUGGLES. Finally, be strong in the Lord and in his mighty power. Put on the full armor of God so that you can take your stand against the devil’s schemes. For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms. Therefore put on the full armor of God, so that when the day of evil comes, you may be able to stand your ground, and after you have done everything, to stand. Stand firm then, with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place, and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. In addition to all this, take up the shield of faith, with which you can extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. Take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

Eph.
6:10-17

REQUEST FOR PRAYER. And pray in the Spirit on all occasions with all kinds of prayers and requests. With this in mind, be alert and always keep on praying for all the saints.

Eph.
6:18-20

Pray also for me, that whenever I open my mouth, words may be given me so that I will fearlessly make known the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in chains. Pray that I may declare it fearlessly, as I should.

FURTHER REPORT. Tychicus, the dear brother and faithful servant in the Lord, will tell you everything, so that you also may know how I am and what I am doing. I am sending him to you for this very purpose, that you may know how we are, and that he may encourage you.

Letter to the Philippians

While still imprisoned, Paul also reaches out to the Christians in Philippi, with whom he has maintained close ties since his three visits to their city. Paul clearly feels a special relationship to the Philippians, not only because of his close association with them in past years but also because they have often generously contributed to his support. Their latest gifts were brought by Epaphroditus, who had become seriously ill after staying to work with Paul. Paul is sending him back now with this letter to his Philippian brethren.

In this letter Paul is writing to a small-town congregation in which two women, Euodia and Syntyche, have had a falling out. As is so often the case when personality conflicts develop, their personal animosity is splitting the whole church. Therefore Paul pleads with the two women—and indeed all Christians—to learn to love each other more.

Paul bases his appeal on the bedrock example of Christ's own humility in putting others' interests first, even at great personal cost. The apostle urges them to sacrifice their selfish feelings and to commit themselves to working out their problems, particularly in light of the fact that their pagan neighbors are watching their behavior. He points out that his appeal is not based upon any credentials that he himself might have, but upon the compelling love of Christ which was demonstrated in his life and sacrificial death. This love, says Paul, is true, noble, right, pure, lovely, admirable, excellent, and praiseworthy—and the only basis upon which fractured groups or interpersonal relations may be healed.

Phil. 1:1,2 SALUTATION. Paul and Timothy, servants of Christ Jesus,

To all the saints in Christ Jesus at Philippi, together with the overseers^s and deacons:

Grace and peace to you from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Reflections Upon Imprisonment

Phil.
1:3-11

EXPRESSION OF LOVE. I thank my God every time I remember you. In all my prayers for all of you, I always pray with joy because of your partnership in the gospel from the first day until now, being confident of this, that he who began a good work in you will carry it on to completion until the day of Christ Jesus.

It is right for me to feel this way about all of you, since I have you in my heart; for whether I am in chains or defending and confirming the gospel, all of you share in God's grace with me. God can testify how I long for all of you with the affection of Christ Jesus.

And this is my prayer: that your love may abound more and more in knowledge and depth of insight, so that you may be able to discern what is best and may be pure and blameless until the day of Christ, filled with the fruit of righteousness that comes through Jesus Christ—to the glory and praise of God.

IMPRISONMENT A BLESSING. Now I want you to know, brothers, that what has happened to me has really served to advance the gospel. As a result, it has become clear throughout the whole palace guard¹ and to everyone else that I am in chains for Christ. Because of my chains, most of the brothers in the Lord have been encouraged to speak the word of God more courageously and fearlessly. Phil.
1:12-14

JOY OVER PREACHING. It is true that some preach Christ out of envy and rivalry, but others out of good will. The latter do so in love, knowing that I am put here for the defense of the gospel. The former preach Christ out of selfish ambition, not sincerely, supposing that they can stir up trouble for me while I am in chains.² But what does it matter? The important thing is that in every way, whether from false motives or true, Christ is preached. And because of this I rejoice. Phil.
1:15-18

Yes, and I will continue to rejoice,

PAUL'S DILEMMA. for I know that through your prayers and the help given by the Spirit of Jesus Christ, what has happened to me will turn out for my deliverance.³ I eagerly expect and hope that I will in no way be ashamed, but will have sufficient courage so that now as always Christ will be exalted in my body, whether by life or by death. For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain. If I am to go on living in the body, this will mean fruitful labor for me. Yet what shall I choose? I do not know! I am torn between the two: I desire to depart and be with Christ, which is better by far; but it is more necessary for you that I remain in the body. Convinced of this, I know that I will remain, and I will continue with all of you for your progress and joy in the faith, so that through my being with you again your joy in Christ Jesus will overflow on account of me. Phil.
1:19-26

Various Exhortations

STAND UNITED. Whatever happens, conduct yourselves in a manner worthy of the gospel of Christ. Then, whether I come and see you or only hear about you in my absence, I will know that you stand firm in one spirit, contending as one man for the faith of the gospel without being frightened in any way by those who oppose you. This is a sign to them that they will be destroyed, but that you will be saved—and that by God. For it has been granted to you on behalf of Christ not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for him, since you are going through the same struggle you saw I had, and now hear that I still have. If you have any encouragement from being united with Christ, if any comfort from his love, if any fellowship with the Spirit, if any tenderness and compassion, then make my joy complete by being like-minded, having the same love, being one in spirit and purpose. Phil.
1:27-2:2

IMITATE CHRIST'S HUMILITY. Do nothing out of selfish ambition or vain conceit, but in humility consider others better than yourselves. Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others. Phil.
2:3-11

Your attitude should be the same as that of Christ Jesus:

Who, being in very nature⁴ God,

¹Or whole palace ²Some late manuscripts have verses 16 and 17 in reverse order.
³Or salvation ⁴Or in the form of

did not consider equality with God something to be grasped,
 but made himself nothing,
 taking the very nature^x of a servant,
 being made in human likeness.
 And being found in appearance as a man, he humbled himself and became obedient to death—
 even death on a cross!
 Therefore God exalted him to the highest place and gave him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow,
 in heaven and on earth and under the earth,
 and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord,
 to the glory of God the Father.

Phil.
2:12,13 WORK AT RIGHTEOUSNESS. Therefore, my dear friends, as you have always obeyed—not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence—continue to work out your salvation with fear and trembling, for it is God who works in you to will and to act according to his good purpose.

Phil.
2:14-18 BE EXAMPLES OF PEACE. Do everything without complaining or arguing, so that you may become blameless and pure, children of God without fault in a crooked and depraved generation, in which you shine like stars in the universe as you hold out^y the word of life—in order that I may boast on the day of Christ that I did not run or labor for nothing. But even if I am being poured out like a drink offering on the sacrifice and service coming from your faith, I am glad and rejoice with all of you. So you too should be glad and rejoice with me.

Phil.
2:19-24 TIMOTHY TO COME SOON. I hope in the Lord Jesus to send Timothy to you soon, that I also may be cheered when I receive news about you. I have no one else like him, who takes a genuine interest in your welfare. For everyone looks out for his own interests, not those of Jesus Christ. But you know that Timothy has proved himself, because as a son with his father he has served with me in the work of the gospel. I hope, therefore, to send him as soon as I see how things go with me. And I am confident in the Lord that I myself will come soon.

Phil.
2:25-30 COMMENDATION OF EPAPHRODITUS. But I think it is necessary to send back to you Epaphroditus, my brother, fellow worker and fellow soldier, who is also your messenger, whom you sent to take care of my needs. For he longs for all of you and is distressed because you heard he was ill. Indeed he was ill, and almost died. But God had mercy on him, and not on him only but also on me, to spare me sorrow upon sorrow. Therefore I am all the more eager to send him, so that when you see him again you may be glad and I may have less anxiety. Welcome him in the Lord with great joy, and honor men like him, because he almost died for the work of Christ, risking his life to make up for the help you could not give me.

^xOr the form ^yOr hold out to

CHRISTIANS SHOULD BE JOYFUL. Finally, my brothers, rejoice in the Lord! It is no trouble for me to write the same things to you again, and it is a safeguard for you. Phil. 3:1

Various Warnings

OVERCONFIDENCE IN HERITAGE. Watch out for those dogs, those men who do evil, those mutilators of the flesh. For it is we who are the circumcision, we who worship by the Spirit of God, who glory in Christ Jesus, and who put no confidence in the flesh— though I myself have reasons for such confidence. Phil. 3:2-4a

PAUL'S JEWISH HERITAGE. If anyone else thinks he has reasons to put confidence in the flesh, I have more: circumcised on the eighth day, of the people of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews; in regard to the law, a Pharisee; as for zeal, persecuting the church; as for legalistic righteousness, faultless. Phil. 3:4b-6

EXCHANGING HUMAN CONFIDENCE. But whatever was to my profit I now consider loss for the sake of Christ. What is more, I consider everything a loss compared to the surpassing greatness of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord, for whose sake I have lost all things. I consider them rubbish, that I may gain Christ and be found in him, not having a righteousness of my own that comes from the law, but that which is through faith in Christ—the righteousness that comes from God and is by faith. I want to know Christ and the power of his resurrection and the fellowship of sharing in his sufferings, becoming like him in his death, and so, somehow, to attain to the resurrection from the dead. Phil. 3:7-11

RIGHTEOUSNESS A STRUGGLE. Not that I have already obtained all this, or have already been made perfect, but I press on to take hold of that for which Christ Jesus took hold of me. Brothers, I do not consider myself yet to have taken hold of it. But one thing I do: Forgetting what is behind and straining toward what is ahead, I press on toward the goal to win the prize for which God has called me heavenward in Christ Jesus. Phil. 3:12-16

All of us who are mature should take such a view of things. And if on some point you think differently, that too God will make clear to you. Only let us live up to what we have already attained.

WARNING AGAINST WORLDLINESS. Join with others in following my example, brothers, and take note of those who live according to the pattern we gave you. For, as I have often told you before and now say again even with tears, many live as enemies of the cross of Christ. Their destiny is destruction, their god is their stomach, and their glory is in their shame. Their mind is on earthly things. But our citizenship is in heaven. And we eagerly await a Savior from there, the Lord Jesus Christ, who, by the power that enables him to bring everything under his control, will transform our lowly bodies so that they will be like his glorious body. Therefore, my brothers, you whom I love and long for, my joy and crown, that is how you should stand firm in the Lord, dear friends! Phil. 3:17-4:1

Concluding Thoughts

WOMEN TO RECONCILE. I plead with Euodia and I plead with Syn-tyche to agree with each other in the Lord. Yes, and I ask you, loyal Phil. 4:2,3 yokefellow,^z help these women who have contended at my side in the cause of the gospel, along with Clement and the rest of my fellow workers, whose names are in the book of life.

Phil. 4:4-7 TO SEEK PEACEFULNESS. Rejoice in the Lord always. I will say it again: Rejoice! Let your gentleness be evident to all. The Lord is near. Do not be anxious about anything, but in everything, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your requests to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus.

Phil. 4:8,9 THINK ON THINGS SPIRITUAL. Finally, brothers, whatever is true, whatever is noble, whatever is right, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is admirable—if anything is excellent or praiseworthy—think about such things. Whatever you have learned or received or heard from me, or seen in me—put it into practice. And the God of peace will be with you.

Phil. 4:10-13 PAUL CONTENT. I rejoice greatly in the Lord that at last you have renewed your concern for me. Indeed, you have been concerned, but you had no opportunity to show it. I am not saying this because I am in need, for I have learned to be content whatever the circumstances. I know what it is to be in need, and I know what it is to have plenty. I have learned the secret of being content in any and every situation, whether well fed or hungry, whether living in plenty or in want. I can do everything through him who gives me strength.

Phil. 4:14-20 GIFTS FRUITFUL TO THEM. Yet it was good of you to share in my troubles. Moreover, as you Philippians know, in the early days of your acquaintance with the gospel, when I set out from Macedonia, not one church shared with me in the matter of giving and receiving, except you only; for even when I was in Thessalonica, you sent me aid again and again when I was in need. Not that I am looking for a gift, but I am looking for what may be credited to your account. I have received full payment and even more; I am amply supplied, now that I have received from Epaphroditus the gifts you sent. They are a fragrant offering, an acceptable sacrifice, pleasing to God. And my God will meet all your needs according to his glorious riches in Christ Jesus.

To our God and Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

Phil. 4:21-23 GREETINGS AND BENEDICTION. Greet all the saints in Christ Jesus. The brothers who are with me send greetings. All the saints send you greetings, especially those who belong to Caesar's household.

The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.^a

The historical record of Acts comes to an end with Paul's two years in Rome. What is known after this time about the work of Paul and other church leaders must be pieced together from other accounts. However, it appears that Paul may have been released from house arrest and permitted to be free for a period of time, perhaps up to two or three years. During this time Paul evidently travels to Crete, where he leaves Titus, and also again to Ephesus, where he leaves Timothy. Thereafter Paul apparently goes by way of Miletus and Troas on to the region of Macedonia, perhaps by A.D. 63-64. ☞

First Letter to Timothy

It is probably from Macedonia that Paul writes to Timothy, who as a young evangelist is facing serious challenges to faith and doctrine within the church at Ephesus. Paul therefore deals with matters of church organization and conduct, particularly regarding prayer; the role of women; qualifications of elders and deacons; support of widows; and proper attitudes for Christian slaves. Paul gives Timothy personal instruction and advice on a variety of matters and warns him concerning both false doctrine and those who would teach false doctrine, whose only goal in teaching is either making money or achieving popularity. The entire letter reflects the tone of a father writing to his son, as indeed Paul apparently regards this young man, Timothy.

SALUTATION. Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the command of God our Savior and of Christ Jesus our hope, 1 Tim. 1:1,2

To Timothy my true son in the faith:

Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Instructions for the Church

UNSOUND DOCTRINE. As I urged you when I went into Macedonia, stay there in Ephesus so that you may command certain men not to teach false doctrines any longer nor to devote themselves to myths and endless genealogies. These promote controversies rather than God's work—which is by faith. The goal of this command is love, which comes from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith. Some have wandered away from these and turned to meaningless talk. They want to be teachers of the law, but they do not know what they are talking about or what they so confidently affirm. 1 Tim. 1:3-7

LAW TO BE USED PROPERLY. We know that the law is good if one uses it properly. We also know that law^b is made not for the righteous but for lawbreakers and rebels, the ungodly and sinful, the unholy and irreligious; for those who kill their fathers or mothers, for murderers, for adulterers and perverts, for slave traders and liars and perjurers—and for whatever else is contrary to the sound doctrine that conforms to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which he entrusted to me. 1 Tim. 1:8-11

PAUL, AN EXAMPLE. I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who has given me strength, that he considered me faithful, appointing me to his service. Even though I was once a blasphemer and a persecutor and a violent man, I was shown mercy because I acted in ignorance and unbelief. The grace of our Lord was poured out on me abundantly, along with the faith and love that are in Christ Jesus. 1 Tim. 1:12-17

Here is a trustworthy saying that deserves full acceptance: Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners—of whom I am the worst. But for that very reason I was shown mercy so that in me, the worst of sinners, Christ Jesus might display his unlimited patience as an example for those who would believe on him and receive eternal life. Now to the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honor and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

^bOr that the law

1 Tim. 1:18-20 TIMOTHY TO KEEP FAITH. Timothy, my son, I give you this instruction in keeping with the prophecies once made about you, so that by following them you may fight the good fight, holding on to faith and a good conscience. Some have rejected these and so have shipwrecked their faith. Among them are Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have handed over to Satan to be taught not to blaspheme.

1 Tim. 2:1-8 CALL FOR MEN TO PRAY. I urge, then, first of all, that requests, prayers, intercession and thanksgiving be made for everyone—for kings and all those in authority, that we may live peaceful and quiet lives in all godliness and holiness. This is good, and pleases God our Savior, who wants all men to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth. For there is one God and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus, who gave himself as a ransom for all men—the testimony given in its proper time. And for this purpose I was appointed a herald and an apostle—I am telling the truth, I am not lying—and a teacher of the true faith to the Gentiles.

I want men everywhere to lift up holy hands in prayer, without anger or disputing.

1 Tim. 2:9,10 WOMEN TO BE MODEST. I also want women to dress modestly, with decency and propriety, not with braided hair or gold or pearls or expensive clothes, but with good deeds, appropriate for women who profess to worship God.

1 Tim. 2:11-15 THE ROLE OF WOMEN. A woman should learn in quietness and full submission. I do not permit a woman to teach or to have authority over a man; she must be silent. For Adam was formed first, then Eve. And Adam was not the one deceived; it was the woman who was deceived and became a sinner. But women^c will be saved^d through childbearing—if they continue in faith, love and holiness with propriety.

1 Tim. 3:1-7 QUALIFICATIONS OF ELDERS. Here is a trustworthy saying: If anyone sets his heart on being an overseer,^e he desires a noble task. Now the overseer must be above reproach, the husband of but one wife, temperate, self-controlled, respectable, hospitable, able to teach, not given to drunkenness, not violent but gentle, not quarrelsome, not a lover of money. He must manage his own family well and see that his children obey him with proper respect. (If anyone does not know how to manage his own family, how can he take care of God's church?) He must not be a recent convert, or he may become conceited and fall under the same judgment as the devil. He must also have a good reputation with outsiders, so that he will not fall into disgrace and into the devil's trap.

1 Tim. 3:8-13 QUALIFICATIONS OF DEACONS. Deacons, likewise, are to be men worthy of respect, sincere, not indulging in much wine, and not pursuing dishonest gain. They must keep hold of the deep truths of the faith with a clear conscience. They must first be tested; and then if there is nothing against them, let them serve as deacons.

In the same way, their wives^f are to be women worthy of respect, not malicious talkers but temperate and trustworthy in everything.

^cGreek she ^dOr restored ^eTraditionally bishop ^fOr wife, deaconesses

A deacon must be the husband of but one wife and must manage his children and his household well. Those who have served well gain an excellent standing and great assurance in their faith in Christ Jesus.

REASON FOR INSTRUCTIONS. Although I hope to come to you soon, I am writing you these instructions so that, if I am delayed, you will know how people ought to conduct themselves in God's household, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of the truth. Beyond all question, the mystery of godliness is great:

1 Tim.
3:14-16

He^x appeared in a body,^h was vindicated by the Spirit,
was seen by angels,
was preached among the nations,
was believed on in the world,
was taken up in glory.

HUMAN DOCTRINES. The Spirit clearly says that in later times some will abandon the faith and follow deceiving spirits and things taught by demons. Such teachings come through hypocritical liars, whose consciences have been seared as with a hot iron. They forbid people to marry and order them to abstain from certain foods, which God created to be received with thanksgiving by those who believe and who know the truth. For everything God created is good, and nothing is to be rejected if it is received with thanksgiving, because it is consecrated by the word of God and prayer.

1 Tim.
4:1-5

Instructions to Timothy

STRIVE FOR GODLINESS. If you point these things out to the brothers, you will be a good minister of Christ Jesus, brought up in the truths of the faith and of the good teaching that you have followed. Have nothing to do with godless myths and old wives' tales; rather, train yourself to be godly. For physical training is of some value, but godliness has value for all things, holding promise for both the present life and the life to come.

1 Tim.
4:6-10

This is a trustworthy saying that deserves full acceptance (and for this we labor and strive), that we have put our hope in the living God, who is the Savior of all men, and especially of those who believe.

TEACHING AND EXAMPLE. Command and teach these things. Don't let anyone look down on you because you are young, but set an example for the believers in speech, in life, in love, in faith and in purity. Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of Scripture, to preaching and to teaching. Do not neglect your gift, which was given you through a prophetic message when the body of elders laid their hands on you.

1 Tim.
4:11-16

Be diligent in these matters; give yourself wholly to them, so that everyone may see your progress. Watch your life and doctrine closely. Persevere in them, because if you do, you will save both yourself and your hearers.

HOW TO TREAT OTHERS. Do not rebuke an older man harshly, but exhort him as if he were your father. Treat younger men as brothers, older women as mothers, and younger women as sisters, with absolute purity.

1 Tim.
5:1,2

^xSome manuscripts God ^hOr in the flesh

Concerning Widows

1 Tim.
5:3-8

OBLIGATION TOWARD WIDOWS. Give proper recognition to those widows who are really in need. But if a widow has children or grandchildren, these should learn first of all to put their religion into practice by caring for their own family and so repaying their parents and grandparents, for this is pleasing to God. The widow who is really in need and left all alone puts her hope in God and continues night and day to pray and to ask God for help. But the widow who lives for pleasure is dead even while she lives. Give the people these instructions, too, so that no one may be open to blame. If anyone does not provide for his relatives, and especially for his immediate family, he has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever.

1 Tim.
5:9,10

CHURCH'S SUPPORT OF WIDOWS. No widow may be put on the list of widows unless she is over sixty, has been faithful to her husband,ⁱ and is well known for her good deeds, such as bringing up children, showing hospitality, washing the feet of the saints, helping those in trouble and devoting herself to all kinds of good deeds.

1 Tim.
5:11-15

REGARDING YOUNGER WIDOWS. As for younger widows, do not put them on such a list. For when their sensual desires overcome their dedication to Christ, they want to marry. Thus they bring judgment on themselves, because they have broken their first pledge. Besides, they get into the habit of being idle and going about from house to house. And not only do they become idlers, but also gossips and busybodies, saying things they ought not to. So I counsel younger widows to marry, to have children, to manage their homes and to give the enemy no opportunity for slander. Some have in fact already turned away to follow Satan.

1 Tim.
5:16

RESPONSIBILITY OF WOMEN. If any woman who is a believer has widows in her family, she should help them and not let the church be burdened with them, so that the church can help those widows who are really in need.

Concerning Elders

1 Tim.
5:17-20

HONOR AND SUPPORT OF ELDERS. The elders who direct the affairs of the church well are worthy of double honor, especially those whose work is preaching and teaching. For the Scripture says, "Do not muzzle the ox while it is treading out the grain,"^j and "The worker deserves his wages."^k Do not entertain an accusation against an elder unless it is brought by two or three witnesses. Those who sin are to be rebuked publicly, so that the others may take warning.

1 Tim.
5:21,22

CAUTION REGARDING ELDERS. I charge you, in the sight of God and Christ Jesus and the elect angels, to keep these instructions without partiality, and to do nothing out of favoritism.

Do not be hasty in the laying on of hands, and do not share in the sins of others. Keep yourself pure.

Advice to Timothy

1 Tim.
5:23

REGARDING HEALTH. Stop drinking only water, and use a little wine because of your stomach and your frequent illnesses.

ⁱOr has had but one husband

^jDeut. 25:4

^kLuke 10:7

REGARDING APPEARANCES. The sins of some men are obvious, reaching the place of judgment ahead of them; the sins of others trail behind them. In the same way, good deeds are obvious, and even those that are not cannot be hidden.

1 Tim.
5:24,25

Instructions to Slaves

TO RESPECT MASTERS. All who are under the yoke of slavery should consider their masters worthy of full respect, so that God's name and our teaching may not be slandered. Those who have believing masters are not to show less respect for them because they are brothers. Instead, they are to serve them even better, because those who benefit from their service are believers, and dear to them. These are the things you are to teach and urge on them.

1 Tim.
6:1,2

Concerning Mercenary Teachers

FALSE MOTIVATIONS. If anyone teaches false doctrines and does not agree to the sound instruction of our Lord Jesus Christ and to godly teaching, he is conceited and understands nothing. He has an unhealthy interest in controversies and quarrels about words that result in envy, strife, malicious talk, evil suspicions and constant friction between men of corrupt mind, who have been robbed of the truth and who think that godliness is a means to financial gain.

1 Tim.
6:3-5

ATTITUDE TOWARD MONEY. But godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into the world, and we can take nothing out of it. But if we have food and clothing, we will be content with that. People who want to get rich fall into temptation and a trap and into many foolish and harmful desires that plunge men into ruin and destruction. For the love of money is a root of all kinds of evil. Some people, eager for money, have wandered from the faith and pierced themselves with many griefs.

1 Tim.
6:6-10

TIMOTHY'S MOTIVATION. But you, man of God, flee from all this, and pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, endurance and gentleness. Fight the good fight of the faith. Take hold of the eternal life to which you were called when you made your good confession in the presence of many witnesses. In the sight of God, who gives life to everything, and of Christ Jesus, who while testifying before Pontius Pilate made the good confession, I charge you to keep this command without spot or blame until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ, which God will bring about in his own time—God, the blessed and only Ruler, the King of kings and Lord of lords, who alone is immortal and who lives in unapproachable light, whom no one has seen or can see. To him be honor and might forever. Amen.

1 Tim.
6:11-16

PROPER USE OF WEALTH. Command those who are rich in this present world not to be arrogant nor to put their hope in wealth, which is so uncertain, but to put their hope in God, who richly provides us with everything for our enjoyment. Command them to do good, to be rich in good deeds, and to be generous and willing to share. In this way they will lay up treasure for themselves as a firm foundation for the coming age, so that they may take hold of the life that is truly life.

1 Tim.
6:17-19

Concluding Remarks

1 Tim.
6:20,21

BENEDICTION. Timothy, guard what has been entrusted to your care. Turn away from godless chatter and the opposing ideas of what is falsely called knowledge, which some have professed and in so doing have wandered from the faith.

Grace be with you.

Letter to Titus

From Macedonia, Paul is about to leave for Nicopolis in Greece, where he has decided to spend the winter and where he expects Titus to join him. Before leaving, he writes a letter to Titus, whom he had earlier left in Crete. Titus is apparently facing some of the same challenges as Timothy in his efforts to preserve doctrinal purity and to establish effective local congregations. Therefore Paul's letter to Titus bears a resemblance to his letter to Timothy in its emphasis on false teaching, church organization, and instruction in Christian living.

Titus 1:1-4 SALUTATION. Paul, a servant of God and an apostle of Jesus Christ for the faith of God's elect and the knowledge of the truth that leads to godliness—a faith and knowledge resting on the hope of eternal life, which God, who does not lie, promised before the beginning of time, and at his appointed season he brought his word to light through the preaching entrusted to me by the command of God our Savior,

To Titus, my true son in our common faith:

Grace and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Savior.

Concerning Church Leaders

Titus 1:5-9 QUALIFICATIONS FOR ELDERS. The reason I left you in Crete was that you might straighten out what was left unfinished and appoint^l elders in every town, as I directed you. An elder must be blameless, the husband of but one wife, a man whose children believe and are not open to the charge of being wild and disobedient. Since an overseer^m is entrusted with God's work, he must be blameless—not overbearing, not quick-tempered, not given to drunkenness, not violent, not pursuing dishonest gain. Rather he must be hospitable, one who loves what is good, who is self-controlled, upright, holy and disciplined. He must hold firmly to the trustworthy message as it has been taught, so that he can encourage others by sound doctrine and refute those who oppose it.

Titus
1:10-2:1

WARNING OF FALSE TEACHERS. For there are many rebellious people, mere talkers and deceivers, especially those of the circumcision group. They must be silenced, because they are ruining whole households by teaching things they ought not to teach—and that for the sake of dishonest gain. Even one of their own prophets has said, "Cretans are always liars, evil brutes, lazy gluttons." This testimony is true. Therefore, rebuke them sharply, so that they will be sound in the faith and will pay no attention to Jewish myths or to the commands of those who reject the truth. To the pure, all things are pure, but to those who are corrupted and do not believe, nothing is pure. In fact, both their minds and consciences are corrupted. They claim to know God, but by their actions they deny him. They are detestable, disobedient and unfit for doing anything good. You must teach what is in accord with sound doctrine.

Teaching Various Groups

REGARDING OLDER MEN. Teach the older men to be temperate, worthy of respect, self-controlled, and sound in faith, in love and in endurance. Titus 2:2

REGARDING OLDER WOMEN. Likewise, teach the older women to be reverent in the way they live, not to be slanderers or addicted to much wine, but to teach what is good. Then they can train the younger women to love their husbands and children, to be self-controlled and pure, to be busy at home, to be kind, and to be subject to their husbands, so that no one will malign the word of God. Titus 2:3-5

REGARDING YOUNGER MEN. Similarly, encourage the young men to be self-controlled. In everything set them an example by doing what is good. In your teaching show integrity, seriousness and soundness of speech that cannot be condemned, so that those who oppose you may be ashamed because they have nothing bad to say about us. Titus 2:6-8

REGARDING SLAVES. Teach slaves to be subject to their masters in everything, to try to please them, not to talk back to them, and not to steal from them, but to show that they can be fully trusted, so that in every way they will make the teaching about God our Savior attractive. Titus 2:9,10

BASIS FOR INSTRUCTIONS. For the grace of God that brings salvation has appeared to all men. It teaches us to say "No" to ungodliness and worldly passions, and to live self-controlled, upright and godly lives in this present age, while we wait for the blessed hope—the glorious appearing of our great God and Savior, Jesus Christ, who gave himself for us to redeem us from all wickedness and to purify for himself a people that are his very own, eager to do what is good. Titus 2:11-15

These, then, are the things you should teach. Encourage and rebuke with all authority. Do not let anyone despise you.

The Christian Life

NEED FOR RIGHTEOUS LIVING. Remind the people to be subject to rulers and authorities, to be obedient, to be ready to do whatever is good, to slander no one, to be peaceable and considerate, and to show true humility toward all men. Titus 3:1,2

GRACE DEMANDS GOOD DEEDS. At one time we too were foolish, disobedient, deceived and enslaved by all kinds of passions and pleasures. We lived in malice and envy, being hated and hating one another. But when the kindness and love of God our Savior appeared, he saved us, not because of righteous things we had done, but because of his mercy. He saved us through the washing of rebirth and renewal by the Holy Spirit, whom he poured out on us generously through Jesus Christ our Savior, so that, having been justified by his grace, we might become heirs having the hope of eternal life. This is a trustworthy saying. And I want you to stress these things, so that those who have trusted in God may be careful Titus 3:3-8 to devote themselves to doing what is good. These things are excellent and profitable for everyone.

Titus
3:9-11

QUARRELING UNPROFITABLE. But avoid foolish controversies and genealogies and arguments and quarrels about the law, because these are unprofitable and useless. Warn a divisive person once, and then warn him a second time. After that, have nothing to do with him. You may be sure that such a man is warped and sinful; he is self-condemned.

Concluding Thoughts

Titus
3:12-14

PERSONAL MATTERS. As soon as I send Artemas or Tychicus to you, do your best to come to me at Nicopolis, because I have decided to winter there. Do everything you can to help Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their way and see that they have everything they need. Our people must learn to devote themselves to doing what is good, in order that they may provide for daily necessities and not live unproductive lives.

Titus 3:15

BENEDICTION. Everyone with me sends you greetings. Greet those who love us in the faith.

Grace be with you all.

Second Letter to Timothy

Although there is no direct biblical record which sheds light on the matter, it appears that Paul may have been rearrested in either Nicopolis or Troas and returned to Rome under a sentence of death. This seems likely, because in a second letter to Timothy, written perhaps A.D. 64-67, Paul once again refers to himself as a prisoner and also mentions having made what was apparently a legal defense.

The tone of Paul's last known letter indicates that Paul knows his time is short. Several of his supporters have deserted him in the face of persecution, and Paul wants Timothy to come to him as soon as possible. Tychicus, who has been Paul's messenger on other occasions, is being sent to Ephesus, perhaps to carry this letter and also to relieve Timothy so that Timothy can travel to be with Paul. Paul warns Timothy about the coming of opposition and encourages him to be strong in defense of the faith. There is a sense of urgency in his exhortations, as if Timothy is Paul's last link with future generations of those to whom the gospel will be entrusted.

2 Tim.
1:1,2

SALUTATION. Paul, an apostle of Christ Jesus by the will of God, according to the promise of life that is in Christ Jesus,

To Timothy, my dear son:

Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Exhortations to Timothy

2 Tim.
1:3-7

CONCERN FOR TIMOTHY. I thank God, whom I serve, as my forefathers did, with a clear conscience, as night and day I constantly remember you in my prayers. Recalling your tears, I long to see you, so that I may be filled with joy. I have been reminded of your sincere faith, which first lived in your grandmother Lois and in your mother Eunice and, I am persuaded, now lives in you also. For this reason I remind you to fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you through the laying on of my hands. For God did not give us a spirit of timidity, but a spirit of power, of love and of self-discipline.

ENCOURAGEMENT FOR MINISTRY. So do not be ashamed to testify about our Lord, or ashamed of me his prisoner. But join with me in suffering for the gospel, by the power of God, who has saved us and called us to a holy life—not because of anything we have done but because of his own purpose and grace. This grace was given us in Christ Jesus before the beginning of time, but it has now been revealed through the appearing of our Savior, Christ Jesus, who has destroyed death and has brought life and immortality to light through the gospel. And of this gospel I was appointed a herald and an apostle and a teacher. That is why I am suffering as I am. Yet I am not ashamed, because I know whom I have believed, and am convinced that he is able to guard what I have entrusted to him for that day. 2 Tim.
1:8-12

IMPORTANCE OF DOCTRINE. What you heard from me, keep as the pattern of sound teaching, with faith and love in Christ Jesus. Guard the good deposit that was entrusted to you—guard it with the help of the Holy Spirit who lives in us. 2 Tim.
1:13,14

MANY HAVE TURNED AWAY. You know that everyone in the province of Asia has deserted me, including Phygelus and Hermogenes. 2 Tim.
1:15

ONESIPHORUS' FAITH. May the Lord show mercy to the household of Onesiphorus, because he often refreshed me and was not ashamed of my chains. On the contrary, when he was in Rome, he searched hard for me until he found me. May the Lord grant that he will find mercy from the Lord on that day! You know very well in how many ways he helped me in Ephesus. 2 Tim.
1:16-18

DEDICATION AND DISCIPLINE. You then, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus. And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable men who will also be qualified to teach others. Endure hardship with us like a good soldier of Christ Jesus. No one serving as a soldier gets involved in civilian affairs—he wants to please his commanding officer. Similarly, if anyone competes as an athlete, he does not receive the victor's crown unless he competes according to the rules. The hardworking farmer should be the first to receive a share of the crops. Reflect on what I am saying, for the Lord will give you insight into all this. 2 Tim.

REMEMBERING CHRIST. Remember Jesus Christ, raised from the dead, descended from David. This is my gospel, for which I am suffering even to the point of being chained like a criminal. But God's word is not chained. Therefore I endure everything for the sake of the elect, that they too may obtain the salvation that is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory. 2 Tim.
2:8-13

Here is a trustworthy saying:

If we died with him,
we will also live with him;
if we endure,
we will also reign with him.
If we disown him,
he will also disown us;

if we are faithless,
 he will remain faithful,
 for he cannot disown himself.

- 2 Tim.
2:14-19 HANDLING TRUTH CAREFULLY. Keep reminding them of these things. Warn them before God against quarreling about words; it is of no value, and only ruins those who listen. Do your best to present yourself to God as one approved, a workman who does not need to be ashamed and who correctly handles the word of truth. Avoid godless chatter, because those who indulge in it will become more and more ungodly. Their teaching will spread like gangrene. Among them are Hymenaeus and Philetus, who have wandered away from the truth. They say that the resurrection has already taken place, and they destroy the faith of some. Nevertheless, God's solid foundation stands firm, sealed with this inscription: "The Lord knows those who are his,"¹¹ and, "Everyone who confesses the name of the Lord must turn away from wickedness."
- 2 Tim.
2:20-26 TEACHING ABOVE QUARRELING. In a large house there are articles not only of gold and silver, but also of wood and clay; some are for noble purposes and some for ignoble. If a man cleanses himself from the latter, he will be an instrument for noble purposes, made holy, useful to the Master and prepared to do any good work.
 Flee the evil desires of youth, and pursue righteousness, faith, love and peace, along with those who call on the Lord out of a pure heart. Don't have anything to do with foolish and stupid arguments, because you know they produce quarrels. And the Lord's servant must not quarrel; instead, he must be kind to everyone, able to teach, not resentful. Those who oppose him he must gently instruct, in the hope that God will grant them repentance leading them to a knowledge of the truth, and that they will come to their senses and escape from the trap of the devil, who has taken them captive to do his will.
- 2 Tim.
3:1-5 PREDICTION OF GODLESS TIMES. But mark this: There will be terrible times in the last days. People will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boastful, proud, abusive, disobedient to their parents, ungrateful, unholy, without love, unforgiving, slanderous, without self-control, brutal, not lovers of the good, treacherous, rash, conceited, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God—having a form of godliness but denying its power. Have nothing to do with them.
- 2 Tim.
3:6-9 EVIL TEACHERS TO BE EXPOSED. They are the kind who worm their way into homes and gain control over weak-willed women, who are loaded down with sins and are swayed by all kinds of evil desires, always learning but never able to acknowledge the truth. Just as Jannes and Jambres opposed Moses, so also these men oppose the truth—men of depraved minds, who, as far as the faith is concerned, are rejected. But they will not get very far because, as in the case of those men, their folly will be clear to everyone.
- 2 Tim.
3:10-17 RESPECT FOR SCRIPTURE. You, however, know all about my teaching, my way of life, my purpose, faith, patience, love, endurance, persecutions, sufferings—what kinds of things happened to me in Antioch, Iconium and Lystra, the persecutions I endured. Yet the Lord rescued me from all of them. In fact, everyone who wants to live a godly life in Christ Jesus will be persecuted, while evil men and impostors will go from bad to worse, deceiving and being deceived. But as for you, continue in what you have learned and have become convinced of, because you know those from whom you learned it, and how from infancy you have known the holy Scriptures, which are able to make you wise for salvation through faith in Christ Jesus. All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness, so that the man of God may be thoroughly equipped for every good work.

¹¹Num. 16:5 (see Septuagint)

PREACH THE WORD. In the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who will judge the living and the dead, and in view of his appearing and his kingdom, I give you this charge: Preach the Word; be prepared in season and out of season; correct, rebuke and encourage—with great patience and careful instruction. For the time will come when men will not put up with sound doctrine. Instead, to suit their own desires, they will gather around them a great number of teachers to say what their itching ears want to hear. They will turn their ears away from the truth and turn aside to myths. But you, keep your head in all situations, endure hardship, do the work of an evangelist, discharge all the duties of your ministry. 2 Tim. 4:1-5

REWARD FOR FAITHFUL MINISTRY. For I am already being poured out like a drink offering, and the time has come for my departure. I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Now there is in store for me the crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous Judge, will award to me on that day—and not only to me, but also to all who have longed for his appearing. 2 Tim. 4:6-8

PAUL ASKS TIMOTHY TO JOIN HIM. Do your best to come to me quickly, for Demas, because he loved this world, has deserted me and has gone to Thessalonica. Crescens has gone to Galatia, and Titus to Dalmatia. Only Luke is with me. Get Mark and bring him with you, because he is helpful to me in my ministry. I sent Tychicus to Ephesus. When you come, bring the cloak that I left with Carpus at Troas, and my scrolls, especially the parchments. 2 Tim. 4:9-13

HOW ALEXANDER OPPOSED HIM. Alexander the metalworker did me a great deal of harm. The Lord will repay him for what he has done. You too should be on your guard against him, because he strongly opposed our message. 2 Tim. 4:14,15

PAUL ALONE IN HIS DEFENSE. At my first defense, no one came to my support, but everyone deserted me. May it not be held against them. But the Lord stood at my side and gave me strength, so that through me the message might be fully proclaimed and all the Gentiles might hear it. And I was delivered from the lion's mouth. The Lord will rescue me from every evil attack and will bring me safely to his heavenly kingdom. To him be glory for ever and ever. Amen. 2 Tim. 4:16-18

mus sick in Miletus. Do your best to get here before winter. Eubulus greets you, and so do Pudens, Linus, Claudia and all the brothers.

The Lord be with your spirit. Grace be with you. ☩

No records indicate whether Timothy was ever able to be with Paul before Paul died. Although the exact date and circumstances of Paul's death are unknown, early historical consensus establishes that Paul died a martyr's death. In any event, the second letter to Timothy apparently was Paul's last.

Letter by James

Despite the importance of Paul's ministry and the emphasis given to his work in the historical record of the early church, there are other leaders whose influence cannot be overlooked. At least four of these leaders are the authors of writings which are preserved as part of the New Testament. Two of the authors, James and Jude, are believed to be brothers of Jesus. In the Gospel accounts there is an indication that Jesus' brothers initially rejected his deity and lordship, but the historical record later includes his brothers as being among the disciples in Jerusalem following Christ's ascension.

In addition to the two apostles who are named "James" (one the son of Zebedee, one the son of Alphaeus), there is still another James of great significance in the church. In his Galatian letter, Paul refers to this James as "the Lord's brother," and he indicates that he is a leader in the Jerusalem church. So it would not be surprising that James, "the Lord's brother," would be the author of one of the inspired letters.

If the traditional date of James' death is accurate, then his letter must have been written prior to A.D. 62. It may have been as early as A.D. 50-60, but the exact date is not certain. Addressed to "the twelve tribes in the Dispersion" (a designation for the postexilic Jews and, by extension, all Christians everywhere), the letter probably is intended for general distribution among the scattered churches of Christ. Unlike Paul, James does not struggle with deep issues of doctrine or comment upon any specific problems which a particular local church might be facing. Rather, he addresses himself to the crisis of persecution facing all the churches during this time.

After discussing the nature of temptation, James writes at length concerning the need for consistency between faith and conduct. In context, James appears to be saying that only those who demonstrate true faith can endure the sufferings of the times, and that faith can be measured by conduct. It is also possible that James is urging consistency between belief and action as a source of strength against temptation. James closes his letter with various exhortations for saints having to endure suffering. Despite its immediate relevance to times of widespread persecution, James' writing contains words of practical advice for every Christian's daily walk.

James 1:1 SALUTATION. James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ,

To the twelve tribes scattered among the nations:

Greetings.

Preparation for Oppression

TRIALS HELP DEVELOPMENT. Consider it pure joy, my brothers, whenever you face trials of many kinds, because you know that the testing of your faith develops perseverance. Perseverance must finish its work so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything. James 1:2-4

SEEKING WISDOM. If any of you lacks wisdom, he should ask God, who gives generously to all without finding fault, and it will be given to him. But when he asks, he must believe and not doubt, because he who doubts is like a wave of the sea, blown and tossed by the wind. That man should not think he will receive anything from the Lord; he is a double-minded man, unstable in all he does. James 1:5-8

RICHES WILL FADE. The brother in humble circumstances ought to take pride in his high position. But the one who is rich should take pride in his low position, because he will pass away like a wild flower. For the sun rises with scorching heat and withers the plant; its blossom falls and its beauty is destroyed. In the same way, the rich man will fade away even while he goes about his business. James 1:9-11

TEMPTATION COMES FROM WITHIN. Blessed is the man who perseveres under trial, because when he has stood the test, he will receive the crown of life that God has promised to those who love him. James 1:12-15

When tempted, no one should say, "God is tempting me." For God cannot be tempted by evil, nor does he tempt anyone; but each one is tempted when, by his own evil desire, he is dragged away and enticed. Then, after desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death.

GOODNESS COMES FROM GOD. Don't be deceived, my dear brothers. Every good and perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of the heavenly lights, who does not change like shifting shadows. He chose to give us birth through the word of truth, that we might be a kind of firstfruits of all he created. James 1:16-18

Consistency Between Faith and Conduct

WORD PRODUCES RIGHTEOUSNESS. My dear brothers, take note of this: Everyone should be quick to listen, slow to speak and slow to become angry, for man's anger does not bring about the righteous life that God desires. Therefore, get rid of all moral filth and the evil that is so prevalent and humbly accept the word planted in you, which can save you. James 1:19-21

KNOWLEDGE IS NOT ENOUGH. Do not merely listen to the word, and so deceive yourselves. Do what it says. Anyone who listens to the word but does not do what it says is like a man who looks at his face in a mirror and, after looking at himself, goes away and immediately forgets what he looks like. But the man who looks intently into the perfect law that gives freedom, and continues to do this, not forgetting what he has heard, but doing it—he will be blessed in what he does. James 1:22-25

TRUE RELIGION. If anyone considers himself religious and yet does not keep a tight rein on his tongue, he deceives himself and his religion is worthless. Religion that God our Father accepts as pure and faultless is James 1:26,27 this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself from being polluted by the world.

James
2:1-7

PARTIALITY NOT OF FAITH. My brothers, as believers in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ, don't show favoritism. Suppose a man comes into your meeting wearing a gold ring and fine clothes, and a poor man in shabby clothes also comes in. If you show special attention to the man wearing fine clothes and say, "Here's a good seat for you," but say to the poor man, "You stand there" or "Sit on the floor by my feet," have you not discriminated among yourselves and become judges with evil thoughts?

Listen, my dear brothers: Has not God chosen those who are poor in the eyes of the world to be rich in faith and to inherit the kingdom he promised those who love him? But you have insulted the poor. Is it not the rich who are exploiting you? Are they not the ones who are dragging you into court? Are they not the ones who are slandering the noble name of him to whom you belong?

James
2:8-13

ANY VIOLATION DISRESPECTS. If you really keep the royal law found in Scripture, "Love your neighbor as yourself,"^p you are doing right. But if you show favoritism, you sin and are convicted by the law as lawbreakers. For whoever keeps the whole law and yet stumbles at just one point is guilty of breaking all of it. For he who said, "Do not commit adultery,"^q also said, "Do not murder."^r If you do not commit adultery but do commit murder, you have become a lawbreaker.

Speak and act as those who are going to be judged by the law that gives freedom, because judgment without mercy will be shown to anyone who has not been merciful. Mercy triumphs over judgment!

James
2:14-17

CHANGED LIFE EVIDENCES FAITH. What good is it, my brothers, if a man claims to have faith but has no deeds? Can such faith save him? Suppose a brother or sister is without clothes and daily food. If one of you says to him, "Go, I wish you well; keep warm and well fed," but does nothing about his physical needs, what good is it? In the same way, faith by itself, if it is not accompanied by action, is dead.

James
2:18-20

FAITH WITHOUT WORKS. But someone will say, "You have faith; I have deeds."

Show me your faith without deeds, and I will show you my faith by what I do. You believe that there is one God. Good! Even the demons believe that—and shudder.

You foolish man, do you want evidence that faith without deeds is useless^s ?

James
2:21-26

EXAMPLES OF OBEDIENT FAITH. Was not our ancestor Abraham considered righteous for what he did when he offered his son Isaac on the altar? You see that his faith and his actions were working together, and his faith was made complete by what he did. And the scripture was fulfilled that says, "Abraham believed God, and it was credited to him as righteousness,"^t and he was called God's friend. You see that a person is justified by what he does and not by faith alone.

In the same way, was not even Rahab the prostitute considered righteous for what she did when she gave lodging to the spies and sent them off in a different direction? As the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without deeds is dead.

PRACTICING WHAT IS PREACHED. Not many of you should presume to be teachers, my brothers, because you know that we who teach will be judged more strictly. We all stumble in many ways. If anyone is never at fault in what he says, he is a perfect man, able to keep his whole body in check.

James
3:1-5

When we put bits into the mouths of horses to make them obey us, we can turn the whole animal. Or take ships as an example. Although they are so large and are driven by strong winds, they are steered by a very small rudder wherever the pilot wants to go. Likewise the tongue is a small part of the body, but it makes great boasts. Consider what a great forest is set on fire by a small spark.

SPEECH TO REFLECT PURITY. The tongue also is a fire, a world of evil among the parts of the body. It corrupts the whole person, sets the whole course of his life on fire, and is itself set on fire by hell.

James
3:6-12

All kinds of animals, birds, reptiles and creatures of the sea are being tamed and have been tamed by man, but no man can tame the tongue. It is a restless evil, full of deadly poison.

With the tongue we praise our Lord and Father, and with it we curse men, who have been made in God's likeness. Out of the same mouth come praise and cursing. My brothers, this should not be. Can both fresh water and salt^u water flow from the same spring? My brothers, can a fig tree bear olives, or a grapevine bear figs? Neither can a salt spring produce fresh water.

WISDOM SHOWN BY GOOD LIFE. Who is wise and understanding among you? Let him show it by his good life, by deeds done in the humility that comes from wisdom. But if you harbor bitter envy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast about it or deny the truth. Such "wisdom" does not come down from heaven but is earthly, unspiritual, of the devil. For where you have envy and selfish ambition, there you find disorder and every evil practice.

James
3:13-18

But the wisdom that comes from heaven is first of all pure; then peace-loving, considerate, submissive, full of mercy and good fruit, impartial and sincere. Peacemakers who sow in peace raise a harvest of righteousness.

MATERIALISM BRINGS CONFLICT. What causes fights and quarrels among you? Don't they come from your desires that battle within you? You want something but don't get it. You kill and covet, but you cannot have what you want. You quarrel and fight. You do not have, because you do not ask God. When you ask, you do not receive, because you ask with wrong motives, that you may spend what you get on your pleasures.

James
4:1-4

You adulterous people, don't you know that friendship with the world is hatred toward God? Anyone who chooses to be a friend of the world becomes an enemy of God.

^uGreek bitter (see also verse 14)

James
4:5-10

GODLINESS BRINGS JOY. Or do you think Scripture says without reason that the spirit he caused to live in us envies intensely?^v But he gives us more grace. That is why Scripture says:

“God opposes the proud
but gives grace to the humble.”^w

Submit yourselves, then, to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Come near to God and he will come near to you. Wash your hands, you sinners, and purify your hearts, you double-minded. Grieve, mourn and wail. Change your laughter to mourning and your joy to gloom. Humble yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up.

James
4:11-12

OBEYING VERSUS JUDGING. Brothers, do not slander one another. Anyone who speaks against his brother or judges him speaks against the law and judges it. When you judge the law, you are not keeping it, but sitting in judgment on it. There is only one Lawgiver and Judge, the one who is able to save and destroy. But you—who are you to judge your neighbor?

Exhortations for Suffering Saints

James
4:13-17

PERSPECTIVE AND PRIORITIES. Now listen, you who say, “Today or tomorrow we will go to this or that city, spend a year there, carry on business and make money.” Why, you do not even know what will happen tomorrow. What is your life? You are a mist that appears for a little while and then vanishes. Instead, you ought to say, “If it is the Lord’s will, we will live and do this or that.” As it is, you boast and brag. All such boasting is evil. Anyone, then, who knows the good he ought to do and doesn’t do it, sins.

James
5:1-6

JUDGMENT AGAINST OPPRESSORS. Now listen, you rich people, weep and wail because of the misery that is coming upon you. Your wealth has rotted, and moths have eaten your clothes. Your gold and silver are corroded. Their corrosion will testify against you and eat your flesh like fire. You have hoarded wealth in the last days. Look! The wages you failed to pay the workmen who mowed your fields are crying out against you. The cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord Almighty. You have lived on earth in luxury and self-indulgence. You have fattened yourselves in the day of slaughter.^x You have condemned and murdered innocent men, who were not opposing you.

James
5:7-11

STEADFASTNESS IN SUFFERING. Be patient, then, brothers, until the Lord’s coming. See how the farmer waits for the land to yield its valuable crop and how patient he is for the autumn and spring rains. You too, be patient and stand firm, because the Lord’s coming is near. Don’t grumble against each other, brothers, or you will be judged. The Judge is standing at the door!

Brothers, as an example of patience in the face of suffering, take the prophets who spoke in the name of the Lord. As you know, we consider blessed those who have persevered. You have heard of Job’s perseverance and have seen what the Lord finally brought about. The Lord is full of compassion and mercy.

^vOr that God jealously longs for the spirit that he made to live in us; or that the Spirit he caused to live in us longs jealously ^wProv. 3:34 ^xOr yourselves as in a day of feasting

RASH OATHS. Above all, my brothers, do not swear—not by heaven or by earth or by anything else. Let your “Yes” be yes, and your “No,” no, or you will be condemned. James 5:12

PRAYER AMID SUFFERING. Is any one of you in trouble? He should pray. Is anyone happy? Let him sing songs of praise. Is any one of you sick? He should call the elders of the church to pray over him and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord. And the prayer offered in faith will make the sick person well; the Lord will raise him up. If he has sinned, he will be forgiven. Therefore confess your sins to each other and pray for each other so that you may be healed. The prayer of a righteous man is powerful and effective. James 5:13-18

Elijah was a man just like us. He prayed earnestly that it would not rain, and it did not rain on the land for three and a half years. Again he prayed, and the heavens gave rain, and the earth produced its crops.

MUTUAL WATCHFULNESS. My brothers, if one of you should wander from the truth and someone should bring him back, remember this: Whoever turns a sinner from the error of his way will save him from death and cover over a multitude of sins. James 5:19,20

Letter by Jude

Referring to himself as a brother of James, Jude also addresses a general audience through a brief writing in which he warns them of false teachers and encourages them to keep the faith. Estimates of the letter’s date vary from A.D. 60 to perhaps A.D. 80. Little is known of Jude (Judas) or his work, although some believe he is mentioned on two occasions, not only as a brother of Jesus, but also as a church leader and prophet in Jerusalem. In his letter, Jude is trying to combat a widely believed philosophy which denies that the sins of the flesh can affect the soul—a philosophy which, naturally enough, has led to flagrant immorality. In order to stress the potentially dangerous consequences of such teaching, Jude uses both Old Testament and extrabiblical writings (the book of Enoch) to remind his readers of God’s judgment upon the ungodly.

SALUTATION. Jude, a servant of Jesus Christ and a brother of James, Jude 1,2

To those who have been called, who are loved by God the Father and kept by^v Jesus Christ:

Mercy, peace and love be yours in abundance.

CONTEND FOR THE FAITH. Dear friends, although I was very eager to write to you about the salvation we share, I felt I had to write and urge you to contend for the faith that was once for all entrusted to the saints. For certain men whose condemnation was written about² long ago have secretly slipped in among you. They are godless men, who change the grace of our God into a license for immorality and deny Jesus Christ our only Sovereign and Lord. Jude 3,4

^vOr for; or in ²Or men who were marked out for condemnation

- Jude 5-7 JUDGMENT UPON UNGODLY. Though you already know all this, I want to remind you that the Lord^a delivered his people out of Egypt, but later destroyed those who did not believe. And the angels who did not keep their positions of authority but abandoned their own home—these he has kept in darkness, bound with everlasting chains for judgment on the great Day. In a similar way, Sodom and Gomorrah and the surrounding towns gave themselves up to sexual immorality and perversion. They serve as an example of those who suffer the punishment of eternal fire.
- Jude 8-13 FALSE TEACHERS. In the very same way, these dreamers pollute their own bodies, reject authority and slander celestial beings. But even the archangel Michael, when he was disputing with the devil about the body of Moses, did not dare to bring a slanderous accusation against him, but said, "The Lord rebuke you!" Yet these men speak abusively against whatever they do not understand; and what things they do understand by instinct, like unreasoning animals—these are the very things that destroy them.
- Woe to them! They have taken the way of Cain; they have rushed for profit into Balaam's error; they have been destroyed in Korah's rebellion. These men are blemishes at your love feasts, eating with you without the slightest qualm—shepherds who feed only themselves. They are clouds without rain, blown along by the wind; autumn trees, without fruit and uprooted—twice dead. They are wild waves of the sea, foaming up their shame; wandering stars, for whom blackest darkness has been reserved forever.
- Jude 14-16 PROPHECY OF JUDGMENT. Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied about these men: "See, the Lord is coming with thousands upon thousands of his holy ones to judge everyone, and to convict all the ungodly of all the ungodly acts they have done in the ungodly way, and of all the harsh words ungodly sinners have spoken against him." These men are grumblers and faultfinders; they follow their own evil desires; they boast about themselves and flatter others for their own advantage.
- Jude 17-21 ADMONITION TO BE FAITHFUL. But, dear friends, remember what the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ foretold. They said to you, "In the last times there will be scoffers who will follow their own ungodly desires." These are the men who divide you, who follow mere natural instincts and do not have the Spirit.
- But you, dear friends, build yourselves up in your most holy faith and pray in the Holy Spirit. Keep yourselves in God's love as you wait for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ to bring you to eternal life.
- Jude 22,23 OBLIGATIONS TOWARD THE ERRING. Be merciful to those who doubt; snatch others from the fire and save them; to others show mercy, mixed with fear—hating even the clothing stained by corrupted flesh.
- Jude 24,25 BENEDICTION. To him who is able to keep you from falling and to present you before his glorious presence without fault and with great joy—to the only God our Savior be glory, majesty, power and authority, through Jesus Christ our Lord, before all ages, now and forevermore! Amen.

First Letter by Peter

The historical record of Acts does not mention the apostle Peter after the Jerusalem conference, but it appears that his ministry proceeded in the same time period as the missionary efforts of the apostle Paul. It is also evident that their paths must have crossed, perhaps in Rome, and that they were acquainted with each other's work. They even labored together with some of the same brethren—Silas (Silvanus) and Mark (John Mark). Therefore it comes as no surprise that, in the two letters written by Peter, he uses Silas as his scribe, refers to Mark as "my son," and mentions Paul's letters in a way that indicates his familiarity with their contents.

Both of Peter's letters are evidently addressed to the same audience, principally Gentile Christians throughout Asia, Bithynia, Pontus, Galatia, and Cappadocia. These are some of the same areas where Paul had established churches on his preaching tours and include the same Christians to whom Paul had addressed some of his letters. Peter's letters may have been written from either Rome or Jerusalem, as indicated by Peter's reference to the apparently pseudonymous "Babylon." As with other epistles, the exact dates of Peter's two letters are uncertain. If the traditional dating of Peter's death is accurate, the letters would have been written sometime prior to A.D. 64.

Without doubt this is a time of hostility, if not actual physical persecution, against all Christians. Therefore the subject of Peter's first letter is suffering, and the thrust of the letter is an exhortation to steadfastness. Peter begins by recounting for his readers the blessings which they have in their redemption, and then encourages them in the fact that in Christ they are God's special people. But Peter also reminds them that, as God's redeemed ones, they have a responsibility to glorify God in their lives. He concludes by noting the blessings which come through persecution and by urging steadfastness through faith and godliness.

SALUTATION. Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ,

1 Pet. 1:1,2

To God's elect, strangers in the world, scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia and Bithynia, who have been chosen according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through the sanctifying work of the Spirit, for obedience to Jesus Christ and sprinkling by his blood:

Grace and peace be yours in abundance.

The Blessings of Redemption

PRAISE FOR LIVING HOPE. Praise be to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! In his great mercy he has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, and into an inheritance that can never perish, spoil or fade—kept in heaven for you, who through faith are shielded by God's power until the coming of the salvation that is ready to be revealed in the last time.

1 Pet. 1:3-5

SUFFERING BEFORE SALVATION. In this you greatly rejoice, though now for a little while you may have had to suffer grief in all kinds of trials. These have come so that your faith—of greater worth than gold, which perishes even though refined by fire—may be proved genuine and may result in praise, glory and honor when Jesus Christ is revealed.

1 Pet. 1:6,7

1 Pet. 1:8,9 FAITH IN UNSEEN. Though you have not seen him, you love him; and even though you do not see him now, you believe in him and are filled with an inexpressible and glorious joy, for you are receiving the goal of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

1 Pet. 1:10-12 GOD'S GRACE FORETOLD. Concerning this salvation, the prophets, who spoke of the grace that was to come to you, searched intently and with the greatest care, trying to find out the time and circumstances to which the Spirit of Christ in them was pointing when he predicted the sufferings of Christ and the glories that would follow. It was revealed to them that they were not serving themselves but you, when they spoke of the things that have now been told you by those who have preached the gospel to you by the Holy Spirit sent from heaven. Even angels long to look into these things.

The Nature of Redemption

1 Pet. 1:13-17 HOLINESS RESPONSIVE TO GRACE. Therefore, prepare your minds for action; be self-controlled; set your hope fully on the grace to be given you when Jesus Christ is revealed. As obedient children, do not conform to the evil desires you had when you lived in ignorance. But just as he who called you is holy, so be holy in all you do; for it is written: "Be holy, because I am holy."^b

Since you call on a Father who judges each man's work impartially, live your lives as strangers here in reverent fear.

1 Pet. 1:18-21 CHRIST AS RANSOM. For you know that it was not with perishable things such as silver or gold that you were redeemed from the empty way of life handed down to you from your forefathers, but with the precious blood of Christ, a lamb without blemish or defect. He was chosen before the creation of the world, but was revealed in these last times for your sake. Through him you believe in God, who raised him from the dead and glorified him, and so your faith and hope are in God.

1 Pet. 1:22-25 NEW CREATURES. Now that you have purified yourselves by obeying the truth so that you have sincere love for your brothers, love one another deeply, from the heart.^c For you have been born again, not of perishable seed, but of imperishable, through the living and enduring word of God. For,

"All men are like grass,
and all their glory is like the flowers of the field;
the grass withers and the flowers fall,
but the word of the Lord stands forever."^d

And this is the word that was preached to you.

1 Pet. 2:1-3 SPIRITUAL MATURITY. Therefore, rid yourselves of all malice and all deceit, hypocrisy, envy, and slander of every kind. Like newborn babies, crave pure spiritual milk, so that by it you may grow up in your salvation, now that you have tasted that the Lord is good.

^bLev. 11:44,45; 19:2; 20:7

^cSome early manuscripts from a pure heart

^dIsaiah 40:6-8

STRENGTH AND ACCESS. As you come to him, the living Stone— rejected by men but chosen by God and precious to him— you also, like living stones, are being built into a spiritual house to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. 1 Pet. 2:4,5

CHRIST THE CORNERSTONE. For in Scripture it says: 1 Pet. 2:6-8

“See, I lay a stone in Zion,
a chosen and precious cornerstone,
and the one who trusts in him will never be put to shame.”^e Now to you who believe, this stone is precious. But to those who do not believe,

“The stone the builders rejected has become the capstone,”^g and,
“A stone that causes men to stumble and a rock that makes them fall.”^h

They stumble because they disobey the message—which is also what they were destined for.

GOD’S CHOSEN PEOPLE. But you are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a people belonging to God, that you may declare the praises of him who called you out of darkness into his wonderful light. Once you were not a people, but now you are the people of God; once you had not received mercy, but now you have received mercy. 1 Pet. 2:9,10

Glorifying God for Redemption

IN CONDUCT. Dear friends, I urge you, as aliens and strangers in the world, to abstain from sinful desires, which war against your soul. Live such good lives among the pagans that, though they accuse you of doing wrong, they may see your good deeds and glorify God on the day he visits us. 1 Pet. 2:11,12

AS A CITIZEN. Submit yourselves for the Lord’s sake to every authority instituted among men: whether to the king, as the supreme authority, or to governors, who are sent by him to punish those who do wrong and to commend those who do right. For it is God’s will that by doing good you should silence the ignorant talk of foolish men. Live as free men, but do not use your freedom as a cover-up for evil; live as servants of God. Show proper respect to everyone: Love the brotherhood of believers, fear God, honor the king. 1 Pet. 2:13-17

AS A SLAVE. Slaves, submit yourselves to your masters with all respect, not only to those who are good and considerate, but also to those who are harsh. For it is commendable if a man bears up under the pain of unjust suffering because he is conscious of God. But how is it to your credit if you receive a beating for doing wrong and endure it? But if you suffer for doing good and you endure it, this is commendable before God. To this you were called, because Christ suffered for you, leaving you an example, that you should follow in his steps. 1 Pet. 2:18-25

“He committed no sin, and no deceit was found in his mouth.”ⁱ When they hurled their insults at him, he did not retaliate; when he suffered, he made no threats. Instead, he entrusted himself to him who judges justly. He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness; by his wounds you have been healed. For you were like sheep going astray, but now you have returned to the Shepherd and Overseer of your souls.

1 Pet. 3:1-6 AS A WIFE. Wives, in the same way be submissive to your husbands so that, if any of them do not believe the word, they may be won over without words by the behavior of their wives, when they see the purity and reverence of your lives. Your beauty should not come from outward adornment, such as braided hair and the wearing of gold jewelry and fine clothes. Instead, it should be that of your inner self, the unfading beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit, which is of great worth in God's sight. For this is the way the holy women of the past who put their hope in God used to make themselves beautiful. They were submissive to their own husbands, like Sarah, who obeyed Abraham and called him her master. You are her daughters if you do what is right and do not give way to fear.

1 Pet. 3:7 AS A HUSBAND. Husbands, in the same way be considerate as you live with your wives, and treat them with respect as the weaker partner and as heirs with you of the gracious gift of life, so that nothing will hinder your prayers.

1 Pet. 3:8-12 IN LOVE AND UNITY. Finally, all of you, live in harmony with one another; be sympathetic, love as brothers, be compassionate and humble. Do not repay evil with evil or insult with insult, but with blessing, because to this you were called so that you may inherit a blessing. For,

"Whoever would love life and see good days must keep his tongue from evil and his lips from deceitful speech.
He must turn from evil and do good;
he must seek peace and pursue it.
For the eyes of the Lord are on the righteous and his ears are attentive to their prayer, but the face of the Lord is against those who do evil."ⁱ

Steadfastness in Persecution

1 Pet. 3:13-17 CONFIDENCE IN TRIALS. Who is going to harm you if you are eager to do good? But even if you should suffer for what is right, you are blessed. "Do not fear what they fear^k; do not be frightened."^l But in your hearts set apart Christ as Lord. Always be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks you to give the reason for the hope that you have. But do this with gentleness and respect, keeping a clear conscience, so that those who speak maliciously against your good behavior in Christ may be ashamed of their slander. It is better, if it is God's will, to suffer for doing good than for doing evil.

ⁱPsalms 34:12-16

^lIsaiah 8:12

EFFICACY OF CHRIST'S DEATH. For Christ died for sins once for all, the righteous for the unrighteous, to bring you to God. He was put to death in the body but made alive by the Spirit, through whom^m also he went and preached to the spirits in prison who disobeyed long ago when God waited patiently in the days of Noah while the ark was being built. In it only a few people, eight in all, were saved through water,

1 Pet.
3:18-20

MEANING OF BAPTISM. and this water symbolizes baptism that now saves you also—not the removal of dirt from the body but the pledgeⁿ of a good conscience toward God. It saves you by the resurrection of Jesus Christ, who has gone into heaven and is at God's right hand—with angels, authorities and powers in submission to him.

1 Pet.
3:21,22

SUFFERING WITHOUT SIN. Therefore, since Christ suffered in his body, arm yourselves also with the same attitude, because he who has suffered in his body is done with sin. As a result, he does not live the rest of his earthly life for evil human desires, but rather for the will of God. For you have spent enough time in the past doing what pagans choose to do—living in debauchery, lust, drunkenness, orgies, carousing and detestable idolatry. They think it strange that you do not plunge with them into the same flood of dissipation, and they heap abuse on you. But they will have to give account to him who is ready to judge the living and the dead. For this is the reason the gospel was preached even to those who are now dead, so that they might be judged according to men in regard to the body, but live according to God in regard to the spirit.

1 Pet. 4:1-6

BROTHERLY LOVE. The end of all things is near. Therefore be clear minded and self-controlled so that you can pray. Above all, love each other deeply, because love covers over a multitude of sins. Offer hospitality to one another without grumbling. Each one should use whatever gift he has received to serve others, faithfully administering God's grace in its various forms. If anyone speaks, he should do it as one speaking the very words of God. If anyone serves, he should do it with the strength God provides, so that in all things God may be praised through Jesus Christ. To him be the glory and the power for ever and ever. Amen.

1 Pet.
4:7-11

SUFFERING AS CHRISTIANS. Dear friends, do not be surprised at the painful trial you are suffering, as though something strange were happening to you. But rejoice that you participate in the sufferings of Christ, so that you may be overjoyed when his glory is revealed. If you are insulted because of the name of Christ, you are blessed, for the Spirit of glory and of God rests on you. If you suffer, it should not be as a murderer or thief or any other kind of criminal, or even as a meddler. However, if you suffer as a Christian, do not be ashamed, but praise God that you bear that name. For it is time for judgment to begin with the family of God; and if it begins with us, what will the outcome be for those who do not obey the gospel of God? And,

1 Pet.
4:12-19

"If it is hard for the righteous to be saved, what will become of the ungodly and the sinner?"^o

So then, those who suffer according to God's will should commit themselves to their faithful Creator and continue to do good.

And when the Chief Shepherd appears, you will receive the crown of glory that will never fade away.

1 Pet. 5:5-7 RESPECT AND HUMILITY. Young men, in the same way be submissive to those who are older. All of you, clothe yourselves with humility toward one another, because,

"God opposes the proud
but gives grace to the humble."^p

Humble yourselves, therefore, under God's mighty hand, that he may lift you up in due time. Cast all your anxiety on him because he cares for you.

1 Pet.

EXHORTATION FOR PERSECUTION. Be self-controlled and alert. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour. Resist him, standing firm in the faith, because you know that your brothers throughout the world are undergoing the same kind of sufferings.

And the God of all grace, who called you to his eternal glory in Christ, after you have suffered a little while, will himself restore you and make you strong, firm and steadfast. To him be the power for ever and ever. Amen.

Concluding Thoughts

1 Pet.
5:12-14

BENEDICTION. With the help of Silas,^q whom I regard as a faithful brother, I have written to you briefly, encouraging you and testifying that this is the true grace of God. Stand fast in it.

Second Letter by Peter

One of the interesting aspects of Peter's second letter is the prediction of his own imminent death. This seems to indicate that the letter is written very near the end of Peter's life, perhaps after the death of Paul and possibly about A.D. 64. The letter is similar in content both to Jude's letter, which warned against false teachers, and to Paul's discussion of the second coming in his two letters to the Thessalonians.

The error being taught by these false teachers presumably is in regard to the second coming. Evidently their teaching concerning the actual time of the Lord's reappearance is leading some not only to a life of idleness (against which Paul had warned) but also to worldliness and immorality. It is exactly the same problem which the prophet Malachi addressed. When the promised

^pProv. 3:34 ^qGreek Silvanus, a variant of Silas

Messiah did not appear soon after his coming was foretold, many Jews became cynical and turned away from God altogether. Here now, some five centuries later, some Christians who have not been blessed with an immediate second coming of the Messiah are also giving up and living lives unbefitting Christians.

It is to this situation that Peter now addresses his own warnings. Peter begins his letter by stressing the importance of true spiritual knowledge. He warns his readers to beware of those who might pervert the gospel of Christ by teaching a counterfeit doctrine. Like Malachi, Peter concludes by clarifying once again that, although Christ has not reappeared as quickly as some have expected, both his coming and the judgment of man are as certain as God's Word itself. The strong implication is that some of his readers ought to be thankful that the Lord has not yet come again, because if he had, they would not have been ready!

SALUTATION. Simon Peter, a servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, 2 Pet. 1:1,2

To those who through the righteousness of our God and Savior Jesus Christ have received a faith as precious as ours:

Grace and peace be yours in abundance through the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

Value of True Knowledge

KNOWLEDGE BRINGS GODLINESS. His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness. Through these he has given us his very great and precious promises, so that through them you may participate in the divine nature and escape the corruption in the world caused by evil desires. 2 Pet. 1:3,4

BEYOND KNOWLEDGE INTO LOVE. For this very reason, make every effort to add to your faith goodness; and to goodness, knowledge; and to knowledge, self-control; and to self-control, perseverance; and to perseverance, godliness; and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love. For if you possess these qualities in increasing measure, they will keep you from being ineffective and unproductive in your knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. But if anyone does not have them, he is nearsighted and blind, and has forgotten that he has been cleansed from his past sins. 2 Pet. 1:5-9

NEED TO AFFIRM CALLING. Therefore, my brothers, be all the more eager to make your calling and election sure. For if you do these things, you will never fall, and you will receive a rich welcome into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. 2 Pet. 1:10,11

REMINDER IN FACE OF DEATH. So I will always remind you of these things, even though you know them and are firmly established in the truth you now have. I think it is right to refresh your memory as long as I live in the tent of this body, because I know that I will soon put it aside, as our Lord Jesus Christ has made clear to me. And I will make every effort to see that after my departure you will always be able to remember these things. 2 Pet. 1:12-15

- 2 Pet.
1:16-18 FACTUAL NATURE OF GOSPEL. We did not follow cleverly invented stories when we told you about the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but we were eyewitnesses of his majesty. For he received honor and glory from God the Father when the voice came to him from the Majestic Glory, saying, "This is my Son, whom I love; with him I am well pleased."^r We ourselves heard this voice that came from heaven when we were with him on the sacred mountain.
- 2 Pet.
1:19-21 FULFILLMENT OF PROPHECY. And we have the word of the prophets made more certain, and you will do well to pay attention to it, as to a light shining in a dark place, until the day dawns and the morning star rises in your hearts. Above all, you must understand that no prophecy of Scripture came about by the prophet's own interpretation. For prophecy never had its origin in the will of man, but men spoke from God as they were carried along by the Holy Spirit.

Danger of False Teachers

- 2 Pet. 2:1-3 FALSE TEACHERS. But there were also false prophets among the people, just as there will be false teachers among you. They will secretly introduce destructive heresies, even denying the sovereign Lord who bought them—bringing swift destruction on themselves. Many will follow their shameful ways and will bring the way of truth into disrepute. In their greed these teachers will exploit you with stories they have made up. Their condemnation has long been hanging over them, and their destruction has not been sleeping.
- 2 Pet.
2:4-10a GOD WILL PUNISH WICKED. For if God did not spare angels when they sinned, but sent them to hell,^s putting them into gloomy dungeons^t to be held for judgment; if he did not spare the ancient world when he brought the flood on its ungodly people, but protected Noah, a preacher of righteousness, and seven others; if he condemned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah by burning them to ashes, and made them an example of what is going to happen to the ungodly; and if he rescued Lot, a righteous man, who was distressed by the filthy lives of lawless men (for that righteous man, living among them day after day, was tormented in his righteous soul by the lawless deeds he saw and heard)—if this is so, then the Lord knows how to rescue godly men from trials and to hold the unrighteous for the day of judgment, while continuing their punishment.^u This is especially true of those who follow the corrupt desire of the sinful nature^v and despise authority.
- 2 Pet.
2:10b-16 DESCRIPTION OF FALSE TEACHERS. Bold and arrogant, these men are not afraid to slander celestial beings; yet even angels, although they are stronger and more powerful, do not bring slanderous accusations against such beings in the presence of the Lord. But these men blaspheme in matters they do not understand. They are like brute beasts, creatures of instinct, born only to be caught and destroyed, and like beasts they too will perish.
- They will be paid back with harm for the harm they have done. Their idea of pleasure is to carouse in broad daylight. They are blots and blemishes, reveling in their pleasures while they feast with you.^w With eyes full of adultery, they never stop sinning; they seduce the unstable; they are experts in greed—an accursed brood! They have left the straight way and wandered off to follow the way of Balaam son of Beor, who loved the wages of wickedness. But he was rebuked for his wrongdoing by a donkey—a beast without speech—who spoke with a man’s voice and restrained the prophet’s madness.

RESULTS OF THEIR TEACHING. These men are springs without water and mists driven by a storm. Blackest darkness is reserved for them. For they mouth empty, boastful words and, by appealing to the lustful desires of sinful human nature, they entice people who are just escaping from those who live in error. They promise them freedom, while they themselves are slaves of depravity—for a man is a slave to whatever has mastered him. If they have escaped the corruption of the world by knowing our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ and are again entangled in it and overcome, they are worse off at the end than they were at the beginning. It would have been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than to have known it and then to turn their backs on the sacred command that was passed on to them. Of them the proverbs are true: “A dog returns to its vomit,”^x and, “A sow that is washed goes back to her wallowing in the mud.”

2 Pet.
2:17-22

Regarding the Second Coming

REASON FOR LETTER. Dear friends, this is now my second letter to you. I have written both of them as reminders to stimulate you to wholesome thinking. I want you to recall the words spoken in the past by the holy prophets and the command given by our Lord and Savior through your apostles.

2 Pet. 3:1,2

SECOND COMING CERTAIN. First of all, you must understand that in the last days scoffers will come, scoffing and following their own evil desires. They will say, “Where is this ‘coming’ he promised? Ever since our fathers died, everything goes on as it has since the beginning of creation.” But they deliberately forget that long ago by God’s word the heavens existed and the earth was formed out of water and by water. By these waters also the world of that time was deluged and destroyed. By the same word the present heavens and earth are reserved for fire, being kept for the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men.

2 Pet. 3:3-7

REASON FOR DELAY. But do not forget this one thing, dear friends: With the Lord a day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years are like a day. The Lord is not slow in keeping his promise, as some understand slowness. He is patient with you, not wanting anyone to perish, but everyone to come to repentance.

2 Pet. 3:8,9

DESCRIPTION OF SECOND COMING. But the day of the Lord will come like a thief. The heavens will disappear with a roar; the elements will be destroyed by fire, and the earth and everything in it will be laid bare.^y

2 Pet. 3:10

HOPE SHOULD PROMPT GODLINESS. Since everything will be destroyed in this way, what kind of people ought you to be? You ought to live holy and godly lives as you look forward to the day of God and speed its coming.^z That day will bring about the destruction of the heavens by fire, and the elements will melt in the heat. But in keeping with his promise we are looking forward to a new heaven and a new earth, the home of righteousness.

2 Pet. 3:14-16 AGREEMENT WITH PAUL. So then, dear friends, since you are looking forward to this, make every effort to be found spotless, blameless and at peace with him. Bear in mind that our Lord's patience means salvation, just as our dear brother Paul also wrote you with the wisdom that God gave him. He writes the same way in all his letters, speaking in them of these matters. His letters contain some things that are hard to understand, which ignorant and unstable people distort, as they do the other Scriptures, to their own destruction.

2 Pet. 3:17,18 FINAL WARNING. Therefore, dear friends, since you already know this, be on your guard so that you may not be carried away by the error of lawless men and fall from your secure position. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and forever! Amen.

Letter to the Hebrews

The writing traditionally referred to as the letter to the Hebrews takes that designation from the fact that it is undoubtedly directed toward Christians having a Jewish background. However, the exact location of those particular Jewish Christians is nowhere indicated. Although many have attributed the writing to Paul, there is reason to believe that it may have been written between A.D. 65 and A.D. 70, sometime after Paul's death but prior to the destruction of the temple, when Jerusalem was sacked. One indication that the writing may have occurred after Paul's death is a reference to the release of Timothy. Neither in the historical record nor in any of Paul's letters is there any indication that Timothy was ever imprisoned. It is quite possible that, if Timothy had traveled to Rome to be with Paul, as Paul had urged him to do, Timothy himself might have been imprisoned at that time or shortly thereafter.

With Paul's authorship left in doubt, it is not clear who the writer might have been. Some believe him to be Luke, while others believe the writer may have been Paul's colleague Barnabas, or perhaps Apollos. Whoever it was, the letter reveals that the author is personally acquainted with those to whom he is writing and is familiar with the persecution which they are enduring.

Obviously having that suffering in mind, and with an awareness that many of the Jewish Christians are being urged to return to Judaism, the writer sets forth a tremendous defense of the Christian faith, drawing forcefully from a Jewish context in urging continued faith in Jesus as the Christ. Moving logically and systematically from one argument to another, the writer shows the superiority of Christ over all that is held to be important to the Jewish religion—prophets, angels, Moses, Joshua, the Levitical priesthood, the covenant, and the sacrifices. Midway through his letter the writer makes a particularly profound argument based upon the character of a high priest named Melchizedek, to whom Abraham had given an offering. Anticipating that some of his readers might miss the point of his argument concerning Christ's superiority, the writer pauses parenthetically to tell his readers that they need to be more mature in their spiritual understanding. Finally, the writer lists a group of faithful people of God as examples of steadfastness and endurance. He exhorts his readers to imitate the faithful lives of these men and women.

As the writing begins, Christ's majesty is declared with beauty and power.

The Majesty of Christ

GOD SPEAKS THROUGH CHRIST. In the past God spoke to our forefathers through the prophets at many times and in various ways, but in these last days he has spoken to us by his Son, whom he appointed heir of all things, and through whom he made the universe. The Son is the radiance of God's glory and the exact representation of his being, sustaining all things by his powerful word. After he had provided purification for sins, he sat down at the right hand of the Majesty in heaven. Heb. 1:1-3

CHRIST GREATER THAN ANGELS. So he became as much superior to the angels as the name he has inherited is superior to theirs. Heb. 1:4-14

For to which of the angels did God ever say,

"You are my Son;
today I have become your Father"^a "^b?

Or again,

"I will be his Father,
and he will be my Son"^c?

And again, when God brings his firstborn into the world, he says,

"Let all God's angels worship him."^d

In speaking of the angels he says,

"He makes his angels winds, his servants flames of fire."^e

But about the Son he says,

"Your throne, O God, will last for ever and ever,
and righteousness will be the scepter of your kingdom.
You have loved righteousness and hated wickedness;
therefore God, your God, has set you above your companions
by anointing you with the oil of joy."^f

He also says,

^aOr have begotten you ^bPsalms 2:7 ^c2 Samuel 7:14; 1 Chron. 17:13 ^dDeut. 32:43
(see Dead Sea Scrolls and Septuagint) ^ePsalms 104:4 ^fPsalms 45:6,7

“In the beginning, O Lord, you laid the foundations of the earth,
and the heavens are the work of your hands.
They will perish, but you remain;
they will all wear out like a garment.
You will roll them up like a robe;
like a garment they will be changed.
But you remain the same,
and your years will never end.”^g

To which of the angels did God ever say,

“Sit at my right hand
until I make your enemies
a footstool for your feet”^h?

Are not all angels ministering spirits sent to serve those who will inherit salvation?

Heb. 2:1-4 WARNING AGAINST REJECTION. We must pay more careful attention, therefore, to what we have heard, so that we do not drift away. For if the message spoken by angels was binding, and every violation and disobedience received its just punishment, how shall we escape if we ignore such a great salvation? This salvation, which was first announced by the Lord, was confirmed to us by those who heard him. God also testified to it by signs, wonders and various miracles, and gifts of the Holy Spirit distributed according to his will.

Heb. 2:5-8a ALL THINGS SUBJECT TO CHRIST. It is not to angels that he has subjected the world to come, about which we are speaking. But there is a place where someone has testified:

“What is man that you are mindful of him,
the son of man that you care for him?
You made him a littleⁱ lower than the angels;
you crowned him with glory and honor and put everything under his feet.”^j

In putting everything under him, God left nothing that is not subject to him.

Heb. 2:8b-13 CHRIST'S DEATH SHOWS GRACE. Yet at present we do not see everything subject to him. But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels, now crowned with glory and honor because he suffered death, so that by the grace of God he might taste death for everyone.

In bringing many sons to glory, it was fitting that God, for whom and through whom everything exists, should make the author of their salvation perfect through suffering. Both the one who makes men holy and those who are made holy are of the same family. So Jesus is not ashamed to call them brothers. He says,

“I will declare your name to my brothers; in the presence of the congregation I will sing your praises.”^k And again,
“I will put my trust in him.”^l

CHRIST'S HUMANITY GIVES HOPE. Since the children have flesh and blood, he too shared in their humanity so that by his death he might destroy him who holds the power of death—that is, the devil—and free those who all their lives were held in slavery by their fear of death. For surely it is not angels he helps, but Abraham's descendants. For this reason he had to be made like his brothers in every way, in order that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in service to God, and that he might make atonement forⁿ the sins of the people. Because he himself suffered when he was tempted, he is able to help those who are being tempted.

Heb.
2:14-18

Christ Superior to Moses

JESUS IS GREATER THAN MOSES. Therefore, holy brothers, who share in the heavenly calling, fix your thoughts on Jesus, the apostle and high priest whom we confess. He was faithful to the one who appointed him, just as Moses was faithful in all God's house. Jesus has been found worthy of greater honor than Moses, just as the builder of a house has greater honor than the house itself. For every house is built by someone, but God is the builder of everything. Moses was faithful as a servant in all God's house, testifying to what would be said in the future. But Christ is faithful as a son over God's house. And we are his house, if we hold on to our courage and the hope of which we boast.

Heb. 3:1-6

SCRIPTURE CALLS FOR BELIEF. So, as the Holy Spirit says:

Heb.
3:7-11

“Today, if you hear his voice,
do not harden your hearts
as you did in the rebellion, during the time of testing in the desert,
where your fathers tested and tried me and for forty years saw what I did.
That is why I was angry with that generation,
and I said, ‘Their hearts are always going astray,
and they have not known my ways.’
So I declared on oath in my anger,
‘They shall never enter my rest.’”^o

SIN OF UNBELIEF. See to it, brothers, that none of you has a sinful, unbelieving heart that turns away from the living God. But encourage one another daily, as long as it is called Today, so that none of you may be hardened by sin's deceitfulness. We have come to share in Christ if we hold firmly till the end the confidence we had at first. As has just been said:

Heb.
3:12-15

“Today, if you hear his voice,
do not harden your hearts
as you did in the rebellion.”^p for forty years? Was it not with those who sinned, whose bodies fell in the desert? And to whom did God swear that they would never enter his rest if not to those who disobeyed^{q?} So we see that they were not able to enter, because of their unbelief.

Christ Superior to Joshua

Heb. 4:1-5 PROMISED REST FOR FAITHFUL. Therefore, since the promise of entering his rest still stands, let us be careful that none of you be found to have fallen short of it. For we also have had the gospel preached to us, just as they did; but the message they heard was of no value to them, because those who heard did not combine it with faith.^r Now we who have believed enter that rest, just as God has said,

“So I declared on oath in my anger,
“They shall never enter my rest.”^s

And yet his work has been finished since the creation of the world. For somewhere he has spoken about the seventh day in these words: “And on the seventh day God rested from all his work.”^t And again in the passage above he says, “They shall never enter my rest.”

Heb. 4:6-10 CHRIST’S REST SUPERIOR. It still remains that some will enter that rest, and those who formerly had the gospel preached to them did not go in, because of their disobedience. Therefore God again set a certain day, calling it Today, when a long time later he spoke through David, as was said before:

“Today, if you hear his voice,
do not harden your hearts.”^u

For if Joshua had given them rest, God would not have spoken later about another day. There remains, then, a Sabbath-rest for the people of God; for anyone who enters God’s rest also rests from his own work, just as God did from his.

Heb. 4:11-13 NEED FOR OBEDIENCE. Let us, therefore, make every effort to enter that rest, so that no one will fall by following their example of disobedience.

For the word of God is living and active. Sharper than any double-edged sword, it penetrates even to dividing soul and spirit, joints and marrow; it judges the thoughts and attitudes of the heart. Nothing in all creation is hidden from God’s sight Everything is uncovered and laid bare before the eyes of him to whom we must give account.

Jesus As High Priest

Heb. 4:14-16 JESUS BRINGS ACCESS TO GOD. Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has gone through the heavens,^v Jesus the Son of God, let us hold firmly to the faith we profess. For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are—yet was without sin. Let us then approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need.

^qOr disbelieved ^rMany manuscripts because they did not share in the faith of those who obeyed ^sPsalms 95:11 ^tGen. 2:2 ^uPsalms 95:7,8 ^vOr gone into heaven

HIGH PRIESTS INTERCEDE. Every high priest is selected from among men and is appointed to represent them in matters related to God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins. He is able to deal gently with those who are ignorant and are going astray, since he himself is subject to weakness. This is why he has to offer sacrifices for his own sins, as well as for the sins of the people. Heb. 5:1-3

JESUS A SPECIAL HIGH PRIEST. No one takes this honor upon himself; he must be called by God, just as Aaron was. So Christ also did not take upon himself the glory of becoming a high priest. But God said to him, Heb. 5:4-10

“You are my Son;
today I have become your Father.”^x

And he says in another place,

“You are a priest forever,
in the order of Melchizedek.”^y

During the days of Jesus’ life on earth, he offered up prayers and petitions with loud cries and tears to the one who could save him from death, and he was heard because of his reverent submission. Although he was a son, he learned obedience from what he suffered and, once made perfect, he became the source of eternal salvation for all who obey him and was designated by God to be high priest in the order of Melchizedek.

Parentetical Thoughts Regarding Readers

EXPLANATION DIFFICULT. We have much to say about this, but it is hard to explain because you are slow to learn. In fact, though by this time you ought to be teachers, you need someone to teach you the elementary truths of God’s word all over again. You need milk, not solid food! Anyone who lives on milk, being still an infant, is not acquainted with the teaching about righteousness. But solid food is for the mature, who by constant use have trained themselves to distinguish good from evil. Heb. 5:11-14

NEED TO MATURE. Therefore let us leave the elementary teachings about Christ and go on to maturity, not laying again the foundation of repentance from acts that lead to death,^z and of faith in God, instruction about baptisms, the laying on of hands, the resurrection of the dead, and eternal judgment. And God permitting, we will do so. Heb. 6:1-3

WARNING AGAINST FALLING AWAY. It is impossible for those who have once been enlightened, who have tasted the heavenly gift, who have shared in the Holy Spirit, who have tasted the goodness of the word of God and the powers of the coming age, if they fall away, to be brought back to repentance, because^a to their loss they are crucifying the Son of God all over again and subjecting him to public disgrace. Heb. 6:4-6

Land that drinks in the rain often falling on it and that produces a crop useful to those for whom it is farmed receives the blessing of God. But land that produces thorns and thistles is worthless and is in danger of being cursed. In the end it will be burned.

CONFIDENCE IN CONTINUED FAITH. Even though we speak like this, dear friends, we are confident of better things in your case—things that accompany salvation. God is not unjust; he will not forget your work Heb. 6:9-12

Christ Superior to Priesthood

Heb.
6:13-20

CHRIST'S SACRIFICE. When God made his promise to Abraham, since there was no one greater for him to swear by, he swore by himself, saying, "I will surely bless you and give you many descendants."^b And so after waiting patiently, Abraham received what was promised.

Men swear by someone greater than themselves, and the oath confirms what is said and puts an end to all argument. Because God wanted to make the unchanging nature of his purpose very clear to the heirs of what was promised, he confirmed it with an oath. God did this so that, by two unchangeable things in which it is impossible for God to lie, we who have fled to take hold of the hope offered to us may be greatly encouraged. We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure. It enters the inner sanctuary behind the curtain, where Jesus, who went before us, has entered on our behalf. He has become a high priest forever, in the order of Melchizedek.

Heb. 7:1-3

PRIEST LIKE MELCHIZEDEK. This Melchizedek was king of Salem and priest of God Most High. He met Abraham returning from the defeat of the kings and blessed him, and Abraham gave him a tenth of everything. First, his name means "king of righteousness"; then also, "king of Salem" means "king of peace." Without father or mother, without genealogy, without beginning of days or end of life, like the Son of God he remains a priest forever.

Heb.
7:4-10

MELCHIZEDEK'S SUPERIORITY. Just think how great he was: Even the patriarch Abraham gave him a tenth of the plunder! Now the law requires the descendants of Levi who become priests to collect a tenth from the people—that is, their brothers—even though their brothers are descended from Abraham. This man, however, did not trace his descent from Levi, yet he collected a tenth from Abraham and blessed him who had the promises. And without doubt the lesser person is blessed by the greater. In the one case, the tenth is collected by men who die; but in the other case, by him who is declared to be living. One might even say that Levi, who collects the tenth, paid the tenth through Abraham, because when Melchizedek met Abraham, Levi was still in the body of his ancestor.

Heb.
7:11-19

CHRIST'S PRIESTHOOD. If perfection could have been attained through the Levitical priesthood (for on the basis of it the law was given to the people), why was there still need for another priest to come—one in the order of Melchizedek, not in the order of Aaron? For when there is a change of the priesthood, there must also be a change of the law. He of whom these things are said belonged to a different tribe, and no one from that tribe has ever served at the altar. For it is clear that our Lord descended from Judah, and in regard to that tribe Moses said nothing about priests. And what we have said is even more clear if another priest like Mel-

^bGen. 22:17

chizedek appears, one who has become a priest not on the basis of a regulation as to his ancestry but on the basis of the power of an indestructible life. For it is declared:

“You are a priest forever,
in the order of Melchizedek.”^c

The former regulation is set aside because it was weak and useless (for the law made nothing perfect), and a better hope is introduced, by which we draw near to God.

GUARANTEE OF COVENANT. And it was not without an oath! Others became priests without any oath, but he became a priest with an oath when God said to him:

“The Lord has sworn and will not change his mind:
‘You are a priest forever.’”^c

Because of this oath, Jesus has become the guarantee of a better covenant.

CHRIST A PERMANENT PRIEST. Now there have been many of those priests, since death prevented them from continuing in office; but because Jesus lives forever, he has a permanent priesthood. Therefore he is able to save completely^d those who come to God through him, because he always lives to intercede for them.

CHRIST A PERFECT PRIEST. Such a high priest meets our need—one who is holy, blameless, pure, set apart from sinners, exalted above the heavens. Unlike the other high priests, he does not need to offer sacrifices day after day, first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people. He sacrificed for their sins once for all when he offered himself. For the law appoints as high priests men who are weak; but the oath, which came after the law, appointed the Son, who has been made perfect forever.

Superiority of Christ’s Covenant and Sacrifice

TABERNACLE A PATTERN. The point of what we are saying is this: We do have such a high priest, who sat down at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in heaven, and who serves in the sanctuary, the true tabernacle set up by the Lord, not by man.

Every high priest is appointed to offer both gifts and sacrifices, and so it was necessary for this one also to have something to offer. If he were on earth, he would not be a priest, for there are already men who offer the gifts prescribed by the law. They serve at a sanctuary that is a copy and shadow of what is in heaven. This is why Moses was warned when he was about to build the tabernacle: “See to it that you make everything according to the pattern shown you on the mountain.”^e

CHRIST’S COVENANT GREATER. But the ministry Jesus has received is as superior to theirs as the covenant of which he is mediator is superior to the old one, and it is founded on better promises.

For if there had been nothing wrong with that first covenant, no place would have been sought for another.

Heb. 8:8-13 COVENANT NEEDED REPLACING. But God found fault with the people and said^f :

“The time is coming, declares the Lord,
 when I will make a new covenant
 with the house of Israel
 and with the house of Judah.
 It will not be like the covenant
 I made with their forefathers
 when I took them by the hand
 to lead them out of Egypt,
 because they did not remain faithful to my covenant,
 and I turned away from them,
 declares the Lord.
 This is the covenant I will make with the house of Israel
 after that time, declares the Lord.
 I will put my laws in their minds and write them on their hearts.
 I will be their God,
 and they will be my people.
 No longer will a man teach his neighbor,
 or a man his brother, saying, ‘Know the Lord,’
 because they will all know me,
 from the least of them to the greatest.
 For I will forgive their wickedness
 and will remember their sins no more.”^g

By calling this covenant “new,” he has made the first one obsolete; and what is obsolete and aging will soon disappear.

Heb. 9:1-5 OLD COVENANT’S TABERNACLE. Now the first covenant had regulations for worship and also an earthly sanctuary. A tabernacle was set up. In its first room were the lampstand, the table and the consecrated bread; this was called the Holy Place. Behind the second curtain was a room called the Most Holy Place, which had the golden altar of incense and the gold-covered ark of the covenant. This ark contained the gold jar of manna, Aaron’s staff that had budded, and the stone tablets of the covenant. Above the ark were the cherubim of the Glory, overshadowing the atonement cover.^h But we cannot discuss these things in detail now.

Heb. 9:6-10 SACRIFICES ONLY TEMPORARY. When everything had been arranged like this, the priests entered regularly into the outer room to carry on their ministry. But only the high priest entered the inner room, and that only once a year, and never without blood, which he offered for himself and for the sins the people had committed in ignorance. The Holy Spirit was showing by this that the way into the Most Holy Place had not yet been disclosed as long as the first tabernacle was still standing. This is an illustration for the present time, indicating that the gifts and sacrifices being offered were not able to clear the conscience of the worshiper. They are only a matter of food and drink and various ceremonial washings—external regulations applying until the time of the new order.

^fSome manuscripts may be translated fault and said to the people. ^gJer. 31:31-34

^hTraditionally the mercy seat

CHRIST IS PERFECT SACRIFICE. When Christ came as high priest of the good things that are already here,ⁱ he went through the greater and more perfect tabernacle that is not man-made, that is to say, not a part of this creation. He did not enter by means of the blood of goats and calves; but he entered the Most Holy Place once for all by his own blood, having obtained eternal redemption. The blood of goats and bulls and the ashes of a heifer sprinkled on those who are ceremonially unclean sanctify them so that they are outwardly clean. How much more, then, will the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself unblemished to God, cleanse our consciences from acts that lead to death,^j so that we may serve the living God!

Heb.
9:11-14

DEATH VALIDATES COVENANT. For this reason Christ is the mediator of a new covenant, that those who are called may receive the promised eternal inheritance—now that he has died as a ransom to set them free from the sins committed under the first covenant.

Heb.
9:15-22

In the case of a will,^k it is necessary to prove the death of the one who made it, because a will is in force only when somebody has died; it never takes effect while the one who made it is living. This is why even the first covenant was not put into effect without blood. When Moses had proclaimed every commandment of the law to all the people, he took the blood of calves, together with water, scarlet wool and branches of hyssop, and sprinkled the scroll and all the people. He said, "This is the blood of the covenant, which God has commanded you to keep."^l In the same way, he sprinkled with the blood both the tabernacle and everything used in its ceremonies. In fact, the law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness.

SANCTUARY ENTERED ONCE. It was necessary, then, for the copies of the heavenly things to be purified with these sacrifices, but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these. For Christ did not enter a man-made sanctuary that was only a copy of the true one; he entered heaven itself, now to appear for us in God's presence. Nor did he enter heaven to offer himself again and again, the way the high priest enters the Most Holy Place every year with blood that is not his own. Then Christ would have had to suffer many times since the creation of the world. But now he has appeared once for all at the end of the ages to do away with sin by the sacrifice of himself. Just as man is destined to die once, and after that to face judgment, so Christ was sacrificed once to take away the sins of many people; and he will appear a second time, not to bear sin, but to bring salvation to those who are waiting for him.

Heb.
9:23-28

SACRIFICES WERE INEFFECTUAL. The law is only a shadow of the good things that are coming—not the realities themselves. For this reason it can never, by the same sacrifices repeated endlessly year after year, make perfect those who draw near to worship. If it could, would they not have stopped being offered? For the worshipers would have been cleansed once for all, and would no longer have felt guilty for their sins. But those sacrifices are an annual reminder of sins, because it is impossible for the blood of bulls and goats to take away sins.

Heb. 10:5-10 CHRIST REPLACED SACRIFICES. Therefore, when Christ came into the world, he said:

“Sacrifice and offering you did not desire,
but a body you prepared for me;
with burnt offerings and sin offerings
you were not pleased.
Then I said, ‘Here I am—it is written about me in the scroll—
I have come to do your will, O God.’”^m

First he said, “Sacrifices and offerings, burnt offerings and sin offerings you did not desire, nor were you pleased with them” (although the law required them to be made). Then he said, “Here I am, I have come to do your will.” He sets aside the first to establish the second. And by that will, we have been made holy through the sacrifice of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

Heb. 10:11-14 CHRIST BOTH PRIEST AND SACRIFICE. Day after day every priest stands and performs his religious duties; again and again he offers the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins. But when this priest had offered for all time one sacrifice for sins, he sat down at the right hand of God. Since that time he waits for his enemies to be made his footstool, because by one sacrifice he has made perfect forever those who are being made holy.

Heb. 10:15-18 GREAT SACRIFICE FORESEEN. The Holy Spirit also testifies to us about this. First he says:

“This is the covenant I will make with them after that time, says the Lord.
I will put my laws in their hearts,
and I will write them on their minds.”ⁿ

Then he adds:

“Their sins and lawless acts
I will remember no more.”^o

And where these have been forgiven, there is no longer any sacrifice for sin.

Exhortation to Continue Faith in Christ

Heb. 10:19-25 PROPER RESPONSE TO ACCESS. Therefore, brothers, since we have confidence to enter the Most Holy Place by the blood of Jesus, by a new and living way opened for us through the curtain, that is, his body, and since we have a great priest over the house of God, let us draw near to God with a sincere heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled to cleanse us from a guilty conscience and having our bodies washed with pure water. Let us hold unswervingly to the hope we profess, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds. Let us not give up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but let us encourage one another—and all the more as you see the Day approaching.

Heb. 10:26-31 CONSEQUENCES OF REJECTION. If we deliberately keep on sinning after we have received the knowledge of the truth, no sacrifice for sins is left, but only a fearful expectation of judgment and of raging fire that will consume the enemies of God. Anyone who rejected the law of Moses died without mercy on the testimony of two or three witnesses. How much more severely do you think a man deserves to be punished who has trampled the Son of God under foot, who has treated as an unholy thing the blood of the covenant that sanctified him, and who has insulted the Spirit of grace? For we know him who said, "It is mine to avenge; I will repay,"^p and again, "The Lord will judge his people."^q It is a dreadful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

STRENGTH IN PERSECUTION. Remember those earlier days after you had received the light, when you stood your ground in a great contest in the face of suffering. Sometimes you were publicly exposed to insult and persecution; at other times you stood side by side with those who were so treated. You sympathized with those in prison and joyfully accepted the confiscation of your property, because you knew that you yourselves had better and lasting possessions.

Heb.
10:32-34

NEED FOR STRENGTH IN FAITH. So do not throw away your confidence; it will be richly rewarded. You need to persevere so that when you have done the will of God, you will receive what he has promised. For in just a very little while,

Heb.
10:35-39

"He who is coming will come and will not delay.
But my righteous one^r will live by faith.
And if he shrinks back,
I will not be pleased with him."^s

But we are not of those who shrink back and are destroyed, but of those who believe and are saved.

Examples of Great Faith

ASSURANCE AND HOPE. Now faith is being sure of what we hope for and certain of what we do not see. This is what the ancients were commended for.

Heb.
11:1-3

By faith we understand that the universe was formed at God's command, so that what is seen was not made out of what was visible.

FAITH OF THE PATRIARCHS. By faith Abel offered God a better sacrifice than Cain did. By faith he was commended as a righteous man, when God spoke well of his offerings. And by faith he still speaks, even though he is dead.

Heb.
11:4-7

By faith Enoch was taken from this life, so that he did not experience death; he could not be found, because God had taken him away. For before he was taken, he was commended as one who pleased God. And without faith it is impossible to please God, because anyone who comes to him must believe that he exists and that he rewards those who earnestly seek him.

By faith Noah, when warned about things not yet seen, in holy fear built an ark to save his family. By his faith he condemned the world and became heir of the righteousness that comes by faith.

- Heb. 11:8-12 FAITH OF ABRAHAM. By faith Abraham, when called to go to a place he would later receive as his inheritance, obeyed and went, even though he did not know where he was going. By faith he made his home in the promised land like a stranger in a foreign country; he lived in tents, as did Isaac and Jacob, who were heirs with him of the same promise. For he was looking forward to the city with foundations, whose architect and builder is God.
By faith Abraham, even though he was past age—and Sarah herself was barren—was enabled to become a father because he¹ considered him faithful who had made the promise. And so from this one man, and he as good as dead, came descendants as numerous as the stars in the sky and as countless as the sand on the seashore.
- Heb. 11:13-16 FAITH IN UNSEEN COUNTRY. All these people were still living by faith when they died. They did not receive the things promised; they only saw them and welcomed them from a distance. And they admitted that they were aliens and strangers on earth. People who say such things show that they are looking for a country of their own. If they had been thinking of the country they had left, they would have had opportunity to return. Instead, they were longing for a better country—a heavenly one. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared a city for them.
- Heb. 11:17-19 ABRAHAM'S FAITH. By faith Abraham, when God tested him, offered Isaac as a sacrifice. He who had received the promises was about to sacrifice his one and only son, even though God had said to him, "It is through Isaac that your offspring^u will be reckoned."^v Abraham reasoned that God could raise the dead, and figuratively speaking, he did receive Isaac back from death.
- Heb. 11:20-22 ISAAC, JACOB, AND JOSEPH. By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau in regard to their future.
By faith Jacob, when he was dying, blessed each of Joseph's sons, and worshiped as he leaned on the top of his staff.
By faith Joseph, when his end was near, spoke about the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt and gave instructions about his bones.
- Heb. 11:23-28 FAITH OF MOSES. By faith Moses' parents hid him for three months after he was born, because they saw he was no ordinary child, and they were not afraid of the king's edict.
By faith Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be known as the son of Pharaoh's daughter. He chose to be mistreated along with the people of God rather than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a short time. He regarded disgrace for the sake of Christ as of greater value than the treasures of Egypt, because he was looking ahead to his reward. By faith he left Egypt, not fearing the king's anger; he persevered because he saw him who is invisible. By faith he kept the Passover and the sprinkling of blood, so that the destroyer of the firstborn would not touch the firstborn of Israel.

JUDGES, KINGS, AND PROPHETS. And what more shall I say? I do not have time to tell about Gideon, Barak, Samson, Jephthah, David, Samuel and the prophets, who through faith conquered kingdoms, administered justice, and gained what was promised; who shut the mouths of lions, quenched the fury of the flames, and escaped the edge of the sword; whose weakness was turned to strength; and who became powerful in battle and routed foreign armies. Women received back their dead, raised to life again. Others were tortured and refused to be released, so that they might gain a better resurrection. Some faced jeers and flogging, while still others were chained and put in prison. They were stoned^y; they were sawed in two; they were put to death by the sword. They went about in sheepskins and goatskins, destitute, persecuted and mistreated—the world was not worthy of them. They wandered in deserts and mountains, and in caves and holes in the ground. Heb. 11:32-38

FAITH'S REWARD IN CHRIST. These were all commended for their faith, yet none of them received what had been promised. God had planned something better for us so that only together with us would they be made perfect. Heb. 11:39,40

A Call for Steadfast Faith

EXAMPLE DEMANDS PERSEVERANCE. Therefore, since we are surrounded by such a great cloud of witnesses, let us throw off everything that hinders and the sin that so easily entangles, and let us run with perseverance the race marked out for us. Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured such opposition from sinful men, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart. Heb. 12:1-3

STRUGGLES ARE DISCIPLINE. In your struggle against sin, you have not yet resisted to the point of shedding your blood. And you have forgotten that word of encouragement that addresses you as sons: Heb. 12:4-6

“My son, do not make light of the Lord’s discipline, and do not lose heart when he rebukes you,
because the Lord disciplines those he loves,
and he punishes everyone he accepts as a son.”^z

DISCIPLINE SHOWS SONSHIP. Endure hardship as discipline; God is treating you as sons. For what son is not disciplined by his father? If you are not disciplined (and everyone undergoes discipline), then you are illegitimate children and not true sons. Moreover, we have all had human fathers who disciplined us and we respected them for it. How much more Heb. 12:7-11 should we submit to the Father of our spirits and live! Our fathers disciplined us for a little while as they thought best; but God disciplines us for our good, that we may share in his holiness. No discipline seems pleasant at the time, but painful. Later on, however, it produces a harvest of righteousness and peace for those who have been trained by it.

Heb.
12:12-17

FAITH REQUIRES HOLY LIVES. Therefore, strengthen your feeble arms and weak knees. "Make level paths for your feet,"^a so that the lame may not be disabled, but rather healed.

Make every effort to live in peace with all men and to be holy; without holiness no one will see the Lord. See to it that no one misses the grace of God and that no bitter root grows up to cause trouble and defile many. See that no one is sexually immoral, or is godless like Esau, who for a single meal sold his inheritance rights as the oldest son. Afterward, as you know, when he wanted to inherit this blessing, he was rejected. He could bring about no change of mind, though he sought the blessing with tears.

Heb.
12:18-21

JUDGMENT UNDER LAW. You have not come to a mountain that can be touched and that is burning with fire; to darkness, gloom and storm; to a trumpet blast or to such a voice speaking words that those who heard it begged that no further word be spoken to them, because they could not bear what was commanded: "If even an animal touches the mountain, it must be stoned."^b The sight was so terrifying that Moses said, "I am trembling with fear."^c

Heb.
12:22-24

GREATER COVENANT; GREATER JUDGMENT. But you have come to Mount Zion, to the heavenly Jerusalem, the city of the living God. You have come to thousands upon thousands of angels in joyful assembly, to the church of the firstborn, whose names are written in heaven. You have come to God, the judge of all men, to the spirits of righteous men made perfect, to Jesus the mediator of a new covenant, and to the sprinkled blood that speaks a better word than the blood of Abel.

Heb.
12:25-29

GOD TO BE WORSHIPED WITH AWE. See to it that you do not refuse him who speaks. If they did not escape when they refused him who warned them on earth, how much less will we, if we turn away from him who warns us from heaven? At that time his voice shook the earth, but now he has promised, "Once more I will shake not only the earth but also the heavens."^d The words "once more" indicate the removing of what can be shaken—that is, created things—so that what cannot be shaken may remain.

Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us be thankful, and so worship God acceptably with reverence and awe, for our God is a consuming fire.

Various Exhortations

Heb.
13:1-3

LOVE EVEN STRANGERS. Keep on loving each other as brothers. Do not forget to entertain strangers, for by so doing some people have entertained angels without knowing it. Remember those in prison as if you were their fellow prisoners, and those who are mistreated as if you yourselves were suffering.

MAINTAIN SEXUAL PURITY. Marriage should be honored by all, and the marriage bed kept pure, for God will judge the adulterer and all the sexually immoral. Heb. 13:4

DO NOT TRUST WEALTH. Keep your lives free from the love of money and be content with what you have, because God has said, Heb. 13:5,6 “Never will I leave you;

never will I forsake you.”^e So we say with confidence,
“The Lord is my helper; I will not be afraid.
What can man do to me?”^f

IMITATE LIVES OF LEADERS. Remember your leaders, who spoke the word of God to you. Consider the outcome of their way of life and imitate their faith. Heb. 13:7

AVOID DEMEANING TEACHINGS. Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever. Heb. 13:8-10

Do not be carried away by all kinds of strange teachings. It is good for our hearts to be strengthened by grace, not by ceremonial foods, which are of no value to those who eat them. We have an altar from which those who minister at the tabernacle have no right to eat.

LEAVE WORLD SYSTEM FOR CHRIST. The high priest carries the blood of animals into the Most Holy Place as a sin offering, but the bodies are burned outside the camp. And so Jesus also suffered outside the city gate to make the people holy through his own blood. Let us, then, go to him outside the camp, bearing the disgrace he bore. For here we do not have an enduring city, but we are looking for the city that is to come. Heb. 13:11-14

OFFER SACRIFICES OF PRAISE. Through Jesus, therefore, let us continually offer to God a sacrifice of praise—the fruit of lips that confess his name. And do not forget to do good and to share with others, for with such sacrifices God is pleased. Heb. 13:15,16

SUBMIT TO CHURCH LEADERS. Obey your leaders and submit to their authority. They keep watch over you as men who must give an account. Obey them so that their work will be a joy, not a burden, for that would be of no advantage to you. Heb. 13:17

Closing Thoughts

REQUEST FOR PRAYERS. Pray for us. We are sure that we have a clear conscience and desire to live honorably in every way. I particularly urge you to pray so that I may be restored to you soon. Heb. 13:18,19

PRAYER FOR RECIPIENTS. May the God of peace, who through the blood of the eternal covenant brought back from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, equip you with everything good for doing his will, and may he work in us what is pleasing to him, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen. Heb. 13:20,21

FINAL THOUGHTS. Brothers, I urge you to bear with my word of exhortation, for I have written you only a short letter. Heb. 13:22-25

I want you to know that our brother Timothy has been released. If he arrives soon, I will come with him to see you.

First Letter by John

Toward the end of the first century the church begins to face serious challenges both from without and from within. Persecution and suffering are the shared fate of Christians everywhere. Yet an even greater enemy has come from within—the enemy of false teaching. The Gnostic philosophy, popular at this time, teaches that matter is inherently evil, and that human flesh is therefore evil. This philosophy has led not only to flagrant immorality in exercise of fleshly desires but also to the conclusion that God himself could not possibly become flesh. That, of course, is clearly a threat to the Christian belief that Jesus appeared in human flesh. Who might better be fitted to warn of this error than one who had personally known Jesus and who had witnessed the evidences of his deity? Who might have occupied such a position of respect and authority that Christians everywhere would accept his word as truth? Perhaps none other than the now-aging apostle John. Although he does not directly name himself, John is undoubtedly the author of three brief letters which appear to have been written about A.D. 90-95, perhaps from Ephesus.

The first of John's letters is not addressed to any one church or individual in particular. It is probably intended for widespread circulation. As if he were their father, John writes to his "little children" about the need to continue walking in the light of God's righteousness. He warns his readers about the antichrists—those who teach that Jesus was not God in the flesh. Concerned with their daily walk, as well as their belief in Jesus' deity, John exhorts them to lead lives befitting children of God. He points out that true believers can be distinguished from unbelievers by their mutual love, godly lives, and obedience to God's commands. John concludes his letter by noting the assurance and security which God's children have in Jesus Christ.

1 Jn. 1:1-4 JOHN'S EYEWITNESS TESTIMONY. That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked at and our hands have touched—this we proclaim concerning the Word of life. The life appeared; we have seen it and testify to it, and we proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and has appeared to us. We proclaim to you what we have seen and heard, so that you also may have fellowship with us. And our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son, Jesus Christ. We write this to make our^s joy complete.

Walking in Light of Righteousness

1 Jn. 1:5-7 BASIS FOR FELLOWSHIP. This is the message we have heard from him and declare to you: God is light; in him there is no darkness at all. If we claim to have fellowship with him yet walk in the darkness, we lie and do not live by the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship with one another, and the blood of Jesus, his Son, purifies us from all^h sin.

^sSome manuscripts your

SINS MUST BE CONFESSED. If we claim to be without sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just and will forgive us our sins and purify us from all unrighteousness. If we claim we have not sinned, we make him out to be a liar and his word has no place in our lives. 1 Jn.
1:8-10

CHRIST IS ADVOCATE. My dear children, I write this to you so that you will not sin. But if anybody does sin, we have one who speaks to the Father in our defense—Jesus Christ, the Righteous One. He is the atoning sacrifice for our sins, and not only for ours but also forⁱ the sins of the whole world. 1 Jn. 2:1,2

ONLY OBEDIENT KNOW GOD. We know that we have come to know him if we obey his commands. The man who says, "I know him," but does not do what he commands is a liar, and the truth is not in him. But if anyone obeys his word, God's love^j is truly made complete in him. This is how we know we are in him: Whoever claims to live in him must walk as Jesus did. 1 Jn. 2:3-6

LOVE IS TEST. Dear friends, I am not writing you a new command but an old one, which you have had since the beginning. This old command is the message you have heard. Yet I am writing you a new command; its truth is seen in him and you, because the darkness is passing and the true light is already shining. 1 Jn.
2:7-11

Anyone who claims to be in the light but hates his brother is still in the darkness. Whoever loves his brother lives in the light, and there is nothing in him^k to make him stumble. But whoever hates his brother is in the darkness and walks around in the darkness; he does not know where he is going, because the darkness has blinded him.

REASONS FOR WRITING. 1 Jn.
2:12-14

I write to you, dear children, because your sins have been forgiven on account of his name.

I write to you, fathers,
because you have known him who is from the beginning.

I write to you, young men,
because you have overcome the evil one.

I write to you, dear children,
because you have known the Father.

I write to you, fathers,
because you have known him who is from the beginning.

I write to you, young men,
because you are strong,
and the word of God lives in you,
and you have overcome the evil one.

LOVE GOD, NOT THE WORLD. Do not love the world or anything in the world. If anyone loves the world, the love of the Father is not in him. 1 Jn.
2:15-17

^hOr every ⁱOr He is the one who turns aside God's wrath, taking away our sins, and not only ours but also ^jOr word, love for God ^kOr it

For everything in the world—the cravings of sinful man, the lust of his eyes and the boasting of what he has and does—comes not from the Father but from the world. The world and its desires pass away, but the man who does the will of God lives forever.

Warning About Antichrists

1 Jn. 2:18,19 BEWARE OF ANTICHRISTS. Dear children, this is the last hour; and as you have heard that the antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have come. This is how we know it is the last hour. They went out from us, but they did not really belong to us. For if they had belonged to us, they would have remained with us; but their going showed that none of them belonged to us.

1 Jn. 2:20-23 ANTICHRISTS DENY DEITY. But you have an anointing from the Holy One, and all of you know the truth.^l I do not write to you because you do not know the truth, but because you do know it and because no lie comes from the truth. Who is the liar? It is the man who denies that Jesus is the Christ. Such a man is the antichrist—he denies the Father and the Son. No one who denies the Son has the Father; whoever acknowledges the Son has the Father also.

1 Jn. 2:24-28 CONTINUE YOUR FAITH. See that what you have heard from the beginning remains in you. If it does, you also will remain in the Son and in the Father. And this is what he promised us—even eternal life.

I am writing these things to you about those who are trying to lead you astray. As for you, the anointing you received from him remains in you, and you do not need anyone to teach you. But as his anointing teaches you about all things and as that anointing is real, not counterfeit—just as it has taught you, remain in him.

And now, dear children, continue in him, so that when he appears we may be confident and unashamed before him at his coming.

Living As Children of God

1 Jn. 2:29-3:3 BE RIGHTEOUS AS CHILDREN. If you know that he is righteous, you know that everyone who does what is right has been born of him. How great is the love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God! And that is what we are! The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Dear friends, now we are children of God, and what we will be has not yet been made known. But we know that when he appears,^m we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is. Everyone who has this hope in him purifies himself, just as he is pure.

1 Jn. 3:4-6 SINNING IS CONTRARY TO FAITH. Everyone who sins breaks the law; in fact, sin is lawlessness. But you know that he appeared so that he might take away our sins. And in him is no sin. No one who lives in him keeps on sinning. No one who continues to sin has either seen him or known him.

1 Jn. 3:7-10 GOD'S CHILDREN LIVE RIGHTEOUSLY. Dear children, do not let anyone lead you astray. He who does what is right is righteous, just as he is righteous. He who does what is sinful is of the devil, because the devil has been sinning from the beginning. The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the devil's work. No one who is born of God will continue to sin, because God's seed remains in him; he cannot go on sinning, because he has been born of God. This is how we know who the children of God are and who the children of the devil are: Anyone who does not do what is right is not a child of God; nor is anyone who does not love his brother.

^lSome manuscripts and you know all things ^mOr when it is made known

GOD'S CHILDREN LOVE EACH OTHER. This is the message you heard from the beginning: We should love one another. Do not be like Cain, who belonged to the evil one and murdered his brother. And why did he murder him? Because his own actions were evil and his brother's were righteous. Do not be surprised, my brothers, if the world hates you. We know that we have passed from death to life, because we love our brothers. Anyone who does not love remains in death. Anyone who hates his brother is a murderer, and you know that no murderer has eternal life in him. 1 Jn.
3:11-15

LOVE EVIDENCED BY ACTIONS. This is how we know what love is: Jesus Christ laid down his life for us. And we ought to lay down our lives for our brothers. If anyone has material possessions and sees his brother in need but has no pity on him, how can the love of God be in him? Dear children, let us not love with words or tongue but with actions and in truth. 1 Jn.
3:16-18

OBEYING BRINGS CONFIDENCE. This then is how we know that we belong to the truth, and how we set our hearts at rest in his presence whenever our hearts condemn us. For God is greater than our hearts, and he knows everything. 1 Jn.
3:19-22

Dear friends, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have confidence before God and receive from him anything we ask, because we obey his commands and do what pleases him.

MUST BELIEVE AND LOVE. And this is his command: to believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and to love one another as he commanded us. Those who obey his commands live in him, and he in them. And this is how we know that he lives in us: We know it by the Spirit he gave us. 1 Jn.
3:23,24

Distinguishing Unbelievers from Believers

ANTICHRISTS DENY INCARNATION. Dear friends, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world. This is how you can recognize the Spirit of God: Every spirit that acknowledges that Jesus Christ has come in the flesh is from God, but every spirit that does not acknowledge Jesus is not from God. This is the spirit of the antichrist, which you have heard is coming and even now is already in the world. 1 Jn. 4:1-3

ANTICHRISTS' WORLDLY DOCTRINES. You, dear children, are from God and have overcome them, because the one who is in you is greater than the one who is in the world. They are from the world and therefore speak from the viewpoint of the world, and the world listens to them. We are from God, and whoever knows God listens to us; but whoever is not from God does not listen to us. This is how we recognize the Spirit" of truth and the spirit of falsehood. 1 Jn. 4:4-6

- 1 Jn.
4:7-12 BELIEVERS REFLECT GOD'S LOVE. Dear friends, let us love one another, for love comes from God. Everyone who loves has been born of God and knows God. Whoever does not love does not know God, because God is love. This is how God showed his love among us: He sent his one and only Son^o into the world that we might live through him. This is love: not that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for^p our sins. Dear friends, since God so loved us, we also ought to love one another. No one has ever seen God; but if we love one another, God lives in us and his love is made complete in us.
- 1 Jn.
4:13-15 BELIEVERS HAVE GOD'S SPIRIT. We know that we live in him and he in us, because he has given us of his Spirit. And we have seen and testify that the Father has sent his Son to be the Savior of the world. If anyone acknowledges that Jesus is the Son of God, God lives in him and he in God.
- 1 Jn.
4:16-19 SPIRIT OF LOVE. And so we know and rely on the love God has for us. God is love. Whoever lives in love lives in God, and God in him. In this way, love is made complete among us so that we will have confidence on the day of judgment, because in this world we are like him. There is no fear in love. But perfect love drives out fear, because fear has to do with punishment. The one who fears is not made perfect in love.
We love because he first loved us.
- 1 Jn.
4:20-5:1 LOVING GOD REQUIRES LOVING MAN. If anyone says, "I love God," yet hates his brother, he is a liar. For anyone who does not love his brother, whom he has seen, cannot love God, whom he has not seen. And he has given us this command: Whoever loves God must also love his brother. Everyone who believes that Jesus is the Christ is born of God, and everyone who loves the father loves his child as well.
- 1 Jn. 5:2-5 LOVING GOD REQUIRES OBEDIENCE. This is how we know that we love the children of God: by loving God and carrying out his commands. This is love for God: to obey his commands. And his commands are not burdensome, for everyone born of God overcomes the world. This is the victory that has overcome the world, even our faith. Who is it that overcomes the world? Only he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God.
- 1 Jn. 5:6-9 TESTIMONY TO JESUS. This is the one who came by water and blood—Jesus Christ. He did not come by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit who testifies, because the Spirit is the truth. For there are three that testify: the^q Spirit, the water and the blood; and the three are in agreement. We accept man's testimony, but God's testimony is greater because it is the testimony of God, which he has given about his Son.
- 1 Jn.
5:10-12 BELIEVERS' LIVES TESTIFY. Anyone who believes in the Son of God has this testimony in his heart. Anyone who does not believe God has made him out to be a liar, because he has not believed the testimony God has given about his Son. And this is the testimony: God has given us eternal life, and this life is in his Son. He who has the Son has life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have life.

Assurances in Christ

ASSURANCE IN ETERNAL LIFE. I write these things to you who believe in the name of the Son of God so that you may know that you have eternal life. 1 Jn. 5:13

ASSURANCE IN PROPER PRAYER. This is the confidence we have in approaching God: that if we ask anything according to his will, he hears us. And if we know that he hears us—whatever we ask—we know that we have what we asked of him. 1 Jn. 5:14-17

If anyone sees his brother commit a sin that does not lead to death, he should pray and God will give him life. I refer to those whose sin does not lead to death. There is a sin that leads to death. I am not saying that he should pray about that. All wrongdoing is sin, and there is sin that does not lead to death.

SECURITY IN JESUS CHRIST. We know that anyone born of God does not continue to sin; the one who was born of God keeps him safe, and the evil one cannot harm him. We know that we are children of God, and that the whole world is under the control of the evil one. We know also that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true. And we are in him who is true—even in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life. 1 Jn. 5:18-20

NO SECURITY IN IDOLS. Dear children, keep yourselves from idols. 1 Jn. 5:21

Second Letter by John

John's second and third letters appear to have been written together, near the same time as the first. These, however, are more personal in nature. Calling himself simply "the elder," John addresses his second letter somewhat mysteriously to "the chosen lady and her children." Whether that means a particular woman and her family or refers symbolically to a given church is not wholly clear, but it is probably the former, since no other symbolic language appears in the letter. In content this letter is a brief summary of John's more general letter, together with a personal note at the end.

SALUTATION. The elder, 2 Jn. 1-3

To the chosen lady and her children, whom I love in the truth—and not I only, but also all who know the truth—because of the truth, which lives in us and will be with us forever:

Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father and from Jesus Christ, the Father's Son, will be with us in truth and love.

CALL FOR LOVE AND OBEDIENCE. It has given me great joy to find some of your children walking in the truth, just as the Father commanded us. And now, dear lady, I am not writing you a new command but one we have had from the beginning. I ask that we love one another. And this is love: that we walk in obedience to his commands. As you have heard from the beginning, his command is that you walk in love. 2 Jn. 4-6

- 2 Jn. 7-11 WARNING AGAINST ANTICHRISTS. Many deceivers, who do not acknowledge Jesus Christ as coming in the flesh, have gone out into the world. Any such person is the deceiver and the antichrist. Watch out that you do not lose what you have worked for, but that you may be rewarded fully. Anyone who runs ahead and does not continue in the teaching of Christ does not have God; whoever continues in the teaching has both the Father and the Son. If anyone comes to you and does not bring this teaching, do not take him into your house or welcome him. Anyone who welcomes him shares in his wicked work.
- 2 Jn. 12 HOPE FOR PERSONAL VISIT. I have much to write to you, but I do not want to use paper and ink. Instead, I hope to visit you and talk with you face to face, so that our joy may be complete.
- 2 Jn. 13 GREETINGS. The children of your chosen sister send their greetings.

Third Letter by John _____

The third short letter of John is addressed to a Christian named Gaius, apparently a leader in the church—perhaps the church to which the second letter was addressed. In this letter John commends Gaius for his hospitality and for having been supportive of itinerant evangelists. He also notes his displeasure toward a man by the name of Diotrefes, who had been antagonistic both to these traveling evangelists and to John's own teaching. It may well be that Diotrefes has come to accept some of the Gnostic teaching which John is trying to combat, or perhaps he is attempting to prevent any threat to his personal influence in the local congregation. In contrast to Diotrefes, a brother named Demetrius is highly commended. Although brief in content, the letter is a good example of Christian relationships and individual concern.

- 3 Jn. 1 SALUTATION. The elder,
 To my dear friend Gaius, whom I love in the truth.
- 3 Jn. 2-4 JOY IN GAIUS' FAITHFULNESS. Dear friend, I pray that you may enjoy good health and that all may go well with you, even as your soul is getting along well. It gave me great joy to have some brothers come and tell about your faithfulness to the truth and how you continue to walk in the truth. I have no greater joy than to hear that my children are walking in the truth.
- 3 Jn. 5-8 COMMENDATION OF GAIUS. Dear friend, you are faithful in what you are doing for the brothers, even though they are strangers to you. They have told the church about your love. You will do well to send them on their way in a manner worthy of God. It was for the sake of the Name that they went out, receiving no help from the pagans. We ought therefore to show hospitality to such men so that we may work together for the truth.
- 3 Jn. 9,10 REPROOF OF DIOTREPHES. I wrote to the church, but Diotrefes, who loves to be first, will have nothing to do with us. So if I come, I will call attention to what he is doing, gossiping maliciously about us. Not satisfied with that, he refuses to welcome the brothers. He also stops those who want to do so and puts them out of the church.

EXHORTATION TO DO GOOD. Dear friend, do not imitate what is evil but what is good. Anyone who does what is good is from God. Anyone who does what is evil has not seen God. 3 Jn. 11

COMMENDATION OF DEMETRIUS. Demetrius is well spoken of by everyone—and even by the truth itself. We also speak well of him, and you know that our testimony is true. 3 Jn. 12

HOPE FOR PERSONAL VISIT. I have much to write you, but I do not want to do so with pen and ink. I hope to see you soon, and we will talk face to face. 3 Jn. 13, 14a

GREETINGS. Peace to you. The friends here send their greetings. Greet the friends there by name. 3 Jn. 14b

The Revelation to John

One of the most unique and intriguing writings of all Scripture comes as a fitting conclusion to God's revelation to man. It is a writing reminiscent of the recorded visions of Ezekiel and Daniel. Its true Author by revelation is Jesus Christ, and the apostle John simply acts as scribe. In his last years, perhaps around A.D. 95-96, the aging apostle is found exiled on the Greek island of Patmos during the reign of the Roman Emperor Domitian. On a particular Lord's day, as John relates the experience, he receives through an angel a revelation from the Spirit of God in which he is directed to write what he sees and to send it to seven churches in Asia. Those churches, as well as others at this time, are facing severe persecution and suffering because of their faith in Christ. The circumstances therefore warrant both admonition and encouragement.

What John sees and records is a prophecy, both strange and moving, in which Christ as sovereign Lord engages in battle with the forces of evil and is clearly the Victor. The account is couched in figurative language, supernatural imagery, and verbal and numerical symbolism that is not easy to fully comprehend. Yet it stirs an excitement about the future for all Christians and gives hope that present sufferings will be lost in a victory so wonderful that the mind of man can only begin to grasp it.

The Revelation is the consummation of God's scheme of redemption for man, as presented systematically throughout the Bible. In the early Genesis account, God was declared to be the omnipotent Creator of the universe, worthy of praise for his majesty and power. The created universe was wholly good until penetrated by the power of Satan, who acquainted man with the evil of sin and its consequences. Because of man's sin, man came to need redemption and reconciliation with God. Through his chosen nation of Israel, God provided for that redemption. The Old Testament records God's power of judgment which was made known through Moses, the law, and the prophets. Then, as recorded in the Gospel accounts, came the good news that man's Redeemer had come to earth in fulfillment of the law and prophecy. Jesus the Christ brought a new righteousness of faith, a faith having the power of salvation. In dying on the cross and in being resurrected from the grave, Jesus triumphed over Satan's power of death. Based upon that demonstration of his lordship and power, the church was born and grew to swelling numbers and influence. When the church was met with opposition and persecution, the apostles and other inspired writers penned their various epistles to encourage their fellow Christians to persevere, in prospect of their final redemption in the life to come.

God's scheme of redemption thus becomes the theme of his revelation to John. The revelation unfolds now as the aging apostle begins to relate with unmatched excitement the glorious vision which he has been called to share.

Rev. 1:1-3 REVELATION FROM JESUS CHRIST. The revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave him to show his servants what must soon take place. He made it known by sending his angel to his servant John, who testifies to everything he saw—that is, the word of God and the testimony of Jesus Christ. Blessed is the one who reads the words of this prophecy, and blessed are those who hear it and take to heart what is written in it, because the time is near.

Rev. 1:4-5a SALUTATION TO SEVEN CHURCHES. John,

To the seven churches in the province of Asia:

Grace and peace to you from him who is, and who was, and who is to come, and from the seven spirits^r before his throne, and from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, the firstborn from the dead, and the ruler of the kings of the earth.

Rev. 1:5b-8 PRAISE TO ALMIGHTY GOD. To him who loves us and has freed us from our sins by his blood, and has made us to be a kingdom and priests to serve his God and Father—to him be glory and power for ever and ever! Amen.

Look, he is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see him,
even those who pierced him;
and all the peoples of the earth will mourn because of him.

So shall it be! Amen.

"I am the Alpha and the Omega," says the Lord God, "who is, and who was, and who is to come, the Almighty."

Origin and Purpose of Revelation

Rev. 1:9-11 DESCRIPTION OF VOICE. I, John, your brother and companion in the suffering and kingdom and patient endurance that are ours in Jesus, was on the island of Patmos because of the word of God and the testimony of Jesus. On the Lord's Day I was in the Spirit, and I heard behind me a loud voice like a trumpet, which said: "Write on a scroll what you see and send it to the seven churches: to Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamum, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia and Laodicea."

Rev. 1:12-16 VISION OF ONE LIKE SON OF MAN. I turned around to see the voice that was speaking to me. And when I turned I saw seven golden lampstands, and among the lampstands was someone "like a son of man,"^s

^rOr the sevenfold Spirit

^sDaniel 7:13

dressed in a robe reaching down to his feet and with a golden sash around his chest. His head and hair were white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes were like blazing fire. His feet were like bronze glowing in a furnace, and his voice was like the sound of rushing waters. In his right hand he held seven stars, and out of his mouth came a sharp double-edged sword. His face was like the sun shining in all its brilliance.

IDENTITY OF VOICE AND VISION. When I saw him, I fell at his feet as though dead. Then he placed his right hand on me and said: "Do not be afraid. I am the First and the Last. I am the Living One; I was dead, and behold I am alive for ever and ever! And I hold the keys of death and Hades.

JOHN'S MANDATE TO WRITE. "Write, therefore, what you have seen, what is now and what will take place later. The mystery of the seven stars that you saw in my right hand and of the seven golden lampstands is this: The seven stars are the angels' of the seven churches, and the seven lampstands are the seven churches.

Letters to the Seven Churches

EPHESUS. "To the angel" of the church in Ephesus write:

Rev. 2:1-7

These are the words of him who holds the seven stars in his right hand and walks among the seven golden lampstands: I know your deeds, your hard work and your perseverance. I know that you cannot tolerate wicked men, that you have tested those who claim to be apostles but are not, and have found them false. You have persevered and have endured hardships for my name, and have not grown weary.

Yet I hold this against you: You have forsaken your first love. Remember the height from which you have fallen! Repent and do the things you did at first. If you do not repent, I will come to you and remove your lampstand from its place. But you have this in your favor: You hate the practices of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will give the right to eat from the tree of life, which is in the paradise of God.

SMYRNA. "To the angel of the church in Smyrna write:

Rev. 2:8-11

These are the words of him who is the First and the Last, who died and came to life again. I know your afflictions and your poverty—yet you are rich! I know the slander of those who say they are Jews and are not, but are a synagogue of Satan. Do not be afraid of what you are about to suffer. I tell you, the devil will put some of you in prison to test you, and you will suffer persecution for ten days. Be faithful, even to the point of death, and I will give you the crown of life.

He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. He who overcomes will not be hurt at all by the second death.

PERGAMUM. "To the angel of the church in Pergamum write:

Rev.
2:12-17

These are the words of him who has the sharp, double-edged sword. I know where you live—where Satan has his throne. Yet you remain true to my name. You did not renounce your faith in me, even in the days of ¹Or messengers ²Or messenger; also in verses 8, 12 and 18

Antipas, my faithful witness, who was put to death in your city—where Satan lives.

Nevertheless, I have a few things against you: You have people there who hold to the teaching of Balaam, who taught Balak to entice the Israelites to sin by eating food sacrificed to idols and by committing sexual immorality. Likewise you also have those who hold to the teaching of the Nicolaitans. Repent therefore! Otherwise, I will soon come to you and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. To him who overcomes, I will give some of the hidden manna. I will also give him a white stone with a new name written on it, known only to him who receives it.

Rev.
2:18-29

THYATIRA. “To the angel of the church in Thyatira write:

These are the words of the Son of God, whose eyes are like blazing fire and whose feet are like burnished bronze. I know your deeds, your love and faith, your service and perseverance, and that you are now doing more than you did at first.

Nevertheless, I have this against you: You tolerate that woman Jezebel, who calls herself a prophetess. By her teaching she misleads my servants into sexual immorality and the eating of food sacrificed to idols. I have given her time to repent of her immorality, but she is unwilling. So I will cast her on a bed of suffering, and I will make those who commit adultery with her suffer intensely, unless they repent of her ways. I will strike her children dead. Then all the churches will know that I am he who searches hearts and minds, and I will repay each of you according to your deeds. Now I say to the rest of you in Thyatira, to you who do not hold to her teaching and have not learned Satan’s so-called deep secrets (I will not impose any other burden on you): Only hold on to what you have until I come.

To him who overcomes and does my will to the end, I will give authority over the nations—

‘He will rule them with an iron scepter;
he will dash them to pieces like pottery’^v —

just as I have received authority from my Father. I will also give him the morning star. He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

Rev. 3:1-6

SARDIS. “To the angel^w of the church in Sardis write:

These are the words of him who holds the seven spirits^x of God and the seven stars. I know your deeds; you have a reputation of being alive, but you are dead. Wake up! Strengthen what remains and is about to die, for I have not found your deeds complete in the sight of my God. Remember, therefore, what you have received and heard; obey it, and repent. But if you do not wake up, I will come like a thief, and you will not know at what time I will come to you.

Yet you have a few people in Sardis who have not soiled their clothes. They will walk with me, dressed in white, for they are worthy. He who overcomes will, like them, be dressed in white. I will never blot out his name from the book of life, but will acknowledge his name before my Father and his angels. He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

PHILADELPHIA. "To the angel of the church in Philadelphia write:

Rev. 3:7-13

These are the words of him who is holy and true, who holds the key of David. What he opens no one can shut, and what he shuts no one can open. I know your deeds. See, I have placed before you an open door that no one can shut. I know that you have little strength, yet you have kept my word and have not denied my name. I will make those who are of the synagogue of Satan, who claim to be Jews though they are not, but are liars—I will make them come and fall down at your feet and acknowledge that I have loved you. Since you have kept my command to endure patiently, I will also keep you from the hour of trial that is going to come upon the whole world to test those who live on the earth.

I am coming soon. Hold on to what you have, so that no one will take your crown. Him who overcomes I will make a pillar in the temple of my God. Never again will he leave it. I will write on him the name of my God and the name of the city of my God, the new Jerusalem, which is coming down out of heaven from my God; and I will also write on him my new name. He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches.

LAODICEA. "To the angel of the church in Laodicea write:

Rev.
3:14-22

These are the words of the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the ruler of God's creation. I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot. I wish you were either one or the other! So, because you are lukewarm—neither hot nor cold—I am about to spit you out of my mouth. You say, 'I am rich; I have acquired wealth and do not need a thing.' But you do not realize that you are wretched, pitiful, poor, blind and naked. I counsel you to buy from me gold refined in the fire, so you can become rich; and white clothes to wear, so you can cover your shameful nakedness; and salve to put on your eyes, so you can see.

Those whom I love I rebuke and discipline. So be earnest, and repent. Here I am! I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in and eat with him, and he with me.

To him who overcomes, I will give the right to sit with me on my throne, just as I overcame and sat down with my Father on his throne. He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches."

Majesty and Centrality of God

The vision which John is about to receive begins with praise for God as the Creator of the universe. Through the songs of various creatures, God's great majesty is declared to be worthy of glory, honor, and power. Significantly, sharing in that honor is he who is called "Lion of the tribe of Judah" and also "the Lamb." Both descriptions are obvious references to Jesus the Christ.

DESCRIPTION OF THRONE. After this I looked, and there before me was a door standing open in heaven. And the voice I had first heard speaking to me like a trumpet said, "Come up here, and I will show you what must take place after this." At once I was in the Spirit, and there before me was a throne in heaven with someone sitting on it. And the one who sat there had the appearance of jasper and carnelian. A rainbow, resembling an emerald, encircled the throne. Surrounding the throne were twenty-four other thrones, and seated on them were twenty-four elders. They were dressed in white and had crowns of gold on their heads. From the throne came flashes of lightning, rumblings and peals of thunder. Before the throne, seven lamps were blazing. These are the seven spirits^v of God. Also before the throne there was what looked like a sea of glass, clear as crystal.

In the center, around the throne, were four living creatures, and they were covered with eyes, in front and in back.

- Rev. 4:7,8 FOUR LIVING CREATURES. The first living creature was like a lion, the second was like an ox, the third had a face like a man, the fourth was like a flying eagle. Each of the four living creatures had six wings and was covered with eyes all around, even under his wings. Day and night they never stop saying:

“Holy, holy, holy is the Lord God Almighty, who was, and is, and is to come.”

- Rev. 4:9-11 TWENTY-FOUR ELDERS. Whenever the living creatures give glory, honor and thanks to him who sits on the throne and who lives for ever and ever, the twenty-four elders fall down before him who sits on the throne, and worship him who lives for ever and ever. They lay their crowns before the throne and say:

“You are worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory and honor and power,
for you created all things, and by your will they were created and have their being.”

- Rev. 5:1-4 SCROLL SEALED. Then I saw in the right hand of him who sat on the throne a scroll with writing on both sides and sealed with seven seals. And I saw a mighty angel proclaiming in a loud voice, “Who is worthy to break the seals and open the scroll?” But no one in heaven or on earth or under the earth could open the scroll or even look inside it. I wept and wept because no one was found who was worthy to open the scroll or look inside.

- Rev. 5:5-7 SCROLL TAKEN BY LAMB. Then one of the elders said to me, “Do not weep! See, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, has triumphed. He is able to open the scroll and its seven seals.”

Then I saw a Lamb, looking as if it had been slain, standing in the center of the throne, encircled by the four living creatures and the elders. He had seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven spirits^v of God sent out into all the earth. He came and took the scroll from the right hand of him who sat on the throne.

- Rev. 5:8-10 ELDERS PRAISE LAMB. And when he had taken it, the four living creatures and the twenty-four elders fell down before the Lamb. Each one

^vOr the sevenfold Spirit

had a harp and they were holding golden bowls full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints. And they sang a new song:

“You are worthy to take the scroll and to open its seals,
because you were slain,
and with your blood you purchased men for God from every tribe and language and people and nation.
You have made them to be a kingdom and priests to serve our God,
and they will reign on the earth.”

ANGELS PRAISE LAMB. Then I looked and heard the voice of many angels, numbering thousands upon thousands, and ten thousand times ten thousand. They encircled the throne and the living creatures and the elders. In a loud voice they sang:

Rev.
5:11,12

“Worthy is the Lamb, who was slain, to receive power and wealth and wisdom and strength and honor and glory and praise!”

UNIVERSE PRAISES LAMB. Then I heard every creature in heaven and on earth and under the earth and on the sea, and all that is in them, singing:

Rev.
5:13,14

“To him who sits on the throne and to the Lamb be praise and honor and glory and power, for ever and ever!”

The four living creatures said, “Amen,” and the elders fell down and worshiped.

Destructiveness of Sin

With the opening now of the seven seals, John sees four symbolic horses, the souls of Christian martyrs, and preparation for the blowing of seven trumpets. In all of this is a reminder that, despite the power of sin, there is always a remnant of God’s people who remain faithful, even in the face of martyrdom.

FIRST SEAL. I watched as the Lamb opened the first of the seven seals. Then I heard one of the four living creatures say in a voice like thunder, “Come!” I looked, and there before me was a white horse! Its rider held a bow, and he was given a crown, and he rode out as a conqueror bent on conquest.

Rev. 6:1,2

SECOND SEAL. When the Lamb opened the second seal, I heard the second living creature say, “Come!” Then another horse came out, a fiery red one. Its rider was given power to take peace from the earth and to make men slay each other. To him was given a large sword.

Rev. 6:3,4

THIRD SEAL. When the Lamb opened the third seal, I heard the third living creature say, “Come!” I looked, and there before me was a black horse! Its rider was holding a pair of scales in his hand. Then I heard what sounded like a voice among the four living creatures, saying, “A quart²

Rev. 6:5,6

²Greek a choinix (probably about a liter)

of wheat for a day's wages,^a and three quarts of barley for a day's wages,^a and do not damage the oil and the wine!"

Rev. 6:7,8 FOURTH SEAL. When the Lamb opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature say, "Come!" I looked, and there before me was a pale horse! Its rider was named Death, and Hades was following close behind him. They were given power over a fourth of the earth to kill by sword, famine and plague, and by the wild beasts of the earth.

Rev. 6:9-11 FIFTH SEAL. When he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of those who had been slain because of the word of God and the testimony they had maintained. They called out in a loud voice, "How long, Sovereign Lord, holy and true, until you judge the inhabitants of the earth and avenge our blood?" Then each of them was given a white robe, and they were told to wait a little longer, until the number of their fellow servants and brothers who were to be killed as they had been was completed.

Rev. 6:12-17 SIXTH SEAL. I watched as he opened the sixth seal. There was a great earthquake. The sun turned black like sackcloth made of goat hair, the whole moon turned blood red, and the stars in the sky fell to earth, as late figs drop from a fig tree when shaken by a strong wind. The sky receded like a scroll, rolling up, and every mountain and island was removed from its place.

Then the kings of the earth, the princes, the generals, the rich, the mighty, and every slave and every free man hid in caves and among the rocks of the mountains. They called to the mountains and the rocks, "Fall on us and hide us from the face of him who sits on the throne and from the wrath of the Lamb! For the great day of their wrath has come, and who can stand?"

Rev. 7:1-3 SEALING OF SERVANTS. After this I saw four angels standing at the four corners of the earth, holding back the four winds of the earth to prevent any wind from blowing on the land or on the sea or on any tree. Then I saw another angel coming up from the east, having the seal of the living God. He called out in a loud voice to the four angels who had been given power to harm the land and the sea: "Do not harm the land or the sea or the trees until we put a seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God."

Rev. 7:4-8 144,000 SEALED. Then I heard the number of those who were sealed: 144,000 from all the tribes of Israel.

From the tribe of Judah 12,000 were sealed, from the tribe of Reuben 12,000,
 from the tribe of Gad 12,000,
 from the tribe of Asher 12,000,
 from the tribe of Naphtali 12,000,
 from the tribe of Manasseh 12,000, from the tribe of Simeon 12,000,
 from the tribe of Levi 12,000,
 from the tribe of Issachar 12,000,
 from the tribe of Zebulun 12,000,
 from the tribe of Joseph 12,000, from the tribe of Benjamin 12,000.

MULTITUDE SINGS PRAISE. After this I looked and there before me was a great multitude that no one could count, from every nation, tribe, people and language, standing before the throne and in front of the Lamb. They were wearing white robes and were holding palm branches in their hands. And they cried out in a loud voice:

Rev. 7:9,10

“Salvation belongs to our God, who sits on the throne,
and to the Lamb.”

ANGELS WORSHIP GOD. All the angels were standing around the throne and around the elders and the four living creatures. They fell down on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, saying:

Rev. 7:11,12

“Amen!
Praise and glory
and wisdom and thanks and honor and power and strength be to our God for ever and ever.
Amen!”

MULTITUDE AS VICTIMS. Then one of the elders asked me, “These in white robes—who are they, and where did they come from?”
I answered, “Sir, you know.”

Rev. 7:13,14

And he said, “These are they who have come out of the great tribulation; they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

SECURITY OF SAINTS. Therefore,

Rev. 7:15-17

“they are before the throne of God and serve him day and night in his temple; and he who sits on the throne will spread his tent over them.
Never again will they hunger;
never again will they thirst.
The sun will not beat upon them,
nor any scorching heat.
For the Lamb at the center of the throne will be their shepherd;
he will lead them to springs of living water.
And God will wipe away every tear from their eyes.”

SEVENTH SEAL. When he opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven for about half an hour.

Rev. 8:1-6

And I saw the seven angels who stand before God, and to them were given seven trumpets.

Another angel, who had a golden censer, came and stood at the altar. He was given much incense to offer, with the prayers of all the saints, on the golden altar before the throne. The smoke of the incense, together with the prayers of the saints, went up before God from the angel’s hand. Then the angel took the censer, filled it with fire from the altar, and hurled it on the earth; and there came peals of thunder, rumblings, flashes of lightning and an earthquake.

Then the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared to sound them.

Wrath of God Against Evil

The Old Testament is filled with accounts of God's dealings with the nation of Israel, and particularly with demonstrations of his power over evil. Striking similarity exists between the trumpets which are about to be blown and the ten plagues brought against Egypt. Hail and fire, water turned to blood, periods of darkness, and the appearance of locusts all seem to complete the parallel. The sixth trumpet will bring death among mankind, just as in the Passover, when death came to the firstborn of each Egyptian family.

- Rev. 8:7 FIRST TRUMPET. The first angel sounded his trumpet, and there came hail and fire mixed with blood, and it was hurled down upon the earth. A third of the earth was burned up, a third of the trees were burned up, and all the green grass was burned up.
- Rev. 8:8,9 SECOND TRUMPET. The second angel sounded his trumpet, and something like a huge mountain, all ablaze, was thrown into the sea. A third of the sea turned into blood, a third of the living creatures in the sea died, and a third of the ships were destroyed.
- Rev. 8:10,11 THIRD TRUMPET. The third angel sounded his trumpet, and a great star, blazing like a torch, fell from the sky on a third of the rivers and on the springs of water—the name of the star is Wormwood.^b A third of the waters turned bitter, and many people died from the waters that had become bitter.
- Rev. 8:12 FOURTH TRUMPET. The fourth angel sounded his trumpet, and a third of the sun was struck, a third of the moon, and a third of the stars, so that a third of them turned dark. A third of the day was without light, and also a third of the night.
- Rev. 8:13 NEXT THREE TRUMPETS. As I watched, I heard an eagle that was flying in midair call out in a loud voice: "Woe! Woe! Woe to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the trumpet blasts about to be sounded by the other three angels!"
- Rev. 9:1-6 FIFTH TRUMPET. The fifth angel sounded his trumpet, and I saw a star that had fallen from the sky to the earth. The star was given the key to the shaft of the Abyss. When he opened the Abyss, smoke rose from it like the smoke from a gigantic furnace. The sun and sky were darkened by the smoke from the Abyss. And out of the smoke locusts came down upon the earth and were given power like that of scorpions of the earth. They were told not to harm the grass of the earth or any plant or tree, but only those people who did not have the seal of God on their foreheads. They were not given power to kill them, but only to torture them for five months. And the agony they suffered was like that of the sting of a scorpion when it strikes a man. During those days men will seek death, but will not find it; they will long to die, but death will elude them.
- Rev. 9:7-12 DESCRIPTION OF LOCUSTS. The locusts looked like horses prepared for battle. On their heads they wore something like crowns of gold, and their faces resembled human faces. Their hair was like women's hair, and their teeth were like lions' teeth. They had breastplates like breastplates of iron, and the sound of their wings was like the thundering of many horses and chariots rushing into battle. They had tails and stings like scorpions, and in their tails they had power to torment people for five months. They had as king over them the angel of the Abyss, whose name in Hebrew is Abaddon, and in Greek, Apollyon.^c

^bThat is, Bitterness

The first woe is past; two other woes are yet to come.

SIXTH TRUMPET. The sixth angel sounded his trumpet, and I heard a voice coming from the horns^d of the golden altar that is before God. It said to the sixth angel who had the trumpet, "Release the four angels who are bound at the great river Euphrates." And the four angels who had been kept ready for this very hour and day and month and year were released to kill a third of mankind. The number of the mounted troops was two hundred million. I heard their number.

Rev.
9:13-16

DESCRIPTION OF TROOPS. The horses and riders I saw in my vision looked like this: Their breastplates were fiery red, dark blue, and yellow as sulfur. The heads of the horses resembled the heads of lions, and out of their mouths came fire, smoke and sulfur. A third of mankind was killed by the three plagues of fire, smoke and sulfur that came out of their mouths. The power of the horses was in their mouths and in their tails; for their tails were like snakes, having heads with which they inflict injury.

Rev.
9:17-19

SURVIVORS UNREPENTANT. The rest of mankind that were not killed by these plagues still did not repent of the work of their hands; they did not stop worshipping demons, and idols of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood—idols that cannot see or hear or walk. Nor did they repent of their murders, their magic arts, their sexual immorality or their thefts.

Rev.
9:20,21

ANGEL WITH LITTLE SCROLL. Then I saw another mighty angel coming down from heaven. He was robed in a cloud, with a rainbow above his head; his face was like the sun, and his legs were like fiery pillars. He was holding a little scroll, which lay open in his hand. He planted his right foot on the sea and his left foot on the land, and he gave a loud shout like the roar of a lion. When he shouted, the voices of the seven thunders spoke. And when the seven thunders spoke, I was about to write; but I heard a voice from heaven say, "Seal up what the seven thunders have said and do not write it down."

Rev. 10:1-4

SEVENTH TRUMPET TO REVEAL. Then the angel I had seen standing on the sea and on the land raised his right hand to heaven. And he swore by him who lives for ever and ever, who created the heavens and all that is in them, the earth and all that is in it, and the sea and all that is in it, and said, "There will be no more delay! But in the days when the seventh angel is about to sound his trumpet, the mystery of God will be accomplished, just as he announced to his servants the prophets."

Rev. 10:5-7

JOHN EATS BITTERSWEET SCROLL. Then the voice that I had heard from heaven spoke to me once more: "Go, take the scroll that lies open in the hand of the angel who is standing on the sea and on the land."

Rev.
10:8-11

So I went to the angel and asked him to give me the little scroll. He said to me, "Take it and eat it. It will turn your stomach sour, but in your mouth it will be as sweet as honey." I took the little scroll from the angel's hand ^cAbaddon and Apollyon mean Destroyer.

^dThat is, projections and ate it. It tasted as sweet as honey in my mouth, but when I had eaten it, my stomach turned sour. Then I was told, "You must prophesy again about many peoples, nations, languages and kings."

Rev. 11:1,2 GENTILES TRAMPLE ON HOLY CITY. I was given a reed like a measuring rod and was told, "Go and measure the temple of God and the altar, and count the worshippers there. But exclude the outer court; do not measure it, because it has been given to the Gentiles. They will trample on the holy city for 42 months.

Rev. 11:3-6 GOD'S TWO WITNESSES TESTIFY. And I will give power to my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth." These are the two olive trees and the two lampstands that stand before the Lord of the earth. If anyone tries to harm them, fire comes from their mouths and devours their enemies. This is how anyone who wants to harm them must die. These men have power to shut up the sky so that it will not rain during the time they are prophesying; and they have power to turn the waters into blood and to strike the earth with every kind of plague as often as they want.

Rev. 11:7-10 WITNESSES KILLED. Now when they have finished their testimony, the beast that comes up from the Abyss will attack them, and overpower and kill them. Their bodies will lie in the street of the great city, which is figuratively called Sodom and Egypt, where also their Lord was crucified. For three and a half days men from every people, tribe, language and nation will gaze on their bodies and refuse them burial. The inhabitants of the earth will gloat over them and will celebrate by sending each other gifts, because these two prophets had tormented those who live on the earth.

Rev. 11:11-14 WITNESSES RESURRECTED. But after the three and a half days a breath of life from God entered them, and they stood on their feet, and terror struck those who saw them. Then they heard a loud voice from heaven saying to them, "Come up here." And they went up to heaven in a cloud, while their enemies looked on.

At that very hour there was a severe earthquake and a tenth of the city collapsed. Seven thousand people were killed in the earthquake, and the survivors were terrified and gave glory to the God of heaven.

The second woe has passed; the third woe is coming soon.

Righteousness of God Seen in Coming of Christ

With the blowing of the seventh trumpet comes the announcement of the kingdom of God through Christ. This was the good news of the Gospel writers—that Jesus, the Word who had become flesh, had come into the world to establish his kingdom. The signs of his coming are seen by John as being the opening of the temple, accompanied by earthquakes and various celestial disturbances.

Rev. 11:15 SEVENTH TRUMPET. The seventh angel sounded his trumpet, and there were loud voices in heaven, which said:

"The kingdom of the world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of his Christ, and he will reign for ever and ever."

ELDERS PRAISE GOD. And the twenty-four elders, who were seated on their thrones before God, fell on their faces and worshiped God, saying: Rev. 11:16-18

“We give thanks to you, Lord God Almighty, the One who is and who was,
because you have taken your great power and have begun to reign.
The nations were angry;
and your wrath has come.
The time has come for judging the dead,
and for rewarding your servants the prophets and your saints and those who reverence your name, both small and great—
and for destroying those who destroy the earth.”

SIGNS HERALDING KINGDOM. Then God’s temple in heaven was opened, and within his temple was seen the ark of his covenant. And there came flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder, an earthquake and a great hailstorm. Rev. 11:19

Opposition to Christ’s Church

John now sees God’s people as a star-crowned woman whose son, Christ, rules all nations. Rising in opposition to the woman is Satan himself, who wages war against God’s people in two ways. Satan is first seen as a dragon, which seems to represent political oppression, and then as a beast coming out of the sea to make war against God’s people, which may represent religious persecution.

WOMAN BEARS CHILD. A great and wondrous sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet and a crown of twelve stars on her head. She was pregnant and cried out in pain as she was about to give birth. Then another sign appeared in heaven: an enormous red dragon with seven heads and ten horns and seven crowns on his heads. His tail swept a third of the stars out of the sky and flung them to the earth. The dragon stood in front of the woman who was about to give birth, so that he might devour her child the moment it was born. She gave birth to a son, a male child, who will rule all the nations with an iron scepter. And her child was snatched up to God and to his throne. The woman fled into the desert to a place prepared for her by God, where she might be taken care of for 1,260 days. Rev. 12:1-6

SATAN DEFEATED BY MICHAEL. And there was war in heaven. Michael and his angels fought against the dragon, and the dragon and his angels fought back. But he was not strong enough, and they lost their place in heaven. The great dragon was hurled down—that ancient serpent called the devil or Satan, who leads the whole world astray. He was hurled to the earth, and his angels with him. Rev. 12:7-9

TRIUMPH OF CHRIST OVER SATAN. Then I heard a loud voice in heaven say: Rev. 12:10-12

“Now have come the salvation and the power and the kingdom of our God,
and the authority of his Christ.
For the accuser of our brothers, who accuses them before our God day and night,

has been hurled down.
They overcame him
by the blood of the Lamb and by the word of their testimony; they did not love their lives so much as to shrink from death.
Therefore rejoice, you heavens and you who dwell in them!
But woe to the earth and the sea,
because the devil has gone down to you!
He is filled with fury,
because he knows that his time is short.”

Rev.
12:13-13:1a

DRAGON PURSUES WOMAN. When the dragon saw that he had been hurled to the earth, he pursued the woman who had given birth to the male child. The woman was given the two wings of a great eagle, so that she might fly to the place prepared for her in the desert, where she would be taken care of for a time, times and half a time, out of the serpent’s reach. Then from his mouth the serpent spewed water like a river, to overtake the woman and sweep her away with the torrent. But the earth helped the woman by opening its mouth and swallowing the river that the dragon had spewed out of his mouth. Then the dragon was enraged at the woman and went off to make war against the rest of her offspring—those who obey God’s commandments and hold to the testimony of Jesus. And the dragon^e stood on the shore of the sea.

Rev.
13:1b-4

DRAGON GIVES POWER TO BEAST. And I saw a beast coming out of the sea. He had ten horns and seven heads, with ten crowns on his horns, and on each head a blasphemous name. The beast I saw resembled a leopard, but had feet like those of a bear and a mouth like that of a lion. The dragon gave the beast his power and his throne and great authority. One of the heads of the beast seemed to have had a fatal wound, but the fatal wound had been healed. The whole world was astonished and followed the beast. Men worshiped the dragon because he had given authority to the beast, and they also worshiped the beast and asked, “Who is like the beast? Who can make war against him?”

Rev.
13:5-10

BEAST PERSECUTES SAINTS. The beast was given a mouth to utter proud words and blasphemies and to exercise his authority for forty-two months. He opened his mouth to blaspheme God, and to slander his name and his dwelling place and those who live in heaven. He was given power to make war against the saints and to conquer them. And he was given authority over every tribe, people, language and nation. All inhabitants of the earth will worship the beast—all whose names have not been written in the book of life belonging to the Lamb that was slain from the creation of the world.^f

He who has an ear, let him hear.

If anyone is to go into captivity, into captivity he will go.

^eSome late manuscripts And I ^fOr written from the creation of the world in the book of life belonging to the Lamb that was slain

If anyone is to be killed^s with the sword, with the sword he will be killed.

This calls for patient endurance and faithfulness on the part of the saints.

SECOND BEAST COMES FROM EARTH. Then I saw another beast, coming out of the earth. He had two horns like a lamb, but he spoke like a dragon. He exercised all the authority of the first beast on his behalf, and made the earth and its inhabitants worship the first beast, whose fatal wound had been healed. And he performed great and miraculous signs, even causing fire to come down from heaven to earth in full view of men. Because of the signs he was given power to do on behalf of the first beast, he deceived the inhabitants of the earth. He ordered them to set up an image in honor of the beast who was wounded by the sword and yet lived. He was given power to give breath to the image of the first beast, so that it could speak and cause all who refused to worship the image to be killed. He also forced everyone, small and great, rich and poor, free and slave, to receive a mark on his right hand or on his forehead, so that no one could buy or sell unless he had the mark, which is the name of the beast or the number of his name.

Rev.
13:11-17

CAUTION REGARDING INTERPRETATION. This calls for wisdom. If anyone has insight, let him calculate the number of the beast, for it is man's number. His number is 666.

Rev. 13:18

Hope of the Faithful

Throughout their epistles, Paul and the other inspired writers had continually reminded their readers of the glorious hope for those who would remain steadfast in their faith despite whatever pressures might tempt them to abandon it. The messages now brought by three angels are strikingly similar in their appeal.

LAMB WITH REDEEMED. Then I looked, and there before me was the Lamb, standing on Mount Zion, and with him 144,000 who had his name and his Father's name written on their foreheads. And I heard a sound from heaven like the roar of rushing waters and like a loud peal of thunder. The sound I heard was like that of harpists playing their harps. And they sang a new song before the throne and before the four living creatures and the elders. No one could learn the song except the 144,000 who had been redeemed from the earth. These are those who did not defile themselves with women, for they kept themselves pure. They follow the Lamb wherever he goes. They were purchased from among men and offered as firstfruits to God and the Lamb. No lie was found in their mouths; they are blameless.

Rev. 14:1-5

FIRST ANGEL. Then I saw another angel flying in midair, and he had the eternal gospel to proclaim to those who live on the earth—to every nation, tribe, language and people. He said in a loud voice, "Fear God and give him glory, because the hour of his judgment has come. Worship him who made the heavens, the earth, the sea and the springs of water."

Rev. 14:6,7

^sSome manuscripts anyone kills

- Rev. 14:8 SECOND ANGEL. A second angel followed and said, "Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great, which made all the nations drink the maddening wine of her adulteries."
- Rev. 14:9-12 THIRD ANGEL. A third angel followed them and said in a loud voice: "If anyone worships the beast and his image and receives his mark on the forehead or on the hand, he, too, will drink of the wine of God's fury, which has been poured full strength into the cup of his wrath. He will be tormented with burning sulfur in the presence of the holy angels and of the Lamb. And the smoke of their torment rises for ever and ever. There is no rest day or night for those who worship the beast and his image, or for anyone who receives the mark of his name." This calls for patient endurance on the part of the saints who obey God's commandments and remain faithful to Jesus.
- Rev. 14:13 REST FOR FAITHFUL. Then I heard a voice from heaven say, "Write: Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord from now on."
"Yes," says the Spirit, "they will rest from their labor, for their deeds will follow them."

Judgment Against Unrighteous

At this point John envisions God's ultimate judgment on mankind. The scene he describes is a harvest of the earth, upon which God's wrath is imposed. With the pouring out of seven terrifying bowls comes a sense of finality. God's righteousness and holiness are manifested through a cleansing of sin from the world. The imagery is awesome.

- Rev. 14:14-16 EARTH BEING HARVESTED. I looked, and there before me was a white cloud, and seated on the cloud was one "like a son of man"^h with a crown of gold on his head and a sharp sickle in his hand. Then another angel came out of the temple and called in a loud voice to him who was sitting on the cloud, "Take your sickle and reap, because the time to reap has come, for the harvest of the earth is ripe." So he who was seated on the cloud swung his sickle over the earth, and the earth was harvested.
- Rev. 14:17-20 WRATH IMPOSED UPON HARVEST. Another angel came out of the temple in heaven, and he too had a sharp sickle. Still another angel, who had charge of the fire, came from the altar and called in a loud voice to him who had the sharp sickle, "Take your sharp sickle and gather the clusters of grapes from the earth's vine, because its grapes are ripe." The angel swung his sickle on the earth, gathered its grapes and threw them into the great winepress of God's wrath. They were trampled in the winepress outside the city, and blood flowed out of the press, rising as high as the horses' bridles for a distance of 1,600 stadia.ⁱ
- Rev. 15:1 SEVEN PLAGUES OF WRATH. I saw in heaven another great and marvelous sign: seven angels with the seven last plagues—last, because with them God's wrath is completed.
- Rev. 15:2-4 GOD'S HOLINESS IN WRATH. And I saw what looked like a sea of glass mixed with fire and, standing beside the sea, those who had been victorious over the beast and his image and over the number of his name. They ^hDaniel 7:13 ⁱThat is, about 180 miles (about 300 kilometers) held harps given them by God and sang the song of Moses the servant of God and the song of the Lamb:

“Great and marvelous are your deeds,
 Lord God Almighty.
 Just and true are your ways,
 King of the ages.
 Who will not fear you, O Lord,
 and bring glory to your name?
 For you alone are holy.
 All nations will come and worship before you, for your righteous acts have been revealed.”

BOWLS OF WRATH. After this I looked and in heaven the temple, that is, the tabernacle of the Testimony, was opened. Out of the temple came the seven angels with the seven plagues. They were dressed in clean, shining linen and wore golden sashes around their chests. Then one of the four living creatures gave to the seven angels seven golden bowls filled with the wrath of God, who lives for ever and ever. And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God and from his power, and no one could enter the temple until the seven plagues of the seven angels were completed. Then I heard a loud voice from the temple saying to the seven angels, “Go, pour out the seven bowls of God’s wrath on the earth.”

Rev.
15:5-16:1

FIRST BOWL. The first angel went and poured out his bowl on the land, and ugly and painful sores broke out on the people who had the mark of the beast and worshiped his image.

Rev. 16:2

SECOND BOWL. The second angel poured out his bowl on the sea, and it turned into blood like that of a dead man, and every living thing in the sea died.

Rev. 16:3

THIRD BOWL. The third angel poured out his bowl on the rivers and springs of water, and they became blood.

Rev. 16:4

PRAISE FOR GOD’S JUSTICE. Then I heard the angel in charge of the waters say:

Rev. 16:5-7

“You are just in these judgments, you who are and who were, the Holy One,
 because you have so judged;
 for they have shed the blood of your saints and prophets, and you have given them blood to drink as they deserve.” And I heard the altar respond: “Yes, Lord God Almighty, true and just are your judgments.”

FOURTH BOWL. The fourth angel poured out his bowl on the sun, and the sun was given power to scorch people with fire. They were seared by the intense heat and they cursed the name of God, who had control over these plagues, but they refused to repent and glorify him.

Rev. 16:8,9

FIFTH BOWL. The fifth angel poured out his bowl on the throne of the beast, and his kingdom was plunged into darkness. Men gnawed their tongues in agony and cursed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, but they refused to repent of what they had done.

Rev.
16:10,11

Rev. 16:12-16 SIXTH BOWL. The sixth angel poured out his bowl on the great river Euphrates, and its water was dried up to prepare the way for the kings from the East. Then I saw three evil spirits that looked like frogs; they came out of the mouth of the dragon, out of the mouth of the beast and out of the mouth of the false prophet. They are spirits of demons performing miraculous signs, and they go out to the kings of the whole world, to gather them for the battle on the great day of God Almighty.

"Behold, I come like a thief! Blessed is he who stays awake and keeps his clothes with him, so that he may not go naked and be shamefully exposed."

Then they gathered the kings together to the place that in Hebrew is called Armageddon.

Rev. 16:17-21 SEVENTH BOWL. The seventh angel poured out his bowl into the air, and out of the temple came a loud voice from the throne, saying, "It is done!" Then there came flashes of lightning, rumblings, peals of thunder and a severe earthquake. No earthquake like it has ever occurred since man has been on earth, so tremendous was the quake. The great city split into three parts, and the cities of the nations collapsed. God remembered Babylon the Great and gave her the cup filled with the wine of the fury of his wrath. Every island fled away and the mountains could not be found. From the sky huge hailstones of about a hundred pounds each fell upon men. And they cursed God on account of the plague of hail, because the plague was so terrible.

Special Judgment upon Babylon

In the images of a drunken prostitute and an incredible scarlet beast, John sees the vision of what appears to be a special judgment of God. Whatever might be the true identification of this "Babylon," its destruction is accompanied by terrible lament.

Rev. 17:1-6 DRUNKEN PROSTITUTE. One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls came and said to me, "Come, I will show you the punishment of the great prostitute, who sits on many waters. With her the kings of the earth committed adultery and the inhabitants of the earth were intoxicated with the wine of her adulteries."

Then the angel carried me away in the Spirit into a desert. There I saw a woman sitting on a scarlet beast that was covered with blasphemous names and had seven heads and ten horns. The woman was dressed in purple and scarlet, and was glittering with gold, precious stones and pearls. She held a golden cup in her hand, filled with abominable things and the filth of her adulteries. This title was written on her forehead:

MYSTERY
BABYLON THE GREAT
THE MOTHER OF PROSTITUTES
AND OF THE ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

I saw that the woman was drunk with the blood of the saints, the blood of those who bore testimony to Jesus.

When I saw her, I was greatly astonished.

*i*Greek unclean

BEAST EXPLAINED. Then the angel said to me: "Why are you astonished? I will explain to you the mystery of the woman and of the beast she rides, which has the seven heads and ten horns. The beast, which you saw, once was, now is not, and will come up out of the Abyss and go to his destruction. The inhabitants of the earth whose names have not been written in the book of life from the creation of the world will be astonished when they see the beast, because he once was, now is not, and yet will come. Rev. 17:7,8

SEVEN HEADS EXPLAINED. "This calls for a mind with wisdom. The seven heads are seven hills on which the woman sits. They are also seven kings. Five have fallen, one is, the other has not yet come; but when he does come, he must remain for a little while. The beast who once was, and now is not, is an eighth king. He belongs to the seven and is going to his destruction. Rev. 17:9-11

TEN HORNS EXPLAINED. "The ten horns you saw are ten kings who have not yet received a kingdom, but who for one hour will receive authority as kings along with the beast. They have one purpose and will give their power and authority to the beast. They will make war against the Lamb, but the Lamb will overcome them because he is Lord of lords and King of kings—and with him will be his called, chosen and faithful followers." Rev. 17:12-14

WATERS EXPLAINED. Then the angel said to me, "The waters you saw, where the prostitute sits, are peoples, multitudes, nations and languages. The beast and the ten horns you saw will hate the prostitute. They will bring her to ruin and leave her naked; they will eat her flesh and burn her with fire. For God has put it into their hearts to accomplish his purpose by agreeing to give the beast their power to rule, until God's words are fulfilled. Rev. 17:15-17

WOMAN EXPLAINED. The woman you saw is the great city that rules over the kings of the earth." Rev. 17:18

REJOICING OVER BABYLON'S FALL. After this I saw another angel coming down from heaven. He had great authority, and the earth was illuminated by his splendor. With a mighty voice he shouted: Rev. 18:1-3

"Fallen! Fallen is Babylon the Great!
 She has become a home for demons and a haunt for every evil^k spirit,
 a haunt for every unclean and detestable bird.
 For all the nations have drunk
 the maddening wine of her adulteries.
 The kings of the earth committed adultery with her,
 and the merchants of the earth grew rich from her excessive luxuries."

WARNING ABOUT BABYLON. Then I heard another voice from heaven say: Rev. 18:4-8

"Come out of her, my people,
 so that you will not share in her sins,
 so that you will not receive any of her plagues;

^kGreek unclean

for her sins are piled up to heaven, and God has remembered her crimes.
 Give back to her as she has given;
 pay her back double for what she has done.
 Mix her a double portion from her own cup.
 Give her as much torture and grief
 as the glory and luxury she gave herself.
 In her heart she boasts,
 'I sit as queen; I am not a widow, and I will never mourn.'
 Therefore in one day her plagues will overtake her:
 death, mourning and famine.
 She will be consumed by fire,
 for mighty is the Lord God who judges her.

Rev. 18:9,10 LAMENT BY KINGS. "When the kings of the earth who committed adultery with her and shared her luxury see the smoke of her burning, they will weep and mourn over her. Terrified at her torment, they will stand far off and cry:

" 'Woe! Woe, O great city,
 O Babylon, city of power!
 In one hour your doom has come!'

Rev. 18:11-17 LAMENT BY MERCHANTS. "The merchants of the earth will weep and mourn over her because no one buys their cargoes any more— cargoes of gold, silver, precious stones and pearls; fine linen, purple, silk and scarlet cloth; every sort of citron wood, and articles of every kind made of ivory, costly wood, bronze, iron and marble; cargoes of cinnamon and spice, of incense, myrrh and frankincense, of wine and olive oil, of fine flour and wheat; cattle and sheep; horses and carriages; and bodies and souls of men.

"They will say, 'The fruit you longed for is gone from you. All your riches and splendor have vanished, never to be recovered.' The merchants who sold these things and gained their wealth from her will stand far off, terrified at her torment. They will weep and mourn and cry out:

" 'Woe! Woe, O great city, dressed in fine linen, purple and scarlet,
 and glittering with gold, precious stones and pearls!
 In one hour such great wealth has been brought to ruin!'

"Every sea captain, and all who travel by ship, the sailors, and all who earn their living from the sea, will stand far off.

Rev. 18:18-20 LAMENT BY SAILORS. When they see the smoke of her burning, they will exclaim, 'Was there ever a city like this great city?' They will throw dust on their heads, and with weeping and mourning cry out:

" 'Woe! Woe, O great city, where all who had ships on the sea became rich through her wealth!
 In one hour she has been brought to ruin!
 Rejoice over her, O heaven!
 Rejoice, saints and apostles and prophets!
 God has judged her for the way she treated you.' "

EXTENT OF DESTRUCTION. Then a mighty angel picked up a boulder the size of a large millstone and threw it into the sea, and said:

Rev.
18:21-24

“With such violence
the great city of Babylon will be thrown down, never to be found again.
The music of harpists and musicians, flute players and trumpeters,
will never be heard in you again.
No workman of any trade will ever be found in you again.
The sound of a millstone
will never be heard in you again.
The light of a lamp
will never shine in you again.
The voice of bridegroom and bride
will never be heard in you again.
Your merchants were the world’s great men.
By your magic spell all the nations were led astray.
In her was found the blood of prophets and of the saints, and of all who have been killed on the earth.”

MULTITUDE CELEBRATES. After this I heard what sounded like the roar of a great multitude in heaven shouting:

Rev. 19:1-5

“Hallelujah!
Salvation and glory and power belong to our God,
for true and just are his judgments.
He has condemned the great prostitute who corrupted the earth by her adulteries.
He has avenged on her the blood of his servants.”

And again they shouted:

“Hallelujah!
The smoke from her goes up for ever and ever.”

The twenty-four elders and the four living creatures fell down and worshiped God, who was seated on the throne. And they cried:

“Amen, Hallelujah!”

Then a voice came from the throne, saying:

“Praise our God,
all you his servants,
you who fear him,
both small and great!”

Triumph of Christ and His Church

As John nears the end of his vision, he sees the wedding of Jesus, the Lamb, and his bride, the church. There is joy and honor in being invited as a guest to the wedding supper. Yet even in this blissful scene looms the grim reminder of the destruction which awaits those who have been unrighteous. As the father of all unrighteousness, Satan is finally and totally destroyed. It is therefore clear that Christ and his saints will ultimately triumph over both Satan and his evil power. That knowledge should be more than sufficient to comfort and encourage every believer in his hope for the future.

Rev. 19:6-8 WEDDING OF LAMB AND BRIDE. Then I heard what sounded like a great multitude, like the roar of rushing waters and like loud peals of thunder, shouting:

“Hallelujah!

For our Lord God Almighty reigns.

Let us rejoice and be glad and give him glory!

For the wedding of the Lamb has come,
and his bride has made herself ready.

Fine linen, bright and clean,
was given her to wear.”

(Fine linen stands for the righteous acts of the saints.)

Rev. 19:9,10 HONOR OF BEING INVITED. Then the angel said to me, “Write: ‘Blessed are those who are invited to the wedding supper of the Lamb!’” And he added, “These are the true words of God.”

At this I fell at his feet to worship him. But he said to me, “Do not do it! I am a fellow servant with you and with your brothers who hold to the testimony of Jesus. Worship God! For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.”

Rev. 19:11-16 WORD RULES AS LORD AND KING. I saw heaven standing open and there before me was a white horse, whose rider is called Faithful and True. With justice he judges and makes war. His eyes are like blazing fire, and on his head are many crowns. He has a name written on him that no one knows but he himself. He is dressed in a robe dipped in blood, and his name is the Word of God. The armies of heaven were following him, riding on white horses and dressed in fine linen, white and clean. Out of his mouth comes a sharp sword with which to strike down the nations. “He will rule them with an iron scepter.”¹ He treads the winepress of the fury of the wrath of God Almighty. On his robe and on his thigh he has this name written:

KING OF KINGS AND LORD OF LORDS.

Rev. 19:17,18 BIRDS DEVOUR UNRIGHTEOUS. And I saw an angel standing in the sun, who cried in a loud voice to all the birds flying in midair, “Come, gather together for the great supper of God, so that you may eat the flesh of kings, generals, and mighty men, of horses and their riders, and the flesh of all people, free and slave, small and great.”

Rev. 19:19-21 BEAST AND FALSE PROPHET KILLED. Then I saw the beast and the kings of the earth and their armies gathered together to make war against the rider on the horse and his army. But the beast was captured, and with him the false prophet who had performed the miraculous signs on his behalf. With these signs he had deluded those who had received the mark of the beast and worshiped his image. The two of them were thrown alive into the fiery lake of burning sulfur. The rest of them were killed with the sword that came out of the mouth of the rider on the horse, and all the birds gorged themselves on their flesh.

SATAN BOUND FOR A TIME. And I saw an angel coming down out of heaven, having the key to the Abyss and holding in his hand a great chain. He seized the dragon, that ancient serpent, who is the devil, or Satan, and bound him for a thousand years. He threw him into the Abyss, and locked and sealed it over him, to keep him from deceiving the nations anymore until the thousand years were ended. After that, he must be set free for a short time.

Rev. 20:1-3

MARTYRS REIGN WITH CHRIST. I saw thrones on which were seated those who had been given authority to judge. And I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded because of their testimony for Jesus and because of the word of God. They had not worshiped the beast or his image and had not received his mark on their foreheads or their hands. They came to life and reigned with Christ a thousand years. (The rest of the dead did not come to life until the thousand years were ended.) This is the first resurrection. Blessed and holy are those who have part in the first resurrection. The second death has no power over them, but they will be priests of God and of Christ and will reign with him for a thousand years.

Rev. 20:4-6

SATAN DESTROYED. When the thousand years are over, Satan will be released from his prison and will go out to deceive the nations in the four corners of the earth—Gog and Magog—to gather them for battle. In number they are like the sand on the seashore. They marched across the breadth of the earth and surrounded the camp of God's people, the city he loves. But fire came down from heaven and devoured them. And the devil, who deceived them, was thrown into the lake of burning sulfur, where the beast and the false prophet had been thrown. They will be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

Rev.
20:7-10

GREAT JUDGMENT OF THE DEAD. Then I saw a great white throne and him who was seated on it. Earth and sky fled from his presence, and there was no place for them. And I saw the dead, great and small, standing before the throne, and books were opened. Another book was opened, which is the book of life. The dead were judged according to what they had done as recorded in the books. The sea gave up the dead that were in it, and death and Hades gave up the dead that were in them, and each person was judged according to what he had done. Then death and Hades were thrown into the lake of fire. The lake of fire is the second death. If anyone's name was not found written in the book of life, he was thrown into the lake of fire.

Rev.
20:11-15

VISION OF NEW HEAVEN AND EARTH. Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea. I saw the Holy City, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, "Now the dwelling of God is with men, and he will live with them. They will be his people, and God himself will be with them and be their God. He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away." He who was seated on the throne said, "I am making everything new!"

Rev. 21:1-5

Then he said, "Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true."

Rev. 21:6-8 REWARD AND DESTRUCTION. He said to me: "It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. To him who is thirsty I will give to drink without cost from the spring of the water of life. He who overcomes will inherit all this, and I will be his God and he will be my son. But the cowardly, the unbelieving, the vile, the murderers, the sexually immoral, those who practice magic arts, the idolaters and all liars—their place will be in the fiery lake of burning sulfur. This is the second death."

Glory and Grandeur of Heaven

In bringing to a conclusion both this revelation and the last of his inspired Scripture, God gives John a vision of what heaven will be like. It is pictured as a Holy City, having a river flowing through it with a tree of life on either side. The cares and sorrows of this life will not be known in heaven, and great joy will abound. This vision of a new heaven and a new earth provides an exciting conclusion to a book whose opening lines told of the majesty of God's first creation.

Rev. 21:9-14 VIEW OF HOLY CITY. One of the seven angels who had the seven bowls full of the seven last plagues came and said to me, "Come, I will show you the bride, the wife of the Lamb." And he carried me away in the Spirit to a mountain great and high, and showed me the Holy City, Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God. It shone with the glory of God, and its brilliance was like that of a very precious jewel, like a jasper, clear as crystal. It had a great, high wall with twelve gates, and with twelve angels at the gates. On the gates were written the names of the twelve tribes of Israel. There were three gates on the east, three on the north, three on the south and three on the west. The wall of the city had twelve foundations, and on them were the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

Rev. 21:15-21 DESCRIPTION OF CITY. The angel who talked with me had a measuring rod of gold to measure the city, its gates and its walls. The city was laid out like a square, as long as it was wide. He measured the city with the rod and found it to be 12,000 stadia^m in length, and as wide and high as it is long. He measured its wall and it was 144 cubitsⁿ thick,^o by man's measurement, which the angel was using. The wall was made of jasper, and the city of pure gold, as pure as glass. The foundations of the city walls were decorated with every kind of precious stone. The first foundation was jasper, the second sapphire, the third chalcedony, the fourth emerald, the fifth sardonyx, the sixth carnelian, the seventh chrysolite, the eighth beryl, the ninth topaz, the tenth chrysoprase, the eleventh jacinth, and the twelfth amethyst.^p The twelve gates were twelve pearls, each gate made of a single pearl. The great street of the city was of pure gold, like transparent glass.

^mThat is, about 1,400 miles (about 2,200 kilometers) ⁿThat is, about 200 feet (about 65 meters) ^oOr high ^pThe precise identification of some of these precious stones is uncertain.

PURITY AND LIGHT OF CITY. I did not see a temple in the city, because the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are its temple. The city does not need the sun or the moon to shine on it, for the glory of God gives it light, and the Lamb is its lamp. The nations will walk by its light, and the kings of the earth will bring their splendor into it. On no day will its gates ever be shut, for there will be no night there. The glory and honor of the nations will be brought into it. Nothing impure will ever enter it, nor will anyone who does what is shameful or deceitful, but only those whose names are written in the Lamb's book of life.

Rev.
21:22-27

BLESSINGS IN RIVER AND TREE. Then the angel showed me the river of the water of life, as clear as crystal, flowing from the throne of God and of the Lamb down the middle of the great street of the city. On each side of the river stood the tree of life, bearing twelve crops of fruit, yielding its fruit every month. And the leaves of the tree are for the healing of the nations. No longer will there be any curse. The throne of God and of the Lamb will be in the city, and his servants will serve him. They will see his face, and his name will be on their foreheads. There will be no more night. They will not need the light of a lamp or the light of the sun, for the Lord God will give them light. And they will reign for ever and ever.

Rev. 22:1-5

Epilogue

ANGEL VERIFIES REVELATION. The angel said to me, "These words are trustworthy and true. The Lord, the God of the spirits of the prophets, sent his angel to show his servants the things that must soon take place."

Rev. 22:6,7

"Behold, I am coming soon! Blessed is he who keeps the words of the prophecy in this book."

JOHN VERIFIES REVELATION. I, John, am the one who heard and saw these things. And when I had heard and seen them, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel who had been showing them to me. But he said to me, "Do not do it! I am a fellow servant with you and with your brothers the prophets and of all who keep the words of this book. Worship God!"

Rev.
22:8-11

Then he told me, "Do not seal up the words of the prophecy of this book, because the time is near. Let him who does wrong continue to do wrong; let him who is vile continue to be vile; let him who does right continue to do right; and let him who is holy continue to be holy."

JESUS VERIFIES REVELATION. "Behold, I am coming soon! My reward is with me, and I will give to everyone according to what he has done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the Beginning and the End.

Rev.
22:12-16

"Blessed are those who wash their robes, that they may have the right to the tree of life and may go through the gates into the city. Outside are the dogs, those who practice magic arts, the sexually immoral, the murderers, the idolaters and everyone who loves and practices falsehood.

"I, Jesus, have sent my angel to give you[†] this testimony for the churches. I am the Root and the Offspring of David, and the bright Morning Star."

[†]The Greek is plural.

- Rev. 22:17 INVITATION TO ENJOY BLESSINGS. The Spirit and the bride say, "Come!" And let him who hears say, "Come!" Whoever is thirsty, let him come; and whoever wishes, let him take the free gift of the water of life.
- Rev. 22:18,19 CAUTION AGAINST MISUSE. I warn everyone who hears the words of the prophecy of this book: If anyone adds anything to them, God will add to him the plagues described in this book. And if anyone takes words away from this book of prophecy, God will take away from him his share in the tree of life and in the holy city, which are described in this book.
- Rev. 22:20 PROMISE OF JESUS. He who testifies to these things says, "Yes, I am coming soon."
Amen. Come, Lord Jesus.
- Rev. 22:21 BENEDICTION. The grace of the Lord Jesus be with God's people.
Amen.

So ends the revelation to John and the last of Holy Scripture. In the teachings of Jesus there is abundant life; in the example of his divine Person there is love; and in the power of his resurrection there is hope.

DAILY BIBLE READING SCHEDULE

For those who may wish to follow a daily Bible reading schedule, The Narrated Bible has been divided into 365 easily readable sections. Because the daily reading sections have been determined on the basis of logical content, the reading will vary somewhat in length. On the average, however, each daily reading section is less than five pages. The sections are identified by this daily reading symbol  which will appear at the end of each day's reading, either in the margin beside the last paragraph of reading or at the end of an extended section of Scripture.
